Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1331—"I don't believe that you'll be so kind."

Rachel felt she had no strength in her to respond. She heard what Gerald said and laughed slightly, not thinking Gerald could do it for her.

"Then..."

However, Rachel could no longer hear what Gerald said later.

Her eyes slowly closed, and then she directly fainted.

When she woke up again, it was already daytime.

She was in an unfamiliar and luxurious room. The sunlight came through the window, and the curtains billowed in the breeze. Such a strange environment immediately alerted Rachel.

She got up at once but found herself lying naked on a two-meter wide bed.

And she felt sore and ached all over and also had a headache!

Didn't she go to the second round of the game with Gerald? Why is she here now?

Could it be that...

"You woke up? Are you hungry now? Is there anything you want to have for breakfast?"

A gentle voice sounded slowly.

Rachel jerked her head up, and she then saw Gerald walking out of the bathroom while wiping his wet hair, wrapped in a bath towel around his waist.

"Gerald Turner, I'm going to kill you!"

Rachel was not a fool, and the strange environment and the physical sore all made her realize what had happened to her last night!

For more than twenty years, she had kept herself a virgin, but now, she had sex with a strange man just like that. She really couldn't accept it!

“Miss Roberts, you’re so heartless. You even called me honey all night, but now you said that you wanted to kill me. Do you forget the wonderful night we’ve spent together?”

“Oh, I’m so sad.”

Gerald sighed a breath with a distressed, sad look.

“Sad? Aren’t you supposed to be very happy and proud now? You’ve been planning it from the beginning. You had someone drug my wine, right?”

Rachel clenched her fists tightly, gritting her teeth and staring at Gerald with eyes wide open.

She couldn’t wait to rush forward and just kill him, but she was naked now.... Why would this happen?

She never had that courage to rush up to him, and she knew very well that there was a difference in the strength of men and women. She wouldn’t be a match for him!

“How can you be my girl if I didn’t do that? Don’t worry, I will be responsible for you.”

Gerald smiled as he said.

Finally, he made his attitude clear with certainty.

“Get out!”

Rachel didn’t believe that a person like him would be responsible for her. If he was a good person, he would not use such a despicable way. She now understood why she got drunk so fast yesterday even though she did not drink so much wine!

“I know you don’t believe me, but I’m true to you. If I was just playing around with you, I would have walked away before you woke up. But I didn’t. Rachel, and I know what you’re here for.”

“Don’t worry. I will help you. I won’t let you be exposed.” Gerald was frank about his attitude and did not call her “Miss Roberts” anymore.

Rachel immediately tightened her mouth and looked serious.

She did not expect that the man would know the reason why she came here, so it was true that there was no such thing as love at first sight at all.

She couldn’t help but doubt that, since the man knew her identity and everything about her so clearly, he was probably working for the person behind Angela.

Otherwise, how could he have noticed her right after she stepped into the bar?

Then, it was not too late to kill this man after she got the Misty Lucid Ganoderma at the auction!

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1332—"I gotta go now, and this is my number. You can just call me if anything happens."

After that, Gerald handed Rachel a gold business card.

Rachel didn't take it, but deadly stared at Gerald with her black eyes.

Gerald tightened his mouth and said nothing. Then, he placed the card directly on the bedside table.

Rachel had never put Gerald in her eyes, but now, she had sex with him. Of course, she couldn't accept it emotionally.

Gerald knew that if he continued to stay here, Rachel would only get angrier.

He had to leave her alone for a while so that she could calm down.

"Get out!"

Rachel roared in anger, pointing in the direction of the door. Her eyes were red and watery.

Gerald didn't say anything and left.

But as soon as he left, Rachel tore the gold business card to pieces immediately with all her strength. She rushed into the bathroom, turned on the shower, and washed herself again and again.

But the disgusting smell on her body was still there and couldn't be washed away. Gerald's smirk kept coming to her mind.

"Ah!!!"

Rachel seemed to be on the verge of total derangement and shouted helplessly. She smashed all those toiletries on the vanity to the floor..

Anger simmered inside her.

She still couldn't accept the fact that she had sex with Gerald.

She always wanted Jordy to be her man and even hoped to marry Jordy one day, but now, it could never happen anymore.

Jordy didn't like her before, and now, there was no chance for her to win his heart!

Thinking of it, Rachel couldn't help but feel heartbroken.

