

Gluey Love 1811

Chapter 1811

"Eden, get up. Are you hurt?" Victor helped Eden stand up.

Eden's wrist was painful, but she couldn't care about this and pushed Victor, "Go and chase him. I'm fine. I'll go to see Candace. Nothing bad can happen to Adonis again."

As Eden said this, she limped into the ward.

Victor went downstairs angrily and chased after the man.

He said on the phone while running, "Lucian, hurry up! The man who wants to hurt Adonis has escaped through the fire exit!"

After that, he immediately called the security guard.

After Lucian hung up, Amelia had not woken up. He went to the door and asked the nurses to keep an eye on Amelia. Then he ran out of the ward immediately.

When Eden arrived at the ward, only Candace was lying quietly on the bed. All the tubes and monitors that were attached to Adonis had been removed.

"Candace..." Eden called her loudly for a few times, but she had no reaction.

"Adonis!" Eden cried out in surprise. Looking at Adonis's slightly opened eyes, she was surprised and excited.

"Adonis, are you awake? Do you know me?" Eden looked at him happily and pointed at herself. Even her fingers were trembling.

"Candace..." Adonis was still very weak. He heard Candace's scream just now. He wanted to find Candace and tried his best to save her. However, he had no strength, and he couldn't see anything clearly. He couldn't see Candace no matter how hard he tried. He used all of his strength to open his eyes, only to find that he couldn't move on bed.

He did not have the strength to get up or speak.

"Adonis, don't worry. Candace is fine. I'll call the doctor over right now. You have to hold on and not sleep. Understand? You have to see Candace and your daughter. Your daughter hasn't been named yet. We're waiting for you to wake up and name her." Eden was so excited that she burst into tears.

Adonis finally woke up!

"I won't... sleep. Candace... Eden..." Adonis was very anxious.

Eden rang the emergency bell.

Both of Dr. Conley and Anton would hear it.

"Adonis, don't worry. The doctors will come soon." Eden looked at the monitors and didn't know how to operate them.

Fortunately, Adonis was conscious. He knew Candace and her.

Ha-ha...Eden was so delighted that she wanted to jump up. He had been the pain in everyone's hearts. They would think of him almost every day.

Adonis, the straightforward and kind man, was actually very cute.

"Candace..." Adonis was still very worried.

He looked at Eden with pleading eyes.

"Adonis, Candace is right next to you. There's only one wall between you two. She just fainted. Anton will be here soon. Don't fall asleep. I'm going to see Candace now."

Adonis blinked his eyes.

Only then did Eden go out and look at Candace. She had recovered, and her face had become much rounder.

"Candace." She patted Candace's face tenderly, but Candace didn't respond.

Candace's head was tilted. Eden looked at her carefully and found that her face was red and swollen. She fainted because the man beat her.

"What's wrong?" Anton and Dr. Conley rushed over in a hurry.

"Adonis woke up. Have a check-up for Candace first. She passed out." Eden was a little disturbed. Adonis had woken up because something had happened to Candace.

If Candace was ill, Adonis would get worse.

"Dr. Conley, go see Adonis. I'll have a check-up for Candace first."

"Okay!" They took action separately. The two assistant doctors helped them aside.

Eden suddenly thought of the child.

"Where is the child?" Eden searched the room but didn't find the child.

"What should I do?" Eden's feet hurt a little, but she didn't have time to think about it and looked for the child everywhere.

Just as Eden was about to run out, she saw a rope reflected on the glass opposite. It was swaying on the window.

Eden turned around and ran to the window.

Looking down, she saw the little baby lying quietly in a bamboo basket. She was not asleep yet. At this time, she was sucking her hand and looking around in confusion with her big eyes.

Seeing that she was fearless, Eden heaved a sigh of relief.

The man was simply too heartless! He even wanted to hurt a child!

Eden swallowed nervously.

"Baby, please don't move, okay? I'll come and save you right away." Eden reached out but could not get the rope.

She turned around and looked at the room. The clothesline pole was not far away, and she could use it to hook the rope.

When she was about to turn around, she saw the rope falling down.

"No!" Eden cried out in surprise. Looking at the windowsill, she got out of the window without hesitation. Quicker than words could tell, she grabbed the rope when it was about to fall and circled it around her wrist promptly.

However, she lost her footing and fell out.

"Ah..." Eden thought that she was about to die.

However, she was pulled back halfway.

Raising her head, she saw Anton grab her wrist.

Eden was so scared that she had broken in a cold sweat. She gasped for air, and her face was ashen.

"Mrs. Alwynn, don't move." Anton swallowed uneasily. If he was a bit late, the consequences would be unimaginable. He was afraid that Victor would kill all of them.

Anton's assistant came over to help.

However, Eden was carrying the rope in her hand, and the baby was at least three to four floors away from her. She could hear the baby crying vaguely.

If she lifted the rope, the child would definitely get hurt.

Moreover, she couldn't see the child.

Eden leaned closely against the window sill, and Anton held her tightly.

Eden clutched the rope in her hand with all her strength.

"Anton... I can't see the child. There's no way I can bring her back safely. Ask someone to go downstairs. We need someone reliable."

Anton glanced at his assistant. This young man and his brother were admitted together two days ago and became the assistants of him and Dr. Conley. Their grades and qualifications were particularly good.

"Mrs. Alwynn, Dr. Conley said that they were introduced by you. Can you trust them?" Anton glanced at his assistant.

Eden thought about it and understood.

They were Doctor Roerig's two sons.

"Mrs. Alwynn, I am Doctor Roerig's eldest son, Wael Roerig." The young man was very thin and tall. Wearing a pair of glasses, he looked very quiet, and he looked like Doctor Roerig.

Eden looked at him, "Wael, Doctor Roerig is a good man, so I trust you. You must bring the child upstairs safely."

Wael nodded solemnly, "Thanks for your trust. I'll go downstairs right now."

At this time, Victor and Lucian had caught the man downstairs and handed him over to the security guards. They turned around and were about to go upstairs.

Victor seemed to have sensed something. He looked up and saw Eden standing outside the window. She was holding a rope. There was a bamboo basket at the bottom of the rope. From his angle, she would fall down at any time.

Chapter 1812

"Eden..." Victor was so scared and stared at her thin figure intensely.

Lucian looked up, and he was startled as well, "Go help Eden. The child should be in the bamboo basket. I'll save the child."

Victor had run toward the building.

"Eden, please be safe and sound." Victor felt that he was on tenterhooks every day.

Eden was drenched in cold sweat, and her sweat-stained hair clung to her face. The hand she used to grab the rope happened to be the injured hand.

The basket was heavy, so the wound was torn apart. Blood dripped down the rope.

Eden looked at Anton, feeling that her hands were about to be torn apart.

"Anton, I can't hold on any longer." She was worried that the child might fall down, and her lips were trembling.

Anton knew that she was very fragile at the moment. On the one hand, she was worried about the child. On the other hand, she was about to lose her strength. Moreover, her injured hand was bleeding.

Her body was weak. Besides, her hand was bleeding and she was frightened. She had reached her limit.

"Mrs. Alwynn, wait a little longer. Wael should be here." Anton grabbed her tightly with both hands.

Dr. Conley hadn't come out, which meant that Adonis was in danger.

