

Gluey Love 851

Chapter 851

"Yeah!" Victor nodded immediately and laughed very wickedly. She always knew that he loved her.

"Eden, are you a magician? Because whenever I look at you, everyone else disappears. Eden, can I kiss you?" He stopped and stand in front of her.

Eden's eyes were bright, and she smiled from the bottom of her heart. Being stared at by him, she shook her head slowly, "No."

Victor was speechless. Wasn't she touched by him just now?

"Eden..."

Before Victor finished his words, Eden stood on her tiptoes and kissed him on the lips slowly.

If Victor had been the one who took the initiative to kiss her in the past, she might as well take the initiative kiss him and make him happy.

She knew that from the day she disappeared from his world, every step he took was to find her again.

Victor's body suddenly trembled, and a hint of pleasant surprise flashed through his eyes.

She... finally took the initiative to kiss him.

He lowered his head, moved slightly and wanted to continue to kiss her. However, Eden moved her body gently and said softly with a mischievous expression in the eye, "Let's go home!"

Victor was unwilling. He hadn't kissed her enough yet!

He did not leave and stood where he was, rubbing his lips that she had just kissed with his slender fingers. He could still feel her special warmth.

When Eden saw his expression, she smiled. During this period of time, she had known him more or less. At this time, he was like a wronged child who could not get sugar to eat.

"Won't you leave?" she asked with a smile.

Victor said with grievance, "If you kiss me again, I'll leave."

"Ha-ha..." Eden chuckled, "Will I get a tip?"

Hearing this, Victor said with expectation in his eyes, "As long as you kiss me everyday, you can get all of my money from me."

"Ha-ha..." Eden's face was alight, "I'll kiss you tonight. Let's go back now."

Hearing this, Victor curled his lips. He wanted her to kiss him immediately. But it was rare for her to take the initiative to kiss him.

However, she would never do that again.

He held her hand and smiled brightly and tenderly, "Let's go home." When they returned home, he would remind her not to forget what she said just now.

They walked hand in hand. Under the lights, their shadows were elongated. They were in deep love with each other. Even the air seemed to be filled with sweetness. Every step of them was like a happy note, forming the most moving and warm melody.

Eden was a wise woman. She knew that Victor was her happiness and wouldn't let go of him.

The next day, Tillie, who had a sleepless night, came to the company early in the morning.

Her marriage was on the verge of splitting up.

She thought that she could live with Owen forever, but she still lost to Darlene. At this time, she only wanted to stabilize her career.

Many people still cursed on her online because of what had happened to Eden.

When she arrived at the company and saw Haven, she asked, "Haven, do you know who Eden's mother is?"

Haven looked at her doubtfully, "I don't know. What happened?"

Tillie frowned slightly and tapped the desk with her bright red nails. She heard Eden say last night that the dumplings were made by her mother.

Eden's mother?

Wasn't Eden the daughter adopted by the Gienger family?

How could she have a mother?

Seeing there was something wrong with Tillie's expression, Haven asked, "Miss Elliott, did you meet Eden's mother?"

Tillie looked at her with a frown and said in an unfriendly tone, "I don't even know who her mother is. How could I meet her mother? However, I'm really curious to know who her mother is."

Haven thought about it with her eyebrows knitted. She always knew that Eden had a mother. She was neither Bethany nor Aisling.

Shen had been paying attention to Eden and forgot to inquire about Eden's mother.

She looked at Tillie and said, "Miss Elliott, I will ask Vincent to investigate it later."

"Mm!" Tillie nodded, "Let's go to the meeting. In the next season, we must make achievements and deliver improved sales figures, or we'll be fire."

"Okay!" Haven nodded. As she walked, she took out her mobile phone and sent a message to Vincent.

Vincent was about to go to the meeting. He was very disturbed because of what had happened these days. When he saw Haven's Wechat message, he was unconcerned.

"Now I'm at a critical moment. How can I have the mood to find out who Eden's mother is?"

On hearing this, Rebecca, who was next to him, asked, "Eden's mother?"

Vincent said, "Haven sent me a message to let me find out who Eden's mother is."

Rebecca sneered and said, "Why is she interested in these things now?"

Vincent shook his head and said, "I don't know. When I took her to the villa last night, she was in a bad mood. After asking her, I learnt that she rear- ended Eden and they argued with each other unpleasantly."

"Oh!" Rebecca laughed, and her coquettish eyes were more scheming than usual.

"After hearing what you said, I'm also curious to know who Eden's mother is."

Vincent frowned and said with his eyes darkened, "Mom, now it's not the time to think about this. We haven't figured out how many shares of Jotham Alwynn Group Victor has and what he will do next. How can we have the mood to mind other people's business?"

Rebecca took a look at him and said mockingly, "Why are you in such a hurry? Justin said that he would give us an answer within a day. Since he said so, it means that he is confident to find something out. Can't you be more observant?"

"I..." Vincent had no words to refute. Anyway, he was the one who hired Justin. As long as Justin could play a role at the critical moment, the people in the company would not speak ill of him.

In Alwynn Group!

Lucian looked at the computer and was lost in thought.

A virus was constantly trying to break through their system. Who did it?

Victor came out of the office, but Lucian didn't move. It seemed that he didn't find out that he was there. He asked, "What are you doing early in the morning?"

Lucian still did not look at him and replied indifferently, "It seems that someone wants to steal the important information of our company."

As Lucian said this, he kept typing the keyboard.

Victor said with an evil smile, "If I am right, it should be Justin who works in Jotham Alwynn Group. Think about what Rebecca cares about the most now."

Lucian suddenly came up with an idea and understood what he meant.

A wicked face appeared on his face rarely, "Victor, do you want to set her up?"

Victor's eyes were apathetic as he smiled weirdly, "A business right at the door, why should we refuse to do it?"

Chapter 852

Lucian smiled and said, "In this case, I'll change the date last year, and then let them enter our system. What they see will be the shares last year. I'll reorganize our shares of this year. Rebecca will relax her vigilance in this way."

When he saw the virus just now, he actually had the same idea. It happened that Victor came out, and he agreed, so things had become much easier.

There was a faint smile in Victor's eyes as he said, "Now what she wants to know the most is how many shares I have, and she must know that we've met Mr. Skye, so she can't wait to investigate Alwynn Group."

"Yep, since she can't wait any longer, let's set up a trap for her. Last year, you only have ten percent of the shares of Jotham Alwynn Group. She will believe it. After all, you have never paid attention to the affairs in Jotham Alwynn Group in the past few years, and we all know about it. If we show her the shares of last year, she won't doubt it too much. At such a critical moment, she will only think that the shares you own are less than hers. Once she thinks that she has the ability to fight back, she will deal with you.

"In such a situation, she will relax her vigilance, and we will soon know who is helping her behind the scenes. As long as we find out that person, we will win this battle. Now you hold the same shares as her. As long as your sister transfers her shares to you, you will be confident to Jotham Alwynn Group."

There was a trace of confusion in Victor's eyes. He asked, "There is another important shareholder in Jotham Alwynn Group. He has twenty percent of the shares. Haven't you found out who he is?"

He must know who this person was and whether he supported Rebecca or not.