She hugged herself and curled up in the bathtub, letting the cold water pour down from her head...

The eve of the auction.

Gloria had planned almost everything and was just about to make a call when the doorbell rang

She looked through the peek hole on the door and saw Jordy.

Gloria knew he was here for the auction tomorrow night, so she opened the door.

"I brought you some snacks."

Hearing what he said, Gloria then noticed the food in his hand. "Let's talk about it while having the food."

Jordy said calmly, and Gloria stepped aside and let him enter the room.

"Harold said that this is the best local snack in the UK. I knew you didn't eat much this afternoon, so I bought some for you."

"Oh."

Gloria responded indifferently.

Jordy was a little unhappy. "Aren't you hungry?"

"Yeah. Let's talk about the auction."

Gloria said. She noticed that Jordy's face changed a bit and he looked unhappy with a frown.

However, she did not care.

She was no longer his wife anymore, so she didn't need to pay attention to his emotions.

“According to the news, almost all the wealthy bigwigs in the world will come over to participate in the auction tomorrow. It will be a hard day tomorrow, and are you ready for it?”

Jordy said while unpacking the box.

Gloria then began to taste the food.

She nodded while having the food. “We have no way to quit now, right?”

They were supposed to be here for the Misty Lucid Ganoderma, and they were already noticed by the people of Crockfords Club. No matter how many bigwigs would come tomorrow, they both had no way to quit now!

“Let’s go out for lunch tomorrow.” For the past three days, Gloria had been staying in her room.

“Compared to having lunch, the more important thing for us is that we should go out to choose some new clothes. Since we are now famous in Crockfords Club, we naturally have to be the center of attention when we attend tomorrow night!”

“Okay.”

Originally, Gloria was going to refuse

But after she heard Jordy’s words, she could only nod her head.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1333–The clothes made the man, and she knew that.

So, the next day, Jordy came to knock on the door early in the morning.

Jordy thought that Gloria would come to open the door in her nightgown with messy hair. Unexpectedly, Gloria showed up in a tidy pink suit.

She tied her hair in a low ponytail with a pink hairband, looking beautiful and professional. Moreover, Jordy could even sense her powerful aura.

“Why are you staring at me like that?”

Seeing that Jordy stared at her without saying anything, Gloria frowned.

“I thought you were still sleeping.”

Gloria gave him an unhappy look and said, “But you still came to knock on my door!”

“Harold went to line up to grab seats for us,” Jordy said, ignoring the dissatisfaction in Gloria’s eyes.

“Line up?”

Gloria was a little surprised.

“Yes, Crockfords Club has decided not to accept reservations for the seats this time for the auction, so people had to line up to reserve seats on site.”

According to what Harold said, the hall of Crockfords Club was crowded now.

Once Gloria heard this, she immediately snickered. “This will give the Misty Lucid Ganoderma in the auction a huge build-up.”

In this way, people on site would be infected with everyone’s enthusiasm for booking a seat. Meanwhile, it could fully show that many people wanted the Misty Lucid Ganoderma!

Besides, it could even increase consumption in the casino.

The boss of Crockfords Club was really a good businessman!

“He’s trying to tell everyone that the Misty Lucid Ganoderma is very precious, and whoever wants it has to spend a large amount of money.”

Jordy also sensed the purpose of the boss of Crockfords Club.

“Let’s wait for the auction to open at 9:00 tonight”

Gloria said and then closed the door behind her.

She’d only gone a few paces before she stopped again. She looked back at Jordy and said, “Where are we going?”

“Are you afraid that I’ll kidnap you?”

“I’m not worth anything, and I’m not a kid anymore.”

Grace refuted instantly.

Jordy had to admit that Rachel had become a different person from before.

He tightened his mouth with a cold look and stopped talking.

Going shopping was just an excuse for him to ask her out.

He had already asked Harold to find someone to order the dress for her.

After shopping for a while, Gloria said lightly, "I'm hungry now. Let's go have something first."

"Okay."

Jordy then led her to a western restaurant in the mall.

Just after he ordered the meal and was about to say something to Gloria, a blonde woman directly pulled away the chair next to Jordy and sat down.

Then, she even put her hand on Jordy's shoulder and said, "Hey, may I have your phone number?"

People in the UK were open and enthusiastic, but Gloria was still startled by the bold and confident behavior of this foreign woman.

Jordy was averse to being touched by women, but he was more concerned about Gloria's attitude toward it now.

