

Gluey Love 731

Chapter 731

From then on, he was inspired and devoted himself to his design career. These seven years were the most fulfilling years of his life.

What she had brought to him was a huge change in his life.

Abigail lowered her head slightly. Life was unpredictable. Although in Eden's heart, Jasper was the first man to treat her well and she always cherished him very much, if she had no children, she might really choose Jasper.

Abigail knew that clearly, but she couldn't help Jasper. Only Jasper himself could unlock the knot in his heart.

For Jasper, Eden was the one who influenced him for the rest of his life.

And for Eden, Jasper was a friend whose boundary she would never dare to overstep.

"Jasper, although she married Victor, she is still by your side." looking at Jasper's painful look, Abigail felt a bit want to cry.

Jasper took a deep breath and then forced a smile, "You're right. She is still by our side."

He got up and turned off the computer, saying, "Let's have a big meal."

"OK! I'll buy you what you like." Abigail smiled as she stood up. She had always doted on her younger brother whom she could only depend on for survival.

After Victor and Eden finished their lunch, Victor was going to take Eden back to the villa. However, he received a phone call from the teacher, saying that Giada had a fight with her classmates at the school.

Victor rushed to the school with Eden immediately.

Giada studied in a noble school in River City. It has excellent hardware and software conditions, and the environment on campus was very quiet and peaceful.

Victor and Eden went to the office together.

In the teacher's office, Giada were standing at the door of the office with a chubby little girl.

The girl was sobbing quietly, while Giada was standing by the side with a calm face.

The girl's parents arrived earlier than Victor and Eden.

The teacher was a middle-aged woman with glasses and looked very gentle.

See the parents coming, she was about to solve the problem.

But the little girl suddenly burst into tears, "Mom, Giada is a wild girl! She doesn't have a dad to teach her so she dared to hit me. You must teach her a lesson."

Hearing this, the girl's mother suddenly scolded, "You little rascal! How dare you bully my daughter!"

Then she raised her hand and was about to slap Giada in face.

Victor and Eden, who had just arrived, stopped her angrily. "How dare you? I will make you pay if you hit my daughter." Victor's voice was, with an unquestionable dignity, which made the woman stop.

The woman was wearing a mink coat and heavy makeup and had fierce facial features.

She noticed Victor had a strong charisma, and instantly shrank.

"Who are you?" the woman felt Victor was familiar, but she couldn't remember where she had seen him before.

The girl's father, standing on the side, was frightened when he saw Victor.

"Mr. Alwynn... why are you here?"

Victor glanced at the man but did not know him.

Victor looked at his daughter and asked softly, "Gia, are you okay?"

When Giada saw her mother, she suddenly felt aggrieved, "Mom, Sibyl insulted me. She said I am a wild kid and I don't have a father, so I hit her. It's her fault."

Eden's heart ached when she heard that.

How did the child know that Gia didn't have a father?

Hearing Gia's words, Victor was very angry.

"I'm right! You don't have a dad! My dad told me! And your mother pulled strings to make you study here! You're so shameless." Sibyl said while crying.

"Sibyl, shut up!" the man looked nervously at Victor. His whole body was shaking and his forehead was dripping with sweat.

The teacher said to Sibyl's parents seriously, "Mr. Evenbrace, you should not say this to your daughter."

Mask regretted very much. He didn't expect Sibyl would say out. He thought Sibyl wouldn't remember his words because these were just some gossips at dinner.

"I'm so sorry! It's my fault. I won't do this again." Mask apologized while looking at Victor cautiously.

But Sibyl's mother said sarcastically, "Ah I see, you've got a connection. But you ordinary girl doesn't have the quality to study here. Teacher, I think she will disturb the learning environment here. I suggest we expel her."

"Shut up." Mask scolded her wife.

Obviously she didn't know Victor.

He was the big shoot in River City.

Eden was furious by the women's insult. When she was about to say something, Victor held her hand gently and said to Sibyl's mother in a cold voice, "Expel my daughter? You are really bold."

"I'm so sorry, Mr. Alwynn. She understands nothing! Don't bother yourself arguing with her." Mask quickly apologized.

"Mask, why are you afraid of him? Aunt will back us up!" the woman was so arrogant and domineering that she didn't allow others to oppose her.

"I told you to shut up!" Mask was anxious.

Mask?

Victor narrowed his eyes and looked at Mask. He recognized him.

Most of the money that Rebecca transferred from the company was given to Mask.

He glanced at Mask and asked, "You know Rebecca?"

Before Mask could speak a word, Mrs. Evenbrace replied arrogantly, "She is my aunt.

I told you, don't mess with us."

Victor ignored her, but crouched down to talk to Gia, "Gia, don't be afraid. Dad will back you up. You did a great job. They deserved to be beaten."

Everyone else was stunned.

"Dad, it's not my fault, right?" Giada's bright eyes were filled with tears. She knew her mum must be very sad when she heard the insult.

Victor gently petted Gia's head and said dotingly, "No, you are a good girl."

"You're not her dad at all! Why did you pretend to be her dad? Giada, you're just a bookworm! You don't deserve so many friends! You shameless girl." Sibyl said jealously.

Chapter 732

Mask knew he was screwed this time.

These things should not be talked about in school, but Sibyl was so spoiled that she didn't consider the consequences.

Sibyl insulted Giada just because she was jealous of Giada's great grades.

And the consequence was, Mask's cooperation with Victor was basically out of play.

"That's enough!" Eden looked at Sibyl angrily, "Gia, dad and I will protect you. Don't be sad."

Eden held Gia in her arms. She did not expect her kids would be treated like this at school.

Her sweeties faced so many unfriendly doubts from their classmates but she didn't notice before.

"Mom, mom, I'm sorry. I won't let you worry about me anymore." Giada couldn't help but cry at this moment. She and her siblings had been scolding as wild kids when they were in the kindergarten. She wanted to ignore Sibyl's insult but she couldn't stand it anymore so she hit Sibyl.

Seeing his daughter crying, Victor felt distressed. It was his fault. He wished he would had told the fact to Eden and the kids earlier.

