

Gluey Love 161

Chapter 161

Eden followed Victor's gaze and she stared at the large bed not far away.

She became more nervous. The tall figure who was standing in front of her had blocked the lights and she was completely shrouded in his shadow.

Victor looked at Eden for a while and said with a smile, "Eden, let's go." His sexy and gentle voice was enchanting and comforting.

His words made Eden's tense body relax.

She picked up her handbag from the side, got up, and nodded at Victor calmly. After that, she walked out without saying a word.

Seeing this, Victor just followed her quietly.

She seemed to be very nervous and afraid of him.

A trace of pity flashed across Victor's eyes. This place had probably caused a lot of trauma to her.

As Victor followed behind Eden, his lonely and cold figure seemed to become warmer and gentler.

His eyes twinkled when he looked at the thin figure walking in front of him. She was so thin that he wanted to protect her all the time.

Victor and Eden ran into Adonis and the others at the elevator.

"Are you going back?" Anson looked at Victor and asked.

Victor's tone was indifferent, deep and charming at the same time. "I'll send Eden back. You can go back and deal with your own business!"

"Mr. Alwynn, no need! I can go back by myself." Eden refused quickly because Jasper would come to pick her up.

Moreover, it was still early and she still had to go out to buy something.

She had to prepare the things in advance for Kenny before he came!

Victor looked at Eden with a frown. Did she want Jasper to pick her up?

Hmph! He would not let Jasper interfere as long as he was around.

"As I said, I will send you back." Victor's cold tone was beyond tolerance.

Eden frowned and looked at him. What was wrong with Victor?

She thought that she was not the type of woman Victor was looking for because she already had children. Why did Victor cling to her all the time?

Anson and the others two looked at each other. It seemed like Victor was prone to anger when the matter was related to Eden.

Anson smiled and tried to ease the situation. "Director Bleu, it's not safe at night, especially when you're so beautiful. Just let Victor send you back!"

However, Victor glared at him, hinting that Anson was being a busybody.

Anson understood what Victor meant. He winked at Adonis and Lucian and the three of them left quickly.

They would be dumb if they didn't leave at this time.

"Eden, let's go!" Victor insisted on sending Eden home.

Eden shook her head and said, "Mr. Alwynn, I really don't want to trouble you. The banquet ended early. I can go back on my own. Besides, I want to go to the supermarket."

"I'll go with you then." Victor did not give Eden a chance to speak after he finished his words. He walked forward quickly.

It would take some time for another show to begin. Thus, it would be useless for him to stay there.

Eden had no choice but to follow Victor.

Wasn't he very busy? Why would he have time to accompany her to the supermarket?

When they entered the elevator, Victor pressed the button to the parking lot on the ground floor.

When Eden saw that, she refused again, "Mr. Alwynn, you really don't have to send me back. It's still early. I can go back on my own.

I'll take a taxi. Don't you still have to attend some social engagement here?"

Eden forgot to bid goodbye to Uncle Calder before she left.

She would send Uncle Calder a message later so that he would not be worried.

Victor frowned when he heard Eden's words. The lights in the elevator were a little yellow. Victor's deep gaze fell on Eden's small face which was filled with refusal. He curved his lips upwards wickedly. "Eden, do you really want to reject my kindness?"

Chapter 162

"I..." Eden wanted to speak but stopped on second thoughts. She did not want to just reject his good intentions.

She simply didn't want to have any contact with him except for work. He was the main culprit for everything that had happened today.

Victor looked at Eden's behavior and raised his eyebrows. His handsome face was tinged with a touch of gentleness. "Eden, I know where the supermarket is located. I'll take you there later."

What else could Eden say? She could only remain silent.

She took out her mobile phone and glanced at the time. It was just over nine o'clock.

She sent a message to Jasper and told him not to pick her up anymore. Since it was still early, Jasper would not be worried about her.

She sent the message quickly and Jasper was quick to reply too. He asked Eden to be careful and to call him if something happened.

Eden smiled and replied okay and added a mischievous emoji.

She then sent a message to Zaiden, telling him that she had already left.

Victor knew that Eden was texting Jasper. He felt disappointed when he saw her smiling because she had never smiled that way to him before.

Eden's soft smile was really beautiful. Time seemed to stop at that moment.