However, Gloria looked very calm as nothing had happened.

Moreover...

Gloria simply ignored his gaze.

She got up, walked forward, raised her hand, and beckoned the waiter.

"Excuse me, the menu please."

The waiter went over and handed her the menu immediately.

Gloria took the menu and sat in her seat.

"Miss, what would you like to eat?"

Jordy's face darkened when he heard what Gloria said.

She was actually asking that blonde woman what she would like to eat!

Jordy felt himself being ignored.

The blonde woman beside him thought that Gloria was asking her to have lunch together.

As she was about to say something, Jordy looked straight at her coldly and said, "Get out!"

Read Novel Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1334

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1334—The blonde woman could see the coldness and indifference in the eyes of Jordy. There were so many people around, and she felt very embarrassed.

However, she was also aware that Jordy was not someone she could afford to mess with, so she could only lower her head and left.

"Sorry, we don't need extra meals since our friend has gone."

Gloria handed the menu in her hand back to the waiter.

"It's time to go now."

With a gloomy face, Jordy said and got up.

Gloria knew he was angry now.

But they had already ordered the meal.

The waiter also hurriedly called out to Jordy, "Sir, the meal you just ordered is already being cooked in the back kitchen..."

"I don't want to eat it now."

Jordy frowned and spoke succinctly.

"Sir, but you still have to pay the bill."

Jordy then took out several dozen dollars from his wallet and threw it towards the waiter.

Gloria had to follow behind him.

Were rich people all so capricious like this?

Jordy and Gloria walked out of the mall together and got in the car. Jordy was driving to find another restaurant, while Gloria said, "That woman has already left. I really don't know what makes you so angry!"

Jordy looked at her coldly. Did she really not know why he was angry?

Gloria frowned slightly, and did not bother to talk about it with him anymore. She then said in a deep voice, "Then let's go straight back to the hotel and rest for a while. In the evening, we can go directly to the casino."

She did not want to say even one word about that foreign woman just now.

"Then I'll have someone deliver the food over to you."

"Okay."

Gloria agreed.

They went back to the hotel together.

Gloria opened her phone to check the latest stocks and to follow up on the latest news about the high-priced medical treatment of the patients that her underlings had passed to her.

"Gloria."

Jordy suddenly called her name.

Gloria frowned and looked over, with a puzzled look.

"You..."

Jordy was about to say something when someone knocked on the door.

The custom-made dress that Jordy had asked someone to make for Gloria had been sent over.

Gloria took a look at the bag and immediately knew that it was a custom-made dress.

Gloria frowned and didn't know why Jordy still took her to the mall if there was already a custom-made dress for her.

It was so inexplicable.

"Jordy, where did you order this dress from? Give me the address. They are so fast at making clothes!" Gloria said deliberately.

Jordy immediately understood what she was thinking.

“No, you can just look for me if you need.”

Jordy said indifferently and firmly.

Gloria understood.

What he said meant that the store would be acquired by him.

But she didn't want anything to do with him!

“Then forget it.”

Gloria refused and took the dress in his hands the next second. “I'll try it on.”

Just as she came out in the new dress, the food ordered by Jordy was also delivered over.

Jordy was putting the food on the table.

When he heard footsteps, he said, “Come and have some food.

“Okay.”

Gloria walked up to him, and Jordy then noticed her.

It was a white bustier skirt with a large black bow around her waist. Her long black hair fell naturally on her shoulders.

She drew light makeup, and the diamond earrings in her ears were shining like the stars. At this moment, she was standing under the crystal light, which made her look incomparable dazzling.

She was indeed very beautiful, and Jordy was even amazed for a moment.

“Why are you still standing there? Come and have some food!”

“Okay.”

Jordy said gently, and quickly looked away.

After having some food, they set out for Crockfords Club.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1335—Meanwhile, Rachel also got ready to go to the auction.

Gerald came to pick her up.

He didn't get her the golden key, but Gerald assured her repeatedly towards her, "Don't worry, whatever you fancy at the auction tonight, I will get it for you."

"Don't talk to me until you get the Misty Lucid Ganoderma at the auction."

Although Rachel didn't have the impulse to kill him, she still didn't hide her dislike of Gerald.

Gerald didn't say anything else and dutifully drove the car.

Halfway through the day, Rachel received a phone call from Angela.

"Miss Roberts."

As usual, Angela said in a nice tone first.

