

Gluey Love 671

Chapter 671

Eden couldn't help but burst into laughter. This reason was really farfetched.

She was more suitable to wear famous brands? As long as a woman had money and a good figure, buying goods from famous brands would be the best option for any woman to solve any problems.

So it was suitable for everyone.

Although the clothes she was wearing were not from the top brands, they were still stylish and trendy. All the clothes she had been wearing these years were made by herself, so she was the only one who knew how comfortable they were.

As for the opinions of others, she had never cared about them at all.

Paulina said, "Or maybe you can't afford famous brands, Director Bleu?"

Eden smiled and nodded. "You're right, I really can't afford those brands. However, Miss Clark, as a designer, you should know that the taste of a person's clothes is actually a reflection of their inner world. No matter it is a normal T-shirt from the market, or it is a T-shirt from a famous brand which costs thousands, as long as that person is confident and kind-hearted, she or he still would look graceful.

On the contrary, for someone who is so evil, no matter how expensive the clothes they wear, they still wouldn't look good at all with their ugly face. As a designer, if you could only judge a person by how much their clothes are, then..."

Eden hesitated. Sometimes, it was important to wear expensive designer brands on different occasions, and there was no doubt that people in the upper class all liked luxurious clothes.

However, as a designer, Eden could not let her thoughts be stuck in a traditional model.

Paulina laughed and looked at Eden with a hint of viciousness in her eyes. "Director Bleu, you are always so eloquent. I really don't know what to say now. You're right. We can't judge a person by how much money they have. I'm actually very curious about how a single mother like you could raise three children."

Hearing this, Eden smiled even more calmly, "Miss Clark, you are not even married yet, why are you asking me about the experience of raising children already? It is indeed a very important thing to educate children well, but I don't have time to talk to you all about it today. We can meet up another time for it if you want."

Paulina slightly pursed her lips, looking as if she was not ready to give up just yet.

"I really admire you actually, but do you think you are good enough for Victor? You are a single mother with three children. Don't you think Victor deserves to marry someone better than that?"

Eden lifted the corner of her mouth coldly. Surely, this was the real reason why she was here.

"Miss Clark, do you really not have anything better to do at the moment? It has nothing to do with you even if I were not good enough for Victor anyway." Eden's face suddenly turned dark, looking at Paulina with her brows frowned slightly.

"You should be ashamed of yourself! I'll warn you the last time. I should be the one who marries Victor! You'd better keep away from him, otherwise..." Paulina smiled evilly and did not speak out the rest of her words.

But Eden already knew what she was going to say.

So she smiled confidently and looked at Paulina as if she was looking at a clown.

"Miss Clark, why do you think there are always some people who like bragging?" Eden smiled meaningfully as she looked at Paulina.

When she smiled like that, she actually looked a little like Henrick.

Paulina suddenly became angry. "I'm not joking with you now. I like Victor, and no one can steal the man I like."

Eden looked at her and laughed out sarcastically. She did not expect that there were so many women who were interested in the man who had grown up together with her.

Victor was indeed a very outstanding man, and there were so many women who liked him.

But it was the first time that she had met such an overbearing woman like Paulina.

She actually came all the way here to threaten me.

However, Eden didn't really care about it at all. It was not Victor's fault either. After all, she couldn't blame him for being too attractive.

He was already a very popular figure in River City now, and even some celebrities would not have as much media exposure as him.

She looked at Paulina, whose face was so gloomy, and said, "I guess you must still remember what happened in the exhibition event last time. I already know that you and Haven planed everything. Are you so sure that something happens between Victor and me?" "Yes!" Paulina looked at her coldly, and the jealousy in her eyes could not be concealed anymore.

"The Marriott Hotel did not even open to the public that night, because you and Victor were there. He really paid a lot for you." She actually followed them that night.

She found out that Eden and Victor checked in the most expensive and luxurious restaurant in River City and stayed there for several days.

At that time, she was so jealous that she asked Haven to plan a meet-up for her and Victor, trying to make Eden see that she was intimate with Victor. But Eden's reaction was totally unexpected for her.

Eden did not misunderstand them at all, on the contrary, she seemed to totally trust Victor.

Paulina was so angry at the moment that she even wished she could slap Eden in the face.

She didn't understand how Eden could be so calm.

Thinking of this, Paulina couldn't help but gritted her teeth unconsciously. She clenched her fists and was ready to teach Eden a lesson.

She would never let any other women steal Victor away from her!

Eden's eyes lit up slightly. She couldn't believe that there would be anyone who would rather spend money on following them.

It seemed that Paulina was well-planned this time since she was so clear about everything.

Paulina was a good-looking woman and had a good family background. She was mature and intelligent. Everyone would naturally assume that such a woman would be a good match to Victor.

"Miss Clark, if there is nothing else you need to say, I'll have to leave now," said Eden.

Seeing that she was not angry or jealous at all, Paulina felt even more fuming.

How could Eden remain so calm and indifferent after she said such words? This made her feel as if she never really known Eden.

"Eden, don't you feel ashamed of yourself?" She looked at Eden and said.

She came all the way here just because she wanted to make Eden feel uncomfortable. She could not let her live a happy life especially after she saw what a successful show she presented today.

Anyone who was not stupid would know what the purpose of her coming here today was.

"Ashamed?" Eden suddenly looked at her sarcastically. "Why would I feel ashamed in front of the person who tried to harm me behind my back?"

She actually wanted to ask Paulina if she had ever felt ashamed when she planned to meet with Victor at that time.

As well as just now when she asked her to stay away from Victor.

"What do you mean?" Paulina asked.

Eden narrowed her eyes, but still looking really calm and indifferent.

After all the experiences she had for the past years, she had already learned about how to deal with such a situation calmly.

Chapter 672

"Miss Clark, I'd like to talk about it as you mentioned this first. Do you know that if a person wants to get respect from others, they should at least show respect to themselves first? Then, do you still think you respected yourself according to what you have done before?"

Eden looked at Paulina and asked with great anger in her eyes.

Paulina looked at her blankly and didn't know what to say all of a sudden.

So Eden continued calmly, "You have been talking behind other people's back and tearing the scab right off the sore of other people. After you've done all these awful things, do you still think that you are not shameless?"

Eden was sure that what happened today must have something to do with this woman.

"By the way, there is another thing that I forgot to tell you. Ingeborg is fired. As for the reason, I think you should know it better than anyone else."

After she finished her words, she walked away straight away before Paulina could even react. There was a faint smile on her face, and it had nothing to do with the victory right now.

Eden, who had been hurt too many times in her life, had already grown into a strong woman who would not be distracted or tempted by anything else in the world.

She had once read a saying that as long as one had dignity and self-respect, they still would be noble and graceful even though they die.

Paulina looked at Eden's back with her eyes widened, and her petite figure looked so brave and strong in the wind at the moment. She felt that she really had underestimated Eden.

