

Gluey Love 2331

Chapter 2331

That day, she had been driven out by her family and she had also been abandoned by her boyfriend. She was the only one left in her world.

Raelynn had just returned to the country and only had one friend, but she couldn't find her yet. Her shoulders dropped weakly. That b*stard had been so energetic that her waist was about to break. If she hadn't drunk and been paralyzed by the alcohol, she would have fainted a long time ago.

She had indeed fainted. When she woke up, she didn't even dare to look at who it was. She only felt that the other party was tall, strong, and overbearing.

Moreover, she didn't want to know who it was.

She smiled again, and her sad smile exuded a strong sense of loneliness in the dim yellow light.

Her eyes were as beautiful as a painting and as clear as a stream. She looked cool and elegant.

Thinking that she was going to report to Alwynn Group the following day, she forced herself to cheer up again.

She looked at the time and looked around. She found another hotel and booked a room. She was going to have a good rest and deal with her work the next day.

Alwynn Group had been handed over to Victor's eldest son, Kenneth, three months ago. Presently, Victor had retired behind the scenes and became the chairman of Alwynn Group.

The student had surpassed the master.

Kenneth was more adept at doing business than his father.

They were a business giant, not only in the whole region, but now more than half of the foreign assets in the world belonged to the Alwynn family.

Everyone was envious of such a family!

Before returning to the country, she had submitted her resume and was hired by Alwynn Group. She would go to work in the design department the next day.

Alwynn Group had always focused on clothing and it was also nostalgic because the wife of the chairman of Alwynn Group, Eden Bleu, liked to design clothes since she was a child. As such, Alwynn Group had been doing this all the time.

Now that Alwynn Group was in Kenneth's hands, it still largely focused on designs.

It was said that Kenneth had graduated from the elite university in M Country, which was one of the world's best universities. There were only a handful of people in Z Country who studied in the elite university.

Raelynn got a room. When she was bathing, she almost rubbed her skin off, but she still felt uncomfortable.

Judging from the man's figure and breath, he didn't seem like an old man and his voice was very pleasant. Therefore, even if she had been forced, she didn't feel as disgusted.

That b*stard, Lincoln Rogers, was disgusting to look at.

He was greasy and she had been blind.

After taking a shower, she set the alarm on her phone. She was good at drinking. After getting drunk, she wouldn't feel too uncomfortable, but she was tired and sleepy!

The next morning, when Kenneth woke up, he still felt sore all over. He frowned slightly and thought of what had happened the night before. It was a little unreal.

He got up very early. After calling Luke to come over, he went straight home for breakfast.

When he got home, only his father and mother were there. They got up early and had just returned from their exercise. Victor had successfully stepped back and handed the company over to his son, so he felt much more relaxed. He was now planning to go on a trip, and he wanted to drive an RV, but Eden disagreed.

Victor had to give up. Their first stop was to see their grandchildren in Lemmon City.

"Dad, Mom." Kenneth's voice was gentle. At home, he would only have such a gentle expression. In front of outsiders, he was like a statue.

Eden looked at her son, smiled lovingly, and felt distressed. "Kenny, why did you come back at dawn? Did you work late last night?"

Kenneth shook his head slightly and responded with a faint smile in his picturesque eyes, "Mom, no, I rested in the hotel. I came back for breakfast now."

"Okay, wait a minute. I will go to the kitchen to have a look." Eden patted her son's arm gently. She wanted to pat him on the shoulder, but her son was too tall, so it would be troublesome for her to stand on her tiptoes.

Victor looked at his son and his eyes flashed. He asked, "Kenny, it seems that you are very suitable for the company."

Kenneth smiled helplessly. "Dad, you're only 50 years old this year, and I'm 25. You still have 10 years to stand at the top of the pyramid. Why did you have to let me inherit the company?"

The chairmen of other companies were still managing them in their 70s.

Even though three months had passed, Kenneth was still very depressed.

Ricky stayed in Lemmon City and only came back occasionally. As such, he only took care of the business in Lemmon City. Gia followed Martin back to their home. His three younger brothers were still young.

Kenneth became the pillar of the family in an instant.

He had heavy responsibilities on his shoulders. Although he didn't feel suffocated, he still liked to live a free life.

Victor said, "I'm also managing the company. With Dean watching over me, my life will be a little easier. I've worked hard for so many years, and it's time for me to rest. Now, it's your turn."

Kenneth didn't say anything and was not in a good mood. He sat down. After a while, Eden brought over a cup of warm water.

"Kenny, drink some hot water to warm your stomach."

"Thank you, Mom!" Kenneth took the cup and drank half of it.

After breakfast, he went back to his room to change his clothes.

Seeing the scratches on his back, he slightly raised the corners of his mouth, put on a black silk shirt, and straight, black trousers. His slender and elegant body was covered with a dignified coldness.

He turned around and went downstairs. Luke was already waiting in the living room.

"President, there's an early meeting at nine o'clock this morning. We'll have a lunch party with our partners at noon and there'll be an inspection in the northern part of the city in the afternoon," Luke reported.

Upon hearing that there were social activities, Kenneth felt uncomfortable. Now that his father had retired, Uncle Lucian had also retired and was going home to take care of the family business.

At present, only the younger generation of Alwynn Group remained. His mother remained as the chairwoman of Symantec Group. That was because she did not have a suitable person to take over the company.

Otherwise, he would be even busier!

Kenneth pursed his lips. It had been three months, but he was still not used to this kind of entertainment and social scene.

"Let's go," he said in a deep voice.

"Yes, President." Luke carefully followed behind him. For some reason, he felt that the President was unhappy that day.

That's right. When had the president ever been happy?

"By the way, President, there is a new designer coming in today. From today onwards, she will officially begin work."

"Yes! Got it." Kenneth nodded slightly.

Raelynn woke up when the alarm clock rang for the third time. When she opened her eyes and looked at the bright sunshine outside, she got up and washed quietly.

After washing up, she took a taxi to Clara's house.

When she came out of the house the day before, she had stored her luggage in her friend's house.

Clara's family lived in an ordinary neighborhood, and the Hansen family was an ordinary family. However, Clara was Raelynn's best friend before she went abroad.

Knock, Knock... She knocked on the door.

Soon, a cute girl in a pink T-shirt and denim shorts poked her head out and looked at Raelynn happily.

Clara smiled. "Rae, you're here. Come in."

"Yes! Clara, has your mom gone to work?" Raelynn walked in with a smile.

"Yes! My mom started work early while my dad is on the night shift."

Clara's home was a small three-bedroom house, but it was clean, tidy and warm.

"Rae, have you had breakfast? My mom heard that you were coming, so she made some oatmeal and pastries."

"No!" Raelynn shook her head slightly. She couldn't eat it.

Clara pulled her to sit down. "Rae, sit down first and wait a minute. I'll go to the kitchen to bring out breakfast. I haven't eaten either."

"Okay, thank you!" Raelynn nodded, not wanting to ruin her friend's kindness.

"Hehe... I knew you didn't have breakfast. Just wait." Clara skipped into the kitchen.

Raelynn was very envious of her. The family of three lived an ordinary life, happy and warm.

Unlike her, who had become a fake daughter of the Edwards family for the past 24 years. She had been kicked out of the house the moment the real daughter was found.

Weren't there more emotions when raising a pet cat or dog?

Besides, she was a woman with flesh and blood.

The thought of it made Raelynn feel ridiculous and uncomfortable. She had never had any feelings for that family.

It was good to come out. It was better to be free alone.

