

Gluey Love 2221

Chapter 2221

Looking at the two adorable and innocent children, she never regretted giving birth to them.

Henrick looked down at Alice, who was sitting quietly. She seemed to be in a world of her own. She lowered her eyes, and no one knew what she was thinking. A few strands of hair fell over and covered her face, and he could vaguely see her sad expression.

He stayed in the hotel the whole day.

All his confusion and guilt had reached their peak.

Now that he saw her, he felt even more conflicted.

He didn't know what was wrong with him, but he just had a deep sense of guilt in his heart.

Looking at Alice like this, he felt even more guilty. It was all his fault. If he had respected her at that time, they would not have reached this point now.

His arrogance when he was a child, when he grew up, and after he became an adult, had created the present situation.

If he had only been more sensible earlier, if he could have been more understanding, he would not have hurt the girl in front of him.

However, there was no 'if's in life. Once you hurt someone, the damage was already done.

Henrick wanted to say something, but he felt that it would be better if he remained silent.

Soon, Giada was pushed out, and several nurses sent her back to the ward.

Alice and Henrick quickly followed behind them.

After the doctor left, Henrick looked at Martin and asked, "Martin, how is Gia?"

Martin's expression had returned to normal. He looked at Henrick and could not help but smile. "She's pregnant with twins. She didn't have a good rest and that's why the situation just now happened."

Alice asked excitedly, "Are the fetuses' heartbeats and development normal?"

She remembered that when she was pregnant, there was a girl who was also pregnant with twins, but there were no heartbeats. The girl had been happy before she found out, but in the end, she had suffered a miscarriage.

Martin explained, "The doctor said that everything's normal. He asked about our medical records. The doctor said that our family is amazing."

"Haha..." Henrick was so excited that he didn't know what to do. He looked at his sister on the hospital bed. Although she hadn't woken up yet, her complexion looked much better than before.

"Gia is really amazing." Henrick held his sister's hand tightly and was so excited that his eyes were brimming with tears.

He was a grown man, but he was somewhat embarrassed by how excited he was.

Alice looked at Martin and said with a smile, "Martin, congratulations. You'll be a father."

Back then, when she found out that she was pregnant, it was also around this time in her pregnancy. When she walked out of the hospital, she looked at the bright night sky and thought of Henrick, who was abroad. She had murmured, "Henrick, congratulations on becoming a father."

However, she would never be able to say such words in front of him.

"Thank you, Miss Klein!" Martin smiled and looked at Giada's sleeping face dotingly.

On the other hand, Henrick was busy making a phone call to report the good news.

Eden and Victor had a social gathering that night. As soon as they got home, they received a call from their son.

Initially, Eden was very worried. After hanging up the phone, she put on the shoes that had just been taken off.

Victor looked at her in confusion. "Dear, what's wrong? What happened?"

She looked at him and smiled. "I'm going to the hospital. Gia's pregnant and she fainted. She's carrying twins."

"Ah..." He shouted, "So I'm going to be a grandfather? A grandfather of two children?"

She also nodded excitedly. She looked at Adriel, who was sitting in the living room playing games, and said, "Adriel, you go to sleep first. I'll go out with your father."

"Okay, Mom." Adriel was playing games and didn't even look at his parents.

Victor was very excited right then and had no time to teach his son a lesson. He rushed to the hospital with Eden.

An hour passed before Giada woke up.

She opened her eyes and saw a pair of worried eyes looking at her. She was shocked and quickly sat up. "Where... Where am I?"

Eden saw her suddenly sit up and she exclaimed, "Gia, slow down, don't get too excited."

"Mom." Giada was shocked to see her father behind Eden. "Dad, Mom, why are you here?"

As soon as she finished speaking, Triston and his wife also rushed over.

Giada was lost for words.

Martin smiled and announced, "Gia, congratulations. You'll be a mom."

"Ah..." She looked at him in surprise, and then her eyes turned red. "Really?"

"Really!" His smile was incomparably gentle.

Having a child was originally in their plan. Gia said that they should let nature take its course, and it didn't take long for her to become pregnant.

Martin felt that he was too careless. During this period of time, they had been out all the time and the journey was tiring. He asked her to rest for a night and then come back to see Alice, but she didn't want to, so he could only come with her.

On the other side, Triston and Victor congratulated each other.

Alice looked on enviously.

She didn't know if Juliet and Marlon were asleep at this time or not. They would have cousins in the future.

If they knew, they would be very happy. Unfortunately, that relationship would never be revealed.

Everyone carefully brought Giada home.

When Eden left, she asked Henrick to send Alice back and told her that it was rare for her to come to River City, so she had to visit more often.

Alice agreed with a smile. It was already past one o'clock in the morning when everyone got in their cars to leave.

There were very few pedestrians and cars on the road.

Henrick kept smiling all night. He turned to look at Alice, who was standing beside him. Their eyes met and they looked at each other with complicated expressions.

He looked away slightly and said, "My car is still at the restaurant. Let's take a taxi first, and then drive back to the hotel."

She nodded slightly. It was too late. She was not familiar with the roads in River City, so she took a taxi to the restaurant and drove back to the hotel with Henrick.

On the way back, they did not say a word along the way.

Alice sat in the back seat while he played some music. The two of them still felt awkward in the car.

He was so embarrassed that he was distracted while driving. He kept looking at her, who was sleeping in the rearview mirror with her eyes closed.

Suddenly, a car turned left in front of him. When he realized it, it was too late to slow down, so he had to brake abruptly.

She couldn't balance herself and flew into the chair in front of her. She was stunned for a moment, and her head and nose hurt so much that she almost burst into tears.

Henrick pulled up the door and quickly looked back at her. "Alice, did you get hurt?" Her name escaped his lips.

Alice was speechless. "You're addicted to calling me that. Do you even know how to drive? My head really hurts."

She felt a burst of warmth in her nose, and then blood started flowing out from it.

She was really lost for words.

He quickly took out a box of tissue paper and handed it to her.

Chapter 2222

Alice grabbed a few pieces of tissue and covered her nose. She had a splitting headache and had not recovered yet.

She felt really aggrieved and burst into tears.

"Alice, hang in there. I'll take you to the hospital right now."

She didn't say anything. Seeing that the tissue was wet and bloody, she changed to another piece of tissue.

Henrick searched for the nearest hospital, and this time, he carefully drove the car over.

Fortunately, there was a hospital nearby. When they arrived at the hospital gate, he parked the car steadily. He got out of the car, opened the door of the back seat, helped Alice, whose nose was still bleeding, out, and they rushed to the emergency room.

She was placed on an IV drip in the emergency room and an examination was done. He accompanied her all the way. The impact caused the blood vessels in her nose to burst and bleed, but there was no sign of a fracture.

After the examination, the bleeding stopped, and Henrick finally felt relieved.

In order to prevent any infections, Alice had to stay in the hospital for an infusion.

In order to make her more comfortable, he asked for a private ward. He waited for the infusion to be completed before he went in.

When Alice saw him, she glared at him with hatred.

He could only rub his nose resentfully. He walked in and sat silently by the bed to accompany her.

She was speechless.

"Go back and rest. I can look after myself. You don't have to accompany me here."

He looked at her and refused to leave. His voice was overbearing as he asked, "Why don't you need me? It's all because of me that you got injured. Of course I have to stay with you."

Looking at his overbearing and determined face, she remained silent.

Deep in her heart, she wanted to spend more time with him.

She had loved him for more than ten years. How could she forget him so easily?

