

Gluey Love 171

Chapter 171

Rebecca glanced sideways at Aisling and smiled gently, "Aisling, the Alwynn and Clement families are friends and also neighbors. Let the children deal with their affairs themselves. It's the 21 st century now and children are open-minded. Let's see what they think first."

"That's right! Aunt Clement, my mother is right. Haven and I want to solve the matter privately. The person whom Haven likes has always been..."

"Vincent, you are the person I have always I like!" Haven suddenly interrupted Vincent with a smile.

When Vincent heard this, he looked at Haven and burst into anger instantly. "Haven, can you speak with your conscience? Touch your conscience and think whether you really like me or not."

Haven's smile was both delicate and distressing at the same time. She looked at Vincent and said, "Vincent, what are you talking about? You are obviously the person I like."

Aisling frowned and glanced at Haven.

Why did she change so much suddenly?

She had always wanted to only marry Victor.

Aisling was also a woman. She knew that Victor was indeed a personwhom women could trust.

If she had a choice, she would let Haven marry Victor because he could provide Haven a stable life.

"That's impossible, Haven. You're lying. Tonight's plan was designed for you and Victor. Why was I involved? I don't want to marry you." Vincent wasn't a very rational person. Other than having bad intentions on his mind, he was also impulsive.

He was so angry that he spoke without thinking.

Phillip frowned in displeasure when he heard that. He narrowed his eyes and looked at Rebecca, who looked flustered. Was she scheming against Victor again?

"Nonsense!" Philip roared loudly.

The crowd was taken aback by him and turned to look at him in shock.

Rebecca swallowed a mouthful of saliva and tried to smooth things over with a smile. "Philip, don't be angry. The effect of the drug on Vin had not yet gone. He was only speaking nonsense in anger. Please don't mind him."

Vincent was also very mad with himself for being so impulsive. Philip didn't know their plans to set Victor up.

Philip would definitely not spare him if he knew about it.

"Bang!" The door was suddenly opened by someone.

Everyone was surprised and turned to look back quickly. A tall and handsome man was standing under the dim light. He exuded an unconcealable domineering aura.

His deep and sharp eyebrows and his cold handsome face became evident as he entered the room.

Rebecca widened her eyes and felt uneasy instantly. Why did he appear at such a timing?

Victor glanced at everyone and his gaze landed on Vincent. He said in a crisp and orderly tone, "I heard my name when I passed by just now, so I came in to have a look. I didn't expect everyone to be here!"

"Victor..." Haven looked at Victor in shock.

Victor took a step back in disgust when he heard Haven call his name.

Aisling asked, "Victor, where were you just now?"

Victor replied indifferently, "I went back home just now. I only came back because I forgot to take my things."

Haven and Aisling both heaved a sigh of relief when they heard Victor's words.

Haven looked at Vincent with her teary eyes. Victor was probably not aware of the incident tonight.

Or...

Why did this happen to her?

"Victor, is it you?" Vincent questioned Victor angrily.

Chapter 172

"What is it? What are you referring to?" Victor glanced at Vincent from the corner of his eyes, looking elegant and noble at the same time.

"You..."

"I heard you mention my name when I was outside the room just now. You said tonight's plan was designed for Haven and Victor. What does this mean? Did I miss a good show when I went back early?"

Victor's face was icy cold and his tone was deep and playful, making people hard to understand him.

Everyone's expression was awful when they heard Victor's words!

Aisling glared at Haven. She finally understood what was going on.

Rebecca was the only one who could think of such a dirty trick.

Haven was so foolish to get herself involved.

"No. You, you misheard me!" Vincent shouted anxiously to explain. For the first time, he felt so stifled in front of Victor.

"Since I heard it wrong, you can continue to discuss your matters. My presence here seems to be redundant." He said in an indifferent tone with a cold expression on his face.

He turned around and walked out gracefully with a wicked smile.

Victor would make Rebecca suffer once he found his mother and Eden.

Vincent watched as Victor left and he let out a sigh of relief.

He could not afford to make any mistakes since he had not acquired the Jotham Alwynn Group.

He was not as capable as Victor. No one would help him expect Philip.

He knew very well how cold-blooded the people in the circle were after being there for so many years.

Phillip glanced at Rebecca strangely. He owed Victor and his sister too much.