Nothing bad happen could happen to any of them.

"Anton, do you have a girlfriend?" Eden felt that she was about to faint, so she had to divert her attention.

Anton was stunned and then shook his head, "No, I'm waiting for you to introduce someone to me. The girls you know are all kindhearted."

"Of course. Well, you are so nice and good-looking. I really want to introduce someone to you. We have a lot of beautiful girls in our company. I'll choose one for you."

Eden smiled weakly. She could not hold on any longer. She could feel the blood flowing out of her palm quickly.

"Mrs. Alwynn, then I'll thank you first!" Anton looked at her and smiled. She was very brave. If it weren't her quick reaction just now, the child would have fallen down.

That would be a fatal blow to Candace.

"Oh! What is going on?" When Azariah and Candace's mother came in, they noticed that something wasn't right.

"Mrs. Alwynn, you can let go now. I've got the baby." Wael shouted downstairs.

"Ah..." Eden immediately released the rope, but she had no strength and fell down.

Azariah and Leona walked over in a hurry. They only felt that a gust of wind had blown over. Anton pulled Eden, and she was instantly suspended in the air.

Eden fell down all of a sudden by gravity and slipped from Anton's grasp. He could grabbed her palm.

When Anton was in panic, someone suddenly ran to him and Eden was lifted up.

"Eden!" Victor immediately pulled up Eden.

He really didn't dare to imagine what he would see if he came a little later.

They carried Eden into the room cautiously.

After saving Eden in danger, Victor held her tightly and didn't let go of her. His clothes were stained with Eden's blood.

Neal's arms were numb, but he had no time to rest and asked Victor to put Eden on the sofa.

He immediately bandaged Eden's bleeding wound.

"Eden... Well..." Azariah was dumbfounded, not knowing what had happened.

"Baby! Where is the baby?" Leona cried because she couldn't see the baby everywhere.

Azariah began to search for the child everywhere.

"Madam, don't worry. The child has been saved. She will be carried here soon." Anton said while treating Eden's wound.

"Oh!" Leona nodded. She was relieved to see that Candace was fine.

The baby fell asleep, and Candace was in a good condition, so Azariah and Leona went out to buy daily necessities together. It would be easier for them to carry things back together. However, something bad happened as soon as they left.

Soon, Lucian and Wael came up with the child. The child was all right, and she was about to fall asleep. At this time, she was sucking her thumb with interest.

Leona took the baby from Lucian's arms and held her tightly.

"Baby, you scared me so much." Leona couldn't help kissing her granddaughter several times.

"Adonis, you're awake!" Azariah's pleasantly surprised voice stunned everyone.

Especially Lucian. He didn't even know that he had burst into tears.

What did he hear just now? Had Adonis woken up?

Lucian went to see Adonis.

Eden was still treating her wound. The wound on her hand looked very frightening because she had dragged the rope with great strength. It was full of blood, and blood streamed down her hand.

Victor felt so painful as if his whole body had been cut by a knife.

Anton looked at Victor, "Mr. Alwynn, hold Mrs. Alwynn's hand tightly. I have to clean her wound now. It may hurt a lot."

Victor nodded. As expected, as soon as Anton dabbed iodine on the wound, Eden woke up and her hand shrank back out of pain.

Victor's eyes misted with tears, "Eden, be obedient. Hold on for a while."

His voice was very gentle. Eden moved her hand slightly and then stopped.

These days, she had just recovered. Her family did not tell her that Grandma Clement had fainted and asked Victor to take care of her.

Grandma Clement had been discharged from the hospital, and she was recuperating at home. Victor had planned to take her to visit Grandma Clement the next day.

But something bad happened to her again.

Victor had never felt at ease.

If he didn't send her here and let her go out alone, he really didn't know what would happen.

Thinking of the scene just now, he had a lingering fear.

"Alright, remember not to touch water and use the ointment normally. She can't do anything with this hand."

"Okay!" Victor nodded.

Anton gave Eden an intravenous drip before getting up to see Adonis.

Adonis had just woken up, and he was very weak. After hearing that both Candace and his daughter were fine, he closed his eyes in relief.

When Dr. Conley came in, he found that something was wrong. Someone had added lethal drug to Adonis's intravenous drip, and Adonis was dying, so he immediately started to rescue him with his assistant.

"How's Adonis?" Anton asked as soon as he came in.

Dr. Conley was old, and he had been concentrated on rescuing. At this time, he was in a state of prostration.

"He was rescued successfully. He'll be fine when he woke up." He wiped the sweat from his forehead and sat on a stool feebly.

"Fortunately, the drug and our intravenous drip don't repel. It won't cause any serious harm to his body after the drug is dissolved. I'll make a prescription later. After having an intravenous drip for three days, he can eliminate toxins. When Mr. Church wakes up again, he'll be all right."

"Dr. Conley, thank you so much!" Azariah looked at Dr. Conley with tears.

"What the hell is going on?" Lucian looked at the scene before him angrily. Someone actually wanted to kill Adonis and the child.

Dr. Conley shook his head, "We came here half an hour ago and gave Mr. Church a check-up. He had been all right, and we didn't find anyone suspicious."

Anton looked at him, "Haven't you caught the man? As him and you will know what's going on."

Chapter 1813

Lucian's eyes were full of hostility, "Arrest him for two or three days before interrogating him."

That day, Candace fainted and Eden got hurt again. Everyone was mentally and physically exhausted.

When Amelia woke up, it was dark outside.

She slowly opened her eyes and smelled the disinfectant. Then she knew she was in the hospital.

Moreover, she was in a senior ward in the hospital owned by Alwynn Group.

Her whole body ached. She closed her eyes and rested for a while. Then she moved her legs and felt as if she had been beaten hard. She was sore and uncomfortable all over.

Thinking of Lucian's crude actions, she shivered subconsciously.

"Lucian." Her voice was hoarse.

As soon as Lucian came out of the bathroom, he heard Amelia's husky voice.

"Amelia, are you awake?" Lucian walked over excitedly.

Amelia nodded.

"Are you feeling well now?"

Amelia glared at him, and her pale face turned red because of shyness, "I feel uncomfortable all over, and my waist is very sore. Help me up."

With a guilty face, Lucian took off his shoes, sat beside her and helped her up cautiously. Then he held her in his arms.

He reached out and massaged her waist gently.

"I'll massage it for you. Take a nap after you take a bath later. You'll be fine in two or three days."

Amelia nodded shyly. After a while, she raised her head and looked at his bright eyes. Under the crystal lamp. He looked so handsome.

"How are you? Are you all right?" Amelia's big eyes were filled with worry.

Lucian lowered his head and kissed her dry lips. After a long while, he let go of her reluctantly, "Thanks to you, I'm fine."

Lucian stroked her dry lips with tenderness and deep affection.

He had been moistening her lips with wet cotton swab, but her lips were still dry.

"Amelia, are you thirsty?" His tone was full of guilt. If he had been more careful, she wouldn't have suffered so much.

Amelia nodded with a wronged face, "I'm hungry and thirsty."

She pointed to her chest and said, "Bring the trash can over. I've got a tight feeling in my breasts."

The baby did not drink breast milk, and the milk overflowed many times. Her clothes were stained with white milk.