At the mention of this matter, Lucian was quite puzzled. He shook his head slightly, "I have been investigating this matter, but I can't find out who he is. There are many shareholders in Jotham Alwynn Group. I don't know if Rebecca knows this person. If we can't get any information, we can only ask Kenny for help."

Victor smiled proudly, "At the critical moment, we have to rely on my son."

Lucian did not see the satisfied smile on his face at all, "I know your son is very amazing, but you don't have to do this every time."

Victor lowered his head slightly, and there was a bland and bright smile in his eyes, "Why can't I do this? After all, there are few talents like my son. I have good genes. That's why I have such smart sons and daughter."

Speaking of which, Victor suddenly thought of Gia. He simply walked in and sat beside Lucian, "Let me tell you, my daughter has drawn three more paintings, and she is ready to participate in the exhibition. This time, her paintings are better than the last time. She said that she definitely shock the whole city."

However, after he finished speaking, Lucian still did not look at him and kept typing the keyboard quickly with his slender fingers.

Victor was speechless and looked at Lucian quietly.

"Lucian, didn't you hear what I said?" He couldn't help but ask. It was not a good feeling to be ignored.

Lucian fixed his gaze on the computer screen, "I heard it. Your daughter is really awesome!"

Upon finishing his words, Lucian tilted his head and looked at him, "You just want me to praise her, don't you?"

Victor was stunned.

Shouldn't Lucian praise Gia? Gia was really excellent.

"Ha-ha..." He chuckled, "Lucian, did you praise her sincerely?"

Lucian stared at him, "Do I look hypocritical?"

Victor had nothing to say. There seemed to be a generation gap between them and they couldn't communicate normally.

"You are sincere." Victor got up and didn't want to talk to him anymore. He was afraid that he would piss himself off.

Lucian looked up at him, "Tomorrow is your birthday. How do you plan to spend it?"

Hearing this, Victor felt depressed. Eden seemed to have forgotten this matter. He checked the things she had bought, but there was no gift for him.

This was his first birthday after she came back. He had been looking forward to the birthday gift from her.

He said, "I'll have a simple birthday at home."

Lucian asked, "What about us? Should we go to the Eden's house?"

Victor nodded, "Yeah. Be simple." In the past, he did not celebrate his birthday. His three friends accompanied him to drink and chat with him on his birthdays. Anson would buy him a cake which was worth a hundred and eighty dollars every year. That was his birthday cake.

He would receive gifts from his mother and sister. Even so, he was very happy.

This year, he felt that his birthday would be different.

Lucian nodded, "Alright, that's it. I'll tell Anson and Adonis."

"Mm!" Victor nodded, walked out of Lucian's office and glanced at Eden's office.

He took a few steps forward but suddenly stopped.

Seeing that the door of the office was closed, he really wanted to go in and remind Eden that his birthday was coming.

After hesitating for a while, he went back.

Lucian happened to have something to discuss with him.

Victor glanced at him and motioned for him to say.

Lucian said, "Just now, I received the news that Paulina went to Jotham Alwynn Group and worked as the design director after she had been fired."

"Oh!" Victor was quite surprised, "What did Rebecca take a fancy to? Paulina's talent or something?"

Lucian didn't think so. He glanced at Victor and said honestly, "I don't think so. Rebecca must have brought her to Jotham Alwynn Group for other purposes. Since Paulina hates Eden, she is Rebecca's ally. Now Haven and Tillie have become Eden's enemies in the design circle. Summer suddenly terminated the contract with Tillie. How could Tillie be willing to admit her failure?"

Victor's eyes suddenly turned cold, and the expression in his eyes became cold-blooded, "Do you mean that Rebecca did it on purpose?"

Lucian looked at him and asked in reply, "Isn't that so? In this way, they can deal with Eden and you together."

"Ha-ha..." Victor sneered, "Then I'll deal with them together. Isn't it more convenient? It's all up to our ability to live a wonderful life."

After Victor finished speaking, he walked back to his office slowly.

Lucian stood where he was and looked at Victor's back. Victor had been in a good mood, but he turned unhappy and mad in a blink of an eye.

Seeing that Victor was about to enter the office, he immediately said, "I have advertised for a new employee on the Internet. Find someone to replace Anson as soon as possible. I don't want to work overtime at the end of the year." He wanted to have a girlfriend.

He didn't want to stay single anymore.

Victor didn't look back. He opened the door and went in while answering, "Do as you see fit."

Chapter 853

Lucian was helpless. What he wanted was a capable employee.

He frowned slightly. Where could he find someone who was capable and loyal?

He shook his head slightly and thought that it was unrealistic. Many people only cared about the immediate benefits and would consider the future.

He turned around and wanted to walk back to his office. Suddenly, he heard someone call him, "Mr. Ronen."

Lucian turned his head slowly. Amelia walked toward him with documents in her arms.

She was dressed in a white professional suit with a ponytail, revealing her facial features completely. Her nose was delicate, and her lips were pink. When she looked at Lucian, her almond-shaped eyes were slightly raised, which instantly made her whole face lovely and adorable.

"Mr. Ronen, this is Director Bleu's winter budget. Please have a look."

Lucian was slightly surprised when he heard this, "That is too fast. She has even worked this out."

He looked much gentler when he slightly lowered his head. Seeing him like this, Amelia said with a sweet smile, "Director Bleu said that the autumn collection sells much better than she had imagined. She is relieved now and has started to prepare for the winter collection."

Hearing this, Lucian smiled faintly, "She's really something."

Amelia smiled brightly, "Of course. Now Director Bleu is the most famous designer in our company."

Lucian was amazed by her smiling face and couldn't help but take another look at her, "I'll take a look first. If there's nothing wrong with it, I'll hand it over to Mr. Alwynn directly."

"Okay! Thank you, Mr. Ronen." Amelia turned around and left with a smile.

Lucian also turned around and went back to his office.

Victor had been unhappy since he returned to his office. Looking at the computer screen, he had all kinds of ideas in his mind.

His only worry was that Eden would forget his birthday.

In the past, Eden was looking forward to his birthday the most.

He picked up his phone and called Buddy. The phone was soon connected.

Buddy said, "Victor, what's the matter?"

"Buddy, you will go to Zofia's house tomorrow night. Will Eden go with you?" He asked.

Buddy smiled and said, "She won't go with us."

"Oh!" Upon hearing this, Victor was much more relieved.

Buddy asked again, "Why do you ask me this? Is there anything wrong?"

"No, I just want to know if Eden will go there."

Buddy was puzzled. Wouldn't Victor be the first one to know if Eden would go with him? Why did he call to ask him?

Victor said, "Buddy, congratulations, you're a father now."

Buddy was stunned. Did he congratulate him at this time?

"Thank you. Congratulations, too. You cheated Eden into getting the marriage certificate with you when we didn't know."

Victor thought, "What's the point of finding trouble with me now?"

"Buddy, you're wrong. How could I cheat her? Eden was willing to marry me. Didn't you ask her?"

Buddy said, "Do I need to ask her? She is always very pure and simple."

Victor was speechless. Since Buddy thought so, his explanation would make no sense.

Moreover, did he look like a liar?

"Buddy, I will take time to talk to your family about this matter specially. Eden and I have discussed about the wedding. After the international competition, we will hold a wedding." Victor explained. The reason why the Clement family had been unhappy was that he did not give Eden a wedding.

"I'll wait for you to come to my house and call me brother." Said Buddy with a smile.