She should have been more cautious with her, otherwise, she would end up losing everything.

"Eden, we are not done yet! Let's wait and see!" Paulina stood where she was and gnashed her teeth whilst talking to herself.

She knew about what happened to Ingeborg now, but what about Victor?

Paulina narrowed her eyes and wondered if Ingeborg had already told them everything.

But she only contacted Ingeborg on phone, and they had never met in person, so she could not tell them anything. Otherwise, according to Victor's personality, he would have come to her already.

Thinking of this, she took a look at the elevator and saw that it led to the 25th floor directly.

Victor was still working, so could she still change everything if she went up now? Could it make her different in Victor's heart?

After thinking for a while, Paulina finally walked towards the elevator. After hesitating for a while again, she pressed the button of the 25th floor.

Meanwhile, Eden drove the car over and saw what Paulina did. She shook her head and couldn't believe how obsessed Paulina was.

She sneered and looked at the time. It was almost six o'clock. Should she follow up as well?

She always felt a little worried in her heart.

Thinking of this, she stepped on the brake suddenly, and the car made a loud noise.

She reversed the car back to the parking space, and couldn't even care that the car was not even straight.

She sat in the car and hesitated. But she told herself in her heart that she should not let any woman touch her boyfriend as they were officially together now.

Thinking of this, she pushed the door open suddenly and went straight to the elevator.

Her eyes stared at the number when it showed that the elevator stopped on the 25th floor.

At this time, Lucian was busy with his work in the office. These days, Anson could not come to work, so his workload had doubled. He surely would not notice that Paulina sneaked in.

Whilst Eden was waiting for the elevator downstairs, Paulina had already reached the 25th floor. Even though she had been there on the day when she signed the contract, she was still impressed again by how luxurious it was. She always had a feeling that it would be so nice if she could work there.

She quickly looked around. The lights were all on, and even the plants looked greener on this floor.

The lights in Victor's office were still on. She smiled slightly and walked over.

As long as she could spend time alone with Victor, she would still have a chance.

She had her own ways of dealing with men.

The door of Victor's office was not locked. Paulina gently pushed the door open and went in. The office was so spacious and bright, and the decoration was also very trendy.

Victor was sitting in front of his desk, reading the documents carefully with his head down. The light gently shone on his face, making his handsome figure looked more charming at the moment. However, Paulina hesitated when she was about to go in as his strong and cold aura made everyone dare not to get close to him.

She had never seen any men who were more charming than Victor.

And at this moment, Victor looked even more attractive than ever.

It was so true that a man would look so handsome when he was focusing on his work. If she could be with a man like Victor, she would not need to worry about anything else in the future anymore. As soon as she thought about this, she felt so comfortable all over her body.

Her heart skipped a beat, which made her a little braver.

At this time, Victor suddenly looked up at the door, and Paulina's figure appeared in his eyes. His inky eyes suddenly turned cold, and his handsome face suddenly darkened.

Seeing this, Paulina's heart suddenly sunk, and her whole body tensed up in fear instantly.

However, when she thought about why she was there, she forced herself to calm down.

A faint smile appeared on her face. "Mr. Alwynn."

"Get out!" A cold voice echoed in the office.

Paulina instantly felt a chill on her spine, and it felt as if she was going to faint.

She wondered if he really hated her so much.

"Mr. Alwynn, I'm here to apologize." Paulina lowered her head and looked guilty. "I'm very sorry for what happened last time!"

She didn't leave, on the contrary, she even walked closer with a smile on her face.

She knew Victor couldn't do anything to her even though he hated her so much.

Moreover, with her family background, he would not dare to do anything to her.

She suddenly felt a little more confident.

Victor frowned as he watched Paulina keep walking closer. How did this woman even get up here?

Who dared to let her in?

"Mr. Alwynn, I really just want to apologize. I have always wanted to apologize to you in person for what happened last time, but I never had the chance."

She knew very well that only by cooperating with Alwynn Group could she get a chance to stay close to him.

She did not come to an agreement with Victor that day, so she went to Lucian.

However, what she did not know was that on the day when she was visiting Jotham Alwynn Group, Victor had seen everything that she had done. So, he did not just hate her, he felt she was totally disgusting.

And he would never forget how she and Haven tried to set him up last time either.

Victor was surely not a person who would forget about such things.

It was just not the right time yet. When the time came, he would not let any of them get away with it easily.

Chapter 673

Seeing that Paulina was getting closer and closer, Victor's eyebrows drew slowly together, and his thin lips were tightly pursed. His cold face looked rather scary right now.

"You have said sorry now, so you can leave," he said with a sullen face.

Paulina surely would not leave when she finally met Victor. Now it was the best time for her to spend some time with him alone.

She had always been dreaming about love, and her biggest dream was to marry a rich man.

She looked at Victor and smiled gently. "Mr. Alwynn, why don't we have a chat? Our companies are partners now anyway."

"I'm working now!" Victor's voice was cold and sharp as if he had lost his patience.

Paulina smiled charmingly. "I'm sorry if I disturbed you. Shall I make a cup of coffee for you?"

After saying that, she put down her bag and walked straight to the coffee machine, didn't even care what Victor was going to say.

Victor rarely appeared in public. People could only see him when he was on the cover of some famous financial magazines.

His stunning appearance made him so popular among young girls.

Paulina had been paying attention to the news in the country when she was abroad, and Victor's news was what she cared about the most.

Now if she could make a cup of coffee for him, she would feel so fulfilled.

Seeing that Paulina had already touched the coffee machine, Victor looked so disgusted. It seemed that the coffee machine had to be changed. He had bought it half a year ago, so it was time to change to a new one anymore.

It seemed that he needed new security guards as well if they couldn't even stop a woman.

Victor looked extremely annoyed at this moment, but Paulina was making coffee so happily.

After the coffee was done, she walked to Victor with the cup of coffee in her hand with a sweet smile.

However, there was an unconcealable disgust on Victor's handsome face. He never knew any woman who could be more shameless than her.

He thought everyone would at least know what shame was, but it was obvious that he thought it wrong.

Paulina knew that Victor was a cold person. Men were all like this. When they were not familiar with her, they were all very distant. Once they knew each other more, they would not be like this anymore.

She had met many men, so she was very confident that she could get with Victor soon.

"Mr. Alwynn, here is the coffee for you." She handed the coffee to Victor.

She was also very confident in the coffee she made. She had learned it properly before.

However, Victor didn't seem to be interested in the coffee at all. He roared with a poker face, "I told you to get out. Didn't you hear me?"

He could not care less if it was the person he didn't like.

Paulina was totally shocked when she heard these words again. She didn't expect that Victor would say such these to her.

She instantly lost her balance and the hot coffee spilled out on her hand.

"Ah..." she screamed out as she couldn't stand still anymore, and the coffee cup was falling to Victor's side.

All the coffee spilled out.