Victor and Eden didn't talk. They got in the car and Victor drove to the supermarket near Eden's apartment.

The supermarket was open 24 hours a day.

Victor and Eden entered the supermarket and Victor took a cart.

Eden didn't say anything when she saw this.

It was also Eden's first to visit this supermarket. The business was very good and there were a lot of people.

She liked to bring her children to the supermarket. She would feel happy and blessed when she visited the supermarket with her three children.

However, Victor's presence made her feel a little uncomfortable because she had only known him for a few days.

Eden and Victor were both good-looking. They were the center of attention whenever they went.

"Look, that married couple is really a perfect match.

The man is really handsome. He looks like a famous celebrity."

"That's right! The woman is also very beautiful! It's really enviable."

The people around were discussing about them. Victor felt inexplicably happy when he heard someone calling them a married couple.

Eden's face turned red when she heard the crowd's conversation.

How would she and Victor look like a married couple?

Eden glanced sideways at Victor who was standing next to her. She felt depressed instantly when she saw that Victor was smiling happily. She couldn't figure out Victor's thoughts.

Why was he happy?

"Eden, what do you want to buy?" Eden had not taken anything since they entered the supermarket.

Eden glanced at him and said somewhat unnaturally, "My son is coming. I want to buy him some daily necessities."

"Oh!" Victor was very glad when he heard that. It would be great if Ricky came to stay in River City. He could communicate more with Ricky and enhance his relationship with his son.

"Let's go to the children's section then." Victor raised his head and looked at the signs around him as he spoke.

They eventually found the daily necessities items in the children's section.

Eden began to look for Kenny's favorite brand. Her three children's taste were different from each other. Kenny liked light-flavored stuff and he disliked anything that smelled.

Eden chose the stuff carefully, including toothpaste.

Victor looked at her throughout the entire process with a faint smile on his face. He would think of Eden every day even before he met her.

When he saw Eden's favorite snacks, he would think of her and would stand and stare at them for a long time. There were times when the passers-by regarded him as a madman.

When he heard a familiar voice, he would turn around to look for Eden. He would look at the familiar face and would only come back to his senses after a long time.

Chapter 163

Victor felt lonely and alone all these years. Eden's sudden appearance made him feel that his life was bright and full of hope.

This time, he would not allow his heart to ache when he saw how happy Eden was with others.

He wanted to tell her how he felt so that they could have a happy ending together.

Eden had chosen a lot of things, including daily necessities, vegetables, noodles, etc.

Victor didn't let Eden pay and rushed to pay for her.

Eden felt helpless. She glanced at the amount and wanted to transfer the money to Victor.

Victor saw what she was doing with her phone while he was holding the things in his hands. His eyes became dark and he frowned and said, "Eden, you and Ricky are members of my company. The company will pay for these daily necessities. You don't have to transfer the money to me."

Eden glanced at Victor. Why didn't she know about this benefit?

She shook her head quickly. "No, Mr. Alwynn. My contract does not state that I can reimburse the daily necessities which I had bought."

Eden lowered her head and transferred the money to Victor.

Victor's face darkened when he heard the notification from his phone.

Victor and Eden did not say a word to each other on the way back.

Eden could tell that Victor was angry.

Eden had always been able to distinguish between public and private affairs. Her arrogant attitude caused her not to accept other people's help when she had the ability to do things herself.

That was the principle she had adhered to since she was a child.

Eden was able to persevere and survive even though the Gienger family had stopped giving her living expenses since she started university.

She graduated from university with the scholarship and the money she earned from her part-time job. She also lived a thrifty lifestyle.

When she was in university, she was working hard to earn money while her peers were busy dating and dressing up.

Many boys had chased after her because she was beautiful. However, she did not pay attention to them because she was too busy.

She always walked at a fast pace and she shuttled between several jobs.

However, she never felt tired at all and she would always have a bright smile on her face.

Victor carried the things and insisted to send Eden home.

Eden had no choice but to let him do whatever he wanted.

She raised her head to look at the sky and wondered what was wrong with Victor.

The apartment which Victor bought previously under the company's name was normally used to accommodate his employees.

It was the first time Victor visited the place tonight. He frowned when he looked at the small apartment with just one bedroom and one living room. It was really small.

Eden glanced at Victor. She couldn't just drive him away directly. "Mr. Alwynn, put the things on the table first. I'll get you a cup of coffee."