"Lucian, you want me..." She could not get pregnant at this time. Even if she wanted to give birth to two more daughters, she had to wait for at least two years.

Lucian knew what she was thinking, "Don't worry. It won't happen. Just rest assured."

Although he wanted two more daughters, he would not take her life as a joke.

He had long been aware of this.

Amelia breathed a sigh of relief.

"You scared me. When I went in, I saw your scarlet eyes. You don't even know how frightened I was at that time." Amelia hugged him tightly.

On the way to the hotel, she really didn't know what to do.

If Eden didn't encourage her, she would have given up.

No, she would not, because she loved him very much.

Amelia closed her eyes gently and smelled his pleasant smell.

"Amelia, thank you. If it weren't for you..." If it weren't for her, he didn't dare to imagine what would have happened to him.

"You should be more careful in the future. By the way, what happened later? How did you deal with the bad woman?" Amelia gritted her teeth and punched him.

Lucian chuckled as he looked at her fierce but lovely appearance. He could not help but pinch her cheeks tenderly, "Don't worry. She has been sent to jail."

Seeing that she was still weak, he did not tell her everything.

"Humph! I'm just afraid that you would be softhearted and let her go."

"How could it be?" Lucian looked at her with a frown.

"Why not? The relationship between your two families is not ordinary." Amelia did not forget this.

"I don't have a close relationship with them. Deal with your breasts first, or my daughter will starve." Lucian changed the subject.

During this period of time, he once squeezed her breasts and found that there were knot in it. He consulted the nurse and was told that they had to squeeze out the milk.

Amelia blushed and didn't argue with him.

"What about the babies? Are they obedient?" She was a little worried and wanted to go back later.

"They're all right. Grandma is at home. The nannies take good care of them. I called grandma half an hour ago. Both of them are very well-behaved."

"Then let's go back later."

Lucian's attitude was firm, "No, you need to have an intravenous drip tomorrow. Just stay here and rest. You'll be tired if you go back and forth. Adonis has woken up. I'll take you upstairs to see him later."

"Really?" Amelia melted into tears in an instant. She knew Lucian had been guilty, and his biggest wish was that Adonis could wake up.

"Yes! Something happened at noon. I'll tell you about it slowly later. Let's eat something now." As he said this, he began to unbutton her shirt.

Amelia immediately slapped away his hand and asked, "What are you doing?" Her big eyes were full of caution.

Lucian looked at her red face with a faint smile, "I did it several times when you were asleep. I was afraid that you would feel uncomfortable. Besides, have I never seen your body before?"

"Is it the same? Now we're in the hospital. I'll do it by myself." Amelia still felt embarrassed.

Lucian looked at her playfully, "Is it different?"

"Of course!" Amelia grabbed her clothes.

Lucian grinned blinked his gentle eyes, "Tell me. What's the difference?"

Amelia felt that he was more and more shameless, "I feel awkward."

Lucian said casually, "I'm not awkward at all. What are you so affected?"

Amelia went berserk, "What do you mean?"

"Nothing." Lucian flicked her forehead lightly.

"Stop it. I'll help you. You'll soon feel better." Lucian said seriously.

Amelia stopped struggling and quieted down.

On the carved real wood bed in the classic yard, Barrett and Dahlia were flirting. Barrett's phone rang suddenly, which interrupted them.

Feeling a little annoyed, Barrett let go of Dahlia and answered the phone, "Is it done?"

The man was silent for a while before saying, "No, he was found and caught, and he failed to take out the child."

"You good-for-nothings! Aren't you very capable in ordinary times? You can't even steal a child!" Barrett smashed the phone in anger.

Dahlia got close to him, "Chairman, don't be angry. It's not good to affect your health. We have plenty of time to deal with them. Although we fail this time, we will definitely succeed next time."

Barrett calmed down when he touched her smooth skin, "I see. Don't care about them. Let's continue."

"Ha-ha..." Her coquettish laughter was flattering.

Leilani stood in the courtyard and looked at the room with a vicious face.

This morning, she received a message from a stranger, saying that Barrett was in a relationship with Dahlia. She did not believe it and followed Barrett out. At this time, she couldn't accept the fact at all.

Chapter 1814

When Eden woke up, she was already at home. She opened her eyes suddenly and sat up quickly.

Her nervous heart relaxed again when she saw the familiar environment.

"Where's the child?"

Victor had been staying with her. He immediately held her in his arms and said, "Eden, don't worry. The baby is fine. Thanks to you, she is safe and sound."

Eden looked at him and blinked her big eyes gently. She was a little confused, but she was so adorable in Victor's eyes.

Victor held her more tightly.

"Why am I here?"

Victor was stunned. Couldn't she tell that she was at home?

"Then where do you want to go?" Victor looked at her with amusement.

Eden looked at him with grievances, "Shouldn't I be in the hospital?"

"Your wound has been treated. Anton said that you didn't have to stay in the hospital, so I took you back."

"Oh!" Eden seemed to realize something. She looked at him and blinked her big eyes innocently.

She was too attractive, and Victor looked at her with horny eyes, "Eden, are you hungry?" If she was not hungry, he would do what he wanted.

"Yep, I remember that I haven't had dinner yet." Eden felt wronged again. Why had she been so unlucky recently? She always got hurt.

All of a sudden, she hugged Victor tightly. Thinking of the scene in the hospital, she was still scared.

"I thought I would never see you again. I was so afraid." Eden threw herself into his arms and shivered slightly. She was fearless at that time. Even she herself didn't understand why she had such courage.

"Honey, I won't do anything dangerous again. I can't bear to leave you."

"Ha-ha..." Victor couldn't help laughing, "I don't believe what you say. Although you say so, you won't think so when you're really in trouble."

Victor let go of her, lowered his head and rubbed his forehead against hers.

"Sit down for a while. I'll bring you dinner." Victor helped her lean against the bed and went downstairs to get the food.

Eden suddenly remembered that she still had many questions in heart.

As soon as Victor came in, she put on the soft slippers and ran to him, asking, "Victor, is Adonis all right? What about the baby? Did Amelia wake up? Did you catch the man?"

Victor put the food on the table and looked back at her with amusement. His starry eyes were bright, and his lips looked very attractive, "You asked me so many questions all of a sudden. Which one should I answer first?"

"Answer all of them!" Eden looked at him eagerly. Was it difficult to answer her questions?

Victor handed her the chopsticks before saying, "The baby is fine now, and Adonis has woken up. It's a coincidence. It was because Candace had an accident that Adonis got stimulated and woke up."

"As for Amelia, she has woken up as well, but they didn't go home. They're still in the hospital."

"We've caught that man, but we have no time to interrogate him. There is no need to call the police. I will deal with this matter in two days."

If his guess was right, the man went to kill Adonis in order to take revenge on him.

"I'm finally relieved." Eden glanced outside the window, "What time is it?"

"You've slept for one day and one night. Now it's around twelve o'clock at noon."

"Oh!" Eden stopped talking and lowered her head to eat.

Victor ate together with her. Eden ate the millet congee quietly, thinking about Edith again.

She glanced at Victor several times cautiously, and then lowered her head to eat again.

Victor couldn't help but ask her, "Eden, just say what you want to say."

"Oh!" Eden looked at him, "You told me to say this."

