

Gluey Love 1931

Chapter 1931

Soon, Jasper sent her to draw blood and then took her back to the ward to rest.

Her leg was in plaster, so it was very inconvenient for her to walk.

Jasper ordered two bowls of porridge. After having breakfast, they tried to make themselves busy.

Jasper did not know what to say.

Lyric could not help but feel shy when she saw Jasper.

Therefore, they did not talk to each other tacitly and played with their own phones.

Not long after Lyric started to read the novel, Eden sent her a message and asked if she had felt better.

Lyric did not want Eden to worry about her, so she did not tell her what had happened last night.

"Eden, I'm fine. Don't worry about me."

"Have a good rest. I have something to do in the company, and I'll visit you tomorrow."

"It's okay. Eden, just do your own work. I can leave the hospital the day after tomorrow."

"Alright, I'll go there the day after tomorrow."

After chatting with Eden for a while, Lyric clicked a website casually to read a novel.

She entered a fan fiction website by accident.

There was actually a novel about the love story of Victor and Lucian, and she was shocked.

Who was so bored? The writer even imagined that Victor and Lucian were lovers.

Lyric was particularly fond of reading novels when she had nothing to do. She liked to read the love stories of overbearing presidents and their delicate wives.

She actually saw the love story of two men that she was familiar with, and she was surprised and curious.

She started to read it with great interest.

When Victor started his business, all his female secretaries were beautiful. Unfortunately, none of them could work for him for long, and they were all fired in a few days.

Instead, Lucian, who was handsome and attractive, was appreciated by Victor. They set up the company together and stayed with each other everyday. Lucian was willing to be Victor's secretary.

Gradually, there were a lot of rumors about them. Someone who liked them wrote a novel for fun.

Before reading it, Lyric searched for them on the Internet deliberately. She learned more about them and became more excited. If Lucian and Victor really became lovers, that would be great!

Lyric read it carefully. The author wrote very sensitively. He described the scene when they met, the experience they worked together, the romantic relationship between them and the process of them falling in love with each other beautifully. Lyric blushed, and her heart beat faster.

The greatest feature of fan fiction was that the author would write a lot about how the president doted on his lover.

Lyric read it occasionally to kill time. A novel was about fifty thousand words. After reading half of it, she felt that it was really interesting.

Lyric could not help but share it with Eden.

Eden had just held a meeting. When she returned to the office and looked at her phone, she saw the link sent by Lyric.

She clicked it and couldn't believe her eyes. She actually saw the fan fiction of Victor and Lucian! She turned to look at Victor who was working hard and couldn't help but swallow. Why would someone imagine their love story?

Eden glanced at the time when the novel was issued. It was actually four years ago.

What the hell?

She felt that her ears were a little hot.

Anyway, she didn't have much work to do, so she decided to read the novel first.

She read it very carefully while chatting with Lyric. When they saw the exciting part, they couldn't help but flatter the writer and then discuss it. They were engrossed in the novel.

"Ha-ha, Eden, look at this paragraph. It's wonderful. Victor is amazing. This is my first time to see such a novel. I can't help laughing out loud."

Eden could imagine that she was laughing so happily.

"The author really knows Victor very well. The description is vivid."

Lyric said, "Eden, can I think that Victor is really beyond imagination while bedtime?"

Eden blushed. Lyric really thought too much.

"Lyric, you're truly convinced by the novel!"

"Yeah, I saw Victor before. He should be a very considerate man in life. I'm sure the author is right!"

"Fine, you're right. He's indeed very considerate to me. Continue watching. I rarely shirk."

"Ha-ha... It seems that the novel is quite fascinating. Eden, don't delay your work."

"I won't."

Victor seemed to feel Eden's joy. He raised his head and saw her holding her phone and reading carefully.

He couldn't help but get up and walk to her. Then he asked with a smile, "Honey, what are you reading?"

Eden said without thinking, "The torrid sex of you and Lucian."

Victor's legs went limp and he almost fell to his knees. What did he hear just now?

He and Lucian?

No!

He must have heard it wrong.

Victor took a deep breath and suppressed his surging emotions.

"Honey, did I mishear?" He looked at Eden as if he had heard something ridiculous.

"Ah..." Eden reacted. She looked at Victor behind her in surprise.

Victor was stunned. It turned out that she didn't talk to him seriously at all.

Lowering his head, he saw the names of him and Lucian. Eden had adjusted to the biggest reading size.

He happened to see a paragraph.

Victor said, "Honey, what's wrong with you today? Are you in a bad mood? Why do you feel unhappy early in the morning?"

He could not bear to read the descriptions of Lucian's beautiful face, and he wondered why Lucian was so sissy in the novel.

Lucian's ears turned red as he looked at him, "Baby, I'm not feeling well."

Victor asked softly, "Honey, what's wrong? I'll give you a massage."

Lucian said, "My belly."

Victor was taken aback and asked, "Are you pregnant? I remember that we didn't bring condoms with us when we went on a business trip not long ago..."

These words came as a complete shock for Victor!

It was like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. Victor almost fell to the ground and he felt suffocated.

Eden raised her head and looked at his livid face with a smile, "Honey, are you satisfied with what you see?" She smiled happily, but her tone was teasing.

Victor moved his lips, but he couldn't say a word.

"Ha-ha..." Eden was so delighted to see him like this.

Victor looked at her smiling face with blush. He wished that he could throw her on the sofa and give her a lesson.

After laughing enough, Eden wiped the tears at the corners of her eyes and said with a grin, "I'll send it to Amelia later."

Victor was so angry that he turned around and left. The plot in the TV drama was right. When someone was extremely angry, he really couldn't make a sound.

The strange atmosphere lasted for half an hour. When Lucian came in with the documents, Eden was still smiling.

However, Victor was startled when he saw Lucian.

He looked at him warily, "Lucian, don't come here."

Chapter 1932

Lucian was stunned.

"What's wrong?"

Hearing his voice, Victor suddenly remembered the paragraph he had seen. A ripple of discomfort passed through him.

It was terrible. How could someone write such a novel?

He almost had a sort of breakdown.

He was too ashamed to face Eden.

Victor glanced at Eden secretly. She was still reading the novel with interest.

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed out loud. She was so excited that she could not help but pat the table.

Lucian was taken aback. Why were Eden and Victor both so strange?

Eden stopped laughing and looked at Lucian. Her face blushed scarlet. Even her heart beat so fast when she read the content, and she wondered what Lucian would feel when he saw it.

For example, Victor had a nervous breakdown after seeing it. He was shocked by the novel.

"Lucian, wait a minute. I'll send you a message and share it with you."

She shipped Lucian and Victor, and she was in a wonderful mood. It never occurred to her that she would laugh so happily because of this.

Her chin was so sore.

She could not laugh anymore, or her chin might be dislocated.

She had sent it to Amelia, and she didn't know what Amelia would feel after reading it.

Eden sent it to Lucian quickly. Lucian took out his phone and clicked on it.

After reading for a while, he looked dumbfounded and shocked. Someone actually wrote such a boring novel.

He and Victor?

Lucian glanced at Victor whose face was gloomy.

He smiled mysteriously, "Victor, you look so unnatural. Could I think that you really like me?"

Lucian seldom teased others like this. His smile was gentle and charming.

The content of the novel was indeed meaningful and thought-provoking.

