

Gluey Love 2361

Chapter 2361

Kenneth looked at the delicate and cold face in front of him that had a natural luster over her skin. Her blurred and charming eyes were clear. She had a cute straight nose, and her red and sexy lips were like roses, with a kind of irresistible fragrance, making people want to kiss her.

"Beautiful!" Kenneth choked out the word as if he had been bewitched.

She was beautiful, gorgeous, charming, cute, and lovely!

There was no doubt about that.

The first time he saw her, he knew that she was beautiful!

"Haha..." Raelynn's charming eyes shone, and her blurred gaze was directly and firmly fixed on Kenneth's handsome face.

"Sir, I know you. You are a b*stard. You bullied me that night. I remember your scent. Yes, it's the smell of your body. It smells so good."

Raelynn was really drunk, but even in that state, she still clearly remembered that the man's scent that night overlapped with the man in front of her. Everything she said seemed to be true.

Kenneth's heart tightened. He thought that she couldn't remember anything. When she was sober, she looked at him as if nothing had happened, but when she was drunk, she remembered everything.

Kenneth's dark eyes were filled with strong emotions, and there was a strong sense of danger.

Andrew wanted to introduce Raelynn to Boris?

He narrowed his eyes with an unfathomable look.

Boris was innocent and speechless:" What were you talking about? I didn't know anything."

"Sir, you were so great that night!" As Raelynn spoke, she pouted unhappily.

"But you're a b*stard. It was my first time, but you didn't care about me at all. Jerk, b*stard, don't let me see you again. If I see you again, I'll definitely destroy you."

Raelynn struggled to get out of Kenneth's arms.

Kenneth's eyes grew darker and darker. It was her first time, but wasn't it also his?

Destroy him?

Where did this little woman get her confidence and courage?

Raelynn staggered forward a few steps and suddenly stopped to think with her eyes narrowed. She seemed to have forgotten something. She suddenly turned around and saw Kenneth standing behind her.

She smiled foolishly again. "Hey, how could I forget you? Come home with me quickly. You must be responsible for me since you took my first time."

Kenneth was speechless. How much did she drink?

He walked over and asked, "Where do you live? I'll send you back."

Hearing this, Raelynn pouted her red lips and looked sad. "I don't have a home. I don't have a home..." Her voice became softer and softer, and her choked sobs were very endearing.

Feeling a little helpless, Kenneth pulled her along and said, "Come with me."

Raelynn followed him into the car and burped a few times.

Kenneth was a little disgusted. He didn't know how to drink, nor did he like alcohol.

When they got in the car, Raelynn was still restless.

"Sir, what's your name?"

"Kenneth," he replied coldly.

Raelynn squinted her eyes and tilted her head to think for a while. "That name is a little familiar. The president of our company has that name too, but he's cold, like a thousand-year-old iceberg."

Kenneth tightened his grip on the steering wheel.

He was like a thousand-year-old iceberg?

Haha...

How could she dare to...

He was only a little angry, only a little!

"Kenneth, do you have a girlfriend?" Raelynn fiddled with her seat belt. She was already completely drunk, so what she said was based on her instinctive reaction.

Kenneth replied, "No!"

Raelynn giggled and said, "Kenneth, I don't have a boyfriend either. Do you want to be my boyfriend? Anyway, you have to be responsible for me, so you must be responsible!"

As she spoke, she loosened her seat belt and used both hands to pinch his handsome face.

Kenneth frowned and drove seriously, letting her hands roam freely across his face.

"It feels so good! It's exactly the same as that night," Raelynn murmured to herself.

Kenneth was speechless. It turned out she was fully aware of what happened that night after getting drunk.

When she was sober, she played dumb.

Kenneth moved her hand away and stated in a deep voice, "Raelynn, sit down. I'll be responsible for you."

Yes, when he thought that she was going to be introduced to Boris, he was very unhappy.

Raelynn tilted her head to look at him and said with a smile, "You're the one who said it. Don't go back on your word."

"Yes!" Kenneth nodded calmly.

He didn't know whether he liked the woman in front of him or not, but when he thought of how she was going to fall in love with another man, he was very unhappy. Because she gave him her first time, he had an inexplicable feeling for her.

Kenneth brought Raelynn to the hotel where he usually stayed and took the elevator directly to the presidential suite on the top floor.

Kenneth helped her in and placed her on the large bed. She said, "Raelynn, rest here tonight. Get up tomorrow and go to work."

Hearing this, Raelynn asked, "Sir, are you leaving?"

Kenneth was speechless. She had forgotten about him again.

He replied, "Yes!"

Raelynn quickly stood up. "Sir, don't go. Stay with me. I'm so lonely."

In response to her bold and clingy invitation, Kenneth's heart instantly felt suffocated.

Did this woman know what she was doing?

Raelynn hugged Kenneth and clung to him like an octopus.

A faint fragrance suddenly lingered around him, making him feel like he was in a trance.

The vague memory of that night and the feeling of ecstasy unconsciously climbed all over his body, like entangled vines tightly encircling him.

Kenneth stood there quietly and did not dare to move, but Raelynn kept rubbing herself against him. After a while, she found that only she was moving, while he was like a piece of wood.

Raelynn tiptoed and kissed his chin. She murmured, "Why are you so tall? I can't even kiss you."

Raelynn had a habit whereby as long as the person who was drinking with her accompanied her the whole time, she would be very quiet. Once that person left her sight, she would become crazy, and that was why things happened that day. Moreover, she did not know what she was doing at all.

It would also gradually awaken some things in the depths of her memory.

Hearing that, Kenneth couldn't help smiling. He lowered his head and looked at her fair and tender face that was full of dissatisfaction. A pair of clear eyes clearly reflected his appearance.

The two of them were very close to each other. He could kiss her red and soft lips just by lowering his head.

Kenneth gulped. It was a lie to say that he was not tempted, but he couldn't take advantage of her.

Otherwise, he and Raelynn couldn't even be friends.

"Sir, I really liked your madness that night, hehe..." Raelynn did not give up.

Chapter 2362

Kenneth looked at her with his dark eyes. Gradually, the darkness in his eyes turned into a blazing flame, as his eyes burned with desire for her.

"Raelynn, let go of me." Kenneth's voice was very low.

His black eyes, which seemed to be burning with flames, were fixed on her charming and beautiful face.

"No, I won't. What can you do to me?" Raelynn giggled and rubbed her lips against his firm chest.

Kenneth couldn't help gulping again. Her hands, which were tightly holding his waist, were soft and hot.

Raelynn giggled, "Hehe... I finally found you..."

She began to talk nonsense, but she didn't let go of Kenneth.

Raelynn only felt that she was very warm and safe in his arms and did not want to leave. Not only that, but her soft fingers became more and more restless.

Kenneth's heart was about to jump out of his chest after being tortured by her.

He lowered his head and looked at her with a deep gaze. "Raelynn, you asked for it."

Kenneth had already turned on his mobile phone and recorded everything that had happened just now. His phone was a brand new, unreleased phone, and it had 360-degree cameras that could follow and capture scenes even if it was dark. He wanted to let Raelynn see what kind of person she was after she got drunk.

Let's see if she dared to drink again in the future.

"Sir, your embrace is so warm, isn't it?" Raelynn's coquettish voice was soft and lovely. As she spoke, she hugged Kenneth even tighter like a sloth, not letting go.

Her red lips kissed him clumsily.

In the end, she got what she wanted.

In the pitch-black room, Raelynn made joyful and ambiguous noises... It was a real drunken life.

In the darkness, the male voice was very hoarse. "Raelynn, who am I?"

Raelynn smiled. "A handsome man."