Victor had never liked Haven. He withdrew his gaze and looked at his exasperated son beside him. He pursed his lips slightly and made up his mind.

He looked up at the angry and sullen Wyatt and said with a smile, "Wyatt, it seems like Haven and Vincent are in love with each other. Why don't we choose a day for them to get married?"

Although he had stopped the incident from spreading tonight, there might still be some mistakes. If someone exposed last night's incident to the world, both the Alwynn and Clement families would lose their faces.

Wyatt glanced at Haven who was also looking at him.

Haven knew that she could not bring shame to the Clement family. Otherwise, her mother would be very disappointed in her. She knew that she was living in the Clement family on the behalf of Eden.

Haven lowered her head silently under Wyatt's gaze.

She could not marry Victor but she had to marry Vincent instead. If last night's incident was spread, no one from any wealthy family would marry her. To others, she was just a chess piece of the Clement family.

She had always lived carefully because she wanted to live a wealthy life forever.

Wyatt spoke slowly under the expectant gaze of the crowd, "I have no objections as long as Haven agrees."

Wyatt's words made Haven feel at ease instantly. Aisling, Buddy and Delmont would not say anything as long as Wyatt agreed.

Over the years, she had got to know their temperament.

Haven looked up at Aisling uneasily and she got a cold stare from Aisling in return.

Haven felt a little uneasy. She didn't tell Aisling about the incident tonight. Aisling would definitely ask her questions now that things have gone wrong and Vincent was dumb enough to let the words slipped out of his tongue.

Chapter 173

"Dad, I don't want to marry Haven." Vincent came to his senses and shouted at the people in the room.

Phillip's face turned ashen when he heard that. He bellowed angrily, "You b*stard! What nonsense are you talking about?"

How do you explain tonight's incident if you do not like Haven?

How are you going to explain to your Uncle Clement, Haven and the Clement family?

Vincent, you can't be heartless!"

Phillip was furious. He looked at Vincent as if he was infuriated by Vincent's failure to meet his expectations.

The two families had tried to resolve the problem together. This was the only solution.

Haven had already made her intention clear. The friendship between the Clement and Alywnn families would come to an end tonight if the Alwynn family refused the solution.

"I..." Vincent was speechless for a moment.

Buddy was inattentive although he was present the whole time.

Delmont also didn't say anything. He didn't have much feelings for his sister, Haven.

Aisling was the one who insisted on taking Haven home after she lost Eden. Haven had always been cautiously living in the Clement family. She was lifeless, unlike Eden who was always active.

Rebecca glanced at Aisling first, then at Haven. An elegant smile appeared on her face with exquisite makeup. She said, "Aisling, both parties would have to compromise when it comes to relationship..."

"Rebecca, I know what you mean. Vincent doesn't want to marry Haven, right?" Aisling had always been straightforward. She had observed Rebecca's every move.

Rebecca looked very embarrassed when she heard Aisling's words and the smile on her face disappeared.

"Aisling, you can't say like that. Vin might think that this is too sudden. After all, children nowadays only get married after they are 30 years old."

Aisling sneered and said, "Haven can't wait for Vincent for such a long time. The Clement family will not speak of this matter again as long as the Alwynn family can give us an explanation."

"Aisling." Wyatt looked at his wife with some displeasure. After all, the Clement and Alwynn families had always been family friends. Aisling's words were a little unpleasant to hear.

Aisling glanced at Wyatt and said with a smile, "Did I say it wrong? Vincent doesn't want to marry Haven, judging from the expression on his face. Love can't be forced. If he doesn't want to marry Haven, forget about it then."

When Aisling brought Haven home, she would be responsible for her future life. Aisling was not a person who had no conscience. She would not let Haven marry someone she didn't like.

Although Haven was not her biological daughter, she was by her side for more than ten years. It would be right for Aisling to give Haven a satisfying life.

Haven looked at Aisling uneasily. She actually had never gotten to know Aisling since she was a child.

Aisling was a very strict mother and she had high expectations of her. Haven had been working hard to meet Aisling's expectations but she was extremely tired.

Phillip saw that Rebecca was going to speak so he spoke ahead of her, "Aisling, love is cultivated. If this b*stard doesn't marry Haven, he will not have the Jotham Alwynn Group."