He found that there were a lot of people who liked to read it.

Hearing this, Victor was gooseflesh all over.

"You... What are you talking about?" Victor's face looked more vigilant.

"If you see me in the future, stay three meters away from me. I declare that I only love Eden."
Victor raised his hand and swore with great determination.

Lucian looked at him thoughtfully, "Isn't it just a novel? Since you don't believe it, why do you have to let me stay away from you?"

"Besides, I've got married. What are you afraid of? Unless you really like me!"

Victor was speechless. His words were so easy to cause misunderstanding.

"Don't... talk nonsense!" Victor swallowed. He didn't dare to get close to Lucian anymore.

"Bang..." Lucian put the documents on the table.

"I have checked all these documents. There's nothing wrong with them. Read them again and sign your name. The new company needs some funds. I estimate that it's about five million dollars."

"As for Fly Media, Anson is ready to buy it. Some actors in the company heard the news and made a scene. They argued with Bryanna."

"But instead of taking it over, I think it's more interesting to make the company go bankrupt directly."

"Oh, what do you mean?" Victor listened to him carefully.

Eden stopped joking when she heard that. She listened to Lucian seriously as well.

Lucian said, "Although this company was registered in the name of Bryanna, the sponsor is Barrett. He wanted to transfer a part of the money abroad to this city and make the money legal. That was why the company was established."

Victor understood.

That was indeed more interesting than buying it.

Barrett wouldn't not expect him to do this.

"Increase the pay of Brian and Dean. They've done a good job, and they work really hard these days." Victor was in a very good mood.

Dean had just come in. Hearing these words, he wished that he could rush over and give Victor a big hug.

"Mr. Alwynn, thank you so much!" Dean smiled and trotted over.

Victor leaned on the chair casually, "You have good hearing."

Dean scratched his head in embarrassment. He believed that everyone would have good hearing when it came to money.

"Mr. Alwynn, as your assistant, I must be extremely vigilant and rigorous." Dean's flattering smile became brighter and brighter.

While Victor was talking, he had signed all the documents.

Lucian could always make him feel at ease.

"Mr. Alwynn, you need to sign these documents as well. This is the report of this quarter. The sales are up by thirty percent last quarter."

Victor smiled and nodded. What he heard was all good news.

"Okay!" Victor took the pen and signed his name quickly.

Victor suddenly asked, "Dean, when will you and Thalia get married?"

Dean was rendered speechless. He didn't expect Victor to ask this all of a sudden.

In fact, he wanted to hold a wedding at the end of the year, but Victor also wanted to hold a wedding. He certainly had no time to prepare his own wedding, so he could only wait until the next year.

"Thalia and I have discussed it. We'll get married after you and Mrs. Alwynn hold a wedding."

"Maybe the next year."

Victor nodded, "Okay! Eden and I want to have dinner with Thalia and you together. Make an arrangement. Thalia grew up in Chaosfield Society. Since she is going to get married, I should prepare a dowry for her. We can talk about it. If you need anything, I'll buy it for you."

"Wow! Thank you so much, Mr. Alwynn!" Dean immediately bowed to him. He was indeed his benefactor!

"You don't have to be so grateful to me. If you were not good to Thalia, I wouldn't let you get married." Victor said like an elder brother.

When he helped those orphans, he only wanted them to be loyal and do something for him.

He had no other ideas at that time. But a man was not a stalk of grass or a tree. He treated Thalia as his family while getting along with her.

Dean immediately promised with a smile, "Don't worry, Mr. Alwynn. I would rather mistreat myself than treat Thalia badly."

Victor nodded slightly. Although Dean looked casual and seemed to care about money in ordinary times, he had a good character, and he was trustworthy.

After Dean and Lucian left, Victor walked to Eden. Thinking about the novel, he still felt hot in the chest, and he was very embarrassed.

Eden looked at him and asked with a smile, "What's wrong?"

Victor smiled more and more brightly.

He whispered, "Dear, why don't we skip work?"

Eden was stunned.

"Stop kidding. Go back to work. I have something to do later. I can't leave."

Victor frowned slightly and thought for a while, but she didn't seem to have anything to do.

"What are you going to do?" Victor looked at her with tenderness and expectation.

Eden looked at him with amusement. How could she not know what he was thinking about?

"I have some work to deal with. Just mind your own business. It's not late to go back at half past four."

Chapter 1933

"No." Victor leaned over and hugged her, rubbing his sexy lips against her ear.

Eden's heart was touched. She reached out and hugged his arms.

"Alright, don't do this. It won't take long. I'll finish my work soon. I have to go to the eleventh floor to see Margery." Eden patted him on the arm.

"Why are you going to see her?" Victor didn't want her to leave. He had been sexually aroused, but she wanted to leave. He would be comfortable to stay alone.

Smelling her fragrance, Victor seemed to be bewitched. He kissed her red lips gently and skillfully.

Eden smiled helplessly. She didn't go to see Margery until he let go of her with satisfaction.

She couldn't find the person who was familiar with her whereabouts. This matter had been a good anxiety to her. She asked Margery and Thalia to pay attention to the employees secretly, and she hoped that there would be a result.

In the hospital.

Lyric was still reading the novel with great interest. When Jasper finished his work and raised his head, he saw Lyric watching something with her head lowered. There were wisps of hair beside her ear, and he could see her beautiful side face. She seldom blushed and looked so shy.

She was addicted to it, and it seemed that she had forgotten about his existence. Jasper was very curious. Why was she doing?

He got up slowly and walked to her. His approach did not attract Lyric's attention.

Jasper lowered his head and looked at the novel that she was reading with interest. Reading it together with her, he was a bit stunned.

It never occurred to him that he could see such a scene in his life.

The love story of Victor and Lucian was shocking and dramatic.

"It's interesting. Look at you. Even your ears are red."

Jasper's meaningful voice sounded slowly. Lyric nodded subconsciously, "It's indeed fun. This is something novel, and I ship them!"

After Lyric said this, she sensed something strange. She immediately turned her head with annoyance and looked at Jasper who had a meaningful expression on his face, "Hey! Why are you here?"

Jasper was speechless.

Didn't she know why he was here?

Jasper smiled and said, "Yeah, you ship them. Look at you. You're no longer sober-minded!"

Hearing his sarcastic words, Lyric blushed scarlet.

However, Jasper curled up his lips slightly. The smile on his face was wicked.

"Humph!" Lyric groaned unhappily and continued to read it.

Because the novel was really interesting and fascinating!

She couldn't stop reading it!

Jasper looked at her. She didn't intend to stop and read it again and great interest.

He couldn't understand what she was thinking about in ordinary times.

She was even engrossed in such a silly novel.

"Are you hungry?" Jasper asked her.

Lyric didn't even look at him, "No. Reading it makes me delighted, and I don't feel hungry at all."

Jasper saw a paragraph about bedtime just now, so he misunderstood her words.

"Are you not a virgin?" Jasper said without thinking.

"What?" Lyric did not look at Jasper's expression. Seeing the wonderful part, she smiled sweetly.

Seeing her like this, Jasper was somewhat annoyed, and his face darkened. Had he misunderstood her? Or wasn't she listening to him at all?

"Nothing. If you let your imagination run wild while reading the novel, of course you can feel happy." Jasper's tone was somewhat mocking, and he was in a bad mood.

