Chapter 1221 Scumbag!

Nydia nodded without saying anything. Gloria turned and walked towards the bedroom. Nydia took a deep breath and opened the door for George.

The moment Nydia saw George's face, her heart somehow tightened. George also suddenly felt his heart tremble. He pursed his lips, and did not rush to speak directly.

Watching Nydia get out of the way, he walked in and changed his shoes.

Neither of them spoke. After closing the door, Nydia said, "Gloria is at my house. You go to the study with me."

George didn't speak, and just followed behind her. Soon, the two entered the study. George didn't know what to say for a moment. Along the way, he had been thinking about how to solve this matter and how to talk to Nydia.

But after seeing Nydia, his heartbeat seemed to speed up a bit, especially when he saw her calm face, he felt an indescribable fear in his heart.

The door of the study was closed. George didn't know what to say.

Nydia glanced at him and said lightly, "Sit."

Nydia didn't say anything else.

George nodded and sat down. Nydia was sitting on the chair at the desk, while George was sitting on the sofa. The two of them could look at each other, but...the distance was still a bit far away, which made George uncomfortable.

Nydia... didn't dare to sit too close to George. She had been thinking about this man for the past few days. After she met him, her heart beat faster.

Only she knew how much effort she had put in to fake her calmness.

"You..." In the end, it was George who broke the silence. But after just saying such a word, he met Nydia's eyes and he suddenly didn't seem to know what to say anymore.

"What do you want to say?" Nydia remained calm, but panicked inside.

George's eyes flickered slightly, and he finally got up and walked towards her.

Nydia's heartbeat instantly became faster, and she even heard her own heartbeat. She looked at her, pretending to be calm, but she was flustered. She even kept muttering in her

Chapter 1222 She Was Being Unreasonable!

Nydia's attitude was particularly bad, mainly because she didn't want to hear George take the initiative to tell her not to be delusional. She thought she couldn't bear it. She would rather say it directly than be humiliated by him. At least she could stay proud this way.

George's brows were suddenly frowned, and he was feeling more and more unhappy. But when he thought of what Carlos had said, he finally suppressed the anger in his heart.

After calming himself down, he looked at Nydia and said in a deep voice, "I don't mean that. Since this kind of thing happened, I don't intend to escape. Nydia, I will be responsible for you."

Nydia, who had already annoyed, was waiting for George to say something nasty and then yell at him. She suddenly froze.

What did he say? He would be responsible for her? Did she hear it right?

Nydia didn't know what to say for a while, and always felt that she had heard it wrong. If she directly refuted him, what if he called her delusional and denied that he meant that?

At this moment, she suddenly didn't dare to make a sound.

Seeing her daze, George felt much better. At least, he didn't hear Nydia's retort, nor did he see her unhappy. At most, it was daze and disbelief. He was very satisfied.

After a pause, he looked at Nydia and said again, "Although what happened this time was an accident, it was something we both experienced together. If you want, I will be responsible for you."

This time, Nydia understood it completely.

She immediately said, "What nonsense are you talking about?! How can we be together?! When did I need you to be responsible?"

She was really shocked. The man in front of her actually told her that he would be responsible for her?

Nydia took a deep breath, trying to restrain her emotions.

George frowned again, "I'm talking to you about it. How can I be joking with you? I'm also surprised that such a thing happened. But since it has already happened, it needs to be resolved. It just so happens that we both want to grab that thing, and we don't have to grab it if we are together in the future."

Nydia looked at him defensively for a moment, "So are you offering to take responsible for me just to grab something?"

George was speechless.

He felt that he couldn't communicate normally with Nydia, and even felt that she was being unreasonable! Didn't he just say it clearly?

"Nydia, can you listen to what I'm saying?"

Nydia looked at him coldly and said, "Don't you mean that if we are together in the future, the thing will belong to you?"

George was stunned. They really had trouble communicating. He shouldn't have mentioned this just now!

Taking a deep breath, George raised his hand, pressed his temple, and said again, "Nydia, I hope you can calm down now and have a good talk with me. I mean I will be responsible for you for life. Don't you trust me?"

Nydia also regained her composure at this moment. He had said it three times, and she had naturally heard it clearly. But this time, she was directly annoyed by his words, and sarcastically said without hesitation, "George, do you believe what you said yourself? Be responsible for me? Then what? You will be seduced by some other woman, and then tell me that we are not suitable and dump me. Is this what you mean by being responsible?"

