

Gluey Love 1711

Chapter 1711

The news was already all over the internet this morning.

The Simpson Group did not invite Victor, nor anyone from Alwynn Group to their party.

Everyone could sense that something was wrong.

And they also guessed that there must be some problems between Victor and Barrett.

After what happened last night, there were all kinds of guesses online as well.

However, there was no newspaper that dared to write about Victor openly.

Eden knew that everyone was so eager to find out the truth now.

She also knew that this matter would cause a tempest online.

If so, the connection between Alwynn Group and the incident of the daughters of the Simpson family would soon be dug out.

At this time, someone knocked on the door.

"Come in." Eden put away her emotions and looked over to the door.

Karlee, who was wearing a red dress, walked after Paula.

The red dress made her look even more glamorous.

She walked in and sat down in front of Eden directly in a hurry.

Eden asked Paula to make some coffee.

After looking at Karlee's slightly annoyed face, she said, "Karlee, I was about to call you. I just saw the news this morning."

Karlee puffed out her cheeks angrily. She had such mixed feelings when she saw Eden. Surely the thing that happened the night before was still bothering her.

"I knew that you wouldn't have seen the news, so I'm here."

Eden, I have to tell you that your design must have been stolen by Dahlia. Carlotta's dress was made by Dahlia. She is such a horrible woman. She thought she could do anything just because she is close to the Yates family and the Simpson family.

She has been provoking me. Do you know what she said to me?" Karlee sounded furious.

Eden shook her head slightly. She could only guess what happened last night, but she did not know what Paulina said to Karlee that could make her so angry.

Karlee clenched her fists and said, "Don't be fooled by her appearance. She is such a b*tch.

She said to me, 'Miss Woods, why are you so heartless to Stephen? No matter what, you two had a child together. Now he is lying in the hospital unconscious, but you are here to have fun. Don't you feel guilty?'

It's none of her business! And how did she know about what happened between me and Stephen? I was so angry at that moment and I really wished that I could tear her mouth apart."

Karlee took a deep breath after speaking.

Eden moved closer and patted her back gently.

At this time, Paula came over with a cup of coffee. Eden miled and comforted Karlee, "Karlee, don't be angry. It's not worth it. Is it true about what you just said about the dress?"

After that, she quietly moved her face to look at Paula.

Paula was expressionless. After putting the coffee on the table, she nodded to Eden and turned to leave.

Eden slightly frowned. She knew Paula very well. If this matter had something to do with her, she would definitely not be this calm. She had been very calm about what happened recently, which meant that she had nothing to do with it.

"She admitted it herself. Carlotta got her dress at noon yesterday, which means that her dress was made after mine. It is so obvious that she copied your work and made two identical dresses. She just wanted to make me annoyed. I know it is Leilani who is behind this. After the party, I saw Dahlia and Leilani left together. I almost got you into trouble. I'm so sorry, Eden."

Karlee grabbed Eden's hand guiltily and found that her hand was a little cold.

"Leilani?" Eden was a little surprised, but she knew clearly what kind of a person Leilani was. Leilani knew that Barrett would treat her and Stephen so differently if Karlee's baby was still alive.

After all, this would be the first grandchild that Barrett had.

"It is her. I know that you have something to do with Chelsea's thing, so you have to be careful of Leilani. From what happened last night, I can tell that she has already started." It was better to have one more friend than an enemy.

Karlee knew that Eden and Victor would not make things difficult for the Woods family, so there was no point to turn against them.

In the past few days, she studied the development process of Alwynn Group. She found that Victor was already an influential businessman, and now his business almost included all the industries in River City.

There would be no way for the Simpson family to take over the whole River City.

Fortunately, she dumped Stephen in time so that the relationship between her family and Alwynn Group was not ruined.

Victor would never show any mercy to his competitors in business.

She did not know if it was a coincidence that Eden had saved her. But Eden's appearance had changed her life.

No matter what Eden's purpose was, she did not hurt her, so she could be friends with Eden.

Eden smiled gratefully and patted her hand. "Thank you for coming here in person to tell me about this. What would you like to eat for lunch? Let's go out to eat together."

Karlee was surprised, "Is that okay? Will it delay your work?"

Eden smiled and shook her head. Her gentle smile could melt people's hearts.

"It's alright. I have done most of my work today already. After lunch, I will design a new dress for you."

"Thank you, Eden, but it's not your fault. You really don't have to feel guilty." Karlee looked a little embarrassed. She couldn't believe that she even questioned Eden's purpose in her heart.

She suddenly had an idea and said with a smile, "If you want to design clothes for me, I'll buy you lunch today."

"Deal!" Eden said with a bright smile.

After sending a message to Victor, they left together.

In Dahlia's office.

Dulcie was standing at the side, feeling a little uncomfortable seeing that Dahlia was trembling with anger.

"Dahlia, are you going to just let it go? Miss Woods is too overbearing." Dulcie said unhappily.

They hadn't taken Eden down yet, now they had to deal with Karlee.

Dahlia looked at her with a gloomy face. None of these were important at the moment. What bothered her the most was that Irving was with another woman last night.

She asked coldly, "Who was the woman that Irving was with last night?"

Chapter 1712

Dulcie frowned, lowered her head, and pondered for a moment. Then she shook her head and said, "I haven't been in River City for a long time, so I don't know who the woman is. But isn't it strange that he all of a sudden let other women go close to him? He never let any women go close to him before, not even you, who is his fiancée."

Dahlia clenched her fists tightly. The blue veins on her forehead could already be seen.

She knew that he still liked Eden and waited to wait for her.

She hadn't even held hands with him for all these years.

He didn't even want to have meals with her. She didn't understand why Eden was so special in his heart.

She felt the only reason why she lost to Eden was that Eden met Victor and Irving earlier than her.

Dulcie looked at Dahlia and said nothing. But thinking of what happened last night, she couldn't help but ask, "By the way, why did you fight with Miss Woods?"

Upon hearing Miss Woods's name, Dahlia got even more annoyed.

"Who knows why she went crazy all of a sudden. I just said that she should get back with Stephen, and she went crazy and starting hitting me."

Her head was still painful when she brushed her hair this morning. It was all because of Karlee who pulled her hair so hard. She couldn't believe that Karlee, who was a lady from such a big family, could do such a thing.

"Then..." Dulcie hesitated before she could finish her words, but thought for a while, she still asked curiously, "They are all saying online that you look like a designer named Paulina Calrk. Do you know what's going?"

Dahlia stared at Dulcie who had a curious look on her face, then she frowned and said with an unpleasant look, "How can you believe in those comments?"

Dulcie shook her head slightly. In fact, she did not believe it at the beginning, but it seemed that everyone started talking about it right now.

"No, I'm just curious." She smiled awkwardly and stopped talking.

Dahlia rolled her eyes at her. Although she didn't do much for her plastic surgery, she still looked very different from before.

The only thing she could do for living was design, so how could she survive if she really gave it up?

If it weren't for her being obsessed with Victor, she wouldn't have forced herself into a dead end.

She actually regretted it. Thinking about what happened to her and Tillie, she knew that it was all their own fault.

