

Gluey Love 1701

Chapter 1701

Hearing this, Eden knew that the woman wanted to make things difficult for her deliberately.

She stood between her suitcase and the woman. How could her suitcase hit her?

On the contrary, the woman pushed her on purpose just now.

Looking at the strange woman in front of her, Eden frowned slightly. She was sure that she had never met her before.

Victor narrowed his eyes and looked at the shameless woman with hostility.

Just now, he saw very clearly that it was this woman who pushed Eden.

The woman turned her head slowly to look at Victor. When she saw Victor's face clearly, she was amazed by his charm. Victor was handsome, and his every move was graceful and steady.

He was commanding and overbearing.

"Miss, you pushed me just now." Eden's tone was indifferent. She would not take the blame.

This woman was too arrogant.

"Oh!" Eden's delicate face was reflected in the woman's sunglasses, "Do you have any evidence to prove that I pushed you?"

Eden frowned. She had never seen such a shameless person.

The woman was the most overweening person she had ever met.

Eden sneered and said in an apathetic voice, "Then what evidence do you have to prove that my suitcase hit you?"

"My feet felt it." The woman was calm and relaxed. Obviously, she was an arrogant and impudent person.

Eden sneered, "When you pushed me just now, my back felt it. Could this prove that you pushed me? Oh, I forgot to tell you that there are security cameras here. Whether you pushed me or not, we'll know it after we check the surveillance video."

Eden's tone was relaxed, but her eyes were extremely tepid. She raised her eyebrows slightly and did not hide her disgust for this woman.

She was just like a furious small leopard who had been provoked.

Hearing Eden's words, the woman looked around nervously.

"There's no need to check the surveillance video. I saw you reach out and push my wife with my own eyes. You are suspected of murder, and I will call the police." Victor's cold voice was threatening and aggressive.

The woman's eyes flashed when she heard that Victor was going to call the police. She looked at Victor again, only to find that his handsome face was horribly gloomy.

Sure enough, Victor and Eden were not someone to be trifled with.

Before she came back, she had been going against Alwynn Group in secret for two years, but she didn't make any progress.

Therefore, she had to come back in person. But to her surprise, she met Eden on the plane.

Eden was Victor's wife. She hated to see Eden's happy expression, so she couldn't help but get close to Eden and push her deliberately. She wanted Eden to make a fool of herself, but Eden stood still after staggering a few steps.

She and Eden were on the same flight, and they sat in the same row.

If Eden hadn't fallen asleep, she wouldn't have recognized Eden.

However, Eden had something on her mind, so she really did not notice the people and things around her, nor did she know this woman.

"Then we're even. Your suitcase hit me, and I bumped against you as well." After the woman said arrogantly, she pulled her suitcase and was about to leave.

"Wait!" Victor stopped her coldly. Then he held Eden in his arms cautiously and asked in a low voice, "How is your leg? Does it hurt?"

Her leg was once injured, and he couldn't even bear to let her walk. But this woman actually pushed her.

A trace of malice flashed through Victor's eyes.

Eden shook her head slightly. Her leg was much better.

Victor took out his phone and called the police.

The woman didn't expect him to call the police.

"Sir..." She frowned unpleasantly.

Eden didn't stop Victor from calling the police. It wasn't her fault, and she was wronged. The woman pushed her fiercely for no reason, and no one could suppress the indignation when they encountered such a thing.

She could not hold back her anger, either.

Seeing Victor hang up the phone, the woman couldn't remain calm anymore.

Victor's way of dealing with things made her a little scared.

It was late at night. She was tired, sleepy and hungry, and she did not want to go to the police station.

"You're too impulsive, sir. It's just a misunderstanding, isn't it?" She said sternly, and her knuckles whitened as she held the suitcase tightly.

She just wanted to teach Eden a lesson, and she didn't want to get in trouble.

Victor ignored her and looked down at the message

It was a message sent by Adrienne.

"Sophie will come back today. She secretly returned to River City two years ago, but I don't know what she did."

A photo was attached to the message.

Victor glanced at the photo and then looked at the woman in front of him. Then he understood in an instant. So, just now, Sophie pushed Eden deliberately.

The woman was the founder of SH Entertainment Company, Sophie.

He didn't find any information about Sophie when he investigated her before. It turned out that she had returned to this country, and she had been aiming at them.

No wonder she had poached so many famous artists from Mirth Company. Only the Simpson family would spend so much money to do such a thing.

Victor squinted at her arrogantly, "Whether it's a misunderstanding or not, we'll know it when the police show us the surveillance video."

"You..." Sophie did not expect Victor to be so stubborn.

She was a little frightened. She was going to be taken to the police station before she returned home. If this matter was known by others, what would the Simpson family think of her?

"Miss Simpson." The driver of the Simpson family ran towards Sophie.

Hearing this, Sophie looked at him with a frown.

If Victor knew who she was, he would definitely not spare her.

Victor lowered his head lazily and whispered in Eden's ear. Their voices were so low that no one could hear them clearly.

Reunion after a brief parting was as sweet as a honeymoon. At this moment, Victor held Eden and didn't let go of her, ignoring the people coming and going around them.

He whispered in Eden's ear again and again, "Honey, I miss you so much..."

Eden knew that Victor was clingy to her, but this was the first time he had acted like a spoiled child.

Looking at the people coming and going and listening to Victor's affectionate words, she blushed scarlet. She lowered her head and didn't dare to look at the people around her and Victor. At this moment, if they looked at each other, he would definitely kiss her recklessly.

They had been apart for a period of time, and she missed his embrace as well, so she allowed him to hug her.

"Sir, Madam, can't we make peace with each other?" As time went by, Sophie became nervous. Although she had known that Victor was a ruthless man, she didn't expect that he would call the police without hesitation. He didn't give her any chance to take some countermeasures.

Just now, she just wanted to test Victor and Eden, but she got herself in trouble.

Victor turned a deaf ear to her words. If it weren't for Sophie, he would have returned home with Eden and told her how much he missed her.

Seeing that Victor was unmoved, Sophie was a little anxious.

Just as she was about to say something, two policemen walked over.

"Did anyone of you call the police?" The young policeman asked.

Only then did Victor look away from Eden's face.

Victor said, "I called the police."

The policeman asked, "What happened?"

Chapter 1702

Victor pointed at Sophie, "My name is Victor. She pushed my wife on purpose, and my wife almost fell to the ground."

Everyone in River City knew that Victor was a business genius. He was a famous philanthropist, and many people were once helped by him.

Originally, the two policemen didn't take this matter seriously, but they immediately became respectful when they heard Victor's name.

"Mr. Alwynn, you can rest assured that we will handle this matter well." The policeman said.

Sophie was stunned. The situation was extremely disadvantageous to her. She had just returned to River City, but she got herself in trouble.

The driver who came to pick up Sophie was dumbfounded when he heard that.

How could things become like this?

"No, sir, this is a misunderstanding. I bumped against Mrs. Alwynn by accident." Sophie looked at the policeman coquettishly, feeling very anxious in heart.

Eden frowned. Wasn't it too late to make such a lame excuse?

The policeman said in a serious tone, "We will know whether it's a misunderstanding or not after investigation."

Sophie was speechless. The attitude of the policeman changed so quickly. Sure enough, money was omnipotent.

