

Gluey Love 1881

Chapter 1881

Lucian placed the documents on his desk and glanced at him blandly. What did he mean?

"I don't understand what you're talking about."

Victor said with a playful smile, "I have never bought Eden underwear before. I want to buy it and give her a surprise tonight."

Hearing this, Lucian was confused. Why did Victor suddenly want to buy underwear?

"Tell me about it."

Victor showed him the chat history with Anson.

Lucian took a look and then looked up at Victor. Women were just so sensitive. They complained just because they had never received underwear from their husbands.

If Anson and Victor bought underwear for their wives, Amelia would be embarrassed when they talked about this.

"Wait. I'll go with you. Since you want to give your wives a surprise, how can I be left behind?"

He pointed at the documents on the table, "Sign the documents first. There are all important."

Victor turned around, sat back and opened the documents with his slender fingers. No matter how urgent it was, he had to read the documents carefully, "Is this the company registered by Brian?"

Lucian nodded, "Barrett's new company, Starlight Group, is still focused on new energy resources. The business is very popular now. They buy off some headhunting companies to do propaganda. Starlight Group is developing very fast now, and Barrett has enough money."

"He is very clever, and he knows what the investors want the most. The share prices have shown significant advances. I have observed it for a few days. Although the share prices see-saw sometimes, the investors won't be affected."

In this way, the investors would trust Starlight Group more.

Victor said with a faint smile, "Is that so? Since he acts in such a high profile, let's keep a low profile and ask Brian to recruit some professionals. We can't keep an eye on him all the time. This is a good chance. Within ten years, I will become the richest man in the world and protect the people I love."

He didn't want to be successful by suppressing others. Business was very important in this world, and he wanted to be the dominant player of this world.

Lucian smiled and glanced at him, "That's our dream. Once you succeed, we'll benefit from it. Even if you don't say it, I'll talk to you about it. We both have to protect our beloved ones."

"According to the current development of the company, in a few years, our families will become the richest in this country."

He had always been very interested in this matter, and he was confident. Although it was just a reputation, his children would benefit from it.

Victor had been keeping a low profile and heading for his goal.

Victor smiled, signed the documents quickly and handed them to him, "See you in the parking lot. I'll go down first."

"Alright!" Lucian left with the documents.

Victor walked out.

At the door, Danielle was wearing a white shirt and a pair of culottes. The make-up on her face was fresh and pretty. She seemed to be a little hesitant.

Victor and Lucian suddenly came out. She was startled and didn't dare to look at them.

"Mr. Ronen, Mr. Alwynn." Her voice trembled slightly.

They were so aggressive that she felt herself inferior, and she didn't even know where to look.

Lucian did not say anything and left directly.

Victor frowned and asked in a deep voice, "What's the matter?"

Danielle immediately composed her emotions, raised her head boldly and looked at Victor, "Mr. Alwynn, I want to see Director Bleu. She hasn't commented on the design drafts I gave her last time..."

"She's not here. Wait for her to come back." Saying this, Victor was about to leave.

Danielle stopped him without thinking.

Victor's face darkened, and he looked at her with sharp eyes.

Danielle said timidly, "Mr. Alwynn, it has been many days. I want to participate in the international design competition as well, and I want Director Bleu to give me some suggestions. But a month has passed. Director Bleu seems to have forgotten this matter. I... am a little anxious, so..."

"Communicate with Eden when she comes here to work tomorrow."

After that, he strode to the elevator.

Danielle bit her lip. She missed a chance again. She was so stupid that she couldn't speak fluently when she saw him.

She wanted him to think that Eden was deliberately suppressing her, but she did not even have the chance to finish her words.

She couldn't wait like this all the time, and she had to think of a way to come to the 25th floor more often.

Danielle lowered her head and walked back.

Alyssa came back from the design department.

"Miss Clark, why are you here?"

Danielle said, "Alyssa, I'm here to talk to Director Bleu about something."

"You come at the wrong time. She didn't come to the company today. You can come here to see her tomorrow. Recently, she is busy preparing for the design competition. Tomorrow, she will stay here for half a day and deal with the affairs." Alyssa explained very thoroughly.

Danielle immediately understood, "Thank you, Alyssa."

"You're welcome. We're on good terms. Now Mr. Alwynn is not here. Why don't you go to my office and sit for a while?" Alyssa invited Danielle with a smile. Everyone knew what Danielle was thinking, let alone Alyssa.

Danielle stared at Victor whenever there was a chance. Therefore, Alyssa knew that what she wanted was not to become a better designer, but to seduce Victor.

She had been in the company for two years, and she knew that anyone who wanted to seduce Victor would be fired. Victor was rich, mature and charming. Almost every woman in River City wanted to be with him.

"Okay." Danielle wanted to have someone to talk to.

The uncomfortable feeling in her heart made her very depressed.

"By the way, is that Seth's office?" Danielle pointed to the opposite office.

"Yes, Director Bleu has investment in real estate, but Seth is the only one in the office. She is very busy every day." Alyssa looked at Seth's office and smiled.

Seth didn't like to interact with people around her, and she was very quiet.

In the mall, Victor, Lucian and Anson met each other.

Anson was out of breath. He placed his hands on his hips and said while panting, "There's a traffic jam. I parked my car far away from here and ran over."

Lucian said, "Why are you in such a hurry?"

"Because I was afraid that you wouldn't wait for me. I'm too embarrassed to buy underwear alone." It was because of this that he had never bought underwear for Abigail.

Victor asked, "Which floor is the shop on?"

Lucian glanced at the map at the stairway and said, "The fourth floor."

"Let's go." Victor stepped forward. There was nothing to be embarrassed about. He was willing to do everything for Eden.

Anson asked, "Should we ask Adonis to come here as well?"

Lucian said, "He doesn't seem to have time. He's very busy in the company."

Anson nodded, "Oh, forget it. He can't walk fast now. Just let him buy it alone in the future."

They went to the underwear area on the fourth floor. Most of the people who came here were women. Suddenly, they went there and attracted the attention of everyone.

Victor turned a blind eye to the women and asked Lucian, "Which brand is the best?"

Lucian replied coldly, "I never wear bras, so I don't know anything about it."

Chapter 1882

Victor was speechless.

He said again, "Search online and choose the most popular one."

"Aren't you afraid that we'll see some fake comments? There are various of bras on the Internet. But can you tell good from bad?" Lucian teased him.

Victor touched his nose. He would pay attention to Eden's underwear in ordinary times. She had several kinds of underwear, such as sports bras and some ordinary styles.

He glanced at the underwear shops, only to find that all the shop assistants were looking at them curiously.

The brands here were all famous in the world, and the quality should be good. He walked toward the shop on the opposite side.

He knew Eden's cup. It was neither too big nor too small, and he could hold her breast with one hand. He liked it so much.

He knew that it was B cup.

Lucian and Anson followed him in.

The shop assistant looked at their handsome faces and said in a sweet voice, "Welcome to LaShen."

Having been a shop assistant for many years, she knew that these men were absolutely rich.

She immediately introduced the advantages of their brand and the styles of underwear.

Victor, Anson and Lucian were confused.

After hearing her words, Victor pointed to the color he liked, "Pack all the latest styles you mentioned. I want this color. Moreover, pack all kinds of bras over there. The cup is B."

Anson stared at him in a daze, "Victor, how do you know the cup?"

Victor answered casually, "I wash Eden's bras."

The shop assistant was envious.

What a good man!

