

Gluey Love 1751

Chapter 1751

"Don't let him go and send him to jail. Such a vicious person is too horrible!"

"Okay, I won't let him go and I'll let him stay in jail forever."

Victor chimed in with everything she said.

Eden must have been frightened just now. He wouldn't spare Barrett.

He had always been decisive in business. Even if he was at a disadvantage, no one had ever dared to treat him like this.

He even rejected the project a month ago decisively because he met Ivan.

Barrett, that old b*stard, actually wanted to kill him and scared Eden. Therefore, he wouldn't show him any mercy.

He slightly narrowed his eyes and opened them wide all of a sudden. His eyes were more cold-blooded and vicious than before.

Victor's phone rang, and it was a phone call from Jaxon. He instantly understood that Jaxon was also here.

"Hello? Uncle Bates."

"Mr. Alwynn, you can go on the expressway at ease now. I will deal with the rest of things. The truck driver has been controlled by me."

Victor said, "You have been around us."

Jaxon said, "Chairman Alwynn knows that you will be in danger after you go out of the city, so we made arrangements in advance."

"Okay, thank you so much. I don't want to see those who wanted to attack me again." After finishing his words, Victor hung up the phone.

Jaxon was speechless. Victor wouldn't know those people even if he saw them.

Fortunately, Phillip had arranged it in advance. Otherwise, something bad would definitely happen that night. Half a month ago, Phillip had sensed something wrong. Someone had been monitoring him.

In order to find out those people, he called Victor and asked him to come with Eden.

Victor was very smart. He understood what Phillip meant and came here. Barrett's killers were practically wiped out.

In this way, Barrett's power could be affected.

He was too powerful, so they could only take actions step by step so as to defeat him completely.

The Simpson family was in a state of disunity. A lot of Barrett's spies had been found out by them, so he couldn't do anything big to fight back on the surface.

Barrett was old, and he was inferior to the younger generation.

Just as Eden was about to speak, Victor's phone rang again.

"Hello?" This time, he put on his headphones. It was Brian calling him.

"Adrienne is all right now."

"I see." Victor said.

Brian smiled happily and said, "I will release another message tonight. The Simpson family will be in a turmoil tomorrow morning. But what happened between Eden and Irving?"

"Okay, just keep to our plan. As for another piece of news, try to suppress it." After Victor finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Eden pursed her lips and said nothing. Victor had planned everything, so why should she be worried?

Brian was speechless. It was easy for Victor to say. What should he do to suppress the news online?

The title "Mrs. Alwynn" was enough to shock everyone.

"Tut-tut. What a difficult task! I can't even date because of this. If I can't be with Aurora, I'll shift all the blame onto Victor." After Brian said to himself, he called Aurora, telling her that he didn't have time to date with her. He was so angry that he wanted to curse Victor.

After the danger had passed, Victor drove on the expressway. Eden let down her guard and became sleepy again.

She leaned against the chair and fell asleep soon.

She was quiet, so Victor turned his head to see her, only to find that she had fallen asleep.

Victor smiled. It was good for her to be careless. At least she would soon forget the danger just now.

An hour later, the car stopped in front of the villa.

Eden woke up and looked around with drowsy eyes.. It turned out that they had arrived home.

"I'm so tired." She stretched herself.

Victor untied her seat belt and leaned over to kiss her on the forehead.

"Eden, if you are tired, get out of the car and go back to rest. I'll carry the red bayberries into the house first. Let's send them to Abigail tomorrow."

"Alright!" Victor and Eden got off the car and saw someone sitting at the door.

It was a little dark and they could not see who it was clearly. Eden paused for a moment, feeling that the person was familiar.

"Delmont, why are you here?" Eden was surprised to see Delmont.

Delmont looked at her helplessly and dejectedly. He even looked a bit poor.

"Eden, I was kicked out of the house by grandma." His voice sounded a little pitiful.

Eden was stunned. What did he mean by saying that?

"Delmont, what happened? Did you make grandma angry?"

Delmont shook his head and told Eden the whole story.

Three hours ago, Grandma Clement, Aisling and Collins went to see Ayman. On the way there, the three of them chatted happily. However, on the way back, Grandma Clement mentioned that Delmont was not married yet.

Collins said casually, "Nowadays, young people all like to live alone outside. When he has a girlfriend, he can bring her home, and their relationship will develop fast."

Grandma Clement immediately remembered her words, thinking that the reason why Delmont was single was that he lived together with them.

Even if he had a girlfriend, he couldn't bring her home, and it was not convenient at all. The young people were open-minded, and they didn't reject premarital sex. But Delmont had been living at home. If he couldn't have some private space with his girlfriend, how could he get married?

After thinking about it for a long time, Grandma Clement decided to drive Delmont out of the house. He couldn't go home until he had a girlfriend.

She even confiscated all his bank cards and did not allow him to go home. Besides, he wouldn't get any money except for his salary.

When Delmont heard her words, he was completely dumbfounded. In order to force him to get married, Grandma Clement was so hardhearted. She didn't give him any money and even drove him out of the house.

He really doubted if he was her biological grandson. He was clearly very filial.

D*mn Anson.

Well, Anson was cursed by him for no reason.

After hearing this, Victor and Eden couldn't believe what had happened.

"Delmont, then you should..." Her phone rang before she could finish her words.

It was Grandma Clement calling her.

"Grandma."

Hearing this, Delmont was on the verge of tears.

Grandma Clement wanted to warn Eden not to take him in.

"Eden, if Delmont goes to your house, you can never take him in."

Eden put her on speakerphone silently.

"Delmont hasn't got married yet, because we're too nice to him in ordinary times. Now we have to treat him badly so that he'll think that single men are the most pitiful. In that case, he'll try his best to have a girlfriend."

"Eden, I've told all his relatives and friends about it. No one will take him in, neither will you. Otherwise, I will get sick."

Eden was taken aback. Grandma Clement was determined to force Delmont to have a girlfriend.

However, Delmont couldn't marry Adrienne immediately. Moreover, Adrienne was in trouble. She was about to go home and discuss with Victor about how to save Adrienne.

Chapter 1752

"Grandma, you can't get sick. I..." Eden looked at Delmont's pitiful face and forced herself to say, "I promise that I won't let him live in my house."

Delmont froze on the spot.

"Okay, go to bed early. I want to have another great-grandson." After saying that, Grandma Clement hung up the phone.

Eden blushed instantly.

Victor laughed immediately.

However, Delmont burst into tears all of a sudden.

How could they bully him like this? He had a girlfriend!

"Delmont..." Eden looked at him apologetically.

"Eden, you don't have to say it. I know that you are in a dilemma." Delmont pretended to cry.

Why did he become so poor?

Eden was relieved. It was good that he knew she was in a dilemma.

She didn't expect Grandma Clement to do this. Delmont was so miserable!

Delmont had been keeping his relationship with Adrienne a secret. He had not mentioned it to her yet.

"Eden, I'm leaving, but I haven't had dinner yet." Delmont looked at Eden pitifully.

The dinner was ready at home. He was thinking about having a good meal and then trying to save Adrienne, but Grandma Clement drove him out of the house heartlessly.

Why was his life so bitter?

Eden could not stand it anymore, "Delmont, do you have no cash?"

Delmont nodded in a dull way, "Grandma took away all my money, including my bank cards."

Eden asked, "How about your private money?"

Delmont leaned sideways and looked at her nervously, as if he was afraid that she would take away his pocket money.

"Eden, why do you ask about my private money?"

Eden was speechless. Why was he so wary of her? She wouldn't steal his pocket money.

"Delmont, if you have private money, just use it first."

Delmont shook his head quickly, "No."