Chapter 1223 He Was Pissed Off!

George frowned suddenly and looked at Nydia speechlessly, "Is that how you think of me?"

Nydia laughed angrily, "Or what?!"

She really couldn't think of anything good about George now.

"Damn!" He really felt that he was casting pearls before swine! This damn woman could piss him off with just a few words!

He had just said so much with such a sincere attitude. What else did she want from him!?

Besides, as for what had happened that day, could it be that he wanted it to happen? It was all just a coincidence! But she was venting her anger on him now.

However, before he could think too much, Nydia spoke again, "Forget it. I don't want to argue with you anymore. It's just my first time and I don't care. You don't have to be responsible for me. I don't believe it. Even if you mean it this time, I still find it ridiculous. You are a playboy with so many women around. Is there something wrong with me? I wouldn't be with a man with you! Why don't I find a good man? Even if I can't find a good man, wouldn't I be just happy and single?! If I really marry you, would I have to fight with your mistresses every day?"

"Damn! What nonsense are you talking about?! When did I say I'm going to cheat?" George's face darkened. At this moment, he really wanted to pinch the woman's chin and make her repeat what she had just said!

George was pissed off, and his eyes were cold.

Nydia took a deep breath to calm down. After a pause, she looked at George and restored her calmness, "Let's not fight because of this. It's meaningless anyway. Besides, Gloria is at my house, and I don't want her to hear us arguing."

George was speechless. What he hated the most was that she had restored her calmness now.

When Nydia looked like this, it meant that she had calmed down, which was not what he wanted at all!

But he had his pride. He gritted his teeth and said, "I'll ask you one last time. Do you want me to be responsible or not?!"

Nydia laughed out of anger again!

She couldn't remain calm even if she wanted to. She said irritably, "I don't need it! I'll never need it! I'll be happy as long as you don't show up to bother me!!"

George looked a lot more annoyed. He clenched his fists again. In the end, he opened the door and walked outside without saying a word.

Nydia's face seemed a little gloomier, but she stood there, pursed her lips and didn't say another word to him. George didn't look back the whole time. He just put on his shoes and left. He didn't know that he was leaving under her stubborn gaze.

When the door was completely closed, Nydia suddenly collapsed. She seemed to be discouraged, and lay directly on the table.

Nydia had no intention of going back to the master bedroom. She wanted to be alone. She closed her eyes and tried her best to control her emotions. She would have to see Gloria in a while.

The sound of the door closing just now was so loud, and Gloria must have heard it from the master bedroom. If she didn't go back for a long time, Gloria would definitely come out.

Nydia took a deep breath, but the irritability in her heart couldn't be removed no matter what.

Chapter 1224 Her Heart Skipped A Beat!

But when Nydia calmed down, she couldn't help bursting into tears. She didn't seem to notice until the tears suddenly fell to the corner of her mouth. She quickly sat up and took out a tissue to wipe away the tears.

She sniffed, and she widened her eyes in disbelief. Why is she crying? Why is she crying for a scumbag like George?!

Well, she just felt sorry for herself! She had obviously saved herself for more than twenty years. Given the situation now, how could she not feel sorry?

She had said that she didn't care, but... how could she not care?

Just as she lowered her head and took a deep breath, there suddenly came Gloria's steady voice, "You feel upset after all, don't you?"

Nydia trembled violently in an instant. She raised her head. When she saw Gloria standing beside her, her heart skipped a beat. Gloria... when did she come in? Why didn't she hear a sound?

“I...” Nydia suddenly didn’t know what to say.

Gloria grabbed a chair, sat next to her, and took her hand, “We are friends, and you can tell me when you’re sad. I don’t need to tell Nataly. But you can’t let yourself hold it back. If you go on like this for a long time, you will be emotionally unstable, or even get sick.”

Nydia shook her head and said, “I’m fine. I was just...”

She didn’t know what to say.

Gloria sighed softly, knowing she couldn’t make it up.

“Nydia, look at me.”

Nydia subconsciously raised her eyes to look at Gloria. When she saw Gloria’s serious and steady eyes, Nydia’s eyelashes trembled slightly and she said, “Are...are you going to persuade me?”

As she said that, she forced a bitter smile and said, “You really don’t need to comfort me or anything. I never thought of experiencing such a thing. But after experiencing it, I have to face it. Time will heal my wound sooner or later. In fact, even if you comfort me, it will be useless. I might as well get over it slowly.”