The two of them sat quietly and did not speak. Despite this, the atmosphere was not as awkward as that in the car.

The quiet ward was filled with an indescribable atmosphere, but it was not annoying.

They looked at each other at the same time and did not look away. Alice spoke up, "Why don't you go back? It's almost three o'clock in the morning. You should go back and have a rest first."

"Alice, haven't we made things clear? Since we have done so, can't we still be friends?" Henrick looked straight at her.

He didn't want to cut ties with her. Right that, that was the idea that was in his heart.

He knew that his request was excessive, but he wanted to compensate this girl.

"Friend?" She looked at him in a daze. Was it possible that they could become friends?

Impossible?

With Juliet and Marlon around, it was impossible for them to be friends. She would not let anyone take her children away from her. They were her only reason to live, her only spiritual pillar.

However, she was selfish. The children's father was right in front of her, but she couldn't say it out loud.

"Yes, Alice, I was wrong. I want to make it up to you so that you won't feel so much pain."

"Alice, with the relationship between our two families, it's impossible for us not to meet again in the future."

"Even if we don't say that, we live in the same world and will meet some day. Do we have to be like enemies?"

"I'll change. I'll grow up. I won't hurt you like I did before. Believe me this once," he said in one breath.

He had never had such a feeling and never wanted to change himself for a person.

She looked at him in a daze. He said that he would change and grow up.

In the Alwynn family, he was really a spoiled child. He had been arrogant from a young age. Why did she feel gratified for him when he grew up like this?

"I don't need your compensation. Your apology is enough to make up for everything." He changed so quickly that she was caught off guard.

"I'm sorry, Alice." Henrick looked at her and spoke seriously.

She was speechless.

"Alice, I will apologize to you everyday from tomorrow onwards, as long as you feel better," he said shamelessly.

He put down all his pride and only wanted to make this girl live a less painful life.

She was lost for words. She felt that he had finally become more of a man.

"Then... You don't have to do that." After saying that, she lowered her head and didn't look at him.

However, in the next moment, he handed over her phone.

She looked up at him in confusion.

He said, "You pulled me down seven years ago. Let's be friends now."

She suddenly tensed up and looked straight at him.

There was no disgust, contempt, or sarcasm on his handsome face; instead, there was only sincerity. She asked in a trembling voice, "Aren't you afraid that I will pester you again?"

Henrick raised the corner of his mouth slightly. "Alice, I know you won't do it anymore."

"No." Alice immediately shouted loudly and glared at him with hatred in her eyes. "Henrick, don't provoke me anymore. I really don't want to fall into the abyss again. I really don't want to be in pain. I really don't want to have anything to do with you anymore. I just want to live a peaceful life."

He was stunned. Looking at her agitated and pained expression, he quickly withdrew his hand.

"I'm sorry!" After he finished speaking, he suddenly got up and left the ward.

He quickly fled.

All he could see was the pain on Alice's face. Only then did he realize how much of a b*stard he was.

He stood outside the door for a few hours. At five o'clock in the morning, her infusion was finished.

She knew that he was outside the door, so she didn't stay any longer. When she went out, she saw him leaning against the wall and said lightly, "Let's go." Then, she went forward.

When they returned to the hotel, it was already bright. After they got out of the elevator, Alice went back to her room without saying goodbye to him.

Henrick looked at her lonely back helplessly. He really didn't want to hurt her anymore. He really wanted to shake hands and make peace with her.

Unfortunately, she was unwilling.

He sighed deeply. He didn't sleep all night and was very tired.

He turned around, lowered his head, and walked towards his room.

He didn't notice Alma standing not far away.

Alma felt a little uncomfortable because Henrick didn't return all night and she couldn't get through to him. She didn't sleep all night. When she got up early, she saw Alice and Henrick coming out of the elevator together.

Therefore, they had been together the night before.

She looked in Alice's direction and scolded her harshly, "Shameless."

Then, she went back to her room and lost her temper.

The crew rested for three days and time flew by in the blink of an eye.

Alice did not go out for the last two days. Apart from occasionally video calling the children, she also adapted the script with Brenden.

Henrick hadn't seen Alice for two days. Her assistant came to the director occasionally and discussed the script with him.

It was not until the day of official shooting that he saw Alice.

Chapter 2223

The moment Henrick saw Alice, he felt that she had lost weight again.

In the past few days, he felt like he had gone crazy; he was completely and utterly mad. As long as he closed his eyes, he would see her pained expression.

Alma stood next to him and saw his gaze fall on Alice again.

She felt bitter in her heart. She really liked Henrick; she liked his tenderness and his sincerity towards her.

However, she knew that with her status and family background, it was impossible for her to enter the Alwynn family. Despite this, she still wanted to do so.

That night, when she had dinner with Jaime, she was disgusted by his touch.

Only Henrick was good enough for her that she couldn't give up.

In the past few days, she had wanted to find an opportunity to ask him out, but she had no idea what to do since he neither answered her calls nor left his room.

Although she had dinner with Jaime and signed a very good contract, she had thought about it carefully. If she could marry Henrick, she didn't need to rely on anyone to get all the things she wanted.

"Mr. Henrick, are you ready?" Dwayne shouted.

Henrick looked in Alice's direction in a daze and did not hear the director's words.

Alice was talking to Amiyah about the scene, and her attentive look was very attractive.

"Henrick, the director is calling you," Alma looked at him and said.

Henrick slowly turned his head to look at her.

Confused, he asked, "What did you say just now?"

Alma was speechless, and she was in a terrible mood. She was standing right beside him. Didn't he hear what she said clearly?

However, she still smiled and responded, "Henrick, the director asked you if you are ready."

Henrick looked at Dwayne and said, "Yes."

Dwayne smiled instantly and looked at the rich young man with shining eyes.

"Okay. Everyone, get ready."

With an order, everyone prepared themselves.

Dwayne was very dissatisfied with several of Henrick's scenes, so he finally asked for a re-shoot.

Henrick knew very well that he was doing poorly.

Dwayne asked Alice to explain the scene to Henrick.

Henrick only felt that the moment Alice approached him and he smelled her faint fragrance, his mood instantly improved.

Alice was also very serious about her work. After she told him every detail, she stepped aside to watch.

However, Dwayne found that Henrick had played his role for a long time. He wanted to shoot again, but in order to prevent him from being arrogant, he endured it.

He couldn't help looking at Alice with a deeper gaze.

There must be something going on between the two of them.

It was really strange that there was no problem.

In the following scenes, Dwayne was extremely patient. He asked Alice to explain the scene to Henrick first before they shot it. Henrick performed very well, and each time was a success.

Dwayne confirmed his thoughts.

They were in a relationship. Although they didn't seem to be in one, he suspected that it must be true.

It was a very awkward relationship.

The filming that day was very smooth, without any incidents, and there was a scene at night.

It was a bathing scene. Alice left Brenden to explain the scene. She had something to do that night, so she left early.

When Henrick was done with his work, he looked for Alice at the scene, but he didn't see her. He took a sip of tea and asked Josue beside him, "Where is Alice?"

Josue answered, "Alice has something to do and had to leave first. Tomorrow is a holiday, so she asked for leave."

Henrick frowned. "Why am I only finding out now?"

Josue didn't know what to say. Why would he know earlier?

He smiled and said, "Mr. Henrick, both Alice and Brenden are very capable. Brenden will stay to explain the scene to you. Don't worry."

All of a sudden, Henrick remembered that he had told his mother that he would take his three younger brothers out to play during the holidays. Although his three younger brothers were very naughty, he felt excited.

