

Gluey Love 2031

Chapter 2031

"Okay, I'll buy it." Jasper smiled, got up and walked out.

Lyric couldn't believe that he was so considerate.

She once thought that she must have a boyfriend who could listen to her most of the time. She was not an unreasonable person. As long as she didn't go too far, her future boyfriend should cater to her.

Buying milk tea was something she wanted her boyfriend to do.

But...

Lyric laughed self-mockingly. If she gave up Jasper, could she fall in love with another man?

The answer was no. She had been obsessed with Jasper's tenderness.

"Ha-ha... Miss, you are so beautiful!"

Lyric was lost in thought. She did not notice that a drunk man was standing beside her until she heard his flirty voice. Love was so magical that she could forget everything around her.

The man's face was red, and his eyes were blurred. He was obviously drunk. Looking at Lyric's pretty face, he wanted to sexually harass her.

It was only five o'clock in the afternoon, and there were few people eating here. In the empty hall, only the waiters were busy setting up bowls and chopsticks, and the tables had been reserved.

It was not the first time that Lyric had encountered such a situation. When she met Ansley in the past, Ansley instigated her friends to treat her like this. However, in such a situation, she could run or hide.

But at this moment...

Lyric sat there obediently, feeling very nervous. Her foot was injured, and she could not leave directly. As long as she ignored this man, he would ask for a snub and leave.

"Hey! Why don't you talk? Go with me. I'll buy you something delicious." The man staggered to get close to Lyric.

Lyric was extremely nervous. She looked at the door, but Jasper had not come back yet. She was really anxious and scared. She could smell his foul breath and the smell of alcohol, and she wanted to escape immediately.

Seeing that Lyric didn't speak, the man was a bit unhappy, "Are you mute? That's good. At least you won't be noisy."

The man smiled and tried to pull Lyric. He was so drunk that he couldn't even stand still.

The moment he touched Lyric, she roared, "What are you doing?"

"What am I doing? What do you think? It turns out that you're not mute. I like your voice." The man wanted to touch her again. However, his hand was grabbed by someone before he touched Lyric.

"Who dares to grab my hand..." Before the man could finish his words, he was pushed to the ground hard.

Seeing this, the waiter immediately went to the kitchen to call the boss.

Jasper held a cup of milk tea in his hand and looked at the man who was groaning on the ground.

"Lyric, are you okay?" When he looked at Lyric, his expression softened a lot.

The moment Lyric looked into his eyes, her frightened and helpless heart calmed down instantly.

"It's okay. Fortunately, you come back in time." Lyric's face was pale. It was obvious that she was very panicked just now.

The man on the ground was in pain. He struggled to get up while cursing.

Jasper stepped on his chest, and his eyes became fierce again.

"Oh, sir, I'm sorry. I was busy in the kitchen just now. I didn't know what happened here. Why does this drunkard come to my restaurant to make trouble again?"

A fat middle-aged man walked over with a smile. He was wearing a white apron, and his smile was very kind.

Jasper looked at him, and his eyes darkened more and more.

The restaurant owner was not angry. Instead, his smile became brighter and brighter, "Sir, I'm sorry. This is our negligence. He's a poor man on the island. Everyday, he doesn't do anything except for drinking. He may have encountered something unhappy today, so he came here to pester this lady. I apologize on his behalf. He's a poor man."

Jasper looked at him with a frown, "He bullies people everywhere. Doesn't he have to bear the responsibility just because he's poor?"

"No, sir, listen to me. He is not like this in ordinary times. He usually goes to the beach to sleep after getting drunk. I don't know what's wrong with him today." The restaurant owner tried his best to explain. It was the first time he had encountered such a thing.

"Hey, what are you doing? Go to the beach to sleep since you're drunk. Why are you disturbing my customer here?"

The man looked at Lyric with a smile, "She's pretty, and I want to play with her..."

"Shut up!" The restaurant owner immediately interrupted him when he saw the gloomy expression on Jasper's face.

He knew that the people who came here were not easy to deal with. He didn't want to get into trouble. He had to do business at night.

The restaurant owner couldn't care about Jasper's foot. He asked two waiters to drag the drunk man out.

Then he offered Jasper a free meal.

Jasper didn't take advantage of him. After eating with Lyric, he paid the bill.

Jasper pushed Lyric out of the restaurant. At night, the wind on the island dropped a little, and it was not so cold. However, Jasper covered Lyric with a blanket.

They walked to the beach. The moon was bright and the stars were few. The night sky was like a boundless and huge black curtain, decorated with countless gem-like stars that were shining brightly.

Lyric couldn't help but smile, "Mr. Joye, the night here has always been beautiful."

Jasper looked at the crescent moon in the sky, feeling especially peaceful.

"Yeah! Let's take a walk on the beach."

"Okay, it's not so windy tonight."

Lyric didn't want to go back so early.

From a distance, they saw two familiar figures on the beach.

They were Victor and Eden.

Eden walked barefoot in the water. As she walked, the sea water under her feet rippled.

The sea water was not very cold, and Victor couldn't stop her.

He could only protect her carefully.

Seeing the waves dashing against her, Eden smiled and ran to Victor.

"Victor, it's fun." Eden ran over and threw herself into Victor's arms. She smiled so brightly that Victor couldn't help kissing her lips.

Lyric and Jasper were dumbfounded.

After Victor let go of her reluctantly, he said with a sullen face, "Stop. The water is too cold."

"No, I haven't played for a long time. I'm sweating, so the water is not cold to me."

Eden left his arms and ran into the sea again. In the lovely night, her happy figure was like an elf. Victor was happy because of her.

He played together with her. They chased each other and had a good time.

On the beach, they could hear Eden's happy laughter.

As soon as Victor caught up with Eden, he kissed her so hard that she couldn't breathe. Lyric blushed and her heart beat fast, but Jasper didn't intend to leave.

Lyric suddenly understood why Victor didn't like to be disturbed by others. Eden's happy and peaceful smile was so pleasing to the eye.

Chapter 2032

Looking at her happy face, the people around her would be infected by her. When she sat there quietly, she gave people a peaceful feeling.

This was what Lyric felt when she saw Eden. At that time, she felt that Eden was very charming.

Eden might not look attractive at first, but over time she realized that she was the kind of woman who was always easy on the eyes, and she could make people feel at ease.

It was understandable that Jasper had loved her for more than a decade. Beautiful things were not only pleasing to the eye, but also made people possessive about them.

Eden seemed a little tired. After she stopped, Victor hugged her from behind.

Eden was surprised to see Jasper and Lyric.

She was stunned. How long had they been standing there?

"Lyric, Jasper, are you here for a walk?" Eden was flustered. Realizing that she and Victor kissed each other just now, she blushed immediately.

Even at night, Jasper could see the blush on her face clearly. She was very adorable.

Victor's mood was very complicated when he saw them. Why was it so hard to spend some time with Eden alone?

Jasper smiled, "Eden, I came here especially to witness your display affection."

Eden blushed completely and lowered her head in embarrassment.

Only a few people would come here, and no one could recognize them at night, so she enjoyed herself. She didn't expect to be seen by them.

Lyric said teasingly, "Eden, you look so beautiful when you blush!"

Eden was too ashamed to face them.

She leaned aside slightly did not speak.

Victor hugged her and looked at Jasper, "Did you say that on purpose?"