Kenneth's expression darkened. He tried his best to punish her, but she still didn't know who he was.

Kenneth began to whisper into her ear, "Remember, my name is Kenneth Alwynn."

Raelynn: "I remember, Kenneth Alwynn! Hehe... Hehe..."

A long time later, the man's deep male voice let out a deep sigh...

Ring, Ring, Ring...

Ring, Ring, Ring...

Ring, Ring, Ring...

Raelynn's mobile phone rang three times, but she didn't hear it.

Another 10 minutes passed.

Ring, Ring, Ring...

Ring, Ring, Ring... The crisp sound of the alarm clock made people feel much better in the early morning.

Only then did Raelynn lazily open her eyes.

Hiss!

She felt like she was in so much pain, as if she had run for 3,000 meters.

For a moment, she was in a daze. When she saw the strange environment, she blinked her bleary eyes:" Who was I? Where was I?"

She blinked again and carefully saw everything in the room. It was a lovely morning, and the morning light filled the whole room, dyeing it a warm orange.

Occasionally, the wind blew in, and the beige curtains on the French windows rippled like waves.

Raelynn blinked her eyes again. Everything that had happened earlier appeared in front of her.

This... was not a dream!

Raelynn moved and felt someone behind her holding her. A pair of strong arms were wrapped around her waist.

There was a faint breathing sound above her head.

Raelynn suddenly froze.

She didn't even know what she had done after she got drunk, but after waking up, she remembered everything that had happened the night before. It was all her.

A monster-like existence!

As long as she sobered up, she could remember everything that had happened the previous night clearly.

"Sir, you are so handsome."

"Sir, am I beautiful?"

"Sir, you're the man from the hotel from the other night. You have to be responsible for me."

"Sir, I finally found you."

.....

Even at the most emotional moment.

The low male voice asked her, "Raelynn, who am I?"

Raelynn said, "Sir."

The words were still ringing in her ears. "Remember, my name is Kenneth Alwynn."

Raelynn wanted to die on the spot.

If time could be reversed, if she could travel through time and space, she wanted to go back to seven o'clock the previous night.

She had never seen Clara or Kenneth.

It was too embarrassing, too shameful, too unrestrained. How could she be so unrestrained in front of him?

It was too terrifying. She was truly scared of herself.

Forget it, she'd better bite her tongue and end her own life.

She no longer had the courage to live in this world.

How could she do such a thing?

She had forcibly knocked Kenneth down and shouted shamelessly, "Sir, you're amazing!"

Ah, ah, ah, ah...

Raelynn closed her eyes. "I'm dead!"

She wanted to stick a piece of paper on her forehead that said, "Do not disturb!"

Thinking of the person behind her, Raelynn's eyes moved backwards inch by inch. What came into her sight was a perfect, fair, and handsome face. She had a clear view with no blind spots. His sexy lips were straight and he had a straight nose. His eyes were closed and his eyelashes were long and curly; it wasn't exaggerated to say that his eyelashes were like a swing.

D*mn it, who else could it be but Kenneth?

Oh god!

Did she sleep with Kenneth?

No, no, no, last time, it was also this b*stard.

However, the last time was different from this time. This time, it was obvious that she was the one who had pulled Kenneth.

He had been forced to do so.

Raelynn suddenly had an idea and gently pulled the big hand around her waist away.

Then, she moved away little by little.

Feeling that she was naked, Raelynn thought of ending her life again.

However, that approach did not seem to work.

She was still alive.

She wanted to live, so she had to run away.

Things had already happened, and she was waiting to lie down and be laughed at.

Only those who were shameless could have a place in the world.

Raelynn comforted herself in her heart.

She looked around for her clothes, but where were they?

Only Kenneth's white shirt was seen not far away, and they made a great reminder of the previous night. Two diamond buttons had fallen next to the bed.

That reminded Raelynn of her savage spirit the previous night. When she went crazy, even men could not compete with her.

Yes, she was the best, and that day was a day full of vitality.

It was clear that Kenneth's white shirt had become her only life-saving straw.

As long as she put it on and found her clothes, she could leave here.

As long as she escaped successfully and refused to admit it afterwards, what could Kenneth do to her?

Anyway, she was the one who had suffered a loss. He should stay far away from her since he had enjoyed her and was satisfied.

Thinking of this, Raelynn felt that this decision was very admirable.

Glancing at the distance of his shirt, she slowly stretched out her foot and slowly hooked it with her toes. As she was about to succeed, her smile was more brilliant than the sun.

After successfully putting on the shirt, Raelynn grinned and bent over to look for her clothes.

She had just taken a few steps when she accidentally stepped on something on the floor. She grimaced in pain, but she couldn't care less.

She found her clothes and quietly tiptoed to the bathroom.

However, a deep voice came from behind. "Are you going to run away again?"

Chapter 2363

Hearing that deep and familiar voice, Raelynn was petrified right there and then.

It was over!

She was caught!

"God, please give me a chance at survival," she begged.

Just a little bit more and she would have been able to escape.

Kenneth had woken up a long time ago, but he lay still without moving a muscle when he saw the petite woman in his arms still deep in slumber.

He partly also wanted to observe what she would do when she woke up. Unexpectedly, she was a stubborn one who attempted to escape yet again.

"Isn't it about time you came back here?" His voice was low, and in its depths was anger.

Raelynn's hunched figure sat down, bare-legged.

No, no, no, she didn't hear anything, she could continue going forward.

She closed her eyes and continued walking away.

Kenneth was stupefied.

"Raelynn, do you think you can run?"

Those words instantly triggered Raelynn.

She straightened up quickly, turning to look at the man sitting on the bed with a flustered expression. The quilt covered up till his waist, revealing his toned upper body alluringly.

Raelynn was pale, her hair tousled. Her beautiful, doe-like eyes were pruned wide open in anger. Most eye-catching of all were her rosy lips, ravaged yet beautiful, like a rose.

When Kenneth thought of that soft touch, his gaze burned.

Raelynn withered under that passionate look. She peered away and mumbled, "I-I just wanted to use the bathroom."

Raelynn ignored the aches in her body.

The morning sun blazed brightly; the entire room was bathed in sunlight.

Kenneth's fair skin was dyed a bronze shade. His enticing scent wafted towards Raelynn.

The events of the previous night replayed in her mind, frame by frame.

Raelynn was quiet. She thought to herself, "Too sexy."

However, a wave of shame instantly washed over her. She wanted to kill herself on the spot, but she lacked the fortitude.

Kenneth's gaze on her was complex. He did not believe her claim.

Raelynn was still wearing his pajamas. She was not short, but his shirt was long enough to cover her up.

"Come back." Kenneth's tone did not leave any room for debate.

Raelynn regretted her impulsive courage. She should have run out instantly.

"W-Why?" Raelynn stepped back warily.

Kenneth cracked a smile. His charming face revealed that he was in a good mood.

"Come here." Kenneth was as domineering as ever.

"I won't." Raelynn's temper flared. "I won't go. What can you do to me?"

Kenneth narrowed his eyes, radiating a dangerous aura. "Aren't we going to have a proper talk about what happened last night?"

Raelynn's heart skipped a beat.

She didn't dare to meet his gaze. "What... what happened last night? Last night... By the way, why did you bring me to the hotel?" Raelynn queried soulfully.

Kenneth sneered and slowly leaned against the bed.

It was the first time that he had ravished her completely when he was sober. The feeling was worlds apart from the other night.

It made his soul tremble; it gave him unprecedented satisfaction.

That kind of satisfaction comforted his spirit like never before. It wound its way into the depths of his heart, causing him to be reluctant to give her up.

Raelynn made no move and stood still where she was.

