

Gluey Love 2321

Chapter 2321

After the family of three had their breakfast, Bert also came over.

Juliet ran over happily when she saw her grandfather.

"Grandpa, you're back."

"Oh my! My little darling." Bert squatted down and hugged Juliet. "Little girl, you've grown fat."

"Ah..." Juliet was stunned for a moment. "Grandpa, don't scare me. I've always paid attention to my figure. I haven't eaten much these days."

Juliet tensed up. She didn't want to get fat as it would be hard to lose weight.

Bert naturally knew what his darling granddaughter was thinking.

He smiled dotingly. "Baby, you're not fat at all. You're beautiful even if you've gotten a little bigger."

Juliet complained in a disappointed tone, "That means that I've gotten fat."

"You're not fat!" Bert regretted his words. Children who were a little rounder were good-looking, and their little round faces were even more adorable.

Alice stood to the side and grinned. The grandfather and granddaughter pair had to play like this for a while every time they met.

"Dad, have you had breakfast?"

Only then did Bert stand up. When he saw Henrick behind his daughter, his expression darkened.

Henrick was speechless. His father-in-law was still angry.

What should he do?

"Nice to meet you, Uncle Klein!" He greeted with a smile.

"Hmph!" Bert snorted. "I really don't want to see you."

Henrick lowered his head, looking as if he had done something wrong. He had always pretended to be innocent, but at that moment, he lowered his head and looked extremely aggrieved.

Bert was even angrier.

"Boy, you have some conscience. The things on the Internet have been suppressed, but what are you going to do in the future? Do you want to continue to come to my house and play rogue?"

"Ah... Rogue?" Henrick was perplexed. How did he become a rogue?

"Uncle Klein, I'm not a rogue. I really like Allie." Henrick was afraid that Bert would drive him away.

Given Bert's personality, it was definitely possible. His personality was the same as his father's, unpredictable. Furthermore, Bert looked down on his future son-in-law. With Bert around, he felt like there was no end in sight.

"Hmph! What right do you have to like her? Have you not seen how terrible criticisms and curses are online?" Bert was also too prideful to lower himself to allow Henrick to marry Alice.

Of course, he definitely couldn't say something like that. He couldn't bear to marry his daughter off.

However, Alice had been trapped by Henrick, and would be so for the rest of her life. His heart ached for her, but he had no other choice.

After observing for a long time, Bert found that this guy was sincere.

"Dad." Alice also knew that it was not anyone's fault. They couldn't control what others said. It was enough for them to live a good life.

"Alice, don't say anything." Bert looked at his daughter with distress. "Why should he let you suffer?"

"Uncle Klein, I'm sorry!" Henrick lowered his head like a child who had done something wrong.

Bert glanced at him and sighed deeply. Henrick had a good character and a good family background. He was just childish, immature and somewhat of a mama's boy. He was spoiled and also had Victor's arrogance and pride.

When Bert counted, he found that there were many problems with Henrick. He was not worthy of his precious daughter at all.

At that moment, Henrick was quite well-behaved.

Bert asked, "Henrick, are you willing to be a live-in son-in-law?"

Henrick looked up at Bert and nodded. "Uncle Klein, I'm willing. When I came to Lemmon City, I had already told my parents that I may be a live-in son-in-law."

Bert was lost for words. It was too embarrassing. Why did Henrick say such a thing in the first place?

It was as if Henrick was definitely going to marry his daughter.

"Dad." Alice looked at her father. Why did he say that?

Bert looked a little embarrassed. Wasn't he just aggravated by what had happened the night before?

"Allie, I am willing, and my parents will also agree. I know you don't want to leave Lemmon City, nor do you want to leave Uncle Klein. I don't want you to have to travel back and forth with me."

"Thus, Allie, I'm willing to be a live-in son-in-law," Henrick said sincerely.

Alice looked at him and her heart kept pounding.

The best love was being regarded as one's whole world. Henrick was willing to give up everything for her and accompany her without hesitation.

She was captivated and lost her sense of reason by Henrick's behavior.

Bert said, "I don't necessarily want you to be my son-in-law. If you really marry Alice, you'll have to please both sides. With your father's arrogant character, I'm afraid he won't be willing to let you come. Let's both take a step back. This matter can be discussed."

Alice blinked her eyes and looked at her father in disbelief. The two families hadn't even sat down and talked yet, but why did her father say that? That's great. Henrick would be even more insufferable in the future.

"Dad, why are you here again?"

She was still looking forward to a romantic proposal, okay?

Bert couldn't keep calm anymore. Wasn't he afraid that his daughter would get hurt?

"Okay, you two can discuss it yourself. I'm going to the company."

Henrick immediately bowed deeply to Bert.

"Thank you, Dad!"

Bert was stunned, and his expression didn't look very good. Last night, Henrick called him 'father-in-law', but presently, he called Bert 'Dad'. This guy's ability to take advantage of the situation was first-class.

Alice glared at him. "Shut up. I haven't married you yet. Why did you call him 'Dad'?"

Henrick smiled shamelessly and said, "Allie, I'll have to call him 'Dad' sooner or later anyway."

"Don't do that now. Dad, be careful on the way to work." Alice sent her father out to work.

After leaving the house, Bert felt a little guilty. He looked at his daughter and murmured in a low voice, "Alice, am I too anxious?"

Alice also knew why her father was being like this. He didn't want her to be hurt.

"Dad, it's okay. I have always liked him. He has been very sincere during this period of time, and he's not a bad person. Although he is a little childish, as long as it doesn't affect his life, it's fine," Alice responded with a smile, but she was not angry.

Bert also nodded and gently rubbed her hair. "I also know this, so I gave in. If it was any other scum, I would have disabled him long ago."

"You should go back. Take a rest since there's nothing to do at the company. Don't let yourself be too tired. I've already dealt with the matters involving the Hansen family. You don't have to worry. No one can bully my precious baby."

Alice smiled warmly and nodded. She watched her father get in the car before turning around to leave.

Henrick wanted to teach his daughter how to play the piano, so the two of them had already gone to Juliet's room.

Henrick's house was currently being transformed into a family hospital and it was in a mess so he didn't want to go back.

He decided to stay and teach his daughter how to play the piano.

It was already past five o'clock in the afternoon. Henrick had seen through his daughter's shortcomings and strengths. Juliet was very talented and understood everything at a glance. By the afternoon, there weren't any major problems with her playing.

"Juliet, that's great!" Henrick praised his daughter, which made Juliet so happy that she couldn't control herself.

However, at that moment, the door was suddenly pushed open by Alice. She looked at Henrick with a red face and cried out, "Henrick, come with me. Something happened to my father."

Chapter 2322

Henrick got up and walked towards her, comforting her softly. "Allie, what happened to Uncle Klein? Take your time."

Tears flowed down Alice's face as she sobbed, "My father had a car accident on his way back. According to the assistant's tone, it seems that that person deliberately hit my father's car. I don't know the situation yet. My father has been sent to the hospital."

Henrick narrowed his eyes. If anyone was in such a hurry to cause something to happen to Bert, it would be the Hansen family.

His expression was a little gloomy. He turned around and looked at his daughter behind them. "Juliet, can you stay at home? I'll go with your mother to see your grandfather."

Juliet's eyes were red as she asked, "Dad, will something happen to Grandpa? You were in an accident last time, but you still can't move your arm. I don't want anything to happen to you."

Henrick squatted down and kissed his daughter's forehead.

Then, he smiled and said, "Little girl, it'll be okay. I'll recover soon and Grandpa will also get better. Don't worry. You can just wait for us at home."

"Okay!" Juliet nodded hard, not letting her tears fall. Her parents would be worried about her if she cried, so she wanted to be strong. Even if her brother was not at home, she was not afraid at all. There were servants on the first floor, so she was not afraid at all.

Henrick and Alice went downstairs. He called Josue and asked him to drive them to the hospital.