The teacher pushed up her glasses and said to Eden, "Mrs. Bleu, Giada and her siblings are very smart and achieved good grades in school. Mr. Alwynn is also in the parents' chat group. Why is there still so much negative news? This will seriously affect their studies." "Teacher Roerig, I'm sorry for causing you trouble. But the news on the Internet is fake. I didn't care about it before, but I didn't expect it would affect the child." Eden looked at her daughter sadly.

"It was all my fault." she blamed herself in mind.

The tongue is not steel, yet it cuts. Rumors could bring great pressure to a person, and could change the environment around a person. It was a terrible existence that could cause invisible harm to people.

She had experienced it before when she was in Gienger family. Those rumors and gossips were so malicious that it almost made her collapse.

Therefore, she had to be positive to protect herself. She chose to ignore the rumors on the Internet. Gradually, she really did not care about them.

But though she didn't care about it, it still affected her family and children.

"Mrs. Bleu, I don't pay attention to what happened on the Internet, I only concern about children's growth. Their current development is very important. We must give them the appropriate guidance." Teacher Roerig said seriously.

Eden nodded heavily.

"I will also pay close attention to it." she felt guilty, wiping away Gia's tears.

Victor held Gia in his arms, took a glance at Sibyl sharply and then asked Mask word by word, "These words were all from you?" Mask knelt down in front of Victor and his face as pale as paper, "Mr. Alwynn, I'm sorry. I'm really sorry. I shouldn't have said this to the kid. Forgive me, please!"

Hearing her husband call Victor Mr. Alwynn and seeing him kneel down, Mrs. Evenbrace suddenly seemed to think of something. She became timid immediately.

"Why was he here?" Mrs. Evenbrace secretly wondered.

Victor looked at Mask quietly with his gelid eyes.

His eyes made Mask's whole body sweat.

Teacher Roerig was also dumbfounded. Mask was so scared of Victor.

"Dad, get up! Why did you kneel down to him? You told me there is no one who would not dread of our family, didn't you? And the teachers in the school are polite to us too." Sibyl saw her father kneel on the ground and she felt completely distressed.

Eden was speechless. Children were the reflections of their parents.

The behaviors of parents would affect their children unconsciously.

She remembered that once she picked up Kenny and his sisters from school. When she took them to have rice noddles, she met the siblings lived in the same community.

She asked them, "Where are your parents? Why didn't they come to pick you up?"

The little boy answered, "Dad is sleeping at home. Mom is busy taking care of the shops. She is the manager of three shops. Mom earns 3,000 yuan per month. That's enough to support our whole family."

She remembered the pride of the kid, and the feelings in her heart is hard to describe.

The education of children had always been a hard problem, especially when they were in primary school. Some details really needed correct guidance.

Victor stood still all the time without a word. His dark eyes, made the atmosphere frigid. Everything around him seemed to be frozen.

Mask couldn't stop trembling. He had never been so scared.

Victor sneered, "Repeat what you said to your daughter."

Mask carefully lifted his eyes and took a look at Victor. He didn't dare to say anything. He wear a woebegone look and his face turned pale out of fear.

Victor raised his voice all of a sudden, "Say it! Why don't you talk?"

Mask quivered and felt that he had been on the guillotine.

"What else do you want my dad to say? You are not her birth father at all. That's what my dad said." Sibyl hadn't realized the seriousness of the problem.

"Sibyl! Shut up!" Mask glared at his daughter, "Look your good daughter. Such a big-mouth!" Mask blamed his wife.

Mrs. Evenbrace quickly pulled Sibyl over and covered her mouth.

"Sibyl, be quiet." Mrs. Evenbrace glanced at Victor, feeling afraid.

Hearing Sibyl's words, Victor was even more irritated. The anger in his eyes looked like it could burn people. He glared at Sibyl, "Listen closely, Kenneth and his siblings were my biological children. Go ask your shameless aunt what she had done to me seven years ago."

"Wha... what? Biological?" Mask was so shocked that his teeth trembled.

When Eden heard Victor mentioned the things happened seven years ago, she trembled in pain. Victor sense of humiliation spread all over her body.

What happened seven years ago had always been Eden's taboo.

But Victor admitted it now.

He admitted that he was their birth father.

Meanwhile, Kenneth and Henrick, who came to see their younger sister, also heard what Victor said.

Kenneth frowned. He wondered why Victor did not say it before, but chose to say it under such circumstances.

That would make Mom very angry.

Kenneth silently felt sorry for his dad from in his heart.

He looked at Mom worriedly. Just looking at her tense back, he could feel her intense pain.

"Mom." Kenneth called her mom with distress.

Henrick saw the tears in his brother's eyes and understood everything in an instant. Kenneth had already known the truth. That was why Kenneth had said those to him that morning, asking him to call Victor 'Dad' if he was willing.

Kenneth had always been mysterious to him. All secrets seemed to be in his computer.

"Kenneth." Henrick looked at Kenneth, whose eyes were still fixed on his mother.

Teacher Roerig said, "Mr. Alwynn, I don't know who spread the rumour first. But we have to make explanations to protect children from being hurt."

Victor was very calm, "Teacher Roerig, I'm sorry! This is my fault. There was many fake news about my wife on the Internet. Those were spread by some competitors in business. I didn't expect that they would bring such harm to my children."

"Wife? How is it possible? When did you get married? If you get married, how can we not be invited?" Mrs. Evenbrace said sarcastically, as if she had heard something ridiculous.

Victor razzed. If the Evenbrace family dared to come to his wedding, he would dare to "invite" them out.

"Laura, shut your beak!" Mask abused. He knew how ruthless Victor was.

They might go bankrupt today if Victor wanted.

But Laura still dared to satirize him. This ignorant woman feared nothing.

Laura looked at her husband fiercely, "Why? Aunt didn't mention their marriage. It's obvious that there's something fishy about it. I really can't understand why Mr. Alwynn wants to protect this shameless woman..."

Victor glanced at her with his cold eyes, which made Laura shiver. All her words were stopped by the terrible eyes.

Eden stepped forward and interrogated Laura. "Madam, Victor is my husband and my children's father. This is a fact that cannot be denigrated."

Although she was angry, at this moment, there was nothing more important than her children. No one could bully them.

Laura was stunned, "Were those rumors online true?" she wondered.

Victor and Eden's relationship had always been ambiguous. No one knew what was going on between them.

