

Gluey Love 761

Chapter 761

Hearing this, Victor was pissed off.

"Anson, what's wrong with you? Eden is my wife now and we've got the marriage certificate. Didn't I tell you this before?" Victor roared.

He actually cursed that he had broken up with Eden and said that he was not fragile. Was he really his good friend?

"Wow!" Anson suddenly looked at Victor in shock and asked curiously, "Victor, how did you trick Director Bleu into marrying you? But you really didn't tell me that you've got the marriage certificate."

Victor didn't look at him, but said casually, "I had my own excellent plan! However, keep it a secret for the time being. Don't tell others."

Anson was puzzled. Victor was utterly unpredictable.

"What was your plan? Let me learn it." In this indifferent society, the best way to get others to remember you was to owe him money and favors.

However, Abby seemed to be not short of money, and she did not owe him a favor.

It was so difficult to win her heart, and he had to cross many difficult barriers.

Victor said, "It's useless to you. You and I are not at the same level."

Anson glared with him with intense hatred. Even he was so ruthless to him.

Alas!

He'd better reflect on himself and think about why Abby didn't like him.

If he didn't try his best, he wouldn't get any chance, and he would be her backup and stay single forever.

Anson shook his head and went back to his office.

As for Eden, after being kissed by Victor, she was not in the mood to work at all.

She drank two glasses of boiled water in a row, but she couldn't stop her heart from beating wildly.

Seeing that she was different from usual, Amelia asked, "Director Bleu, are you all right?"

Eden took a quick look at her. Why did she still feel that her face was burning hot?

She shook her head slightly, "Amelia, I'm fine. Continue to work and don't worry about me."

"Oh!" Amelia glanced at her doubtfully and continued to work with her head down.

Eden sat down, picked up her cell phone and sent a message to Abigail, "Abby, my heart has been beating very fast. Do I have any heart disease?"

Abigail said, "What do you mean?"

Eden replied, "On the way to work, Victor kissed me. After that, my heart has been jumping violently. It has been almost an hour."

Abigail typed, "Eden, I am affected by your words early in the morning. Do you have to show off your love?"

Eden was stunned, "No, Abby, I'm absolutely not showing off. I'm telling the truth. My heart is beating really fast."

Abigail said, "Fool. I hope you fall in love with Victor."

Eden was surprised.

She immediately placed the phone on her chest. Was this the feeling of love?

This morning, she seemed to be more excited than ever.

The phone vibrated, and Eden looked down, "According to what we analysed last night, I haven't fallen in love with Anson."

Eden was speechless.

They were talking about her. Why did Abigail mention the relationship between her and Anson?

That was Abigail.

Eden replied, "So don't you want to have a boyfriend?"

"I don't want to have a boyfriend for the timebeing."

"You don't want to have an ideal boyfriend, and it's normal for you to think so."

"Normal? Eden, I feel that you are a little abnormal."

"You don't want to be an ideal woman, do you?"

"I am very satisfied with myself now. But Eden, I'll go to the beauty salon with Graciella later. Then I'll meet you and go to the charity party with you."

Abigail escaped her question again, and she forgot what to ask.

"Alright!" Eden put down the phone and was still confused.

When Victor came to pick up Eden at three o'clock in the afternoon, she was still in a trance.

Abigail hoped that she could fall in love with Victor, and she couldn't get her words out of her head.

Eden followed Victor to the beauty salon and did not say a word to him all the way.

Victor thought that she was angry because of what happened in the morning, and he did not dare to provoke her.

When they arrived at Brian's studio, Brian happened to be waiting for her.

"Oh! Director Bleu is here. Congratulations! The fashion week is very successful."

Looking at Eden, Brian was extremely delighted and ignored Victor who came in with her.

Eden smiled and said, "Mr. Oakley, your makeup was the icing on the cake. That was why the models and clothes all looked amazing."

"Really? I am flattered. Sit down first. Let me design a hairstyle for you first." He pulled a leather chair for Eden. Under the bright light, her skin looked even whiter and more delicate.

Eden sat down. She was really tired for this charity party. Why did she promise Victor to be his female companion?

She asked for it!

Victor didn't say anything and went to the balcony to get some fresh air.

Brian looked at his back, smiled slightly and didn't say anything.

It was self-evident that Victor cared about Eden so much.

Eden looked at Victor's back from the mirror. He was tall and straight, making her feel at ease.

Brian asked, "Director Bleu, Miss Melissa has signed a contract with Alwynn Group. You can see her often, right?"

Eden smiled and said, "I didn't see her recently. They've been busy with the live broadcast. You can see her online."

Alwynn Group was doing a great online business, and it developed better and better.

All the popular clothes had been sold out.

However, Victor had his own mode of operation in doing business.

He would not produce the popular products again. Moreover, he would put the clothes on the market in batches. The new clothes would be broadcast live in every store and mall.

The models were very busy. Although Hubbard had signed a contract with Alwynn

Group, she had no time to see her.

Brian smiled so brightly like a young man in love, "I often watch her when I have time. She's so beautiful."

Eden was slightly surprised. This time, Brian actually chatted with her while arranging her hairstyle. Moreover, he asked about Hubbard.

She looked at him from the mirror and asked with a smile, "Mr. Oakley, do you like Hubbard?"

Brian's ears turned a little red when he heard this, and his smile became more reserved, "You've seen me through."

Eden smiled, "You were quite interested in Melissa that day, and I knew it."

"Wow! You have piercing eyes. I am interested in her indeed. I added her on Facebook and sent her messages, but she didn't reply to me." Brian said in a very upset tone.

He gave Eden a feeling that he was disappointed in love.

Chapter 762

Eden said, "She was once hurt, so she won't trust a man so easily. If you really like her, you may need some time."

When Brian heard this, his hand, which was holding the comb, paused slightly and he asked, "Director Bleu, what did she suffer?" No wonder she was very alert to him.

However, he was so handsome. Was there any need for her to be on guard against him?

He was not only good- looking, but also reliable.

Brian took a special look at himself in the mirror, and he was very satisfied with himself.

Eden smiled and said, "I won't tell you. It will be more suitable for her to tell you in person when she really accepts you."

Brian smiled gratefully, "Director Bleu, thank you so much for telling me this. At least I know what to do next. Thank you!" "You're welcome. I hope that Melissa can get her own happiness. However, she is a good girl, and you can't hurt her." Eden said.

She had been in contact with Brian for a few times, and she felt that he was a good man.

Brian said with a smile, "Director Bleu, don't worry. I'm definitely not a scum."

Just as Eden was about to reply to him, she suddenly saw five women in the mirror and frowned slightly.

"Hey! Who is this? Isn't this Director Bleu from Alwynn Group?" Rebecca looked at Eden and said sarcastically.

Adalynn, Rebecca, Haven, Paulina and Tillie came in.

After they came in, the bright studio darkened in an instant.

Paulina looked at Eden's pretty face in the mirror with jealousy.

"It seems that she is going to attend the charity party, too."

Adalynn aside, "People like her can just set off others if she goes there. Does she have money to buy anything?"

