

Gluey Love 581

Chapter 581

Eden also smiled. "Victor, am I really the only one you will marry?"

Victor nodded hurriedly. "Yes, you are the only one I will marry. Before I found you, I really thought that I would spend all my life on my own!"

Eden instantly could feel the heavy pressure on her shoulders.

In fact, she knew that Victor was a decent man, but she really didn't intend to get married.

She smiled and said, "Then let's wait a little longer. I just need time." This was exactly what she was thinking.

Victor's expression went stiff slightly, and there was an unconcealable sadness flashed across his face.

Did he still need to wait? How much longer would he have to wait? However, he had already waited for so many years, and it would make no difference for him to wait a little longer.

It seemed that he was still not good enough to make her change her mind.

"Okay, Eden. No matter how long it is, I will always wait for you." He said in a low but firm voice.

Eden suddenly lifted her head. Under the dim light, she could still see his handsome and determined face, making her impressed.

She knew he had waited for her for so many years already, and she just needed time to make sure that she felt the same way as he did. She didn't want to waste his true love.

Only in this way it would be worthy of his more than ten-year wait and effort.

So she said, "It won't take a long time. I just need time to figure out how I exactly feel about you. I can't lie to you about my feelings, and I don't want to, either. Just like how I feel about Jasper. I only look at him like a family member rather than a lover." This was the truth in her heart.

Hearing this, Victor instantly cheered up.

So it turned out that she only looked at Jasper as a family member.

"By the way, Jasper will go to the event tomorrow as all," said Victor.

Eden nodded. "His company has developed very well in the past two years. This will also be a good opportunity for them."

Victor finally led her to his big plan, "Eden, I think we will be very busy at tomorrow's event, so shall we stay in the hotel there tomorrow night?"

Eden looked at him. "Why? It only takes two hours to come back anyway."

Victor thought for a moment and said, "Let's wait and see what the schedule is like tomorrow then."

Eden suddenly looked at him with something on mind.

She always felt that he was hiding something. She had that kind of feeling, but she couldn't tell what it exactly was.

At the Clement family.

The luxurious villa was ablaze with lights.

Not long after Aisling and Wyatt got back, Haven also came back.

At this time, Wyatt and Aisling were sitting in the living room and waiting for their two sons to come back.

Seeing her parents were already home, Haven complained, "Dad, mom, why didn't you wait for me? But I have to congratulate you, for making two billion today."

Wyatt lowered his head and said nothing.

Aisling glanced at her and asked coldly, "What happened last night? You must know it very well."

Haven knew that her mother would not let go of this matter, but at that time, she really couldn't think of any other way.

She also had tried, but she could not find a perfect solution.

Looking at Haven who was standing in front of her, Aisling knew that she no longer want to just be an adopted daughter of the Clement family. She wanted more.

Haven sat down beside Aisling and said with an aggrieved face, "Mom, you know that although I and Vincent got the marriage certificate, he still wouldn't listen to me at all. He would not help us no matter what I do. What's more, he is not the one who can make a decision in the Alwynn family!"

Aisling looked at her and said with a slight sneer, "Have you tried everything you could then? Your two brothers were really desperate, otherwise, they wouldn't have asked Vincent for help. If I knew it, I would never let them go. If the Alwynn family wanted to help us, they would have done it long ago."

Haven looked embarrassed. She had never expected that Zaiden would suddenly appear.

And she didn't understand why Zaiden wanted to help their family!

She could not help but ask, "Mom, why did Mr.

Calder want to help us? And who is his daughter?"

She had been thinking about this question for the whole day.

She just wanted to know which woman could be so lucky.

Even she envied her very much to have such a father.

Wyatt suddenly raised his gaze. "Why do you want to know about this?"

Haven smiled and said, "Dad, I'm just curious."

Wyatt put the newspaper in his hand on the tea table and looked at her seriously. "Haven, we don't blame you for what happened last night. But since we took you into this house, we have always treated you like our own daughter. When you marry Vincent, I still hope you can have a good life. You should be grateful."

Haven could tell that he meant something else.

She nodded obediently. "Dad, I understand."

Aisling didn't believe her at all.

If she was grateful, she would not have done those things before.

At this time, the door was suddenly pushed open. Buddy and Delmont came in. Both of them looked very tired.

Delmont's face still had a scratch on, and his hair was also very messy.

Haven felt so nervous as soon as she saw her big brother. Although she didn't say a word last night, she had been talking to Vincent through her phone all the time.

She didn't even know why Delmont suddenly lost control and stood up to hit Vincent.

She was scared out of her wits at that time and could only look at Delmont in shock.

Aisling stood up and looked at her two sons with concerns. "Delmont, Buddy, come and sit down. Do you want something to drink?"

However, Clement suddenly started shouting at Haven, "Haven, get out of my house right now!" His angry voice echoed in the whole villa.

Aisling and Wyatt were also stunned, both looking at Delmont in disbelief.

Haven's heart sunk. She looked at Delmont who was glaring at her with fear. Did he see her messages?

No, she could not leave the Clement family yet. If she left now, she would lose everything.

"Delmont, I know I didn't say a word for us last night. It's my fault. But you know that Vincent wouldn't listen to me at all no matter what I said."

Delmont sneered, "You're just an ingrate. Even though you didn't say anything, you've been sending messages to Vincent and asking him not to help us. I've seen it. Otherwise, why do you think I beat Vincent up? Do you really think I was so crazy that I sent myself to the police?"

"Delmont, I..."

"Stop it. I only have one sister, and it's not you. Get out of our house right now. We don't want any ingrate here." Delmont sounded very determined, and he looked like he was going to eat Haven alive.

Chapter 582

Haven was frightened. Sure enough, Delmont saw her messages, and that was why he went mad.

But it was not her fault.

She looked at Delmont with her tearful eyes and cried, "I know I did something wrong, but I was too scared at that time. I didn't want to lose either our family or Vincent. I didn't stop Vincent from helping us. I just wanted him to think about it carefully. After all, we are a family now, and he should help us if he can. I really didn't mean anything else." She wasn't sure how much Delmont actually saw her messages.

However, she could not let him kick her out. Moreover, if the Clement family did abandon their adopted daughter, people would all despise them.

Therefore, she could not leave the Clement family. She had not gotten her dowry yet, nor the shares of their family business.

She would never leave the Clement family before she got everything she wanted.

Delmont looked at her with a sneer, "Can you be more shameless? You never cared about losing the Clement family. You only worried that if you were going to lose the comfortable and wealthy life you have in this house. However, without the Clement family, let's see how long you and Vincent could survive. I'd like to see how you will spend the rest of your life."

Then he turned his head to Aisling, "Mom, we should get them to finish the wedding soon. With this ingrate at home, I'm afraid our family would be dragged down sooner or later."

After saying that, Delmont went upstairs angrily.

Buddy also went after him without saying anything.

Looking at their backs, Aisling's heart ached.