He suddenly asked, "How many scenes do I have tomorrow?"

Josue answered, "There are several. Although it's the holidays, you can't ask for leave."

Henrick was speechless. He wanted to ask for leave.

Josue seemed to have seen through his thoughts and immediately went to dissuade him. "Mr. Henrick, we can't waste money. If Madam Joye finds out, you'll be in a lot of trouble."

Henrick wanted to argue, "I..."

"Mr. Henrick, you can't even make up for it yourself. You'll even be scolded if they find out. Furthermore, the weather is getting hotter and hotter. After you finish filming, you can rest for a month. When the time comes, you can have some fun." Josue smiled as he tried to persuade him. He had been by Henrick's side for several years and understood his temper very well.

He also knew what Henrick wanted to say.

Henrick's expression was one of disbelief. "You know me so well?"

Josue smiled and nodded. "Yes, Mr. Henrick. We've known each other for many years."

Henrick pursed her lips and looked in Brenden's direction.

Josue was very perceptive, and he instantly understood what Henrick was thinking. "Mr. Henrick, Alice is from Lemmon City, and it is the holidays. It's normal for her to be curious about the area and want to go sightseeing. Anyway, she'll be back in five days."

"Five days? She'll only be back in five days?" The thought of not seeing Alice for two days made him feel like it was a year. If he couldn't see her for five days, he would be very depressed.

"No."

"Henrick, let's discuss tonight's scene." Alma's voice suddenly sounded behind him.

She also interrupted him. When it came to work, she would have been extremely serious if Henrick hadn't met Alice. However, when they had met and Alma saw his cold attitude towards her, she was no longer interested in anything else.

It was inevitable to make a mistake.

"Okay!" Henrick answered absent-mindedly.

He took the script and went to discuss the scene with Alma.

The lines were very ambiguous. When Alma read them out, her face turned red, but the absent-minded Henrick didn't feel anything. He was in a bad mood and often made mistakes, which made her feel a little surprised.

It was a great honor for her to be able to film with him. She could also reach the peak of her life through this film because of the excellent character of the female lead.

She was very serious. She thought that Dwayne would ask for a reshoot if there were any bad scenes, but there were very few opportunities. The director was more experienced than her. As long as it didn't work, he would shoot again immediately.

She was very tired of filming, but she persevered.

When she thought of how Henrick had been ignoring her over the past few days, she felt even more uncomfortable.

"Laurel, let's get together," Henrick said affectionately.

However, he read the wrong line.

Alma was stunned. Looking at his affectionate expression, her heart fluttered, but his lines were wrong.

She shed tears with grievance and asked, "Henrick, why do you always make mistakes? Do you hate me that much?"

Henrick came back to her senses and looked at the lines. They were, "Laurel, won't you leave?"

He lost the script in a dispirited manner. Looking at the tearful and pitiful Alma, he was even more annoyed.

Chapter 2224

He threw the script aside on the table and said with a sullen face, "Let's do it again later."

Then, he walked to the rest area not far away.

Everyone was busy finishing their work and having dinner, so few people noticed what was going on there.

Not far away, Amiyah and Heidi smiled, seeing that Alma had gradually made Henrick agitated.

Alma was stunned by his actions. In the past, he had never treated her like this, and he had always been very lenient towards her.

The current Henrick no longer had eyes for her. The more she thought about it, the more scared she became.

She had just heard what he and Josue had said. He was so disappointed because Alice had asked for leave.

She had never seen him care so much about a woman other than her.

She chased after him unwillingly. Candice, who was watching them from a distance, frowned slightly.

Henrick went to his lounge.

As soon as he took a sip of water, he saw Alma chasing him with tears in her eyes. He frowned slightly and motioned for Josue to go out first.

In fact, Josue didn't need him to say anything; he didn't want to stay there anyway.

Alma had disgusted Henrick, and he was still indifferent to her. He also admired it. All these years, Henrick had been very kind to her.

Some time ago, Josue had found out that it was Alma and her agent who had framed the screenwriter, Alice.

However, after finding out about it, Henrick kept silent, which showed that he liked Alma very much.

Henrick didn't say anything. Instead, he sat on the sofa casually, his expression distant and indifferent.

Alma choked with sobs. Looking at Henrick's attitude, she felt even more upset.

"Henrick, what's wrong with you?" She cried and asked, "I'm very worried about you. As far as I can remember, you've never been so agitated."

He didn't look up at her but just said indifferently, "You can leave now. I'm fine."

He wanted to be alone. His mood during this period of time was hard to describe.

Over the years, he had never been so frustrated or annoyed.

"Henrick, you know how much I love you. I feel bad when I see you in pain. If you feel unhappy, you can talk to me. At least you will feel better." She wasn't going to leave. At this time, she should stay with him.

She suddenly understood one thing. Although he had been very kind to her over the years, she knew nothing about his life abroad.

He came back in a hurry and left in a hurry. Even when chatting with her everyday, he did not mention anything about his friends or any other matters.

Hearing her words, Henrick suddenly sneered. Looking at the innocent girl in front of him, he spoke up, "Those words 'you know how much I love you'." When he thought of how happy she was in Jaime's arms that night, he felt sick.

He was in the water, and she was on the shore. His body was cold, but she smiled brightly.

He suddenly understood that it was really too difficult to feel empathy in this world.

Fortunately, he had always been kind to this girl because of the beautiful smile she had when she was a child. However, behind this kindness, she had endlessly been using him.

He had been standing in the midst of a fog, and he had been obsessed with some meaningless people and things, but now he came out of the fog and was no longer as stupid as he was before.

If someone was to ask him what he regretted the most in his life.

Then he would have a definite answer. What he regretted most in his life was that he had hurt a woman who had treated him warmly, and who had loved him for more than ten years.

That woman loved him with all her youth, but in the end, she was hurt badly by him.

That was what he regretted the most in his life. He had let that girl experience the ups and downs of life, and he had to pay for his ignorance and the mistakes he made in his youth.

The more he thought about it, the more uncomfortable he felt. Looking at Alma, he felt even more annoyed.

"You can leave now. I'm fine?" He lowered his voice.

Seeing that his expression had softened, Alma took the opportunity to ask, "Henrick, I just want to know why you've been so cold to me during this period of time. What have I done wrong?"

Although she was crying, she was as aggressive as a scorned and wronged woman.

"Alma, you're fine. You didn't do anything wrong. It's my fault. I'm in a bad mood." It was he who was in the wrong and had misjudged her.

She had asked him what had happened when he was being used by her?

This pit was truly deep!

What's more, she was not as simple as she looked. Seeing that he had treated Alice in a special manner, she attacked her.

What did Alice do wrongly? Alma wanted to frame her.

Henrick wanted to fight back, but he felt that it was not the right time.

When he heard the news that Josue had discovered, a storm surged in his heart. In the end, he had misjudged Alma.

Being used by others, at least there was some reward. Although he didn't want anything in return, he couldn't be used by others like this.

His words confused Alma even more. Since she did not do anything wrong, why did he ignore her?

"Henrick, shall we have dinner together?" She broke into a smile.

Henrick looked up at her. Her eyes, which had been filled with tears, were pure and flawless, full of expectation.

He thought that if he had faced such a pair of eyes in the past, he would have been very tempted.

However, right then, he felt that the girl in front of him was pretentious.

He thought for a moment and then responded, "Alma, let's have a meal together in a few days."

He had his own plans.

When Alma heard that, she smiled gently. Her eyes, which were clearer than a crystal, shone with happiness. She looked very beautiful.

