

Gluey Love 1511

Chapter 1511

Eden glanced at him, "Where did you go?"

Victor looked at her haughtily without saying a word, and his eyes were full of fury. It seemed that he was very angry with her.

"Ha-ha..." Eden couldn't help but laugh. Was he acting like an angry child?

Even Ricky was more sensible than him.

"Well, don't be angry. I will definitely marry you the next spring, and I won't regret it."

"Think about it. Flowers of every kind will be in bloom at that time. It is so wonderful."

"The weather will be very nice, and I can wear a lovely wedding dress. I want to marry you in fantastic clothes and dress up beautifully during the honeymoon. These are the perfect wedding and honeymoon I want."

"I don't want to remember cold weather and white snow when I recall our wedding in the future."

Victor felt that her words were reasonable.

It was really cold in winter. She was once injured and her body was weak.

She always wanted a child, but she failed to get pregnant after trying so hard.

"Really? You're not lying to me." Victor held her in his arms and kissed her fair face.

Eden wrapped her arms around his neck and kissed his lips on her own initiative.

Her kiss made Victor's anger and unhappiness disappear in an instant.

An evil smile flashed across his eyes. He lowered his head and kissed her red lips affectionately for a long while before letting go of her reluctantly.

Eden leaned against his arms, panting.

She said feebly, "I'm hungry."

"What do you want to eat?" He gently rested his chin on top of her head, smelling her faint fragrance. He was in a good mood, and even his voice was sexy and enchanting.

"Let's go eat hotpot." Eating hot pot was the most comfortable on such a cold day.

"Okay! Let's go have hot pot." Victor picked up the coat on the sofa and put it on her.

He looked at Eden worriedly, "Eden, you promised that you would marry me the next spring. You can't go back on your word. If you regret it again, I will let you marry me in a wedding dress even if I have to tie you up."

"Originally, we were going to hold a wedding at the end of this year. I wanted to propose to you after I got the diamond ring at the charity party."

"I have married you. Why should you make a proposal? We can hold a wedding directly. If I don't marry you the next spring, you can kidnap me and force me to marry you." Eden's gentle voice was very pleasant to hear.

Victor was obsessed with it.

"Honey, I..."

"Let's eat." Eden knew what he was thinking.

"Oh!" Victor was a little depressed. He hadn't even said what he wanted to do. Why could Eden see him through?

Eden got up from his arms and looked down at him. Her soft hair covered half of her face. She smiled wickedly and sexily as she lifted Victor's good-looking chin with her slender finger, "Honey, you'd better save your strength."

"Ahem..." Victor was shocked by her words.

However, she looked so charming when she teased him.

He was strong and energetic. Why was she so worried about her own happiness on bed?

With a raffish smile on his handsome face, Victor said, "Honey, it seems that I have to show you how energetic I am every night, or you can't rest assured."

After that, he held her finger, put it in his mouth gently and bit it with a vague smile.

Eden blushed immediately. She withdrew her finger quickly and walked out with a red face.

"Ha-ha...." Victor laughed heartily. Clearly, he was on cloud nine at the moment.

After having lunch with Victor, Eden went to Mirth Company to pick up Abigail and went to the hospital.

Abigail had check-ups in the hospital owned by Alwynn Group all the time. The doctors here had superb medical skills, and she had an exclusive doctor. There was no need for her to line up and make appointment with a doctor.

Indeed, it was much more convenient.

Eden accompanied Abigail all the time.

When Abigail heard the heartbeats of the child, her charming face was full of happiness.

"Eden, listen. This child is so active. He has been moving." Even her voice sounded so delighted.

Eden knew how she felt. When she heard the children's heartbeats back then, she was so excited that she wanted to cry.

"Abby, have you named the child?" She remembered that Abigail and Anson had been quarreling because of the child's name.

Sure enough, Abigail's face darkened instantly.

"Anson is so picky! He doesn't like every name I give to the baby." Abigail pouted her red lips. Without makeup, her facial features were still very delicate. Although her lips were not bright red, she was a natural beauty and she still looked bewitching.

"Ha-ha..." Eden couldn't help laughing, "Abby, you named the baby in a childish way, I guess."

"Back then, you gave childish nicknames to the three children. Fortunately, I didn't agree. Otherwise, the three children would be very unhappy when they grew up."

"Ha... Those names are so lovely. Why don't you like them?" Abigail looked at Eden angrily.

She liked childish and cute names. But why did they all dislike the names?

Eden smiled and said, "They're indeed very lovely. So haven't you named the baby after such a long time?"

Abigail shook her head and was a little discouraged, "No."

Eden was surprised.

This child was about to be born, but they had been troubled by naming the child.

"Abby, I think you'd better listen to Anson."

"No, I want to win this time." Abigail smiled brightly, and Eden sensed the determination in her eyes clearly.

She didn't say anything. After all, it was something that should be decided by Abby and Anson.

"Eden, let me tell you. I'm about to give birth, but do you know why I stay in the company?" Abigail's tone was particularly angry. However, she looked quite adorable when she was mad.

Eden smiled and said teasingly, "Are you worried that your husband will have a love affair?" In fact, there was no need to worry. Anson loved her very much.

However, to her surprise, Abigail nodded quickly.

Eden was stunned.

"Abby, are you serious? How could Anson cheat on you?"

"Don't forget that even the famous actresses in the company are not as beautiful as you!"

Abigail said with depression, "You're right. But even so, there are many women who are prettier than me in this world. The key is that some women are shameless. When I'm not in the company, they seduce Anson openly and secretly. You know this circle well."

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled. Looking at her worried face, she persuaded her, "Abby, maybe you're very sensitive because you're pregnant. If Anson cheats on you, there will be no good man in the world."

Chapter 1512

Abigail looked at her, pouted her red lips and blinked her eyes, looking charming and coquettish. Her clear eyes made her look more attractive and charismatic.

Eden was amazed by how beautiful she was and smiled, "Abby, although you are pregnant, you're still as bewitching as before."

"Alas!" Abigail sighed depression, "You know that no matter how beautiful a woman is, she will get old as time goes by, but men are different."

"What's the difference? Men will grow old no matter how handsome they are. Don't think too much. Now you only need to give birth to the child, take care of yourself and recover well. Only then can you continue to pursue your dream."

"As for Anson, you can set your mind at ease. In this world, no man loves you more than he does. He dotes on you to the extreme. How could he betray you?"

Perhaps had no sense of security because she was pregnant.

She knew Anson well. He could even risk his life to give Abby a happy life.

After being comforted by Eden, Abigail felt much better.

It didn't take a long time to have a check-up. The child was very healthy. Abigail had an urine test, and everything proved that she was in a good condition.

Walking out of the gynecology department, Abigail was relieved.

"Eden, I feel very nervous every time I have a checkup. After I know that the child is fine, I will be very happy. I suffer violent mood swings."

"Delmont is hospitalized here, right? Let's go to see him and visit Candace by the way. I want to share my feelings with her. After all, we are both pregnant now."

"Alright, let's go to see Delmont first." Eden helped her to the elevator.

They went straight to the eighth floor. As soon as they turned the corner, Eden saw Adrienne who was sitting in a wheelchair. She stayed outside Delmont's ward and didn't go in.

She looked at the door of the ward quietly. It seemed that she just wanted to have a look and did not intend to go in.