Paulina sneered mockingly, "Adalynn, it's not good to say so in front of her."

Rebecca smiled coldly, "Don't look down upon her. She has a sugar daddy now." Victor was actually the father of Eden's children, which almost pissed her off these days.

Haven and Tillie aside and didn't speak.

Eden took a look at Haven and Tillie from the mirror. Barking dogs seldom bit.

Haven and Tillie were always good at pretending.

Paulina didn't think it was not enough and said sarcastically, "We don't know how many sugar daddies she has."

Hearing them talking to each other, Eden raised her eyebrows and said with her eyes full of apathy, "Miss Clark, can you shut up? The smell in the room is really unbearable when you speak."

Eden suddenly spoke in such a rude manner, and Paulina's face turned pale with anger.

"Poof..." Brian couldn't help laughing.

"Director Bleu, you're right. I feel that the stinky smell in the room makes me so uncomfortable."

Eden said, "I think you need an air freshener."

Brian said with understanding, "There is an air freshener here. I'll take it out and spray it later."

All their expressions changed when they heard this. Paulina stamped her feet in anger.

Eden could see the changes of their expressions from the mirror. Seeing that they stamped their feet exasperatedly, she smiled with satisfaction.

Sugar daddy?

What the hell?

Did she need a sugar daddy?

Victor doted on her very much. Was it necessary for her to reply on another rich man?

Paulina was truly malicious, and she didn't know how to respect others.

Haven said, "Brian, why do you speak for her?"

"Don't you know what kind of person she is?" Brian looked at her with cold eyes, "Miss Clement, I don't know what kind of person Director Bleu is, but I know how despicable you're very clearly. Why do you come to my studio? If you come here to taunt her, you made a wrong choice. Get out immediately."

Brian's face was indifferent, but thanks to them, he had an opportunity to express his loyalty to Victor.

Victor was sitting on the balcony.

These women actually dared to mock Eden. They were too bold and shameless.

No one could choose their family background, but they had no desire to better themselves. They couldn't see their shortcomings and didn't know how mean they were.

Victor listened to Brian's words and smiled with satisfaction. It seemed that Brian was qualified to be his right-hand man.

He picked up his phone and added Brian to his group chat.

Lucian, Anson, and Adonis found that there was one more people in the group chat.

They typed to welcome him.

Lucian said, "Congratulations! You've passed it."

Anson said, "Welcome, Brian. It's my treat tomorrow night. I have something to do tonight."

Adonis said, "Congratulations, you've become one of the workaholics. Please be mentally prepared. Mr. Alwynn is heartless."

Unfortunately, Brian didn't have time to look at his phone at the moment.

Victor looked at the messages sent by his three good friends and had no way to refute them.

Haven said, "Brian, we made an appointment to let you design hairstyles for us. It's time for you to serve us."

Brian glanced at her, "Just wait."

Rebecca said, "Haven, is he the only make-up artist in the world?"

Haven said, "Mom, there are many makeup artists in this world, but he is the most outstanding one." Haven did not deny this.

No one was better than Brian in this industry.

She made an appointment one month in advance for this charity party.

Brian said, "Thank you for the compliment. However, can you wait inside? I'm not done yet."

Adalynn glared at Brian with her eyes full of anger, "Who is this woman? Why should I wait? Don't you know who we are?"

Eden turned to look at her, "Let me tell you who I am. I am Eden, Abigail's best friend."

In fact, Adalynn knew her. She just wanted to vent her anger on her because of the relationship between Abigail and Anson.

Adalynn pursed his lips slightly. She hated Eden more because of Abigail.

Adalynn said, "I know Abigail. As for you, humph... I don't know you."

Adalynn stood aside indifferently with her arms crossed and looked down at Eden.

What was wrong with Victor? He didn't like Haven but liked such a weak woman. Eden made her so annoyed.

Eden said, "Since you don't know me, take a good look at me. Don't mistake me for someone else when you see me again."

"You..."

"Adalynn, don't bother yourself arguing with this kind of woman. Let's go inside first and wait."
Rebecca was furious. Why did Haven have to come here? They were all pissed off.

Eden looked at the mirror and answered Rebecca, "You have to wait for a woman like me. Don't think you are superior to me."

Eden had never been polite to Rebecca.

After all, her mother had been hurt severely because of her.

Chapter 763

Hearing Eden's words, Rebecca went deathly pale.

Eden actually dared to challenge her. Did she think that she could do whatever she wanted just because she had something to do with Victor?

She looked at Eden angrily and scolded her madly, "Eden, you're just a b*tch! Do you think you can live a comfortable life since you're with Victor? Let me tell you. Victor is not a good person, either."

"So, what do you want?" Eden suddenly turned around and looked at Rebecca with a smile.

She knew whether Victor was a good man or not.

She glanced at Haven who did not say a word. Haven had known who she was, but she did not tell anyone.

Moreover, since Chairman Alwynn had known the existence of her three children, Rebecca must have known it, too.

Rebecca was stunned. Hearing Eden's question, she was puzzled. What did she mean by asking her what she wanted?

She wanted to kill her and her three children.

Rebecca sneered, "What do I want? You'll know it in the future."

After she said with a sneer, she went to the lounge. The charity party was important, and she could not delay it because of Eden.

As soon as she stepped into the lounge, she saw Victor's angular face. His face features were chiselled, but he looked cold. There was a frenzy of rage in his eyes, and he was indifferent all over.

He didn't lose his temper, but he looked quite frightening.

The others who followed Rebecca also saw Victor.

Especially Paulina, when she saw Victor's brooding eyes which were as cold as the ice, she shuddered uncontrollably.

Her feet still ached when she walked. Although Victor did something so cruel to her, she was infatuated with him every time she saw him.

Victor glanced at them with aloof eyes. In the end, he looked at Rebecca's delicate and seductive face and smiled mockingly.

"Mrs. Alwynn, I'd really like to hear what you want to do." He heard their conversation very clearly.

Rebecca looked at Victor and sneered. Then she looked down slightly, but the malice and viciousness in her eyes could not be hidden.

"Victor, you always know what I want to do, don't you?" Phillip was not here, so there was no need for her to pretend.

Victor looked at her with deep and sarcastic eyes, "You are right. You are just a scheming and disgusting woman."

After Victor finished his words, he walked away elegantly with his back straight.

Rebecca's eyes glistened with tears. Victor actually said that she was scheming and disgusting.

She had never been insulted like this.

She had been calculating for her whole life, but she had suffered countless losses because of Victor.

"Victor, don't you think you're going too far?" Adalynn came to sense and yelled at Victor's back.

However, Victor didn't even stop and walked straight to Eden.

Eden's mood was not affected by the appearance of Rebecca and others.

Victor was the same. He looked at Eden in the mirror and smiled gently, "Brian, you're indeed a dab hand with makeup. It's a pity that you're a man."

Brian was speechless.

"I don't think it's a pity. I have a sense of achievement when I see women become more beautiful because of me. As a man, I don't think it's pitiful." Brian smiled proudly. He liked his job very much.