Noticing that something went wrong, Victor stood up quickly, but he was still a little late. The boiling hot coffee instantly splashed on his white shirt, and the boiling temperature made him frown.

A look of great anger swept across his face.

"D*mn it!" He said in a low voice and quickly reached out to unbutton his shirt.

He quickly took off his shirt and threw it aside.

Paulina was scared out of her wits. She had never imagined that such a thing would happen.

She just wanted to stay with Victor alone for a while, but how did this happen?

"Mr. Alwynn, I'm sorry, I'm so sorry. It was an accident." Paulina apologized quickly after she finally came around.

However, Victor had totally lost his patience this time.

He walked away to change his clothes.

Paulina stared at his body obsessively and was stunned for a moment. Then, she didn't even know where she got the courage, but she quickly walked up and hugged him from behind.

Victor was stunned and stood stiffly in the same place, with a disgusting feeling rising in his chest.

There were no other women except for Eden who dared to touch his body like that in his whole life.

However, Paulina wrapped her arms around his waist and breathed deeply. She felt that she would never walk out of his magic anymore.

A boiling fury swelled inside of Victor, and he turned around suddenly.

At this moment, Eden also pushed the door open. Everything just happened at the same time.

Victor raised his head and his gaze met Eden's shocked eyes.

Eden could not help but exclaim. She looked at the two who were hugging each other and totally shocked. Who said that Victor would not touch any other women?

She just couldn't believe what she saw right now.

She still remembered that he told her he had never touched any other woman except for her.

This was like a big slap in his own face.

However, why did she feel so heartbroken at this moment?

That was the man who said that he loved her.

Eden blinked her eyes and found that there were actually tears coming out.

D*mn it, why was she crying? She did not want to cry at all. Breaking up was not a big deal anyway.

Victor did not expect Eden to come back either. He felt as if he had been struck by lightning the moment he saw her pushing the door open and coming in.

He always wanted to see her real reaction in such a situation. After all, she sometimes acted as if she didn't care about him at all. However, when he saw her tears coming out, he felt as if his heart was pierced by someone with a sharp knife.

He told himself with joy in his heart that she indeed cared about him.

However, he made her cry.

His heart ached like never before.

After seeing Eden come in, Paulina held Victor even tighter. She was not willing to let go at all.

"Let go of me!" Victor growled, but his eyes were still fixed on Eden. At this moment, he was totally panicked, and he couldn't care anything else anymore.

He pushed Paulina away.

He pushed her so hard that she flew out and waist bumped on the desk behind her. She instantly burst into tears.

However, Victor walked straight to Eden.

Eden stared at him when he was walking closer to her. She knew what kind of trick this man was playing.

"Eden." Victor looked at her tearful face and felt even more heartbroken. When Eden heard his gentle voice, she was slightly stunned. Then, the corners of her mouths slightly lifted into a sarcastic smile. She just looked at Victor with her cold smile.

Eden was a little surprised by herself, to be honest. Anyone at this point would just turn around and run away. But she just chose to stay and got more hurt by watching them.

However, her legs seemed to have been filled with lead, making it impossible for her to move even a single step.

Chapter 674

"Victor, are you having fun? It must be very exciting to do it in the office, isn't it?" Eden asked him with a sneer. There were still tears in her big clear eyes, and a bitter smile appeared on her face.

She didn't want to cry, but she couldn't control her tears at all. Her heart ached like never before. She thought that she didn't care, however, she had already fallen deeply in love with him before she even knew when it had started.

She should have turned around and left, but she could not control her legs either.

Hearing her question, Victor felt as if a knife had stuck into his chest.

"What are you talking about? Do you not trust me?" He stared at her tearful eyes in a daze. He didn't want her to cry at all.

"Trust you? You were hugging each other. Are you saying that I'm blind?" She asked sarcastically. That bleak smile betrayed her feelings at this moment.

Victor suddenly lost his words. It was true that they were "hugging" each other, but it was not like what she thought.

"You told me that you would trust me." He still stared at her. His heart ached even more. Her upset face made him want to grab her into his arms, but he knew he shouldn't. She would definitely be angrier if he did it right now.

Eden frowned slightly. She glanced at Paulina who was bending over next to the desk, wondering what she was doing.

She sniffed a little and then pursed her dry lips. When she moved her eyes back onto Victor, she saw the red and swollen skin on his belly. She asked suddenly, "What's happened there?"

Victor was confused.

He looked down and realized what she was talking about.

He smiled and said, "It's nothing."

"Nothing? It's red and swollen." She glared at him angrily. However, she was questioning herself in her heart that why she still cared about this jerk at this moment.

"What about you?" Victor reached out his hand and wiped her tears gently.

Eden quickly pushed his hand away and looked at him angrily. "Don't touch me with your hand that just touched someone else."

Victor looked at her with a face of grievance. "Eden, I didn't touch her. She came to me by herself."

Eden looked at his honest face and blinked her big eyes. There were still tears on her curly long eyelashes.

She thought carefully for a while.

Then she suddenly remembered what happened at the exhibition event. Was he telling the truth?

She was such a strong and brave person, but why she totally changed when she was with Victor?

Victor didn't say anything. He just looked at her and smiled. At this time, he finally felt the burning pain in his body.

Seeing that he smiled, Eden immediately felt extremely aggrieved somehow. Tears welled up in her eyes again. She lowered her head and tried her best to hold them back.

She felt that her love was changed her.

But was she really in love with Victor?

If she wasn't, why was she in so much pain?

Eden suddenly regretted that she hadn't dated any other men in her life. Otherwise, she would be more experienced when it came to this point.

She sniffed again and snorted. "Put on your clothes first."

"It hurts!" Victor suddenly looked at her with an aggrieved face.

Eden was a little speechless.

She should be the one who felt sad and wrong at the moment. She really wished that she could hide somewhere right now.

But why did he put on such an aggrieved face?

Why?

Every time when she was wronged, he would be the one who asked for attention in the end.

She would not step into his trap again this time.

"It severs you right," Eden said, gritting her teeth.

"What?" Victor almost choked by her words.

He didn't expect such words from her at all.

"What? Did I say anything wrong?" Eden raised her chin and looked down at him.

She planned to go back and make some delicious food for him, but now, he'd better not even think about it.

"Get in and put some clothes on. I'll find some aloe vera for your skin."

There was a strong smell of coffee in the office. After she calmed down, she already figured out what happened after seeing his burned skin.

Victor nodded and obediently went to put on his clothes.

He would do whatever she asked as long as she didn't get angry with him.

There was aloe vera on the balcony of Eden's office.

She bought it because it was very good for burns.

They also kept aloe vera at home because oil always splashed on her mom's hands when she was cooking, and aloe vera would soothe the skin straight away.

It was the best thing for burns.

Victor turned around and saw that Paulina was still there. But he didn't really pay attention to what she was doing, just quickly pulled a clean shirt out and put it on.

