Chapter 1231 It's Rare, or Even Extinct

Joseph also came back to stay with Karen. During this period of time, his attitude towards Karen was really different from before. It made Karen puzzled, but she was still very touched.

Karen said with a smile, "Okay, it's getting late. You guys go back, and be careful on the road."

Gloria nodded, "Grandma, you don't have to worry about us. It will be fine."

Karen smiled, and then turned her eyes to Jordy, "You must send Gloria home safely, you know?"

"I know." This time, Jordy agreed quite readily.

When Karen noticed it, she was in a better mood. In the past, her grandson had been very repulsive about this aspect. But now he was so obedient and cooperative. This did not mean that he was obedient, but that he really cared about Gloria!

Her mood became better. She stood at the door with a smile and watched the two of them leave.

On the way back, Jordy was still driving, and Gloria was sitting in the passenger seat.

Every time he took Gloria home, he usually drove the car himself. Moreover, the two of them still had things to talk about today, and others shouldn't be around.

Inside the car, it was very quiet all the time. Ever since Gloria left Karen's sight, the smile on her face had completely disappeared, and she looked depressed.

Jordy naturally sensed that something was wrong with her. He frowned slightly and asked, "What's going on?"

Gloria blinked. She came to her sense and sighed helplessly, "I still need something to cure Grandma's illness."

She sounded calm, but Jordy could still hear the anxiety in her tone. Obviously, what was needed was extremely rare, and even hard to find.

"What do you need?"

Gloria couldn't help but sigh again. She turned her head out of the window, looked at the colorful lights outside, and said in a deep voice, "It's rare, or even extinct."

Jordy frowned suddenly. Gloria said slowly, "Misty Lucid Ganoderma."

If it was just a simple Ganoderma lucidum, she wouldn't be so worried. But it was Ganoderma lucidum!

Gloria lowered her head slightly, and said with a bit of helplessness on her face, "Grandma's body cells are developing really fast now, with the trend of gradually transferring into small cells. It has been suppressed by medication. If there is no Misty Lucid Ganoderma, I can manage not to let her have an attack for two months, but after two months..."

Gloria paused and she spoke slowly, "I don't know if I can find a new way to resist cancer cells, so I..."

She couldn't go on.

Jordy said calmly, "I'll send someone to look for it."

Gloria did not respond. She had been inquiring about this matter for the past two days, but she still hadn't found any reliable information. But the next moment, her eyes suddenly lit up, and she immediately looked at Jordy, "Half a month later, is there going to be an auction in UK?"

Jordy blinked and he nodded immediately.

Gloria's eyes lit up, "Perhaps, there might be one!"

The auction was held once a year. Every time it was held, it was very grand. All the people who went to the auction were powerful and powerful, and people from the middle and upper classes probably were not qualified to go there. Jordy would definitely be invited as one of the top ten important guests. Gloria could go with him to have a look then.

Chapter 1232 She Wondered What Was Wrong with Him

Moreover, there would be everything there. It was impossible to get a specific list in advance, except for those who were most capable.

After a pause, Gloria looked at Jordy and asked, "Can... you try to get someone to check the list?"

"Okay."

Gloria leaned back in her seat and said nothing.

The auction could only give them a little bit of hope. They still had to find a way to get this thing from other channels.

Moreover, something like Misty Lucid Ganoderma was too precious. Apart from being able to resist cancer cells, it also had many great benefits. Rich people wanted to live longer. So Misty Lucid Ganoderma was certainly a sought-after thing.

Along the rest of the way, neither of them said another word. Gloria's eyes were full of sadness. She was really worried about Grandma's condition.

It wasn't until she reached the yard that she regained her composure. She glanced at Jordy and said calmly, "Go back. I won't invite you in."

Jordy didn't speak, and got out of the car directly. Gloria was surprised.

Seeing him following behind her, Gloria couldn't help but frown, "Are you going to stay?"

"Don't you want to adjust my condition? Shouldn't you adjust my stomach?"

Gloria was stunned.

Looking at him, she said speechlessly, "There are so many people who can adjust. You don't even know how many top chefs you have. You still need me to adjust? Am I your nanny?"

A nanny at least needed to be paid. She was doing it for nothing?