Victor ignored him, "Eden, it's done. Let's go."

Hearing this, Brian asked, "Are you going to the charity party?"

Victor nodded with a bland expression.

Brian's eyes lit up and he said with a smile, "Victor, who do you think will buy the eternal heart tonight? I'm so expectant."

Victor took a look at him, smiled mysteriously and said in a faint tone, "I'm looking forward to it, too."

The eternal heart could only belong to his wife.

Eden stood up and glanced at Brian, asking, "What is the eternal heart?"

Hearing this, Brian looked at her blankly, "Director Bleu, don't you know the eternal heart?"

Eden looked at her doubtfully and remembered it in an instant, "Do you mean the necklace? The eternal heart which can make women more charming and let them stay gorgeous at any time?"

Brian nodded quickly, "Yes, but the eternal heart that will be sold tonight is different from others. It's made personally by a famous designer. You can see what's special about it tonight. It's a global limited edition, and that's the only one in the market."

Eden looked at Brian with surprise, "Isn't it very famous and expensive?"

Brian smiled and said, "Its price is beyond your imagination."

Eden nodded, "I must open my eyes and have a good look tonight."

Victor grinned, "Eden, let's go there first. You have to change your clothes."

Eden said, "Mm! Let's go."

Eden looked at Brian and smiled, "Mr. Oakley, goodbye!"

Brian waved at her, "Bye!"

After Victor got into the car with Eden, he asked, "Eden, are you okay?"

Eden knew why he asked this. She smiled coldly, "Of course I'm fine. They like to stir up enmity, but I don't take them seriously."

Victor said with a smile, "Eden, I know you have suffered a lot."

Eden smiled faintly and said, "Victor, everyone will be wronged. I'm all right. Let's go. We're going to meet Abby."

Looking at her charming face, Victor nodded and started the car.

The party was held in a splendid hall. Men gathered together with great interest and philosophized.

Women chatted with each other and talked about the fashionable hairstyles, clothes and jewellery. Some shared the delicious food and gossip.

Victor, Eden, Anson, Lucian, Graciella and Abigail entered the hall together.

They were all well-dressed and shockingly good- looking, and they had outstanding temperaments. As soon as they came in, the hall seemed to be brighter.

Eden looked over. There were candlelight on the long table. The lights above her head created a mysterious and warm atmosphere and shone in different colors.

Delicate dishes and desserts were placed on the table, giving off an aroma and making people hungry.

Eden swallowed. She had not had dinner yet.

Looking at her like, Abigail couldn't help laughing.

She whispered, "Eden, eat more later."

Eden looked at her, smiled mysteriously and nodded slowly, "Okay! Abby, I will definitely eat a lot."

Chapter 764

That day, her makeup was simple and elegant. Wearing a white and graceful suit, she looked capable and beautiful.

Their arrival attracted everyone's attention. They saw Victor and Eden walking shoulder to shoulder. Everyone knew about the rumors about them and looked at them with different expressions.

They whispered about their relationship in a low voice.

Eden might care about other people's opinions in the past, but at this time, she did not care about them at all. Anyway, Victor was already her husband.

Paulina looked them not far away. She was so jealous that her whole body trembled.

Both Graciella and Abigail wore red dresses. Their nice and sexy figures were fully displayed.

Looking at Abigail who was so charming,

Anson was extremely tempted.

He had been following Abigail closely. Those men who wanted to get close to Abigail immediately gave up when they saw Anson protecting her very carefully.

However, Lucian walked to the other side and did not greet them.

Victor glanced at Graciella, "Help me take care of Eden. I have to meet a few important people."

Graciella ran her fingers through her hair coquettishly and looked at him with a smile, "Don't worry. Abby and I are here."

Eden who was dressed in a white suit with her hair neatly combed back, looking capable and experienced. Graciella looked at her and knew that she could handle things on her own.

Victor whispered in Eden's ear, "Dear, stay with Graciella. I'll come back after meeting some important people."

Eden nodded with a smile, "Okay, don't worry about me."

Victor glanced at Anson.

Anson looked so unwilling, "You can meet them alone. I don't want to go with you. Let Lucian accompany you."

Anson turned his head and looked around, but he did not see Lucian. He was a little speechless. Where was Lucian hiding?

Victor said, "You must go with me."

The surrounding men all looked at Abigail with interest and admiration. Anson didn't want to leave Abigail at all.

Oh!

D*mned Victor! He always did such a thing.

He looked at Abigail and smiled, "Abby, if you are hungry, eat something first."

Abigail nodded with a calm expression, "Okay! Do your own work first."

Anson's heart ached a lot as he looked at her unconcerned face.

"Abby, I'll be back soon." He glared at Victor and left with him.

Eden and Abigail looked at each other and smiled. Eden looked at Anson's back and said, "Look, how reluctant he is to part with you."

Abigail had a charming smile unconsciously, "Eden, let's see his performance first."

Eden knew that she couldn't force Abigail to be with Anson.

"Abby, let's get something to eat. I've been busy all the time and I got hungry long ago."

Abigail glanced at her, "I know, you little foodie."

Abigail looked back at Graciella and saw her chatting with a man in a suit happily.

Abigail was stunned. Had Graciella been single for too long? She actually forgot her and Eden.

She turned around and looked at Eden, "Graciella is now completely obsessed with that man. Let's go and get some food ourselves."

Eden looked back at Graciella and smiled, "She wants to be in a relationship."

"Ha-ha... Women all want to fall in love. Do you remember Ms Lee who lives in the same brotherhood with you? She met a nice man after divorcing." Abigail recalled the past and thought of many people who found their own happiness after getting divorced.

Eden tilted her head and thought for a while, "That's because Ms Lee is a kind woman. That old man can get retirement pay, but he always yells at her. I don't think they can live happily for too long."

"Ha-ha..." Abigail laughed, "You're cursing her, aren't you?"

Eden said, "You don't know how they get along with each other. I saw it with my own eyes."

"Well, anyway, I don't often stay at home. Eden, let's get more food and find a place to eat." Abigail suggested.

"Alright! Abby, take as many as shrimps for me later." Eden reminded her.

"Okay! I see. Everyone knows that you like shrimps the most." Abigail smiled. They had nothing to do on such an occasion, and they came here only to see the eternal heart.

They wanted to know who would buy the eternal heart.

The two of them lowered their heads to choose their food and did not pay attention to the surroundings.

Rebecca and Adalynn had been paying attention to Eden and Abigail since they came in.

Adalynn glared at them fiercely before looking at Rebecca, "Mom, Anson brought Abigail here. Will he buy her the eternal heart?"

Rebecca looked at Adalynn's jealous face and rubbed her head with a smile, "Fool, Anson can't afford to buy the eternal heart now."

Adalynn bit her lip, "Mom, you must help me tonight."

Rebecca looked at her and asked, "Adalynn, are you sure you won't regret it?"

After all, getting a man in this way was shameful.

Every time Grandma Clement came back, she scolded Rebecca harshly. She was old, but she was still in good health.