Lyric was stunned. Only then did she think about Jasper's words carefully.

"What on earth do you mean by saying that?" Lyric felt that her crush on him had been crushed. What he said really made her disappointed.

Jasper looked at her with a faint smile, "You know what I mean."

Lyric's face suddenly turned pale.

She remained chaste! How could he slander her like this?

Lyric held the phone in her hand tightly and grabbed the quilt with the other hand. Her anger overflowed, and she looked irritated.

Her joy was blown away just like bubbles.

What Jasper had said was like a heavy hammer, dealing her a severe blow.

"Apologize to me!" Lyric's face darkened. She would never allow someone to insult her like this.

"Ha-ha..." Jasper sneered. Looking at her angry face, he was in a bad mood, "Apologize? Why? Did I say anything wrong?"

"You..." Lyric's eyes blurred with tears.

She had misjudged Jasper.

How could he think like that just because she liked to read the novel?

Lyric was extremely mad.

She lowered her head lightly and puckered her mouth without saying anything. She was like an angry hedgehog, having so much hostility towards Jasper.

Unfortunately, she waited for quite a while, but Jasper didn't apologize to her.

She looked up at Jasper indifferently, "Apologize!"

Jasper had been proud. Except for Eden and Abigail, he had never apologized to anyone.

In his eyes, Lyric was so unreasonable. He looked at her exasperated face for a while quietly and then strode away angrily.

As soon as Jasper left, Lyric burst into tears.

What on earth did she do wrong?

Did he have to mock her like that?

Lyric stopped reading the novel, sent Eden a message and told her what had happened just now.

Looking at Lyric's complaining words, Eden sighed in her heart.

She and Lyric both read the novel, but why did Victor and Jasper react so differently? Jasper went too far.

Eden thought about Jasper's strange behaviors, and she was sure that Jasper cared about Lyric.

Sometimes, fate was unstoppable.

Eden stared at the chat box for a long time.

This time, she chose to help Lyric.

Lyric didn't wait for Eden's reply, and her heart ached badly. She did not know why she cared so much about Jasper's words.

Anyway, she was very sad in heart. Tears ran down her face uncontrollably and fell on the white quilt. A large piece of quilt got wet.

Eden replied to her, "Lyric, if Jasper doesn't apologize to you, just ignore him. He will change his mind in a few days and apologize to you."

Seeing this, Lyric felt much better. At least Eden was on her side.

"Eden, he went too far. I just read a novel, didn't I? How could he think that I'm not chaste? Should I pretend to be very innocent before him?"

"Calm down." Eden attached a hugging sticker to the message.

Looking at the cute sticker, Lyric instantly felt much better.

.....

Jasper had been angry, and he didn't go to see Lyric anymore. A few days later, Lyric was discharged from the hospital.

Lyric had regarded Jasper as a narrow-minded man.

These days, neither of them talked to each other.

But no matter what, he was her superior. After thinking for a while, Lyric felt that she had to ask for leave. She sent him an email and asked for a sick leave of one month.

Jasper only agreed with her and didn't say anything else to her.

Lyric looked at his reply. Her big bright eyes were still full of annoyance.

Chapter 1934

That day, she would be discharged from the hospital. Eden came over early in the morning to help her with the discharge formalities.

Lyric was in a bad mood. The sun was shining brightly outside. She leaned against the window and looked down at the red blossoms in the garden. Dewdrops on the petals sparkled in the morning sun.

After looking at it for a while, Lyric walked back to the bed with her crutch slowly and sat down. She was displeased, but she couldn't tell why.

Anyway, she couldn't cheer up.

Jadiel walked to the door quietly and saw Lyric sit on the bed. She wore a low-necked white dress that fitted her very well. She was well-shaped, and the skin on her chest was as smooth as silk.

"Lyric." Lyric raised her head and saw Jadiel's tall figure at the door of the ward.

Her face darkened, "What are you doing here?"

She remembered she had made it clear to Jadiel that night.

They would not meet again. Even if they met in the company, they were just colleagues.

She hated Ansley too much, but Jadiel had something to do with Ansley.

Jadiel felt that he was innocent and wronged. He hated Ansley because she pestered him all the time.

They only met a few times because of the car accident, but she had to say that they had something to do with each other. The relationship between him and Lyric had just been improved, but Ansley made them awkward and estranged.

"Lyric, I heard that you would leave the hospital today, so I came here to send you home." Jadiel knew that she did not have any friend. Jasper had gone aboard to deal with something.

He had to make use of this opportunity.

"Thank you, but there's no need. Eden came to help me with the formalities. Thank you, Jadiel." Lyric was very polite.

Jadiel seldom saw such indifference in her eyes.

She was very grateful to his kindness.

She valued everyone's consideration towards her, and she thanked Jadiel for coming here.

"Lyric, do you have to treat me this way?" Jadiel asked rather helplessly.

"Ansley and I really have nothing to do with each other."

Lyric looked at him silently, thinking about what had happened that night and Ansley's crazy actions.

She knew Ansley's character too well. She was really a selfish woman who only cared about herself.

The reason why she said those ruthless words was that she wanted Jadiel to live an easier life in the future.

"Jadiel, do you know how terrible it is to be targeted by Ansley? She won't let us be together. We're not in love. Even if we love each other, Ansley won't let you go. She will pester you stubbornly until you leave me completely."

"If you still want to be with me, she will ruin both of us regardless of the consequences. She is such a selfish person."

"Oh! Lyric, how dare you slander me in front of Jadiel! You shameless woman!" Ansley's voice suddenly sounded behind Jadiel.

Jadiel's eyes instantly turned cold. Why did he knew such a lunatic?

"Shut up!" Jadiel turned around and roared at her.

Perhaps it was because Jadiel's voice was too cold, Ansley took a few steps back in fear.

The autumn breeze blew up her long hair, and her face turned pale very soon.

Ansley stepped back and could not suppress her anger.

"Jadiel, how ungrateful you are! I like you so much, but you treat me like this. You really let me down." Lyric hated to see Ansley's tart and mean face the most.

She wanted to vomit whenever she saw Ansley!

"Get out! If you dare to pester me again, don't blame me for ruining you!" Jadiel had had enough of Ansley, and his gentle face turned ruthless and cruel.

"Ha-ha..." Ansley was not afraid.

She crossed her arms and looked at Jadiel with a proud face.

She said sarcastically, "Jadiel, if Mr. Joye said something like this to me, I might be a little afraid. But you're just a manager. You don't scare me!"

Hearing this, Jadiel frowned. His eyes were filled with coldness and hostility.

Ansley's words hurt his heart deeply. He wanted to refute her, but she was right. His family background was not as good as Jasper's indeed.

But he loved Lyric wholeheartedly, which was precious enough.

"Ha-ha... why don't you speak? You have nothing to say, right? If you have nothing to say, marry me. You can never be with Lyric. As long as I am alive, you can't marry anyone except me."

She liked Jasper very much, but it was impossible for Jasper to marry her.

Lyric was stunned. Ansley was so f*cking shameless.

Jadiel didn't like her, but she asked him to marry her. Why was she so confident?

"Marry you?" Jadiel was so angry but laughed.

He looked at Ansley with contempt and sarcasm in eyes. Why could she have a sense of superiority to think that he would marry her?