Jordy didn't seem to see Gloria's dissatisfaction, and said indifferently, "It's not impossible if you want."

Gloria was speechless.

She didn't bother to talk to him, and she didn't want him to follow. So she quickened her pace. After opening the door, she planned to close the door quickly to prevent him from coming in.

But he had already seen through her thoughts, and pulled the door first. Gloria couldn't close the door. She frowned again and looked at him, "What exactly do you want?"

"I don't have the strength to drive back."

Gloria felt speechless. Is he pretending to be weak?

She looked at her coldly, not going to give in.

Jordy didn't intend to leave and said calmly, "My stomach hurts."

Gloria was speechless. He didn't reach the terminal stage at all, and he had been taking good care of himself. Now he said he had a stomachache? His stomach hurts every day?

She didn't believe it.

"Don't bother me anymore!" After she finished it, she was about to close the door again, but he still didn't intend to let go. Gloria frowned even more tightly.

However, just as she was about to say something, Jordy had already stepped in. If Gloria didn't step back, she might bump into his arms.

Gloria immediately stepped back a little to avoid physical contact with him. It was exactly what Jordy wanted. At this moment, he had walked into living room.

Gloria's face was obviously gloomier than before and she said, "How long are you going to stay here?"

Jordy looked determined and said indifferently, "It depends on my mood."

Gloria was speechless. Is he really the Jordy she knew? Wasn't he arrogant in the past and he would sneer and leave as long as she disliked him even a little bit? What is he doing now?

Seeing him like this, she was extremely puzzled, and wondered what was wrong with him.

"It's not proper for you to stay in my place all the time."

They acted like they were on good terms to comfort Karen, but they didn't have to without Karen's presence.

Besides, Karen didn't know Jordy was living in Gloria's house.

Jordy ignored her and casually strode to the room where he usually slept.

Gloria was rendered speechless.

She was irritated. A cheeky man like Jordy refused to leave her house no matter how hard she tried. What could she do?

Though irritated, she went back to her bedroom.

Silence blanketed the house.

The next day, Gloria and Jordy went to their companies respectively and everything was back on track.

Gloria, however, could do nothing with Jordy's cheeky behavior.

On the other side.

Nydia had gone to the office, but she was in no mood to work.

George occupied her mind.

After George left that day, she thought her life would be back to normal, but it was not to be.

Over these days, George had been contacting her, talking about their private affairs, showing his concerns for her and implying that he wanted to be with her.

Nydia felt George was a psychopath. She had made it very clear that she didn't need him to take responsibility, but he just kept dwelling on this. That was not his style at all.

She felt it incredible, but she did not overthink it. Now, she just ignored him.

Whatever George said was none of her business.

But... When she thought her neglect of George would make him give up...

"Nydia, someone is outside for you."

Hearing it, Nydia was confused. Who was here for her? Was she that famous now?

Did someone want her to take the case?

"Where is it?"

If that guy wanted her to take the case, it should have walked in.

Nydia's coworker cast an unnatural glance at her. "He's not here to ask you to take a case. He's outside waiting for you."

Nydia's coworker knew the guy outside well. He and Nydia looked like a quarrelsome couple, and no one could meddle in their relationship.

Some of Nydia's female colleagues had a crush on George. However, they didn't have a chance to hit on George, since the latter turned a blind eye to them.

They could do nothing with it but watched George and Nydia showing affection for each other in public.

A hint of confusion flashed across Nydia's eyes. She then walked out.

Her face changed all of a sudden when she saw it was George who had been occupying her mind. Even her eyes became evasive. Without hesitation, she walked back inside.

"Nydia."

George called her timely. After a moment of hesitation, Nydia stopped in her tracks. When she wanted to move again, her hand was grabbed by George.

Nydia changed color slightly. She struggled and said, "Let go!"

George didn't intend to let go, his eyes fixed on her, "What will you do after I let you go? You avoid me and ignore my messages. You are not like that before. Nydia, what are you afraid of?"

Chapter 1234 Entrapped

Nydia's heart contracted, but she still said stubbornly, "I have nothing to be afraid of, okay?"

George looked straight into her eyes and said bluntly, "If so, why do you avoid me and skip my messages?"

Nydia frowned slightly and explained, "I didn't avoid you. I just want to ignore you. Understand?"