Victor was speechless.

"I want go out alone for a while today."

Victor reached out to rub her head and said helplessly, "Didn't you say you wanted to see Edith? Is this what you want to say?"

"Yeah! How do you know that?"

Victor smiled, "When we went to the hospital, you told me about it. If you're not tired, I'll send you there after lunch. You'll go there secretly if I don't send you, so I'd better go there together with you."

"Then let's go now." Eden immediately got up, looking very anxious.

Victor looked at her with a frown and pulled her to sit down, "Don't be in such a hurry. Eat more. I'll send you there after I wash the dishes. Edith won't run away."

"Oh!" Eden sat down like a child and ate obediently.

Victor looked at her helplessly. He knew how stubborn she was.

But in his opinion, no matter Edith was really so mean or she had been used by others, she was wrong indeed. She was an adult, and she should know what she could do and what she couldn't.

Everyone had to pay a price for their mistakes.

Victor made an appointment to meet Edith at two o'clock, and they set off after one o'clock.

Eden did not let Victor go in with her. She followed a policewoman to see Edith.

Edith did not expect that the person who came to see her was Eden.

They sat face to face. Without delicate makeup, Edith's face was not as perfect as before.

She looked very haggard, and her eyes were listless as she looked at Eden hatefully.

"Why are you here? Are you here to laugh at me?" Edith was still arrogant and lofty. Those who grew up in wealthy families were all like this.

But in Eden's opinion, such pride was meaningless. They were proud just because they were rich.

They had money and thought that they lived better than others, so they had a sense of superiority.

Those who didn't have money felt inferior indeed!

Eden looked at her quietly. Then she said neither slowly nor quickly, "Why should I laugh at you? I don't think it's something funny."

Edith did not speak. Didn't Eden look down on her at this time?

She thought her plan was flawless, but she failed in the end.

Besides, she failed so awkwardly, and she regretted it so much. She shouldn't have done that. She had ruined her life and broken her parents' hearts.

"Tell me. Why do you want to see me?" Edith did not want to waste her time.

She was in such a terrible state, but Eden was so glamorous. Such a difference made her want to cry.

"Why did you do that? I just want to know the reason why you wanted to give up your bright future and ruin my life. I was framed by you for no reason. You are not convinced, neither am I."

Edith's expression was reflected on Eden's clear eyes.

Her words touched Edith on her sensitive spot. She had asked herself many times why she did that so impulsively.

Why did she have to get Lucian? He didn't love her. No matter what she did, she wouldn't win his heart. Why was she so stubborn?

Chapter 1815

But he was Lucian, the man she had been loving since she was a child. She loved his indifference and courage, and she loved him because he could give up a lot of things for his dream.

Lucian could break off with his family for love, but she was not as brave as him.

But Lucian was so courageous. He sent his eldest brother to prison for Amelia.

She wanted to be with the one she loved, too. However, she was not as capable as Lucian.

These two days, she sat alone in the corner and thought for a long time. She was totally wrong.

Hearing Eden's question, she couldn't endure the grievances in her heart anymore.

"Eden, don't you know that? Didn't Victor tell you? The Ronen family has a good relationship with my family. Lucian and I grew up together. You grew up with Victor as well, but you got his love. Lucian doesn't like me at all, and I'm not convinced. My grades were not as good as his, so I went abroad for further study to match him."

"But when I came back from aboard, Lucian had met Amelia."

"Amelia was born in a poor family. How could she deserve to be with him? You know what? Lucian is not inferior to Victor. His grades were excellent. He has been outstanding since childhood, but he is not as arrogant as Victor."

"We used to be childhood sweethearts, and our families are well-matched. It's very nice and fair. I planned everything well, but I got nothing in the end. If you were me, would you accept the fact?"

Eden looked at her quietly. When she talked about Lucian, her dim eyes were filled with admiration and excitement that Eden had never seen before.

At this moment, Eden understood that everyone had an unforgettable lover in his heart, and everyone had the right to pursue his love bravely. However, Edith lost herself while pursuing her love.

Tears streamed down Edith's face, but she did not reach out to wipe the tears and just let them flow out.

Eden did not bother her. She sat quietly and waited for Edith to vent her emotions.

She must have been feeling very bad these days. Her face looked terrible, and she probably couldn't sleep well at night. She regretted it, so she cried so sadly in front of her.

After a long time, Edith stopped crying. She looked at Eden and blinked her tearful eyes, looking very pitiful, "Eden, in fact, the reason why I hate you is very simple. You and Amelia are friends. Amelia got to know Lucian because she was your assistant. This is the reason why I framed you."

Eden was speechless. Was it her fault?

"Edith, is that all?" Eden didn't believe it.

However, one would be out of control when he was overwhelmed by negative emotions.

Some people could kill a person because of a sentence. She had seen such a thing.

"What do you mean?" Edith looked at her.

Eden thought for a moment and said, "Have you been used by someone? Edith, your father said that recently, you always talked on the phone mysteriously. I don't think the reason you said just now is completely right."

Edith was shocked by how careful she was. She bit her lower lip lightly. Eden was right. It was because of that person that she had been sent to jail.

"There is such a person, but I don't know who she is. She can tell me all your whereabouts, and she knows everything about you."

"I knew you would come to the hotel together with Amelia that day, so I prepared the knife in advance."

The more Edith thought about it, the more she regretted it, "I... didn't think I dared to do that. That person said that as long as I could sleep with Lucian and you could be in trouble, Lucian would be with me. I was really too naive. My mind was in a mess because Amelia came back all of a sudden."

"I didn't think I was inferior to Amelia. Since she could get Lucian, so could I. Therefore, I did a lot of things uncontrollably."

"Eden, help me. I didn't mean to. I was just obsessed by my greed. I really regret it now."

She had planned everything for herself. Whether it was about her job or life, everything was nice and in order.

But she could not decide her marriage.

She didn't expect that Lucian would fall in love with Amelia.

When Eden walked out of the jail, the sun was still bright, making her feel very warm.

The sky was blue.

Edith said, "Eden, I'm sorry. Let me get out of here. I was used by someone."

She was silent.

After crying for a while, Edith seemed to have realized her mistake.

Why was she so silly? Her stupidity sent her to jail.

In the end, Edith smiled with relief and said, "Eden, thank you for coming to see me. When I'm released, I want to make friends with you. In fact, I don't have many friends."

Eden nodded. Perhaps when she once again met Edith, the straightforward and fearless woman, she would become better.

Although someone had instigated her to do those things, she was wrong indeed.

"Eden." Victor came over and looked at her disconsolate face.

"Oh, let's go home." Eden walked to the parking lot.

"Did you find out anything?" Seeing that she walked in a hurry, Victor knew that she was not in a good mood.

He was actually worried that Eden and Edith might have quarrelled with each other.

"Yes! My guess is right. She was made use of by someone, but she doesn't even know who that person is."

Eden suddenly felt that she should be responsible for Edith's mistakes. Who had made use of her?

Victor nodded. He had known the answer, but Eden had to meet Edith, so he could only take her here, "Brian has been investigating, but we can't find out the phone numbers that person has used. He only used those numbers once, so it's hard to find his whereabouts."