Gloria nodded and said, “Yes, but it’s up to you to get over it. If you always think about it yourself, you will get into a dead end.”

Nydia shook her head and said, “I won’t. Look at how optimistic I usually am. I’ll be upset for just a few days. It will pass sooner or later. Besides, what I said before is not a lie. It’s just my first time and I don’t care...”

She was pretending to take it lightly, not wanting to worry her friend. But Gloria had been friends with her for so many years. How could Gloria not know why she was upset?

“I know in my heart whether you care or not. But now you feel upset probably not because of this.”

Nydia’s heart skipped a beat again.

Subconsciously, she looked at Gloria again, as if waiting for her to say something or confirming the conflict in her heart. It seemed that there was a layer of paper stuck to the window, making it impossible for her to see clearly from both the inside and outside.

Gloria stared at her and said, “George.”

Nydia froze instantly! She felt that her heart skipped a beat! She gasped uncontrollably, unable to hide her emotions for a while.

The feelings of being caught or that she didn't even understand herself made her really uncomfortable.

Nydia had a little difficulty breathing. But it was more like she was puzzled by herself, and she subconsciously said, "What... what do you mean?"

Chapter 1225 You Might Have Fallen in Love with Him

Gloria stared at her, and didn't speak immediately, but seemed to give herself room to think.

Gloria might not be sure before, but she could sense that Nydia's emotions were not right. Now Gloria was completely aware of it, but Nydia might not even realize it herself.

In the past, Gloria might have thought about whether to reveal these things or not. But now, she felt it was necessary to tell Nydia about her complicated emotions, and then encourage her to make a right decision.

Nydia was still looking at Gloria, and her voice was not calm, "Gloria, what did you just... mean?"

Gloria sighed softly and said, "Let me ask you, when it happened that day, if the man next to you was not George, but a strange man you didn't know, what kind of mood would you be in now?"

Nydia was taken aback. A strange man?

"A strange man? I would also feel bad. After all, this is my first time. I may say I don't care, but I still have to digest it myself. After all, I have always valued it. Now I..." Nydia didn't continue.

But she seemed to have thought of something suddenly, and she froze.

"You..." Nydia didn't know what to say, but Gloria's implication made her feel even more uncomfortable in her heart. She felt like she was falling suddenly, and it also seemed like some numbing discomfort.

Gloria said calmly, "So the only thing that makes you uncomfortable is your own physical problem. You wouldn't think about that man, let alone have any real development with him. You probably would never have any contact with him, right?"

Nydia felt that Gloria had a point and nodded.

Gloria looked at her, and said word by word, "What now?"

Looking at Nydia's hesitant gaze, Gloria said again, "Now that you found out it was George, haven't half of your thoughts been about George?"

Nydia's face suddenly changed, and her eyes widened. She didn't know what to say, because Gloria was right, and she couldn't refute.

But... why would she think of George? Why would she be bothered by George? She just lost her virginity! Didn't she have to think about which man it was? Why did she suddenly feel worse when she thought of George?

Nydia shook her head and said, "I...I don't know. But if it were another man, I might think about it more or less. After all, this is the first time in my life. After... it happened, it left a deep memory, and it seems normal for me to think of George."

"Do you just think about him?" Gloria took another step closer.

Nydia's eyelashes trembled slightly. With Gloria, she had never wanted to hide her emotions. She was so distraught now and she was completely driven by Gloria's words, "I...I don't know."

Then she suddenly hugged her head, and all her hair fell down. Gloria couldn't see her face clearly at all.

But it was obvious that her body was trembling, and she was crying more sadly than before. It was completely uncontrollable.

Gloria sighed and said softly, "Nydia, you two have been arguing and confronting each other for so long. Have you ever thought that after contacting again and again, you might... have fallen in love with him?"

She has fallen in love with him?Nydia was completely stunned!

If she had heard it in the past, she might have subconsciously refuted because it was simply impossible.

But now. She had never expected that there would be such a situation!

She... had fallen in love with George? She was in love with George?

She shook her head in disbelief, "How is this possible?! He and I have been sworn enemies for so many years. In order to get that thing, the two of us have really worked hard, and I have always been on guard against him. How... how could I have fallen in love with him?"

She shook her head in disbelief, and her eyes were filled with unprecedented irritability.

