Chapter 1241 I Am So Sick of You!

George frowned, got off, and went to the backseat before opening the car door for her. "Get off?"

Nydia looked at him in displeasure. "You don't allow me to get off when I want, and now you ask me to get off when I don't want to. Are you kidding me? You think I'm going to get off? Dream on!"

George had expected her reaction, so he was not angry at all. Instead, he watched her with a faint smile. "Are you sure you don't want to get off?"

"What are you gonna do then?" Nydia asked provocatively.

"That's your choice. Don't regret it." With that, George closed the car door.

Nydia changed color and she didn't understand what he meant.

"What do you mean?"

George said nothing and was seated in the driver's seat. Before Nydia reacted, he started the engine again.

Seeing him driving, Nydia scowled instantly. "Where are you going?"

George ignored her and continued driving.

"You scumbag! Where are you taking me? Let me get off!"

"You refused to get off just now, didn't you? I'll do as you wish," George said with a sneer, without caring about Nydia's emotions.

As the car was driven at a faster and faster speed, she was flustered. "Where the hell are you taking me? What's the problem with you! Aren't you forcing me? Don't ever think about taking away my godmother's thing. Also, don't love me. I won't be with you, you scumbag!"

George sneered. "Whatever you think."

He had figured it out. He would rather prove his love for her with action than waste his breath on her. He would see if Nydia could say the same cruel words after that. He would make her believe him by then.

“What the hell are you doing! Let me get off!” Nydia was on the verge of a breakdown.

However, George just ignored her. Nydia buttoned her lip after speaking to him for a dozen minutes. The car then fell silent.

George lifted his brow and played a song happily.

Damn it! Nydia was pissed off!

She gritted her teeth and said nothing because it was useless to say anything. As he drove found something amiss. Is he driving to...?

She looked awful suddenly. “What’s your problem? Why are you taking me to your home?”

They were like foes against each other, and yet Nydia knew where George was living!

“Since you don’t want to dine outside, then go eat with me in my home.” George appeared relaxed.

Nydia admitted defeat. She was exhausted from talking with him. It was like talking to a dead phone!

She felt terrible!

Soon, they arrived at George’s house. When she did the maths on the time they spent together, she realized it was almost time to be off duty.

George parked his car. When he was about to get off, Nydia was quicker than him. She got off and fled.

George’s face darkened. He knew she wouldn’t obediently stay with him.

He got off right away and strode toward Nydia who was running away in high heels.

Nydia looked back and screamed, “Don’t go after me! I am so sick of you!”

Chapter 1242 Shocking Words

George took several strides and gripped Nydia directly.

Nydia struggled at once but to no avail. He was so strong that she failed to break free.

“You... You...”

You are crazy!

But Nydia didn't speak it out.

It made no difference even if she did.

This man was totally a psychopath!

“I ask the chef to cook. You stay in my place tonight.” Without waiting for Nydia's reply, he dragged her into the villa.

“Let me go! I don't eat with you!”

“You have no choice.”

“Are you mental?”

“Yep, I'm mentally obsessed with you.”

Nydia stared speechlessly at him. When does he become so shameless?

“Let go! We are not suited to each other! Don't waste your time!”

“You won't know if we are suited until we give it a shot!” George remained calm.

Nydia inhaled a deep breath. “I don't give a shit about you! I would rather be single all my life than be with you! Could you please let me go? I beg you!”

“If I let you go, can you be with me?” George's words were shocking.

Nydia could do nothing.

They were not discussing the same subject!

What was wrong with him?

She had made it so clear that she didn't want to be with him. Why was he so stubborn?

Had he swallowed his pride?

Why did he act so humbly?

He was a proud man, wasn't he? What the hell was wrong with him?

After a while, Nydia stared speechlessly and strangely at him, “Bro, are you under a spell?”

Nydia had been dragged into the villa and forced to change into slippers by George. They were seated on the sofa.