Eden stopped Abigail and whispered, "Abby, let's go there later."

"What's wrong?" Abigail looked at her in confusion.

Eden pointed at Adrienne, "Do you see that young lady? Something happened between her and Delmont."

Abigail was a little surprised and asked, "Is she Delmont's ex-girlfriend?"

Eden was surprised, "Abby, how do you know that?"

"But Delmont has no girlfriend now."

Abigail smiled and said, "Eden, it's easy to guess. Look at her eyes which are full of hesitation and conflict."

"She wants to see Delmont very much, but she is was very hesitant, so she watches him quietly at the door."

Eden nodded, "I don't know if there is any misunderstanding between them. I asked Delmont, but he didn't want to tell me. I have no way to help them."

Abigail looked down at her, "Fool, no one can help them in love."

If love could be controlled by others, Eden would have been Jasper's wife. How could Victor have a chance to be with her?

"So, can I only watch them torture each other like this?" Eden felt a little helpless.

"The misunderstanding between couples will let them miss each other."

Abigail looked at Adrienne, feeling that she was not a simple woman.

"Eden, if they used to love each other deeply, they will be afraid of hurting each other and hurting themselves when there is a misunderstanding between them."

"Do you know what is the most painful thing when they see their beloved people be with someone else? They think they are in pain, but it's not right. When there is a misunderstanding, they're not even qualified to feel painful."

"So, I hate misunderstandings."

At that time, Anson made her suffer enough in love.

"Abby, these days, I've been restless because of this. Delmont is straightforward and kindhearted. I just want him to marry a woman he loves and spend the rest of his life with her."

"We've gone through too many hardships. I hope that Delmont can have a warm home and live a happy life."

The Simpson family held a grudge against the Alwynn family. She was afraid that Delmont would be hurt by their relationship.

After all, the Clement family and the Alwynn family were related by marriage.

The Simpson family hated the Alwynn family, so they naturally didn't want Adrienne to be with Delmont.

Perhaps this was the reason why Adrienne was hesitant.

"Eden, she has left."

"Oh! Let's go."

Eden had just taken a few steps when her phone rang.

Eden glanced at her phone and then looked at Abigail in surprise, "Abby, it's from Adrienne."

"Eden, answer the phone first."

Eden nodded, "Hello? Miss Simpson."

"Mrs. Alwynn, can we meet now?"

Eden said, "Of course we can."

"I'm in the cafe next to the hospital. I'll wait for you here."

"Alright, I am in the hospital, and I will be there soon."

Eden hung up the phone and looked at Abigail, "Abby, I'm going to meet Adrienne. Why don't you go to see Candace first? When I come back, I'll pick you up and we can visit Delmont later."

"She's in the cafe downstairs. I'll be back soon."

"It okay. Just go there. I will talk to Candace and visit Adonis by the way."

Eden helped her to the elevator, "I can't rest assured unless I take you there in person."

"I'm an adult. Are you afraid that I'll get lost?"

Eden looked worried, "Yeah, you are precious now. Nothing bad can happen to you."

Abigail laughed and did not speak.

Eden sent Abigail to Candace before she went downstairs to meet Adrienne.

In the cafe, Adrienne sat by the window. She wore a beige coat, and her hair fell over her shoulders. The light makeup made her facial features look definite. At this moment, she was looking out of the window quietly, looking simple, peaceful and pure.

Eden walked over slowly and sat across from Adrienne.

Sensing that someone was here, Adrienne withdrew her eyes slowly.

When she saw Eden, her calm eyes became as proud as before. She smiled faintly and said, "Mrs. Alwynn, you arrive so soon!"

Eden smiled, "I happened to come here to see Delmont. You called me when I got out of the elevator."

Adrienne looked at her with calm eyes, "Why didn't you expose me?"

Eden knew that Adrienne referred to the matter that she bought meals for Delmont in the name of her.

"Miss Simpson, there's no need for me to do that. Delmont used to buy meals for you in the name of me, too. You two clearly know that something is impossible, but you insist. Perhaps there will be no result and there is no way for you to be together, but you want to have a try. Maybe it's because you're used to caring about each other."

"This is my understanding of your relationship."

Chapter 1513

"Oh!" Adrienne glanced at her. She looked a little nervous and expectant, "Did Delmont tell you something about us?"

Was it because they were unwilling to accept the fact?

Was it because there would be no result?

No, Eden was right about one thing, which was that they had been used to caring about each other.

Delmont was a real warm man.

Eden shook her head. Looking at her slightly nervous expression, she smiled and said, "I'm worried just because he didn't say anything."

Adrienne fell silent. Delmont was really conflicted.

He could not keep other people's secrets, but he kept his own secret so well.

She touched her chest, where there was his flesh and blood.

Every time she thought of it, her heart ached.

He was willing to give his life to her, but he was unwilling to say that he loved her.

Adrienne looked at Eden with a smile, "Don't you have anything to ask me? For example, what happened between me and Delmont."

"I think that no one in the Clement family knows about my existence, right?"

Eden nodded, "I knew it a few days ago."

She knew that Adrienne would more or less talk about the things between her and Delmont, "I hope that Delmont can tell me about it in person. Of course, everyone has his own secret. If he doesn't want to say, I won't force him."

"You are on guard against me." Adrienne's eyes were a bit gloomy, "You've known what happened between the Alwynn family and my family, right?" Victor had a wide range of contacts, so they should know about it.

Eden nodded, "Miss Simpson, do you remember what you said when we first met?"

Adrienne looked at her and shook her head slightly.

Eden pursed her lips and smiled. The road outside the window was covered by snow, and there was a chill in the air. She said in a somewhat casual tone, "When I first met you, you said that you didn't like to owe favors. In fact, I don't like to owe favors, either. So I won't ask about your relationship with Delmont."

"Of course, if you want to say it, I can be a listener."

"Delmont has been single these years. He is very hard working, but he never thinks about having a girlfriend."

Adrienne lowered her head and did not know how to reply to her.

"I am Delmont's ex-girlfriend, but he did not break up with me. I took the initiative to leave."

Eden looked at her in surprise. She did not expect her to tell her about this in person.

Adrienne looked at her with helpless eyes. Then she lowered her head slightly, and her expression turned painful, "I know Delmont very well. He won't tell you about this. He can reveal other people's secrets so easily, but he won't expose his own secret even if he dies."

Eden was puzzled, "In my opinion, if you don't love him, you can choose not to be with him. Since you love him, you have to stick to it. You should fight for your own happiness step by step."

"In fact, I can tell how conflicted Delmont is. He does not understand why you left him that year."

This was what confused Delmont the most.

Adrienne pursed her lips and lowered her head, not saying a word.

"The reason why I left was very simple, but he has never attached importance to it. We have missed each other for several years."

"I tried to make a boyfriend when I was abroad, but they are not Delmont."

"Delmont is a very warm and kind man. He is cheerful and lively, and he can give me enough sense of security."

Saying this, Adrienne suddenly smiled, "Oh, I only focus on talking. What would you like to drink?"

Adrienne hadn't ordered anything for herself either, and Eden wanted a cup of hot cocoa.

Adrienne nodded and called the waiter over. She ordered a cup of coffee for herself.

As the coffee was served, Adrienne took a small sip. To her, the taste was not special.