Why couldn't she meet such a considerate man?

Her husband had never bought underwear for her, let alone wash it.

Anson was rendered speechless. Was this man really Victor?

"Victor, you really surprise me." Anson pursed his lips. He had never washed bras for Abigail.

Because she had so many bras, and she could wear different bra everyday.

There was a big cloakroom on the first floor, and it was specially used to put her clothes and accessories. Her clothes were all made by Eden, so it was impossible for her to wear the same clothes as others. An hourly employee would go to their house and wash all the clothes every few days.

Victor smiled and said tenderly in a gentle and pleasant voice, "I don't like strangers to come to my house, so I wash all the dirty clothes."

"What a nice husband! Remember to tell us when you want to give Eden a surprise again." Anson gave him a thumbs up.

Then, he looked at the shop assistant who was smiling happily.

"I want the same, but the cup is C."

"Okay, sir. Please wait for a while!"

Lucian was in a dilemma. His children were drinking breast milk. What should he buy?

He always saw Amelia wear slimming clothes. She wasn't fat at all, but she had to wear those tight-fitting clothes, which made him feel so distressed.

At night, he had to take off her clothes with difficulty. Sometimes, he really wanted to cut her clothes with scissors, but they would quarrel if he did that.

After Lucian communicated with the shop assistant, the shop assistant introduced the underwear for nursing mothers to him.

Lucian was enlightened and bought several kinds of underwear.

When they came out of the shopping mall, they immediately breathed a sigh of relief.

Anson thought for a moment before asking, "Apart from underwear, what else have we never bought for them? I think they'll be happier if we give them pleasant surprises from time to time."

Lucian looked at him, "There are lots of things that we've never bought for them, but not each of them is suitable to send as a gift. It depends on what they need. Only when they received what they like can they be delighted."

"That's right. We should buy something they like. Abby likes something fine and unique. I brought her so many bras, and she might scold me when I go back." Anson was a bit uneasy. It was so hard to choose a gift.

Victor did not speak. Lucian didn't reply to him, either.

Anson smiled awkwardly.

"That's it. Let's go home. I have to walk for a long time to drive my car." After saying this, Anson left without waiting for Victor and Lucian to speak.

Victor looked at Lucian, "Do you want to go back to the company? I'll send you back."

Lucian shook his head slightly, "No, I have to attend a dinner party."

Victor said, "I'll take you there."

Lucian glanced at him unhappily, "Why don't you go there personally? I'm sure you can reach an agreement with them more quickly."

"There's no need. Since you can deal with it, why should I go there? I'll go meet Eden for dinner. She has gone to your house to send Amelia a gift."

Lucian nodded, "Dean will pick me up. You can drive back."

"Okay, bye." Victor didn't stand on ceremony, turned around and walked to the parking lot.

Lucian took a look at the time. Dean would arrive in about a few minutes, so he walked to the roadside to wait for him.

"Dahlia, what are Victor, Lucian and Anson doing here?" Dulcie had seen them for a long while.

For fear that they would meet each other awkwardly, she and Dahlia stood behind the elevator and looked at them.

Dahlia sneered, "Who knows?"

She was overwhelmed by hatred when she saw Victor. If it weren't for Victor and Eden, how could she be so miserable?

"Let's go meet the clients. These clients are very interested in your design, and they can accept our price."

She was focused on her career. Otherwise, she would think too much and go crazy.

Leilani not only made things difficult for her, but also asked Sophie to bully her. She wouldn't let Leilani go. Everything of Barrett would belong to her!

"Okay!" They bought some gifts in the mall and then went to meet the clients. Those clients had children, so they chose something that was helpful to their studies.

"By the way, Dahlia, Leilani doesn't make things difficult for you again, does she? When I went to work this morning, I heard the manager say that two staff in the client service department have quit their jobs."

"Now the client service department is important to our company. Leilani is powerful and rich. I'm afraid that she will go to extremes."

Dahlia frowned and slowed down. She had heard about this matter, but she did not think too much in the morning. After all, it was normal to lose something in business. But after hearing Dulcie's words, she felt that something was wrong.

The Simpson family was disunited. They were fighting for their own futures, and they were all selfish!

"It seems that I have to investigate it." Dahlia took out her phone and called the manager of the client service department.

After Victor got on the car, he called Eden who had come out from Lucian's house. She planned to go to the supermarket and then go home.

Victor asked her to wait for him at the entrance of the supermarket.

Since Victor would go to pick her up, Eden bought more things. He would carry things for her.

She walked to the snack area and reached out to the chips. At the same time, a slender hand caught the chips together with her.

Chapter 1883

Eden raised her head and saw a pair of clear eyes.

The girl looked at her and smiled.

"I'm sorry. Just take it!"

Eden smiled, "Thank you!"

"You're welcome. I like the chips very much. It tastes good." The girl was wearing a white hoodie, a pair of blue jeans and white sneakers. Her facial features were exquisite and pretty. When she smiled, her charming eyes seemed to be full of starlight.

Eden looked at her, picked up a bag of chips and put it in her shopping cart, "I like it, too. Eating this while working makes me quite energetic."

"I agree." The girl grinned.

"Goodbye!" Eden said.

The girl replied, "Bye!"

They went in the opposite directions.

After taking a few steps, Eden turned around and looked at the girl's back. She was well disposed towards her.

She bought some more snacks before going to the check-out counter.

There were quite a few people there, so Eden went to the self-service check-out counter. She bought a lot, so it took her half an hour to finish the payment.

Pushing the shopping cart to the first floor, she saw Victor walk towards her with a faint smile on his handsome face.

"Why do you arrive so punctually?" Eden looked at him with a smile.

"Because I know you well."

Eden was speechless. Did he have to say sweet words all the time?

He could have said that it was because they had a tacit understanding.

Or he could say that he knew she would come out at this time.

Eden was slightly stunned, because she found that what he said was the most pleasant to hear.

Victor pushed the shopping cart to the car, opened the trunk and put things in it.

Eden got in the car and waited for him.

Then she took out her phone and sent a message to Jasper, "I brought you a gift, and I've sent it to you. You'll receive it tomorrow."

Jasper replied quickly, "Thank you, Eden! Have a good rest for a few days and don't rush to work."

"Okay!"

Victor opened the door and sat in the driver's seat.

"Honey, let's go home!"

Eden looked at him. Seeing that he was in a good mood, she said, "Alright, we'll eat dumplings tonight. I bought some dumpling wrappers. I'll go home and make the stuffing."

"Great, I haven't eaten dumplings for a long time. I like everything cooked by you."

"Ha-ha..." Eden was amused by his words, "Did you make a mistake today? Why are you so sweet?"

Victor started the car and glanced at her quickly, feeling somewhat helpless. Did he often say sweet words after he did something wrong?

"Honey, you wrong me." He defended himself.

Eden was amused. She grinned and said with joy, "Is that so?"

"Fine, there is indeed one thing that makes me feel guilty. I didn't pay attention to it before."

"Oh, what is it?" Eden was a little curious.

He was very considerate, and she didn't even know what he had done wrong.

He always took good care of her, especially after her legs were injured. He even asked someone to make soft and comfortable leather shoes for her specially.

Victor kept her guessing, "I'll tell you when we get home."

Although Eden was curious, she couldn't ask further because he was driving.

There was a traffic jam during the evening rush hour, and they arrived home after forty minutes.

After Victor carried everything into the house, he walked in with a gift box.

Eden had just changed her house. She was going to make dumplings in the kitchen.

