

Gluey Love 1721

Chapter 1721

Victor started the car, held the steering wheel with one hand and drove out.

"Go to my house immediately." Then he hung up the phone.

Anson glanced at Abigail.

Abigail heard their conversation and urged him, "Hurry up and go there! This is something serious. If anything bad happens to Eden, I will not forgive you."

Anson was speechless. Abigail's partiality hurt his heart.

However, he did not dare to complain. He put Ayman in Abigail's arms carefully before he picked up his phone and went out.

Their houses were not far away from each other. He could see Victor's house as soon as he went out.

But at this time, it was pitch-dark in Victor's house.

He frowned. Eden should be at home.

He glanced at the car not far away, but he didn't see any bodyguard.

What was wrong with the bodyguards? Why did they have no reaction?

He dialed Eden's number. The phone rang for a long time, but no one answered it.

"That's weird. She's obviously back." Anson didn't believe it and walked towards Victor's house.

"Rat-a-tat..." He knocked on the door a few times, but no one opened the door.

"Eden, are you at home?" Anson shouted, and no one responded to him.

"It's strange." He called Eden again.

"Buzz..." Anson heard the vibration of the phone. Listening to it carefully, he found that the phone was vibrating in the flowerpot.

Seeing the light of the phone screen, Anson soon found Eden's phone.

Having a bad feeling, he picked up Eden's phone and ran out.

He came to the car of the bodyguards and opened the car door, only to find that the two bodyguards had fainted.

Then he looked at the lake on the left.

Since the bodyguards in the car had fainted, the other two must be unconscious as well.

Anson did not have time to think much and called Victor in a hurry.

Victor answered the phone in an instant, "How is it? Is Eden at home?"

"No, I'm afraid that something bad has happened to Eden. The bodyguard all passed out. I found her phone in the flowerpot."

"D*mn it!" Victor cursed angrily, "I'll be right back. Ask Brian to go there."

Anson could feel Victor how furious Victor was through the phone.

"Okay, I see. Don't worry, and don't drive so fast..."

Before Anson could finish speaking, Victor had hung up the phone.

Anson was not in the mood to make fun of him. He immediately called Brian and told him what had happened. Then he called his assistant and asked him to send the four bodyguards to the hospital.

After Victor hung up the phone, he called Dean.

At this time, Dean was having midnight snacks with Thalia in a restaurant.

Receiving Victor's phone call, he wanted to cry.

He had just left the company, but it seemed that he had to work overtime again.

Moreover, he was dating at this time!

Thalia was finally well disposed towards him, but Victor broke the nice atmosphere.

Although he complained in heart, he answered the phone in a flattering voice, "Good evening, Mr. Alwynn!"

Victor's angry roar came from the phone, "Take Paula to my house immediately!"

Dean was stunned. Victor wanted to see Paula so late at night, and he spoke in such a mad tone. It must be something terrible.

"Okay, I'll find her right away." After hanging up the phone, Dean looked at Thalia with an apologetic face.

Thalia smiled and said, "Let's go. Something bad must have happened."

Seeing her smile, Dean was relieved. Thalia should be more concerned about Victor's affairs than he was.

They got in the car and left hastily.

Victor drove the car to the gate of the villa. Brian and his assistants had arrived.

The harsh braking sound broke the silence of the hot summer night.

Victor got out of the car quickly and slammed the door shut with a frenzy of rage.

"Bang..." Anson, Brian and the bodyguards were so startled that they jumped up in fright.

Brian swallowed. He had not seen Victor so furious for a long time.

Victor walked towards him in a commanding manner, and his eyes were full of viciousness and hostility. He was just like an imposing king who was about to fight on the battlefield.

He looked very aggressive and cold-blooded.

Under the moonlight, his figure was tall and straight, and he was like a brutal and ferocious demon from hell.

The security cameras nearby had been destroyed, and Brian had not restored them yet.

For Victor, Eden was as important as his life!

If they couldn't find Eden, Victor would go crazy.

Moreover, he would be treated as a punching bag.

"Why are you looking at me? What about the surveillance video?" While Brian was lost in thought, he heard Victor's extremely irritated voice.

Brian swallowed uneasily. Victor looked so frightening that he lower his head slightly and said in a low voice, "The security cameras here have been destroyed."

"Hurry up and restore them quickly!" Victor's voice was exasperated, and he couldn't be more anxious and worried.

Anson lowered his head as well, not wanting to attract Victor's attention.

"I'm working on it." But he didn't dare to tell Victor that the chance of restoring the surveillance video was pretty remote.

"Hurry up!" Seeing them lower their heads, Victor tried his best to control his fury.

Brian's face was drained of all colour and animation. It never occurred to him that he would be in such a dilemma one day. He could only brace himself to restore the data.

However, he prayed that they could find Eden as soon as possible. It was really a difficult problem for him.

Victor was more childish than children in kindergarten when he lost his temper.

He could even imagine what Victor would do.

Victor would point at his nose and curse, "Brian, you idiot!"

"Even an idiot is smarter than you!"

No! How could he fill his mind with nonsense at this time?

Brian immediately composed his thoughts and typed on the keyboard.

Anson hadn't said a word since Victor arrived.

Brian was hot, and his face was drenched with sweat. He was so anxious and agitated.

Anson glanced at Victor whose face was gloomy and then looked at Brian who was sweating.

He said softly, "Brian, take a deep breath and calm down."

Brian glared at him, "It's easy for you to say!"

Anson said, "Of course."

Brian glared at him again. This time, he really composed himself and analyzed the data carefully.

Gradually, he got some clues. He was in a better mood and felt more confident.

Victor stood next to him and waited patiently.

He knew that this matter must have something to do with the Simpson family.

The most suspicious person was Leilani, while Leilani was in contact with Paula.

Therefore, he called Dean and asked him to bring Paula here.

In fact, he knew Eden's plan all the time. But he didn't get involved because she wanted to solve it by herself.

But he didn't expect the consequences to be so grave.

He bowed his head and sent a message to Adrienne.

"Eden is missing. I'm afraid that it has something to do with Leilani."

When Adrienne received the message, she was having a facial treatment upstairs.

After reading the message, she immediately tore off the facial mask and went downstairs. She saw Leilani massaging Barrett's back, but the butler was nowhere to be seen.

Chapter 1722

"Where's the butler?" She asked. Barrett was enjoying the massage. Hearing Adrienne's voice, he opened his eyes unhappily and said in a deep voice, "He is not at home. He went out to deal with something."

"Oh! The curtain in my room is broken. I want him to find someone to fix it."

Barrett and Leilani ignored her.

Adrienne did not care. Anyway, she just wanted to test them.

She turned around and sent a message to Victor, "She is at home. But the butler is not here. I will ask someone to check his whereabouts."

After reading the message, Victor turned around to look at Brian, "Do you have any clues?"

Brian nodded excitedly, "Wait a minute."

When Brian finished his words, Dean parked his car in front of them.

Thalia got off the car and dragged Paula out of it.

Finally, it was time to deal with this shameless woman.

"Ouch... it hurts! Thalia, you b*tch! Why do you bring me here so late at night? Hurry up and let me go! Don't pull my hair... It's so painful. Let go of me! Do you want to die?" Paula roared, but she was in a panic.

When she was thinking about how to do live stream, Dean and Thalia suddenly broke in and took her out.

"Shut up!" Thalia said coldly.

Looking at Victor, she said calmly, "Mr. Alwynn, I've brought Paula here."

Hearing this, Paula gave up struggling. She raised her head, only to see that Victor was looking at her with malicious eyes.

Her heart skipped a beat. What was going on? How could Victor...

No way! Did something bad happen to Eden?