This time, she wanted to kill two birds with one stone. She wanted to embarrass Karlee and ruin Eden's reputation. However, in the end, she was the only one who got hurt.

She couldn't help but think how unlucky she was to suffer so much.

However, Dulcie had no idea what Dahlia was thinking at this moment.

She did not go with Dahlia last night because Carlotta was there as well.

Carlotta hadn't forgiven her yet, so she didn't want to make things worse. She only went to meet Dahlia after Carlotta left.

Dahlia was a little worried. She did not know if Karlee would tell Eden about the dress. She had heard from Leilani that the two of them were pretty close.

"Dahlia," Dulcie said suddenly.

Dahlia looked at her with her irritated face without saying anything.

Dulcie smiled slightly and said, "I know you feel awful right now, and I want to cheer you up. Why don't we go to karaoke now and enjoy ourselves?"

Dahlia couldn't help but smile. "I don't want to go." She wanted to meet Irving now. What he did last night provoked her completely.

He needed to remember that she was his fiancée.

"Are you going to meet Irving?" Dulcie frowned. She always felt that they were never like a couple.

"Yes," Dahlia nodded.

Dulcie smiled and said in a low voice, "I think sometimes you need to play a little trick to men.

I know you and Irving are not really close to each other. Why don't you use some tricks and make him sleep with you? Then everything will be much easier."

Dahlia certainly knew what she meant. However, Irving did not even want to have a meal with her.

What could she do?

So she shook her head with some disappointment. "I have no chance."

Dulcie was surprised, "How can there be no chance? Irving should still be at the company now. Why don't we ask him out for dinner? He will not refuse us. I will help you then."

"You..." Dahlia didn't know why Dulcie wanted to help her. She thought Dulcie liked Irving as well.

"Why? Are you worried that I will take Irving away from you?" Dulcie frowned and looked at Dahlia. She indeed like Irving, but she knew she was not good enough for him.

Dahlia shook her head and looked at her, thinking that perhaps she could really give it a try.

"Let's go then," she said with a smile.

Dulcie also smiled and followed her out. "That's right. Sometimes you need to take the lead when you like someone."

.....

Karlee wanted to treat Eden to dinner, so they went to River City Restaurant.

Eden didn't want to go this far as she still had to come back to the company, but Karlee insisted.

Recently, Victor was busy working with his cooperation with another country. She knew that he was very ambitious, and he kept expanding his business.

He had his business in several countries already, and everything was moving very smoothly.

Thinking of this, Eden felt a little concerned about him. She wondered where he would be having lunch today.

The two of them soon arrived at River City Restaurant. The manager saw that Eden came, he took them to the VIP room directly.

Eden was a frequent visitor here, so after ordering the dishes, she asked Karlee to have some tea while she went to the restroom.

When she came back from the restroom, she couldn't help but stop at the door of another VIP room.

"Mr. Alwynn, come on, finish this drink. If you finish this one, I will sign the contract immediately." A sweet voice made came from inside, making Eden frown.

She approached the door quietly and wanted to hear what was going on in the room. Then she heard Victor's voice.

"I've already had three glasses." Victor sounded very calm. He didn't want to be rude as the other party was their cooperative partner.

Eden frowned. Victor was not a person who would tolerate everything unless he had to do this project.

"No, no, Mr. Alwynn, the three glasses earlier should not be counted. We are talking about long-term cooperation. I know you have planned for this project for a long time. Do you want to give up now?" The woman's voice was very soft, but also with an invisible threat.

Eden felt that she was just being insatiable.

After all, Victor was asking them for cooperation, which was different from when others came to ask him.

However, it would not be fun to threaten Victor. Sure enough, the next moment, Eden heard Victor's ruthless voice, "We don't have to do this project with you."

Chapter 1713

Everyone fell silent instantly. After a while, Eden heard the woman's surprised voice.

"Mr. Alwynn, do you know that without the help of our company, it's difficult for you to gain a firm foothold if you want to enter that country." The woman's tone was contemptuous and arrogant.

Eden felt a little angry for Victor. She knew that he had been busy with this project.

Now, he was being bullied like this, which made her feel really uncomfortable. However, he would have to put up with it if he wanted to get more from it.

Then, Victor's cold voice sounded, "To cooperate with you is just to speed up the progress, which can save a lot of trouble. If we don't cooperate with your company, as long as we are listed, your company will not be a match to us. Since you don't appreciate my kindness, I will have to leave it then."

Eden narrowed her eyes slightly and couldn't help but give a thumbs up to him. She was so proud of her husband.

Both companies would be seeking win-win cooperation, however, if someone wanted to break the rules, there was no point to carry on anymore.

"Haha..."

Eden heard the woman's arrogant laughter at this moment.

"Mr. Alwynn, I know you are invincible in the business field. This may be your market and your world, but it is totally different when you are in another country."

"Really?" Victor's voice sounded much colder than earlier.

"Don't you think so? Mr. Alwynn, am I not beautiful enough? Compared to your wife, I am more charming and fascinating. As long as you are with me, the market there will be yours.

As for your wife, I have seen her photos online. She looks pretty, but she doesn't have the charm. You must be so bored of her now already."

Hearing this, Eden could not hold back her anger anymore. How could there be such a shameless woman? It was just a business corporation, how could she say such ridiculous words?

She didn't have the charm? And Victor would be bored of her already?

How dare she say such words?

The woman's words kept echoing in Eden's head. She really wished she could slap her in the face right now.

She felt she couldn't stand it anymore.

At this time, Victor said proudly, "In my heart, my wife is the most beautiful woman."

"Really?" The woman sneered, "Mr. Alwynn, you are one of the most famous people in River City, so I must work hard enough to get you." She did not hide her desire in front of Victor.

And she was not angry at his words at all.

Eden could not help but push the door open quietly. Through the gap of the door, she could only see Victor who was sitting there casually. His entire body looked so cold but so attractive at the same time.

His lips looked redder than before, maybe because he had some drinks.

"Mr. Alwynn, you can think about what I said."

"I don't need to think about it." Victor's cold eyes were filled with disgust.

Seeing this, Eden calmed down a lot. It seemed that she didn't need to go in anymore.

She knew her husband would never cheat on her.

A vague smile appeared on her face, then she slowly turned around and left.

However, at the same time, Victor turned his face to look at the door. With just a glance, he recognized Eden.

His lips curled up into a faint smile, and the coldness in his eyes faded away.

When Eden returned to the VIP room, all the dishes had already been served.

Karlee looked at her in confusion. "Eden, why have you gone for so long? Do you have constipation?"

Eden was speechless. Why did she talk about such a disgusting thing at the dinner table?

"No, there was just something that I needed to deal with. Let's start now." Eden smiled and sat opposite her. Karlee was still looking at her phone.

She knew that the news of her and Dahlia was the trending topic online.

She could not ignore it.

"Yes," Karlee nodded with her eyes still stared at her phone.

Eden was very hungry, so she couldn't wait anymore, just looked at her whilst eating.

"What are you reading? You should eat these before they turn cold." Eden had several pieces of meat already, but Karlee had not yet begun to eat.

Hearing this, Karlee finally looked away from her phone.

"I paid some trolls to post online comments. I want to totally destroy that b*tch."