"Rae, it's your first day to report to Alwynn Group today so you can't be late. There's still an hour left. A taxi from here will take at least 40 minutes, so you only have 10 minutes. You have to eat faster."

Clara placed the oatmeal and pastries on the table and trotted back to get her own portion.

Raelynn smiled and said, "Clara, there's no rush. We can make it in time."

Clara sat across from her with her breakfast. "It's good that there's enough time."

She took a bite of the delicious pastry and looked at her friend worriedly. "Rae, what are you going to do next? Your adoptive parents are so ruthless. They're so hateful."

"Or are you going back to your biological mother?"

Ever since the night before, Clara had been worried about Raelynn. Back then, there had been a mix up at the hospital, and Raelynn had been raised by a different family. Raelynn also had a biological mother and a younger brother.

Raelynn took a deep breath. She was very annoyed but she did not know where to go. She thought for a moment and said, "I haven't gone back yet so I don't know what they're like. I'll go there after work today."

Clara looked at her and felt particularly distressed. How could Rae meet such a parent?

Even if she was not their biological daughter, Rae was really excellent.

"Rae, don't be sad. You're so excellent. Without the Edwards family, you can still make great achievements. Don't forget that you've had a lot of good luck since you were a child. You've gone abroad to study and it's also a piece of cake for you to get a job there, right?"

Raelynn smiled. She had to admit that Clara's words had made her feel much better.

"Clara, you're right. I will definitely be successful. The salary of Alwynn Group is very good." She had sent her resume to Alwynn Group because they were generous to their employees and the salaries were quite high.

When she was abroad, she received a call from her adoptive mother, saying that they had found their real daughter, and they asked Rae to come back to change her identity.

That was why she had to return to the country.

"That's right. Rae, you're the best. If you need any help, you must tell me and don't regard me as an outsider."

Clara was afraid that Raelynn would be bullied by the Edwards family. That family was rich, and they only focused on money, nothing else.

Raelynn smiled and replied, "Okay!"

After breakfast, Raelynn went to Clara's room to change into a thin, light gray suit. She wore a black shirt that perfectly covered the slight purplish mark on her collar.

She also put on simple, light makeup. She was already very beautiful, and her light makeup made her look even more attractive.

Looking at herself in the mirror, she smiled confidently.

Raelynn arrived at Alwynn Group on time. She looked up and saw that the company building under the sun was like a towering giant. Some people said that as long as she sat in the office on the 25th floor, she would step on the giant's shoulder. Looking around, the world would be at her feet.

She had never experienced that kind of feeling, but she had experienced needing money for the month.

Therefore, she needed a good job to keep her alive.

When she went abroad to study, she had gone on a scholarship and worked hard to study, so she barely returned.

The Edwards family didn't seem to care about her at all.

Not to mention that they would never have given her money to study abroad.

The pressure of life made Raelynn have no time to feel sad for the first time that she lost the previous night.

She was already very satisfied that she had managed to apply to be a designer of Alwynn Group.

Raelynn took a deep breath and calmed herself down. She went to the company to register herself. After obtaining her employee ID card, she went straight to the design department on the 24th floor.

Compared with the past, the current design department was much larger.

A group of more than a hundred designers could be seen coming in and out of the building. Their clothes matched each other, giving off a strong sense of fashion, youthfulness and charm.

That place gave Raelynn an unprecedented sense of challenge.

She went to see the design director, Faith Mason.

Knock, Knock... The design director had a separate office.

"Come in."

Raelynn walked in. In front of the computer sat a woman in a red dress. She had short curly hair and diamond earrings. Her facial features were deep-set, and her exquisite makeup made her look very beautiful!

"Miss Mason, nice to meet you. I'm the new designer, Raelynn Edwards."

Faith looked at Raelynn with a trace of amazement in her eyes. Raelynn was very beautiful; people often said that she was more beautiful than a flower.

Her face was fair and flawless, and her skin was really smooth.

"Hello, Miss Edwards!" Faith got up and shook hands with Raelynn.

Raelynn smiled and said, "I hope we'll work well together!"

"I'll take you to your office first." Faith walked out.

"Thank you, but do I have an independent office?" Raelynn was a little excited.

"Yes, the employees of Alwynn Group enjoy great benefits. Only in a good environment can they create good work. However, there are not enough assistants now, and we are still recruiting more. When we have enough people, we will assign you an assistant," Faith explained, pushing open the door of the office next to hers. The office was very spacious. There was an independent tea room and a work room. The decorations were simple and fashionable, and the white style was luxurious and elegant. It made people's eyes brighten and she felt her mood improve significantly.

Raelynn liked that style very much.

"Miss Edwards, this will be your office from now on," Faith said.

"Okay, thank you, Miss Mason. I like this place very much." Raelynn was very happy. It was the first day of work, and she, the newcomer, was not suppressed. However, she was still a little vigilant as it was better to be careful.

Chapter 2333

Faith looked back at her and said politely, "Take care of your office. At nine o'clock, there will be a meeting on the 25th floor. When the time comes, you can bring your designs with you. There will be a design competition in autumn. If the sales of the work under your name achieves the first place, you can get a very generous commission."

"Okay!"

Raelynn was a little excited. So, on the first day of work, could she see the legendary business giant, Kenneth Alwynn?

However, according to Faith's words, she also understood that in this place, everything was entirely based on one's abilities. As long as you were capable, you could get the high commission you wanted. It was indeed a very competitive place.

Faith said, "See you then. I still have work to do."

"Okay. Thank you, Miss Mason!" Raelynn was so generous that she let Faith take a few more glances at her before leaving.

Raelynn walked around the office and was so happy that she wanted to cry.

When she thought of Alwynn Group recruiting assistants, she instantly thought of Clara. She had studied design as well. However, she did not have any work experience and had yet to find a job. At least, she could experience it by working at the company.

Raelynn took out her phone and called Clara.

"Rae, what's wrong?" Clara's voice was very soft.

Raelynn also whispered, "Clara, Alwynn Group is recruiting assistants. Do you want to come and have a look?"

Clara was very excited. "Really? Rae!"

"It's true. You can give it a try first. We are very short of people now, and the salary is good."

"Ah, ah, ah... Rae, I've seen it. The average assistant earns 10,000 a month. Alwynn Group is really rich. I only earn 4,000 a month working here. I'll submit my resume now. I hope God will bless me and let me successfully join the Alwynn Group. I'll work hard."

"Hehe... Then hurry up and submit your resume. I'm going to work. Good luck!"

"Okay, Rae. I love you so much." Clara was so excited that she was about to cry.

After Raelynn hung up the phone, she didn't have time to tidy up the office. She checked her design and confirmed that it was correct. Then, she went to the next room to find Faith to go to the 25th floor.

As soon as they arrived, Faith walked out with her assistant, Magnolia.

"Miss Mason." Raelynn ran over with a smile.

Faith nodded and introduced, "This is my assistant, Magnolia Oakley."

Raelynn looked at Magnolia and said, "Nice to meet you, Miss Oakley!"

Magnolia saw that Raelynn was very beautiful, and her eyes flashed with a sneer. This woman was obviously here to seduce the president.

"Hello!" Magnolia's tone was indifferent. It was obvious that she was a difficult person.

Raelynn had seen countless people and knew that Magnolia was not easy to get along with.

However, she didn't care. She wasn't someone to be trifled with either.

Faith continued to introduce, "Today is mainly a designer's meeting. Our design department has a total of 120 designers. After Mr. Alwynn took over Alwynn Group, he has upgraded the company in all aspects. Now, there are around 90 designers for men's clothes, women's clothes and children's clothes. Our department is the main design department, mainly focusing on youth fashion. There are around 20 designers, and each designer has an assistant to assist in their work."