A few minutes later, they got in the car and went straight to the hospital.

In the high-class VIP ward of the hospital in Lemmon City.

When they arrived, Bert had just been pushed out of the operating room.

Only Aubri was by his side.

Henrick suddenly understood that Alice's mother had called Allie after finding out that Bert was alright.

She didn't want her daughter to be sad, even a little bit.

"Mom, how is Dad?" Alice asked, crying.

Aubri smiled and said, "He's okay, he's fine. Don't cry. It's just a leg fracture. The doctor said that the operation went well and he'll be able to walk again in three months."

"Mom, you should have called me when Dad had the surgery. You were alone outside. You must have been so scared and upset!"

Aubri looked at her daughter crying and felt very distressed. "It's okay, Alice. Your father is fine, isn't he? Why are you in such a hurry to follow me?"

"Hmph! Mom, you're like this every time. Every time something happens to Dad, you'll wait for him to recover before telling me. As a daughter, I can't do anything for him. Every time, you stay by Dad's side alone. How useless am I as a daughter." Alice was very angry.

Her parents loved her very much and did not want her to be hurt at all.

Aubri patted her on the shoulder. She smiled and said, "Silly girl, isn't your father fine now? He's still under the effects of the anesthesia and has fallen asleep. When he wakes up tomorrow morning, he'll be full of vigor."

Alice pursed her lips and remained silent.

Henrick took a step forward and held her hand. "Allie, don't worry. Uncle Klein will be fine."

Aubri looked at Henrick and requested, "Henrick, go and find Bert's assistant and deal with what happened tonight."

"Okay, Aunt. I'll go and contact my assistant." Henrick gave Alice a comforting look and turned to leave.

After Henrick left, Aubri asked Alice to sit down.

Then, Aubri asked with a smile, "Have you reconciled with Henrick?"

Alice pursed her lips shyly and nodded. "Yeah!"

Alice took a deep breath and said, "Mom, you know that I have liked him since I was a child. Now that he finally fell in love with me, I still want to be with him."

"Mom, in this world, if you like someone, there is only a very slight chance for that person to like you too. Mom, I've waited for so long, and it's finally here."

Aubri's eyes turned red, and she pursed her lips and smiled. "Alice, I'm already very happy that you can think about it. From now on, you don't have to guard the two children alone, and you don't have to hide in the dark and cry."

"Just like today, with him by your side and accompanying you, you also have someone to rely on."

As parents, they just wanted to see their daughter's happiness.

"Okay! Mom, I know. I've caused you and Dad to worry about me for so many years. I'll be happy in the future, so you don't have to worry about me anymore." She smiled and wiped her tears. Her nervous mood was much relieved.

"Good!" Aubri gently hugged her. "Alice, you didn't choose the wrong person. Didn't we help you?. Last time, he was taught a lesson by your father. He didn't give up on you, did he?"

"Hmph!" Alice snorted proudly. "If he gave up just like that, I wouldn't even have let him see his children."

"Haha." Aubri smiled lovingly. "You have a child's temper."

Aubri glanced at her husband, who was lying on the hospital bed. Now, he could rest assured. Bert had always been worried about Alice.

Alice had always been very smart, independent, and confident.

When she was young, she had followed Henrick for her entire life and worked hard in order to be worthy of him.

She had become very outstanding.

Aubri didn't expect Alice to encounter such a thing seven years ago, which made her whole life turn dark.

Alice lived a lonely and painful life everyday.

Love was very beautiful and could make people happy. On the other hand, it could also destroy a person.

In the evening, Henrick came back.

Bert had also woken up, and Alice was chatting with him. The father and daughter chatted happily, and Bert laughed happily.

Bert's car had a lot of safety features. After being hit by another car, his knee had been injured, but other parts of his body were unharmed.

Seeing Henrick come in, Bert asked, "How's the matter going?"

Bert also guessed that the accident had been done by the Hansen family. That family used to be an ordinary family, but they were lucky enough to win the lottery.

At that time, the shops in Bert's hands were all being rented.

The Hansen family took advantage of their prize money to rent all the shops, and then sub-let them out. The profits were also very good.

In the past ten years, they had also accumulated quite a bit of wealth.

That made the Hansen family one of the richest families in the Eastern District.

Unfortunately, they always liked to oppress others with their power.

Now that the shops had been taken back, Bert was going to find a professional to manage it himself. Who was afraid of making more money?

Wasn't the money all to be earned for his grandson and granddaughter?

Henrick smiled and said, "Uncle Klein, I've already dealt with it. It was indeed Henry Hansen who hit you with his car. He has already been arrested and confessed to it."

"He is very regretful now. He wants to see you and apologize to you personally."

Bert sneered and said, "He wants to see me because he wants to plead with me for mercy. I've seen so many people like him. Don't worry about him. I'll deal with him as I like." His expression was very ugly. If Bert let Henry go once, it wouldn't be as simple as a leg injury next time.

Henrick nodded. He didn't intend to let go of Henry either. "A dog makes use of its power to bully someone for a little money. This kind of person is not worthy of forgiveness."

"Uncle Klein, are you feeling better?"

Bert said, "One moment it's Uncle Klein, another moment, it's Uncle, then Father-in-law, and then Dad. Henrick, do you need to go to a mental institution?"

Henrick was speechless.

He smiled cunningly. "Dad, in the future, I'll just call you Dad. Anyway, I will marry Allie sooner or later."

He looked so shameless. He was not serious at all, but it was a good feeling.

They were very familiar with each other. There was no sense of alienation or respect. They talked and played like a family, and the atmosphere was very warm.

"What if I don't agree?" Bert looked unhappy, but he felt relieved.

Who didn't love a good son-in-law?

He had watched Henrick grow up and the guy had always been excellent. If it hadn't been for the past seven years, he would never have had any objections to him.

Victor had raised six good kids. Everyone was admiring and envious.

Was he also jealous?

For no other reason, it was because of Victor's usual arrogant tone.

Slaves to their wives!

Thinking of this, Bert's expression darkened. The people of his generation were all led astray by Victor. Each of them spoiled his wife like it was a competition between them.

One by one, they went on business trips to play with their wives. After they came back, they had to show off in their circle of friends.

"Hehe... Dad, I'll take it as a yes. After you leave the hospital, I'll find a romantic place to propose."

Bert asked, "Did I agree?"

He looked up at the shameless Henrick.

Then, he thought about it again. His daughter also wanted a romantic proposal.

"You'd better make it as romantic as possible so that my daughter can become the happiest bride in the world."

Hearing this, Kenneth was dumbfounded. "Hehe... Hehe..."

Alice was speechless.

Bert was also lost for words.

"Hehe..." Henrick couldn't stop giggling.

Alice ran over and gave him a push before he came to his senses.

"Allie, Dad agreed to my proposal. I'm so excited that my legs feel a little weak. Allie, help me up a little." Henrick felt his heart beat faster and his legs felt like jelly. He was so excited that he almost couldn't stand still.

Alice looked at him with a dumbfounded expression.

"Be serious."

Henrick looked down at her with a smile and said, "Allie, I'm going to marry you. How can I be serious? I just want to laugh now. I'm so happy right now. If I could move my other hand now, I would have lifted you and spun you around. Allie, I love you!"

As soon as he finished speaking, he couldn't help but lower his head and kiss Alice.

Alice was very beautiful. Her eyes were bright and her teeth were white. Her skin was fair and there was a faint fragrance on her body. She could not help but charm him.

"Ahem!" Bert gave an earth-shattering cough.

Even Henrick's soul had returned to his body, let alone his mind.

He looked at Bert and blinked.

"Dad, why are you here?"

Bert was completely speechless.

He shouted, "Get lost!"

Henrick asked, "Dad, can I drag Alice with me?"

Once more, Bert had no words to respond.