Eden didn't know what to say. It seemed that Karlee was indeed the wrong person that Dahlia offended.

"I will make her the trending topic of this whole month." Karlee gritted her teeth and widened her eyes whilst speaking.

Eden looked at her and smiled. She really could not agree with her. "Karlee, you looked really cool when you were pulling her hair and beating her."

"Haha, I thought so too. Dahlia stole your design. Are you going to just let her go?" Seeing that Eden didn't seem to care at all, Karlee was a little worried.

Eden shook her head slightly, "Of course I won't let her go. But I'd like to wait until the right time if I want to take revenge."

Paulina was too ambitious. She would destroy herself sooner or later without Eden doing anything.

"The right time?" Karlee blinked her big eyes and said. It was so difficult to wait for the right time.

Karlee was totally different. She wouldn't be able to sleep if she didn't sort it out straight away.

"Yes," Eden smiled and nodded.

"You are too kind. How can you still wait when she already stole your design?" Karlee really couldn't agree with her.

"I won't let her get away with it. Didn't I say that I need the right time?" Eden said so calmly whilst eating her dinner. She was like Karlee before, but she had already changed.

She knew that being impulsive could only make things worse.

After going through so many things, she was much more mature than before

"I'm worried about you when I see you like this. Forget it. You must have your own plans. Let's do it in our own ways." After saying this, Karlee finally started to eat.

"The food here is so delicious. I love this dish." Karlee felt so satisfied when she put the meat in her mouth.

Eden felt she was just like an innocent child.

She was born into a rich and powerful family, so she never had to worry about anything in her life.

At that time, Eden really envied this kind of life and really wished that she could live a life without worrying about so many things.

After giving birth to the three children she had been working so hard because she wanted her children to live such a carefree life.

Unfortunately, her ability was limited. Ricky had to start making money at a young age.

After lunch, Karlee got a phone call and left straightaway.

Eden sat there alone and carried on eating. She thought it must be time for Victor to finish as well.

But considering the situation, he must have left already a while ago.

Thinking of this, she packed up her belongings slowly, drank some water, took her own bag, and finally went out.

Chapter 1714

Eden walked to the corner and saw a tall figure standing in front of her with his head slightly lowered. His hair hung down some inches in a fringe all over and made a handsome ornament. He stood by the window and the light coming in through the window spread on his body, making him look like a prince from the fairy tale.

Eden was slightly surprised to see Victor there.

Victor looked at her and put on a tender smile. "My dear wife, why do you come out so late?"

Eden didn't know what he meant.

"Did you know that I'm here?" She walked to his side.

"Yes," he smiled and nodded, stretching out his long arms to hold her slim waist. Then he bowed his head and stared at her with his black eyes. She could see her own face reflected in his clear eyes. He smiled gently and said, "Dear, didn't you also know that I am here?"

Eden was speechless. Did he see her earlier?

"You've been drinking." Eden looked at him with concern.

"I just had three glasses." Victor raised three slender fingers and waved them in front of her.

"That's enough. Let's go home now." Eden grabbed his arm.

Three glasses of drink would not make him drunk.

He was still very sober, but he felt Eden was different in his eyes.

"Honey, I love you!" He couldn't wait to tell her this. He believed that Eden had already heard the conversation between him and the woman earlier.

Eden looked up at him in amusement. "You're drunk. Why are you saying this right now?"

Victor smiled. "You make me drunk even if I didn't drink."

Eden's face was flushed by his teasing and she gently pounded his chest.

Victor only squinted with a look of enjoyment.

"Why are you so sweet today?" She was actually very pleased to hear that.

"Because..." he bowed his head and quickly kissed her on her lips. "Because I ate something sweet." He looked at her with his dark eyes.

Eden's face instantly turned red.

When she came back to her senses, she realized that he did not press the button to go downstairs, instead, they were in the exclusive elevator and going to the top floor.

"Why are we going up?" Eden looked at him in confusion.

Victor lowered his head and whispered in her ear, "Because I missed you."

The drinks he had today were very strong. Although he only had three glasses, he still felt a little tipsy.

He wanted to go to the top floor for a rest before going back.

"You are so cheeky." Eden felt sorry for him, so she didn't say anything, just went to the room on the top floor with him.

After helping him to sit on the bed, she went to make him a cup of hot tea.

Looking at her busy figure, Victor felt his heart softened.

The tea was too hot, so she put the cup on the table and looked back at him. "Victor, lie down and rest for a while. I'll stay here with you. Drink the tea later."

Victor waved at her and said seriously, "Come here."

"Why?" Eden looked at him warily. She knew he would do anything even though it was daytime.

Looking at her scared face, Victor felt she was even more adorable.

Eden hesitated for a while and finally walked over.

He took her hand and pulled her to sit on his lap, and then kissed her on her forehead.

Eden cried out in surprise and glared at him angrily.

"Did you hear what that woman said earlier?" He was actually a little worried that she would be angry. He had been busy recently and didn't really spend much time with her.

Eden was a little shocked. It seemed that he had already realized that she was standing outside.

"Yes, I did. However, I am not angry. I just feel so bad for you." Eden wrapped her arms around his neck and looked at him quietly. She knew that everything he did was for her. However, she did not want him to be so tired.

"Victor, we have enough money now. I don't want you to work so hard. I know you have your own dream, but you don't have to rush it."

Victor shook his head gently and pinched her ruddy face. "I'm not tired at all. It's a good time for me right now to enter the market in Country O." He wanted to give her the best life he could.

He always felt so guilty that he still hadn't given her a safe and happy family.

Every time when he saw her frowning, he just felt his heart ached so much.

Eden did not say anything else. She knew that he would never do anything that was uncertain.

"Eden."

"Yes," Eden sat quietly in his arms.

"I love you, I love you very very much!" He also wanted to say sorry for making her worry about him all the time. He felt really emotional at the moment, maybe it was the alcohol.

"Victor, why you are being so strange all of a sudden?" Eden felt that something was wrong with him.

Victor touched her head gently and smiled. "No, I just missed you a lot after having some drinks."

He was telling the truth. Sometimes, he couldn't help but wonder why so many bad things happened to him. He could not give her a peaceful life and now he was even separated from the children.

Every time he thought of these things, he would feel very sad.

"I think you're drunk. Sit down first. I'll bring you some tea." Eden wanted to get up but Victor did not allow her to. He wrapped his arms around her waist tightly.

"Eden, I'm sorry." He kissed her on the cheek.

Eden looked at him and rubbed his face gently. She looked at his guilty eyes and said, "Why did you suddenly say sorry? Did you do something wrong again?"

"No, I wouldn't do anything like that. I just want to say sorry to you." He felt a little better after finally said it.

"Eden, I'll have a nap now. Shall we go home later?" He slowly let go of her.

Eden nodded and asked him to take a few sips of the tea before he lay down.

Perhaps it was because of the alcohol, Victor fell asleep straight away.

Eden sat by his side and watched him sleep. His eyebrows still frowned even when he was sleeping. Eden knew that he slept very uneasily.

She gently held his hand, trying to make him feel relaxed.

Perhaps her comfort had worked, Victor gradually fell into a deep sleep.

Seeing this, Eden also relaxed and took out her phone.