Victor frowned, took the phone away from his ear and took a look. It turned out that Buddy thought like this.

However... he had forgotten about that Buddy was Eden's brother.

He put the phone on his ear again, "Alright, since you are Eden's family, I call you brother reluctantly."

"Reluctantly ? Victor, I am Eden's biological elder brother." Buddy's tone was displeased.

Victor said, "I've been used to calling you by the name since I was a child. We're so familiar with each other. Why do you have to mind this?"

Buddy laughed and said, "Although we're familiar with each other, you should call me brother because we're family now."

Victor was speechless. Wasn't Buddy of the same generation with him?

"Fine, I won't mind it. I'm hanging up." Victor was about to hang up the phone after he finished his words.

"Victor, wait. Is your father better now? Haven said that your father is badly injured."

Victor said with a sneer, "She was in the Alwynn family when my father got injured. My father won't wake up so quickly. Tell her like this."

Buddy said, "Mrs. Alwynn seems to be inquiring about your father's whereabouts. Didn't you tell her which hospital your father is in?"

Victor frowned and said, "Buddy, about this matter, I know what to do. Don't worry. My father will get better." In order not to let Rebecca find out which hospital his father was in, he and his sister had never been to see his father.

The doctors had been taking care of his father.

Buddy said, "I see. Something has happened in Jotham Alwynn Group recently. You must be careful."

"Okay! I know." Victor hung up the phone and continued to work.

In Jotham Alwynn Group.

Justin held a stack of documents in his hands and headed for Rebecca's office in pleasant surprise.

"Rat-a-tat..."

Rebecca and Vincent had been waiting for Justin's news.

Vincent said excitedly, "Come in."

Justin pushed the door open and went in with a confident look on his face. He looked at Vincent and Rebecca and said with a smile, "Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn, I have got the information about Alwynn Group."

"Oh!" A hint of surprise flashed across Rebecca's eyes.

"Justin, well done." Vincent was so glad to prove that he didn't show bad discernment in his choice of people.

Rebecca took the documents from his hand and glanced at it roughly, "Ha-ha..." She suddenly laughed, and her expression was extremely sarcastic, "Victor only has eleven percent of the shares, but he actually dares to go against me! How naive and stupid he is!"

"Oh!" Vincent was very surprised and asked in disbelief, "Mom, does he only have a few shares? What about Mr. Skye's shares?" Vincent couldn't believe it. After all, he had competed with Victor for many times, and he knew how cunning Victor was.

Rebecca handed the documents to him, raised her eyebrows and said with a smug smile, "You can see how many shares Victor has on it. These years, Victor doesn't pay much attention to Jotham Alwynn Group. Maybe this is real." Maybe he himself knew that he had no way to get Jotham Alwynn Group.

Vincent glanced at the documents and always felt a little uneasy in his heart.

Victor was powerful. How could he only hold a few shares?

Rebecca's face returned to as confident as before, "Vin, continue to find your father's whereabouts and keep an eye on Graciella. She will definitely go to see her father."

She was relieved after she knew how many shares Victor had.

Chapter 854

Next, she would let Victor be killed by public opinion.

"Okay! Mom." Vincent only hoped that the shares he saw were real.

Rebecca looked at him, "If we still can't find where your father is, we can only think of other ways."

Vincent looked up at her, "Mom, what should we do?"

Rebecca smiled mysteriously and said, "Vin, you don't have to know about it now. Try your best to find your father. Tell me immediately when you find him."

"I will." Vincent nodded.

He looked at Justin and grinned, "Justin, take this opportunity to investigate how much money Victor has."

Justin smiled and said, "Mr. Alwynn, I'm going to investigate it right now."

"Mm!" Vincent nodded.

After Justin left, Rebecca let out a sigh of relief and looked out of the French window, "Vin, now the key is to find your father. You must find your his whereabouts. Your father is the biggest hidden danger."

Vincent nodded with a serious face, "Mom, Victor hasn't taken any actions yet. Do you know why?"

He felt a little uneasy in heart, thinking that Victor would not be so simple.

Rebecca turned to look at him and said with a smile, "Vin, is it hard to understand? It's just because he doesn't have many shares that he doesn't dare to act rashly."

"So, what about Mr. Skye's shares?" Vincent asked. Victor had met Aaron, and he didn't know what they had talked about.

Rebecca was confused, "Let's investigate this matter. Only your father knew that Aaron had been purchasing the shares secretly, and we don't know how many shares Aaron has bought. It will be more advantageous for us if we figure this out."

Vincent nodded, "Mom, I have been investigating this matter. Just rest assured. We will know it soon. But mom, I want to know the truth. Did you really hurt Anson?"

Rebecca took a meaningful look at him and said slowly, "Yes. Your sister insisted on marrying Anson, and I wanted to help her and set up Anson. However, Anson, that b*stard, woke up at the crucial moment. I arranged a few bodyguards to teach Graciella a lesson, but they were pissed off and stabbed Anson with a knife in a fit of pique."

"Mom, how could you be as insensible as Adalynn?" Hearing this, Vincent was extremely furious.

Rebecca glared at him, "Shut up! Is it time to talk about this now? Listen to me carefully. I told you this because I want you to know that we can never be friends with the Skye family. I want you to know who you can believe and who you can't."

"Mom." Vincent put his hands on his waist helplessly and took a deep breath.

"Shut up!" Rebecca looked at him with a mad face, "Cheer up and deal with the affairs in the company! You don't have to mind things that have nothing to do with you."

Rebecca looked at him with warning eyes. Vincent was getting more and more unreasonable. He was indecisive in doing things. If she had been like him, they would have been homeless.

"Alright. Mom, I can ignore this matter, but Adalynn is in a bad state now. Don't do anything to stimulate her again. Remember not to talk about Anson in front of her."

His heart ached for Adalynn. She locked herself in the room all day long and refused to come out because of Anson, and she sighed all the time. He was afraid that Adalynn would get sick. Adalynn had been living a rich and comfortable life since she was young, and she had never experienced such a thing. She almost had a nervous breakdown because of this.

Rebecca looked at him and sighed, "I know it even if you don't tell me. I'm trying to find a way to enlighten Adalynn. She has never experienced anything bad before. This is a big blow to her." She knew that Adalynn was weak, so she made such a decision at that time. At least Anson was a responsible man. As long as Adalynn married him, he would be kind to her no matter what.

However, she didn't expect that Anson would be so stubborn. He had already had someone he liked.

Vincent said, "Mom, in my opinion, we should sell Jotham Alwynn Group, and then live abroad. Think about it again."

Rebecca laughed and said, "Vin, you are too naive. Jotham Alwynn Group has lost one billion dollars. Who will take it over? Besides, don't forget that Victor is the eldest son of the Alwynn family. With him here, who dares to buy Jotham Alwynn Group?" She had taken everything into consideration. The only way out was to fight with Victor to the end and get Jotham Alwynn Group, but she couldn't decide what to do next until she could confirm that Phillip was dead.

"Alas!" Vincent didn't expect that things would become so complicated.

He went out with a helpless face. In fact, he had never worked as hard before.

There was only one advantage of working hard, which was that he had fully understood how complicated and dirty Jotham Alwynn Group was.

He felt bitter, annoyed and tired.