Eden nodded, "The reason why they tried to hurt Adonis is the same. Pay more attention to the things in company. Their purpose is to distract your attention. I don't know what they're going to do."

"I will. Let's go back first." Victor took her to the car. After fastening her seat belt, he drove away.

Eden's hand recovered after she lived in peace for a few days, and she could go to work normally.

As her assistant, Alyssa was quite capable. She was much more relaxed.

Occasionally, she would think of Paula. She had never asked Victor how he had dealt with Paula.

With Victor's character, Paula would not have a good end, so she did not ask and put this matter behind her.

"Miss." Seth walked in with documents in her arms.

Eden nodded slightly, "Is it something about Mr. Booth again?"

Seth nodded, "Yes, he asked if you have made up your mind. Locust Grove is actually a nice project. Dawson wants you to make your own judgment. That's what he said when I asked him."

Chapter 1816

Eden smiled. The pink coat made her face look tender and charming.

"Dawson and dad both trust me so much, so I really don't dare to make a decision all of a sudden. I have seen the house map and other maps."

"It will take us at least five or six years to perfect all the facilities. It can hold five thousand families. I don't think it's great even if we have excellent facilities."

Seth nodded slightly. She smiled, revealing two cute canine teeth and looking very gentle, "Miss, everyone thinks highly of this project. There are many developers in that area."

Eden smiled and said, "That's because there are less and less projects in the downtown area. Everyone is going to develop in suburbs. That's a good place for the aged. Except for this, I can't tell another advantage of it." She and her family might live in the palace built by Zaiden in the future.

Seth thought for a moment and said, "Why don't you have an on-the-spot investigation today? I asked Alyssa. You don't have any other things to do today."

Eden nodded, "Let's go there. Ask Anthony to drive here. We'll set off in ten minutes."

"Okay, I'll contact Mr. Booth. He should be there."

"Alright!" Eden tidied up the documents on the table and touched up her foundation.

Then she called Victor and told him she was going out.

Hearing that, Victor disagreed, "Eden, I'll arrive in ten minutes. I'll go with you. I don't have much work to deal with in the afternoon."

Eden did not refuse him. He would feel uneasy if he didn't follow her.

Moreover, if she went there with Victor, he would give her some advice.

More than ten minutes later, Eden and Seth went straight to the parking lot to meet Victor.

After they got on the car, Anthony drove away.

Eden leaned against the window and read the documents. A ray of sunlight shone on her. She looked gorgeous and charismatic.

Victor smiled softly and took the documents from her hand.

Eden looked up at him, feeling somewhat unhappy.

"Don't read until we get there. Reading in the car will hurt your eyes."

"Oh!" Eden did not argue with him. Since she couldn't outargue him, she didn't speak.

She understood the general situation, but she wanted to read it more carefully to avoid mistakes.

On the way, Seth explained what she didn't understand to her, and she was enlightened.

It was past four o'clock when they arrived. It was a little cold on the mountain, but she admitted that the environment here was really good.

Hayden was there. Seeing Eden, he was very happy and introduced everything to her in detail. Hearing that, Eden was moved, but she did not make a decision. She intended to go back and talk to Zaiden about it.

Victor had no objection. She could do whatever she liked. Anyway, he was rich. As long as she was delighted.

She didn't agree with Victor's opinion. Although they were rich, they couldn't waste money. She preferred to help people in need.

Hayden didn't urge her and let her think about it carefully. They had enough time.

At dinner time, Hayden wanted to invite them to dinner, but Eden refused. She wanted to visit Adonis in the evening.

They went back to the company and got off work directly. Victor took her to have dinner outside and then went straight to the hospital.

In the past few days, Eden paid attention to the people around her. But she hadn't found out the person who knew her whereabouts all the time.

It was impossible for Danielle to know her whereabouts at all times. She changed a new phone, so that person wouldn't know it by tracking her phone.

On the first day Eden went to work, she asked Dean and Lucian to search her office carefully to see if there were any bugs.

However, she was somewhat disappointed. They didn't find out anything.

Eden was completely dumbfounded. There was no clues.

She didn't cheer up until she arrived at the hospital.

Lucian came to see Adonis as well. They met in the ward.

Compared with the dull atmosphere in the past, the ward was particularly lively that day.

Azariah and Leona were like over the moon.

They could often hear their laughter.

"Hello! Eden, Victor, Lucian, come in and have a seat." Azariah was extremely happy.

Her son had woken up, and she had a daughter-in-law and a granddaughter. Her life was perfect. How could she not be glad?

Eden looked over. Her face was much ruddier, and she was in high spirits. She seemed to have become several years younger.

"Aunt Church, don't care about us and just sit down." Seeing that she was going to get the fruit for them, Eden let her have a rest.

"Oh, Eden, I'm not tired. I'm energetic all day long! Go talk with Adonis. I'll cut some fruit for you." Azariah was indeed in high spirits, and she spoke very vibrantly.

Candace was all right after she woke up, but a part of her back was swollen. After a few days of recuperation, she had almost recovered.

After they went in, they saw Candace sitting next to Adonis's bed.

Adonis looked at them and smiled, "Why are you here again?"

He seemed to be blaming them for disturbing him and Candace.

Eden noticed that Adonis was holding Candace's hand.

Lucian glanced at him and said with annoyance, "You should feel honored that we're here to see you. How dare you be dissatisfied?"

On the surface, Lucian looked calm, but deep in his heart, he was extremely grateful to Adonis who had woken up.

"No, I just feel that it's not the right time for you to come. In the past few days, many people came to see me. I don't have time to talk to Adalynn, and I haven't even had time to name my daughter."

In fact, Adonis was very happy, but he refused to admit it. After he became a vegetable, they did not give him up.

He heard from his mother and Candace that without Victor's research fund, he wouldn't have survived.

They were indeed best friends!

"But thank you for coming to see me. Especially Eden, thank you. Without you, my daughter would have had an accident." Adonis looked at Eden and said gratefully.

That day, he thought that he was facing death again after he woke up.

"It's okay. The best thing is that everyone is safe and sound." Eden smiled. Adonis had lost a lot of weight. He was bald, and his face looked more sharp-featured.

It was good that he was cheerful after he woke up.

"Guys, thank you for not giving me up. I can't walk very well now. Otherwise, I would definitely drink with you tonight." Adonis laughed with joy. The feeling of returning to life too wonderful. Life was short. He still had a lot of things to do.

He felt that in the future, he would cherish his life more.

Victor said, "Take a good rest. You're still weak now. I'm afraid you can't drink in the following one year."

"Ha-ha... Alright, I won't drink. Candace doesn't like me to drink."

Candace glanced at him with a blush, bowed her head and said nothing. She was easy to be shy. She didn't talk much and was always quiet.

They did not disturb Adonis any further. After staying there for a while, they went back.

Chapter 1817

Today Adonis felt much better. He had not felt tired at all since he woke up in the morning.

He used to fall asleep every couple of hours before.

He had been holding Candace's hands and never wanted to let her go.

"Candace, thank you!" He held onto Candace's hand and smiled gently. Tears welled up in his eyes.

He was right about Candace from the beginning.

"You have said this several times already." Candace's little face blushed, but she couldn't hide her joy. Since Adonis woke up, the smile on her face had never stopped.