She also came back this year, and Rebecca didn't know what unpleasant words she would use to scold her.

Adalynn shook her head slightly. She knew that she was not as capable as Abigail, and she could only get Anson in this way.

If she were to compete with Abigail fairly, Anson probably wouldn't even pay attention to her.

"Mom, I won't regret it. I know what I want." Adalynn looked at Rebecca with a determined face.

Her life was simple. Under Rebecca's protection, she had never suffered setbacks and lived a comfortable life.

Abigail could deal with all kinds of people easily, but she couldn't.

She was curious about everything in the world, but if she met any difficulty, she would be at a loss. She was not strong and only wanted to maintain her stable life.

Anson was an extremely responsible man. As long as she could be with him, she would live a carefree life in the future.

Rebecca nodded and said, "Wait in the room upstairs, and I've sent the room number to you. I've arranged everything. Anson doesn't stay with Abigail now, and we can do it."

Since Adalynn wouldn't regret it, she could do it without worry.

She thought, "Anson, it's all your fault. You can't see how good my daughter is, and you force me to let you be together in this way."

Chapter 765

"Okay, mom." Adalynn glanced at Abigail, smiled coldly, and turned around to leave.

"Abigail, enjoy your food here. Anson must be mine."

She had been loving Anson since she was young. She would not give him to anyone else. After Abigail appeared in her life, she was really anxious.

After watching Adalynn go upstairs, Rebecca winked at a woman in red not far away.

The woman was arranged by Rebecca.

Rebecca took out her phone and sent a message.

After doing all these, she smiled charmingly as she glanced at Abigail.

She said in heart, "Abigail, you can't be arrogant for too long. No one can take away my daughter's happiness."

She remembered that back then, she looked at Jaida with extreme disdain, as if Jaida was a stray dog on the roadside. To put it in a harsh way, she treated Jaida as a beggar.

She looked down on Jaida.

"Mom, don't you want to eat something?"

The sudden voice made Rebecca slightly surprised. She was a bit nervous as she looked at Haven, "No, eat something on your own. Hasn't Vin arrived?"

Haven shook her head slightly, "I don't know. It seems that he hasn't arrived."

Rebecca looked at her and said in a bad tone, "Are you really his wife? Don't you even know where he is?"

Hearing this, Haven sneered in heart. Didn't Rebecca know what kind of person her son was?

She didn't blame her son and always found fault with her.

"Mom, I called him, but he didn't answer. He won't miss such an important occasion. Mom, just rest assured."

After Haven finished speaking, she observed Rebecca's expression carefully. Rebecca was obviously very nervous just now. Was she going to plot against someone?

Based on her understanding of Rebecca, she knew that she was almost certainly right.

Haven followed her gaze and looked over. Not far away, Eden and Abigail were choosing their food happily.

Haven looked away and glanced at Rebecca. She must have something else to do.

Rebecca looked at her and ordered her, "When Vin comes here, let him meet Mr. King."

Mr. King was the man the Gienger family arranged for Eden back then. He would come here that night.

Haven asked doubtfully, "Which Mr. King?"

Rebecca sneered and said, "You don't have to know who he is. You just need to tell Vin. He knows what to do."

Haven nodded reluctantly, "Alright!"

Only then did Rebecca leave proudly.

Haven looked at her back and followed her.

If she could get something on Rebecca, she would have other opportunities.

She took out the phone, got ready and followed her.

Many stories in life were hidden in the dark, so she had to find out some details carefully. In order to have a better future, she should find out Rebecca's secret and match against her.

In fact, Abigail had been paying attention to Haven and Rebecca's movements.

Seeing that Haven had left, she looked at Eden and said playfully, "Eden, it seems that Vincent has married a coquettish woman. Haven looks very beautiful after dressing up."

Eden said with a smile, "Vincent's wife is charming and extremely coquettish. But don't forget that she will make Vincent go bankrupt."

When Abigail heard this, she looked around. After making sure that no one was around them, she asked in a low voice, "Eden, how do you know that?"

Eden shrugged her shoulders with a smile, "I dreamed of it last night."

Abigail was speechless.

Well!

She wanted to have a same dream so much.

She held Eden's arms, "Eden, have you dreamt of me winning a big prize?"

Eden glanced at her from the corner of her eye, "What is the so-called prize mean?"

Eden glanced at her belly. Abigail didn't have a boyfriend, so it wouldn't be easy for her to get pregnant.

"No." Eden shook her head with a smile, "Abby, you don't even have a boyfriend now. How can you have a baby? If you get pregnant, my children will have a companion."

Abigail's jaw dropped when she heard this.

Eden really misunderstood her!

Abigail pursed her lips and explained quickly, "Eden, do you misunderstand what I mean? I mean that I want to buy a lottery ticket and win the prize. What are you thinking about? Your words are too absurd!"

Eden looked back at her, "Oh... I see. Abby, I misunderstood you."

Abigail knew that this was the case.

"Eden, good friends can turn nasty, and lovers can break up with each other. Staying single is the best. I want to be single forever." Eden smiled slyly, "Abby, but you will live a miserable life in your old age." Abigail smiled and winked, "Eden, I don't care. Anyway, I have you by my side."

"Yeah, you're right. Have you got what you want to eat? Let's go back to eat." Eden looked at her with a smile. They dawdled and the auction was about to begin.

"Let's go. Look how greedy you are!" Abigail said with a smile as she followed Eden.

When they came back, Graciella was nowhere to be seen.

After sitting down, Abigail looked around the hall, but she didn't see Graciella. She said, "Eden, where is Graciella?"

Eden said while eating, "She couldn't leave here. Maybe she has gone to the bathroom." Although Eden said so, she paid more attention. Such an occasion was very complicated.

"Abby, I'll call her." Eden took out her phone and dialed Graciella's number.

The phone was soon connected, "Hello? Eden, what's wrong?"

Eden was speechless.

"Graciella, I'm afraid that something bad will happen to you. Where are you?"

Graciella said, "In the bathroom."

"It's good that you're fine. Graciella, do you want to come back and eat something? The food here is delicious."

Graciella said, "You little foodie, enjoy your meal. I'll go out for some fresh air. I'm a divorced woman. You don't have to worry about me."

After hanging up the phone, Eden looked at Abigail and said, "She's in the bathroom, and she said that she wanted to go out to get some fresh air."

Abigail took a sip of red wine and put it down before saying, "Graciella is so careless, but Victor entrusted you to her. He really trusts Graciella and he is really incautious."

"Ha-ha... after all, she is his sister. How could he not believe his own sister? Moreover, Victor's worry is completely unnecessary. When I am with you, nobody can hurt you."

Eden looked at the people around them. Everyone was busy with their own things. How could they have time to deal with her?

As for Rebecca, she was arranging things outside the hall when she suddenly saw Graciella. An idea came to her mind. Originally, she was thinking about how to lure Abigail here. At this time, she had an idea.

Chapter 766

Rebecca looked at Graciella's direction and dialed a number. Then she followed Graciella.

