#Chapter 21 - Read Gluey Love Between Us Chapter 21

Chapter 21

As a businessman, the first thing Victor considered was his own interests. Marianne would not be coming back, so the autumn fashion line should be taken over by someone capable.

Eden looked at Victor's devilish expression. She could not help but want to hit him.

He was indeed a shrewd businessman!

She tried to think of a countermeasure to deal with this situation. Her only motive in joining Alwynn Group was to take revenge on her adoptive family.

The Gienger family always had business dealings with Alwynn Group.

She felt a piercing pain in her heart whenever she recalled the incident seven years ago.

This position was enough for her to take on the Gienger family.

She had figured out all the details of the Gienger family over the years. Jasper and Abigail were also helping her in secret. She could take revenge on the Gienger family when she got the chance.

Victor told her to solve the problem herself because he knew that she could not afford to leave this job.

Victor smiled smugly after he noticed that Eden looked like she was softening her stance.

Eden gently bit her lower lip. She weighed the pros and cons in her heart and quickly made a decision.

She looked at Victor, who was sitting languidly, as if he was waiting for her to answer him. She smiled slightly and said, "Thank you for your trust and approval, Mr. Alwynn!"

Victor suddenly put on a devilishly charming smile. He extended his hand and looked at Eden.

Eden also reached out and shook hands with him.

Victor smiled and said, "Director Bleu, I'm looking forward to working with you!"

"Me too!" Eden also smiled politely.

She was secretly thinking how she should break the news to Kenny and the rest.

Victor looked down and glanced at Eden's hand inadvertently. Suddenly, a mole on the back of her hand caught his attention. He was shocked, and his heartbeat sped up in excitement.

The location of her mole was similar to that of Eden Clement.

When Eden saw Victor's sudden change of expression, she quickly pulled her hand back.

She could still feel his lingering warmth on her hand.

What was wrong with Victor? Was there anything wrong with her hand?

She forced a smile and said, "Mr. Alwynn, if there's nothing else, I'll leave now."

After she said that, Eden quickly got out of the office without waiting for Victor's answer.

Victor's eyes were staring at the position Eden was standing just now. What did Eden say?

He did not hear a single word.

He only came back to his senses when he heard the sound of the door closing.

He quickly picked up the phone on his desk and called Anson Skye.

Anson was looking into Victor's car that was involved in the car accident yesterday when he suddenly received a phone call from Victor. He just happened to have something to tell Victor too.

"Victor..."

However, before he could finish his words, he was interrupted by Victor.

"Anson, do a background check on Eden Bleu immediately. I want all of her information in an hour," Victor said in an excited and urgent tone.

Anson pulled his phone slightly away from his ear. He thought that Victor was out of his mind when he heard Victor's excited voice.

Why did he suddenly want to investigate Eden?

"Do you hear me?" Victor yelled loudly on the other end of the line.

Even though Anson was not physically beside Victor, he still could not help but gulp in fear.

"I... I hear you. I've checked the car. Someone did do something to it, but the surveillance camera at where you'd parked your car was broken. There was no such thing as a coincidence. Someone had surely planned this attack."

However, before Anson could finish speaking, Victor had already ended the call.

Anson glared at his black phone screen and shook his head helplessly. It was really hard to please Victor.

Chapter 22

After Victor hung up the phone, he paced back and forth irritably in the office.

After a while, he quickly walked to the safe next to his desk, entered the password, and opened the safe.

He quickly took out a stack of photos.

He put the first few photos aside and revealed a photo of him holding the six-year-old Eden Clement.

Eden's tiny arms were wrapped around his neck.

The mole on the back of her hand was in the same position as Eden Bleu.

Victor gulped. He felt as if his heart would jump out of his chest from excitement.

Could she be his Eden?

Could Eden Bleu be the girl he had been looking for more than ten years?

Victor sat on the ground with the photo in his hand. He frowned.

He had a feeling that his Eden had returned.

His deep-set eyes stared at the young girl in the photo without blinking. His thoughts drifted away while he stared at this photo.