She didn't like coffee, but sometimes she liked its bitter taste.

"Mrs. Alwynn, in fact, after all these years, I suddenly realized that no matter what I have in my life, it is not as good as I think. I believe that everyone has a bitter experience that others don't know."

Eden did not deny it and nodded.

"Actually, I came back this time because I want to be with Delmont again. So many years have passed, but I think that he is the most suitable for me."

Eden looked at her with a frown and sneered in heart. Did Adrienne leave Delmont because she thought that they were not suitable? But did she want to be with him again when she couldn't be with a better man?

"Miss Simpson, Delmont is very kind. I don't want him to get hurt."

"Moreover, he is disabled now."

She knew about this matter. Although Delmont was fine, Paula had left him.

Adrienne understood what she meant, "I don't want him to be hurt, either. You know that he is very kindhearted. He is a rare good man in this world, so I don't want to give up."

"He is disabled, but so what? We're soulmates. When Delmont accompanied me, I was the happiest."

Eden was stunned. Apparently, she didn't expect that Adrienne still wanted to be with Delmont when she heard that he was disabled.

"Miss Simpson, thanks for your love for Delmont. As you said, I asked him, but he didn't tell me anything about you."

"I think it is because he respects your choice."

"Yeah!" Adrienne lowered her head. No matter what decision she made, he respected her, and he had never changed.

Her face softened a little, and even her smile was very bright and beautiful.

Eden admitted that Adrienne was really pretty.

"Mrs. Alwynn..."

"Miss Simpson, just call me Eden." Eden suddenly interrupted her. She was well disposed towards Adrienne all of a sudden.

What if Adrienne became her sister-in-law one day?

No matter why she separated with Delmont, she loved him sincerely.

Adrienne looked at her and smiled with relief.

"In the past, Delmont always talked about you. He said that you were very cute when you were a child. After you got lost, he often blamed himself."

"Really?" Eden felt warm in heart, "Delmont is very considerate. He is just a little straightforward, but that's what makes him cute. He never schemes against others secretly."

"That's right." Adrienne nodded, "Eden, thank you for coming here to see me. I'm in a much better mood after talking to you. I don't have the courage to see Delmont. I'll be angry when I see him."

"As for the grudges between the Alwynn family and my family, I don't think it will affect the relationship between me and Delmont." Adrienne said in a somewhat serious tone. Her father was coming back soon.

Her father was forced to leave back then. How could he be willing to do nothing after he came back? This had been the knot in his heart for a lifetime.

Chapter 1514

"Is that so?" In Eden's opinion, a rich and powerful person like Barrett would certainly make the best use of everyone.

Adrienne looked at her and said with uncertainty in her eyes, "I won't let Delmont get hurt."

Eden did not speak. There was something that Adrienne couldn't stop.

Before leaving, Eden gave her some advice.

She said to Adrienne, "Miss Simpson, if you really like Delmont, I'm afraid that you have to wrong yourself and take initiative to get close to him."

After she said that, Adrienne sat there and didn't react. She lowered her head quietly, and Eden did not know whether she had listened to her or not.

Eden went back to the hospital, went to see Candace and picked up Abigail. Then they went to Delmont's ward.

Eden had been thinking about the relationship between Delmont and Adrienne along the way.

They seemed to have a tacit understanding and did not talk about the important reason.

That was the knot in their hearts.

When they entered the ward, Delmont was watching TV.

Seeing Abigail, Delmont smiled very happily.

"Abby, long time no see."

"Clement, congratulations, you've disabled yourself." Abigail looked at him with a playful smile.

Delmont was stunned and then smiled dejectedly.

He really got disabled at the wrong time. At the end of the year, he had a lot of work to do.

"Abby, you're making fun of me, aren't you?" He said with grievances.

Eden touched her forehead. Why did she feel that Delmont was so glad when he saw Abby?

She teased them aside, "Do you regret that you two didn't meet sooner?"

Abigail was stunned, "No. I only feel like laughing when I see Delmont. I think he's so unlucky."

Delmont was speechless.

He took a deep breath to compose the emotions in his heart.

Why didn't he feel that he had a bad luck?

"Abby, you've been led astray by Anson. When he was young, he always spoke sarcastically."

Abigail admitted it generously, "It is normal for me to be led astray by my husband. We live together everyday, so we will be unconsciously influenced by each other."

Hearing this, Delmont smiled faintly.

"You admit it quite generously."

Abigail sat on a stool aside.

She said with a grin, "It's not embarrassing to admit it. This is the fact."

Abigail looked at his legs, "Have your legs got better?"

Delmont leaned back on the pillow with boredom and gave Eden a meaningful look, "Do you think I can get better?"

Eden did not say anything. She sat quietly by the side and peeled an apple for Abigail.

Then she cut the apple into small pieces and put them on a plate.

Seeing how considerate she was, Delmont was very touched, "Eden, I think you can take care of me the best. Buddy is a dull and affected man. He doesn't care about anyone except for his wife and son."

"He rolled his eyes at me when I wanted to eat an apple. Unlike you, you peeled apples for me on your own initiative.

As Delmont said this, he inserted a piece of apple and ate it.

Eden looked at him and smiled. He had never talked about Adrienne.

They could only disentangle themselves from the past on their own.

"Delmont, when can you leave the hospital?"

Delmont looked at his own legs with a bitter smile. The hard plaster made him very uncomfortable.

"I don't know. Doctor West didn't tell me when I could leave the hospital."

Eden said, "Then stay here for a little longer and leave after you recover well."

"Ha-ha... There's no need for me to go out anyway. You buy me food and drinks every day."

Eden was speechless.

"Delmont, are you serious? Do you lack money?"

Delmont's face was full of pride as he spoke his mind shamelessly, "No, but it's not easy to take advantage of Victor. I don't mind living here for free. He has taken away my younger sister from me, so I will never stand on ceremony."

Abigail didn't know what to say. What a "thoughtful" elder brother!

Delmont pitied Eden while taking advantage of Victor.

There were all kinds of feelings in life, and life was not always smooth. As long as they could make themselves happy.

Eden smiled helplessly, "If Victor hears what you said, he will definitely say that you're ungrateful."

"I have been despised by him since I was a child. He has no consciousness of being a younger brother-in-law. He has treated you as a treasure since childhood. We couldn't play with you without his permission. You're my younger sister, not his."

"In my opinion, he has been raising you as his wife since you were young. He's so domineering."

"Moreover, you clearly had two elder brothers who loved you, but you preferred to play in Victor's house. When it was thunder and rainy, you didn't come to us but went to Victor's room."

"You're the little princess in our family, but he took you away. How annoying it is!"

Delmont had a lot to say when he mentioned the past, and he was mad.

In short, he could not keep secrets, and Victor always disliked him.

It was said that one should not be too overbearing. It was hard for overbearing people to make sincere friends.

But Victor had a few loyal friends.

Alas!

Comparisons were odious. He seemed to have no sincere friend.

"Delmont, I was just a child at that time. Don't talk about it again." Eden looked at him with amusement.

Delmont glared at her, "You don't care about us anymore. You've always been protecting him."

"Delmont, Eden is Victor's wife. How can she not protect her husband?" Abigail said lazily next to them.

"Ha-ha..." Delmont laughed, "If it weren't for Eden, I'm afraid that Victor would live in the morass of despair forever."