She had waited for so long, plus that she was pregnant. It would be impossible for her to not think too much.

But she had already decided to be with Adonis, so she had to wait no matter how difficult it was.

"It's never enough no matter how many times I say it." Adonis was still smiling extremely gently. He had met countless women in his life, sometimes he would date more than ten women a month.

He knew they were all for his money. He had been humiliated and deceived by women, but he still refused to give up and still believed that he could find his true love one day.

When he met Candace, he realized that the feeling he had for her was so different from anyone else.

When she blushed, he would want to tease her more, but when she was angry, he would feel so guilty from the bottom of his heart.

Since he came back from abroad, he thought of her every day. He never seriously missed any woman before.

He normally would forget about the women he had dated straight away. But Candace was the only one that he remembered everything about.

When she said she wanted to come to visit him, he was so nervous. He really wanted to make sure that she would have a good time.

When she came, he tried his best to leave a good impression.

After hanging with her for a few days, he felt better and better about her, and his impulse to keep her here was getting deeper and deeper.

He remembered that day when they first kissed each other. They were at the beach that day, but the weather wasn't too good. When a big wave came, she didn't have time to run back, so she turned around and fell into his arms.

He still could remember the feeling he had when he first held her in his arms. It was a feeling of satisfaction and joy. He could even hear his heart pounding in his chest.

"Candace... I like you!" He blurted out.

Candace was a little shocked. She looked at him quietly with her big bright eyes for a long time. He could see her long eyelashes trembling slightly.

And he couldn't help but hold her even tighter.

"I like you too!"

This was what she said after the two of them stood there for a long time. Her little face was as red as an apple, and her shy and cute appearance made his heart fluttered.

He lowered his head and kissed her. She also kissed him back. It was actually his first kiss in his life, but he had already gone the whole process through in his head many times. When he touched her soft lips, he knew straight away that she was the one.

After the kiss, he excitedly held her and spun around. The moment he held her up, he felt as if he got the entire world.

He instantly understood that this was love.

A few days later, he took her to the Marriott Hotel. He had only heard Lucian talk about this kind of thing before, but he had never done it.

That night, they were finally together.

But on the second day, something happened to him. At the last moment, all he could think was not to leave her on her own.

He had never been in love with anyone in his whole life.

He didn't want to leave her, neither did he want to make her upset.

He could hear every time when she called his name in his ear. He tried very hard to wake up, but he couldn't.

Her voice made him so excited. He wanted to open his eyes to see her, but he could not get himself out of the darkness.

His favorite thing every day was to wait for her to call him in the dark.

"Hey, are you still not going to wake up today?"

"Adonis, Adonis." He remembered how sweet her voice was when she called him.

He really wanted to see her, but he could not see anything. He had been trying everything he could, he just couldn't open his eyes.

"Candace, it's been hard on you these days. I promise that I will never let you worry about me anymore. I will love you forever. I will give you everything I can, as well as our daughter."

His words made Candace burst into tears.

"I don't need anything. I just want you to be safe and sound."

"Okay, okay. Don't cry. I'm fine." Adonis wiped her tears quickly.

"Candace, why are you crying? Did Adonis make you cry?" Azariah came in with her little granddaughter in her arms. She was so worried when she saw Candace crying.

"Mom, what are you talking about? How can I make Candace cry? Can I have a look at my little princess?"

Adonis couldn't even describe how happy he was. He couldn't wait to see his daughter after being sleeping for so long.

"Candace, thank you. It must be so hard for you."

He was indeed too excited, and couldn't stop thanking Candace, which made Candace a little speechless.

"Alright. We are waiting for you to name her. You can discuss this with Candace. I'll go pack up with your mom, and then you will be able to discharge from the hospital. Remember to come back regularly for examinations.

Then we should find a time to go to Victor's to thank them."

"I got it, mom."

Candace took his daughter and put her beside Adonis. "You don't have the strength to hold her now, so I will put her beside you."

"Alright!" Adonis slowly leaned to the side, looking at his daughter's chubby little face. It seemed that she had grown so quickly.

She was sleeping soundly, and her long and curly eyelashes were continually fluttering.

She looked so beautiful.

"She got everything from me, except for your nose." Adonis lightly touched the baby's little nose, making her pursed her lips slightly. Her little head moved from side to side, looking very unhappy.

"Don't be angry, my little princess. I'll discuss it with your mom right now and get a beautiful name for you." Adonis felt that her daughter really melted his heart.

Candace smiled and patted her daughter, then the baby fell asleep soon.

Adonis thought for a moment and said, "What about Arianna Church? Little Ari."

Candace nodded and said, "I like it! Ari, it's such a cute name."

"Haha... Little Ari, are you happy now?" Adonis couldn't stop kissing his daughter's little face.

Chapter 1818

The night was so quiet.

Eden was lying in the balcony chair, watching the stars. When the weather was good, she could see all the stars in the sky.

She missed her children so much.

Every time when she was on her own, she would think about all the difficulties she had been through in her life.

It seemed that she had had such a hard life before.

However, nothing could change the faith she had for life.

She was still that possitive girl who believed that she could find hapiness in then end.

The stars shone in the dark sky like diamonds, and Eden just stared at them quietly.

A thin blanket slowly covered her body at this time.

"Eden, it's getting cold now. Be careful." Victor slowly sat beside her and looked at her.

"I'm not cold," Eden moved her body slightly. "Have you done your work?"

"Yes. Adonis is discharged from the hospital. He said that they will come here for dinner the day after tomorrow."

"Looks like he has recovered quite well." Eden looked back at the sky. The gentle breeze blew over her face, making her long eyelashes flutter with it.

Looking at her pretty face, Victor could not help lowering his head and kissing her on her lips. However, she moved away from him a little. He looked a little unhappy and said, "Are those stars more attractive than me?"

"Haha..." Eden held his face gently with her hands and said, "Are you jealous of the stars now?"

Victor looked at her with his gentle eyes.

"Yes. I hope that I am the only one in your eyes." He looked at her bright eyes until he could see clearly of his figure reflected in them, then he slowly move his head back up a little with satisfaction.

"Adonis said that his wedding will be next month."

Hearing this, Eden finally understood why he suddenly came here.

"So?" She looked at him with a calm smile.

A great bitterness flashed across Victor's eyes. He had been dreaming of their own wedding for a long time.

"When can we have our wedding?"

Eden thought about it and did not answer him. She actually felt it was too much hassle to hold a wedding. She was quite happy with their life now.

"I said we can do it at the end of this year. It's not far now. The international design competition is on December 15th, and there are about two months before the Spring Festival. We still have time."

Victor did not speak. He just sat quietly beside her, thinking that they had to have the wedding this year no matter what.

All the things had to be done before her international competition. It was not too late to prepare for the wedding after the competition.

"Victor, what are you thinking about?" Looking at his serious face, Eden was a little worried.

She knew what he had been thinking, and she also knew that this topic would stress him out.

"Nothing." He shook his head slightly and took her hand.

"Has Adonis set the date yet?"

"Not yet. He just said that they were going to do it next month."

"Alright." Eden looked at him again, "Let's wait until the day is set. Has the baby got a name yet?"

She knew Adonis would tell everything to Victor.

"Yes. Arianna Church. We can call her Ari."

