Chapter 1351

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1351—Most of them were still emotional.

They were already divorced. No matter whom she interacted with, he did not dare to have such an expression on her. It was as if he was questioning her. “What is your relationship with that man?”

She didn’t know who that man was.

The man didn’t want to reveal his identity to her, and she was afraid that something would happen to Jordy Collins at that time, so she stopped confronting him and questioning him.

“I’m just curious. Even Jordy Collins himself was surprised to hear that. Was this an explanation?”

“I’m curious as well. Harold Ross, check it out. From the moment Jordy Collins and I gambled, there was a man and a woman wearing masks around us.”

“I suspect the man in room No. 4098 is also him. Can you find out their identities!”

Not only did they not show their faces, but they suddenly appeared beside them.

Gloria White did not believe that all of this was coincidental and not premeditated!

“Okay, I’ll send someone to investigate it right away.”

Harold Ross nodded.

He consciously left the washroom.

Thus, only Jordy Collins and Gloria White were left in the bathroom.

Gloria White had no way of leaving the casino at the moment. She had to keep an eye on Jordy Collins. After his last medicinal bath, she would inject him with needles again before leaving.

However, they didn't talk anymore. Jordy's eyes fell on her quietly, and he found that she was very white and her figure was very slim.

She had rushed back as soon as something happened to him. If it weren't for her, he would have been done for today.

For some reason, his dislike for her had disappeared. Even if that misunderstanding was still there, many times it could be...

Jordy's eyes flickered with hesitation and he withdrew his thoughts.

Time ticked by. They were now alone in the cramped bathroom and the atmosphere was very awkward. Gloria White took out her phone to play games

It wasn't until Jordy's hoarse voice reached her ears that she said, "The medicine is cold..."

"Well."

Gloria White put away her phone, "Get up, I'll give you..."

She asked Jordy Collins to get up, but when he stood up wet, Gloria White turned away with a red face

Shit!

She forgot to ask Harold Ross to buy him clean clothes!

"Um... Go in and soak for a while more, I'll go get Harold Ross to buy you some clothes. After you change the clean clothes, I'll give you acupuncture," Gloria White said awkwardly.

“Why? Didn’t you do the acupuncture without changing my clothes?”

Jordy Collins furrowed his brows, perplexed!

“Just now, it was to control the efficacy of the drug in your body, so you had no choice in an emergency. Now you are much better. You can’t go out naked, can you?”

Gloria White immediately retorted, also resolving the confusion in his words.

Without waiting for Jordy’s reply, she walked out of the washroom.

When Harold Ross heard that Gloria White had asked him to buy clothes for Jordy Collins, he immediately felt troubled. “Miss White it’s already past 1 a.m. The mall is closed by now, and with our location, if I go to the mall and come back, maybe...”

“Then... Go ask the people in the casino for work clothes!”

Upon hearing Harold Ross’s words, Gloria White was worried. But very quickly, her eyes lit up.

“That’s not good. You know what Mr. Collins is like, Miss White.”

Mr. Collins would never wear clothes of such poor quality, especially in casinos!

“What’s going on now? Is it still up to him??”

Stay alive and leave the casino first.

“Miss White, according to my understanding of Mr. Collins, he can’t be wearing a work uniform. I’d better go home and get him some clothes.” Harold Ross sighed.

However, Gloria White knew very well that it took more than three hours to get from the casino to the hotel. It was already past one o'clock in the morning. When Harold Ross returned, it would dawn!

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1352—At this thought, Gloria White extended her hand to stop Harold Ross.

She pursed her lips and said, “You go to look for a job. If he doesn't wear it, you stay with him.”

She did not want to spend the night in this strange casino!

“Okay.”

Although Harold Ross was in a difficult position, seeing Gloria's determined expression, he compromised.

The work uniform was quickly found, and Harold Ross handed it to Gloria White. “Miss White, please give it to Mr. Collins.”

He was terrified.

Gloria White glanced at him in disdain before entering the bathroom with the work uniform.

By this time, the potion had cooled down completely.

“I forgot to tell Harold Ross to buy you some clean clothes. There's only one left, and if you don't want to put it on, you can stay here with Harold Ross.”

Gloria White handed the clothes to Jordy Collins, but he did not take them.

He frowned. “What about you?”

“I'm going back to the hotel.”

“I’ll take you back with me.”

Jordy Collins knew that it was getting late.

He was not afraid of trouble for Harold Ross, but he could not afford to let anything happen to her

With her here, the effect of the Misty Spirit Grass would be able to be fully unleashed, allowing her grandmother’s illness to be immediately cured.

Thus, he took the clothes.

Seeing that he had compromised, Gloria White spoke again, “Don’t buckle it, I can do the acupuncture.”

After speaking, Gloria White turned around.

“All right”

Jordy Collins moved quickly.