"Eden is so great. She has saved his life."

Abigail gave him a blow, "Don't forget that it was because of Eden that you got disabled."

Delmont was dumbfounded. Her words seemed to make senses.

"Alright, stop talking. Don't wander from the subject."

Delmont glanced at Eden with a smile and asked greedily, "Eden, what shall we eat tonight?"

Delmont was very keen on delicious food recently. During this period of time, Adrienne bought him a lot of delicious food, and he had become picky about food.

Delmont's eyes were full of expectation.

Eden smiled mysteriously, "You'll know it at dinner time."

"Ha-ha... I'm looking forward to it." Delmont rested his head on his hands and looked lazy.

"As the old saying goes, bread is the staff of life. This is true. Living such an idle life is really comfortable."

Eden said in a bad tone, "Delmont, you've been too lazy these days. The most important reason is that you are single. I think you'd better have a girlfriend as soon as possible."

Chapter 1515

The expression in Delmont's eyes changed as he said with a raffish smile, "Eden, do you think all the women in the world are born for me? How could it be so easy to have a girlfriend?"

"Alas!" Eden sighed, "Delmont, when God closes a door for you, he will get your neck caught in the door."

"So, my love life is out of God's control. Don't worry about me."

Delmont narrowed his eyes slightly. These days, Eden had been reminding him of this matter intentionally.

But love really couldn't be forced.

After accompanying Eden for about an hour, Abigail took Eden to the shopping mall nearby.

In winter, River City was unusually cold, and there were very few pedestrians on the road.

Abigail walked beside Eden and curled up with cold, and Eden held her cautiously.

"Eden, we women ask for it. On such a snowy day, how comfortable it would be if we slept on bed? Why do we have to come out? The heavy snow has covered the city, but it can't hide our pale faces and stop us from shivering. It's so cold!"

Abigail regretted having come out with Eden.

Eden was not as healthy as before. If she was ill, Victor would definitely scold her.

Eden smiled and looked at the snow dancing in the sky, "Abby, the snow is white. If people's hearts can be so pure, how good it will be! Then we'll have no worry."

"You always like to daydream. Everyone has their own different emotions. We are mortals, okay?"

"The white snow is beautiful, but it's freezing cold."

"Ha-ha..." Seeing her curl up, Eden smiled. In fact, she liked snowy days.

The heat in the shopping mall was on, and they felt warm in an instant.

Eden smiled and asked, "Abby, what do you want to buy?"

When they went shopping together, she always bought a lot of things, but she would regret it when she went back.

Abigail thought for a while. She wanted to go out on a whim, because it was boring to stay at home.

Shopping was indeed an indispensable hobby of women.

Women liked to go shopping by nature.

"Eden, let's go to the jewelry area. I want to make a bracelet for the child. I see many children wear bracelet."

Hearing this, Eden glanced at the jewelry area.

"Abby, you are really a good mother. It's so thoughtful of you." She really didn't think so much when she was pregnant with the three children.

"Eden, women like to fill their minds with nonsense when they have nothing to do. I thought about this all of a sudden."

"Let's go. Jan & Arpels is a famous brand. Let's go and have a look."

She thought for a while and suddenly remembered this jewelry brand.

"That's right. It's well-known all over the world." Eden had a impression of this brand. It once sponsored Mirth Company.

They walked over slowly.

"Dahlia, that is Eden, right?" Looking at the backs of Eden and Abigail, Dulcie was not sure.

Dahlia took a look. Judging from the back, she couldn't make sure that it was Eden.

But was Eden here?

Dahlia took a look at several young ladies in fashionable clothes behind Dulcie.

Dulcie had a wide range of contacts. All these ladies were from rich families.

Moreover, Eden had offended Dulcie and ruined her relationship with her friends.

Dulcie even stayed at the police station for one night because of her.

Dulcie hated her so much and had been trying to take revenge on her.

If it was really Eden, there would be a good show.

Thinking that she could see Eden be bullied without playing any trick, Dahlia was very pleased.

She squinted her malicious eyes and said in a low voice, "Dulcie, it should be her."

"Oh!" Dulcie smiled wickedly, and rage bubbled just below the surface of her mind.

Eden not only stained her life, but also cast a bone between her and Carlotta.

Carlotta had never contacted her since that day.

Their friendship which had lasted for so many years was ruined just like that.

Back then, in order to be approved by Calotta, she paid a high price.

She shifted all the blame onto Eden.

Behind Dulcie, there was a woman who dressed in a sexy dress. She was leggy, and she wore a pair of knee-high boots, looking bewitching and young. Seeing that Dulcie and Dahlia stopped walking, she frowned and asked, "Dulcie, what's wrong?"

Among the five women, she was the tallest, and her hair hung down to her waist.

She was an Internet celebrity who was famous for wearing uniforms.

It was said that she earned tens of millions of dollars in an hour by wearing the most popular uniform.

Moreover, the sexy winter uniform she wore was designed by Dulcie.

She was a very famous Internet celebrity aboard, and Dulcie became famous because of her.

This time, Dulcie wanted to develop her career in River City, so she brought them with her.

She wanted to shoot to stardom in River City.

"Anna Weil, I saw the woman who bullied me a few days ago." Dulcie said coldly.

"Oh! Then why are you still standing here? Let's go and give her a lesson. I'll take revenge for you."

Dulcie knew that these online celebrities were very loyal to her. Since she had said so, they would definitely help her.

However, she smiled cunningly and looked at Anna with an innocent and wronged face, "Anna, forget it. You are public figures. It's not good for your reputation if you make a big thing out of it."

"Humph! What are you afraid of? We are going to uphold justice, and this is not wrong. Let's go. Since she dared to bully you, I won't let her go."

Anna was an impulsive person. Moreover, she was taller than ordinary women, and she was famous, so she looked down her nose at others.

She rushed forward. A triumphant sneer appeared in Dulcie's eyes.

As long as she could give Eden a lesson, she didn't care even if she would lose these friends.

Dahlia knew that there would be a good show. She didn't say anything and followed them.

Eden and Abigail, who were picking children's bracelets carefully, did not notice that they were about to be in danger.

"Wow, Eden, this is definitely a famous brand. Every piece of jewelry is elaborately made. The exquisite patterns make them more perfect. Look at the girls' bracelets. They look noble and elegant."

"Besides, they're all meaningful. I'm really surprised. It's said that a silver bracelet has the effect of calming the organs and setting the mind at ease. I don't know if it's true, but it looks too beautiful."

"You think too much. Silver ornaments do have some benefits for the human body. Silver ion has good bactericidal action, and it's good for people's health. When it meets toxins, there will be a chemical reaction, causing silver to turn black. It's really good for our health."

"Oh!" Abigail looked at her curiously, "Eden, how did you know this?"

Chapter 1516

Eden smiled and said, "Do you forget that I would use silver to decorate the clothes I designed? But I didn't know about it. A sponsor told me about it while chatting with me."

"Abby, choose one you like and I will pay for it. This is my gift for my godson." She planned to buy a gift for Abby's child. She was the child's godmother.

Originally, she wanted to buy the child a bracelet, but she planned to buy it after the child was born.

Since Abigail had a bracelet she liked, she might as well buy it.

"Ha-ha..." Abigail laughed very happily when she heard this.