The rich would always be respected!

Sophie glared at Eden and Victor viciously.

Eden was expressionless, while Victor's eyes were filled with apathy.

Later, with the help of the airport stuff, the police soon got the surveillance video.

Sophie pushed Eden indeed, and Eden almost fell to the ground.

Watching the video, Sophie realized the gravity of the situation.

She did not expect the video to be so clear.

Victor's face darkened to the extreme. Obviously, Sophie had known the identities of him and Eden.

That was why she pushed Eden in such a crowded place. In order to take revenge, Barrett really took advantage of all his children.

Under the investigation of the police, Eden got to know Sophie's name and understood everything immediately.

After Sophie was taken away, Victor went home with Eden.

Eden got in the car and fastened her seat belt. As soon as she looked up, she saw Victor's handsome face.

Just as she was about to speak, he kissed her.

Eden knew that he had restrained himself for a few days. If she refused him at this time, he would keep pestering her.

The cat and mouse game didn't work on Victor.

If she did that, he would punish her more domineeringly.

Getting her passionate response, Victor soon let go of her with satisfaction. He stared at her tenderly and stroked her red lips with his slender fingers, "Did you have a good time there?" His slightly hoarse voice was very pleasant to hear, and the atmosphere in the car was ambiguous and wonderful.

Eden smiled. It was really nice to travel more often.

It was said that one's heart should be as pure and peaceful as a lotus. The state of mind was really important. During this period of time, she often lost her way, and her mood was easily affected by the outside world.

After thinking deeply for a few days, she was in a much better mood.

"Yes!" She nodded, "I had a good time there. Cecil and Cecilla are very obedient. Grandma Weaving is in better and better health. Amelia and Lucian are very happy. Everyone seems to be living a good life."

"I'm very glad to see that they're having a good time."

Victor's eyes darkened. Thinking of his depression and grievances in the past few days, he felt more and more upset, and his eyes dimmed. They were happy, but he was very dejected.

"But I was unhappy, because you were not by my side. I couldn't fall asleep at night, and I was in deep anxiety during the day, especially when you suddenly got angry that day. I wished that I could fly to you immediately."

When he said this, his expression was like that of a fierce leopard, and he wanted to bite Eden severely.

Eden could feel his restlessness and uneasiness that day.

However, he and Danielle stayed together that day.

She had complicated feelings in heart, but she could only say, "Let's go home."

Victor felt as if he had punched the air with great strength, and such a feeling really made him helpless.

He was like a ferocious tiger, trying to catch the cat in front of him. But he found that she was as sly as a fox, and it was difficult to catch her.

He nodded and started the car.

On the sides of the road, the high-rise buildings were dazzling.

Compared with the quiet parking lot, it seemed to be another world.

"Eden, are you hungry?" Victor asked.

Eden nodded, "Take me to a grill. I had a bland diet in the past few days, and I especially want to eat spicy and delicious roast."

"Okay!" Victor drove the car on the expressway. He didn't drive very fast, and it took him forty minutes to return to the downtown area. He drove directly to a barbecue restaurant nearby.

There was a buffet barbecue restaurant which provided a twenty-four hour service. It was newly opened a month ago. The business was quite good, and there were a lot of people in the restaurant at this time.

As soon as they got off the car, the tantalizing aroma of barbecued meat wafted towards them.

Eden couldn't be hungrier.

Her eyes lit up when she saw the barbecue restaurant. The environment inside was quite good. There were a lot of people, but it was not noisy.

Eden held Victor's arm excitedly.

"Victor, hurry up! I'm starving to death!"

Victor rubbed her head with dotting eyes, "Alright. We can eat when we enter the restaurant. This barbecue restaurant is newly opened. I passed by here a few days ago and found that the business was very good. The food here should be delicious."

"Yes! Now you go pay the bill, while I'll go get the food and drinks first." There were all kinds of meat and vegetables in the freezers in front of the wall. Eden could not help but swallow. This kind of barbecue was very enjoyable.

Seeing other costumers eating with relish, she knew that the food here must be yummy.

When Victor came in, there was a lot of meat on the tray on Eden's hand. She took two vanilla grilled fishes which took up the greater part of the tray.

Seeing that she was choosing shrimps and shellfish she liked, he couldn't help but laugh, "Eden, can you eat them all?"

He even suspected that Lucian treated Eden badly in Love Sea.

Eden had no time to look at him. She just nodded, gave him the tray and let him roast the food first.

Then she picked up another tray and took some vegetables she liked before going back to eat with satisfaction.

An hour later, Eden got on the car and burped. Victor got on the car, and he was worried because she was stuffed to the gills.

"Eden, eating so much at night is not good for your health."

Eden leaned against the chair lazily and narrowed her eyes, looking as leisurely as a cat.

Her face was a little bit red because she had drunk some beer, and she looked very adorable in this way.

She narrowed her eyes and said in a cold voice, "But I think I'll be hungry again at night."

Victor missed her very much. Hearing her meaningful words, he got sexually aroused, and all he wanted was to have sex with her.

Chapter 1703

Victor put his foot down and the car roared away. At this moment, he couldn't wait to go home.

A few minutes later, the car stopped at the gate of their house. Victor switched off before he drove the car to the garage. He went to the passenger seat, opened the car door and helped Eden out of the car cautiously. Although Eden had drunk some beer, she was clear-headed. She could feel Victor's slightly heavy breathing and his burning sexual desire. She felt as if treading on air, and such a feeling was wonderful.

Victor couldn't help kissing her red lips first. After a long while, he let go of her. His eyes were full of affection and tenderness as he looked at her slightly swollen lips.

Victor carried her in his arms and entered the house quickly.

He didn't stop at all, and they went straight to the bathroom.

Eden had encountered such a situation many times, so she did not struggle. Instead, she wrapped her arms around his neck and looked at him with a smile. She missed him, too.

"Honey, I love you!" In the bathroom, her passionate words made Victor horny.

.....

Eden woke up from hunger the next day.

It was Sunday, so Eden could take another day off.

She opened her eyes, but Victor was not beside her.

She moved slightly. The pain on her waist and back made her feel a little uncomfortable.

Eden shook her head lightly. Victor would be more sexually aroused when she was drunk and affectionate.

Thinking about what had happened last night, she gulped in surprise. She was really too crazy when she was drunk.

"Oh..." Eden covered herself with the blanket somewhat shyly.

Why was she so enthusiastic?

Would Victor think that she was too experienced?

No, reunion after a brief parting was as sweet as a honeymoon, and they had been married for years. Why should she think like this?

When Victor came in to ask her to have breakfast, he saw her cover herself with the quilt.

He knew what she was thinking and laughed.

Last night, she was really enthusiastic.

"Honey, time for breakfast." Victor said with smiling tone, but his voice was a bit ambiguous.

Eden lifted the quilt and looked at him, feeling very depressed. Why did she lose every time?

Eden got up with a blushing face, glared at Victor and went to wash up slowly.

In fact, she was very hungry. Having sex could really help people lose weight. She finally understood why she would not get fat.

Victor accompanied her all the time. He squeezed toothpaste and fetched water for her.

After washing up, Eden went to the yard and stretched her body to relieve the pain in her waist and back. Then she turned around and went back to eat.