"Let me tell you. Even if you are the only woman left in the world, I will not be interested in you, let alone marry you. Get out of here! If you dare to appear in front of me again, I will immediately call the police and say that you blackmailed me." He said coldly in a warning tone.

"Do you want to send me to jail because of a car accident? Then I'll sue you for sexual harassment." Ansley retorted fearlessly.

She was not afraid of him because this was a legal society!

Jadiel didn't dare to do anything illegal to her, did he?

In the past, she used such a way to threaten every man who liked Lyric, and they were got frightened.

Jadiel sneered and glared at her apathetically, "You'd better be so confident in front of the police. I'll go to the police station when I get back. Let's see how much times you've done such a thing."

"You..." A hint of panic flashed through Ansley's eyes.

She immediately vented her anger on Lyric, "What did you say to him?"

Lyric looked at Jadiel innocently.

"Jadiel, just leave. I don't know how long this lunatic will make a scene here. Just let her go crazy. We don't have to pay attention to her."

Jadiel looked at Lyric. The sunlight happened to shine on her perfect face. Her eyelashes were curly and long. Her nose was delicate, and her lips were pink and cute. At this time, she looked at him with determination in eyes, and she was extremely adorable.

Jadiel was obsessed with her. Lyric was the most charming in this way.

"Lyric, it's okay. Why should I be afraid of her?" Jadiel walked towards her slowly.

"Lyric is right. As long as you're with her, I'll ruin her first." Ansley's voice sounded behind Jadiel.

Jadiel paused all of a sudden. He turned around and glared at Ansley with his eyes wide.

Ansley looked at Jadiel's movements with satisfaction, and her smile was extremely vicious, "Jadiel, do you know how simple it is to ruin a woman? Huh?"

Jadiel had experienced a lot, but he had never seen such a shameful person like Ansley.

"How are you going to ruin her?" A magnetic cold voice suddenly sounded behind Ansley.

Chapter 1935

Jasper's cold voice made Ansley's blood freeze.

Ansley turned around, only to see Jasper standing not far behind her with a gloomy face.

Why did he suddenly come here?

Ansley didn't dare to make a sound. She just stood there with her head lowered.

Jasper stood there. The morning light shed a soft glow on his tall and straight figure. But in Ansley's eyes, Jasper was extremely cold at the moment, like a sharp icicle hanging on a cliff, shining with cold light. Whatever he did would hurt her severely.

Ansley couldn't stop shivering.

How unlucky she was! She actually ran into Jasper.

Hearing Jasper's voice, Lyric was stunned. He really came here.

But if he didn't apologize, she would not talk to him.

Lyric was very persistent about this.

Jadiel pursed his lips tightly and looked down. His eyes were blazing with the flames of fury, and he had never been so mad before.

How could he know that Jasper and Ansley would become his stumbling blocks when he decided to chase after Lyric?

At least, Jasper was an upright man, and they could compete fairly.

Lyric wouldn't be with someone just for money. She would choose a trustworthy man who was good to her.

However, he had no way to deal with Ansley.

She was shameless to the extreme.

He was really unlucky to meet a rogue in love.

"Get out! If you dare to disturb Lyric again, don't blame me for being heartless. Your parents both work in small companies. If you don't want to lose everything, just behave yourself!" Jasper's cold gaze looked very terrifying.

Ansley was taken aback. She was very scared and ran away in panic.

She met Eden and Aro who had just completed the procedures at the door of the elevator.

Eden's eyes became extremely indifferent when she saw Ansley.

"Ha-ha..." Ansley sneered, "Lyric is protected by Jasper. Although I can't bully her, I can vent my anger by giving you a lesson, can't I?"

Ansley raised her hand like a lunatic and was about to beat Eden.

Eden reacted and kicked her waist nimbly.

Ansley raised her hand and took a few steps back awkwardly, looking at Eden in pain.

Eden looked at her apathetically, "Didn't Lyric tell you who I am?"

She thought that Ansley had known about her identity.

"Humph! You're just a married woman who works in Alwynn Group, aren't you? Who do you think you are? Do you think you are Mrs. Alwynn?" Ansley was pissed off. Why did everything go against her recently?

Looking at her exasperated and awkward face, Eden said word by word with a smile, "You are right. I am Mrs. Alwynn."

Ansley got too big for her boots. She really didn't know why she dared to offend her.

"You... How could it be? You're just an ordinary woman who has a pretty face! How can you be Mrs. Alwynn?" Ansley didn't believe it.

In fact, she just couldn't believe that Lyric could make friends with Mrs. Alwynn.

Eden didn't want to talk to her anymore. She gave her a warning look and then walked to Lyric's ward.

Ansley wanted to chase after Eden, but a very aggressive man stopped her as soon as she moved. Aro looked at her with sinister eyes.

"If you dare to harass Mrs. Alwynn again, I won't show you any mercy."

Ansley was stunned and did not dare to go forward.

She left dejectedly and hid in the dark. After a while, she saw Jadiel leave alone.

Not long later, Jasper, Eden, Lyric and Aro left the hospital together with Lyric's luggage.

Ansley was going crazy with jealousy.

She had cast a bone between Jadiel and Lyric, but Lyric was so close to Jasper at this time. What should she do?

Jasper was not someone she could meet in ordinary times.

Although Jadiel worked in Joye Group, he might not be able to see him often.

No! She couldn't let Lyric marry a good man and live a better life than her! In that case, she would be disgraced, wouldn't she?

Her mother used to be a mistress, so the relatives always looked down on them.

Her mother was not as virtuous and capable as Lyric's mother, and she didn't have a good job. The only thing she liked to do was to spend money. In the eyes of their relatives, they were useless.

This was why she wanted to marry a rich man and change those people's minds.

However, she didn't know any rich people in her circle. The men she knew all lived paycheck to paycheck.

Ansley followed them all the way and saw Lyric get in Jasper's car. Jasper carried her in his arms considerately and placed her in the back seat carefully. After Eden got in the car, Jasper drove away.

Ansley wanted to chase after them, but she found that she didn't know where Lyric lived. They only contacted each other through text messages in daily life.

She hailed a taxi hurriedly and followed Jasper's car.

She only knew that Lyric lived in a good house. Over the years, Lyric's mother had been working abroad. It seemed that she had bought a three-bedroom apartment in the downtown area. She heard it from Lyric by accident. That house was not cheap!

It was better than the house they lived in. If she could own the house, she would move in without hesitation.

Lyric lived in the house alone.

Lyric was very vigilant against her. Whenever she met her, she always went home late.

Ansley looked at the car in front of her and bit her lips hard. She asked the driver not to lose sight of them while thinking about what to do in the future.

Different schemes came to her mind.

Eden and Jasper sent Lyric home. The environment of the neighbourhood was quite good.

Only then did Jasper realize that Lyric lived in the same neighborhood with him.

The houses in this neighborhood were all big, and Lyric's house was rather large and luxurious.

It was as big as Jasper's villa.

The decoration of her house was very beautiful and warm, and the temperature in the house was very comfortable.

There were a lot of plants on the big balcony, and all of them were immaculately tended by Lyric. These plants flourished and grew luxuriantly. Clearly, they all looked well cared for.

Lyric lived here alone. There were four rooms in the house, and she felt that it was empty. When she went home alone, she felt very lonely. That was why she often went home late.