George let out a snort of laughter. Obviously, he didn't buy it. He directly dragged Nydia's arm and walked outside.

Nydia's face changed. "What are you doing? Let go of me! I'm at work!"

George pulled a long face and showed no sign of answering her question. Instead, he dragged her into his car. She intended to get off from the other side door, but George had gotten into the car and locked all the doors.

Hearing the sound, Nydia quit getting off but glared at George. "George, are you nuts? What the hell are you doing!"

They already had a lot of entanglements. Because of the relic, they had a lot of fights with each other. And now, because of their one night stand, he kept showing his face to her. How annoying he was!

After she knew she had feelings for George, she was really upset. She really didn't know how to get along with this man right in front of her!

In the past, she hadn't realized her feelings for him, so she thought George was just someone who repulsed her.

Now, she realized she had a crush on him. Still, she didn't want to be with him, and yet she felt uncomfortable. Mixed feelings surged through her and sometimes her heart beat irregularly. Her abnormal physical reaction made her feel awful.

George frowned slightly in annoyance. He stayed up overnight, feeling unwell.

After Carlos and Jordy told him that he had feelings for Nydia, and so many things happened between him and Nydia, he could tell something was wrong...

Later, he realized he had fallen in love with Nydia, then what mattered to him seemed to have changed. Also, he didn't want to be troubled by his love for Nydia alone.

He would rather confess it to Nydia.

Today, he could no longer control himself.

"Nydia, we've quarreled for so long. Have you ever thought of ending our quarrel and living in peace with me for the rest of our lives?"

Nydia was a bit taken aback, but she soon snorted. "How? We can never live in peace unless you quit the game and stop fighting me."

After that, she shot daggers at George and couldn't help shouting abuse at him.

“You scumbag!”

George’s face darkened!

He wanted to reason with her, but thinking what he once said to her didn’t work, he suddenly quit the idea.

Silence reigned over the car suddenly.

Nydia felt a bit uneasy. After all, George and she would have bitter quarrels every time they met.

This was the first time they had faced each other in silence.

Trapped in his car, she couldn’t get off. Taking a deep breath, she said irritably, “Can you let me get off? What the hell do you want?”

Chapter 1235 Why Should I Apologize to You?

Nydia was irritable like a cat that fluffed up.

George’s calm and serious expression formed a sharp contrast to hers.

He raised his head slowly, His eyes fell on Nydia and his calm voice said, “Nydia, do you wanna be together with me?”

Nydia was stunned at his question.

Before, he said he would be responsible for her because he took her virginity.

But now, he said he wanna be together with her.

Of the two, the former meant that he felt guilty for taking her virginity and thus wanted to take responsibility, while the latter meant that he wanted to be in a love relationship with her.

This realization made her at a loss for what to do. She wondered if she thought too much.

Maybe the latter also meant he wanted to be responsible for her.

Nydia scratched her hair irritably. Then she looked at George. When she was about to say something impatiently, she was stunned by his serious expression.

She had never seen that on George's face.

What the hell was going on?

Nydia was out of words suddenly.

"Listen to me if you don't know what to say." George read Nydia's mind and suggested.

Nydia's eyelashes fluttering, she watched George who acted weirdly today without a word.

After inhaling, George sighed.

Nydia furrowed her brows, looking awful. What did it mean? Did he feel she was taking the moral high road? Did she ever force him to be responsible?

As anger surged inside her chest, she said irritably, "Don't force yourself if you don't want to talk to me! Have I ever forced you to be responsible for me? It's you who insist pestering me. Have I ever spread the word about it to tarnish your reputation? We are adults! It's just a one night stand. You don't have to take it personally!"

Nydia poured her heart out in one go to save her face and mitigate her bad mood.

With a sullen face, George was boiling with anger.

But he managed to suppress his anger and raised his hand to rub the forehead where blue veins stood out.

"Could you hear me out? It's not too late to judge me." He sounded very calm and patient.

His calmness made Nydia suspicious about what he really wanted to do.

He was so bossy just now, but he appeared rather cool after getting into the car.

What tricks was he using?

Thinking for a while, Nydia buttoned her lip, leaned against the seat back and was about to rest her eyes.