"Honey, this is for you." Victor handed it to her with a smile.

Eden looked down at the box and then glanced at him without saying anything. She held the gift box and went back to the living room. After opening it, she saw several sets of underwear. She felt surprised and shy at the same time.

She had discussed it with Abigail in the morning, but she did not expect to see this gift at night.

Was it because they had a tacit mutual understanding?

"Victor, why did you suddenly buy me underwear? You never bought it for me before."

Victor sat beside her, bowed his head and sniffed her forehead, "It's all my fault. I never bought you underwear as a gift before."

"But you've bought me so many bras, so you've made up for it, haven't you? Thank you. I like it very much!" Eden touched the fabric. It was soft and comfortable. She liked all the colors and styles.

Victor was glad that he had bought several set of the latest bras. He didn't know much about bras, but he liked it when she wore sexy bras. That was pleasing to the eye.

There were two sets of very sex bras. He wondered if she would wear them.

"Honey, thank you. Take it upstairs for me. I'm going to make dumplings." She was hungry.

"Okay! I will come down and help you." Victor held the gift box and went upstairs. Then he took out the bras and put them in Eden's cloakroom.

He changed into a black shirt and did not button the collar deliberately. His warm smile exposed what he was thinking.

He turned around and went to the kitchen to help her.

As soon as he walked to the stairs, his phone rang. While walking, Victor took it out and had a look.

Anson asked, "Did you give the underwear to your wives? Abby said that we had a mutual understanding, and she was so delighted."

Victor did not reply and wanted to see what Lucian would say.

After a while, he remembered that Lucian was having dinner with clients.

Just as he was about to put the phone back into his pocket, he saw a message sent by Lucian, "I sent it back in advance. Amelia said that I was insane. She only has to nurse the babies for eight month, but I bought eight sets of underwear. She said that nobody would want it even if she wanted to give it to others."

Anson burst into laughter.

Victor said nothing. Anyway, Eden was very happy.

The phone kept ringing, but Victor did not check the messages anymore. He went to help Eden.

After eating the delicious dumplings, Victor brought Eden upstairs. He did not let her work, and he wanted her to watch a movie with him.

The bedroom was very big, and Victor installed a smart TV on the wall. After he connected it to the Internet, it was very convenient for them to watch movies.

"Victor, I have some work to do." Victor picked up the remote control and turned on the TV. Under the blue light, her long eyelashes cast a shadow on her face, which set off her well defined facial features. She looked confused and pretty.

Victor was obsessed with her. Carrying her to bed, he put a pillow behind her back so that she could feel more comfortable, "Eden, don't work today. Let's watch a movie. You haven't watched a movie with me for a long time. I have something to tell you."

Hearing this, Eden didn't struggle anymore.

Victor sat beside her and reached out to hold her in his arms. He pressed the remote control. Then the music video they had shot was played on TV.

Eden looked at him in surprise, "When did you get it?"

"I received it at noon. Continue to watch it. It's very beautiful, and the scene is very lovely!"

"Okay!" Eden smiled sweetly and leaned against his shoulder. She was thinking about the music video in the morning, but she had seen it at night. It was a very pleasant surprise.

Chapter 1884

The music video only lasted for about ten minutes, but it was very sweet.

In the beautiful sea of lavender, they were dressed in white clothes, and their eyes were filled with passion and sweetness. Such a scene was really lovely.

"Honey, do you like it?" Victor asked in a deep, husky and affectionate voice.

Eden raised her head and looked into his eyes. She nodded with a smile.

"Yes!"

Only then did Victor rub her head, "It's past eight o'clock now. Honey, tell me what kind of wedding you like."

Eden was stunned. He changed the topic so fast that she couldn't keep up with him.

"Is this what you want to talk to me?"

"Yeah, there's not much time left. I have to prepare a lot of things. Just use the diamond ring I bought for you as the wedding ring. As for the rings designed by the master, we can wear them together in ordinary times. We can't wait for the new villa to be decorated, because I guess that it will take one more year to decorate it. After the decoration, we'll have to wait for another year before we move in."

"I've asked Dawson. He said that we should wait for two years before moving in. I own some other houses. I'll take you there tomorrow. Choose the one you like. I'll redecorate it and make it our new marital home."

"We can live here now, but the house will be small when the children come back."

Eden became cautious when she heard about his long-term plan. After all, they had never talked about it seriously.

"Just use Windsor Villa as our new marital home. I like it, and it's big enough. When our relatives and friends come to visit us, they can live there as well. Besides, Abby and Amelia are also there. The yard is big, too. Let's live there." She wanted to go back to Windsor Villa so that she could play with Abby and Amelia more often.

Children could play by the lake, and the garden was very big.

Victor looked at her and said with a smile, "I thought you would choose the old villa of Alwynn family which is closer to the Clement family."

Eden shook her head slightly. She had thought about this before, but she had lived there when she was a child. Moreover, Rebecca once lived there, and she didn't like it.

"I don't like that old villa. Although it has been redecorated, I prefer Windsor Villa. Besides, Windsor Villa is not far from the Clement family, and it is very convenient to go back."

"Besides, can you bear to let mom go back and live in the house where Rebecca once lived? I can't bear to make mom feel depressed."

Victor smiled and pinched her cheek, "Alright, I forgot this, and I don't want to live there, either. My father has moved back, hasn't he? I just want to ask for your opinion."

"Eden, since you want to live in Windsor Villa and the children are not at home now, I will redecorate it. The children will live on the second floor. Mom and dad will live on the first floor. As for the third floor, we might as well knock the three rooms into two. One can be used as a study, and we'll live in the other room. What do you think?"

Eden thought for a while and didn't agree with him, "What about the cloakroom? We have lots of clothes. There are only three rooms on the third floor. We lived on the first floor before, didn't we? There is a two-storeyed glass room on the first floor. It's better to make use of this room. It's more spacious than the room on the third floor."

Victor thought about it and felt that it was reasonable. That room was far from the rooms on the second floor and the first floor. In this way, no one would hear them when they stayed in the room.

"Okay, that's settled then. I'll let someone decorate the second floor of the glass room and expand it into a study room and a cloakroom. You can use the first floor as a studio. This is a perfect plan. The backyard is completely overgrown with weeds. It's better to make use of it." Victor suddenly became excited. The backyard would only belong to them, and it was better.

"Honey, I'll ask someone to go to the house tomorrow. How do you want to decorate the house?" Victor was so happy. He had tried his best to persuade Eden. In the past, she didn't even want to talk about this.

"As long as you like it. I'm not a young girl anymore. I don't like pink. Just make the house warmer. What's more, don't buy too much furniture. I want to clean it up at ease. The simpler, the better." She didn't have any special request. Victor knew what to do.

"Okay, I'll ask someone to go there tomorrow." Victor hugged her tightly with joy, "Honey, I'm so happy."

A wave of happiness flooded Victor.

Eden looked up at him and smiled sweetly. Her bright eyes were filled with joy.

He would become happy because of something she said, and he could become the happiest man in the world because of her sweet words.

"Victor, you are stupid!" Eden smiled, but she loved his love and stupidity.

Victor was about to refute her words. Before he could speak, Eden sat up slightly and kissed his lips.

"Ha-ha..." Victor chuckled and pressed his forehead against hers. He liked such a reward very much, "Honey, do you know how happy I am when you take the initiative to kiss me?"

"I know." Eden shrank back a little and looked at his slightly cool and sexy lips.