That was his last saving. He couldn't tell anyone about it.

His recent social experiences made him understand that one couldn't show off his wealth in public.

Victor asked, "Do you want to have some red bayberries?"

Delmont glared at him, "Can I eat red bayberries as a meal?"

Victor said, "Forget it if you don't want to eat. Eden picked them in person."

Delmont immediately grabbed some red bayberries and glared at Victor, "Since Eden picked them personally, of course I'll eat some. You bad guy! You actually let Eden pick red bayberries on her own. She must be very tired. Let me tell you, now you and Eden just live together. You haven't got married yet! Let's see how I will make things difficult for you in the future."

Victor was speechless. What was going on? They were talking about dinner, but why did Delmont suddenly mention his marriage with Eden?

No, he and Eden were legal husband and wife.

However, Victor didn't say anything else. He could not afford to offend Delmont in the future.

Otherwise, Delmont would stop him from holding the wedding at the end of the year.

It was really difficult for him to hold a wedding with Eden.

"Delmont, what are you going to do?" In fact, Eden was not worried. Victor said that Delmont and Adrienne were about to get married.

"What else could I do? I should try to get a girlfriend." As soon as Delmont thought that Adrienne had been taken away, he felt uneasy.

But he was no longer depressed when he turned to see Victor.

"Victor, talk to me. Eden, let me have dinner here."

Victor nodded.

"Delmont, let's go in first."

Victor and Delmont went to the study to talk about something.

Eden went to the kitchen and started to prepare dinner.

No, midnight snacks!

It took them about two hours to get home, and she was frightened. She had been very hungry.

She washed a bowl of red bayberries and placed it on the table. When her hands were free, she ate some. She felt extremely satisfied with such a life.

In the study, Victor poured a glass of boiled water for Delmont.

Delmont looked at the water and frowned, "Victor, are you so stingy? Do you just offer boiled water for your brother-in-law?"

Victor looked at him with a frown. Seeing that Delmont's face was full of dissatisfaction, he was displeased, "My wife and I don't drink tea."

He emphasized the word "wife".

"I remember that Eden likes drinking tea." Delmont gritted his teeth.

Victor raised his eyebrows and looked at him, "Is that so?"

"Bubble tea." Delmont suddenly smiled.

Victor was dumbfounded. What a childish man!

He turned his head and narrowed his eyes as he looked at Delmont, "You're here to beg me, aren't you? But what do you expect me to do for you since you have such a bad attitude?"

Delmont immediately gave in. Why was it so difficult to take advantage of Victor?

"Victor, do me a favor. I know you can do it." Delmont became serious when he went down to the business.

Victor smiled playfully and thought of what he said just now. He took the opportunity to make a condition, "This year, I will hold a wedding with Eden no matter how difficult it is."

Delmont was angry again, but Victor finally said something he liked to hear.

"If you don't hold a wedding, my family will let Eden come back and live with us. For her, the status which goes with being a wife is important. She is framed and becomes the hot topic online all day long. Didn't you see the news today? How could she become a mistress?"

Victor rubbed his nose. Couldn't Delmont understand what he was talking about?

He said it so directly, but he didn't understand.

"I didn't say I wouldn't hold a wedding ceremony." Victor made it clear. He didn't want to be wronged.

"Then did you go to my family to propose a marriage?" Delmont was not happy at all.

Eden had never lived in the Clement family since they found her, and Victor took her away from them.

The Clement family failed to take care of Eden in the past years, so they could only make it up for her with money.

Victor's eyes darkened. He needed a chance to do that.

"Brother."

Delmont was shocked. Victor had never addressed him like this, and he was very flustered at the moment.

"Just say it." He looked at Victor seriously as well.

"You came to me because you want me to save Adrienne, right?"

"How do you know that?" Delmont swallowed. He had never told anyone about his relationship with Adrienne.

Eden had made a few discreet inquiries with him, but he didn't say it.

"I can help you, but you can't make things difficult for me when I go to the Clement family to propose a marriage at the end of the year." Since Delmont was not smart, it was better for Victor to make it clear.

"These are two entirely different things. She's my younger sister. How can I sacrifice her happiness?" Delmont looked very unwilling.

Victor gritted his teeth in anger, "Eden is with me. Can't I give her a happy life? Delmont, in this world, I am the only one who can make Eden happy."

"Humph, you are such arrogant." Delmont thought about it, and Victor was right.

"Alright, if you can help me save Adrienne, I won't make things difficult for you. However, you should prepare a lot of betrothal presents. My younger sister can't be wronged." He had to make things clear.

"Okay, go down to have dinner now. Give me half an hour, and Adrienne will be safe and sound. But as your younger brother-in-law, I have to remind you something."

"What?" Delmont looked at him eagerly.

Chapter 1753

Victor stood up and looked at him playfully, "Delmont, if you chase after a woman so slowly, I'm afraid you won't be able to get married and have children for the rest of your life."

"Victor, you curse me."

Victor was stunned.

Why was Delmont so stupid?

"You are hopeless."

Delmont was dumbfounded. Wasn't he miserable enough?

"What do you mean?" Delmont was unconvinced.

Victor touched his forehead and felt that he'd better make it clear to him. Otherwise, Delmont really couldn't get married. If Grandma Clement followed tradition, his wedding would be delayed again.

"After you have dinner and leave here, call Adrienne. Tell her how poor you are, and your relationship will develop faster."

Delmont was taken aback.

Victor said, "Try to let her take you in."

Wyatt frowned. This idea seemed to be good, but would Adrienne take him in?

Half an hour later, the three of them finished the midnight snacks.

Victor gave a basket of red bayberries to Delmont, "I've solved the problem for you. You can go there now."

He asked Brian just now, and Adrienne had gone back.

"Oh!" Delmont cast a glance at them. How could he pretend to be miserable before his beloved woman?

Should he pretend to be lonely, sad and poor?

Should he tell Adrienne that he was the unluckiest person in the world?

Should he say that he had been driven out by his grandma?

Well...

No!

He had no way to say these in front of Adrienne.

Delmont walked out of Victor's villa. Looking at the bustling night scene, he was at a loss. Where should he go?

By the way, he once bought an apartment near the company, didn't he? It had been decorated, but he had not moved in.

He had not told his family about it. Back then, there was a discount, so he bought the apartment with a lower price.

No! What if Grandma Clement found it out and got sick out of anger? She was old, and she couldn't be mad and fall ill.

Just as Delmont was about to leave, his phone vibrated. Victor sent him a message.

"Don't let the Simpson family find that you are with Adrienne. You will have a chance to announce your relationship after a period of time."

Delmont looked back, only to see Victor standing in front of the French window on the second floor and looking at him.

He couldn't see Victor's expression clearly, but he always felt that Victor was saying, "Good luck!"

"Alas!" Delmont could only pick up the phone to call Adrienne.

"Hello? Delmont." Adrienne's voice sounded a little hoarse.

"Adrienne, have you been released? Victor said he would save you in half an hour."

Adrienne asked, "Did you go to see Victor?"

"Yeah! He is very powerful in River City. When you're in trouble, you can ask for his help."

His words left a glow in Adrienne's heart. He went to see Victor in order to save her.

He cared about her very much.

"Delmont, you don't have to worry about me. I've been released, but I don't want to return to the Simpson family. Now I'm in my apartment. Do you want to... come here?" Adrienne asked in a low voice.

Delmont was stunned. He really wanted to stay with her.

"Adrienne, now I want to tell you something." Delmont was very nervous. He wanted to tell her the truth.

Whether he and Adrienne could be together or not, it depended on his following words.

Adrienne was somewhat nervous when she heard that.