The breakfast was very hearty. There were ribs soup, boiled chicken, fried broccoli and shredded potato with vinegar flavor.

Seeing this, Eden smiled very happily and looked at Victor with her eyes full of gentleness, "Honey, how did you learn to cook the ribs and chicken? I remember that you didn't know how to cook these dishes before. You could only boil dumplings."

Victor handed her the chopsticks and put a bowl of soup in front of her, indicating her to drink it, "I learned it when you were not by my side. I'm not interested in the food in the restaurants, so I bought some food ingredients and learned to cook according to the recipes online. It tastes really good."

After Victor finished speaking, he looked proud. It was not so difficult to cook.

It just depended on whether he was willing to learn it or not.

Sometimes, life was incredible. As long as one was willing to learn, he would find that many things were not as difficult as he thought.

"Wow! You have great learning ability. The ribs are stewed really well." Eden praised him without hesitation.

Victor smiled with joy. The food cooked by her was really delicious.

Especially the dumplings. Even the dumplings in the five-star hotel were not as tasty as the dumplings she made.

"Eden, what are we going to do today?" Victor wanted to stay at home with her, and he did not want to go out.

Eden looked around the house. She had left for more than ten days, but he didn't clean up the house. Even the table was covered with dust.

She asked, "Has the cleaner never been here?"

Victor nodded. He seemed to know what she was thinking.

"The cleaner will come here two hours later."

Eden was speechless. So, did he arrange it in advance?

That was good. Anyway, she was tired and didn't want to clean the house by herself.

"Watch the cleaner when she comes later. I'll go to Gia's painting room to have a look. She drew all the paintings meticulously."

"Okay!" Victor thought about it and agreed. It was still early, and they had a lot of time to stay together.

After they finished the meal, four cleaners arrived.

Seeing this, Eden did not say anything.

After reminding the cleaners, she went to the painting room.

The painting room was very big, and it was cheerless without its owner.

Eden smiled softly as she looked at the ink and wash on the wall. Gia was really gifted in painting.

All the paintings were pleasant to the eye, and the things Gia painted were extremely lifelike.

She hadn't cleaned this room for a long time.

The floor was covered by a film of dust.

In the past, she did not dare to come here, because she was afraid that she would miss Gia too much.

After school, Gia would come here to paint as soon as she finished her homework.

Most of the time, she would stay here all night.

She had a bad temper. If someone disturbed her when she was drawing, she would be very angry.

Looking at the easel beside her, Eden could imagine how serious and concentrated Gia was when she painted here.

Eden gently stroked the stool as if she could see Gia looking back and smiling happily at her. When Gia smiled, she was cute and beautiful.

She sat there for a while. Thinking that the three children were having a good time abroad, she smiled, got up to pick up a broom and wanted to clean up the room.

She cleaned the painting room alone for an hour and removed the weeds around it.

Victor came over and saw her wearing a sunhat and wedding under the big sun.

He frowned slightly. She couldn't do these things.

The strawberry juice on his hand was at the room temperature. He bought it after the cleaners left.

"Eden." He called her.

Eden looked up at him, and then lowered her head to weed again.

Victor frowned, squatted down and looked at her.

"Don't do these things. Someone will come over and do it. You should rest now." He handed the juice to her.

Eden slowly took off the gloves on her hands and sat on the lawn before taking over the juice to drink.

She liked the sweet and sour flavor very much, and she asked him, "Did you buy it?"

"Yes!" Victor sat next to her.

There was a road outside the lawn. Those who lived here were either rich or noble. There were not many people or cars on the road, and only one or two people passed by occasionally.

It was quiet, and the sunshine was warm, making her feel very comfortable.

Eden leaned against Victor's shoulder and looked at the blue sky. Such a day was happy and relaxing.

Chapter 1704

"Victor, when will the three children, dad and mom come back?" When she was happy, she always thought of her parents and the three children who were far away from her.

Victor stroked her back with his big hand and said in a hoarse tone, "If you miss them, you can have a video call with them tonight." In fact, he didn't know when they would come back, and he knew that they couldn't come back soon.

"Okay!" Eden nodded, "I'll call them at night."

Victor lowered his head. Seeing that she was in a bad mood, he got up and carried her in his arms.

"Honey, let's go back and have a rest."

"Have the cleaners left?"

"Yeah! The house is very clean now. You will be satisfied." Victor smiled. He knew that she asked a great deal, so he hired some experienced cleaners.

"I trust you. Now I want to sleep for a while." She would become busy when she went to work the next day, so she wanted to have a good rest.

"Alright, I'll accompany you." Victor said softly. Looking at her quiet face, he was more and more distressed.

In the end, he failed to give her a happy home.

Only by being stronger and standing at the top of the pyramid could he make her happier.

Kenny and Ricky were becoming stronger and stronger, because they wanted Eden to live a peaceful and happy life. As their father and her husband, he must be more hard-working and excellent.

In the Simpson family.

Hearing that Victor sent Sophie to the police station as soon as Sophie arrived at the airport, Barrett was so angry that he didn't sleep well last night.

Sophie would be detained for fifteen days because she had tried to hurt Eden deliberately.

Barrett smashed many precious antiques in the study with a frenzy of rage.

If the butler didn't stop him, he would have smashed more.

The butler had almost recovered, and his complexion was much better, but his hands were still bandaged. It could be seen that how ruthless Lucian was at that time.

Of course, birds of a feather flocked together. The butler was not easy to deal with, and he shifted all the blame onto Victor.

After all, only when he got injured would he remember how hateful his enemy was.

The butler had done all kinds of things since he was a child, but he had never been hurt so badly. He had lain on the bed for half a month before he could walk.

With a vicious face, he said wickedly, "Master, just calm down. Don't be angry. These problems can't be solved overnight. We have to take it slow. Now the company is going to be floated on the stock market, and we can't let any accidents happen at such a critical moment."

The butler advised earnestly. It would never be too late for a gentleman to take revenge.

"Humph!" Barrett hit the ceiling. He waved his arms excitedly and his old face was full of irritation, "What nonsense are you talking about? Three people in my family have been sent to prison by Victor, and he has dealt with all our spies. We have suffered great losses! Stephen is still lying in the hospital now, and I've lost my grandson!"

"These are all caused by Victor and his wife. Could I suppress my indignation?" His furious and loud voice rang through the villa.

Barrett's three wives heard him downstairs, and they all felt very upset. Their fate was closely related to the Simpson family, and they were very uneasy since such things had happened.

Leilani glanced at Barrett's third wife, Marcia. Barrett sent her daughter back in private first. She didn't know what Barrett was planning. His ambition was to get River City. Although she was his second wife, she wanted to become the richest hostess in River City.

Fame and power had always been her dream.

Marcia's face was cold and gloomy. She had been suppressed by Leilani in this family. Her daughter Sophie finally came back, but she was sent to the police station. How could she not be mad?

However, she had no background. She could only rely on her son and daughter. Her son was still at school, and her daughter was quite capable. However, Sophie had always been inferior to Chelsea. It was not easy for her to have a chance to prove her strength in front of Barrett, but such a thing had happened.

Was Sophie out of her head? How could she push Eden under such a circumstance?

There was no no blind corner at the airport. Sophie was very smart in ordinary times, but why was she so stupid at that time?