"Then let's watch a movie." Eden sat up straight.

Victor was stunned, and his eyes darkened. He smiled wickedly and said, "Do you want to run away after making me randy?"

Eden pretended to be calm and looked at him. "Didn't you ask me to watch a movie with you?"

"But now I want to watch you!" His intense eyes were like whirlpools, attracting her heart and soul.

"Huh? What's the point of watching me? You can see me every day. Won't you get tired of it?" Eden pretended to be confused and looked at him without blinking.

Seeing her like this, Victor was amused. It was so easy to guess what she was thinking.

"Alright, what kind of movie do you want to watch?"

Eden tilted her head and looked at him, "A detective movie."

"Don't you want to watch a romantic movie?" He knew that she liked romantic movies, but she didn't have much time to watch them.

"No, I just want to watch a detective movie. Search for a good movie first. I'm going to take a bath, and I'll come out soon." Saying this, Eden went to the bathroom.

While searching for a movie, Victor thought about the decoration. He sent Dean a message and asked him to contact a decoration company.

When Eden came out, he hadn't chosen a movie. All he thought about was her. How could he be in the mood to watch a movie?

He carried Eden to bed. Before Eden could react, he had kissed her. The atmosphere was torrid.

Victor laughed happily...

Early the next morning, Victor didn't even have time to hold a meeting, and he called Dean.

Dean sat there straight and listened to Victor talking about the decoration.

Dean kept nodding. After memorizing the key points, he went out of the office, only to find that it was already twelve o'clock in the morning. His legs went limp, and he almost fell to the ground.

This was the longest meeting he had ever had, and he was the only one there.

Chapter 1885

He walked into Lucian's office, took a glass of water with a paper cup and gulped it down.

Lucian stopped working and looked at him in confusion, "It's lunchtime. What are you doing here?"

Dean looked at him in shock, "Mr. Ronen, have you ever attended a meeting alone?"

Lucian looked at him and didn't speak.

All of a sudden, Dean told him what had happened just now.

After hearing that, Lucian was stunned. Victor was actually so crazy.

"Does Eden come to work today?" Lucian asked and looked at Dean with sympathy. It was quite hard for him to work for Victor who doted on his wife to the extreme.

He wanted to ask Eden about something. These days, his daughter slept late at night, and she couldn't sleep well.

"No, Mr. Alwynn said that she was too tired to get up. He even ordered a meal from River City Restaurant."

Lucian's eyes flashed when he heard that. Victor did not know how to restrain himself at all.

They must have a torrid night because he bought Eden underwear yesterday.

But he was despised by Amelia.

"Come on. Let's go for a meal. I have wasted seventeen minutes listening to you." Lucian packed up the things on the desk.

Last night, he coaxed his daughter until the small hours, and he had to take a nap after having lunch.

"Oh, Mr. Ronen, shall we eat in the canteen?" Dean asked. He and Thalia were going to eat in the canteen.

Lucian looked at him and smiled, "Even if we'll eat outside, you can afford to pay for it."

The expression on Dean's face was somewhat unnatural, and he didn't speak.

Lucian slowed down and looked at him with a faint smile, "Don't tell me that she holds the purse strings."

Dean kept nodding.

"My guess is right." Lucian was amused. Dean was henpecked as well.

"Isn't it just? I've bought three apartments in the past few years, and the fourth one may be used as the new marital home. I've kept the money for buying and decorating the new house, and the rest of the money has been saved as the education fund. She said that we should save some money for our children."

He agreed with Thalia. Nobody wanted his child to be inferior.

Lucian was surprised. Dean had been working very well in the past few years, and he actually bought four houses. He was more awesome than them.

"Dean, you're really something!" Lucian looked at him admiringly.

Dean smiled. He had no choice but to work so hard, didn't he?

In fact, he was very grateful to Victor because he gave him this job. He was very satisfied with his life.

"Mr. Ronen, it's not easy to get married. But the three apartments are all small. I've rented them."

"Ha-ha..." Lucian seemed to have thought of something, "I remember that your dream is the same as Irene's. You both want to buy houses and rent them."

"Yeah, owning more houses makes me feel at ease."

He invested together with Victor and got a lot in return. In order to give his wife and children a comfortable life, he had been working very hard.

"Those who are well-planned are living a good life." Lucian patted him on the shoulder.

Dean nodded. This was indeed the case.

Eden woke up and felt very hungry.

Picking up the phone, she saw the message sent by Victor.

"Honey, are you awake? Lunch will be delivered soon. Go downstairs and open the door."

Eden looked around helplessly. Looking at the messy room, she could imagine how passionate they were last night.

After washing up, she went to the first floor. The bodyguard happened to send her the meal.

Eden ate while looking at her phone.

In the group chat.

Abigail said, "Girls, I'm so happy! I received eight bras last night."

Eden was taken aback. She received eight sets of underwear as well.

Amelia said, "Me too."

Eden was stunned and replied, "Me, too. Victor gave them to me."

Amelia typed, "It's normal to receive such a gift from our husbands. I'm so glad."

Candace asked, "Why didn't I receive such a gift?"

Amelia: replied to her, "Ask your husband."

Eden suddenly thought of something.

"Why did we all receive eight sets of underwear?"

Abigail said, "Did they buy the underwear together?"

Amelia said, "I think so!"

Eden replied, "It must be!"

Candace typed, "I didn't receive such a gift. Woo-woo..."

Abigail said, "Candace, let Adonis buy it for you."

Candace replied, "I'm too embarrassed to mention that. If they went to the mall together, why didn't Adonis buy it for me? Humph, I won't talk to him after he comes back."

Abigail, Eden and Amelia were speechless.

Abigail said, "Candace, maybe they didn't ask Adonis to go with them."

Candace typed, "The four of them are best friends. Why didn't they call Adonis?"

Abigail didn't what to say. It became more and more awkward.

She immediately sent a message to Anson.

"Did you guys buy the underwear together yesterday?"

"Dear, how do you know that?"

Abigail was shocked.

"Why didn't Candace receive such a gift?"

Seeing this, Anson had a nasty feeling in heart.

"Because Adonis didn't go with us."

Anson muttered to himself, "Adonis, I'm sorry."

Abigail replied to him, "Go tell Adonis about it. Ask him to buy underwear for Candace. Otherwise, she won't talk to him."

Anson was dumbfounded. Women's hearts were so unpredictable, and it was hard to please them.

He said, "I'll call him right now."

However, before Adonis could call Adonis, Adonis had sent him a message.

"Candace said something about underwear. She is angry now. What's going on?"

Anson didn't expect him to know about it so quickly.

Then he told Adonis what had happened yesterday.

Adonis said, "You guys are fake friends! How could you not tell me about it? You really let me down!"

Anson was speechless.

"You had something to do yesterday, didn't you? You can buy it for her today."

"That won't be the same! Candace will feel that I'm inferior to you."

"That's your own business."

"You frenemies!"

"What's the point of talking about this now? In the face of benefits, friendship is worthless. Alright, good luck to you. I'm going to a meeting."

Anson touched his forehead helplessly.

Adonis really couldn't blame him. After all, he mentioned him yesterday.

In the group chat.

Adonis said, "You frenemies!"

However, Victor and Lucian knew what was going on and ignored him.

After eating lunch, Eden planned to go out for a walk. She drove alone to the mall near Windsor Villa. She wanted to buy some baskets and fruit plates, and she had to add something in her studio.