"Yeah." Jasper smiled faintly. Looking at how happy they were, he was actually extremely jealous.

"Oh! Jasper, you're corrupted by bad examples." Eden glared at him and then looked at Lyric, "Don't let him lead you astray."

"Eden, I'm serious." Lyric smiled brightly.

Eden glared at her coquettishly, "Even you make fun of me."

Lyric smiled and didn't say anything. She was very delighted that night. Jasper saved her in time, which made her feel warm and want to rely on him for the rest of her life. As for Jasper and Eden's past, she had no right to mind it. Moreover, Eden was living a happy life with Victor.

Jasper pushed Lyric forward, "You can on. We'll go back. Eden, don't play for too long. Don't forget that your leg was once injured. You can't stay in the water for too long."

"Okay, got it." Eden didn't look at Jasper.

Watching him leave sensibly, Victor was in a better mood.

As Jasper and Lyric left harmoniously, Victor said, "Honey, let's go back after walking for a while."

"Okay, let's go back by foot. I'm not very tired today." Eden walked not far away and put on her slippers.

After walking for a short while, they met Dahlia and Dulcie. They came out in long dresses for a walk.

Carlotta had broken with Dulcie because of what had happened during the day.

Dulcie didn't know what was going on.

It was dark on the beach, but the scene of Victor and Eden hugging each other looked especially warm.

Victor's tender eyes made them more jealous.

Meeting Victor and Eden like this, Paulina was more or less nervous.

She did not dare to look into Eden's clear and calm eyes. None of them spoke. She took Dulcie's hand and was about to leave.

When she passed by Eden, Eden suddenly said, "Paulina, you'd better pray that I wouldn't find any evidence of what you did today."

Paulina was stunned and stopped. She looked back at Eden's cold face and said mockingly, "Eden, don't talk nonsense if you have no evidence."

Eden turned around and looked at her, "If you want the evidence, I can show you at any time."

"You played a trick so that Dulcie became reconciled with Carlotta, but you made use of her viciously. Do you think Carlotta doesn't know about it?"

Upon hearing this, Dulcie was anxious, "How did you know about this?"

After that, she regretted it instantly. She had exposed herself, hadn't she?

Paulina glanced at her with sharp eyes. She was really impatient.

Eden smiled and did not speak. She took Victor's hand and walked forward.

"Dahlia, what should we do?" Dulcie knew that she was really at a dead end.

Carlotta abandoned her again.

Without Carlotta's help, she would lose a lot of money.

There were always many talents in the design circle, but she was not a genius at all. She was only a little bit more talented than other designers.

Paulina had been using Carlotta and Dulcie.

She knew very well that she could no longer work as a designer.

Therefore, she wanted to get some money from Barrett and then go abroad to live her carefree life.

She ran the company just because she wanted a good reputation.

She pretended to be sad and comforted Dulcie, "It's okay. You still have me, don't you?"

"Carlotta broke with you just because someone tried to cast a bone between you. She's not qualified to be your friend."

Anyway, she was in a good mood because Carlotta took the blame for her.

"Victor, Eden, just wait and see what will happen tomorrow." She sneered in heart.

Although Victor had warned everyone, the video of Eden's dress being pulled off was posted online early the next morning.

Someone took the video from a great angle. From the video, people could see Eden's dress being pulled off as well as her naked body.

Someone saw the video in the first place.

Last night, Victor had reminded Lucian to keep an eye on the news the Internet. He knew that some people wouldn't listen to him.

Lucian immediately delete the video and tracked the Internet protocol address of the one who posted the video.

After that, people couldn't see anything though they clicked on the video.

Before Paulina had time to look at the video, she couldn't find the video on the Internet.

It could be seen that Victor was well prepared.

She made a phone call angrily, but she was shocked by the voice she heard.

"Miss Clark, I was waiting for you to call me."

She immediately hung up.

How could it be Lucian?

Lucian threw the phone in front of the reporter with disdain. Paulina didn't even dare to say a word. She was more and more cowardly.

Dean was typing on the computer aside. After a while, he looked back at Lucian, "Mr. Ronen, the photos have been completely deleted."

"Okay!" Lucian kicked the reporter who had been bribed by Paulina and said with cold eyes, "Go back and quit the job. You don't deserve it!"

After that, he left with Dean.

The reporters could glare at him, feeling angry and helpless.

Eden knew nothing about what had happened. After playing for a whole night, she had a lazy sleep the next day before she slowly got up. At this time, there was no gossips on the Internet.

Chapter 2033

Victor chatted with Lucian on the balcony. It was Paulina who arranged everything.

Victor had been planning for a long time. The competition was about to start, and it was time to carry out his plan.

Paulina should be taught a lesson.

Hearing the light sounds in the room, Victor sent a message to Lucian, "That's it. You and Dean will be responsible for the rest things. I will take Eden out to play."

"Well, don't leave everything to Dean. Thalia is pregnant. Let him spend more time with her."

Victor was stunned. Early in the morning, he was shocked by this news.

"D*mn! He is amazing, isn't he?"

"He's not as amazing as you. You made Eden pregnant with three children."

Victor smiled proudly, "Of course! Alright, I'll give him less work to do recently. Brian has to be busier."

Brian, who was sleeping lazily, suddenly felt a chill on his back. Had someone schemed against him?

"That's right!"

Victor put down his phone and went back to the room.

Eden was in the bathroom, and Victor asked someone to bring them breakfast.

Eden came out of the bathroom and changed into a white hoodie.

Victor waved his hand and let her come over for breakfast.

As soon as Eden sat down, Victor said, "Eden, Thalia is pregnant."

"Really?" Eden looked at him in surprise. Did Thalia get pregnant so soon?

"Well, Victor, what's wrong with you? I have not got pregnant yet."

The spoon that Victor had just picked up fell to the ground with a clang.

What did he hear just now? What she said was like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky.

Eden despised him!

Eden looked at the spoon on the ground and knew that she had said something improper. A man hated being despised on bed. Moreover, she was his wife.

He must feel so bad!

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled and comforted him in a soft voice, "Victor, I didn't mean that. Don't take my words to heart. You're beyond imagination while bedtime."

Victor was speechless. He was so sad!

No, he must prove himself and let her know how amazing he was!

Eden looked up at him. Her chin was beautiful and delicate, and her red lips were slightly opened, exposing a set of amazingly white teeth. She looked at him in an extremely attractive posture.

In an instant, Victor was sexually aroused. As a man, he should regain some dignity and prove himself.

He suddenly stood up and looked down at her.

Eden knew what he wanted to do subconsciously.

She blinked her bright eyes, grabbed the bread on the table and said coquettishly, "Victor, have your breakfast!"

Victor opened his mouth and took a bite.

He walked forward, carried Eden who wanted to escape in his arms and walked to the bed.

Eden was speechless. She shouldn't have provoked him!

"Mr. Joye, aren't we going to the hall?" Seeing that Jasper pushed her to the beach, Lyric was worried that her work would be delayed.

Yesterday, Mr. Bryant said that he was very busy.

Jasper looked at the distance. Dressed in a white sports suit, he looked handsome and charming. The girls passing by on the beach couldn't help but steal glances at him.

Lyric noticed it as well.

Jasper was born to be the centre of attention. Even she had fallen in love with him, let alone those young girls who began to understand love.

"It's a nice day. Let's take a walk by the sea. You don't have to worry about work. Isn't Mr. Bryant very capable? He can do everything well." Without Jadiel, they could promote their relationship.