"Nice! Now we have little Cecil and Cecilla, little Ayman, as well as little Ari. They can all grow up together." She liked children so much, and she would not mind taking care of them at all.

Sometimes, she would wonder what would it be like if she had another baby after she went to see little Ayman.

However...

Thinking of this, she glanced at Victor and said nothing.

"You should go to bed. You have to go to the company tomorrow morning."

Victor got up and picked her up in his arms. "Aren't you going too?"

"Of course." Eden leaned against his chest, put her hand on his chest, feeling his heartbeats.

Victor looked at her hand with his deep eyes.

"Have you found out who sent the person that we caught at the hospital yet?" Eden had always been curious about this.

It must have something to do with the Simpson family.

"Not yet. I'll go and have a look with Lucian tomorrow."

"Okay." It had already been a while, she was worried that the other party was playing some tricks.

"Don't forget to tell me when you find it out. After all, I am the person who was involved in it."

"Okay, I'll keep you updated. I'll bathe you first, as you can't touch the water with your hands yet."

"Okay." Eden blushed and lowered her head without saying anything.

Victor found it a little funny. They were living together for a long time, but why would she still blush?

The next day, after Eden went to work, she told her father about the project of Locust Grove.

Zaiden thought about it carefully and gave Eden some suggestions.

Eden took a look and also felt that she would not lose out on this project. She had enough funds to do it anyway, so she replied to Mr. Mulroney and agreed to cooperate.

After finishing this issue, Eden felt much better.

Victor and Lucian had already gone to the hospital, and she just needed to wait for the result.

Now she mainly wanted to find out who else around her would have the intention to do this.

She already asked Margery to keep an eye on Danielle. Daniele hadn't done anything else except for trying to get with Victor.

Eden glanced at the computer and began to look at her design drawings again.

She already had an idea in her heart, but she still needed to think it over.

At this time, someone knocked on the door.

"Come in," Eden said and looked over to the door, seeing that Alyssa walked in with a smile.

"Director Bleu, Mrs. Clark is here."

"Let her in." Eden got up and walked to the sofa.

Soon, Danielle came in, dressed in a pink dress with laces, looking very young.

She looked much more confident than before.

At that time, her life experience was real, but she pretended to be obedient and indifferent.

"Director Bleu," she said and glanced around the office, realizing that Victor was not there.

Eden had already noticed that the clothes that Danielle wore were very similar to hers.

"Are you looking for me?" Eden gestured for Danielle to sit down.

Alyssa made two cups of coffee and then left them two in the office on their own.

Danielle placed a design drawing in front of Eden. "Director Bleu, this is the winter season design drawing for this year. I have already done it."

She had done a good job for the autumn season, now she already started preparing for the winter season.

Although her work was not as good as Eden's, this time, she made it earlier than Eden.

Eden unfolded it and looked at the design carefully.

Danielle's style was very special, and she also provided more choices for the customers.

Eden had to admit that she was very talented in this aspect.

However, thinking about how good she was good at copying, Eden still couldn't trust her.

"I'll have a look. You did a good job in the last season, so you will get a lot of bonus at the end of the year." Eden put the design drawings on the table.

"Thank you, Director Bleu. Thank you for giving me this opportunity." Danielle said gratefully, looking straight at Eden with her calm face.

In the past, she always felt that her dream was too unrealistic, but she was very confident in her own ability. Now she felt she finally found the right direction.

Eden smiled and said, "You are very talented. But I am very curious that how can you like this kind of dress when your design style is so special and different?"

Chapter 1819

Danielle glanced at Eden and moved her gaze away straight after nervously. Then she lowered her face and explained, "I don't want to be looked too special in the company, so I didn't wear clothes that I like. However, this kind of dress suits me well at my age anyway."

Eden didn't say anything straight away. Was she trying to say that Eden was old?

Thinking of this, Eden smiled and said calmly, "Yes, it's very suitable for you. You look beautiful in this dress and pink is really suitable for you at your age. My husband likes this kind of look. However, I'm too old for that. Now I only like mature looks."

In fact, she felt Danielle was not clever at all. Men probably would be attracted by these kinds of women, however, they would also lose their interests very quickly.

Danielle had been focused on her appearance too much, but she totally forgot that appearance was not the most important thing for a woman.

A decent woman should be wise and know how to think from other people's perspectives.

However, it also depends.

Danielle didn't seem to be a person who didn't understand that. She was just too eager to get money.

"Director Bleu, you are very suitable to the mature style. No one could look as smart as you," Danielle said and glanced at Eden from up and down. She was wearing a blue suit with a collarless chiffon shirt inside. The diamond earrings and her red lips totally matched it and made her look more elegant.

"Thank you. I think you are not only pretty but also very talented. I have seen your work for the winter season, and you are getting better and better." Eden was telling the truth. Danielle indeed had a lot of potentials. She would shine in the future if she didn't take the wrong path in life.

But unfortunately, she could not resist the temptation of money.

"Thank you for your compliment! Anyway, I need to go back to my work now. Please let me know if there is anything I need to change after you check them."

"Sure!" Eden smiled and nodded, watching her leave.

If she wanted to be successful, she also needed to have a good interpersonal relationship. Danielle knew it, so she was keep a good relationship with everyone in the design department. She was really good at finding everyone's weaknesses and then offering her help, and in this way, she established a great reputation in the whole department.

Eden picked up Danielle's design sketches and walked back to her computer, then carefully looked them through.

At the same time, in the dark hospital storage room, a disheveled middle-aged man was sitting on the ground, with bruises on his face. He raised his head and looked at Victor's gloomy face in horror.

Victor, Lucian, and Brian were sitting nearby and looking at him.

At this time, Brian said, "It's been a few days, but he was still not willing to tell us who sent him here. However, I already got his real identity and found his family. Now he must want to explain everything to us."

Hearing this, the man trembled slightly. Then he asked in a panic, "What do you want to do? Leave my family alone."

Brian tutted and crossed his arms in front of his chest. "You care about your family, but don't you think that my friend cares about his family too? You are really pessimistic. You almost killed my little niece and my friend and almost destroyed my friend's family. Now you are worried about your family? Don't you think it's a little too late?"

If you tell us everything you know now, there is still a chance that you can survive. Do you want your son, who is doing his Ph.D. now, to have a father who is a murderer?" Brian threatened him.

This man was a drug addict.

But his family did not know.

"No no no, I beg you not to tell him. He'll soon graduate and have a bright future. He is not like me, who can only live like this for my entire life." The man's face was full of pain. His face looked much older than his real age.

Victor stood up and looked down at the man.

"I'll give you five minutes. If you don't tell me the truth, I'll send you to the police station, and then inform your son to come and get your."

A great bitterness came across the man's face. He lowered his head slightly. He would have said it long ago if he could.

He just wanted to make some money for his son so that he could pay his tuition fee. Now things ended up like this, making him feel so awful.

"But if I say it, I won't get any money. My son is still waiting for me to pay the tuition fee." The man burst into tears.

Victor looked at him without any sympathy.

"Well, it's totally up to you that you want to say it or not. But you should know that this thing is enough to ruin your son's future." After saying this, Victor sat back down in the chair casually.

Brian looked at Victor, feeling that he was getting more and more kind now.