Vincent trembled when he heard Philip's words. His father was threatening him.

Rebecca also frowned. This was not the result she wanted.

Vincent glanced at Haven. Haven gave her his virginity. He would not lose anything if he married her.

Chapter 174

"I'll marry Haven. I'll marry Haven. Dad's right. Love can be fostered. Besides, Haven and I grew up together. We have some feelings more or less." Vincent said with a smile.

Everyone's expressions changed when they heard this.

Wyatt said with a solemn face, "Vincent, marriage is not a trifle matter. Have you really thought about this? Haven is the daughter of the Clement family. We won't let her be wronged. However, we would not force you if you have no feelings for Haven."

Vincent rubbed his nose. Wyatt had asked the wrong person.

He should have asked Haven. Marriage was not a trifle but Haven was treating it as one at the moment.

She clearly liked Victor but she wanted to marry Vincent. Vincent could only marry Haven now since Philip had already threatened him with the Jotham Alwynn Group.

Vincent could have any woman he wanted as long as he had the Jotham Alwynn Group. Thus, he did not mind marrying Haven.

He looked at Phillip and said with a smile, "Uncle Alywnn, don't worry. I did not treat this as a joke. I'm really serious."

If he didn't take it seriously, he wouldn't be able to possess the Jotham Alwynn Group.

Haven glanced at Vincent and knew that he did not want to marry her. She wanted to take revenge since Vincent and Rebecca had schemed against her.

Vincent was good-looking. He had a well-defined face, sharp eyebrows, bright eyes, red lips, and white teeth. His look was comparable to any famous celebrities.

However, he was a womanizer and he had many women around him.

Victor had been rejecting Haven. It would be easier for her to marry Vincent.

Buddy, who had not said a single word all night, got up and took his coat from the side. He said coldly, "Since the matter has been settled, I'll leave first."

After that, he walked out elegantly with a sullen face.

"Buddy, do you have something on your mind?" Haven turned sideways and asked Buddy who passed by her.

Buddy stopped, looked at her face indifferently and said coldly, "Mind your own business."

He left after that. Haven stood at the same spot and looked at him hurtfully.

She only wanted to show her concern to Buddy because she realized that he was unhappy recently.

She only wanted to show her concern to Buddy because she realized that he was unhappy recently.

Aisling also got up and she looked tired. She looked at the crowd and said, "Now that the matter is settled, let's go back and have a rest. Rebecca, remember to inform the Clement family when you have chosen a day for the marriage."

After that, she went after Buddy hurriedly without waiting for Rebecca to reply.

"Mom, slow down." Delmont helped Wyatt to get up. After bidding goodbye to the Alwynn family, the Clement family left with Haven.

Aisling chased after Buddy and saw him stopping a taxi. She quickly walked over and stopped him. She asked angrily, "Buddy, where are you going?"

Buddy glanced at her mother coldly. "Mom, as you had requested, I am not together with Zofia anymore. You should leave my private life alone from now on."

After saying that, Buddy got into the taxi without looking back. He asked the driver to leave.

"Buddy, Buddy, come back. It's very late. Where are you going?" Aisling shouted as she watched the taxi leave.

She felt the pain in her heart. She did it for the sake of her son. His life would be easier if he married a girl with a good family background.

Aisling had been living in this circle for a long time and she knew how cold the people in the circle were. They would not be defeated if they had a strong and powerful family.

Chapter 175

Wyatt, Delmont, and Haven also caught up.

Wyatt frowned and asked, "Aisling, what happened to Buddy? Something seems to have happened between you two recently. Buddy's attitude towards you is very cold."

Wyatt had a headache. Besides having to deal with a lot of things in the company every day, he also had a lot of stuff to do at home as well.

If his adorable Eden were here, she would definitely make him happy and forget all his troubles.

Alas!

He shook his head. It was useless to think about all of this now. Perhaps it was due to his age, Wyatt missed Eden even more.

Aisling glanced at him and shook her head. "Everything's fine. Let's go home!"

Delmont went to get the car and Aisling walked towards Haven. She looked at Haven coldly and asked, "Haven, did Rebecca set up everything that had happened tonight?"

Wyatt, who was listening at the side, frowned.

Haven knew that Aisling had figured everything out but she could never admit it in front of Wyatt.