Rebecca looked at Vincent with concern and felt quite helpless in heart. Vin naturally had feelings for Phillip over the years. Since Phillip had an accident, Vin had become more and more depressed.

She had to think of a perfect solution so that Vin and Adalynn wouldn't be heartbroken when she and Alex were together.

She turned around and looked at the prosperous city outside the window. The setting sun cast an orange glow over the city, which made her had a glimmer of hope in heart again.

She suffered too much when she was young. Alex abandoned her and her parents were addicted to gambling. She lived a lonely and poor life.

To be honest, Alex was a bad jerk. But so what? He was her first love, and she would never forget him in the rest of her life.

At this time, he had come back to her, and he was willing to stay by her side and care about her, which had made her very satisfied.

After getting off work, Victor leave with Eden through the special passage.

The weather was nice that day. The afternoon sun shone on Eden's desk, making her sleepy. After getting pregnant, she was always drowsy and looked listless.

Seeing that she was in low spirits, Victor felt distressed. In the elevator, he hugged her gently and whispered in her ear, "Eden, why don't you rest at home?" He didn't want her to get tired.

Eden suddenly raised her head, braced herself to look at him and asked doubtfully, "Why should I rest at home?"

Chapter 855

Victor chuckled and said, "Honey, I'm just afraid that you'll be too tired." Saying this, Victor suddenly remembered his sister's words. Eden didn't tell him because she wanted to give him a surprise on his birthday.

Therefore, Eden remembered his birthday. Victor felt pleasantly surprised and didn't speak.

Eden took a step back and looked at him with a smile. Her eyes were starry as she said, "Victor, I'm not tired. I'm fine. If I don't have a job, I'll be flustered. I'm all right now, and I'm not tired. Don't worry about me."

As Eden said this, she saw the elevator arrive and walked out.

Victor knew what her dream was, but he couldn't persuade her to give up, so he could only protect her carefully.

He followed her out and held her hand.

Eden looked at him and grinned. The two of them went home together.

The next day was the weekend. Eden felt a bit drowsy and slept until ten o'clock in the morning.

She looked at the time. There was some time left before Victor's birthday party.

"Mommy, are you awake?" Gia's voice came from outside the door.

Eden smiled, "Gia, I'm awake. Come in."

Gia pushed the door open with a smile. She was slightly surprised when she saw that Eden had just got up, "Mom, you have become lazy. Why do you sleep late today?"

Eden pursed her lips and laughed, "Gia, in the past, I didn't sleep late because I didn't have time to sleep late. Now your father can take care of you, so I have time and I want to sleep late as well."

Hearing this, Gia felt extremely distressed, "You're right. Mom, you have always spent a lot of effort taking care of us."

Fortunately, they were very sensible, so Eden did not have to worry too much.

Eden was dumbfounded and said with a smile, "Gia, you are so obedient today."

Gia was speechless. Wasn't she obedient before?

"Mom, I seem to be a good girl all the time." Gia blinked her big and bright eyes as she looked at Eden with a smile.

Eden reached out and rubbed her head, "You little girl, you are always very naughty, but you have never let me worry about you, have you?"

As Eden said this, she gently touched her belly. She didn't know if the baby was a boy or a girl. It would be great if it was a daughter, because having two sons and two daughters were perfect.

She would have more family to accompany her.

"Mom, you talk about me like this again." Gia looked unhappy. She finally took time to chat with Eden, but Eden always said that she was naughty.

Eden laughed with doting eyes, "You go down first. I will come down in a while."

Gia suddenly looked at her with pleasant surprise and said, "Mom, Grandma has prepared a lot of delicious food. She said that we would hold a birthday party for dad tonight. Grandpa even invited a few famous chefs to come over, saying that they would make a lot of yummy food for dad and our family. The food ingredients have been prepared. Mom, I am so excited that I can celebrate dad's birthday with him." She had prepared the birthday gift, and Victor must be very happy when he saw it.

Hearing this, Eden couldn't help but smile. Her smile was very gentle, and even the air seemed to be filled with sweetness.

"Gia, I'm so glad to see how happy you are!" She had worked so hard for so long just to let her children be happy.

Gia grinned from ear to ear. Although she had got a front tooth missing, she still looked lovely and adorable.

"Mom, you are also very happy now." She held Eden's hand and found that her slender fingers were slightly red and rough. Eden raised them and give them a carefree life by working hard with both hands.

Giada smiled and said seriously, "Mom, thank you for what you've done for us these years." In the future, she would be able to earn money by herself and her mother would no longer be under pressure. Moreover, she had a father, and their family would be warmer and warmer.

When Eden heard the words, she opened her mouth slightly in surprise. Why was she so heartbroken when she heard Gia's words?

She chuckled and said, "Gia, I'm delighted to do everything for you. Without you, I wouldn't have got such achievements." Perhaps she would never wake up in that accident.

Abby and Jasper whispered in her ear all day. When she heard that she had children in her belly, she thought she was dreaming. In that dream, she was carefree and painless, and she didn't want to wake up. But she couldn't help but wake up when she heard those words.

At that time, she was pregnant with the three children. When she had a check-up for the first time and heard their strong heartbeats, she knew how strong her children were.

After she woke up, she was no longer desperate. Instead, there was a new glimmer of hope for her.

"Gia, I have to thank you for coming to me and letting me come back to life." Without them, maybe she would have died.

"Mom." Giada was choked with sobs. They knew everything about Eden's past, so they felt more distressed for her.

"Alright, baby, I should get up. I'm hungry." Eden smiled as she got up and washed up.

Giada followed behind her like a copy cat.

"Mom, dad made breakfast for you. When he went into the kitchen, Mommy Abigail was startled. But after a while, Mommy Abigail gave a thumbs up to dad, saying that dad was a good man and asked him to take good care of you. She also said that it might be a girl. What does she mean?"

Eden was speechless. What did it mean? Had Abby betrayed her?

"Well... Gia." She looked down at her belly. How should she explain to her daughter?

Victor...

"Mom, why don't you speak?" Giada asked anxiously, interrupting Eden's thoughts.

It was precisely because she heard this that she came to see Eden.

Eden suddenly squatted down and looked into Gia's eyes. Looking at Gia's curious big eyes, she said with a smile, "Gia, I want to tell you something, but don't tell anyone else about it."

It was better to tell the truth. She never lied to the children.

One time she lied to the children, the children would lie to her ten times.

"Okay, mom, hurry up and tell me. I'm so curious." Giada looked at Eden without blinking her big eyes.

Eden suddenly felt a little nervous. Why did she feel a bit embarrassed to say it?

She pointed at her belly and said with a smile, "Gia, there's a little baby in my belly. This is what your godmother means."

"Ah..." Giada opened her mouth wide in surprise and looked at Eden in shock, "Mom... is that true? Am I going to have a younger sister?"

"Yeah... Gia, so, don't..."

Eden was helpless.

Before she could finish her words, Giada turned around and ran away. She didn't take Eden's words seriously at all.

Eden was at a loss. No matter how careless Gia was, she couldn't be like this.

Chapter 856

"Gia, come back!" Eden shouted, but Gia had run away.

Eden touched her forehead helplessly. Originally, she wanted to give Victor a surprise.

Alas...

Why was Gia not considerate at all?

How could she surprise Victor in this way?