At this time, she had to arrange another good show.

After eating, Eden glanced at Abigail who having her meal, "Abby, I'm going to the bathroom. I'll be back soon."

Abigail looked at her, "Can you go there alone?"

Eden was stunned and suddenly realized that they cared about her excessively. She could go anywhere alone, "Yeah, you don't have to worry about me. I'll be safe and sound. People here are all cultured. They won't do anything terrible to me."

Saying this, Eden turned around and left with a smile.

Abigail grinned. She looked at Eden's back and muttered, "You're so pretty that I can't help but worry about you."

Abigail sighed. Victor was so lucky to marry Eden. During this period of time, Jasper talked less and less. She didn't know whether he would come here that night.

It seemed that she had to spend more time with him so that he could recover from his experiences. Only then would he be able to find his own happiness.

Abigail took a look at the beautiful sign stand placed aside. On the sign stand were the items to be auctioned at night.

She stared at the eternal heart which was very expensive.

All the lots were valuable. There were some works of famous painters and traditional Chinese paintings. She waited with great interest.

The eternal heart was the most valuable lot at auction.

Eden had just come out of the bathroom when she ran into someone familiar. Myra looked at her with a smile, but her eyes turned cold.

Myra looked at Eden who was more and more beautiful, and a trace of jealousy flashed across her eyes. The Gienger family had gone bankrupt, but why could Eden live such a comfortable and meaningful life?

Moreover, her career and life had been smooth and successful.

Eden knew that Myra wouldn't keep silent forever, but she didn't expect that she would come here.

"My good sister, I haven't seen you for a long time." Myra smiled and looked at Eden sarcastically.

She was wearing a long black off-the-shoulder dress. Her hair was twisted into a tight knot, and there was a delicate makeup on her face. The crystal earrings shone under the light, making her even prettier.

However, in Myra's eyes, Eden was truly different from before. She wore a simple and fashionable white suit, but the simple style set off her elegance and nobleness.

Eden said indifferently, "It's not long. It has only been a couple of months."

Myra smiled and lowered her head slightly, but Eden could see her mocking smile clearly. She said, "Eden, I really don't understand why you had the courage to admit that you are Eden. Don't forget that my mother is in prison now." She wanted to take revenge for her mother. Eden ruined her family. How could she live such a good life?

After her mother was imprisoned, her father left the Gienger family completely and lived with his mistress and their child.

She and her elder brother lost everything. They didn't even dare to go out.

What right did Eden have to stand in front of her arrogantly?

Eden glanced at her with bland eyes. Myra came with evil intentions. Maybe she had been waiting for her here on purpose.

"Why can't I admit it? I grew up in the Gienger family, and your mother brought me up. However, you know why she raised me, don't you?"

Hearing this, Myra was even angrier, "You know that she raised you, but why did you treat her like that? You should repay the Gienger family, but you returned kindness with ingratitude! How can you be so heartless?"

Eden said furiously, "Myra, I know that you're stupid, but don't go too far. Do you forget that you sent me to another man's bed so that your family could benefit from it? This was why your mother brought me up. All she thought about was her own benefit. Myra, don't bully me. If I want to be hardhearted, you won't even have a chance to beg me."

"Ha-ha..." Myra sneered, "Have you ever given me a chance? I was detained for half a month, but no one came to see me..."

"So, you should restrain yourself in normal times so that you'll have more friends. At least when you're in trouble, someone will come forward to help you." Eden interrupted her words in a sharp tone.

Myra had been arrogant and domineering since she was a child, and she never reflected on herself.

"Eden, are you qualified to lecture me? You have disgraced the Gienger family. An adopted daughter sent her adoptive mother to prison. Many people are gossiping about this now. Won't you be scourged by your conscience? What's more, I've been rumoured by others because of you. I can't find a job and don't even dare to go out. It's all your fault." Myra rebuked Eden angrily and excitedly.

Eden listened to her words and remained unmoved, "You have too many shortcomings and it's not my duty to teach you. Whether you're living a good life or not, it has nothing to do with me. Do you remember how I lived when I was in your house? You bullied me to the extreme. My life was worse than that of a maid. Do you forget what you've done to me? You've done too many cruel things to me, but now you stand in front of me and pretend to be poor. No one can be arrogant forever."

Myra always thought stupidly that her family was omnipotent. She had endless money and was generous to others. However, she did not know how hard it was for her parents to make money. Her father attended social activities every day, and he was completely drunk when he came back.

In order to do a better business and give her a more luxurious life, her mother used all kinds of ways.

Moreover, she was indeed spoiled. She did things without considering the consequences, and she was often used by others.

Myra smiled proudly. She looked at Eden and scolded, "You're just an adopted daughter. Do you think you're a princess? I was quite polite to you at that time. I didn't push you downstairs to kill you, so I showed you mercy. Do you know how good your grades were at college? It was so good that I wanted to kill you. My family didn't cover your tuition fees, but you skipped a grade and finished your study. I really admire you, but I'm very jealous of you. Do you know how many times I schemed against you? It was me who asked those men to sexually harass you. I wanted to ruin you.

"You had nothing at all, but you were as proud as a princess. You were stronger than me in every aspect. I wanted to vent my anger, and you happened to be so annoying, so I bullied you reasonably. So many years have passed, and now I tell you these things. What can you do to me?"

Myra looked very arrogant. Eden's heart ached severely as she listened to her.

Back then, she treated the Gienger family so well and did everything without complaint, but they didn't show her any warmth.

Eden thought that her words were so ridiculous.

She looked at Myra and smiled somewhat bitterly, "Myra, I really don't want to scold you. Now we are even. Let's live our own lives. In the future, don't appear in front of me again and let me think of what you've done to me." "Ha-ha..." Myra smiled, "Cyan, you shameless, despicable and treacherous b*tch! You don't want to scold me, but I want to scold you!"

Eden looked at Myra's crazy face and shook her head slightly, "That's right. You will never be polite and moral unless you're reborn." Myra could never change her temperament in this life.

"Myra, originally, I didn't want to say it. But now, I feel that I'll be sorry for myself if I don't scold you. You don't know how shameless you are, but I know. When you were in college, you keep your relationships with three boys at the same time. I even saw you guys being together. You said that I was shameless. Why don't you reflect on yourself?"

Eden looked at Myra whose face turned pale.

They grew up together, and she had never scolded Myra like this. It was not because she didn't dare to scold her, but because she did not want to care about her private life.

At that time, she couldn't even live a good life. How could she care about others?

"You... How do you know about this?" Myra looked at Eden in disbelief.

She did those things very secretly. How did Eden know it?

Eden looked at her and said with a smile, "I didn't have to inquire about it deliberately, but I knew it. I can't stand you being so hypocritical and disgusting. I don't want to see you anymore."

After saying that, Eden walked past her.

Myra, however, said with a sneer, "Cyan, don't think that you can live a good life since you're with Victor. You're just a humble b*tch and you can never turn the table. One day, you will live a more miserable life than me."

Eden smiled but did not say anything. She walked out straight. As for what would happen to her, everyone would see it in the future.