Hearing Barrett's furious roar, Marcia didn't dare to go upstairs and beg him.

This was a kind of experience to Sophie. She was too impulsive, and she could learn a lesson from her own personal experience.

Otherwise, she would act impulsively again in front of Leilani.

Leilani and Chelsea had a lot of bad ideas. Chelsea always plotted against Sophie, which made Barrett dislike Sophie very much.

Two years ago, Sophie was secretly sent back to run an entertainment company.

She heard that the company was managed well, so she traveled all over the world. As soon as she returned from Love Sea, she was sent to prison.

At this moment, Leilani didn't dare to taunt Marcia. After all, her daughter and son had failed. If she mocked Marcia at this time, Marcia wouldn't let her go and would piss her off.

After Eden woke up, she went to Anson's house to see Ayman. She and Victor had dinner at Abigail's house. Jasper was there as well, so Eden chatted with him until nine o'clock.

Seeing Jasper, Eden remembered the sunscreen that he gave her. It was really useful.

Hearing that she liked it, Jasper said that he would bring her more.

Eden naturally would not reject such good things.

However, Abigail was jealous. Jasper gave such great sunscreen to Eden, but he didn't give her, which made her so envious.

She wanted to tease Jasper, but she restrained herself because Victor was there.

Anson naturally knew what she was thinking.

He could not hold back his anger and immediately sent a message to Jasper.

"Brat, why didn't you bring the sunscreen to your sister?"

Jasper lowered his head, glanced at the message and then looked at Anson.

Anson happened to look up at him.

Jasper looked away naturally. After answering Eden's question, he replied to Anson, "I forgot it, and I'll give it to her next time."

Seeing this, Anson gritted his teeth in hatred. He held his phone and did not dare to let Abigail see it. If Abby saw it, she might get angry.

The next day, Eden and Victor went to work together. When they arrived at the company, she became busy.

After all, she hadn't been to the company for nearly half a month.

After dealing with the affairs in the design department, she began to work on the project with Monroe Group.

The buildings that she built together with Monroe Group went on sale. To her surprise, a lot of people ordered the houses in advance.

She nodded with satisfaction and sent a message to Dawson.

"Uncle Dawson, we did a great job. The pre sales figures have reached one hundred and sixty million dollars."

"Congratulations. Now the market is declining. It's awesome to reach such great pre sales figures."

"I'm so excited. Thank you, Uncle Dawson. You taught me a lot. I thought the pre sales figures would be affected by your new buildings."

"You have a nice marketing strategy, and it will not be affected."

Eden smiled. She did not have to worry anymore.

She put down the phone and looked at the figures on the screen excitedly. This was her first investment, but she gained a lot. She had never been so delighted and excited.

Chapter 1705

Victor wasn't there, so Eden filled a cup of coffee for herself while humming. She was in a good mood, thinking it was a good choice to make a cup of coffee.

When she just sat down with the coffee mug in her hand,

the doorbell rang.

She looked at the door and said, "Come on in."

Paula pushed the door open and walked in with a lot of documents in her hands.

Eden glanced at her. It seemed that Paula had been doing quite well recently in fashion. Her taste in clothes looked much better, and she even changed her hairstyle. No one would be able to tell what a scheming person she was from her appearance.

Eden did not say anything, but lowered her head and took a sip of coffee.

Ever since she turned Paula down last time, she felt that she had never seen Paula smile at her anymore.

And she was the same, always looked so indifferent whenever she saw Paula.

"Director Bleu, these are the documents that I have sorted out over for the past half month." Paula put the documents on the desk with an indifferent expression.

"Okay," Eden nodded slowly. "Have you sorted out all the documents of the Marketing Department?"

Paula nodded and then looked at Eden. She was wearing a black-and-white suit, very smart and trendy. Actually, Eden felt she would be the best brand ambassador because her design fitted her very well.

Paula nodded. "Yes. They are all here."

"Good," Eden nodded and had another sip of coffee, then she turned back to her work.

Seeing her indifferent attitude, Paula felt very uncomfortable. She didn't know why Eden still couldn't let it go as it had been so long already.

"Eden, are you really not going to think again about the thing I mentioned to you when we were in Lemmon City?" Paula couldn't help but ask.

She knew Eden was born in a good family so she didn't need to do much, but she was different. If she wanted to live a good life, she would have to work much harder.

Sylvia hadn't been living a good life recently either, and she had been calling Eden a lot as she wanted to meet Eden.

However, Eden did not even come to work.

Whilst Paula was speaking, Eden turned on her computer and glanced at the data of the live broadcast room. The data result really surprised her, so that she didn't hear what Paula said at all.

They had a big sale this month, and they gained five million new subscribers online and earned three billion straight away.

This result really shocked Eden. She couldn't even believe that the live streamer actually made it!

What a great success for her!

Eden picked up her phone and checked the live streamer's profile. It was a very pretty girl. She had very unique facial features, making people hard to forget about her at all.

She had a feeling that this girl would become the best live streamer of Alwynn Group.

Seeing that Eden did not intend to answer her, Paula frowned and raised her voice, "Eden, how can you treat me like this? You should at least show people some respect."

Eden finally realized that Paula was still there, so she looked at her in confusion and said,

"Why are you still here?"

Hearing this, Paula completely lost her words.

"Didn't you hear what I just said?"

Eden frowned. "What did you say?"

Paula said again, "It's about what I told you in Lemmon City. Sylvia has been calling me recently and wants to ask you to give her a chance. We used to study in the same classroom, so why can't we help each other? Besides, she has a lot of subscribers as well. She can bring a lot of benefits to Alwynn Group."

However, Alwynn Group had already earned enough money from this new live streamer this month.

Everyone in Alwynn Group envied her very much.

"I have made it clear already," Eden looked at her. "If she really wants to work for Alwynn Group, she will have to be good. You also came with your own skills. If I hired her directly, what will other streamers think?"

"But this is not the same. Everything is up to you in Alwynn Group anyway, and even Mr. Alwynn listens to you. It will not be a hard thing for you to hire her." Paula also thought about being a live streamer, and this would be the easiest and quickest way for her to be rich.

Finding a rich man is not reliable at all. She couldn't even get much money from Arthur each month.

She was still paying the mortgage each month, so the first thing she wanted to do was to pay all the money back. River City was such an expensive place, however, such a metropolitan place always attracted more young people. But sometimes when she couldn't sleep at night, she would feel so lost in this city.

Just as she was thinking, Eden patted the table and pointed to the door, "You should leave now. I don't want to hear this again."

Paula looked a little annoyed. She didn't know why Eden had to stop her from getting rich.

As long as Sylvia came in, she would have a chance to be a live streamer as well.

However, Eden was so stubborn, which made her really disappointed.

"Do you really have to be so harsh?" Paula gnashed her teeth and looked at Eden with hatred. She did not hide her anger towards Eden at all.

Eden also smiled indifferently. "If you have so much time to worry about others, why don't you think about yourself?" She really should think about what she was going to do when they found the evidence of what she had done.

The things she had done were enough to make her spend years in prison.

"I'm not as heartless as you are. If I were you, I would definitely let my relatives and friends come to work in my company and get rich together."