Wyatt stood up and looked at Haven indifferently. "Haven, as our family has finally come through this racial crisis, I won't want to talk about this matter anymore. I can understand where you come from, so I hope you and Vincent could live happily together in the future." Wyatt said sincerely and earnestly before returning to his room.

Then Aisling stood up and turned as well without saying anything.

"Mom," Haven suddenly shouted in tears, "Mom, I had no choices at that time. You know I have always been an obedient child even though I am not the smart one. I always do whatever you told me to do and never would do anything that you don't like. But Mom, I just want a better life."

Aisling looked back at her and said, "If you want a better life, you have to make effort in it. Now you've made it in one fell swoop, and the Clement family hasn't helped you much. I only hope that you can appreciate what you have right now and be more grateful. If you want to challenge me in the future, you know what I am capable of."

After saying that, Aisling left without looking back.

Haven sat where she was, tears streaming down her face. How did things become like this?

She had always been a good girl in her mother's and her two brothers' eyes, but why had everyone changed all of a sudden? Everyone wanted her to leave now. What had she done wrong?

She would never leave the Clement family. Even if she had to leave, she had to leave with the family property.

The next day, Eden got up early in the morning.

She had been chatting with Abigail until very late the night before, but she still didn't feel tired at all.

However, Victor was even earlier than her.

Because they were going to the fashion event, he woke up very early and changed into a tailor-made designer suit, looking even more elegant. He sat on the balcony and enjoyed the morning tea.

Eden saw this scene as soon as she walked out.

She was wearing a light red suit today. Her soft hair was tied up behind her head, and a pair of crystal earrings were shining under the sunlight. She looked more mature and fashionable in this color.

"Eden, you are so beautiful!" Victor couldn't help but said.

Eden had never seen Victor like this either, which looked more like the person everyone else talked about.

"You are very handsome today as well!" He indeed had a perfect face.

Hearing this, Victor smiled happily.

He got up and looked at her with his lips curled up.

Lets go!

The two of them looked perfect together!

Victor couldn't help but felt so excited and pleased.

They both sat in the car and set off to Upper East Sleglund to pick up Darlene.

When they arrived, Darlene was waiting for them by the road.

She also dressed very formally and trendy in a white suit, which went very well with her and highlighted her elegance.

"Aunt." Eden looked at Darlene with a smile, then got out of the car and opened the door for her.

"Eden, Mr. Alwynn, thank you for picking me up," Darlene said with a smile.

Victor said, "Teacher, it is my pleasure."

Eden and Darlene sat in the backseats.

"Eden, you look so pretty today. Your clothes suit you very well!" Darlene looked at Eden and said.

Eden glanced at herself and said, "I made this myself. The material is very light and thin, but it doesn't crease much. It's very comfortable to wear."

Darlene glanced at it and nodded in agreement. It looked indeed very good which made Eden look even more attractive.

However, Victor didn't seem happy when he heard them chatting pleasantly in the back.

Eden was sitting with him in the front early, but now she sat in the back.

So he was actually a little jealous.

But he no longer felt as lonely as before. As long as she was with him, he would not be lonely.

An hour later, they arrived at the exhibition center.

Victor had already shown Eden the schedule of the day, so she was quite familiar with it already.

But what attracted her more were the different design works from all over the country.

She came here for another purpose actually, that was, to see if there was any new fabric that would be good for her next season's design.

The demand for the winter season design always lasted longer than the autumn ones.

Victor parked the car in the parking lot.

As soon as the three of them got out of the car, Haven, Tillie, Rebecca and Vincent walked over.

Each of them had their own thoughts in their minds.

Vincent looked at Eden, who was very elegant and pretty, said with a smile, "Director Bleu, you look very different today. It seemed that this elegant style suits you as well."

Eden always could impress him every time he saw her. Her remarkable sense of style made people unable to avoid her at all.

Chapter 583

For a man like Vincent who had seen all kinds of beautiful women, could not even help but be attracted by her.

Eden looked at him with her cold eyes. She knew Haven would hate her even more now as he said this, and it seemed that he was quite good at playing petty tricks even though he was not a smart person.

Haven immediately cast a cold gaze on Vincent, who was still staring at Eden, and fury surged from the bottom of her heart.

She couldn't believe he just said that in front of everyone.

Was he blind? She was his wife now.

Which woman could bear her husband talking about how pretty another woman was in front of her? Not to mention that this woman was Eden, the person she hated the most.

Victor took a step forward and stood between Vincent and Eden, looking at Vincent with his dark eyes and warned him in a low voice, "Vincent, you'd better stay away from her."

The atmosphere in the car park instantly tensed up.

Everyone could feel a chill down their spine.

Tillie moved her sarcastic gaze away from Darlene's face and turned to Victor. His slightly raised head and tightly pursed lips were showing everyone how angry he was at the moment.

Tillie narrowed her eyes slightly and looked at this attractive man with admiration.

When she was young, she was always attracted by this kind of man.

Vincent sneered and said, "What if I don't?" He looked back at Victor with his cold gaze too.

"Vincent...!" Haven couldn't help but shout angrily. She didn't want to see him embarrass himself.

Vincent turned his head to Haven, looking at her with his sharp eyes. He was only doing this for everyone to see, and how could she even tell?

She still couldn't change the fact that she was a dumb girl even though she was Tillie's disciple now.

Haven's heart instantly sunk when she saw his cold and sharp eyes.

But she told herself to calm down. She was his wife now, and the most important thing was to get to his heart.

She suppressed the anger in her heart and tried her best to convince herself.

Vincent smiled and said, "Victor, you don't have to be so nervous. I don't want your woman." If Eden hadn't had children, he would have tried to get her.

However, it was such a shame. Every time he saw her, he would think of this.

Victor glanced at him again and said in a low voice, "Eden, let's go!"

He didn't want to talk to them anymore, because he would only end up getting angrier.

Eden nodded slightly and held Darlene's hand. "Aunt, let's go."

Darlene nodded as well without saying anything.

"Wait, Darlene. Don't you want to say hello to me?" Tillie sneered and said, looking at Darlene sarcastically.

She had not heard it wrong earlier that Eden had called Darlene aunt. The two of them were already so close, making her a little jealous.

It seemed that everyone around Darlene was treating her with sincerity, but the people around her were all snobbing who pretended to be close to her.

Sometimes, she was really jealous of Darlene.

Darlene looked back and said in a cold tone, "It's not like we don't know each other. Do you want me to tell everyone our relationship every time we meet?"

Only then did Tillie feel that Darlene was still the same Darlene as before.

She always thought Darlene had been depressed ever since she had problems with her ex. However, Darlene still had many remarkable pieces of design works recently.

Thinking of this, she smiled and said, "Now, that's you." She looked at Darlene with her weird gaze.

She also dressed in white today, just like Darlene, except for a slight difference in style.

Her suit jacket was slightly longer. Because she was quite tall, this design made her look more classic.

Darlene smiled coldly without saying anything. She turned around and said to Eden, "Let's go!"

She had already thought it through, and there was really no point for her to waste any time on a jerk and a b*tch.