George inhaled before parting his lips. "I've quarreled with you in the past, and when we fought each other for my mom's relic, I did say a lot of hurtful words to you. I apologize to you for that."

Nydia looked at him with an expression of amazement. She didn't hear it wrong, did she? This proud man apologized to her! No way!

She was too shocked to say anything.

When she was silent, George's voice rang again.

"Are you surprised to hear my apology? If it were before, I would feel it incredulous too."

Chapter 1236 Keep Ignoring Him

Nydia looked at him silently.

He was right. It would be an unbelievable thing if it were before.

But now...

Nydia gazed at him still without a word. She would like to know what he was going to say and if he was using tricks.

To get the relic, he spared no effort. Thus, Nydia was not sure if he was using this trick to obtain the relic.

"Carlos and Jordy persuaded me to face my feelings for you, but I didn't think I was likely to fall for you back then and even refuted them. Now I realized that they had long known my feelings before I noticed."

Nydia was puzzled.

What the hell was he talking about?

She couldn't understand.

George took no heed of her puzzled expression and continued, "After experiencing this thing with you, I've been through change of mentality. Back then, my mind was still a mess and I was shocked especially when finding it was you beside me."

Nydia scowled but said nothing, waiting for him to finish speaking.

After pausing for moments, he said, "In the past few days, I've been thinking about this matter. Carlos talked a lot with me and I tried hard to contact you, but you kept ignoring me."

Nydia frowned a little bit. Did he expect her to pester him and require him to be responsible for her?

It will be ridiculous to do that!

She is a cool woman, okay? Moreover, George is just a scumbag. It's not a good choice for her to date a scumbag!

She kept silent.

George was helpless, fixating on Nydia. It seemed that it was not a good time to say too much.

"I considered a lot last night and decided to find you." He paused, his eyes on Nydia were dark with some unfathomable emotions.

Nydia was stunned, but she was more stunned by what George said later.

"You remember what I said to you last night. It was difficult for me to admit my feelings for you at that time, so I said I would be responsible for you."

Nydia was at a loss.

What's wrong with him?

Does he go crazy?

What is he going to say?

Nydia had guessed what he was going to say, but she denied it very soon, believing he was unlikely to say that.

"After you asked me to leave, I stayed up overnight. Nydia, do you know what's in my mind?"

"I'm not telepathic. How can I know what you were thinking?" Nydia couldn't help complaining. In fact, she wanted to hear what he was going to say. She didn't notice that she was expectant.

"My mind is full of you."

Nydia was stunned. Drawing a breath, she looked up at George and couldn't help asking, "It's not your new trick, is it?"

George was rendered speechless.

Nydia looked at him suspiciously. Is he using this trick after he found out all other methods didn't work?

Why does she feel something wrong?

George scowled. "What new trick?"

Nydia eyed him up and down suspiciously and couldn't help adding, "Well, did you forget those tricks you used on me to get the relic?"

George said helplessly, "Can't you see I've quit the game?"

Nydia let out a snort of laughter. "How can I? You always have so many tricks up your sleeve."

She believed it was a miracle that she was still alive. If she hadn't lived in a law-based society, she would not doubt that George had gotten her killed.

George took a slight breath, seemingly suppressing his rage. Nydia saw it and sneered. "You don't have to do that. Whatever methods you use, I won't give the relic to you, let alone be together with you. So, stop wasting your breath and our time. It won't work."

Nydia was determined to not spare George a chance,

George, however, refrained from leaving. Gazing at her, he said quietly, "Hear me out first."

Nydia said nothing with a frown.

Seeing displeasure in her face, he added, "Believe it or not, I gotta say I've quit the relic. Since she left it to you, you can keep it forever. I just wanna tell you I want to be with you. Nydia Maguire, I really want to be with you!"

He repeated the last sentence.

Nydia was dumbfounded.

George had never said that to her before. Even when he tried every means to get his mom's relic, he never thought of getting it by being together with her.

Nydia knew that he disdained her, for he had said many times that she was not feminine at all and no man was willing to marry her.

But now, what was he doing?

He said he wanted to be with her.

Nydia looked at him incredibly and thought he was joking. It was not a good trick since it meant he had to sacrifice his happiness.

What if she did require him to marry her?

Nydia couldn't utter a word at that moment.