"Okay, Henrick, where do you want to eat? You decide."

He thought for a moment then said, "Let's go to the restaurant in this hotel in three days. The food's delicious."

"Okay, Henrick. You've been ignoring me recently. I'm so worried about you. I was afraid that I said something wrong and offended you." She finally broke into a smile.

He took a deep look at her and didn't say anything.

She left happily, while he felt that he had fallen into a desperate situation.

Alice asked for leave in advance in order to pick up her daughter, son, and mother at the airport. The following day was a holiday, and their flight would arrive at the airport of River City at eight o'clock that night.

Alice booked a restaurant in advance and tried her best to avoid visiting the Alwynn Group and the Alwynn family.

The apartment she lived in was far away from the Alwynn family home, so she ordered the local specialties of River City.

At eight o'clock, people were coming and going at the exit of the airport. From a distance, she saw her son and daughter in the crowd, as well as her beautiful and elegant mother.

She waved her hand at them excitedly. "Juliet, Marlon, I'm here."

"Mom..." Marlon ran to her excitedly.

He was already in primary school and was a little taller than his peers. His speed was also very fast.

The moment he hugged his mother, his eyes instantly turned red.

Chapter 2225

"Mom, I missed you so much that I can only feel safe if you hold me." Marlon rubbed his head against Alice. He felt that he was a little man, so he couldn't let his tears fall.

No matter how excited or sad he was, he couldn't cry.

Grandpa said that he would be the pillar of the family in the future. He couldn't cry, and could only walk forward bravely.

They didn't have a father. He had to learn from early on so that he could take care of his mother and sister.

"Baby, I missed you too!" Alice wanted to pick up her son, only to find that she couldn't lift her son up anymore, so she could only hold him like that.

"Mom." Juliet also ran in front of Alice.

Alice squatted down, hugged her two children, and kissed them on their little faces.

"My darlings, are you tired?" Alice stood up and looked at her son and daughter with great satisfaction.

Juliet was wearing a pink skirt and her hair was tied into a ponytail. Her big eyes were especially bright and her smile was particularly wide. "Because I want to see you, Mom, I'm not tired at all."

"Mom, so am I. I'm not tired at all." Marlon smiled happily.

"If you're not tired, I'll take you to eat something delicious." Alice took their little hands and looked at her mother. "Mom, thank you for your hard work!"

Aubri looked at her daughter and smiled. "Silly girl, I'm not tired. You don't even know these two small chatterboxes. They kept talking on the plane non-stop, and I kept answering their questions. Time flies very fast. We arrived in River City before we knew it."

She looked at the familiar city in front of her. When she was young, she often came to River City.

However, since her grandchildren were born, she had not come back here.

"Mom, let's go back first. I booked a restaurant near the apartment."

Aubri nodded. "I'm really hungry. These two little guys have been hungry for a long time. They just drank two cups of water on the plane."

.....

When Alice arrived at the restaurant with her mother and daughter, it was almost 10 o'clock.

Since the restaurant was closing, Alice could only ask them to pack up all the dishes and bring them back to the apartment.

The apartment was very big, with three bedrooms and two living rooms. The dining table was also very big, and it was very spacious at home.

While the children were washing their hands, Alice had already opened all the takeout boxes.

Smelling the aroma of the dishes, she was also hungry.

"Wow! Mom, there's so much delicious food. This is my favorite fried chicken." Juliet sat down on the chair and grabbed the chicken to eat without hesitation.

"Haha." Alice looked at her daughter and smiled. After she finished eating, she wiped her little hands with a wet tissue. "Silly girl, no matter how hungry you are, you can't use your hands. Just wear a disposable glove or you will dirty your clothes."

Aubri also sat down with Marlon and the others.

"Wow! Mom, the taste is stronger and more flavorful than the dishes in Lemmon City. It's delicious." Juliet's favorite foods were chicken and shrimp.

"Really?" Alice also ate one. She had ordered light dishes, as she was still not used to the food here.

Aubri looked at her daughter and asked, "Alice, is your work going well?"

She looked as usual, caring and being concerned about her daughter.

Alice smiled and replied, "Mom, it's going well."

Aubri looked at her calmly. "Are you not used to life here? Why do you look thinner?"

Alice nodded and responded, "Mom, I'm not used to things here. You know, the biggest difference is the diet. The food in Lemmon City is light and the food in River City is heavier in spice. I'm not used to it." She didn't tell her mother when she had had gastritis, but Aubri was even more worried.

Aubri also knew her daughter's habits, so she did not ask anything else.

After dinner, Alice and her mother cleaned up the dining room together.

Juliet and Marlon went to wash up.

After washing up, the two little children ran into the room and had a whispered discussion.

After closing the door, Marlon looked at his sister and said in a low voice, "Juliet, I overheard the conversation between Grandpa and Grandma last night, saying that our father is in River City."

However, she rolled her eyes at her brother.

"Marlon, do you only know now?"

He looked at his sister in shock. "Based on your expression, do you already know about this?"

She nodded. "I happened to hear Grandpa and Grandma talk about it before, but I don't know who he is."

"Anyway, he has never been a part of our lives, and we don't acknowledge him as our father." Juliet's little face was full of anger. She clasped her hands together and looked at the bustling city outside the window angrily.

Marlon narrowed his eyes slightly and looked at his angry sister. He smiled and said, "Juliet, in fact, I really want to know who he is. Both of us have the ability to remember everything. We must have inherited our father's genes. Mom doesn't have such good genes."

"Hmph! I can't forgive him. Having good genes is not important. Being good to us and being good to Mom would make him the best father."

"Hehe. Little girl, what if there's some misunderstanding or something we don't know?" He asked. Actually, he really wanted to meet his father and see what he looked like.

She could not deny it, but she still wanted to know who their father was.

Her eyes flashed. Seeing her classmates' parents pick them up from kindergarten and school, she was actually very envious.

However she knew that there were some things that couldn't be envied.

"Anyway, I don't want to know who he is. Don't mention our father in front of Mom, or she will be sad again."

"I know. Just pretend that I didn't say anything." He smiled and gently flicked his sister's forehead so she didn't feel any pain at all.

"Juliet, sleep well and have a good dream. I'll buy you ice cream tomorrow."

He chuckled and turned to leave.

She looked at her brother's back and could not believe what he had just said. He must have followed their father, whom they had never met before, and he always liked to bully her.

"Marlon, go to bed." Alice looked at him as soon as her son came out.

"I got it, Mom. Do you have potato chips?" Marlon went to the living room to find them. His footsteps were sloppy, yet his little figure looked noble.

She looked at the place where the potato chips were kept and said in disbelief, "You ate a lot just now, and you have brushed your teeth. Do you still want to eat potato chips?"

He retorted unkindly, "Mom, I'm just following you, aren't I? Grandma said that you loved potato chips when you were young and I inherited this from you."

Aubri smiled silently. If he didn't eat some potato chips, he wouldn't be able to sleep well.

Alice was speechless.

She really couldn't let the children know about her past. Otherwise, they would be completely lawless.

"Don't eat too much tonight. It's unhealthy. Eat it tomorrow. Otherwise, you will get a nosebleed again." Alice didn't want her son to eat anymore junk food as her son was prone to nosebleeds.

Chapter 2226

"Mom, I won't. I can only sleep after eating something." Marlon continued to eat.

Alice knew her son's character, so she could only give him the potato chips.

She also liked eating potato chips, and her son liked them even more than she did. Since she knew that they were coming, she bought big bags of potato chips.

