

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1143-1150

Chapter 1143 He Is Serious

"Sorry, I can't." Gloria answered him casually, and then she looked at Jonathan, "Is there anything else? I want to go back now."

Jonathan smiled, "I'll give you a ride."

"No, I'll go back by myself. Enjoy your party." After all, it was their party. Gloria didn't want Jonathan to leave the party for her.

But...

How could Jonathan let her go back home alone? Besides, he was eager to get the chance to stay with her. The next moment, he got up and said, "No, I'm good. I'll give you a ride."

After saying that, he took two steps forward and opened the door for Gloria.

Gloria's eyes turned slightly. When she was about to say something, Abelard immediately said, as if he had seen through her thoughts, "Oh, Mrs. Brown, just let him give you a ride. He can't enjoy the party after you leave. You know, all his attention is on you, and you'll take his attention away with your departure."

Gloria frowned. She immediately looked at Abelard and said calmly, "You can call me Gloria."

Abelard froze and then he laughed, "Oh, I blurted that out. You two are so perfect for each other. I'm sorry, but I hope I can call you Mrs. Brown someday."

Gloria frowned again, but didn't say anything else. She walked out directly. Jonathan took a look at his friends and followed Gloria out.

When the door was closed, Abelard looked away, and wiped the teasing smile off his face. He looked at the other three people and said with a puzzled look, "This is difficult for Jonathan. That woman doesn't like him at all. He has made so many efforts, but they are still only partners in cooperation."

Clarence shrugged, "That woman is dreadful. She hacks others' computers whenever she wants. Nobody would want such a woman."

"Hahaha, you idiot. If you had not taken the initiative to hack her computer to test your skill, how could she have done that? You deserve it!"

"Shut up! I'm the victim, okay?" Clarence never mentioned that he took the initiative to hack Gloria's computer, but repeatedly said that he was the victim.

Douglas pushed the gold-rimmed glasses on his face again and said thoughtfully, "It's hard to say whether they would be together. It's hard for Jonathan."

Noah narrowed his eyes, and said with an indifferent look, "He chose the woman by himself. Since he wants to get her, he has to make many efforts.

They suddenly fell silent, as if thinking about something.

At this moment, Gloria and Jonathan had come to the car. Jonathan opens the door for Gloria, with a gentle smile on his lips, "Please get in, my princess."

Gloria was speechless.

She was a little upset, but if she refused and told him that she wanted to go back herself, she would sound very hypocritical. Besides, he wouldn't let her go back alone. She did that before but still took his car in the end.

When she saw Jonathan wearing the driver's seat belt, she thought for a moment and said, "Jonathan, I think there's something I need to say to you again. I'm serious."

Chapter 1144 I Like You

Jonathan raised an eyebrow and looked at Gloria in front of him who had a serious look. He sighed,

"I know what you are going to say, but I won't listen to you."

Gloria looked at Jonathan with a frown. She didn't speak immediately, and was already a little upset. He was always like this. It would bring trouble to both of them.

But...

Jonathan seemed to mean what he said.

When she was torn, Jonathan sighed softly, "Gloria."

Gloria lifted her eyes at him in silence.

Jonathan said with a calm look, "You never believed me. You always think that I approach you with a purpose. I've told you repeatedly that time would reveal a man's heart."

Gloria had a complicated expression. When she wanted to refute, he continued, "If you still doubt my sincerity, you can wait and see."

There were only the two of them in the car. Jonathan was not in a hurry to drive. Since she wanted to talk, he would talk with her.

Gloria frowned with disapproval in her eyes, "In fact, it's unnecessary. I know what's what. Others might be moved by your sincerity, but I..."

Gloria gave a somewhat ironic smile, "I don't deserve to be loved."

She was a divorced woman and didn't deserve to be loved.

Even if Jonathan truly loved her, she would not be moved at all, let alone he didn't. Just like what she said to Bryson before, they could have a better life without her. She was a divorced woman who wouldn't have feelings for men anymore. They wouldn't get any love from her even if they were with her.

She... wasn't qualified for a relationship a long time ago.

