Chapter 1201 He Only Cared about Gloria!

All the red wine in the trays spilled out!

One waiter hit on Rachel so hard that she subconsciously grabbed Gloria's arm to steady herself. When Gloria was about to support her, the waiter beside her suddenly turned around. Gloria couldn't avoid him, so she and Rachel fell to the ground together, and the red wine all spilled on them!

Because Gloria was closer, she suffered more red wine spills, and her light blue dress got wet. Fortunately, it was thick, so it did not become see-through.

But Rachel's situation was not so good because she was wearing a thin pink dress. After it got wet, some parts became almost transparent, so people could see her underwear!

"Look!

The party fell into chaos. Because people were always paying attention to these two heavyweights, so when they suddenly fell to the ground together, everyone rushed over. Someone shouted, Miss Roberts and Miss White fell! Let's go to have a look!"

Jordy had been paying close attention to Gloria. And when he saw her embarrassed look, he immediately strode toward her with a deep frown!

Rachel's face was particularly gloomy. When her assistant came over and helped her stand up, she said in a deep voice, "Investigate it right away!"

"Yes, Miss Roberts."

The waiters who had regardless sprinted at them had completely changed their attitude with the empty trays in their hands. Looking at the mess, they put on panicked faces and hurriedly apologized in fluster, "Sorry, Miss Roberts. We didn't mean it. I'm sorry!"

Rachel looked at them coldly and asked, "You didn't mean it?"

Even a fool could see they had done it on purpose. The waiters looked flustered and kept shaking their heads as if they didn't know how to explain. The look in their eyes was telling others that they had been possessed by ghosts and had not bumped against the ladies on their own initiative.

Gloria stood up in silence. It was Rachel's business, so she should not be officious. Moreover, she had fallen into such a mess that she was in no mood to intervene. So, she walked directly toward the lavatory.

When Jordy suddenly came over and covered his suit jacket on her body, she was shocked. But before she could react, he picked her up.

Gloria frowned, but Jordy didn't say a word. Although her dress did not become see-through after getting wet, her perfect figure was clearly shown to others. So, he was terribly upset!

After the suit jacket covered her body and blocked everyone's view, people could only see her fair and slender calves now. But even so, many men were drooling over her. After Jordy looked around with warning in his cold eyes, they got so frightened that they didn't dare to look at her anymore.

Rachel's face instantly turned extremely pale! She had never felt so humiliated before. If Jordy hadn't come over, she would have felt it was just a small deal and then begun to deal with it calmly. But his actions told everyone that he only cared about Gloria! So, Rachel felt heartbroken! But her wet dress made her unable to care about other things, so she immediately walked toward the dressing room.

At the same time, Jonathan arrived.

Chapter 1202 Burning with Rage

As soon as he walked to the door, he saw Jordy walking toward the dressing room with Gloria in his arms, so his smiling eyes instantly became freezingly cold.

Many people at the party turned to look at Jonathan. Everyone knew Jonathan and Jordy were competitors in business. Because of Gloria, their hostility to each other grew stronger. After all, it was known to all that Jonathan was enthusiastically pursuing her. And Jordy was also chasing after her, and they had even romantically watched a movie. Obviously, Gloria and Jordy both intended to get back together.

Gloria had hesitated between Jonathan and Jordy before. But she seemed to prefer Jordy now. If so, Jonathan might lose. Therefore, everyone wondered what he would do after seeing Jordy carry Gloria in his arms. And many people had expectations in their eyes, wishing to watch the fun later.

However, Rachel was in no mood to think about such things now because her mind was still a mess. And her face was particularly sullen.

She had already changed her dress. Fortunately, the wine had not spilled on her hair. Straightening her dress, she asked calmly, "Have you investigated the matter?"

Her assistant hurriedly replied, "I haven't gotten any useful information yet. They stubbornly denied they had done it on purpose and insisted that it was just an accident."

This was the Roberts Group's hotel, and all the waiters were carefully selected. But someone had still exploited a loophole and arranged a farce on such an occasion!

Rachel's face became gloomier when she said, "You must find out who did it tonight no matter what."

Her assistant paused for a moment and then nodded, "Yes, Miss Roberts."

Seeing that Rachel had no other orders, her assistant went out.

Rachel took a deep breath. She should go out to take care of the guests now. After all, the party had not ended. But at the thought of Jordy carrying Gloria away in front of everyone without sparing a look at her, she felt extremely upset.