"Get lost!" His old face turned red. He really couldn't bear to see the young people flirt with each other in front of him. After all, Alice was his biological daughter. He always felt as if he had been robbed.

As a father, that feeling was very uncomfortable.

"Hehe... Allie, come out with me. I want to celebrate. Dad agreed to let us get married." Henrick pulled Alice and walked out.

Bert's eyes widened as he watched them leave.

He didn't know what to say.

When did he allow them to get married?

He just promised them that they could get engaged.

Wasn't it too soon to get married?

That brat's skills were even better than his father's.

Henrick dragged Alice into an empty fire exit before stopping.

Alice looked at him with amusement. "Henrick, what are you doing? Why are you so excited?"

Henrick looked at her with a gentle smile. Without saying anything, he quickly lowered his head and covered her gentle lips with his.

He couldn't wait to kiss her, which represented his mood right at that moment.

Alice suddenly widened her eyes and blinked in disbelief.

This b*stard, Henrick. Someone could walk in at any time.

Henrick suddenly left his lips and complained, "Allie, pay attention when kissing!"

Alice's face had already turned red. She glared at him and said, "What are you thinking? Someone could come here at any time. Don't go crazy."

Henrick felt wronged. "Allie, I just wanted to celebrate. I'm so happy. How can you say that I'm going crazy? You don't even know how happy I was just now!"

Alice just couldn't stand his aggrieved appearance.

"Well, I know you are happy. When my father is discharged from the hospital, we can celebrate together."

"Mmm," Henrick said coquettishly. "I'm just kissing you. Even if it's a celebration, I know I can't do it in the hospital."

After saying that, he kissed Alice's red lips again and pulled her back to the ward with satisfaction.

When he returned to the ward, Henrick was severely told off by Bert, but he didn't care. He was filled with happiness that others wouldn't be able to understand.

Bert glared at Henrick as he watched them return.

Henrick was still grinning cheekily, but his handsome face was filled with a tenderness that Alice had never seen before.

She could also feel it. Who asked him to marry someone else's daughter?

When Gia was about to marry Martin, Henrick also hated Martin.

At that moment, he really understood the feelings of his future father-in-law.

Henrick looked at Alice and saw the shyness on her little face. He wanted to bully her, but he couldn't do it here.

"Allie, go back and rest. I'll take care of Dad tonight."

Alice looked at his injured arm. "How can you take care of my dad like this? Don't you still need someone to take care of you?"

Bert also felt the same. "I have injured my leg, and you have injured your arm. Who will take care of whom?"

Henrick thought about it and agreed. However, he only couldn't move an arm; there was basically no problem with the rest.

"Dad, it's okay. I can take care of you."

Henrick insisted on staying, so Alice had to go back to take care of their daughter. Her mother had to rest well that night, so she could only come to take care of her father the following day.

After Alice left, Bert and Henrick stared at each other. The atmosphere between them was also very strange.

Bert narrowed his eyes, and it was hard to tell where he was looking.

Bert's character was more or less like Victor's. He didn't like to talk, and his silence was frightening!

At that moment, Henrick didn't know what to say.

After a long time, Bert opened his dark eyes. He looked dignified and his handsome face was well maintained, making him look at most, thirty-five or thirty-six years old.

"Why don't you say something?"

Henrick was stunned and asked stupidly, "Dad, what do you want to hear?"

Bert stated, "Sing!"

Henrick blinked his obsidian eyes and looked at Bert in disbelief. "Dad, are you serious?"

Bert had a serious expression on his face.

Henrick asked, "Dad, which song do you want to hear?"

Bert had already thought about it. "Didn't you have a hit song before? I watched your live broadcast and it was very popular. Those foreigners were shocked by you. Come on, sing a song for me here."

One of them shouted smoothly, and the other agreed without hesitation.

If there was such a big star in your family, would you go out and compete with others to see him?

Of course, the star's family would enjoy it first.

Henrick didn't expect his father-in-law to be so child-like.

"That song, 'Burning Up My Winter Nights'."

Bert's expression was dark and he felt sick. They were both born into rich and powerful families, so they were a little embarrassed. They had been educated seriously since they were young and lived serious and stable lives.

In the eyes of others, Bert was indifferent and boring.

If Aubri hadn't taken the initiative to know him better, he probably wouldn't have gotten married.

However, in his heart, he was wild and carefree. He just couldn't let loose to jump wildly like those young people, scream a few songs while at the karaoke bar, or get drunk to relieve his worries.

No, there had never been such a day.

Bert's daily work was very simple, going from the company to his family, followed by various social activities or business trips.

"Okay, Dad, I'll sing for you. However, without accompaniment and special effects, it's not that great. I have the accompaniment on my mobile phone, and it'll be better if I sing along to it."

Bert nodded calmly. "Yes!"

In fact, he was so excited that he couldn't suppress it.

The international superstar, Henrick, was going to sing only for him, and it was a live show.

How could he not be happy?

He was ecstatic!

After Henrick adjusted the settings on his phone, he stood up.

He was more than 1.8 meters tall and took a few steps back. He was born for the stage.

The light shone on his sharp and attractive face, making his handsome facial features more outstanding and dazzling.

With just one movement, Bert was fascinated by his handsome appearance. He also liked young people like Henrick who were energetic and capable.

In particular, Henrick was very talented in singing and acting.

"On this silent winter night, I quietly miss you... Oh, oh... It's a burning winter night, because of your gentle smile..."

At the climax, Bert was so excited that he kept clapping like a child.

Henrick had been standing on the stage since he was young. As soon as he opened his mouth, he would be focused. Even if there was only one person in the audience, she would perform until the end.

"Haha..."

Bert smiled from the bottom of his heart and gave him a thumbs-up. "Henrick, you're indeed talented. You're born to be on stage."

"You can continue to shine after getting married to Allie. After all, this is your dream."

The smile on Henrick's handsome face faded a little, and it was replaced by excitement.

Unexpectedly, a song had conquered his future father-in-law.

He was simply a genius!

Mom, he was finally in love. Henrick couldn't wait to call his family right away.

"Dad, let's wait and see, but now, Allie and the children are the most important things in my heart."

Hearing this, Bert was very satisfied.

A beauty!

A handsome man!

A perfect match!

The more Bert thought about it, the happier he became. When he thought of how he had mocked Victor for so many years, he felt particularly comfortable.

"Yes! Since you have such responsibilities, I appreciate you even more. Have a rest." Bert laid down with a smile.

He was in a good mood. If he could move his legs, he would definitely sing a song with Henrick.

Henrick seemed to have read Bert's mind. He smiled and said, "Dad, when your leg is healed, I'll take you to the karaoke and sing all the famous songs that I have just for you."

Henrick knew that outstanding entrepreneurs like Bert and Victor had calm and solemn personalities. They rarely went crazy like young men. His father was such a person.

Fortunately, there were a few uncles who grew up with him. Otherwise, his temper would have gotten worse.

Bert's heart skipped a beat when he heard that.

"We'll do as you said. Don't go back on your word at that time." Bert was really much happier. This future son-in-law was totally in line with his wishes.

Bert was discharged from the hospital after staying there for a week. He had a family doctor, so he would be more comfortable at home.

Henrick's family hospital had also been renovated.

Henrick also cooperated with Dr. Harris, taking medicines and injections everyday. He also underwent two minor operations.

Perhaps it was because he was in a good mood, but half a month later, he felt that his injured arm was less numb. When he pinched it hard, he felt the pain.

Seeing that he had recovered so well, Dr. Harris was even more confident.

Dr. Harris also saw that Henrick was in high spirits and had fun. These days, Henrick had finally won the heart of the girl he liked and kept laughing.

He even suspected that his good friend's brother was a little silly.

He called Kenneth in person.

However, Kenneth retorted, "My brother is pure. Are you stupid?"

Later, he really found that this silly Henrick was actually really pure. When he saw his girlfriend coming over to feed him, he kept grinning.