Before she could think further, George added, "Nydia, I find that I'm in love with you."

Nydia suddenly felt like she was in a dream.

Did she hear it wrong?

She stared blankly at the man in front of her, unable to utter a word.

George suddenly grabbed her hand, feeling the warmth of her soft hand. His eyes turned much gentler. "Nydia, be with me. I promise to give you a bright future. I once said no man was willing to marry you. That was because I can't bear you being together with any other man. I should be the one that deserves to be with you. Nydia, could you be with me?"

George's voice was earnest.

Nydia was dumbstruck and confused about what George was talking about. She parted her lips and didn't know how to ask him. What if she hear it wrong? It would be embarrassing to ask the question out.

Thus, she kept silent, which made George ill at ease. He then said firmly, "You don't have to give me an answer right now. I'll kick away that man who lust after you. I'll give you time to accept me."

Nydia drew a breath and found her voice. "Are you pursuing me?"

"Isn't it obvious?"

Nydia didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

She had never seen any suitor could gain a woman's heart by just saying a few sweet words.

Chapter 1238 It's Not My Fault

Nydia was speechless. She didn't want to dwell on this thing with George, and thus she said calmly, "Have you finished your speech?"

At her words, George was a bit annoyed.

Why did she give him that attitude? He just confessed his feelings to her so affectionately.

He was really pissed off.

"Nydia, do you think I was only joking?"

Nydia looked up at him with a slight frown and chuckled softly. "Do you really think I'll buy a word of it?"

George was wordless.

This damn woman!

What could he say to make her believe him?

He repressed his surged emotions and tried so hard to confess his love to her, but what did she do?

She even thought he was joking.

Inhaling a deep breath, George tried to control his emotions.

Before he said anything, Nydia spoke again, "You did behave differently from before. But never think I'll fall into your trap. You tried to pursue me just because whatever methods you used before didn't work!"

George was pissed. "You...!"

"What? Am I wrong? You were unwilling to stoop in pursuing me, but now you do so just because of what happened that night. You believe it's a good method to pursue me. You think I'm now helpless and flustered because I've never experienced such a thing. Do you think my mind will be shaken after I see your feigned affectionate look?"

George was wordless.

Blue veins on his forehead were pulsing. He was on the verge of flaring up with anger boiling inside.

“Nydia Maguire, what the hell are you thinking about, talking illogical nonsense?” George failed to control his anger. His eyes were filled with fury. Obviously, he was about to flare up.

Nydia froze for a moment and looked at him in disbelief. “You... you are so good at acting! You even make yourself look like you are angry at being wronged by me!”

Wow, what a qualified actor.

Nydia would have trusted him but for what happened before.

George was at a loss.

Nydia noticed that the blue veins on his forehead stood out and pulsed. She couldn't help frowning. He acts like he was really angry.

Is her speculation wrong?

The next moment, Nydia denied it. How could it be possible? George didn't like her at all. He often said she was mannish and no man wanted to marry her, which meant he disdained her.

So, she wouldn't believe he fell for her!

George inhaled a deep breath, trying hard to control his emotions.

Nydia glanced at him. Seeing him close his eyes, she sighed. “Forget it. You don't have to try so hard. Just vent it out. It's not like we have never quarreled before. I don't care quarreling with you one more time. Or you may blame me for not letting you vent your anger.”

George was really pissed.

Damn it!

“Nydia Maguire, are you a f*cking idiot? I said so much to you with so much affection. If I had no feelings for you, I wouldn't have stooped in pursuing you! I won't!”

Chapter 1239 Do Not Waste Your Breath

Nydia said nothing.

Unaffected, she stared at him, without taking what he had said seriously.

Thinking for a while, she sighed and said, "Whatever methods you use, I won't be with you or give you what my godmother left to me. Just give up."

Why is it so hard to communicate with this woman?

What should he say?

She doesn't believe him whatever he says!

He inhaled a deep breath again.

Nydia said calmly, "In fact, without my godmother's relic, perhaps you would be my idol that I worshiped and we would never know each other."

Pausing for a moment, she added, "So, do not waste your breath on me."

"I..." George frowned, looking awful. Before he said anything else, Nydia cut him off.

"George, you don't have to say so much. You know how our relationship works, don't you? I'm unlikely to trust you whatever you say."