She bit her lips nervously and answered in a low voice, "Mom, I don't know what happened. When I woke up, things have already happened."

Upon hearing this, Aisling looked at Haven with a frown. It was obvious that she didn't believe what Haven said.

"Haven, I hope you behave yourself and play your role. I will give you everything you want but if you have ulterior motives, don't blame me for being unkind."

She didn't want to raise an ungrateful daughter. She had always been strict with Haven. Haven was not as smart as she thought but she had a lot of bad intentions.

"Aisling, how can you talk to Haven in such a way?" Wyatt knew that Aisling was always straightforward but her blunt words were hurtful.

Aisling glanced at him and said flatly, "You don't have to worry about this matter. I'll take care of it!"

Wyatt shook his head helplessly and said with a headache, "Alright, alright. I won't interfere. I won't be able to so even if I want to."

He should just concentrate on finding Eden!

When Wyatt saw that Delmont had brought the car over, he walked towards the car.

Aisling glanced at Haven and said emotionlessly, "Let's go. We'll talk about it when we get back."

Haven nodded and followed Aisling with a gloomy face.

Rebecca was sullen on her way back home. She was caught off guard by the incident tonight. Why was Vin involved? She believed Victor had something to do with this.

Haven was not the daughter-in-law she had dreamed of.

However, she couldn't lose her temper in front of Philip. She could only hold back her anger and go to sleep but she had a sleepless night.

Eden stayed in the hotel room and waited for Victor after she changed her clothes. She was unaware of what had happened between Vincent and Haven.

Therefore, she slept very well for the night. She only woke up at dawn.

When Eden went to work refreshed the next day, she realized that Victor and Anson were not around.

When they were having lunch, Lucian told her that Anson and Victor had rushed to the Gate City branch since something had happened.

The news about Haven and Vincent had not been reported.

However, the matter was circulated within the noble ladies' WhatsApp group and the explicit video had been sent to the group. Haven felt very uneasy when she saw the video.

Vincent had been recognized but not her. Everyone was questioning the identity of the woman in the video.

Haven knew that she herself was the woman in the video and it wouldn't take long for others to figure that out too.

Chapter 176

Today was the day to apply for a job at the Alwynn Group. Although Haven couldn't marry Victor, she wanted to enter the Alwynn Group with her own strength.

Haven would never give up until Victor was impressed with her for once.

She had got ready the relevant information early in the morning before she went to the personnel department of the Alwynn Group to apply for a job.

She was a lonely girl who had been living in fear. She would never know what would happen the next moment and could not understand why she would never get what she wanted.

However, after experiencing all kinds of unexpected events in her life, she put aside her vanity and started to look at the world with a humble attitude.

Haven entered the Alwynn Group with a lot of things on her mind. She met Myra at the entrance.

Myra looked at the file in Haven's hand before glanced at Haven disdainfully. She mocked, "What happened? The daughter of the Clement family stopped relying on her parents and is actually coming out to work?"

Myra also came to the Alwynn Group after she saw that they were recruiting employees.

Marianne had always been the design director. However, a new designer from the branch company who was likely to be the bitch Cyan, had been transferred to fill the newly vacated post.

Myra only came to apply for a job in the Alwynn Group to confirm Cyan's identity.

Haven looked at Myra coldly and said sarcastically, "Haven't you been relying on your parents too? Why do you come out to work now?"

"What does it have to do with you?" Myra hated people with a fake identity like Haven. She hated it very much when Haven, who was only adopted from the orphanage, had always been so arrogant in front of her.

Myra would think of Cyan when she saw Haven and her mood would become bad for some reasons. Myra felt jealous when she saw Darlene giving her approval to Eden at the banquet last night.

She glared at Haven. Others might not know Haven but she did. Haven would act arrogant and superior in front of others.

However, Haven acted gentle in front of her family. When she was in front of Victor, she would act innocent. Myra was angry when she saw Haven's pretentious attitude.

"Then what does it have to do with you that I'm here?" Haven roared at Myra coldly and walked towards the elevator in small steps.

Haven was tormented by Vincent last night and her body was still sore when she woke up. She was heartbroken when she thought of what happened last night.

Myra looked at Haven's back in anger. With this woman around, could she get this job?

However, she had already made some arrangements!