Leilani asked her for the address of Eden's house. Then she transferred her one hundred thousand dollars.

It was such a great windfall. Therefore, she told Leilani that Eden lived in Windsor Villa without hesitation.

It was Danielle who told her about it.

Victor and Eden got off work in irregular hours everyday, so few people knew that they lived in Windsor Villa.

She had just received one hundred thousand dollars. At this time, she was caught by Victor. Did he want to kill her?

Thinking of this, Paula was very scared in heart.

At this time, Anson looked at Victor after hanging up the phone, "Victor, the police have been deployed on the crossings to get out the city. Our bodyguards are searching for Eden in the whole city."

Victor nodded and then looked at Dean, "Take this woman to the lake ahead."

"Ah..." Paula screamed, "Mr. Alwynn... what's going on? Why did you kidnap me here? You're doing something illegal!" Paula was very excited.

Did he want to kill her by throwing her into the lake?

Moreover, the roads to other cities had been closed. What had happened?

Dean waved his hand. Two bodyguards came forward and carried Paula to the lake.

"Ah... what are you doing? Let go of me! Don't touch me!" Paula was extremely terrified at this moment. She didn't know what was going on at all, but she became more and more panicked and struggled.

When she arrived at the lake, the bodyguard kicked her knee.

"Ouch..." Paula felt painful and knelt on the ground with tears in eyes.

"Woo-woo... Dean, Mr. Alwynn, how can you bully me like this? I am Eden's classmate..."

"Shut up!" Victor glared at her, lowered his head slightly and looked at her as if she was a piece of trash, "How dare you mention this? You've bullied her many times, and I'll let you pay all the price." Hearing his sharp words, Paula felt as if her heart had been stabbed by a cold knife.

How did he know...

Did Eden tell him about it?

Why was Eden so narrow-minded? She just made things difficult for her in high school, didn't she? Was it necessary to tell Victor about it?

"I... didn't do anything to her..." Paula had a guilty conscience, and her voice became lower and lower. Being stared at by Victor, she could not even speak fluently.

"Is that so? Paula, I'll let you know what you've done to my beloved woman."

"You have been scheming since you entered Alwynn Group. Do you think I don't know what you have done secretly?"

"You arranged Delmont's car accident and caused an employee to jump off the building. What's more, Eden was almost hit by steel bars at the construction site because of you... You've done lots of evil things. If I sue you, do you think you'll have a chance to escape?"

"Originally, I wanted Terry's wife to find you and give you a lesson. Unfortunately, you make me mad to the extreme now."

"Do you know who arranged for Terry to meet you? It was Irving. Terry has special hobbies on bed, and he keeps you as a mistress to humiliate you, but you don't mind it at all and enjoy it quite much."

"Tell me. What information did you provide to Leilani today? I only ask you once, and I don't have time to waste on you here."

Paula had long been scared out of her wits. Victor's words made her feel more and more ashamed. How did Victor know about these things?

Eden didn't know about it, did she?

Delmont had recovered, hadn't he? Why did Victor mention his car accident again?

She only provided some information, and she didn't expect that the employee would jump off the building to commit suicide.

Eden almost died on the construction site, but she just told Leilani where Eden was. She didn't expect Leilani to be so vicious. She actually dared to kill Eden.

However, she only provided the information and did not take part in murdering Eden. What did it have to do with her?

"No, Mr. Alwynn, you misunderstand me. These things have nothing to do with me, really." Paula didn't know what to say. She knew about the law. These things were all related to her. If Victor sued her, she would spend the rest of her life in jail.

"Tell me! What did you tell Leilani today?" Victor had lost his patience.

The bodyguards understood what he meant and immediately threw Paula to the ground.

"Ouch..." Paula not only felt painful, but also felt extremely humiliated. All of her pride and self-esteem had been crushed by Victor.

Dean walked over, took her phone and grabbed her finger to unlock it.

He checked Paula's messages. When he saw Leilani's name, he clicked it quickly.

Then he handed the phone to Victor.

Victor did not reach out to take the phone, but looked at the contents on the screen.

"Miss Koch, where does Eden live?"

Then Leilani transferred one hundred thousand dollars to her.

"Thank you, Mr. Simpson. Eden's house is at the end of Windsor Villa Area."

"B*stard!" Victor kicked Paula's face hard.

When Victor was annoyed, his strength was terrifying. Paula spat out a mouthful of blood and two teeth.

"Woo-woo... It hurts so much..." She was in so much pain that she couldn't speak clearly, and her face was covered by blood.

Victor didn't even look at her and said ruthlessly, "Send her to the lumber-room." Then he left.

"Woo-woo... No..." Paula watched Victor leave in despair.

She was overwhelmed by pain, regret, hatred and anger. She was just greedy for money. Why did she make herself so miserable?

Chapter 1723

Dean said, "Take her away." Having been working for Victor for a long time, he became as ruthless and cruel as Victor.

"No! Dean, let me see Eden! Let me see her! Don't take me away." Paula couldn't care about the blood in her mouth, struggled to get up and wanted to pull Dean.

Eden was kindhearted. As long as she apologized, Eden would forgive her.

Dean took a step back indifferently and looked at her mockingly. He said coldly, "Mrs. Alwynn is missing. You'd better pray that she's fine, or you'll suffer more."

He knew Victor's temper too well. Eden was as important as his life.

"Ah..." It never occurred to Paula that Eden would really be in trouble. She had come safely out of danger many times, hadn't she? She hoped that Eden would die, but her death couldn't have anything to do with her.

Paula wanted to disassociate herself from this matter. She wanted to earn more money to live a rich life. Then she would marry a wealthy man. This was the life she wanted. She was about to succeed, but something bad happened to Eden.

When Eden had an accident, Victor could risk everything to save her. But no one could save her when she was in trouble.

Her fate and Eden's fate were completely different.

"Dean, could you please help me? Eden is a lucky person. She'll be safe and sound. Please let me go. I beg you. I just like money." Paula looked at Dean with a pleading face. Even if there was only a slim chance, she had to fight for it. She wanted to live in this wonderful world.

Dean ignored her. To be honest, he disliked such a woman like Paula.

Moreover, Paula was very annoying.

Looking at her desperate face that was covered by blood, he didn't sympathize with her at all. Even if she really died in front of him, he would be unmoved.

Paula was the first one who hurt Eden so many times, and he hoped that she could be the last one.

"Paula, you always look down on me, don't you? You despise me because you think I'm a poor man. Why are you begging me now?" Dean looked at her teasingly. At this moment, even if he was really a poor man, she was humble before him.

Paula was stunned for a moment. She thought of the words she once said to insult Dean. Was this her retribution?

"Woo-woo... I'm sorry, Dean..."

"Take her away." Dean did not give her the chance to finish her words and ordered the two bodyguards to take away Paula.

He immediately turned to chase after Victor.

"No, you can't do this to me! It's against the law!" Paula cried so bitterly and miserably. However, no one would help her.

She regretted what she had done before.

What was her greatest regret in life? She was too indulgent. She had never met a good man, and she had a bad life. She wanted to work hard and buy a house in River City. Then she would make a sum of money to have a rise in social status. In this way, she could marry into a rich family.

Unfortunately...

When Victor came over, Brian had found Eden's whereabouts. Adrienne told Victor where the butler was, and they were sure that Eden was still in River City.

Victor went to find Eden with Dean and Thalia.

In the Eastern District, Eden was thrown into the trunk of a van. She curled up. Although the van jolted and rattled, she didn't wake up.

"Sam, what should we do? There are policemen everywhere. We can't leave this city. What is the identity of this woman?" The man who spoke was covered with sweat. He did not want to be caught.

The man who was driving was a little fat, and his eyes were sharp. Apparently, he was calmer than the man in the passenger seat.