She really couldn't read what was on Victor's mind.

It is generally thought that a person's character is more important than his wealth, also friends would not take advantage of each other. Eden could only be careful!

"Okay!" Victor nodded. His deep voice was pleasant to hear.

Victor put the things on the table and looked at Eden who was making coffee in the kitchen. He smiled wickedly suddenly and said, "Eden, I'm hungry."

Eden's hand which was grinding the coffee beans, trembled slightly. Why would he look for her when he was hungry?

She was not his nanny. Why did he ask her to have something to eat?

She calmed her anger and turned to look at Victor calmly. "Mr. Alwynn, what do you want to eat? I'll order takeout for you."

Victor frowned and shook his head. "I don't like takeout!"

Eden was dumbfounded. Was Victor asking her to make something for him?

Chapter 164

Eden smiled and asked patiently, "What does Mr. Alwynn want to eat?"

Victor was really thick skinned to come to her house for food in the middle of the night.

Victor looked at Eden with a charming smile on his handsome face. "I'll eat whatever you make, Eden."

Eden cursed in her heart, "If I'll give you an empty plate, will you eat it?"

She glanced at the noodles on the table. No way. Those were the noodles she and Kenny liked.

She glanced at the five-kilogram flour and said with a bright smile, "I'll make dumplings for you, Mr.

Alwynn!"

It would be quick to make dumplings even though she had to roll the dumpling skin. She was not full at the banquet tonight, so she bought sliced meat to make dumplings for herself.

"Okay!" Victor didn't expect Eden would really cook for him.

Victor was truly hungry. He never ate until he was full every time he attended a banquet.

Eden handed the brewed coffee to Victor, picked up the flour on the table, and went to the kitchen.

Eden's phone rang suddenly. When Eden saw that it was from her mother, she smiled happily and said, "Mother!"

"Eden, Kenny bought a ticket for the day after tomorrow. Remember to pick him up at the airport."

"Okay, mom. I'll reach the airport on time."

"Alright. Remember to go home early once the banquet is over."

"Mom, I am already home. Don't worry."

"That's great. Go to bed early. Don't stay up late. I'm hanging up."

The loving voice could always make Eden feel that she was cared for by her mother.

Eden's mood became good instantly. She was very skillful when she swiftly mixed the dough and rolled out the skin.

Victor looked at Eden's back and smiled happily.

He wanted to go over and said to her, "Eden, I am your Victor. Come home with me!"

It was not enough for Eden to go home with him.

Victor wanted her to live with him for the rest of her life.

However, he knew that he couldn't be too hasty.

Eden had already grown up. He had to slowly capture Eden's heart.

Anson was right. Eden was no longer the same as she was when she was a child.

Victor smiled when he thought of this. In this world, only Eden would cause him to smile happily.

Eden had made thirty dumplings in less than forty minutes. She gave twenty dumplings to Victor and kept ten for herself.

Home-made dumplings were the most delicious.

Their skins were soft with a lot of soft stuffing. She enjoyed making them when she was free.

Her three children and her mother also liked it very much.

Eden used a tray to bring over two plates of dumplings and two dipping plates with hot peppers.

Victor quickly cleared the things on the table

Eden said with a sense of accomplishment, "Mr. Alwynn, you can eat now. They are made of pickpurses. I don't know if you like it or not, Mr. Alwynn."

She liked leeks but she was afraid that Victor did not like them, so she simply made all the dumplings with pickpurses.

Victor looked at the round and fragrant dumplings and said with a smile, "Eden, this is my first time to eat caper dumplings."

He spent most of his time in social niceties, so he rarely ate this kind of food. The ones made in high-end restaurants were not delicious and he had never eaten them before.

"It's your first time to eat this?" Eden was surprised. On second thoughts, people who came from a good family would have milk and sandwiches as their breakfast. They would not eat these local delicacies.

However, these were her favorites.

"That's right!" Victor nodded. He used his chopsticks to pick up a dumpling and dipped it with sauce. He took a bite and the fragrance of the meat and the taste of pickpurses filled his entire mouth. It was really delicious.

Chapter 165

Eden's cooking skills should be very good. Victor paid attention to her every move just now. She seemed to cook often. He could not help but wonder how Eden got through all these years.