"Wow! My baby has a kind godmother. Eden, then I won't stand on ceremony." Abigail looked at the exquisite bracelets.

All of a sudden, she looked at Eden mysteriously, "Eden, can I pick a diamond bracelet? Anyway, you're a rich lady now."

Eden smiled and nodded, "When did you become a money-grubber? Just choose what you like. Even if it costs ten million dollars, I'm willing to buy it."

"Ha-ha... You finally have a concept of money." Abigail glanced at the shop assistant.

The shop assistant understood and immediately took out the limited edition excitedly. She smiled brightly and introduced it, "Ladies, please take a look at this. This is a new exclusive bracelet, and it's named The Lovely Angel. There are eight small diamonds on it. The design and style is very unique, and the joint is round and very safe. The size can be adjusted. When they child grows older, he could still wear it. Such diamonds are dazzling. "

"Wow! It's so beautiful. This is the charm of the diamond." Abigail liked it very much. She had always liked luxuries, and she really liked this bracelet.

Seeing her expression, Eden knew that she liked it, "Abby, I also think it's very beautiful, and the design is safe."

"Yes, Eden, let's buy this."

"Okay!" Eden smiled and asked the shop assistant to package it. She was going to pay for it.

At the same time, Anna and her friends got closer Eden.

They were choosing the diamond necklace under the introduction of the shop assistant.

At the same time, Dahlia and Dulcie stood not far away and looked at them.

They looked casual, as if they had nothing to do with Anna.

The shop assistant packaged the bracelet quickly. Just as Eden was about to go to the check-out counter, someone hit her. Then, two women dressed in fashionable clothes separated her and Abigail. Another woman bumped against her fiercely.

Eden frowned and looked at the three women.

One of them smiled at her, "I'm sorry." Her tone was very unfriendly.

Eden was worried about Abigail and glanced at her. Seeing that she was choosing other jewelry happily, she turned around and was about to leave.

The other women began to talk about the diamond necklace.

"Oh, why is a diamond necklace missing?"

A shop assistant cried out in surprise.

The other two shop assistants immediately came over to have a look. An expensive diamond necklace was really missing.

Anna and her friends were stunned and looked at the shop assistant in disbelief.

"How could it be? Do you suspect that we are thieves?" Anna said coldly.

Abigail stood next to them. Hearing Anna's harsh tone, she looked at Anna with displeasure.

"Ladies, I'm sorry. This necklace is very expensive. If it's lost, we have no money to afford it." The shop assistant explained apologetically. It could be seen that she was very anxious.

Anna suddenly looked at Eden's back, "By the way, the young lady crushed into me just now. When we turned around, the necklace was missing."

Hearing this, the shop assistant rushed towards Eden.

Abigail opened her eyes wide and looked at Anna who was talking nonsense.

Then she turned to look at Eden. The shop assistant had grabbed Eden's hand and didn't let her go.

Eden looked at the shop assistant in confusion, "What's the matter?"

There was only one check-out counter on the first floor, so she had to go to the center of the shopping mall to pay the money.

The shop assistant looked at Eden with disdain, "Miss, I'm sorry. We lost a very expensive necklace just now. Please support my work."

Eden frowned. Looking at her anxious eyes, she felt that she was not lying.

"Do you mean that I stole the necklace?" Eden's tone was extremely unhappy, and her eyes turned apathetic.

Anna looked at Eden gloatingly and said arrogantly, "You hit me just now, didn't you?"

Only then did Eden look at Anna carefully. She was very tall and pretty, but her expression was very annoying.

"It was you who bumped against me..." Saying this, Eden suddenly stopped.

Recalling the scene just now, she remembered that the tall woman hit her first, and the other two women separated her and Abby.

Then someone touched her arm.

Eden reached into her left coat pocket subconsciously.

Sure enough, she touched something cold.

She quickly took it out and found it was a diamond necklace.

"Ah..." The shop assistant screamed, "It's this necklace! You shameless thief! Do you want to ruin our life?"

She looked at Eden indifferently and said in a sharp and sarcastic tone, "Just now, you even said that you could pay ten million dollars, but you're just a thief! You're young, but why are you so shameless?"

Eden glared at Anna and her friends with a frenzy of rage. She was a little puzzled, but she didn't know these women and this was the first time she had met them."

Why did they frame her?

"Call the police. A woman like you should go to the prison. If you steal this necklace, we can't afford to pay for it even if we work here for ten years in vain!" The shop assistant yelled at Eden.

Immediately, many people gathered around to watch.

Looking at the three gloating women not far away, Eden didn't get anxious but walked back calmly.

"B*llshit! Eden's wealth is beyond your imagination. The diamond necklace is so vulgar that we don't even like it. How dare you to frame Eden? You're too bold!"

"Humph!" The shop assistant snorted coldly.

"It turns out that you came here to show off. The evidence is irrefutable, and we're not framing her. She took out the necklace from her pocket, and the lady said that she had stolen it."

"You're pregnant. You think that one dares to beat you because you are pregnant, so you dare to steal the necklace so recklessly."

"We have seen a lot of people like you in the mall."

The shop assistant was extremely angry and cursed Abigail.

Chapter 1517

"Ha-ha..." Abigail glanced at the shop assistant, rushed over and raised her hand.

"Crack..." She slapped her on the face hard.

"I have never been insulted like this in my life."

"Who do you think you are? How dare you frame me for stealing your vulgar necklace?"

"Ah..." The shop assistant was dumbfounded.

"Oh, the thief nowadays is really impudent. Do you make a scene like this because you've been found out?"

"But, even if you make a fuss and cry, it's useless. You'll be taken away by the police though you're pregnant." Anna said with a smile. She crossed her arms, and her proud expression was very hateful.

Abigail went berserk. She instantly understood that this matter had something to do with the three women.

Eden held Abby, "Don't be excited. I'm worried about the child. I'll handle this matter. Sit down first."

"Eden, these women hit you just now. They must have put this necklace in your pocket when you were not paying attention. They actually play such a childish trick, and they are too naive."

"Let me tell you. I can't stand being wronged like this. Don't let them go and leave it to me. You're kindhearted, and I will absolutely not be satisfied with the result."

"Abby..."

"You sit down, and I'll handle this!" Abigail went off the deep end.

She had been living a rich and comfortable life, but these people regarded her as a thief. She had no way to eat humble pie.

"Humph! I've never seen such an arrogant thief like you. Today, even if you don't let me go, I will let you pay the price." The shop assistant was also mad.

She immediately asked the other two shop assistants to call the police.

Having got what they wanted, Anna and the other two women were about to leave.

Eden stepped forward and blocked their way.

She took a cold look at Anna.

"The truth hasn't been figured out. You'd better stay here and wait for the police."

"Get out my way! Who do you think you are? How dare you block me?" Saying this, Anna raised her wrist and wanted to slap Eden in the face.

"Eden, be careful!" Abigail stood by and watched.

Eden sneered indifferently. When Anna was about to touch her face, she kicked at her knee.

"Ouch..." Anna didn't expect Eden to fight back at this time.

She slapped Eden on the shoulder, but she was so painful that she took a few steps back.

"Anna, are you okay?" The other two women supported Anna quickly and glared at Eden ferociously.

"How can you beat her?" One of them roared at Eden sternly and harshly.