Rachel felt a little sick of Angela's contrived cute voice.

Angela might be the most hypocritical person she had known in her life.

Besides...

60% of the reason that she came to the UK was from the encouragement of Angela.

If Angela didn't encourage her to come to the UK, she would not have met Gerald and had sex with him. Angela was also responsible for it!

"What's the matter?"

Rachel said coldly and patiently.

"Miss Roberts, I'm calling to tell you to get ready tonight. We will let you encounter Jordy, then you can just wait to take action."

Angela said with a smile.

"How will I encounter him?" Rachel became curious at once.

But Angela kept her guessing and said, "I will let you know when the time comes."

"Then we'll talk about it later."

After saying that, Rachel directly hung up the phone.

Angela could just texted Rache! about this, but instead, she still made a call.

What Angela did annoyed Rachel a bit.

Gerald had naturally heard everything Rachel said. He knew everything about Rachel and naturally knew why Rachel came here, as well as, he was also aware of her love for Jordy.

However, he still didn't say anything.

When Jordy appeared in the casino with Gloria, there were already many people in the hall.

Luckily, Harold queued up early and also spent a lot of money to book a VIP room for them.

The moment Jordy took Gloria into the room, Gloria immediately saw Rachel, who was wearing a long red dress today, looking sexy and charming. She was now sitting beside a man.

Gloria could not help but frown.

She didn't expect that Rachel would also come to the auction tonight.

Rachel also noticed Jordy and Gloria, and when she was just about to say hello, Jordy kept his arm around Gloria's waist and walked into the room directly.

Rachel was very upset when seeing this.

Jordy and Gloria were divorced, yet why did Gloria still show up with him together!

"Come on, let's go in first."

Then, Gerald put his arm around Rachel's shoulder and was about to lead her into the next room.

Rachel even wanted to kill Gerald right now, so of course, she wouldn't allow Gerald to touch her again.

She immediately pushed Gerald away. She snapped in a low voice, "Don't you touch me again!"

The next second, Rachel quickly walked away, leaving Gerald behind.

Gerald followed closely behind.

"You are already my girl now. If I can't even touch you, why should I help you unconditionally?" Gerald thought of the way Rachel was looking at Jordy just now and felt a bit jealous in his heart.

Rachel was a very proud lady.

She was raped by Gerald but couldn't do anything. It was already very hard for her to suppress her

And now Gerald even dared to accuse her!

She looked at him coldly and said, "I don't need your help at all. If you don't want to help me, you can just leave right now. The door is over there..."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1336—Rachel pointed to the door.

Seeing this, Gerald could only suppress his displeasure.

Anyway, this was the one he fell in love with at first sight, so he must love her.

Jordy and Gloria were in separate boxes. They sat in the main seat and had a clear view of the hall downstairs.

At this moment in the hall, the auction was about to start.

The host was ready and waiting for it to start

"Where's Rachel?"

Seeing that Jordy was already seated, Gloria had a puzzled look

Jordy knew what she was thinking, but because he was still angry, he asked angrily, "Is she important?"

Gloria glanced at him and said calmly, "I didn't expect her to be here."

The auction attracted many people. There might be many acquaintances in places they couldn’t see.

Gloria said nothing more.

The auction started in twenty minutes.

The first lot to be auctioned was a royal wine cup.

It was worth collecting but it was just a wine cup, so some people from afar disdained this thing.

Someone even claimed, “Mr. Goddard isn’t coming all the way here for this stuff. Please get the Misty Lucid Ganoderma out. We want that!”

“Yeah, we thought so too. Take that stuff away. Mr. Butch has tons of them!”

Before the host introduced the auction item, the two auctioneers started clamoring.

Stuff?

In their minds, what could be a treasure?

Some people resented when hearing their words.

“You come from afar as distinguished guests, but you should understand the rules of Crockfords Club. The auction items in Crockfords Club are all treasures. Each auction item is worth millions of dollars. Since you are here, please abiding by the rules. If you don’t want to behave yourself, get out of here!”

“That’s right. Follow the procedure, OK?”

‘Asshole!’

After they were criticized, it was a little noisy there. Both sides insisted on their own views.

At this point, the host immediately began to maintain order. “Please don’t worry. There’s a reason we’re offering this item first. Listen to me.”

“This wine cup is named ‘the Glow Cup’. In history, those who got it had good luck and made a fortune. It is said that the Glow Cup can make people’s dreams come true. Do you know Jake from Sweden?”