"What are you afraid of? Who would know that this woman is in a van? Tony, after we finish this deal, I will take you abroad."

This woman lived in the rich area, so she must have a high status.

But he didn't dare to say this to Tony. Tony was timid, and he usually did such a thing in person.

If he told Tony about it, he would be panicked as soon as he met the police. In that case, everything he did would be in vain.

"Sam, I don't want to go to jail." Tony kept turning his head to see Eden who was unconscious.

Under the dim light, Eden's face was pale, and she was motionless as if she were dead.

"Sam, she is motionless. Is she still alive?"

"Shut up! Tony, just let me concentrate on driving, okay? I will take you home soon." He regretted bringing Tony with him.

He could do it more efficiently alone.

"Oh, Sam, just focus on driving. Compared with imprisonment, I'm more afraid of death."

Sam was speechless.

Couldn't he say something lucky?

"Sam, where are we going? If we keep driving around like this, it will get light." Tony became worried again. Unable to sleeping at night made him feel very uncomfortable.

"We'll go to the appointed place. We're almost there. Tony, shut up. If you talk again, I'll sew your mouth with a needle when we go back so that you'll starve... No, you'll faint from hunger."

Tony was good at every aspect, and he liked to do bad things, but he was timid.

Sam drove the car into a dark alley.

Aro, who had been following them, slowed down. He was familiar with the terrain of River City. This was the Eastern District, and they could leave this city after driving for about one kilometre. They wanted to take Eden out of this city.

Aro went berserk. He had sent the location to Victor.

Victor had arrived. There were few cars and people on the street late at night, and it was a suburb, so he drove very fast.

Soon, he overtook Aro's car.

Seeing this, Aro smiled faintly.

In front of them, the van stopped in a tile-roofed house. Two men got off the van with a woman on their shoulders and walked into the depths of the lane.

With the help of the main beam headlight, Victor saw two men carrying Eden, and he wished that he could kill them.

Dean looked ahead excitedly, "Mr. Alwynn, it's Mrs. Alwynn!"

Eden hadn't changed her clothes. He had seen the clothes she wore that day.

"Yes!" Victor glanced at the road before him. It was a dead end, so he braked hard.

"Get off the car." He said gloomily and got out of the car.

Then he chased after them at a dizzying speed.

Dean and Thalia tried their best to follow him.

Since Dean worked for Victor, he had encountered many dangerous things. He had been keeping fit with exercise and practicing judo. He even forced himself to do many things he didn't want to do before.

On the one hand, he wanted to pay a debt of gratitude. On the other hand, his annual salary was particularly attractive.

At this time, he was energetic enough to catch up with Victor. Thalia had been exercising since childhood, and she was deft and nimble.

Aro followed them closely behind.

However, at the moment he got off the car, a black car drove past him with lightning speed.

Aro was confused, but he did not think too much. He followed Victor and chased after them.

"Sam, what should we do? Some people are chasing after us. Will we be caught to jail?" Tony was so scared that he lost his way and almost fell to the ground.

"Idiot, what else could we do? Run! Let's see who can run faster now. You are Tony, the man who runs the fastest in ordinary times." Sam did not forget to encourage his younger brother at this time.

"Sam, but I have no strength to run. My legs are limp because I'm so scared by the police." Tony looked back while running.

Sam was speechless. Were they doomed that night? Why did Tony keep saying something unlucky?

Tony felt limper and limper as Victor approached them.

"Sam, he... catches up with us." Seeing that Victor was chasing after them in a horrible speed, Tony was dumbfounded, and he lost all his strength.

At this time, Victor was running with all his might. He was anxious, furious and guilty because Eden had an accident.

However, Sam ran so fast with a woman on his shoulder. They were in a suburb, and the lights were very dim. Victor was puzzled and looked at the front thoughtfully.

"Hurry up and put her down." Victor's cold and angry voice was penetrating.

Sam turned his head quickly. Well... Victor had caught up with him.

"Here you are..." He threw the woman to Victor at ease with a wicked smile on his face. They had stalled for a lot of time, and Eden should have been taken out of this city. He took Tony and ran forward fast.

When Sam threw the woman to him, Victor finally understood why he could run so easily.

He was carrying a model made of silica gel, and the clothes on the model were exactly Eden's.

Victor kicked away the model and gritted his teeth in anger.

Dean, Thalia and Aro were shocked.

They didn't expect them to be so cunning.

"D*mn it..." Dean cursed in heart.

Victor pointed at Sam and Tony, "Dean, if you can't catch them, don't come back anymore."

After that, he turned around and ran back.

Dean didn't dare to take a casual attitude. He and Thalia continued to run forward.

Aro turned around and ran by Victor's side. Thinking of the black car that drove past him at a dizzying speed when he got off the car, he was shocked. Those people were too fast.

D*mn it! He didn't expect that they could stealthily substitute Eden so quickly.

"Mr. Alwynn, when I got off the car just now, a black car drove past me. Mrs. Alwynn should be in that car."

Victor glanced sideways at him and roared, "Why didn't you say it earlier?"

Aro was very regretful. At that time, he did not expect that Eden would be stealthily substituted.

He remained silent and did not speak. He had made a big mistake that night. After Eden arrived home safely, he went to buy dinner. When he came back, he found that the lights in the house had not been turned on, and he couldn't get through to Eden. Then he immediately realized that something bad had happened.

Victor got into the car and let Aro drive.

He sent the location to Brian and asked him to check the security cameras nearby.

Brian was confused when he received the message.

He said to Anson who was standing beside him, "What's wrong with Victor? Eden is very near to him. Why did he send me another location and ask me to check it? Is there an accident?"

Anson turned his head and took a look, "Hurry up and do it!"

Brian said, "Why haven't you gone back to accompany your wife?"

Anson rubbed his nose in dismay. Thinking of Abigail's words, he felt a chill run down his spine.

"Abby said that she wouldn't spare me if something bad happened to Eden." Anson complained slowly.

Brian stopped typing on the keyboard and turned his head to look at Anson. Anson was just too henpecked. "Hey, can't you be braver? Why are you and Victor so afraid of your wives?"

"Ha-ha..." Anson laughed and mocked him, "That's because you're not married yet. Naturally, you don't know why I'm so henpecked."

Brian glared at him. Sooner or later, he would get married.

He searched for Eden's whereabouts carefully according to the information provided by Victor.

Soon, he found that the speed of a black car was a bit strange, and he immediately sent a message to Victor.

"These b*stards are well prepared. Has Eden been stealthily substituted?" Brian cursed and immediately picked up his phone to call his subordinate.

"Jacob, go to Grassy Avenue."

After hanging up, he immediately sent a message to Victor.

He kept in touch with Victor all the time.

Victor looked at Aro, "Turn left and go to Grassy Avenue."

Aro had excellent driving skills. He braked all of a sudden and turned the wheel sharply to the left. After drifting on the road, he continued to drive at a fast speed.

Victor nodded with satisfaction. Zaiden's assistants were all not simple.

Anthony was also good at driving. Unfortunately, he was only a driver.

Eden was distressed for Anthony and Seth because they could seldom meet each other, so she couldn't bear to order Anthony.

Grassy Avenue was the way to leave this city. They just needed to drive along the road. Aro drove extremely fast. It only took him ten minutes to catch up with the black car.

He had a good memory and recognized the car at a glance.

"Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn is in the front car." He was a little excited.

Victor clenched his fists, stared at the car in front of him and said word by word, "Follow the car closely and don't lose sight of it."

"H'm." Aro pursed his lips tightly and answered. Then he drove at the fastest speed.

The black car noticed them and drove faster and faster.