All of a sudden, the light and shadows in the room flickered. Everything went dark for Raelynn. Her feet were swept off the ground, right into Kenneth's arms. He moved so quickly that she was completely taken by surprise.

"Ah..." Her mind went blank.

A moment later, they were both lying under the quilt.

Raelynn's heart carried all sorts of emotions. She fumed when she saw Kenneth's smile reaching his eyes.

"Bastard, Kenneth, did you do it intentionally? You were the one at the hotel last time, weren't you?" There was no sense in beating around the bush since it had already come to that juncture.

Kenneth was not of a mind to hide it from her and fuel the unnecessary misunderstanding.

Kenneth was a man who took responsibility for his actions.

"You finally remember, hmm!" Kenneth's sultry voice sounded a little playful.

"Hmph! You've recognized me since long ago, but you didn't say anything. You bastard." Raelynn pounded his chest hard a few times.

Although current society was quite open about such matters, Raelynn was still conservative. She placed great importance on her virginity, yet she had lost it. No amount of tears would change that. She could only acknowledge the reality.

Her drunkenness the previous night had led her to remember Kenneth.

No wonder she had always thought that he seemed familiar. Her memory had always been spectacular.

Kenneth looked sincerely at her sorrowful face, and apologized from the bottom of his heart. "I'm sorry. It was my fault last time. I was drugged and went to the wrong room, and you were drunk, so things eventually happened that way. I met you while going somewhere last night. I was afraid that you would be in danger, so I had to bring you to this hotel. I don't know how much you remember, but after I brought you here, you didn't let me go." Kenneth glanced at her with a playful smile and held her in his arms. Damn it, he liked the intimate feeling he was experiencing.

Raelynn said nothing at first. To her embarrassment, she remembered everything. Well, she wouldn't admit it.

"I don't recall." She denied it and lowered her gaze at the same time, not daring to look into his piercing eyes.

"Haha..." A pleasant laugh came from the top of her head. Raelynn became more nervous and shrank into his arms like a turtle.

Being drunk and being sober in his arms were two different things. When drunk, she knew nothing and could do whatever she wanted.

When she was awake, her five senses were particularly sensitive. For example, his very breath could affect her emotions right then.

"Raelynn, you don't remember, but I do."

Raelynn thought to herself, "Damn bastard!"

Why did he have to remember things so clearly?

"Raelynn, I will be accountable for it all."

Those words stunned Raelynn. She recalled him saying similar things the night before.

She suddenly looked up at him. Her big eyes were glistening adorably.

Kenneth appeared dead serious, without even so much as a hint that he was joking.

"Do you really mean that?" she asked mechanically.

Kenneth nodded slightly, a resolute look in his eyes. In a steady tone, he said, "Yes, I won't follow the same path as my father and my brother. My father was also framed in the hotel, and my mother was pregnant with us siblings for six years. My brother suffered the same fate and missed seven years of his child growing up." At that, Kenneth's mood dimmed. He gazed deeply at Raelynn.

After a while, he continued, "Me too. I was also set up that night. We didn't use protection twice. I was afraid that you would get pregnant. Love can be fostered. I don't hate you. These are my true feelings."

Kenneth thought for a moment and added, "Raelynn, will you give me a chance? I don't know what love is, but I will try my best to learn how to love you."

Raelynn was stunned. Did Kenneth just confess to her?

At the very least, that bastard was honest and had a good character. He wasn't like those men who would go back on their word after they had their fun.

Compared to those men, Kenneth was much better.

What should she do?

She was moved.

She also liked responsible men like Kenneth very much.

However, Raelynn was very worried. She asked seriously, "Kenneth, what if you try your best but still can't fall in love with me?"

Chapter 2364

Kenneth had already thought about that as soon as he woke up.

He said, "I've already given that some thought. What I believe is that as long as I try hard, you will reciprocate."

After he finished speaking, Kenneth paused for a moment. He laughed at himself internally. If he alone were to work hard, that would be difficult to foster any love!

The key point was whether Raelynn liked him or not.

Raelynn asked, "You're that confident?"

Kenneth's self-assured smile was bright. "I've been that confident since I was a child." But at that moment, his confidence wavered.

Because he didn't know if Raelynn would like him.

"Mean!" Raelynn pounded him. "I'm still angry, yet you actually confessed your love to me."

Raelynn grew haughty.

But in her eyes, Kenneth was really a good man.

Kenneth suddenly turned over and wrapped her in his arms fiercely.

Raelynn struggled instinctively and looked at him, full of anxiety. "Kenneth, what are you trying to do?"

Kenneth smiled wickedly. "What do you think?"

Raelynn dared not say a word. If she had the gall to say something like that, her name wouldn't be Raelynn!

"Last night, you you were drunk. Now that you're sober, let's go for one more round so you can thoroughly feel the sensations. If you don't like it, you can tell me."

That was just how Kenneth was. Such things were usually tiptoed around, but he approached it in a way that gave the impression of a business negotiation.

Raelynn was taken aback and gaped at Kenneth in a daze.

Kenneth smiled. "Are you scared?"

Raelynn bit her tongue. Provocation, undisguised provocation.

Raelynn quickly found a good reason to avoid it "No, I have to go to work. Skipping work with you will get me scolded by the entire design department."

"I've already asked Luke to take leave for you. You don't have to go to the office today."

Raelynn's eyes widened again. Even her last escape route was blocked off.

Her waist was sore and her back hurt. How could she be in the mood for it?

"But I'm not like you. You talk about it like it's as simple as eating."

Kenneth's brows twitched. Thinking back to the lack of confidence he felt moments ago, he almost wanted to prove her feelings for him right there and then.

He didn't say anything, merely leaned over and kissed her lips. He wanted to prove it and let her feel it herself.

Raelynn was quiet too.

Just as Kenneth was about to make a move, he stopped.

Kenneth shifted his handsome face slightly and said in a hoarse voice, "You didn't refuse me just now."

Raelynn asked, "You... you gave me a choice?"

But why did she feel disappointed when he left her?

That feeling was strange.

Kenneth replied, "No, let's do it again."

Raelynn was silent. Was this some sort of bargain?

That time, there was no opportunity for Raelynn to offer a reaction.

She was captured and ravaged by him swiftly.

When Raelynn woke up again, it was already past three o'clock in the afternoon.

Raelynn felt her whole body ache.

She looked to her side and found no one.

She blinked her dry eyes and took another look to confirm that.

Once again, a sense of loss welled up in her heart.

The sheets around her were already cold.

So, he had gone out long ago?

Raelynn slowly got up and saw a note on the bedside table. She quickly grabbed it, seeing a few words written on the piece of paper.

[Look at your phone].

She picked up her phone and unlocked it. She had an unread message.

She glanced at the contact which said 'Future Husband'.

Raelynn's mind dissolved into a frenzy. When did she have a future husband in her contacts?

She was dazed for a moment before she realized that it was Kenneth who had saved his contact number on her phone.

She clicked on the message. It was from Kenneth.

"I'm going on a business trip for five days. Because you said that you didn't hate me and were willing to be my girlfriend, I saved my number to your phone. After you wake up, press the red button on the headboard. The hotel staff will send you food."

"Luke told me that you recently bought a house and were preparing to move. There's a platinum card on the table, a housewarming gift. You can live here for the time being. This is my personal suite. Clothes have been prepared for you in the cloakroom."

"When I come back, I'll take you to meet my parents."

Raelynn was scared stiff by the last sentence. They were barely a couple. Why was she already meeting his parents?

However, she realized from all of that that Kenneth was serious about her.

She picked up the card on the table and looked at it. She felt as though she was carrying a hundred million dollars with her.