He had completely ignored her, so she felt sad. Both she and Gloria had fallen, but he had only taken the latter away. Gloria had not suffered a wardrobe malfunction, but he had been so protective that he had taken off his suit jacket to cover her up. And he had even carried her in his arms. There had been many people on the spot, so they would compare Jordy's different attitudes toward the two women. If anyone posted today's incident on the Internet, netizens might taunt Rachel!

Thinking that she would lose face soon, Rachel flew into a rage and wished she could turn the clock back. If so, she would not have taken the initiative to talk to Gloria. She would have felt better if she had fallen to the ground alone. And she did not care whether Jordy would come over to help her she had fallen alone, no one would have made the embarrassing comparison, and many people would have come over to help her. Everything would have been fine! But now, she felt very embarrassed!

Rachel clenched her fists angrily and took a deep breath to calm herself down.

Suddenly, her phone rang, distracting her from this matter.

Chapter 1203 Be Sober

Seeing a virtual number again, Rachel frowned. But after pondering for a while, she still picked up the phone. Then, she kept silent. If it was a telephone fraud, she would immediately hang up. If it was Angela again, she would take the initiative to speak.

Soon, the caller said in a middle-aged man's voice through a voice changer, "Today is your grandpa's birthday. Happy birthday to him."

Rachel frowned, "Get down to the business."

She thought preliminaries were unnecessary now.

The caller smiled slightly, "Miss Roberts, you must feel very upset about what happened at the banquet just now."

Rachel's face suddenly became gloomy, and she subconsciously clenched her phone. She had not expected Angela to know about it so soon. She had not come here, so it must be someone at the party that had told her. She might have some connections among these businessmen. Or it might be her that had bought the waiters over

"I don't know what you are driving at." Rachel was in a bad mood, so when hearing Angela's words, she became even more irritable!

However, the caller did not intend to stop but smiled, "Jordy only showed care about Gloria in front of so many people. Don't you want to fight back? If you let their relationship goes on like this, the consequences will be unbearable for you."

The caller's voice was a bit hoarse. While speaking, the caller had deliberately paused and accented some words, making Rachel more upset. So, she took a deep breath and pressed her eyebrows with one hand to calm herself down. She knew she must not let the caller control her emotions.

Otherwise, she would be misled.

Soon, she said in a deep voice, "If you have nothing else to say, I will hang up."

"Since I called you, I have something to tell you. Do you think I called you to chat?"

Rachel took a deep breath again and then kept silent. She had asked twice, but Angela had not said her purpose. So, she decided to wait to see how Angela would try to goad her this time. There was still time before the banquet ended, so she could continue the call. Moreover, she believed Angela would tell her soon. So, she was willing to cooperate with her and wait for her to start her play.

Soon, the caller continued, "Gloria had dinner with Jordy the day before yesterday, and they watched a movie together. They even went to the old house of the Collins family together. You know Old Madam Collins likes her very much, right?"

Rachel kept silent. Maybe she acquiesced. Or maybe she just did not bother to reply.

Angela didn't mind it but smiled again, "Old Madam Collins has a high status in the Collins family. Old Mr. Collins doted on her to the extreme and is always taking loving care of her. Her words have an enormous influence on her family. Although Old Mr. Collins dislikes Gloria and even issued a notice against her, it was useless. Gloria and Jordy frequently appear in public together now and even became a trending topic, but the Collins family has done nothing about it. Miss Roberts, you must get sober. Now, Old Mr. Collins may not support you any longer."

Chapter 1204 The Purpose of the Play

Hearing this, Rachel frowned deeply! She knew Old Mr. Collins wanted her to marry Jordy. But after hearing Angela's reminder, she noticed something was wrong. Old Mr. Collins had always been the head of the Collins family. Although Jordy called the shots in the company, most of his family members still listened to Old Mr. Collins.

However, although Jordy's love-affair trending topic might affect the share price of the Collins Group stock at any time, Old Mr. Collins turned a blind eye. He had not dealt with it at all. So, Rachel wondered what he was thinking now. If he stopped supporting her, she would be at a loss for what to do. Her heart skipped a beat, even her temples popped out because Angela's words had hit her pain point.

The caller smiled, "Old Mr. Collins used to be very supportive of Angela. But when the White family fell, he didn't help. Although the White family is different from the Roberts family, you and Angela have the same enemy. I admit you are much stronger than her. After all, her family background is much inferior to yours. But Gloria is different from her. Gloria has many powerful sock puppets. Do you still have a sense of superiority when facing her?"