Moreover, Eden was transferred from the subsidiary only a few months ago. And they didn't have any contact before. How could they be a couple?

"Impossible!" Laura immediately declaimed.

"I don't care if you believe it or not. But you can't hurt my children." Eden's previous gentleness had gone. She looked at Laura with sharp eyes.

Laura immobilized. She lowered her head to avoid Eden's eyes. Eden's clear eyes were like seeing through all the darkness and the dirty mind in her heart, making her feel ashamed.

Mask, however, had been thinking about the thing happened seven years ago.

He was in a relationship with Laura but had not married her yet at that time. He knew the snare. That night, Victor didn't leave the hotel until the next morning.

Victor had taken the medicine. He didn't have any antidote, but the next day, nothing had happened.

Now it seems that something happened between Victor and Eden at that night when they were in the hotel.

If Mask's guess was true, then his uncle would know he had two grandsons and a granddaughter sooner or later. Jotham Alwynn Group would be over at that time.

As bystanders, he knew what expectations his uncle had for Victor.

"Mr. Alwynn, please spare my life. I was so wrong. I swear I'll discipline my daughter. I won't let her say such words again." Mask's guess made himself even more anxious.

Victor was an unfathomable man. Maybe they had been married seven years ago and hadn't been announced yet.

No one could figure out Victor's ideas.

Victor sneered, "Spare your life? Mr. Evenbrace, this is a society ruled by law. How could I want your life?" His cold voice sounded like it came from thousands of miles away, piercing through people's heart.

Mask said anxiously, "Mr. Alwynn, we're willing to make any compensation for the damage we have done to the Mrs. Bleu, as long as Mr. Alwynn is willing to forgive us."

He knew Victor's methods well. He would never forget that Victor let the King Family go bankrupt, just because Mr. King's daughter offended Eden at a banquet.

At first he didn't care about the thing very much, but later, the medias which did disservices to Eden also disappeared for no reason.

Now Mask thought back. His whole body was almost soaked in sweat.

Victor said, "Mr. Evenbrace, get up first. Well talk about that later. Now apologize to my daughter." he said the word apologize heavily.

Mask stumbled up, looked at his daughter with unpleasant eyes, and said, "Sibyl, apologize to Gia."

Sibyl looked at Giada's face reluctantly. She pouted and looked at her father with the grievance, "Dad, why should I apologize to her? Didn't you say these words? I don't want to do that. She hit me. She pulled my hair and hit my back. She is the one who needs to apologize."

Giada said angrily, "If I hear you say that again, I'll beat you harder."

"Giada, you think you can do whatever you want with good grades? Impossible." Sibyl also stared fearlessly at Giada.

Chapter 734

Giada said, "I achieved good grades because I better abilities than you. I'm telling you, you will never be able to surpass me."

Giada was emulative. She wanted to be perfect in everything she did.

She liked drawing very much. While other children were playing games, she was practicing drawing at home. She waited for an art competition to show her painting. Finally, the opportunity came. She was very excited.

Her lotus ink-wash paintings were her most adept works.

She swore to win the competition. The more others looked down upon her, the more advanced she would be and the more she wanted to win.

Ricky, Sibyl, for her, was not a threat.

"This is just the beginning of school! Don't count your chickens until they are hatched!" Sibyl's eyes were filled with tears of grievance.

"Sibyl, don't be so stubborn. Indeed Giada performs better than you. For instance, your dictations usually have five mistakes out of six words. But Giada's dictations are very standard and there's no mistake in her calligraphy. You should learn from her."

Hearing this, Sibyl lowered her head and cried. She was jealous that Giada's studies were better than hers, and she didn't get as much attention as Giada.

Boris was her deskmate. But he didn't talk to her, but to Giada. It was too infuriating.

Victor gently caressed Giada's head. "Gia is the best. Mom and Dad never worried about your study."

Giada looked up at Victor with a bright smile, "Dad, don't worry. I won't embarrass you and Mom."

As Giada spoke, she turned around to look at her mother and saw her pale face. She felt sad, then held Eden's hand.

Eden brought up short, "Gia."

"Mom, don't be angry with Dad."

Giada gently placed Eden's hand in Victor's.

Eden glanced at Victor and saw his dark eyes were full of guilt.

Eden quickly averted her eyes. She didn't want to revive the things happened seven years ago.

But why did Gia do this?

Was she afraid that she would quarrel with Victor?

Victor looked at his daughter. His children were so smart. Maybe they had already known about it.

It was his fault. He was so cowardly that he didn't even dare to admit the fact. Consequently, Eden and children were hurt so bad.

Mask said angrily to his daughter, "Sibyl, I told you to apologize! Do you want to be driven out of school?"

It was easy for Victor to get his child out of the school.

"No! I won't!" Sibyl didn't back down.

In her mind, Giada was not as noble as her.

Her mother told her that she was the most noble princess in the world. No one could compare with her. There were many expensive toys in her princess room, which other children did not have. She would play abroad every year on vacation and buy a lot of delicious and interesting things.

She was the happiest princess in the world. She was the center of the world. But the three kids of Bleu Family were cold to her. To them, she was just an ordinary girl.

"They only have good grades, but I have so much good food and toys! No matter at home or at school, I was the most honorable princess in the world!" Sibyl often thought like this in her heart.

Why should she apologize to Giada?

"Sibyl, don't go too far! Apologize right now!" Mask was so furious. He glared at Laura fiercely and thought all the things happened today should be blamed on her dotage.

But he forgot that Sibyl learned these words from him.

Laura's face went an ugly green. How did she know that they would provoke Victor?

She was not arrogant any more, "Sibyl, be a lamb. Apologize now and Mom will buy toys for you later."

Hearing Laura's word, Teacher Roerig frowned, "Mrs. Evenbrace, you shouldn't educate your child like that. I've already understood this matter. It's Sibyl that scolded Giada first so that Giada hit her. Giada's discipline in class is always very good. She wouldn't argue with others easily. But Sibyl doesn't obey the school's discipline. We have to correct her bad habits."

Laura smiled in agreement and said, "Okay, okay! We will definitely criticize and educate her."

Then, she looked down at her daughter. "Sibyl, say sorry."

But Sibyl took the opportunity to tell her the conditions, "Mom, I will apologize. But I want the most expensive Barbie doll."