Before Raelynn came back, she also saw that the personnel department of Alwynn Group was very large.

Kenneth did not stick to the rules, but he focused on reducing his workload, keeping pace with the times, and striving for excellence!

That was why this gave those who worked hard a chance to soar.

As long as they met a designer, Faith would introduce them to Raelynn, who listened carefully. Although she didn't remember everything about everyone, she tried to remember as much as she could.

If you worked slowly and carefully, you'd be able to remember more!

Faith's patience for Raelynn came from the fact that she had won several awards abroad. The company attached great importance to her. As the design director, she could not take the lead in suppressing the newcomers.

After all, everyone had potential.

She knew Kenneth's character very well. No matter what kind of family background one had, there was only one outcome he wanted here: working ability and corresponding interests.

The new designer, Raelynn, was very beautiful, and news of this quickly spread in the company.

Raelynn was trying hard to familiarize herself with Alwynn Group and was completely ignorant of this matter.

In the conference room on the 25th floor.

There were nearly 30 people sitting in the spacious and bright office. Everyone found their seats and sat down. Raelynn was on the fifth seat on the left side of the president.

It was the position of the previous designer who had retired. As Raelynn had replaced him, she sat in this position.

Raelynn nodded and greeted everyone with a smile.

The door of the conference room was suddenly pushed open.

Raelynn turned around to have a look. The man who came in was quite domineering. He was in a black shirt and black pants. He had long legs and a face that was extremely handsome. He was expressionless, calm, cold, noble, elegant, and Raelynn almost ran out of adjectives to describe him in her heart.

Was this the legendary new president, Kenneth Alwynn?

Oh man!

Was he even human?

He was simply a legitimate immortal!

He was cold, restrained, and charming in every way!

Raelynn felt that her life in the past 24 years had been in vain. How could she think that someone like Lincoln was a handsome man?

She instantly understood how terrifying a frog at the bottom of the well was.

In the future, she had to go out more often.

While she was deep in her thoughts, she didn't notice that the moment Kenneth's dark eyes fell on her, his expression suddenly changed. His body tensed up, and a strange feeling flashed through his heart so quickly that he couldn't stop it. The woman from the night before was actually the new designer of the company.

All of a sudden, Kenneth began to look forward to this boring work life.

It might also become interesting.

Compared with Raelynn in the surveillance video, the woman in front of him was indeed amazing.

Kenneth went to the president's seat and sat down, his lips curling up involuntarily.

Standing beside him, Luke felt that the president's mood had suddenly improved.

After greeting everyone, Kenneth began to talk about the rules of the autumn design competition.

His voice was clear and penetrating, with a hint of casualness, so everyone's eyes were focused on him.

That included Raelynn; she felt that she was not here to work, but to go on a date.

Seeing such an excellent man, women would only have one thought. How could they become his lifelong partner?

He was too beautiful, and his gaze was very deep. When he looked at someone, they felt as if they were drowning at sea.

It was not until the electronic screen behind him had rolled up and the office was much brighter that Raelynn and the designers came to their senses from Kenneth's pleasant voice.

Kenneth's dark, handsome eyes fell on Raelynn's stunning but somewhat unreal face. His sight was very good. Even though there were five people between them, he could still see the faint marks on her long, snow-white neck. His mood suddenly became better.

Without realizing, he looked into her shining eyes. "Miss Edwards, can you show us your design style?"

Chapter 2334

Raelynn stood up, quickly adjusted her mentality, and nodded gracefully at Kenneth.

"Okay, Mr. Kenneth!" She walked up to the big screen and bent slightly, ready to play the video.

She was slightly hunched over, and her collar was angled just right for Kenneth. From where he was, he could see the faint purple mark on her snow-white skin, and he could not help feeling better.

Kenneth didn't notice his perverted possessiveness!

Raelynn's design appeared on the big screen, and the autumn design suddenly caught everyone's eyes.

First up was a sunset-colored trench coat in sparkling orange tones, exuding luxury and elegance.

The second design was light brown in color, emanating romance and elegance. There was a bit of a retro style to it, making it simple and attractive.

The last picture was an oatmeal and milky-white design. The color was not eye-catching, but it looked very soft, and the color was very attractive.

Raelynn explained her design philosophy; all of her designs were based on colors of nature.

Kenneth also understood this principle. Only a person who loved life enough could come up with good designs.

Kenneth looked at the graceful Raelynn. Her eyes were beautiful, and there was a trace of imperceptible nervousness in them.

Yes, she was very nervous!

Thinking that she didn't recognize him, he was a little unhappy. Was it because he was not skilled enough that she had forgotten him in just a few hours?

Kenneth's expression darkened a little, and even his tone became gloomy. "Nice idea."

Raelynn breathed a sigh of relief. Her drawings were all hand-made and were made of water-soluble color pencils. The touch-up layer was particularly hard to master, and it could especially test one's patience. As long as one was a little impetuous, the effect would be greatly reduced.

This was the work she had prepared before returning to the country.

Faith was also surprised by Raelynn's talent. She was indeed very excellent and had a thorough grasp of color and fabric control.

She looked at Kenneth and asked, "Mr. Kenneth, do you want to decide on the style first?"

Kenneth stated, "Just wait! Let's call it a day!"

After saying that, he walked out, followed by Luke.

Raelynn looked at Kenneth's back in confusion. If he was very satisfied, why wait?

Sure enough, this man was as cold and heartless as the rumors said!

He was really hard to get along with!

Raelynn put away her things, and the designers looked at her differently.

Magnolia's voice was neither loud nor low. "She's overestimating yourself! Did she think she could become a dark horse just because she won a prize abroad?"

Upon hearing this, Faith frowned slightly and did not refute Magnolia's words.

However, with Kenneth's personality, no one could tell what he was thinking.

Raelynn looked at Magnolia and frowned slightly. She then glanced at Faith, who had not said anything, and finally understood.

Magnolia was Faith's assistant. Without Faith's consent, how would Magnolia dare to speak like this?

Some people were like this. They made use of others to achieve the effect of killing two birds with one stone, and reap the benefits themselves. However, she was very confident in her work.

Raelynn didn't say anything and didn't care about people like Magnolia. If she did, she would be at a loss.

If Kenneth began to look down on her work, she would reflect on herself and never give up.

After leaving the meeting room, Raelynn was the last to leave.

Just as they were about to enter the elevator, Luke walked out.

"Miss Edwards!"

Raelynn turned around and looked at him.

Luke introduced himself. "My name is Luke Parma, and I'm Mr. Kenneth's assistant. He wants you to go to his office and discuss the work."

"Okay, Mr. Parma!" Raelynn turned and walked to Kenneth's office.

In fact, she was very excited. What did Kenneth want?

Magnolia and Faith, who had just entered the elevator, also had terrible expressions on their faces.

"Faith, we can't go in and out of Mr. Kenneth's office so easily. It's the first day that Raelynn came to work, yet she has such an honor. This woman really knows how to seduce people!" Magnolia was very angry. She was also very beautiful, and she also came for Kenneth. However, she had been in the company for several months, but she couldn't even say a word to him.

Faith had a clear mind. When she saw Raelynn's work just now, she also realized the sense of crisis.

However, she would not say anything. With Magnolia by her side, she could just make use of her.

Magnolia was impulsive and it was easy for her to think about things from another viewpoint. If she gave Magnolia a little bit of advice, she could achieve the result she wanted.

"Nolia, don't say that. Everyone knows Raelynn's talent. Didn't you see it just now? Her designs were very beautiful."