"Delmont, say it."

"Adrienne, I was driven out by my grandma because I don't have a girlfriend. She said that if I couldn't have a girlfriend, she would never let me go home."

Adrienne was taken aback. Why did she feel that Grandma Clement was so cute?

Delmont remained silent. He was the real pitiful one.

Suddenly, neither of them spoke. Only their breathing and the sound of the wind could be heard on the phone.

"Adrienne..."

"Delmont..."

They said at the same time.

Adrienne said, "Delmont, you say first."

"Adrienne, I'm penniless now."

Adrienne was stunned. In order to let Delmont get married, Grandma Clement was really hardhearted.

"Delmont, come to my apartment."

Delmont froze. The evening breeze blew past his ear, and it was very cool. Adrienne's words touched his heart, making him ecstatic.

"Adrienne, I..."

"I'll send you the address. Come here." Adrienne interrupted him.

"Oh, okay."

After he hung up, Adrienne sent him the address.

In the evening, there was no traffic jam in River City. Half an hour later, he arrived at Adrienne's house. It was a maisonette with unique decoration. It only belonged to Adrienne, and it was very warm. It was big enough for the two of them to live.

"Adrienne, why did you move out?" Delmont was a little puzzled. She had never mentioned the Simpson family to Delmont.

Her family had made use of her, so she could move out reasonably.

She was disgusted with that family, especially after she knew that her father was with Dahlia and sent her a villa and the shares of the company. She didn't want to live there anymore.

His father would never be generous to his children, but to his mistresses outside.

"I can live in peace and freedom alone, so I moved out." Adrienne let him sit down.

She didn't want to tell him about those disgusting things in her family.

"These are red bayberries picked by Eden. I remember that you like red bayberries as well."

Adrienne looked at the fresh red bayberries and smiled. "Do you remember that? On one occasion, I really wanted to eat red bayberries, but it was not red bayberry season. You bought me canned red bayberries, and I ate it very happily." Adrienne's bright eyes were filled with pleasure.

Back then, they were crazy and sweet.

Delmont smiled bitterly, "Of course I remember it. Not long after you ate the canned red bayberries, you left."

He looked for her crazily for three years, but unfortunately, he didn't find her.

Her brave decision and bold actions made him desperate. After she left, he was about to have a nervous breakdown.

Looking at him, Adrienne thought of what had happened in the past, and her feelings were complicated, "I'm sorry, Delmont. The reason why I left you was that I thought you were an irresponsible man."

Delmont was dumbfounded. Was this the reason why she left him back then?

"Ha-ha..." Delmont was so angry but he laughed.

"Adrienne, couldn't you feel my heart? Couldn't you feel my sincere love? How many six years we have in life?" Delmont looked at her in a daze. He had thought of tens of thousands of reasons, but he didn't expect the truth to be like this.

Was this how she thought of him back then?

But could he blame her? He should blame himself. If he hadn't been so self-abased, he wouldn't have given her such an illusion.

Adrienne was rendered speechless.

Yeah, they had missed each other for so many years just because of such a simple reason.

Their youth and the love she wanted was ruined by her.

The two of them were silent. Adrienne's phone suddenly rang, breaking the quiet atmosphere.

Chapter 1754

"I'll answer the phone call first." Adrienne saw Barrett's phone number.

She picked up the phone and went to the balcony to answer it.

Delmont didn't just stand there. He went to wash the red bayberries.

"Hello?" Adrienne's voice was very apathetic.

"Have you... been released?" Barrett's voice was a little shocked.

Why had she been released? Who was helping her?

Words couldn't describe how painful Adrienne's heart was when she heard that.

"Shouldn't I be released?" Her voice was extremely cold, and her question was sharp.

Barrett was stunned. He did not seem to understand Adrienne very much.

When his other daughters were acting coquettishly in his arms, Adrienne just stood aside and watched them indifferently. She was as lofty as her mother, and her personality was very unpleasant.

"Adrienne, now Simpson Group is in a mess. Tomorrow morning, you must go to the company to deal with the affairs of the investors. The gate of Simpson Group is about to be torn down by them. Those people go too far. Why didn't they act like this when they made money?"

Adrienne knew that Simpson Group had been summoned for a meeting, and the share prices took a sharp tumble. The investors could not stand it and made a scene in Simpson Group.

The result was entirely predictable. No, it was a part of Victor's plan.

"Aren't you clear about what you've done? What's more, you've never regarded me as your daughter!" Adrienne said angrily.

She had never been happy since she was a child, because she had such a selfish and cruel father.

The years when she was with Delmont were the happiest days in her life.

"Adrienne, what are you talking about? How can I never regard you as my daughter?"

"Adrienne, the butler said that you moved out. Where do you live? Are you used to living there? How about dad buying a new house for you?"

"You have to deal with the affairs in the company properly. Now you are the only one that our family can rely on."

Adrienne sneered. Barrett thought too highly of her.

"You want to sit idle and enjoy the fruits of my work, don't you? You registered me as the legal representative of the company. Isn't it because you want to sacrifice me at any time when something goes wrong?"

Barrett lost to Victor because he valued money too much. They attached great importance to profit and never put the money in her bank accounts. That was why she could be released so soon.

From all aspects of view, Barrett was blinded by greed. How could he care about her?

"Adrienne, you really misunderstand me." Barrett's voice sounded very sad.

However, Adrienne was not touched at all.

He was blinded by benefits and was enchanted by women. Did he know what familial love was?

"I'll go to the company. Don't call me again." Adrienne said and hung up the phone.

Turning around, she saw Delmont holding a plate of red bayberries and looking at her quietly.

He was very tall. His bangs were slightly messy, which made his well-defined features look very gentle. The apartment was very big, but it seemed to have become small because of him. The way he looked at her was always so tender and affectionate.

Delmont raised the plate in his hand, "Adrienne, eat the red bayberries. They're very sweet."

"Okay!" Adrienne walked over and felt warm in heart. The uncomfortable feeling seemed to have vanished in an instant.

Delmont picked up a red bayberry and fed her in a natural way.

"It's so sweet. Where did Eden pick it?" Adrienne took the plate and ate the red bayberries on the sofa.

Delmont sat next to her, "In the farm. Adrienne, feed me one."

Adrienne blushed slightly, "You're not disabled. Why should I feed you?"

"We fed each other before, didn't we?" Delmont looked at her with a slightly aggrieved expression.

Adrienne's eyes flashed. She lowered her head and said, "Delmont, we... have broken up." He had not said that he wanted to be with her again.

She... had been waiting for him to say it. Women were just so affected sometimes. Since he hadn't asked her to be with him again, she really couldn't treat him as her boyfriend.

Delmont was stunned. Were they not lovers?

He liked her so much that he could do anything for her.

He was unwilling to give up, but he couldn't win her heart when he tried his best. No one could understand this kind of mood.

Every night, he dreamed of her frowns and smiles. He once kissed her lips and stroke her eyebrows. He knew how sweet she was.

Thinking about this, Delmont said uncontrollably, "Adrienne, let's get married."

Adrienne's heart trembled violently.

Delmont looked at her quietly. Under the light, her features were exquisite, and her skin was fair and smooth. She was mature and charming. His Adrienne had always been so beautiful.

After a long while, Adrienne came to sense from shock. She smiled tenderly and said, "Delmont, you haven't started to pursue me yet."

"Ha-ha..." Delmont chuckled with joy.

Adrienne blushed instantly and only lowered her head to eat red bayberries.

"Adrienne, we're in a relationship now. I didn't break up with you back then." At that time, only she said that she wanted to break up, and he didn't agree.