When she handed the potato chips to her son, she told him, "You can only eat a few. Go to sleep after eating. Don't be greedy."

"Hehe..." Marlon grinned. His teeth were white and his smile was adorable.

Alice couldn't help but smile.

"Don't worry, Mom. I won't be greedy." However, he must eat them all before he went to sleep/;

Why?

Because they were too delicious!

They were fragrant and crisp!

Alice gave him the plain potato chips, which were better than the spicy ones.

"Grandma, Mom, good night. I love you so much!" After getting the food, Marlon was as happy as a little bird. He spread his arms and wandered around in the living room, before returning to the room with his beloved potato chips in his arms.

Aubri and Alice both smiled helplessly, but they were both happy that he was happy.

In particular, Aubri was deeply touched. Her husband and daughter were very busy at work everyday, so she often felt quite lonely. Now, with her grandchildren, she constantly smiled and never felt lonely.

"Mom, everything is ready. Go and rest. We'll take the children to the amusement park tomorrow."

Aubri smiled and said, "Well, I'm very tired. You should also go to bed early."

She took a deep look at her daughter, wondering if her father's painstaking efforts could lead to a beautiful marriage.

Her daughter was kind, beautiful, and capable. In Lemmon City, those who were waiting to marry her could form a very long line.

However, as her mother, how could she not know what her daughter was thinking?

Except for the man she had loved since she was a child, Henrick, she would probably never marry another man again.

What's more, she had two children now. For their sake, she would not marry anyone else.

However, as parents, how could they rest assured without seeing their daughter find happiness?

The next morning, Alice got up early and was ready to go to the amusement park.

Since the destination had been decided, she was prepared in advance. They left at eight o'clock in the morning. Alice took them to eat at a famous restaurant in River City for breakfast, and then they went to the amusement park.

The Alwynn family.

Eden also got up early in the morning to go to the amusement park.

She had packed up the things for the triplets the day before and got up early in the morning to make breakfast with the servants.

Adriel rushed down from the second floor. "Mom, do you have any of my favorite wraps?"

Eden looked back at her son. "Yes."

Alan ran over enviously. "Mom, do you have my favorite sandwiches?"

"Yes, yes, yes."

The eldest of the triplets, Andrew, slowly walked over. He was much more mature than his two younger brothers.

"Mom, I want some beef." He leaned against the wall. Because he liked to eat meat, he was much taller than his two younger brothers.

"Yes, yes, I've packed them all." Eden looked at the three children and smiled. She was constantly busy. "My darlings, I've packed everything. The three of you, go and help your father put the things in the car. We will leave after breakfast. It's not easy to arrange for you to go to the amusement park."

"Alan, go to the second floor to wake your sister and your brother-in-law up. When they wake up, ask them to come down for breakfast."

Alan said, "Mom, Gia's pregnant and has been sick these days. Let her sleep for a while more. Martin already woke up and went out."

Eden was stunned. "Has he gone out already?"

He replied, "Yes, Gia wanted to eat some pineapple cake, so Martin drove out early in the morning to buy some."

Eden asked, "She wanted to eat some pineapple cake?"

"Yes." Alan saw that the servant had already packed the wraps. He immediately reached out to take a piece and put it in his mouth, eating it while it was still hot.

Eden glanced at her son and couldn't help smiling. "Help Madam Mary bring all the food to the dining table. I will go up to see Gia."

She took off her apron and went up to the second floor.

After Giada found out that she was pregnant, she moved back home. Eden was very happy. Fortunately, Martin's parents did not care. As long as Gia was happy, they didn't care about where she lived.

The couple also moved in and stayed on the second floor.

Giada's morning sickness was very bad. She had been tortured so badly that she always laid in bed, unwilling to get up.

"Gia." Eden pushed the door open and went in.

Hearing the vomiting sounds from the bathroom, she quickly went to the bathroom.

Giada was bent over and she retched at the toilet.

"Gia, why are you throwing up again?" Eden patted her daughter's back with pity.

"Mom, I feel nauseous every morning when I get up. It's so uncomfortable. It'll be better after 10 o'clock." Giada's face was very pale, and she looked at her mother with her big, dull eyes. She was so uncomfortable that she almost cried.

Eden helped her up and let her lie in bed to rest. She poured a cup of hot water for her and said, "Gia, I was also like this when I was pregnant with you, and it persisted for over a month. You won't feel so uncomfortable after three months."

"Okay!" Giada smiled weakly. Although she felt very uncomfortable every morning, she still felt very happy when she thought of the two little lives in her belly who were hers and Martin's children.

"Gia, what do you want to eat? I'll make it for you right now."

Lu Giada said, "I want to eat pineapple cake."

"Why do you want to eat it so early in the morning?" Eden smiled. She was allergic to pineapples and mangoes, and luckily, Gia did not inherit her constitution, which was very good.

Giada didn't know why, but she just wanted to eat it. "Mom, it's sour and sweet, and it sounds very appetizing."

Eden looked at her daughter dotingly and tucked her in. "Well! I know, but it's very sweet. Eat less. It's not easy to digest if you eat too much of it. I've made some oatmeal. Do you want to eat it?"

Lu Giada smiled happily and said, "Mom, just a little. Put some sour fruits in it. It'll only taste good if it's sour."

"Okay, I'll bring it to you." Eden went out with a smile.

When she arrived downstairs, she ran into Martin, who had just returned from buying the pineapple cake.

"Good morning, Mom!" Martin happily greeted Eden.

Eden looked at him, who was full of smiles, and she also grinned. "Good morning, Martin. Gia wants to eat some oatmeal. I'll bring it to her later. What do you want to eat for breakfast?"

Martin smiled and answered, "Mom, I can get it myself." Living in the Alwynn family home, he always felt very warm.

"Okay, go upstairs and accompany Gia."

Eden went to the kitchen with a smile. She was busy in the early morning, but she was very happy.

At 9:30 a.m., the couple finally set off with their three sons.

Victor was driving, but his expression was not very good.

That was because there would be a lot of people in the amusement park on a holiday, and it was the last place he wanted to go.

Each year, during the holidays, the three children had to go to the amusement park, and his expression was cold every year.

The three children had long gotten used to their father's cold mood. The three brothers chatted very happily in the back seat.

Chapter 2227

"Mom, can we go into the water to play today?" Adriel asked.

Eden looked back at her son and said, "Yes, but there are so many people today, so you must stay within my sight."

"I got it. Mom, we will be obedient. You just need to accompany Dad." In their minds, as long as their father was happy, he would promise them anything.

The problem was that their mother had to be by his side. Otherwise, their father would maintain the cold expression on his face, and it would be very boring.

"Okay!" Eden smiled and glanced at her husband. His expression was still sour.

Every time he went out to have fun during the holidays, he would be in a bad mood. But the children liked to join in the fun, so they had to go at this time.

Moreover, they often took time to accompany the children, mainly because her parents were old, and she also needed to accompany them often.

Victor felt his wife's gaze and his expression softened a lot.

His wife was with him everyday, so he couldn't be in a bad mood with her.

As for the children, except for his daughter, no one could make him happy.

He couldn't feel at ease about any of them.

Anyway, he was about to have grandchildren, so he didn't want to care about those kids anymore.

They arrived at the largest amusement park in River City at about 10 o'clock.

Alice bought a ticket to play with the children.

The two children were very brave and wanted to try everything. It was still early and there were not too many people. It was usually the most crowded in the afternoon during the holidays.

Many parents and children were out and about.

Marlon got off the carousel and ran to Alice.

