

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 1107 She Doesn't Believe a Word?

He hurriedly opened his mouth, "It's not what you think... He really likes you. It's just that he doesn't know how to say it and he can't pocket his pride to do that."

Gloria sneered. She didn't believe a word George said.

The corner of George's mouth twitched. Damn it! How many abominable things did Jordy do that made Gloria hate him so much and didn't even believe a word he said?

George sighed helplessly, "Listen, in fact, Jordy hadn't really hated you since the beginning."

Gloria's eyelashes suddenly fluttered, but she came to her senses the next moment. It seemed that George was a lobbyist for Jordy. He was trying to talk her into trusting Jordy, and then she would remarry him. In the future, she would work for the Collins Group and would not cooperate with the Brown Group anymore, which was an additional benefit for the Collins Group.

After all... she was worth a lot of money.

Gloria only felt it sarcastic.

Sometimes she really wanted to be an ordinary person. Then people wouldn't approach her with a purpose. Maybe she could meet a person who loved her sincerely.

But now...

The people around her...

Heh...

Gloria lowered her eyes and didn't want to talk to George anymore. She said calmly, "If you are here for this, you can leave now. I want to have a rest."

"No!" George was anxious, "I know you don't want to hear it, but I have to make it clear to you. Then you can reconsider it, otherwise, you'll never know the truth."

Gloria immediately raised her eyes at him with some displeasure. Although she didn't say a word, her meaning was very obvious. She just didn't want to deal with men like Jordy.

George continued, "Come on, I won't waste your time. I'll make it short!"

He looked at Gloria after saying that and found that the irritation in her eyes was stronger. When Gloria was about to speak, George suddenly said, "Well! At the beginning, when your grandpa, no, Jordy's grandpa asked him to marry you, Jordy didn't say no!"

Gloria's eyelashes fluttered slightly, and she looked a little surprised.

"At that time, he was healthy. He thought if he could, he would spend his life with you. But then he was suddenly drugged and had to have sex with you."

Gloria's expression changed slightly. She didn't speak, but she was more and more grim-faced.

George saw this and quickly continued, "At that time, although he didn't refuse to marry you, he felt that it wasn't time to get married, so he wanted to put off your engagement. However, his grandpa wanted to bind the interests of the White Group to that of their Collins Group, so he did that. In fact, he knew that Angela had drugged you at that time."

Gloria raised her head and looked at him in surprise, "What do you mean?"

"That night, you were also drugged. I knew that, and Jordy also knew it, but he didn't believe it at that time. He thought it was you, your father and his grandfather..."

At this point, George's expression changed slightly. Damn it! Why did he mention that again?

He quickly tried to change the topic, but Gloria suddenly sneered.

Chapter 1108 Listen to Mel

"He thought that my father and I went to his grandpa and then the news that I had sex with him would get around, so he had to be responsible for me and I could marry him smoothly. He hated it that I set him up like that, didn't he?"

George was speechless.

Damn it!

She got it wrong!

He quickly shook his head and said firmly, "But that is a misunderstanding! It's a mistake! This matter has nothing to do with you or your father. It was Jordy's grandpa's scheme. He knew that Angela drugged you and would make you have sex with a man, so he played her game and replaced that man with Jordy. It was a strange twist of events.”

Gloria looked away and didn't want to speak. Her eyes seemed to be filled with endless sarcasm.

When she got up that day, she was totally confused. But when she found that the man beside her was Jordy, she was happy and flustered.

She felt that it was the greatest blessing in her life to have her first sex with Jordy.

But...

When Jordy woke up and found it was her, his cold eyes were filled with anger. Gloria saw the disappointment in his eyes. He asked her with anger if she was satisfied with what happened.

She was completely dumbfounded.

He was not the only victim, but he felt that he was and thought that it was her who set him up shamelessly.

It was really ridiculous.

Thinking back to what happened on that day, Gloria only felt that she was greatly insulted, but she could do nothing about it. After all, she couldn't even explain why that happened, and she couldn't prove that she was set up by others.

“Enough.” Gloria didn't want to hear another word from George. She said in a flat tone, “Just go.”

George hurriedly said, “Come on! I haven't finished yet! You should hear me out!”

He didn't care whether Gloria was irritated or not but continued, “At that time, no one could clear you... the misunderstanding. It was complicated. It was evitable that Jordy would misunderstand Later, Angela began to play tricks. She even pretended to be a vegetable for so long. She actually could put up with that. And Jordy changed his mind gradually in this period, but he never had feelings for Angela. Trust me!”

Gloria frowned, and the irritation in her eyes seemed stronger. George ignored it and continued, “Later, you asked for a divorce. He didn't want to divorce at that time. I could see that, but what you did after that made him agree to get divorced. He felt uncomfortable, not because he felt humiliated but because he simply didn't want to get divorced.”

Gloria sneered, "Don't you think your joke is not funny at all?"

"I'm telling you the truth!" George looked sincere, "He was actually a workaholic, but after he divorced you, he often drank with us. Oh, no, I almost forgot the most important thing!"