In slippers, she could only run at a slower speed.

“Do I look like I’m under a spell?” George said through gnashed teeth. “You don’t want to admit your feelings for me, then I gotta try hard to make you agree to be with me. Nydia, you can only be mine from now on.”

Nydia was rendered speechless.

Was he crazy?

She had thought about this question many times, and she was already on the edge.

George!

Damn it!

He’s crazy!

F*cking crazy!

Nydia inhaled a deep breath and her inner voice told her to stay calm.

Life resembles a drama. It’s fate that bonds them together.

Damn it!

Fate must have played a trick on her!

Why did fate lead her to meet a psychopath?

Then, Nydia found she had no chance to leave. Even when she excused herself and went to the bathroom, George accompanied her there and then pressed her to sit down at the dining table.

The servants’ eyes flashed with astonishment. They worked here, so they naturally knew some of George’s private affairs.

They knew that George had some entanglements with this woman, but the way they were involved with each other seemed to have changed.

George became a proactive suitor, or more precisely, a simp that did whatever for the woman he liked.

What the hell happened?

Those servants peeped at George and Nydia as if inadvertently, only to see Nydia's long face.

They were confused, but no one dared to ask. After their work was done, they could only leave George and Nydia alone.

Watching the full meal on the table and thinking she was really hungry, she was seated obediently, took a knife and fork, and started enjoying the meal.

At the worst, she would be drugged, but she was not afraid because she had lost her virginity. Besides, she didn't think George would use such a dirty trick.

Chapter 1243 Jordy Is the Only Man You Want to Marry

Seeing that Nydia was eating at the table obediently, George was happy.

He was so proud before and thought his pride mattered more than anything, but later he found out he lost happiness because of it.

Now, restricting Nydia to his villa, he found he couldn't be happier.

After finishing dinner, Nydia looked up at George. "Hey, you should let me go back now, right? I can't live in your place!"

George raised his eyebrows, "Yep, we haven't been married yet. I can't cross the line. I'll send you home."

Nydia breathed a sigh of relief as she knew he was a man of his word.

It was getting late. Gloria didn't know what had happened to Nydia today. She was sitting at the computer in the study room and watching the design drawing.

She fixated on the computer screen, clicked the drawing occasionally and her left hand jabbed the keyboard.

The ringing tone of her phone pulled her out of her head. Seeing the caller ID, she narrowed her eyes. Rachel Roberts? Without hesitation, she picked it up.

“Miss Roberts?”

“Miss White, did I disturb you at this late hour?” Rachel was very polite.

“No, just go ahead.” She knew Rachel would not call her for nothing.

Rachel said with a calm expression, “I investigated the accident that happened at my grandpa’s birthday party and got some clues. I want to talk about it with you.”

Gloria lifted her eyebrow, “Who’s behind it?”

“Angela White.”

Gloria squinted, and then said, unconvinced, “Angela White?”

She was not surprised that Rachel knew Angela was alive, but she didn’t expect Rachel would mention Angela.

She knew Angela had looked for Rachel.

She thought they would have an alliance.

After all, in their eyes, she was getting closer and closer to Jordy, their news often made a hit, and Jordy was nicer to her. She thought Angela and Rachel would be allied against her.

But now...

Was Rachel betraying Angela?

Rachel had yet to lay a finger on her, so Gloria was not hostile to her, but Gloria would not relax her vigilance.

Gloria remained silent. Rachel smiled. “Looks like you know Angela is not dead?”

Gloria’s mouth twitched.

Rachel continued, “Angela is not targeting you, but me.”

“Ehn?” Gloria raised her eyebrows. She had guessed something but she didn’t share her speculations.

Rachel smiled and added, "Everyone knows I love Jordy. That day Jordy publicly took you away and made me lose face. She wanted to use it to pick a fight between us."

Gloria was somewhat surprised. "Miss Roberts, you really think so?"