Rachel was so shocked that she tightened her grip on the phone. However, she had no intention of hanging up but even wanted to reply. After a pause, she managed to swallow back the words on the tip of her tongue.

Immediately afterward, Angela smiled, "If you don't take the initiative to attack as soon as possible, you will not get the result you want."

Rachel's eyes darkened a bit when she asked, "Do you have a good idea?"

"I have many good ideas, but I don't know if you dare to use them. If you are not brave enough, you may never obtain Jordy for the rest of your life. But If you are willing to give up him, you won't have to think about these things anymore."

"You're talking nonsense." Rachel was upset. After hearing so many useless but harsh words, she even wanted to shoot Angela.

Angela smiled and said without any anger, "You should go back to the banquet to see how Gloria and Jordy get along. I will call you again in the early morning and give you one last chance. If you still refuse, I will not contact you anymore."

Then, she hung up the phone without giving Rachel a chance to reply. Angela then fiddled with her phone with a sneer on her lips, and her eyes were full of calculations.

"I'm fed up with this hopeless life. Let's see if Rachel is capable enough," she said, picked up the red wine glass from the table, and took a sip.

A man was sitting across from her, who was her helper. And he was also that person's subordinate whose task was to keep a watch on her.

The man glanced at her and asked, "Why did you arrange such a play?"

Angela turned her head to look at him and asked, "Can't you see I am making her more irritable and distressed?"

Chapter 1205 Bribe

The man frowned, "Even if you make her angry, it may not work. What you want to do is difficult. She may not be willing to cooperate with you. You should do it by yourself after changing your identity."

"After I get my new identity, will they treat me as their daughter? I will have many scruples then. It's better to let Rachel do it. She has strength and brains. As long as she is willing to cooperate, we will get twice the result with half the effort."

The man gave her a cold look and said in a deep voice, "You'd better well hide the fact that it is you that asked those waiters to do such a thing today."

"I have confidence in you and your subordinates," Angela smiled with ease. After putting down her phone, she had a better mood because she was sure she would succeed! As long as Rachel agreed to take action, Angela would manipulate her behind the scenes. And she could slowly...

When she thought of this, the sinisterness in her eyes became much stronger.

The man glanced at her indifferently and said calmly, "Our boss allows you to cooperate with Rachel, but you have to be careful. If you make our boss unhappy, I will teach you a good lesson."

He sneered and stopped speaking but had expressed his attitude clearly.

Angela felt a little uneasy, so she looked at him and said, "I'm doing what our boss wants me to do. And I will try my best to succeed."

"I want you to have a sense of proportion. You did not have it in the past, so you've been reduced to such a miserable situation. Do keep my words in mind."

"You!"

Angela was so angry that she couldn't utter one more word. This man was the boss's subordinate, so she didn't dare to be arrogant. Otherwise, she would be punished. Moreover, the family she was going to go to was also the boss's subordinates, so they would not treat her as a normal person.

They would think she was an inferior person and a failure. So, her life in the future would not be comfortable. All she could do now was to please them. Otherwise, she would suffer.

Taking a deep breath, Angela calmed herself down and said softly, "I see. Don't worry. I failed once, and I paid a heavy price. I know what to do. You can rest assured."

The man kept silent, so Angela took another deep breath, trying to prevent herself from being emotional. But she suddenly thought of something and then looked at him with a complicated look in her eyes. He looked quite handsome. If she had sex with him, maybe she could buy him over. After all, he seemed to have real power.

After staying in this place for a while, Angela could see Gloria's existence was a tricky problem for that mysterious person. She guessed that person was afraid Gloria would foil a big plan. Angela had not figured out what exactly the plan was but would keep looking.

Now, she was sure that person must have sent someone important to watch and help her. So, if she bought him over, her life in the future would be more comfortable.

Thinking of this, she showed a sexy smile, slowly got up, and walked toward him.

Chapter 1206 Not Here!

Seeing this, the man was confused, but she suddenly said in a charming voice, "Andrew..."

Andrew suddenly showed a gloomy look, looked at her coldly, and asked, "What are doing?"

Angela was speechless. Her intention was so obvious that any man would take the hint. Why had he reacted like this?

Was he really unable to understand? Maybe he understood her intention but was too disgusted with her. Or maybe the boss had sent a very trustworthy subordinate to watch her due to distrust. Angela suddenly felt unsure and even a little flustered. But she did not want to be at the mercy of others because it made her feel upset!

Taking a breath, she forced a smile and said, "We're alone here. Why don't we talk about something. else?"