As for Giada, she was not fully recovered, so she limped to the second floor.

"Rat-a-tat..." She knocked on the door hard in an extremely excited mood.

Henrick and Kenneth were reading books. When they heard a heavy knock on the door, they frowned unpleasantly at the same time.

Henrick walked over and opened the door. Seeing that Gia was in a hurry to come in, he asked with a wicked smile, "Hey! Gia, what's wrong with you? Who bullied you? Why are you so anxious?"

Giada looked at the evil smile on his face and frowned slightly, "Your current face doesn't suit your image very much. Do you want me to take a photo of you and post it online so that your fans can see your true colours?" Giada said threateningly.

The smile on Henrick's face froze a bit. Looking at Gia, who he could never outargue, he could only step aside angrily.

"Humph!" Giada looked at him and raised her eyebrows proudly.

If their fans saw Henrick's current face, they would surely feel distressed.

Henrick suddenly closed the door and followed her in.

Giada suddenly ran over and hugged Kenneth, "Kenny, I'm really too blessed."

Henrick was speechless.

Kenneth, who was suddenly hugged by Gia, was stunned.

They were both completely confused.

Kenneth asked calmly, "Gia, why do you say so?"

Giada blinked her big eyes in excitement, "That's because we're going to have a younger sister or younger brother."

Kenneth and Henrick were shocked. What did it mean?

Kenneth leaned against the door and smiled mischievously, but there was so smile in his starry eyes, "Giada, haven't you woken up from your dream yet?"

"Humph! Ricky, you bad boy. I'm very clear-headed now." Giada looked at him unhappily.

She was no match for Ricky. If she could knock him out, she would have turned nasty a long time ago. That day, she was bullied but he turned a blind eye. He was really a scum when he wanted to maintain his image.

Henrick pursed his lips. Fine, he'd better shut up. Otherwise, Gia would be madder.

Alas...

Henrick walked aside silently and sat down.

Kenneth asked with interest, "Gia, what do you mean by that?"

Giada cheered up. She was so excited that she was on the verge of tears, "Kenny, Ricky, we will have a younger brother or younger sister. Don't you feel happy?"

Henrick asked doubtfully, "Where is the baby? Does dad have a mistress?" But Gia would not be so happy in that case.

Giada frowned, "Ricky, you're simply too silly. Maybe you should go to the hospital to check your brain."

Henrick was puzzled. Was it wrong for him to ask like this?

Then why did people count the sheep when they couldn't fall asleep? Why didn't they close their eyes and sleep directly? Wasn't it easier to fall asleep?

He asked in reply, "Am I wrong?"

Giada glared at him, "Of course. I've made it so clear. Do you know what I mean?"

Kenneth suddenly grabbed Gia's hand and asked excitedly, "Gia, do you mean that there's a baby in mom's belly?"

"Yep..." Giada nodded immediately. It was easier to communicate with Kenny.

"Ah..." Henrick suddenly jumped up.

Giada looked at him with a smug smile, "How dull you are! Since we'll have a younger brother or younger sister, of course mom is pregnant. Only the baby in her belly is our younger brother or sister. Ricky, what were you thinking about?"

Henrick was speechless. Gia actually looked down on him.

He felt that his heart had broken into pieces.

Henrick suddenly retorted, "Gia, if you have something to say, just get straight to the point. Don't hold us in suspense."

Giada gave him a sinister smile, "It's quite funny to tease you."

Henrick wondered if Gia bore grudges against him because of what had happened that day.

It was not a big deal, was it? The fat boy in their class just kicked her, but she punched him a few times, didn't she? That boy even cried, but she laughed happily and looked him provocatively, didn't she?

Was there any need for him to help her at that time?

He couldn't embarrass the fat boy too much.

Kenneth sat there silently and didn't speak. If he continued to talk, Kenny would scold him, too.

However, it was amazing that her mother had a baby in her belly!

"Gia, is that true?" Kenneth's handsome face was full of joy.

"Yeah! Kenny, I heard from mom with my own ears. However, mom doesn't want others to know it now. Let's keep it a secret first and wait for mom to announce it herself." She had promised Eden that she would keep it a secret. She only told her two brothers, and she hadn't broken her promise.

Henrick suddenly said mockingly, "Can you keep the secret? You have a big mouth."

Giada immediately glared at him with irritation, "Why can't I keep it a secret? Do you think I'm as mean as you?"

"Hey! Giada, what's wrong with me? Why do you always go against me?" Henrick looked at her with displeasure on his face and asked in reply.

Boris listened at the door for a while, but did not hear clearly what they were talking about. He only had a feeling that they were quarreling with each other.

He ran downstairs quickly.

When Eden arrived at the living room on the first floor, she did not see Gia. Instead, she saw Victor, who had just come out of the kitchen.

Victor's tall figure looked noble and cold, and he wore a white apron. When he saw Eden, his eyes immediately turned tender, "Eden, good morning."

"Good morning!" Eden answered softly, "Where is Gia?"

Victor glanced upstairs, "Gia went upstairs to see you."

"Oh!" Eden looked behind her and saw Boris running down in a hurry.

"Uncle, aunt, Kenny, Ricky and Gia seem to be quarreling."

Eden was confused. Why did they quarrel?

Victor put the dishes on the table and looked at Boris, "Are you sure?" The three children never quarreled with each other.

Eden's face was full of doubts. Although Gia knew the news, it was impossible that she would quarrel with Kenny and Ricky.

This was a very happy thing for the three of them.

She said, "I'll go up and have a look."

Victor wiped his hands, "Eden, I'll go with you."

Eden immediately refused him with a smile, "Victor, just stay here."

Chapter 857

Victor stopped wiping his hands and looked at her with a puzzled face, "Eden, why can't I go with you?" He was the children's father.

"It's okay. I can handle it." Eden said as she walked up the stairs.

Victor was still worried, so he followed her.

Eden had just reached the second floor when she saw the three children walking out one after another.

Eden blinked her eyes. Had they quarrelled?

"Mom, are you hungry? What do you want to eat?" Henrick asked excitedly.

Eden was taken aback. What did he mean?

"Mom, you can't be too tired now." Kenneth said seriously.

Eden suddenly understood what he meant.

"Giada." She glanced at her daughter.

Giada smiled flatteringly, "Mom, I only shared the news with my two brothers. However, when are you going to tell dad that my younger sister is in your belly?"

Eden was speechless. How did Gia know that it would be a younger sister?

What if it was a boy?

"Ha-ha..." Henrick suddenly laughed wickedly, "Giada, I said that you have a big mouth. Isn't dad right behind mom?"

Henrick walked in the front and saw Victor stand behind Eden.

Giada was shocked. She quickly took a few steps forward and saw Victor indeed.

Well...

It was no longer a secret!

How could it be so coincidental?

What an odd coincidence!

Ha-ha...

Giada smiled in her heart, but she had no way to laugh out loud. This was consequence of her impulsiveness.

Eden immediately turned around, only to see Victor walking up step by step.

Victor was extremely depressed. Eden was pregnant, but he was the last one to know about it.

Being stared at by Victor quietly, Eden felt so guilty, "Victor." Her voice was very low, and she didn't dare to look at him directly.

Victor should have been the first one to know it.

Victor walked to her quietly and pulled her in his arms gently, "Fool, why didn't you tell me first?"