Lyric had nothing to say. Anyway, she was looking forward to staying with Jasper, so she might as well listen to him.

Originally, she wanted to play with Eden. However, she immediately gave up the idea when she thought of Victor's horrible eyes.

She didn't dare to call Eden.

"Can we buy a cup of milk tea first?" Lyric looked back at him with a smile.

Jasper looked around. There were many snack shops and milk tea shops. "Let's buy it now."

He remembered that he had met a lot of little girls who held milk tea in their hands. Lyric liked milk tea, too.

Lyric smiled.

Jasper pushed her to a safe place which was hundreds of meters away from the milk tea shop.

There were so many people in the milk tea shop, so Jasper didn't take her there.

The sun was very warm. This was a good place for vacation, and the atmosphere was very lively. Lyric was very happy.

Lyric thought of Dragon Scale who had been encouraging her. She hadn't thanked him yet!

Lyric swiped open her phone and sent a message to Dragon Scale.

"I've been getting along well with him these days. Thanks for your encouragement!"

Before Jasper could reach the milk tea shop, the phone in her hand vibrated.

He clicked on it and saw that it was a message sent by Color Egg. He suddenly looked back. In the warm sunshine, Lyric was sitting quietly in the wheelchair. She lowered her head and had a faint smile on her face. She was so pretty!

He turned around and looked at the message nervously.

His eyes flashed, and words couldn't describe how he felt at this time.

He lowered his head and replied, "Congratulations. What are you going to do? Do you want to go forward or stay away from him?"

Lyric didn't expect Dragon Scale to have the time to reply to her.

With a smile, she saw Jasper's tall and straight figure in the crowd at a glance. Then she lowered her head to reply to him.

"I plan to go forward. Loving him humbly makes me feel wronged. I want to work hard and become good enough for him. Even if we can't be together in the end, I won't have any regret."

Jasper was standing in the milk tea shop. He ordered two cups of milk tea. It was Lyric's favorite taste, so he wanted to taste it.

Looking at Lyric's reply, he smiled brightly, and a wave of happiness flooded him.

His good-looking eyes were full of tenderness.

"I'm looking forward to the final result. Since you've made up your mind, do your best. In fact, you don't have to be good enough for him. As long as you love each other."

Jasper knew that love was not determined by their family backgrounds or wealth. They should be suitable for each other. The most important thing was that they loved each other.

"Thanks for your encouragement. I'll tell you if there's any progress."

"Okay!"

"Sir, your milk tea is ready." The shop assistant's voice made Jasper come to sense.

Jasper took it with a smile and left after thanking her.

Seeing Lyric who was sitting in a wheelchair in the crowd from a distance, he couldn't help but smile again.

At the same time, he was a little nervous and conflicted. He was teaching Lyric how to be in a relationship.

No, he suddenly realizing something.

He was chasing after himself.

Jasper paused. He felt that he was a little evil, but he was very expectant.

Chapter 2034

In the crowd, Lyric looked at him with a smile.

Jasper stood in front of her and handed her a grande cup of milk tea.

"It's grande." Jasper said in a teasing tone. She could eat a lot.

Lyric never denied that she was a foodie. She knew what Jasper meant, but she looked calm.

"Thank you!" Lyric took it with a smile, inserted a straw and took a sip with satisfaction. She narrowed her eyes and chewed the taro balls slowly, looking very cute.

Seeing that she liked it so much, Jasper took a sip as well. Back then, he often drank milk tea when he stay with Eden, but it was the first time he had drunk milk tea with taro balls.

There were fine red patterns on the taro balls. It was chewy and sweet. For him, it was too sweet, but it tasted good.

He bought a small cup for himself. After taking a few sips, he pushed Lyric to the beach.

He wanted to take her to the beach for sashimi.

He searched for the delicious food on this island last night and found that there were various kinds of seafood here. The sashimi restaurant he found was very popular on the Internet, and he could take her there.

As Lyric drank the milk tea, she felt extremely satisfied. Even her breathing became much smoother.

"Mr. Joye, will I affect your work if we go back after playing like this for a few days?"

Staying alone with him made her feel like she was dating.

They took a walk and had meals together, and they even lived in the same hotel, which made her feel as if they were in a relationship.

Jasper smiled and asked, "Why are you so worried about my work? You're my assistant. How can you not know whether my work will be affected or not?"

Lyric forgot that she was his assistant, and she blushed.

She had been used to his kindness. When she was alone with him, she didn't need to think or do anything, because he would arrange everything well. She didn't expect him to be so considerate.

He would really be a qualified boyfriend.

Lyric couldn't answer Jasper's question. She was a little nervous, and she was afraid of being seen through. She could only try her best to drink her milk tea silently.

Seeing this, Jasper stopped her, "Don't drink so much, or you'll be too full to have your lunch."

"Oh!" Lyric replied uneasily and really stopped drinking.

Jasper was experienced. How could he not know how disturbed she was?

If it was in the past, he would have thought that blunt were those concerned.

But at this time, he was very clear-headed in this relationship.

Lyric was outgoing and cheerful, but she was afraid of being refused by him.

Everyone's way of dealing with emotions was different. Some people were enthusiastic, and they did not care about the consequences.

Some were reserved and restrained. They wouldn't confess their feelings unless they were sure that they were being loved.

Lyric was such a person.

She was timid and shy, and she was afraid of losing him. In this case, she would only leave regrets in her life.

Lyric cared too much about this relationship, so she did not have a sense of security. She was worried about losing him, and she was more afraid of being refused, so she did not dare to express her feelings casually.

Jasper smiled. Lyric was like him when he fell in love with Eden back then.

"Lyric, I'll take you to a wedding after we get back." Jasper suddenly said. If his care could make her braver, he was willing to spend all his time with her.

"Okay, but could I go with you?" She had never attended a wedding before.

"Why not? It's the wedding of Eden's elder brother. His son is studying in the kindergarten now. They'll hold a wedding the day after tomorrow. We won't miss it when we go back."

"Oh, why do they hold a wedding so late?" Lyric couldn't figure it out.

Jasper smiled and said in a deep voice, "Many things happened back then, which was why they hold a wedding a few years late."

"Is that so?"

Jasper smiled, "Yeah. My sister, Eden, Lucian and Adonis all encountered something while dating, so they had children before holding weddings. However, none of them can hold a wedding now."

Jasper couldn't help but think of what had happened on the day Victor went to visit the master.

In fact, he could understand their feelings. Every man who loved his wife wanted to let the whole world know that he had got married.

Lyric didn't know the reason, so she didn't say anything.

"Lyric, love is never humble. No matter who you love, you can't wrong yourself." Jasper reminded her.

Indeed, he did not want to miss her. He wanted to have a warm family.

Lyric's heart skipped a beat.

An idea suddenly flashed through her mind. Jasper's heart had been broken. Should she take the initiative to get close to him and warm his heart? She was likely to be with him, wasn't she?

"Okay, Mr. Joye, I will try my best to be better. When I become excellent enough, I will definitely confess my love to the person I like." Lyric looked back at him and smiled.

Jasper was stunned.

He just wanted to remind her, but that was what she thought.

Alright, he was waiting for her confession.

Jasper said with amusement, "Okay, I'll watch you be with the man you like."

Lyric didn't speak and pursed her lips. He was the man she wanted to be with. She wanted to give him a brighter future and a happier life.