When he saw his daughter, he became more serious.

If his fans saw him like this, the truth would be revealed in an instant, and everyone would be in an uproar.

By the end of August, the children were about to return to school. Henrick's arm was recovering well, and Bert could also walk again, but not for too long.

Henrick took Alice and Juliet back to River City to pick up Marlon to go back to school.

As for what had happened on the Internet, Henrick did not respond.

Occasionally, on certain sunny mornings, he would show his interaction with his daughter on his social media, only revealing a fair and tender little hand, or a little girl's slender back and thick black hair.

When tens of millions of fans saw this interaction, the curses slowly began to change to cheers and blessings.

It was true that time was sometimes a good medicine.

The day after they went back happened to be a holiday.

Henrick had also discussed it with Bert. He wanted to take Allie and the children to celebrate the holiday in River City.

They had been in Lemmon City during the previous holidays so Bert agreed without hesitation.

The family of three arrived at the airport. It had been more than two months since Henrick had appeared in everyone's sight.

His schedule was confidential and he kept a low profile. When he left the airport, no one recognized him. The family of three soon arrived at the parking lot.

Victor and Eden came to pick them up.

"Grandpa, Grandma." Juliet saw Victor and Eden from a distance.

"Juliet, nice to meet you!" That was the first time that Victor had seen his granddaughter in person. Looking at the delicate little girl, he thought of the little Gia when she was a child, and his eyes instantly softened.

"Grandpa, you're still as handsome as you were when you were young. You haven't aged at all." Juliet had seen photos of Victor when he was young.

"Grandpa is so outstanding, but Dad is so handsome."

It could be said that Victor felt the flattery in his heart.

Instantly, he picked up the little girl happily and couldn't help kissing her cheek. "Juliet, you are the most lovely!"

Chapter 2325

Eden looked at Alice and went over to hug her gently. "Thank you, Alice!" She thanked her for being tolerant with Ricky, who was very childish. Few women could bear him.

Alice could forgive Ricky, and Eden was really grateful to her.

"Eden." Alice also gently hugged Eden.

"Alright, alright. Mom and Dad, don't be so emotional. I, your son, haven't even greeted you yet." Henrick was a little jealous.

Victor looked at him coldly and said, "You are not a child. You still want to compete for attention. You're useless!"

"Dad, you don't love me anymore." Henrick felt wronged.

"Hehe..." Juliet couldn't help but chuckle. "Grandpa, Dad is only three years old. He's not even older than me. You should hug him."

Victor looked at the little girl in his arms and responded with a smile, "I don't want to hug him. I only want to hug you, Juliet. Let's go. I'll take you home."

"Hmph! You forgot about your son when you have grandchildren." Henrick followed behind them slowly.

His mother also forgot about him because she now had a daughter-in-law.

"Dad, it's okay. I'll give you a hug when we get home." Juliet looked at her father pitifully.

Henrick smiled instantly. "My baby, you're the best. I'll also give you a big hug later."

Juliet said, "Dad, I must!" Her sweet voice was very cute.

"Haha..."

They were all amused by him.

They chatted and laughed all the way back home.

As soon as they entered the house, the Alwynn family was very lively in order to welcome their precious granddaughter.

Victor invited his good friends over and children of all ages were playing together.

"Dad, Mom, you're here." Marlon ran happily to Alice and Henrick.

Henrick squatted down and picked him up. The little guy didn't look fat, but when Henrick picked him up, Marlon was heavier. He hadn't seen his son for more than a month, and the boy had grown a lot.

Marlon looked much more cheerful and handsome than before.

"Marlon, did you miss me?" Looking at his outstanding son, Henrick was extremely proud.

"Yes!" Marlon spat out a word.

"Haha..." Henrick laughed non-stop.

Thinking of his peers, he was the only one who had gotten married and had children. Although he had technically not gotten married yet, it would only be a matter of time.

His children were already in primary school. How could he not be arrogant?

"Baby." Abigail rushed out of the crowd and hugged Juliet.

"Do you know who I am?" Abigail's voice was joyful and her eyes were charming. She was still very beautiful.

Juliet looked at the beautiful and charming face in front of her and instantly grinned from ear to ear.

"Madam Joye, I know you. Grandma told me that you are the most beautiful one among her best friends, as well as Madam Macdonald, Madam Aiken, and many other grandmas." Juliet counted with her fingers and looked very cute.

Amelia and Candace, who were standing behind her, grinned from ear to ear when they heard her words.

Lucian looked at Anson and said, "Why are there no Grandpas?"

Anson retorted, "No, I'm still young. I'm not grandpa yet. My little Jacqueline is still young."

Lucian frowned and looked at him. "I'm also very young, but why are you so proud to be a grandfather?"

Adonis touched his chin and said thoughtfully, "I also think that being a grandfather is a very prestigious thing."

Anson was speechless. Could it be that he was the only one who felt that he was getting old?

Why did he become a grandfather? His little Ayman might get married in a few years, and he would have grandchildren soon.

Eden and Alice met everyone.

Alice was very touched as so many people welcomed her here. Eden had always been like this. She always made people feel satisfied and happy.

There were many children around. The Alwynn family had prepared a buffet, so everyone got their favorite food and sat down to chat happily.

Giada and Martin were having a prenatal check-up that day, so both of them came back a little late.

Giada's belly was very round, and she had to be carefully supported when she walked.

When Alice saw Giada, she almost thought that she was pregnant with triplets as her little face was much rounder.

"Gia, how much did you eat?" Alice couldn't help but secretly smile. It must be Martin who kept feeding her.

Giada glared at Martin unhappily and said, "Martin, I told you to control my diet. Today, I was told off by the doctor at the hospital as I've gained three kilograms this month."

Martin smiled gently and said, "Gia, it's okay. You can lose weight after giving birth to the babies. Aren't you hungry now? It must be so uncomfortable to be hungry."

Giada stopped talking. She had to feed three people at a time.

"Alice, let's not talk about this anymore. The more I talk about it, the more upset I feel."

"I'm always hungry, but every time I eat, I get a stomach ache. I also can't sleep well at night."

Everyone who had been pregnant with twins or triplets understood that feeling.

"Gia, it's okay. It'll be over in a few more months. When you see the children, you will feel that everything is worth it." Alice's pregnancy was also very hard, but when she saw the two children, all the pain disappeared in an instant. Now, the children were well nourished, and they grew up very well.

They had little red faces and swarthy, dark hair. When she saw her own children, there was only happiness left.

"Okay! Alice, I see. Let's go get something to eat."

Eden brought a specially made meal for Gia. It would not make her fat, but it provided enough nutrients and would fill her up.

Eden looked at Martin and reminded him, "Martin, I know you feel bad when Gia is hungry, but you should be careful when adding meals. Make sure she doesn't have too much. Otherwise, she will be in a lot of pain when she gives birth."

Martin had also thought of this problem, but when Gia said that she was hungry, his heart ached. He couldn't wait to put all the delicious food in front of her.

He smiled and nodded. "Mom, I will be careful in the future."

Then, everyone had dinner happily.

Because it was the first time everyone had seen Juliet, everyone gave the two little children gifts of money in celebration of the holidays.

Everyone didn't go home until 11 o'clock in the evening.

In the dead of the night, Alice coaxed the two children to sleep, then gently closed the door and went out.

As soon as she walked out of the door, she was pulled into someone's arms. Smelling the familiar scent, Alice's face instantly turned red.

"Henrick, it's so late. Why haven't you gone to sleep yet?" Although the two of them had been in a relationship for almost a month, they had not developed further other than holding hands and kissing each other.

Henrick rested his head on her shoulder and murmured softly, "Allie, I miss you."

However, he couldn't do anything. He was afraid of making a fool of himself at the critical moment. He looked at the woman he loved everyday, but he couldn't make a move.

Chapter 2326

Alice didn't know what he wanted to do, but being held by him like that, she was at ease. She felt very warm, and was very fond of it.