The news of Dahlia and Karlee was all over the internet now. There were tens of thousands of comments already, and it was still on the trending news.

At this time, Aro's messaged popped up. "Danielle and Dahlia know each other."

Then a video came through. Aro followed Danielle after she finished work, and found that she was meeting Dahlia at a cafe.

Danielle gave Dahlia some documents.

And Dahlia gave her a card.

Chapter 1715

Eden pursed her lips slightly and her eyes were cold. She had gotten herself into trouble.

She really made her own efforts in vain.

Thinking of this, she took a deep breath.

Then she examined her computer carefully and found that no one had touched it.

She thought everything through carefully and suddenly remember that Danielle was really good at copying.

And she always felt that Danielle was not a simple person.

Even if she was really born in that kind of poor family, she definitely had her own purpose when she joined Alwynn Group.

Not many people knew that they lived in Windsor Villa.

But Danielle knew about it and she happened to bump into Victor.

There must be someone helping her.

In addition to Paulina, there should be others who helped her.

Suddenly, something came across Eden's mind.

Paulina and Danielle, why did they know each other? Was it really just a coincidence?

Eden frowned slightly and sent her doubts to Aro, asking him to continue the investigation.

After sending the message, Eden was not in the mood to look at her phone anymore.

Paula and Danielle betrayed her because of Paulina, but she was the person who decided to hire them.

But she didn't regret her original decision. Even if she didn't hire them, they would still send someone else. She might as well choose the person she already suspected, and then it would be easier for her to find the evidence.

Victor slept until six o'clock in the afternoon.

Eden was too lazy to go back to cook, so she directly call the restaurant and asked them to send dinner to their room after Victor woke up.

Victor felt much better after this long nap.

Eden looked at him and said, "You should go to take a bath. You sweat a lot when you were sleeping. We can have dinner when you finish."

"Okay," Victor got up and went to the bathroom. His face still looked tired, but it couldn't conceal the charm he had.

After he came out, he only wrapped himself in a bath towel.

Eden looked at the muscles on his body, her heart pounded so rapidly, and her face instantly turned red.

They rarely see each other like this in the daytime.

Victor seemed to have sensed her aze, so he looked up and put on a cheeky smile, "Eden, why is your face so red?"

Eden felt so embarrassed. He must have done it on purpose.

"Don't you feel very hot?" she said and immediately pulled out a chair and sat down. Then she quickly picked up her chopsticks and started eating.

"Haha..." Victor laughed out. He slowly sat down opposite her. Even though she didn't admit it, he still knew that she was deeply in love with him.

He really enjoyed teasing her and seeing her being embarrassed.

"What are you looking at? Eat your food!" Eden felt his gaze and yelled at him.

"Okay, okay, I'll eat." Victor didn't want to make her unhappy, so he ate obediently.

Eden puffed out her cheeks and pretended to be angry. Her look was so attractive in Victor's eyes.

He laughed in his heart and thought that she was just like an angel.

"Try this shrimp." Eden put the shrimp in his bowl and urged him to eat quickly.

"Thanks," Victor looked at her blushing face and felt that he wanted to eat her at this moment.

The more he thought about it, the more he felt that his whole body was heating up.

After dinner, the two of them finally went home.

The next day, Eden went out to meet a customer with Paula.

After seeing the customer, she came out and was going to take the elevator, she met Dahlia and Dulcie at the entrance.

Both of them were famous designers. Even if there were many rumors about her online at the moment, she must still have some old customers.

Eden felt that Dulcie's design was actually better than Paulina's, and she had more potential.

Her work was also done very well this year. R.K company had suffered losses for a long time. This time, although they couldn't turn over completely, their performance was still much better than before.

After all, no one could be successful without any real strength in River City.

"Oh my God! Is this Mrs. Alwynn?" Dulcie said sarcastically. She never liked Eden. She always felt so annoyed as soon as she saw Eden.

Eden did not say anything, only nodded at them.

Paula looked at Dahlia and smiled friendly. She stood behind Eden, so Eden couldn't see her.

Dahlia didn't respond as if she didn't see her at all.

But Paula didn't seem to care. After all, she was working for Dahlia, so she certainly didn't dare to offend Dahlia.

Dahlia looked at Eden with her sharp eyes. "Are you also a member here, Director Bleu?" She never called her Mrs. Alwynn.

Eden found her words were quite funny. It sounded as if she was surprised that Eden could afford the membership here.

This place actually belonged to the Alwynn family, it was just that they weren't important enough to be told.

"What makes you think that I couldn't be a member here?" Eden asked back mockingly. Rather than talking nonsense to her here, she felt Dahlia should pay more attention to how to keep her fiancée.

Her fiancée would not wait for her if she didn't keep an eye on him.

Eden's words made Dahlia lose her words. She always forgot that Eden was Victor's wife.

Eden stood under the light, and the warm light shone on her face. There were now two pink patches on her cheeks, making her look more gentle and beautiful.

A trace of jealousy flashed in Dahlia's eyes. She felt Eden looked even younger than before.

Dulcie sneered, "Mrs. Alwynn, your design this year is very good. I look forward to seeing your design for the next season." Dulcie had always regarded Eden as her rival.

She lost in this season, but it did not mean she wouldn't win in the next season.

Eden smiled and said, "I won't let you down, as long as there is no one who would do anything dirty behind my back."

Dahlia could not help frowning, and a strange look flashed across her face.

"What do you mean?" There was anger and panic in her low voice.

Paula also slightly pursed her lips. She felt that Eden was very scary when she was being like this.

Her clear eyes seemed to be able to see through everyone's thoughts.

Eden raised her head slightly and looked at Dahlia with a cold smile. "You know very well what I meant."

"Why don't you make it clear now." Dahlia was totally provoked. She had planned to ask Irving to have dinner with her tonight, but he refused her. She was in a really bad mood now.

Eden lowered her head and chuckled. After a while, she looked up and saw Dahlia's angry face. She frowned deeply, looking evil and ferocious.

Eden really felt that Paulina was getting old. She was over 30 years old, no matter how much makeup she put on now, it would still not hide her slightly wrinkled face.

"Miss Grant, I have evidence. Do you really want me to make everything clear here?"

Dahlia's heart sank. She didn't expect that Eden really had evidence in her hands.

"Evidence? What evidence?" She asked, still didn't want to give up.

"Miss Woods....."

"We have to leave now." Before Eden could finish her words, Dahlia already pulled Dulcie and got into the elevator.

Chapter 1716

Eden looked at her and said, "Miss Grant, there are some things that can't be avoided."

Dahlia glared at Eden and quickly pressed the button to close the elevator door.

Paula glanced at Eden and said, "Why do you always argue with her as soon as you see each other?"

Eden looked at her and asked, "Did we argue?"

Paula pretended not to understand and said, "Even though she's a competitor, there's no need to argue with her every time. Also, what evidence do you mean?"

Eden walked towards another elevator and said while walking, "I was just saying. It's her who feels guilty."

"You are so scary," Paula said and followed her.

"Am I scary? Then why are you following me?"

It should be Paula who was the scary one.

"Because I need money," Paula said honestly.

Eden could not help but laugh. "You are so honest."