Obviously, the car was not in good performance, and it rocked. Seeing this, Victor was very worried about Eden, and his heart was in his mouth.

"Aro, don't drive so fast. That person is not as good at driving as you." He did not even dare to imagine the consequence if a car accident happened.

"Alright!" Aro slowed down, and the black car throttled back as well.

But in Victor's eyes, it was still running very fast.

"Brian, where do you think they will go?" Victor didn't want to chase after them like this. It was too dangerous.

He would never risk Eden's life, not even once.

Brian looked in the direction of the black car. With abundant tracking experience, he had been thinking about what those people wanted to do. He was very familiar with River City, and Jacob was dealing with something nearby. He thought for a while and made a bold guess, "Victor, they are going to go to the railway station. The sky is getting bright, so they definitely don't dare to stay in River City for too long. They will certainly find a way to leave here, but there are policemen around the stations. They are not idiots, so they won't go straight to the stations. There is an abandoned car factory in the Western District where there are all scrapped cars. If my guess is right, it is a good hiding place, and no one will notice it. Since they have no way to leave the city, they may take Eden there and take her out when we let our guard down. Why don't you go there?"

"Turn right after you drive for another minute, and you'll arrive at the abandoned car factory when you get out of the tunnel."

Chapter 1725

Victor asked in a deep voice, "Are you sure?"

Brian thought for a moment and decided to believe in his judgement. After all, he had great tracking experience. "I'm sure. There are two roads to the abandoned car factory. The black car has no time to take a turn now, so they will definitely take the next turning to the car factory. If they go further, they'll fall into our trap."

Victor said, "Aro, turn right."

Aro did not question his words and turned the wheel sharply to the right.

From the rearview mirror, the driver in the black car suddenly found that there was no car behind them. He was confused and glanced at the man in a black suit next to him.

"Mr. Simpson, they no longer follow us."

This man was Stephen, who had just been discharged from the hospital.

He sneered and said, "It's great since they can't catch up with us. Go to the car factory. Since we can't get out of the city, just let this woman die there. I want Victor to live a worse life than death!"

The driver did not speak and concentrated on driving.

Seeing that the black car turned right, Brian smiled confidently and said to the phone, "Victor, they are heading to the car factory, too. You will arrive earlier. Remember to hide, and don't let them find you."

"Okay!" Victor hung up the phone.

Brian immediately connected up his computer with the security cameras around the abandoned car factory.

Anson watched the surveillance video attentively aside.

"Brian, your technique has improved a lot." Obviously, Brian manipulated the computer much faster than before. In the past, he couldn't solve such problems without Lucian's help.

Upon hearing this, Brian felt a bit sad. He was afraid that Anson would be jealous of him if he told him the truth. After all, Anson had had a son.

Anson and Victor both had sons. But why there was such a great difference?

He said with a playful smile, "Anson, don't get hurt after hearing my words. Kenny taught me this. You and Victor both have sons, but there is a world of difference between you two."

Of course, Anson could understand what he meant.

"Brian, let me tell you. In this world, the ocean is broad, and the sky is broader than the ocean, but my breadth of mind is even broader than the sky. I'm neither jealous nor envious of others' sons. I like my own son. No matter how awesome Kenny is, he's not my son. Ayman will definitely excel Kenny. Just wait and see. I wish that you'll have a son in the future."

At that time, Brian would feel jealous of Victor, too.

Brian was dumbfounded.

Anson really talked back without hesitation.

Their friendship was in a fragile state, and Anson even cursed him to have a son.

Victor and Aro arrived at the abandoned car factory earlier. They got off the car and covered themselves in a hidden place. Then, they saw the black car driving into the abandoned car factory.

"Aro, let's knock down the two bodyguards at the door separately." Victor said in a low voice.

"Okay, Mr. Alwynn. Be careful!" After that, they took action separately.

The middle of the night was pitch black. From time to time, the sound of the train came from afar. Under the moonlight, two black shadows rushed forward when a train went past.

With a cry of pain, the two guards at the door fell to the ground.

Victor ran into the factory in a hurry. Aro dragged the two unconscious men to an abandoned car, hid them and then followed Victor.

He took out his phone to call the police. The policemen were nearby, and they would come soon.

Nothing bad could happen to Victor. Otherwise, he could not absolve himself from the blame.

The driver carried Eden to a shabby room and threw her to the ground. Her white dress was stained with dirt.

The driver turned on the energy-saving light. There were many rusted parts of the car inside the room, and there was a vile smell of gasoline, engine oil and rust, which made people very uncomfortable.

Stephen frowned but could only endure it.

He looked at Eden who was lying on the ground. There were many stains on her white dress, but it did not affect her slender legs and her nice shape. Her calves were slender and beautiful. The driver threw her to the ground rudely, so her dress was lifted up, and she looked really seductive at the moment.

His eyes darkened a bit. He had stayed in the hospital for a long time, and he had been controlling his sexual desire. At this time, he couldn't suppress the eager in his heart anymore.

He glanced at the driver and said in a gloomy voice, "Go guard outside."

The driver was stunned. He was a man, so he immediately understood what Stephen wanted to do.

He glanced at Eden and went out reluctantly.

Stephen glanced around the room. There was a worn couch not far away. He carried Eden and walked over, throwing her onto the couch heavily.

Eden frowned as she fell down on the couch, and her long eyelashes fluttered lightly. As soon as she came to herself, she felt a piercing pain on her body. Her back was so painful that she couldn't move.

"Ouch..." She moved her head slightly. Feeling the pain on her back, she gulped.

"Ha-ha... You're awake." Stephen didn't expect that Eden would wake up. Sam hit her so hard. He thought that Eden would be disabled even if she didn't die.

Eden was slightly stunned when she heard the frivolous voice. She composed her mind and recalled what had happened slowly.

Anson sent her back. When she arrived at the door, she called Victor. But she couldn't remember what happened next.

She slowly opened her eyes and saw Stephen's malicious eyes. Of course, she panicked when she saw that he was unbuttoning her clothes.

She knew Stephen's past, and she knew that he was a unfaithful and horny scum.

Seeing that she was flustered, Stephen laughed even more wickedly, "Oh, Victor is really lucky to have such a wife as you. Even your panicked eyes are so attractive. It must be pleasant to have sex with you. Am I right?"

Eden struggled to get up. Even if she would die, she would not let Stephen succeed.

Suppressing the pain on her back, Eden held onto the sofa and sat up slowly. Her soft hair covered half of her face, and she looked more charming in this way.

Looking at her, Stephen got randier and randier, "You're really beautiful. The b*stard Victor is so lucky. I didn't find you attractive at first, but over time I realize that you're the kind of woman who's always easy on the eyes." Stephen began to take off his clothes.

Eden did not expect that Stephen would want to rape her in such an environment.

"Stephen, stop it!" She glared at Stephen angrily.

She struggled to stand up and staggered back.

Behind her was a brick wall, and there were some abandoned wheels in the corner. She leaned on it all of a sudden, and her back hurt severely.

"Do you think you can escape?" Stephen approached Eden with an evil smile. His hair had been shaved off because he was sick, and his face was twisted, looking extremely ferocious.

Eden saw him getting closer and closer, Eden roared sharply, "Don't come here!"

"Ha-ha... You can't stop me. What's more, I'll shoot a video and send it to Victor so that he can appreciate how beautiful his wife is."

Eden was really flustered. She was unprepared that day. It never occurred to her that Stephen would suddenly kidnap her.

Chapter 1726

With fierce eyes, Stephen pulled Eden over and threw her on the sofa.

"Ah..." She screamed in pain.

Victor had reached the door. When he heard Eden's scream, his eyes turned cold-blooded and brutal.

Seeing that Victor had broken in, the driver wanted to turn around and tell Stephen about it.