Looking at Eden's back, Myra smiled indifferently. That b*stard, Victor, was really out of his mind. He was actually so happy to be with a woman who was once abandoned by another man.

"Just wait and see. Eden, Mr. King is here, too. There's going to be a good show tonight."

"Yo! Isn't this my university classmate Cyan? Why are you here?"

A sarcastic and sharp voice sounded. Eden looked up and saw five women dressed up in fancy clothes. Each of them held a cup of red wine and looked at her with a weird smile.

Eden thought for a while. It was such a coincidence. She met Myra in the bathroom. When she left the bathroom, she met the five classmates who used to bully her.

Besides, this place was quite remote, but they were waiting for her here. It seemed that someone had arranged this deliberately.

Eden walked over confidently and stood in front of them, "What's wrong? Can't I come here?"

Lacy Stone looked at her with a contemptuous smile, "It was said that you have a rich sugar daddy now and you're very arrogant. I always hate arrogant people. I heard that you are here, so I came to see you."

Eden looked at Lacy's bossy expression and felt that she was ugly to the extreme. The five women were all her classmates. Their family backgrounds were not bad, but they were too cheeky.

However, they were like this. They couldn't realize their own mistakes, but liked to lecture others.

"Lacy, are you trying to find fault with me?" Eden asked with a smile and took a few steps back. Their pungent perfume choked her.

"Cyan, it has been a few years since we last met. You've changed a lot. You didn't have such confidence to talk to us in the past." Nicole White looked at Eden with a lofty expression.

She remembered that Cyan was very self-absorbed and modest in the past. When they mocked her, she did not mind it at all and allowed them to gossip.

Eden said, "Now I'm different. It's impossible for a person to stay in the same place forever."

Nicole fiddled with her hair gently. Her wine-red hair and her thick smokey make-up made her look a little ferocious.

Eden lowered her head slightly. These people had liked to dress up like this since college.

"Cyan, I heard that you are working in Alwynn Group now. Why don't you talk to Mr. Alwynn and ask him to give us several jobs by the back door? We all studied design. Shall we work in Alwynn Group?" Olena Worley said in a mean and jealous tone.

Eden sneered in her heart when she heard this. Give them jobs by the back door?

Olena couldn't be more thick-skinned!

"Alwynn Group is an open door to you. You can go to work as you like, and no one will stop you."

After finishing her words, Eden was about to leave.

However, Nicole took a step forward and blocked her way.

Eden suddenly raised her head. Her eyes were as cold as ice and she looked so aggressive. She said in an extremely apathetic tone, "What's wrong? We used to be classmates, but you want to quarrel with me now?"

Seeing Eden like this, Nicole was slightly stunned, but she felt that Eden was just putting on an act.

"Cyan, do you understand what Olena said? We want to work in Alwynn Group and want to ask you for help. You haven't answered us yet."

Eden sneered. She had never seen someone as unashamed as them.

"Who do you think you are? Why should I help you? I don't have the obligation to help you. You used to bully me just to make yourselves happy, but now you make such a request to me. Aren't you ashamed?"

Nicole's face flushed, and she felt so embarrassed that she wanted to leave immediately.

Facing Eden's clear and shrewd eyes, she felt guilty for the first time.

Olena looked at Eden arrogantly, "Cyan, you're not capable enough to help us, are you? It is said online that you are Victor's woman. Don't tell me that you can't even do this."

Eden said, "Even if I can help you, I won't help you. Who are you? Why should I help you?" Eden said firmly.

"You..." Looking at Eden who was so confident and calm, Olena was too angry to say a word for the first time. Eden had never been like this before.

"Cyan, wait and see! " As Olena said this, she splashed the red wine on Eden.

Eden's face was instantly wetted with red wine.

Seeing this, Nicole sneered and also poured her red wine on Eden. Then, all of them splashed the red wine on Eden's hair and clothes.

Around them, several reporters took pictures of this scene.

Nicole and the others went deathly pale when they saw this.

She roared at those reporters, "What are you doing? Who allowed you to come here to take pictures? Get out of here!"

Eden closed her eyes tightly. After a while, she wiped her face. D*mn it! It seemed that she had a grudge against the red wine.

She was always splashed with red wine.

"Click..."

Several reporters kept taking pictures of this scene.

Nicole and the other's faces were ashen when they saw this.

Could it be that the scene of them bullying Cyan had been shot?

Olena yelled at the reporters madly, "I told you to stop taking photos! Are you deaf?"

However, the reporters were not threatened and continued to take photos.

At this moment, they heard a flurry of footsteps behind them.

Victor and Abigail came over with the security guards in the hall.

"Eden!" Looking at Eden who looked so awkward, Abigail went berserk.

They looked back, only to see Victor walk over in an aggressive manner. He looked so furious, as if he wanted to kill all of them.

The atmosphere became intense in an instant.

Those women looked at Victor in horror.

Victor looked steadily forward and stared at Eden. Then he quickly took off his coat and put it on Eden.

Eden glanced at him and Abigail and asked, "Is there any tissues? I feel hot in my eyes."

Abigail was speechless.

She was actually so calm!

"Yeah, here you are." Abigail took out a tissue from her cosmetic bag and handed it to Eden.

Eden wiped her eyes and then tried to open her eyes to look at Abigail.

Abigail looked at her with distress, "You've just left me for a while, but did such a thing happen?"
Eden had been splashed with red wine for many times.

Eden forced a smile, "Abby, I can only be like this since I meet some shameless people. But don't worry. Take it slow. I will let them pay the price."

Saying this, Eden looked around. But she couldn't find anything except for a few trash cans.

Alas!

Eden sighed in heart. She could not find anything to use to fight back though she wanted to take revenge on them.

Victor looked at her and he was heartbroken, "Eden, go to change your clothes first. I'll deal with this."

Eden glanced at him and asked, "What are you going to do?"

Victor wiped the red wine on her forehead with dotting eyes.

"I won't let off those who hurt you."

Hearing this, the five women were scared and looked at Victor in horror.

Victor's eyes were so affectionate as he looked at Eden.

"Bang!" At this moment, a sound of smashing wine bottles was heard. They turned around and saw Aisling, who was wearing a peach-red evening dress, looking at them angrily.

Moreover, there was a dinning trolley which was full of red wine beside her. Next to her was Delmont who looked miffed.

Aisling looked at these women and sneered coldly, "Is my daughter very easy to bully? You even have been bullying her since college! I've never seen such shameless people like you! Are you insane?"

"I think all of you are out of your mind! How dare you bully my daughter here? You actually dare to splash the red wine on the daughter of the Clement Group! Since you like drinking red wine so much, you can drink to your heart's content tonight and it's my treat."

As Aisling said this, she picked up the red wine that she had prepared in the dining trolley and poured it directly on those women.

"Ah..."

"Oh... Mrs. Clement, do you make a mistake? She is Cyan. How could she be your daughter?" Olena covered her face and said in shock and disbelief.