As expected of the Alwynn family, they were really generous.

A platinum card as a housewarming gift? It was completely out of place in her humble home.

Raelynn curled her lips. Kenneth had left on such an important day.

Leaving her with a card made her feel a little humiliated.

However, when she thought about it, she came to the conclusion that it was typical of him.

After lying on the bed for a while, she felt weak. Her over twenty years of fantasizing had become a reality thanks to Kenneth.

She took a look at the presidential suite. It was much more luxurious than the one she had lived in last time.

That night, she used a huge sum of money to enjoy the high-level service of the presidential suite, but the enjoyment came to an end eventually.

After taking a shower, Raelynn went to the cloakroom. It was the size of an entire bedroom. On the left side were men's suits of different styles, and on the right, there were several custom-made dresses and suits, as well as comfortable casual clothes.

Raelynn couldn't help but sigh. Money was really awesome!

She put on a pink casual suit and went out to press the red button on the bedside.

A few minutes later, the doorbell rang. She opened the door slowly, and the waiter came in with a small dining cart.

Chapter 2365

The waiter standing at the door smiled at her respectfully. "Greetings, Miss Edwards. Here is your food."

Raelynn replied, "Thank you. I'll push the cart in by myself."

"Alright, Miss Edwards. What would you like to eat for dinner, if I may ask? Mr. Alwynn said that a big lobster has just been delivered by air. If you want to eat that, the kitchen will immediately prepare it. If you have anything else you'd like to eat, you can call the receptionist beforehand to notify us."

At the thought of the lobster, Raelynn's appetite was whetted considerably. Was Kenneth such a caring person?

He was not there, but she could still feel his concern for her.

"Then please prepare the lobster for me and send it here at seven o'clock. Don't make it too spicy. I'd like a light meal."

"Noted, Miss Edwards. Enjoy your food!"

After the waiter left, Raelynn slowly pushed the cart in.

She left it at the side of the table and set the dishes on the tabletop. The portion for each dish was small, but there were a variety of dishes. All the eight dishes on the table were exquisite and expensive, special meals and desserts. There was even a bowl of rice pudding.

Raelynn was taken aback. How did Kenneth know that she loved rice pudding?

Raelynn picked up the spoon and stirred it gently. The whole room was filled with its sweet fragrance.

She smiled and lowered her head to take a bite. Then, the phone on the bedside table rang.

Raelynn got up again to get her phone, but she walked a little stiffly.

She picked up her phone and saw the contact name: Future Husband.

Raelynn was shocked.

Was it Kenneth?

She slowly pressed the accept button.

"Hello."

"You're awake?"

Sure enough, Kenneth's deep and pleasant voice came from the other end of the line.

"Yes." Raelynn was a little embarrassed, peeking down at her toes.

"Are you upset?" Kenneth was a man of few words. He wasn't good at cheering people up. The only reason he took the initiative to speak up was because he thought that he had to be more proactive in pursuing a girlfriend.

He had never been in a relationship, but he had seen people around him fall in love, such as the playboy, Nathaniel.

To make a girl happy, there was no limit to what Nathaniel would do. His master was another skirt-chaser. In recent years, when he was with them, he could occasionally appreciate the thrill of chasing girls. But there wasn't any girl he really liked or wanted to pursue.

He was only interested in a love which would last.

He had a female junior, a very gentle and lovely girl. After a brief period with her, he was left with the impression that girls liked more proactive men.

Raelynn was indeed somewhat unhappy. Only then did she realize that a woman in love would become an idiot who wanted to be together with her lover regardless of the circumstances.

"That's right, I'm not happy. The man who confessed his love to me this morning was gone when I woke up. How am I supposed to be happy? Have you seen a couple in love acting that way?"

The more she talked, the angrier she became. As a girlfriend, she had the right to be angry, didn't she?

"I'm sorry! I'll be more thoughtful in the future. This business trip is very important. The last time I went to the wrong room, that was all schemed by the daughter of the Myers Family. I'm on this trip to discuss cooperating and help avenge you." A sincere apology came from the other end of the line.

Raelynn wanted to scream.

What was that about helping her? Why did she have to be dragged into it?

"Well... well, because you've clarified it, as your girlfriend, I forgive you." After Raelynn finished speaking, she blushed a bright red.

When Kenneth heard her calling herself his girlfriend, he heaved a sigh of relief.

Thinking of the fact that they were a couple, he couldn't help smiling.

"Rae," he said tentatively.

Raelynn was taken by surprise. That was the first time he had called her that. It was such a sweet and endearing nickname.

"What... what is it?" She became tongue-tied.

"Wait for me to return"

"I will."

After hanging up, Raelynn flopped onto the bed like a ragdoll.

She felt as though she had a new lease on life!

The phone in Raelynn's hand vibrated again.

She took a look and saw that it was another message from Kenneth.

"I am indeed very busy, but as your boyfriend, I will take the time to miss you."

Raelynn smiled, a blissful smile, as though she was really in love.

Raelynn felt a little cocky.

She replied, "Hmph, you haven't gotten me yet. You should try your best to make me feel your sincerity."

Kenneth texted, "I have faith in my abilities. Actions are better than words. I'll show you how sincere I am about this. I have a meeting to go to now."

Kenneth put down his phone and looked at Luke doubtfully.

"Luke, is this method of yours really enough for me to win Raelynn's heart?" Kenneth was clueless about pursuing girls. He thought of asking Nathaniel and Austin, but those two hooligans definitely wouldn't have any good things to say or any noteworthy methods.

Luke was okay, so Kenneth asked him.

Luke's curiosity was eating at him.

"Mr. Kenneth, don't worry. Girls in love all like sweet talk. However, you can't just say things. You must take action."

"I know," Kenneth replied seriously.

Luke couldn't help but ask, "Mr. Kenneth, I just can't figure out when you guys met."

He was dying of curiosity.

"I went into the wrong room in the hotel. There's no need to talk about the rest," replied Kenneth.

Luke was speechless. "Dear Mr. Kenneth, couldn't you elaborate a bit more?" Luke thought to himself. That half-assed explanation was too cruel!

"Haha..." Luke laughed anyway. He got the gist of it.

"No wonder you treat Miss Edwards differently. Of all the girls I've seen, she really stands out from the crowd. She's beautiful and talented."

Kenneth glared at him sharply and said, "I'm going to the meeting."

Then he got up and walked out.

A chill ran down Luke's spine as he rubbed his nose in fear.

He was jealous. How much did he like her?

But there was a silver lining. Kenneth was in love. His life would be easier.

Kenneth's character was very straightforward. If he had something to say, he wouldn't mince words. He didn't need to be on guard when they interacted; he wouldn't have any worries when chatting.

Following such a person was actually quite easy, but the workload in the Alwynn Group was far too taxing.

Raelynn was still very sleepy after having lunch. She fell asleep on the bed.

It was past six o'clock when she woke up. By that time, she felt more lively.

Raelynn took a deep breath. She thought to herself that taking an occasional break did wonders.

She didn't plan to return to the hotel she was staying at before, for that night. The room there was small. Compared to the luxurious room where she was currently, it was more convenient to live there. She was too tired that night and did not intend to live stream.

Raelynn lay quietly on the bed.

She thought of what had happened last night. Kenneth's expression was potent, but his voice was gentle and tender.

She remembered that at the last moment, he had coaxed her tenderly.

"It will be alright soon. You will belong to only me in the future!"

What a powerful, yet loving way to put it.

"Alas!" Raelynn sighed. She was with her all last night, why did she have to leave so suddenly?

Raelynn slowly got up again. Something came to mind.

She immediately grabbed her phone and called Clara.