But she was too greedy.

The two of them went back to the company straight away. When they were back, Eden did not go to the top floor. Instead, she went to the design department on the 24th floor.

The whole 24th floor belonged to the design department.

When they saw Eden was there, everyone became nervous instantly. She was as strict as Victor when it came to working.

Alyssa was quite close to Eden, so she walked over with a smile. "Director Bleu, is there anything I can do for you?"

Eden nodded and smiled. "I have a few custom-made manuscripts here. I don't seem to be very satisfied with them, so I want them to be fixed. Why don't you all come and give me some ideas? We can share the commission when I get it."

"Director Bleu, you are the best!" Alyssa cried happily, and others were also very excited and eager to try.

After all, everyone knew that Alwynn Group was very generous to its employees.

At this time, Danielle walked over. She was wearing a standard black business suit with her hair pulled up into a ponytail, looking very smart.

She was several years younger than Eden, so her face looked so vibrant.

"Director Bleu," she greeted Eden with a smile.

Eden took out a USB from her bag and looked at Alyssa and Danielle. "I will leave it to you."

Then she handed the USB to Danielle.

Danielle smiled and nodded. "Thank you, Director Bleu. We will try our best."

Eden didn't say anything, only nodded slightly with a smile. Her eyes were filled with trust.

Her bright smile made Danielle rest assured.

"Danielle, I know you won't let me down. Congratulations on your good performance this season." Her words made Danielle very confident.

Danielle couldn't help but nod her head excitedly.

"Director Bleu, I won't let you down." She believed that she would do it very well because she knew how talented she was.

Eden nodded with a smile. "I believe in you."

Her trust made Danielle feel as if she was floating on air.

She wouldn't miss any chance to become successful.

"Alright, thank you, everyone!" Eden smiled, turned around, and left.

Paula glanced at Danielle and quickly followed Eden out.

When they reached the elevator, she looked at Eden with confusion and asked, "All your tailor-made design has always been done by yourself. Why do you want to give it to the entire design department today? Would there be any problem?"

"Why?" Eden pressed the elevator button.

"What if your customers find out?" Paula was not actually worried. She was more than happy to have someone who had problems with Eden, but she wanted to know the reason why she did so.

"You don't have to worry about it. Danielle is talented enough to manage this job." Eden walked into the elevator.

Paula looked at her with confusion. She really couldn't understand Eden at all.

When they arrived at the office, Eden went straight in, and Paula was left outside.

Paula felt a little awkward.

But she couldn't do anything about it, so she turned around and left sulkily.

At this time, she got a notification on her phone. She looked at it and a bright smile appeared on her face. Someone transferred her money again.

Eden walked in and saw Victor standing in front of the French window and talking on the phone.

He wore a white shirt and dark trousers, and slightly lowered his head, listening to the phone quietly with a serious look.

Eden did not disturb him. She went to the tea room and made him a cup of tea, then poured herself a glass of juice.

When she came out, Victor had already finished the call. He walked to her side and sat down. Seeing that there was sweat on her forehead, he took over the tissue and gently wiped the sweat for her.

"It's so hot outside. You should have just stayed in the office." He was always worried about her. Looking at her pink cheek, he felt that he really wanted to kiss her.

"I'm alright. Don't worry." Eden said it was just because she didn't want him to worry about her.

After taking a sip of the juice, she stood up and walked to the office desk. Then, she took out her phone and sent a message to Aro.

Aro should be able to hack Danielle's computer.

Eden smiled after sending the message.

Seeing her like this, Victor frowned, wondering if she was planning something in her head again.

"Where have you been today?" He took a sip of the tea and asked casually.

"I met a customer, and the business is done."

"Really?" Victor smiled, "You are always the best."

Hearing this, Eden was instantly cheered up. "Honey, in my heart, you are more intoxicating than the strongest wine in the world."

Victor smiled gently. "Honey, do you have a map?"

Eden was a little confused.

Looking at her innocent eyes, Victor laughed and said, "Because I lost my way in your heart."

"Haha..." Eden laughed out loud, and her mood instantly became good. "You are so cheeky."

Half an hour later, Alyssa called the telephone in Eden's office.

"Director Bleu, I'm so sorry that we lost your design manuscripts because the computer was down. Do you have a copy?"

Eden was shocked. "No, I only saved them in the USB. I had no time to save them anywhere else yet."

However, she knew it was Aro.

"What should we do now? The computer just suddenly turned off on its own when we were editing the manuscripts," said Alyssa.

Eden sounded very calm, "It's okay. I'll come down and have a look."

"Victor, I'm going out now." Then she grabbed her phone and walked out quickly.

Victor said nothing but looked at her back thoughtfully.

Eden soon came to the design department. Everyone's face there looked very pale.

Especially Danielle, who thought she finally had a chance to prove herself, could never imagine that such a thing would happen.

"Director Bleu, what should we do? Do you have a copy?" Alyssa looked at Eden with a worried face.

She was always very careful with her work.

Chapter 1717

Eden looked at her and smiled. "Don't worry. Let's see if there is any way to find it back. Unfortunately, Mr. Ronen is not here. If he were here, he could definitely get it back. But the customer needs to see it tomorrow. It's really really a little tricky."

Eden put on a worried face. However, she knew exactly what she had drawn for her own design.

Her main purpose was to test Danielle.

Danielle could tell that Eden was not happy.

She said, "Director Bleu, please give me some time. I will get the design manuscripts back."

Eden did not expect that she could fall into the trap so quickly. She smiled and said, "I knew you would not let me down. Then I'll wait for your good news. I still have a lot of work to do. When you're done, send it to my office."

"Sure!" Linley nodded excitedly.

She finally got a chance to go to the 25th floor.

"Alright, I will leave you to it. I'm going back now." Eden smiled and turned around to leave.

Danielle was so eager to succeed that she didn't think much about it.

She started her work instantly after Eden had left.

On the other side, Dahlia was still a little flustered when she got back to her office.

She couldn't even believe it herself that she ran away with panic before Eden finished her words.

She bit her nails and started walking back and forth in the office. The uneasiness in her heart made her restless.

She bit her lower lip. When she thought of Eden's strange gaze, feeling as if she had seen her totally through.

Karlee must have said something to Eden, otherwise, she would not have mentioned Karlee's name.

In fact, after Dahlia came back this time, she felt that she could not see through Eden anymore.

She felt that Eden was much more mature than before, and even her smile was not as innocent as before.

After returning to the office, Eden continued to work and did not tell Victor anything.

She knew Victor was very cautious, so he would be worried if she told him.

But actually, she also knew that Victor was not stupid. Maybe her every move was already under his control.

Victor spoiled her so much. As long as she was happy, he usually let her do whatever she wanted to do if it was not dangerous.

Seeing that she did not want to talk, Victor did not ask either. He was really busy these days with Country O's corporation, so he really had no time to worry about anything else.

That lady who he met really made him disgusted, so he didn't even pick up her phone call today.

The Simpson family's issue was not settled either, whilst Lucian was away, Adonis had not woken up yet, and Anson took over the entertainment company, Victor and Brian were too busy to think about anything else.

Therefore, Victor and Eden were both busy doing their own work.

