

Gluey Love 971

Chapter 971

When she saw that the door of Eden's ward was not closed, she walked in with complicated feelings.

She was shocked when she saw Eden attached to tubes and monitors.

"Ah..." She clenched her fists uneasily. Were Rebecca and her biological father so vicious that they wanted to kill Eden?

No matter how despicable they were, they wouldn't kill Eden!

"Phew..." She suddenly sensed that Eden's breathing was a little abnormal. When she took a closer look, she found that Eden's oxygen mask was on the ground.

She was a little confused. Why did the oxygen mask fall off?

Adalynn walked over. When she had just picked up the oxygen mask, Victor walked in.

Seeing that Adalynn was holding Eden's oxygen mask, he looked at her with a frenzy of rage in his eyes.

Adalynn did not expect Victor to come in all of a sudden. She stood still stiffly, took the oxygen mask and didn't know what to do.

"Eden!" Victor walked over and snatched the oxygen mask from her. Then he put it on Eden's face. However, Eden gradually went deathly pale.

Victor had never been so anxious and scared before.

"D*mn it!" He pushed Adalynn aside angrily and immediately rang the bell on the bedside.

"Ah..." Victor was so furious that he wanted to kill Adalynn. Looking at him like this, Adalynn was stunned. Did he think that she wanted to hurt Eden?

"Victor, I didn't..."

"Shut up!" Victor roared madly.

Seeing that Eden almost stopped breathing, he was about to go crazy.

"Eden, hold on. You'll be all right soon. Just wait for a while, okay?" Victor's voice was painful and full of pleading.

As soon as the emergency bell rang, the doctors on duty rushed over with several nurses.

Victor said, "Hurry up! Eden's oxygen mask fell off."

The two doctors were startled when they heard that.

A doctor immediately checked Eden and said anxiously, "Mr. Alwynn, Mrs. Alwynn is in a bad condition now. We have to rescue her immediately. Please go out first."

Victor looked at him helplessly. When he heard that Eden was in a bad condition, he was in the depth of despair and begged them word by word, "Doctor, please, you must save her."

The doctor had never seen Victor like this. He nodded slightly, "Mr. Alwynn, don't worry. We will definitely do our best."

Several doctors began to fight to save Eden's life.

Adalynn was at a loss, and Victor pulled her out.

As soon as he went out, he used great strength and Adalynn fell to the ground.

"Ouch..." Adalynn fell heavily to the ground, and she felt a burning sensation in her palm.

With tears on her face, she looked at Victor who had flown into a rage, "Victor, I didn't do it, really! When I came here, the door was open, and I saw Eden's oxygen mask on the ground when I walked in. I just wanted to wear it for her, and you happened to come in. Victor, I really didn't hurt Eden. I just wanted to see her before I go aboard."

Tears streamed down Adalynn's cheeks as she looked at Victor.

There was not a trace of warmth in Victor's ruthless eyes. He looked at her coldly and said, "I saw it with my own eyes, but you don't admit it." He roared so loudly and furiously that he heard the echoes of his own voice.

At this time, Aisling and Haven heard the sound and came out of Grandma Clement's ward.

Seeing Adalynn, Haven was dumbfounded. Why was she here?

"Victor, what happened?" Aisling took a look at Eden's ward, only to see that many doctors were fighting to save Eden.

"Ah... Eden." Aisling was shocked.

Victor closed his eyes with a painful look. At this time, he could not say a word. He could only pray that Eden would be safe and sound.

"Eden, hold on, please." He kept praying in his heart.

He just went out to answer a phone call. There was something that he didn't want her to hear, because he didn't want her to be worried. He only went out for a while, but she almost...

Victor didn't dare to think about it further. He lived in the ward just because he was afraid that something bad would happen to her, but something terrible still happened.

"Woo..." Seeing that Victor did not believe her, Adalynn cried even more sadly.

Aisling asked, "Adalynn, what's going on? Why are you here?"

Adalynn looked at Aisling with tears in her eyes, "Mrs. Clement, I just wanted to come here and see Eden, because I feel so guilty. But when I went in, her oxygen mask was on the ground. I really didn't hurt her. Victor doesn't believe me."

Even though she was vicious, she understood something after experiencing so many things, which was that life would get better as long as she lived in a simple and kind way.

Her mother was not a kindhearted and upright person, so she and Vincent were in such a dilemma at this time.

She didn't want to live in this city anymore, because so many bad things had happened here. She wanted to go abroad and study hard. Then she would conduct herself and live up to her ideal of herself. She didn't want to go back here again.

She had been a girl of few words since she was a child. Although she had grown up, she was like a three-year-old child and didn't understand many things.

After experiencing so many things, she really wanted to start all over again, and she didn't want to hurt others anymore.

"What? Did the oxygen mask fall off?" Adalynn's words came as a complete shock for Aisling. Her face was drained of all colour and animation all of a sudden.

"Eden... Please be all right!" In anxiety, she looked through the glass and saw that the doctors were fighting a desperate battle to save Eden. The doctor were doing CPR, and she was so worried that she fell to the ground limply.

She closed her eyes and prayed, "Eden, you must be fine. If something bad happens to you, how can I live in this world without you?" She begged in a low voice.

Haven looked at her sombre and painful expression quietly. Was it because Eden was her biological daughter that she was so desperate?

When she had an accident, Aisling had never been so nervous and disturbed.

She took a look inside the ward, and Eden was dying.

From the electrocardiogram, Eden's heart was not working normally.

Haven said in heart, "Eden, if you can wake up like this, you're really lucky."

"I can take revenge for my child successfully if you die."

She hadn't been pregnant since she had the surgery. She had some doubts in her heart, so she didn't take any precautions when she had sex with Vincent. A long time had passed, but she couldn't get pregnant.

Time passed by bit by bit. More than ten minutes later, Eden's heart suddenly jumped normally, and the doctors all let out a long sigh of relief.

After having a detailed check-up for Eden and making sure that she was breathing steadily, the attending doctor went out.

As soon as the door was opened, Victor suddenly opened his cold and brooding eyes and looked at the doctor with without saying a word.

The doctor said, "Mr. Alwynn, thanks God. Mrs. Alwynn's heart is beating normally now. The oxygen mask had been taken off for at least three to five minutes. If you rang the bell a bit later, the consequences would have been unimaginable."

"Thank you!" Victor's voice was bitter, and he had no way to hide his excitement.

Chapter 972

The doctor said, "Mr. Alwynn, you must take good care of Mrs. Alwynn. Such a thing is fatal to her. We will go the rounds of the wards more frequently and try not to let such a thing happen again. Mrs. Alwynn has got much better, and new medicines will be produced soon. After she takes them, she may wake up. I feel very hopeful this time." Victor was loyal to his wife and took care of her carefully. He had to look after her in person.

Victor nodded heavily and said in a hoarse voice, "I was not careful enough today. Such a thing would not happen again. Thank you!"

Victor took a sharp look at Adalynn, but he remembered the words of the doctor. Adalynn seemed to have just picked up the oxygen mask when he walked into the ward.

After the doctor left, Adalynn mustered up her courage to walk to Victor and said while crying, "Victor, I really didn't hurt Eden. I really came to see her because of guilt. I'll go abroad in a few days.

"There is no need for me to kill her and then be arrested. When I arrived, the door was open, and her oxygen mask was on the ground when I walked in. Seeing her breathing with difficult, I wanted to help her put it on."