The three shop assistants glared at Eden as well.

Eden smiled apathetically, "What's wrong? Since she could beat me, why couldn't I beat her?"

"You unreasonable thief!" The shop assistant who had been slapped by Abigail said in a sarcastic and malicious tone.

"You behave so hypocritically after stealing the necklace. How shameless you are!" Anna was very unhappy because she failed to slap Eden.

Eden ignored them and looked at Abigail, "Abby, who owns this shopping mall?"

Abigail blinked her eyes. She really wanted to pinch Eden to sober her up, "Yours! Even the street belongs to your husband. It is the shopping mall he purchased along with other companies, isn't it?"

"What's wrong? Don't you know about it?"

Eden was stunned. She really didn't know about it.

"Ha-ha..." The shop assistants laughed more mockingly when they heard this.

"Well, since you stole the necklace, just admit it. Thus you can suffer less. Are you trying to scare us by saying that? Does this street belong to you? Why don't you say that the whole River City belongs to your family?" Anna looked at Eden with disdain.

Eden sneered and squinted at her, "We'll know who the real thief is soon."

"Alright, you shameless woman. You're pretty, so I think you should not be a thief, but a prostitute."

"But I'll wait and see. I'd like to see why you dare to give yourself airs." Anna and the other two women looked righteous and confident.

"Eden, I'm going to kill this woman today." Abigail walked towards Anna impulsively.

Eden's heart was in her mouth when she saw this, and she stopped Abigail quickly.

"Abby, don't be so mad. You can't act recklessly. I promise I will handle this matter and satisfy you. Take a deep breath and calm down, okay?"

"Humph! Don't think you can do whatever you want just because you're pregnant. What you're doing will only make people look down on you more." The shop assistant who had been beaten by Abigail was jealous of Abigail's charming and attractive appearance. As long as Abigail spoke, she could not help but want to be argumentative.

"Shut up!" Eden roared at her furiously, "If anything bad happens to Abby, I'll kill you first!" Eden's eyes were determined. She wouldn't let go of these people.

"Humph! If I'm afraid of you, I'll get out of here on my knees." The shop assistant stood very close to Abigail and reached out to grab Abigail's hair. She raised her hand, picked up the jewelry box on the counter and was about to hit Abigail's beautiful face.

Eden's eyes trembled. At the critical moment, she went forward and held Abigail in her arms.

"Bang..." The jewelry box was smashed onto Eden's head.

"Eden..." Abigail screamed.

Eden endured the pain and kicked away the shop assistant exasperatedly.

The salesgirl was caught off guard and fell to the ground.

"Ouch... My waist." She looked painful.

Eden's anger overflowed. Blood came out of her forehead, making her look more cold-blooded and brutal.

She bent down and slapped the shop assistant very viciously and cruelly, "Crack..."

"Ah..." The shop assistant felt dizzy and screamed. Looking at Eden's irritated face, she was so scared that she did not dare to retort.

"You beast! How dare you hurt a pregnant woman!" Eden said word by word with a surge of great fury.

Seeing this, Anna was a little stunned. Eden was so strong and hot-tempered. No wonder she could bully Dulcie.

"This thief beat someone! Catch her!" Seeing that the shop assistant was no match for Eden, Anna immediately shouted loudly.

The three of them slowly approached Eden.

They walked to Eden's back with evil intentions and wanted to teach her a lesson together.

"Eden, watch your back!" Abigail opened her eyes wide and glared at the three mad women. She really wanted to kill them.

She sent a message to Anson as fast as she could.

Eden turned around and happened to see Anna raising her hand towards her.

"Bang..." At the critical moment, Anna, who was half a head taller than Eden, was kicked to the ground by a black figure.

"Miss, sorry that I'm late." Aro suddenly appeared behind Eden and looked guilty. He went to the bathroom just now.

Eden glanced at him and said with a smile, "Aro, it's not late. You come at the right time."

Chapter 1518

Aro looked at the blood on Eden's face and frowned angrily, "Mrs. Alwynn, are you hurt?"

"It's not a big deal. I'm okay." Eden wiped the blood off the corner of her forehead with a sneer.

She lowered her head and looked at the awkward shop assistant with fury in her eyes.

At the same time, Anna fell to the ground and the other two women helped her up. She was in so much pain that tears came out of her eyes. She looked at Eden fiercely.

"B*tch, I underestimated you. It turns out that you have a bodyguard." Anna gritted her teeth.

Abigail glared at her angrily, "Aro, knock out her teeth! Since she speaks so harshly, there's no need to keep her teeth! It's too disgusting!"

Aro glanced at Eden.

Abigail was speechless. She had to take a bodyguard with her when she went out in the future.

Eden smiled wickedly, "Just do it. Don't let others think that we are easy to bully."

"Okay." Aro walked towards Anna expressionlessly.

Anna had been kicked by Aro just now. Only she knew how painful she was.

She felt that her waist had been broken, and she could not stand steadily.

When she saw Aro approaching her, she was overwhelmed by fear, "Don't come here! She stole the necklace, but she's so self-righteous. If you have the guts, just wait for the police to come."

"The police will come here soon. You bumped against me twice. If you are the one who put the necklace into my pocket, I will disable both of your hands here." Eden said word by word furiously.

"Aro, beat her!" Eden yelled angrily.

These women would not do this for no reason. There should be someone behind the scene.

"Anna, what should we do?" One of the girls looked at Aro's strong figure in fear.

However, the next moment, Aro rushed to them with the suddenness of thunder bolt.

"Crack..." He slapped Anna's face mercilessly.

"Ah..." A miserable scream sounded.

Eden could imagine how painful it was.

Aro's strength was definitely terrifying.

When Eden looked at Anna, she saw that her mouth was full of blood and her nose was crooked.

"Anna!" The two women cried out in terror.

Seeing this, Dahlia and Dulcie were no longer in the mood to watch a good show.

Especially Dahlia, she was very flustered. Just now, she went to the monitoring room and wanted to get the surveillance video, but she was refused.

The security guards here didn't listen to her. She took out a stack of money, but they didn't even look at her and drove her out.

Eden said without any sympathy, "Yo, Aro, her nose once had a plastic surgery. Now it has been disfigured."

Aro stood aside silently.

"Ha-ha..." Abigail burst out laughing, "Ugly people often do strange things to embarrass others."

"Woo-woo..." Anna just wanted to make things difficult for Eden, but she did not expect to get herself involved.

In fact, she didn't know that what was going to happen was more horrible.

The onlookers didn't know what had happened and made some guesses.

The three shop assistants were completely dumbfounded.

Seeing how fierce Aro was, they didn't even dare to speak.

"Abby! Eden!" An anxious voice came from the crowd. At the same time, the police had arrived.

Abigail pretended to be wronged when she saw Anson, "Darling, if you came here a bit late, I would have been bullied badly."

Abigail pointed at the shop assistant who wanted to hit her just now, "She hit me just now, but Eden protected me, and she is injured."

"They insulted me and Eden, saying that we're thieves."

She must take revenge for Eden.

Anson glared at the shop assistant viciously and maliciously.

The shop assistant shrunk her neck and suddenly felt a little scared. She shouldn't have been so impulsive because of jealousy.

However, when she saw the police, she gained courage immediately.