“Yes. He was a poor beggar and almost starved to death in the snow. But then he got lucky and became rich instantly!”

“What does his sudden wealth have to do with this cup? Maybe it’s just that guy’s luck. Besides, if the cup is so magical, why does the casino owner auction it off instead of keeping it for his own good luck?”

“It’s indeed a legend, but this thing can bring people good luck, which is true. And, this cup really belonged to Jake before. Look.”

After speaking, the host walked away, and then two photos of Jake appeared on the LED display. Jake holds the cup, poor in one photo and rich in the other.

“If it had nothing to do with the cup, why didn’t Jake throw it away? Jake got rich all of a sudden but became poor again at 59. It’s because he lost it at that point.”

The host added slowly.

Hearing this, everyone at the scene also thought it had something to do with this cup.

But many people were still questioning why the owners of the auction house didn’t keep such a good thing.

As the crowd’s questions increased, the host said with a smile, “Because the owner hopes that everyone can be successful. Such a thing should belong to those who need it more. The owner already has today’s status in the UK, so do you guys think he is short of money?”

After speaking, the host gestured to the people beside him.

Suddenly, the lights went out. It was pitch black.

The wine cup was emitting a flickering dark blue light. If the light hadn’t lasted for a long time, the people at the scene would have thought that the cup had been modified.

This cup could shine, which had been witnessed by all.

Gloria was surprised by the cup and admired the wisdom of the ancients in making it.

“You want it?”

Noticing Gloria’s gaze, Jordy asked her.

“I’m just surprised. What we want is Misty Lucid Ganoderma, isn’t it?” Besides, she was not short of money, so she didn’t need this cup to increase her fortune.

“OK.”

Jordy responded casually and said nothing more.

“If you want it, you can start bidding. The starting price is $9 million. As usual, the one with the highest bid gets it.

The host did not continue to introduce this auction item. There were always some people who believe it. And, someone had been interested in it.

The first bidder was Mr. Goddard who was the first to question it. “13 million.”

His bid discouraged many people who were ready to make a move.

Mr. Butch held up his sign as the host yelled, “13 million twice.”

“15 million.”

Maybe this cup couldn’t bring people luck, but because it could shine, Mr. Butch liked it very much.

Of all his collections, none could glow as brightly as this wine cup.

He wanted to take it back and study it carefully.

Maybe, this wine cup could really bring him a fortune!

Mr. Goddard thought 13 million was high enough.

But he didn’t expect that Mr. Butch, who just questioned together with him, offered 15 million.

Not to be outdone, he raised his bid by $9 million.

Mr. Butch also refused to give up.

The two started to increase by 30 million each time, and neither give way to the other.

This made Gloria anticipate the scene when they bid for Misty Lucid Ganoderma later.

Misty Lucid Ganoderma was more practical than this wine cup and could save someone. More than 70% of the people present came for Misty Lucid Ganoderma,

They didn't know how much the price of Misty Lucid Ganoderma would be.

She was a little worried. "Jordy, I can help you when you bid, but don't forget, after the auction is over, we'll go our separate ways and won't be in touch again."

"Do you think I'm short of money?"

Read Novel Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1338

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1338—"Well, let's not talk about money. Let's do things according to the last sentence."

Gloria White was rendered speechless by Jordy Collins's question. She paused for a few seconds before slowly opening her mouth to answer.

Jordy Collins did not reply but Gloria White took his silence as tacit approval.

"30 million dollars."

Mr. Goddard directly offered 30 million dollars, which aroused Mr. Butch's anger. He ordered his staff, "No matter what Mr. Goddard bids tonight, you will follow him. As for the price, you don't need to be worried about it. I will hold it up even if the sky falls!"

"43 million dollars."

"72 million dollars."

Mr. Goddard increased the price by 30 million dollars directly, and Mr. Goddard also became angry. These rich businessmen either stopped bidding or decided to bid. But if someone wanted to compete with them...

That would be a big deal.

Even in terms of an imposing manner, he had to crush his opponent. After all, he could spend more money but he didn't want to lose face.

Seeing Mr. Goddard raise the price by 30 million dollars, Mr. Butch was not to be outdone. "100 million. dollars."

He raised his paddle and shouted the price directly.

A Bronze Wineglass was going to be sold for a sky-high price of 100 million dollars. Next, there was a second, a third... and the last was the Misty Spirit Grass.