The more he thought about it, the more his heart ached.

He lowered his head and did not look at Eden. Instead, he smiled and said, "Eden, it's very delicious. This is the first time I've ever eaten such delicious dumplings. It's just like when I was a child. A very sweet little girl gave me a strawberry flavored lollipop to taste and it sweetened my heart."

His clear, crisp tone had a hint of reminiscence of the past.

When Eden heard Victor's words, she could sense that there was incredible pain in his heart.

Eden looked up and glanced at him. He seemed as if he was thinking of someone.

She suddenly remembered Aisling's words. Was Victor thinking about the woman he liked?

"Ding-Dong..."

The doorbell rang suddenly.

Eden looked at the door. Jasper was the only one who knew that she lived here. It was probably him.

She glanced at Victor before she stood up and opened the door without saying anything.

Eden opened the door. It was really Jasper.

"Eden, I brought you supper." Jasper smiled happily with a bag of crawfish and barbecue in his hand.

Victor's face darkened when he got to know that it was Jasper. It was really late. Why was he here?

Victor had forgotten about himself. What was he doing here at this late hour?

Eden smiled and said, "Jasper, it's so late. Why do you have to deliberately send these to me? I can take care of myself. You don't have to worry about me."

Eden stepped aside to let Jasper enter.

"You would simply deal with it when you're hungry. Ricky and the others will definitely not spare me if I do not take good care of you." Jasper looked at her, a little bit angry. He was afraid that since Eden did not eat much at the banquet, she would have to endure hunger at night.

The smile on Jasper's face froze instantly when he looked up and saw Victor sitting in the living room.

He looked at Victor's handsome face and his expression changed.

At the same time, Victor looked at Jasper directly. His elegant temperament and arrogant look were vivid when he was facing his love rival.

Eden felt that the atmosphere was a little different. It seemed as Victor and Jasper were drawing their swords against each other.

She glanced at Jasper and explained, "Jasper, Mr. Alwynn was the one who sent me back. We didn't eat much at the banquet, so I made some dumplings. I can make more if you want to eat."

Jasper was only a friend and a family member to Eden. Eden did not have time to consider a relationship at the moment because she wanted to take revenge and also look for her biological parents.

Therefore, she thought it would be fine to let Jasper know that Victor was there too.

Jasper looked at Eden's gentle smile and raised his eyebrows.

The confused man went into deep thoughts.

How could Eden be so foolish until she didn't realize that Victor had other intentions towards her?

Jasper composed himself, grabbed Eden's hand, and moved towards Victor. He looked at Victor and said with a polite smile, "Mr. Alwynn, thank you for taking care of Eden."

He should not have listened to Eden tonight but to go and pick her up.

A dangerous man like Victor with no love gossip would not have any good intention if he suddenly approached Eden.

Chapter 166

Victor's face darkened when he saw that Jasper was holding Eden's hand. He stared at them intensely and his gaze was extremely cold.

Jasper was not afraid of the terrifying aura exuded by Victor at all. This was because deep down, he was also a cold person.

He would only be gentle in front of Eden.

After a while, Victor looked up and said with a scornful smile, "Mr. Joye, I don't remember that Eden was a part of your family. I sent her back because I was worried about her safety at night."

Jasper, who was right in front of him was actually the most dangerous person.

He was always at Eden's side to take care of her.

Jasper pulled Eden to sit down and then put the things in his hands on the table. He understood Victor's words and smiled politely. "I am also aware that it is not safe for Eden to come back alone at night. I won't bother Mr. Alwynn in the future. No matter where Eden is, I will go and pick her up from now on."

Eden was really innocent and kind-hearted. She didn't know that she was in the company of a dangerous man.

Victor suddenly looked at Jasper coldly. The lights revealed his well-defined face. He looked sharply at Jasper with his dark eyes and his exuded a dangerous aura.

His smile was extremely cold and he said coldly, "Eden is an employee of my company. It's not troublesome for me to send Eden back. Mr. Joye is also a busy man. I can pick her up and drop her off any time. No need to bother you, Mr. Joye."

Victor's words were complete but they sounded a little strange.

Eden felt that Victor and Jasper were arguing with each other and the atmosphere was tensed. She looked back and forth between Victor and Jasper.

What was going on?