Yes, Raelynn was indeed very talented. Faith had never even thought about the ideas that Raelynn came up with.

Magnolia snorted and said, "Faith, I don't understand her style. The color is too eye-catching. A slightly darker-skinned person wouldn't be able to pull off those colors at all. On the contrary, I like your designs more. They're fashionable and on-trend, and they're much better than her designs. Faith, your design will definitely become the main style this year."

Faith smiled and said modestly, "Nolia, I don't have such confidence. Don't forget that although the chairman's wife is no longer in the company, the designs for each quarter still have to be shown to her. We also need to make amendments if there are any parts that are rejected."

Speaking of this, Magnolia was curious. "Faith, have you ever seen Mr. Kenneth's mother? It seems to be for the sake of Madam's safety. There is not a single photo of her on the Internet. I heard that she is a person who is very easy to get along with."

Faith shook his head. "I haven't seen her before."

Magnolia thought that if she could please her future mother-in-law, would she have a better chance to marry into the rich and powerful Alwynn family?

Magnolia was thinking about her future. She would not give up.

In Kenneth's office, when Raelynn entered, she saw Kenneth sitting in front of the computer, staring intently at the screen.

His fingers were very beautiful, slender and elegant. His nails were ruddy and had a faint luster. There was nothing in this man's body that wasn't charming.

However, at the same time, he exuded an aura that prevented strangers from getting close to him. Moreover, his coldness and arrogance told her that this man was very difficult to get along with.

"Mr. Kenneth, are you looking for me?" Raelynn's tone was faint, but there was also a little nervousness that could not be concealed.

Kenneth looked up at her and said, "Sit down first. I have something to deal with."

"Okay!" Raelynn sat on the sofa opposite his desk.

For a moment, in the spacious and bright office, only the typing noise of the keyboard could be heard.

He was very fast in typing, and his eyes were very serious. Sometimes he frowned and sometimes he stretched, as if he had encountered something tricky.

It took him a full twenty minutes before he heaved a sigh of relief. Early in the morning, someone had attacked into Alwynn Group's internal system. It took him a full twenty minutes to deal with the problem. The other party had come with ill intentions.

Chapter 2335

After dealing with everything, Kenneth looked at Raelynn. The girl was sitting quietly, and her gaze was often fixated on him. He could feel it.

Just as he was about to speak, the phone on his desk rang.

He looked at Raelynn and said, "I'm sorry."

He went to the window not far away to answer the phone.

Raelynn's gaze trailed after him. The man was about 1.8 meters tall, but his aura was about 2 meters tall. He exuded a wild and unrestrained aura, which made her want to fall in love.

Even if she had just broken up.

No, it was not a break up.

The marriage between her and that man had been solely caused by the parents of the two families being satisfied with each other's backgrounds.

However, this marriage had now been taken over by Rory.

She had seen tall people, but not many of them had a good temperament. Many of them had hunched backs, and they were either too thin or fat. People wouldn't feel good from looking at them.

However, Kenneth's long legs were simply too beautiful.

Raelynn's heart skipped a beat.

Two minutes later, he returned to his desk.

Kenneth looked at her. "Give me the USB."

Raelynn paused before she reacted and walked over.

"Mr. Kenneth, here you are!" She handed it over. Her round nails were very beautiful. They were small and exquisite, trimmed neatly. The nails that had not been painted were very beautiful. She looked like a clever person.

Kenneth knew that he cared so much about this woman because of what had happened last night, so he was very annoyed with his behavior.

However, he just couldn't control his behavior, because this woman didn't even remember that he was the man from the night before.

Kenneth opened the design template.

"Come here." His tone was domineering.

Raelynn calmed down and slowly walked over.

Raelynn walked up to him. At such a close distance, there was a familiar and cold aura. For some reason, Raelynn instantly thought of the man from the night before. She felt the same aura from him as well.

Raelynn frowned. Could it be that she was having an illusion because of his good looks?

Raelynn came back to her senses when Kenneth's pleasant voice came to her mind.

"Miss Edwards, look at the dark sky. It's a color that easily makes you look older. You should polish it again. It's not easy to find a cloth of this color. The quality of a piece of clothing depends on the fabric. Design drawn by the designer also matters. It can be cut into pieces and made into a pair of rings. Only then can it become a perfect piece of work."

"And this dress with the bright color, it's too much..."

Raelynn listened carefully. After listening, she suddenly felt happy.

She felt slightly shocked as she gazed at Kenneth. Everything that he said required years and years of experience, and it was obvious that he had spent a lot of effort into it.

To Kenneth, work was the most important thing in his heart.

It's better to teach one to fish than to give one a fish!

These were all her mother's experiences over the years.

Raelynn's work could withstand the criticism.

When Kenneth finished speaking, she realized that Raelynn was staring at him in a daze. The two of them were very close to each other, and the fragrance of the orchid on her body was exactly the same as what he remembered.

As he thought about what happened last night, he felt blood surging through his body.

Kenneth suppressed the strange feeling in his body. This was the first time in his life that he had such feelings for a woman.

"Miss Edwards, this minimalistic design of yours is quite pleasing to the eyes. The warm colors just now can be used on these two styles. Please make some modifications to your work based on my comments, then hand it to me again."

"Oh... Okay!" When Raelynn came to her senses, her face was flushed red, and her heart started beating uncontrollably.

As they were so close, she could see the fine pores on his face, and those beautiful and deep black eyes.

Raelynn was instantly jealous. How could a man's skin be better than a woman's?

"Okay, I'll go back and modify it and then hand it to our director."

Kenneth replied, "No, you can send it to me after you have modified it."

Raelynn paused. "Mr. Alwynn, this is against the rules, isn't it?" Faith would definitely be unhappy with this arrangement.

Kenneth leaned towards her slightly. Their faces were closer, and their breaths were intertwined.

The atmosphere in the air instantly grew tense.

Raelynn suddenly straightened her body, and her heart started pounding.

Kenneth Kenneth's lips curled into a smile as if he was very satisfied with Raelynn's reaction.

He remarked casually, "I don't have any rules here. You earn based on your own ability. You may leave now!"

"Okay, Mr. Kenneth!" Raelynn took her things and left quickly.

When he heard the sound of the door being closed, he suddenly stood up and pulled on his tie hard. He felt both annoyed and hot.

"D*mn it!" He quickly went to the bathroom.

When she returned to the design department, everyone looked at her strangely.

"I heard that Mr. Alwynn left her alone in the office. Even Sister Mason doesn't receive such treatment. Just who is this newcomer? Is she from an extremely rich family?"

"Who knows? But looking at how she dresses, she doesn't look like someone from a rich family."

"Speaking of that, Faith and Magnolia's family is the one that's truly wealthy."

"Hehe... Sibyl, you've reminded me of something. Faith and Magnolia came for Mr. Alwynn. Now there is one more Raelynn. We will be in for a good show in the near future."

Everyone did not bother to lower their voices as they gossiped, so Raelynn managed to listen to everything.

She could hear their words clearly. The world finally quieted down when she slammed the door shut.

She had no assistant, so she could only clean the office herself.

The day went smoothly. At 5:30 p.m., she got off work on time.

After work, she looked at the busy streets with mixed feelings.

After standing at the bus station for a long time, she took out her mother's address from her bag and glanced at the address on it. She then referred to her navigation app and noticed that it would take an hour to reach from here.

When the bus arrived, she got on the bus.

Coincidentally, Kenneth's car had just passed by. In an instant, the beautiful figure disappeared before her eyes.

He felt something in his heart.