"Okay!" Laura nodded without hesitation. She just wanted to solve the problem as soon as possible.

Eden sighed slightly. Laura compromised too much with Sibyl. No wonder Sibyl was so arrogant.

"Giada, I'm sorry! I won't say that any more." although Sibyl apologized, she didn't seem to be truly regretful at all.

Giada narrowed her eyes, "You'd better not."

"Gia, you can't talk like that." Eden lowered her head to looked at her daughter. She knew the pride in her daughter's heart.

"Mom, you don't have to worry about me. I know what I should do and what I shouldn't do."

Hearing this, Teacher Roerig smiled, "Well, since all things have been solved, let the children go to have lunch first. After lunch, they still have homework to do."

Giada looked at the teacher and said, "Sorry Teacher Roerig. I won't be so impulsive any more. Sorry." she bowed to the teacher.

Teacher Roerig was happy because of Giada's behaviour, "Gia, a fault confessed is half redressed. I'm happy for you."

Victor glanced at Mask with his deep and sharp eyes, "Mr. Evenbrace, come to my office tomorrow. I have something to talk to you."

Hearing this, Mask was hopelessly. He forced himself to nod and said, "Okay, Mr. Alwynn."

After saying goodbye to Teacher Roerig, Victor and Eden left with Giada together.

As soon as they went out, they saw Henrick and Kenneth standing at the top of the stairs.

"Kenny. Kenneth." Victor said.

"Dad." Henrick called him happily.

Mask was following behind them and heard their talk, which made him so depressed, "I have to tell Aunt about this immediately."

Suddenly he recalled that Aunt investigated the relationship between Victor and a kid before.

But she gave up for no reason in the end. "I need to ask about it" he pondered.

Chapter 735

Eden looked at her sons and forced a smile. "Kenny, Ricky, why don't you take your sister to have lunch?"

Kenneth walked to her and ran into her arms. "Mom, it's my fault. I didn't take good care of Gia."

Eden lowered her head and gently patted his head, "Kenny, it's alright. It's not your fault."

Gia was a very straightforward person. She never pretended herself. This was much better than those who appeared to be good but talked behind backs.

"Now go and eat your lunch. Mom will pick you up after school today." Eden said in a low voice. Since the children came to school, she had not come to pick them up yet.

Kenneth looked up at her, then looked at Victor again, saying nothing.

"Mom, can you come with Dad?" Henrick said excitedly. Dad and Mom had never come together to pick him up. So he was very envious when he saw that others were picked up by their parents.

Eden glanced at Victor and did not say anything. She had a lot to ask Victor.

What did Kenny mean by asking this?

It meant that Kenny also knew something that she didn't know. She couldn't believe it, and she didn't dare to think about it too further.

"Mom, be careful on your way." after saying that, Kenneth looked at his father, who didn't know how to seize the opportunity, with a worried face.

Victor gave him a reassuring look. He would get Eden's forgiveness no matter what Eden wanted him to do.

After Victor and Eden took the children to the canteen, they left.

Walking in front of Victor, Eden kept her head down and did not speak.

As soon as Victor got in the car, he explained immediately, "Honey, I didn't mean to hide it from you. I just didn't dare to tell you about it because I was afraid that you would leave me. This was because Rebecca did something to my wine." but Rebecca overreached herself. It was a great thing for Victor.

Heard Victor admit it again, Eden was even more shocked and stunned. Just now, she still held a belief that Victor had admitted that to protect the children.

But now it was proven that Victor was the man.

The man who had almost caused her to lose her life again seven years ago.

Sometimes Graciella and Abigail joked that Kenny and his sister were like Victor, but she did not think this way. In her heart, she always felt that it was impossible.

How could the man she met seven years ago be Victor?

But luckily it was Victor, she felt fortunate at this moment.

They encountered again accidentally. It was fate.

She felt happy from the bottom of her heart. After knowing the truth, she didn't feel guilty anymore.

Fate had played a trick on them, but it finally brought them a beautiful life.

However, Victor had never told her the truth though he had already known it. She would never forgive him for this.

Eden's eyes were filled with tears as she suddenly raised her head to look at Victor.

Seeing the look on her face, Victor shrank. He knew she was angry.

He knew that she would be furious after knowing this. He didn't want her to leave him, so he decided not to tell her before she fell in love with him.

Eden asked in a trembling voice, "Was it really you?"

Victor nodded, "Eden, it was me. You took away my watch and ring. You didn't look at the back of the watch, did you? It has my custom sign on it."

Eden was dazed for a moment. She vaguely remembered the ring and the watch. But she did not want to see and touch them because they would remind her of what had happened that night.

"Why didn't you tell me?" Eden's tears rolled down, but these were tears of rejoicing, not tears of anger.

Fortunately, it was him. If it was someone else, she really could not accept it.

She had been always worried that someone would suddenly come out to take her kids. Sometimes in her dream, there was a man who wanted to take her children away. Whenever she had such dreams, she wished she could hide her children.

Seeing Eden crying, Victor was heartbroken, "I wanted to tell you the truth bit by bit, but I missed many opportunities. Last time when my sister and Abigail mentioned this, I wanted to tell you about it. Also, when we went to the Marriott Hotel, I also wanted to tell you. And these days in the villa, I have been looking for the chance. But every time I wanted to tell you, there would always be accidents. Eden, I am too afraid of losing you."

As Victor spoke, he leaned forward and held her slender body tightly in his arms.

"Eden, I'm sorry. I was worried that you wouldn't accept it at once, so I thought of telling you slowly. Anson told me that Ricky was very similar to me. So I asked him to do the DNA test for Ricky. Only then did I know they are my children, and you are the one that I had been looking for. I felt that I was the happiest man in the world when I found out the truth. And since then, I had been very careful to get close to you. I tried my best, just to be with you."

Victor revealed his feeling in one breath and felt much more comfortable. The pressure that had been pressing on his heart seemed to be removed. The thing that happened seven years ago was a time bomb. He was afraid that one day when the time bomb broke out, the relationship between him and Eden would be broken.

Eden listened to him and felt the strength of his arms. She knew he really cared about her. But in any case, he shouldn't hide the truth. "Do you know the reason why I didn't accept you? Because I have three children. I am a single mother. I had to consider many things. I was afraid that you and my children would get hurt. I suffered nearly every day. But you hid the truth from me. Did you even consider how that might make me feel?" Eden looked up at Victor, with tears in her eyes.