Was there enmity between the two of them? Why would they act in such a way every time they met?

Jasper didn't tell her about it before.

She frowned and asked, "Jasper, what did you buy?"

Jasper looked at her sideways and said with a faint smile. "Eden, those are our favorite crayfish and barbecue. They are your favorite food."

Jasper emphasized the word 'our favorite' as he quickly opened the box.

A spicy smell instantly filled the room.

"Wow! Jasper, it looks delicious!" Eden looked at the spicy crayfish with appetite.

She could not help it because she was addicted to crayfish.

Eden took out the disposable gloves. She handed a pair to Victor and another to Jasper.

Victor still had a few dumplings on his plate. He preferred dumplings compared to the supper that Jasper bought.

"Eden, eat! It won't taste good when it gets cold." Jasper ignored Victor and only focused on Eden who was sitting beside him.

"Okay! Jasper, you eat too. You are busy the whole day and you don't have much time to take care of yourself." After that, Eden lowered her head and ate her food.

Jasper smiled and said, "Eden, even if I'm busy, I will also take good care of you!"

Eden and Jasper were very happy as they talked to each other.

Victor felt like he was an outsider, who was unable to blend in.

Victor lowered his head and his slightly squinted black eyes reflected a dangerous light.

Jasper indeed had feelings for Eden. The love in his eyes could not be concealed when he was in front of Eden.

Chapter 167

Victor realized that even if Eden knew about Jasper's feelings for her, she would only treat him as a friend and family member.

Victor was very happy when he found out about that.

The corners of his mouth curled into a faint smile as he glanced at Jasper with a cold expression.

He said faintly, "I didn't expect Mr. Joyce to be a fan of crayfish."

Jasper glanced at Victor and said with a smile, "Now is the season to eat crayfish. Eden and I have always liked it. Mr. Alwynn, you can leave first if you don't like it and the smell makes you uncomfortable."

After that, Jasper smiled and looked into Victor's eyes.

The atmosphere between Victor and Jasper became slowly tensed once again.

There was a hint of anger in Victor's eyes but his gaze turned gentle quickly the moment Eden looked at him.

He leaned back slightly and crossed his long and slender legs elegantly. His white shirt and long black trousers outlined his perfect figure. He suddenly spoke, "Mr. Joyce, I also like to eat crayfish. They smell very good."

What a joke. Victor would not leave if Jasper were still here. He was worried that Eden would develop feelings for Jasper if he left them alone.

Jasper's smile stiffened and he said somewhat unnaturally, "Let's eat together since Mr. Alwynn likes it. However, it's very spicy. Mr. Alwynn, think before you eat!"

"It's okay. I'm used to spicy food. Moreover, I haven't eaten crayfish for a while." Victor spoke as he took a pair of disposable gloves to wear. He picked up a crayfish that was covered in red oil and swallowed his saliva. It looked really spicy.

Victor could only eat mild spicy food and he did not like food that was too spicy. Victor suddenly had a feeling that he was asking for trouble.

However, since he had spoken the words, he could only force himself to peel off the shrimp shell and put it in his mouth.

As soon as his tongue touched the meat, a stimulating and spicy sensation filled his entire mouth instantly.

He forced himself to chew a few times before he swallowed it.

The reality was cruel. He had to accept the consequences of his words and endure it no matter how spicy the crayfish was.

Eden smiled and said, "I didn't expect Mr. Alwynn likes to eat crayfish too."

Eden's small lips were flushed red and her beautiful eyes were lively. Her gestures were able to cause Victor's heart to beat incessantly.

Victor forced a smile and said, "The crayfish has now become a food that influencers would eat in broadcasting show. There are endless ways to do it. Anyone who watch it would think that it is delicious."

It was so d*mn spicy. Victor didn't like it at all.

The lobsters he used to eat were expensive and their meat was delicious and fresh. They had to be dipped in the premium seasonings after they were steamed.

It was Victor's first time eating this type of spicy crayfish.

Eden smiled and nodded. She would also watch the live broadcasting shows when she was bored. It was appetizing to watch the broadcasters eat.

Victor, Eden and Jasper chatted with each other every now and then. Victor forced himself to eat a few lobsters because of his tensed conversation with Jasper.

At 10 o'clock, Jasper knew that Eden had to go to work the next day so he suggested to leave.