"I am f*cking..." serious.

Before George could speak out the word, "serious", Nydia interrupted him again, "OK, suppose that what you've said is true, let me tell you."

She made a pause on purpose.

Watching George's angry and speechless look, Nydia said again, "Even if you do have a crush on me, I gotta say, I won't be with you, cause you're a scumbag. You're capricious, fooling around with a lot of women. Why should I be together with a scumbag like you for life? Or more precisely, could you be with me for life?"

George didn't know what to say.

At that moment, he didn't know how to retort to Nydia. In the past, women had repulsed him the most and he had believed all women were untrustworthy because of his mom.

As if to revenge on his mom, he played with a lot of women. Before he got any pleasure of revenge, he was served right for fooling around.

When he seriously wanted to be in a love relationship with a woman, he was refused.

George raised his hand and stroked his forehead.

Nydia darted a glance at him and said faintly, "I hope you won't mention this thing again. George, stop using any tricks on me. I'm on my strong guard against you. If you wanna take away what my godmother left to me, kill me then. That relic won't be yours unless I die."

That was the only way, or George could never take it from her!

George frowned deeply, his eyes filled with annoyance.

"Nydia, I'm in no mood for a joke. I'm telling the truth. I indeed fall in love with you. There's no need to hide it from you. And you, you can only be with me for life!"

Nydia was confused.

"Who the hell are you to meddle in whoever I want to be with? What do you mean by saying I can only be with you?" Nydia was so pissed off. Though she currently had no intention to fall in love or get married, she would have a life companion in the future, and she was free to choose who she wanted to be with. But this bossy man said she could only be with her.

It wasn't that she could no longer get married without him. How ridiculous he was!

Chapter 1240 Can't You Give Me a Way out?

"Cause no one dares to pursue you!" George's voice was deep. When Nydia looked over, she met his icy and stubborn gaze.

Nydia was taken aback and her face darkened the next second. "What do you want to do?"

"I'll pursue you openly! I'll see who dares to go against me," George blustered.

Nydia looked more sullen. "George, are you insane? Can't you give me a way out?"

George pulled a long face. Repressing the impulse to get off, he said coldly, "Nydia, don't you know how to say something nice?"

"What?" Nydia inhaled a deep breath and watched him with suppressed anger. "Say something nice? Why should I? Everybody knows you are a womanizer. The women you fooled around with could not end up being with good men, because they were considered indecent women after being in love with you. You should be blamed for it because you are such a womanizer! George, you have money and power, so you don't have to care about others' opinions. But I'm not the same. I'm just a common person. Can't you be less selfish?"

George laughed angrily. He didn't know what to say at that moment.

Nydia had yet to vent out all her anger, took a deep breath, and stared daggers at him. "The thing my godmother left to me doesn't belong to you. Why do you insist on fighting me for it? Since you hate my godmother so much, why are you obsessed with her relic? What does it have to do with you?"

George clenched his fists and unclenched them, his deep voice saying, "I've told you. I no longer want it and you can keep it forever."

Nydia snorted. "What else can make you so humble? Do you think I'll buy a word of it?"

"Believe it or not, that's it. Nydia, you'll know I'm serious in the future."

With that, George get off and agilely strode to the driver's seat.

Nydia's face changed. She hurriedly open the car door but failed. Seeing that George had started the engine, she said anxiously, "Where are you taking me?"

"Going to dine."

"What's wrong with you? I've told you I don't wanna be with you! Even if you are serious, I don't want to! Why do you force me to dine with you? I just want to go back to work! I don't want to skip work!"

"Come on, I know you skipped work many times."

Nydia closed her eyes and opened them. Taking a deep breath, she snarled, "Have you yet to know why I don't want to be with you?"

She has made it so clear with a bad attitude.

Yet George refuses to let her get off. Doesn't he feel humiliated?

Nydia felt as if her blood pressure had risen sharply.

George simply ignored Nydia and turned a deaf ear to whatever Nydia said on the way. Nydia could only give up.

Yep, she gave up.

When they arrived at the destination, George turned to look at Nydia, "Get off."

Nydia was seated motionlessly. She didn't intend to show up on public occasions with George since George was a public figure that a lot of women lusted after. She didn't want to become an eyesore to all the women!