It really wasn't like him to be able to face this man so calmly.

This man was definitely not doing this for his son. He only did it for himself.

Whilst Brian was thinking this, a gust of wind swept past him. He turned around and heard the voice of the man being beaten.

Lucian punched furiously in the man's face.

He could not be as calm as Victor. The thing that the man did was not forgivable. He was so worried at that time that something bad was going to happen to Adonis. If it really happened, what about Candace and Adonis's family?

"Ouch... Please stop it, please..." The man knelt down and begged for mercy, and tears streamed down his face.

Lucian let go of him disgustedly, and the man's face was covered in blood.

Brian was surprised. He hadn't seen Lucian this angry for a long time.

"It seems that he is not going to say it. Let's just leave him to the police. The other side is not going to stop, so we still have a chance. It is very likely to be Barrett." Brian looked at Victor, thinking that it would waste too much time. Now the only thing he cared about was his date.

Now that even Dean was in love, he couldn't wait for anymore longer.

"No no no, I'll say it now. Don't call the police. It was a middle-aged man who wore a tunic suit. I didn't see his face clearly. He just gave me a note which got the address on and asked me to send the child out, then inject the drug in that gentleman's infusion bottle. That's everything that he asked me to do, and then he promised that he would pay me a million. I really needed money, so I agreed immediately." The man said and then started to tremble.

Brian took a look and said, "He is having the drug addiction attack."

Victor sat quietly for a while, then asked, "Do you know who he is?"

"I don't know. I only know that he has a lot of money. He only gave me 100,000 first. The rest of the money will not be given to me until I finish everything." The man grimaced in pain, and his yellow teeth were stained with blood, looking very disgusting.

Brian slightly narrowed his eyes, thought for a while, and said, "If he wore a tunic suit, I recently found out that a new housekeeper Barrett hired also liked to wear a tunic suit."

Victor nodded and said, "Send him to the place where he should go and check out the new housekeeper that Barrett has."

Chapter 1820

The man looked at Victor in horror. "You... you just said that you would let me go as long as I tell you everything."

I can't let my son see me like this. Please let me go." The man trembled and curled up on the ground.

Victor did not look at him nor speak. He glanced at Lucian and the two slowly walked out of the room.

"No no no, Mr. Alwynn, please don't go..."

"Stop it now. He will not let you go no matter how loud you shout. You really made him angry this time. His wife almost fell out of the window because of you, so you deserve it. That's Victor Alwynn. You have really offended the wrong guy." Brian explained calmly with a sarcastic smile.

"People like you would have been suffered much more if it was in the past. Now he has turned into a much more kind person. He just wants you to get what you deserve. Don't feel unfair. No one would forgive you for what you did no matter who it is."

Brian smiled and called someone who was outside to take the man away.

Victor would not be scared of Barrett anyway. He was just an old man who could only play dirty tricks.

They would sooner or later catch him.

He had been jealous of Victor's almost perfect image, as well as the amount of money Victor earned each other for a long time.

So he tried to learn to be gentle and humble.

"Haha..." The man sneered and said, "What can he do even though he is so powerful? He still can't avoid falling into other people's traps."

Brian also smiled. "That's why none of those who have framed him has a good end. He is not a saint, but you are not worthy of sympathy either."

Brian shook his head. Indeed, it was not even easy to try to be a nice person.

Victor returned to the company and told Eden the results. However, Eden didn't say anything.

"What's wrong?" Seeing that she did not say anything, Victor walked to her side and wrapped his arms around her waist.

Eden shook her head slightly. "It's nothing. I just feel sorry for his son."

"Don't think too much. There are too many people in this world doing bad things for money. It's almost time to get off work. What do you want to do today? I'll go with you."

Eden thought for a moment and said, "I don't have anything that I want to do. It's time to have dinner now. Why don't we go to see Ayman?"

Victor didn't know what to say. Why couldn't they just spend something together alone?

He lowered his head and looked at her fair-skinned face, which made his heart flutter.

He could not help lowering his head and kissing her on her forehead. "There is a restaurant just opened recently. I'll take you there. It has the food you like."

His low voice made her feel that she was addicted to it.

She looked up and blinked her beautiful eyes. "Is it something that I can eat now? Oh, right, the wound on my hand has scabbed already. Okay, let's go there after work."

She could not resist the temptation of food. She could go and visit Ayman another time with a gift.

After work, Eden went to the design department. The people from the design department were the people who were most likely to know where she was. When she was at work, she normally would only go to either the 11th floor or the design department.

Alyssa chatted with her while walking. When they talked about food, Eden told her happily that she was going to a new restaurant for dinner tonight.

She made sure that everyone around her, including Danielle, could hear her clearly. After talking about work, they all packed up and got ready to get off work.

Victor went directly to the restaurant with Eden.

On the way, Eden received a video call from her daughter.

"Daddy, mommy, where are you going?" Giada looked at her father and mother, feeling that she really missed home.

She didn't want to live abroad anymore.

They were rich enough to live a good life there, but nowhere was better than home.

Eden put her phone closer to Victor and said, "Gia, your dad and I are going to have dinner. Have you eaten yet?"

"It's still very early here, so I am still in the studio. I just want to let daddy know that I will have a painting exhibition in Country M in a month. The new teacher is very interested in my painting, but there is a small problem."

Victor was very surprised that his daughter's painting was also so popular abroad.

He parked the car on the side of the road and asked, "Baby, tell me what happened and I will sort it out for you."

Giada gritted her teeth when she talked about this. "It's still mommy's classmate's younger sister. She wants to have the place of the exhibition as well, so she went to my school to threaten me. She said she would ruin me if I participated in the exhibition.

She has been drawing for 30 years, and she has just joined the club this year because she knows the person who works in the association. My teacher said that if her family stand out and speak her up, I would have no chance to win.

Daddy, she is really too awful." Giada was about to cry as she spoke.

Hearing this, Victor's heart ached. It was already hard enough for him to not have his children by his side.

Now, seeing his daughter was being bullied, he really wished that he could immediately fly to her side.

Eden felt very speechless. She had no contact with Mr. Evans, and Victor was the one who had been in charge of the business with their family.

"Baby, don't worry. I'll make sure that you participate in the exhibition as scheduled. Can you send me your teacher's phone number later? I will contact him. Don't worry about other people. No one dares to do anything to my daughter."

A trace of coldness flashed in Victor's eyes. But when he looked back at his daughter on the screen, his face looked very gentle again.

"Thank you, daddy. I would solve it by myself if I could. But this one is beyond my control. I wanted to tell my grandpa, but he has been busy with a big project recently, so I didn't tell him."

"Silly girl. You should tell everything to me. Also, don't get too close to stranger boys. Even though you know them, still don't get too close to them. When you have time, maybe you can learn some IT skills from your brother. Okay?" His daughter was an absolutely beautiful girl now, so he didn't want any boy to have anything thoughts about her.

Giada couldn't help but roll her eyes. "Daddy, are you worried that I'll have a boyfriend?"

Hearing her straightforward words, Victor didn't know what to say for a moment. But Giada was right.

"Daddy, I can tell from your expression that you're worried about this. But you are really worrying too much."

Victor said directly, "But I'm still worried. You are really too beautiful."