"Was I wrong? There's no grudge between Angela and me. That's the only explanation."

Gloria smiled. "Yep, it made sense."

Gloria was not sure about Rachel's real intentions, but she would not truly believe whatever Rachel said.

"I have two things to talk about with you. The first is to tell you who's behind the accident. I don't intend to be an enemy against you or be together with Jordy."

Gloria raised her eyebrows. "Miss Roberts, you once said Jordy was the only man you want to marry, didn't you?"

Chapter 1244 You're Bold

"I used to think that way. If I were still obsessive, I might be doomed for it." With that, Rachel smiled with self-mockery, her tone very serious.

Gloria didn't express her opinions.

Rachel continued, "Don't overthink it. I won't be deceived by Angela or do anything against you."

Gloria replied faintly, "OK."

In fact, Jordy and she were not a couple and she didn't intend to be with Jordy, but she had to keep it to herself for now. At least, before Karen recovered, she could not tell anyone about it. No matter what, Karen's health mattered the most.

In the future, if she got a chance and Rachel still loved Jordy, she might tell the truth to Rachel.

Rachel was not surprised at Gloria's indifference, but continued, "The second is to talk about an opportunity for us to work together. I'll send you a business proposal. If you are interested, how about having a local field trip?"

“A local field trip?”

“Yep, the project site is in this city. It’s about a two–hour drive here. Read the proposal. If you’re interested, you might as well come here and I’m waiting for you.”

Rachel was confident enough that Gloria would be interested.

“OK,” Gloria answered briefly.

“All right, let me send it to you.”

“Ehn.”

Hanging up the phone, Gloria received the proposal Rachel sent.

It didn’t take Gloria long to finish reading the proposal. Rachel wanted to cooperate with her because it was a field that White Group was good at.

For no reason, Gloria believed there was something fishy.

She gotta admit the business proposal was very enticing. White Group was seeking better development. If it could complete this business project, it would step up to a higher level.

-Rachel, [Have you finished? What do you think about it?]

Rachel sent a message right after Gloria finished reading it to make Gloria feel she was eager to cooperate. Gloria sensed it, of course.

-Gloria, [Nice proposal, I like it.]

-Rachel, [How about a field trip? I’ll send you the GPS location.]

Then, Gloria received the GPS location.

Gloria’s eyes looked calm. Apparently, she was not in a hurry.

After pondering for a while, she rose to her feet and set off.

On the way, nothing wrong happened.

Rachel got a message from her man.

–[Miss, she has set off.]

Rachel fiddled with her phone without replying right away. She seemed to think about something.

Squinting, she finally replied.

– Rachel, [Plan A]

–[Roger that]

Gloria arrived at the destination smoothly.

Seeing Rachel standing before a pond outside the village, Gloria parked her car and got off.

Rachel turned to look at her with a smile. “You’re here.”

“Surprised?” Gloria wore a calm expression.

Rachel curled her lips. “You’re bold.”

Gloria turned down the corners of her lips. She walked to Rachel and stopped beside Rachel, her calm voice saying, “Miss Roberts, I know you won’t act rashly.”

Smart people didn’t need to get things straight while talking.

Rachel thought Gloria had no guts to come here for fear of being attacked. Unexpectedly, Gloria still came.

Rachel smiled. “I can’t betray your trust then. Well, our cooperation ahead won’t let you down.”

Chapter 1245 Almost Cannot Control Herself

Gloria curled her lips. “OK.”

Rachel had a close look at Gloria before speaking, “Follow me.”

Every time she met Gloria, Gloria made her feel something new. Gloria was like a mysterious being that had an enduring appeal.

Gloria stood beside her, but Rachel could not read any of her thoughts.

She felt awful about it.

She drew a breath and turned around.

Gloria followed her without a word.

On the other side,

Jordy was handling his business affairs in the office. After sending Nydia home, George felt upset and came over here to work overtime with Jordy.