She arrived at a crossroad and parked the car. Passengers were using a zebra crossing, so she waited for the green lights and looked down at her phone. Candace was very unhappy. She wanted to receive a gift from Adonis as well.

Eden said something to comfort her. The lights had turned green, so she wanted to start the car. All of a sudden, she saw a lot of people gathering around the sidewalk. It seemed that something had happened.

Chapter 1886

Cars were tooting behind her. She parked the car at the roadside and got off to see what was going on.

A girl fainted on the ground, and lots of people surrounded her, but they were only watching.

"Hey, I don't know if she has really fainted. Perhaps she's just pretending so that she can blackmail the one who helps her."

"Isn't it just? I saw such news two days ago."

Eden listened to their words and didn't take their words seriously. When she had a closer look, she found that it was the girl she had met in the supermarket yesterday.

Eden asked the people around her, "Have you called the ambulance?"

An old lady took out her phone and was about to make a phone call, "Miss, I am about to call the ambulance."

Eden was speechless. She had got married.

Eden said, "I'll take her to the hospital. You don't have to do that."

Then, she let the other people help her carry the girl to her car.

Eden turned around to look at the girl. She was dressed in a black business suit that day. Her face was deathly pale, and she huddled herself up, looking very pitiful.

She started the car and sent the girl to the hospital.

Eden went to the nearest hospital. When she arrived there, she was in a hurry to ask for the nurse's help.

After pushing the girl into the emergency room, she paid the bill. Then she waited for her outside the emergency room.

When she was old enough to remember, she knew that there were always a lot of patients in the emergency room, including children, young people and old people.

The corridor was filled with the smell of disinfection, and the pale light made people feel nervous.

Eden leaned against the wall. She could feel the coldness on her back.

She lowered her head, and she could hear the patients' painful groans and screams from time to time.

The doctors and nurses walked past her in a hurry, and the atmosphere was extremely tense.

Eden felt somewhat suffocated. She simply looked down at her phone and didn't pay attention to those things.

About twenty minutes later, the doctor came out.

Eden immediately walked over and asked, "Doctor, how is she?"

It was a middle-aged female doctor. She said with a very rigorous attitude, "She didn't eat lunch, so she fainted due to low blood sugar. Now she has woken up, and she's having an intravenous drip. Go buy her some porridge."

"Okay, thank you. I'll go to see her first."

"Alright!" The doctor didn't say much and left.

When Eden walked in, she saw quite a few people in the emergency infusion room. There were about five or six beds in it, and there were mixed smells.

"Do you feel better now?" Eden looked at the girl and asked.

The girl's face was still pale. Hearing someone talking to her, she slowly opened her eyes.

"It's you. Thank you for sending me to the hospital."

Eden was stunned. She didn't expect that the girl still remembered her.

"It's okay. I'll buy you some porridge, and I'll be back soon."

"Thank you. I was too busy today, so I didn't have time to eat breakfast and lunch. I suffer from hypoglycemia, but I never fainted before." Saying this, the girl blinked with embarrassment. Her pale face blushed a little.

Eden smiled and did not say anything. She turned around and left.

Only then did the girl look at the door shyly.

She reached out and patted her face. How could this happen?

It was too shameful.

The president was waiting to see the documents!

She looked very anxious!

Just as she was thinking about what to do, her phone rang.

"Hello? Mr. Joye..."

Eden went to several restaurants before buying porridge and some other foods.

On the way back, she walked very fast. She hated the feeling of hunger the most.

Back in the ward, she was very surprised. A tall man was standing by the bedside with his head lowered.

"Jasper, why are you here?"

Jasper was very surprised when he saw Eden.

"Eden, what's wrong with you? Are you not feeling well?" Jasper was more worried about her health.

Eden looked at his nervous face and smiled, "I'm fine. When I passed by the roadside, I saw this lady pass out. So I sent her to the hospital."

"Mr. Joye, do you know each other?" The girl was shocked.

Eden looked at Jasper as well. Jasper slightly raised his eyebrows and smiled, "Eden, she is my new assistant, Lyric Lamb. I had a meeting, and I asked her to send me the documents, but such a thing happened."

"Oh!" Eden smiled and nodded, "What a coincidence. I met her. Is the meeting affected?"

Jasper shook his head, "No, we've cooperated with each other for a long time, so he could understand."

"That's good. Let her eat something first. She didn't have breakfast and lunch, so she fainted due to low blood sugar."

When Eden said this, the girl was so embarrassed that she buried her face in the quilt.

"Ha-ha..." Eden walked over with a smile and placed the food on the cabinet.

"Eat something first."

"Thank you, my name is Lyric."

"My name is Eden, and I am Jasper's friend. Eat first." Eden opened the lid for her and handed her a spoon.

Jasper rolled up the bed.

"Thank you!" Lyric took the bowl with a smile and lowered her head to drink the porridge.

Jasper stood in front of Eden. Dressed in a black suit, he looked elegant and steady. He looked at Eden with gentle eyes, "Was everything going well in O country?"

Eden grinned and nodded, "Yeah, everything was smoother than I had thought. By the way, have you received the gift?"

"Yes. I just need a paintbrush. Eden, that's really a timely help." Jasper was telling the truth. He liked the paintbrush she gave him.

"That's good!" Eden lifted the bag on her shoulder.

"Eden, do you come here for anything?"

Eden said, "Yes! I'm used to living here, so I came here to buy something."

"Then I'll go with you." Jasper was afraid that she would be tired if she carried too many things.

"No, just stay with Lyric. I won't buy much."

Jasper glanced at Lyric. She was about to finish the intravenous drip.

"Eden, wait for me. I'll go with you after Lyric has the an intravenous drip. We haven't seen each other for a long time. I have something to talk to you."

"Alright. There's one more small bottle of medicine. It won't take long." Eden walked to the chair against the wall and sat down.

Jasper smiled faintly and looked at her calm face. She was so pretty when she didn't speak.

Lyric stole a glance at Jasper, only to find that he was no longer as stable and indifferent as before. At this moment, the expression in his eyes was soft, and his smile was warm and bright.

Lyric complained in heart, "It turns out that he knows how to smile."

"Mr. Skye, if you have something to do, leave first. I'll go back by myself." She was a little embarrassed to keep them waiting for her.

Jasper looked back at her, "It's okay. You eat first."

"Oh!" Lyric smiled faintly. Her face was slightly red as she lowered her head and continued to eat.

Eden lowered her head and looked at her phone. Jasper walked towards Eden and did not notice Lyric's red face.

An hour later, they walked out of the hospital.

Jasper stopped a taxi and let Lyric go back the company. He went to the mall with Eden.

Chapter 1887

At the entrance of the shopping mall, Jasper smiled and asked, "Eden, what do you want to buy?"

Eden said with a smile, "Just some little things at home, like rags and baskets. We moved again. After moving there, I find that I need to buy a lot of things."

"Did anything dangerous happen during this period of time?" He had been worried. She was always in danger. He knew that she had been avoiding him because of what happened before.

He did not dare to disturb her often.

In fact, sometimes he felt painful when he thought about it. They used to be close to each other, but since when did she have to stay away from him?

He did not want to bring her any distress, so did she.

Even if he had a new girlfriend he loved in the future, he would tell her frankly that he used to love such a good girl like Eden.

"No, Jasper, don't worry. Some bodyguards are protecting me in secret. I'll be fine."

"That's good!"

They came to the daily necessities area. Jasper pushed a cart and followed Eden. He smiled and said, "We haven't been in the supermarket together for a long time."