Gloria turned her head at the thought of this.

But a trace of anger flashed across Jonathan's eyes, which had always been soft and deep, after he heard the last sentence she said.

He directly raised a hand and grabbed her wrist. Gloria turned her head to him and wanted to draw her arm back.

"Let go of me." She looked at him, surprised at the sullenness in his eyes.

Jonathan gazed at her and said calmly, "One can't force anyone to love him. It's okay that you don't like me but you can't say that you don't deserve to be loved."

Jonathan sounded a little angry and he said with emphasis. Gloria looked more and more surprised.

She looked at Jonathan and paused slightly, "You..."

"Gloria, I like you. I mean it, and I never lied about that." Jonathan's tone was gentle, and the firmness in his words was obvious.

Gloria's eyelashes fluttered. She raised her eyes slightly and looked at the man in front of her again, then she saw the love and sincerity in his eyes. This was the expression she had never seen on his face before.

After pausing for a moment, Gloria drew her hand back very smoothly. Jonathan did not forcibly grab her hand like Jordy did.

Gloria was relieved about this.

But... she wouldn't choose either of them.

She lowered her eyes slightly and didn't want to talk about this anymore. She recovered calm and said, "Please just send me back home."

Chapter 1145 The Figure Appears on the Stairs

It was suddenly quiet in the car.

Gloria calmly looked at Jonathan in front of her.

However, Jonathan did not start the car immediately, but looked at the beautiful woman in front of him.

He sighed, "Gloria, I didn't want to force you, but if I don't do something, you'll be farther and farther away from me."

The look in Gloria's eyes changed slightly. She immediately looked at Jonathan with some vigilance. Although she didn't say anything, she was obviously on guard against him.

Jonathan was immediately amused by her reaction, "Don't worry. I won't do anything to you."

Light flickered in Gloria's eyes, and she did not relax her vigilance.

Jonathan gazed at her and said seriously, "I will drive you to work and pick you up every day from tomorrow on."

A trace of irritation flashed across Gloria's eyes, "If you do that, our cooperation will completely terminate."

Jonathan gazed at her in silence.

He knew that she did not like it.

But he was telling the truth. If he did not approach her, she would be farther and farther away from him, and he would never have a chance to get closer to her.

Jonathan had high EQ, but he was still in a dilemma at the moment.

"Forget it. I'll go back on my own." Gloria untied her seat belt, but the car door was suddenly locked. Jonathan had started the car.

Gloria took a look at him and saw that he had focused on driving. She buckled her seat belt again.

Soon, the car left the underground parking lot.

They didn't speak on the way, and the air became more comfortable. Gloria breathed a sigh of relief.

There were more and more discussions about Jonathan's meeting with Gloria on Twitter. Some people waited outside the parking lot for them.

To their surprise!

They really saw them coming out in the car!

They took pictures of them madly!

These pictures were all posted online!

Many people talked about it like crazy.

And many people saw the trending topic.

So did Jordy.

At this moment, Jordy looked so sullen. It was time to sleep, but he didn't feel sleepy at all. He was wrapped up in a cold aura after seeing the picture of Jonathan and Gloria walking side by side.

He put down his mobile phone irritably without reading the comments such as Jonathan and Gloria 'were a cute couple.

He had been suppressing his restlessness, but he lost control of it at the thought that Gloria was still with that man. The next moment, he picked up his mobile phone and rushed out of the door.

Jordy drove very fast. When he arrived at Gloria's house, he found that the yard was empty. There were no other people or Jonathan's car here.

Jordy's cold expression softened. Obviously, Jonathan did not spend the night here.

He opened the car door and got out.

A moment later, he walked into her house.

It was her home.

But he could open the door with his fingerprint.

Gloria, who had just finished her bath, suddenly realized something was wrong. She wrapped herself in a bath towel and immediately walked out without thinking too much.

After a few steps, she saw the figure on the stairs.

Her face darkened instantly!

Chapter 1146 What Do You Think I Want?

What is he doing here?

How did he get in?

Gloria looked coldly at the man in front of her. She did not say a word, but displeasure was manifest in her eyes.