Paulina's waist was really painful at this time. She had never suffered this kind of pain in her whole life. At this time, her face was pale, as if she had suffered a great grievance, and her tears could not help but flow out.

When Victor came out, he walked towards her straight away and saw her painful look.

A cold light flashed in his dark eyes. "Don't you still want to leave? Or do you want me to call the security guards?"

Paulina raised her face and looked at Victor, who looked so ruthless. She had never seen anyone like this in her life.

"Victor, I didn't do it on purpose. I'm really sorry about what happened just now. I really like you, and I just can't control myself." What disappointed her again was that she had already done this and still didn't make Eden jealous. How could she be this calm?

But what Paulina didn't know was how much Eden had experienced in her life before. She didn't dare to misunderstand anything. She never felt much love before, so she really appreciated anyone who ever loved her, no matter it was from her friends or family. Especially when it came to Victor. She would rather just turn a blind eye to it and still trust Victor.

"Get out," Victor said in a cold tone without any emotion. He did not care what she just said at all.

Paulina knew that she lost again today. Victor still didn't do anything even though she had done that. It was the truth that he was an honest and decent man. She knew that as long as he fell in love with someone, he would not look at any other woman anymore in his life.

It was also because of this, she would want to get with Victor regardless of what method she used.

She believed that marrying the right person was the most important thing in a woman's life.

As long as Victor and Eden were not married, she still would have a chance.

She got up and wiped her tears and said shamelessly, "Victor, I'll see you soon." Then she put on a gentle smile, but she didn't know that her smile at the moment made her look a bit ferocious.

Victor looked outside the window and didn't say anything.

Chapter 675

Paulina glanced at Victor. Seeing that Victor didn't intend to answer her at all, she sighed and left silently.

When she just walked out of the office, she met Eden who came back with aloe vera in her hand.

Eden looked very calm. At this moment, she did not even seem to hate Paulina when she looked at her.

Paulina raised her head and looked at Eden with contempt, "Eden, let's wait and see."

After that, she brushed past Eden, bumping her shoulder very hard.

"Paulina, you'd better stop doing such things like today. Don't think that we won't find out what you are doing behind our back," said Eden.

Paulina paused slightly, then put on a sarcastic smile and walked off slowly.

Even if they knew it was her, she didn't believe that anyone could trace her even though it was Victor.

When she walked to the elevator, she turned around suddenly and said, "Eden, you ruined my night today. How could you not leave when you saw that? You really have no shame at all."

Eden, who already turned around and ready to leave, suddenly turned back when she heard these words. Paulina was looking at her arrogantly with her arms crossed in front of her chest.

Eden smiled, "There is one thing I forgot to tell you. There are surveillance cameras in Mr. Alwynn's office. Do you want me to check the footage? Then I guess we will find out who is the shameless one."

"What?" Paulina couldn't believe what she heard. What was Victor worried about? Why he even put surveillance cameras in his own office?

Actually, there are surveillance cameras everywhere in Jotham Alwynn Group except for restrooms.

Hearing Paulina's words, Eden smiled with pleasure, because it proved that Victor didn't lie to her.

She followed Paulina back up just because she knew how shameless Paulina was.

However, she still felt so uncomfortable when she saw it herself.

"I don't think you need me to say it again. I will go and check the footage out later." After that, Eden turned around and walked slowly toward Victor's office.

Paulina left with an angry and awkward expression on her face. She had never been humiliated like this in her life before she met Eden.

She felt she must look so stupid in front of Eden now.

Eden walked to Victor's office and put on an angry face deliberately when she walked in. Victor was still standing by the big French window, looking at the beautiful night view outside.

When he heard Eden came in, he walked to the sofa with a smile.

Eden looked at him silently, then said with a calm tone, "Sit down."

Victor curled his lips and sat down obediently.

He only buttoned up one button of his shirt, so Eden quickly pulled his shirt open to check his burned skin. A look of sadness flashed through her eyes.

She tore apart the aloe vera and gently rubbed it on his skin where it got burned.

Victor looked at her fair-skinned hand when she applied the aloe vera on his skin. The cool feeling really soothed his irritated skin.

He gradually felt the burning pain fading away.

When Eden finished, she threw the aloe vera skin into the trash can.

"When..."

Before she finished her words, Victor quickly pulled her into his arms.

He wrapped his arms around her tightly and closed his eyes with a joyful look on his face.

"Eden, thank you for trusting me. I was so heartbroken when I saw you cry," he said with his low voice, sounding really upset.

Eden sighed. After a long while, she said, "The reason that I didn't turn around and leave is very simple. I just wanted to trust each other more. I don't want us to misunderstand each other just because of some small things, otherwise, neither of us would live a happy life. So I stayed."

Victor really had done a lot for her in the past.

Compared with what he did for her, this was really nothing at all.

The best relationship would always build on trust.

Victor opened his eyes and looked at her slightly red eyes, and said with a smile, "Thank you. You did a very good job today. I wanted to celebrate it with you actually, but I know you are too tired. So you should tell me what you want, and I can get it for you later."

Eden looked at him and suddenly smiled cheekily. She knew he could get anything for her no matter how expensive it was.

So she asked on purpose with a cheeky smile, "I want a lot of handsome men. Can you find them for me?"

Hearing this, Victor's face darkened, and answered without thinking, "No, I can only have me. I'm also very good-looking."

Hearing his confident answer, Eden burst into laughter.

"I have been with you every day for a long time now, so I don't have the feeling anymore."

Victor was speechless. Did she really find him less attractive now as he was getting older?

Looking at her joyful expression, he felt a little jealous somehow.

He suddenly lowered his head and pressed his lips onto hers passionately.

He wanted to show her that she should never make a man jealous.

This sudden kiss made Eden felt that she could not even breathe anymore. She tried hard to break free.

Victor let go of her straight away. He had wanted her for so long, and he knew he could not rush it now anyway.

He looked at her obsessively, and his inky eyes were like the deep ocean which could suck her in at any time.

"Do you still not feel something?" His low voice sounded even more attractive at the moment.

Eden looked at him with a blushed face. She really didn't know how to react to him like this.

Other people all tried to attract her with their intelligence, but he insisted on doing it with his handsome face. But he didn't know his real charm was much more than just his appearance.

Eden liked intelligent good-looking men, so Victor seemed to be totally her type.

She smiled gently and looked at him. "I do. I do have a strong feeling."

Victor laughed and gently poked her nose.

Then he bent over and wanted to kiss her again, but her phone suddenly rang.

Victor looked at the annoying phone and suddenly felt that there were so many obstacles in their relationship.

Eden checked her phone and found it was her daughter's number. She suddenly remembered that she was supposed to go back and cook for them. She answered the phone with an apologetic face.

"Hey! Baby." She said softly.

"Mom, didn't you say that you are coming back to make dinner for us? Where are you now?"