Were they really the ones who ruined her life?

The answer was no. Her life actually depended on herself. If she could get over it quicker, she would definitely be living a much better life than Tillie.

They indeed were married now, but they were not living a happy life!

She always knew about this. But she didn't know why Tillie still hadn't had a child yet.

The three of them went all the way to the No. 1 exhibition hall.

There were already a lot of people around their booth when they got there.

Eden look around and saw Lucian.

He said he didn't want to come, but he arrived even earlier than all of them. It showed that he was really a hard worker.

Darlene looked around as well and saw that all the other booths were set up, but there were not many people.

Only their booth was crowded with people. She smiled and said, "Why are there so many people here?"

Victor smiled and said, "Teacher, this is Alwynn Group's stand, and we are showing our products of the new season." He took a look at the booth whilst speaking. He looked so confident as if he got everything in his control.

Darlene seemed much more interested. "Let's go and have a look then. It seems that everyone is attracted by your products."

Victor turned his head to Eden and said, "Eden, maybe your work will make a big splash today!"

Eden didn't know what to say.

She smiled and said, "You look more confident than me."

Victor gently stroked her hair and said, "You don't need to be shy. Let's wait and see."

Eden smiled and said nothing. The three of them walked toward the booth.

Lucian was wearing a white hand-made shirt, looking neat and graceful. He easily stood out from the crowd and seemed to be in control of the overall situation. His clear voice made people feel very comfortable.

He was introducing their products to several foreigners.

The people from Irene's team all came and they were introducing their products to the people around them.

It was the first time for Eden to see her own design products for this autumn season. Every piece was elaborately designed by her. Now that she finally saw the finished product, making her feel very excited.

Everyone around them was discussing with each other about the new design, and all of them were giving positive comments.

Eden couldn't help smiling. She was already very satisfied with such results.

Jotham Alwynn Group and the Clement family's exhibition booth were also in this hall.

When Rebecca saw the crowd in front of Alwynn Group's booth, she instantly had a bad feeling.

Vincent also saw it. His eyes turned cold as he looked at Victor's back. It seemed that Victor could always stand out no matter where he went.

Tillie attended this event every year. When she saw the crowd, she couldn't help but ask, "Whose booth is this?"

Chapter 584

Rebecca sneered and said, "That's the booth of Alwynn Group." Victor, the little brat in her mind, really impressed her.

Every time he would surprise everyone.

This time, she was removed from her position because of the accident with Eden's design, allowing him to take advantage of her. Plus what happened with Alex, she only had cheered up from it after a long time. But it was already too late for her to stop all this.

Vincent sneered and said, "Mom, let's go. I believe we will have a good result this year as well."

Rebecca glanced at him without saying anything. Looking at the exhibition booth of Jotham Alwynn Group where there were more employees than guests, she really couldn't believe that they would have a good result.

Vincent had spent so much time and effort trying to take Victor down, but how could he not achieve anything?

Tillie took a few more steps towards Alwynn Group's booth, trying to have a closer look at the clothes. As soon as she saw them, she was completely attracted by them.

All the clothes looked very fashionable and eyecatching, and they contained all the trendy element that was popular among young people.

Their new collection presented a lively and vibrant atmosphere, which suited the autumn theme perfectly.

Tillie glanced at Eden, who was standing in front of Victor, and her lips curved slightly. She guessed that Eden would be the dark horse at this season.

If Eden got popular, Darlene would be the one who benefits from it.

Once the relationship between them was exposed, Darlene would beat her totally.

Thinking of this, Tillie turned around and walked back to Rebecca with a gloomy face.

She sneered next to Rebecca and said, "I'm afraid that Alwynn Group will win in this season. Neither you nor I would get any deal or benefit from any of the clients here."

Hearing this, Rebecca knew that she was right about it.

Haven asked, "Teacher, is Eden's design really so amazing?" She was so jealous when she heard Tillie's words. She couldn't believe the person they were talking about was Eden!

Every one of the Clement family remembered Eden as a smart and sensible child.

Tillie said, "You can go and check it out yourself.

There are a lot of clients who are very interested in them. They already won."

She had been working in this industry for so many years, neither did she nor Darlene even had this glory before.

"Let's go!" Rebecca looked at Victor's back coldly, then turned around and walked back to their own booth.

At this time, Victor turned around and saw them. He knew they were not planning anything good.

He took out his phone and made a phone call after he walked to a quiet place.

"Keep an eye on Rebecca and Haven." His lips curled up into a sneer.

Looking at Rebecca and the others who were walking away, his eyes blazed. Now he looked exactly the same as the cold and cruel Victor that everyone else said.

He knew exactly what Rebecca was planning.

When he turned back and saw the girl who he couldn't move his eyes away from in the crowd, he had already put a warm smile on his handsome face.

He walked over and whispered in Eden's ear, "Eden, you did it. Last year, there was no client coming to our booth."

Eden didn't know what to say.

Did she really make it?

She looked up at Victor who has a gentle smile on his face, she suddenly felt her heart melted.

If her design could bring some benefits to his company, then she would feel less guilty.

She smiled and said, "I hope that Alwynn Group really could go far this time." His company had not been established long, and he had already done a really amazing job.

Victor whispered in her ear, "We definitely can make it as long as we have you."

Eden smiled sweetly-,

Darlene looked at them and said, "Eden, I have something else to do now. You can walk around here first. I will come back here at eleven o'clock, then we can go have lunch together."

Eden nodded and said, "Okay, aunt. We'll wait for you here."

Darlene nodded with a smile and then left.

Victor said, "Let's go and look around!" Now he felt even more pleased when they were alone.

He had been looking forward to spending time with her when she came back.

Eden looked at him in confusion. "Do we really not need to stay and help?"

Victor glanced at Lucian who was talking with all the guests effortlessly, knowing that he could count it on him.

"It's ok. Lucian can manage it." It showed how much he trusted Lucian.

Eden nodded and walked to other exhibition halls with Victor.

She asked while walking, "Don't you need to go to the exhibitors' conference?"

Victor shook his head slightly. "I arranged someone to attend it already. I'll go to the conference with the cooperative partners later, but it is at noon. We can go together. If there is any company who wants to cooperate with us today, they will have to go to visit our company. At that time, I want you to present our company to them."

Eden smiled and said, "Sounds good. I'd love to do it if we really have the chance. We have always been focusing on making environmentally friendly, fashionable, and high-tech products, so I believe there will be many clients who want to cooperate with us."

She knew that they always needed to improve themselves first before they wanted to be accepted by others, and she had never stopped seeking innovation and putting new ideas into her design. Only in this way would they be able to keep up with this fast-changing market.

Eden thought for a moment and said, "Our fashion show will be held in a few days, and the partners will also go there. If there is an investment plan, this will also be a good chance." She was also looking forward to seeing all the new designs for this season.

Just as Victor wanted to say something, Jasper's voice came over.

"Eden, I'm here."

Hearing his excited voice was, Victor's face instantly darkened.