Eden and Jasper were here, so she felt that the house was no longer cheerless.

Lyric lived in the master bedroom. When her mother bought the house, she told her that she might not come back to live in this city, so this house was bought for her. Therefore, she slept in the master bedroom.

Jasper sent Lyric to her room. Both of them were silent along the way.

Eden poured a glass of hot water for Lyric and looked at Jasper in surprise, "Jasper, you two live in the same neighbourhood."

Lyric was stunned. What a coincidence!

Jasper nodded and looked a little tired, "It's coincidental. I live in Building B, and there are only three houses between our houses. I can be here in a few minutes by foot."

"That's good. Lyric will rest for about a month. We can take care of her by turns." Eden wanted to give them more chances to get along with each other.

Chapter 1936

"Eden, I can take care of myself. Both of you are very busy. It is very convenient to order takeout." Lyric said to Eden, and she did not look at Jasper.

Eden knew that the problem between them hadn't been solved. After chatting with Lyric for a while, she gave Jasper a cheering look and left. She had to meet a client.

They made an appointment to meet at the club. Alyssa had gone there.

After Eden left, Lyric and Jasper felt so embarrassed.

Lyric looked down at her phone, while Jasper stood not far away from her.

Seeing that Lyric didn't want to talk to him and thinking about Ansley, Jasper really felt that it was hard to get along with women.

He was indeed a little impulsive at that time. He didn't know whether it was because she read such a novel or because she didn't care about him. Anyway, he was very irritated.

He said those words uncontrollably.

He had been self-indulgent in life, and he didn't learn to control his temper until he started his own company. When he met Eden, he thought he would live a happy life with her.

Although he did not gain love, his values had been changed completely.

He became stable and calm.

But he was proud by nature.

However, as the saying went, he who played with fire got burned.

When he was young, he was red-blooded and impulsive.

At this age, he had become mature and steady.

Although he didn't have a high virtue, he considered himself a good man.

"I'm sorry! I was too impulsive that day. I shouldn't have said that to you." Thinking of this, Jasper felt that it was easier to apologize to her.

Although Lyric was looking at her phone, she was absent-minded. She had been paying attention to Jasper's every move. Hearing his apology, she looked at him in surprise.

He was handsome and charming. More importantly, he was a very proud man.

It was really difficult for him to apologize to someone.

"It's... okay, but I have to make it clear to you. I... remain chaste. I didn't even... hold my ex-boyfriend's hand." After Lyric finished speaking, she blushed and felt hot all over. She went scarlet with shyness.

In order to prove her innocence, she was really reckless.

Jasper was stunned.

Seeing that she blushed scarlet with shyness, Jasper felt that she was very cute for no reason.

Lyric didn't even dare to look at him and hid under the quilt.

"Ha-ha..." Jasper laughed. For some reason, he felt very pleased.

Looking at Lyric, he felt that she couldn't be more adorable.

He had to admit that he was very happy at this moment.

"Alright, don't suffocate yourself. I won't laugh at you." She had been hiding under the quilt, and Jasper was afraid that she would feel hotter.

"Oh!" Lyric slowly pulled the quilt. She was indeed uncomfortable.

She had been sad for one day and one night. She loved herself and had her own feelings, and she wouldn't sleep with a man so casually.

She had never been in deep love before, and Jediel was the man she met the most frequently.

"Mr. Joye, go back. I can take care of myself, and I can order takeout." She was a bit uneasy when she stayed with Jasper.

When he stood in front of her, she was breathless.

Such a feeling was extremely oppressive, and she felt very agitated. She didn't know why, but she had a load in her mind.

Jasper said, "I went on a business trip after I went back yesterday. I went to Gate City. Knowing that you would be discharged from the hospital today, I came back by plane early in the morning, and I am very tired now. I'll sleep on your sofa for a while. Then I'll get up and make breakfast for you. I'm not busy today."

"Ah..." Lyric did not expect him to stay.

"Can't I stay here?" Jasper looked at her with a somewhat gloomy expression.

"Of course... you can. Mr. Joye, don't sleep on the sofa. Other than the study, there are beds in the other rooms. They are all clean. Although no one lives here, I am used to changing and washing the sheets. Have a sleep on bed first."

How could he sleep comfortably on the sofa?

She didn't like sleeping on the sofa. She was hyperactive while sleeping. If she slept on the sofa, she would roll to the ground in her sleep.

The floor was cold, and it was easy to catch a cold. Anyway, she didn't like to sleep on the sofa.

"Okay!" Jasper followed his heart. He did not want to leave indeed.

At the door, he suddenly thought of something and turned to ask her seriously, "Does Jadiel know your address?"

Lyric smiled and said, "Even my mother doesn't know that I live here, let alone Jadiel. Since the house was bought, I've only lived here for a few months, and my mother never comes back. Except for the security guard, no one had ever come here. You and Eden are my first guests."

Jasper went to sleep at ease.

Watching Jasper leave, Lyric sat up straight slowly.

Thinking that he was resting here, she felt that the house was no longer so cheerless.

"Buzz..." The phone in her hand vibrated.

It was Ansley calling her.

After a moment of hesitation, Lyric answered the phone.

"Hello?"

"Lyric, tell me. Which building and floor do you live in?" Ansley asked, suppressing her anger.

Lyric sneered, "Why should I tell you?"

"Humph! Even if you don't tell me, I can stop you from being with other men. I think Jadiel might have given up."

"Lunatic." Lyric scolded coldly.

"You're the lunatic! Your father lives in an old building, but you live in such a good house! Lyric, if you still have some conscience, let the three of us live together with you." Ansley stood outside the neighbourhood. The environment here was very luxurious, and those who lived here were all noble.

"Ha-ha..." Lyric was so angry but she laughed. Ansley's behavior was really ridiculous.

"Ansley, I think you must be the most shameless people in the world. How dare you say so? Aren't you ashamed of yourself? This is the house my mom bought for me! It has nothing to do with you. Get out of here! Don't let me hear your voice again!"

After Lyric finished speaking, she hung up the phone and blacklisted Ansley's number.

"Hello..." Ansley was unwilling to give up and said.

When she called Lyric again, she found that Lyric had blacklisted her.

She gritted her teeth and stamped her feet in anger.

She turned around and stopped a taxi to go home.

She would ask for her parents' help.

Aro sent Eden to the club owned by Alwynn Group. She was supposed to meet the client here.

When Eden got out of the car, Alyssa came over.

"Director Bleu."

Eden said, "Let's go to the private box first."

However, when the door of the private room was opened, she was slightly stunned when she saw the person sitting inside.

Chapter 1937

Eden didn't expect it to be Leilani.

She walked in vigilantly.

Logically speaking, Leilani wouldn't want to meet her, because she had sent her daughter and son to jail. Moreover, Leilani had no way to see her.

Alyssa would sort out all the information about the clients, and she would decide whom to meet after reading it. These days, she was busy taking care of Lyric, and she believed Alyssa, but Alyssa made an appointment with Leilani.

Eden raised her eyebrows slightly. She glanced at Alyssa behind her and did not ask about the reason.

"Mrs. Alwynn, have a seat!" Leilani was not dressed as luxuriously as before. Instead, she was wearing the comfortable traditional clothes of her homeland.