"Humph! Are you qualified to question me? From now on, your Gerard family no longer need to supply the supermarkets of the Clement Group. Without my cooperation, you can just wait to go bankrupt!" Aisling went off the deep end. She splashed the red wine on them while cursing them.

She came here to meet Eden and wanted to chat with her, but she saw that these women were bullying Eden.

Listening to those words, she felt extremely distressed. Eden was the princess of the Clement family. She doted on Eden very much and couldn't even bear to scold her, but Eden was bullied by them so pitifully.

Eden was a little stunned when she saw how imposing her mother was.

She didn't expect that Aisling was nearby. Aisling must be very sad when she heard those words, right? After all, she used to live a poor life.

"Mom." Eden looked at Aisling's excited and red face.

Eden said, "Victor, stop those reporters. Don't let them spread this news."

Victor nodded, "Eden, don't worry. Other won't know this."

Saying this, he walked to the reporters and asked them to stop shooting.

Although these reporters were unwilling to give up, they didn't dare to go against Victor. They had taken pictures, but they didn't dare to post the photos because of Victor. If they were not careful enough, they would lose their jobs.

Eden walked to Aisling and stopped her, "Mom, that's enough. You don't have to take their words seriously. Don't get sick out of anger. It's not worth it."

Aisling looked at her with sorrow, "Eden, I want to kill them. How could they do this to you? They even said that they wanted to enter Alwynn Group unashamedly. They don't know how hateful and incapable they are! They have fun all day long and they're just good-for-nothings, but they dared to say such shameless words in front of you. That is too absurd."

Aisling was so irritated that her chest heaved violently.

Eden felt warm in heart. This was the first time Aisling had helped her. In the past, when she was bullied and insulted, she could only hold on alone.

"Mom, don't be sad, and don't be angry. It was something in the past and I have forgotten it. It's my fault. I make you sad again, because I used to live a bad life." She was so helpless and lonely at that time.

Aisling held her hand with distress and looked at her with dotting and loving eyes, "Now you have me by your side, and I won't allow anyone to bully you."

Eden smiled and nodded.

She looked at Nicole and the others. Seeing that they were awkward and scared, she did not have any sympathy for them.

Olena looked at Eden with a deathly pale face, "Eden, I'm sorry. I won't do this again. For the sake that we used to be classmate, let your mother forgive me. If I knew that you're the daughter of the Clement family, I would never do that. Besides, someone asked us to do this tonight. We took the money, so we made things difficult for you."

Hearing this, Eden looked at her with a frown, "Who sent you?"

Olena shook her head, "We don't know. Someone transferred a sum of money to our accounts and asked us to embarrass you here. Eden, please, let your mother take back what she said."

The Gerard family ran a good business because they were the seafood supplier of the supermarkets covered by Clement Group. It was because of the Clement family that they could make a living and live a rich life.

Chapter 769

Delmont looked at Olena with a sneer, "It's useless for you to beg my sister. You bullied her, but you want my family to cooperate with you. Don't even think about it."

Olena's face was drained of all colour and animation when she heard this.

However, Delmont hadn't finished speaking, "I have checked your family backgrounds. Four of you have cooperation with our family, and the other one has cooperation with Alwynn Group."

Hearing this, the five women fell on the ground with pale faces.

Eden had a complicated feeling when she saw them like this. They had graduated for so many years, and they had been enemies since school.

When they met each other again, they were still as bossy as they were in college.

At that time, she seldom stayed in school because she needed to work to earn money, but as long as she met them, she would be teased and bullied by them.

It was because of Myra that they dared to bully her.

Victor looked at Delmont, "Whose family is in cooperation with Alwynn Group?"

Delmont replied, "The White family."

He and his mother saw Eden being bullied with their own eyes, so they took actions separately and learned about their family backgrounds.

It was hard to do business in this society, and it was not easy to find a good partner.

The Clement family valued credibility a lot. Except that they ran into cash-flow problems last time, they always paid for goods on time.

There was no absolute fair competition in this era. Some people couldn't realize their mistakes until they were taught a lesson.

When Nicole heard this, she trembled.

"No, Mr. Alwynn, we didn't do it on purpose. We were instigated by someone." At this moment, Nicole was so frightened, like a little and weak bunny. She was no longer as arrogant as she was just now.

Victor didn't even look at her. He looked at Eden and said, "Go to the room and change your clothes with Miss Joye first. I'll deal with this." His voice was gentle and comforting.

Eden nodded.

Aisling looked at Eden and smiled faintly, "Eden, go there first. I will come to you later. What's more, don't feel sorry about what happened today."

Eden glanced at Nicole and the others. She wouldn't feel sorry. These people never treated her kindly. Why should she requite ingratitude with kindness?

Abigail said, "Eden, let's go. You will get sick in this way. Change your clothes first." Abigail was very worried. She should have come with Eden just now, and she didn't expect that someone would arrange those women to bully Eden here.

It was too hateful. Who was that crazy b*stard? Eden was always attacked.

She walked over, held Eden and glanced at the women on the ground. Since they colluded in doing evil, their families would go bankrupt.

"Ha-ha!"

She sneered and left with Eden.

Watching them leave, Victor said to the security guard beside him, "Find me a quiet room and take these people there."

"No problem, Mr. Alwynn, please come this way!" A slightly fat man came forward and said.

Victor looked at Delmont and said, "Accompany Mrs. Clement. I will handle this."

"Okay!" Delmont replied.

Delmont hoped that he would not disappoint Eden.

Seeing that Victor was about to leave with those women, the reporters could only leave with disappointment. They didn't expect that such good news couldn't be published. Nothing was more depressing than this.

In the spacious room, several women stood there, shivering. They looked at Victor in horror and waited for him to speak.

Victor sat on the sofa indifferently, and his handsome face was so apathetic that no one dared to look straight at him.

In the quiet room, the atmosphere was extremely depressing.

Lucian heard the news and rushed over.

Glancing at those flustered women, he frowned slightly, approached Victor and asked, "What happened?"

Victor's face was full of brutality as he said in an aloof tone, "They are Eden's classmates, and they were instigated by someone to bully Eden. Now we need to find out who sent them."

Lucian's expression turned cold when he heard this, "Is there any need to investigate it? They must know who ordered them."

Hearing this, Nicole immediately shook her head, "We don't know, really! That person transferred some money to us and then gave us the invitations. We really don't know who that person is."

If they betrayed that person, they would not live a good life in the future.

Lucian's expression turned even colder when he heard this, "Alright. Since you don't know, I'll find it out as long as I check your bank accounts. I have the ability to find out who transferred the money to you, but it's different from you telling me on your own initiative."

Lucian's tone was unsympathetic and threatening.

Hearing this, they became more afraid, and they hesitated whether to say it or not.

Upstairs the hall was a hotel. Abigail brought Eden to her resting room on the fifth floor.

Eden went to take a bath and change her clothes.

Abigail was alone outside, and she felt bored.

She took out her phone and called Graciella.

"Hello? Abby, come and save me. I'm on the fifth floor of the hotel." Graciella's voice was very urgent.