Eden thought for a moment, and he was right.

"Yes! Does everything go well in the company?" Eden wanted to talk about something else.

"Yeah, our performance has improved a lot this year. Although my company can't be compared with Alwynn Group, I am satisfied with it."

He didn't have to own a lot of money. His family would give him money every year, and he used all the money to invest. He just wanted to make a breakthrough in his career.

Looking at how modest he was, Eden could not help but smile, "Don't hide your light under a bushel. You're amazing."

Jasper had startup funds, and he ran the company very well. In fact, he was very successful.

"But I admit that I'm not as composing as Victor. I'm convinced." He was surprised by Victor's achievement in the business world. Especially when Victor bought Simpson Group, he suddenly realized that Victor had a great capital chain.

He couldn't buy Simpson Group even if he surrendered his last resource.

"He just has a wide range of contacts and great discernment, and there's nothing special about him." Brian made Victor grow like a winged tiger in the business world.

Victor was generous, and he would give Brian a great bonus.

He had never been stingy to his friends, and this was why they were all loyal to him.

Everyone worked for him wholeheartedly.

"But I'm still envious." Jasper smiled. He would never say like this in front of Victor, but he could say it without any worry before Eden.

"Is that so? But you will be very excellent in a few years, too." Eden stopped and picked two stainless steel baskets for washing vegetables.

"I think so." Jasper was very confident. He had been working hard. Only by learning from Victor could he feel the limit of his true strength.

"This is good." Jasper looked at the vegetable basket in her left hand, "This shape is good to use in the sink. It's big, and you don't have to worry that it will fall down."

"Okay, I'll buy this one." Eden put the basket in the cart.

She looked up at him and smiled. He was standing under the light, and the bright light made his face look so gentle. His smile was so charming.

Eden turned around with a smile. They stayed in the supermarket for more than an hour, and Eden bought a lot.

After putting everything in the car, Jasper said solemnly, "Eden, I have also participated in the international design competition."

"Really?" Eden was very excited. Jasper's design was very excellent.

She remembered when they stayed up late together in the past.

At that time, Jasper had a bad temper. He was arrogant and rebellious, and his temperament was unstable. He could never sit there and think quietly.

She was strict with him, and she asked him not to get up and eat until he finished his design drafts carefully.

After living like this for a month, he became much stabler. His impulsive character gradually became calm. He was no longer rebellious, and he no longer argued with Abby.

After calming down, he became lazy, and his lazy posture was pleasing to the eye.

He had changed completely.

"Of course. I came here with you today to tell you about this." He entered his name for the competition only after learning that she had signed up.

"Alright, you can do it!" Eden made a cheering gesture.

"Eden, come on!" Jasper smiled brightly. Under the sun, both of them smiled very pleasantly.

Leilani had been following Eden. Her heart was full of hatred when she saw this.

She took pictures and videos of them, and then asked her assistant to send them to Victor.

She sneered, and her eyes were filled with coldness and viciousness.

"Eden, since you've sent my son and daughter to jail, I won't let you go."

After Eden said goodbye to Jasper, she drove back herself.

Victor was talking to Lucian about the new company when his phone vibrated. Then he saw the videos and pictures about Eden and Jasper smiling at each other.

Lucian saw it as well. He frowned, "Who is so boring?"

Victor said jealously, "I don't know. This is a foreign number."

Lucian smiled leisurely, looking very lazy, "It seems that they want to make trouble again."

Victor nodded and dialed Eden's number.

"Victor, what's wrong?"

"Eden, where are you?"

"I just met Jasper and went shopping with him. Now I'm going home. Will you come back for dinner?"

"Yeah, be careful on the way. Send me a message when you get home." Victor smiled slightly and hung up the phone.

He was no longer jealous of the relationship between Eden and Jasper. Moreover, Eden had told him about it frankly.

"Check this number." Victor wrote the number to Lucian.

Lucian took a look and returned the note to him.

Victor was stunned, but he didn't say anything and waited for his answer.

"It's a number from Leilani's homeland." Lucian answered casually.

"Are you sure?" Victor frowned. It seemed that Leilani had taken actions.

Lucian replied, "Yeah, I've investigated every member of the Simpson family."

Victor nodded slightly, "Then we don't have to worry. The bodyguard who follows her secretly hasn't sent me a message. Eden is safe. Let's deal with the new company first. I have to try my best to prepare for the wedding."

The wedding was the most important. This time, no one could stop him.

Seeing how eager he was, Lucian could not help but laugh out loud. He said with a hint of mockery in his eyes, "It seems that you can finally hold a wedding this time."

"Of course. I've been waiting for this for so many years. You're very clear about it, aren't you?" Victor leaned on the chair and said in a particularly good mood.

Chapter 1888

"Ha-ha..." Lucian stood up and looked at him. At this time, he was like an impatient child who could not get candy to eat. But it was understandable. None of them had held a wedding.

That day, after he and Amelia went back from Sean's wedding, Amelia told him that she wanted a romantic wedding. In fact, he would give her a romantic wedding even if she didn't say it.

It was just a matter of time. He had lots of things to do this year.

But he could hold a wedding ceremony this year. He could find time as long as he wanted.

"It's the end of the year. Are you interested in choosing a lucky day together with me?" Lucian pursed his lips and asked with a smile. His smile was bland, but Victor seldom saw him so gentle.

He thought for a moment, nodded and said in a relaxed tone, "How about this weekend?"

"Okay, ask Anson and Adonis to go with us. If we can hold a wedding this year, we should hurry up. I don't want my children to be laughed at." Lucian knew that some people would gossip about him if he didn't hold a wedding. After all, they were all from respectable families. If they were not careful, someone with evil intentions would get something on them.

Their wives and children were the easiest to get hurt.

Victor said slowly, "No one wants to be laughed at."

Lucian said, "That's a deal. We'll go there this weekend."

"Alright!" Victor nodded.

Under the sun, the quiet and elegant yard looked warm. Barrett was reading financial reports.

The tea on the table in front of him was fragrant.

Devin straightened his back and walked in. He stood behind Barrett and said respectfully, "Chairman, I checked it out. The new company is called L. Y Company. It's a stock trading company, and it's similar to ours. The company is imitating our style, but it's small."

After hearing that, Barrett smiled cunningly, "We don't have to be afraid of a small company. As long as it's not owned by Victor, it can't be our opponent."

Barrett put down the financial newspaper in his hand.

He asked in a deep voice, "How about the Parma family?"

Devin said, "They have been competing with Hayden. Victory hangs in the balance."

"Oh!" Barrett frowned and stood up with his hands behind his back. He looked up at Devin and said, "Why? It has been so long. Is it so hard to get a piece of land?"

Devin thought for a moment and said cautiously, "I heard that the piece of land is owned by the government. It depends on whose plan is more reliable. The plan must be absolutely environmentally friendly, and it can't affect the ecological environment of the city. There are many companies bidding on this project. Mr. Parma is not an expert in this field, but Hayden has been engaged in real estate for many years, and he knows how to make a better plan. With the support of Alwynn Group, it's very possible for him to get this project."

No one can get the project just by money. The businessman must have a good reputation.

Barrett pondered for a while and said in a somewhat displeased tone, "Tell me. Is this an unlucky place for me? Everything is not going on well."

Hearing that he was discouraged, Devin was a little anxious.

No matter what, Barrett couldn't give up unless Alwynn Group was ruined.

"Chairman, don't say that. You've just come back here, and all you need is time."