At this moment, a message popped up on Victor's phone.

It was from Brian.

"Victor, Simpson Group is going to be listed on the 15th of June."

After checking the calendar, Victor realized that it was still one month away.

Why did it take them such a long time?

He replied to Brian, "Are you sure?"

Brian's message came back very quickly. "Have I ever got any fake news? I'm actually on a date now, I will speak to you later."

Victor only sent two questions marks over.

"Do you still remember Aurora Parma?" Brian replied.

"The Simpson family's another daughter?"

"Yes, and she is also your staff now."

"I remember she is very talented in wedding dress design, and all the dresses were selling very well."

"Yes, she is very smart and talented. She is totally my type."

Victor smiled and wrote, "Good luck!"

Brian joked, "Thank you. I can't believe that Lucian already has a son. So I have to work hard on my lifelong business."

Victor laughed out.

That was what he thought about as well.

Then he replied again, "Come on, you can do it!"

"You'd better have your wedding soon as well," Brian replied.

After reading this message, Victor's heart sank. He knew Brian was saying it on purpose.

He lifted his head and glanced at Eden, seeing that she was totally focused on her work.

Then he put down her phone and walked over to her.

At this time, Eden's phone vibrated as well.

She picked it up and saw that it was a message from Johnny.

"Eden, do you have time today? I want to treat you to dinner."

This message happened to be seen by Victor who just came over.

His face darkened instantly.

"How dare he ask you out for dinner? Doesn't he know that you are married?" His tone was full of jealousy.

Eden looked up at him and said slowly, "Do you mean that I can't even have a male friend after I got married?"

Victor lowered his head and looked at her with dissatisfaction. "He's too young."

He was really bothered about his age.

Hearing this, Eden couldn't help but laugh. This was not what she expected.

"What are you laughing at?" Victor felt a little anxious.

"You are so childish." Eden laughed again.

"Yes, I am childish. So what?" Victor said back quickly.

Seeing that he admitted it so soon, Eden didn't know what to say.

"You know that you are my everything, so I do not want you to have dinner with any other man." Victor sat on Eden's desk angrily and looked down at her.

Eden thought about it and suddenly thought of Anson.

"What about this? Anson always wants to sign him to Mirth Company, isn't he? I'll go and meet him, see that if I can convince him."

"No, that's Anson's problem, and you shouldn't get involved in it. If he can't even handle such a thing, he should give his company away."

Eden found it funny but at the same time annoying. "It's none of your business. Anson was clever enough to sort everything out."

Victor was speechless.

But he forgot that even his own business was all Anson's credit.

"Whatever. I said you are not going." He said seriously.

"Victor, can you be more relaxed?" Eden felt a little helpless.

Victor said with a little anger, "This is how I am. I've always been like this. So what?"

Eden was totally speechless.

She didn't want to argue with him anymore. He wouldn't listen to her anyway when he was angry.

"Alright. Or do you want to go with me?"

Victor answered quickly, "No, I'm not going."

"I will go on my own then." After saying this, Eden replied to Johnny straight away.

"Yes, I have time today," she wrote.

Johnny seemed to have been waiting for her message and responded almost instantaneously.

"So what would you like to eat?"

"I'm not picky. I eat everything."

"Alright, I'll send you the address later."

"Okay, I'll see you at 6 o'clock."

At this point, Victor got up and left in anger.

Eden couldn't be bothered to deal with him anymore at this moment.

She just left him to it. When they finally finished work, she did not say much to him either but left straight after saying bye.

Victor got up angrily, kicked his desk, and made a loud noise.

It hurt his toes badly, so she sat back in his chair heavily.

"She doesn't care about me at all," he muttered angrily to himself.

Chapter 1718

At this time, someone knocked on the office door and then pushed it open.

Victor's gloomy face immediately softened. He thought that Eden had thought it through and came back. He knew his wife would not just leave him like that.

However, when he saw the person standing outside the door, his face instantly darkened again.

"Get out! Who let you in?"

Victor was furious at the moment. When he saw Danielle, an idea flashed through his mind. He seemed to finally understand why his wife had blocked his phone number.

That day, when Eden called him, Danielle seemed to have said, "Mr. Alwynn, please have some tea..."

He must have been blocked by his wife after she heard this.

He was thinking this, completely ignored Danielle's feeling at this moment.

Danielle was never a confident person, therefore, deep down in her heart, she felt Victor was so distanced. But the man in front of her right now motivated her, also gave her hope.

She was young and beautiful, which was the only thing she could use.

She got up the courage and looked at Victor directly with a smile on her face.

"Mr. Alwynn, Director Bleu asked me to come here. I lost the design manuscript, but I have found it back. I'm bringing it to Director Bleu."

Victor looked at the USB in her hand and asked in confusion, "Design manuscript? For who?"

"It's Director Bleu's. She said it was for a VIP customer. She asked me to help her because she didn't have much inspiration. Now I have already done it." Danielle couldn't wait to show him what she was capable of.

She kept a low profile in the company, so she never wore anything other than smart clothes.

However, since she knew she would see Victor here, she especially changed into a sexy dress.

Hearing this, Victor frowned and looked out of the window, wondering what Eden was actually up to.

How could she not handle a design manuscript for a VIP customer?

And she even asked for Danielle's help?

He felt everything sounded so odd and wrong.

Did she find out something already?

She must have found something out.

He knew his wife very well.

Thinking of this, he said indifferently, "My wife is off work. You can give it to her tomorrow."

"She finished work already?" A look of displeasure flashed in Danielle's eyes. Didn't Eden say she needed the design tomorrow morning?

How did she finish work so early?

Was she playing something?

"Mr. Alwynn, I..."

"What? She asked for it today, but you only finished it now. Do you want my wife to wait for you all the time?" Victor was always on Eden's side no matter what.

"Mr. Alwynn, I..." Danielle looked aggrieved. She lowered her head and looked like she was about to cry.

She felt so embarrassed when Victor questioned her ability.

She knew what she could do, and she knew that no one could do better facsimile than her.

She had already memorized all of Eden's Designs, and she even made copies herself. There was nearly no difference between her copy and the original design. Even Eden wouldn't be able to tell which one was the original one.

She knew that she was not a match to Eden in terms of design, but she believed that it was just because she didn't have such good opportunities as Eden.

She could only get luck and opportunities from Victor.

Victor said impatiently, "Just come back tomorrow morning."

"Yes, Mr. Alwynn." Danielle still left even though she didn't really want to.

Victor was still a little angry, but he had not finished his work first.

He looked around at the empty office, feeling even more annoyed.

After a few minutes, he called Dean.

"Mr. Alwynn, what can I do for you? I'll work overtime tonight."

Hearing that Dean also worked overtime, Victor smiled and said, "I'm relieved to hear that you are working late as well."

Dean was a little confused.

Why would he make Mr. Alwynn relieved by working overtime?

That wasn't fair for him at all!

"Mr. Alwynn, are you still at the company?"

"yes," Victor answered.

"Where is Mrs. Alwynn?"

Victor's eyes darkened. "She has left."

Dean finally understood. It seemed that his boss was not happy that his wife left him there alone.