Was it that hard to just spend some time alone with Eden?

Eden looked over when she heard Jasper's voice. He was wearing a casual suit of their company's new season's collection, looking smart and striking.

She walked over to him with a smile and said, "Jasper, are you also at No.1 exhibition hall?"

Jasper smiled and said, "Of course. Most of the companies from River City are at this hall."

He smiled proudly and pointed to the exhibition area behind him, "Look, only our booths are the busiest."

Eden glanced behind him and smiled, "Congratulations, Jasper!" He had been working very hard ever since he started his business, so he really deserved it.

Every time when Eden was working overtime, Jasper would also work overtime. But if she finished work early, he would always make time to accompany her.

Eden felt so happy for Jasper at the moment, totally forgetting that Victor was still standing next to her.

Chapter 585

However, looking at Jasper's smiling face, Victor really wished that he could punch his teeth through the back of his skull.

Thinking of this, his fists clenched insensibly, but he did not dare to do anything in front of Eden.

If he really punched Jasper right now, Eden would definitely never talk to him anymore.

He knew her very well.

"I have to thank you for this, Eden." Jasper gently looked at Eden with a smile and said.

Eden didn't understand why he said this.

However, Victor's face darkened even more. He moved a little forward and stood closely behind Eden, looking at Jasper with a gloomy face.

What did this have to do with Eden?

Eden asked, "What do you want to thank me? I don't seem to have done anything."

Jasper said seriously, "Of course you have. Your support and encouragement mean a lot to me. A company just said that they want to cooperate with us. I believe this will be a big progress for us."

Eden didn't know what to say. Was she really this helpful?

Why had she never noticed it before?

"Congratulations again, Jasper!" She said with a smile.

Jasper laughed and said, "Let's go for dinner together later. Because you helped me a lot, I want to treat you for something good. What about lobsters? I know you like it!"

Eden felt a little flattered.

She was pleased to hear it, but she really didn't think she had done anything that deserved this.

She had only talked about some designs with Jasper and given him some opinions about his work.

Now she felt a little overwhelmed all of a sudden.

"Sounds good!" She smiled and nodded.

Jasper suddenly glanced at the clothes that Eden was wearing and said excitedly, "Eden, is this the design that you showed me before? You've already made it! It suits you so well. You look like a grown woman now."

Eden was speechless. Was she always a child in his eyes?

How come?

And she never noticed that before!

At this moment, Victor really couldn't hold his anger back anymore. He really wanted to shout out "Jasper, f*ck off!", however, when he opened his mouth, the sentence he said sounded completely different from what he was thinking in his mind. "Mr. Joye, your staff is looking for you."

"Hey, Mr. Alwynn! I didn't see you earlier!"

Victor couldn't help but roll his eyes.

He had been standing there the whole time. How could he not see him?

However, at this moment, someone was really looking for Jasper.

Jasper looked at Eden and said seriously, "Eden, you shouldn't walk too much as your food is not fully healed yet. I'll come to you after I'm done here."

Eden said, "You don't have to worry about me. I know that you have been very busy recently. Take care of yourself."

"Thank you. I'll be fine." Jasper smiled and stepped away.

As he turned around, he looked at Victor with a meaningful look.

Victor was so angry that the corner of his mouth trembled, but at this moment, he couldn't do anything.

He had never felt so irritated before.

He would never forget about this feeling!

He tried to convince himself in his mind that at least Jasper had been taking care of Eden and her three children, so he should let him go this time.

Eden seemed to have noticed his difference and turned around to look at him.

Victor's angry look turned into grievance in an instant.

Eden's gaze changed suddenly as well. How could his face change so fast?

Victor smiled and said, "Eden, let's continue walking around."

He thought about Jasper's words again, and irritation surged up inside him instantly.

He felt that he would never be able to get along with Jasper anymore in his whole life.

Eden looked at him in confusion. "Are you alright?"

Victor said, "Of course." He would always be alright as long as she was alright.

Eden asked, "Are you sure?"

"Yes, I'm totally fine!"

"Alright, let's go!" Eden quickly stepped forward.

Victor didn't say anything more.

Looking at Eden's back, he always felt a little weird.

After that, the two of them walked around and checked out almost all the exhibition booths.

Eden kept making notes on her phone, making sure that she wouldn't forget anything that she learned.

Victor accompanied her the whole time, but he did not want to disturb her.

Looking at her serious face when she was totally concentrating on her work, he was sure that she was an independent and strong woman.

Seeing that she almost got what she needed, Eden turned around and said, "Mr. Alwynn, let's go and have a look at the fabric." The high-quality fabric would show the quality of the clothes without people even touching them.

And sometimes, details were the key.

The high-quality fabric would definitely bring her design to another level.

"Sure!" Victor walked her to the fabric exhibition area.

There were more than 1,000 textile companies that took part in this exhibition, all of which were very famous brands in this industry.

There were hemp/cotton, silk, knitting, woven, woolen, nanotechnology, embroidery, composite fabrics, functional fabrics... They could really find whatever they wanted.

There were also various kinds of accessories, such as buttons, zips... etc., making Eden didn't even know where to start.

After walking around, Eden really found the fabric she wanted.

"Victor, look! This white cashmere fabric is perfect for my design for next winter season! This must be the new product this year. I didn't see it last year. And there are three colors that I can choose."

Victor looked at the color of the fabric and was also very satisfied. Then he wrote down the fabric company's name so that he could contact them later.

Cashmere was usually very expensive, but it was warm and comfortable as it was so light and soft.

Eden really liked cashmere.

They had been walking till 11 o'clock, but Eden was still in high spirits.

Victor accompanied her the whole time. He had been taking care of her although he didn't talk much.

When it was noontime, there were more and more people came. Among them, several paparazzi already recorded the two of them together.

After that, they returned to the place where they were going to meet Darlene.

And Darlene was already waiting there.

Eden smiled and said, "Aunt, have you finished your work?"

Darlene shook her head slightly and said, "I have so much work to do. There will be a fashion show in the afternoon. I have to go and check on the models."

Victor said, "Teacher, our show is also in the afternoon."

Darlene smiled and said, "It is a very big event this year. I just had a look, I think all the designs from Alwynn Group are very amazing. You are definitely leading the trend this year. And I think our company is not too bad this year either."

Victor smiled, "Teacher, you are the chief designer."

Darlene also smiled, "Although I took Eden as my apprentice, there are many things that I haven't taught her yet. She is very talented. I believe she will be very popular in the future."

Chapter 586

Eden looked at Darlene and smiled gently. "Aunt, there will be a chance in the future. I've seen your design and I've always liked your idea. And I also read your book. I really learned a lot from it."

Darlene looked at her lovingly. She knew Eden had always been a very hard-working person. She smiled and said, "You're talented as well as hardworking, so you will definitely be successful in the future."

Eden smiled but did not say anything. She knew that she had to work hard all the time to keep up her pace with the fast-changing world.

She was always very humble and trying her best to learn and improve herself.