She cried very sadly and tried her best to convince Victor whom she had been afraid of. She just wanted him to believe her once. In her heart, Victor was always her elder brother.

It was all her mother's fault. She was supposed to have a complete home, but she could never live with Victor and Phillip again.

Phillip did not return to the Alwynn family. Instead, he moved to Windsor Villa. She had called him, but he did not want to see her.

She knew his temper very well, so she was very satisfied that he was willing to answer her phone call.

Victor said, "Just leave!"

In terms of time, it shouldn't be Adalynn who had tried to kill Eden.

He threw a cold glance at Haven who was standing beside Aisling, and his eyes were filled with harshness and hatred.

Haven lowered her head, but she could feel that Victor was looking at her with extremely cold-blooded eyes.

He asked Adalynn to leave. Did it mean that he didn't suspect Adalynn?

Why did he look at her with such horrible eyes? Was he suspecting her?

Although Victor was cruel, he could distinguish right from wrong.

Haven raised her head and didn't dare to look at Victor. Instead, she looked at Aisling, "Mom, I will send Adalynn back first."

At this moment, Aisling had to time to pay attention to Haven and nodded blandly.

"Adalynn, I'll take you home."

Adalynn nodded. She knew that there was no point for her to stay here.

"Victor, I'm sorry! I hope Director Bleu can wake up soon." After saying that, Adalynn left with Haven.

Only then did Victor and Aisling enter the ward. Both of them heaved a sigh of relief when they saw that Eden's heart was beating steadily.

Aisling looked at Victor and said, "Victor, what the hell has happened? In the future, if you want to leave here, remember to ask me to come over." Eden almost died.

Victor nodded and asked, "Has Haven left grandma's ward?" Only Adalynn and Haven had been here that day, and the murder must be one of them.

Aisling was shocked and asked in surprise, "Victor, are you suspecting Haven? She said she wanted to go to the bathroom and then went out. After she came back, Eden had an accident. Then we heard your roar and ran out."

Victor narrowed his eyes slightly. Adalynn said that the door was open when she came here, and the oxygen mask had fallen to the ground.

If it was really Haven, everything would be reasonable.

What a d*mn woman!

Aisling looked at him with lingering fear, "Victor, is it really Haven?" Her heart was in a mess, and she couldn't believe that Haven could be so vicious.

Looking at her worried face, Victor didn't say much.

He only said, "Now we don't have any evidence, so I don't know who it is."

Aisling breathed a sigh of relief in an instant, "Victor, if you have to leave for a while next time, you must tell me. You can't leave until I come here."

"Okay!" Victor nodded. He would never make such a mistake again.

Even if he had to answer a phone call, he had to answer it in the ward.

After Aisling left, Victor called Lucian.

"Hello?" Lucian answered tiredly.

Victor said, "Haven't you got off work yet?"

Lucian replied, "I'm off work, and I'm reading some information at home."

Victor said, "Last time, I asked you to install a hidden camera in the corridor. Check it and see if Haven has been to Eden's ward today. An accident happened just now."

Lucian said, "Alright, don't hang up. I'll take a look right now."

Lucian turned on his computer quickly. After a while, he said, "Haven had been in Eden's ward. She went in before Adalynn arrived, and she looked very flustered when she went out."

"Sh*t! It was really her!" Victor's angry voice rang through the ward.

Lucian asked coldly, "What happened?"

Victor roared back furiously, "She took off Eden's oxygen mask and wanted to kill her!"

Lucian grabbed his phone more tightly, "Weren't you in the ward all the time? How could such an accident happen? Fortunately, you were careful enough and asked me to install a camera. Originally, we wanted to use it to find the murderer. I didn't expect it to have an extra use.

Victor said, "Keep this video and I'll let her pay the price in the future. Haven't you got any clues about Grandma Clement's accident?"

Lucian replied, "No, we're looking for an opportunity. Haven is very hypocritical and she will play tricks behind our backs. You must be more careful."

Victor said, "I see. I'll hang up first."

After Victor hung up the phone, he sat on the stool and held Eden's cold hands, looking at her with concern, "Fool, you almost scared me to death just now. You know what? Even if I have to spend all my money, I will let you come back to life and live together with me till old and grey."

"You've promised me that you will accompany me for the rest of your life. Eden, could you wake up soon?"

The children were very painful. He had told them not to come here to see Eden, lest they would be sad for a long time after they went back.

Kenny didn't come here anymore, but Gia insisted on visiting Eden.

Victor took a deep breath, "Dummy, we are all waiting for you to wake up."

.....

A year had passed. Spring came round, quickening all creation. Flowers bloomed during the warm spring, and the weather was getting warmer.

Eden had been lying on the bed for more than half a year, and Victor had been keeping her company.

Victor decorated the ward with pink rhododendrons. Dressed a white casual suit, he sat by the bed and read a book about love for Eden.

He had looked for this book for a long time. When he was in college, he read it accidentally, but he didn't finish reading. At that time, he only felt that the experiences of the hero and heroine were too miserable, and he couldn't bear to read it, but he and Eden were very similar to them.

Chapter 973

Victor was absorbed in reading.

Their stories were the same, and Victor waited for Eden like how the hero waited for the heroine. In the end, the hero had his angel by his side. His wife woke up.

They had bridged over many difficulties as well.

The heroine left when she was a child. In order to find her, the hero became the movie king in the entertainment circle and always showed up in public. He only wanted the heroine to see him and come back to him.

At the seaside, the hero finally met the heroine. They had not seen each other for many years, and they fell in love in a short period of time.

However, the heroine was missing because of a car accident. It took the hero several years to find his beloved wife, but he found that she was lying motionless on the hospital bed. He put off all his work and stayed with her all the time. Every day, he told her the stories between them and shared what he ate and did with her.

He waited for two years and six months. When his wife woke up, she didn't remember who he was.

However, he did not give up and still stayed by her side to take care of her. Three years later, his wife remembered everything by accident. After that, they spent the rest of their lives together happily.

Victor read the concluding remarks with a heavy breath, "Life is full of challenges, but as long as we don't give up, be kindhearted and grateful to others, we will be hopeful and have a bright future with the ones we love."

Victor slowly closed the book and put it on the table. He was moved to tears by the story.

"Eden, the moment you wake up, you must remember who I am, okay? Their love story is very touching, but it is really agonising that the people you love doesn't remember you anymore." Her brain was seriously injured, and the doctor said that she might lose all her memory.

"Eden, I let you hear my voice every day because I don't want you to forget me. We will be the luckiest ones, won't we?"

"No matter how long I have to wait, I will keep waiting until you wake up."

Victor lay on the edge of the bed with a desperate face and said every word very painfully. He didn't know why, but he couldn't fall asleep last night and didn't feel sleepy at all. He had been guarding her in a very complicated mood.

The night before yesterday, he had a dream. In the dream, Eden fell into the water and then he saved her.

She leaned against his arms and blamed him like a spoiled child, "Victor, I've been waiting for you for a long time, and I almost drowned. Why do you come to save me so late?"

Just he was about to speak, he suddenly woke up. Looking sideways, he found that Eden was still sleeping quietly and showed no signs of waking up.

But having such a dream made him very happy!

He felt that she was about to wake up.

He did not go to the company yesterday morning. The dream made him very expectant. It was the first time he had seen her in his dream since she had an accident.

Although she blamed him, she spoke to her, and her voice was as soft and pleasant as it was in his memory. He finally heard her voice in his dream.