After an hour and a half, Raelynn arrived at her mother's rented place.

This village was located in the middle of River City, and it was very lively at night. There were many stalls around that sold street snacks, and there were a lot of foreign workers who lived in this area.

Her mother's surname was also Edwards, which was also the reason why the nurse messed up between the two babies back then.

Raelynn stood at the door, took a deep breath, and plucked up the courage to knock on the door.

Chapter 2336

"Thump thump..."

The coffee-colored door handle was rusty. When it was turned gently, the Raelynn was very nervous.

The door was pulled open, and a middle-aged woman in a purple sportswear appeared before her.

She was very thin and her complexion was not very good, but she looked good. Although she was in her forties, it could be seen that she had been very beautiful when she was young.

The moment that Raelynn saw her, a sense of intimacy hit her heart. Her nose twitched, and she couldn't help but call out, "Mom, I'm back."

She had gotten this address from Rory. It had been half a year since Rory returned to the Edwards Family, and she had definitely gotten much fuller.

Most importantly, her words were dripped in venom.

The funny thing was, the names that the two families had given their children were almost the name.

Raelynn had originally thought that she would not be able to call out to her estranged mother after so long, but blood was thicker than water at the end of the day.

"Raelynn, is that you?" Malia looked at her daughter who stood before her. Raelynn looked very similar to Malia, so she could immediately recognize her at first glance.

She couldn't help but burst into tears. Rory had been taken back the day her biological parents found her.

She asked her daughter's adoptive mother where Raelynn was. The woman only replied proudly that she was abroad and never gave her any further information.

It had been almost half a year, and she couldn't get any news about her daughter no matter how hard she tried.

Now her daughter was finally back.

"Raelynn, come in." Malia said with a little restraint. The house was too small, and she was afraid that her daughter would not get used to living here.

Raelynn followed her in. The house had two rooms and a living room, and everything was well-kept. However, due to the age of the house, the walls were already moldy.

"Raelynn, sit down!" Malia found a disposable paper cup and gave her a cup of water.

Raelynn did not reject it and took a sip from the cup.

"Mom, where is my brother?" She and Ryder were twins. The nurse had made a mistake that year. The Edwards Family had not been recognized for their appearances before, but when she grew up and became more and more beautiful, her adoptive father grew doubtful and went for a DNA test. In the end, it turned out that they were not related by blood.

She had known about it when she graduated from high school.

The Edwards Family had also told her that they would find their own daughter back, and then they had to exchange for her.

She had no objection at that time. After all, she had decided to study abroad.

In the past few years when she had been studying abroad, the Edwards Family had not been able to cover her tuition fees. Fortunately, she was doing well in school. She worked hard and saved up rigorously. She even managed to receive scholarships, and in the end saved up a sizable amount.

Malia said, "Your brother went to work. He's repairing his car. He has to work overtime tonight. It's almost eight o'clock, he should be off work soon."

"Okay! I'll wait for him to get off work, then let's head out for dinner together." Raelynn glanced at the stove not far away. The simple induction stove and an electric rice cooker could only cook by the window in the living room.

The toilet was shared outside and the pipes were also shared.

Even such a house would cost more than 1,000 yuan in urban village.

Land was extremely expensive in River City. This urban village was the only one left that had not been developed, the others had all been destroyed.

The conditions for living here were too poor, and it was too far from where she worked.

When Malia noticed that Raelynn was looking around at the house, she grew nervous.

This was the new house that they had rented after Rory left.

She wanted to save money wherever she could. After all, Raelynn was still studying. When she returned, they would rent a bigger house.

"Raelynn, when did you return? Your adoptive parents have always been unwilling to tell you where you are. They blamed me for reporting the wrong child. and even after I've tried to look for you for half a year, I haven't received any news about you."

Raelynn's face sank. Thinking of her adoptive parents, she went into a bad mood.

Her adoptive parents were already extremely selfish people. When they found out that she wasn't even their own blood, they immediately turned on her. Even if she did not go abroad to study, they still would've chased her out after high school.

"They're not good people. If you go to them, they won't tell you."

Malia could see that, but it was fine now. Her daughter was back.

"Raelynn, I will rent a bigger house tomorrow. We will live together," Malia said carefully.

Rory had a bad temper and was unwilling to live with her useless mother. However, she was too lazy to do anything. As a result, she did not find a good job. Even if she found a job, she would not be able to do it for a long time. She would not be able to continue her job for more than two or three days.

Malia knew that Rory did not look like her at all, but she had taken care of Rory ever since she was a child. Even though she was dubious about it, she did not dare to do anything, for she was afraid that she would lose all hope.

It turned out that Rory was not her daughter anyway.

Raelynn, on the other hand, looked exactly like her when she was younger. She looked very beautiful.

"Thump thump..."

Malia paused when she heard the knock on the door and smiled. "Rae, your brother is home."

She quickly got up and opened the door.

"Mom, I'm back." The young man's voice was full of joy, for he was happy that he had returned home.

Raelynn took a deep breath. This was the family that she wanted.

"Ryder, you're back. Come in, your sister is here."

"Why is Rory, that heartless b*tch, here?" Ryder's voice was filled with anger.

Raelynn frowned. Did Rory do something?

"No, Ryder. Your sister, Raelynn, just came back yesterday."

Ryder's handsome face was filled with shock. He immediately rushed in.

The moment that he saw Raelynn, he was so excited that he choked up at his words. "My sister, you're back."

She was so beautiful!

She was more beautiful than any girl he had ever seen. He looked at his sister and did not even dare to blink.

Raelynn also looked at her younger brother. His younger brother was very handsome, with long legs and a perfect figure. His hair was as black as ink, and his eyebrows were clean. The two of them looked very similar.

"Ryder, you're back," Raelynn greeted with a smile.

"Raelynn!" Ryder threw himself into Raelynn's arms.

His sister was back, she didn't abandon them.

Raelynn gently patted her brother's back. "Ryder, I'm back. I'm sorry. I was half a year late."

"It's okay, as long as you still want us as your family." He really, really missed his sister.

He knew that Rory, that idiot, was definitely not his sister. The two of them looked nothing alike, and both her appearance and personality were ugly.

"You fool, why wouldn't I want you? Because of work, I couldn't return. Come on, we should go for dinner together to celebrate our reunion," Raelynn suggested. As she thought about life with her mother and brother, she felt happy.

She was now much more motivated.

She would work hard to earn money so that her mother and brother could live a good life.

Chapter 2337

"Sure, let's go! Business was good today, I'll treat you guys to dinner!" Ryder was very happy. Although the two of them had never met before, it felt like they had known each other forever.

"Okay!" Raelynn smiled and the family of three went out for dinner.

Raelynn did not know any place to go for good food nearby.

However, Ryder did.

"Raelynn, do you have anything you want to eat?" Ryder looked at his beautiful sister. Even in the crowd, she was still the center of attraction.

Everyone who walked past her couldn't help but stare.

Ryder walked beside her, blocking everyone else's gaze.

When men with bad intentions turned to them, he would glare at them in warning.

Raelynn noticed what he was doing.

She felt warmth spreading in her heart and she smiled. "Ryder, Mom, I'm not picky about food. Eat whatever you guys want."

Ryder then suggested, "Raelynn, there's a restaurant in front that serves fish with pickled vegetables. It's really good! What do you think?"

The food there was delicious and the price was fair.

Raelynn agreed, "Sure! I love that dish as well."

Ryder smiled happily at her response. "Okay! Then let's go."

Raelynn nodded with a smile and then suddenly remembered something.

On the desolate journey of life, family was the only source of motivation.