Eden panicked and suddenly felt so guilty.

"Gia, I'm sorry, I'm still in the company."

"I knew it. Luckily, we are going to Aunt Rivera's restaurant now. Otherwise, I'm afraid we would be starving if we waited for you."

"Baby, I'm sorry. I will never do this anymore. I promise." Eden normally would never let her children down, and she would always keep her promise to them.

Chapter 676

"It's ok. I know you're busy. Have you eaten yet?" Gia asked on the phone.

Eden smiled. "I'm going to eat now. You are not feeling well, so don't eat too much. Don't eat anything that would upset your stomach." She knew Gia wouldn't be able to control herself if she saw delicious food.

She didn't want her to feel upset anymore when other people thought she was fat.

Gia said, "I got it, mom. Don't worry about me. You should go to have dinner with dad now as well."

"Dad?" Eden suddenly looked up at Victor.

Victor was also looking at her calmly. Right, he was indeed the "dad" that Gia mentioned.

Eden glared at him and said nothing.

Victor didn't seem to care at all, instead, he leaned his ear against Eden's face and tried to listen to what Gia was saying.

"Mom, you are so silly. Who else can my dad be? Of course, it's Uncle Alwynn. Uncle Alwynn has already hugged you. Are you still thinking about other men? I wouldn't be happy with that. I only want Uncle Alwynn to be our father."

Hearing this, Eden's face flushed again. Why she didn't remember anything that Gia said?

"What are you talking about? You are too young to worry about this right now. Don't talk nonsense. Enjoy your meal. Don't stay up too later because you need to go to school tomorrow. Go to bed straight after you come back home, and stop thinking about these things."

"Okay, mom. You should also go and have dinner with dad now. Don't forget to bring me a younger brother when you come back." Gia said it quickly and hung up the phone straight after.

At this moment, at Zofia's food stall, everyone sitting at the table was looking at the little girl in shock.

Graciella looked at Gia and said, "Gia, where did you learn this?"

Gia wave her hand with the phone and said in a serious tone, "Aunt, are you serious? Don't think we are just children. We are not stupid, and we know everything about adults. So you adults really don't need to hide anything when you speak in front of us. We can find all the information we need online. We don't need you to teach us anything."

Graciella and Abigail looked at each other and felt totally speechless. They had to admit that the children these days were really different.

They thought they knew everything when they got a smartphone.

On the other side of the phone, Eden was also shocked by her daughter's words.

Gia asked her to have a bay with Victor?

Was it really her daughter on the phone?

However, Victor seemed to feel very happy. He smiled and looked at Eden meaningfully.

He leaned over slightly and whispered in her ear, "Why don't we just listen to Gia and bring her a little brother tonight?"

Eden glared at him. "Did you tell her all these?

I can't believe she just said that."

"Why would I tell her this? You think too much." Victor felt a little aggrieved.

"Hmph!" Eden snorted at him. She was afraid that they would not need to go home anymore if they carry on arguing. "Have you still not finished your work yet?"

Victor smiled and shook his head. "It's almost done. I don't need to finish it tonight. Let's go to have dinner."

He got up as he spoke. He could say confidently that he was a successful businessman.

However, he could not say that he was a successful man. His life was full of pain and waiting, and it was filled with sad things.

But it was all different now. He now felt that his life was getting better and better.

He would like to be a perfect man no matter in business, in love, or in the family.

He wanted to continue living his happy life like this.

He couldn't care less that he lost a billion if it could save his relationship. After all, nothing could get his love back.

Eden was the only person he cared about in his life anyway!

He picked up his jacket and put it on, while Eden got up and went to clean the splashed coffee on the desk.

"If it still hurts, we should go to the hospital first. I don't want you to feel uncomfortable." Eden said while wiping the desk.

Victor looked at her and smiled gently. He really enjoyed this moment when they were together. Her pure heart made him able to relax a bit in such a complicated world peacefully.

All these years, he had never had a time off just because he wanted to be successful in the business world so that he could tell the person he was waiting for confidently that he had the ability to give her a happy life now.

That was all he wanted!

Thinking of this, he walked over and hugged Eden from behind.

Eden paused for a moment and said with a smile, "What's wrong?"

Victor curled his lips slightly and said, "I don't want to leave you anymore." His deep voice sounded so charming.

Eden turned around and looked at him with a smile, feeling that he was no different from a child. She actually understood what he was thinking.

"Before you come back, I missed you every day. Your face would appear in my mind millions of times every day even when I was really all kinds of boring business things. However, nothing could compare with the happiness I have now when you are actually with me." He used to think of her face when she was a little girl, and now he would think of her current appearance. He really would think of her millions of times a day.

Her sweet voice and gentle smile would always come into his mind.

Eden smiled slightly and felt a little pain in her heart. "I have been back for a long time already, so don't worry about it anymore. I will not leave you again."

Although they had been separated for more than ten years, they never felt the distance between them.

"Yes! Please don't leave me again!" Victor closed his eyes with satisfaction and kept a sweet smile on his face for a long time.

Eden said gently, "Let's go to have dinner. I'm so hungry now!"

She never ate a lot, but she got hungry very easily. As soon as she was hungry, she would look upset.

"Let's go right now!" Victor pulled her hand and walked outside.

As soon as they went out, they saw Lucian who had also just come out.

Lucian's eyes slightly lit up when he saw them, but his expression did not change at all. "Are you finishing your work?" His voice was a little hoarse as if he hadn't spoken for a while.

"Yes!" Victor nodded slightly.

"I found something," said Lucian.

"Contact me after 9 o'clock tonight."

Lucian just nodded without saying anything else. Then, he turned around and strode away.

Eden looked at his back and felt that he was really otherworldly.

Chapter 677

Lucian was such a temperate and gentle person, plus his handsome face and intelligence, Eden wondered who could be the lucky girl that got him in the end.

Victor looked to the side and saw her staring at the back of Lucian with her eyes lit up bright. He asked with some jealousy, "Eden, I'm not as good-looking as Lucian, am I?"

Eden slowly moved her eyes back. Seeing his jealous face, she suddenly wanted to tease him. "Are you not confident with yourself?"

Victor's eyes suddenly went dark, and he smiled proudly, "I have always been very confident. I am more charming than Lucian. He might look quieter than me, but he is very wild inside. I don't think any woman would like a man like that. They just love his money. I'm afraid he would be single forever." Victor could not care less about the friendship between them anymore.

Eden was surprised by his words. He looked so proud of himself right now, and a smile of victory was on his face.

"If Lucian heard what you said, he would definitely be upset," said Eden.

"He went into the elevator already. He won't hear me."

Just as Victor finished speaking, the elevator door suddenly opened.

Lucian was standing inside and looking at him with a dark face.

The smile on Victor's face froze instantly. The feeling of being caught on the spot made his face heat up instantly.