Eden sat opposite her and looked at her indifferently, "Mrs. Simpson, do you have anything to talk to me?"

Leilani smiled and nodded. She had seen through everything after experiencing so much. She seemed to have done something wrong.

She had been dealing with Eden, but Victor's counter-blow was fatal to her.

She did not want Barrett and Dahlia to sit idle and enjoy the fruits of her labour.

"I heard that your design has been very popular in the upper class, and I like your design so much. The reason why I invite you here is that I want you to design a dress for me."

Eden doubted her words, but she did not say anything.

Leilani looked at Alyssa and said, "You should be Alyssa, right? I called you to make an appointment with Mrs. Alwynn."

Alyssa nodded slightly, "Mrs. Simpson, I am Alyssa, the assistant of Director Bleu."

Leilani looked at her and said with a smile, "Only coffee and tea is available here. When I came up, I saw a milk tea shop next to the club. Could you buy me a cup of milk tea? I want malt milk tea at room temperature. Thank you."

Alyssa glanced at Eden, and Eden nodded slightly.

Alyssa took a meaningful look at Leilani and turned to leave.

The door was closed. Eden knew that Leilani sent away Alyssa deliberately.

Eden looked at Leilani. She didn't meet Leilani often, but this time, she felt that Leilani was a bit different.

"Mrs. Simpson, I don't think you are here for my design. Just get straight to the point."

Leilani looked at her and smiled. Eden was young and beautiful, and she gave people a good feeling.

If she judged Eden with a peaceful mind, Eden was indeed a pretty and kind girl.

People would lose themselves because of hatred.

No wonder Victor was willing to do anything for her.

"Mrs. Alwynn, you're very smart. I'll just be frank. I'm no longer young, but so many bad things have happened to me. To be honest, I'm very sad. My two children have been imprisoned because of their father."

"However, their father is irresponsible. He made use of his own children. When they were in trouble, he didn't care about them. The children are just his stepping stones. This made me very angry, and I'm very disappointed in my husband."

"The reason why I invited you is that I want to make a deal with you."

Eden looked at her in surprise and did not say anything.

She looked at Leilani more and more vigilantly.

There were truly crazy people in this world.

She had to be on guard!

Leilani said again with a smile, "Barrett has planted lots of enemy agents around you, and I can't rest assured. Although she's your assistant, I can't trust her. That's why I sent her away."

Leilani took out a U-disk and put it on the table, "Here is the list of all the enemy agents around you. I have only one condition. You should drop the case and let my children be released. Then I'll go back to my homeland with them. I promise that we'll never come here again, and we won't do anything to hurt you."

A few days ago, she called her best friend and told her everything that had happened here. Her friend scolded her and persuaded her, and she was suddenly enlightened.

Thinking about the whole story, she was a bit scared and uneasy.

She was completely disappointed in Barrett.

He would never care about their lives.

Eden felt that her condition was very attractive. She couldn't find out those who were keeping an eye on her.

If she got this list, many things would be much easier.

Victor wanted to hold a wedding at the end of this year.

In the past, she did not care about the wedding. But Victor almost got sick because of this, so she attached more importance to the wedding.

This year, she would be the most beautiful bride and marry Victor.

"Mrs. Simpson, I will go home and discuss with my husband. If he agrees, we will drop the case. But you have to promise that your children won't do anything to hurt us again. Otherwise..."

Eden did not finish her words, but Leilani knew what she meant.

Otherwise, they would be killed.

She smiled peacefully, "Mrs. Alwynn, I have thought a lot during this period of time. I was too ambitious before. Now I'm satisfied with my life, so my state of mind has naturally changed. I've figured out a lot of things. My children have suffered a lot, and they will learn a lesson and become upright people."

"I've seen Barrett in his true colours. He is an extremely selfish man. His love is fake. I will never live with such a man. Unfortunately, I didn't realize this until now. Well, my life is really a tragedy."

"But my children are innocent. They did something they shouldn't have done because of my ignorance. I don't care about my own life, but they must live well in this world."

She finally understood that she couldn't place all her hope on a man. The more expectant she was, the more disappointed she would be.

Every man was the same.

Eden nodded, "It is not too late for you to make a change. You have to become more and more outstanding so that you won't be abandoned by men. I hope you will be happy in the future."

"Take the U-disk back. I will tell you my reply before twelve o'clock at night."

Leilani shook her head slightly, "It's not safe for me to bring it back. Take it with you. I think you'll give me a satisfactory answer before twelve o'clock at night."

During this period of time, she had asked a lot of people about Victor's character. He was willing to do everything for Eden.

Eden nodded slightly, "Thank you!"

Leilani nodded with a smile and showed Eden her favorite dress, "Mrs. Alwynn, I like this cheongsam."

Eden took pictures of it and saved them.

Alyssa came back.

"Mrs. Simpson, here is your milk tea." Alyssa said with a smile.

"Thank you!" Leilani picked up the straw and took a sip, smiling with satisfaction.

After talking about the color and size of the cheongsam, Eden and Leilani left separately.

Chapter 1938

Eden did not return home. Instead, she went back to the company with Alyssa. They talked about Leilani's favorite styles in the car.

Just like Leilani said, she couldn't trust the people around her.

The human heart was unsearchable. She didn't know if Alyssa and Danielle were on her side.

These days, Alyssa gave Danielle a lot of chances to go to the 25th floor. Alyssa seemed to meet Danielle inadvertently, but she was very puzzled.

Why did Alyssa ask Danielle for help?

There were many people in the design department, but she only found Danielle, so Eden had to be on guard.

Alyssa smiled and said, "Director Bleu, Mrs. Simpson is tall. Do you think she will look good in cheongsam?"

Eden lowered her head slightly. A faint smile touched the corners of her mouth, and her eyes were bright and starry.

"She looks good in all kinds of clothes. She's wearing a traditional dress today. Although it's red, she looks noble in it. The reason why some people look charming is not because of their clothes, but their temperaments. She is graceful and appealing by nature, so she's the kind of woman who's always easy on the eyes."

Alyssa smiled and said, "Director Bleu, you are an expert in clothes."

Eden smiled but did not say anything.

Arriving at the company, Eden and Alyssa went to the top floor. As soon as they got out of the elevator, they saw Danielle who held several clothes in her arms.

Danielle was stunned when she saw Eden. She did not expect Eden to come to the company at this time.

"Hello, Director Bleu, Alyssa." She greeted them with a smile.

Eden nodded slightly.

Alyssa explained in a hurry, "Director Bleu, I ask Miss Clark to come here and help me sometimes."

Eden looked at her and smiled, "Alyssa, if you're too busy, you can tell me, and I'll hire another assistant. In that case, you'll be more relaxed."

Thalia didn't know much about design. She came to the office just to protect her.

She couldn't help Alyssa with anything.

The sales this year were much higher, and Alyssa was indeed very busy. She could understand it.

Alyssa waved her hand and said, "Director Bleu, that's unnecessary. I can deal with the work. If I'm too busy, I'll tell you. Besides, Danielle comes here to help me occasionally. My work can be enriched since I'm busy."

Eden did not say anything.

Since Alyssa said that she could handle the work, she didn't think too much.

Eden walked to the office.

Danielle looked at her back and said, "Director Bleu, Mr. Alwynn and Mr. Ronen went out."

"Oh!" Eden did not expect Victor not to be here.