Jordy could remain silent for a long while, but George could not help himself. He sat opposite Jordy and stared at his calm face.

“Do you think what I’ve done will work? Will she be disgusted with me more and more?”

Harold’s sudden call made him nervous.

“Mr. Collins, Miss Rachel asked to meet Miss White in a remote place.”

“The location.” Jordy jumped to his feet and strode outside.

Now Jordy paid attention to anything that might hurt Gloria.

Last time, Gloria and Rachel hit the floor at the banquet. Except for Rachel, Jordy was also investigating it.

Even if he had found out it had nothing to do with Rachel, he didn’t relax his vigilance against Rachel.

He verbally promised to cooperate with Rachel and talk about the details the next time they met, but it was suspended. Rachel had looked for him to talk about it, but he had lost interest and told Rachel to put it on hold.

Even if the project could bring huge benefits which meant a lot to Jordy as a businessman, he had no interest in working with Rachel!

Very soon, Jordy drove to the location that Harold provided.

Time ticked away.

The two-hour drive was reduced to a half-hour drive by Jordy.

It was in the suburbs, so there were few cars on the road.

And he finally saw Gloria.

She and Rachel were walking in the village and looking around.

It was in the evening, but they still looked around like they did during the day.

The sudden appearance of the car made them notice him. Rachel's pupils constricted slightly.

He...?

Gloria was also surprised. Why was he here? Under their gazes, Jordy opened the car door and got off slowly.

His handsome figure seemed to have taken Rachel's breath. She had expected her next meeting with Jordy in any form, but she didn't expect it would be tonight.

She stared at Jordy, her eyes full of mixed feelings and disbelief.

She didn't think it was a coincidence.

So...

Why the hell was Jordy here?

Was he worried about... Gloria White?

Was it because Jordy had known about her meeting with Gloria? Did he come here to check if Gloria was safe and sound?

This realization made Rachel feel upset. Neither of them spoke. They just stared at his figure.

He strode to them when his gaze was fixed on Gloria.

Though far away from him, Rachel could feel his intense gaze on Gloria. She gripped the hem of her clothes, trying hard to suppress her surged emotions. At that moment, she even wanted to change her plan!

Just take a deep breath.

One more time.

Rachel felt she almost lost her marbles.

Chapter 1246 Her Smile Faded from Her Face

Rachel didn't seem to regain her composure until Jordy stopped beside them. Pausing for a moment, she looked up at Jordy with a smile on her lips.

"Mr. Collins, why are you here? What a coincidence."

Obviously, it was not a coincidence.

Gloria's gaze fell on Jordy, only to see him look rather calm and hear him reply calmly.

"Well, I have a project to develop here, so I'm here to have a look."

Rachel was wordless.

What a lame excuse!

Only one village was located here. The only project to be developed here was the one she would work on with Gloria.

But Jordy was not ashamed to say that he was here to look at the project site. Wasn't it ridiculous?

Gloria was also wordless.

She was not certain about why Jordy was there. Though she had vague speculation, she didn't think it was right, feeling that she thought too much of herself.

She decided to put aside that speculation. What Jordy was going to do had nothing to do with her.

"So that's it." Rachel managed a smile. Jordy gave such a lame excuse that Rachel was at a loss for what to say.

When he arrived, he stood beside them, without speaking or leaving. Gloria glanced at him, having an odd feeling, "You're here to check the project site, aren't you?"

She didn't want Jordy to stay here, or she couldn't have a good chat with Rachel.

"There's no hurry."

With that, Jordy stood motionlessly, as if he hadn't gotten Gloria's implication.

Both Gloria and Rachel were rendered speechless.

They looked strangely at Jordy, but the latter didn't feel embarrassed at all.

Rachel could only compromise. She took a deep breath and looked at Gloria with a smile. "I've shown you the general project site. If you're satisfied with it, you can reach me and we can talk about it."

Gloria nodded. "Okay."