"You're shameless." Adrienne glared at him. His smile was very gentle, and his smiling eyes were very bright.

"Adrienne, we've been dating. From now on, Miss Simpson and I have officially become lovers." How could Delmont not know what she was thinking?

Only then did Adrienne grin. She fed Delmont a red bayberry.

"Is it sweet?" Adrienne's lips were stained with some red bayberry juice.

"Yeah, but you're sweeter." Delmont smiled wickedly and kissed her.

.....

After resting for another two days, Eden finally went to the company.

What Paula had done did not spread in the company. People who did not know thought that she had resigned.

People who knew about it didn't mention it to others. Of course, this was Victor's order.

Even Dean didn't dare to mention Paula's name in front of Eden.

Some of the things that Eden was concerned about had been dealt with.

Originally, she wanted to test Danielle, and she had known the result. Victor took back her design drafts. Danielle's copy was exactly the same. If it weren't for the fact that it was hard to copy some of the details, even she would think that it was Danielle's own design.

Therefore, no one had leaked the design drafts of Alwynn Group. The only possibility was that Danielle had copied her design and sent it to Dahlia.

Eden sat lazily on the swivel chair and looked at the design drafts on the screen casually, sighing in heart. Danielle really surprised her.

She was so good at copying.

After Victor came back from the morning meeting, he saw her staring at the computer in a daze.

"Honey, what are you looking at?"

Eden said with a cunning expression in eyes, "Handsome guys."

Victor's face instantly darkened.

Dean, who followed him in, was speechless. He shouldn't have come in.

If Eden made Victor unhappy early in the morning, they would have to suffer all day long.

"Let me see who it is!" Victor walked over with a vicious face.

At this moment, Dean really wanted to run away.

Chapter 1755

Victor looked at the computer and saw that it was just a design draft.

He was stunned and looked at Eden's smiling face. Then he realized that he had been fooled.

Seeing that Victor was not as angry as he thought, Dean was confused for a moment.

"Humph!" Victor snorted coldly and returned to his seat.

Dean was taken aback. Had Victor forgiven Eden?

"Good morning, Mrs. Alwynn!" Dean greeted Eden with a smile.

Eden glanced at the sun outside the window. It was very bright, and it was almost noon. She smiled, wondering why Dean said good morning to her at this time.

"Good morning..." She elongated the words.

Dean was a bit depressed. He was scared out of his wits when he saw the big sun outside the window. It was almost noon!

Sure enough, he would so stupid after he got scared.

Eden tidied up the office and was ready to go to the cloakroom on the eleventh floor.

Dean thought of the message his friend sent him that day and looked at Eden, asking, "Mrs. Alwynn, my friend will hold a clothing display show recently and wants to invite you to do a live stream on the show and talk about your design inspiration these years. If you're interested..."

"She is not interested." Before Dean finished his words, Victor refused him on behalf of Eden.

Eden was speechless. She was... quite interested.

Selling clothes by doing live stream was a popular way. She was going to the eleventh floor to match clothes.

Margret had invited her many times. She didn't have time, and she happened to be free that day.

Dean was rendered speechless and smiled flatteringly, "Mr. Alwynn, just forget it."

"Yeah, I didn't hear anything just now." Victor sat in the chair casually and glanced at Dean with cold eyes.

Eden was so beautiful that he had had many rivals in love, but Dean actually wanted her to do a live stream. He was not observant at all!

The corners of Dean's mouth twitched. How dare Victor lie before Eden? He was bolder and bolder.

Eden did not say anything. Although Victor did not like it, she would change his mind slowly.

"When will the autumn fashion week begin? Have you decided it?" This year, she designed the autumn collection with various of colors, and the colors were much brighter.

She was very looking forward to it.

Victor said, "Not yet."

"Okay, I'll go to the eleventh floor."

"Go there after lunch. I've asked someone to send the meal here." Victor's tone was serious, and he looked at Eden threateningly with his gloomy eyes.

Eden could only stand up Margery again.

She sat back quietly.

Dean was dumbfounded. What the hell was going on? Why did Eden become so timid before Victor?

"Dean, do you have nothing to do? Get a room in Marriott Hotel for me tonight. Mrs. Alwynn and I will go there. Let them prepare lobsters."

Hearing this, Dean understood. Victor had annoyed Eden here, so he wanted to do this to let Eden forgive him.

Victor wanted to coax her after angering her, and Dean liked this way quite much.

However, he had never eaten lobsters before.

"Okay, Mr. Alwynn, I will do it right away, but tonight you have to talk about a project in O Country..."

"Get Lucian to do it." Victor felt disgusted as long as he thought of Ivan.

He did not want to cooperate with her anymore, but she started to pester him.

"Mr. Ronen said that you're in charge of the project all the time, and he asked you to do it in person. He said that he had to go home to coax his daughter." Dean braced himself to say and then stood there with his head lowered.

Victor said, "He has a daughter, but so what? He doesn't even want to work because of his daughter."

Victor was so angry. Lucian and Anson seemed to have been possessed after they had children.

How could they dote on their children without money?

Eden looked at Victor's mad face. He didn't like to attend dinner parties all the time.

"Victor, let's not go to Marriott Hotel tonight. I'll go socialize together with you."

"No, you can't go with me. You can't drink." Victor refused her request.

Eden was taken back. Did she have to drink when she got there?

"Victor, you have changed." Eden looked at him with her arms crossed, feeling a bit disappointed.

Victor was stunned. Looking at her annoyed face, he didn't know why she said so.

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that you lack confidence in yourself." Eden looked at him with a smile.

Victor frowned and glanced at himself. He was satisfied with himself. How could he not have confidence?

Next to him, Dean smiled and said, "Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn means that the project is not won by drinking, but by our products."

Victor glared at him. He had just thought of this. How could Dean say this earlier than him?

Being glared at by him for no reason, Dean was speechless.

"You go there for me." Victor suddenly said.

Dean felt so bitter. Just when he thought that Victor might ask him to do this, Victor really said so.

"Okay, Mr. Alwynn I'll go there." Anyway, he could make money. That women would be very disappointed when she saw him..

She would understand what Victor meant. If he went through such a big project, he would buy another big house.

He wanted to buy as more houses as he could.

Besides, he and Victor were too busy that day, so Victor went to see that woman in person. After he came back, he scolded him and cursed that shameless woman. He could only listen to Victor complaining silently.

Many people were afraid of Victor, but Victor actually complained to him, which made him have a strong sense of accomplishment.

After lunch, Eden went to the eleventh floor. Margret went out to deal with something, so Eden went directly to the display room. The most fashionable clothes this season were displayed on this floor, and there were all kinds of ornaments.

She would complete the fashion week together with Margret.

Eden thought of the jewelry she had bought in Lemmon Ctiy, and she hadn't used them yet. She chose a few overcoats and went to the jewelry exhibition cabinet.

After she sent the jewelry back, they had been put here.

In fact, she could open a jewelry store, because she had bought a lot.

Eden looked around and took out a few unopened necklaces. She put the clothes on the plastic models and matched jewelry and bags for the clothes.

She needed a belt for the coat, so she trotted to find it.

After a while, she felt a little hot and wiped the sweat. It was really hot these days.

She wore a long white shirt and rolled up the sleeves, revealing her slender and fair arms. With a ponytail, she looked fresh and capable.

After fastening a milky white belt, she smiled with satisfaction, "Good, it looks neat and fresh."

There were a lot of strong women, and the clothes of practical and specific characteristics were their favorite.

After matching several sets of clothes, Eden went to see other jewelry. When she bought them, she liked them very much. They were very fashionable.

She picked up a colorful pearl necklace and gesticulated it in front of her chest. The pearl necklace was suitable for matching the thin sweater.