They walked to the beach. The sea breeze was gentle and the sound of the waves was relaxing. the warm sunlight cast a glow over the beach.

Lyric felt the tenderness of the sea breeze and listened to the breathing of Jasper. Her heart was filled with sweetness, and she was overwhelmed by joy.

They didn't speak, enjoying the warm and harmonious atmosphere quietly.

The next day, Eden, Victor, Lyric and Jasper went back together.

Others had left after the fashion show. They benefited a lot from the show.

Eden had complaints against Victor these days, and she was neither cold nor warm to him.

She didn't even want to sit on the passenger seat. Instead, she sat in the back seat and chatted with Lyric.

Victor looked at Jasper who was sitting in the passenger seat, and his face darkened. Looking at Eden and Lyric who were chatting from the rearview mirror, he was in a bad mood.

"Why don't you drive your own car?"

Jasper glanced at him and said in a gloating tone, but only the two of them could hear his voice, "Did you quarrel with Eden?"

Victor's face darkened more when he heard this, and he glared at Jasper. He was just worried that no one would coax Eden to sleep when she was tired.

But Eden didn't want to talk to him these days, and he was very depressed. Could it be that he had sequelae because of the medicine he had taken back then?

Chapter 2035

Victor and Eden went to the Clement family to help with the wedding the next day. Some distant relatives came one day earlier.

Adrienne and Delmont had come back.

Eden did not know too many relatives. Although she had come back to the Clement family, she did not know many relatives.

Wyatt introduced her, Victor and Zofia to their relatives. It was the first time Eden had seen her uncle, aunt and her cousins. Her uncle was named Robert Clement, while her aunt was Rosalie Clement.

After Eden greeted them, Rosalie looked at her.

"Eden, I heard that you've come back to our family for a long time. Why didn't you go abroad to see me? I had been waiting for you."

Eden was stunned. She was too busy to think about these things.

"Sorry, aunt. I was thoughtless." Eden apologized.

Grandma Clement glanced at Rosalie unhappily.

"What are you talking about? Eden has come back for many years. As her aunt, why didn't you come back to see her?"

"Oh! Mother, it's because you like Wyatt's children that you don't live with us. You even gave them more property. Jayleen Clement and Jedidiah Clement only got one third of your property. Mom, you are so partial."

"Jayleen hasn't got married yet. Eden's husband is the richest man in River City, and she has a lot of money."

In fact, Rosalie had complaints against Grandma Clement because she was partial. She had wanted to come back and talk about this matter, but she restrained herself for a long time.

They sat together, and Rosalie's words made the atmosphere oppressive.

Robert looked at her dissatisfied face and yelled coldly, "We haven't gathered together for several years. What are you talking about? How can you talk to mom like this?"

He didn't care about money. All he wanted was that his mother could be in good health.

His mother was once sick on bed for a year and a half, but he was too busy to come back and take care of her. It was Wyatt who looked after her. How could he be qualified to blame his mother?

But Rosalie didn't care about this. In the past, Grandma Clement went aboard because she couldn't get along well with Aisling.

When she heard that her granddaughter had been found, she wished she could come back immediately.

Later, she really gave most of her property to Eden. Wasn't Jayleen her granddaughter?

"What's wrong? Did I say anything wrong? Since we're all back, let's make it clear." Rosalie didn't want to give up.

Wyatt and Robert looked gloomy.

Jayleen and Jedidiah sat aside and said nothing. It was obvious that they gave tacit consent to their mother's words.

Victor simply pulled Eden aside and fed her.

Robert looked at Rosalie coldly, "Buddy is going to get married. This is a good day. What do you want to do?"

"Oh, he'll get married tomorrow, won't he? It's good to talk about it because everyone is here." Rosalie didn't want to give up. Anyway, she didn't want Aisling to live a good life.

Eden looked displeased. She was very happy to see her relatives, but Rosalie was too unreasonable.

She didn't know what Grandma Clement thought about this matter. At that time, she accepted the property because Grandma Clement wanted to give it to her, and she said that it was the expression of her good will.

"You..." Robert was very angry.

"Mom, don't listen to her nonsense." He could only persuade Grandma Clement not to take Rosalie's words to heart.

However, Grandma Clement was a stubborn person. Being questioned by Rosalie, she was annoyed.

"Humph!" She snorted at him, "You've been so useless!"

Robert lowered her head and had nothing to say.

Grandma Clement looked at Rosalie and smiled, "If you want to talk about it, I'll make it clear to you. Buddy will get married tomorrow. If I don't make it clear to you, you will make a scene tomorrow."

"Mom, that's fair." Rosalie listened to Grandma Clement carefully and looked at Aisling provocatively.

Aisling only glanced at her and remained silent.

Grandma Clement said, "Back then, you and Robert felt that it was easy to run business aboard, so you asked for your father's company aboard and moved there, ignoring your father's advice."

"At that time, Clement Group didn't develop well, so you left it to Wyatt. Over the years, Clement Group has been developing better and better with the help of Delmont and Buddy, but your business aboard has been declining. You think it's unfair, and you're jealous. It's because of your mismanagement that you have less and less money."

"I had stayed aboard for many years. As for Jayleen and Jedidiah, I gave them all my property aboard."

"My property in this country is less than half of what I gave to Jayleen and Jedidiah. If you want me to be impartial, you should give some of Jayleen and Jedidiah's property to Wyatt's children."

Rosalie was rendered speechless. She didn't expect Grandma Clement to say that.

"But... Eden is already very rich, and she has got married. How can she get the property of the Clement family?" Rosalie's tone was a little aggressive.

Eden's face darkened instantly.

Victor glanced at Rosalie gloomily.

"Rosalie, do you have to be so harsh?" Aisling couldn't help but say.

She always felt that she owed Eden a lot. Hearing Rosalie's words, she went berserk.

"Am I wrong?" Rosalie had no reason to refute Grandma Clement.

She could only make a fuss about Eden.

"Ha-ha." Aisling couldn't help laughing, "Jayleen will get married, right? In the future, she will marry someone with the property that mom gave her. So why can't Eden get the property?"

Jayleen was almost forty years old, but she didn't get married. She had been living off her parents, but Rosalie compared her with Eden. How shameless she was!

"Aunt, how can you say that? Is Eden the same as me? She has married a good man." Jayleen couldn't help but say.

"Oh! That's right. You're jealous of her. I forgot that you're almost forty years old, but you haven't got married yet." Aisling was stubborn. Since Rosalie and Jayleen didn't show her respect, she would piss them off.

"Aunt, there's no need to get personal." Jayleen looked embarrassed.

Before Aisling spoke, Grandma Clement said, "She's telling the truth."

"Grandma." Jayleen bit her lower lip and was about to cry.

Adrienne glanced at Delmont silently. Jayleen was spoilt.

Delmont gave her a comforting look, motioning to her not to care about it.

Buddy took Zofia back to her room to rest. She was pregnant, and she could not be tired.

Grandma Clement glanced at everyone and looked at Rosalie in the end, "Alright, stop making a fuss. You can't change my mind. Don't you know why your daughter hasn't got married?"

"I..."

"I told you to stop. Now it's time for lunch. I'm still alive. Everyone knows whether I'm partial or not. Back then, you chose the better company, and now you're jealous just because they live a better life than you."