Lucian looked at him calmly with his dark face, looking a little terrifying.

Eden also felt so embarrassed instantly. There was nothing worse than getting caught after saying bad things behind someone else's back.

At this moment, everyone could tell that a boiling fury was swelling inside of Lucian.

Victor had never felt this awkward before. He never said anything bad about his friends before, but he just got caught straight away as soon as he said it in front of the girl he loved. He watched Lucian enter the elevator, but why didn't he leave? That was horrible!

Victor cleared his throat awkwardly.

"Lucian, have you forgotten anything?" He tried to say something to ease the tension. His face was a little blushed, but he still remained calm.

Lucian was still looking at him with a dark face. Victor started feeling a little panic.

He would rather Lucian just tell him if he was angry. They had been best friends for a long time anyway, and it was not the first time that they said awful things to each other.

Finally, Lucian opened his mouth, "Victor."

Then he fell in silent again.

Victor was a little confused.

Eden pursed her lips slightly, wondering what exactly Lucian wanted to say.

Lucian walked out of the elevator and stopped right in front of Victor. "I'm ready for a fight."

Victor was even more confused.

Eden smiled and said, "Mr. Ronen, there is no need. Victor didn't mean it."

"Victor?" Lucian narrowed his eyes when he heard Eden calling him so intimately.

Eden's face tensed up. Was there anything wrong with calling him Victor directly?

Surely she couldn't call him Mr. Alwynn in front of her mom.

However, this was not the point for now anyway. Why would they need to fight just because of this?

Was this how they solve the problems between them? Why Victor was so unlucky today?

Victor knew that Lucian was angry because he said it in front of Eden. If he only joked about it in front of their friends, Lucian surely wouldn't be so serious.

What's more, Lucian liked Eden. This was not a secret between them anyway, and Lucian always tried to show the best part of him in front of Eden.

However, Victor had said such awful words to Eden about him just now. No wonder he was so angry.

Eden asked Lucian, "Mr. Ronen, is there any problem with that? Victor's mom is also my mom, so I can't really call him Mr. Alwynn all the time at home, can I?"

Victor was technically her stepbrother, but she really couldn't call him brother.

She did not feel that there was anything wrong with calling him Victor, but Lucian's reaction made her feel a little unsure.

Lucian glanced at her lightly, and then his eyes fell on Victor's handsome face. He raised his eyebrows and looked at Victor.

Victor suddenly had a bad feeling from the bottom of his heart.

As he expected, Lucian said, "He doesn't deserve it!"

Victor's eyebrows drew together. Why didn't he deserve it?

He really hoped that Lucian would just tell him what he wanted, instead of being like this, making everyone so awkward.

Eden pursed her lips slightly, did not say anything anymore.

To be honest, she didn't really understand what he meant.

"Lucian, why don't I deserve it? Yes, I just b*tched about you. Do you have to be like this? Just tell me what you want me to do. I'm hungry now, and I don't have time to do this right now." Victor also lost his patience.

If it were not for the fact that Eden was here, he would have left already. If Lucian was angry, the best option was just to leave him alone. He would naturally be fine after a few days.

It was just himself who would suffer from it.

Lucian looked at Victor indifferently and said, "I'll talk to you tonight." Then he turned around and left directly.

Victor still had his mouth opened, looking at him walking away. He really wished that he could kick his ass from the back.

He felt that he really had enough of him.

This time, he did not say anything until he saw the elevator went down. "Eden, don't worry about what he just said."

Eden looked at him with no expression on her face. "I don't mind. But please don't say bad things about your friends anymore. All your friends are really good to you."

Victor put on an aggrieved face. "Would you believe me if I tell you that it was the first time I said anything bad about him?"

"Yes, I do," said Eden. Even if she didn't believe him, she would have no way to find out the truth, anyway.

"You don't look like you do. Never mind. Let's go to get some food! " Victor took her hand and walked into the elevator.

At the same time, Eden had totally become the hot topic today. All the major media had reported what happened.

However, the most breaking news was about the intimate relationship between Victor and her.

Some people even asked Victor to stand out and clear it. They would rather know the truth.

However, Victor had not said anything from the beginning.

Chapter 678

However, everyone had been waiting for a long time, but they still didn't get an answer.

Before Victor said anything, Eden's fashion show became another hot topic.

After all, Eden had been hitting the headlines all the time recently.

As long as there was any sign of movement, all the media would come to her straight away. However, Eden had always been very low- key. Even though there were many negative comments about her online, she still could stay calm and totally focus on her design. People really had to admit that she was such a strong woman.

August 30th was surely a new memorable day for Eden.

People's comments all came out.

There were also many fans of Victor who commented online. "I've saved money and been waiting for all the new products for this season." "Yes, I think I want to support their brand as well."

"I'm still waiting to read all the stories that happened between Eden and Alwynn Group. However, I still will carry on supporting them."

There have been a lot of positive comments online, and all the big platforms and news channels had been reporting what happened that day.

At the Clement family.

In addition to Buddy, everyone came back home for dinner, even including Haven. When Haven walked in the door, she immediately saw the old lady who was sitting in the living room.

She was totally stunned. It was still so far from New Year now, but why did her grandma come back?

Seeing her surprised and shocked face, the old lady's face instantly darkened. "Why? Are you surprised to see that I'm not dead yet?" She threw out the question in a cocky manner.

It made Haven's nerves tense up even more.

She knew that the old lady never liked her. She had been living a wealthy life ever since they took her back to the Clement family so that she was never a hard-working person.

And the Clement family was rich enough to afford her to live like a real rich girl. She had always enjoyed everything given by the Clement family, and her mother would not say anything about her when she spent a lot of money on things.

But her grandma was different. Her grandma always felt that she had been burning too much money. Unlike her second brother, who even had a part-time job when he was in college.

But Haven was a spoiled girl, so she would never be able to make herself work in a restaurant. Therefore, her grandma started having opinions against her.

As well as her big brother.

At this time, the whole family was sitting at the dining table, watching the news while having dinner.

Grandma Clement was 73 years old. She was wearing a light green outfit, with luxurious jewelry. Her grey curly hair made her look very elegant. Her eyes behind the pair of presbyopic glasses still looked very sagacious, even though her face always had a kind and gentle smile on.

At this time, in addition to Buddy, everyone in the Clement family was having dinner at the dining table together.

Grandma Clement took over the remote control and changed a few channels. They were all talking about the fashion show.

"Is this Victor's company? Who is this girl? She looks so nice and kind, and it seems that she is very talented as well. I don't know which family could be so lucky to have such an outstanding girl." Grandma Clement sounded very envious.

Aisling and Wyatt glanced at each other and did not say anything, but they were both very proud of their daughter in their hearts.

Delmont glanced at the TV and then smiled.

"Grandma, you have a granddaughter too, so you don't have to be so jealous of them." Then he gave Haven a meaningful look.