She was also looking forward to seeing the unexpected result she could bring to herself.

She wanted to know what her potential really was.

Darlene said, "Eden, Mr. Alwynn, let's go to have lunch now. The organizers have arranged a buffet for us. I'll take you there now."

Eden glanced at Darlene and said, "A buffet? There must be a lot of food then." Although she didn't eat much, she was indeed a foodie.

Darlene laughed, "There is definitely something you like. Don't worry. Let's go!"

Victor didn't seem to be happy at all. He planned to take Eden out on his own.

Eden took a few steps forward and found that Victor did not follow them. She looked back at him and said, "Victor, are you not coming?"

Victor really didn't want to, but he had no choice at the moment.

He sighed again in his heart and wondered why it was so hard to just have some time alone with her.

He regretted not bringing Anson with him now. At least Anson was a very sensible person.

And he definitely would leave some time for him to be with Eden alone.

Victor put his hands in the pockets of his trousers, and his striking appearance attracted everyone's attention.

Eden looked around, shaking her head slightly when she found that all the girls were looking at him. He was the kind of person who always could stand out no matter where he was.

Eden sent a text message to Jasper quickly.

"Jasper, I'm going to have lunch at the buffet restaurant. Take care of yourself. Don't starve yourself."

Jasper replied: "Why don't you wait for me?" "I saw you were very busy earlier. I don't think you would have time to have lunch with me."

Jasper sent a sobbing face. "Enjoy your lunch anyway. Don't eat too much. You don't have to pay, so you don't need to worry about how to really get your money's worth."

Eden was speechless.

He shouldn't have said that to her.

For a poor person like her, if she could make her money worth it when she had a buffet, it would be..

So she replied: "Is this how you speak to a girl?"

"If I don't know how to speak to a girl properly, then no one else knows."

"Give over. I'm going to enjoy the delicious food now. You can carry on blowing your own trumpet there."

Eden put her phone back in her bag after sending the last message.

Victor lowered his head and glanced at her phone, feeling a little irritated.

The three of them walked to the luxurious and romantic buffet restaurant.

Everyone inside looked very formal and dignified.

They all dressed up very stylishly, making this whole place very pleasing to the eye.

Eden looked around in the restaurant, finding that everyone looked so gorgeous.

Someone looked vibrant, someone looked chic, and someone looked artsy. It was indeed like a fashion show.

Victor found a seat and the three of them sat down. He asked first, "Eden, what would you like to eat?"

Eden smiled and said, "I want to eat shrimp."

"I'll get it for you." Victor stood up as he was speaking.

But Eden smiled and said, "Let's go together."

Darlene looked at the two of them and said, "You two go ahead. I'll go get my own food."

Hearing this, Victor suddenly felt a little better.

He walked to the other side with Eden. As soon as Eden walked into the crowd, she immediately attracted everyone's attention. She was tall and had good taste in her clothes. Everyone's eyes lit up when they saw her.

"Who is that girl? She is very pretty," said a handsome man in the crowd. He was holding a glass of red wine in his hand, standing with another two good-looking men.

One of them said with an elegant smile, "She is already with someone. You're a little late."

At this moment, Haven walked past them with her plate in her hands and happened to hear what they said. She quickly looked back and saw Eden and Victor.

She noticed that everyone's eyes were all focusing on Eden. She seemed to be the most eye-catching person there.

A hint of jealousy flashed across her eyes. At the same time, an evil smile appeared on her face. She had already planned something for Eden, and she couldn't wait to see her name hit the headline the next morning.

She would like to see how much her design still worth when her reputation was totally destroyed.

"Haven, what are you planning right now with such vicious eyes?"

Such a sarcastic voice made Haven immediately come back to reality. She looked back and saw Delmont who was wearing a suit and tie, looking very distinguished.

She smiled sweetly and said, "Delmont, what are you talking about? I don't understand it at all."

It seemed that Delmont had already totally turned against her. If she didn't do anything, he would be like this forever.

Delmont looked at her with a sneer. "You'd better not let me have anything else on you, otherwise, I can't guarantee what I would do."

He would never be that stupid again when he trusted her so much and even end up hitting his own sister.

Haven was such an evil person!

"Delmont..." Haven put on an innocent face, "We grew up together, so you must know me very well.

How would I hurt other people?"

Delmont snorted coldly and did not say anything.

He held the wine glass in his hand and strode away.

Haven looked at his back with a weird look in her eyes.

She really didn't know what to do with Delmont!

Now that he saw the messages that she sent to Vincent, she was worried that she would never live peacefully anymore.

"Haven, what are you doing?" Rebecca shouted from not far away.

Haven turned back quickly and said with a smile, "Mom, I'll be right back."

She turned over, and the three handsome men behind her were still talking about how beautiful Eden was.

Haven glanced at herself. She was wearing a white dress today, which made her look very graceful.

However, no one seemed to notice her at all. She realized that she was wearing the wrong dress today.

She should have put on a bright red dress.

Only in this way could she attract others' attention.

Haven walked back with an annoyed face.

Suddenly, she found that Vincent, who was sitting at the table just now, had gone.

Did he go to hook up with other girls again?

Haven already noticed that he started looking for his targets already as soon as he walked into this place.

He even did it when his wife was with him. What a jerk!

Haven was fuming now. She didn't go back to her seat but went straight to find Vincent.

Chapter 587

Eden and Victor went to get the food together.

Eden was worried that she couldn't finish everything, so she only took a few pieces of each dish. The most food she got was seafood.

Victor looked at the food on her plate, everything looked so plain.

She always ate spicy food when she was home, but when she was at work, she normally ate something lighter.

She was very strict with herself, especially when she couldn't go to the gym when she was busy at work.

"Eden, is this enough for you?" Victor asked.

Eden glanced at him and blinked her big eyes. "There isn't much food on your plate either!"

Victor glanced at the dishes, none of them was what he liked. He much preferred the dishes that were made at home compared to these.

The two of them went to the snack area. Eden liked sushi very much, but she only took two pieces.

"Director Bleu, do you like sushi?" Vincent walked over, with his arm wrapped around a girl's shoulders.

Seeing him, Victor frowned and stood closer to Eden immediately.

"Vincent, I've warned you to stay away from her," said Victor. His dark and sharp eyes were enough to make everyone shudder.

Vincent forced himself to look straight into Victor's eyes, but he still failed in the end. His face darkened, then his eyes fell on Eden, who still looked very calm and confident.

He knew that Victor would never think that the more he cared about Eden, the more dangerous she would be.

Because the more he wanted to protect her, the more Vincent would want to hurt her.

Eden looked at the girl in Vincent's arms. No wonder he was known as a big jerk. He still dared to flirt with other girls when his wife was right here.

Vincent smiled coldly, and his gaze fell on Eden's face. "Director Bleu, you really did a good job. Your design is excellent. Well done!" He actually meant it.

And he knew that Victor would have more chance to get the offers from the clients this time.

"Thank you!" Eden smiled indifferently.