The young girl in the photo had a very bright smile. Her brilliant eyes were innocent and charming.

Eden returned to her office. She grabbed her phone tightly in her hand, but she did not make a call.

She stared at the phone screen.

To be honest, she did not want Kenny and his siblings to return to River City.

Their father was probably in this city.

She did not know who her children's father was when she escaped that night.

Her long eyelashes fluttered a few times before she gently pressed on her phone screen.

She gave her mother a call.

A loving voice quickly rang out from the phone's speaker. "Eden."

Eden smiled happily. "Mum, what are you doing?"

I'm watching television with Gia and Kenny."

Eden hesitated. "Mum, I've been transferred back to the headquarters. Shall we move to River City to live?"

Her mother fell silent for a long while on the other end of the phone.

Eden knew that her mother did not want to go back to River City.

To her mother, River City was a place filled with painful memories.

Seven years ago, Eden was in great pain. When she was walking by the river, she saved a suicidal middle-aged woman.

The woman was very beautiful and elegant.

But she wanted to commit suicide.

Eden persuaded the woman for a very long time. She told her about what she had gone through.

Eden did not expect that they would get along so well. She knew that the woman was alone like her.

The woman was determined to take Eden as her daughter.

Just like that, Eden called this woman her mother for the past seven years.

Her mother had also been taking good care of the four of them.

In Eden's heart, she was Eden's biological mother.

Eden knew that she was making things difficult for her mother. Just when she was about to speak, a loving voice rang out from the other end of the phone. "Eden, I'll follow you to River City. You just have to prepare for the move. I'll bring Kenny and the rest to River City before their semester starts." "As for Ricky, you can discuss with Abigail. You can tell her it's good for Ricky to pursue his career in River City too."

Eden said excitedly, "Mum, thank you! We will have a better life in the future. I've saved some money in the past few years. I'll find a suitable house during the weekend. Our family of five will live a very happy life together!"

"Eden, I should be thanking you for always staying by my side." Her mother sounded loving and caring when she said that.

Eden felt a lump in her throat. Tears were welling up in her eyes. She blinked and took a deep breath. She said, "Mum, we are a family. You don't have to say thank me. I'll bring you over when I buy a house. We will never be separated ever again."

Chapter 23

"Alright! Eden, don't rush to buy a house. You must choose a good location so that Kenny and his siblings can go to a good school. I have friends in River City. Do you want me to ask for their help?"

"Yeah, sure!" Eden Bleu nodded and hung up the phone. After she made up her mind, she felt less bothered by it.

An hour later, Victor Alwynn's phone suddenly started ringing.

Victor, who was sitting on the floor, was suddenly shocked. He quickly got up in excitement to get the phone.

His legs were numb after sitting still for an hour. He almost tumbled over when he stood up.

He balanced himself by putting his hands on the desk. He dragged himself to sit on the chair.

Ignoring the numbness from his legs, he answered the call.

He was extremely excited.

"Hello!" His voice was trembling even though he only said a word.

Anson, who was on the other end of the phone, said, "Victor, Eden is twenty-five years old, and she majored in design."

Anson fell silent after saying that.

Victor frowned and asked, "What else?"

"Nothing." Anson was slightly scared when he answered Victor. He really could not find any more information.

"Anson, you'll regret if you're playing a trick on me," Victor shouted at Anson impatiently. The wound on his forehead was slightly throbbing in pain, but he did not care at all.

Anson felt hurt when he heard that.

He also became angry and shouted back, "Victor, you only gave me an hour! How was I supposed to gather all the information? I only managed to find a little bit of information. Even her home address is fake. Someone has wiped away most of her information. I even went to the police, but they did not manage to locate her current home address."

Victor was so angry that his whole body started to quiver. He stressed every syllable when he said, "Keep digging."

Victor took a deep breath. He should not be so desperate. Eden was working in her company. He could afford to investigate slowly.

In the meantime.

In a three-bedroom apartment in Gate City.