Victor also got up. After bidding goodbye to Eden, he and Jasper left Eden's place together.

Eden took no notice of the quibble between Victor and Jasper. After they left, she tidied up the room and went to bathe before taking a rest.

Victor and Jasper went downstairs without talking to each other.

Chapter 168

Jasper did not look as gentle as before and he seemed to be burning with rage.

He stopped suddenly, looked at Victor coldly, and warned, "Mr. Alwynn, I hope you stay away from Eden. She is a woman with children and a husband. You would cause her a lot of trouble if you keep pestering her, Mr. Alwynn."

Victor looked at Jasper meaningfully and there was a hint of danger in his eyes. "Mr. Joye, you said that she has a husband. Who is her husband?"

Jasper was stunned by Victor's words. He also wished to know the identity of the bastard who slept with Eden for one night.

"I do not have right to tell you that. Please just stay away from Eden in the future." Jasper's tone was aggressive. Victor noticed the affection in Jasper's eyes. He knew that Jasper had a crush on Eden but she would not accept him.

Eden was deeply wounded. Falling in love carelessly might cause her to relive the pain.

Victor's chest heaved violently due to rage but there was still a faint smile on his handsome face. His tone was deep as he spoke, "Mr. Joye, I don't think you have the right to talk to me like that.

Eden contributes a lot to my company. As the president of the company, I should treat her well."

Victor ignored Jasper after he finished speaking. He strode elegantly with one hand in his pocket and left under Jasper's angry gaze.

Victor still had to rush over to watch a good show.

Jasper stood at the same spot and his handsome face was filled with anger.

In his subconscious mind, Victor was here to steal Eden from him.

Eden was beautiful and had a good figure even though she was a mother of three. Any man would be attracted to her clear and bright big eyes.

They would know Eden's worth and be addicted to her when they got close to her.

Jasper stood at the same spot for a while. For some unknown reason, his heart was in pain at the moment.

He stood for a long time. He only smiled and left when he looked up and saw that the lights on the fifth floor had been turned off.

On the other hand, Victor was sitting in the car. He only left after Jasper had left.

At the same time, Haven and Vincent also stopped making love in the hotel.

Haven's entire body was sore. She opened her eyes in a daze and saw that the man in front of her was Vincent under the dim lights.

She was shocked. She rubbed her eyes with her weak hands and saw Vincent's face again.

"Ah..." She let out a furious and heart-wrenching roar. She was desperate and afraid.

Victor should be the one who was with her. How did she end up with Vincent?

When Vincent heard Haven's annoying voice, he frowned unhappily and said, "Why are you yelling? Get out if you want to yell. Don't disturb my sleep." His dissatisfied voice was filled with ruthlessness.

Haven was hurt. She had saved her virginity for Victor. She did not understand why Vincent would be the one who took her virginity.

Haven looked in front of her in disbelief.

No way, she must be dreaming. She closed her eyes but she the same scene appeared again when she opened them.

She was completely heartbroken at that moment.

Vincent was a typical and famous playboy in the upper class. He only had a good life because he was protected by the Alwynn family. Without the family, he would have nothing.

Chapter 169

Victor was different. He was a charming man and was ruthless in the business world. He achieved everything with his own capabilities.

She changed her surname to the Clement family's because she wanted to marry an outstanding man like Victor.

However, the person lying next to her at the moment was Vincent. Her woven dreams were shattered instantly.

"Vincent, why are you still sleeping? Get up quickly! How did you make the arrangement? Why did it turn out to be you?" Haven cried and shook Vincent's body hard.

Vincent was in a daze at first when he heard Haven's voice. After that, his mind spun and he suddenly opened his eyes.

He felt extremely uneasy when he looked at Haven, who was crying heart-wrenchingly. He got up instantly.

He quickly looked down at himself before he looked at Haven. They were both naked. He was so scared that he didn't know what to do!

Haven cried sadly and tightened her body. At the moment, she really didn't know what to do.

She felt that her world had collapsed.

Vincent pursed his cold lips. He glanced at Haven and shouted angrily, "Why are you crying? It's not your first time..."

Vincent wanted to say something but he stopped. He suddenly caught a glimpse of blood on the wrinkled white sheet.

His face was filled with panic. "It's... It's really... really your first time?"