"Mr. Alwynn and Mr. Ronen went to inspect the new company. Didn't he tell you about it?"
Danielle laughed happily.

Eden knew that she was provoking her.

"So, did my husband tell you that he went to inspect the new company?" Eden looked at her with a smile.

Danielle dressed up beautifully that day. Her taste had improved a lot.

When Eden first saw her, she disdained to know rich people. But at this time, she would buy luxurious clothes and flatter Victor. How ridiculous!

The reason why Eden let her work in the company was that she appeared too suddenly, and her performance was very different from other people's.

How could an ordinary stranger tell her about her family and what kind of people she had met?

However, Danielle told her all these things at that time. She had her own plan, but she pretended to be poor.

The fact proved that Danielle was indeed scheming.

As for whom she worked for, Eden was not sure.

Danielle laughed and said, "No, I just met him just now and asked him casually."

"Is that so? Could it be that my husband has changed?" Eden looked at her and smiled. Then, she turned around and entered the office.

Danielle was stunned. How could Eden be in the mood to laugh?

Alyssa looked at Danielle's eyes and smiled very meaningfully. The expression in her eyes was hard to understand.

Alyssa said, "Danielle, are these sample clothes?"

"Yes, I've sorted them out, and I'll send them to the factory later." These were the clothes she designed. She hoped that the sales would be better than that of the last season.

Danielle's eyes were full of expectation.

She could see her progress. Last time, she was too careless. She thought that Eden couldn't see it through. However, Eden was more capable than she had thought.

Eden could tell that she had copied others' design, and she even marked the similarities.

She really got a slap in the face.

How could she copy others' design again?

Alyssa said, "Hurry up and do your own work. I have a lot of things to deal with. Let's have dinner together."

Danielle smiled and nodded. Thanks to Alyssa, she could come to the 25th floor more often. Naturally, she would not refuse her request.

When Eden returned to the office, she really did not see Victor.

She had been busy all morning, and she had not eaten lunch yet.

She didn't want to think about Leilani's words at this time. She would talk to Victor about it after they went home.

She took out her phone and ordered a meal for herself.

Then, she sat in her office and waited.

Seth had put some documents on her table. She read them while waiting for her meal to be delivered.

The project had been finished successfully. Although Eden didn't make much money, she saved an unfinished building, and many people were no longer homeless. She suddenly felt that she was quite great.

Eden felt satisfied in every aspect.

After reading the documents, she signed her name and put them aside.

Then she turned on the computer to read the sales reports of different places.

Alwynn Group was developing better and better, and she was very glad.

The project in O Country was further forward in an orderly manner.

The shop in the mall had been decorated.

The goods had been delivered, and she was looking forward to the sales there.

Twenty minutes later, her phone rang. Her meal had been delivered.

Eden asked the delivery clerk to send it to the top floor.

A few minutes later, Eden looked at the delicious meal and smiled with satisfaction.

Getting up and opening the window, she poured herself a glass of hot water and began to enjoy her lunch.

Halfway through her meal, the door was suddenly opened. Eden looked over and saw Victor coming back.

"Honey, why are you here?" Victor walked over in pleasant surprise.

Eden went to pick up Lyric in the hospital, so he thought that she would come back in the afternoon.

Eden said, "Jasper is there, so I came back. Have you had lunch?"

"Yes." Victor walked over and sat opposite her. Watching her eating, he smiled and asked, "Why did you come here all of a sudden? I want to skip work and go back to find you."

Eden looked at him helplessly, "Why do you think about skipping work every day? Don't you want the company anymore?"

Victor looked at her with complaint, "I'm not used to it when you're not here."

Eden stopped talking instantly. Why was he so clingy?

Chapter 1939

"Humph." Eden glared at him coquettishly.

"But it's good to get off work earlier today. I have something to tell you at night."

Victor was instantly interested and said excitedly, "Honey, what's it? I want to hear it now."

Eden poked his forehead with her index finger, "Look at how curious you're! I'll tell you when we get home. Anyway, it's a good thing."

"Okay, so what's the good thing?" Victor wanted to know it very much and looked at her with expectation in eyes.

A cunning expression flashed through Eden's eyes, "I want to go home and take a bath with you."

Victor was stunned. Eden seldom said such seductive words.

He smiled evilly, and his eyes became more and more affectionate. He took her hand and said in a flirty tone, "Honey, I can't wait anymore. Let's go back now."

"No, I have to eat my lunch. Otherwise, how could I satisfy you later? Don't you know how energetic you are?" Eden lowered her head and continued to eat.

Victor was so excited that he wanted to kiss her.

She seldom took the initiative to say like this. Moreover, had she finally admitted that he was amazing while bedtime?

Victor felt extremely proud.

He clearly felt that his heart was filled with excitement and happiness.

He couldn't be more delighted.

Even his heart beat faster, and he was in a particularly good mood.

Every cell in his body was full of joy.

Although he thought so, he said against his conscience, "Honey, eat slowly. I will help you pick out the fish bones."

Victor picked up another pair of unopened disposable chopsticks, picked out the fish bones carefully and put the fish in her bowl.

When Eden reacted, there was a large piece of fish in her bowl.

Raising her head, she saw Victor's happy face, and the expression in his eyes had softened a lot.

She lowered her head and ate with a smile. In the past, she felt that the fish was a little salty, but it tasted very good that day.

In a fire exit, a woman wore earphones and heard the conversation between Eden and Victor.

In the dim space, she frowned hard, looking jealous and embarrassed.

She scolded coldly, "How shameless they are!"

Then she left the fire exit.

Victor and Eden stayed in the office for quite a while, talking about some trivial matters.

They flirted with each other before leaving the company together.

Someone had been watching them until they left.

Eden seemed to have felt something and turned to look back.

In the underground parking lot, Victor looked at her movement and asked with a smile, "Eden, what's wrong?"

Eden turned around to look at him and shook her head slightly, suppressing the doubt in her heart. Just now, she felt that someone was looking at them secretly.

"It's okay. Let's go." She didn't tell him about Leilani's words just now, because she was afraid that there would be a bug in the office.

Although she had no evidence, she hadn't found the suspicious person after investigating for a long time, and she had to doubt someone in the company.

After getting in the car, Victor drove back directly.

Eden asked him, "Victor, you've maintained all your cars, right?"

Victor smiled and said, "Don't worry. No one can do anything to my cars. Lucian checks my cars regularly. Such an car accident won't happen again."

Eden was just afraid that he would have a car accident again. At that time, his car was controlled by a computer, which was so terrible. She would remind him to examine the cars every few months.

Victor rubbed her head. Knowing that she was uneasy, he said in a loving tone, "Don't worry. Barrett's assistants are not so skilled and capable."

Only then did Eden calm down a little.

After she calmed down, she found that her fingers were trembling.

No words could describe how she felt when she thought about the car accident.

Sometimes, she would dream about the car accident. She wandered up and down the car wreck, looking for him sadly. When she woke up, the fear would haunt her like a demon.

Victor drove seriously. Eden lowered her head and filled her mind with nonsense uncontrollably. After thinking for a while, she gradually became sleepy.

She fell asleep unconsciously.

Soon, they arrived home.

Victor unbuckled the seat belt and tilted his head to look at her sleepy face. With a tender smile, he got off the car, unbuckled her seat belt and carried her into the house.