Chapter 2366

The phone rang several times before Clara answered the phone.

"Rae, what's wrong? Are you drunk?" Clara was very concerned about Raelynn's health. After all, she had drunk a lot last night.

She had been very worried since she didn't escort Raelynn to the hotel room.

Raelynn just smiled sardonically. She had been more than drunk. She almost ruined herself.

She could not blame Clara for that. With Mr. Hansen in trouble, Clara had been fraught with anxiety.

"Clara, I'm fine. Is Mr. Hansen feeling better?" Raelynn remembered that Clara left because she received a call from Mr. Hansen.

That was why she hurriedly called Clara.

"Rae, my father is fine. He just fell on his leg and pulled his ligament. At that time, a passerby called an ambulance which sent him to the hospital. My mother didn't understand the situation fully and was really worked up, so I was anxious then. I was worried about you all night. I can rest assured now since you've arrived at the hotel safely." Although it was a mere distance of 500 meters, it was also possible for a drunk person to go to the wrong place.

It wasn't like such a situation had never happened before.

Raelynn would occasionally act recklessly when she was drunk.

Raelynn smiled and said, "Yes, I'm back at the hotel safe and sound. You don't have to worry about me. Take good care of Mr. Hansen."

"Well, as long as you're safe, I'm relieved. Since you get off work soon, do you want to go out for dinner?"

Raelynn said, "I'm not going out for the time being. I feel a little unwell after getting drunk last night. I'll go back to the hotel to rest first. Tomorrow, I'll go to the new place to take a look. I need to buy some bits and bobs too."

Clara replied, "Okay. My father will be discharged from the hospital today. He can go back home and rest for a while before continuing to work. If you need any help, you must tell me."

Raelynn was very grateful that she had such a good friend. No matter the time or occasion, she always had her in her thoughts.

"Alright, Clara!"

They chatted for a while before ending the call.

Raelynn felt sore all over, although she got enough sleep. She had nothing to do and did not want to work, so she got up and went to the bathroom. After filling the bathtub, she lay inside and sighed comfortably. She looked up at the brilliant crystal chandelier above her head.

Raelynn had to sigh again. Being rich was a wonderful thing!

Raelynn's mind drifted from thought to thought. The feeling of water on her skin was too comfortable, washing the aches and pain away.

Gradually, she fell asleep again. It was not until the doorbell for dinner rang that she was awakened.

Raelynn suddenly opened her eyes and looked around in confusion. She had just had a dream. She dreamed that Kenneth was standing beside the bathroom and gently calling her, "Rae, wake up, quick, wake up!"

As soon as she opened her eyes, she heard the doorbell ringing.

The water had already turned cold. She was completely awake by then. Raelynn had missed him all day and even met him in her dream. It was as though she was poisoned fatally with the toxin known as Kenneth.

Raelynn got up, quickly put on her bathrobe, and went to open the door. At the door, two waiters were pushing two small dining carts outside.

Raelynn looked at them apologetically. "Sorry to keep you waiting. Come in."

"It's alright."

The two waiters pushed the trolleys forward with a smile on their faces, and laid all the food out on the table.

They said, still smiling "Miss Edwards, this is a feast of lobster. Enjoy your meal!"

Raelynn glanced at the fare and realized that she would not be able to finish everything herself.

"Thank you! But can you give me some takeaway boxes? I can't eat so much food alone. I want to take some back and share it with my family. Can you pack some of the specialties here too? Enough for three people."

One waiter said, "Of course, Miss Edwards. Please wait for a moment. We'll prepare everything right away."

"Thank you!" Raelynn turned around and took her phone to make a call in the room.

"Raelynn, have you returned to the hotel after work?" Ryder asked happily.

"Yes. Ryder, have you eaten yet?"

Ryder replied, "Nope. Mom and I just moved some things over and tidied up. We're just heading out to eat. Have you eaten?"

Raelynn was delighted. She grinned and said, "Ryder, I haven't eaten either. Wait for me, we don't need to go out to a restaurant to eat. I'll bring some food back later. Please wait for me with mom."

"Alright, sis!"

After Raelynn hung up, she went to the dressing room to change into casualwear.

The hotel's service was top-notch and speedy. Ten minutes later, two large insulated boxes were carried up by the waiter, who stood in front of her.

Next to him stood a middle-aged man in a suit and leather shoes.

"Miss Edwards, where are you going?"

Raelynn was flummoxed. She asked, "Are you going to bring me there?"

The middle-aged man smiled and nodded. "Yes, Miss Edwards. Mr. Alwynn has ordered me to take good care of you."

Raelynn was momentarily dumbstruck.

Oh no, she was once again floored by the extent of Kenneth's care for her.

"Thank you! Let's go, then." Raelynn did not reject the offer. There was no way she could take a taxi while carrying two large boxes.

Thirty minutes later, the car stopped in front of Raelynn's house.

The driver immediately got out of the car and carried the two insulated boxes out of the trunk.

Raelynn looked at him, feeling very grateful. "Thank you. You can go back first. I'll return by myself later."

The driver handed her his business card and said, "Very well, Miss Edwards. This is my name card. You can call me 30 minutes before you are to depart. I will pick you up then."

Raelynn nodded. "Okay, thank you!"

After the driver left, Raelynn called and asked Ryder to come down to get the boxes.

"Wow! Sis, where did you get all this delicious food?" Ryder was starving. After all, they had been hard at work all day.

Raelynn smiled. "It's the hotel's lobster feast and some specialties. Let's eat together."

Ryder was stunned. "That couldn't have been cheap."

Raelynn found an excuse. "My work went through and I got a small bonus. I wanted to treat you and mom to a delicious meal."

"Okay, okay, okay. Well, I love lobster the most."

Raelynn looked at his innocent smile and cheerfully grinned back. "That's a lucky coincidence then. Let's go inside quickly."

Raelynn was walking behind Ryder when her phone vibrated.

She looked down and saw that it was a message from Kenneth.

"Rae, I'm done with the meeting."

Raelynn's grip on her phone tightened. To be honest, she was very bold when she was impulsive, but when she calmed down, her fears soon overtook her by the dozens.

Was she really going to fall in love with Kenneth Kenneth?

Would the Alwynn family agree to a person with a family background like hers?

It was said that the second son of the Alwynn family married the daughter of the richest man in Lemmon City.

Raelynn, she was nothing!

Raelynn replied to his text, "You've worked hard. Rest early tonight."

When they arrived at their place on the second floor, it finally felt like a home after Ryder and Malia's redecorating efforts.

"Mom, thank you for your hard work." Raelynn looked at her mother. She was very gentle, very elegant, and her smile was very beautiful.

When she was young, she had been a prime beauty.

Malia smiled lovingly and looked at the small apartment. Her eyes were glimmering. "Rae, it wasn't hard work at all! I'm very happy. We finally have a home."

Chapter 2367

Raelynn smiled and said, "Mom, when I've made some more money in the future, I will buy you a bigger house to live in."

Malia shook her head with a chuckle. "Fool, how foolish!"

Raelynn did not speak. Even if her mother said that she was a fool, she still felt the affection in those words.

Malia pulled her daughter into the kitchen.

While walking, she said, "Rae, I've never dreamed of anything too grand to live in. This much is enough. Life is short, you shouldn't spend all your time and money on a house. You should make more time for yourself. As long as you're happy and can afford food and clothing, that's more than enough."

The people of Malia's generation had suffered a lot. Malia had seen a youth shouldering the weight of a thirty-year house loan stubbornly, and it crushed him. When it came to the time to pay his mortgage, his life was filled with anxiety and arguments. She had seen all that before, and she didn't want her daughter to go down that path.