"Who are you? What are you doing here? Who allowed you to touch the things here?" A sharp voice sounded from behind Eden.

Chapter 1756

Eden turned around and saw a woman standing not far away and looking at her. The woman was wearing a black tight-fitting dress. She was well-shaped and pretty.

She was slightly confused. This woman was very strange. Was she a new model here?

While she was thinking about this, the woman twisted her slender waist and walked towards her. She looked at Eden arrogantly and intensely, as if Eden was a thief.

"I'm asking you. Why don't you answer me?" The woman looked at Eden with a frown.

Eden looked at her with amusement. But why did she feel that the woman's face was a little familiar?

Had she seen the woman before? But she had no impression.

She asked, "Are you a new model here?" She was tall and slim, just like a model.

"No, I am the new live streamer." The woman smiled snootily, and her eyes were full of arrogance.

"Oh!" Eden nodded. The live streamers could make lots of money, and she was qualified to be proud. However, her attitude was a bit disgusting. She would be friendly when she did live stream, but she was so impudent at this time.

Alwynn Group needed a healthy environment. Who hired such an overweening woman?

"You are not a model, and you don't wear heavy makeup, so you're not a live streamer, either. Which department are you from? These jewelry are very expensive, and you can't touch them at will." The woman said proudly again.

Eden was not tall enough to be a model, let alone be a live streamer. She wore simple makeup on her face, but she was really beautiful and charming.

Eden was a little depressed. Most of these jewelry were bought by her, and they were expensive. Except for her and Margret, others really could not touch them casually.

It was lunchtime. Everyone went out to eat, and no one would hear their conversation. Moreover, the door was closed, and the sound insulation was so good that no one could hear them outside.

Eden nodded calmly, "Yeah, we can't touch it casually. I have to be very careful while holding this pearl necklace. It's expensive and unique."

Eden took the necklace off the model cautiously and gesture it before her chest again. She was reluctant to put such a good thing here, but she had not worn many of the jewelry Victor had bought for her, so she gave up this idea.

"Since you know this, why do you still take it? Can you afford it?" The woman's contemptuous eyes were full of sarcasm.

Eden's eyes turned gloomy as she said in a cold tone, "You're new here."

"So what? Everyone is having lunch now. You must have sneaked in."

Eden was speechless. What an idiot! Did she have to sneak in?

No one told this woman that very few people could come in here? Only two or three people were allowed to come in.

"What about you?" Eden asked her, "How did you get in? It seems that you're not qualified to come here." Eden said casually and began to find another set of clothes.

"Humph! Of course I can come in. This company is owned by my classmate. I can go wherever I want." The woman's words made Eden slightly surprised.

"Your classmate? Who?" Was it Victor?

This woman was about the same age as Victor.

"Mr. Alwynn. Do you know him? We are college classmates." After Maisy Dean finished her words, she looked at Eden with a strong sense of superiority.

"Oh!" No wonder Maisy looked familiar. She had seen Victor's graduation photos. It was easy to remember beautiful women.

Maisy frowned. Why was Eden so calm?

She was Victor's classmate, so the live streamers here didn't dare to treat her coldly.

As soon as she returned to this country, she became a live streamer here with her own strength.

She heard that Victor had got married, and she didn't know which woman was so lucky.

These days, she had been thinking about meeting Victor by chance.

"What are you doing? Go out now! Do you want me to call the security guard to drive you out? Please go out." The clothes here were so beautiful and she could match them as she like. She came to change a set of clothes. Then she would go out to do live stream.

Eden had matched a set of clothes while she was speaking.

The exhibition of autumn collection was very important, but her favorite was the summer collection exhibition, because the display looked more pleasant to the eye.

"Didn't you hear what I said?" Maisy's face darkened. Eden actually did not show her any respect.

When she said that Victor was her classmate, everyone would be polite to her.

Eden looked at her, frowned and gradually became unhappy, "You're really noisy. I don't like being disturbed when I work. You go out first. For Victor's sake, I won't blame you for coming here today." Eden knew that she came here to change her clothes secretly.

The clothes she wore were not enough to set off her temperament.

No, Victor never forgave those who broke the rules. She couldn't let go Maisy this time.

Listening to Eden's calm tone and unconcerned words, Maisy was annoyed. Who did Eden think she was? She was so arrogant.

"Hey! How snooty you are! You won't blame me? It is me who won't let you go." Maisy approached Eden. Seeing how peaceful Eden was, she was confused in heart.

She was so relaxed. Could she be an executive here? No, it was impossible. She must be a thief.

Otherwise, she wouldn't have chosen to come here at this time.

"Humph, I'll call the security guard now and let him come in. If something is missing here, you'll have to be sentenced for eight or ten years."

Eden frowned. This woman not only had a sense of superiority, but also thought too much of herself.

She wanted to spare her, but she was too aggressive.

Eden's phone rang. It was Victor calling her.

She answered the phone.

"Honey."

"Yeah!"

"We're going to Marriott Hotel tonight, and we won't go home. Do you have anything to take with you?"

"No, there is everything in the hotel. You just need to take me with you."

"You are my honey. I want to give you the tenderest love every day."

Eden was speechless. He was more and more ebullient.

"I have something to do now. Let's talk when we meet."

"Okay, honey, love you!" Victor hung up happily.

Dean, who came in to report work, was so envious.

Oh, he didn't want to be single at all.

Was it his fault to be single?

Eden did not want to talk to Maisy anymore, otherwise, it would be a little difficult for her to get off work on time.

Recently, Simpson Group was in trouble, and Victor became idle again.

She looked at Maisy and no longer showed her mercy, "Only Margret and a few executives can come in here. The live streamers are not allowed to come in. The next door is the special lounge for you. Even the bathroom is close to your lounge. You come here to change your clothes, don't you?"

Maisy's face suddenly turned pale. How did Eden know this?

"You thief! How dare you say this? I came in because the door was open."

Eden was speechless. She had never seen such a stupid person.

Those who had a sense of superiority were always silly in some aspects.

Eden glanced at the necklace on her neck and said slowly, "The crystal necklace on your neck is taken from this place, isn't it? Who gave you the courage to take the jewelry here?"

She was obviously questioning Maisy, but she was so calm and made Maisy very embarrassed.

Chapter 1757

"Oh! How dare you teach me a lesson!" In fact, Maisy was a little bit uneasy. She was not sure who Eden was. Eden was right. Ordinary people were not allowed to come here.

During the fashion show, models could only wait outside, and the designers would send them the well-matched clothes.

Alwynn Group was very big, and half of this floor was like a shopping mall. There were all kinds of clothes and jewellery here, and each of them was very expensive.

She was so arrogant because she was Victor's classmate. But in fact, she had never even seen Victor.

She used all her connections in order to be a live streamer here, because she knew Victor was impartial.

Eden shook her head slightly. In her own company, she did not want to argue with the employees. She said in a deep voice, "Put down the necklace and go out."

"What if I don't put it down and don't go out?" The more Maisy listened to her, the more displeased she became. Eden even asked her to go out first. Who the hell was she?

"Well, since you wear the necklace here without permission, I have no choice but to call the police." Eden's tone was calm. She was well educated, so she didn't want to quarrel with such a vain woman. It was not worth it.

"Ha-ha... I'd like to see who the real thief is." Maisy took out her phone and pretended to make a phone call.

Watching her holding the phone, Eden laughed. Victor was really a good excuse. This woman must have bullied others just because she was Victor's classmate.

"I want to know if Mr. Alwynn knows that you're a live streamer here." Eden pretended to be afraid and asked.

Since Maisy wanted to show off her superiority, she might as well cooperate with her.