Being held by her Prince Charming, every time Alice left his arms, she felt as if she was in a dream.

"Well, haven't I been with you all the time? Go to sleep quickly. It's already past midnight."

Henrick took a few steps back and looked at her. His eyes were slightly narrowed, and they were as dark as a bottomless well.

This girl was so stupid. He didn't know what she was thinking.

As the events of that night seven years ago became clearer and clearer, that thorough sense of exhilaration tortured his will every night.

"Well! Allie, you're staying next door to me so I'll bring you in."

Henrick took her hand and went to the room next door.

It was only then that Alice finally realized that the Alwynn family's villa was huge. It was quite a distance to walk to the room next to Henrick's.

With so many people in the Alwynn family, the house never felt empty.

Henrick's three brothers' rooms were on the third floor, and each one had their own private room.

Although Alice's family was rich, they were nothing compared to the Alwynn family.

When Henrick opened the door, they saw that the room was decorated in Alice' favorite style. The decorations were light beige and very warm. All the furniture was very high-end and everything smelled of money.

"Allie, do you like it? I asked my mother to decorate this room according to the style you like. We will stay here when we come back in the future. If you don't want to stay here, we can decorate the villa in the back. It's okay to live there. The children of the Alwynn family are very free and easygoing."

His parents were particularly open-minded. They were not like other parents, who forced their children to live with them.

For Victor, he wished they could all move away so that he could live a peaceful life with Eden.

Alice looked at him in confusion and asked with a smile, "Aren't you going to be a live-in son-in-law?"

Henrick said, "But Dad didn't allow me to be his son-in-law, so he asked us to take care of both of our families' businesses. Thus, we both have to come back."

Alice didn't care about these things. No matter who she married, she had to manage the family business and be filial to her parents.

"I like this place very much. Eden is so kind. I must thank her when she wakes up tomorrow morning."

"But since we can stay with our parents and accompany them, let's stay here."

Henrick knew that she was very filial, so he nodded with a smile.

"Go take a shower and rest. I'll go back to rest after you come out."

Alice blushed and hit him. "Go back to your room. If there's a wolf outside, I can't take shower in peace."

Henrick asked, "A wolf, where?"

Only then did Henrick realize what she meant, and he fell speechless.

The wolf Allie was talking about was him!

"Hmph! Allie, I'm going to eat you tonight." Henrick looked at her with a deliberately fierce look.

Alice looked at him with a sly smile and ignored him. She turned around and went to the dressing room to get her pajamas, ready to take a shower. The dressing room was very large, like a store, and all the clothes were in her size.

Alice was very touched. In wealthy families, there were very few good women like Eden.

"Hehe..." Alice was so happy that she was about to cry.

It was not because of anything, but because this place made her feel like she was home. That made her feel that she could live very comfortably after leaving home.

She took a silk nightdress and went to the bathroom. She was so happy that she completely forgot about Henrick.

Twenty minutes later, she came out of the bathroom in the nightdress, which outlined her curvaceous figure. The thin layer of the silk pajamas made her figure more attractive and seductive.

Hearing the sound, Henrick looked in the direction of the bathroom.

He saw Alice's perfect figure as she moved and walked at a glance.

He gulped.

"Allie, you are so sexy," he muttered what was on his mind.

He regretted it as soon as he said it.

"Oh!" Alice was shocked.

"Why are you still here?"

Henrick was speechless. Did he not exist?

Alice slowly walked over and poured herself a cup of herbal tea. The servants had prepared it in advance, so the temperature was just right.

She took a sip. It tasted good.

She looked at Henrick and asked, "Do you want a drink?"

Henrick nodded and drank some herbal tea to calm down.

Alice poured him another cup.

Henrick took a sip. It did taste good.

"You've also drunk tea. Go back and rest." Alice began to kick him out. She was very tired and needed a good rest.

"Oh!" Henrick hummed in his throat.

In the end, he reluctantly left.

After Henrick went out, he was stunned for a moment. He patted his forehead hard and looked down on himself.

"Henrick, you're so stupid. Allie asked you to come out, so you do as she said?"

When can you and Allie ever be bedside partners like this?

"Ah ah ah..." He lowered his head and roared silently as he walked forward. After a few steps, he saw a pair of light gray slippers in front of him.

Henrick looked up and saw Martin's calm eyes.

"Ah! Martin, you scared me. Why didn't you go back and coax your darling wife to sleep? Why did you come here?"

Martin glanced at the door of Alice's room not far away. "You're not together yet?" His voice was hoarse and indifferent, but it sounded a little weird when Henrick heard it.

Of course, as a man, he also knew what Martin meant.

He found a good reason. "Isn't it inconvenient for me to do this?"

Martin looked down at his injured arm and said, "Even if your arm is healed and it's convenient to do certain things, you shouldn't do it. You should respect the people you like before marriage."

After Martin finished speaking, Henrick, who was dumbfounded, stood rooted to the ground.

He and Allie already had children.

He... He had to... Forget it. Martin was right. He couldn't be a b*stard to Allie anymore.

Henrick was relieved and went back to his room to rest.

The next day, Alice woke up early and went downstairs to see if there was anything she could do to help. That day was a holiday and no one from the Alwynn family went out. Everyone was at home except for Kenneth.

"Good morning, Second Sister-in-law!"

As soon as Alice went downstairs, she met Adriel.

Adriel happily called her second sister-in-law, as he held Marlon in his hand.

"Good morning, Mom. This is Uncle Adriel." Marlon guessed that his mom would definitely not be able to tell his three uncles apart.

That was because they all looked alike.

"Adriel, good morning!" Alice looked at her son gratefully. She really couldn't tell Henrick's three younger brothers apart.

"Alice, why don't you sleep a little longer?" Eden walked over to her with a smile. She was wearing a simple white dress and her hair was tied up. After so many years, her temperament was even more elegant and moving than it was before.

Chapter 2327

"Eden, I slept well last night. Thank you very much!" Thinking of the warmly decorated room, she was very grateful.

It made her feel as comfortable as if it was her own home.

The most important thing for a relationship was comfort.

Eden always thought more from the perspective of others.

Eden looked at Adriel, who was beside her, and said with a smile, "Adriel, later, you take Marlon and Juliet to see your grandparents in the backyard. By the way, you can take Juliet to play in the manor for a while. When she gets up, you can take them to the restaurant for breakfast first."

Adriel replied, "Got it, Mom. We'll go over when Juliet is up."

Eden looked at Alice again and said, "Alice, do you want to go out for a walk? Ricky and Victor have also woken up. They're chatting with my father at the swimming pool."

Victor was very filial. Since his father retired, he took time to chat with his father everyday.

Alice nodded with a smile. "Eden, I'm going to greet my grandparents."

"Go ahead." Eden turned around and went to the kitchen with a smile. That day was the first day of the holidays. Everyone had come back, except for Kenny.

She couldn't bear it.

Kenny had been very busy these years, throughout all the holidays.

She knew that her son was struggling and working hard for his dream. After graduating from college, he had stayed abroad and had established a huge business empire abroad. He was powerful and rich, but he lived alone. She always worried about him.

She and Victor often went to see him.

During the holiday, Eden prepared a sumptuous meal, and the desserts were also made by their own pastry chefs. After dinner, the whole family went to the garden to eat their desserts and enjoy the scenery.

Eden also prepared watermelons, apples, grapes, and a lot of snacks that the children liked.

The whole family was talking and laughing, and it was a very lively scene.

The flowers were beautiful and the moon was full and bright. The beautiful scenery reflected on the beautiful family.

At this year's holidays, the Alwynn family had added two more little guys and Alice. The children were like angels, and their happy laughter revolved around the adults.

Alice had never experienced such a lively atmosphere before.

In previous years, her family had also celebrated the holidays with sumptuous meals and desserts. However, they didn't eat much and because there were only a few people in the family, it was not as warm or lively, lacking the holiday atmosphere.