After he spoke, Gloria White turned around.

She skillfully inserted the needles into him. Even though his strong chest was in front of her, she was not tempted at all.

To her, Jordy Collins was just a patient.

Soon, she was done with acupuncture.

Looking away, she faintly said, “You have to take medicine for three days, and you can’t drink alcohol and tea.”

“Well.”

To Jordy Collins, it is not difficult for Gloria to give him a doctor’s advice.

“Then let’s go.” Gloria White put away her silver needles and turned around to walk ahead with Jordy Collins following behind.

When Harold Ross saw Jordy Collins change into his work uniform and follow behind Gloria White, he was dumbfounded!

He simply did not dare to believe what he was seeing.

A person who was usually so strict would compromise.

It seemed that Mr. Collins was willing to endure it for Miss White’s sake, which was also a step forward in their relationship.

Harold Ross was overjoyed.

Jordy’s face darkened.

He had never worn such poor-quality clothes before. Not only was he uncomfortable, but he was even itchy!

However, he could only restrain himself.

Before walking out of the private room, Gloria White called out to him and took the Misty Spirit Grass from Harold Ross.

Under her signal, Harold Ross switched off the light.

Five minutes later, they walked out of the private room and out of the casino.

However, they didn’t know that from the moment they left the casino to the car, they were watched by others.

At this moment, in a corner, several people were sitting in a black van. One of them asked the man in the passenger seat, “Boss, they are coming out. Shall we take action now?”

They had been staring at them for such a long time. Finally, they found them!

“It’s not the right time to take action now. If we take action at the gate of Crockfords Club, doesn’t it mean that everyone thinks that Crockfords Club is plagiarizing? If that’s the case, do you think we have the life to rob and exchange the Misty Spirit Grass for money?” the man in the passenger seat said grimly.

In the next second, he put out the cigarette in his hand and said to the driver beside him, “Start the car and keep up!”

“Yes.”

“Mr. Collins, Miss White, someone is following us!”

Harold Ross discovered the van behind him, which was why Jordy Collins had kept him by his side for so many years.

It wasn’t just because Harold Ross was capable, but also because of his keen perception.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1353–“Since you like being followed so much, Harold Ross, take a look at where the nearest police station is.”

Gloria’s mouth curled into a scheming smile.

Harold Ross immediately turned on the navigation

The nearest police station was only five minutes away from them, and the hotel they chose was in the center of the city. All the roads to the hotel were not out-of-the-way.

Moreover, there were monitors on every road. Every time those people behind wanted to take action, they would either turn or have a car coming from the opposite side.

If there was a shooting incident in the prosperous area, it would attract a lot of policemen, so they had not taken action yet!

Who would have thought that while they were waiting for an opportunity, they would carelessly follow Harold Ross into the police station?

“Damn! Boss, I never would have thought that they still had cards up their sleeves. They discovered us, so it’s not convenient for us to attack right now. Even if we attack, I don’t think they have the Misty Spirit Grass!”

The driver turned around in a hurry and made a drift like lightning.

The people in the carriage were caught off guard and leaned forward!

When their boss realized this, his face darkened.

He never thought that after keeping an eye on them for so long, they would still be fooled by Jordy Collins and Gloria White!

However, his subordinates reminded him that if the Misty Spirit Grass was not on them, it would be the five minutes when they turned off the lights in the private room!

After realizing that, he urged, “Quick, quickly return to the casino. The Misty Spirit Grass is in the private room!”

So, his subordinates turned and headed towards the Crockfords Club.

As for Gloria White and Jordy Collins, after they drove into the police station, the police on duty at the entrance discovered them and immediately came over with guns.

Harold Ross got out of the car to handle it.

In less than two minutes, they were allowed to go.

Seeing that there were no more cars behind them, Harold Ross could not help but admire Gloria White, "Miss White, you're really smart. They turned the entire private room upside down. Not only did they not find any Misty Spirit Grass, they even caused trouble for the people in the casino!"

"It's not a bad thing to be scheming."

Originally, she also wanted to bring the Misty Spirit Grass back to the hotel as soon as possible, but the moment she left the private room, she remembered.

Even enemies she didn't know could take her life. Who wouldn't want Misty Spirit Grass which was worth 1.6 trillion dollars?

Therefore, she kept an eye out.

Not long after leaving the casino, Harold Ross realized that they were being followed.

It could only be said that if the road was remote, those people would have already made their move. Even her scheming was useless!

Now, they had to change the hotel and strengthen the security before those people were troubled by the casino!

Jordy Collins didn't say a word the whole time.

He looked at Gloria White with surprise.

He had never looked her in the eye before, but now, she was shining everywhere.

“Mr. Collins, Miss White, I have a suggestion.”

“Go ahead.”

Jordy’s train of thought was interrupted by Harold Ross.