That was all Rachel wanted to say. It was a business project between Roberts Group and White Group. Jordy, as the outsider, was in no position to know about it. And she didn't intend to tell him about it, either.

"It's late. You should go back," Rachel said, rather relaxed.

She would like to see what Jordy would do if they left right now.

Would he pretend to stay here?

Gloria had nothing else to say and nodded at Rachel. "Alright."

She wanted to ignore Jordy and left, but... what if Rachel found they were just pretending to be a couple and told it to Karen? She froze for a moment and finally looked at Jordy before saying, "When do you plan to leave?"

"You stay to wait for me for a while," his expressionless voice said.

Though unwilling, Gloria nodded.

Rachel was vexed, but she managed a smile and said, "Well, I'm leaving first."

Gloria nodded politely. "Goodbye."

Jordy also nodded, but he said nothing.

Rachel turned to leave. With her back to them, her smile faded from her face. She was expectant to meet him when he was not around her. But now, she only felt a pang. The man she was madly in love with was right before her, but she didn't dare to spare an extra glance at him.

Chapter 1247 Are You Worried About Me?

One more glance would only repulse him and made him suspicious of her.

Jordy came here so timely probably because he had been suspicious of her.

Rachel took another deep breath and trotted away.

Sooner or later, this man would belong to her!

Sooner or later, he would only love her with his heart and soul!

Watching Rachel's receding figure, Gloria turned to look at Jordy. As they stood still, Gloria said coolly, "When will you leave?"

Jordy's face turned more sullen. Finding Gloria hadn't realized anything wrong, he grabbed her wrist and dragged her into the car directly.

Gloria scowled. "What are you doing?"

She couldn't break free, so she could only let him take her into the car with an angry face.

When the car door was closed, Jordy turned to look at her with a long face, "Do you know or not what Rachel Roberts is?"

At that moment, Gloria was seated in the passenger's seat, while Jordy was seated in the driver's seat.

Gloria said with a calm expression on her face, "Of course."

Jordy's gaze was sharper than just now. Anger was shown in his eyes and his deep voice said, "If you do, why do you agree to meet her?"

Gloria darted a glance at him and said peacefully after hesitating for a moment, "I'm satisfied with the business proposal. Also, I'm sure she won't do anything to me this time."

Jordy sneered.

Gloria furrowed her eyebrows. Looking at Jordy who was on the edge, she thought for a moment and asked, "Are you worried about me?"

"Or what do you think I'm here for? Put aside my work and come here to watch the scenery?" Jordy's deep voice said.

Gloria was stunned and didn't expect he would admit it without hesitation.

But soon, she figured out the reason. Currently, she had to cure Jordy's stomach cancer as well as Karen's lung cancer, so her life mattered a lot and Jordy would not allow her to have any accident. If it were in their three-year marriage, he would turn a blind eye even if she committed suicide.

Gloria curled her lips. "Don't worry. I'll protect myself. I won't vanish in the air before I heal you and Grandma."

She made a promise, but Jordy's face darkened even more after hearing it. He shot daggers at Gloria and pressed his lips together without saying anything.

An ironic look flashed across her eyes. She knew she was right!

Tilting her head and sparing no glance at him, she looked straight into the night sky and said expressionlessly, "It's late. I'm going back."

She was in Jordy's car.

When she was about to get off, Jordy had locked the doors.

Gloria frowned slightly. "My car is parked here. I wanna drive it back."

Jordy ignored Gloria, started the engine and the car sped away.

Gloria leaned forward due to inertia. She hurriedly fastened the safety belt and looked at him with a scowl. She didn't speak, knowing Jordy was still angry about her risky act of meeting Rachel alone.

But it was risky all because of him.

He knew clearly about it!

Gloria only felt his anger was ridiculous.

Chapter 1248 Angela's Flaw

She had never gained Jordy's love, but she had to become a thorn in the side of all women that loved Jordy. Wasn't it an ironic joke?