Although Mr. Goddard was not convinced, he thought about the auction later and finally suppressed his anger.

Therefore, Mr. Butch won the Bronze Wineglass at the price of 100 million dollars. His generosity immediately caused a sensation in the Crockfords Club.

The host took the opportunity to introduce a casino project. "Congratulations, Mr. Butch, for becoming the VIP of Crockfords Club. In the next month, any consumption in Crockfords Club will be paid by our Crockfords Club!"

This was a huge temptation for the people present.

They would pay for everything, wine, beauty, and gambling money.

If he was lucky, he could win a few more. Even if he couldn't take the money out, at least he could enjoy it.

Moreover, many VIPS came here because of Crockfords Club's reputation and they didn't know that they couldn't take out the money they won. Thus, they were very satisfied.

When everyone was enthusiastic, the host took advantage of the opportunity to launch the second auction item.

This is a jade suit from the Warring States period. The starting price of the suit is 12 million dollars.

As soon as he said that, everyone was shocked.

Tang Dynasty, Warring States Period.

These two dynasties alone were amazing enough. Many people couldn't help but wonder who the owner of this Crockfords Club was. He had so many treasures in his hands!

The surprise was a surprise. After the host introduced its origins and the era of the clothes, who didn't want to keep the body from decaying after death?

Moreover, even if he did not have money, the jewelry and jade on the clothes could be removed and sold in the black market, which was boundless wealth.

It seemed that the owner of the Crockfords Club spent a lot of money on this auction just for this Misty Spirit Grass. He even auctioned all his hidden treasures!

Mr. Goddard had failed to win the Bronze Wineglass just now, so he was determined to win the jade burial suit.

However, not only did Mr. Butch compete with him at the scene but also other rich people. In less than two minutes, the price of the jade burial suit was raised to 5 billion dollars.

Gloria White realized one thing. The casino owner had already changed the starting price of Misty Spirit Grass. The lowest starting price for a piece of clothing was 12 million dollars and it was even up to 5 billion dollars.

The price of the Misty Spirit Grass was not worth that.

However, seeing how indifferent Jordy Collins was, she didn't say anything else.

The jade burial suit was finally bought by a customer from VIP room No. 4998 at the price of 16 billion dollars. The last few items were auctioned without causing any splash until the appearance of the Misty Spirit Grass.

Read Novel Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1339

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1339—Everything went as Gloria White's expectations. The starting price for Misty Spirit Grass had changed, it was no longer 15 million dollars. Instead, it was 72 million dollars.

For the sake of seizing the Misty Spirit Grass, countless people traveled a long distance just for its name.

It was impossible for people to not be sick. Rich people wanted to live for a hundred years or even longer.

"144 million dollars!"

The man who had just won the jade burial suit raised his paddle.

That private room was right across from Gloria White and Jordy Collins's. Although the private room was separated, the opposite side could see everything inside.

But in the opposite private room, except for a tall bodyguard in a black suit with dark skin, there was no one else.

Gloria White noticed that behind the curtain of black beads, a hand was raised.

Looking at his hand, she saw that the joints of his hand were very big. It was a man's hand. He was wearing a black suit.

The man did not show up, but it was undeniable that he was rich and powerful.

Bid 16 billion dollars for a piece of clothing and 144 million dollars on Misty Spirit Grass. The people present all felt the pressure. However, they would not back down because of money.

"288 million dollars."

"720 million dollars."

The price rose accordingly.

Gloria White turned to look at Jordy Collins who had yet to speak.

A few seconds later, Jordy Collins ordered Harold Ross to raise his bidding paddle—'5 billion dollars."

Before the price could even reach 1 billion, Jordy Collins had raised the price to 5 billion dollars. One couldn't deny his confidence, but....

He was not the only one who was rich at the scene.

In the private room opposite the mysterious man's subordinate raised his bidding paddle again.

"16 billion dollars."

He directly raised the price by 12 billion dollars, which made the people present sigh.

If things went on like this, how much would the Misty Spirit Grass fetch?

"80 billion dollars."

"96 billion dollars."

"144 billion dollars."

Jordy Collins was the one who bid the 144 billion dollars. Of course, he would pay any price to get what his grandmother needed.

No matter where these people came from, he had no patience to deal with them.

This price did indeed frighten the people present.

The crowd fell silent.

The host began to hammer. "144 billion dollars calling once..."