Jordy looked sulky, but when he saw Gloria come out in her towel, he could not drag his gaze away from her.

Jordy did not take another step forward, nor did Gloria. They were just a few yards apart

Gloria hurried out to see who was out there, so she did not turn on the light. The only light came from the bedroom. Both Jordy and Gloria remained silent for quite a long time. Gloria's surly face darkened, and finally, she broke the silence.

"Did I leave the door open so that you came straight in?" Sarcasm dripped from her voice. Gloria did not mean what she said. She couldn't have left the door open; otherwise, the door would have delivered an alert!

But the fact was that Jordy appeared out of nowhere. Gloria's face contorted with anger.

Still mute, Jordy took two steps forward and did not stop until he was just inches away from her.

"What did you do today?" Jordy sounded calm. He was not questioning her.

But Gloria sensed a tone of displeasure in his voice and some...

Gloria was hesitant. Jealousy?

Why do I feel that way? It must be an illusion!

Gloria's face dropped. "This is my business. And I want to know when you added your fingerprints to my door lock system! When did you give me the key to my door?"

Gloria hardened her voice at the last words, and her eyes burned darkly with fury.

Gloria clutched the towel hard so that it wouldn't slide down her body. She wasn't shy at all. The towel was tightly wrapped around her, much better than a bikini.

It was just...

Unbeknownst to her, Jordy did not think the same way...

They had just come closer to each other, and there were only inches between them.

Jordy was able to see her more clearly.

Gloria's towel was not very big, bringing out her attractive curves. Her legs were long and slim, and her skin was as silky. Her wet hair fell deliciously over her bare shoulders and curled at her breast. The faint light from the room flecked her whole curvy body...

Jordy found Gloria to be seductive!

He swallowed.

He stared at Gloria and was not in a hurry to speak.

His silence riled Gloria up. "Get out! Now!"

Gloria stopped being curious about how Jordy got into her house. She just wanted him out of her sight right now!

Jordy, however, had no intention of leaving. Without another slight pause, he fastened a cold eye upon the angry woman in front of him.

After a moment's hesitation, Jordy stepped closer to Gloria, who gathered her towel around her and took a step back. She looked at him defensively. "What do you want?"

Instead of getting angry, Jordy laughed at her response and jibed in a cold voice, "You're in the towel. What do you think I want?"

With that, Jordy drew nearer to her.

Chapter 1147 The Worst Three Years

Gloria

took two steps backward in fright. If she kept going, she would retreat into her bedroom. Her face was as white as a sheet.

“Jordy Collins!” Gloria called out Jordy’s full name in case he did something stupid again

After the divorce, he hugged me and kissed me. I’m really worried that...

At this moment, Gloria shrank from the thought. Even though she had told herself not to be a narcissist and reminded herself that Jordy hated her, but... she couldn’t deny what Jordy had done to her during this time.

If he hated her, why did he kiss her?

Gloria’s face grew paler as she watched Jordy coming closer. The next moment, she dashed into the bedroom, closed the door, and locked it.

Only then did she realize that the key was in the door.

Gloria frowned and pressed her back against the door, her face ashen.

“Jordy Collins, get out of here. You’re not welcome!”

Bastard! How did he get the key or add his fingerprint to my door lock system?

Why does he have a key to my door?

Wait, wait.

Gloria suddenly froze. She had given Karen a key in case Karen wanted to come to her.

Karen gave Jordy the key, didn’t she?

Almost immediately, Gloria dismissed the thought. She believed that Karen would never do such a thing. Even if Jordy did get the key from Karen, it would only happen without Karen’s knowledge.

Gloria’s frown deepened. She pressed her back against the door harder in case Jordy turned the key and walked in.

A moment later, Gloria heard a cold voice laced with sarcasm from the door. "I never tried to take you to bed during our marriage, let alone now."

Gloria frowned and said nothing. She didn't know whether to believe him.

For a while, there was no sound. Gloria moved a little and thought Jordy had no intention of coming in. She snatched a set of pajamas out of the wardrobe and slipped into it. For an instant, she seemed to be lulled into a false sense of security.