There were two single beds in a small bedroom. There was also a children's desk and a black-and-white wardrobe. Even though the room looked simple, it looked very warm and comforting.

There was a young boy in the bedroom, who was dressed in a black T-shirt and a pair of black casual pants. He looked exactly like Henrick Bleu, but he emanated a more mature aura. He sat at the desk and focused on the data displayed on his laptop screen. His delicate fingers were typing furiously on the keyboard. He seemed like he was extremely experienced.

Suddenly, the phone in front of him vibrated.

He glanced at the phone. When he saw the word "Master" displaying on his phone screen, he quickly picked up the phone and answered it.

"Hello! Master." He sounded steady despite his childlike voice.

"Seven, is someone investigating your mother?" A young and playful voice rang out from the other end of the phone.

"Really?" The little boy was intrigued. He smiled and frowned slightly while he pondered.

He asked, "Who is investigating my mum?" They had already deleted most of his mother's information from the government database. But someone still tried to do a background check on her.

"Haha, Seven, it's someone you will never expect," the man said with his playful voice.

"Master, just say it!" The little boy sounded impatient.

The man sighed and said, "Seven, you have a bad temper and patience. It's the chairman of your mother's company, Victor Alwynn. He sent someone to investigate your mother."

"Alright! Goodbye." Kenneth was expressionless when he hung up the phone. His fingers typed furiously, and Victor's information appeared on his laptop screen in less than a minute.

Chapter 24

Victor Alwynn, the chairman of Alwynn Group, was the richest man in River City. He owned a lot of properties. He was twenty-nine years old and one-hundred and eighty-five centimeters tall. His information including his weight and his clothing size was displayed on the laptop screen.

However, Kenneth was not surprised by this information. What surprised him was how similar their facial features were.

Kenneth frowned slightly. Even though they had never thought to look for their biological father, they should at least know his identity.

Someone suddenly knocked on his door.

Kenneth quickly switched the image displayed on his laptop screen to a cartoon.

He answered softly, "Grandma, what's the matter?"

"Kenny, can I come in?" A loving voice rang out from the other side of the door.

"Grandma, come in. The door is unlocked."

A middle-aged woman dressed in a red top and a pair of white pants walked in. Her facial features looked gentle and kind. She was already in her fifties, but she still looked beautiful. She emanated an elegant aura through her every move.

She looked at Kenny and said with a kind smile, "Kenny, your mother just called and said that she's transferred to the headquarters. We are going to move to River City."

Kenneth was puzzled upon hearing that. River City was a sad place for his mother. Why did she want to move there?

He smiled and said, "Grandma, wherever you and mum go, we will follow."

"Oh! Kenny, you're so sweet. I'm going to cook for you. Let's go and fetch Gia after you finish your meal."

"Alright, thank you, grandma," Eden Kenneth said with a smile.

"Alright then, you can continue watching your cartoon."

After his grandmother left, Kenneth looked at Victor's information again. Kenneth pondered while he stared at Victor, whose aura was imposing.

Interesting, Kenneth thought. Why did Victor suddenly do a background check on his mother?

Kenneth's mother was a designer, and she was not involved in any financial affairs. Victor must be investigating Kenneth's mother for some other reason.

Throughout the entire afternoon, Victor locked himself in his office and refused to see anyone.

Very soon, Eden received the transferral notice from the human resource department.

She was surprised that she was so busy on her first day of work.

Victor came out of his office on time at five o'clock with a cold expression.

Lucian had already finished packing up.

He glanced at Victor and said slowly, "I've booked the restaurant at Fashion Square. We can go there now."

"Alright. Invite all department managers too." Victor took a few steps forward before he suddenly stopped and glanced at Eden's office.

Then, he turned around and told Lucian, "Tell Director Bleu that she can take a ride in my car."

"Alright!" Lucian nodded. A hint of surprise flashed past his eyes.

When did Victor ever let a woman ride in his car?

Ignoring the surprise in Lucian's eyes, Victor strode to the elevator.

Lucian walked to Eden's office.

Eden had finished her work and was ready to get off work.