When he woke up, he was too excited to fall asleep, because he finally heard her voice again.

However, Victor did not see that tears came out of Eden's eyes when he laid down.

Her fingers moved as well. Her long eyelashes gently trembled a few times before she opened her eyes with difficulty. She looked around in confusion and felt very sleepy.

She could hear Victor's painful voice, and she really wanted to answer him, but she had no strength at all. She wanted to speak but could not open her mouth.

She wanted to tell him not to be so sad and desperate. She was fine!

"Victor..." She said in a weak, hoarse and low voice. Calling his name had almost exhausted all her strength.

Her voice was very low, but Victor heard it.

His body suddenly shivered, and he thought that he had misheard.

Then he immediately raised his head, only to see that she was looking at him weakly with her eyes open.

"Ah..." Victor cried out in surprise.

"Eden, are you awake?" Victor's excited voice echoed in the room.

Blinking her eyes, Eden felt that she had slept for a long time. Her back was sore and her legs seemed to have lost consciousness.

"Eden, that's great! You finally woke up! Thanks God!" Victor was so excited that he did not know what to say.

"Oh! Eden, I'll let the doctor come over and have a check-up for you." Victor rang the bell, and the doctors on duty rushed over with nurses.

Victor looked at the attending doctor with excitement, "Doctor, hurry up. My wife is awake. Come here and have a look."

Hearing this, the attending doctor nodded in pleasant surprise, "Mr. Alwynn, please..."

"No, I'll just stay here and watch. I won't disturb you." Victor refused him. Since Eden was awake, she had to have a detailed check-up first. Although he wanted to hug her crazily, he held back the impulse in heart. As long as she was fine, he could hold her at any time in the future.

The doctors gave Eden a detailed check-up with joy. After that, the attending doctor looked at Victor with a relieved smile, "Mr. Alwynn, congratulations. Mrs. Alwynn is in good health, but she can't get used to walk for the time-being, and she has to use a wheelchair for a period of time. She can start to work after she recovers, and it is better for her legs."

"Okay! Thank you, doctor!" Victor looked excitedly at Eden who was surrounded by nurses.

He had a dream before she had an accident, and he dreamt of her again before she woke up. It turned out that he had a hunch about everything.

Eden felt much more relaxed without the catheter on her.

After the doctors left, Victor walked over happily and sat beside her. He gently rubbed her face with his slender fingers and said with distress, "You were thin in the past, but now you've become thinner."

Eden was speechless when she heard this. She would not gain weight no matter what she ate.

"How long have I... slept?" As soon as she said this, she was scared by her own hoarse voice.

Why was her voice like this?

Victor looked at her tenderly, "Eden, you've slept for almost seven months."

Fortunately, she remembered him. She called out his name as soon as she opened her eyes. At that moment, he was really too happy, because his angel did not forget him.

Eden was startled and suddenly thought of something.

She wanted to touch her belly, but she had no strength. Feeling sad, she asked, "Where's... our child?"

Victor's hand, which was touching her hand, paused slightly. He gritted his teeth and whispered, "Eden, when you recover, we'll have another child."

"So do you mean that my baby has died?" Eden held her breath and her heart was full of sorrow.

Chapter 974

Victor's heart ached when he saw how sombre she was, and he nodded.

Eden closed her eyes in pain. She was looking forward to the birth of her baby so much, but she didn't expect that she would lose her baby because of an accident.

Recalling what had happened before the incident, Eden went berserk, "Rebecca is an a*swhole!"

She cursed angrily.

Victor knew that she was feeling very mournful. He gently stroked her forehead and felt dejected as well. When he knew that she was pregnant, he couldn't be more delighted.

But in the blink of an eye, all happiness was gone.

"Eden, Rebecca has got the punishment she deserves, and Alex has been sentenced to life imprisonment. We'll have another baby in the future. Don't be sad. You've just woken up, so you can't be too emotional." He comforted her softly.

"But it's not her anymore." Eden choked with sobs and tears ran down her face.

Victor didn't say anything and stayed with her quietly.

After a long while, Eden closed her eyes and fell asleep. Victor was scared and called the doctor to have a check-up for her. The doctor said that she was very weak after waking up, and she had fallen asleep.

She would be much more energetic after having a sleep.

Hearing this, Victor was relieved a lot.

He did not tell everyone the news that Eden had woken up in advance.

He didn't even tell Aisling about it. She was afraid that Eden would be more heartbroken when she knew that Grandma Clement had an accident.

That night, all the tubes on Eden's body were removed. He gently wiped her body while she was sleeping and slept with her in his arms. He had never slept such peacefully since Eden had an accident.

They slept till noon, and Eden was hungry.

As soon as she opened her eyes, she saw Victor's handsome face. He was thinner and more haggard than before.

Eden moved her fingers. She felt that she was much more energetic than yesterday, but she could only move slowly.

Touching his face with her slender fingers slowly, she found that he had really lost a lot of weight. In the past half one year, he must be very worried about her. She often heard his painful voice, and she felt that she was having a dream, but it was so real.

She really wanted to open her eyes and have a look, but no matter how hard she tried, she could not open her eyes or speak.

Sometimes when she heard his painful voice, she knew that she was crying, but she had no way to say a word to him.

Victor suddenly opened his eyes, grabbed her little hand and smiled at her tenderly.

Eden was slightly stunned and blushed, but she did not look away. She looked at him with some grievances, "I'm hungry!"

Hearing this, Victor immediately got up, took the phone on the table and looked at the time. It was almost twelve o'clock in the morning.

He had never slept until this time, and he didn't have a dream last night.

He glanced at her with gratitude in his eyes.

"Eden, thank you for waking up. You can stay with me again."

But when he saw her smile, he felt that he was still dreaming. She had woken up, but he felt that it was so unreal.

He lowered his head and kissed her lips with great strength. He didn't dare to believe it until he felt the warmth of her lips.

He whispered, "Eden, wait a minute. I'll call them and ask them to send you your favorite porridge."

"Mm!" Eden smiled faintly. Looking at his smiling face, she was in a good mood. After sleeping for one night, she had regained much strength.

She moved her leg slightly. Her legs were very numb and had no strength, and it was painful. At that time, the car crash was terrible, and she had broken her legs.

Eden was a little worried. After Victor made a call and asked someone to bring her porridge, she asked, "Why can't I move my legs?"

Could it be that she was disabled as well?

Thinking of the relationship between Anson and Abby, she had a sense of fear.

Victor put down his phone and looked at her tenderly, "Fool, you have slept for so long, and you have just woken up. Of course, your leg are feeble. Your legs were broken, but after this period of recuperation, the fracture has been healed. However, you have to use wheelchair for a period of time before you can stand up and walk."

"Really?" Eden looked at him with her clear and bright eyes nervously.

"Yeah, how could I lie to my wife?" Victor rubbed her nose lightly and smiled very dotingly.

"Then help me up. My back hurts, my waist is sore, and I feel uncomfortable all over." As long as she was not disabled, she could recover slowly.

She breathed a sigh of relief and was no longer so uneasy.

If she was really disabled, she really couldn't imagine what her future life would be like.

Victor helped her to sit up slowly.

Eden felt her waist was very sore. It would be great if she could stand for a while.

"Eden, how do you feel? Can you sit?" Victor looked at her with concern.

Eden nodded, "My waist is sore. Maybe it's because I've slept for too long."