After a while, Jordy still had no intention of leaving. After a moment's hesitation, Gloria said gravely, "So what are you doing here?"

"Open the door," said Jordy briefly in a frosty voice.

Gloria then did as he said. She was dressed now and not afraid of anything. She pined Jordy's sullen face with her icy gaze. "If you have something to say, finish it and then leave!"

If it weren't for courtesy, Gloria would curse loudly.

A vein pulsed in Jordy's brow. The next moment, he said seriously, "I told you to stay away from Jonathan, but you didn't listen to me. You got closer to him instead. Do you know the consequences?"

Jordy's voice was frigid, but Gloria could not help laughing. "I am all on my own. I am not threatened by anyone. What am I afraid of?"

Jordy's face grew gloomier. Gloria continued with a sneer, "Besides, the worst three years of my life are over. What could be worse than that?"

Chapter 1148 She Really Knew How to Irritate Him!

For a moment, Jordy's face changed a little.

Jordy looked at Gloria's mocking smile with mixed feelings but said nothing with his lips pursed.

Gloria looked him in the eye and said grimly, "Mr. Collins, you don't have to worry about me. And stop keeping an eye on me. I will try my best to help you with your illness and Karen's condition. That's all. We lead separate lives."

Gloria sounded casual as if they had nothing to do with each other. It was as if she didn't care about him anymore.

If she was not feigning indifference, she was really able to take it in stride after she went through her ups and downs.

"We lead separate lives?" Jordy repeated with a snort.

Gloria frowned again, and Jordy gave her a cold look. "You and I haven't made a clean break yet. How can we go our separate ways?"

Gloria's brows snapped together. "Jordy, we're divorced."

Gloria was piqued. She could no longer stay placid and call him Mr. Collins as she had done before.

But Jordy thought this was Gloria's true self. He was tired of hearing her call him that.

He had never heard her call him... hubby.

Not even during their marriage.

He once said to her that even if they were married, that did not mean they were a real couple.

She was his wife in name only.

Jordy was a little annoyed and rubbed his eyebrows. After a pause, he stared at Gloria and warned, "Jonathan is not what he seems. Stay away from him, or you'll get hurt."

Gloria said indifferently, "He's one of my business partners and that's it, just like you. You both are my business partners. We have shared interests and no relationship issues."

Jordy was boiling with silent wrath and losing control of himself.

Gloria was getting on his last nerve!

She really knew how to get him angry!

Gloria was relieved that Jordy did not do anything to her. She hated to see him here and growled,

"Go now."

Gloria said briefly, not wanting to waste her breath.

However, Jordy did not turn to leave but took two steps forward. Gloria's face changed slightly. She was about to close the door when Jordy blocked it with his foot and strode into her bedroom.

The bedroom light was left on, so he could see everything inside. He was even a little stunned.

This room looked like the one they used to share with each other.

But they were decorated differently. Jordy couldn't help but feel warm as a fresh smell filled his nostrils.

He had felt the same way when she had lived with him. However, he was not in love with her at that time. He was annoyed even though he noticed something different.

Jordy's frown deepened.

He seemed to hate himself just the way he was.

Gloria suddenly got angry and roared, interrupting his thought, "Get out!"

Chapter 1149 You Don't Deserve Me

For an instant, Jordy's face turned puce with rage.

Gloria pointed at the door. Jordy suddenly grasped her hand, glowered at her, and snarled, "Gloria, do you have a heart?"

Hearing this, Gloria laughed angrily.

Jordy had asked her that a hundred times!

And she had only responded twice. Do I have a heart? Doesn't he know the answer?

Didn't he know how much I loved him?

Now he even has the cheek to ask me again!

Anger simmered inside Gloria. She glared at Jordy and shouted, "I wish I had no heart, and I would have not wasted three years of my life on this terrible relationship watching you toy with my affections!"

Jordy's face turned grimmer! Before he could speak, Gloria looked at him coldly and went on. Her words rushed out in a torrent.