George looked at Gloria seriously, "Not long after he married you, he found out that he had cancer!"

Chapter 1109 That's Because He Cares About You!

Gloria's eyes lit up and she didn't speak.

She no longer intended to drive George away but wanted to let him finish.

George naturally wanted Gloria to hear him out. He continued, "When Jordy knew that he had cancer, he was in a lower mood. Carlos had been trying to help him treat his cancer and prolong his life. Jordy found he had cancer early and only a few of us knew that. At that time, he was more determined to divorce you, but... people are complicated. Although he knew he should divorce you, he can't stand breaking up with you. So, he kept putting off getting divorced."

Gloria frowned and did not speak. She did not know whether to believe what George said or not. No, to be exact, she didn't believe it at all.

George naturally saw her mood and sighed helplessly, "I know... You might not believe what I said, and even doubt whether Jordy sent me here to be the lobbyist, but I just wanted to tell you all the facts I know."

Gloria sneered, "Enough. I won't believe anything you say."

If what George said were true, Jordy would not have asked her to remarry her knowing that he had cancer. Obviously, he was not responsible for what he said. He just wanted her to be a widow after he died. Maybe... this was his revenge for her.

He wanted to get back at her because she set him up and took his virginity. Heh...

Gloria didn't want to think about it anymore, but George quickly said, "Come on! Jordy is stubborn. He won't admit that he likes you even in front of us, but it is true that he drank to forget back then. At that time, he knew that he had stomach cancer, but he still drank every day. We could not stop him. Carlos could only find a way to help him eliminate the alcohol. Do you know how sad he was at that time?”

“And!” Seeing that Gloria was becoming more and more impatient, George raised his voice and quickly continued, “He has cancer but still wants to remarry you, because... he cares about you!”

Gloria was confused.

She was directly amused by George’s words. Was he serious?

“He really cares about you. Jonathan has been trying to get close to you. You don’t know what kind of person Jonathan is, but Jordy does! Jonathan might marry you on a whim, but he has great ambition. Once he finds that there are other women who are more valuable than you, he will dump you immediately! Then you would be thrown back to hell! You’ll feel like hell!”

Light flickered in Gloria’s eyes. She had always lived in hell and had been abandoned by Jordy. He knew how it feel like, but she couldn’t stop him from doing that, could she?

“And Corey! He is not a good guy, either. Although he is gay, it is just a rumor made up by himself. He is also a purposeful man!”

“Corey?” Gloria looked at George with a frown.

Light flickered in George’s eyes, and he continued, “Yes, Jordy saw you and Corey in the bar again.’

Chapter 1110 Successfully Disappeared

A trace of coldness flashed across Gloria’s eyes, and she didn’t speak.

“He just bumped into you, not followed you on purpose. After all, people talk about business in bars, and he often goes there.”

Gloria did not speak. George took a breath and continued, “Jordy felt that Jonathan and Corey were not good men. He was afraid that you would be hurt by them, so he proposed to remarry you. Another reason why he did so was that he... liked you! He has been very attentive to you! It’s just that he always did that in an annoying way.”

He was domineering!

George didn’t say these words.

Gloria looked very calm. George sized her up. The corner of his mouth twitched, and he said, “You still don’t believe what I said?”

Gloria curled her lip, "In my eyes, he is worse than Jonathan. Are you done? Can you leave now?"

George was speechless.

She knew he wasn't willing to leave, so she thought that he would leave willingly after she let him finish?

He looked at Gloria with a questioning look in his eyes. Gloria raised an eyebrow as if asking, "Can you just go?"

George was speechless.

He took a deep breath. Forget it, he had done his best to persuade her! And he had helped Jordy as much as he could. It was Gloria's business whether she believed what he said or not.

With this in mind, George said helplessly, "Okay, I'm leaving. Every word I said just now was true. If don't believe me, you can talk to Jordy, or try to get back together with him. I guess he will give you many surprises!"

you

Then he added, "He isn't a romantic, but it is also good to be with such a man!"

Gloria sneered and said nothing.

George sighed helplessly. He said nothing, got up, got out of the room and closed the door for Gloria.

Gloria sat on the sofa motionlessly, not intending to have a rest.

After she talked to George, her complicated feelings of being kissed and hugged by Jordy disappeared successfully.

She took out her mobile phone and browsed Twitter.

She left Jordy behind and enjoyed her phone.

If George knew that Gloria was more sober and calm after he talked to her, he would be upset. Instead of helping them make up, he made things worse!

Two hours passed quickly.

Karen woke up and went downstairs. She sat on the sofa in the living room.

These kids came to see her. She was naturally happy and wanted to spend every second with them. But she didn't want to wake them up from their dreams. She came down to wait for them to wake up, but she saw the four kids sitting on the sofa in the living room as soon as she came down.

Karen said in surprise, "Oh, you've all got up."

She said as she walked to the sofa.

George laughed, "Yes, did you sleep well?"

Karen smiled, "Sure, you guys got up earlier than me."