"Sir, she stole the diamond necklace." She pointed at Eden.

"Shut up!" Anson looked at the shop assistant, "Do you know who she is? How dare you insult her!"

"I don't care who she is. I only know that she's a thief!" The shop assistant looked arrogant. With the police here, she did not believe that they could beat her recklessly again.

Anson glanced at Eden and then looked at Anna and her friends, saying, "Sir, she is Mr. Alwynn's wife. Please wait a minute!"

Hearing this, the policeman glanced at Eden and said respectfully, "Mr. Skye, this way, please!"

However, everyone there was taken aback.

The shop assistant almost fainted on the spot.

Anna was even more shocked.

She looked at Eden's plain face and could not believe that she was Victor's wife.

Anson looked at the bloodstain on Eden's forehead and couldn't help but swallow. Victor would go crazy when he saw this.

"Aro, why are you standing there? When Victor comes here and sees the blood on Eden's face, everyone here will suffer. Go buy some medicine in a hurry and treat Eden's wound."

Aro strode out hurriedly.

Eden frowned and looked at Anson.

"I can solve it by myself. Why did you tell Victor?"

Anson smiled, "Eden, I was too anxious at that time, so I called Victor and see who was the nearest to you."

Eden instantly fell silent. Why was she so unlucky?

Something bad happened to her whenever she went out.

Anson called the manager of the shopping mall and asked her to get the surveillance video.

The manager was a woman, and she was a capable professional manager hired by Victor.

Anson knew her.

Soon, Manager West, who dressed in a professional suit, walked to Eden quickly.

She lowered her head guiltily, "Mrs. Alwynn, I had something to deal with and went out just now. I'm so sorry for what you've suffered."

Eden shook her head, "Did you get the surveillance video?"

Manager West nodded, "Mrs. Alwynn, when I went to the monitoring room, the security guard told me that a woman tried to buy the surveillance video with money, but he refused."

"Oh!" Eden sneered. Her guess was right.

Indeed, someone wanted to embarrass her on purpose.

"Reward the security guard. Those who are loyal to the company should be promoted."

"Okay, Mrs. Alwynn."

"Was her face shot by the camera?"

"Yes. Mrs. Alwynn, take a look of this first. I'll send that video to you later." Manager West took the tape and played the surveillance video on the TV not far away.

Dahlia, who was standing outside the crowd, heard their conversation, and her body tensed up completely.

She didn't expect that this was Victor's shopping mall.

Soon, everyone saw the truth in the video.

Anna bumped against Eden, and her two friends took the opportunity to surround Eden. After diverting her attention, Anna hit Eden again hard and then put the necklace into her coat pocket.

"Ah..." Anna went deathly pale. Duclie actually didn't delete the surveillance video.

No, everything was over. She had been used by Dulcie.

Chapter 1519

The three shop assistants were stunned. It turned out to be like this.

As for who the thief was, it was absolutely clear.

They looked at Anna angrily, "Why are you so vicious? You use such a method to frame Mrs. Alwynn! You are simply too mean!" One of the shop assistants roared at Anna.

Anna couldn't feel more embarrassed. The surrounding customers all pointed at her and whispered to each other, which made her ashamed and awkward.

She was very agitated and uneasy in heart. How could she develop her career in River City in the future?

She could only work as an Internet celebrity, and her only advantage was that she had a pretty face and long legs.

Eden sneered and approached Anna step by step.

At this moment, Anna was overwhelmed by fear.

In River City, Victor was famous for doting on his wife.

His wife was as important as his own life.

Even if those who went to River City didn't want to know about it, they would hear people talking about this.

But that day, she actually offended Eden stupidly.

She had just come here, but such a thing had happened. How could she have a foothold in River City?

Dulcie must have known about Eden's identity. Otherwise, she would have dealt with Eden by herself, and she didn't need to make use of her at all.

"Mrs. Alwynn, I've been used by someone today. I'll accept all the punishment." Resistance would only make her suffer more. Those who suited their actions to the times were wise.

She was about to fall down. It was so painful that she could not hold on any longer.

Eden said harshly, "Humph! Since you're used by others, it proves that you are useful. Just go to the police station."

Anson looked at policeman, "Sir, we've known the truth. Take them away."

The policeman got the surveillance video and was about to leave with Anna and her friends. At this time, a tall and strong man came out of the crowd. With his arrival, the atmosphere became oppressive.

"Honey, who beat you?" Looking at the blood on Eden's face, Victor went off the deep end.

Hearing this, the shop assistant fell to the ground feebly.

Victor looked over. The shop assistant lowered her head and wished that she could faint at this moment.

"I'm fine. It's not a big deal." Eden waved her hand.

"What? But you're bleeding!" Victor's eyes were filled with harshness and coldness.

"Did she beat you?" Victor pointed to the shop assistant who was sitting on the ground.

"Yes." Abigail knew how kind Eden was and said slowly. If they let go the shop assistant, she would only be more arrogant in the future.

"Sir, she beat my wife. Take her away as well." Victor didn't show her any mercy and said in an emotionless voice.

The shop assistant got frightened and passed out completely.

Under Victor's horrible gaze, the policeman let the auxiliary policeman take away the fainted shop assistant.

Anna and her friends were taken away as well.

Aro came back with the medicine. Victor took it and then took Eden to the lounge to deal with the wound on her forehead.

Abigail returned the bracelet to the shop assistant. No matter how she liked it, she didn't want it anymore.

She would think of what had happened here whenever she looked at the bracelet and feel disgusted.

In the lounge, Victor dealt with Eden's wound very cautiously.

Anson stood beside Abigail and accompanied her.

Manager West left after sending the video to Eden.

Seeing Paulina, Eden immediately understood everything.

She looked at Abigail apologetically, "Abby, I'm sorry. We didn't buy the bracelet for the baby. Let's go shopping another day."

Abigail looked at her with annoyance, "Eden, don't care about me when we encounter such a dangerous thing again. If she had a knife in her hand, think about what you would be like now!"

Eden knew that Abby was worried about her, but she cared about Abby more. She was her best friend in this world.

"Abby, you don't want me to get hurt, but I can't bear to let you get hurt as well. What's more, you have a baby in your belly. Our son must be fine."

"Moreover, I'm all right now. Anna was used by someone, so she framed us. But don't worry. I'll handle this well."

"Who?" Victor asked with a sullen face.

Eden looked at him, "It's useless even if I tell you. This time, I'll deal with her in person."

"Your business is my business. I will help you." Victor looked at her with determination.

"Just wait and see. If I fail to deal with her, you can do something to help me. I have to make myself stronger." Eden smiled, and the expression in her eyes was cunning.

No matter what, Paulina was Irving's fiancée. If Victor took actions, he and Irving would hate each other more.

Victor was mad, but he couldn't do anything to her.

After Anson dealt with everything, they went home respectively.

Back home, Eden sent Irving the video of what had happened in the shopping mall.

On the way back, she felt that she had seen Anna before, so she searched Anna online.

She saw the videos of Anna showing all kinds of uniforms.

Then she read the comments and instantly realized what was going on.

Dulcie brought Anna and two other online celebrities back to River City from abroad. They all worked in in RK Company.

But this time, they actually acted recklessly.

They didn't even have a stable foothold here before they ruined their careers.