If she was indeed the woman that Jordy cherished, she wouldn't mind being picked on by those women. But that was not the case.

Now she only felt herself being constrained and she couldn't be more vexed.

The car had been driven for a while.

Jordy recovered some composure. He darted a cold glance at Gloria, only to see her sitting quietly in the passenger seat with an ironic look in her eyes. Then his face darkened even more. "Don't work with her."

Gloria said calmly, "After finishing this project, White Group will step up to a new level and Roberts Group will benefit a lot from it. So, she won't do anything to me during the cooperation."

In fact, she was suspicious of Rachel's real intentions before she came here to meet Rachel. But on second thoughts, she believed Rachel would not take action tonight. Besides, Rachel was so clever and she wouldn't allow herself to become Angela's cat's paw. She would only watch them fight and get bloody and then steal the victory. It was a perfect plan, wasn't it? So, of course, she wouldn't be used by Angela.

"She has been in contact with Angela. Even if she won't lay a finger on you, are you sure Angela won't deal with you? Do you think Rachel won't help Angela by then?" With that, he suddenly jammed the brake and parked the car on the roadside.

It was an empty and spacious road. Only Jordy's car was there.

With a sullen face, he stared daggers at Gloria's face.

Gloria pursed her lips before saying, "I'll protect myself well. Rest assured."

Jordy let out a snort of laughter and looked coldly at her. "How? Angela knew you were meeting Rachel tonight. If I hadn't come, Angela might have harmed you!"

"I'm prepared for it." Gloria appeared rather calm. "I was fully prepared before I went to meet Rachel. Of course, I won't allow anyone to treat me like dead meat."

She vaguely felt there was something wrong with Jordy's emotions. In his eyes, she was brainless and so impulsive to meet Rachel without any preparations. She could understand why Jordy was angry, but she somehow felt Jordy had some other emotions. She couldn't tell them, but she was sure about one thing, that was, he was weird today. She hoped she was overthinking it.

The only reason he was worried about her was that she was an important doctor to him.

She blinked and suppressed her emotions. Looking at Jordy's sullen face, she said calmly, "Go on driving."

"You still wanna work with Rachel?"

"No."

She knew he would make things difficult for her even if she agreed to. Also, before Karen recovered, she should live in peace.

Today, she came over with another purpose, which was, to see what Angela planned to do. But Jordy's arrival made Angela's men quit the idea of carrying out the plan.

Just now, she had walked around with Rachel for a while, and very soon some "accidents" might happen, but Jordy's timely appearance ruined the plan.

She failed to find Angela's flaw line this time.

Chapter 1249 Why Is She Here?

Jordy seemed to have read her mind and said expressionlessly, "Leave this matter to me."

Gloria looked at him, somewhat surprised. Without saying anything, she seemed to wait for him to continue.

Jordy had calmed down. "Angela had been involved with the guy who's supporting her. Now they've started taking action. You just need to live a normal life and you can count on me to take care of the other things."

Gloria squinted. "Treating you and Grandma does me so much good, huh?"

Jordy's face darkened again.

Gloria took no heed of it and smiled. "You don't have to. I can handle all by myself."

"Gloria White," Jordy shouted out her name with repressed anger.

Gloria looked up lazily. "Yes, things are complicated. But I hope you can give me some privacy. We're adults and have our own considerations. Jordy Collins, I promised you I would protect myself well, and no one could harm me."

If he didn't even have faith in it, Gloria would not think it necessary to waste her breath on him.

"You...!" The blue veins on Jordy's forehead pulsed.

The light in the car was dim, so Gloria didn't notice it. She only knew he was in a bad mood.

Jordy said no more and started the engine.

On the way, neither of them said anything.

When Jordy drove back, the car wasn't driven as fast as it could possibly go.

Gloria sat quietly in the passenger's seat. Somehow, she drifted into sleep.

When Jordy parked the car, he found Gloria breathing evenly.