Barrett looked a little better, "You're right. I just need time. Make an appointment with Mr. Parma for me. I need to have dinner with him so that I can remind him of something. Otherwise, he wouldn't get this project."

Devin was happy. He smiled, and a hint of shrewdness flashed through his eyes, "I see. I'll call him right now."

Devin took a few steps, but Barrett stopped him, "By the way, ask Dahlia to come here tonight. I won't go back."

After Leilani beat Dahlia, he gave her thirty million dollars as compensation. Dahlia was smart. She did not argue with him.

Since she did not mention it, he would pretend that nothing had happened.

"Okay, Chairman." Devin left with a smile.

Even he was surprised by how prosperous River City was. It developed too fast.

He did not believe that Barrett would not be tempted.

This was a treasure land. Barrett had money, and he had a smart brain.

Barrett was proud. Paulina was young, so he had a sense of superiority and accomplishment before her. He thought that everything was under his control, so he naturally did not know what Paulina would do next.

After receiving the phone call from Devin, Dahlia did not hesitate at all. She immediately drove to the small courtyard.

Accompanying Barrett to meet Mr. Parma was a good chance for her. She could broaden her range of contacts.

Moreover, she could carry out her plan in a better way.

The seed of evil was buried in her heart, and it would grow crazily at the right time.

As soon as Victor returned home, he smelled the aroma of food.

Every time when he returned home, Eden was waiting for him after cooking delicious meal. This kind of happiness made him delighted.

"Honey, I'm back." Victor went to the kitchen, and Eden was cooking.

She looked back with a smile in her eyes and said affectionately, "Go change your clothes and wash your hands. The meal will be ready soon."

"Okay!" Victor smiled tenderly and turned to go upstairs to change his clothes.

After dinner, Eden received a phone call from Hayden.

After hanging up, she looked at Victor who was peeling an apple aside.

"Victor, Hayden said that the Parma family participated in the bidding as well. Besides, Mr. Parma is very close to Barrett. They had dinner together tonight."

Victor glanced at her and continued to peel the apple. He cut the apple into small pieces before handing them to her, "Eat first!" His voice was a little hoarse.

"Thank you, honey!" Eden said in a joyful tone.

Victor smiled. Seeing her sweet smile and bright eyes, he couldn't help hugging her, "Tell Hayden to try his best to bid. Money is not a problem. Just like what you said, it's a piece of land for old people to live, but the project is really good and we can make money by it."

It seemed that the Parma family had been persuaded by Barrett.

Thinking of Aurora, he narrowed his eyes slightly. Aurora wanted to escape from the Parma family, but she might be used by them.

"Okay, I'll send a message to Hayden." Eden picked up the phone and sent a message.

Victor sent a message to Brian to tell him about this matter.

After all, Brian loved Aurora wholeheartedly. She was a good person, and the wedding dresses she designed were popular.

"By the way, Eden, what about your wedding dress? Do you want to design it yourself? Or do you want to ask another designer to design it?"

Eden looked up at him in a daze and opened her beautiful eyes wide. In Victor's eyes, she was cute and attractive.

"I don't have time to design it myself. Is Aurora busy this year? If she's not busy, we can let her design it. Her design is very fashionable and I like it very much."

Chapter 1889

Victor smiled and said, "She's very busy this year. We have a lot of orders."

"Really? Then we can contact other designers. Just do as you see fit." Eden thought about it. She didn't have any special request.

She only wanted a simple wedding and didn't want to make things complicated.

"Okay, I'll do it. You just need to be a bride at ease." Victor was very happy. Since Eden had said so, he would be responsible.

Eden smiled. Without saying anything, she lowered her head and continued to look at her phone.

After a while, she looked up at Victor, "What about Aurora? If Barrett cooperates with the Parma family, will she get involved?"

In those families, fathers never cared about the happiness of their children in the face of benefits.

They only wanted to get the best interests.

"Yes, I'm afraid that her father will make use of her. After all, she works in our company, and she is in charge of the wedding dress department." Victor didn't care, because they could only use Aurora to monitor him or other departments.

He didn't know their purpose for the time being, but he wouldn't let down his guard.

Eden looked at him and said nothing.

Victor smiled and added, "Although Aurora has a good relationship with her father, she wants to break off all relations with her family all the time. After all, Mrs. Parma hates her to the extreme. If they have to use a daughter in their family, Aurora is the most likely to be sacrificed."

Eden nodded with understanding and held the phone more tightly.

A daughter who was not recognized would even be used in the end. How pathetic it was!

She lowered her head and remained silent. Her fingers had turned pale because she held the phone with too much strength. Seeing her like this, Victor held her gently, "Honey, don't worry. Do you forget that Aurora has Brian with her? This time, Brian is serious."

"Is that so? It is rare for him to chase after a girl wholeheartedly." Eden smiled. She would be glad if Aurora and Brian could be together.

When she saw Aurora for the first time, Aurora was put in a difficult position by some employees who were paid.

Barrett's style of doing things made her very angry.

He took advantage of everything he could.

What made her the most worried was that she hadn't found out the person who knew her very well.

She had been observing all the employees for a period of time, but she still did not know who it was.

She had excluded all the suspicious people, but she got no clue.

"Yeah, he's serious this time." Victor smiled and put a piece of apple into her mouth.

Eden ate it slowly. There were a lot of things that she couldn't figure out.

Barrett was a cunning fox. Every time she thought of him, she gritted her teeth with hatred.

However, he did things in a very strange way. Unlike those entrepreneurs, he was timid and never showed up.

Why couldn't he come forward and do things in person?

"Victor, let's go for a walk." Eden put on her slippers and didn't want to fill her mind with nonsense.

Her mind was in a mess, and she wanted to go out for a walk.

"Okay, let's go." Victor got up and went out for a walk with her.

The next day, Eden went to the company with him.

After holding a meeting in the design department early in the morning, she went back to the office to deal with other things.

Seeing that the sales figures had been improving, she smiled happily.

She drank milk tea while watching the report.

Seeing that she was glad, Victor did not say anything and continued to deal with the official business with his head lowered.

If she could be in such a good mood everyday, he would be delighted.

After a while, Alyssa came in and said with a smile, "Director, Miss Clark wants to see you."

Eden nodded. She didn't forget about Danielle's design, but she was delayed by something.

Danielle mixed the foreign design styles with the traditional styles, and her design was quite unique.

But she had to modify her drafts. Otherwise, it would really become a copy of another person's work.

Eden smiled faintly and said, "Let her in."

"Okay." Alyssa handed her a schedule.

"Director Bleu, the chief editor will meet you at two o'clock in the afternoon. Although you have put off the work until the next year, they want to see you now."

Eden had a look. She had nothing to do that day, so she said, "Okay, I have time today. Arrange it."

"Alright." Alyssa walked out with a smile.

After a while, Danielle walked in.

"Mr. Alwynn, Director Bleu." Danielle's voice was sweet.

Eden looked at her and nodded, "Sit down!"

"Okay!" Danielle sat on the sofa and waited.

Eden took a look at her. She was wearing a white shirt and a pair of red culottes. The fringe made her look prettier.

From time to time, she looked at Victor who was looking down at the documents.

Eden took out her design drafts. She had marked them, and she just didn't have time to come to the company in the past few days.

She walked over, sat down opposite Danielle and returned the design drafts to her.

"I've circled what I think you should modify."

"Okay, thank you, Director Bleu." Danielle smiled and looked over her design drafts. When she saw what Eden had circled, her face instantly turned pale.