"150 billion dollars."

The person raising the paddle still came from room No. 4098. The number made Jordy Collins frown.

"1.6 trillion dollars"

He had lost his patience.

Bang...

This number directly caused a sensation in the audience.

Everyone turned to look at the room where Jordy Collins was in, especially those in room No. 4098.

Hearing this price, he lifted the curtain and stood up.

Looking across the space, Gloria White noticed that the man in the van was wearing a silver-white mask. The people downstairs shouted surprisingly,

"Isn't this the pair of lucky gods three days ago? The lucky gods deserve to be called the lucky gods. It turns out that they are favored by the God of Wealth."

"Lucky God, do you still want man?"

"Fortune God, bring me along to strike it rich!"

Some even began to worship Jordy Collins.

The host was also very surprised. They hadn't expected the price of Misty Spirit Grass to reach 1.6 trillion dollars.

Therefore, they began to hammer prices.

"1.6 trillion dollars calling once.

"1.6 trillion dollars calling twice."

"1.6 trillion dollars last calling!"

"Deal!"

As the host hammered the hammer, Gloria White noticed that the man across from him was staring at them. She did not know why.

In Gloria's mind, the silver-masked man in front of him and the masked man he met at the casino the other day seemed to have the same face.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1340—This is...the same person?

Just as this thought crossed Gloria's mind, the man with the silver mask turned around.

Gloria White felt that whether it was true or not, this man in the silver mask was not simple.

Just as she was about to talk to Jordy Collins about it, someone knocked on the door.

Jordy Collins gave Harold Ross a knowing look and then he went to open the door. The host was giving a speech at the end of the auction.

However, they were more concerned about who the person would be.

At this time, the door opened and a few tall and straight men in black suits with buzz cuts appeared in front of them.

"Are you Miss White? We are from Crockfords Club. Our boss invites you there."

One of the darker-skinned men stepped forward and nodded toward Gloria White.

"What's the matter? Ask him to come here in person."

Jordy Collins's brows furrowed and he spoke in a cold voice.

The last time she saw him on the top floor, he was not simple.

He did not feel at ease letting Gloria White go out alone.

Gloria White also felt that it was strange. That day, when they gambled and became public enemies, they did not take away the money and did not receive any help from their boss.

Now that the auction of the Misty Spirit Grass was successful, the boss proposed to meet her and just herself.

Gloria White immediately recalled the way the casino owner looked at her that day.

“Haven’t you already won the bid for the Misty Spirit Grass? If you don’t pay the 1.6 trillion dollars on the spot, do you think our casino dares to give it to you directly?”

The man met Jordy Collins’s gaze and spoke fearlessly.

Gloria White agreed with his words.

“Then stay and pay the bill. I’ll go and have a look.”

The boss was able to develop the casino in the UK so well, and he took out such a treasure at the auction directly. This boss was indeed not simple.

She also decided to come here to see what the casino owner wanted to do!

Before Jordy Collins could say anything, Gloria White spoke to them, “Let’s go.”

With that, she turned around.

Another group of people carried a plate directly, on which there was wine and several etiquette ladies followed.

“Distinguished VIP, according to the rules of our Crockfords Club, the winner has to drink this glass of wine, and then follow us backstage to settle accounts. We have more preferential treatment benefits for you.”

Harold Ross was speechless.

Because there were so many rules in the Crockfords Club. It was like a palace! However, this was originally a rule of the casino.

Jordy Collins frowned slightly as if he had thought of something. In the end, he followed the rules and drank the glass of wine on the plate.

“Respected guests, please follow us.”

The etiquette lady bowed toward Jordy Collins.

Harold Ross stepped forward. “Mr. Collins, why not let me go? You stay here and rest, or Miss White won’t be able to find us.”

“Well.”

Jordy Collins thought that Harold Ross’s words made sense, so he agreed.

Thus, Harold Ross followed them backstage to settle the accounts while Jordy Collins stayed in the private room waiting for Gloria White's return.

In the next room, Rachel Roberts looked at the person in front of her coldly. She couldn't hold back her anger. She said in a cold voice, "Didn't you say you would help me? Is this your help?"

Rachel Roberts felt that she was about to die of anger.

"I made an effort to come to the UK, but I didn't do anything. I even lost my virginity for nothing!"

"Neither do I."

Gerald Turner was about to explain when Rachel's cell phone rang.