Chapter 2036

Rosalie was furious, and she was very embarrassed. In front of Eden whom she had never seen before, Grandma Clement didn't show her any respect.

"Mom, you can't say such harsh words. When you needed us, you lived with us for more than ten years. When you didn't need us anymore, you left directly and gave most of the property to them. You said that Jedidiah and Jayleen got more property, but that was not the case."

Hearing this, Grandma Clement was irritated. She gave Rosalie a way out, but she didn't appreciate it at all.

"Bang..." She slammed the table hard.

Wyatt and Eden both looked at her nervously.

"Mom, don't be angry. Pay attention to your health." Wyatt persuaded her.

However, Grandma Clement was unconcerned. She glared at Rosalie, "How dare you say so! Back then, it was you who asked me to go abroad with you. Do you think I didn't know what you were thinking? In the end, you cheated me and got half of my shares, didn't you? Now you come back and get even with me. Alright, I might as well make it clear to you. Let's see how much you owe me!"

Rosalie's face turned pale again.

But she returned to normal in just a few seconds.

Grandma Clement was right. It was hard to run business these years. Seeing that Clement Group developed better and better, she was very jealous.

However, when she heard that Grandma Clement wanted to get even with her, she became timid immediately. Aisling did not know that Grandma Clement had given her the shares.

"Why don't you speak? Are you dumb? Let's make it clear, and I'll give the extra money to Eden as her dowry. That's what I want."

Eden was speechless. Why did Grandma Clement have to mention her at this time?

Rosalie gritted her teeth and couldn't speak.

"If you don't dare to say it, just shut up. You all know whether I'm partial or you're too greedy." Grandma Clement was a strong woman when she was young. Back then, the reason why she went aboard was that she couldn't get along well with Aisling, and she wanted to challenge herself.

She came back after fulfilling her wish, which was not wrong at all. Back then, when they distributed the property, Wyatt was wronged, and Robert got the better company.

However, Wyatt had never complained.

"Humph!" Rosalie snorted, crossed her arms and sat there with her head lowered.

Only then did Jedidiah say with a smile, "Mom, stop talking. Grandma is old. It's not good to make her angry. Others will think that you're unfilial."

Hearing his meaningful words, Delmont couldn't restrain himself anymore.

He was about to stand up and speak, but Eden immediately pressed his shoulder.

She smiled sweetly at him, "Delmont, Grandma is hungry. Let's eat first."

"Eden." Delmont could not hold back his anger.

Jedidiah's sarcastic tone made him very unhappy.

In the end, they had lunch quietly.

After lunch, Victor and Delmont took their distant relatives to the hotel.

Wyatt had not seen Robert for a long time. He took Robert and Jedidiah out to visit River City.

Buddy and Zofia went to the Rivera family to pick up Glenn.

Glenn missed his grandmother. The night before, they went back and he stayed there.

There were only Grandma Clement, Rosalie, Aisling and Eden at home.

Grandma Clement was old. After talking for a whole morning, she was sleepy and went back to her room to rest.

Only then did Rosalie look Eden up and down carefully. Eden was more beautiful than in the photos.

She smiled and said, "Eden, you must have suffered a lot when you were young."

Upon hearing this, Aisling knew that she wanted to make things difficult for Eden deliberately, "If you can't keep your mouth shut, eat more fruit. You've just come back, so I'm afraid you can't get used to the food here. Eat some fruit to fill your stomach, and you can eat outside for dinner. I'm afraid that you will be hungry and say that we don't entertain you well."

Aisling put the peeled fruit in front of her.

Instead of being angry, Rosalie laughed. It was said that daughters-in-law couldn't get along well with each other, and it was true. She had been at odds with Aisling for a lifetime. However, Aisling had two sons, which made her very proud.

She remembered that Aisling once quarreled with her.

She said, "Aisling, what's so great about having two sons?"

Aisling's answer almost pissed her off.

"I'm just proud because I have two sons. Just give birth to two sons if you can."

Indeed, it was a good thing to have more sons in that era. No one dared to bully someone who had many sons.

Later, Aisling gave birth to a daughter and lost her, which made Rosalie feel much better.

"Hey, Aisling, you misunderstand me. I just want to care about Eden. I heard that she got pregnant before getting married. I don't know if Victor did a DNA test. How could it be so coincidental? Are you sure they are Victor's children?"

After she finished speaking, she smiled and glanced at Eden who was drinking juice quietly.

Hearing her words, Eden was madder than Aisling.

She smiled and said, "Aunt, Jayleen doesn't look like uncle at all. I wonder if they have done a DNA test."

"Eden, you've gone too far. How can you say that?" Rosalie didn't expect that Eden would be so sharp-tongued. She was embarrassed by Grandma Clement, so she wanted to vent her anger on Eden, but Eden made her more embarrassed.

Eden replied with a smile, "Aunt, do you think it's too much? But you said the same words to me. Don't you think you've gone too far?"

"Mom was telling the truth." Jayleen chimed in.

"Ha-ha." Aisling laughed with annoyance, "Even if Victor is not the children's biological father, he will treat Eden well for the rest of his life. You'd better worry about yourself. You're nearly forty years old, but you can't get married, let alone have a child." Aisling really didn't like Rosalie and Jayleen. Back then, if Rosalie and Robert didn't leave here, she and Wyatt would go aboard. Anyway, they couldn't live together in harmony, and she and Grandma Clement didn't get along well with each other.

"Woo-woo." Jayleen was so angry that she burst into tears.

Eden was speechless. She really shouldn't have stayed here.

Aisling didn't think that her words were harsh at all. Why could they touch Eden in the raw so recklessly?

She could insult them as well!

"Aunt, you like to bully others as always." Jayleen said while wiping her tears.

"Aisling, it has been so many years, but you still like to bully people." Rosalie's words sounded earnest, as if Aisling had bullied her.

Eden felt that she was very talented in acting. Her round face was quite pleasing to the eye, but her words were malicious.

"Yes, you know about my temper, but you provoke me with your daughter."

"Well, since there's no one else here, let's talk about the shares. Why did mom give the shares to you? I didn't get her shares."

Her words hit Rosalie's sore spot.

How could she give her shares to Aisling?

In the end, she chose to shut up.

When Eden returned home in the evening, she felt exhausted. Every family had its own problems.

Chapter 2037

She buried herself in the quilt without even turning on the light.

After Victor came in, he turned on the light.

Eden moved and sat up slowly.

She looked at him, "I thought it was an exciting gathering, but I didn't expect it to be a competition for money. It's ridiculous. Family love is like a piece of fragile paper, and it can be broken so easily."

She finally realized how mean one could be.

Rosalie liked using bitter sarcasm.

She had been arguing with her all day, and her mother was pissed off.

Victor walked over, sat beside her and took her shoulder, smiling gently at her, "This is something that happens frequently in rich and powerful families. You don't have to take it to heart. After Buddy's wedding, they go aboard again."

"Uncle has been running his business abroad, and he's henpecked. He can't make any decisions. He has no chance to develop here. He knows what will happen if he stays."

Eden nodded, "In fact, I'm very angry with Jedidiah and Jayleen. How can they think grandma is partial? They didn't say a word at that time."

How could there be such selfish people?

Victor nodded slightly, "I'm not familiar with Jedidiah, but he is much inferior to Buddy."

"Are you so clear about that?" Eden did not know much about know it.