If one of Victor's good friends worked as a live streamer here, he would tell her about it.

Obviously, Victor did not know that this woman was working here.

Seeing that she was scared, Maisy became prouder. The expression on her charming face was extremely insulting.

If she could make use of Victor's identity to gain a firm foothold here, she would have a better life in the future. After all, it was hard to work in this society, and it was easy to be ostracized no matter which company she worked in.

The truth proved that although she was a newcomer, she was quite popular here because she was Victor's classmate.

"Of course he knows it. Otherwise, would I dare to say this to you? Listen to me carefully. I will use the clothes and jewelry here every day in the future. There is no need to report to Margret. I will tell Mr. Alwynn about it in person."

The corners of Eden's lips twitched. That was just her wishful thinking! Did she think that she owned this company?

With a smile, she put back the pearl necklace carefully and reminded her slowly, "You are Victor's classmate, so I didn't say anything to blame you. But since you are so stubborn, I have to deal with it according to the regulations in the company. This rule is made by me. Those who come in without permission will be warned for the first time, but they'll be fired if they dare to do it again. It seems that this is not your first time to come in. There is a lot of security cameras here. I can show you the surveillance video personally."

Maisy's face suddenly turned pale. Were there security cameras here? She didn't know it.

Wait a minute. This woman called Victor by his name just now.

She was...

Just as Maisy was about to ask, Eden picked up her phone and called Margret. After ordering something, she went out.

Eden just told her that a new live streamer wore the necklace in the display room without permission.

Watching Eden leave, Maisy was stunned.

"Humph! Do you think I'm afraid of you?" Maisy glanced at the time and found the suitable clothes for herself quickly.

Eden was about to take the elevator when she heard a familiar voice from the fire exit. She walked over lightly.

"Maisy, where are you? I came down to meet you."

"How can you go to the display room? If you are found out, you will be expelled."

"What's more, we got a new mission. They ask us to seduce Victor. Our mission is the same. The one who wins Victor's heart first will get the money. You know how much it is."

"Okay, come out quickly. I'm already on the eleventh floor."

After that person hung up the phone, Eden stood at the corner quietly and didn't move.

Hearing the footsteps coming from the fire exit, she entered the lumber-room aside.

When Danielle came in, she happened to be closing the door.

Then, she immediately sent a message to Victor and asked him to come here, saying that she wanted to talk to him about something.

She narrowed her eyes. Paula had left, but Victor's classmate came to work here. Barrett was really despicable.

However, she was not afraid since Maisy colluded with Danielle.

After receiving Eden's message, Victor did not dare to neglect it and went to the eleventh floor in a hurry.

As for Eden, she went to Lucian's office with a glass of juice. She asked Lucian to show her the surveillance video on the 11th floor.

Watching Eden drinking her fruit juice leisurely and watching the video with a smile, Lucian couldn't but complain in his heart, "Women's hearts are so unpredictable."

Eden even wanted to test Victor.

"Eden, you may suffer tonight if Victor knows it." Lucian looked at her with a faint smile.

Eden blushed and glared at him, "If we don't tell him, how would he know about it?"

"So, this is the secret between us. Aren't you afraid that I will threaten you with this?"

Eden was speechless. Sure enough, they were all cunning businessmen. He even wanted to threaten her with such a small thing.

She smiled wickedly, "Mr. Ronen, if you need any help, I will naturally give you this chance."

While they were talking, Victor had reached the eleventh floor.

Victor came to the eleventh floor but didn't see Eden.

While he was confused, he saw a coquettish woman walking towards him.

Eden squinted at Victor's expression. His expression was very indifferent. It was obvious that he didn't know Maisy, and he was still looking for her.

Lucian asked, "Eden, why do you want to do this?"

As soon as Lucian finished speaking, they saw Danielle in the video.

In the company, Danielle dressed very purely, like a college student.

Eden's gaze was sly as she said, "Someone believes in her good luck, so I might as well give her a chance."

Lucian was stunned, Would Victor be pissed off if he heard these words?

He was looking forward to the result!

"Mr. Alwynn." Danielle greeted Victor with a smile. She held both of her hands in front of her belly, looking very obedient.

"Victor, long time no see. I'm your classmate, Maisy!" Maisy looked at Victor excitedly. She was more confident because she met Victor after changing into a set of nice clothes.

However, Danielle became a bit unhappy.

Ever since she left Windsor Villa last time, she had never seen Victor again. She couldn't get through to Paula anymore, which made her a little flustered.

Victor looked at Maisy and asked with a frown, "Who are you?"

His cold voice made Maisy very embarrassed.

Eden could feel how awkward Maisy was through the screen.

Chapter 1758

"I'm... Maisy, your college classmate." Maisy explained with an awkward smile. She kept clenching her hands and then releasing them, looking very nervous.

Victor glanced at her. Although she looked familiar, he couldn't remember who she was.

"I don't know you." Victor said honestly. He really didn't know her. He had graduated for many years and didn't remember what his classmates looked like.

When he was in college, he rarely went to school. At that time, he was working in Jotham Alwynn Group, and he was busy with his work and study. When he had free time, he was busy looking for Eden. How could he have time to pay attention to the people and things around him?

Maisy was stunned. F*ck! Why did such an embarrassing thing happen to her?

They were gradually surrounded by some people. Those models had come back from lunch, and the way they looked at Maisy changed when they heard Victor's words.

Maisy behaved so arrogantly as soon as she came here, just because she was Victor's classmate. She had got a slap in the face, and they all sneered in heart.

Eden squinted at the scene in the video, thinking that Lucian and Victor were also college classmates.

"Lucian, do you know her?"

Lucian shook his head slightly, "There were many girls chasing after me, but I don't remember any of them. I've seen her information, but I can't recognize her."

Eden was speechless. Was he showing off his charm?

Therefore, Lucian did not know this woman, either.

No, it turned out that Lucian had poor memories!

"Victor, I am Maisy. We studied in the same department. Think about it carefully. On one occasion, there was an exam. You didn't come to the class, so you borrowed my notes."

After that, she looked at Victor expectantly.

Victor frowned. He really had some impression of Maisy.

He asked in a cold tone, "Do you work here?"

Hearing this, Maisy looked around. Some female streamers had heard this, and they were looking at her sarcastically.

Maisy wished that she could run away immediately.

"Yes, I've just entered the company." Maisy's voice was very low. It was really embarrassing for her to work in Victor's company.

After she came back from abroad, she learned about a lot of companies, and she was the most satisfied with Alwynn Group.

Her life aboard in a mess. But she was lucky to meet someone who was willing to help her, so she came back

That person helped her enter Alwynn Group, so she had a chance to stand here.

"Mr. Alwynn, what's wrong?" Margret walked over.

Victor looked at her, "Nothing. I'm looking for my wife. Didn't she come here to see you?"

"I didn't meet her, but she told me that there was something urgent in the office, and she went back first. She'll come here again tomorrow." In fact, Margret did not tell him the truth. Eden sent her a message to tell her what had happened between her and Maisy, and she came here to help Eden.

"Did she go back?" Victor was confused. What was Eden trying to do?

"Yeah!" Margret nodded. She looked at Maisy, and her eyes suddenly turned stern.

She was dressed in a black fashionable outfit, and her makeup was neat, which made her look even more dignified.

"Maisy, someone told me that you went to the display room secretly."

Maisy's face suddenly turned pale. That woman actually told Margret about it.

She was really fearless.

"I... "

"You're actually wearing this dress! Do you know who this dress is designed for? Mrs. Alwynn designed it for her friend." Margret was surprised. Why did Maisy choose this dress?