All the grievances and worries in her heart gradually disappeared with his words.

Chapter 736

Eden suddenly felt that there was something wrong with her attitude. She should have slapped him, but she couldn't raise her hands.

Victor gazed at her silently. He really wanted to tell her the truth because he didn't want any secret between them.

"Eden, I'm sorry. Whether when you were six years old or seven years ago, I hurt you very bad. Sorry, it's my bad. I promise it will never happen again. Apart from this, there are no other secrets between us."

Knowing that she was the girl seven years ago, Victor felt guiltier. He promised in mind that he would try his best to take good care of her, dote on her and love her for the rest of his life.

Eden heard his apology and burst into tears. She couldn't get over what happened seven years ago, but now that all the truth had been revealed.

She had always wanted to have a clear conscience. She was finally relieved.

"Honey..."

"Victor." Eden looked up and interrupted him. She paused for a while and then asked, "Is it fun to trick me?"

Victor shook his head immediately and looked at her frankly, "Honey, I never thought about playing tricks on you. I was just afraid that you would not take it, so I wanted to get involved in your life gradually so that I could tell you these things slowly. Eden, I love you sincerely. You are the most loved one in my life, how will I trick you?"

Then he took her hand, which was a little cold. He held it tightly and looked at her tenderly with his black bright eyes, "Eden, I will never hurt you. The reason why I did this was for our future. And I will always put our future first. I promise you."

He gently wiped away the tears on her face with the other hand.

"Don't cry, honey. You break my heart. You can blame me, but don't cry." Victor looked at Eden with a distressed face.

He could do whatever she wanted him to do as long as she could calm down.

Eden said, "Victor, sometimes I think you are very scary. You are calm, silent, and resourceful. You are so good at hiding your light. Although these are the symbol of a mature man, it also means that you are extremely sophisticated. You won't express any emotions on your face. No matter what happens, you can control your temper and hide your thoughts. Tell me, did you plan to approach me since I came back?" every word Eden said was very heavy. She started to think that she didn't know him very much.

Victor was extremely self- disciplined. Eden was the only one who can make him impulsive. In business, he was very good at insight into other people's thoughts while others could hardly figure out his minds. Besides, he had a clear mind and knew what he wanted.

But he would not cross his bottom line for his interests.

Victor nodded, then instantly defended himself, "I admit it. But, honey, my love to you is sincere. I have been getting along with you frankly since I knew your identity. I'll never use the methods that I used in business on you."

Indeed, he hadn't done anything excessive to her.

Except for making out with her that night.

Eden was tenderhearted and always put herself in others' shoes. Therefore, she would not be angry as long as Victor did not cross her bottom line. In her opinion, there was nothing that could not be forgiven.

She looked out of the window. The school with red bricks looked luxurious and conspicuous in the sunshine. And the exquisite sculpture on the campus was lifelike.

She saw children's carefree smiles.

Their innocent smiles were the most touching thing in the world, which made the solemn school vital.

She felt much better when she saw these.

She took a deep breath, but her tears still flowed down uncontrollably. Her red eyes and dry lips indicated her bad mood. Winter in River City was particularly cold and the wind was a little harsh.

Victor looked at her, while she looked at the scenery outside. The side of her face was a little pale.

Victor understood that Eden didn't want to see him now and she needed time to think. He sat quietly and did not disturb her.

He remembered Abigail's words clearly. Seven years ago, Eden almost died because of him.

Because of these words, he had never dared to tell the truth. Only when he saw how sad she was did he completely realize that he hurt her really badly that year.

As time passed by, Eden still looked out of the window quietly. She was looking back at the things that had happened to her over the years.

The past seven years had been the happiest time she had ever had.

She was accompanied by Mon, Jasper, Abigail, her children, and Uncle Calder.

In the past, it was awkward for her to spend New Year with the Gienger family. Only Antony and Myra had gifts. She did not have any gifts, and her clothes were even old, which Myra didn't want.

But after she had her own family, she had lived a very happy life in the past seven years. On New Year's Day, Mom would give her lucky money. Besides, Jasper and Abigail would also prepare gifts for her. The happiness made her forget all the pain she had experienced before.

She cherished the days in the past seven years so much. Sometimes she couldn't even believe it was true.

In those seven years, she learned that she needed to be herself.

She didn't look forward to the future in her imagination, but the current reality.

She suddenly asked, "Victor, did you try to find me after that night?"

She knew that it was a childish question, but she couldn't help.

Did he want to know who the woman he dragged into the room was? Did he feel guilty?

They just got married this morning, but such an unpleasant thing happened now.

She had to believe that life was full of accidents.

Chapter 737

Victor answered, "Yes, I tried to find you. But you disappeared after that night, so I failed." at that time, he always put the winning in business in the first place and didn't have enough energy to find a woman.

These years he and Rebecca really got rancorous.

"At that time, Rebecca wanted to change Alwynn Group into Jotham Alwynn Group and I didn't agree. Therefore she chose to use dirty tricks. I was too focused on business, so I ignored her tricks. Then that happened, that thing that we all know."

He took a deep breath and continued, "But Eden, I am incomparably happy about that night. At that time, fate had already connected us." If he had continued to investigate, perhaps he would have found her earlier.

"Once my business stabilized, I went to the orphanage around the country to find you, but I will return disappointed again and again. Whenever I couldn't hold on, I would take out our photos, and listen to the recording of you. Do you know? Your smiling face and soft sound gave me inexhaustible power."

Fortunately, he was not confused or flustered even he failed to find her so many times. Finally, his expectations came true.

Eden looked back at him, "But Rebecca still succeed."

Victor nodded. He pulled out a bitter smile and said, "Yes, I lost. Rebecca got away with her trickery on that night when I was with you. She fuddled my father. My parents gave their all to the Jotham Alwynn Group. It was the No.1 in River City. But these years, it gradually degenerated."

Sometimes, he wondered whether it was retribution because his father had left his mother so heartlessly.

Seeing Victor clenched his fist and the pain in his face, Eden's feeling was getting more and more complicated. She knew that he had lived a hard life over the years.