He was looking forward to the day when she would tell him this good news.

Eden leaned against his arms and listened to his strong heartbeats, saying with a smile, "Originally, I wanted to tell you tonight and give you a surprise." His birthday party would be held in the evening.

She hoped that this was the best birthday present.

"Fool, it's best birthday gift although you tell me now." Victor whispered softly in her ear and hugged her tightly.

"Wow! Daddy, you're so gentle." Giada couldn't help but say. Although she had ruined Eden's plan, she was very happy that Victor cared about Eden so much.

Kenneth and Henrick smiled with satisfaction. So far, they were very satisfied with Victor.

Victor slowly let go of Eden and looked at the three smiling little guys in front of him. He felt extremely glad in heart.

He asked with a grin, "I heard that you three have quarreled with each other."

The three children were speechless. When did they have a quarrel?

It was a debate, wasn't it?

"Daddy, we didn't quarrel." Giada smiled, "We usually don't quarrel."

Henrick glanced at Gia from the corner of his eye. Wasn't she ashamed to say this?

When he came back from the bathroom that day, he saw her quarreling with the fat boy Martin Talbot. Martin's grades had been better than Gia's. During this period of time, Gia had tried her best and surpassed him, so they looked down on each other.

They were full of hostility when they saw each other.

Especially Martin, he looked at Gia with a complicated expression. His eyes were filled with envy and jealousy.

It was a pity that he was too fat. For the sake of his future, he could only subdue his appetite and eat more vegetables.

"It's good that you didn't quarrel." Victor saw the expressions of the three children. Although they didn't quarrel, there was something wrong with the atmosphere between them.

Giada laughed and said, "Dad, what have you prepared for mom? Let's go down quickly. Don't starve my younger sister." Giada grinned from ear to ear. From that day on, she was an elder sister.

She was no longer the youngest.

"Let's go. I cooked delicious food for your mother personally today." Victor held Eden's hand and went downstairs with a satisfied and happy look on his face.

Henrick looked at Kenneth and asked in a low voice, "Kenny, have you prepared a birthday present for dad?"

Kenneth shook his head slightly, "I'll go buy it at noon."

Kenneth's eyes lit up. He smiled and said, "Kenny, let's go buy it together."

"Okay!" Kenneth nodded.

Hearing this, Giada also said in a low voice, "Kenny, Ricky, I'll go with you."

Henrick glanced at her but didn't say anything.

Giada didn't want Henrick to talk to her. She looked at Kenny with big and bright eyes, "Kenny, you'll take me with you, right?"

"Yeah." Kenneth nodded slightly.

Giada smiled in pleasant surprise and made a face at Kenneth.

Henrick was speechless.

Since she wanted to go with them, did he have the ability to stop her? Could he stop her?

"Eden, Victor, Graciella, Abby, Zaiden, four babies, time for breakfast!" Jaida said aloud happily. As soon as she said this, everyone came out.

Victor filled Eden's bowl with the chicken soup he had stewed. He skimmed the grease from the soup, and the soup gave off a strong fragrance.

Everyone knew that Eden was pregnant and they were like over the moon, especially Jaida and Zaiden.

"Eden, have a taste." Victor looked at her expectantly. It was his first time to cook. Under the guidance of his mother, the taste would not be too bad.

"Mm!" Eden looked at him and smiled. He said, "Eden, you can sleep late on weekends. I'll cook." That day, Eden really slept soundly.

She lowered her head and had a taste. It was really delicious.

She turned her head, only to see that Victor was looking at her nervously.

Not only Victor, but everyone was staring at her face.

She glanced at their nervous expressions and laughed, "What's wrong? Why are you looking at me like this?"

Victor asked disturbed, "Eden, is it yummy?"

Eden looked at him and said, "Not bad."

Everyone was speechless. When they saw her drinking it just now, it was obvious that she liked it so much, but why did she say "not bad"?

"Ha-ha..." However, Victor smiled, "Eden, this is the first time I have cooked. I'm so content that you like it."

"Tut-tut, you've really changed into a different person. Victor, when outsiders see you like this, I'm afraid they will suspect if you're Victor." Abigail teased him.

In the face of other people, Victor was heartless and apathetic, but he was tender to the extreme when he was with Eden. His behaviors were completely different.

Victor didn't look at her and answered casually, "I don't care what others think of me." As long as Eden felt happy, he would be satisfied.

Chapter 858

Abigail smiled and looked at Jaida, "Auntie Jaida, you have a good son."

Jaida looked at Victor and said with a smile, "Abby, both of you are good children."

"Ha-ha..." Zaiden laughed happily, "Jaida, you're a wise talker. No one is offended."

Jaida took a look at him and said sincerely, "I'm telling the truth. These good children are all lovely and sensible."

However, Jasper didn't often come here because of Victor, and he was very busy in the company. Victor had hurt Jasper's heart, and she always felt very sorry about it.

Over the years, Abigail and Jasper had been accompanying them, which made her grateful and delighted.

At this time, she only hoped that these kind children could get their own happiness.

"Yeah! It's said that good people are well rewarded. You are all good children and you will be happy in the future." Zaiden looked at them. The whole family lived together and the atmosphere was lively while they ate together. When they were watching TV, it was noisy, and it could be quiet when they were reading. This kind of life was interesting and happy.

"Dad, we can't live a happy life unless you and mom are in a good relationship." Eden looked at them with a smile. After Jaida married Zaiden, she smiled more and more often. In the past few months, she no longer saw Jaida crying alone at nights.

Jaida reached out and rubbed her head dotingly, "Fool, now all the misunderstandings between you and Victor have been clarified. Victor and Graciella are both by my side safe and sound, and your father loves me. Now I am happier than ever. Your father and I are living a good life, and we want you to have a joyous life."

"Mom, I will definitely marry a nice man. I won't make you worry about me." Graciella said with a smile.

How nice it was to have such a family! She felt family affection and love here.

Zaiden smiled lovingly, "Graciella, I think that Mr. Rubio, the man who sent you back last time, is quite nice. He's the richest man in Southern region. He's about the same age as you, and he is a man of decency."

Graciella blushed a little when she heard this, "Dad, he's a young man. I'm a divorced woman and I have a son. How can he like me?"

She really did not think about it. Last time when she was drunk, she asked him to send her back, and she always felt very sorry about it. Originally, she wanted to invite him for another meal to thank him, but she learned that he had returned to Southern region.

Jaida looked at her coquettishly, "I have you two with me, don't I? But your father has never looked down on me, nor has he disliked you two."

Hearing this, Graciella looked at Jaida with a frown, "Mom, this is different. We are adults now, but Boris is a child."

Jaida glanced at Boris and said, "Alright, don't talk about this in front of children. No one can decide such a thing. It's up to the fate of you two."

Only then did Graciella chuckle and nod, "Mom, I know. But the premise that I like him."

Jaida lowered her head to eat and said while eating, "You are too picky. Boris's father is not a good man, is he? What's more, you are always biased against the rich second generation. You always think that they live off their families and don't work hard enough. You are wrong. Now the rich second generation is very hard-working. Look at Anson, Lucian and Adonis. They all work on their own very hard."

"Mom, are those people the same as Anson, Lucian and Adonis? This is the parenting problem in every family." Graciella retorted. The rich second generation she had met did not work as hard as Anson, Lucian and Adonis.