As soon as he turned around, Victor suddenly jumped up and kicked him on the back. The driver fell to the ground and Aro immediately pinned him down.

"Bang..." Victor kicked open the door, only to see that Stephen was pinning Eden against the sofa.

"Stephen!" Victor's tone was filled with terrifying hostility, and his furious roar was extremely loud.

Stephen's entire body shook violently.

Victor's eyes were blazing with the flames of fury. He was a lion that had been completely enraged.

Stephen froze on the spot. He had a feeling that Victor would wring his neck the next moment.

The atmosphere instantly became terribly tense.

"Victor..." Eden burst into tears uncontrollably when she saw Victor.

Victor fixed his eyes directly on Eden's crying face, and rage bubbled just below the surface of his mind. Even the air was filled with hostility.

Stephen's heart skipped a beat as he saw how irritated Victor was.

He was so frightened that he forgot to move.

"Bang..." Victor punched Stephen with great strength.

"Ouch..." Stephen didn't realize that Victor had really come here until a violent streak of pain ripped through his whole body.

Victor took off his suit in a hurry and wrapped Eden with it.

Feeling that she was trembling uncontrollably, he couldn't be more distressed.

He hugged her tightly and comforted her softly, "Eden, it's okay. You're all right now."

"Woo-woo..." Eden cried. When Stephen pushed her, she was really scared and desperate.

"Victor." Eden hugged him tightly.

Listening to his strong heartbeat, she finally felt that he was really by her side.

"Eden, don't be afraid. Just wait for me for a moment." Victor kissed her forehead before releasing her slowly.

She turned around and looked at Stephen who was covering his belly and couldn't get up.

His blood was boiling with a frenzy of rage, "You, deserve to die!"

Before he finished his words madly, he kicked Stephen's belly fiercely again and again. It seemed that he wanted to kill him.

"Ah..." Stephen's miserable screams were especially horrible and terrifying in the empty room.

Seeing that Stephen was covered in blood, Eden was taken aback. At this moment, she came to sense completely.

She immediately pulled Victor, "Stop! Killing him will only dirty your hands. He will be punished by law."

Victor kicked Stephen viciously once again before he stopped.

Stephen was dying, and he kept twitching on the ground.

Victor wanted to beat him again, but Eden stopped him.

How could this beast do this to Eden? How could he bully Eden like this? Eden was as important as his life, but Stephen actually dared to hurt her!

How dare he!

Victor wished that he could kill him.

The siren was wailing outside, and Stephen went deathly pale.

He planned everything carefully and rigorously, but he was caught in just a few hours.

He was not willing to give up, and he hated Victor for being so powerful. He had destroyed all the security cameras nearby. How could Victor find him?

Victor carried Eden in his arms and glared at Stephen maliciously before he walked out.

As soon as he arrived at the door, he met the policemen.

Victor asked Aro to stay and deal with this matter. Then, he brought Eden and left quickly.

When they got in the car, Victor put Eden in the passenger seat carefully and looked at her pale face with pity. He asked nervously, "Eden, tell me which part of your body is hurt."

"Ahem..." Eden kept coughing. It was so painful.

"My back..." Eden leaned against the chair weakly. Her collar was torn by Stephen, revealing her fair skin. Seeing this, Victor wrapped her more tightly with his suit jacket.

"Eden, I'll take you to the hospital right now."

"Okay!" Eden closed her eyes and nodded.

Victor got on the car promptly and drove away, sending Eden to the nearest hospital for treatment.

In the Simpson family!

After receiving the call from the police, Leilani fell to the ground feebly, and her face was drained of all colour and animation.

The phone hit the ground and bounced several times before it lay on the ground quietly.

She looked at wooden floor in a daze, feeling so desperate.

"How could it be? The plan is meticulous! Why did we fail?" She muttered to herself.

"Ah..."

Leilani screamed madly as if she had gone crazy.

Hearing her scream upstairs, Adrienne sneered indifferently.

Victor had succeeded.

Stephen's childish idea would only make him fail completely.

Adrienne stood still for a while and then left.

She was finally relieved. She didn't dare to tell Delmont about this, and she didn't dare to sleep, either. Since Eden was safe, she could finally be at ease.

.....

Eden woke up at noon the next day.

When she opened her eyes, she found herself in the ward, but she was not surprised at all.

She tilted her head slightly. Victor was standing by the window and talking on the phone in a low voice, bathed in sunlight.

She felt that her back was no longer painful, but there seemed to be something on her back.

Seeing that she had woken up, Victor said, "That's it." Then he hung up the phone.

"Eden, you're awake." He stared at her. Her face was still very pale.

Eden blinked at him. She felt much more comfortable indeed.

"Eden, I'm sorry!" He apologized to her again and again in his heart.

It was all his fault. He failed to protect her.

Eden shook her head slightly. Seeing him blame himself, she was very distressed.

"Victor, this isn't your fault. Why should you say sorry to me?"

Victor sat on a stool nearby and held her hand tightly. Then he bowed his head and kissed the back of her hand.

He stared at her tenderly and affectionately, "If I received your phone calls, you wouldn't have been in trouble. I went to the bathroom and put my phone on the table, so I didn't hear it ringing."

He had made such a mistake twice.

Eden shook her head and said, "Don't say sorry! I don't like you when you apologize to me! Moreover, I hate your frown. Don't blame yourself. Since Stephen wanted to take revenge on me on purpose, I couldn't escape. Such pain is no big deal. We win."

She always looked at the bright side of things. Their battle with Simpson Group was protracted.

If she couldn't hold on, how could she weather the storm with him?

Since Stephen kidnapped her last night, he would be imprisoned for several years.

Leilani had managed to escape again, but her son was sent to jail, so they didn't suffer any losses.

If Leilani wanted to hurt her again, she had to think about it carefully. After all, her daughter and son had been imprisoned, so she wouldn't let herself suffer the same.

Chapter 1727

"You." How could Victor not know what she was thinking?

"Does it still hurt?" He asked in an extremely gentle tone. Every time he thought of Stephen, he would want to kill him a thousand times!

Seeing how distressed he was, Eden smiled warmly. In fact, her back ached severely, but she did not want him to worry about her. She smiled sweetly, "I won't feel painful anymore if you kiss me."

Victor was slightly stunned, and a gentle smile appeared on his handsome face. He leaned over slowly and kissed her on the lips.

The ward was filled with the smell of disinfectant, but her lips were the sweetest.

After a while, Victor let go of her slowly.

Eden smiled adorably, "Honey, I feel much better now, so don't blame yourself anymore."

Victor smiled helplessly, knowing that she was comforting him.

However, the more she acted like this, the more depressed he felt.

Seeing that he did not speak, Eden knew that he was still guilty.

She was somewhat helpless. This man always protected her and cared about her considerately. She was the apple of his eye, and he wished that he could give her the best things in the world.

She knew all these, but sometimes, things went contrary to her wishes. She could not get what she wanted.

"Honey, I'm hungry." Eden addressed Victor like this again and again, which made him extremely glad and satisfied.

She blinked her big clear eyes. Her eyes were as bright as the starry sky.

Victor was touched, and he held his breath slightly. He had to admit that he was really pleased when she called him "honey".

His heart melted, and his cold eyes were filled with gentleness.

"Okay, I'll ask Dean to bring you some food." His voice was tender and affectionate.

Eden smiled gently and warmly.

Seeing this, Victor stroked her lips lightly with his slender fingers. Her lips were slightly cold but very soft.

She had lost a lot of weight during this period of time. He caressed her delicate facial features tenderly. Her face had been engraved deeply on his mind.

Eden looked at him and did not stop him. His eyes were filled with affectionate and deep love, and her heart was beating wildly. The unique scent of him tugged at her heartstrings.