Looking at her cold face, Vincent smiled and said, "Director Bleu, we are quite close already, so why are you still treating me as a stranger?"

But Eden didn't seem to buy it, "I'm sorry, Mr. Alwynn. I don't think we are that close."

Hearing this, the corners of Victor's lips curled up slightly.

And Vincent instantly fell silent awkwardly.

He didn't expect Eden to be so bold. Who did she think she was? She really didn't have enough decency to feel ashamed of herself!

At this moment, the girl who was with him also looked at him with a meaningful look, making Vincent feel even more embarrassed.

He had never seen any girl in the whole River City who dared to speak to him like how Eden did.

Any girl in this restaurant would have a better background than her, and he could get with any of them easily without even trying. However, Eden was the only one who never even showed him any respect.

Thinking of this, he laughed and said, "Director Bleu, that's the way you are, always so distant. I don't know how you and Mr. Alwynn, who is also such an arrogant person, can get along with each other?"

Eden felt speechless.

She didn't know what exactly Vincent wanted to say.

At this moment, she looked up and saw that Haven was walking towards them from now far.

She smiled and said, "Mr. Alwynn, rather than being curious about this, you'd better look back now. It seems that your wife is looking for you."

After this, she turned her face to Victor.

Victor instantly understood what she meant, and the two of them were ready to leave.

Before Eden turned around, she saw the girl in Vincent's arms suddenly looked a little awkward.

Vincent looked at Eden's back and an evil look across his face. The corner of his mouth was lifted into a sneer.

He would not let Eden get away with it for long.

Eden suddenly felt a chill down her spine, but she didn't look back.

Vincent turned around still with one arm wrapping around the girl's shoulders, but to his surprise, he saw Haven walking towards them.

His expression was still calm, and there was a faint smile on his face. He really didn't like it when Haven followed him everywhere.

He whispered a few words in the girl's ear. The girl suddenly looked at Haven, and the corners of her mouth were lifted into a sneer.

Haven looked at them whispering to each other, and her face instantly turned pale.

She tightened the grip of her hands on the plate with anger. She had just told everyone about their marriage, but this bastard was already cheating on her.

What a joke she was?

She laughed at herself in her heart as it seemed that she was the one who pushed herself all the way here.

Vincent was just a feckless good-for-nothing.

However, no matter how heartbroken she was at the moment, she still had to control herself. She didn't want to embarrass herself more in front of everyone. "Vincent, your mom is looking for you."

The most embarrassing thing for her actually was Victor and Eden were both here earlier.

Vincent smiled lightly and looked at Haven with a cheeky face. "You can go back first. I'm talking to my friend about business now."

A look of great anger swept across Haven's face. She looked at the girl in his arms. Was this how he talked about business?

Was she that stupid in his mind?

"Alright, I will leave you to your business then. I will go back now and tell your mom that you are having a great business deal for Jotham Alwynn Group." Haven finished her words with a smile and turned around to leave.

Vincent could tell that she was being sarcastic. He frowned deeply when he watched her walking away.

The girl with him smiled and said, "Mr. Alwynn, are you afraid of your wife?"

Vincent's face darkened, then he sneered and said, "Don't call her my wife. She is just someone I can't get rid of."

Haven had not walked far enough, so she heard everything he said. She instantly felt her heart seemed to explode in pain.

She gritted her teeth. She only married Vincent for money anyway, so she would have to accept all these humiliations now.

As long as she got the money to spend, why would she care about anything else?

She felt much better after thinking it through. Then she left with a calm face.

Vincent was very satisfied when Haven didn't make a fuss about it. He wrapped his arm tighter around the girl's shoulders and walked in the other direction.

At the same time, Victor and Eden went back with their plates in their hands, so did Darlene.

The three of them chatted while eating, and it seemed that they were having a very good time.

Tillie, who had been staring at them from not far away, felt extremely jealous.

She was sitting and drinking red wine with another two ladies who both looked very fashionable. She kept whispering to the other two ladies, and they both kept looking over at Eden from time to time.

Eden and Darlene were chatting to each other happily, and neither of them noticed any different.

At this time, Aisling also came to the restaurant with Delmont and Buddy, but when they saw that Haven was also there, they only sat down quietly without saying hi.

After the meal, Darlene had other matters so she left first on her own.

Victor and Eden were also ready to leave.

However, just as Eden got up and turned around, something unexpected happened.

A glass of wine was suddenly poured all over Eden's face and body.

Chapter 588

"Eden!" Victor shouted when he saw this, and a boiling fury swelled inside of him.

Eden wiped the wine on her face and looked up at the girl in a fashionable white dress with flounce sleeves standing in front of her. Her outfit made Eden think of a swan somehow.

Seeing that Eden was looking at her, the girl said with a light smile, "Im sorry. I couldn't hold it tight earlier. Are you alright?"

Couldn't hold it tight?

Eden sneered in her heart. It was so obvious that she did it on purpose.

As this accident happened, everyone's eyes were fixed on them.

Looking at Eden who was in such a mess, an evil smile appeared on Tillie's face. She surely wouldn't let Eden get away with it so easily after she was humiliated last time.

A look of great anger swept across Victor's handsome face. He looked at the woman and said, "You..."

But before he could finish his words, Eden pulled his arm and said with a smile, "Mr. Alwynn, forget it. She already said sorry. She didn't do it on purpose."

Victor was completely shocked.

He didn't understand what Eden meant. He surely would not allow anyone to hurt her in front of him.

The girl who poured the wine on Eden was slightly taller than Eden. She raised her round and cute face, looking at Victor in surprise. She had never seen such a handsome man. But how could he be with such a woman like Eden?

Eden noticed how this girl was staring at Victor.

She smiled slightly, looked at the juice on the table, and then looked back at the girl.

She walked over and picked up the juice, then poured the juice onto the girl's face. Then, she said with a bright smile, "I'm sorry. I didn't hold it tight. Are you alright?" This was exactly what the girl said earlier.

Everyone looked at her in shock. Even Victor did not expect this at all.

However, no matter what she did, he would be able to clear her mess anyway.

Thinking of this, he gave her a firm look, as if to say, "Good job!"

Eden glanced back at him but did not say anything.

The girl screamed out loudly a few seconds later when she finally realized what had just happened. Her white dress was covered with red liquid, looking like such a mess.

Eden looked at Victor and said with a smile, "Mr. Alwynn, this is how we should deal with a woman like this."

Victor had completely lost his words all of a sudden.

He was totally impressed.

"Yes! That's my sister," Delmont, who was standing not far away, exclaimed excitedly.

Buddy looked back at him and frowned without saying anything.

It was obvious that the girl poured the wine onto Eden on purpose.

At this moment, Aisling was also staring at the girl who poured the wine to her daughter in great anger. She wished that she could just rush over and teach her a lesson.

"You d*mn woman! Do you know who I am? How dare you do this to me?" The girl shouted furiously at Eden, feeling like she was going to lose control.

Teacher Elliott told her that Eden was just a design director, but how could she be this bold?