Abigail fell silent instantly when she heard Anson's name. Would he come here at night?

Boris said at this time, "Grandma, my father is not a bad man."

Jaida was speechless. Why did Boris listen to them so carefully this time?

She looked at Boris with a cold face, "Boris, don't interrupt when adults are talking. Look..." Jaida wanted to speak but stopped. She bit back what she would like to have said. She couldn't say some words very directly, otherwise, she would hurt Boris's self-esteem.

"Oh!" Boris nodded with an unhappy face. He knew that Jaida wanted to say that Kenny, Gia and Ricky were more obedient than him. In fact, he was also very obedient. He just liked to play games.

Zaiden said, "Let's eat. After breakfast, we should prepare for dinner and celebrate Victor's birthday."

"Okay!"

Everyone nodded happily and didn't say anything else sensibly.

After lunch, Victor took Eden back to the third floor to rest. The two of them read and chatted in their room. As for Victor, he did not even dare to think about having such a life before. He enjoyed such a life very much and there was always a faint smile on his handsome face.

Victor was reading a book of Hugo and suddenly saw a sentence. He looked at Eden with a smile, "Eden, there's a sentence here. Angels can't save the devils, either. But I don't think so."

Eden's eyes were clear as she looked at him curiously, "Why?"

However, Victor quickly kissed her forehead before he whispered, "Eden, because you are my angel."

Eden was dumbfounded. Did it differ from person to person?

She smiled and said, "So, you are the devil in hell, while I am the angel to save you?"

"Yes!" Victor's eyes were gentle as he nodded slightly. There was a dazzling light in his eyes, and that was his love for her.

Eden blinked her eyes. She rested her chin on her hand and smiled, looking elegant and charming, "Then I'm really amazing, because I have saved a devil."

Victor hugged her, "Yep, my Eden is really awesome."

"Continue to read." Smiling, Eden looked at him and pointed at the book in his hand. That day was his birthday, and she would accompany him all day.

In the shopping mall.

Kenny, Ricky and Gia went straight to the gift area.

Henrick asked, "Kenny, do you have money?"

Kenneth took a look at him with calm eyes, "Yeah, what about you?"

Henrick smiled and said, "I can use my advertisement fee."

Giada bounded ahead. She was wearing ripped jeans and a light-colored denim jacket. Her hair was scraped back from her face in a ponytail and she carried a beige messenger bag, looking adorable and pretty. Many passers-by turned to look at them. She didn't care about what Kenny and Ricky had said at all. She came out for shopping and didn't have to spend any money to buy a gift.

Kenneth couldn't help but ask, "Gia, have you prepared your gifts?"

Giada glanced at him with smug eyes. She smiled mysteriously and replied lazily, "Of course. I'm just here to go shopping with you guys."

Henrick was speechless. She might as well not come here, because she would only argue with him.

Chapter 859

Kenneth asked casually, "Gia, what did you prepare for dad?"

Giada glanced at him. Under the bright light, his eyes were as starry as an array of stars, "Kenny, this is a secret for the time being. You'll know it tonight."

There was a smile in Kenneth's eyes. He seemed to have known what Gia's gift was.

What was Gia's biggest wish?

To have a photograph of the whole family!

Henrick walked slowly. Unlike Kenneth, he was a TV kid. After having a father, he wore more fashionable clothes. At this time, there was a pair of sunglasses on his good-looking face, which attracted a lot of people's attention.

When they arrived at the gift area, they looked at the gifts on the counter leisurely.

Looking at the superb collection of beautiful gifts, Henrick was at a loss, "Kenny, dad doesn't lack for anything. What should we buy him? It's really hard to choose a birthday gift."

Kenneth glanced at the gifts one by one, and he was satisfied with none of them. Ricky was right. Since their dad didn't lack for anything, what should they buy?

It was indeed difficult to choose a birthday present.

Kenneth suddenly said, "It seems that we have never celebrated mom's birthday."

When Kenny heard this, his eyes darkened slightly as he said, "Mom doesn't know when she was born." They were so busy that they forget this matter.

Henrick lifted the sunglasses on his face casually, feeling a little sad in heart.

Giada glanced at them, "It's very simple. We can ask Grand Clement now, can't we?"

"Yeah, that's a good idea." Henrick nodded and said with a warm smile on his face.

Giada grinned and said, "I'm sure dad knows it. He cares about mom so much, and he must know mom's birthday. I'll ask him when I go back in the evening."

"Okay, we'll prepare another gift for mom and give her a surprise." Henrick laughed and said. He was distressed for Eden and always wanted to make more money.

But he had a father at this time, and he suddenly felt that he was under less pressure.

They continued to go shopping, but didn't think of anything suitable to buy.

Kenneth took a look at the time and said, "Let's buy what we like. Dad may not like it, but our good intentions are more important."

It was almost time for dinner if they kept dawdling.

Giada felt that it was always difficult for her to make a choice, so she went to the bathroom and let Kenny and Ricky choose their own gifts.

"Kenny, Ricky, I'm going to the bathroom. Pick gifts by yourselves." As she said this, she bounded away.

Henrick heaved a sigh of relief. It was better that Gia had left, because she wouldn't say that he had a poor taste when he chose the gift.

It would make him feel so humiliated and angry that he would quarrel with Gia.

"Kenny, why did you take Gia with us?" Henrick complained.

Kenneth took a look at him and asked in reply, "Could you stop her from coming here?"

Henrick shook his head helplessly, "No, I can't deal with her."

Kenneth suddenly looked at him with curiosity, "Did you offend Gia today? Why does she get mad as soon as she sees you?" When they were at home, he had felt that Gia's eyes were abnormal when she looked at Ricky.

Henrick scratched his hair helplessly, "It's all because of Martin. I turned a blind eye when Martin kicked Gia, but Gia also bullied him. Martin kicked her accidentally, but she punched his head several times. Could I come forward to help her?"

Hearing this, Kenneth directly ignored him and continued to pick gifts.

If he saw it, he would never allow anyone to bully his sister.

He preferred the gifts in this shop. Suddenly, he saw a lighter. He frowned slightly. Victor didn't smoke, so he didn't need a lighter.

He continued to choose, not letting go of anything that could be used as a gift.

Seeing Kenny like this, Henrick knew that he was on Gia's side. Sure enough, Kenny was always protective of Gia. He could foresee such a result without thinking.

"Kenny, let's pick gifts together." Henrick followed him.

When Giada came out of the bathroom, she met her classmate, Martin, at the corner.

Martin was wearing a white tracksuit. He was a little fat, but his facial features were delicate and sharp-featured. If he could lose some weight, he must be a rare handsome boy.

Martin had long seen Giada, and he followed her here and waited for her on purpose.

He looked at Gia's exquisite face quietly and asked timidly, "Giada, why are you here?"

Giada looked at him with her face darkened. In the class, the grades of her and her brothers had always been in the top ranks, but she was inferior to her two brothers. Sometimes, their marks would be a little higher than hers. Afterwards, Martin and her were equally matched, and their marks had always been the same. That day, in the test, she got full marks, while Martin got a mark which was a bit less than hers.

When she was feeling happy, Martin pushed her from behind. She didn't know whether he did it on purpose or not. He even kicked her injured calf and she felt so painful. She was so angry that she turned around and punched him twice on the head.