The three of them quickly arrived at a restaurant not far away. Compared to the noisy streets, the atmosphere here seemed much calmer and quiet.

The decor was very simple, but it was clean and tidy.

The ingredients were all placed in the refrigerator, and the dishes were made fresh to order.

Ryder had been here several times, and he had been craving it for quite some time.

He quickly ordered the fish with pickled vegetables and handed the menu over to Raelynn and their mother.

Malia had always been frugal as she worked hard and saved up wherever she could. She barely ate out.

Unless her son dragged her out.

However, today was the day that her daughter had returned, so she happily ordered whatever she wanted.

As they waited for the dishes to be served, Raelynn briefly told them about what had happened over the past years.

Only then did Malia realize that the Edwards Family had already known that their daughter was not their biological daughter.

"Raelynn, I'm sorry! It was my fault. You've suffered a lot these years. Look at your adoptive parents. You haven't been doing well in their home these years. When I gave birth to you, I'm all by myself in the hospital, and you were twins.

When I woke up again, I only saw the two of you. I can't even fathom how I could've gotten the wrong babies."

Upon hearing this, Ryder wanted to ask where their father had gone.

However, in the past 20 years, Malia had never mentioned their father in front of them.

Raelynn also knew very well that if they followed after their mother's surname, it meant that they had no father.

Now that they were independent, they could live a good life without a father.

Since their mother didn't want to talk about the past, they wouldn't ask any further.

"Mom, it's okay. At that time, I had already decided to go abroad to study. Although they didn't give me enough support, I still managed to obtain scholarships. I have been working hard and studying abroad these years, so I have saved up some money. When I'm on break next weekend, we can look around for a house with three rooms. We can live there."

If they chose an old neighborhood to live in, the monthly payments would be very low if she paid 80% of the down payment. With the money she makes from night classes and livestreams, she would be able to afford the monthly payments.

She had started streaming ever since she was abroad. She was genuine and detailed as she taught the children, so she had garnered some fame for herself.

Ryder and Malia glanced at each other and he said, "Raelynn, I've saved up some money over these years. Why don't I buy a new house?"

Although it was easier to pay off a second-hand house, the living conditions of a new house would be better.

Raelynn glanced at her brother awkwardly. "Ryder, I know that. But if we buy a house at a newly built neighborhood, it would cost us over a million dollars, and we would need another year to be able to move in. If we delay the payment, it may take even longer."

"And you're at the age of looking for a girlfriend. So in my opinion, we can choose a second-hand house that's still in good condition. We can buy wallpaper ourselves for the walls, and after cleaning it up, we can move in. Moreover, your current house is too far from where I work, and I don't want to be separated from you guys."

"Ryder, save your money. When you get married, you can buy a new house."

However, he was unwilling to do this. He was the pillar of the family. He had to earn money to buy a house and provide both his mother and sister with a good life.

"No, how could I make you pay for everything alone?"

Raelynn smiled. Ryder looked exactly like her, and he looked very handsome when he smiled.

"Ryder, it's not easy to start a family nowadays. The dowry could cost you up to several hundred thousands. Don't you worry, I will work hard, and my company treats me very well too. I earn a substantial amount. Give me a few more years' time, our family will live a good life by then."

Malia smiled. Looking at her sensible children, she felt that it was worth it no matter how much she had suffered.

After dinner, the family of three walked back home.

After returning to the night market, Ryder bought three cups

"Raelynn, you can stay here tonight." Ryder was reluctant to let her go.

Raelynn shook her head. "It's okay. I don't bring any clothes with me. I'll just stay at a hotel for tonight, and we'll start looking for a house next week. After that, we'll move closer to the city."

Ryder did not insist any further.

He worked in River City as well, and it took him an hour or two everyday for transport to and from work.

He had thought about moving before, but his mother was so frugal that they ended up staying here.

Now that his sister was back, he didn't want her to suffer.

"Raelynn, I'm going to rest tomorrow. I haven't taken a break this year. I'll start looking for a house tomorrow. Mom, have you quit your work at the hot pot restaurant? The work there is dirty and tiring."

Malia smiled and replied, "Both of you have decided to live in River City, so I can only resign. I will find another job in River City."

After a discussion, Raelynn went back to the rental apartment and sat around for a while before leaving.

Ryder then sent her to the bus stop.

He was a little worried about his beautiful sister returning home alone.

"Raelynn, how about I send you to your friend's house?" He was still worried.

Raelynn knew that he was just concerned for her. "No, Ryder, it's okay. I have your number now, I'll send you the addresses of some houses later, you can go there tomorrow and ask for more details."

Chapter 2338

"Raelynn, don't worry. I'll go look around at the areas you've mentioned tomorrow," Ryder said happily. As soon as he thought about the fact that he could live together with his sister, he was filled with joy.

Raelynn nodded and asked, "By the way, Ryder, do you hate Rory?"

Upon hearing this name, Ryder frowned, his handsome face filled with distaste. "Please don't mention her. She is an ingrate who doesn't know how to do anything else apart from eat and rest. Not only does she not work, she scolds our mother and makes fun of her. We don't have a father, but she's always fantasized that he was the boss of a big corporate, and that we would be able to enjoy a good life in the future."

"She pisses me off every time she talks about this! With how she is, no matter how good our life is, she would ruin it anyway!"

"Mom's salary is used to pay rent, and she only has one or two hundred dollars left to buy some necessities. However, all that has fallen into Rory's hands!"

"I still remember what her parents said when they came to pick her up. She said that from today on, she was the daughter of a rich family. She would have nothing to do with this family in the future."

"She even told us not to talk to her if we ever met again, so as to not embarrass her. She thinks that we're below her, and that we're not worthy of talking to her."

"I finally realized that the fruit doesn't fall far from the tree. She has dirty blood flowing in her veins."

Raelynn could understand Ryder's strong emotions. She had only met Rory for the first time yesterday, and she had already left a bad impression.

"Ryder, the bus is here. You can head back first. The past is the past, don't indulge yourself in it."

Ryder reminded her, "Okay, take care! Call me when you've reached."

Raelynn nodded before she got on the bus.

Ryder was reluctant to leave. When the bus had gone a distance away, only then did he turn away.

Without a traffic jam at night, Raelynn returned to Clara's house forty minutes later.

It was Clara's mother who opened the door for her.

"Nice to meet you, Mrs. Hansen!"

"Oh, Raelynn, it's you! Come in quickly. Just now, Clara was nagging about calling you just now."

Raelynn entered.

She said apologetically, "Sorry, Auntie, I've made you worry."

Mrs. Hansen also knew about her situation.

She and Clara were high school classmates. Although they hadn't seen each other in the past few years, they would send each other messages almost every two days. They would also call each other when they had the time.

Mrs. Hansen smiled. "Raelynn, there's no need for formalities."

"Rae, you're here." Clara walked out of the room with a facial mask on her face.

"Yes! I've come over to get my luggage. I plan to stay in the hotel for a few days first." If she were to rent a place somewhere, the deposit would be troublesome too.

She would look for a hotel nearby her workplace. Since she had decided on buying a house, she should settle that first.

Clara looked at her and pulled her over to the sofa. "Rae, why are you staying in a hotel? It's more convenient to rent a house."

Raelynn told Clara about meeting her mother and brother tonight. She also told her that she wanted to buy a house.

Clara had always known that Raelynn had always been very frugal. It was not surprising that she had managed to save up the money to buy a house.

Moreover, she could make a lot of money by providing online lessons. She was good at both English and mathematics!