But she couldn't even convince herself now. She somehow felt that something was wrong

Gloria said nothing, as if waiting for her to think for herself.

Many things had to be done step by step, and she should wait for Nydia to figure it out herself. If she said too much at once, Nydia would find it unacceptable.

Moreover, it was mainly her guess, and she couldn't guarantee that what she said would be correct.

If she guided Nydia in the wrong direction, Nydia would misunderstand it instead. In the future, if there would be some estrangement between the two of them, and it would affect Nydia's life, Gloria would regret it so much.

Nydia pursed her lips, and shook her head again, "I don't know how I feel now, and I don't know what's been going on with my thoughts these days. I just know that when I found out it was George, I panicked, but I was also a little glad. Fortunately, it was George, not some other strange and terrifying men."

If it were some married men or someone with a girlfriend, she would really feel disgusted. Nydia's heart skipped a beat when she thought about it.

Disgusted? She just felt that if it were another man, she would feel disgusted.

But...when she thought it was George, she had never felt like this.

Nydia's face changed a little unconsciously. How can it be like this? How can it be like this?

Did she really like George? No! How could she like that man who was full of calculation about her?"

She couldn't bear this!

Nydia couldn't help shaking her head again, "I...I don't care what I think, but I absolutely can't stand myself being with George!"

Gloria pursed her lips and said nothing.

Nydia continued, "George just came to tell me that he would be responsible for me, but how could I believe him?! He is a playboy himself, and I don't know how many girls he has slept with. That night was the first time in my life, but it was just another night for him. He was also plotted against that day, but..."

Nydia just felt awkward, but couldn't go on.

Gloria patted her on the shoulder lightly and said, "You calm down first. Don't think so much."

Nydia blinked, but said nothing.

She was already trying her best to restrain her emotions, trying to stabilize herself as much as possible.

The two of them sat quietly for more than ten minutes before Nydia said slowly, "Gloria, I've decided. No matter what my attitude and opinion toward George are, I will never be with him, not in this life. I don't need a scumbag to be responsible for me. If I'm really with him, it will ruin my life."

Gloria glanced at her and said, "No matter what decision you make, I will support you, better think it through."

Nydia nodded, "Of course I've thought about it!"

Her voice was very firm, as if she didn't have any doubts. But when she thought about whether she had feelings for that man, she wasn't so sure.

Everything was fine now.

Gloria put a hand on her shoulder and patted it lightly, "I'm by your side."

Nydia felt warm instantly, and she held Gloria's hand, "Gloria, I'm glad you're here. I'm glad you've been with me all this time."

Gloria sighed softly and said nothing. In this case, it wouldn't necessarily help even if she was here.

Nydia was the only one who had experienced such pain and suffered so much. It was impossible for others to feel her pain.

At most, she could accompany Nydia. As for the rest... Thinking of this, Gloria sighed secretly, but said nothing after all.

This night, Nydia didn't sleep well. To be precise, she hadn't slept well for several nights. Today, because of George's arrival, she slept even worse.

The next day, after Gloria and Nydia got up, they went to work separately.

Gloria was in the office as usual. After handling the company's affairs, she opened the design software. But before she could move the mouse, her cell phone rang suddenly. It was her assistant calling.

She picked it up.

"Mrs. White, I just received an invitation letter from Phillips Group, saying that they'd like to invite you to a banquet in seven days."

Gloria blinked slightly and said, "What banquet?"

As far as she could remember, there was nothing serious about their family.

Her assistant said again, "I heard that the daughter of the Phillips Group who has been missing for more than ten years has been found."

Gloria blinked slightly. The daughter of the Phillips Group appeared at this time. I see

"Okay."

The two hung up the phone directly. Gloria looked a bit thoughtful.

About half an hour later, Gloria stopped thinking so much and got back to her design work.

For the jewelry project in cooperation with Brown Group, Gloria was actually almost done with the design, and she could send someone to produce the finished products immediately. She was still checking or improving to see what went wrong.

A day just passed by. Gloria was immersed in work all the time. But when she was about to get off work, she suddenly remembered something. She took out her mobile phone and made a call.

It didn't take long for it to be connected. The voice on the other end of the phone was still calm and flat, "What's the matter."

"Are you free in a while? I'm going to give you an injection."

"Okay."

"See you at the base."

It was the experimental base she had brought Carlos and Jordy into last time.

"Okay."