"Ahhh...!" Eden lowered her head and shook her head hard.

Victor stared, "Eden..."

"Shut up!" Eden glared at him.

Victor nodded, "Okay, okay. I won't talk. Don't be angry."

"You liar! Jerk! Why do you make me in a dilemma? What should I do now? should I forget the happy time we spent together? Or should I forget the harm you did to me? Tell me, what should I do?" Eden looked at him with anger. She was humorsome at that moment.

"Honey, honey, calm down. We need time to figure it out. I know you can't accept it right now. But I want you to know, I cherish every second with you. You are like the sunshine in winter that always makes me feel the warmth. You are my everything." he gazed at her calmly with his black and bright eyes.

Eden closed her eyes and took a slow breath.

"Victor, everyone has a stone in their hearts. Some keep it in their hearts forever, and others break it into pieces to relieve themselves. For me, the thing that happened seven years ago was the stone in my heart. I am not sure if I can accept it or not. If not... if I can't forgive you, I'll leave...."

"Please, don't do that to me." Victor looked painful and held her shoulders nervously. His calm eyes became apprehensive, "Eden, you can do anything you want to me. You can hit me or scold me, but you can't leave me. I can't live without you." he struggled for a long time to be with her now. He can't imagine life without her.

Every time he wanted to give up his life, it was the determination to find her that saved him. He must content with Rebecca to the end until he found Eden.

Eden closed her eyes and tried to ignore the pained expression on Victor's face. Heartbreak spread and was against her anger. She found it's difficult for her to make a decision.

In fact, she had been deeply moved by what he had done since she went to visit the Clement family last time. Those emotions had been gradually entrenched in her heart, which almost made her crazy.

She clearly knew that her suspicion and anger would make both of them extremely painful. Especially for Victor, it would make him lose his mind.

She buried her head in her hands agonized.

She screamed crazily in her heart. At this moment, she hated that she always thought about others. She was the one who needed the most consideration. Her own situation was complicated and disordered. She tried her best to face her thoughts in the heart. But, instantly, she mired in the mess again.

She couldn't find the way out.

"What should I do? What should I do? Victor, tell me, what do you want me to do?" Eden cried in his arms.

Victor hugged her tightly and did not speak. He was perplexed too.

What was done had been done. There was no going back.

"If I don't forgive you, I'm afraid of hurting each other. If I forgive you, I will feel like a fool, being played around by you," she said.

Victor hugged her tightly, "Eden, if hate can make you feel better, then hate me." what he only wanted was her happiness.

Eden was on the verge of bursting into tears, "But if so, I will become very painful. You are my special one. I only want to give my tenderness to you. How could I hate you?"

"I wanted to spend my life with you and share all the amazing things in the world with you. I was waiting for you with all my vitality, but Victor, how can you do this to me?"

Hearing her words, Victor smiled. It turned out that Eden had the same wish as him, keeping all the gentleness and romance to the lover.

Chapter 738

"If hate makes you miserable, then forgive me." He whispered in her ear.

Eden raised her head slightly with her tears falling. She asked, "How?"

Victor gently wiped away the tears on her face, "What's your idea?"

Eden choked with sobs, "Beat you!"

Victor smiled and said, "Beat me. Beat me until you cool down."

Just then, Eden clenched her fists and beat Victor hard a few times.

Victor didn't move, just letting her hit him.

Eden hit him a few times and stopped. She pouted her lips and looked at him, "Don't disappoint me again."

Hearing her words, Victor's dark eyes suddenly lit up, "I won't! I promise! From now on I am your servant and I'll do whatever you want me to."

Eden glared at him, "No, you're the president."

Victor grinned and said, "I'm your unshared servant."

Eden broke into laughter, "You're honey-tongued today."

Victor was such a proud person. But now he dropped his pride.

Victor beamed, "You are my honey."

Eden said, "You're asking for the snub."

Victor shook his head slightly, "No, I'm asking for your forgiveness."

Eden replied, "I'm still angry now. Don't mess with me."

Hearing this, Victor was secretly happy. Since she could speak to him like that, she was not as angry as before.

"Honey, thanks!" He lowered his head and kissed her forehead.

She had become his wife. What a happy and lucky day!

"For what?" Eden asked with confusion.

Victor beamed happily, "Thank you for loving me. My life would be meaningless without you. But with you, even if the surroundings are beautiful, I can only see you."

Eden glared at him and said, "Glib!"

Victor chuckled, "Honey, I'm just being sweet."

Eden did not speak. She continued looking out of the window and said, "We pick up the kids and go back together later. Tell Master Wong that he doesn't have to come over."

"Okay!" Victor, seeing Eden calmed down a little bit, smiled and called Master Wong.

On the other side, Mask called Rebecca as soon as he arrived home.

Rebecca still hadn't gone to work. Though she importuned Phillip by all means, it didn't work. Phillip had made up his mind. So she was getting more and more anxious these days.

She was walking around depressed in the living room, while the phone suddenly rang. She saw that it was her nephew, but, with the study door closed, Phillip had not gone to the company today, so she went to her room.

As he walked, she answered the phone, "Hi, Mask, what's the matter?"

Mask squeaked, "Aunt! Help me! I screwed it up, why Victor...I..."

Rebecca comforted him, "Calm down, what happened?"

Meanwhile, Phillip came out of the room and overheard her words. He frowned slightly and followed her quietly.

Mask asked, "Do you still remember what happened seven years ago?"

Rebecca questioned with confusion, "Seven years ago? What? Why mention that? You get too much time?"

Mask said, "No, I m... I mean, do you remember the thing you did to Victor seven years ago."

Rebecca walked into the room and sat on the bed.

However, she forgot to close the door because of hearing the word "Victor".

Phillip stopped by the door.

Rebecca looked puzzled, she said, "Yes. But why asking? You failed to film Victor in the hotel. Now you mention that again? He's a tough nut! Otherwise, he would have died dozens of times now."

Mask said, "Aunt, there must have been something wrong seven years ago. Eden's kids are Victor's."

Rebecca opened her mouth in surprise and jumped up immediately. She didn't simmer down until a long time later, "How do you know that? Any evidence? How can Eden's children be Victor's? It's impossible!"