That night, she had a different experience.

The Alwynn family was very happy!

It was said that there were only bloody battles in rich and powerful families.

The Alwynn family was happy and harmonious, with smiles on everyone's faces, very much unlike the other powerful families.

Henrick played with the children for a while, and then handed the two children to his parents.

Then, he went out with Alice.

After getting in the car, Alice looked at him in confusion. "Where are we going?"

Henrick smiled and said, "Allie, I'll take you to admire the moon!"

Alice was stunned and smiled. "When it comes to admiring the moon, isn't Dragon Villa the best place to do so? The starry sky tonight is very bright and beautiful, and the moon is also very full and round. It's supposed to be a reunion holiday, so why did you drag me out?"

Although Alice said so, she was quite happy in her heart.

Henrick tilted his head to look at her and smiled gently. His smile was as bright as the full moon at that moment. He spoke in an extremely gentle tone, "Allie, our family has reunited. Now, it's just the two of us."

Alice smiled. She really felt that he was very romantic. It was the same in Lemmon City. As long as he had time, he would take her out to play.

"Well, tell me, where are we going?" Alice started the car, and saw that it was not too late.

Henrick looked at her and asked, "Where do you want to go?"

Alice said, "I don't want to go anywhere. I'm not familiar with this place. I stayed here for a month last time but I didn't go out to play."

Henrick thought for a moment and said, "Then let's go to the mall first. I'll buy you a new gift." There were so many things to do that day that he didn't have time to go out to buy gifts. Although his parents had given them some money, he still felt that he had to buy some gifts for Allie.

"Haha..." Alice laughed angrily at his words.

She looked at him with a mocking smile and said sarcastically, "Henrick, are you taking me out to make fun of me? Shouldn't you have bought a gift in advance? Won't you give me a surprise if you buy it in advance?"

Henrick shook his head with a smile. "How can I do that? I want to take you to the mall to buy what you like. You don't lack anything so I'm afraid that if I buy something that's unsuitable, you'll only leave it aside and don't use it. Let's go now. I'll go to the mall to buy you a gift. After buying it, I'll take you to another place to play."

Alice choked, pursed her lips, and said in a low voice, "But I didn't prepare a gift for you!"

They had just arrived here the day before, and that day, they had to accompany their family for the meal. She really had had no time to go out to buy gifts.

"Haha..." Henrick reached out and touched her head.

"Allie, let's go and buy some gifts. It's not too late to go now."

His voice and actions were very doting. Alice was instantly drowned in his tenderness, and her heart was filled with happiness.

When the car was on its way, Alice was a little worried. "Henrick, it's easy for you to be recognized in River City."

"Allie, are you afraid?" Henrick stopped smiling and looked at her with burning eyes.

Alice looked ahead with a grin. "What am I afraid of? Shouldn't you be afraid of me?"

Henrick also looked ahead and responded with a smile, "I'm not afraid of being recognized. On the contrary, I want to introduce you to everyone. You are my lover."

Alice's hand that was holding the steering wheel gradually tightened, and the sudden fear made her bite her lips.

Henrick always referred to her as his lover, not the person he liked.

In her eyes, there was a great difference between a lover and someone he liked.

"Like didn't necessarily mean love!"

The corners of her mouth rose involuntarily.

During the holidays, there were festive lights and decorations adorning the streets of River City.

There were colorful lights hanging everywhere on the street, and some places even had tall lamp wheels, lanterns, and lamp trees, which made the night River City burn with bright lights.

The two of them arrived at the mall 20 minutes later. After strolling around the mall for a while, Alice picked out a backpack she liked.

Henrick paid for it.

He picked a tie, which Alice paid for.

For Alice, joy and happiness were so simple.

The video of the two of them shopping together was quickly posted on the Internet, but Henrick and Alice did not pay attention to it.

After coming out of the mall, Henrick asked Alice to go to the ancient city with him. There were some activities and games taking place there that night.

In the ancient city, there would be such activities for three days in a row.

They could also eat a lot of delicious food.

Henrick rarely came back after going abroad. During the holidays, even if he was abroad, he would try to cook meals for himself to reminisce about the happy days with his parents.

That night, he was excited and looking forward to going out alone with Allie.

Half an hour later, they arrived at the ancient city.

There were a lot of people in the brightly lit ancient city, and many people were wearing traditional outfits.

It was so lively that it was an unforgettable scene.

"Wow!" Alice, who was in the middle of the crowd, also felt this kind of lively atmosphere, and it was as if she had transcended into a different world.

It was rare to see such a scene in Lemmon City.

No wonder so many people liked River City so much.

In the ancient city, there were many traditional and cultural performances and live music.

Henrick held Alice's hand and they watched the show together. There were too many people, and he stood out among them because of his height. As such, many fans recognized him.

They kept taking pictures of him with their mobile phone.

They just couldn't believe that they would meet an international superstar in the ancient city.

As for them, they could only watch from a distance and not disturb him!

"It's really Henrick and his lover."

"Yes, his lover is so beautiful!"

Alice was wearing a black, knee-length, one-shoulder dress that night. One of her shoulders was exposed, and her exquisite collarbone was on display. She looked particularly beautiful and she had an elegant temperament.

Alice's stunning appearance was very eye-catching. At first glance, she and Henrick looked like a perfect match!

"What an amazing woman!"

"Those who said that his lover was not beautiful online are really blind."

"Yes, I was blinded tonight."

The women around them were discussing in low voices.

There was a young girl who really wanted to talk to her idol, and she was bold enough to run over.

"Hello, Mr. Alwynn. Is this your girlfriend?"

Although there were rumors about them on the Internet, she still couldn't believe that she could see them with her own eyes.

Henrick admitted it with a big smile.

"Hello!"

He looked at Alice gently and said, "Her name is Allie, and she is my lover. I'm going to propose to her in a while, and I hope to get everyone's blessings."

"Wow!" The girl smiled happily. "Congratulations on your upcoming marriage!"

Henrick said, "Thank you!"

Alice also responded with a smile, "Thank you!"

At that moment, a reporter appeared out of nowhere, holding a microphone and she began asking Henrick questions.

"Mr. Alwynn, I'm Naomi Sparks, a reporter from AG. Can you explain to me about the children who have been circulating on the Internet all this time?"

That was something everyone wanted to know. Naomi didn't expect to meet Henrick and his lover here that night.

Henrick looked at Alice, who smiled and said, "Let me explain."

Henrick was stunned for a moment. He had wanted to ask Allie for permission to explain the children, but he didn't expect her to want to explain things herself.

Naomi immediately raised the microphone in front of Alice.

Alice smiled at the camera and said, "Hello, everyone. My name is Alice Klein. I first met Henrick when I was seven years old. From the age of seven to eighteen, I sent him messages everyday."

"On his 18th birthday, we were staying in the same hotel, and we both got drunk. I don't need to explain what happened next, and you can also guess for yourselves."

"I became pregnant with a pair of twins, but at that time, we were still in college, so we didn't tell anyone about our pregnancy... Here, I apologize to everyone!" She bowed deeply in the end.

Alice had briefly explained the matter.

No matter whether others believed it or not, if she was to explain, those people would not scold Henrick anymore.

She couldn't bear to see the person she liked being scolded and insulted by others.

Henrick looked at her in shock. At the same time, he was also very grateful to her for explaining the matter so easily.

He initially wanted to explain everything to everyone because he was sorry for Allie, and it was he who had hurt her seven years ago.

Clap, clap, clap... There was a warm round of applause around them, and there were well-wishes among them.

After Alice answered Naomi's question, she took Henrick's hand and left.

When they arrived at a quiet place, Henrick suddenly stopped.

"Allie..."

"Henrick." Alice looked at him and interrupted him. She knew what he wanted to say.