Eden leaned back in the chair slowly, looked at her, and said in a sarcastic tone, "However, you are not me. If you were me, this company would have been bankrupted already. Your life would have been even worse."

"You..."

"You should leave now." It seemed that Eden had already made up her mind and did not want to hear this anymore.

She had already taken down Chelsea and Baylee, now Sophie had come. Surly Leilani would never give up on her pawn, Paula.

The good show was yet to come!

And Danielle had nearly given herself away as well.

Hearing her words, Paula couldn't hold it anymore and ran away with great anger.

Just when Eden was about to read the documents, Abigail's message came through.

"You haven't replied to me ever since I sent you the video. You didn't argue with Victor, did you? Victor was there yesterday, so I didn't ask. Why he always makes me so annoyed?

By the way, do you know who that woman is? I can just tell that she is not a good woman."

Eden didn't know what to say.

She couldn't believe that Abby only remembered to ask after it had been a few days.

She replied, "It's okay. I know that woman."

Chapter 1706

Eden only wanted to make Abby rest assured.

She knew Abby had been concerned about her, but there were always things that happened to her.

She kept making everyone around her worry.

Abigail's message came through again, "That's alright then. Don't trust any man. The important thing is that you make your own decisions in life and respect your own heart. You will not live in other people's words, nor in your own emotions."

Eden read the message and smiled.

"Don't worry about me. Victor won't let me down. I trust him."

Abigail replied again, "As long as you trust him. Call me whenever you need me. I can tell that you have something on your mind last time when you came. Although you pretended that nothing happened, you cannot fool me."

Eden couldn't help but smile again. Abby indeed knew her so well. She was completely right. She was not in a high spirit last time because of Sophie.

She was just a human, so she couldn't completely ignore the things in her mind.

However, she still didn't want Abby to worry. "I'm completely fine. Maybe I was just too tired at that time because I just got back."

"Give over. Do you really think that I don't know you at all?"

Eden knew she couldn't fool Abby. She felt somewhat touched.

"I'm telling you the truth. I'm fine. You don't have to worry about me."

"I'm not worried about you. I know it won't make any difference anyway. I can't tie you up and imprison you."

Seeing this, Eden couldn't help but laughed.

Sometimes, she felt Abby knew her better than Victor did.

What Victor cared about were her mood changes.

Thinking of this, Eden put down her phone and went back to work.

Victor was not in the company today, neither was Lucian, so she was very busy. Even Dean was too busy to have meals today.

Thalia was not that busy, and she could prepare some food for Dean.

It looked like they were getting closer and closer recently.

At 4 p.m., Eden finally finished all the work.

The phone on the table rang. Eden glanced at it, and it was from Karlee.

"Hi, Karlee." She answered the phone with a big smile.

"Hi, Eden. Are you back in River City?" Karlee didn't sound very happy.

Eden frowned and asked, "What's wrong? Are you not happy?"

Karlee said, "I have a dinner party today, but I found another girl was wearing the same clothes as me. Did you give the design for me to someone else?"

Eden frowned and shook her head quickly. "No, I swear I didn't. It's private customization. I won't give the design to anyone else other than you."

"I do believe you, but what I see is the fact. Do you know Carlotta Yates, the daughter of the mayor? Her dress is exactly the same as mine."

Eden suddenly got up, and a trace of doubt flashed in her eyes. "No way."

After thinking about it, she asked again, "Karlee, where is this party?"

"River City Restaurant."

"Okay, I'm coming right now."

Hearing this, Karlee said, "No rush. Drive safely. I'm in the VIP room 609."

"Okay!" After hanging up the phone, Eden packed up the things on the table, took her keys, then changed into a pair of flat shoes, and left quickly.

When she opened the door, she saw Paula.

"Where are you going?" asked Paula.

Eden did not say anything and quickly walked towards the elevator.

"Hey! Do you want me to go with you?" Paula shouted at her back.

Eden quickly shouted back, "No."

When the elevator came, she quickly got in. After picking something up from the 24th floor, she went straight to the underground floor to get her car.

Thirty minutes later, Eden arrived at the River City Restaurant and went directly to the VIP room to find Karlee.

There was only Karlee in the room. She was sitting on the sofa with a bad look. She was wearing the black dress that Eden designed.

The black down-shoulder dress revealed her beautiful shoulders and collarbone. The slit hemline made her slender long legs even more eye-catching.

The black color was very suitable for her, which also highlighted her elegance.

Eden designed a few styles for her, but she choose this one straight away.

Everyone thought this dress suited her very well. She wore a diamond necklace around her beautiful neck and a pair of diamond earrings, which made her whole body shine.

"Eden, here you are." Karlee did not like wearing the same clothes as anyone else, so she had been sitting in the room all the time.

Eden looked at her and nodded as a greeting.

"I'm sorry. I didn't expect such a thing to happen."

However, she had not seen Carlotta yet, so she was not sure if her dress was exactly the same as Karlee's.

"I didn't expect it either. But the truth is that this thing really happened. Carlotta's dress is exactly the same as mine." Karlee was a little unhappy. She trusted Eden, but she also felt a little uncomfortable in her heart.

Eden saw through her mind. Although they had been in contact a lot, they were still not close friends.

After all, rich people normally wouldn't completely trust anyone.

"I'm sorry, Karlee. Can you wait for me here?"

Karlee nodded and said, "Okay. The party will start at 6 o'clock. I just want to rest here for a while."

Eden smiled gratefully and walked out.

The dinner party was on the top floor. The environment on the top floor was very good, and the luxury decoration was enough to make the party host happy.

When Eden went up, she called the manager of the restaurant and asked who hosted this party tonight.

The answer made her a little surprised. It was the Simpson family who hosted this party tonight, and they invited all the influential people in River City.

No wonder Karlee would be angry. People at such parties were either rich or noble, and they had a lot to do with their family business. For the sake of the family's reputation, they would rather avoid such a thing happening.

It was not a big deal to wear the same clothes normally, but it was enough to cause a stir here. The onlookers in the rich and powerful families were waiting to see a good show.

There were a lot of people in the room already, and the soothing music made people feel very comfortable.

There were loads of expensive wines and delicious food, as well as all the famous people.

Eden did not have time to think too much. She looked through the crowd straight away.

Passing through the hall, there was a breeze blowing on the scenery platform. Eden saw Carlotta standing with Dahlia.

Chapter 1707

Eden looked carefully and found that Carlotta's dress was indeed exactly the same as Karlee's.

Usually, Dulcie would be with them, but Eden didn't see her today.

Dulcie was really good at playing people off against one another, therefore, the relationship between them was very tense.

Eden hadn't seen them together for a long time now. She could tell that Carlotta was very smart and cautious.

Victor supported her father a lot in last year's election, so she stopped making trouble for her now.

However.....

Eden sneered. It seemed that Dahlia was the one who was most good at making use of people.

But who made the dress for Carlotta?

Someone clearly stole her design.

Eden found a quiet place to sit down and sent a message to Karlee. "Have you been wearing your dress before the party?"

"No, it's my first time to wear it today. Because it's too beautiful, I wanted to save it until the most important occasion."

Eden knew problem was not with Karlee.

"Karlee, I'm sorry. I'll make a new dress for you."

After sending the message, Eden went back to the room where Karlee was.