She held the design drafts more tightly. Eden actually found it.

"Thank you, Director Bleu. I will draw again." Danielle said in a trembling voice.

"Okay, go back first, but I have to remind you that you can't create better design unless you have a peaceful and stable mind." The more important was not to plagiarize.

Danielle understood what Eden meant, but she couldn't figure out how Eden saw her through. It was hard for her to draw the design drafts, so she searched for a lot of famous designers' works online.

Eden smiled and nodded, "Miss Clark, you're a little different from you were when I first met you."

Eden leaned against the sofa and said with a faint smile, "I remember that you were distributing leaflets when I first saw you, but there was determination and resistance to the power in your eyes. But now... Forget it... You can go back first."

Eden did not finish her words on purpose.

She only needed to remind Danielle.

Danielle would understand.

"Okay!" Danielle left in dismay.

Eden sat on the sofa. Watching Danielle leave feebly, she sneered. Danielle wouldn't regret until she was really taught a lesson.

"Honey, why do I feel that your smile is a little sinister?" Victor looked at her and suddenly said.

Eden looked at his teasing smile.

She said angrily, "It's all because of your handsome face. Danielle came here for you. Don't you know that?"

Victor was stunned. He knew nothing about it.

He smiled softly, "Honey, I only know that I will love you for the rest of my life."

Eden smiled. His words made her feel better.

"What do you want to eat for lunch?" Victor asked with a smile.

Eden looked down at her phone. Her face darkened when she saw the news, and she didn't even hear Victor's words clearly.

Chapter 1890

She lowered her head, and her expression was strange. Her hand was even trembling.

Victor frowned. He walked to her in a hurry and sat down, "Eden, what's wrong?"

Eden raised her head and looked at him in a daze, "Look at the news."

Her voice was filled with anger.

Yesterday, someone took photos of her and Jasper. It was said that she had returned to her good friend's younger brother, and they went to the hospital together.

Moreover, it was said that she was pregnant, and the child's father was Jasper.

A photo of them coming out of the hospital and a pregnancy report were attached.

Looking at the comments, Eden felt a tremendous pressure on the chest.

She didn't care what others thought of her, but these things would have a great impact on Jasper's future.

Jasper did not have a girlfriend. In the future, his girlfriend would mind such a thing very much.

"Oh my god! Why are there so many rumours about Eden? There is actually a scandal about her and her best friend's younger brother! It's even said that she has cheated on Victor and has an illegitimate child. Anyway, she has a very chequered past. But I want such a life as well. Isn't it good to be Miss Clement and Mrs. Alwynn? Ha-ha!"

"Director Bleu has always been close to the president of Joye Group. Now we've known the truth. Why is she so disgusting? I feel sorry for Victor."

This piece of news became the hottest topic online, and it hit the headlines.

Eden attracted more attention than those famous actresses.

Victor's fans had gone crazy. They all wrote something to criticize and insult her.

Some of them not only said something harsh, but also asked her to get out of Victor's life.

It was not the first time she had seen such rumours. She did not pay attention to those rumours before, but this time, it was too much.

"Humph! This is too absurd!" Eden's face flushed with anger.

Victor looked down at her and thought of the videos he had received yesterday.

He pulled her and held her in his arms. "Eden, don't be angry. I'll solve this problem."

"Rat-a-tat..."

"Come in." Victor knew it was Lucian.

Lucian pushed open the door, walked in with depression and asked seriously, "Have you seen the news? The shareholders of the newly acquired company have been calling me to ask about it."

Victor nodded and said madly, "Go and find out who did this. We'll sue him for libel!"

Eden sat there in a daze. This matter dealt her a severe blow.

Victor's roar did not make her come to sense.

Lucian nodded and lowered his head to look at Eden. Seeing that she was discouraged, he knew that this matter had a great impact on her. Most importantly, this was a rumour about Jasper.

Victor looked at her and stroked her hair tenderly, "Eden, don't worry. We will solve the problem very soon."

Eden blinked her watery eyes and said apathetically, "Lucian, you must find out the truth as soon as possible. This time, don't let that person go. I'll clarify it on the official website later."

"Okay, don't worry. We'll catch that person. I will investigate it right away. Victor, stay here and comfort Eden. As for those old shareholders, Dean has gone to meet them."

"Alright!" Victor was afraid that the person would run away, so he had contacted Brian and asked him to investigate it thoroughly.

Victor looked at Eden with brooding eyes and pursed his thin lips. With a distressed face, he said, "Eden, don't think too much."

"How can I not think too much? You know the relationship between Jasper and me very well. I have been avoiding him all the time, because I don't want his future girlfriend to misunderstand him. But once I meet him by chance, someone will use it to make a fuss." Eden was very angry. Her red eyes were brimming with tears.

Victor's heart ached. He held her gently, but his eyes were burning with flames of fury.

Eden calmed down and raised her head, "I'm going to get something in the car, and I will come back soon." She wanted to prove her innocence, and she couldn't get Jasper involved.

"I'll go with you." Victor got up and took her hand.

Eden nodded. They walked out together.

The employees of Alwynn Group were talking about it as well.

Those who were familiar with Eden knew that the news was fake, so they only focused on their work.

Those who didn't know Eden or were jealous of her gathered together and cursed her in a low voice.

Danielle was in a bad mood, because Eden had known that she plagiarized other people's design. She had been sitting there with depression and thinking about what to do since she came down. Hearing others talk about it, she clicked on the news quietly and had a look. While everyone was not paying attention, she used her alt account and wrote a lot to vent her anger by insulting Eden.

In Joye Group!

Lyric saw the news on the Internet as well. She took her i-Pad and went straight to Jasper's office.

"Mr. Joye, bad news! Something bad has happened to you!"

Jasper was still dressed in a dark suit. With a calm expression, he looked charming.

Looking at Lyric who was flustered, he frowned slightly, "I'm sitting here right now, aren't I? What has happened to me?"

Lyric pointed at the i-Pad, "Mr. Joye, look! Someone has framed you! Eden just sent me to the hospital. How could she be pregnant? It's said that you sent her to the hospital, and you are the child's father."

Jasper was somewhat shocked. He snatched the i-Pad from her and scanned the news.

"B*stard!" Jasper punched the i-Pad angrily, and the screen broke into pieces.

"Ah!" Lyric screamed and looked distressed, "Mr. Joye, you should vent your anger on the b*stard, not my i-Pad. I've just bought it! It cost two months of salary. You... should pay me."

Lyric braced herself to say. No matter how bad-tempered Jasper was, he couldn't destroy anything.

She was just an ordinary employee, and this was too much.

"I'm sorry. I was too mad." Jasper was very irritated, and he clenched his fists.

"Ha-ha..." Lyric smiled, "It's okay. You can buy me a new one."

Seeing her smile, Jasper became more annoyed, "Are you in the mood to laugh? Eden must be very worried about me now."

"Ah..." Lyric was stunned, "You're not a child. Why should she worry about you? I clarified it on the marketing account of our company just now. I don't know if it works."

Jasper's face was gloomy, "Of course it's useless. That person is trying to ruin Eden. Your clarification makes no sense."

As Jasper said this, he looked at the computer coldly and made a statement on the official website of Joye Group.

After that, he contacted the reporters he knew and asked them to repost the statement.

He sent Eden a message after doing all these.

"Eden, don't care about the rumours online."

Eden was asking Victor to checking the dash camera.