Vincent spoke incoherently as he looked at Haven helplessly. He was in big trouble this time.

He had never messed with women like her.

Haven looked at the blood on the bedsheets blankly in despair. She looked charming with tears in her eyes.

Knock, knock...

There was a knock on the door.

Vincent's heart beat faster involuntarily. He became annoyed and angry instantly. He frowned and roared, "What's the matter?"

"Second Young Master, Mr. Alwynn wants to see you. Miss Clement, go with him too."

Vincent's heart tightened when he heard that it was his father's secretary, Jaxon. How did they know?

He sat for a minute and calmed himself down.

However, he could not come up with a countermeasure.

He forced himself to get up to take a bath. He headed to the bathroom and turned to look at Haven who was still looking sad. He knew that she had saved her virginity for Victor. He frowned unhappily.

He said coldly, "Put on your clothes. We'll go there in a minute." After that, he went into the bathroom.

Vincent and Haven went to meet Phillip half an hour later.

They started feeling uneasy when they saw that both their parents were present.

Wyatt glared angrily at Vincent with his ruthless, sharp eyes. "Vincent, how dare you to touch my daughter!"

Wyatt's words comforted Haven a little.

Wyatt was usually cold to her but tonight he was angry with Vincent for her sake. She felt a little warm.

What really happened tonight?

Vincent's flickering eyes swept across everyone's faces. He became frightened instantly when his gaze landed on his father's angry face.

He clenched his fists subconsciously and stammered, "Uncle Clement, I, I don't know what's going on either."

Chapter 170

"You're just passing the buck to others." Wyatt looked at Vincent coldly. "Vincent, do you really think that there's no one left in the Clement family?" Wyatt roared angrily.

Wyatt did not like Haven but she was considered part of the Clement family since she followed their last name. He would never allow his family members to be humiliated by others in front of outsiders.

He had always believed that Eden was still alive and she would come back to them one day.

Wyatt's heart ached when he thought of Eden. They would be very happy if Eden were here.

Eden was very adorable and caring. Wyatt would no longer feel tired when he saw Eden's smiling face when he came home from work.

When Rebecca heard this, she forced a smile and said, "Mr. Clement, things have already happened.

It's too late to blame anyone now. Besides, Vincent wasn't the only one involved. Let's discuss how to solve the matter."

Haven looked at Rebecca in disbelief with her teary eyes. How could she say that? She was the one who made the arrangement.

In the end, it was her son, Vincent who was implicated in the case. Haven began to doubt if Rebecca did it on purpose.

"You..."

"Haven, I know that you have been wronged, but things have already happened. We have to solve this matter like adults." Rebecca looked at Haven with a smile and interrupted her with a weird gaze.

Haven felt that she could not express her difficulties at that moment.

She felt a wave of pain slowly creeping over her body. The pain made her curl up her body slightly.

Her beautiful face was flushed, her delicate eyebrows were tightly knitted and her hands were clenched tightly.

She was a pawn who would be abandoned by the Clement family at any time. She could only marry Vincent. This way, she would be still useful for the family.

Haven could only fight for herself when she saw that her parents and her two brothers sat there silently.

She forced a faint smile and she asked gently, "How do you want to deal with this then, Aunt Alywnn?"

Vincent was lying next to me when I woke up. I was also shocked at that time."

Rebecca knew what Haven meant instantly when she heard her words.

Haven wanted to marry Vin. But didn't she like Victor very much up to the point that she only wanted to marry Victor?

After all, she was not the real daughter of the Clement family. The Clement family could abandon her at any time. It would not help much if Vin were to marry her.

If Haven personally said that she didn't want to marry Vin, the Alwynnfamily would compensate the Clement family, and the whole thing would come to an end.

"That's right. Rebecca, how do you plan to deal with it? Their explicit scene had been played on the big screen and now everyone in River City knows about their affairs. Is the Alwynn family trying to be perfunctory?" Aisling, who had been keeping quiet all the time spoke suddenly.

Both Haven and Vincent were shocked. How did everyone in River City know about it?

Haven was secretly glad that she had made the right decision just now.

Rebecca was not someone who could be easily messed with, but neither was Haven.

A well-conceived plan had suddenly turned into the current situation. Something wicked flashed across Haven's eyes.

Seeing that, Rebecca's heart trembled