She guessed that the Simpson family hosted this party for their company's listing.

She didn't stay any longer but quickly returned to the VIP room and took out the cutting tools she brought with her from her bag.

"Karlee, take off your dress first. I'll redo it for you." She already had a plan in her head.

Karlee looked at her in surprise, "Are sure it will work?"

Eden smiled and said, "Don't worry. I will never let you make a fool of yourself."

Looking at her confident smile, Karlee nodded with relief. Her unhappiness disappeared instantly. She was indeed a little annoyed with Eden earlier. After all, Eden had said that she designed the dress for her own, but she saw someone was wearing the exact same dress the first time she wore it, of course, she would feel that Eden lied to her on purpose.

Now, seeing that Eden was trying so hard to help her, she felt a little guilty about what she thought earlier.

Karlee took off the dress and handed it to Eden, then wrapped her body with a towel. She sat on the sofa and watched Eden cutting the dress.

She said with a guilty face, "Eden, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have doubted you. I thought you did it on purpose."

Eden was about to cut the dress, but as soon as she heard this, she looked up in surprise.

Then she smiled and said, "Is it what you were thinking?"

She only felt Karlee was quite cute when she was a little annoyed earlier.

Karlee looked even more guilty and her voice became lower and lower. "I feel so bad now. I thought you never took my things seriously, and you made me a fool by making me wear the same dress as someone else. I'm sorry that I thought all the bad things about you before you came."

"Haha..." Eden could not help but laugh. "I never knew that I'm so not trustworthy in your mind."

"No, no, no..." Karlee shook her head quickly. She thought about it and then said slowly, "I just think too much when something goes wrong. In fact, I'm very grateful to you. I don't have many friends when I come back, and only you are willing to go to food stalls with me. If I asked my old friends to go to food stalls with me, they would all laugh at me."

Eden smiled and didn't say anything. She knew what was it like to live in a rich family. Although she was with Victor now, she still lived a simple life. She didn't need to go with him to socialize much.

She didn't need to do anything with the Clement family either, nor did she have to meet all the other upper-class girls to build up their relationships, just like what Karlee had to do.

After all, with Victor backing her up, she really didn't need to worry about anything else.

Seeing that Eden didn't say anything, Karlee just looked at her cutting the dress quietly.

Thirty minutes later, an exquisite short dress appeared in front of Karlee.

Karlee put it on straight away, feeling that she looked even more beautiful and elegant than before.

Eden made some flounces on the front part of the dress and then sewn the crystal diamonds she brought on it, making the dress more likely to hang down. It also highlighted Karlee's perfect figure. The fashionable dress also showed the unique elegance of Karlee.

Eden smiled with satisfaction. Seeing the smile on Karlee's face, she knew that Karlee also liked it very much.

"Karlee, do you like it?" she asked with a smile.

Karlee nodded hurriedly. "I actually prefer this one!" Her whole body seemed to be lightened up with this dress at this moment.

Eden looked at the time and smiled. "Go quickly. The party is going to start soon."

Karlee looked at her in surprise. "Eden, didn't the Simpson family invite you and Mr. Alwynn?"

Eden shook her head slightly. "No."

Barrett must be wishing that the two of them could disappear from this world right now, so why would he invite them to such an important party?

But Karlee didn't know what happened. She looked at Eden and said, "By the way, I heard from my mom that Baylee, Chelsea, and Sophie all have something to do with Alwynn Group, is it true?"

Eden's eyes flashed. She knew Karlee would know about this sooner or later. After all, the Woods family and the Simpson family were very close.

So she nodded.

Karlee was a little surprised. She didn't believe it when she heard what her mother said, but now that Eden personally admit it, she finally believed it.

Seeing that she wanted to say something else, Eden said first, "Karlee, you are running late."

Hearing this, Karlee didn't have time to think anymore, so she said quickly, "Okay, let's talk later."

Then she walked out with a smile.

After she left, Eden did not leave the restaurant straight away.

She left the room and took the exclusive elevator to the room on the top floor with a cold face.

As soon as she opened the door, her phone rang.

"Victor," she said first.

"Honey, where are you?" Victor asked anxiously.

Eden just realized that she forgot to tell him when she left in a hurry. He must be so worried about her right now.

"I'm out. You can go home first. I'll be back soon." She couldn't leave right now. She had to find out who stole her design.

"Where are you? I'll pick you up." Victor didn't want to go back alone to the empty house.

Eden hesitated. She looked at the plants in the room. Even if they didn't come often, the plants still looked very good.

"Eden," Victor called her again when he did not hear her say anything for a long while.

Eden thought about it and told him the truth. "I have something to do at River City restaurant. I will go back soon."

Chapter 1708

"River City Restaurant? Okay, I'll be there soon." Victor's voice sounded very serious.

After hanging up the phone, Eden went to the wardrobe and took out a black dress. She quickly put it on, put down her long hair, and then put a little makeup on. She looked at herself in the mirror and smiled with satisfaction.

She pursed her red lips, and turned to go to the party.

Before her husband came, she must find out what exactly happened.

She was very familiar with this place. As soon as she entered the party hall, she took a glass of juice and started looking for Carlotta.

She walked away from the familiar people, and her loose soft hair covered half of her face.

However, she still looked very charming.

"Mr. Matthews, you are so bad. You hurt my lips." Someone said with a sweet voice.

Hearing this name, Eden stopped.

She quickly took a step back and looked over to the two people sitting behind the huge column.

The man was dressed in a suit and sitting on a stool, and there was a woman who wore hardly anything sitting on his laps.

"Let me see how painful it is, haha..." The man chuckled.

Eden felt that if she was not mistaken, this was Irving's voice.

She couldn't help but tut.

She really thought that he was serious when he told her about his feelings, however, it turned out that he was just another one of those playboys.

But it was good for Eden as he would not come back to her anymore.

Thinking of this, Eden quickly sneaked off.

After she left, Irving turned slightly and looked at Eden's back with his dark eyes.

He had already seen Eden, but he didn't know who she was looking for. He thought that he had already let go of everything, so why should he care if she saw him?

He felt that his heart had died already.

He just wanted to show her that he would not bother her anymore.

And he indeed never come to her anymore during this time.

Therefore, what difference did it make when he was with another woman? It was already meaningless to him.

He wanted her so much in his life, but they always missed each other.

He had sent the letter, but there was no response from her. He really should stop it now.

Looking back, he felt that they really didn't have much interaction.

On the other side, Eden did not know that Irving had already seen her. All her attention was focused on looking for Carlotta.

Finally, she saw Karlee who was chatting with Carlotta and Dahlia.

It seemed like they were having a really good time. What's more, Eden could tell that Dahlia kept staring at Karless's dress from time to time.

Then Dahlia looked at Carlotta's dress again, looking a little confused.

When did Karlee's dress get changed?

She was pretty sure that she saw Karlee was wearing the same dress as Carlotta's when she entered the restaurant.

But only an hour later, she had changed into a different dress.

Eden carefully walked closer to them and lowered her head, pretending to have the drinks in her hand while listening to their conversation.

Dahlia smiled and said, "Miss Woods, your dress is so beautiful!"

Karlee glanced at the dress on Carlotta and then looked at the dress on her. She felt that Carlotta might not know what happened earlier.

But why did Dahlia say this?