Thinking of what had happened last night, Eden hugged him tightly. She felt at ease as long as he was by her side.

"You're much thinner." His hoarse voice was filled with affection and pity.

"No, I'm so thin all the time. You feel distressed and think that I'm thinner because I'm lying on the hospital bed now." Her voice was slightly hoarse. Victor picked up the cup, put a straw in it and let her drink some warm water.

When she was asleep, he had been moistening her lips with a cotton swab. However, her voice was still husky when she woke up.

Eden drank half a cup of water in one breath. She was really thirsty, because she hadn't drunk a drop of water since last night.

Victor sent a message to Dean and asked him to send some food here.

"Eden, your back is seriously injured. Although your bones are not hurt, your muscles are injured. You have to rest at home during this period of time." Victor said in a grave tone. In the future, he would not let her leave his sight anymore.

The expression in Eden's eyes turned apathetic, but she returned to normal in an instant. She smiled faintly and nodded.

"Victor, I'll listen to you."

She looked gorgeous when she smiled obediently and meekly.

Victor's smiled more brightly. He lowered his head and kissed her again with satisfaction and tenderness.

"Mr. Alwynn." Dean witnessed public display affection as soon as he opened the door and came in.

Victor lifted his head slowly to look at Dean. His eyes filled with displeasure and coldness, because Dean disturbed him.

Dean wished that he could come in a few minutes later, but he had come in, and he couldn't pretend that this had never happened.

He smiled awkwardly and forced himself to walk in, "Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn, this is your lunch."

After Dean put down the food, he turned around and ran out before Victor and Eden could say anything.

Victor remained calm, but Eden blushed with shyness.

He got up, took the lunch boxes and raised Eden's bed. Then he put a small table on it and fed the millet gruel to Eden in person.

Eden ate two mouthful of gruel, but she felt uncomfortable when she swallowed, and her throat ached.

She ate another two mouthfuls of gruel. Seeing that Victor was worried about her, she braced herself to finish the bowl of gruel and did not eat anything else.

The lunch bought by Dean was very sumptuous, and there were her favorite fried shrimps, but she had no appetite at the moment.

Victor picked up a shrimp and fed her.

Eden shook her head slightly, "Victor, I'm full."

Victor looked at her with a frown. Seeing that she really didn't want to eat, he put down the shrimp.

"Are you full?" He asked in disbelief.

Eden nodded, "Yes, don't only care about me. Hurry up and eat something."

Victor nodded, but he only ate a small bowl of rice.

When he was eating, Eden fell asleep again. Victor's heart melted as he listened to her even breathing. He gently tucked her in and put away the bowls and chopsticks. Then, he went to the window to make a phone call.

"Brian, how's Stephen's matter going?"

Brian replied, "Just rest assured. He will be imprisoned for at least ten years. Our lawyer has prepared all the evidence. This is a great blow to the Simpson family. His mother came here just now and cried very sadly, saying that she regretted it so much. You don't know how awkward she was. Stephen has brought disgrace on the Simpson family."

Hearing Brian's words, Victor remained unmoved, "Deal with it properly."

"I see. After you come back, you should deal with the other two men in person. I haven't taken them to the police station. What's more, how about Paula? We can't keep her here all the time. I have to serve her three meals every day. It's quite tiring."

Victor's tone was slightly heavy. He glanced at Eden who was sleeping soundly, and his tone softened a bit, "I'll deal with her when I come back."

Brian said, "Okay. Is Eden all right?"

Victor replied, "She's seriously injured, and she needs to be hospitalized for a few days."

"I see. Take good care of her. The affairs in the company are not important these days. I will collect the evidence of the Simpson family's crime before their company is floated on the stock market. They will be caught unprepared."

"Barrett has done a lot these days. The share price of Simpson Group shows significant advances. A lot of people buy their shares, and it's not something good for us."

"H'm." Victor answered and hung up the phone.

Brian was speechless.

He hadn't finished speaking yet. Looking at the black screen, he felt wronged.

Eden stayed in the hospital for three days.

Aisling went to Windsor Villa and happened to meet Eden who was discharged from the hospital.

Her eyes turned misty when she saw how weak Eden was.

"Eden, why didn't you call me when you were hospitalized?" Aisling burst into tears sadly.

Eden did not expect Aisling to come here suddenly.

"Mom, I just fell down accidentally. It's no big deal." Eden did not want Aisling to know about the Simpson family. She would only be more worried if she knew it.

Chapter 1728

Eden lied to Aisling, while Victor blinked his eyes, lowered his head and didn't dare to look at Aisling.

Aisling glared at Eden angrily and said with distress, "Do you think it's easy to fool me? How could you get so seriously injured if you just fell down?"

"Do you really regard me as your mother? In the past, I didn't know that you got hurt until you recovered."

Eden knew that Aisling was worried about her, and she threw herself into her arms.

She said coquettishly, "Mom, I am fine. You don't have to worry about me. If I was seriously injured, I would definitely call you."

Aisling's heart softened a lot as she hugged Eden.

"What should I do with you?" Aisling patted Eden's back gently, and she could feel that Eden was trembling slightly. Why was Eden so unlucky and miserable?

Eden took a step back and wiped the tears on Aisling's face with her pale and slender fingers.

"Mom, if you want to come here in the future, call me in advance. I'll ask Victor to pick you up."

Aisling looked at Eden's delicate and fair face. Although her eyes were as bright as new moon, she still looked weak and sick.

"Delmont sent me here, and he's parking the car now. Are you seriously injured? Let me take a look." She gently held Eden's hand.

Victor took the opportunity to say, "Mom, let's go in first. It's hot outside. Or we'll suffer from sunstroke."

Aisling nodded and helped Eden to walk inside.

She noticed that Eden bent slightly while walking, and it was difficult for her to raise her head. Thus, she knew that Eden's back was hurt.

Eden sat on the sofa, and Victor got up to pour some water for her.

"Let me have a look." Aisling stood beside Eden gently and pulled open Eden's collar. Seeing the purple and blue bruises on her fair skin, she was stunned. Her back was even bandaged.

It seemed that her back had been bit by something heavy. It was bruised and swollen.

"Woo-woo..." Aisling couldn't hold back her tears anymore, "Eden, who did you offend? Why are you so badly hurt?" She choked with sobs, and she was so sad that she almost couldn't speak.

"Mom, it's okay. Why hasn't Delmont come in? Did he buy many things for me again?" Eden changed the topic.

Aisling sighed slightly. She knew that Eden didn't want to talk about it anymore because she didn't want her to be worried.

"Yes! He went to the supermarket and brought a lot of your favorite food." Aisling thought that Delmont was too childish. He always bought snacks for Eden rather than expensive things.

Buddy was the same.

"Really?" Eden smiled. Sometimes when she had nothing to do, she wanted to eat potato chips and spicy gluten.

Victor came over with two glasses of water, "Mom, drink some water."

"Okay!" Aisling nodded.

She looked at Victor and said, "Victor, I came here today because I want to talk about something with you."

Victor sat beside Eden and nodded.

"Eden, Victor." Delmont came in with bags of snacks on his hands.

Seeing this, Victor frowned and looked displeased.

Delmont still treated Eden as a child. Every time he came here, he brought her a lot of imported snacks.

"Delmont, come in quickly." Eden said. Then, she pushed Victor and asked him to help Delmont carry the bags.

Victor stood up reluctantly and walked over.

He took the snacks from Delmont's hand slowly and asked, "How old are you?"

Of course, Delmont knew what he meant, "Victor, are you mocking me?"

Victor was speechless. Since when did Delmont become so clever?

"Come in and have a seat." After that, he walked inside with the bags.