Only those who were satisfied enough with food and clothing on their backs would be able to live happy lives.

Raelynn knew that there was a generation gap in their mindsets after all.

"Mom, I got it. Don't worry, I won't make myself suffer too much."

"Raelynn, mom, come over and eat. This feast is amazing. I've never eaten these dishes before. They smell so good." Ryder was overjoyed and laughed like a child. He stood there and raised a lobster in the air, waving it at them.

"Haha..." Raelynn smiled happily.

The family sat down and chatted while eating.

On the other end, Kenneth went back to the hotel to rest after the meeting.

Luke ordered a large variety of dishes. He was enjoying them with relish.

However, Kenneth didn't take a single bite. He kept staring at his phone. When he sat still, he looked like a statue.

Luke observed it all. He finally understood that Kenneth was truly in love.

Right then, Kenneth was feeling like an oasis in the desert, about to dry up. He was waiting for dew to refill it again, but there was no dew coming.

Luke recalled that Kenneth had just sent a message to Raelynn. As for whether there was any reply to that text, he had no idea.

Seeing that he was about to devour the entire fish on his own, Luke couldn't help but say, "Mr. Kenneth, let's eat first."

After a whole day of rushing a few events, he was quite tired.

Kenneth suddenly looked at him and asked, "Luke, should I say something else?"

Luke asked, "What do you mean?"

Kenneth said, "I sent a message to Rae, and she replied."

Luke immediately asked, without thinking, "Mr. Kenneth, what was the reply?"

"You've worked hard today, rest early tonight! That's what she said. It doesn't feel like a conversation between a couple," Kenneth voiced out bluntly.

Luke was speechless. He thought, "Mr. Kenneth, this is a normal phrase of concern. Why do you overthink it so much?"

Sure enough, people in love were childish.

"Mr. Kenneth, there's no deeper meaning to those words. Don't think too much. Let's eat first. You didn't even have lunch today."

Kenneth glanced at her phone for the last time. His dark eyes were filled with anticipation.

Luke couldn't bear to see such a disappointed expression on Kenneth's proud and elegant face.

Luke had always admired Kenneth.

"Mr. Kenneth, after dinner, you can chat with Miss Edwards. Women feel secure when their man takes the initiative."

Upon hearing that, Kenneth thought that not only women needed security. Men needed to feel secure too.

He had felt a keen sense of insecurity.

After Luke prompted him, Kenneth decided to have dinner first.

After dinner, Kenneth stared at his phone again.

What a mysterious feeling. He wanted nothing more than to hear her voice and sweet words.

Was this how it felt to be in a relationship?

Constantly worried, always wanting to see the other!

Kenneth looked at his phone and sighed slightly. A moment before, the hotel manager had called and informed him that Raelynn had packed dinner and went home to have dinner with her family.

He didn't bother Raelynn then. They were all adults who needed their private space. That applied to him as well. He resisted the impulse to call Raelynn.

It was half past ten at night. Kenneth had had intercourse several times last night and experienced a busy day. He was really sleepy. After taking a shower, he put on his white silk pajamas, overcome with drowsiness. His strong and perfect physique was very attractive. After lying down, he informed his parents that he was well. He also called his three brothers and was told that his sister and brother-in-law had taken good care of them. Only then did he relax somewhat.

After putting down the phone, there was a pervading sense of emptiness in his heart. It seemed that there was something he hadn't done yet.

Kenneth took his phone again and couldn't help but click on the conversation between him and Raelynn. Raelynn had still not sent any message.

He suddenly remembered Luke's words. A man had to be a little more proactive in order for a girl to feel secure. Compared to him, Raelynn needed more security that only he could provide.

At that, Kenneth immediately sent a message to Raelynn.

"Have you gotten back to the hotel safely?"

Although he did not know if Raelynn would return to the hotel to rest, he still wanted to ask.

At that time, Raelynn had gone back to the hotel. She had been bored, but when she saw Kenneth's text, for some reason, her empty heart was suddenly filled with joy.

"I just arrived at the hotel. Thank you for the dinner. I couldn't eat it all by myself, so I packed it up and went home to eat with my family. They had a good time."

Seeing that Raelynn had replied quickly, Kenneth couldn't help but smile.

"When I come back, I'll take them out to eat. I also want to meet your family," Kenneth thought that that was a good reply. He was really being serious, seriously facing these new emotions.

He didn't want to only toy with beautiful women like Nathaniel did.

He didn't break it off cleanly with his last girlfriend before finding a new girl. When they all bumped into each other, a fight between the girls ensued. Kenneth had indeed seen that happen with Nathaniel before.

However, after Kenneth sent that message, there was no reply from Raelynn.

Kenneth couldn't help but feel anxious. Was she angry?

A powerful man could command even the wind and rain in the world of business, but in the face of love, he still had to tread carefully.

When Raelynn saw Kenneth's text, she understood that a person like him was very serious about their relationship.

She was silent because she knew that she was tempted. He was her first serious boyfriend, a capable and responsible type which she adored. Besides that, his personal traits were even more attractive. He was accomplished and handsome, taller than her, and checked every box she had.

However, when Raelynn thought of her family background, she hesitated.

She mulled over it for a moment and then typed quickly. She had to ask about that clearly and not let herself get carried away. If the other party was unwilling to accept her family background, she would cut their relationship off early so that it would end neatly.

Kenneth was far too outstanding, to the extent that she felt ashamed of herself in front of him.

Chapter 2368

Raelynn quickly typed and sent the message. At her age, she was eager to get married.

Life was short and she wasn't against marriage. On the contrary, she liked children very much and wanted to have a family of her own.

After a long wait, Kenneth finally received Raelynn's message.

He looked at the long paragraph of text, feeling both nervous and excited.

"Kenneth, are you serious? Let me tell you something about myself. I was switched at birth and grew up with the Edwards Family. When they realized that I wasn't their biological daughter, they kicked me out. Since then, I've been living with my biological mother and my brother who is a mechanic. We live a simple life."

"The Alwynn family is rich and powerful. If you are pursuing a marriage of equal status, I hope to put an end to this relationship."

Raelynn has always been a very rational person. She has always known what she wants.

She would also never force anything to happen.

She wouldn't waste time on pointless things and knew that some things took more than just effort to achieve.

It was true that she liked Kenneth, but it wasn't like she couldn't live without him.

If this relationship went on any longer, the consequences might be more serious than she had imagined.

Kenneth calmly finished reading Raelynn's message.

As expected, Luke was right. Raelynn felt very insecure.

Fortunately, he had sent her a message this night.

Kenneth sent a message.

"Rae, tell me the truth. Do you have me in your heart?"

He was also a straightforward person. Now that everything was out in the open, everyone felt comfortable.

He was bad at dating, but he was honest with her.

When Raelynn saw the message, she pursed her red lips. She raised her head slightly and looked out of the window. On the top floor, she had a clear view of the city ablaze with lights.

Did she like it? Indeed, she did.

Love could be at first sight and there was no time limit to it. Some people could be together for years before realizing that they didn't truly love each other when something happens.

But there were also people who could fall in love in a short time.

She didn't understand why Kenneth would ask such a question, but she still answered him truthfully.

"Kenneth, I admit that I like you!"

Raelynn felt extremely nervous after she sent the message.

She was anxious. She has had a boyfriend in the past. However, he wasn't very nice and they barely saw each other. Besides, she had been a straight-A student since young. While others were busy dating, she was busy studying.

Love was foreign to her, but the feeling in her heart had to be genuine.

Seeing her reply, a gentle smile appeared on Kenneth's calm and handsome face.