She smiled faintly and looked at Carlotta. Carlotta was the mayor's daughter, so she was very arrogant. Karlee said, "I'm so flattered. But I heard many people say that Miss Yates's dress is so gorgeous. Miss Yates, do you mind if I ask where you got your dress?"

Dahlia felt a little unhappy. She wanted to make fool of Karlee, but she didn't expect her to drag Carlotta in.

Carlotta was very pleased when she heard Karlee's words. She arrogantly glanced at Karlee's dress at this time, feeling that it was quite familiar to hers.

She said with a proud look, "This dress was designed by Dahlia, and I just got it today. If you like it, you can ask her to make one for you, but..."

She didn't continue. She looked up and down at Karlee and said with contempt, "Do you want to wear the same dress like me?"

Her scornful eyes seemed that she was asking Karlee how dare she even dream of wearing the same dress as her.

Karlee never really liked Carlotta from the bottom of her heart.

At this moment, looking at her arrogant face, Karlee couldn't help but feel disgusted.

She really didn't want to look at this face anymore.

"Miss Yates, do you mean that you just got the dress today?"

Dahlia did not know why Karlee asked this question, so she felt a little cautious. Her eyes fell on Karlee's smiling face, feeling that she was actually very beautiful. She was looking at Carlotta with a smile, which made Dahlia wonder what she was thinking.

Dahlia frowned and wanted to change the topic, but Carlotta opened her mouth first.

"Yes, I only got it today. Dahlia really surprised me. Compared to the clothes that Eden designed, I think Dahlia's style is more suitable for me."

"Is it designed by Dahlia?" Karlee smiled and looked at Dahlia, but she could feel that anger curled hot and unstoppable in her gut.

That was why Dahlia had deliberately said that her dress was beautiful. She knew that their dresses were the same.

She got the dress ten days ago, but Carlotta only got hers today, which meant that someone stole Eden's design.

Karlee wanted to find justice for Eden, but it was not the right time. She knew she should try to control her anger now.

However, it was so hard for her at this moment.

She tried to tell herself to calm down now because her body was not fully recovered yet.

But the more she thought about it, the more fuming she was.

Dahlia nodded. She could tell that Karlee's dress was changed.

"Wow, I didn't even know that Dahlia is such a good designer. This dress could win an international prize. Didn't you take it to participate in the international competition? What a pity."

How shameless could Dahlia be?

Karlee's sarcastic words made Dahlia's heart skip a beat. She wasn't sure if Karlee knew about the dress earlier, but now she was pretty sure that she already knew.

It turned out that she did it.

Eden glanced at the three of them, then turned around and left quietly.

She looked at the time and feel that Victor will be here soon.

So she quickly sent a message to Aro and ask him to investigate this matter.

Then she wiped the lipstick on her mouth with the mirror in the elevator, removed the heavy makeup, and tied her hair into the bun. Seeing that she was back to normal in the mirror, she finally felt relieved.

As soon as she out of the restaurant, she saw Victor's car parked at the door.

Chapter 1709

Victor also saw her and smiled gently.

Eden opened the door and got in the car. Before Victor could do anything, she fastened her seat belt herself.

"Why did you come here?" Victor glanced at all the luxury cars in front of the restaurant. He knew that the Simpson family was holding a party tonight.

A party for their company listing.

Eden smiled and said, "I needed to do something. Have you finished your work?"

"Yes, the contract was signed pretty smoothly," Victor said softly.

He already got all the projects that Barrett wanted. Now Barrett's company was going to be listed in River City, the result would be very obvious.

Victor glanced at the door of the restaurant then looked at Eden. His black eyes flashed slightly. "Honey, let's have dinner here." He was a little hungry after a busy day today.

But what did Eden come here for? Doubt flickered in his eyes.

Eden shook her head slightly and said, "Let's go home now. I will cook you dinner."

"Alright. Let's go home then." Victor was pleased in an instant.

He smiled and said, "Let's go to the supermarket to buy some vegetables."

"Sounds good." Eden nodded, but she was still thinking about what happened earlier. There must be someone in the company who gave her away.

Could it be Paula?

After she returned from Lemmon City, Paula was indeed there when she met Karlee.

However, Paula didn't have the chance to take photos, and she didn't believe that Paula had the ability to remember every detail of the dress. Then she carefully thought about the places where she had been with the design.

There were only two places where her design drafts could be seen. One was in her office, and the other one was in the design department.

When she made the dress, it was impossible for anyone to steal the design. She had asked Thalia to send the dress over.

Thalia didn't know much about design, so it couldn't be her.

Victor was driving the car quietly. The temperature in summer was a bit stuffy even in the evening, and the setting sun made the high-rise buildings began to glow.

Victor could tell that she had something on her mind.

"Eden, what's wrong?" His black eyes flashed, hoping she would say it out herself.

Eden thought for a moment and said, "Do you remember the dress I designed for Karlee?"

"Yes. What happened?"

"Today, Carlotta wears an exactly same dress. Karlee wasn't happy, so she called me, and that's why I came over. The two dresses were indeed exactly the same. Carlotta got the dress from Paulina today."

A trace of coldness flashed in Victor's eyes, and his voice became deeper, "So, your design drawing was stolen by someone."

Eden nodded without saying anything. She had always been very careful to try to avoid something like this to happen.

The purpose of the person who did it was very obvious. Karlee was different from the ordinary ladies of aristocratic families. If she wore the same dress like others, her reputation would be ruined.

But that person didn't know the relationship between Eden and Karlee.

If they weren't close enough, Karlee would have made a scene at the party today.

And this was exactly what that person wanted.

"Eden, don't worry. I'll ask Lucian to take a look at the CCTV footage."

Eden said, "No need to bother him. I will figure it out myself. He is busy enough to take care of two children."

Victor nodded and said, "Then I will ask Dean to have a look tomorrow."

"Alright," Eden nodded slightly.

After getting some food from the supermarket, they went home together to make dinner.

Eden was still a little absent-minded while cooking.

Victor had been paying attention to her movements. When he saw her picking up the sugar instead of salt, he frowned and pulled her hand quickly.

Eden was stunned and looked at him in confusion.

Victor pointed at the sugar in her hand. "Do you want to eat something sweet?" He said in a deep voice, with an unconcealable worry. It was rare for her to be so careless.

It was dangerous for her to be so careless whilst she was cooking.

Eden was stunned again. What was she thinking earlier? How could she even mix up sugar and salt?

Fortunately, she hadn't put it in yet.

Victor took the sugar from her hand, turned off the gas, and took her out of the kitchen.

"Sit down and rest. I'll make dinner." His voice was very gentle with a comforting charm.

Eden nodded. She was indeed not in a good state.

"Thank you."

Victor looked at her with a frown. "I am your husband. You don't need to thank me."

Eden smiled. "I'm just used to it."

Victor didn't know what to say anymore.

"You don't need to be so polite to me. You are my wife, so you can just be yourself in front of me."
He gently held her shoulders with his hands. He felt she would never remember this no matter how many times he said it to her.

Eden looked up at him. There was worry on his handsome face, and the love he had for her could be seen from his eyes.

She felt a little guilty. She should not have let work issues bother her when she was home.