Eden designed this dress for Abigail. There would be a movie festival in a few days, and Abigail would attend it with the actors in her company. Eden designed the dress for her specially.

Victor looked at the dress on Maisy's body. The style was simple but eye-catching, and it was long and elegant. The color was very beautiful, and it could set off Abigail's temperament very well.

Eden sensed something wrong in the video, "Lucian, why is this woman's dress a little familiar?"

Lucian slowly turned his head to look at her and explained, "This is the dress you designed for Abigail. It was delivered here yesterday. Didn't Margret tell you about it? She went to the factory yesterday and took it back together."

"Ah..." Eden gritted her teeth in anger.

"How bold she is! Abby is going to wear the dress in a few days." Eden felt as if she had shot her own feet.

She just wanted to see a good show, didn't she? But this woman actually wore Abby's dress!

"Lucian, people really can't do bad things." She muttered unhappily.

Lucian smiled and did not reply to her.

On the eleventh floor, Victor said seriously, "Abigail will wear this dress in a few days."

"So, Mr. Alwynn, tell Mrs. Alwynn about it..."

"No, she doesn't have time. She's on vacation now." Victor knew what Margret wanted to say and interrupted her.

Margret was at a loss.

Everyone was watching a good show!

Maisy knew that she had made a big mistake.

The dress was put on the table, and she was attracted to it the moment she opened the box. Its color was more beautiful than any red she had ever seen, so she couldn't help but wear it. She planned to return it immediately after she did the live stream. There were tens of thousands of clothes in the room. Who would know that she took out this dress from the room?

Unexpectedly, this dress was designed for someone specially.

She was doomed!

Victor looked at Maisy with his eyes darkened. She didn't look gorgeous in the dress, but Abigail would definitely be so beautiful when she wore it. "Abigail is obsessive about cleanliness. She won't wear the dress that someone has worn."

"What should we do?" Margret looked as if she was about to cry.

"How would I know what you're going to do? It happened here, and it's none of my business. Think of a way to solve it on your own and don't disturb my wife. She'll be very busy in the next few days."

His voice was extremely evil and cold-blooded. After that, he left.

Victor looked around, but he still didn't see Eden. She asked him to come here, but she left. How strange it was.

"Victor, whether you believe it or not, I'll tell Eden that you bully me if you don't help me!" Margret shouted at Victor's back.

Anyway, with Eden here, Victor didn't dare to do anything to her.

Everyone was dumbfounded. Margret was so bold, but they envied her relationship with Eden.

Victor stopped and looked back. He was amused by Margret's annoyed face, "Margret, you are threatening me. However, I'm not afraid."

"Really?" Melissa squinted at him.

Victor raised his eyebrows and said nothing.

"I know a very interesting place. I will send a message to Eden about it later. She wants to go on a trip recently." Margret looked at Victor proudly. She often stayed with Sean, and she knew exactly what Victor cared about the most.

What Eden wanted was simple. She should either drive Maisy out of the company or deal her a head-on blow at the first encounter. Otherwise, the employees on the eleventh floor would learn from Maisy.

Although she was busy, she heard about what Maisy did in the past few days. She asked Eden to come here because she wanted to know about the relationship between Victor and Maisy.

Chapter 1759

To her surprise, Victor didn't know Maisy at all.

Victor suddenly turned around. He moved slowly, but he looked so aggressive and commanding, which made everyone present a bit nervous.

Feeling the oppressive atmosphere, Margery felt uneasy for no reason. But when she thought of Eden, she became confident instantly.

Eden protected her all the time and regarded her as her own younger sister.

"Margery, you are threatening me." Victor gritted his teeth, "Sean taught you to do this, didn't he?"

"Don't... mock my future husband! He didn't teach me anything." Margery was a little anxious. Why did he suddenly mention Sean?

"Woo-woo... Margery, you finally admit that I am your future husband. I have been chasing after you for so many years. Now I really want to cry!"

"Margery, honey, I love you!" Sean suddenly appeared in the crowd and walked to Margery with tears in his eyes.

Margery was speechless. What a coincidence!

Victor was stunned. He didn't want to witness public display affection here.

He actually helped Sean!

Everyone was taken aback. They didn't expect thing to become like this.

"Victor, don't go. This woman is wearing the dress of Anson's wife. You have to deal with this matter. Your wife is busy, but my wife is very busy as well. She will be busy for the fashion week for a long time." Sean was full of confidence at this time.

Margery finally admitted his identity. No matter what, he had to help his own wife.

Victor was dumbfounded. He was threatened by this fake couple.

He narrowed his eyes slightly and said with a charming smile, "What do you want me to do?"

Margery looked at him, "Maisy is your classmate."

"So what?" Victor still looked at Margery.

"So she is your classmate!" Melissa emphasized the word "classmate". If he cared about Maisy and didn't fire her, she would be very embarrassed, wouldn't she?

Victor said, "I don't know her."

Margery sneered in heart. This was the answer she wanted.

"Mr. Alwynn, then... I'll have to..."

Maisy was extremely depressed. Why was she so unlucky?

Victor was a b*stard! She had made it to him so clearly, but he actually said that he did not know her.

Before Margery could finish her words, Maisy gritted her teeth and said, "I'll pay for it."

Margery looked at her with a smile and said, "Do you think you can afford to pay for it? Mrs. Skye is going to wear this dress on the movie festival. But you not only sneaked into the display room, but also wore her dress secretly. According to the regulations in the company, those who enter the display room without permission should be expelled."

"No, you can't fire me. I don't know that I couldn't go into that room. I've just entered the company. Ignorance can be forgiven." Maisy defended herself. She wouldn't spare the woman she met in the room!

Margery looked at her, "Who wants you to pay for it? Now this dress is worthless. Abby is such a noble person. Can she wear the dress that has been worn by you?"

"I... only wear it for a few minutes. I will take it off right away and send it to a dry-cleaner's. Nothing will be delayed." Maisy was not stupid. Having a lot of working experience, she knew that Margery said that on purpose.

She was making things difficult for her.

When the woman left, she called Margrey.

But she really did something wrong.

"It's easy for you to say. You've flouted the rules in the company. Now you're fired." Margery looked at her coldly.

Maisy had impure motives, and she could not be kept in the company.

Maisy was furious. Could Margery fire her at will? Who did she think she was?

"I'm willing to pay for it, okay?" She was so angry that she almost cried. Victor was really ruthless!

Seeing this, Danielle gritted her teeth and said, "Director Hubbard, how about me making another dress? Maisy is a newcomer, so it's understandable that she doesn't know about the rules."

"As for the dress..."

"The fabric of this dress is very special, and it's very valuable. There is no such fabric in River City now. How can you make a new dress?" Margery looked at Danielle. Why did she speak for Maisy?

Danielle was rendered speechless and didn't know what to say.

She turned to look at Victor, feeling a little wronged.

Victor frowned, and his cold eyes were filled with impatience. It actually took them such a long while to deal with such a trifle.

He said, "Margery, you can do whatever you want."

After that, he strode away.

"Victor, I am your classmate!" Looking at the back of Victor, Maisy shouted, unwilling to give up. She was trembling, feeling that she had been humiliated. Why was it so difficult to live in this world?

Although Victor was her classmate, he didn't make things easier for her!

Victor suddenly stopped.

Maisy suddenly saw a glimmer of hope.

Victor looked at her with a smile, but his eyes were filled with apathy. His charming smile gradually turned mocking, and there was a hint of hostility in his eyes.

"Don't say that I am your classmate outside. I don't have such a shameless classmate like you. It will disgrace me." Victor turned around and left under Maisy's surprised eyes.

He looked in the direction of the elevator and smiled. Eden was really naughty.