Delmont smiled smugly. Victor didn't dare to teach him a lesson front of Eden. As his brother-in-law, Victor was truly aggrieved sometimes.

"Eden, I bought you your favorite snacks." Delmont raised the bag of snacks in his hand as if he was presenting a treasure.

"Thank you, Delmont. You dote on me the most." Eden looked at him with a smile.

"Don't I dote on you?" Victor glared at Delmont with jealousy.

Looking at his jealous face, Eden was somewhat helpless.

He was even jealous of her eldest brother.

Victor sat beside her and looked at Aisling.

"Mom, what do you want to talk to me about?"

At this time, Delmont sat down and took over the speaking turn.

"Mom wants to buy the shares of Simpson Group, and she wants to ask you if it's reliable."

Hearing this, Victor frowned hard.

Eden looked at Aisling curiously, "Mom, you know the relationship between the Alwynn family and the Simpson family. Why do you want to buy their shares?" Eden was a little puzzled, because Aisling was very clear about this matter.

Aisling said, "I know your relationship indeed. But as you can see, the share prices of Simpson Group show significant advances in the past few days, especially the shares about the new energy resources."

She was quite interested in new energy resources, but she was not sure whether she could buy the shares or not, so she came to ask Victor.

Eden said, "Mom, you're no longer in charge of the company, are you?"

Aisling smiled and said, "Yes, now I don't care about the affairs in the company, and I take care of Glenn all day long and accompany your grandmother at home. But recently, one of my friends bought the shares of Simpson Group and earned a lot of money. I'm quite envious, so I want to buy some shares when I have nothing to do."

Eden was stunned. In her opinion, the Simpson family played such a trick just to cash in.

They had been giving publicity to new energy resources, but they hadn't done anything about it.

Victor looked at Aisling, "Mom, don't buy the shares. If you have friends who have bought the shares, advise them to sell them."

A month later, many people would go bankrupt because of the shares.

She did not want such a thing to happen, and she wouldn't just look on and do nothing.

"Ah..." Hearing the words, Aisling immediately understood.

"Victor, they're very happy at this time. If I ask them to sell the shares, they won't listen to me." Listening to Victor's words, she knew that she could not buy the shares.

"Mom, in short, you can't buy the shares, and you can't be tempted just because someone else has made a lot of money. Our family is not short of money now." Eden said. Victor had been planning to aim at the Simpson family. Everyone in the Simpson family was crazy and vicious. Victor wouldn't sit passively for his end.

Aisling nodded, "Okay, I know what to do. Don't worry about me."

"Alright!" Eden smiled with relief.

After sitting for half an hour, Aisling and Delmont didn't want to disturb Eden's rest, so they went back.

Victor carried Eden in his arms and sent her back to the room to rest.

"Victor, the share prices of Simpson Group have been surging. Can they really develop new energy resources?" Eden was a little confused. People were tempted just by the advertising slogan of Simpson Group.

Victor looked down at her. His eyes flashed, and he said seriously, "Don't think about these things now. Have a good rest."

"Oh!" Eden replied and did not ask anymore. If this was something she could know, he would definitely tell her.

Victor put her on the soft bed and gently brushed the hair off her forehead with his slender fingers, "Honey, take a good sleep. I'll make you some porridge."

"Alright, I want to eat porridge with many ingredients. Remember not to put peanuts in it." Eden said coquettishly as she swept her finger cross Victor's arm.

A warm current coursed through Victor's body, and his heart melted.

"Okay!" He answered softly, and his eyes were filled with tenderness, "Lie down. If you don't feel well, tell me and I'll call Dr. Conley."

"There's no need. Dr. Conley is very busy. The doctor said that my shoulder can be cured soon as long as it doesn't get wet."

"It's okay. He is retired now. If he has something to do occasionally, he won't feel lonely." Victor stroked her face.

Eden thought for a moment and said, "I heard that his children are all living abroad, and he stays in this country alone."

"Yes! His wife has passed away for more than ten years. He refuses to leave because she's buried here."

Looking at him, Eden was stunned for a moment, "Dr. Conley is very loyal to his wife."

"Yeah!" Victor bowed his head and kissed her red lips before he got up and left.

Eden watched him go out and then closed her eyes to rest.

As soon as she closed her eyes, the phone on the bedside table rang.

She reached out to get it and had a look. It was Abigail calling her.

"Eden." However, she heard Jasper's voice.

She smiled and said, "Jasper, are you at Abby's house?"

"Yep, I'm here. Do you feel better now?"

Eden knew that Abby had told him that she had an accident.

"Jasper, don't worry. I'm all right now."

"You..." Jasper was about to speak but stopped. However, Eden knew what he was going to say.

"Jasper, I'll make dumplings for you when I get better in a few days."

"Okay!" Jasper smiled and nodded, "Have a good rest. I'll go there to see you before I go back."

"Alright, come here later. I'll ask Victor to make dinner." Eden said with a smile.

Jasper said teasingly, "Does he know how to cook?"

"Yes, in order to make me eat well, he has been learning how to cook."

"Fine, but I won't have dinner there, or he'll be unhappy." If Victor was not happy, he would make things difficult for Eden.

Eden was somewhat speechless. Jasper and Victor knew each other's tempers well.

The two chatted for a long while before hanging up.

Eden lay on the bed quietly. At this time, she really missed Jaida. If Jaida was at home, she would definitely come in to chat with her and let her forget those bad things.

Aisling was emotional. As long as something bad happened, she would be very anxious. After all, she got lost when she was a child. Aisling was very guilty when she had an accident.

"Alas!" Eden sighed lightly. She was actually very happy, because she was loved by so many people.

"Oh!" Eden suddenly thought of Paula. Paula must have something to do with her accidents.

She dialed Paula's number, but no one answered.

"This woman..." Eden called her again, but no one answered the phone.

After Eden hung up the phone, she called Thalia.

"Thalia, is Paula not in the company?"

Thalia was stunned. It seemed that Eden didn't know that Paula had been caught by Victor.

"Mrs. Alwynn, you'd better ask Mr. Alwynn about this."

Eden understood what was going on when she heard this.

"Okay, I see." After Eden hung up the phone, she knew that Victor had done something to Paula.

As expected, he knew everything she did.

"Alas!" Eden sighed. She couldn't hide anything from him.

Eden turned over slightly and felt a pain on her back. Only then did she realize that she was injured.

"Alas!" She sighed again.

"What's wrong?" Victor heard her sigh when he came in.

Eden looked at him. He went to take a bath and changed into a pair of white pajamas. With bangs on his forehead, he looked very handsome.

He looked completely different from he was when he wore a dark suit. He looked too apathetic in a dark suit, but he looked much gentler at this time.

"Victor, did you do something to Paula?"

She asked directly, and Victor didn't intend to hide from her.

"Yes!"

"Can't you fall asleep?" Victor sat on the bed and looked at her.

"Yeah! Jasper will come here later."

Victor's face darkened, "Why?"

Jasper was simply too ungrateful.

"He'll come here for dinner." Eden said with a smile.

"Who will cook for him?" He wouldn't cook for Jasper. When he invited Jasper to dinner, Jasper refused him, so he wouldn't cook for him at home.

"Look at you!" Eden looked at him with a smile.

"There are food indigents, but no cooked food." Victor looked very displeased. He learned to cook for her. It was impossible for others to eat the food cooked by him.

Eden was taken aback. As expected, Victor and Jasper were both childish when they talked about each other.

"I was just kidding. Jasper will leave after seeing me." Eden said with a crafty expression in her eyes.

"How naughty you are!" Victor gently pinched her cheek and said in a charming tone. He looked at her with his head lowered, and she could smell the pleasant smell of his shower gel.