"I'm sorry. I'm really not in a good mood today. It's not because of the fact that the design was stolen. Anyway, I feel really down." She couldn't explain why, but she was in a low mood.

Maybe she was just too tired.

Victor sighed helplessly, then bowed his head and kissed her on her forehead. "Wait for me. It won't take me long."

"Sure," Eden said with a smile.

But Victor was not at ease. He bent over and gave her a big

His familiar scent made Eden feel so relieved.

After a long time, Victor finally went to the kitchen to prepare dinner.

Eden sat on the sofa, feeling that she didn't want to do anything.

She took out her phone and wanted to kill some time, but as soon as she turned it on, a notification popped out.

Miss Woods had a big fight with Dahlia Grant, a famous designer, at a party.

Eden was stunned and quickly clicked on the news.

What caught their attention was the video of Karlee pulling May's hair.

She could also hear the shout coming out of the video, "B*tch, you stole someone else's design draft, but you are still showing it off here. How shameless you are!"

Eden could tell what made Karlee so angry.

Dahlia and Carlotta were good friends, so she just wanted Karlee to feel uncomfortable.

Dahlia was also very close to the Simpson family, so she must know the relationship between Stephen and Karlee.

Barrett did want Karlee to get rid of the baby at that time, but Karlee was determined to break up with Stephan. Now that the baby was gone, the Simpson family would not easily let go of Karlee.

Because of this, the cooperation of the two families was ruined as well, so the Simpson family surely would not make things easy for Karlee.

But Karlee was a straightforward person, so she would not hide any emotions. Eden already could tell that she was very angry when she was there.

Chapter 1710

But Eden didn't expect that Karlee would break out completely and fought with Dahlia directly at the party after she left.

And that was Barrett's party, so it would be like a slap in Barrett's face.

Karlee was a straightforward person, but she was not impulsive. She would at least consider the reputation of her family.

She must have done after she thought everything through carefully.

Eden glanced at the comments online.

"I got some big news. Someone dug out the history of Dahlia copying someone else's design."

"I always know that Dahlia is an awful person. Why there are still people who let her design clothes? One rotten apple spoils the barrel!"

"After reading all the comments, why do I feel that Dahlia looks a bit familiar?"

"Guys, do you still remember Paulina Clark, a designer who was quite famous a few years ago? I feel she and Dahlia look alike!"

"Yes, you are right. I also heard about Paulina. She was banned from the industry because she copied the work of Mrs. Alwynn of Alwynn Group."

"Wow, the story is shocking. Are they really the same person? Is she back to the industry after she had plastic surgery?"

Eden was surprised. She had to admit that they were all so clever.

They could still see it clearly even though Dahlia had already done everything she could.

Eden felt much better after reading these comments.

At this time, Victor also came out with the dishes. So Eden got up and went to help him.

"Honey, let me help you," she said with a smile, the depressed expression was totally gone.

Victor looked at her and asked with a smile, "Did anything good happen?"

"Well, I am just suddenly in a good mood." She smiled and tiptoed to kiss him on the face. She knew she made him worry earlier, so she wanted to make it up.

This kiss made Victor's mind suddenly went blank.

After putting the dishes on the table, he lowered his head and pressed his lips onto hers tightly. After a long while, he slowly let her go.

His black eyes looked full of love. "I'm relieved when I see you happy."

He always felt so bad when she was in a bad mood.

Eden took his arm and said with a smile, "Let's go to see Ayman after dinner. Lucian also asked us to find some cleaners to clean the villa for him because they will be back in two months.

And I'm thinking maybe we should make a baby room for little Cecil and Cecilla as a gift."

However, her words made Victor frown. He didn't know why Lucian kept asking Eden to do these things for him.

If Lucian didn't want his own wife to do these, neither did Victor.

However, he only had a few friends, so he had to bear with it now.

"Okay. We can go to the mall to have a look when we have time."

"Sounds good. Let's start now. I'm starving." Eden felt that she also got her appetite back after she felt better.

"Okay, okay..." Victor's smiling voice was full of love.

After dinner, Eden received a video call from Kenny.

"Kenny," once the call was connected, Eden looked at her son's handsome face and called his name excitedly.

She felt Kenneth looked much more mature than before, even though she video chatted with him quite often.

"Mom, are you back from Love Sea?" When Kenny faced his mother, his expression couldn't help being softened.

"Yes. I'll send you some pictures of little Cecil, Cecilla, and Ayman. They are all really cute." Eden felt her heart melt even just thinking about them.

"Sure." Kenneth nodded. They all had baby boys, but he actually preferred baby girls.

"Where are Ricky and Gia? And Grandpa and Grandma?" Eden watched the video, and it seemed that her son was not at home.

Kenneth said, "Grandpa and grandma went out for a walk, and Ricky and Gia went to the tutoring class. I'm going to meet my master to study now."

"Okay. Don't go home too late." Eden said with a little concern.

"Mom, don't worry. I know."

Eden chatted with her son for about ten more minutes before, then she sent the photos of the three babies to Kenny.

"Eden, let's go out for a walk." Victor walked out after finishing his work. He was wearing a set of grey loungewear, which made him look very slim and attractive.

All his loungewear was designed by Jasper and they were all very comfortable. Victor bought them from Jasper, but Eden got hers from Jasper for free.

Every time when they had new products, Jasper would always send Eden a few sets.

Eden never refused him, because all the clothes Jasper selected were using the best fabric and were very comfortable.

Eden put on her shoes and took her phone, walked towards him with a smile. She took his arm and said, "Let's go."

"Sure." Looking at the pink sportswear that she was wearing, Victor's eyes darkened slightly.

Thinking about how Jasper had brought her many things a few days ago, he frowned again. Only Jasper would always send her pink clothes.

But he had to admit that the clothes that Jasper designed were really comfortable.

"Is this sportswear also sent by Jasper?" He felt that he had never seen her wearing it before.

"Yes, I got it when we went to Abby's last time. Do you like it?" Eden looked up and down at herself. She preferred to wear such comfortable clothes.

Hearing this, Victor felt more and more jealous.

He snorted and said, "He has time to make clothes for you, but doesn't have time to have dinner with me."

Eden looked at him in confusion. "What do you mean?"

Victor told her what happened when he invited Jasper to dinner last time.

Eden was a little surprised. She thought he hated Jasper.

Why did he invite him to dinner?

She couldn't help but laugh in her heart.

She could imagine how annoyed Victor was at the moment after being turned down by Jasper. It must be the first time that he asked him out.

"Eden, you seem to be very happy." Victor looked at her with an annoyed face.

"No." Eden quickly calmed down and shook her head. She didn't dare to show it, because she knew how horrible it was to make Victor jealous.

If she admitted that she was laughing at him at this time, then she would not be able to sleep tonight.

Victor said, "I know you are laughing at me, but I just don't have any evidence yet."

Eden was speechless. Why did he say it then if he didn't have any evidence?

.....

The next day, Eden had just finished her work.

Karlee rushed to Alwynn Group to find her.

Eden asked Paula to take her upstairs.

Victor wasn't in the office, so Eden just put away her work and waited for Karlee to come up.

After seeing the news last night, she did not call Karlee. She knew that Karlee would come to her today, and she also had another plan.

If there was someone selling the information of Alwynn Group from inside, she must find out who it was.