Hearing this, Aunt Tang also remarked, "Raelynn, it's a big deal to buy a house. You must be observant when you take a look at the house, don't fall into the traps of those land developers! It's not easy to build houses nowadays, you never know what tricks they have up their sleeves."

Raelynn also knew about this. Although she had grown up in the Edwards family and they weren't extremely rich, they were better off than average.

Although she grew up in such a family, she had developed good habits and values, contrary to what her adoptive parents had taught her.

When she was in middle school, she chose to live in the dorms.

She also lived in the dorms during high school, so she barely spent time with her adoptive parents.

When she found out that they weren't her biological parents, she instantly realized that she could only rely on herself in this world. Only then, will she never fall.

Without the talent or brains, she could only start early and work very, very hard, and face all her challenges head on. That was how she made it this far.

She had experienced too much. She had learned some of these tricks before, so she could probably handle them.

"Mrs. Hansen, don't worry. I will be careful."

"Then I'm relieved."

The three of them chatted for a while longer. Clara asked Raelynn to stay with them, but she refused. She did not want to bother Clara's family.

She took her luggage, took a taxi to a hotel near the company, and booked a room to live in.

She packed up her things and had already communicated with the receptionist that she would have a long stay here.

After putting away her personal belongings, she went to the bathroom to take a shower. She had been busy all night and was extremely tired. She fell on the bed and looked at the ceiling. The blurred scene of last night came back to her mind.

She suddenly sat up. By the way, should she investigate who had taken away her first time?

After a while, Raelynn lay back down again. She laughed at herself. So what if she found out who it was?

As the stars and the moon met, the night was extremely silent.

In a high-end restaurant, Kenneth was sitting before a French window. His handsome face was reflected on the window, looking solemn and cold.

His dark eyes were like the cold winter night, which was daunting!

A middle-aged man stood in front of him. He was the manager of this restaurant.

He lowered his head and stood there trembling. It had been five minutes since Mr. Alwynn sat here. He sat there for five minutes without saying a word.

Luke stood behind Kenneth, wondering what he was going to do.

Henrick had shares in this restaurant. It tasted good and was located not far from the company. The president liked this restaurant very much. Sometimes, when he received partners, he would choose this restaurant.

That night, instead of eating, the president only came here to enjoy the night view. It was a little strange.

In fact, Kenneth had been thinking about what had happened last night. He didn't expect that what had happened the night before would affect him more than the extent that he had imagined.

After a while, he slowly looked away from the window and looked at the manager.

The manager's heart skipped a beat. He knew in his heart that Kenneth had come for something.

"Mr. Brown, you should be very clear about what happened last night, right? Who did something to my meal?" His voice was calm and piercingly cold.

Luke fell into confusion. What was he talking about?

He suddenly looked at Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown was already sweating profusely.

Luke started sweating. "Mr. Brown, you're done for!" he thought to himself.

Chapter 2339

Mr. Brown didn't know what to say. He felt instant regret for being so money-hungry, which led to the current situation.

"Mr. Brown, did I not make myself clear?" Kenneth said blandly.

Mr. Brown couldn't help but tremble in fear. He knew that the young master in front of him was as cruel as his father.

They also knew how fearsome their way of doing things was.

Mr. Brown quivered as he stammered his answer, "Mr. Alwynn, I'm sorry, I was wrong. I was forced to do this. I'm not sure if you know about this, but Dakota, Mr. Myer's daughter, had fallen for you at first sight. My mom is sick in the hospital, so he threatened me with that and forced me to add something into your food. Since you did not take alcohol, the effects of the drug had been greatly reduced when added to the dishes instead of drinks."

"Later on, when you entered the suite at the hotel opposite here, Miss Myers couldn't manage to enter. Therefore, I have no idea what happened after that."

Kenneth nodded understandingly. "Okay, I know what happened now. There will be a new manager here tomorrow to resume your work. You love working for others so much that you've lost your own job. Next time, think before you do something so stupid."

After saying that, he got up and left.

Mr. Brown only dared to stand up when he saw that Kenneth was completely out of sight.

He spat in the direction that Kenneth had left in.

"Bah! Who the hell do you think you are? So what if you're rich, so what if I've lost my job? Do you think that I won't be able to live after leaving this job?" Mr. Brown glared after him.

After entering the elevator, Luke remarked, "Mr. Kenneth, Mr. Brown seems to be threatened."

Kenneth asked him expressionlessly, "Do you sympathize with him?"

"It's not that I sympathize with him. I just feel that he had been forced to do so."

Kenneth glanced sideways at him and continued, "With your intelligence, you'll be the next person to be used. Dominic had dared to do such a thing, which means that he was given a huge sum of money. Even if someone found out about it, he has a way out."

"Oh..." Luke was very surprised. He really was stupid. He should've thought about that way earlier.

"No, Mr. Kenneth, then last night you..."

"I'm fine!" Kenneth interrupted him coldly.

"Oh, okay!" Luke stole a glance at the expressionless Kenneth.

Why did Kenneth go to the wrong room the night before then?

Luke wanted to know, but he didn't dare to ask!

If he really had been drugged yesterday, how did he solve the problem?

Ugh...

He was so curious!

When Kenneth came out, he seemed to have been half naked.

He didn't look very well. Luke was lost in his imagination.

Could it be that Miss Five-finger had solved the problem?

Eh!

That didn't seem right.

Something was off.

On the way back, Kenneth drove himself instead of asking Luke to send him home.

As soon as he got home, loud music entered his ears.

Kenneth fell speechless.

Without their parents home, those three must be having the time of their lives.

He pushed the door open and saw his three younger brothers dancing wildly in the living room.

As expected!

His father took the burden off his shoulder and really started traveling the world.

Even his grandparents had gone.

It was just that the direction was different.

Seeing that their big brother had returned, the three brothers immediately stopped.

"Kenneth, you're back." Andrew immediately poured him a glass of warm water.

Kenneth accepted the glass of water and glanced at him.

"Have you finished your homework?" he asked blandly.

"I finished it in school," Andrew replied.

"Then sleep early and develop healthy living habits. It's important for you," Kenneth continued.

"Hehe..." Adriel swiftly turned around and sat next to him. "Kenneth, Mom and Dad are not home. Just let us play for a while longer. We've agreed to go for basketball on the weekend with Ayman and Cecil, will you go with us? You're really good at it!"

Kenneth shook his head. "No."

Adriel looked disappointed. "Kenneth, you've been back for a few months now but you never hang out with us. You're so bad!"

Kenneth was speechless. He pinched his eyebrows slightly and felt that it was too reckless of him to take the responsibility that had previously been on his father's shoulder too early.

In fact, he hadn't enjoyed himself thoroughly!

"Fine, I'll go with you guys."

His parents were not at home, so he was responsible for taking care of his three younger brothers.

The next day, Raelynn headed to her office early. She treasured her office very much and kept it extremely clean and tidy.

She had received the work that was assigned to the design team through the group chat on her phone.

After she cleaned up her office, Faith informed the group that there would be a meeting at 10 o'clock.

Raelynn felt that she was extremely lucky. It was very rare that a fresh graduate like her would be hired as a full-time designer right away. They would usually require at least three to five years of experience before actually qualifying as a designer.

She knew very well that the market was very challenging and small. When she was abroad, she worked very hard. She was talented in painting since she was a child. Every week, she would head over to fashion shows to get inspiration. Without all that experience, she would not have been able to achieve her dreams so soon.

When the time came, she went to the meeting room.

The meeting ended in 20 minutes after Faith mentioned several important events.

Raelynn then returned to her office. She wanted to change her color palette and prepare to hand it over to Kenneth.