She was familiar with River City. Even though she did not return to River City for seven years, she still had a lot of memories related to this city.

She had just walked out of the door when she bumped into Lucian.

With a professional smile on her beautiful face, she asked, "Secretary Ronen, what's the matter?"

Lucian smiled slightly. He looked at her beautiful face and said gently, "Mr. Alwynn invited you to ride in his car."

Eden was a little flattered when she heard that!

Fashion Square was not too far from the office building. She felt that she would reach there faster on foot than by car during rush hour!

But she still nodded. "Then let's go!"

When they arrived at the underground parking lot, Victor was already waiting by the car. He was engaged in a phone call.

Chapter 25

Lucian opened the car door for Eden gentlemanly.

Eden got into the car after she thanked Lucian.

Lucian turned on the ignition and waited for Victor to get in the car.

Victor looked like he was furious. His voice was loud when he talked to the person on the other end of the line.

After a while, he ended the call angrily, yanked the door, and got into the car.

His handsome face revealed his slight uneasiness when he suddenly saw Eden. He was a little embarrassed when he shifted his gaze away and sat down beside Eden.

Lucian said nothing and started to drive.

Eden felt a little tense when Victor sat down beside her.

It was rumored that Mr. Alwynn disliked women very much.

There were even rumors claimed that Mr. Alwynn might have a different sexual orientation.

It was very likely that he liked men.

Eden often heard the branch office's employees

gossiping about Victor.

But the gossip was disproved today since Victor was willing to give her a ride. Victor was even willing to sit beside her.

Eden felt a little uneasy. She suddenly saw strawberry-flavored lollipops in the cupholder between the car seats.

She smiled and asked, "Mr. Alwynn, can I have a lollipop?"

Victor looked at her and picked up a lollipop for her. He unwrapped the lollipop wrapping before he handed it over to Eden.

His kind gesture made Eden smile. "Thank you, Mr. Alwynn! I always feel like strawberry-flavored lollipops taste like happiness because of their sweetness."

Victor was secretly shocked by her words.

The sweet voice of the young girl echoed in his ears.

"Victor, here, take this strawberry-flavored lollipop. You'll feel very happy after you eat it!"

He did not like to eat sweets. His mother had left him at the time.

He was so depressed that he did not have the motivation to do anything.

Eden always tried her best to make him happy.

He did not want to eat the lollipop, but she forcefully stuffed the lollipop into his mouth.

Victor sighed. His voice quivered when he asked, "Why do you think strawberry-flavored lollipops taste like happiness?"

He remembered that he had also asked Eden Clement the same question before.

Eden answered without hesitation, "Of course it's because of the sweetness!" Did she need a reason to like something?

She liked strawberry-flavored lollipops for no reason.

Eden sucked on the lollipop and twisted the lollipop stick between her fingers.

She looked gentle and her red lips were luscious.

The way she was sucking on the lollipop sparked a desire within Victor.

"Victor, you are so stupid. Of course, it's because of the sweetness!"

Their answers were so similar.

Victor stared at her with his deep-set eyes and clenched his fists together emotionally.

Lucian glanced at Victor through the rearview mirror. He noticed that Victor was having a hard time containing his emotions.

The sun was shining on half of Victor's handsome face. Victor appeared even lonelier. Lucian knew that Victor was very agitated at the moment.

Lucian was afraid that Victor, who was feeling very hopeful at the moment, would be greatly disappointed.

Did he really think that Eden Bleu was Eden Clement?

Eden Clement was already six years old when the incident happened. She was already at the age where she could retain her memories.

There was only one possibility left. She did not return for so many years because she was already dead.

All of them were aware of this truth, but they did not dare to burst Victor's bubble. Eden was the only reason why Victor was alive. Victor worked so hard to earn money because he wanted to find Eden and his mother.

Eden could feel Victor's intense gaze. She looked out the window uneasily.

Under the sunset, the rush hour traffic was extremely heavy.

She felt that she would feel more comfortable walking to the restaurant than sitting in a car with Victor.