"It's time for dinner. Do you want me to prepare you dinner?" Dean was a little gloated, but he still said respectfully.

Victor frowned and looked at the time. He was actually quite hungry.

"Alright, I'll treat you to dinner as you've been working very hard. I will get you the special food from River City Restaurant." Victor's mood was much better at the moment.

"Really? Thank you!" He rarely had chances to have food from River City Restaurant.

"Yes. Come over in an hour." After saying this, Victor hung up the phone.

Then he called the restaurant and asked them to bring food to his office.

After that, he glanced at Eden's desk and instantly became angry again.

"What a heartless girl!"

He felt terrible in his heart.

Eden and Johnny were meeting each other at Fashion Square. After leaving the company, Eden called Anson. After all, Johnny was the one that he really wanted to work with, so it would be better to let him meet Johnny. It would be good if he could convince Johnny. After all, S. H had stolen many resources from Mirth Company, so it would not be too much to take Johnny over.

That was also why she promised Johnny to come out for dinner.

As soon as she called Anson and told him everything, Anson agreed straight away.

The two of them were going to meet at the Fashion Square first and then went up together.

"Eden." Anson walked to Eden with a smile. He wore a light grey suit and looked very elegant.

Eden looked up and down at him. "You are quite punctual."

Anson's eyes shone brightly. With one hand in his pockets, he said excitedly, "You know I have been thinking about Johnny's matter for a long time. Today I finally have the chance to meet him."

Eden nodded and smiled, "I know. That's why I called you."

"Let's go then," Anson said with a smile.

They went to the high-end restaurant on the fifth floor.

On the way here, Eden had already asked Johnny if she could bring another person. She only called Anson after Johnny said he didn't mind.

When they got to the VIP room, Johnny was already there.

He was wearing a white shirt, long hair covered his shoulders. His skin was fairer than most of the girls that Eden knew, and his facial features were so delicate. He looked like a very nice and kind boy.

It was the first time that Anson met Johnny, and he couldn't help but exclaim in his heart. Johnny was indeed very handsome.

"Eden." Johnny greeted Eden excitedly.

Eden was wearing a dress, making her look like an innocent student.

Chapter 1719

Eden introduced, "Anson, this is Johnny."

"Johnny, this is Anson, the president of Mirth Company." Eden introduced them to each other.

"Hi, Johnny! Nice to meet you. My name is Anson." Anson smiled and did not forget to introduce himself again. Johnny was so good-looking, and it should be easy to persuade him.

He looked very naive and innocent. It was hopeful to rope him in.

Anson thought like this with joy.

"Nice to meet you, Mr. Skye!" Johnny greeted Anson neither humbly nor arrogantly.

He didn't know why Anson came here. In fact, when Eden told him about it, he minded Anson's existence a lot. This was the first time he had invited a woman to dinner. His first impression of Eden was favourable.

He was very happy to have a meal with her. In his life, wanted to eat together with a woman for the first time. However, she had got married.

But they could be friends.

"Eden, Mr. Skye, please have a seat!"

"Thank you!" Eden sat down with a smile. In order not to make Victor jealous, Anson took the lead and sat between the two of them.

Because Johnny was too bewitching.

Yes, it was not an exaggeration to describe him as bewitching.

He believed Eden, but he also believed that Victor would be jealous.

If Victor saw this, he would definitely suffer.

In order to live a better life, he decided to sacrifice himself.

"Miss Bleu, take a look at the menu. What would you like to eat?" Johnny handed the menu to Eden.

However, Anson snatched the menu from his hand.

"I know what Eden likes to eat. Let me take the order."

Johnny looked at him and nodded without saying anything.

"Eden, you like to eat prawns. The prawns in this restaurant are good. The fried prawns are very delicious. Moreover, the spareribs with brown sauce and the pot-stewed beef are excellent."

"Okay, just order as you like." Eden knew what Anson was thinking.

While waiting for the dishes to be served, Anson tried to convince Johnny with his glib tongue.

"Johnny, you know what? I've been looking for you during this period of time."

Johnny was quite shocked, "Mr. Skye, you..." He wanted to say something but stopped. Thinking that Anson was the president of Mirth Company, he understood the reason why he looked for him.

Anson knew that he had understood, so he continued to say, "The first time I heard you singing, I was fascinated. At that moment, I knew that you were my good luck. Your songs light my heart and make me feel an upsurge of emotion. I have been looking for you since that time."

"But I'm unlucky. The people I sent didn't find you. SH Entertainment Company found you first."

"I heard that you've signed a contract with SH Entertainment Company."

Johnny nodded. He had known Anson's purpose.

"Do you think there's something wrong with their contract?" Anson looked at him seriously and got straight to the point.

He had seen the contract of SH Entertainment Company. It was definitely unfair and exploitative.

Johnny was stunned. He looked at Anson with surprise in his bright eyes, "Mr. Skye, how do you know that?"

Indeed, if he didn't read the contract of SH Entertainment Company carefully, he wouldn't find any problems.

At that time, he didn't read the contact carefully. However, when he returned to his apartment and thought about it carefully, he found that the conditions were treacherous.

"Ha-ha..." Anson laughed proudly, "Everyone in the entertainment circle knows about such a thing. You know that the entertainment circle is like a big dye vat, and it has a negative impact on people."

The most important thing is that although SH Entertainment Company looks successful on the surface, it's actually overstretched."

"Johnny, you need a healthy company to make your life brilliant. Why don't you consider Mirth Company? We'll pay the fine for breach of contract for you, and I'll let you debut in a central role."

Anson offered the best conditions, because he took a fancy to Johnny's mellow and pleasant voice.

Whether Johnny could become very popular or not, it depended on himself.

However, one coin had its two sides. The entertainment circle was very complicated, and it was double-edged. If Johnny worked in Mirth Company, he should be better equipped mentally so that he could have a bright future.

But for the sake of their own dreams, many people could hold on.

Johnny did not expect him to offer such tempting conditions. He was even willing to pay the fine for breach of contract for him.

He was just a lesser-known singer, and the fine for breach of contract was not very high.

But Anson was willing to pay it for him. Moreover, he wanted to develop in a better company indeed.

After all, his specialty was singing.

There were many advantages and disadvantages in SH Entertainment Company. The famous singers had more opportunities, but the lesser-known singers seldom had a chance.

Just like him. He had been in the company for several months, but he had no chance to show himself. As a trainee, although he was the main singer, the members of the band did not cooperate with him. It was difficult to develop his career.

He felt very tired, but he could only grit his teeth and insist since he had signed the contract.

Seeing that he didn't speak, Eden said, "Johnny, you can think about Anson's proposal."

Anson would aim at SH Entertainment Company, and this company would soon go bankrupt.

What was scary was not Anson's strength, but the power of Alwynn Group. Moreover, the goal of SH Entertainment Company was to ruin Mirth Company.

Even Victor wouldn't show them any mercy, let alone Anson.

Johnny looked at Eden with a serious expression in his clear eyes, "Miss Bleu, do you also want me to go to Mirth Company?"

Anson was speechless. Why did these words sound so strange?

He looked at Johnny who was staring at Eden. There seemed to be passionate feelings in his eyes.

Oh my!

No way!