Victor said with a smile, "He is five years older than me. I remembered when they left. At that time, they seemed to have a fierce quarrel. In less than a year, Grandpa Clement passed away because of cerebral infarction. Since then, they had never come back. It was because grandma went with them that they didn't come back."

"I know. Otherwise, mom would have known many things, but aunt spoke too harshly."

Eden was in a particularly bad mood when she thought of the DNA test that Rosalie had mentioned.

"Buddy is going to hold a wedding tomorrow. Otherwise, I would definitely fight with aunt today." Thinking of it, Eden flushed with anger.

Seeing this, Victor was a little surprised. It seemed that Rosalie had made her very mad.

"What did she say? Tell me."

Eden looked at him and shook her head, "No, I'm afraid you'll be more exasperated than me. I'm going to take a shower. I'll be busy tomorrow morning."

"Yes!" Victor got up and followed her in.

Eden stopped and blinked her beautiful eyes at him. Did he forget that she still had complaints against him? It was not good for him to be so active.

Victor smiled, "Honey, I'm sorry. I'll kneel on the keyboard later."

He knew that Eden couldn't bear to punish him, so he said at ease.

"Okay!" Eden nodded and turned to the bathroom.

Victor was speechless. Why was it different from what he had imagined?

Humph!

It seemed that he had to kneel in front of her.

Victor came into the bathroom cheekily. Eden had no choice. She was not as strong as him, so she could only let him in.

Early the next morning, they got up early and went to River City Restaurant. It was Buddy's wedding, so Eden was very careful and went to the kitchen to confirm the dishes in person.

Victor accompanied Wyatt to greet the guests.

The top floor of River City Restaurant had been the main hall of banquets.

That day was festive. At the gate of River City Restaurant, there was red carpet, as well as the wedding photos of Buddy and Zofia.

The most beautiful contract between husband and wife must be a wedding. The most important ceremony in life must be a wedding ceremony.

The Clement family was well-known in the business world, and there were a lot of guests.

Victor accompanied Wyatt to greet guests, and he did not like to speak to strangers.

With a cold face, he only said politely, "Please come in!"

Of course, Phillip attended the wedding. Looking at Victor's displeased expression, he couldn't help but say.

"Victor, look at your father. His smile is more brilliant than the sun, but your face is even gloomier than a rainy day. This is Buddy's wedding. Can't you just smile?"

Wyatt smiled, "Forget it. Victor has been like this since he was a child. Everyone knows his temper. It's okay."

"Wyatt, you spoil him too much. If he bullies your daughter with a cold face, will you spoil him as well?" Phillip just couldn't bear to see Victor's indifferent face.

Victor was speechless. Phillip was really his biological father!

Wyatt suddenly looked at him seriously, "Victor, you won't bully Eden like this, will you?"

Victor was dumbfounded.

"Dad, I won't. I love her so much." Victor explained with his face darkened.

"Okay." Wyatt patted him on the shoulder.

He said, "Your uncle is here."

Victor looked over and saw Robert and Rosalie indeed.

Phillip sighed and said, "Robert is getting old, too."

Wyatt said with a smile, "Kenny, Ricky and Gia are in their teens. Of course we're all old."

"That's right. I'm quite lucky." Phillip was as proud as Victor.

Backstage, Eden, Abigail, Amelia and Candace were accompanying Zofia.

Zofia had put on her makeup and the white diamond wedding dress.

Her makeup artist was Sean.

The fabric of the wedding dress was very soft. Zofia was thin, and the close-fitting wedding dress made her feel very comfortable. She felt as if she was in a hot spring, and the diamonds were shining under the crystal lamp.

"Zofia, you are gorgeous!" Eden looked at Zofia who had a happy smile.

She had understood why Victor wanted to give her a wedding.

A sense of ritual gave women a certain and unspeakable sense of security.

Zofia smiled and said in a very gentle tone, "It's said that a bride is the most beautiful!"

"That's right. I can put on my wedding dress and marry my groom this year, I think." Abigail said.

Ann and Amelia were watching wedding photos not far away.

Abigail smiled with expectation.

"I want to hold a wedding, too!" Eden smiled shyly, and they began to chat again.

The wedding ceremony was very grand. It received wide coverage in the press.

In the happy atmosphere, it was time for the bride to enter the hall.

The hall was luxurious and magnificent, and there were lots of gorgeous crystal lamps. Buddy and Zofia were both delighted.

In the wedding song, Buddy held Zofia's hand tightly and walked to the stage. Zofia's face was full of happiness, while Buddy was in high spirits.

It was the first time that Eden had seen him smile so happily.

Glenn was the ring bearer. The three of them stood together with joy.

Holding each other's hands, Buddy and Zofia both felt so sweet.

The wedding host gave a passionate speech. They stared at each other and could see their own figures in each other's eyes. They were affectionate and happy. After saying yes, they exchanged rings.

Chapter 2038

The melody was mellow and the applause was warm.

Buddy and Zofia smiled brightly on the stage.

Their eyes were full of affection and tenderness.

The moment Zofia put on the ring, she looked at Buddy and smiled. Her beautiful eyes blurred with tears. As she smiled with joy, crystal clear tears ran down her cheeks.

If there was a test in love, Buddy passed the test before she gave up. He loved her as always.

The grievances and humiliation she had suffered all disappeared at this moment.

It was said that diamonds represented eternity. Looking at the shining diamond ring, she promised that she would love their family with all her heart and welcome their new baby.

Buddy knew what she was thinking. He lowered his head and kissed her gently on the forehead.

He chuckled and whispered in her ear, "Honey, you are very beautiful today. If you continue to cry, your makeup will be ruined."

Zofia smiled through tears.

Buddy didn't take his eyes off her but stared at her affectionately.

He wanted to be a son that his parents were proud of, a husband that his wife loved and a father that his children respected. He wanted to give his family the happiest life.

His words had always been wonderful because of her.

Back then, she suffered a lot because she was cowardly, and he had been guilty. He would use the rest of his life to make up for his mistake.

Aisling looked at his affectionate eyes and regretted what she had done that year.

Buddy really loved Zofia. Since they got the marriage certificate, they had never quarreled. Zofia took care of their family members wholeheartedly. She was a good daughter-in-law. Fortunately, she changed her mind in time.

Jasper and Lyric came a little late, but they were not late for the wedding. Looking at the happy scene, they smiled at each other.

Lyric was looking forward to having such a romantic wedding.

"Please be upstanding and join me in a toast to the bride and groom. I wish them forever happiness and sweetness." With the host's words, everyone raised their glasses and offered their most sincere blessings to Buddy and Zofia.

Zofia was pregnant, so they didn't intend to play games together at night.

They had a lively meal together.

Buddy sat together with Adonis, Lucian, Brian, Sean, Anson, Victor and a few friends of him.

Eden and her friends sat together, watching them telling jokes.

Adonis drank a glass of water and looked at Buddy, "If we can play games at night, I will definitely stay in your bed tonight."

Everyone was speechless.

Candace glared at him fiercely.

"Ha-ha..." Buddy couldn't help laughing, "Adonis, you're drinking water now. Can you be drunk in my bed?"

"This is why I'm depressed." Adonis looked at the orange juice beside him. Well, he had to drink plain water.

After he woke up from the coma, the doctor said that he couldn't drink anymore. Therefore, no matter where he was, he drank tea or water.

Everyone knew it and didn't make things difficult for him.