Although Gloria White did not say anything, she still silently agreed.

After a pause, Harold Ross said, “Miss White, how can we grind the Misty Spirit Grass into powder? According to the current situation, we can’t leave the UK in a short time, but we can’t let others take away the Misty Spirit Grass we just got.”

“Fry it. You can grind it into powder and mix it with other medicines.”

Upon hearing Harold Ross’s words, Gloria White immediately understood.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1354—“Your suggestion is very good. However, we are now in a very dangerous situation.”

Gloria White followed Harold Ross’s suggestion and started to carry out her plan.

They were currently being watched by people. Everything would be guarded by those people and there was no way to send the Misty Spirit Grass back by mail.

They were ground into powder and could not pass the airport security checks.

Her words caused Harold Ross and Jordy Collins to fall into deep thought.

Without waiting for them to come up with a solution, Gloria White calmly proposed, "Isn't the Crockfords Club holding a party? We can ask the boss for help."

"Um," Jordy Collins said. Her method was feasible.

Since he had tacitly agreed, Harold Ross had nothing more to say.

Harold Ross quickly drove them back to the hotel.

Gloria White took off her high heels, changed into slippers, and went to the bathroom.

Looking at her back, Jordy Collins could see her lotus-like figure in his mind.

Jordy's Adam's apple slid down his throat but he quickly dispelled the thought.

He thought that this was caused by the residual medicine in his body, so he went to another bathroom.

On the other side, a luxurious casino.

Those who turned around and wanted to find the Misty Spirit Grass were immediately caught by Jones Goddard and his men. Several pistols were aimed at them.

Jones Goddard frowned and narrowed his eyes. His black eyes were sharp and cold. "What are you guys doing? Are you guys going to renovate the Crockfords Club?"

These people were all a little flustered, but the boss remained calm. After a while, he stood up and said, "We are here to find the things that were left here."

They had wanted to sneak around in the name of gambling, but they didn't expect that they would be targeted by the people of Crockfords Club.

The boss of the Crockfords Club was someone they couldn't afford to offend, and they didn't want things to get worse.

Upon hearing these words, Jones Goddard immediately sneered, "The private rooms here are only open to the public during the auction. I'm afraid that you are the ones that Jordy Collins and Gloria White arranged to come here?"

Looking at everyone's expressions, Jones Goddard immediately recognized them. His words became more and more merciless and mocking.

"Don't you think that's stupid? The Misty Spirit Grass will be left here waiting for you?" The man's face turned ugly.

They were tricked again!

"Sorry, we crossed the line. We are willing to compensate the Crockfords Club for what we have done today."

The man lowered his head.

Jones Goddard looked down on the man and said, "Go back and tell your boss that if he wants to rob the Misty Spirit Grass, he should not be in the UK. If he gets involved in this matter, no matter who your boss is, the Crockfords Club will make him suffer!"

Jones Goddard shot him another warning glance.

The man could only answer repeatedly. After all, the power of the Crockfords Club was obvious.

Not only did they fail to get the Mist Spirit Grass from the hands of Jordy Collins and Gloria White, but they were also even warned by the Crockfords Club. These people left the Crockfords Club and were immediately reprimanded by their boss.

Each of the five of them was whipped fifteen times by their master.

As he fought, he roared at his subordinates, “Trash!”

“I don’t know what I’m raising you, people, for! Useless, useless, can’t even do this little thing!”

“Let me tell you this. I will only give you three days. If you don’t take the Misty Spirit Grass back, don’t even think of giving me this month’s antidote. As for your family, I will turn the males into eunuchs and send the females to the nightclubs!”

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1355—Everyone was stunned!

How could they dare to not listen to such threats?

Most of them had their flesh torn open and bruises all over their bodies, yet they didn’t dare howl in grief, and they instead huddled together with swollen noses and faces.

One of the fatties could no longer hold back. Wiping the nosebleed on his face, he suggested, “Boss, we have all heard what our master said earlier. Right now, not only do we need to protect ourselves, but we also need to protect our family members. How about this? We will dress up as waiters and spike their food before snatching them?”

The eldest’s face was extremely ugly, even smoking a few cigarettes was not enough to suppress the irritation in his heart, “Rob? Didn’t you hear what the people in the casino said? If we steal it and Jordy Collins and Gloria White run into the casino to interrogate them about stealing, then wouldn't we be dead if the people in the casino came looking for us?"

The group fell silent.

A minute later, someone said solemnly, "With Jordy's current condition, they won't be able to leave in a short time. If we don't take advantage of this time to rob him, are we going to wait until they return to China to rob him? If they go to the casino to interrogate him, the people in the casino will come and find us. By then, our master will have got the Misty Spirit Grass. Even if we die, can we implicate our family? I think if we get in touch with them in advance, the Crockfords Club will not be so vicious!"