Andrew sneered, "Put away your filthy tricks. If I want a woman, I can get a good one easily. You're not my cup of tea."

Angela was so shocked and ashamed that her face instantly turned pale. She had never expected him to say such harsh words! After all, she was a beautiful woman with a curvy figure. Moreover, she was still a virgin. How could he detest her? Angela felt humiliated. She had attempted to seduce him, but he had satirized her ruthlessly. So, she could not stand it and snapped, "How could you say such words to me?"

Andrew glanced at her indifferently and said, "Give up your dirty trick and focus on working for our boss. Only in this way can you get something in return. Do you think you can live a better life after sleeping with me? I despise all women!"

His boss was also his princess!

"You!" Angela was at a loss for words again. Even though she was not convinced, she could do nothing about it now. Andrew didn't want her at all, so she could only use other methods. However, she thought sex was the best way for a woman to buy a man over.

Andrew didn't bother to spare one more look at her, so he got up and left.

Seeing this, Angela slapped her lap hard in a fit of exasperation! She didn't dare to smash the table because she was afraid Andrew would hear the sound and know she was losing her temper.

So, she could only hit herself. Making herself painful would help her keep this moment in mind.

After Jordy put Gloria down in the dressing room of the hotel, he looked at her with a particularly cold look

Gloria frowned and said softly, "Go out! I'll change clothes."

Jordy glanced at her lightly and said, "What happened just now."

"Four waiters deliberately rushed over with a lot of glasses filled with red wine and bumped against us. I can't tell whether their target is me."

Jordy frowned, turned around, and walked out without saying a word.

Ten minutes later, Rachel walked out after pulling herself together. She had changed into a new dress and restored her elegance and dignity. However, after she came out, her eyes subconsciously swept around the venue. Jordy was too eye-catching, so she should be able to spot him at a glance. If she did not see him, he must not be here!

After looking around, she didn't see Jordy but saw Gloria sitting alone on a sofa in the corner.

Chapter 1207 Purpose

Rachel took a breath, deciding not to approach her again! Gloria was like poison, so it was better to stay away from her.

But after glancing around, she found something was wrong, so she looked around again in confusion. Still not finding the man, she waved to her assistant standing in the distance.

After her assistant came over, she asked in a faint voice, "Jonathan has not arrived?"

"He has arrived. But went upstairs just now. I don't know if he went to meet the chairman."

Rachel nodded and said nothing more.

After a while, the banquet officially started when Old Mr. Roberts walked downstairs slowly. Even though he was seventy years old, he was hale and hearty. He did not need a cane while waking and looked like a man in his fifties. Immediately, all the people stopped talking to look at him.

Two handsome young men were standing on his left and right. Soon, he said with a satisfied smile, "Old Mr. Collins, Old Mr. Brown, see? Both of them are my grandsons!"

The hall was quiet now, so everyone heard his words.

Old Mr. Collins immediately retorted with a smile, "Are you asking for a spank? How dare you snatch my grandson?"

Although Old Mr. Roberts used to be in San Diego, his influence in Los Angeles was great.

Old Mr. Brown snorted, "If you want my grandson, you have to give me your granddaughter. Rachel, go back with me later!"

"You're having a pipe dream! They are all mine!" Old Mr. Roberts frowned, "Today is my birthday, so I have the final say! You guys must listen to me!"

Then, he looked at Jordy and Jonathan and said with a smile, "What's your opinion? Do you think that what I said makes sense?"

Jonathan smiled, "Yes, you have the final say."

"Hahaha! Old Mr. Brown, your grandson is much more sensible than you!!"

Old Mr. Brown rolled his eyes and said, "It's your birthday today, so I won't argue with you!"

"Let's go! Everyone, please get seated. Although today is my birthday, you don't have to be too restrained," Old Mr. Roberts said and went straight to his seat. Old Mr. Collins and Old Mr. Brown naturally sat at the same table together with several other big shots. Everyone talked, laughed, and toasted Old Mr. Roberts's birthday, so everything seemed cordial and harmonious.

Gloria was not assigned to their table because the White Group did not deserve it.

Then, everything at the banquet went on smoothly, and there were no more accidents, although Rachel and Gloria had been on guard all the time. Both of them felt confused, wondering what the purpose of the "accident" just now was and what the person behind it could gain.

After the banquet drew to a successful close, Gloria took the lead to leave, for fear that Jordy could pester her.

However, as soon as she took two steps, someone suddenly stopped her by saying, "Gloria, wait."

Hearing this, Gloria turned her head back. Seeing Old Mr. Collins beckoning her over while looking at her, she was puzzled but still walked over.