Victor sat down and said, "I'll give you a massage."

He gently massaged her waist with his big palm and felt that she was simply too slim. His heart ached again. He had just made her a little fatter, but she had lost so much weight again.

Eden narrowed her eyes and smiled lazily, "It's so comfortable!"

Victor grinned and continued to massage her.

Eden finally felt that she had come back to life. She looked out of the window. The sun was shining brightly. The weather was especially nice, and the sky was blue.

"Victor, is everyone all right? Zofia has given birth to the baby, right?" She missed them very much and wanted to see her family as soon as possible.

Victor said, "Yeah, she gave birth to a healthy boy. She came to the hospital to see you before the Spring Festival. Buddy held the baby at that time. The baby is very cute and looks like Buddy. Now they're living a happy life and you don't have to worry about them."

"Wow! It's great. Buddy and Zofia must be very delighted!" Eden was very gratified, "It's so nice that they are together. Fortunately, Buddy didn't give up Zofia at that time."

"Yep!" Victor massaged her shoulders, thinking about how to tell her about Grandma Clement's accident. Grandma Clement lived next door, and she would know it soon.

"Rat-a-tat..." Someone knocked on the door, and Victor knew who it was.

He said, "Come in."

The door was pushed open, and they heard Aisling's voice, "Victor, Eden's dad sent you something to eat..."

Aisling stopped talking when she saw Eden.

"Oh... Eden, you're awake." Aisling looked at Eden excitedly and carefully, for fear that it was her delusion. She stared at Eden for a long while and Eden was still looking at her with a smile. Only then did she believe her eyes.

"Mom, I've made you worried about me. I really wanted to open my eyes over the past half a year, but I couldn't do it." Eden smiled. She was really sorry for making everyone worry about her over the past half a year.

She could hear their voices, but she couldn't speak, which was so agonizing.

Chapter 975

"Oh! It's good that you've woken up. I'm so happy." Aisling was so excited that she burst into tears. She put the lunch box on the table and wiped her tears before she looked at Eden, "Do you feel better now? You can't have an accident again. I was too scared before you woke up. By the way, Victor, you brat! Why didn't you tell me that Eden had woken up?"

Victor smiled, "Mom, I wanted to give you a surprise, didn't I?"

Hearing the way Victor addressed her, Aisling was a little stunned, "Ha-ha..." She couldn't help but laugh and then said teasingly, "You and Eden have been married for so long, and you didn't call me mom until just now. I really regret that I agreed to let Eden marry you so early."

Victor was a bit embarrassed. He had a good relationship with the Clement family, so he had no way to call Aisling mom in the past.

Since Eden had woken up, she would be mad at him if he still didn't call Aisling mom.

He didn't want his little angel to be angry.

Seeing that he was too awkward to answer her, Aisling smiled and said, "It seems that you changed your way of addressing me because Eden had woken up. Well, I should thank my daughter."

"Ha-ha..." Eden smiled, "Mom, I will always be your considerate sweetheart."

Aisling nodded with a happy smile, and her eyes were loving and distressed, "Isn't it just? When you were a child, the atmosphere in our family was warm and lively because of you. Even Victor used to be delighted with you by his side."

Victor looked at Eden and chuckled, "Yeah, thanks to Eden, I had an unforgettable childhood."

Smiling, Eden blinked her big eyes and turned slightly to look at him, "It seems that I'm a lucky star."

"That's right!" Aisling gently stroked Eden's beautiful hair and said with amiable eyes, "Eden, promise me that you'll protect yourself in the future. Don't get hurt again."

Eden nodded heavily, "Mother, such an accident won't happen again."

"Mm!" Aisling suddenly thought of Grandma Clement who was lying next door. She thought that if she told Eden about Grandma Clement's accident, Eden would definitely suffer a severe blow.

But even if she didn't say it, Eden would know it soon.

Aisling hesitated for a while and said, "Eden, your grandmother had a car accident. She lives the next door. I tell you about it now because I don't want you to be too worried. You could even wake up, let alone your grandma. She has become much better."

"What?" There was a sharp pain in Eden's heart. Grandma Clement was so old. Why did she have to suffer like this?

"Why was there a car accident?" Eden was a little confused. She had an accident because of Rebecca, but why did Grandma Clement have an car accident as well?

Victor said in a serious tone, "Half a year ago, I held a shareholders' meeting of Jotham Alwynn Group. Grandma wanted to send me the contract, and she had an car accident on the way. Later, the contract was missing. It was a premeditated murder." He always felt guilty about what had happened to Grandma Clement, and he couldn't be at ease until he caught the murder on his own.

Eden's eyes blurred with tears when she heard that.

"Who could it be?" Eden did not dare to think about it. Who would be so cruel to hurt such an old lady?

Victor put his hands on her shoulders and took a deep breath, "Eden, don't worry. There is no forever secret in this world."

Haven would definitely expose herself one day.

Since he couldn't get any evidence, he could set up a trap for Haven. Since Eden had woken up, he could concentrate on this matter.

Aisling said, "Victor, have your meal first. Let's about this when Eden gets better. Now I'm going to take care of your grandma. Eden, take a rest and don't be tired."

Eden nodded and said, "Mom, I'll go to see grandma later."

"Okay!" Aisling smiled heartily and turned to leave.

Eden knew that Victor couldn't say something in front of her mother. After Aisling left, she looked at him seriously, "As for what has happened to my grandma, is there no suspect?"

Victor nodded, "We've always suspected that it was Haven who did it, but we don't have any evidence. Moreover, before you woke up, Haven once wanted to kill you and removed your oxygen mask."

"After Grandma Clement had an accident, Haven once wanted to remove her oxygen mask, but Gia ran into her. In order to protect Grandma Clement, Gia even had a fight with Haven."

"Gia? What happened later? Is Gia hurt?" Eden asked nervously. She always knew that Haven wanted to kill her. If Haven wanted to hurt Grandma Clement, she would never forgive her.

She was once abandoned by the Gienger family, so she could stand in Haven's shoes and understand her when she found that Haven rejected her so much. Since the Clement family had adopted Haven, she was a member of the family.

It was because of this that she didn't go back to the Clement family.

She wanted Haven to understand that everything she owned was hers, and nothing would change just because she had returned to the Clement family.

However, it seemed that there was no need for her to do this in the future. She would not escape from the fact that she was Eden.

Victor massaged her shoulders and said with a smile, "No, I went there in time. Haven just pushed Gia to the ground and mouthed a few obscenities."

Eden smiled helplessly, "Gia is so smart."

"Mm!" Victor nodded in agreement. That was his daughter.

"Gia is skilful in ink and wash. She drew a picture of a mother and a son, and the painting was sold for one million and five hundred thousand dollars. She was very happy, and she had proved her value. I asked Lucian to apply a card for her. She made the money on her own, so I let her spend it at will. She was so happy when she heard that, saying that she had changed from a poor girl who was living frugally to a rich girl."

"Now we have moved to Windsor Villa. There is a special painting room for her. Graciella and Loomis also moved to Windsor Villa. Graciella is pregnant with twins, and she will give birth in a few months."

"Abigail bought a villa opposite us, and she lives with Ricky..." Victor told her everything that had happened during this period of time.

Eden was stunned when she heard that. She did not expect so many things to happen while she was sleeping.

Ricky must be so heartbroken that he didn't even dare to see her.

Eden's heart ached. She wanted to see her three children as soon as possible.