Abigail's gaze turned cold. She got up quickly, opened the door and ran out, "Graciella, I'm also on the fifth floor. Where are you?"

Graciella said while running, "I don't know where I am. Two men are chasing me. They want to sexually harass me."

Abigail was startled. After hanging up, she looked around. Hearing the voice coming from the left, she immediately ran towards the left.

"Graciella!" Abigail shouted as she ran. She was too anxious. Everything was so coincidental.

First of all, Eden was bullied, and then Graciella was in troubles. Who had such great ability to do these to them?

Graciella looked back while running. She just wanted to go out to get some air on the top floor, but she was targeted by two men, and they chased her from the first floor to the fifth floor.

"B*tch, where do you think you can run?" A slightly fat man looked at Graciella fiercely.

Graciella roared at him madly, "You son of a b*tch. If I go out from here today, you'll pay the price!" Graciella's blood was boiling with fury.

Someone arranged this deliberately. Otherwise, no one would dare to do such a thing here.

She didn't know whether Eden would have an accident or not.

D*mn it!

She was too careless.

"Humph! You're just an unimportant woman in the Alwynn family. What can you do to me?" The slightly fat man looked at Graciella with a sneer.

Hearing this, Graciella was suddenly enlightened.

"Rebecca, you shameless woman! I must kill you!" Graciella gritted her teeth and cursed. Then she continued to run forward.

Chapter 770

What about Dawson? Would something bad happen to him?

Just now, while she was running, she saw two men dragging Anson into another room, and he didn't seem to be all right.

Graciella felt very wronged and she was under a lot of pressure.

"Anson..." Graciella was distracted, so she was stumbled by the carpet in the corridor.

She felt a stinging pain on her knees and arms.

Her phone and handbag flew far away, and she gritted her teeth in pain.

The two men stopped, gasping for air, "How dare you run! You were very strong and stubborn just now, weren't you? Why don't you run now?"

The slightly fat man looked at Graciella's sexy figure with a smirk.

The other man, who was thinner, smiled lecherously and said, "This woman is really well-shaped."

"Yep! You can enjoy it later." The man smiled evilly. Since Graciella was so attractive, they could enjoy themselves that night. He bent down to pull Graciella up.

However, before he could touch Graciella, someone kicked his hand heavily.

"Ah... it hurts. Which... b*stard dares to meddle in my affairs?" The slightly fat man cursed furiously.

When he raised his head, he saw a handsome man in a white suit and gold-rimmed glasses. The man looked at them with a smile. Although he was smiling, his smile was as cold as ice, sending a chill down his spine.

"This world is getting worse and worse. You guys are too bold, aren't you?" Loomis looked at them with meaningful eyes.

"Humph! You'd better not intervene in this matter. It's not something that you can interfere in." The slightly fat man shouted at Loomis with a stern expression.

"Oh! Then tell me. Why can't I interfere in?"

Graciella's face twisted in pain. Loomis walked over and helped her stand up cautiously.

When he saw Graciella's delicate face, he was a little stunned and asked her with a gentlemanly smile, "Miss, are you okay?"

Graciella shook her head and glanced at him gratefully, "Thank you! I'm fine."

"Graciella, are you all right?" Abigail was relieved when she saw Graciella.

Graciella pursed her dry lips and said in a hurry, "Abby, hurry up! Anson... was taken away unconsciously. He was sent to a room. Find him quickly."

Abigail was taken aback. Anson?

"Where is he?" She asked anxiously. Anson was sent to a room unconsciously.

It was obvious that he was also set up by someone.

Graciella pointed in the direction she had run past. Panting, she said, "Turn around and go to the left. I don't know which room he is in."

Abigail looked at her worriedly, "Graciella, what about you?"

Graciella glanced at Loomis and pulled his hand, "Sir, can you do me a favor again? My younger brother has been taken to a room. I have a bad feeling. Please help me, okay?"

Loomis watched as she pulled his arm and smiled faintly, "I'm a businessman, and I won't do a losing proposition."

"What do you want?" Graciella asked. It was too late to call someone for help.

"Catch that woman for me." Just as Graciella finished speaking, another two men in suits appeared behind Abigail.

Abigail quickly dialed Victor's number, but the man snatched her phone before the phone was connected. He smashed the phone on the ground and it was broken into pieces. The phone screen was broken and went completely dark.

"Hello? Abigail, what's wrong?"

Victor answered the phone, but he didn't hear any no sound.

He glanced at the phone in confusion. Did Abigail dial the wrong number?

Lucian said, "They have confessed, and it was Vincent who asked them to do this. The auction is about to begin. Let's go there first."

Victor nodded slightly, "Let's go. I must get the eternal heart tonight." They got up and left the room.

"Crack..." The man slapped Abigail.

"Ouch... B*stard, how dare you beat me?" Abigail was went off the deep end. She raised her foot and step on the man's leather shoe with her high heel.

"Ah..." The man jump with one foot because of the sudden pain.

"Abby, be careful." Graciella looked at Abigail's swollen face and felt so regretful. She shouldn't have asked Abby to come over. She had made her in danger.

Abigail had been learning Taekwondo, so she was not afraid of the two men.

However, she was worried about Anson, so she couldn't play her best.

Two men standing behind Graciella walked towards Graciella with evil smiles on their faces.

Loomis's eyes were full of harshness and aloofness when he saw this. Just as the man was about to touch Graciella, he kicked his hand.

He used a lot of strength. The man felt a great pain, clenched his arm and stepped a few steps back. He felt that his arm had been dislocated.

Another man rushed to Loomis recklessly, and Loomis kicked him in the belly. Before the man could do anything, he was kicked to the ground with his back facing the sky.

Finding a second wind, Graciella ran to the two men who were fighting with Abigail with her high heels.

She hit the man's head with her high heels unceremoniously.

"Oh..." The man only felt that blood was running down his head, and then he had an intense pain.

He turned around and looked at the highheeled shoes in Graciella's hand. He was so annoyed that he wanted to slap Graciella.

Abigail took the opportunity and kicked his p*nis, so he failed to beat Graciella.

He bent down in an instant and his face twisted in pain. Sitting on the ground slowly, he groaned painfully.

When the other man saw this, his rough face showed fear as he turned around and wanted to run away.

Graciella threw the high heel in her hand at the back of his head.

"Ah..." The man let out a painful cry and didn't stop running. He continued to run forward.

Graciella and Abigail did not have the strength to chase him anymore.

They stood still in an extremely awkward state.

After Graciella felt better, she took off another high-heeled shoe and hit the man who was lying on the ground with all her strength.

"B*stard, I'm going to kill you!" Graciella hit the man with her high heel madly.

"Ouch... It hurts! Don't beat me anymore!" The man felt more painful. He curled up and shivered on the ground.

Loomis was startled when he saw Graciella's crazy actions. She was too horrible when she was out of control.

However, Abigail said hurriedly, "Graciella, stop it. We should find Anson first."

"Oh!" Only then did Graciella stop. She didn't even have time to pick up her high heels, pulled Abigail and ran back.