The people around Old Mr. Collins all looked over. And Jordy was staring at her beside him. Coincidentally, Old Mr. Brown and Jonathan were also standing there.

Although Gloria didn't like the current environment, she still asked politely, "Old Mr. Collins, what can I do for you?"

Chapter 1208 They Fought Over Her at the Birthday Party

Old Mr. Collins looked at Gloria and smiled, "It's so late and it's not safe for you to go back as a girl. Let Jordy take you back."

Gloria was surprised. She hadn't expected that Old Mr. Collins would say this in front of so many people.

However, before she could say anything, Old Mr. Brown said, "What? Today, Jordy came out and worked all day. I think he should take a break. Jonathan has nothing to do today. Let him take her back!"

Gloria was stunned.

Jonathan looked at Gloria and smiled, "I'll be honored."

Old Mr. Collins suddenly smiled and shook his head, "Well, how can I bother you to take Gloria back? Jordy didn't do much today. He should take her home. Jonathan just signed a big contract today, and he has many projects to do recently. How can we make Jonathan more tired?"

Old Mr. Collins deliberately looked at Jordy with a straight face and said, "Aren't you going to take her home?"

Jordy was speechless.

"How come? This is something he is used to. How can he be tired? Besides, when does Gloria get so close to your family? Joseph, don't try to fool me!"

"When did I fool you? Gloria belongs to our family. You forgot, when my wife celebrated her birthday, she told everyone that Gloria is from our family!"

"Oh, so she's your surrogate granddaughter." Old Mr. Brown nodded understandingly and said, "Then Gloria and your grandson are like brother and sister." Old Mr. Brown seemed to have finally found a loophole to take advantage of. When he said that, he was very happy.

But before he could think too much, Old Mr. Collins immediately retorted, "Who said that?! They are not of the same parents!!"

Gloria took a deep breath. The two men in high positions asked their grandsons to take her home in front of so many people. Gloria really felt her face was a little flushed.

Seeing Old Mr. Brown want to say something else, she quickly said, "No, I can go back by myself, and I came here by car."

"No, it's too late now. What if you encounter some criminals?" Old Mr. Collins retorted quickly, which was quite different from his seriousness at home.

Gloria was a little dumbfounded at this moment.

The audience on the side all felt that things happened too quickly.

In the past, Old Mr. Collins hadn't liked Gloria very much. What was going on now? Old Mr. Collins actually liked Gloria so much, and even slapped himself in the face despite so many people around. Gloria had become so important?

After all, the released recordings showed that Old Mr. Collins liked Rachel, but now...

The two men hadn't said a word about Rachel at Old Mr. Collins' birthday party. They were fighting over Gloria now... Although the birthday party was over, the guests were still here.

Many people subconsciously looked in the direction of Old Mr. Roberts. As expected, some people had noticed that Old Mr. Roberts was not very happy.

Looking in Rachel's direction, they found that she was no longer there.

They wondered if she had something else to do, or she had left because she felt that staying here would only embarrass herself when something like this happened.

Gloria had a headache. She didn't care what others thought, and immediately said, "It's really unnecessary. Thank you two for taking care of me. But I can really go back myself. I have something else to do, so I'm leaving."

Chapter 1209 The Show Was Over

Gloria turned around and left.

Old Mr. Collins looked at Jordy immediately and said, "It's not safe at night. You should take her back quickly. Otherwise, if your grandma knows, she will be very worried."

Jordy pursed his lips without saying a word, and walked out.

Old Mr. Brown snorted coldly and said, "Joseph, you're really something!"

Joseph laughed immediately and said, "What are you talking about? Anyway, the two of them were husband and wife before. No matter what, it's better for them to get back together as husband and wife. What do you think, Old Mr. Brown?"

Old Mr. Brown said with a faint smile, "I only know what's appropriate and what's not."

Getting divorced meant it was inappropriate. He didn't say it bluntly, but his implication was very obvious.

Joseph took a deep breath, and looked at Old Mr. Brown with feigned anger, "Hey, you, how dare you say such things in front of me?! If you don't accept it, let's go out and fight!"

"Let's go. I've been exercising my muscles at home every day recently, and no one dares to fight me. Let's go and have a look."

Jonathan had no interest in continuing to stay, and had left silently.

But those who paid attention to this side all found that Jonathan was going in the direction Gloria left.

Many people who were looking forward to a good show walked out one after another because they also wanted to know what would happen if two men fought over one woman.