"Irving, your fiancée is quite smart. Next time, she won't be so lucky. You'd better keep tabs on her."

Irving had been focusing his attention on her. It was time to let him and Paulina turn against each other.

In that case, he wouldn't try to disgust Victor all the time.

He bought her a bouquet of roses everyday, which always made Victor annoyed and jealous.

"Eden, are you all right?"

Eden snorted. What a hypocrite!

"If I was not all right, could I send you a message?"

"Mom, time for meal." Gia's voice came from outside the door.

Eden deleted the messages and went out in a hurry.

She did this because she didn't want Victor to be jealous again.

In Irving's villa.

As soon as Dahlia entered the house, Irving slapped her in the face.

"Crack... "

Dahlia stared at his furious face in disbelief.

"Irving... You..." He actually slapped her.

"Shut up! When can you stop playing your little tricks? The one I want you to deal with is Victor, not Eden!"

"I spent a lot of effort to poach Anna and her friends, because I wanted to make your products more excellent the next season. The sales rely on these online celebrities and live broadcast. They're famous and they have attracted a large number of fans online. They will help us sell the products the next season."

"But your jealousy ruined all my plans in just a few minutes!"

"If you play such a dirty trick again and ruin my company's reputation, get out of my company immediately!"

"I can let you live a rich life, but I can also send you to hell in an instant." Irving said word by word ruthlessly.

Chapter 1520

Hearing this, Dahlia knew that she did not consider the overall situation.

But what had happened that day had nothing to do with her.

She was afraid that Anna would be shot by the security camera, so she tried to delete the surveillance video. However, the security person not only didn't accept her money, but also drove her out. In the end, she was shot by the camera and Eden saw her in the surveillance video.

She knew that she had done a wrong thing.

She made a fool of herself in trying to be smart.

She didn't learn a lesson from what had happened before, and she was too impulsive and impatient.

She had completely exposed herself in front of Eden.

In the future, Eden would definitely be on guard against her.

"Irving, I'm sorry. I will never do this again. You can rest assured that I will definitely take the interests of the whole into account. I will work very hard to become a woman who's qualified to be with you." She admitted the mistake pitifully, though they framed Eden for Dulcie.

Dulcie was very proud. She had been trying to take revenge on Eden because of what Eden had done.

When they got an opportunity that day, she did not want to give up selfishly.

Anna used to sell countless of clothes when she had a live broadcast online.

She was taken to the police station that day, and one knew what would happen.

"What's the use of admitting your mistake now?" Irving stared at her coldly.

Dahlia lowered her head in panic, looking very regretful.

Seeing her like this, Irving frowned slightly and his eyes dimmed. His brooding and apathetic eyes seemed to be filled with hostility and disgust.

He hated such a scheming woman.

Sometimes, men were shrewd for doing a better business.

He hated crafty and despicable women the most.

All of a sudden, Eden's innocent face and pure eyes flashed through his mind.

"Get the hell out of here!" He said harshly.

"Irving..." Dahlia felt wronged and burst into tears.

"I am your fiancée." Did he forget this?

"Humph!" Irving snorted coldly. She was just the woman that his father used to monitor him. Since he didn't admit her identity, she was not his fiancée.

"Anna's nose once had a plastic surgery, but it has been scrunched. Bail her out and see if she can do live stream again." The media didn't report what had happened that day.

With Victor's character, he would not allow the media to expose Eden so easily.

He hoped that Anna could be lucky.

"Dahlia, I have arranged everything for you in the future. If you screw things up again, don't blame me for being ruthless."

Looking at his cold eyes, Dahlia felt a bit dizzy, and she looked so sombre. Tears ran down her face, and a wave of sadness flooded her.

After standing for a while, she nodded and turned to bail out Anna and her friends.

In the winter night, the sky was dark, and the leaves were rustling in the cold wind.

The snow covered the whole city. It was so cold that no one wanted to go out.

After dinner, Eden played with the children for a while and then she went back to her room to study Danielle's design.

She didn't know if it was her illusion, but she always felt that she had seen such a style somewhere before.

She wore a pink fur home clothes and her hair was coiled on top of her head. She sat on the couch near the window and looked at the design drafts very seriously, and her gentle and charming face was reflected through the window.

Victor was playing computer games with Henrick.

These days, Gia had been in a bad mood. Although Troy had transferred to another school, that matter had cast a shadow in her heart.

During the daytime, Martin accompanied Giada all the time. To everyone's surprise, Henrick did not disturb them.

After they came back from school, Henrick cared about Gia very much. No matter what Gia said, he didn't argue with her and even took the initiative to play games with her.

With Victor's company, Giada was in a good mood that day.

After playing with Henrick and Giada for a while, Victor went back to the room to see Eden.

As soon as he entered the room, he saw Eden sitting by the window. He walked over with a smile and hugged her from behind. Then, he placed his chin on her shoulder and gently rubbed against her.

Eden looked back at him and smiled happily, "Gia is in a better mood. You played games with her tonight, and she will feel better tomorrow."

Victor smiled and nodded, "Yeah! She went to bed happily. Honey, what are you looking at?"

Eden showed him the design drafts on her phone.

"This is the designer I've taken fancy to. The style of her design is very unique. She has just graduated from college. Although she is not experienced, I always feel like I've seen this design drafts somewhere before." She was a bit hesitant to hire Danielle.

Because she was familiar with her design.

Especially when she saw the familiar design style.

Victor took a careful look at the design drafts, "The design drafts are completely different from yours. If we keep the designer in the company, there will be two different kinds of fashion trends."

"But it won't last long, because it's easy to be imitated."

Victor did not like the design very much and returned the phone to her.

The style was too unique, and target age group was under thirty.

This was not why Eden was hesitant.

She thought about the scenes where Danielle appeared downstairs Alwynn Group.

She met Paula twice. Did they meet by accident? Or was it arranged by someone?

"Victor, ask Dean to investigate Danielle." She didn't know why she was uneasy, and she couldn't rest assured unless she investigated it.

"Okay, I will ask him to do it tomorrow." Victor carried her in his arms, "Let's go to sleep."

"Okay!" She was really tired after experiencing so much in a day.

Several days had passed in a flash.

Victor became busier and busier, but Eden was free.

When she had nothing to do, she rarely went to the company. Instead, she went to the hospital to take care of Delmont and accompanied the children to review their lessons.

Everyone was busy at the end of the year.

A week later, there was an uproar in River City.

The richest man in A Country, Barrett, returned to River City to live out his life in retirement.

Eden knew this news. She was afraid that Adrienne would have no time to care about Delmont, so she went to the hospital to accompany him these days.

Work could never be more important than family.

She stood by the window and looked at the report on TV.

She glanced at Delmont, only to see that he was watching the news with a dejected face.

He knew that he couldn't be with Adrienne, but he didn't want to give up.

He looked out of the window slowly. The cold wind cut one to the marrow. Snow was falling heavily, whitening the tops of the trees.

There was ice awls at the edge of the windowsill. They were twinkling under the bright sunshine.

Delmont suddenly smiled and said, "Eden, this winter is really long. I remember that the snow had stopped by this time last year, but it's still snowing heavily this year." His tone was casual and melancholic.

Eden nodded, "Isn't it just? This winter is indeed colder."

Eden looked at him and hesitated for a moment before asking, "Delmont, are you in a bad mood?"