Phillip, who was eavesdropping outside the door, was astonished to hear the news. Eden's kids were Victor's, which means, they were his grandsons.

He trembled with extreme excitement.

But he heard an unnerving voice from inside, "Go to the company right now! I have samples of the boy and Victor there. Go and do the paternity test. If they are Victor's kids, I won't let go of any of them."

Hearing this, Phillip flew into a rage. Just as he was about to rush into the room, he heard Rebecca's voice coming from inside, "Today, I will transfer one million dollars to your account. Save it on the same card as the money I gave you before. It'll be useful later."

Mask smiled and said, "Okay. I'll take care of it."

Rebecca hung up the phone and fell on the edge of the bed, sulking.

"Humph! Victor, you brat, you'll know my methods." She said to herself angrily.

However, Phillip had never seen Rebecca acting so raucous like that. He was shocked and angry.

He suddenly remembered what his daughter said: Victor had gone through a lot of accidents, and they were all done intentionally.

His face instantly turned pale. Anson once scolded him that he didn't know he was living with a monster. At that time, he was furious and even wanted to beat Anson up. But now, he heard it on his own. He had to believe that Graciella was right.

Phillip glared at Rebecca, who was sitting on the edge of the bed, turned around, and left quietly.

As soon as he got downstairs, he took out his phone and called Jaxon. After arranging everything, he went to the company.

Rebecca also went to the company just after him.

The samples were in the company. In fact, she had doubted the relationship between Victor and the kids, but she had been muddled after Alex came back so she delayed the paternity test.

If Mask was right, considering Phillip's desire for grandchildren, the shares of the company would be split up again. Rebecca was determined to grip her shares before Phillip knew about the matter.

Previously Graciella took back the shares of her and her brother as soon as she came back. If she had known this, she would not have returned the shares.

Chapter 739

These years, Rebecca had been nervous about the matter, but just when she was relieved, things went wrong.

She would not let Victor, her worst enemy, take back the Jotham Alwynn Group.

She had planned for so many years for the property of Jotham Alwynn Group.

Eden and Victor picked up Kenny and the other three kids.

Along the way, seeing the ugly expression of Eden, Gia and her brothers did not dare to speak. They knew that their mother was angry.

Boris was the only one who kept speaking all the time. Victor would occasionally answer him with a few words.

Boris knew that his uncle was a private person. He looked at Giada with an unhappy face and asked, "Gia, why are you so wordless?"

Giada glared at him and asked back, "Why are you so talkative?"

Hearing the hostile tone, Boris looked unhappy, "I just feel strange that you don't speak today."

Giada said, "We're together every day. There's nothing to say really. Sit still and don't move."

"Weil...okay." Boris sat still obediently.

Victor glanced at Boris from the rearview mirror and pursed his lips slightly. It seemed that only his daughter could handle Boris.

He then looked at Eden who was sitting in the passenger seat and saw that her expression was still not good, sadness seized him again.

Everyone was at home when they arrived.

As soon as Eden entered the door, Abigail and Graciella took her arms and hurried her upstairs.

Seeing this, her three kids quietly followed behind.

Jaida had always understood what Eden was thinking. When she saw Eden's expression, she knew what was going on between her and Victor.

"Eden knew that?" She asked.

Victor nodded slightly. "Yes, Mom. And I feel much relieved now."

Zaiden said caustically, "But Eden is angry.

She didn't even see me."

Jaida glared at him and said, "Zaiden, don't be sarcastic. They are married now."

Zaiden squinted at Victor and did not speak.

Victor walked to Zaiden and sat next to him. It seemed that his mother had told Zaiden about the thing, so he asked, "Uncle Calder, do you think Eden will forgive me?"

Zaiden was a little surprised. He glanced at Victor and said in a cool tone, "She is softhearted."

Victor nodded in agreement and said with a smile, "Yes, so I think she'll soon forgive me. But can we make a deal? I want our family to move to Windsor Villa. The environment there is terrific."

Hearing Victor mentioning Windsor Villa, Zaiden was excited, "Sure, sure. That's a good place. Your mother and I have no objection as long as Eden agrees."

Victor nodded with confidence and said, "Uncle Calder, I am very confident in persuading Eden. Don't worry. And it will be more convenient for you to go to the company if we move there."

Jaida reminded, "Victor, Eden needs some time alone. Don't disturb her today. Send the meal to her room. If she is willing to talk to you, you can talk to her."

"Okay, Mom, I will." Victor felt a little pain in his heart. Eden was unhappy, he would not be in a good mood either.

He had always thought that after he had done everything, one day she would finally return to this city and return to his side.

Now all his dreams had been realized, and he unexpectedly had three kids. This was his blessing.

In Eden's room.

Eden looked at the two sisters in front of her with her eyes which were filled with sadness.

Abigail looked at her and was a little confused. "Eden, why you did look so depressed? Graciella and I are still single, if anyone is sad, it should be me or Graciella. What's going on? I haven't fallen asleep for the past two nights, and I've been worrying about you. Do you know?"

Hearing this, Graciella was upset, "What are you worried about? Is Victor a monster?"

Abigail refuted, "He is! He got Eden in just two days. Isn't it scary?"

Graciella was speechless for a moment. She glared at Abigail and then turned to Eden, "Eden, why are you unhappy?"

A trace of sadness flickered across Eden's face, she said, "You don't know. Underneath the seemingly glitzy marriage is a lie. Victor is a liar. The d*mn man seven years ago turned out to be

him. He knew it from the very beginning but he didn't tell me until today."

"What!"

"What!"

Graciella and Abigail screamed with astonishment at the same time.

Graciella took Eden's hand excitedly. Her eyes were reddish because of excitement, "Oh god! Thank you, Eden! I thought that the Alwynn family would not have offsprings. But now, you have two sons and a daughter! This is wonderful. Eden, this is your fate. You two like to be together since childhood and we all think that when you grow up, you will have a happy marriage naturally."

Abigail hit her hand unhappily. She was full of heartache, "Graciella, is passing on your genes important, or is Eden's emotion important? Didn't you see that she is very sad now?"

Graciella didn't want to get angry with Abigail now. She looked at Eden, who was still gloomy, and said softly, "Eden, it's Victor's fault. Don't forgive him so quickly. You must make him suffer and teach him a lesson then he will love you more in the future."