"Buddy, I hope that you'll have a baby soon and live together till old and grey with Zofia." Adonis had always been forthright, and his tone and actions could make people laugh.

After drinking the water, he felt that he had said something wrong, "Oh, I was wrong. You have had a son. I hope you'll have another baby soon."

Buddy said, "Dude, I've have another baby."

Adonis was speechless. What else could he say? Then he said, "By the way, I wish you'll be chased out by your wife tonight!"

Buddy was stunned.

"Ha-ha..." Everyone laughed.

Buddy finally got drunk at ten o'clock at night because of him.

Victor wondered if he should ask Adonis to go on a business trip when he held a wedding. He was too mischievous.

Buddy was no match for him.

He was so drunk that he staggered and didn't know where to go.

They ate, drank and played while laughing. After twelve o'clock at night, they left the restaurant and went to the karaoke bar. In the end, everyone was tired and went back to sleep.

Buddy and Zofia would spend the wedding night in another villa.

Victor and Lucian sent them there. After putting Buddy on bed, they left.

Zofia stayed to take care of him.

As soon as they left, Buddy got up excitedly.

Zofia was about to undress him and wipe his body, and she was taken aback.

Buddy looked at her shocked face and smiled, "Baby, I'm not drunk!"

"I was pretending. I know that Adonis would play a trick on me, so I pretended to be drunk. Although we have been together for several years, there is an essential ceremony tonight. I can't be drunk. You're only pregnant for three months now, and we can have sex." Buddy's eyes flashed, and his ears were a little red.

Zofia was speechless.

What else could she say? But his blushing face was so cute!

"Go and take a bath first. There is an overpowering smell of alcohol." She smiled with disgust.

"Okay, I'll have a shower."

Buddy put on his shoes and held Zofia in his arms, "Honey, I've been waiting for this day for a long time. Although our wedding is not the most grand, I love you the most."

Zofia smiled happily, "Thank you, Buddy!"

"What did you call me?" Buddy looked down at her. Although he was not really drunk, he did drink a lot. His eyes were red, and he became bolder because of the wine. At this moment, he talked more, and his eyes were full of tenderness.

Zofia smiled and said coyly, "Honey."

Buddy kissed her and went to the bathroom.

In the car, Victor recalled the warm bridal chamber and imagined he and Eden's bridal chamber.

The design of Buddy's bridal chamber was very festive. On the wall, there was a wedding photo. In the photo, they smiled very happily. A photo that they took on the seaside occupied another wall.

The quilt was red, and it must be Grandma Clement's request. The traditional red was the most festive.

The crystal lamp was very brilliant, and the room was warm.

Lucian glanced at him, "What are you thinking about?"

Victor glanced at the driver in front of him. He didn't know the driver, so he didn't say much.

"Nothing. I'm just a little tired."

Lucian smiled gracefully, "If you were the groom, you wouldn't feel tired."

Victor smiled and said, "You're the same."

Lucian nodded slightly, "I have time, and I want to visit the numerology master."

He was afraid that Amelia would get pregnant again. In that case, the wedding would be delayed.

Chapter 2039

Victor looked at him warily, "Don't tell me when you want to visit the master. I don't want to be unlucky again." Thinking of the bitter journey last time, he still hated Adonis.

"Don't worry. I won't even inform you when I get married."

"That's not good. We grew up together. I've prepared a lot of money for you as your wedding gift."

"Then I'll call you after I choose a good day so that you can prepare money in advance."

Victor was speechless. How cunning he was!

After Victor sent Lucian back, he asked the driver to send him back to River City Restaurant. Eden was waiting for him there.

He went straight to the top floor. Eden had taken a shower, and she was waiting for him.

In fact, she didn't want to live here. She wanted to go back to rest.

As soon as she tidied up her clothes, Victor came in.

Victor drank some wine as well. When he saw her, his eyes turned red and his expression was a bit randy, "Honey, I'm back."

Eden walked to him, "Let's go home."

Victor was a little reluctant. He looked at the comfortable bed and wanted to lie down, "Dear, can't we sleep here?"

"I don't come here often. I like to live at home. I'm used to sleeping on the pillow at home."

"Alright, let's go home." Victor smiled slightly, and his voice was a little hoarse.

They rushed home.

It was late autumn, and the weather was getting colder and colder. Eden had put on her overcoat and scarf.

Thalia was pregnant, and Dean put the wedding on the agenda. Eden gave her a vacation and asked her to rest at home.

Dean prepared for everything very quickly. Ten days after Buddy held the wedding, he and Thalia held a wedding as well.

Eden felt that she might have to attend many weddings during this period of time.

After staying in Lemmon City for some days, Delmont and Adrienne found that the market in Lemmon City was potential. They planned to go to Lemmon City to develop their business after getting married.

Grandma Clement agreed with them. Buddy and Delmont had their own advantages. They were both steady, and they had married good girls, which made her very relieved.

Fifteen days after Dean's wedding, Delmont and Adrienne held their wedding.

Barrett received the news. However, when he arrived, he was not allowed to go in. Adrienne was very stubborn. She said that she would break off the relationship with Barrett, and she really didn't want to see him. Barrett left in disgrace after asking for a snub at the gate of River City Restaurant .

He wanted to greet Wyatt, but Adrienne stopped him by force.

When made Barrett even angrier was that Adrienne and Delmont went directly to the airport after the wedding. They went aboard for their honeymoon.

Barrett failed to catch her and get the money back again.

Eden rarely went to the company recently. That day, she went to the company because she needed to sign a contract with Hayden.

She signed a lot of orders on the fashion show, and the design department was busy. Eden checked their working progress and went to the 24th floor.

As soon as she went downstairs, she met Danielle at the stairs.

Eden found that Danielle's clothes were more expensive than before. She was like a noble lady.

"Good morning, Director Bleu." Danielle looked at Eden with confidence and greeted her.

"Good morning!" Eden did not embarrass her for what she had done, but greeted her with a smile.

Victor had told her that Danielle kept in touch with someone aboard.

So, she wanted to know who that person was.

"Where is Rachel?" Eden asked.

"She went to the factory." Danielle took a look at Rachel's seat.

"Oh! Okay, I'll come down to see her later." Eden turned around and left.

Danielle immediately stopped her, "Director Bleu, where is Natasha now?"

Eden looked back at her and was stunned for a moment, "Who is Natasha?"

Danielle pursed her lips, "She's the model who pulled off your dress that day. Her boyfriend is looking for her everywhere."

Natasha didn't betray her, and she was very grateful. Her boyfriend had been looking for her crazily. If things went on like this, something bad would definitely happen.

"Isn't she in the police station?" Eden was a little confused.

Danielle was dumbfounded, "The... police station?"

"She tried to hurt me deliberately. Should I let her go on a vacation?" Eden was not sure where Natasha was, and she didn't ask Victor about it.

"Oh, I will tell her boyfriend about it." Danielle looked dejected. How could it be...

If Natasha was really sent to the police station, she should have known about it.

Eden ignored Danielle and turned to leave.

"By the way, Director Bleu, my winter collection..."

"I rejected it." Eden looked back with cold eyes, "You know the reason. It's too similar to the design of Madge Jacob, a designer aboard." Eden interrupted her.

Danielle's face darkened, "No, Director Bleu. That was something I designed again."

Danielle's heart sank. She really designed the clothes again.