She had had a good sleep last night and headed out early this morning. She had walked to the company and gained a lot of inspiration.

"Miss Edwards!" Magnolia suddenly called out to her.

Raelynn turned around and looked at her. "Miss Oakley, what's the matter?"

With a proud face, Miss Oakley handed the drawing in her hands to Raelynn and said in a proud voice, "Send these drawings to the stylist and see if there is anything that needs to be modified."

Raelynn frowned and refused. "Miss Oakley, I'm sorry. This is not my job. I still have work to do. I can't help you with this."

"Haha..." Magnolia sneered. "Your draft has been rejected. What else do you have to do now? I'm telling you, you must do this. At three o'clock, Mr. Kenneth will decide."

As Magnolia spoke, she stuffed the album in her hand into the arms of Raelynn, turned around, and proudly walked away with her head raised.

Raelynn narrowed her eyes and sent the drawing that Magnolia gave her back to her desk.

There were principles that she had to adhere to. She was new here, but she would not be so easily bullied. She was not here at their beck and call.

She returned to her own office and continued altering her design.

Magnolia arrived at the tea room, and Faith was there as well.

Faith looked at Magnolia and asked, "Magnolia, why are you still here? We must present the designs to Mr. Kenneth today."

Magnolia smiled and said, "Faith, I have asked Raelynn to do it."

Faith was a little worried. She didn't dare to be careless at work.

"Are you sure that she can do it well? After all, she is a newcomer. If she messed things up, you know that the consequences would be unimaginable."

Chapter 2340

Magnolia smiled and said, "Don't you worry. Before she even gets to work, she must've familiarized herself with the processes at the designing department of the Alwynn Group. She should know what to do, and how to do it."

"Don't worry. She's just a nobody with no family background. Even if we take advantage of her, she can only take it. Who would wear the clothes that she designs when her style is so poor?"

Magnolia had always looked down on the poor, especially when they were beautiful.

Faith looked at Magnolia and her eyes flashed. "Magnolia, don't say that. Everyone is equal."

Magnolia smiled and replied in a mocking tone, "Just how are we equal? Look at how she's dressed."

Faith remained silent.

Who knew what would happen in the end?

Raelynn was beautiful inside out, and she had a gorgeous smile. A girl like her was a guy magnet.

Faith said, "Since Miss Edwards will be taking care of that, let's head over to the market later, we have something to do there."

"Okay!" Magnolia smiled and left with Faith.

After Raelynn finished lunch, she had carefully modified all the colors and styles and planned to send them to Kenneth in the afternoon.

Kenneth had an inspection at the mall today, so he would be back at three o'clock in the afternoon.

With this time, she downloaded a room source app and found a second-hand room nearby.

Ryder, who had been looking around as well, gave her a call as well.

"Rae, are you free for a call now?" Ryder asked with a smile. His voice was soothing to the ears, just like the sun that shines after the rain is gone.

Raelynn smiled and answered, "Yes, I have finished my work."

"I've found a place with three rooms on the second floor, and there's a yard. It's also sealed by glass, so no one would be able to litter there, don't you worry. It's around sixty square feet, do you want to come over and take a look?"

When she heard that there was a yard, she instantly grew intrigued.

She loved houses with a mini yard, but she was worried about the lighting.

"Ryder, what about the lighting?"

"I'm heading over to check it out right now, the agent has agreed to take me there. I'll check the overall lighting, but the agent has informed me that since it's near the streets, the lighting is not bad."

Raelynn said, "Okay! Then you go and have a look first. I'll be off work at half past five. I'll come and find you when the time comes. If you like it, we'll visit it again."

Ryder quickly agreed.

After hanging up the phone, Raelynn was very excited. She searched the nearby houses and soon found the house on the second floor that Ryder had mentioned. It had been newly renovated. The extended courtyard could be used to raise flowers and grass, and she could also sit down and enjoy some tea.

She found that the price was fair as well.

She looked at the details of the place. The owner was in urgent need of cash, and if she paid the full amount, she would only be left with six thousand dollars. If she took out a loan, the owner requested an additional 40 thousand, and she would have to pay interest as well.

6000 dollars was enough for her to get through a month, but what about the furniture? It seemed that there was only a sofa inside and nothing else.

She could only wait until next month's salary.

In order to earn enough money, Raelynn searched the nearby houses again, but there was no other suitable house other than the one on the second floor.

Although the house was small, there was a courtyard. They could sit down and drink tea in the small courtyard in summer. There was a shop below, so it would be a little noisy, but it would be very convenient for them to get their groceries. It was much better than the place that her mother was currently staying at.

Raelynn was very tempted, and she sent a photo to Clara for her reference.

Soon, Clara replied with a message.

"Rae, this place seems very good. However, you need to check about the property rights, that courtyard doesn't seem to meet the requirements. The good thing is, the houses here won't be forcibly removed for at least another twenty years or so, it's good that there's a mini courtyard."

Raelynn also thought the same.

"Clara, I'll take a look after work."

"Rae, I know that you're in a hurry now, but you can't be too obvious with it. Take a look at other places first, the agent will come up with several suggestions in order to make a successful deal anyway."

Raelynn also thought the same.

"Okay, Clara, I got it."

Time passed quickly. When it was three o'clock, Raelynn went to the top floor to look for Kenneth.

Magnolia and Faith also went to the top floor office.

When Magnolia returned, she did not think much about it when she saw the Forging Design on her desk. She thought that it was from Raelynn, so she carried it up with her.

"Miss Edwards, what can I do for you?"

Faith looked at her. Didn't she know that she couldn't come up here at will?

Raelynn knew that Faith was definitely not happy with this explanation.

However, if she didn't explain, it would also make Faith misunderstand in the future.

"Miss Mason, during the meeting yesterday morning, Mr. Kenneth left me behind and told me about the color problem. It has been changed now. Mr. Kenneth asked me to send it to him directly."

Yes, Kenneth was the one to take the blame.

No matter what she said, Faith would not be happy with it . Once this matter was confirmed, Faith would find out. It would be ridiculous to lie about this.

Sure enough, in the next second, Faith's face suddenly darkened. Kenneth had directly skipped her. So, had Kenneth attached great importance to Raelynn?

Raelynn did not explain much. In the workplace, friendship was cheap and true ability was the only thing that mattered.

Upon hearing this, Magnolia chuckled. "Miss Edwards, you're really something else. Just what seducing techniques did you use on Mr. Kenneth for him to offer personal guidance?"

"She convinced me to do so with her own work, do you have any problems with that?" A cold voice rang.

The three of them turned around at the same time and saw Kenneth walking over elegantly.

He had on a white dress shirt and black pants, which was a classic pairing. His face looked like it had been carved by God himself, and there was a cold glint in his eyes as he glanced at Magnolia.

When Raelynn saw him like this, she would unconsciously think of the man from that night.

Magnolia's expression fell. She felt that she had been caught at an awkward position as Kenneth had heard those words come out from her mouth. The Alwynn family was fond of gentle women, and she had always acted the part in front of him.

Kenneth and Luke entered the office, and the three of them followed after silently.

Kenneth sat on the sofa, and Luke immediately handed him a glass of ice-cold mineral water.

Kenneth opened the bottle cap and took a sip. The coldness hit him immediately.

He put the remaining half of the water back on the table.

"Miss Mason, show me the work that was sent to me before."

Magnolia quickly handed it over.

Raelynn thought to herself, "Oh god, they were going to have a fight on the spot!"

"Bang..." Kenneth threw the drawing back. "Why is it still the same one?"