"Mom, can we go and play on the sky slide?"

Alice immediately shook her head and said, "Don't even think about it. You're too young. Wait until you're older."

"Oh!" Marlon felt a little regretful, but not too much since he could play it in the future.

"Mom, let's go play on the pirate ship." Marlon pointed to the ride not far away.

Alice looked at the pirate ship swaying back and forth in awe. There were a lot of screams coming from the ship. She quickly shook her head and said, "I won't go but you go ahead."

Juliet replied, "Mom, you're such a coward. Look at how fun it is!"

Alice felt that her daughter's provocation was useless to her because she was really afraid.

She was scared and didn't want to experience it at all.

Aubri came directly to watch the children and didn't want to go on any rides.

The mother and daughter had been playing with the children.

The twins didn't seem to be tired at all, and they ran to the roller coaster not far away.

"Juliet, look at the triplets. They're very handsome."

Standing at the ticket entrance, Marlon pointed at Andrew and his brothers.

"Wow! Marlon, they're really handsome!" Juliet blinked her big eyes and the two siblings ran towards the three brothers.

Marlon had never been afraid of strangers. He ran up to Andrew and said, "Wow! Hello, triplets. We are twins."

The three of them were speechless.

Looking at the two lovely little children in front of him, Andrew smiled and asked, "Do you dare to sit on this ride at such a young age?"

Marlon narrowed his eyes, and a hint of cunning flashed across his eyes.

When the three brothers saw it, they felt that he was somewhat familiar.

Andrew, in particular, narrowed his dark eyes slightly.

"Brother, you can't look down on anyone. No matter who it is, they can burst out with terrifying courage. We have already ridden on this." Marlon looked at Andrew arrogantly.

They were not afraid!

The brother and sister pair were sitting in front of the third row.

After Juliet sat down, she looked back at the three brothers and said, "Brothers, you are so handsome."

The three brothers were once again struck speechless.

Andrew also smiled. "Little girl, you and your brother are also very good-looking."

"Hehe..." Juliet laughed happily. She loved it when people praised her beauty.

The following performance of the brother and sister made the three brothers look at them anew.

When they came up and down from the roller coaster, the triplets' faces were pale and their legs were weak. The twins, on the other hand, were laughing happily, without a trace of fear.

The three brothers looked at each other in dismay.

"Goodbye, brothers!" After saying goodbye to the three brothers, the twins rushed to the train ticket counter next door.

Obviously, the three brothers were not so energetic. They went to the seats behind the roller coaster to find their parents.

"Mom, I'm dizzy, but it's so exciting. The moment the roller coaster started moving, I didn't feel any pressure at all. I felt very relaxed." Alan leaned on his mother's shoulder and closed his eyes, enjoying the quiet moment.

Victor looked disgusted. "Take your head off your mother's shoulder."

Alan made a face at his father and continued to lean against his mother.

"Dad, Mom, we just met a pair of boy-girl twins who were on the roller coaster with us. They are really brave. I thought about it carefully. Why does that boy look like Henrick when he was a child?"

He was a meticulous person. The moment he saw the little boy, when the sense of familiarity hit him, he only felt that the little boy looked somewhat familiar. However, after thinking about it carefully, he found that the boy looked a little like his second brother, Henrick, who was a star when he was a child, and there were videos of him on the Internet. There were many similarities between them.

Victor and Eden looked at each other.

Victor said, "Andrew, don't talk nonsense. Henrick has never been in a relationship in recent years."

Adriel spoke up, "Mom, Andrew's not lying. I also think the little boy looks like Henrick, especially his facial features. He looks exactly like Henrick when he was a child."

Victor and Eden looked at each other again.

Victor muttered, "I'm going to the toilet."

He couldn't answer his sons' questions.

Andrew complained, "Hey, Dad is just running away. He just doesn't believe what we said."

Eden smiled and said nothing more about the matter, "Don't forget that your eldest brother and your second brother looked exactly the same when they were little."

Andrew said with certainty, "Mom, there are videos of my brother and my second brother when they were little. We've all seen them. Can you tell who's who?"

She was speechless. Why did it sound so mysterious?

As soon as Victor came out of the bathroom to wash his hands, he saw a little boy rushing in with his hands covered with blood.

"Ah, Mom just jinxed it. I really got a nosebleed," Marlon muttered as he squeezed past Victor to wash his hands.

Victor took a small step back and took a few sheets of tissues for Marlon.

Marlon's face was covered in blood and he couldn't care less. After thanking Victor, he carefully wiped the blood from his nose whilst looking at himself in the mirror.

When a clean little face appeared in the mirror, Victor's pupils suddenly contracted. Why was this child so similar to when Ricky was a child?

Chapter 2228

Victor suddenly remembered what his sons had just said. He suddenly found that there was nothing wrong with their eyes.

Despite this, he didn't believe them at all.

Marlon saw that his nose was no longer bleeding and he carefully examined his clothes. He only felt at ease when he saw that there was no evidence left.

He looked carefully at Victor, who was in shock, through the mirror and said, "Grandpa Alwynn, I know you!"

"Grandpa... Grandpa!" Victor came to his senses. He couldn't accept the word 'grandpa'. How could he be a grandpa to this kid?

He looked at himself in the mirror. He was still very young, not like a man in his fifties at all. He looked at most, 35. He had always trusted Sean's cosmetics.

No, this child called him Grandpa Alwynn just now.

Victor looked down at Marlon. This little face was really like his second son's. "Little guy, you said you knew me just now. Do you know who I am?"

Marlon said with a smile, "I can't forget. I saw a photo of you in a financial magazine in my grandfather's study. You are the president of Alwynn Group, a famous entrepreneur, Mr. Victor Alwynn. My grandfather said that you are very good. You are a big shot in the business circle."

Victor was speechless. What kind of praise was this? Was he that great?

He was confused again. "Who is your grandfather?"

"Bert Klein. My mom is Alice. I heard my grandfather on the phone with you."

Victor was dumbstruck. The truth had come out.

Every time Bert called him, he would satirize and mock Victor. It turned out that he really had a grandson.

Moreover, he was so smart.

"You are really Bert's grandson. Who is your father?" Victor wanted to know the answer to this question very much.

"Ah... I don't know. I have to ask my mother who my father is because we don't have a father."

"Grandpa, I won't tell you. Please don't tell my mom about my nosebleed. I ate a bag of potato chips last night and got sick. If my mom finds out, she won't let me eat potato chips in the future."

"Goodbye, Mr. Alwynn!"

After saying that, he ran away without waiting for Victor's answer.

Victor was still lost for words.

No father?

No father?

But why did he look so much like his son?

Moreover, there was Bert's abnormal attitude.

Victor stood there for a while.

It was not until someone came into the bathroom and touched him that he came to his senses.

With a gloomy expression on his face, he strode out of the bathroom.

When he went outside, he glanced at the pair of dazzling eyes. He suddenly remembered what his son had asked his mother that morning. His eyebrows twitched.

He took out his mobile phone and dialed Eden's number.

"Victor."

"Dear, this place is very close to the high-tech district. I'll buy you some food. You can bring the children to play first."

She smiled and agreed, "Okay."

He reminded her, "Honey, wait for me to come back."

She was speechless. "I know. We're already so old yet you still say such things."

He smiled and said, "Honey, I love you!"

After he finished speaking, he hung up the phone with satisfaction and left the amusement park.

After getting in the car, he contacted Anson. After knowing the location of the crew, he went straight to find his son.

In the crew, the situation was not very good that day. Henrick made mistakes again and again, and Dwayne felt that he could rest again today.