As a result, after the school was over, they still didn't talk to each other.

Giada grabbed the strap on her bag tightly with her slender fingers and looked at Martin warily, "Can't I come here?" She asked in a very unfriendly tone.

As long as she thought about what had happened that day, she went berserk.

She still limped while walking, and she would feel great pain when she used strength sometimes.

Martin shook his head immediately. He didn't mean to push her that day. He was tripped by his classmate and then hit her. He wanted to keep his balance in a hurry, but he kicked her injured foot by accident. He always felt very guilty.

"Gia, I'm sorry for what happened today. I didn't do it on purpose." He apologized sincerely.

After he finished speaking, he stood there nervously. His expression was jittery and his eyes were uneasy. He didn't dare to look at Giada.

He moved his foot back and forth restlessly and crossed his hands in front of his belly with so much strength that his hands turned a bit red.

Hearing Martin's sudden apology, Giada was surprised and embarrassed. He kicked her accidentally, but she punched him deliberately, which made her a narrow-minded and petty person.

She bit her pink lips slightly. Why did Martin explain to her? It had already happened.

It was so embarrassing to know it after she beat him.

She hated such a situation the most.

When she lowered her head, she couldn't help but glare at Martin, who was looking at her with a smile. She moved very fast, and Martin might not see it.

"It's... okay. I punched you, didn't I? Since you didn't mean it, I... should apologize to you... as well. Martin, I'm sorry!"

After stammering, Giada only felt that it had never been so hard for her to speak before.

Chapter 860

Seeing that Giada, who was always aggressive, actually apologized to him, Martin smiled from the bottom of his heart. He didn't like to smile in ordinary times and was very strict. Only in front of his friends or his family would he occasionally smile.

He asked with a smile, "Gia, aren't you angry with me?"

Giada glanced at him lightly and said with depression, "I'm not angry with you."

After saying this, she suddenly felt that her face was burning hot. The so-called dilemma was that she couldn't become reconciled with him and couldn't continue to be mad with him. Even she herself did not believe that she had apologized. She had been sulking for a whole day.

She looked at him and asked confusedly, "Martin, what are you doing here?"

Martin's smile faded a lot, and there was a trace of sorrow in his eyes, "Studying."

Giada was stunned.

She looked around and asked curiously, "Are you studying here?"

Martin nodded slightly, "Yeah!" He didn't say anything more. This was the shopping mall owned by his family. He had to come here to study after finishing his homework every day. Moreover, he had to stay here all day on weekends to learn sales skills.

His family asked him to do everything well. Before school began, he thought he would be the best in the class with his ability, but he didn't expect that Kenny, Ricky and Gia did better than him all the time. He had been studying hard during this period of time.

Therefore, he barely got the same good grades as them.

"Gia, did you come here alone?" He asked.

Giada shook her head slightly, "No, I came with my two elder brothers. We're going shopping here. I'm going to meet my brothers first and I won't disturb you anymore."

After Giada finished speaking, she ran away without waiting for Martin's reply.

"Gia, slow down. Your leg hasn't recovered yet." Martin reminded her loudly in a childish voice, but Giada acted as if she hadn't heard it and continued trotting forward. It could be seen that she was running with difficulty.

However, Martin looked at her back with a bright smile on his face. In fact, she was very cute when she was not angry, and she got mad just to protect herself. Their characters were really similar.

He turned around and walked toward his own area.

When Giada went back, she saw that Kenny and Ricky had picked out the gifts and were waiting for her aside.

"Kenny, Ricky, let's go back since you've bought the gifts." She looked at them, panting slightly.

Kenneth frowned slightly when he saw this, "Your leg hasn't recovered yet. Why do you walk so fast? Can we bear to leave you behind?"

"Ha-ha..." Giada laughed but didn't mention the fact that she had met Martin.

It was too embarrassing to say this. She didn't expect that she would run into Martin.

Henrick looked at her and asked, "Why is your face somewhat red?"

Giada flew into a rage when she heard this, for fear that Henrick would find out her secret, "It's none of your business! Didn't you see me running here? My face is naturally red because I feel hot."

Henrick looked at her in disbelief, "Now the weather is cold. No matter how hot you feel, your face can't be so red. You blush scarlet."

Giada pursed her lips slightly and didn't speak. Since Ricky was not observant at all, how did he survive in the entertainment circle?

She really wanted to ask Eden if Ricky was suitable to be an actor.

Kenneth said, "Let's go. It's time for us to go back."

Henrick still wanted to speak, but Kenneth glanced at him warningly.

He had to shut up sensibly. After all, he had made Gia unhappy that day. If he continued to provoke her, it was normal for her to ignore him for three days and three nights.

The three of them walked back. Henrick and Henrick, who had bought gifts, looked happy and walked briskly.

Rebecca, Haven, and Paulina were shopping in the mall that day. Haven suddenly saw the three children.

Seeing the three good-looking children and thinking that they were the children of Eden and Victor, she was crazily jealousy. Looking at the gift bags in their hands, she naturally knew why they came here.

That day was Victor's birthday.

She remembered this special day all the time. As long as it came to this day, she would remember his birthday unconsciously, because she was supposed to marry Victor on behalf of Eden before.

In the past, under the guidance of her mother, she sent birthday presents to Victor on behalf of Eden, but Victor never accepted them.

On one occasion, she asked him why he didn't accept her present.

His answer was simple, "No one can replace Eden." His indifferent and alienated tone always made her feel humiliated. She remembered that kind of humiliation deep in her heart, and she had a heart-wrenching pain every time she thought of it.

In Victor's heart, no matter Eden was dead or not, no one could replace her.

"Mom, Paulina, look at the three children. They are Eden's children." Haven's voice was full of jealousy.

Rebecca and Paulina, who were choosing the gifts, immediately looked over.

Sure enough, they saw the three children walking towards the elevator, talking and laughing.

Rebecca suddenly remembered that they were Victor's biological children, and it was the first time she had seen them.

Back then, when she knew about the existence of the three children, words couldn't describe how she felt.

The first thought that came to her mind was that the three children were here to compete the property of the Alwynn family with her son.

She wished that she could strangle them to death. It was not easy for her to get everything in the Alwynn family.

She had done a lot over the years, and she must get everything in return.

When she woke up at nights, she thought like this countless times.

However, she took the interests of the whole into account and endured herself.

She smiled and walked towards the three children, "Since they are my grandchildren, I should go over and greet them."

Haven and Paulina took a look at each other and followed her.

Paulina's eyes were blazing with the flames of fury. She had lost everything because of Eden and Victor. If what she had done was exposed in the design circle, she could never turn the table.

"Kenny, Ricky, Gia, don't you say hello to me when you see me?" Rebecca said and looked at the three children with a sneer. Looking at the three good-looking children with scheming eyes, she couldn't help but feel jealous in heart. Victor's genes were really good. The three children were really outstanding.

The three children stopped and looked at Rebecca at the same time.

They knew who Rebecca was.

Their father lived a hard life because of her.

As soon as Kenneth saw Rebecca, he thought of the fact that she had framed Victor. In order to protect his family, he was willing to do anything.

A cunning expression flashed across Henrick's eyes. Suddenly, he asked with a smile, "Do you mean that you're our grandmother?"