When Jonathan went out, Gloria and Jordy were standing in front of Gloria's car. The door of the driver's seat had been opened, but Gloria stood still and didn't go in. She happened to block Jordy from letting him in.

Gloria frowned and stared at Jordy. But just as she was about to say something, she turned her head and saw Jonathan. She froze.

Jordy noticed something and looked over. His eyes turned cold instantly.

Jonathan pursed his lips, set his eyes on Gloria, and said with a smile, "It's really not safe to go alone."

Jordy looked at Jonathan coldly and said, "You don't have to worry about this kind of thing " Gloria was speechless.

Hadn't the conversation between the two old men at the party ended? Now their grandsons were doing it again!

Feeling that Jordy's attention had been diverted by Jonathan, she immediately got into the car, closed the door, started the engine, locked the car, and put the accelerator on.

Whoosh! The car was started directly, and Gloria's car was already a hundred meters away from them in a blink of an eye.

The two men withdrew their gazes.

Jonathan narrowed his eyes and said, "It seems that things are not as rumored."

Jordy also narrowed his eyes and said, "Mr. Brown, you should know it very clearly."

Jonathan smiled, "Yes, I know that."

Jordy gave him a cold look, turned around and left without saying anything.

The audience was a little disappointed...

They were afraid of the power of the two men, so they didn't dare to come forward at all, and they stood far away. They couldn't hear what the two men said at all...

In such a short while, a big drama was over, and many people felt it was a pity...

Seeing that Jonathan also left, they sighed helplessly. They knew that the show was over.

Most guests had left.

Old Mr. Roberts had been in a good mood. But those two old men suddenly put on such a big show at the end. He looked very unhappy now.

Chapter 1210 What if You Really Succeed?

Rachel sat next to him, and she didn't look very happy. She lowered her head and didn't look at anything. Under normal circumstances, after the birthday party, everyone might sit together and chat for a while.

But now... the atmosphere was very dull.

Old Mr. Roberts looked at Rachel, "Now, you have seen the attitude of Old Mr. Collins. He's not intending his grandson Jordy to marry you. Are you going to insist on it?"

Rachel's eyelashes trembled slightly. She was unwilling to give up Jordy. She wasn't going to sit by and watch Jordy and Gloria be together in the future!

Seeing that she was silent for a long time, Old Mr. Roberts suddenly complained, "You have seen what happened today and what the two old men did. They were both fighting over their grandsons' woman in front of me, and totally ignored you. Don't you see what's going on?"

Old Mr. Roberts had wanted her to marry Jordy before, but now he had changed his mind. There was no chance.

Jordy didn't like Rachel at all. He didn't want to see his granddaughter in pain. But his granddaughter...

Old Mr. Roberts really felt helpless now. Marriage was very important, but with the current situation, it couldn't go on like this. Jordy didn't like Rachel. If this went on, it would only make her more painful.

Even if one day, Jordy would be willing to be with Rachel for the sake of profit, then he would not agree, because the one who suffered for love was his granddaughter!

Old Mr. Roberts had talked to Rachel many times, but she just wouldn't give up, which made him a little helpless.

In desperation, Old Mr. Collins sighed heavily. Rachel blinked, and she couldn't help but say softly, "Grandpa, I know you are doing it for my own good, but... I just can't help loving him. I... I really like him..."

Rachel's voice was a little weak. In front of Old Mr. Roberts, she had no confidence at all. She knew how much her grandpa had done for her and how worried he was about her.

She didn't want her family to worry about her so much, but...but... Rachel helplessly clenched the corner of her clothes, pursed her lips, and couldn't go on.

Old Mr. Roberts sighed helplessly again, and finally stood up, "Well... you think about it again. From today's incident, I hope you can realize that he's not a good match for you. It will increase the obsession in your heart."

Rachel bit her lips and still didn't speak, because she really didn't know what to say.

Old Mr. Roberts didn't say anything more, and went back to his bedroom directly, as if he was about to go to bed.

Rachel's parents set their eyes on her. Seeing her daughter in pain, Rachel's father also got up and patted her on the shoulder, "No matter what, I'll always support your decision. If you like him, just go for it."

Rachel instantly raised her head in surprise. She looked at her father and said in a harsh voice,

"Dad.... you...? Are you really supporting me?"

Rachel's father smiled and looked at her face with benevolent eyes, "When you like someone, you can't control your feelings. I understand it. You are still young. No matter what it is, you can experience it first. You may feel that it is really hard, and you will to let go. But there is another possibility. What if you really succeed?"
