Phew!

Luna heaved a sigh of relief. She took out a piece of tissue to wipe off the sweat and blood on her face.

“It took me a while to hunt you down, Great Marshal. You shall meet your end today.”

Zeke said in a calm voice, “I should be saying that to you. I shall send you to reunite with the Satan Forces.”

Luna snorted, “Still trying to act tough, huh? You’re all alone now. How are you going to fight me?”

Zeke replied, “Let me ask you. Between you and Solis, who’s stronger?”

“Solis is slightly more powerful than me,” Luna answered truthfully.

Zeke continued, “If I can kill Solis, what makes you think that I’m not capable of killing you?”

Luna let out another cold snort, “Stop pretending. You had snipers who protected you in secret, and they’re the ones who killed Solis.”

“Did you even see it with your own eyes?” Zeke smirked, “Or did you hear it from someone?”

Luna defended herself, “So what? What’s the difference?”

“Big difference,” Zeke said.

NH

Luna was sick of him, “Enough of this small talk. Go to hell!”

“Hold on!” Zeke roared, “There’s still something that confuses me to this day. You and I are Pietro’s disciples, so why do you want to assassinate me?”

Luna was taken aback, “You knew?”

Zeke nodded.

Luna continued, “Since you’re about to die, I might as well tell you. If it weren’t for you, we would have become the Great Marshal. You stole everything from us. Is it too much if we want you dead?”

Realization dawned on Zeke, “I see. What’s the surname of Pietro, and who is he? A year ago, why did he disappear? Do you have anything to do with his disappearance?”

Luna responded in annoyance, “You’re such a nuisance. Don’t worry. I’ll tell you everything when I visit you at your grave.”

“I’ll send you to hell myself today, and I want that old man to know he made a mistake by choosing you over us. Let’s fight!”

Zeke said, “Alright then. But before you make your move, you better show me your most powerful stance of Seven Stars of the Tiger first. You won’t be able to defeat me if you decide to go with other techniques.”

NH

Once again, Luna was stunned, “Damn it. You know about the Seven Stars of the Tiger too.”

“Not only do I know about it, but I know it like the back of my hand,” Zeke said.

Luna exclaimed, “Impossible! Pietro once told us that he had imparted each of four stances of Seven Stars of the Tiger to each of one of us, and he said he would never teach anyone else, including you. Did the old man lie to us? What did he teach you?”

“All four stances of Seven Stars of the Tiger,” Zeke answered.

“Damn it!” Luna cursed, “How can that old man be so biased. Anyway, so what if you’ve mastered Seven Stars of the Tiger? It’s the combat of skill of the King Class.”

She continued, “An archduke would have to sacrifice his or her foundations first before acquiring the skill. Now that you’ve lost your foundations, you won’t be able to practice it anymore. Time to meet your death!”

Without wasting any more time, Luna shook her arms and shot two daggers at Zeke.

It was so fast that it literally moved at supersonic speeds.

The friction with air caused the high-speed dagger to burn a fiery red as if it had just come right out of the furnace. The sight of it was magnificent.

NH

Zeke stood there completely unfazed. He merely waved his hand gently when the daggers reached him.

The daggers lost their momentum all of a sudden and dropped to the ground.

What?

Luna was utterly stupefied, and her mind went blank.

Didn't he lost his foundations and become an ordinary person?

How come he still manages to emit a powerful force like a Platinum Archduke warrior?

It seems like he's even more powerful than me!

Damn it. The Great Marshal has not lost his foundations at all! It's all a lie!

Now it's clear that Solis did die in his hands.

Zeke grinned, "I've told you. You might have a chance if you fight with me using Seven Stars of the Tiger. Otherwise, you're just wasting your effort."

The reason why Zeke did not kill Luna immediately was because he wanted her to demonstrate the third stance of Seven Stars of the Tiger first.

Damn it!

Luna gritted her teeth, "Fine! Since you ask for it!"

With her ability, Luna knew she could never defeat Zeke. If she insisted on fighting against him, it would be a lost cause.

She had no other option but to sacrifice her foundations and demonstrate the third stance of the Seven Stars of the Tiger.

By doing this, she might be able to walk out of here alive.

NH

She could also take Zeke down with the King's Combat Skill!

Yet, she hesitated for a moment.

No matter what happened, she would still die if she sacrificed her foundations in Eurasia.

In the end, she heaved a sigh and said, "You've blindsided all of us, Zeke Williams. You'll die for sure had I demonstrated the King's Combat Skill."

"Of course, since I'm not able to get out of here alive too, I'll spare your life this round. Get lost now and we'll go our separate ways. Let's not offend each other anymore," she continued.

Zeke smirked, "There's a saying in Eurasia, anyone who offended Eurasia will have to pay the price. So today you must die!"

What the hell?

Fury coursed through Luna's veins, "Very well. Since you want to die, I'll grant you your wish!"

She slammed her chest with her right hand and vomited a mouthful of blood.

Luna had destroyed her foundations and turned them into a source of energy.

She manipulated the powerful energy and turned it into the shape of a ferocious tiger.

Though the tiger she released was not as large as Solis's, the manifestation of her energy was clearly more powerful than his.

“Seven Stars of the Tiger, third stance, Tiger Roar!” Luna roared.

The tiger, too, roared aggressively.

It was not just a simple roar. The sound wave contained powerful energy that reverberated through the valley.

It echoed throughout the forest and caused chaotic changes in the flow of air nearby. Dark clouds loomed over the sky, and the temperature of the narrow valley dropped to a freezing point.

The roar caused the rocks to crush into pieces. Even the dark clouds went on a rampage due to the extreme reverberation.

The deafening roar echoed in the narrow valley for a long time.

Being able to witness this in person got Zeke excited.

Tiger Roar, the third stance of Seven Stars of the Tiger, was indeed powerful.

The power it released was comparable to that of the first and second stances combined.

Through this revelation, Zeke believed he could attain Ultimate Class had he mastered the third stance.

In a matter of seconds, the powerful sound wave of the tiger roar had approached him.

NH

Though the roar had not exactly harmed Zeke, it caused a buzzing sound in his head.

Without further ado, Zeke did what she did earlier and was ready to demonstrate the third stance of Seven Stars of the Tiger.

He shook his body to unleash a powerful wave of King Class energy and compress the energy into another ferocious tiger.

“Seven Stars of the Tiger, third stance, Tiger Roar!” he bellowed.

Roar!

Zeke’s tiger, too, let out a roar that was more deafening than that of Luna’s.

The sound waves of the tigers collided in the air, and Luna’s tiger was instantly vaporized, vanishing into thin air.

Yet, the sound wave of Zeke’s tiger remained powerful. The tiger then gathered destructive power and charged at Luna.

What?

Luna was absolutely thunderstruck, and her body trembled uncontrollably.