Everyone gulped in disbelief. Victor was too heartless.

They all looked at Maisy with disdain. She was fired after being arrogant for a few days.

She asked for it!

Maisy bit her lip and glanced at the mocking eyes of the people around her. Then she changed her clothes reluctantly and left.

Everyone once again felt Victor's ruthlessness. He and Maisy were classmates, but he said that he didn't know her without hesitation.

Eden was slightly stunned as she watched what was happening. Things were beyond her expectations.

Margery knew her too well or...

"Are you satisfied now?" Lucian looked up at Eden playfully.

Eden was deep in thought. Hearing his words, she lowered her head and glanced at him, "I'm quite surprised."

"Because Victor didn't help his classmate?" Lucian smiled teasingly. Her dazed appearance was pleasing to the eye.

"No." Eden shook her head and told him her ideas.

Lucian's eyes flashed when he heard that. After a while, he said slowly, "I have poor memories."

Eden was stunned. She didn't say anything. Why did he admit it so directly?

Eden smiled, "I'm leaving."

"Okay! I will investigate it. But you should be careful when you go out alone." Lucian told her seriously. These women were very vindictive. Generally speaking, those who could be bribed by the Simpson family were all immoral and greedy for money.

"I see. I will be careful." Eden smiled and walked out.

In fact, she wanted to test Victor as well. Sure enough, Victor didn't let her down.

She returned to the office happily and hummed a song with joy.

She was in a very good mood.

However, what about Abby's dress?

It was not too late, and she would design a new dress for her the next day.

"Are you so happy?" Victor's deep voice came from behind. Eden froze. Why did she feel like being caught on the spot?

Chapter 1760

Eden turned around. Victor stood behind her lazily and looked at her with a bright smile.

She smiled sweetly, "I'm in a good mood indeed."

Victor walked to her and rubbed her head, saying in a distressed tone, "Were you bullied?"

Eden shook her head. She was not bullied. After all, it was not easy to bully her. She wanted to fight back, but since Maisy was Victor's classmate, she should give Victor a chance to show himself.

Maisy came here to seduce her husband, so she would not show her any mercy.

No matter when, Barrett and Paulina always thought that seducing Victor with beautiful women was the fastest way.

It was indeed a very useful way to deal with others, but it didn't work on Victor. However, they didn't give up and kept having a try.

The Simpson family tried every mean to defeat her and Victor, but she did not need to take them so seriously. Danielle could not do anything big alone.

"That's why I asked you to bully her for me. Isn't she your classmate?"

If it weren't for Margery's insistence and Victor's words, Maisy wouldn't have left so quickly.

"So how will you reward me? I've bullied her for you." Victor followed her with a wicked smile, his tall shadow shrouding Eden.

Eden poured a glass of water and took a sip. Then she looked at Victor with her big bright eyes wide open, "What reward?"

Victor was stunned. She acted dumb again. Why was she so cute?

He really wanted to kiss her jelly-like lips.

"Isn't that Margery's credit? Aren't you ashamed to take credit for what she did? You're the president!"

Victor was speechless. How could Eden say such words?

Eden smiled, "Look at you. You are really good at imagining. I called Margery and asked her to deal with it. I let you go to the eleventh floor because I wanted you to pick me up, but I waited for you for a long time and you didn't come. So I came back on my own."

Victor didn't believe her words at all.

"You really wanted me to go down and pick you up?" Victor narrowed his eyes and looked at her. She actually learned how to fool him.

Seeing that he did not believe her, Eden smiled and nodded, "Yeah, I missed you after staying there for a while, so I asked you to pick me up. When you go pick me up next time, you must run faster."

Victor was taken aback. He felt that he had been tricked.

But she said that she missed him, which made him feel so proud.

Time flew by. A few days later.

The situation of the Simpson family gradually went out of control. The investors found that Simpson Group didn't develop any project. They besieged the gate of Simpson Group and asked them to return their money.

It was impossible to solve this problem.

The investors saw the situation clearly and made a scene at the gate of Simpson Group all day long.

Adrienne was extremely busy.

After Simpson Group was in trouble, the people in her family all hid like turtles. She dealt with the work in the company alone.

When she had something she didn't understand, she asked Victor for help. A month later, the situation was settled.

Listening to Victor's advice, she gradually took control of Simpson Group.

Barrett was puzzled by her outstanding achievement.

In his plan, Adrienne would definitely suffer a loss this time.

Back then, after he failed in business, he got rich again with the help of Adrienne's mother. After he went abroad, he won the favor of his other wives with his excellent appearance. He became the richest man in the country, but his dignity was threatened by Adrienne's mother.

When Barrett was young, he was very handsome. When he had nothing, he met Adrienne's mother.

Adrienne's mother fell in love with him at first sight. Her family was rich. To Barrett who had just gone bankrupt, it was a timely help. Although he did not love her, he abandoned his beloved woman and married Adrienne's mother.

In Barrett's heart, the people who had killed his beloved women were Phillip and Adrienne's mother. After all, they met each other that year, which caused his beloved woman to jump off the building and die.

Therefore, he didn't like Adrienne and his eldest son, Morgan. They were ostracized in the Simpson family, but he turned a blind eye to it.

Adrienne and Morgan knew how heartless he was. They had been living humbly in the Simpson family all these years.

They had only one idea, which was to get back everything that belonged to their mother.

All these years, Adrienne had been enduring in the Simpson family. Victor's appearance was an opportunity for her. She could take back everything that belonged to her mother with his help.

This was because Simpson Group was rich. Although it was in trouble, it still existed. The bad things that some executives in the company had done were found out, and they became the scapegoats.

Adrienne secretly gave the investors some money to pacify them.

Of course, she got the money from the shares of the executives. In this way, she could kill two birds with one stone. She could comfort the investors and get rid of Barrett's henchmen at the same time.

She immediately arranged her confidants to enter the company. In just two months, she became the biggest shareholder of Simpson Group.

In just two months, Simpson Group came back to life. Although they had suffered great losses, this was the result that Adrienne wanted the most.

In the past, she always thought that it was impossible to take back things belonging to her mother.

Thinking about it at this time, as Victor's elder sister-in-law, she benefited the most from this matter.

In the office on the top floor of Simpson Group, Adrienne was dressed in a red suit, looking very commanding and imposing. She stood in front of the French window and looked at the high-rise buildings in River City, smiling pleasantly.

In the Simpson family, the more Barrett thought about it, the stranger he felt. Dahlia dressed in sexy clothes and sat next to him.

Seeing that Barrett was thinking about something, she did not disturb him.

It had been two months since she rumoured Eden and Irving on the Internet. What surprised her was that she still worked in R. K Group as usual, and Irving acted as if nothing had happened. Everything was normal.

The rumour did not cause any real harm to Eden.

She and Victor still had a sweet life.

She couldn't sit still. In fact, she wanted Irving to be regretful. Unfortunately, Irving didn't care about her at all. Nothing was more humiliating than this.

"Who's helping her?" Barrett muttered to himself.

Hearing his words, Dahlia came to sense.

Only the butler knew the relationship between her and Barrett, and Barrett's other wives did not know about it. Every time Dahlia came here, Barrett met her in the study.

"What did you say?"

Barrett looked at Dahlia, but the butler came in at this time.

He walked in hurriedly with a serious face. Barrett frowned. Did something bad happen again?

He was too old to bear anymore blow. This time, his status in River City had suffered a disastrous decline.

It was extremely difficult for the company to be floated on the stock market.

"Master, bad news." The butler's voice was trembling.

Barrett's heart skipped a beat, and his eyes became gloomy and sharp, "What's going on?"