Hearing the sound of the door opening, Eden was completely awake.

Looking at the familiar house, she hugged Victor's neck more tightly.

"We're home."

"Yeah!" Victor smiled meaningfully, "Honey, are we going to take a bath now?"

Eden blushed in an instant. She was so nervous that her body tensed up.

Victor felt her uneasiness and smiled more wickedly.

"You were so bold in the company. Why do you become so shy at home? Huh?" Victor said while carrying her upstairs. His voice was very seductive.

When they reached the stairs, Eden suddenly said, "Don't go up. I have something to tell you."

If they went upstairs, he would definitely think about having sex first.

She could only rest assured after talking about the list.

Victor stopped and looked down at her with a faint smile, "Do you want to back on your words?" His voice was low and elegant, and he was a little unhappy.

Eden suddenly regretted using this matter as an excuse.

"No, you can do whatever you want after we talk about it. Besides, I miss you very much today. Let's go to the study. I need to use the computer."

Victor walked much faster. Instead of going to the study, he went straight to their room.

Eden was speechless.

Victor took off her shoes and let her lean against the bed before taking out a laptop from the cabinet. Then he went to bed, held her and turned on the laptop.

Eden took out a U-disk from her bag and told him about Leilani's words.

Victor was shocked to hear that. Leilani had actually changed herself.

She was suddenly enlightened by the disputes in her family.

Victor looked at her with a smile, "Honey, let's see if the list is really valuable first."

"Okay!" Eden nodded. She felt drowsy again.

She slept well last night. Maybe she was too tired these days.

Victor inserted the U-disk, and there were several names on the screen. They knew all these people.

"Tiana." Eden suddenly saw a familiar name and frowned doubtfully, "Is she the woman we met last time?"

Victor's face darkened, "Yes, she is the one who copied our clothes. Last time, Mr. Klein went to the den, but she escaped. So, you must be on guard against her during the design competition."

He pointed to several names and said, "Danielle, Paulina, Tillie. These are people we are familiar with."

Chapter 1940

"Look at these people. They and Bryanna are in a group, which means that they know me. I'm familiar with these names, but I can't remember who they are. See, Maisy is also on the list. If I'm right, Barrett have contacted all my college classmates."

Victor was a little shocked. Barrett seemed to be more familiar with the people around him than he was.

He was just familiar with some of the names, but he couldn't remember them at all.

However, Barrett could find them and use them to deal with him and Eden. It seemed that Barrett knew him very well.

Victor didn't know how Barrett found these people, but they had one thing in common.

They all loved money, and they could do everything for money.

Eden had the same feeling. So many years had passed, and she had forgotten some of the classmates.

She remembered Paula because she always bullied her in high school.

She wasn't familiar with others, and she couldn't recognize them even if they met.

"Victor, although we can't recognize them, it doesn't matter. These people will come to us sooner or later."

Victor nodded slightly and found that Barrett would arrange people in an orderly manner. The people behind Maisy was Bryanna, and the woman behind Bryanna was called Delia Jones.

Victor pointed at Delia's name and said, "Eden, according to the order on the list, Barrett will send Delia to scheme against you soon."

Eden asked, "Do you know her?"

Victor shook his head slightly, "No, I started my own business in college, and I seldom went to school. Even though she knows me, she should be familiar with Adonis and Anson. They often played with our schoolmates."

Eden looked at him with cold eyes, "These are all female names, so these women are all interested in you."

Victor looked at her with grievance. Fortunately, she got the list, or he would be wronged again.

"Honey, I feel so wronged." Victor was very aggrieved.

Eden glared at him. She had to deal with several malicious women in the future!

It was tiring to frustrate them one by one.

Eden pointed at a dozen names on the list, "What about these people?"

Victor's face darkened more. Thinking about what had happened that day and seeing the familiar names, he seemed to know what was going on.

"There was an emergency in the branch today. Lucian and I rushed over to deal with it. The manager is named Vayne, and he's on the list as well. According to names on the list, they should be Barrett's enemy agents in the branch."

"I'll send this list to Brian right now and ask him to investigate the employees in the branches."

Eden said, "As for Leilani..."

Victor looked at her and knew that she was softhearted.

He wanted Stephen to spend the rest of his life in jail. Thinking of what Stephen had done, he wished that he could kill him.

Eden saw the change of his expressions and could tell what he was thinking. He looked very indifferent and cold-blooded.

She grabbed Victor's hand and said in a very gentle tone, "Victor, it is better to get rid of an enemy than keep it alive. If we can make it up with Leilani, our children will have less enemies in the future, right?"

"Since she wants to take a step back, let's make the right choice."

She did not want her children to be affected by the hatred between her and her enemies. It was unfair to them, and their lives would be threatened.

Victor took her hand and said in a bad mood, "What he did makes me want to kill him. How could I let him go now?"

Eden knew that he was angry, and she was mad as well.

Stephen nearly ruined him.

But it was just something in the past. She said with a faint smile, "Victor, forget it. If they leave here, we'll live more peacefully."

Leilani had enough money to do many things.

"Alas." Victor had to compromise.

"I'll ask Brian to deal with it." Before he released Stephen, he would meet Leilani.

Leilani might have some other purposes.

A few days ago, she was trying to ruin their marriage, but she changed her mind so soon. There must be something he didn't know.

"Alright." Eden smiled. Seeing that his eyes had softened a lot, she felt much better.

"I want my reward." Victor closed the laptop and put it on the table beside him.

He suddenly approached her. Eden's heart skipped a beat as she felt how overbearing and aggressive he was.

"What reward?" She pretended to know nothing and blinked her big eyes, looking very charming. Victor got more infatuated with her.

Victor immediately gave her a warning look.

She was trying to play this trick again.

"What do you think? Huh?" He whispered in her ear.

Feeling his hot breathing, Eden clearly felt the changes in her body, and she blushed in an instant.

Victor was really getting more and more wicked.

However, she couldn't suppress the expectation in her heart.

Eden buried her head deeply in his arms. Her face was red, and her heart beat faster.

She was so shy that Victor could even feel her strong heartbeat.

"Ha-ha..." He chuckled.

Eden listened to him. What a bad man!

After having sex for several times, Eden finally fell asleep soundly.

Victor got up with satisfaction and took a bath. Then he sent a message to Dean and let him make an appointment with Leilani.

After coming out of the bathroom, he tucked Eden in. With his eyes full of tenderness, he lowered his head and kissed her forehead.

Then he went downstairs to the kitchen, took out a chicken from the refrigerator and washed it. After blanching it and cooking chicken soup with some other food ingredients, he left the house with joy.

Half an hour later, in a private box.

Leilani sat on the sofa nervously and uneasily.

She did not expect Victor to contact her so quickly.

She wondered if Victor had made up his mind.

She got the list coincidentally, but she was very lucky. The list could make her and her children have a brand new life, so she was not regretful at all.

She was not afraid even if she had to betray Barrett.

Since she couldn't get his love, the only thing she had to do was to protect her children.

Just as Leilani was feeling restless, the door of the private box was pushed open.

Leilani looked up subconsciously and saw Victor's domineering figure.

He looked imposing and commanding. As soon as he came in, the atmosphere in the box became oppressive.

Leilani felt even more nervous.

But she had to be brave. She had to save her children.