He replied with a smile: "Rae, what matters is that you have feelings for me. It's enough that you like me. You don't have to worry about other things. Our Alwynn family doesn't need a marriage alliance to strengthen the territory of the Alwynn family. What matters is that we love each other."

Kenneth typed his reply and checked it several times. After confirming that there was no mistake, he sent the message.

Raelynn held her phone tightly with both hands, nervously waiting for Kenneth's reply.

Suddenly, her phone vibrated. She was shocked and her heartbeat quickened.

She looked at the phone screen inch by inch. It was as if a rock had been lifted off her chest after reading the message.

When Raelynn saw the phrase "love each other", she smiled. She wanted a relationship where her love was reciprocated.

Raelynn giggled and rolled on the bed with her phone in her hands.

The whole room was filled with her happy laughter.

The soft moonlight fell on the fur carpet on the ground, revealing a gentle and warm light.

The light reflected on the charming smile on her face.

Who wouldn't be moved by two people in love with each other?

This was exactly the love Raelynn had been pursuing all her life!

After a long while, Raelynn finally replied to Kenneth's message.

"Kenneth, thank you for giving me the courage to like you!"

Kenneth smiled to himself when he saw the message she sent. He was ecstatic.

He got out of bed elegantly and walked to the floor-to-ceiling window. Looking down at the brightly lit city outside the window, he suddenly noticed that the lights outside were particularly beautiful.

He took a photo and sent it to Raelynn.

On this lonely night, it was a good feeling to have someone to share his feelings with!

Raelynn saw the photo. The lights in the photo were as bright as the ones outside the window.

The only difference was that his shadow was reflected on the window. He was in white silk, but his whole body exuded a cold temperament. He seemed to always be mature, restrained, charming, and detached. Besides, there was a little mischief in his smile.

"Raelynn, thank you for your courage. I swear that I will be loyal to our love and will never betray it!" This was his persistence. Since he liked her, there was nothing to be hesitant about.

Raelynn saw the message and smiled again. How did she fall for such a rigid man?

She smiled and replied, "Okay, let's stop talking. Go to bed early. Good night, boyfriend!"

Raelynn also tried to be bold with Kenneth. Since she liked him, there was no harm taking the initiative.

Since she had made up her mind, she had to be brave.

This was who Raelynn was.

Kenneth was reluctant to part with her, but he replied: "Good night!"

He wanted to add that he would meet her in his dream, but he wasn't sure if he would dream of Raelynn.

He exited the chat box and unintentionally clicked on an album. When he saw the video inside, he suddenly thought of something.

He clicked on the video, and his handsome face instantly blushed. But even so, he still looked down.

Kenneth was stunned when he saw his bravery in the video. Was this really him?

He had never seen such an arrogant side of himself.

Then he looked at the little woman in his arms. Her face was flushed, and she looked charming and overjoyed. She had her hands tightly wrapped around his back, and the bloodstains were the best proof. He could still feel a faint pain when he was showering this day.

He blushed and his heartbeat quickened as he watched his performance.

Nathaniel and Austin often watched videos like this. Every time they called him, he was unwilling to watch them.

He wasn't interested in these things. Rather than wasting his time, he might as well earn more money and buy what he liked.

Now that he saw himself, he suddenly understood why Nathaniel and Austin enjoyed watching these videos.

Kenneth's blood was boiling. When his phone rang, he was startled and almost threw his phone away.

Chapter 2369

Kenneth answered when he saw that it was Nathaniel calling.

"Hey!" His face was very red, and his voice was hoarse.

"Seven, I heard that you're on a business trip. Are you still busy? Why are you so slow to answer the phone?"

Nathaniel asked with a smile.

"Yes! What's the matter?" Kenneth went straight to the point.

Nathaniel asked, "What's wrong with your voice? It's quite hoarse. What did you do?"

Nathaniel was very perceptive.

Kenneth was stunned.

"Nothing. I'm too tired today. I'm going to rest."

Nathaniel smiled and said, "You're too focused on work. You need to have some fun. By the way, my little junior sister said that she will be coming to River City. River City is your world. You can find her a place to live."

Kenneth frowned and asked, "When is she coming over?"

Nathaniel said, "She didn't give me a specific time. She might come during this period or even the next day. You know how wilful she is!"

Kenneth replied, "I got it. We'll talk about this when she comes."

"Well, I checked the IP address you sent me last time. It's not registered under a real name. I still haven't figured out why the other party attacked the internal system of your company. But I've been observing them for the past two days and indeed they're targeting your Alwynn Group. You should be careful."

Speaking of business, Nathaniel's tone became serious. His tone reminded people of his sharp and chilling eyes.

Kenneth narrowed his eyes. Could it be the XL Group?

"I got it. Don't worry." Kenneth walked to the sofa. He sat down, picked up the glass of cold water and took a sip.

Nathaniel teased him. "Seven, you didn't get anyone to accompany you on this business trip?"

Kenneth hated when he spoke rascally as it made him shy and angry.

"What nonsense are you talking about? I'm not like you." His tone was a little cold.

"Hehe..." Nathaniel smiled. "I know how you are. That's why I've always been worried that you won't find a wife."

In an instant, Raelynn's pure and beautiful face crossed Kenneth's mind.

He smiled confidently. "You don't have to worry about that. You should worry about yourself. Bye."

Kenneth quickly hung up the phone, not giving Nathaniel a chance to speak.

He leaned back on the sofa, missing Raelynn.

It turned out to be really easy for someone to overthink when they're in love. Especially after watching the video previously, he felt ashamed and embarrassed. But at the same time, he also wanted to see Raelynn again. All kinds of thoughts crossed his mind.

.....

Raelynn got up the next day to work, and she was in a very good mood.

When she woke up early in the morning, she saw that there was a message from Kenneth.

"Rae, I miss you already!"

With just these few words, Raelynn felt like her morning had never been better.

It was hard to imagine the look on a cold and noble person's face as he spoke with such tenderness.

After she confirmed her relationship with Kenneth and found out that he was the man she met that night, her anger dissipated. Although it was an unspeakable shame, the love between them was enough to make up for the pain.

When Raelynn arrived at the company, Kenneth informed her that Luke had already applied for leave on her behalf for the previous day. However, she still wanted to explain to Faith.

"Thump thump..."

"Come in."

Raelynn pushed the door open and entered. She saw that Faith was preparing for a meeting. After Magnolia left, Faith didn't find an assistant.

The Human Resource department had recruited several assistants, but they were still in training and would only come to work in a few days.

Raelynn smiled and said, "Miss Mason, I'm sorry. I was busy the previous day, hence I couldn't come to work."

"It's okay." Faith said with a faint smile, "But you should protect your reputation. You haven't been working in this company for long, yet you've taken two days off. The design department has strong opinions about you. Try to sort out your personal matters during the weekend."

Raelynn nodded. "Miss Mason, I will be careful in the future."

Faith said, "Prepare for the meeting. The autumn clothing exhibition is about to begin. The models on the 11th floor are all getting ready and they should be fitted with our outfits as soon as possible."

Raelynn nodded with a smile. "Okay, Miss Mason."

Faith said, "This day, we're going to the 11th floor for a joint meeting. The sales department will also be present. Miss Hubbard, the model director, has been working in the company for more than ten years. She's very experienced in this aspect. We'll listen to what she has to say."

"Okay." Raelynn quickly returned to the office, sorted out the documents, and went to the meeting with the design department.

The meeting lasted for a long time. Margery was dissatisfied with Faith's arrangement and complained about her work efficiency.

As a result, the fashion magazines almost couldn't be published.

On the way, Raelynn learned that Miss Hubbard and Kenneth's mother were best friends. They had been working in the company for many years.