"Uh..." Abigail sighed, "Graciella, you're his sister."

"So what? Now Eden was my closest friend! If he dares to hurt the Eden, I will never forgive him."

"Don't you think you're too drama? Last second you stuck up for Victor, but now you're on Eden's side." She felt that Graciella was not sincere.

Anger flickered across Graciella's eyes. Abigail was disrupting the relationship between Victor and Eden, she couldn't let her rock the boat.

"You think I'm acting? I just don't want them to get divorced! Is this what you want? They just got their marriage certificate this morning."

Abigail's lips twitched slightly. She looked at Eden and thought for a while, then she held Eden's hand lightly and said with a smile, "Eden, we should feel fortunate that it's him. Although you never mentioned it, I know that you're always afraid that the man would snatch the kids from you. But now we know Victor is the man, isn't it better?"

Eden's eyes flickered slightly. Actually, after being angry for so long, she now felt much better.

Chapter 740

Graciella also nodded excitedly and said, "Eden, you and Victor really make a perfect couple. Now you fall in love with each other and even have your own children. I can assure you that Victor will love you for the rest of his life. I know him. I have never seen him love another person so sincerely. You're his dream." Graciella's eyes were filled with tears. She could not depress her excitement anymore. She was not happy, but at least Victor got his happiness.

Victor had suffered a lot since he was a child, having to face Rebecca on his own after Graciella left.

Rebecca was also scared of them now, so she returned the shares of the two of them.

"Graciella, you're crying." Abigail looked at Graciella in surprise. She had heard something about the growth of her and her brother.

Graciella wiped her tears quickly and rolled her eyes at Abigail, "Don't you know that women are made of water?"

Abigail shook her head slightly and said, "No."

Graciella said, "Then you must not be a woman."

Abigail asked, "You wanna test?"

Glancing at Abigail's breast, Graciella stretched out her hands suddenly.

"What the..." Abigail quickly leaned back. She glared at Graciella, "Are you crazy?"

"Haha..." Graciella laughed enigmatically. "We are both women, okay? Besides, it was you who asked me to do it. But to be honest it feels so good. Good figure."

Abigail felt her cheeks flush red and did not say a word.

"Haha..." Eden couldn't help laughing when she saw Abigail's appearance. Abby really had an attractive body.

Hearing Eden laughing, Graciella looked at her with a smile and said, "Eden, I know it's wrong for Victor to lie to you, but can you forgive him? It's not easy for you to get together. Maybe he had difficulties. He looks private, but deep down he is a good person, you know it. Especially when facing you, he is very careful and does not dare to make any mistakes."

Eden nodded slightly, "I'm actually not that angry now. As you said, it's a fortune that he was the man seven years ago."

Abigail chuckled and said, "I'm happy you come around. Eden, if the man is not Victor, if I think correctly, you will feel guilty for him for the rest of your life. Now the truth is revealed. It will be happier to trust a person than hate a person, right? You have suffered for so many years, and you get your blessing."

Eden smiled and nodded. Her bright eyes shone with a gentle and beautiful light.

"Graciella, Abby, thank you." Eden looked at them gratefully. She is lucky to have them.

As the saying went, lookers-on see most of the game. Sometimes, she could not keep her mind clear. But if there was someone else who reminded her, she could figure out the problem quickly. Hatred was better than tolerance: this was something that she had always known.

Suddenly, someone knocked on the door.

Eden answered, "Come in."

Kenneth walked in with a packet in his hand.

Eden said, "Sit here, Kenny."

After greeting Abigail and Graciella, Kenneth walked to Eden.

Graciella almost burst into tears with excitement when she looked at Kenny. She had never cared that Victor married a mother with three children because Victor really loved Eden. Moreover, she also liked the three children very much. Now it turned out that Victor is their birth father, which made Victor's marriage even more perfect.

"Oh my," Graciella said to herself, "no wonder that day I felt they were similar to the young Victor."

Kenneth handed the packet to her mother, and his expression was incomprehensible, he said, "Mom, I'm sorry!"

Eden took a look at her son and then at the packet. Seeming to guessed something, she opened it quickly and skimmed. It was a result of the paternity test, showing that Victor and Kenneth were father and son.

Abigail and Graciella also took a look and then looked at Kenny in shock.

Abigail asked in surprise, "Kenny, you've know it?"

Kenneth nodded and said, "Sorry, Mom. I've asked someone to help me do a paternity test and I've known he was our dad. But I wanted him to tell you the truth so I didn't tell you about it. Sorry, Mom."

Eden suddenly felt that she didn't know her son. He was just a kid, who helped him to do the test? What kind of people did he know?

"Kenny, who..."

"Mom, I know what you want to ask, but don't worry. The people I know are all good people." After saying that, Kenneth turned around and left.

Eden suddenly called him, "Kenny."

Kenneth turned back and smiled gently. "Mom, he is a good man and can give you happiness. If Mom forgives him, I will call him Dad."

"Kenny, now I know where your maturity comes from. You're exactly like Victor." Abigail looked at her godson and bantered. Kenneth was only six years old, yet he acted like a sixteen-year-old teenager.

Kenneth laughed and said, "It's not a bad thing." After that, he left.

Abigail looked at him and shook her head slightly, "Kenny is so cool. He must be very popular with women when he grows up."

"Haha..." Graciella could not help laughing when she saw Abigail's expression as if her godson was snatched away by another girl. She said, "Abby, are you thinking about your daughter-in-law? Kenny's just a kid now!"

Abigail raised her eyebrows slightly and sighed, "Graciella, you're 35 years old. Don't you think you're at this age in the blink of an eye? Time flies."

Graciella nodded in agreement, "So, why don't you get married yet?"

Abigail,

What a gossip girl! Abigail said to herself.

However, Anson's listless but handsome face suddenly appeared in her mind. She remembered him. Every time he saw her, his gloomy face seemed to be revitalized as if he saw the light in the limitless darkness.

His black hair was trimmed clean and neat. His long and slightly upcurved eyes made him look more shrewd and attractive, and there was always a soft smile on his face. He was actually Abigails' ideal type, but...

"What are you thinking about?" Graciella looked at Abigail who was lost in thought.

Eden said jokingly, "She must be thinking about Anson."