Eden smiled mockingly. "I'm sorry, I said I didn't hold it tight. By the way, I really don't know who you are."

"You... you crazy woman! You did it on purpose." The girl looked like she was going to cry. She had never been humiliated like this in front of so many people.

"Well..." said Eden. "Don't make it sound like you didn't do it on purpose earlier. There are a couple of empty wine glasses over there, so how many glasses of wine did you put together so that you could pour it all over my body?"

She was not someone that could be messed with easily. If she kept quiet right now, there would be more people trying to mess with her in the future.

"Five glasses." The girl drew a long face.

Everyone was shocked.

Eden was surprised too. She didn't expect her to admit it so easily.

This girl didn't look innocent at all!

But why did she admit it so quickly?

Hearing what the girl said, Tillie frowned.

Haven and Rebecca were enjoying the show earlier, but when they heard the girl's words, they both frowned as well.

Did she confess everything then?

At this moment, Eden chuckled and said, "Five glasses are not enough at all. You can easily fit ten glasses in your glass. Don't be so stupid next time. Let me tell you. Have you seen the tomato juice over there? Use that next time. I'm sure you will like it."

Sh*t!

How many times had she been poured by red wine?

"You are so awful! We are even now anyway. Do you know how much this dress costs me?" The girl looked at Eden angrily. She bit her bottom lip and felt more aggrieved than she had ever been.

Eden looked at her up and down and said, "This dress is the limited edition of last year from Jotham Alwynn Group. The design is not bad but doesn't really suit you. You are tall, so this short dress is very inconvenient for you because you would have to worry about it as soon as you bend your body. As for the price, it is not particularly expensive for rich people like you."

The girl looked at Eden in surprise and said loudly, "What are you talking about? This is the new product of Jotham Alwynn Group this year. I bought it yesterday." She argued loudly because it was an insult to her if someone said her dress was from last year.

Eden did not argue back. "Whatever."

Rebecca looked at the dress and realized it was indeed the limited edition of last year, and they didn't sell any of them last year.

How come it became the new product this year? What had Vincent been doing when she was not in the company?

Victor also took a look at the dress that the girl wore. How could they still sell the old style from last year and lied to their customer?

Eden smiled and said, "You can check it online and see whether it is from last year or not."

After that, she looked at Victor and said, "Let's go, Mr. Alwynn."

Now that they were even, she wouldn't want to waste more time on her.

This time, Victor looked around carefully first to make sure that no one would hurt Eden anymore.

"Your name is Eden Bleu, isn't it?" The girl suddenly called out to Eden.

Eden looked back and smiled sincerely. "Yes, it is."

"I will remember you." The girl looked at her and said.

Eden smiled, "Then you'd better not forget."

Then she turned around and left confidently. Her clear and bright eyes were filled with pleasure, and her red lips curled up into a smile. She was still so eye-catching even though she was in such a mess.

Chapter 589

All the men around her couldn't help but look at her and whisper into each other's ears.

Eden was probably not a stunning person at first sight, but the longer people stay with her, the more they would realize how gorgeous she was. Just like right now, her sweet and confident smile, plus what she had just done, made her look even more attractive.

Seeing all the men's eyes, Victor looked a little unhappy.

Vincent also watched everything. Looking at Victor who wanted to protect Eden so much, an evil smile appeared on his face. He took out his phone and quickly sent a message.

At the same time, Haven, who was standing not far away, also took out her phone quickly and sent a message.

Only the girl who was covered with juice all over her body took out her phone to check the information about her dress online.

If it was not the latest design, she would really go crazy. She was surely not someone who would wear last season's clothes.

At this moment, Rebecca had been staring at this girl for a while. She could guess that the girl must be checking the dress online now.

D*mn it!

If this rumor was spread out, it would not be so simple.

Tillie smiled coldly. It seemed that Eden was indeed very brave and smart. But how could she trust a stupid girl like Ella?

Even though she would not forget about what happened today, so what? Everyone knew about Eden, but still, no one could do anything to her.

Aisling felt much relieved at this moment when she saw her daughter walking away with Victor.

Buddy glanced at his mother and said, "Mom, there were journalists here. I'm afraid that Eden will become the target again." He already saw some journalists taking photos there earlier.

"It doesn't matter. Eden didn't do anything wrong anyway!" She wanted to say that as long as Victor was with her, no one would be able to hurt her anyway.

Delmont said coldly, "Mom, I can tell that Vincent is planning something in his head from his look.

Would he hurt Eden? Look at that b*stard. Haven is his wife now, but he is still flirting with other girls when his wife is here. He really doesn't treat our family seriously." Delmont glared at Vincent, who was chatting and laughing with some girls while speaking.

Buddy did not say anything. When a person had experienced all the pain already, any of the ridicule or slander would not matter anymore.

He knew Eden would not care about these things. He wanted to take this opportunity to talk about Zofia, but there was always something happening to Eden, and they couldn't even help her right now.

Now that the problem with the Clement family had been solved, it was time for him to tell everything to his mother.

Aisling glanced at Rebecca, who was standing not far away, and said in a low voice, "Buddy, Delmont, I know that Haven just wants money when she married Vincent. I'm afraid that she will ask me for the dowry I agreed to her before. You'd better keep an eye on her and watch how she would get the entire Jotham Alwynn Group."

Delmont said, "Mom, is she really so ambitious and capable?"

"Is she capable?!" Aisling only sneered and said nothing more.

She had already seen Haven through, so she surely knew what she was capable of.

Victor and Eden went out of the buffet restaurant together.

Victor looked around and asked, "I guess you didn't bring any clothes, did you?"

Eden looked at him and nodded. She thought they would go back home at night, so she didn't bring any extra clothes.

Victor let her sit on a chair, and then called Lucian.

After waiting for a few minutes, a staff came out with several carry bags. She looked at Victor and said with a smile, "Mr. Alwynn, this is what you asked."

"Thank you!" Victor took the four carry bags and went to the parking lot with Eden.

Eden asked, "Where are we going?"

Victor looked at her and smiled cheekily. "Hotel."

Eden couldn't help but sigh.

She really hated to stay in a hotel as she could only sleep with the light on.

However, it seemed that she really needed a shower right now.

"Alright, let's go!" She sounded very helpless.

Victor took her to the parking lot and drove to the hotel.

But neither of them noticed that there was a black car behind them and followed them quietly.

Eden looked at herself and said helplessly, "This is the sixth time that I have been poured with wine."

Victor frowned and glanced at her quickly. "How come?" This was the second time he saw it after he met her.

Eden smiled and said, "It happened four times when I was in Gate City!" Maybe even more, but she couldn't really remember it anymore. However, she fought back every time.

She would never keep quiet if something like this happened to her.

Victor knew that she had had a bad time before, so he didn't ask anymore.

After driving for a short while, Victor suddenly noticed the car that had been following them.

He slowed down intentionally and remembered the car's license plate number clearly. Then he suddenly sped up when they passed one traffic light.