His cold gaze suddenly turned gentle and fell on her gorgeous face.

After a while, Jordy started the engine again.

He had driven her to Gloria's place. Gloria had changed the fingerprint lock and he couldn't get in. Thus, he simply took her back to his house, or to be more exact, the place where they used to live together.

When the car stopped again, Gloria showed no sign of waking up. She had been tired recently. She stayed up overnight last night and was busy at work for a day, so she was really exhausted now.

Even she didn't know she could fall asleep when Jordy was around her.

When she was lying in the bed in a sweet dream, a good smell wafted into her nostrils. Asleep, she vaguely felt she was hugged by someone, but she couldn't tell who it was.

The next day.

Gloria was awoken by the alarm clock.

Her body clock awoke her regularly so she didn't rely on the alarm clock, but she still set it to not get up late.

But today, her body clock didn't work.

Gloria opened her eyes and turned off the alarm clock. Looking at the familiar yet strange room, she stiffened.

The next moment, she sat up abruptly and looked around.

The bedroom was quiet, and decorated in an elegant style. It was the place where she had lived for several years and which she remembered the most.

She felt it somewhat strange probably because she hadn't come back since she left.

Gloria shook her head in disbelief, with her eyes closed, when she reopened them, she found she was still there. She was dazed.

What the hell is going on? Why is she here?

Chapter 1250 Be Together for Life

Mixed emotions surged through Gloria. She got out of bed.

When she saw the same settings and decorations as before, her heart skipped a beat.

This place...

She had made so many memories here.

Even if only she lived here alone and it was easy to count how many times Jordy had come back, she could remember everything that happened here.

But it seemed to have happened a long time ago when she recalled it.

She remembered, one day, when she just got up, Jordy came into her bedroom.

His face was sullen.

Back then, she stared at Jordy in confusion. She was not pleasantly surprised because she could tell Jordy was in a bad mood, and yet she asked, "Why are you back so suddenly?"

Jordy cast a glance at her with a sneer. "How many dirty tricks are you using on earth?"

Gloria's face blanched. She knew he was in a bad mood. She had thought it was because something unpleasant happened to him, but she didn't expect he would vent his anger on her.

She didn't know what he meant. Also, she still fancied leading a good life together with him, so... she had a good attitude towards him.

She shook her head subconsciously. "What did I do?"

Jordy sneered and his cold voice said, "She's been lying in bed in a coma, but you still went to provoke her. Gloria White, everybody knows you are my wife. Why make a scene in her ward? Do you have to fight with a vegetable? She's been miserable enough."

Gloria's face was paler. She shook her head. "I did visit her, but I didn't say anything provocative or mention anything about you. Why did you misunderstand me? Did someone talk something bad about me to you?"

Being misunderstood, Gloria doubted if Angela's parents were the ones that sowed discords between her and Jordy...

But she couldn't believe they did it.

"Still think of dragging others down?" Jordy's eyes were filled with sarcasm. He gave off such an intimidating vibe as if he would strangle her to death anytime.

Gloria felt a dull pain in her heart and let out a bitter chuckle. "I have nothing to say if you don't trust me."

The explanation was needless.

Even if she wanted to be together with Jordy for life, she gotta face the reality. Even if she explained to him so humbly, he didn't buy a word of it. So it was useless to explain.

"You're too guilty to defend yourself." Jordy's cold voice rang again, "Gloria White, better behave yourself. You want to be Mrs. Collins, and you've got your wish. Don't ever do those mean things to hurt Angela. She's your sister. Please show her some respect. I won't let go of you if such kind of thing happens again!"

Gloria laughed miserably. "You won't let go of me..."

Jordy's sharp gaze fell on her face. Gloria suddenly lifted her head and smiled at him. "Have you ever let go of me? Over these years, you've been tormenting me. I'm really a joke, even expecting to be together with you for life."

Gloria's words seemed hilarious to Jordy, so he was amused.