Eden choked with sobs and asked, "What about Anson and Abby?"

Victor shook his head helplessly, "They are still the same. Anson still protects Abigail secretly, and Abigail understands him from the bottom of her heart. She has become more optimistic than before, and she lives a good life. Every day, she is very busy, but she comes here to accompany you on weekends."

Chapter 976

When Eden heard this, she was very depressed, "Anson is more stubborn than I thought. Abby loves him so much, but he can actually bear to hurt her. As Abby's best friend, I know her very well. Once she gives up, she will never go back. It will be too late for Anson to regret it."

Eden looked back at him, "Victor, you and Anson have known each other since childhood. Can't you persuade him? If Abby really decides to give up, Anson will really have no chance."

It was the first time that Abby had fallen in love with a nice man.

The men she knew before were all jerks!

Victor suddenly held her tightly with both hands and put his head on her shoulder.

He kissed her pale face and felt physically and mentally satisfied. He could finally hold her in his arms.

"Eden, I have tried my best to persuade Anson. He is obsessive about perfection, and Abigail is the woman he loves the most in his life. I have known him for so long, but he has never cared about a woman like this."

"Therefore, he wants to give his beloved woman his flawless love and a complete home. He thinks that he is disabled, so he can't make Abby the happiest woman in the world. This is why he doesn't want to be with her."

"Ha..." Eden was speechless, "Abby will be unlucky and won't be able to get perfect happiness if Anson doesn't be with her."

"This will be the greatest regret in their hearts forever."

Victor nodded, "We all know this, so do Anson and Abby. However, we can do nothing about it since they can't change their minds."

Eden suddenly asked, "Victor, if you are in the same situation as Anson, what will you choose?" She couldn't move her legs, and he said that she could stand up as long as she recovered well. What if he lied to her?

Victor smiled and reached out to pinch her cheek, chuckling, "Fool, you are the love of my life. I will love you even if you sit in a wheelchair."

Eden smiled with satisfaction when she heard that.

Victor looked at her satisfied smile and suddenly glanced at her legs. When she asked this question, he vaguely knew what she was thinking about, so he comforted her, "Eden, you can't think too much now. Your legs are not disabled. It's just that your legs were broken at that time, and you had slept for such a long time. After recovering, you can start to walk slowly."

Eden smiled gently, "I know. I'm just unhappy because it will be inconvenient for me to live in the future. How long do I have to live like this?"

Victor grinned, "Dummy, you have me by your side, right? I will be your legs from now on."

Eden leaned in his arms quietly and smiled happily. It was enough for her to have him in life!

The cold ward was extremely warm at this time.

When the porridge was delivered, Victor picked up Eden and put her on the stool cautiously. After she had drunk half a cup of warm water, he took the porridge and wanted to feed her.

Seeing this, Eden was touched and said with smiling eyes, "Victor, you eat first. Now I have strength, and I can eat by myself. Hurry up and have your meal."

Just now, she glanced around the ward. There was an extra bed, a desk, and a wardrobe in the ward. He moved directly into the ward and lived here.

Victor shook his head, "Eden, I'll feed you, and I'll eat later. Drink some porridge first. They will come to see you later, and you won't have time to eat though you're hungry."

Eden shook her head with a smile. Looking at him with distress, she said concernedly, "You have lost a lot of weight during this period of time. How long have you not returned home?"

Victor looked at the worried expression in her clear and bright eyes. Her soothing words had left a glow in his heart, "I have never been back. I spent an hour in the company in the morning, and then I would come back to accompany you. If there was no important thing in the company, I would not go there and I finished the video conference here."

"After Haven took off your oxygen mask and you almost died, I didn't dare to go out anymore. If you died, how could I live without you?"

Eden's heart ached even more when she heard that. She was so moved she wanted to cry, "Victor, thank you!" No matter when, he never abandoned her.

Seeing that she was on the verge of tears, Victor smiled lovingly, "Fool, you are my wife. I didn't say these words to you to touch you and make you cry. I just want you to know that in this world, you are the most precious existence to me."

Eden smiled brightly and held back her tears, looking more relieved and relaxed. Then she ate the porridge that Victor fed her.

Victor looked at her with a grin when she ate the porridge. He had no way to hide his excitement and joy. All the sadness and grief in the past few days had disappeared.

After lunch, the two went to the ward next door to see Grandma Clement.

Looking at Grandma Clement, Eden could not help but cry. Grandma Clement was old, but she had to suffer like this, which made her so sad.

Aisling looked at Eden aside. Eden had just recovered and could not be so doleful. She persuaded Eden for a long time, and Eden finally stopped crying.

She talked about something else with Aisling.

Victor told everyone that Eden had woken up.

Moreover, he asked them not to come to the hospital and waited for them to return to Windsor Villa.

He had selfish motives and didn't want them to disturb him and Eden.

The Clement family came to the hospital first.

Buddy and Zofia came with the child. Delmont and Wyatt also arrived.

They stood around Eden who was sitting in a wheelchair and smiled very brightly.

"Eden, you've woken up, and it seems that grandma will wake up soon." Buddy looked at Eden and smiled with concerned and doting eyes. They owed her too much and always wanted to give her more.

"Buddy, I also hope that grandma can wake up soon." Eden took a look at Grandma Clement. She wouldn't avoid Haven in the future.

Wyatt smiled lovingly as he looked at Eden, "Thank you. Something terrible happened to you no longer after I found you. I feel so sorry for you. You must protect yourself well in the future."

"Dad, I will." Eden nodded with a smile.

"Oh! Eden, since you've woken up, the atmosphere in the family will be much better. You don't know that mom and dad haven't smiled during this period of time." Delmont looked at Eden and said. He was very grateful that she could wake up. Otherwise, Wyatt would get sick.

He was very worried all day long.

Wyatt glared at him, "Brat! Can you still laugh? Your sister and grandmother are ill, but you go to the nightclub every night and don't come back until the wee hours."

Chapter 977

Delmont smiled awkwardly, "Dad, isn't it because the atmosphere at home is too depressing? Now Buddy, Zofia and my nephew stay at home to accompany you. Don't be like this. You'll scare the child."

Wyatt glared at him and did not say anything. Anyway, Delmont was dull, and his words were illogical. He had no way to communicate with him.

Zofia, who had been standing there quietly, took a step forward with the child and looked at Eden with a happy smile on her face, "Eden, congratulations. You must recover as soon as possible."

There was always a smile on Eden's face, and her smile was as beautiful as the blooming peach blossom. It was said that sunshine always came after the rain. No matter what kind of difficulties they encounter, they could weather the storm as long as they lived in harmony and tried their best together.

"Zofia, I will get better soon. Let me see my nephew." Eden looked at the little boy who was sleeping in her arms with excitement.

Zofia slightly bent down, and the boy was sleeping soundly in her arms. His little face was pink, and he looked very cute and adorable.

Zofia rubbed the baby's pink face, "Glenn, wake up and meet your auntie. She misses you very much."

Although Zofia pinched Glenn gently a few times, he did not open his eyes. Instead, he changed into a comfortable position and continued to sleep.

Zofia smiled helplessly, "Eden, he fell asleep as soon as he got in the car. When he is awake, he likes to smile."

Eden looked at Glenn and smiled very tenderly, "It's okay. When he wakes up, I'll hold him in my arms. Glenn... What a wonderful name! It represents youth, honesty and integrity. Dad gave him this name, right?"