"Director Bleu, I'm telling the truth." Danielle didn't want to be wronged.

"Go check it yourself." Eden didn't say much and turned to leave.

After recuperating for a month, Lyric could walk on the ground. She wanted to visit Alwynn Group, and Eden invited her to have lunch together.

She didn't have time to talk too much with Danielle. Anyway, Danielle wouldn't work here for too long. After she knew everything she wanted, she naturally wouldn't keep Danielle in the company.

Danielle stood where she was and burst into tears. She was obviously very hard-working, but why did Eden say such words again?

Danielle didn't believe that her inspiration would be similar to Madge's.

She quickly walked back to her computer and sat down, searching for Madge's work online.

There were many similarities.

"How could this be?" She lay on the desk powerlessly.

Eden went back to the office.

Victor was not in the company. After dealing with the documents sent by Seth, she called Lyric.

Lyric had arrived at the first floor of Alwynn Group. Eden let her go to the 25th floor by elevator.

Eden made two cups of tea in advance and sat down.

Alyssa had been very busy recently, and she always went to the factory. Instead, Eden had a lot of free time.

A few minutes later, Lyric knocked on the door and came in. Seeing the bright and grand office, she was very excited. Jasper's office was very big, but she felt that this office was warmer.

"Eden, it's so big. Sitting here and working makes me feel like I'm standing on the shoulder of a giant."

Eden smiled. Alwynn Group was not owned by the Alwynn family, and Victor was very open-minded. She could decorate the office as she liked, and no one would make complaints.

"The environment is nice, but it's too spacious. It's a little cold in winter. Sit down. Oh, it seems that you can really walk." Eden was still a little worried about her.

Because Lyric walked slowly.

Chapter 2040

"Eden, you and Mr. Joye take good care of me, and I really recover well. I can only walk slowly now, but I feel so good to be free." She did not want to sit in a wheelchair again.

"Alright, let's celebrate that you've got rid of the wheelchair. Have some tea first. We'll leave soon."

"Will Victor go with us?" Lyric was a little afraid that Victor would be jealous.

She knew that Victor would even be jealous of women.

He would hold a grudge against anyone who stayed with Eden.

Eden knew what she was thinking, "No, he went to the branch office today. He'll come back to pick me up at five o'clock in the afternoon."

"Okay." Lyric suddenly thought of Margery and said with admiration, "Eden, who is the lady who beat the model that day? She is really cool."

Eden knew who she was talking about, "Margery, the director of the model department."

"Wow! No wonder she is so tall, nice-shaped and beautiful. What's more, she is loyal and righteous. That kind of vicious woman should be taught a lesson. Otherwise, she will hurt someone else. She'll never change herself, and she's too mean."

Ansley once played many tricks on her.

"Don't worry. She won't do anything bad again. Hasn't Ansley been caught?"

"No. Logically speaking, she should have no money now, and she can't hide for too long. After my father went abroad, she didn't go to see her mother, so we don't know where she is." The police had been searching for Ansley near her house, but she had never appeared.

She had been driven to a corner.

She must be looking for Lyric soon.

"By the way, Eden, before my father had a car accident, her credit card was maxed out. She is in urgent need of money now."

Eden frowned slightly. In this case, Ansley would not hide for too long. Since she could hide and live a good life, the only possibility was that she met someone who was willing to help and support her.

Eden said to Lyric, "You must be more careful when you go out in the future!"

"Yeah, I know." These caring words warmed Lyric's heart.

After she got to know Eden, she no longer felt lonely though her mother was not by her side. Knowing Jasper made her heart full of happiness, and she was not depressed anymore.

After chatting for a while, Eden left the company with Lyric.

Danielle and Alyssa went out for lunch and saw Eden and Lyric.

They had a tacit understanding and didn't greet Eden.

They followed Eden and entered the same restaurant later.

Eden came here occasionally. The dishes were delicious and fresh. It was a cold day, so Eden and Lyric decided to have hot pot.

They sat down by the window. After ordering the meal, they chatted and waited for meal to be served.

Eden looked at Lyric. Her facial features were delicate, and she looked more energetic than before. "Lyric, do you get along well with Jasper now?"

Lyric was stunned for a moment, and she blushed in an instant.

"Eden, why... do you ask like this?" Did Eden find out that she liked Jasper?

Eden looked at her ears, "Your face and ears are red." What a pure little girl. She blushed just because of her words!

"No," Lyric argued, but at the same time, she felt a little helpless. Her face was very hot.

Eden didn't tease her anymore. Lyric was easy to be shy. She was afraid that Lyric would be too embarrassed to eat lunch later.

Lyric was indeed very shy, especially when it came to something related to Jasper.

She could remain calm if Jasper wasn't by her side. If Jasper was here, she would blush scarlet.

Hot pot was Lyric's favorite. In cold winter, if she didn't want to go out, she would even eat hot pot when she was alone at home.

Eden knew her preferences and ordered her favorite dishes.

They ate happily and chatted in harmony.

Eden knew that no matter who she stayed with, they couldn't become friends unless they had a lot to talk about.

Although Lyric didn't talk about work with her, they could talk a lot about life.

After eating, Eden paid the bill, and the waitress came to clean up the table.

Eden wanted to sit for a while, but the waitress came to clean up the table, so she looked at Lyric, "I have nothing to do in the afternoon. I'll take a walk with you nearby. Let's buy bubble tea together."

"Okay, I'll on vacation today." She didn't want to go back so early.

Eden stood up with a smile. However, before she could stand up, the waitress holding the pot suddenly glanced at her. Then, something unexpected happened. The boiling soup in the pot was poured on Eden's body and hands.

"Ouch!" The burning sensation made Eden scream.

"Eden!" Lyric turned around and ran to the kitchen. Soon, she came out with a basin of cold water and soaked Eden's hands in it.

As soon as Eden touched the cold water, the burning sensation dissipated a lot.

"Sorry. I didn't do it on purpose." The waitress lowered her head and apologized, her body trembling slightly.

Hearing this, Lyric looked at her angrily and pushed her hard, "Get out. You did it on purpose! When I stood up, I saw you glance at Eden."

"I was puzzled, and then I saw you pour the soup on Eden."

"No, I really didn't mean it." The waitress argued.

She looked at Eden, "Miss, I really didn't mean it."

Eden was so painful that her forehead was sweating. No matter the waitress did it on purpose or not, she really wanted to give her a lesson.

"Eden, let's go to the hospital first. The waitress is weird. We'll come back here after dealing with your scald."

Eden looked at her. She was too naive. When they came back, the waitress would have run away.

Eden looked at her bag that was stained with oil, "Lyric, my phone is in my bag. Call Dean, my assistant, and let him deal with it." Since the waitress was hostile towards her, she had to investigate her.

Lyric had seen everything, and her hands hurt so much. She couldn't pretend that nothing had happened.

"I... really didn't do that. I didn't mean it. It's too cold and my hand trembled." The waitress was about to cry.

She... didn't know Eden's identity. When she heard the word 'assistant', she panicked.

She...

Lyric had taken Eden's phone and called Dean.

Dean put aside his work and rushed to the restaurant as fast as he could.

When he saw Eden's messy clothes and a pair of red and swollen hands, he gulped in shock.

"Mrs. Alwynn, the design competition will be held the next month. Nothing bad can happen to your hands."

Eden was stunned. She looked at him and asked again, "Dean, what did you say?"