She smiled gently, and her eyes were very dazzling. "Henrick, no matter what the truth is, what the outside world wants is just an explanation. Why do you have to say those things again and become the focus of other people's comments?"

"No matter what misunderstanding we had, no matter what pain we suffered, our happiness will outweigh the pain. There's nothing that I can't forget in life. Just like now, when I am with you, I only have happiness and no pain!"

Something seemed to have knocked on Henrick's heart, filling it with love. The love seemed to come out of his body and lingered around them. Apart from being moved, Henrick felt that his heart was full of love, and his whole being was hers. He couldn't help but lower his head and cover her tender red lips with his.

Under the bright light, the two figures hugged and kissed each other, exuding romance and happiness.

.....

On the third day after the holidays, Henrick took Alice and the two children back to Lemmon City.

Two days later, the children would begin school.

Alice and Henrick sent their children to school together. Now everyone knew that Marlon and Juliet's father was an international superstar. Everyone was envious of them, which made the two children very happy.

In the following days, Henrick did a lot of rehabilitation work during the day.

In the evening, he went out on dates with Alice. No matter how late they went out, they had to go home because there were two treasures waiting for them at home.

It was also because of Martin's words that before the wedding, Henrick chose to live a pure life and wanted to spend the best night with Alice on their wedding night.

Time passed quickly. In the blink of an eye, half a year had passed, and Henrick's arm had miraculously recovered.

That was beyond Dr. Harris' expectation. As expected, a good mood could cure everything.

Giada and Martin were also very happy to welcome twins.

By the beginning of March, Henrick's arm had fully recovered. Except for not being able to exert a lot of force, it did not affect his life much. He could drive and cook.

Henrick had been very busy in the past few days and was busy preparing for the proposal.

Last winter, he had ordered a diamond ring to prepare for this moment.

Alice felt that Henrick had been very busy in the past few days. He always went out early and returned late. He even delayed his daughter's piano class. She called to ask him, but he just responded with a smile that he had something to do.

However, no matter how busy he was, he would prepare two meals for Alice in the morning and in the evening, which were nutritious and healthy. During Henrick's free time, he studied cooking and recipes on his mobile phone so as to serve Alice well.

On this day, the two of them made an appointment to go out alone.

As soon as Alice left the company, she saw Josue waiting to pick her up.

The place where she and Henrick were going to eat was a high-class restaurant that recently opened three months ago.

Chapter 2329

Josue only sent her to the door and left.

Alice felt a little strange. Usually, the restaurant was very busy, but why was it so quiet that night?

However, Josue had told her that Henrick was on the top floor. Alice couldn't help but think of a romantic, candlelit dinner.

Henrick liked to have such romantic meals on the top floor of restaurants the most.

She took the elevator to the top floor. In an instant, the romantic scene in front of her shocked her and made her feel quite nervous.

She suddenly realized something. Surprised, she covered her mouth with her hands and looked at everything in front of her.

Both sides of the path on the top floor were full of roses and heart-shaped balloons.

Some balloons floated on the ceiling.

Rose petals were scattered on the ground, and there was a faint fragrance of roses in the air. The letters hanging on both sides added to the romantic scene.

Alice walked inside excitedly. The lights used for the proposal formed the background wall, which was very creative and romantic. There were candles on both sides, and there were roses that Alice liked everywhere.

Beneath the wall, Henrick, dressed in a black suit, was slender, elegant, and dazzling. He looked at Alice with a gentle smile.

The bag in Alice's hand fell to the ground, and she ran into Henrick's arms.

"Henrick," she called out with a smile.

Henrick hugged her waist, spun her around, and then placed her on the ground. He stared deeply at her with his jet-black eyes and knelt on one knee. He looked up at her, his well-defined features full of tenderness.

"Allie, I've always thought that God favored me. Meeting you and falling in love with you were the best choices I've ever made in my life. It's my duty to protect you. From now on, I'll be by your side every day in the future. Allie, will you marry me?"

Alice nodded abruptly and choked with sobs. "Henrick, I've been waiting for you all this while. Fortunately, I didn't give up. Yes, I'll marry you!"

"Yes," she shouted loudly.

How many people in this world could really marry their Prince Charming?

In her life, he had always been the only one!

Henrick was so excited that his eyes turned red. He put the diamond ring on Alice's fingers as tears of excitement streamed down his face.

He got up and lowered his head to kiss her ring. Then, he hugged her and kissed her in the dark.

Allie, thank you for entering my heart. From today onwards, you are the only one in my life.

Bang... Dazzling fireworks burst out all around. When the sparks appeared, they formed colorful words. "Alice, I love you!"

.....

It was a good day on June 28th, and Henrick and Alice's wedding was set for that day.

The weather was sunny, the birds were singing, and the flowers were fragrant.

Their wedding was held in Lemmon City, and they kept a low profile. All their relatives and friends in River City had arrived in Lemmon City.

Alice and Henrick's homes were grand and joyous.

The two families sat next to each other, and there was a red carpet and hundreds of flowers on the ground.

Early in the morning, according to the traditions of Lemmon City, Henrick married Alice, who was wearing a tiara and traditional gown, as their relatives witnessed their union.

At noon, Alice changed into a white, diamond-studded wedding dress and everyone went to the hotel in the wedding car.

Alice's bridesmaid was Kylie, Josue's girlfriend. During the time when he was taking Alice to work, Josue often met Kylie, and after a while, they started a relationship.

Henrick had a lot of groomsmen, as Victor's good friends all had many children, and Henrick had many brothers and cousins. All the men combined could form three football teams.

Boris was quite noisy. He greeted guests with Kenneth, who had come back to attend the wedding.

Boris even prepared several tricks to make things difficult for Henrick.

"Kenny, look at this question. Ricky definitely can't answer it. If he can't, I won't let him pick up the bride."

Kenneth was dressed in a pure black suit and stood tall and straight. He had a strong aura and looked calm and composed.

The two brothers were practically identical, and almost no one could tell them apart except for Victor and Eden.

There were several times that Alice's friends and relatives had mistaken Kenneth for Henrick.

Kenneth glanced at Boris and asked in a cold voice, "Are you on the groom's side or the bride's side? Why are you making things difficult for your own people?"

Boris smiled cunningly and said, "I'm happy. Who told him to compete with me for Alice?"

Kenneth had nothing to say for a moment.

It turned out that such a thing had happened.

Backstage, Victor and Bert stood together. Victor saw that Bert was nervous, and he patted his shoulder in understanding. Victor spoke in a gloating tone, "Bert, I know how you feel. I was also like this at that time, and I was also very reluctant."

Bert retorted, "You're just gloating. My daughter was humiliated by your pig."

Victor was speechless. "Anyway, my son is handsome."

Bert was also lost for words. Shameless!

When it was the right time, Bert held his daughter's hand and stood at the other end of the red carpet. Marlon and Juliet were also dressed formally as the ring bearer and flower girl.

Henrick stood on the crystal platform, where there were many guests below him. He had been waiting for this day for a long time. That day, he finally married his beloved woman.

When the host invited the bride to come in, Henrick's eyes never moved away from Alice the moment he saw her. The diamonds were dazzling, but Alice's beauty surpassed the diamonds' dazzling brilliance, making her the most beautiful bride he had ever seen.

Alice also looked at the quiet Henrick, her eyes full of surprise and deep love. She was finally going to marry her Prince Charming, and her heart could not stop beating.

The photographer recorded their every move.

The wedding planner had arranged the setting to be extremely romantic. Henrick also liked to let nature take its course, and there had been no rehearsal for the wedding.

Holding his daughter's hand, Bert walked up to Henrick.

Juliet and Marlon exchanged glances. They picked up the flowers in the flower basket and threw them at their parents.

The romantic petals fluttered in the air, but Bert didn't say anything. With red eyes, he gave Alice's hand to Henrick. Then, he turned around and left with the two children, leaving the stage to the couple.