Seeing that Henrick had made another mistake, Dwayne couldn't help shouting, "Mr. Henrick, you're acting like a gentle and domineering president, not a cruel and scheming president."

"Your facial expression should be gentle, and your eyes should be like the sea of stars, filled with only Laurel..."

Dwayne spoke until his mouth was dry, but Henrick was still not in his best state.

He lowered his head unhappily.

Dwayne was speechless. "Mr. Henrick, please be considerate of my hard work!"

Alma was not in the mood to film. She looked at Dwayne and asked, "Director, why don't we rest for a while before we start filming again?"

"Ricky." A deep voice rang out, and everyone present turned their heads in shock.

Victor was dressed in casual black clothes. He stood not far away, looking dazzling.

"Dad, why are you here?" Henrick was very surprised. Why did his father come here?

Victor ordered, "Follow me."

"Ah... Okay!" Henrick spoke to the director and left with his father.

Looking at the backs of the father and son leaving, Alma frowned slightly. Seeing that Mr. Alwynn had come, something must have happened.

Henrick followed his father to a cafe in the commercial street.

The father and son found a window seat where they could see the cars passing by.

Henrick didn't understand why his father would come over at this time. "Dad, why did you suddenly come here? What's the matter? Didn't you take Adriel and the others to play today?"

Victor said, "Yes, your mother took them to the amusement park. I came to see you."

"Oh..." Henrick looked at his father in disbelief and said with a smile, "Dad, I don't believe that you would come here just to see me. If you have anything to say, just say it."

At this time, the coffee they ordered was also brought over.

Victor picked up his mobile phone and ordered a few dishes to be sent to the cafe, waiting for the right time to chat with his son.

He looked straight at his son and said, "I only have one question for you now. Have you contacted Alice in the past few years? Have you ever been together?"

Boom...

All of a sudden, Henrick's mind went blank. How did his father know about this?

"Dad..." His expression darkened. "Why are you suddenly curious about me?"

Victor's face became more and more serious. "Answer my question. Did you get together a few years ago? I will only ask you this once. If you don't want to tell me, don't regret it."

"Dad, you suddenly... What's wrong?" Henrick was even more nervous. Did his father know what had happened that year?

"Aren't you going to tell me?" Victor's voice was cold and dignified. Even though Henric was usually easygoing, he was still afraid of his father who was being so serious.

"I..." Henrick hesitated. What if his father lied to him?

Victor looked at his hesitant expression and suddenly understood that there was something between him and Alice. That was why Henrick was so embarrassed.

"Say it. I will give you one last chance." Victor's face became more and more gloomy. If his son took his old path, he knew how much pain his son would be in.

"Dad, can you tell me the reason first?" Henrick was afraid of being tricked. His mother liked Alice very much. If he wanted to tell his father, he had to first figure out what was going on.

Victor narrowed his eyes slightly and said with a smile, "I met Alice today. And as for your Uncle Klein, he talked about something in secret, so I came to ask you."

"Kid, your father will tell you today that the older you are, the wiser," Victor said inwardly.

Chapter 2229

Henrick's body tensed up. If he said it, his father would definitely give him a good beating that day.

However, Uncle Klein already knew about it, so sooner or later, his father would also find out.

"Alas!" Henrick sighed dejectedly and looked down with an unusually pained expression.

He thought that this matter could be kept a secret. Now that he thought about it, it was really ridiculous. How could there be eternal secrets in the world?

Moreover, since he dared to do it, he had to admit it. Now that everyone knew about it, he still felt a little uncomfortable when he said it. He was really angry that he had been framed.

He was even more upset that he had done something worse than a beast to Alice.

He felt bitter in his heart. During this period of time, he felt like he was almost out of breath.

"Dad, there was an accident seven years ago. On the night of my birthday, someone drugged my wine. Coincidentally, Alice met me in the hotel. I don't need to tell you what happened afterwards. I also know that you and Mom got together like this." Henrick's voice was low, and he was in a bad mood. He didn't dare to look at her father.

Victor was struck speechless.

Things were really as he had expected, but Henrick became a father earlier than him.

Victor's mood was extremely complicated.

He was very happy to have a grandson, but the most important thing was that the parents of the children had to love each other, so that his grandson could grow up well.

"What happened later?" Victor asked, suppressing the anger in his heart. His eyes gradually lost their kindness.

Henrick looked up at his father and said, "After that, I went abroad again. Seven years later, our first meeting again was at Gia's wedding. After that, we had a cooperation with the Clarke family. Only then did I find out that the woman back then was Alice."

"How is that possible? You and Alice met when you were very young." Victor couldn't believe what he had heard.

Henrick claimed to not know Alice.

"Dad, I just came back half a year ago. I was very busy before, so I had no time to pay attention to other things. I didn't know her. She knew me, so we didn't get along very well this time."

"I've already apologized to Alice, and she has forgiven me. Her only wish is for me to stay far away from her." Henrick told his father everything.

Hearing this, Victor was very angry. Sure enough, his son still followed his old path.

Alice asked him to stay away from her because she didn't want him to know the existence of the child.

He closed his eyes. When he opened them again, he asked, "So, what do you think of Alice?"

Henrick looked at his father. He did not know what Victor wanted to say.

"Dad, what else can I do?" He patted his heart and his expression was not very good. "Dad, she is very good. She has been affecting my heart during this period of time. I am full of guilt."

Victor was speechless. He felt that he would regret it for the rest of his life.

Needless to say, the child was Henrick's, and the boy was his grandson. However, at that moment, he could not be happy.

The pain that Alice had suffered all these years, and the pain the child had suffered without his father, was caused by his son's ignorance.

"I see. You go back and finish your shoot first." Victor was angry even when he just looked at his son, so he simply lowered his head and avoided him.

"Dad, are you here to confirm this matter?" Henrick asked. When he was done speaking, he felt that something was amiss.

"No, Dad, did you come here to trick me on purpose?" He felt that the older he was, the wiser he would be.

His words obviously provoked Victor's anger.

"That's right. I'm here to trick you." Victor couldn't help but burst out with anger. His voice was so loud that it was scary.

When the children were young, he had missed watching them grow up. He had lived with this guilt for a lifetime. No matter what he did, he had to think about the feelings of the three of them first.

Now that his son had let a good girl down, how could he not be angry?

"Hey! Dad, you scared me. Why are you so angry all of a sudden?" Henrick looked at his father warily. Looking at his father's gloomy and angry expression, he had a feeling that he would be beaten in the next moment.

Sure enough, Victor suddenly stood up and gave his son a hard beating.

"Ah ah..." Henrick endured the pain and was beaten. He didn't dare to fight back as he had done something wrong and he felt like he was going crazy these days. After being beaten, he felt much more relaxed.

The people in the cafe were shocked when they saw this scene. When they heard Henrick call out to his father, no one dared to go up to stop the fight.

What right did they have to interfere in a father teaching his son a lesson?

However, even though Henrick was wearing a cap, someone still recognized him and his father, Victor.

The video of the Second Young Master of Alwynn Group being beaten up by his father in a cafe quickly became a hot topic.

In the amusement park, Eden and her three sons accidentally bumped into Alice's family.

The moment she saw Eden, Alice almost wanted to escape with the children.

When Marlon met Victor, he forgot to tell Alice about it because he was too playful. That was why they met each other so unexpectedly.

When Eden saw Juliet and Marlon, she was also shocked and struck speechless for a long time.

Therefore, Andrew was right. This little boy was really like Henrick when he was a child.