Wyatt nodded with a smile, "Yeah, I gave him this name."

Eden knew that it would be like this.

"The three children's names were given by me. I didn't think too much at that time and named them casually." In fact, at that time, she really hoped to have her parents by her side. She was really too lonely. Fortunately, Jaida and Abby had been accompanying her.

Wyatt said, "Their names are nice as well. Kenny is mature and steady. Ricky is humorous and interesting. Gia is mischievous but graceful. They are all obedient!"

Eden's heart ached when she heard Ricky's name, and her bright eyes dimmed all of a sudden.

She forced a smile and chatted with her family for a long time.

At this time, Haven was rushing to the hospital.

"Bang..." As soon as she parked the car, her car was hit by something.

She was stunned. The car had been stopped. How could it be hit by someone?

Haven quickly got out of the car, only to see that the bumper was buckled by a black car. "Ah..." Haven was very distressed. She bought this car not long ago, and she liked it very much.

Just as she raised her head and was about to swear, she saw a man in a suit and leather shoes getting out of the car. He had dashing eyebrows and bright eyes, looking very handsome. At this time, he was looking at her apologetically with a smile in his eyes.

"Miss, I'm sorry. I was in a trance just now and hit your car accidentally. Are you all right?" His voice was pleasant to hear, which made Haven no longer angry in an instant.

She smiled gently and shook her head, "Sir, I'm fine."

The man took a few steps forward, handed her a card and said, "Miss, I am a manager in a foreign enterprise. This is my card."

Haven took the card and had a look. The man was actually Malcom Mulroney, the manager of the Technology Department in her company.

Although they worked in the same company, they were in different departments and had never seen each other before.

Haven smiled and looked at him, "Manager Mulroney, what a coincidence. We are from the same company. I am the assistant of the design director, Haven Clement."

"Oh!" Malcom looked at Haven in surprise, "Everyone in the company said that the assistant of the design director is a beauty. I didn't expect you to be so pretty. Nice to meet you, Miss Clement."

Haven looked down and smiled with shyly, "Manager Mulroney, you're flattering me. I have something to do in the hospital. Since we know each other, let's repair our cars on our own."

Malcom lowered his head and looked at Haven's blushing face. She was really good-looking. He smiled and said, "Miss Clement, how I accept your kindness? It was me who hit your car. It was my fault. I'll be responsible for repairing your car."

Haven immediately shook her head, "You really don't have to do this."

"I have to. Miss Clement, if you refuse me, I won't feel at ease." Malcom insisted all the time. He was such a gentleman, and Haven had a good impression of him.

Seeing that he insisted, she didn't say anything more. They gave their phone numbers to each other and then she went to the hospital.

As soon as Haven arrived at the ward, she heard pleasant laughter coming from inside. She was slightly stunned and pushed open the door of the ward lightly to have a look. When she saw Eden who was sitting on a wheelchair, she was totally astonished. Eden had actually woken up, and they were chatting harmoniously and happily.

Haven kept staring at Eden who was smiling brightly.

Why was Eden so lucky? There were always so many people who loved Eden.

But she was always alone.

She had schemed against so many people, but she couldn't get anything in the end.

Haven left quietly. At this moment, she didn't want to step in the ward, because she knew that the people inside wouldn't welcome her.

Victor waited for Adonis and Lucian to help him pack his belongings before bidding farewell to the Clement family and went back to Windsor Villa.

Along the way, Lucian drove the car, while Adonis sat in the passenger seat and did not speak.

The lights were red and the car was stopped at the intersection. Lucian looked sideways at Adonis. Seeing that he was not happy and looked ahead in a daze, he asked, "What's wrong with you? You look so dejected. Aren't you happy that Eden has woken up?"

Adonis looked back at Eden who was sitting next to Victor and shook his head. "Eden, I definitely don't mean that. I'm just heartbroken."

Eden was dumbfounded. Was he disappointed in love?

But why did she hear that Adonis was always disappointed in love?

"Ha-ha..." Lucian couldn't hold back his laughter.

Adonis turned to look at him, "Why are you laughing?"

Lucian replied, "You get disappointed in love almost every day, don't you? I've never seen you so sad before. It seems that you really like that girl."

Adonis stared at him with a dull look, "Didn't I like my ex-girlfriends?"

Lucian asked, "Did you like them?"

Adonis looked very wronged, "Lucian, every time I fall in love, I'm very serious about it, especially this time. I didn't tell you that I had a girlfriend three months ago, and we had been in a relationship for three months. Not a month, not three days, but three months."

"So what?" Lucian asked again. The lights turned green, and he started the car.

Chapter 978

"So, when she was dating me, she betrayed me and took my money to support another man. Furthermore, they actually lived together. Just now, she called me and said that she had to pay the rent. She said that she had no money and asked me to pay another three months of rent for her. I clearly knew what kind of person she was, but I didn't expose her." Adonis told the truth unhappily.

He should have met her, slapped her on the face and then left directly. He always changed his girlfriends, but he had never met such a shameless woman.

Eden was surprised. There was actually such a person in the world. Poor Adonis was always hurt by women.

Lucian glanced at him. In the past, when Adonis was in a relationship, such a thing never happened. Most of the women disliked him because he was straightforward and not romantic, and sometimes he was stingy, but it depended on what kind of people they were. No matter who married Adonis, she would live a happy life. Adonis was very kind and filial, and he was not an unreliable man. He and Adonis had never had sex with women.

"Ha-ha..." Victor couldn't help laughing, "Adonis, can't you date a nice woman?"

Adonis's face was full of grievances, "I make a girlfriend seriously every time. Your three children study in primary school, and my mother always nags and wants to me have a child. But the premise is that someone is willing to give birth to a child for me."

Lucian asked, "What are you going to do? Have you transferred three months of rent to her?"

Adonis said, "Yeah, or I would be too petty. But I feel so uncomfortable now. I don't know whether she'll use the money to pay the rent or to support her boyfriend."

Eden was speechless. What a kind man!

Lucian said, "Idiot, you were fooled by that woman at the beginning. She obviously has a boyfriend, but she tries her best to ask you for money. She cheats you, doesn't she? But you think it's true love."

Adonis lowered his head with a sorrowful expression, "I know that I'm an idiot, but I have been with her for three months. I can't give up like this."

Eden couldn't help but say, "Mr. Church, do you think you have the chance to really be with her?"

Adonis shook his head powerlessly, "No, she's living a happy life with that man. How could she think about me?"

Lucian said in a helpless tone, "Adonis, you really have a bad taste in women. However, after breaking up with so many girlfriends, you're already used to this kind of sadness. Don't be disappointed, and don't be discouraged. As long as you have the courage to start all over again, one day you will meet the woman you love."

Adonis looked at him with melancholic, "Lucian, do you think that a stupid man like me will be killed by a greedy woman one day? Maybe she'll kill me after sleeping with me and taking away my money. If I disappear one day, will you look for me crazily?"

The other three people were speechless.

Lucian's mouth twitched, and he almost couldn't hold the steering wheel firmly.

Seeing that Lucian did not believe him, Adonis said gloomily, "Lucian, don't doubt my words. It's said that people who are in love are the silliest. Who could expect something like this to happen?"

The other three remained silent.

Eden found that it was a pity that Adonis did not work in the company. He was simply too interesting.

"Ha-ha... " Eden couldn't help but laugh. There was a bright smile in her clear eyes as she said, "Mr. Church, you are really a good laugh."