Haven's heart started to beat rapidly again. She could tell that Delmont didn't mean well.

"They have such an excellent granddaughter. How can I compare myself to them?" Grandma Clement didn't even look at Haven when she said this. She actually only looked at Haven once after she entered the door.

Haven smiled and said with a gentle voice, "Grandma, I'm now working in an international company."

Grandma Clement glanced at her and said with disdain, "It's good that you know you need to work. I thought you would count on our family to support you for the rest of your life."

"Grandma, why do you always have to talk to me like this? Is it because I am adopted?" Haven had never dared to say anything against her grandma in the past, but now it was different. She was getting stronger and stronger, so she would not allow others to talk about her like this anymore.

The old lady in front of her never seemed to like her since she came to this family.

Grandma Clement said with a smile, "There are so many adopted children in the world, and you'd better have a look at how they are living their lives. Are there any of them who look like you? Do you think you can just take everything for granted? You'd better know that you need to work hard and earn everything on your own."

"Grandma__Haven's face suddenly turned pale.

"Haven, this is your grandma. You don't have to talk back to everything," said Wyatt with a solemn face. He never disliked Haven before, but after he had seen what she had done, he really couldn't like her anymore.

Hearing this, Haven didn't have a choice but to stop talking. After all, she still had to rely on the Clement family in the future.

Tillie did not have a daughter, so Haven had been dreaming that it would also be good to be Tillie's daughter and get her properties.

Just like the daughter of Zaiden, who was neither a biological daughter, but still could get so much money from him.

She had always been so jealous of that girl.

However, her grandma didn't intend to stop at all. "I heard that you and the kid next door just got your marriage certificate but haven't had a wedding yet? I can't believe how shameless young people nowadays could be. It is really disgraceful for the entire Clement family!"

Grandma Clement's kind face had totally changed. She was a very traditional person, and an aristocratic family like them must follow the rules.

But Haven decided to marry Vincent regardless of all the traditional processes and rules, grandma Clement really didn't think it would end up good.

If Haven didn't put herself first, then no one would care about her.

And she surely did not live up to grandma Clement's expectations.

Hearing this, Haven's face turned completely dark. She didn't know whether grandma Clement knew everything or not.

At this moment, Delmont couldn't hold back his laughter any longer.

He had to admit that his grandma was so eloquent.

Aisling listened to it and didn't say anything. After all, she could never get along with this old lady, so she hardly said anything when it was nothing to do with her.

"Aisling, how did you teach your daughter? Do you think they would treat her well if she doesn't even have any respect for herself?" Grandma Clement suddenly turned to Aisling.

Looking at her mother-in-law, Aisling smiled bitterly and said, "Mom, I don't know about this either until they posted everything online."

Actually, she was very clear about what Haven was planning at that time. The Clement family was going down, so she found another rich man for herself.

Chapter 679

Haven looked at her mother when she finished her words, then she instantly knew what her mother was thinking. Her mother was very smart, so she definitely knew what she was planning at that time.

But Haven felt she didn't have any choice back then. If the Clement family really went bankrupt, she would have nothing left. However, she totally forgot that they still had Victor who would back them up.

Victor surely would not let anything happen to the Clement family.

It was all her brothers' fault who totally scared her.

Haven looked at Aisling with a guilty face. "Mom, I'm sorry. I didn't think it over carefully at that time. Vincent had been rushing me all the time, so I just went to get the registration with him. This is how young people deal with it nowadays anyway, so it wouldn't have any effect on the reputation of the Clement family. There are also many people who sent their best wishes to us, aren't there?"

Haven explained with a smile. She believed there were many people who were envious of her.

Delmont looked at her with a look of disdain. It would be good if she told the truth. However, her real thought made everyone else disappointed.

Buddy and he only said a few words in front of her, worrying that something bad would happen to the Clement family, then she went straight to Vincent. Now she was saying that Vincent pushed her hard. She was indeed a shameless woman.

He thought he was the most shameless person in the world, but he didn't expect that she was much worse.

Aisling said, "It's been a long time already, so there's no point to argue about it anymore. You'd better get your wedding done as soon as possible as you are officially married to him now. Your grandma is back as well, so she can also attend your wedding. We should find a time and talk to Vincent's parents about it."

Grandma Clement nodded in agreement. "That's true. Since I'm back, you guys should get the wedding done as soon as possible. I'm not going to leave anyway, but I still want to attend your wedding as soon as possible."

Hearing that she was not going to leave, Aisling suddenly stopped eating. Didn't the old lady want to live abroad anymore? Didn't she always say that she liked Wyatt's brother's big house there? Surely she enjoyed living in their house, but why didn't she want to go back this time?

"Wow! Grandma, are you really not going back anymore? That's great! I missed you so much!" Delmont put on a fake smile. He didn't really mean it, because he knew what would happen if his grandma stayed there. He really needed to find a chance to bring up the idea of moving out.

Buddy never seemed to be bothered, but Delmont couldn't stand living with his grandmother at all.

Hearing his words, grandma Clement looked at him with a disdainful face, "Delmont, stop lying. Look at your bitter face. I bet you wish me to die soon so that you don't need to listen to my words anymore. I know what you are thinking, but I still need to tell you even though you don't like to hear it. I have much more experience than you."

Delmont, who had been seen through, could only touch his nose and smile awkwardly. She really knew him so well.

"No, no, I totally understand that. But I never wished you die at all. I really hope that you can stay with us forever."

Grandma Clement glanced at him and then turned her head to the TV. Eden's big photo was in the news report. She suddenly frowned and lifted her glasses.

"Have I seen this girl before? Why does she look so familiar?" Her words suddenly made Haven feel a chill on her spine.

Wyatt smiled and glanced at his mother. She used to love Eden very much, and she must have recognized her face a little.

Haven quickly said, "Grandma, this is the Design Director of Alwynn Group, Eden Bleu. You certainly haven't met her before."

Wyatt and Aisling quickly glanced at Haven, but neither of them said anything.

Delmont was also surprised that his grandmother actually recognized Eden.

"Grandma, this girl is very talented. Victor appreciates her very much." Delmont said, glancing at Haven, whose face was pale.

She seemed very nervous. Was she afraid that grandma would recognize Eden?

However, Eden would come back to their family sooner or later.

Haven was such an awful woman. No matter where Eden was, she would always try to make trouble for her. Delmont still remembered when Eden had the argument with Mr. King at the exhibition event, and it turned out that Haven and Paulina planned everything behind their back.

Thinking of this, Delmont couldn't help but grit his teeth.

They had really opened the door to a dangerous person.

Haven glanced at Delmont. She couldn't believe that he was actually speaking up for Eden now.

Grandma Clement said, "I can see from the girl's clear eyes that she is a kind-hearted girl. It's a blessing for Victor to marry such a nice girl," she sighed and then carried on. "Every time when I saw a girl of this age, I would think of our Eden. I really hope she is enjoying her meal as well somewhere."