Myra smiled wryly and followed Haven.

She entered the elevator with her 10-centimeter heels.

Haven stood at the side with an awful expression on her face.

Myra glanced at her. Although the two of them often fought verbally with each other, they didn't reach the point where they didn't talk to each other.

She asked, "By the way, Haven, your family was with the Alwynn family last night. Who was the woman who was with Vincent last night?"

Upon hearing this, Haven's calm heart was instantly stirred up.

Now this thing was a ticking time bomb.

She didn't even know whether Victor was aware about it or not.

She quickly yelled back angrily and nervously, "How would I know? You can go and ask Vincent yourself."

Her relationship with Vincent had not been announced and she regretted her actions last night after she went back home.

Chapter 177

Myra was stunned by Haven's roar.

"It's fine if you don't know. Why do you have to yell?" Myra came to her senses and glared at Haven before she turned her head to the side to stop looking at her.

Myra and Haven were the only ones in the elevator. The atmosphere became a little strange when both of them kept quiet.

Haven walked out first when the elevator arrived at their desired floor.

Myra followed behind as she swayed her slender waist.

When they reached the hall, they found that there was a long queue of applicants.

"Fk! Is Alwynn Group this good? There are so many people lining up even though only three positions were available." Myra lost her confidence instantly.

Haven gave her a sidelong glance. "Go back if you're not confident with yourself. Don't come here and make a fool of yourself."

She still had to complete the autumn themed design Darlene gave.

Darlene was odd and so was the theme of the design.

She didn't know whether Eden would be better than her. She was under a lot of pressure this time but it was a rare opportunity and a chance for her to be successful.

Haven saw Eden, Lucian and Riley walking over while she was speaking.

Eden didn't expect Haven and Myra to be among the applicants. She remembered Myra studied design and her family also ran a clothing company. Why did she come here to apply for a job?

"Vo! Isn't this Director Bleu who just got promoted?" Myra looked at Eden disdainfully with a sneer.

Eden knew Myra's temper. She had always been arrogant as the eldest lady of the Gienger family.

Eden said in a flat tone with a professional smile, "Miss Gienger also wants to work in the Alwynn Group?" Her tone was faint and no emotions could be detected from her words.

"What? You can come but I can't?" Myra looked at Eden in an unfriendly manner.

She was determined to find out whether Eden was Cyan or not.

Haven was standing at the side quietly.

Lucian smiled and said with one hand in his pocket,

"Miss Gienger, please be more polite when you speak. We are at the Alwynn Group, not at the Gienger family's company. You can leave if you're here to cause trouble. Our company is not recruiting a dog that bites."

Lucian was known for his spiteful tongue in the circle. He would never give face to anyone easily.

Many girls had been hurt by him.

"Secretary Ronen, you..." Myra glared at Lucian angrily. Her eyes turned red instantly but she became quiet.

She really wanted to work for the Alwynn Group. The company was recruiting people because it had expanded its business this year. Many people wanted to join the Alwynn Group. However, only those who were capable were able to join.

Those who came to apply for a job were asked to go in one at a time, and they came out after a short while with sullen expressions on their faces.

Eden knew that the design for this year's autumn clothing had already been decided during the recruitment.

At present, the Alwynn Group was recruiting people to fill the marketing, sales and customer service positions.

Three people were needed in her team. There was also a need for someone to get familiarized with the fabrics and its popularity.

She did not have any spare time when Alwynn Group expanded its business. The company had also proposed to recruit employees.

To get employed, the three people should be familiar with the market and should also be aware of the trend and popularity of each season.

Eden saw that there were still many people waiting for the interview. She glanced at Lucian. She still had to attend a meeting. The new autumn products had been approved and the overall development strategy and marketing plan must be planned in advance.

Eden said, "Secretary Ronen, let's go!"

Chapter 178

"Okay!" Lucian nodded blandly. He glanced at Haven with his clear eyes before he left.

Riley gave Myra a cheering gesture before she left with Eden.

As for Haven, she was silent all the while.

Haven did not dare to look at Lucian at all. He was Victor's secretary and friend. He knew everything that was related to Victor. He must also know about what happened last night.

How Haven hoped last night was only a dream.

Haven and Myra stood on the same spot and did not talk to each other. They watched the candidates leave in disappointment one after another and they started to feel nervous.