"Eden, don't make fun of me. I'm very sad now. Anger is bubbling up inside me, but I have no way to vent my anger. This is so bad." Adonis took a look at her with misty eyes.

Eden couldn't understand. Was it something worth being disconsolate?

If she was Adonis, she would have found the woman and taught her a lesson so that she would learn to be kind. The man who had been cheated by her was really downcast.

Adonis treated her with sincerity, but what he got in return was betrayal and deception. Naturally, he would be mirthless.

"Stop the car! Hurry up!" Adonis suddenly shouted.

Lucian glanced at him with a frown and parked the car on the roadside.

He said angrily, "What's wrong with you?"

Adonis pointed at a couple who sat face to face under the sunshade outside a coffee shop. The girl was wearing a white dress with curly wavy hair and delicate makeup. At this time, she was smiling at a handsome young man.

Lucian knitted his brows and looked at the girl he was pointing at. At this moment, the girl and the young man were feeding each other ice cream. Looking at how sweet they were, he said coldly, "Is that the woman you've been dating for three months?"

Since Adonis had seen them like this, he would definitely make a big fuss.

If they didn't meet each other, he might just be sad alone. But how could he calm down so easily since he had met her?

Victor and Eden looked in that direction. Victor shook his head slightly and whispered in Eden's ear, "Honey, Adonis really has a bad taste in women."

Eden agreed. Adonis's taste was indeed bad. The girl was beautiful, but Adonis was definitely not the type she liked.

Adonis was so furious that his body trembled in anger. He pulled open the car door and got off in a frenzy of rage.

Victor said, "Lucian, follow him and take a look. Don't let him make a big thing out of it. He will disgrace himself."

"Mm!" Lucian got off the car casually, opened the trunk, took out an expensive bottle of red wine and followed Adonis.

Adonis walked over with his face twisted in anger. Obviously, the girl and the young man did not notice him.

The young man looked at the girl with concern, "Ingrid, is it delicious?"

"Yep! It's so sweet. Adonis is a fool. However, he's very rich and generous. Every time he gives me at least ten thousand dollars. This morning, I told him that I didn't have money to pay the rent, and he immediately transferred thirty thousand dollars to me. But he's too straightforward."

"He is just like a gang leader, and I don't like him at all. Lan, you're the best and you love me the most. You can rest assured that when I get enough money from him to pay a down payment, we will get married."

The boy named Lan had a happy smile on his face, "Ingrid, I'm sorry to have wronged you. It's not easy for us to buy a house in this city. I will love you more in the future."

Lucian was following Adonis, and he also went berserk when he heard this. Ha-ha... How humble and ridiculous they were! They only wanted a down payment for a house. If he was the girl, he would ask Adonis to buy a house for him.

"Yo! Ingrid, that's a good idea. I give you one hundred thousand dollars a month, and you can pay a down payment indeed after saving money for a few years." Adonis elegantly walked over and sat on the chair beside Ingrid. He looked at her with a cold smile and narrowed his unhappy eyes slightly.

Chapter 979

Seeing that Adonis suddenly appeared, Ingrid trembled all over as if she had been shocked by electricity.

Lan shrank back in fear.

"Adonis?" Ingrid widened her eyes and looked at Adonis in disbelief.

Why did he suddenly come here?

Adonis sneered and said, "Ingrid, you are the poorest girlfriend I've ever made, and you're the most shameless one. I have never met such a woman like you. To put it in a bad way, you are a b*tch. To put it in a more unpleasant way, you are a liar. You're really hateful."

"You want a house, don't you? I own more than ten houses which is worth tens of millions of dollars each. After you save for a down payment, you'll have to pay a mortgage until you're old. This is your miserable life."

"So, people are really different from each other. Otherwise, why should I marry somebody more my equal?"

Adonis was so angry that he almost overturned the table. Lucian took a step forward to stop him.

"Why do you have to vent your anger by using other people's things? I will have to clean up the mess for you later. Use this." Lucian put the expensive red wine in front of Adonis.

Adonis was taken aback and glared at Lucian, "Does she f*cking deserve such an expensive red wine?"

Lucian opened the red wine and said casually, "I don't mean to let you hit her with this, nor I want you to drink it. It's used for washing her brain. You need to wash her brain so that she can sober up and won't cheat other men in the future."

Adonis was speechless. Were the other men as stupid as him? He asked for it, because he had poor discernment in his choice of girlfriends. He asked her to be his girlfriend because she looked pure on the surface. It turned out that he had been confused by her appearance.

"But you don't have to use the red wine which is worth more than two hundred thousand dollars. Isn't the water in the stinking ditch better?"

Lucian looked at him mockingly, "That's why you have such a poor taste. Are you really going to match yourself with the water in the stinking ditch?"

Adonis instantly understood, "That's right! Look at me. I was blinded by love."

Lucian was speechless. Was it love?

"Hurry up. Eden doesn't feel well in the car." Lucian urged him.

Adonis looked at him with complaint, "Now I don't feel well, either."

"That's why I let you vent your anger. In that case, you won't nag in front of me anymore." Lucian was mad, because he did not like Adonis's nagging.

Adonis said, "I don't bully girls."

Lucian replied, "If you are willing to be bullied, I have no objection."

Adonis said, "I'm not willing!"

Lucian was very helpless. He really shouldn't have followed them out of the car.

He would never interfere with Adonis's business in the future. It was a waste of time.

Good girl deserved to be cherished, but as for bad girls... he would never tolerate them.

Ingrid was scheming. If she failed to cheat Adonis, she would continue to lie to other men.

"I'll go back to the car first." Lucian said as he left, not wanting to be displeased by them again.

Adonis said, "Lucian, wait for me."

Lucian ignored him and left elegantly.

Adonis glared at Ingrid angrily.

Janice looked at him nervously and tried to explain, "Adonis, listen to me. You misunderstand me. I really like you."

Adonis really wanted to let her go, but he smiled mocking after he heard her words, "You really like me? Is this how you like me? You use my money to support him, and even want me to buy a house for you two! Do you think I'm an idiot? I have money, but I never give money to b*tches."

"Everyone is equal, but not everyone is kind."

Adonis picked up the red wine and poured it on the top of Ingrid's head.

"I never beat women, but you deserve to be beaten by me. Don't let me see you again. Be with someone who is as shameless as you. He is the most suitable for you."

"Ah..." Ingrid cried and did not dare to move.

The people around them picked up their phones and took pictures of this scenes.

After that, Adonis glanced at Lan mockingly, "Watch your girlfriend. Don't let her seduce other men. Don't you even have self-esteem? Ha-ha..."

Adonis left with a sneer directly.

"Oh!" Eden was stunned, "Did Mr. Church bully a woman just now?"

Lucian explained, "She wanted to swindle money from Adonis to buy a house."

Eden was shocked and didn't expect that a girl would be so mean, "Would she live in the house at ease? She really asks for it."

Only when people earned money on their own could they spend the money without worry.

Victor smiled, "Fool, do you think everyone is as kind as you?"

Eden said, "But would she really be happy if she got the house and money in this way? I think the difference among people is in their social cognition. People's horizons determine their cognition, and they have different world views."

A person's experiences were like a huge pit, and it was limited.

Victor rubbed her face with his forehead, "Don't worry about these things. Adonis has encountered such a things for many times."

Eden glanced at him, "Then introduce him to a reliable girl."

Lucian said, "Eden, it's not easy to meet a reliable girl."