That was silent trust. He believed that he would not be mistaken.

After the wedding went on according to the simplest and most comfortable process, Alice was suddenly picked up by Henrick princess-style.

Boris seemed to notice that something was wrong. He shouted amidst the warm applause, "Henrick, what are you doing?"

Henrick looked at Boris with an evil smile and said, "Boris, I know that you pulled a group of brothers to make a scene in the bridal chamber. Well, this will disappoint you. We are going on a honeymoon. Our wedding night will be in another villa. If you want to fight with me, you are still far behind."

The bride and groom left their relatives and friends behind and left.

Boris was stunned. The night before, he had stayed up all night to sort out the whole plan to prank Henrick.

He had even prepared to block the door, but Henrick ran away.

Boris was not the only one who was disappointed. There was also a large group of people including Ayman.

Everyone was stunned and then burst into laughter. Boris was also grabbed by Graciella's ear and dragged back to his seat.

The celebration was still the same, and the romance remained!

It was night. In the new and warm room, on the soft big bed, after several rounds, Alice was already sleepy.

Henrick's sexy lips covered her ears, and his magnetic voice was extremely clear in the darkness. "Allie, you are what I want and love all my life."

Alice's face was full of tears and she did not speak. Although she was exhausted, she could only express her love for him with actions.

She took the initiative to kiss his lips, and Henrick smiled and kissed her tears.

The night was still very long, and their love had just begun!

Chapter 2330

The lights were on and there was a light drizzle outside.

The cool scent and air made people feel comfortable.

That night, in the presidential suite of the hotel, Kenneth began to slowly open his dark eyes. He looked around with sharp eyes and saw a slender figure walking towards the door.

"Stop." His voice was low and pleasant, like the sound of a cello.

The woman, who had just reached the door, was stunned. She did not dare to stop and rushed towards the door.

Kenneth's eyes were dark and cold. He got out of bed suddenly and felt cold; he could feel that he was naked. He pulled a bath towel to cover himself up. When he got up, he heard the sound of the door closing.

"Haha..." In the darkness, he coldly laughed, "Do you think you can escape?"

Kenneth turned around and pressed the bedside lamp. His strong body was wrapped in a white bath towel.

His eight-packs and smooth V-line were so sexy that people could not move their eyes away, and the scent of hormones burst out.

He grabbed the phone on the table and looked at it. It was three o'clock in the morning.

Thinking of what happened the night before, he was full of rage.

He suddenly lifted the quilt and saw the dazzling red blood stain on the beige bed sheet. He frowned deeply.

The previous night, after dinner, he wanted to go home, but he suddenly felt weak and uncomfortable, so he came to the hotel where he often stayed.

However, his body gradually felt weaker, and it was as if his whole body was on fire. Even if he had not experienced love-making between a man and a woman, he knew exactly what was going on.

When he came out of the bathroom, he saw a woman on his bed. The overwhelming impulse in his body gushed out like magma and he couldn't restrain himself. The soft touch and smooth skin made him lose all his senses in an instant.

So, was he set up by that woman?

"You'd better not let me catch you!"

Kenneth's angry voice was like a volcanic eruption.

His angry voice echoed throughout the room.

He picked up his phone and called his assistant, Luke.

The phone rang a few times before it was connected.

"President." The other party's voice sounded very confused. It was obvious that he had just been woken up.

Luke was used to the fact that the President was looking for him in the middle of the night. Usually, it was something very important if he was asked to meet him at this time.

The silhouette hidden in the darkness was exuding an extremely cold aura, and his voice was glacial. "Come to my room immediately."

"Yes, President. I'll be right there."

Kenneth hung up the phone with a gloomy expression on his face.

Like a statue sitting on the edge of the bed, he looked deeply at the faint red blood stain. The ambiguous atmosphere seemed to be surging in the air. On the other side of the bedside table, there were two empty bottles and some snack bags on the ground.

Kenneth's expression was extremely ugly. The situation was getting worse and worse.

"No, that's not right." Kenneth narrowed his dark eyes slightly. This was his personal room. Usually, no one would come in except him. Moreover, he was drunk, but he never drank.

A touch of surprise gradually spread deep in his eyes.

He seemed to have realized something. At this time, his mobile phone rang again.

Kenneth picked up his phone and answered the call.

Luke said, "President, please open the door. I'm outside."

Kenneth was stunned, and the speculation in his heart was completely confirmed.

He suddenly stood up and walked to the door.

When he opened the door, he saw Luke standing opposite him with his back to him.

Kenneth pursed his sexy lips tightly, and a cold aura burst out of his body instantly.

Therefore, it was a fact that he had been set up!

It was also a fact that he was in the wrong room!

When he went upstairs, he was already intoxicated and barely conscious, so he couldn't remember how he came in at all.

Luke seemed to feel the chill behind him. He turned around abruptly and was stunned when he saw Kenneth standing in the opposite room. "President, why are you over there?"

There was no expression on Kenneth's face, but panic flashed in his eyes. His eyes flickered and his voice was cold. "It's okay. You can go back now."

Luke, who was confused, was speechless. It turned out that the president had been sleepwalking!

Wow! However, the president didn't have such a problem.

He scratched his head, turned around, and left in confusion.

Seeing that Luke had disappeared from his sight, Kenneth suddenly turned his stiff body around. He closed the door and turned on all the lights. Seeing everything in the room, he was completely desperate.

He had longed for a peerless love, but he had suddenly lost his first time.

Bang! He pounded hard on the wall, and blue veins stood out on his forehead. His originally cold face was like the thin ice on the surface of a lake at the end of winter.

He took the laptop he carried with him to the entrance and went to the sofa to sit down. He wanted to see which woman it was. She didn't want him to take responsibility after the incident. Instead, she ran away. Was she playing hard to get, or did she want to calm herself down?

He soon hacked into the hotel's surveillance system. He saw himself appear in the corridor in a daze past eight o'clock.. He was going to his room, but he stumbled a few steps back because he could not stand firmly. Then, he pushed open the opposite door. At the door, an empty bottle had become stuck in the door, and he entered the opposite room in this way.

After entering, he could still remember that he went to the bathroom to take a cold shower, and then what happened next...

At three o'clock in the morning, a slender woman walked out of the room, hunched over. The lights in the corridor were very bright, and the woman's appearance was clearly reflected. The girl's eyebrows were arched and her nose was straight. Her slightly swollen red lips were delicate and charming, and her waterfall-like hair was also messy. Looking carefully, there were still tears streaming down the girl's cold and pale face. The mole at the corner of her mouth looked as if it was drawn with a sharp pen, which made her look delicate and pitiful.

Kenneth pounded the coffee table hard. It turned out that he was the one who had forced himself on that woman the night before.

Kenneth hacked into the front desk system, and he checked the information of the suite. It had been booked by a woman called Raelynn Edwards, and she was 24 years old.

Seeing this, Kenneth's initially dark eyes darkened further. He pursed his lips and smiled. This woman was quite beautiful.

He kept the photo of Raelynn, got up and went to the bathroom to get his clothes. When he came out, he saw a purplish-red brocade box on the bedside table.

He walked over, picked up the brocade box, and opened it. It was an ordinary ring with a sesame-sized diamond embedded in it. Judging from the size of the ring, it belonged to a lady.

He took the box away and went back to the opposite room to take a bath.

.....

On the street in the early morning, the street lights were dim and there were no pedestrians. Occasionally, there would be cars passing by, raising thin mist.

It was a cool and comfortable night after the rain.

A slender figure walked alone on the sidewalk. That person was Raelynn, who had just escaped from the hotel. After coming out of the hotel, she still felt sore all over.

She kept reminding herself of what she had experienced ten minutes ago.

She smiled sadly. Not only had she been forced, but she was also abandoned by the whole world.

"Haha..." Raelynn's laughter was full of pain. Looking at the empty streets, she didn't know where to go.