She was very strict when it came to work.

After coming out of the meeting room, Faith's expression looked very bad. When she applied for this position, she was very stressed.

Sure enough, the pressure from various departments was a little unbearable for her.

But she couldn't give up. She had other things to do.

Raelynn had been busy this afternoon. Faith was in a bad mood, so the work assigned to her was more difficult.

Raelynn went to the factory. Since she was mainly responsible for herself, it wasn't as tiring.

At about four o'clock in the afternoon, she returned to the company and was about to pack up and leave.

"Look, that's Miss Edwards. She took two days off as soon as she joined the company. Why is she so shameless?"

"Who knows? Anyway, her leave was approved. I heard that it was Mr. Parma who applied on her behalf."

"Hey! Could it be because of her crony?"

As soon as Raelynn got out of the elevator, she heard several designers gossiping about her.

When Raelynn walked over, those designers returned to their work with ugly faces.

Raelynn's expression didn't look good. She took out her phone and sent a message to Kenneth.

"How did the entire company find out that Mr. Parma applied for leave on my behalf?"

Kenneth, who was in a meeting, saw his phone vibrate. He glanced at it and frowned slightly. He replied, "What's wrong? Is someone making things difficult for you?"

Raelynn replied, "No, I just heard some gossip."

"Luke only told Faith about it. No one else knows."

Raelynn was stunned. Could it be that Faith was the one who spread this news around?

It was possible. After all, this wasn't something private and there would be no consequences for Faith if she did spread the news around?

Chapter 2370

Raelynn thought for a moment before sending another message to Kenneth. She lowered her head as she typed. The brightness of the screen made her face look pale. Her eyes were lowered, and her curly eyelashes fluttered.

"Kenneth, don't let anyone in the company know about our relationship. If anyone finds out, I will break up with you."

She had her own way of dealing with overbearing men.

Upon seeing this, Kenneth frowned and had mixed feelings.

How could she threaten him?

"Well, I respect your decision, but everyone will eventually find out about this. When are you going to let me announce our relationship?"

Raelynn thought for a moment. They were passionately in love. It was as if their youth and arrogance would appear at the same time and be given to both sides.

It would be fortunate for someone to find their significant other in life. Even if they were separated by mountains, seas, or oceans, they would still think of each other and look forward to a reunion.

She also hoped that this love would persevere to the end.

She replied: "If possible, I would like to announce it on the day we get married. If we ever get married."

She knew that although Kenneth was cold and overbearing, he respected her. That's why she was daring enough to say this.

Kenneth responded: "Okay! I miss you!"

Raelynn instantly blushed and ran back to the office.

Kenneth waited for a long time when he saw that she didn't reply to the message.

Kenneth was still staring at his phone when the sales manager finished reporting. The manager was sweating and feeling worried that he might have made a mistake.

Luke asked the manager to take a seat. Only then did the manager feel at ease. After all, Kenneth's tactics were even more vicious than his father's. They were all hard-working people.

Luke was in a good mood as he looked at Kenneth, who was in love, spacing out.

"Mr. Kenneth, the meeting is over." Luke reminded him.

Kenneth nodded slightly and said indifferently, "Let's adjourn the meeting."

Later, he had to deal with the cooperation with the Myers Family. If they dared to plot against them, they would have to bear the consequences.

Everyone quickly rushed out of the office.

Kenneth narrowed his eyes. There was indeed something wrong with Faith.

"Luke, when you applied for leave for Raelynn, did only you and Faith know about it?"

Luke said, "Sir, you knew about it too."

Kenneth pursed his lips. How could he spread this news?

"Sir, did something happen?"

"The company is gossiping about Rae."

"Ah, how could that be? Miss Mason doesn't seem like someone who gossips." Luke was stunned.

Kenneth replied, "Let's go."

Then, Luke asked, "Sir, don't you need to fix this?"

Kenneth said, "Let's talk about it when we get back. Don't let anyone in the company know about my relationship with Raelynn. She threatened to break up with me if anyone found out. So shut your mouth and don't mess things up again."

Luke chuckled. "Sir, you've finally found your nemesis. Apart from your partner, you won't listen to anyone else."

Kenneth glared at him. There was no need for him to leave such a snide comment.

Only then did Luke realize how foolish he was. He felt like he was about to cry from his own stupidity.

Why did he blabber?

He was such a forgetful person, even if he had learnt his lesson.

.....

On the third day, Raelynn went to work. As soon as she entered the company, she heard her colleagues talking about the news of the Myers Family going bankrupt.

"Miss Mason, look at this financial news. The Myers Family has always been working with the Alwynn Group. Why did they suddenly go bankrupt? The Alwynn Group has also cut off all cooperation with the Myers Family."

Graciella handed her phone to Faith.

Faith said, "I've already seen it."

Graciella was very shocked. "Miss Mason, what do you think is going on? This company went bankrupt just like that, and it was bought by the Alwynn Group."

Faith replied with a cold face, "The business is like a battlefield. Such things happen every day."

Graciella said, "It's terrifying how unpredictable this business can be."

Raelynn pursed her lips. She suddenly remembered that someone had said that he were going to avenge them. How vicious!

Raelynn silently returned to the office.

As soon as she turned on the computer, she received a message from Kenneth.

"Rae, I've finished my work in advance. I'll be boarding a plane in the afternoon to visit my brothers. After that, I'll find you at the hotel."

When Raelynn saw it, she couldn't help but blush.

She replied quickly: "I'm not going back to the hotel tonight. I'm going home and I'll be moving today."

Kenneth sent another message: "Okay, let's have dinner together. What do you want to eat? I'll cook."

Raelynn replied to him: "It's my first day moving in so I would like to have dinner at home. I have invited my friends to join me."

Kenneth looked at the message and thought to himself. If he went back this day, would he not be able to see his girlfriend?

Kenneth typed: "If my girlfriend moves, how can I not be there? I will come back in time."

Raelynn's eyes widened. "Kenneth, I'm not ready for you to meet my parents."

Then, Kenneth sent another message: "Does that mean that I can't go over?"

Raelynn wanted to reject him, but she was afraid of hurting his self-esteem.

So, Raelynn replied: "You can, but my mom will worry. Change your identity before coming over."

Kenneth asked: "What identity?"

Raelynn answered: "Figure it out yourself." She didn't want to bother herself with such a difficult problem.

Kenneth replied: "Okay, see you tonight!"

Raelynn was stunned. Has he come up with an idea?

Raelynn looked forward to it and worked hard for the whole day. She just wanted to go back as soon as possible.

Her brother and mother were preparing delicious food at home that day.

Her mother didn't have many friends. Her brother had three friends who were coming, and Clara was coming as well. Now, with Kenneth, they would only take up one table.

Raelynn sent a message to her mother, asking her to make two light dishes. Kenneth seemed to not have an appetite for heavily seasoned dishes.

After receiving the message from her daughter, Malia sent Ryder out to buy some ingredients.

After work, Raelynn packed up and was ready to go home.

She had just gone out when she ran into Faith.

"Miss Edwards, take a look at this design. The stylist gave some feedback and said that the curve of the lotus leaf is a little big. It should be slightly modified."

Raelynn looked at it and said, "Miss Mason, this design also suits plump people. I have also thought about this before. If the arc is too small, it wouldn't look good on a plump customer."

Faith thought for a moment and said, "Okay, you can get off work. I will talk to them."

Raelynn said, "Thank you, Miss Mason."

She walked towards the elevator.

After leaving the company, she went straight to the station. It was convenient as there was a bus to her neighborhood.

"Raelynn." Raelynn tensed up when she heard someone calling her name.