Gloria didn't say anything more, and hung up the phone. Jordy's condition was treated well by Carlos, so she was very sure that Jordy would recover completely, but Grandma...

A trace of sadness flashed across Gloria's eyes. Grandma's condition needed to be observed for another day. According to the changes in this day, she could decide the following medication situation of her body.

An hour later, both Gloria and Jordy arrived, armed as usual. Gloria checked Jordy's body again and gave him an injection.

Chapter 1228 I'll Be Fine

Gloria admired Jordy for having such a strong heart when he knew about his own condition, but she would still try to comfort the patient as she should do. Of course, what she would tell Jordy next was also truth.

After disposing of the discarded needle, Gloria said lightly to Jordy, "Your condition is very good. Cooperate with me for a while, and you will recover."

Jordy blinked, "How is Grandma's situation?"

"I have to observe for another day to see how she is doing. Then I will figure out how to use the medicine according to her condition."

The medicine given to Karen earlier was indeed very effective. Without the medicine, Karen would have to go to the hospital for radiotherapy and chemotherapy, and it completely allowed Karen to know what was wrong with her.

Jordy didn't speak, looking calm.

But Gloria didn't mean to leave. She thought for a while, and then looked at Jordy, "Pay attention to your diet these days. Don't eat anything stimulating, and don't miss any meal. If you want to recover faster, you'd better not be willful."

Jordy narrowed his eyes slightly. He looked at her and said in a deep voice, "Are you saying this out of genuine concern?"

Gloria blinked and she looked at Jordy in disbelief. Why did he suddenly ask such a question?

Gloria smiled faintly and said, "Of course I don't want to see a living person die directly. As a doctor, I naturally have to care about my patients."

Her implication was that this was just the care a doctor should have, and it had nothing to do with other emotions.

Jordy's eyes suddenly darkened.

Seeing that he didn't intend to speak, Gloria said again, "You can go. I'm going back."

She didn't plan to study here today. She had other things to do. Jordy said in a deep voice, "I'll see you off"

Gloria glanced at him, feeling a little bewildered. He had been protecting her all this time?

The next moment, she smiled, "Don't worry I'll be fine. I will do my best to help Grandma and you"

She knew that Jordy must be worried that something might happen to her now, which would prevent Grandma from recovering. He might not care much about his own body, but Grandma was very important to him.

Jordy frowned again, obviously guessing what Gloria was thinking, "You don't have to misunderstand me so deeply. Even if we had no feelings before, please don't look at me like this."

Gloria looked at Jordy in surprise. He would talk to her so much, and even care about her thoughts?

It was a little different from before. When he was indifferent to her back then, he had never cared about her thoughts.

She was surprised he said that now.

Will a man's personality always change with the passage of time? Gloria smiled mockingly, said nothing, took off the sterile suit and walked outside.

Jordy frowned and followed her.

Seeing that Gloria was about to get into the driver's seat, he stepped forward and pulled the car door first.

Gloria frowned slightly. She looked at Jordy and said, "This is in Los Angeles, and it's not far away. I'll be fine."

Chapter 1229 Warmth

Jordy frowned suddenly, and said coldly, "Get in the car. I'll see you off."

He didn't want to explain too much.

Gloria frowned slightly, but she didn't say a word.

At this time, arguing with him would be useless. Once he made up his mind, he would certainly persevere. Therefore, instead of wasting time talking nonsense with him, why didn't she just get in the car obediently? In this way, she could go home earlier, and he could disappear earlier.

Thinking of this, Gloria didn't say anything, and went directly to the passenger seat. Jordy's stern face softened a little.

Along the way, neither of them spoke, and the car was very quiet, without even a single piece of music.

But the two didn't feel more uncomfortable because they were already in an awkward atmosphere.

Jordy didn't stop the car until he got there. Gloria opened the car door and glanced at Jordy, "You can drive the car away."

She had other cars.

But Jordy didn't speak. He got out of the car directly, and followed behind Gloria.

Gloria's brows were furrowed for an instant and she asked, "What are you doing?"

He isn't going to stay here again, is he? Is this his home? Does he always do whatever he wants like this?

However, just as she thought about this, Jordy said in an indifferent voice, "I've sent you back. It's only natural for you to take me in for a night. I feel sick in my stomach, and I don't want to drive back."

Gloria's brow furrowed tightly, and she immediately reached out to feel his pulse.

Jordy didn't move, and just let her cold fingers land on her wrist. It felt so good. For a moment, he didn't want her to let go.