"Victor, what did you do to Paula?" Her expression turned grave.

Victor suddenly became serious and looked at her, "Why don't you ask what she did to you?"

Eden blinked her beautiful eyes and pursed her lips lightly. It seemed that her guess was right.

Her accident did have something to do with Paula.

"Victor, what did she do?"

All of a sudden, Victor's eyes were blazing with the flames of fury as he said, "Leilani transferred her one hundred thousand dollars, so she told her where we live. This place is no longer safe. I intend to take you to the villa where I used to live. We will come back here when all the problems are solved."

"Ah..." Eden was surprised, "Are we moving?"

"Eden, we'll just stay there for a period of time. I've asked Dean to prepare for it in the past few days. Take a good rest tonight, and we'll move there tomorrow." He knew that she was reluctant to part with Abigail, but he did not want anything bad to happen to her.

"Eden, I know that you don't want to leave Ayman and Abigail, but we'll only live there for a few months, and that villa is very close to the company."

Eden knew his worry and nodded, "Alright, I'll listen to you."

Victor smiled softly, took off his shoes and lay down beside her, "The porridge is being cooked. Sleep with me for a while."

He looked tired, because he didn't sleep well in the hospital these days.

"Okay!" Eden leaned against his arms quietly. In order to take care of her, he didn't have a good rest.

Seeing him close his eyes, she was softhearted, "Honey, I love you!" She whispered. Victor heard her and suddenly opened his eyes. She was still smiling, and she looked pretty and attractive. "Honey, you said it on purpose."

Eden was stunned, "What?"

"You don't want me to sleep and seduce me." Victor smiled wickedly.

Chapter 1730

"Honey, you misunderstand me." Eden smiled. Her voice was soft and coquettish, and she was like a spoiled child.

Victor used more strength and held her in his arms tightly. She was so bold and reckless just because she was injured, and he didn't dare to do anything to her.

"Is that so? Do you want me to prove it?" Victor said in a low voice, suppressing his sexual desire. He was easily attracted to her all the time.

Eden blinked her innocent big eyes and pretended to be puzzled, "I just called you 'honey'. What are you thinking about?"

Saying this, Eden put her hand on Victor's strong waist.

Victor's blood boiled in an instant.

"You little mischievous darling, do you believe that..."

"Yes!" Eden did not dare to joke about it, because Victor was really eager for sex, and she couldn't seduce him anymore.

"Ha-ha..." Victor chuckled. She was still afraid.

"Just sleep, Eden." He was very tired. Since she was kidnapped, he had never had a good sleep.

"Okay, close your eyes." Eden held his hand tightly so that he could sleep more peacefully.

Soon, she heard Victor's even breathing.

However, Eden couldn't fall asleep and looked at his sleeping face quietly. He hadn't told her what he did to Paula.

Perhaps Victor was too tired, he didn't wake up until five o'clock in the afternoon.

When he opened his eyes, he smelled the fragrance in the air.

He smiled happily and looked at Eden who was sleeping soundly.

"Fool, you always get hurt." Victor lowered his head, kissed her forehead and then got up quietly.

He did not tell her what Paula had done deliberately. If he told her about it, her heart would ache again. Paula could do anything for money, and she was unworthy of forgiveness. Moreover, there was no need for her to forgive an irrelevant person.

After taking a bath, he went to the kitchen. The porridge had been cooked. He washed some vegetables Eden liked and cooked soup.

At half past five, Eden woke up. She had rested for three days, and her back was much better.

She could get up on her own.

When she arrived at the living room, she smelled the aroma of soup. With a smile, she walked to the kitchen slowly and saw Victor cooking soup.

Victor turned around and saw her. After she had a good sleep, her face became much ruddier, and her eyes were especially bright.

"Why didn't you call me?" Victor frowned. Her back was injured, and she couldn't use much strength.

Eden smiled and said, "It's okay. I'm much better now. I can get up by myself."

"Sit down first. We can have dinner soon."

"OK!" Eden turned around obediently, went to the table and waited for him.

In fact, Eden thought of Paula again and wanted to ask Victor about her.

However, he was busy, so she did not ask.

A few minutes later, Victor brought out the food and sat opposite her.

He put the porridge in front of her, "Eden, hurry up and eat. I didn't add peanuts in it!"

"Oh!" Eden wanted to speak but stopped. She lowered her head and ate the porridge.

Victor could tell that she had something to say, so he didn't eat and said slowly, "Do you want to ask about Paula?"

"Yes!" Eden nodded in a hurry.

"She is already in prison." It was not that he was unwilling to tell her, but he was afraid that she would feel guilty. He had got evidence to prove that it was Paula who asked her uncle to hit Delmont with the car.

He knew that Paula revealed Eden's whereabouts again and again, because Dean had installed a bug in Paula's office.

He would handle this matter in person, and he would not let her feel burdened.

"Ah..." Eden was stunned. She thought for a while. It had been a few days, and it was easy to send Paula to jail with enough evidence.

"So, Eden, don't think too much about this matter. She deserves it." After Victor finished speaking, he filled another bowl with vegetable soup for her.

"This is the soup you like. I specially learned it for you."

"Thank you, honey!" Eden didn't want to think about Paula's matters anymore. Originally, she was going to deal with Paula on her own. Since Victor had sent her to jail, she didn't have to worry about it anymore.

Seeing that she didn't pursue this matter anymore, Victor breathed a sigh of relief.

Not long after they finished dinner, Abigail, Jasper and Anson came over.

Victor looked at them indifferently and continued to peel the banana for Eden.

"Eden, do you feel better?" Abigail sat next to Eden with Ayman in her arms.

"Yeah, Abby, I'm much better now, but I can't use too much strength." Eden was a little helpless. There were a lot of injuries on her body.

"Alas! I was so worried about you." Abigail looked at Victor with complaint.

Victor knew what Abigail meant, so he did not look at her and peeled the banana attentively.

"Eden, you have to be careful in the future." Jasper looked at Victor as well. Victor failed to protect Eden all the time.

Anson saw their expressions and then looked away in silence.

"Victor, you did a good job. You saved Eden in time." He had to speak for Victor, because Victor was quite pitiful.

Abigail immediately glared at him coldly.

Anson pretended not to see it.

Victor glanced at him, "You had a hard time that night."

"No, that was what I should do." Anson wanted to cry. Didn't Victor know that he was helping him?

Couldn't he see Abigail's warning eyes?

Why was he so dull at this moment?

"Eden, remember to call me at once when you're in trouble in the future." Jasper looked at her with distress.

"Alright!" Eden smiled and agreed.

Victor was stunned. How dare she promise him? She should call him at once! He was her husband!

Men were always so childish when they got jealous of their rivals in love.

Victor glared at Jasper, and Jasper glanced at him apathetically as well.

Eden saw their expressions. She really didn't understand why they were so childish.

Abigail glanced at Victor. Seeing that he was peeling the apple, she took Ayman's hand and played with him while saying with her head lowered, "Eden, Paula was caught by Victor. Have you seen her? Did you slap her in the face?"

Hearing this, Eden looked at Victor.

Victor frowned and looked at Abigail who was lowering her head. Abigail really had a grudge against him!

He managed to deceive Eden, but she mentioned it again.

Seeing Victor's expression, Anson knew something was wrong.

"Abby, let's not disturb Eden's rest anymore. Let's go back."

Abigail looked at him with some confusion, "We've just arrived, haven't we?"

Jasper saw Eden's surprised expression and then looked at Victor. He instantly understood what was going on.

"Abby, let's go. Eden needs a good rest." Jasper took Ayman from her arms.

Abigail was stunned. Why was the atmosphere so weird?

Anson tipped her a wink hurriedly, and she immediately understood.