The Alwynn Group had extremely high requirements on the employees they recruited. Although Haven and Myra were well-versed in designing, neither of them had formal jobs due to their decent family background.

However, they were very familiar with the marketing trend and popularity of the new products for every season.

Eden was only busy with her work and she was not bothered about the recruitment. She got off work on time.

However, she was stopped by a woman as soon as she got out of the company.

"Director Bleu, can we have a talk?"

Eden saw that it was the woman who spilled wine on her last night.

Kelly looked at Eden cautiously and she was not as arrogant as last night.

She looked haggard, pale and nervous just after a night.

Eden put on a cold expression when she thought of Kelly spilling on her deliberately. "We have nothing to talk about."

Kelly looked at Eden urgently and said nervously, "Director Bleu, what happened at the banquet was my fault. I apologize to you. I'm sorry, I'm really sorry! Please let Mr. Alwynn continue his collaboration with the Gerard family."

Eden frowned in confusion when she heard Kelly's words. What did Kelly mean by that?

Why did Kelly come to her about the contract?

What did this have to do with her?

Eden, who was busy all day, did not know what had happened in the circle today. Victor had terminated all his collaborative projects with the Gerard family.

Victor's ruthlessness was indeed well-known in the business world.

Eden was about to say something when a cold voice sounded behind her.

"Miss Gerard, this matter has nothing to do with Director Bleu. You're begging the wrong person."

It was Lucian. Eden quickly turned around and glanced at him. He had changed into a grey casual tuxedo that belonged to Jasper's company. Eden could tell at a glance.

Kelly quickly looked at Lucian. He was the one who issued all the orders today.

The Gerard family had been relying on the cooperation with the Alwynn Group to lead a prosperous life. Kelly had never thought that a glass of red wine and a few personal attacks would make her family bankrupt.

She hurriedly walked toward Lucian. She cried and said, "Secretary Ronen..."

"Get lost!" Lucian did not give her a chance to speak.

He glanced at Eden and said, "Miss Bleu, you go first!"

Eden nodded in confusion. She wanted to ask Lucian what was going on but she didn't do so because of Kelly's presence.

Moreover, she still had things to do. She really had to leave first.

She bade goodbye to Lucian, "Goodbye, Secretary Ronen!"

Lucian nodded and glanced at Kelly while Eden turned around and left.

Lucian looked at Eden's back. She looked extremely thin under the sunset.

However, she was so strong that it made people's heart ache.

His gaze was complicated and he slightly narrowed his handsome eyes. The most difficult thing in the world was to think for another person with one's heart.

Chapter 179

Victor could do anything for Eden Blue. To be more specific, it was Eden Clement.

Lucian retracted his gaze when Eden had disappeared from his sight. He looked at Kelly and warned her coldly, "Miss Gerard, it's too late to know you're in the wrong right now. Instead of coming here to embarrass yourself, you'd better think about why you provoked Eden. The one who incited you to do that is the culprit."

After Lucian finished speaking, he left in a relaxed pace under the sunset.

He glanced at the bright sunset with his deep eyes. Only a person who had endured pain before could really see and understand humanity.

Victor had suffered too much. He would never let anyone bully the people he cared about. Even if the contract was worth millions of dollars, he would still terminate it without the slightest consideration. This was the Victor whom Lucian knew.

Kelly stood at the same spot, distracted. After standing for a while, she held her arms and squatted on the ground slowly. She looked lonely and helpless.

The passers-by glanced at her before they left in a hurry.

Kelly had a painful expression on her face. This nightmare caught her off guard. She thought her father was just joking. After all, it was just a glass of red wine. She had never thought that Victor would terminate all the contracts.

Rupert grabbed her and slapped her twice when she was still sleeping this morning.

At that time, she was very confused and she didn't understand why Rupert would slap her.

She only knew how serious the matter was when her sister came in and told her everything while sobbing.

The Gerard family had gone bankrupt overnight. She suffered excruciating pain in her heart at that moment.

The Gerard family was ruined by her.

Myra was the person who incited and reminded her to humiliate Eden.

Myra always loved to speak ill of others behind their backs. However, Kelly was too simple minded and she would believe what others said.

She would not think about it deeply. Kelly, who had always been arrogant, seemed to have matured a lot overnight.