He thought about it and felt that Johnny had impure motives.

What Johnny meant was very clear. If Eden wanted him to go to Mirth Company, he would listen to her.

The since that Victor got jealous of Johnny must be horrible.

No, he didn't even dare to imagine it.

Eden was stunned. She did not expect Johnny to ask her like that.

She smiled and said in a gentle tone, "Johnny, Mirth Company is very powerful. There are top-notch agents and capable directors. The artists don't have to fight for resources. The right resources would be given to suitable artists. Moreover, the company will forge suitable careers for every artist."

"Okay, I'll sign with Mirth Company." Johnny gave the answer as soon as Eden finished her words.

Anson was dumbfounded. Was it so easy to convince Johnny? He hadn't even started his long speech.

In his opinion, there was no one he couldn't get along with.

Eden was quite surprised. She smelled something unusual.

The atmosphere was a little strange.

"Ha-ha..." Anson laughed and broke the subtle atmosphere, "Johnny, your decision is right. When your road is blocked, you should learn to make a turn. I will ask my assistant to terminate the contract for you tomorrow."

Johnny smiled, "The sunlight in my heart can naturally illuminate my path."

He glanced at Eden.

Since he had met the girl that could warm his heart, he would not lose his way anymore.

Anson was puzzled. Why did Johnny look at Eden?

Well... Had he done a right thing or a wrong thing? Why did he have a guilty conscience?

Chapter 1720

"Ha-ha..." Anson laughed, breaking the awkward atmosphere.

The atmosphere became more comfortable.

Eden knew that it was right to bring Anson here, or she would be really embarrassed.

"Johnny, now that you have figured it out, you will cut your losses. You can rest assured that as long as I am in the company, I will definitely make you popular." Anson promised him with determination.

Johnny's handsome appearance was enough to make him popular, let alone his wonderful singing.

Johnny smiled and nodded, "Thanks for your kindness, Mr. Skye. I will remember it in my heart." He would not give up making progress because of fear.

Indeed, during this period of time, he had discovered a lot of unpleasant things in SH Entertainment Company. It would be better for him to develop in another company.

Happiness was not up to how much he had, but a comfortable environment would make him happy.

"As long as you work hard and don't betray the company, I can guarantee that you'll have a bright future." Anson said firmly. He did have this ability, and he was confident because Alwynn Group was rich.

Johnny smiled and said, "I will try my best." The faint smile on his handsome face was like the warm sun in winter.

Even Anson was attracted to his charming smile. Johnny's smile was too charismatic. Those girls would go crazy for him.

After the dishes were served, they did not talk about work but some trivial things in life.

In fact, Johnny knew Eden's identity as soon as he arrived in River City.

When he saw her photos online, he was stunned.

She was actually the hostess of the richest family in River City. She looked so pure and beautiful, and he didn't expect her to be Mrs. Alwynn. Moreover, he didn't expect that Mrs. Alwynn was so easy-going and kind.

They chatted until nine o'clock at night. Anson looked at Eden with great joy, "Eden, it's too late. Let's go back."

"Okay!" Eden nodded and looked at Johnny who was smiling pleasantly, "Johnny, I have to go back now. Let's meet again when we have time in the future."

"Alright, Miss Bleu. See you next time." Johnny smiled tenderly and nodded. He was a little nervous but also somewhat expectant.

In fact, Anson had been paying attention to Johnny's expression. Did Johnny like Eden? There were passionate feelings in his eyes.

Anson immediately stopped thinking like this. If Victor knew about his thoughts, he would definitely teach him a lesson.

Victor doted on Eden very much, and he couldn't let Victor do anything to Johnny.

Otherwise, he and Johnny would be kicked out of the company together.

If Victor knew this, his hope would be shattered.

They went downstairs together. After bidding farewells, Anson sent Eden back home.

Arriving at Windsor Villa, Eden frowned as she looked at the dark house. Hadn't Victor come back?

"Eden, is Victor working overtime tonight?" Anson found that there was no one in the house, too.

"Anson, he is working overtime now. I'll go back first."

Victor had been busy because of the cooperation. It had nothing to do with design, so she couldn't help him.

"Okay, be careful!"

"Alright!" After getting out of the car, Eden waved at Anson and walked home.

Anson didn't drive away until he watched her enter the house.

The night sky in summer was beautiful. Windsor Villa was far away from the hustle and bustle of the city. At this moment, the summer night was quiet and cool.

Eden looked up at the stars, smiling brightly and sweetly. The night breeze blew over, and her beautiful hair brushed against her face softly, making her look pretty.

Suddenly, there were light footsteps in the garden.

Eden concentrated, turned around and had a look, but she did not see anything.

She walked back in confusion. Unless her ears deceived her, those were footsteps of a man.

"Victor, are you there?" Eden asked calmly.

But it was not reasonable. Even if Victor was angry, he would not treat her like this, not to mention frighten her.

He preferred to punish her on bed. This was his way of doing things.

Eden could not help but heighten her vigilance. However, she did not see anything when she walked over. The night was still quiet. Occasionally, the cool and refreshing evening breeze blow over, making the hot summer night a bit chilly.

Was it her illusion?

Eden was confused.

She clapped her hands, and the sound-control light at the door lit up. Under the light, she looked around again, but found nothing.

But she knew that Victor hadn't come back.

She took out her phone and called Victor.

The phone rang for several times, but no one answered it. It seemed that Victor was angry with her.

Eden sighed helplessly and turned to open the door. However, she did not sense that she was in danger.

As soon as she turned around, a dark shadow rushed to her and punched the back of her neck fiercely. Then Eden fell to the ground feebly.

The phone on her hand rolled into the flowerpot nearby.

The man in black was very agile. He carried Eden on his shoulder and disappeared in the darkness.

In fact, Victor was not angry with Eden anymore. Moreover, he was about to go home.

He wanted to go home after coming out of the bathroom, and he thought that Eden should have arrived home. His phone was on the desk, so he did not hear it when Eden called him. When he was about to leave, he picked up his phone and wanted to call Eden, but he saw several missed calls.

He smiled faintly and said to himself, "It seems that she didn't forget me!"

He smiled and called Eden, but no one answered the phone.

He called her three times, and he couldn't get through to her. Then he frowned in confusion.

Victor suddenly had a nasty feeling in heart.

He immediately grabbed the car key and walked out in a hurry. While walking, he called the bodyguards outside the villa.

However, nobody answered the phone.

Victor entered the elevator and called Anson.

Anson had just arrived home. At this time, he was chatting with Abigail about the dinner. He was very delighted because he had convinced Johnny, and he smiled while playing with Ayman.

When Victor called him, he had a guilty conscience.

"Hello? Victor."

"Anson, go to my house to see if Eden is back."

Victor did not know that Eden and Anson had dinner together.

"Well..." Anson was stunned, "Victor, Eden and I had dinner and came back together. I didn't come back until she entered the house. She should be at home now."

"Did you see her enter the house with your own eyes? I called her three or four times, but no one answered, and I can't get through to the bodyguards nearby." While speaking, he had arrived at the underground parking lot. He opened the door and got in the car.

"Of course! Why should I joke about such a thing? Eden really came back together with me." Anson said firmly.