Thinking of this, she felt that she didn't have any appetite anymore.

She slowly put down her chopsticks.

Upon hearing Eden's name, Haven lost her appetite too.

However, everyone would find out Eden's identity sooner or later. The most important thing for Haven right now was to get the property of the Clement family. At that time, even if Eden came back home, there would be nothing left for her. Haven had been studying shares and finance recently.

No one liked her in this family anyway, so why should she care about them?

At this moment, the door was suddenly pushed open.

Grandma Clement looked over and instantly put on a happy smile. It was Buddy who came in.

"It's Buddy!" Grandma Clement could not hide her excitement at all.

"Grandma," Buddy also greeted her with a smile, sounding very gentle.

Hearing this, grandma Clement suddenly felt so warm in her heart.

"Buddy, sit down and have dinner with us." She smiled happily and waved to him. The only person who could make grandma Clement this happy in this family must be Buddy.

Buddy changed her shoes and walked in, "I've already had dinner. I'm not going to work tomorrow, so I'll stay at home with you the whole day, grandma."

"Really? That would be great. Are you being very busy recently? Don't you have an assistant in your company? Why do you have to work until so late? Don't do everything by yourself. You have to take care of yourself as well except for work." Grandma Clement looked at her grandson with concern. In her mind, Buddy had never been a person who would make his family worry. He had been very excellent since childhood and he would try his best for everything he did.

Chapter 680

Buddy smiled and said, "Grandma, don't worry. I will be fine."

At this time, Wyatt asked, "Buddy, is Zofia all right? Don't let her work too hard."

Hearing this, Aisling's nerves totally tensed up. She didn't understand why he brought this up in front of his mother, and now she would have to put up with his mother's blame.

Buddy glanced at his father and said in a calm tone, "Dad, she is very good." He had been working hard on it although Zofia had not forgiven him.

Haven looked at her brother with a puzzled look, wondering if he had been back with Zofia already.

"Buddy, is that woman..."

"Who's that woman?" Buddy said to Haven with a cold look before she could finish her words.

He did not forget what she had done to Zofia.

Seeing Buddy's expression change, Haven tensed up as well. "I am just asking. Why are you so angry? Didn't you break up with that woman?"

"Hmph!" Buddy's dark eyes fixed on her. "Haven, you are very clear about what you have done to Zofia. You'd better not let me catch you do it again." Now Zofia was pregnant, he would not let anything happen to her.

As for Haven, he was already very disappointed.

Haven suddenly looked at him with a sad face. "I don't understand what you are talking about." She indeed met Zofia before and humiliated her badly.

However, how could Buddy know about this? She went alone that day, and she did not tell anyone about it. Then there would be only one possibility that Zofia and Buddy had been back together and Zofia told him everything.

Haven suddenly felt that she could not let Zofia marry Buddy.

Buddy still had a terrible look on his face. "You know it clearly in your heart."

On the side, grandma Clement was extremely confused. She looked at everyone one after another, but no one said anything. So she couldn't help but ask, "Who is Zofia?"

Wyatt also realized that he should not have brought this up, however, he couldn't get his words back now.

He said, "Mother, Zofia is Buddy's girlfriend. Buddy has done something wrong, and now they are having an argument."

Upon hearing his father's words, Delmont immediately understood that he was trying to protect his mother.

But his grandma was not stupid, and she might not even believe him.

On the other side, Aisling kept her head down and said nothing.

Grandma Clement looked at Buddy doubtfully, "Buddy, I don't really believe that you would have done anything wrong. Tell me what happened? As long as she is a nice girl and really loves you, we don't need to care about anything else. We will arrange your wedding properly and we can be a big and happy family all together."

Hearing his grandmother's words, Buddy felt very warm from the bottom of his heart, "Grandma, she is a very kind and nice girl. Our baby will be born in a few months, so I want to get her forgiveness as soon as possible, and then marry her."

"Babe? Is the baby still alive?" Buddy's words were like a heavy blow in the head for Haven.

Aisling looked at her and said coldly, "Why? Are you surprised that the babe is still alive?"

Haven quickly put on a smile and pretended that nothing had happened. "No, no, mom. I'm just very shocked. I remember that everyone said the baby was gone before. Now if the baby is still alive, that woman is definitely trying to use the baby to get back with Buddy."

"Shut up!" Buddy shouted. His cold voice sent chills down Haven's spine. If Zofia married Buddy and gave birth to the baby, then there would just be more people to fight the property with her in the end.

She surely would not let this happen.

"Buddy, I've seen so many women from poor families would use this method to marry into a rich family. Zofia is just one of them. She said before that she lost the baby, but now she said that the baby would be born in a few months. I'm just worried that she is lying to you. I know that you don't like to hear this, but I must say it. She is lying to you!"

After she finished, she took a look at her grandma. She knew her grandma hated scheming women the most.

However, Wyatt looked at Haven coldly and said nothing.

"Really? It seems that you know Zofia so well. Have you met her in private? Or, have you done anything to her without me knowing it?" Buddy said sharply. The coldness on his handsome face was something that his family had never seen before.

Haven was stunned. She quickly shook her head and looked firmly at Buddy. "I haven't."

She was very sure that no one was around them when she humiliated Zofia.

Buddy looked at her with his inky cold eyes. If it was before, he would definitely believe her. But now, he would not believe a single word she said.

Now, grandma Clement finally figured everything out. It seemed that her grandson had a girlfriend, and they were expecting a baby soon, but at the same time, they were having an argument.

"Buddy, you can't do this! That's the baby of our Clement family! Tell me, where is the girl? I'll go to apologize to her for you." As long as Zofia was a nice girl, she did not care about anything else. She just wanted everything to be sorted forthem.

Buddy looked at his grandmother, feeling very grateful.

"Grandma, don't worry. I believe Zofia will forgive me soon. Then I will take her here and introduce her to you properly." Thinking of Zofia's dark bright eyes and gentle smile, Buddy suddenly smiled.

He was sure that his grandma would definitely like her.

"Well, that sounds good. Buddy, you have to make sure that..."

"Zofia." Buddy said with a smile.

"Oh! Right, right, Zofia. You have to make sure Zofia has everything that she needs." Grandma Clement sounded very excited. She didn't expect such a big surprise as soon as she came back. She seemed to have made the right choice to stay here. When she had a great-grandson, she would have so much to do in her life again.

"Okay, grandma!" Buddy smiled. If his mother had been as reasonable as his grandma, nothing would have happened between Zofia and him.

However, at this moment, Haven lowered her head, gritting her teeth bitterly. She already had enough trouble with Eden right now, now she even had to deal with Zofia and her baby.

"No! I can't let Zofia marry Buddy!" She thought to herself.

At this time, Grandma Clement smiled and said, "Buddy, come to my room with me. I have something to say to you."