Kelly sat at the side of the road and wept sadly.

Kelly and Rupert were busy tracking down the people they knew to help them plead for Victor's mercy. Unfortunately, humanity was unkind. They refused Kelly and Rupert when they knew the reason they visited them.

Not only that, they even humiliated Kelly. This made Kelly realize that humanity in this world was fragile.

Eden returned home and got everything ready. All that was left to do was to wait for Kenny to come tomorrow. She was so busy that she did not have time to browse Facebook or do other things.

After getting everything ready, she made herself dinner and a cup of coffee. She sat down at the computer and thought about the theme that Darlene gave her.

Eden knew that Darlene was very famous and had a high reputation in the fashion world.

Eden would be admired by the people in the design world if she could become Darlene's disciple.

Instead of rushing to complete the task, Eden tried to understand Darlene.

She found a lot of information about Darlene online.

Darlene had never been married. She dated once when she was young but her boyfriend had betrayed her. She had been living alone since then.

Except for this flaw, her life was still quite perfect. She knew what she wanted and had been striving towards her goal her whole life.

Eden looked at the news about Darlene on the Internet seriously. Finally, she saw a screenshot of a statement that was published by Darlene on her Facebook.

It was a beautiful image of her with a couple of words.

Chapter 180

Those who live in confusion are happy most of the time whereas those who live in sobriety are easily troubled.

The sentence seemed to tell the whole story of her life.

Eden held her chin gently and quietly stared at the words with her bright and beautiful eyes.

Sometimes, the things you lose in life never truly belong to you.

The most despicable thing was nothing else but feelings, whereas the most disappointing thing was the human heart.

Darlene's biggest regret of her life was that she had never had a successful relationship.

But why was her theme autumnal?

Eden did not give up and she continued to search for information about Darlene.

She didn't find anything unusual until ten o'clock at night.

She leaned back on the chair with a lollipop in her mouth and a serious expression on her face. She combed through all the information she had gathered in her head.

Eden's task for today was considered complete.

Her cell phone vibrated suddenly.

She quickly picked up the call when she saw that it was from her mother. "Hello! Mom."

"Eden, I have packed up Kenny's things for him. He will come over tomorrow early in the morning. I will only come after Gia's painting exhibition is over."

"Two of Gia's paintings were selected in this painting exhibition. Although it is not a personal exhibition, Gia is actually great. She can hold her own painting exhibition when she gets older. An art teacher likes her work too. Gia is very happy these days."

Eden was very happy to hear that. "Mom, thank you. I'll ask the renovation staff to come and have a look in a few days. The house is very clean and it only needs a few changes. You'll be able to come over soon.

We can move into our new home."

Eden felt very happy when she thought of the house.

"Okay! I will pack the things here one after another and courier them over. Give me the address later."

"Kenny has already applied for the airline escort service. You don't have to worry." "Alright, Mom." Eden smiled happily. As long as her mother and children were all by her side, Eden felt energetic no matter how tired she felt.

"Eden, Kenny wants to talk to you."

"Okay!"

"Mom!" Kenny's voice was heard at the other end of the phone.

"Yes!" Eden smiled and answered, "Kenny, baby, have a safe trip tomorrow. I will pick you up at the airport on time."

"Okay. Mom, go to bed early and don't stay up late." His deep and calm voice was filled with concern.

"Yes, baby." Eden smiled and replied.

Eden hung up the phone after chatting with Kenny for a while.

She was very happy. She shut down the computer and went to sleep.

Eden went to work on time the next day.

When Eden reached the company, she noticed that Victor and Anson still did not come to work.

As before, only Lucian was present.

Eden walked over and said with a smile, "Good morning, Secretary Ronen!"

"Morning, Miss Bleu." Lucian smiled at her.

den smiled politely and said, "Secretary Ronen, I will finish my work earlier today. I have something to do and I want to take a half-day leave."

Since Victor was not around, she had to inform Lucian.

"No problem!" Lucian agreed readily. He couldn't help but smile as he looked at the smile on Eden's face.

Victor and Anson would come back today.

"Thank you!" Eden smiled and nodded.

"Wow! This is my first time here. Haven, this place is so luxurious and stylish!"

An excited voice came from behind suddenly.

Lucian and Eden both turned to look.