"I wish I were heartless. I wouldn't have had the worst three years of my life waiting for you to come back to me! I wouldn't have put up with you flirting around. I must have been crazy. I loved you so much! I tried so hard just to be with you!"

Jordy held her gaze steadily and pursed his lips, but suddenly he didn't know what to say.

However, Gloria continued shouting as loudly as she could, "I really thought if I tried harder, you would be into me, and we would have a happy ending. Before that incident happened, I felt you treated me differently. You came to me very often. But after that, you thought I was calculating and suddenly hated me. I was a victim too. I explained it to you a hundred times. Did you ever trust me once?"

Jordy frowned. She had told him many times that she was a victim, but he never believed a word of

1. it.

Jordy was mute. Gloria's eyes flashed as she laughed sarcastically, "See, you still don't believe me. What's the point of this conversation? Jordy, you ask me again and again, but you don't believe me. Don't you think it's ridiculous?"

Jordy stared at Gloria but said nothing, his lips pressed together.

Gloria gave a mocking smile. "We're not meant to be together. Just like you said before, I didn't deserve to be your wife. You derided me and disdained me. You thought I forced you into marriage. I've already set you free, but why are you here for me? Are you insane? Don't you think you look so bad here?"

Jordy's face was as gloomy as a thunderstorm, but Gloria was not afraid at all. She gazed at him and said sarcastically, "You are trying to get back the person you once despised the most. Are your interests so important that you can be so shameless? You earn much more money than what I can get you! You're already wealthy, aren't you?"

"Jordy, wake up! You said you deserved much better than me, but now you're not good enough for me! You don't deserve my loyalty!"

Chapter 1150 Please Leave

You're not good enough for me!

Jordy grew black as a thundercloud in a moment. He never thought he would hear such words from Gloria's mouth. He lifted his eyes and saw her serious face.

In an instant, a vein bulged, blue and swollen, in Jordy's brow.

But he covered up his anger with a new feeling as if he had forgotten what had happened just now.

At this moment, he grew sulkier, and his eyes were colder than ever.

Gloria felt a little exhausted.

Finally, Gloria couldn't stand the sight of Jordy. She turned her head and said in a quiet voice, "Just go."

Gloria didn't want to waste any more energy on him. What was the use of telling him that much?

It was like she couldn't get over him.

What was the point of telling him what she had been through all these years? He did not believe a word of her story. He hated her even more. If she continued, he would find her the butt of a joke.

And she would find herself a clown.

Gloria's lips curled in a swift sneer. She shouldn't have talked that much. Maybe it was because she harbored much resentment and could no longer keep it to herself.

She would never talk about it again.

There was no need to bring it up. This was just a waste of their time. And she would end up being mocked. It was not worth it.

Jordy stared at Gloria, who stopped being emotional and instead began to calm down. He could feel the anger boiling up inside him.

He found her composure totally unacceptable.

Jordy rubbed his eyebrows as if weary and then explained, "That was then, and this is now. I hope you can see the difference."

Gloria threw him a cold look. "Please leave."

She said shortly, not wanting to talk to him more than necessary.

Jordy lapsed into silence and turned to walk out.

However, he did not leave Gloria's house but made his way to his bedroom.

Gloria didn't stop him because she couldn't. After he left, Gloria went to the door, took the key out, closed the door, and locked it.

Her movement was swift.

With a frown, Gloria then went back to the bathroom to dry her hair before lying down on the bed.

She had no idea why Jordy was like a different person overnight and submitted silently to such an insult for the sake of his interests.

Or did he never care about how much profit she made on the deal? It was just that Jonathan was a thorn in his flesh.

Jordy is worried if Jonathan and I work together more often, I'll be biased towards him.

Gloria scowled and snorted. So that's the reason. Jordy's so calculating. He has so many worries. That's what a seasoned business think.

Gloria drew a deep breath, halted her thoughts, and then closed her eyes again. It was important to rest well. She had business to take care of tomorrow.

However, Gloria did not sleep well, nor did Jordy. When Gloria woke up the next morning, she found breakfast on the table. Seeing Jordy come out of the kitchen, she was frozen in place for a moment.