Eden was speechless. She would rather believe that there were so many good girls in the world.

Adonis got in the car with annoyance and looked so regretful, "My expensive red wine..."

Eden smiled and said, "Are you distressed because of the red wine or your girlfriend?"

Adonis nodded, and then smiled and said, "Red wine, but now I'm in a much better mood."

Eden was speechless. Was he really in love with her?

"Ha-ha..." Lucian laughed sarcastically, "It seems that you didn't fall in love with her. You can even laugh now."

Adonis leaned against the car window lazily and said with a smile, "She is not worth my love, is she?"

The other three were helpless.

Victor looked speechless, "Don't make a girlfriend by yourself in the future, and don't let your mother introduce girls to you. None of them is reliable."

Adonis turned around and looked at him with a smile, "You can introduce me a reliable one."

Victor shook his head slightly, "I don't know other women."

Adonis said, "You just don't dare to say it in front of Eden, right? There are so many young ladies from powerful families who like you, but you actually said you don't know them."

Victor glared at him. No one would treat him as a mute if he did not speak.

He glanced at Eden. Seeing that she was not angry, he said, "You know all the women I know."

Adonis said with disdain, "If you liked the women you knew, how could you have a crush on me?"

Victor smiled proudly, "You're right!"

Eden suddenly turned to look at him, "Are you very proud?"

Victor immediately stopped smiling, "Eden, I only love you in my heart."

Chapter 980

Adonis's lips twitched. Victor was as obedient as a cat in front of Eden.

Only then did Eden curve her lips with satisfaction and smile brightly.

Everyone knew that Eden had been discharged from the hospital. They all rushed to Windsor Villa to see her.

As soon as Victor pushed Eden into the house, he saw that everyone stood in the hall and waited for her. There were many flowers in the hall.

Eden looked at them and smiled. Then she looked at Jaida and Zaiden, "Dad, mom, I am back."

Jaida and Zaiden's eyes were brimming with tears, and Zaiden said, "Oh! Papa's baby finally woke up. In the future, you must have a good rest. You're not allowed to go to work until you recover."

"Okay, dad!" Eden smiled sweetly.

Zaiden looked at Eden with gratification. As long as Eden woke up, he was willing to do anything.

In the past few years, he had been donating to charity, which was why Eden was so lucky and had a narrow escape from death!

Jaida cried and nodded with a smile, "Eden, you finally woke up. It's great!"

Abigail ran over to hug Eden, and tears ran down her face instantly, "You bad woman, how could you sleep for so long? I miss you and worry about you so much."

Tears streamed down Abigail's cheeks. Fortunately, Eden was safe and sound.

Eden smiled, "Fool, how could I bear to die and leave you in this world alone? I don't want to leave you, either."

"Mm! Fortunately, you have a conscience. People will change their minds. I was so good to you before. If you didn't wake up, I will never talk to you."

"Ha-ha..." Eden laughed and felt so helpless, "Abby, thank you for taking care of me during this period of time."

Abigail smiled and looked at Victor with admiration, "You don't have to thank me. It was your husband who had a hard time in the hospital. He had been staying with you in the hospital. Seeing that he cares about you so much, I don't dislike him anymore."

Victor laughed, "It seems that you didn't trust me in the past."

Abigail let go of Eden, looked at him with raised eyebrows and smiled, "That's right. Do you think you are a person who can be trusted easily?"

Victor was a little speechless. He had always been trustworthy.

Abigail was really...

However, why didn't Anson come here?

He was a coward. After escaping from the hospital, he did not dare to meet Abigail again.

Well... Victor could do nothing about it.

"Eden, congratulations!" Graciella walked over with the help of Loomis and looked at Eden with a grin. Her belly was big.

"Wow! Graciella, why is your belly so big? When I was pregnant with the three children, my belly was not as big as yours." Eden was very excited. Did their families have such inherited genes to get pregnant with twins or three children?

She had given birth to three children, and Graciella was pregnant with twins.

Graciella glanced at her belly. She was no longer well-shaped and had gained a lot of weight.

"Anyway, I can only have a cesarean. I eat a lot everyday in order to nourish myself and the baby. After eating at my own house, I came here to eat. I guess I have to lose weight desperately after giving birth to the baby."

Jaida glanced at her, "You're easy to get hungry now, aren't you? Eat more, and the child will be easier to bring up in the future."

Graciella glanced at her belly and then looked at Loomis who was holding her, complaining, "Isn't my belly big enough now? I've had stretch marks, and applying the olive oil is useless. At first, I felt very excited to be pregnant with twins, but my belly is really ugly."

Loomis smiled, "As long as I don't mind, it is not ugly."

Graciella said, "If you dare to dislike me, I will..." The expression in her eyes changed as she looked at the wicked smile in Loomis's eyes. Her voice became lower and lower, and she didn't dare to finish her words.

Only then did Loomis smile with satisfaction, "Don't worry, it is not ugly. It is beautiful, because it proves that you're a great mother."

Graciella was speechless. Was that so? How come she had never heard of it?

Eden looked at them and smiled. It seemed that Graciella had met her match.

After greeting everyone, Eden looked at her three children. The three of them stood in a row and looked at her with tears.

Victor pushed her over and she looked at them carefully. She had not seen them for more than half a year, and they had grown much taller.

Eden smiled and looked at their little faces one by one. They were very excited and happy. Eden was on the verge of tears, "Babies, I'm back."

"Woo-woo..." Giada could not help but burst into tears when Eden said this. Kenneth and Henrick lowered their heads. They held back their tears and did not cry out loud.

Eden reached out and held the three of them together. They had had a hard time because of her.

"Kenny, Ricky, Gia, I promise you that such a thing will not happen again."

"Woo-woo... Mom, you're so bad..." Ricky said excitedly. The pain and sorrow that had been accumulated in his heart suddenly broke out at this moment.

Eden hugged the three of them tightly. It was too cruel for them when they saw their mother lie on the bed and couldn't open her eyes.

"I'm sorry, my babies." Eden melted into tears. Everyone was affected by the sadness and their eyes misted with tears.

"Mom, if you couldn't wake up, I wouldn't be able to hold on any longer." Kenneth said in a low voice. For the first time, he said such pessimistic words in front of Eden. They really couldn't get used to the life without Eden.

When Eden was in the hospital, they all became reticent.

"Fool, how can I be willing to leave you? I'm fine now, and I won't leave you anymore." Eden let go of the three of them and wiped their tears with a smile, "Don't cry anymore. I'm all right. I'll be able to stand up and walk after resting for a period of time."

Giada lowered her head and looked at Eden's legs. She sniffed and asked, "Mother, are you really all right?"

"Yeah!" Eden smiled and rubbed her head, "Gia, I'm really okay. Did you listen to grandma and grandpa obediently when dad and I were not at home?"

"Mm!" They all nodded.

Zaiden smiled dotingly and said, "Eden, they are very obedient. Don't worry. I've been taking care of them."

Eden looked at Zaiden gratefully. She heard from Victor that Zaiden refused all the social activities and took care of the three children with her mother at home.

In the future, she would definitely be filial to them.

They were family, and they would never give up at any time.

"Thank you, dad! You've been tired these days. When I can stand up and walk, you can have a trip with mom. This is your wish." Eden said with a smile.

Zaiden was delighted and asked with a smile, "Eden, are you willing to take over my company?"

He had long wanted to retire, and he had been waiting for Eden's decision.