Eden quickly glanced at him and asked, "What's ?ll w

Victor said in a low voice, "Hold tight. Someone is following us." "What?" Eden couldn't believe it. "Do you mean that I will be on the headline again tomorrow?" She looked at Victor with her eyebrows rose slightly, and her long lashes fluttered.

Victor smiled, but his eyes were fixed on the road. "Don't worry. I will be here with you!"

Eden didn't know what to say. She was more worried she he was with her.

As soon as he appeared in her life, it seemed that she could never get rid of the scandals anymore.

Victor held the steering wheel tightly in his hands, totally concentrating on the road ahead.

After been shoved a couple of times in the car, Eden couldn't help but hold the bar tightly, looking a little pale.

There was a big truck in front of them, but Victor did not intend to slow down at all. Eden shouted out, "Victor, slow down! I'd rather go on the headline tomorrow than die in a car crash!" She bit her bottom lip nervously.

But Victor only smiled, "Trust me." There was no nervousness in his voice at all.

Eden was a little relieved when she heard this.

However...

Just as she was trying to calm down, the car suddenly turned and flew past the big truck. Eden's whole body leaned against the door instantly. She could feel her stomach surged up, and her face turned pale.

She looked up at Victor, and he still looked very calm and seemed to enjoy it.

She could not help but said in her heart, "Mad man!"

Chapter 590

When Victor made sure that the car was left far behind, he finally slowed down and turned to check on Eden who looked very pale at the moment. He asked with concern, "Are you okay?"

Eden swallowed and said, "Do you think I look okay?" Her body was still shaking now.

It felt even safer to sit on Jasper's motorbike.

However...

She looked at Victor with confusion and asked, "Why would someone follow us?"

She felt much better as the car slowed down.

Victor smiled and said in a soft tone, "Maybe they think that we look like a perfect match!"

Eden was speechless.

Where did he get all this confidence?

What a day today!

Eden lowered her head quietly and thought about it, as she really didn't like such a thing happening.

"Eden, why are you not saying anything?" Victor asked when he didn't hear her answer.

But Eden seemed to be very depressed. What did he want her to say? Should she just agree to him that they were a good match?

She sighed.

She didn't understand why this always happened to her.

She lowered her head to look at her beautiful clothes. This was only the first time that she wore this. What a shame!

Victor glanced at her and asked, "What's wrong?"

He knew what she was thinking, so he couldn't help raising the corners of his mouth.

Eden said in a low voice, "It took me a week to design this outfit, and another week to make it. But look at it now. What a pity!"

Victor smiled as he guessed right.

"Don't worry. I'm sure you can clean this up!"

Eden looked very gloomy. "I can only try it now." She really didn't want to throw it away. It took her a lot of effort and time to even find the right fabric.

Just as she was thinking this, her phone showed that she got a new message. It was from Jasper.

"Eden, where are you now?"

Eden sighed and replied, "On the way to change clothes."

"You didn't get wine poured on your clothes again, did you?"

Eden felt even more helpless reading this.

"How do you do that? But you definitely can't imagine what exactly happened earlier."

After sending this message, she stared at the screen as if she was very pleased with herself.

Victor, who had been completely ignored by her, instantly darken his face. He knew it must be Jasper even though he didn't look at her phone.

Jasper replied, "Do you really think I don't know you? You must have poured it back, and the other party must be in a worse mess than you."

Eden smiled. Could there be anyone else who knew her this well?

"Yes, you are right. And she was indeed in a great mess."

"I knew it. That's the Eden I know!!"

"Em... stop it now! By the way, have you eaten yet?"

"Have I eaten? I have no time for that."

"Why do you still have time to chat sh*t here?"

"Because I worry about you!"

"I'm totally fine. You don't need to worry about yourself. You should be worried about yourself

now. Don't die before you get your deal done."

"Oh my God... Eden. You really hurt my feelings." "Alright, I'll lend you my shoulder for you to cry on, and then you can go home."

After she sent the last message, Victor had already driven the car to the underground parking lot of the hotel. Seeing that she was still focusing on her phone, looking so quiet and pretty, Victor couldn't help but smile.

It seemed that the whole world had gone completely silent all of a sudden, and the only thing he could see right now was her.

Eden still hadn't noticed that the car was stopped, so Victor said, "Eden, we've arrived."

Only then did she finally come to her senses and quickly sent a message back to Jasper, then she turned her face to Victor.

"Let's go up now!" She put her phone into her handbag and smiled gently. She seemed to have forgotten all the unpleasant moments already.

Hearing this, Victor couldn't help but smile cheekily. It seemed that he was invited, so he said quickly, "Yes, let's go up."

Looking at his smiling face, Eden felt a little confused. But she didn't think too much.

They got out of the car and went straight to the elevator.

Victor pressed the eighth floor directly. Eden asked with confusion, "Don't we need to check-in?"

Victor looked at her and smiled. "This hotel is mine."

"What?" Eden exclaimed. He was indeed rich.

Victor smiled helplessly and said, "Rebecca has been eyeing my company and property, so I invested in many real estates."

He had to be very cautious and careful as Rebecca was such a cunning woman.

Now that he had made a clean break with his father, she would do something to him soon.

And when the time came, he would definitely let her experience the feeling of losing all standing and reputation.

Eden looked at him with some concern. Rebecca didn't seem to be harsh to Victor when she met her recently. But she could tell that Rebecca was good at faking it, especially when they were in public. She would not ruin her reputation in front of others.

"I heard from Jasper that you had a few accidents, but none of them were really accidents. Like last time when I saw you on the highway. It wasn't an accident either, was it?" This was the first time

Eden mentioned it to Victor.

Victor's eyes narrowed. It sounded like Jasper was investigating him!

He nodded slightly and did not say anything.

Eden looked at him and suddenly held his hand tightly in hers. She smiled and said to him, "Victor, you have mom, me, and Graciella now. You don't need to worry about anything anymore."

Victor looked at her worried eyes and looked down at his hand. He could feel the warmth of her palm on her hand. He chuckled and said, "But Eden, you haven't promised when are you going to marry me."

Hearing this, Eden's eyes suddenly widened. They weren't in a relationship yet, how could they talk about marriage already?

"Haha... Victor, I want to date more before I get married." She instantly regretted it after she said it. Why did she say that to him?

Victor looked at her nervous look and laughed.

"Don't laugh! You make me feel embarrassed now." Eden whispered. In fact, she really wanted to have a proper date. She had three children already, but she had never had a relationship before. No one probably would believe this,

When they reached the eighth floor, Victor took her hand and went out. "We have been dating all the time." It was just that a little woman did not feel that she was in love at all.

"What are you talking about?" Eden denied.

Victor paused his steps and looked at her seriously with his dark eyes. He raised his hands and put them on her shoulders, then he lowered his head slightly and looked into her clear eyes. He smiled and said, "Eden, you promised me that you would give us some time, and from that point, we were already in a relationship." She was indeed very innocent. How could she even need him to clarify such a thing?