Gloria blinked, and she withdrew her hand. She knew that he was not lying, and then said calmly,

"This is a normal reaction after the injection, and you will be fine after tonight."

"Okay" Jordy replied calmly. Although it was true that he was feeling uncomfortable, this kind of discomfort was nothing to him, and he could even pretend that nothing had happened.

But he just said it

Gloria looked at him and did not drive him away after all. Now that neither of them had had dinner, she thought about it and said calmly, "I'll go to the kitchen to cook something, Just wait at moment."

When he was here, she naturally should take care of his diet. His recovery this morning would be a good thing for everyone.

Jordy didn't speak, and let her go to the kitchen. He walked to the sofa and sat down, looking at the environment in the living room lightly. He had been here many times. But every time he came, he felt a different kind of warmth.

This kind of feeling made him feel awkward yet comfortable. He was surprised that this kind of contradictory feelings could be merged together.

After about ten minutes of waiting, Gloria came out. She had made two bowls of noodles, which were cooked very soft and suitable for his body.

Jordy didn't speak, and the two sat facing each other, eating very quietly.

From Jordy's point of view, this place was really comfortable, and the environment was good, and the food was very appetizing. He didn't like this kind of food before. But after eating the food cooked by Gloria, he felt everything had changed.

Jordy blinked. This feeling was unexpectedly complicated.

It didn't take long for the two of them to finish their dinner. Gloria glanced at him and said calmly,

"Go and take a rest."

Chapter 1230 When Will You Remarry?

Jordy didn't speak, got up and walked towards the bedroom. For one night, neither of them said anything.

The next day, after the two woke up, Gloria made breakfast before they went to work.

Jordy wondered if it was his illusion. After eating the two meals made by Gloria, he found that he obviously felt much better in his stomach.

On this day, the two of them had no contact. But after getting off work, they both went to the old house by coincidence.

Gloria had said that she wanted to check on Grandma's situation again tonight. Jordy wanted to know the result as soon as possible, so he came over naturally.

When Karen saw both of them appearing, her mood became even better. She took their hands and said kindly, "You two are here to see me again. You have come to see me frequently recently. Will it delay your work?"

Gloria smiled, "How come? It has been arranged."

When Karen heard this, she was even happier. Sometimes, when one got older, he just wanted to keep his children by her side.

"Good! I'm glad it's been arranged. I'm really happy to see you two appear in pairs. But when you two will remarry?"

Gloria was shocked and her smile froze. But she returned to normal the next moment. She just smiled and said nothing.

Jordy said calmly, "What's the rush?"

"What's the rush?" Karen was waiting for Gloria to speak, but her grandson sounded so nonchalant! Her face darkened!

"You little bastard! Why do you think I'm in a hurry?!" Karen couldn't help cursing. Gloria was a girl and she was shy. When Jordy said that, Gloria would hesitate even if she wanted to remarry him!

What was more, Gloria didn't want to remarry in the first place. It had taken her a lot of effort to make Gloria willing to come back, but what happened? What was this bastard talking about?

She was really pissed off by this bastard. What if Gloria is unhappy?! Gloria will be mad! What should they do?!

However, Jordy's expression remained the same as before, and he directly changed the subject, "Did you argue with my grandpa recently?"

Karen was immediately distracted, and said directly, "He seems to have changed a lot recently. He didn't fight with me or even pull a long face in front of me. Do you think a man will change so quickly once he gets older? Why do I feel that something is wrong with your grandpa? Is he keeping a mistress?!!!"

Gloria and Jordy were speechless.

After a pause, Gloria smiled and said, "How could it be? Your relationship is so good. How could Grandpa see anyone else?"

In front of Old Mr. Collins, Gloria would never call him Grandpa. But in front of Grandma, she didn't want Grandma to think too much, so she called Joseph Grandpa.

Karen frowned and looked at Jordy suspiciously, "Why don't you say anything?"

Jordy glanced at her lightly and said, "Say what?"

"Is your grandpa seeing someone else? Are you afraid to tell me?"

Jordy pursed his lips and felt speechless. Obviously he didn't want to respond to Karen's topic.

Seeing him like this, Karen snorted coldly and said, "I don't think he's bold enough to do that. I'll break his legs if he does!"

Jordy didn't speak.

Gloria laughed and chatted with Karen for almost another two hours. They had already finished their dinner, and it was time to go back.