Eden asked her three sons to play with Marlon and his sister. She didn't ask anything before she figured out the truth.

As usual, she chatted with Alice and Aubri.

Aubri was fine, but Alice was distracted. She never dreamed that she would meet Eden there.

It was so far away from the Alwynn family's property, but they still bumped into each other.

"Alice, when did you get married? Why didn't you tell me?"

Alice was worried that the children would be exposed, so she didn't pay attention to Eden's words.

Aubri answered for her, "My daughter had the children before marriage. You know, there is nothing to say about this kind of thing."

That was the truth. Hiding it would make people feel that it was a joke. They were open and honest, and she did not feel ashamed.

Eden suddenly looked at Alice with distress and gently took her hand.

Alice looked at her, at a loss.

Eden said, "Alice, everything will be fine in the future."

Alice nodded blankly.

Aubri looked at her daughter's expression and felt even more distressed.

If her daughter could not take this step, she would never get happiness.

That was the arrangement of the couple. No matter what happened in the future, as long as their daughter stood out bravely to face this matter, she would have a new life.

"Mom!" Adriel ran over with his phone.

Eden frowned and looked at her reckless son. "Adriel, what's wrong?"

Chapter 2230

"Mom, you need to go to the hospital now. Dad didn't buy food at all. He went to look for Henrick and beat him up. He's now hospitalized."

Eden was struck speechless. What did she hear?

Alice was stunned. "Why did Uncle Alwynn suddenly hit Henrick?" She thought to herself.

Aubri also looked at Eden and lowered her head, lost in thought.

"Mom, look at your phone. Dad and Henrick are both on the hot topics list. Dad is so ruthless. I've never seen him in such a terrible mood." When Adriel saw the prominent title on the hot search list, he couldn't believe that his father would beat up his second brother.

He quickly clicked on it and found that Henrick had indeed been beaten up by their father.

Eden still couldn't believe it. She took out her mobile phone from her bag and searched for it. The news was all about the president of Alwynn Group beating up his second son.

Eden didn't even need to think to know what was going on.

Victor had found that Alice's son looked like Henrick when he was a child, so he ran over to find Henrick.

"This..." Looking at her son's bloody face, Eden felt distressed.

Victor had beaten him too hard.

Their son was wrong, but there still had to be a way to solve things. What should they do if he was disabled?

"Mom, Henrick's head is covered in blood. What's wrong with him?" Adriel was anxious. It turned out that their father would beat his son so hard.

He would never dare to make a mistake again.

Eden stood up and looked at Aubri and Alice with an apologetic expression. "Aubri, I'll contact you later. I have to leave first."

Aubri nodded slightly. "Go ahead and do your work. Don't worry about us."

Eden looked at Alice and saw her looking down at the phone anxiously. When she saw the video on the phone, she was stunned.

Eden squatted down and held her hand. "Alice, you don't have to worry about anything. Take good care of your children and play here. I'll contact you later."

However, Alice did not respond at all. Instead, her body tensed. Eden's heart ached even more when she looked at her.

After Eden finished speaking, she was still worried. She looked at Aubri and said, "Aubri, we have been friends for many years. If anything happens, let's sit down and solve it together."

Aubri nodded. She knew that Eden could tell. She knew Eden's character and trusted her.

As Eden said, they had been friends for many years and trusted each other.

She smiled, and her gaze was very gentle. "Don't worry. Alice and the children will be alright here."

Eden let the three brothers play to their fill before going home.

She then took a taxi to the hospital.

Half an hour later, in the hospital, Victor looked angrily at his son on the hospital bed.

Henrick lowered her eyes and said nothing. His nose was covered with gauze. His nose bridge was fractured, his teeth had cut into his cheek and his mouth was in pain, and his leg ligaments were injured. He wouldn't be able to walk normally for three months. Anyway, he had been beaten, so he was not afraid.

However, the more he thought about it, the angrier he became. How could a father beat his son so ruthlessly?

"Dad, you hit me too hard." As soon as he spoke, his mouth hurt and his saliva flowed out.

Henrick quickly took out a tissue from the table beside him and wiped his mouth; it was too embarrassing. He relied on his face for work. Presently, he was fine, but he was covered in wounds.

Speaking of which, this was the first time that his father had beaten him like this. It was obvious that he had vented his feelings.

Victor gave his son a good beating, but he was still in a bad mood.

He looked at his son coldly. "Look at you, you haven't been beaten enough."

"No, no, no, that's enough. Dad, I know I was wrong. I also apologized to Alice. I wanted to compensate her, but she asked me to stay away. I was very helpless."

It seemed that after knowing that the woman was Alice, he did not hate her.

However, when he saw Alice's pain, his heart ached as well!

Seeing his son arguing, Victor got angry again.

"Brat, have some remorse, okay? Now, you are still arguing. If you did something wrong, you're wrong. If you're wrong, you have to admit your mistakes."

"You're in the wrong. You won't be forgiven just because she said it. You have to take practical action and make Alice willingly forgive you."

"When it comes to this kind of thing, girls are deeply hurt. Although it is impossible for them to be willing to forgive you, you have to try your best to get true forgiveness, instead of arguing here."

"Just because she told you to get lost, you can't just leave, understand?" He really couldn't handle the fact that his son was a father.

As a father himself, Victor knew very well what they had all experienced when they were children.

Henrick also had a helpless look on his face. "Dad, I want to do it too, but I want Alice to give me a chance." He felt very sad. She had said that she forgave him just like that, which made him even more pained and sad.

He couldn't fall asleep at night. In the past few days, he had quickly lost two or three pounds.

He also wanted to get Alice's sincere forgiveness, but she wanted him to stay away from her. What could he do?

"Dad, I've been going crazy these days." Henrick kicked the quilt hard to vent his anger.

The innocent quilt fell to the ground instantly.

Victor said angrily, "Is the one who can drive you crazy still behind you?"

Henrick was speechless. Didn't he look miserable enough?

"Dad, you can go to the amusement park to pick up Mom. You don't have to worry about me. My assistant will come later." He smiled, as if he had regained his carefree look.

Victor just remembered that his wife was still in the amusement park. At this time, he could really ignore his son.

"Well..." Before he could finish his words, Eden stormed in angrily.

Victor was speechless. It seemed that everyone already knew about it.

"Honey..."

Eden glared at him and said, "Victor, you are crazy. Are you satisfied with the chaos you've created in River City now?."

"If you want to hit your son, you can go home and hit him."

"Mom, what are you talking about? Are you asking Dad to beat up his son behind closed doors?" Henrick asked with an expression that said, "Mom, you don't love me anymore."

She was still furious and turned to ask Victor, "Tell me."

Victor shook his head slightly. He could neither open his mouth nor speak.

He was afraid that Henrick would collapse after knowing this.

Upon seeing the expressions on the couple's faces, Henrick asked, "Mom, what's the matter?" His sly black eyes darted back and forth between his parents.

He always felt that his parents were hiding something from him.

Eden looked at him and shook her head slightly. Her voice was very cold. "Nothing."

Henrick's heart was broken in an instant. "Mom, you don't love me anymore. My heart is broken." He looked sad and wronged.

Seeing that he was injured, his mother did not rush up to hug him, nor did she care about his injuries. He felt that he had been abandoned.

Eden looked at her childish son, and her heart ached even more. He was only a child. How could he take care of children in the future?

"Alas!" She sighed weakly. "Ricky, your father knows what he's doing."

It meant that he didn't have to pretend to be pitiful. Shame on him.