"Zack is right. I think we should do it this way. Dress up as a waiter, or drug Jordy Collins and Gloria White in the casino and push the blame to the casino!"

"Let's see if we can disguise ourselves as waiters and sneak into the hotel first."

The oldest sighed.

So far, that was all they could do.

Rachel Roberts had just asked her subordinates to contact their private jet and prepare to bring Gerald

Turner back to the country.

But Angela White sent her a WhatsApp message.

Angela White: "Rachel Roberts, Crockfords Club will hold a banquet in three days. We still have a chance."

There was still a chance at the banquet three days later.

This meant that Jordy Collins and Gloria White would also be there!

This reignited Rachel Roberts's determination and hatred toward Gloria White.

She took the initiative to call Angela White.

When Angela White saw her call, she knew that she had read WhatsApp and said directly, "We didn't succeed this time. We will succeed in three days. You can rest assured."

Rachel Roberts's face was cold, and there was a chill in her eyes. "I only believe in you for the last time. If we don't succeed this time, I will never cooperate with you again. I will even make you die miserably!"

She hated deception the most and hated being fooled like a monkey the most!

"Okay, I'll satisfy you this time."

Angela White was very confident. After all, there were not many opportunities. Gloria White must die!

As for Gerald Turner, he was now in the dark room, but he was tied to a cross. At this moment, he was in a mess.

"Tsk! I didn't expect that Master Turner would become a prisoner one day. If this news got out, wouldn't it bring shame to the four masters of the UK?"

Gerald Turner was closing his eyes when he heard an evil laugh from afar.

Gerald Turner frowned slightly and turned around to see a man in a black bodyguard suit walking in with his hands in his pockets.

The man was wearing a hat, but the purple hair that revealed itself immediately allowed Gerald Turner to see that he was different. The mocking smiles on both sides of his lips reminded Gerald Turner of the wildness, evilness, and unrestrainedness under his mask.

“Then, didn’t the playboy and the cold face Yama, Mr. Oliver, also play the cosplay?”

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1357—Gerald Turner let out a mocking laugh and directly retorted.

This Mr. Oliver didn't take Gerald Turner's words seriously at all.

Mr. Oliver smiled even more sarcastically than before. "I'm here to see you, aren't I? But Mr. Turner, I'm very curious about you. You're the heir of the number one family in the UK, but you're willing to be tied up by a foreign woman in this way."

However, as soon as he finished speaking, he heard the other party sneer. "What do you know? This is true love."

How could Gerald Turner not understand what a man meant?

But he didn't need anyone to point fingers at him.

Now, as long as he could subdue Rachel Roberts, he didn't mind suffering a little.

"True love? True love is doing SM here? Mr. Turner's taste is getting heavier and heavier." Mr. Oliver snorted, with a hidden meaning.

Gerald Turner wasn't in the mood to joke around with him.

Instantly, his face grew cold and he lost his patience. "Your purple hair is too eye-catching. Hurry up and get lost. Don't get caught and don't ruin my plans!"

"Okay, then I won't ruin your plan."

Mr. Oliver smiled and turned to leave the small, dark room.

After two steps, he snorted again.

Because in his opinion, it was not a good thing.

However, whether it was good or bad would have to be experienced by Gerald Turner himself. After all, those closely involved would be confused.

The next day, Gloria White woke up very early. The first thing she did was contact Harold Ross to buy medicine according to her prescription and buy them breakfast.

Jordy Collins took a few medicated baths yesterday.

In addition, to let him sleep well, Gloria White lit him some incense.

He slept soundly.

When he woke up again, he was woken up by the phone.

“Grandma...”

Seeing the caller ID on the screen, Jordy Collins furrowed his brows and called out in a low, hoarse voice.

Karen Shaw immediately recognized Jordy’s hoarse and tired voice.

“Jordy, what’s wrong with you?”

“I didn’t sleep well.”

Jordy Collins was nonchalant.

“I want to talk to Gloria. Give me your phone to her. If you don’t, then I’ll contact her directly,” Karen Shaw didn’t believe him and spoke to him coldly.

Of course, she did this to give them another chance to interact with each other. What they lacked most now were communication and contact.

Jordy Collins couldn’t do anything about Karen Shaw, so he took his phone to Gloria White.

After taking two steps, he smelled medicine.

Immediately after, he saw Gloria White brewing the medicine in the hall.

His heart skipped a beat when he saw how focused she was.

“You got up. Go and eat your breakfast. Take your medicine.” Gloria White raised her head and noticed him.

Hearing the words “take medicine“, Karen Shaw immediately became anxious. “Jordy Collins, tell me honestly, what’s wrong with you!”

She was wondering why his voice sounded so strange!

“I’m sick. Don’t you want to talk to her?” Jordy Collins handed the phone to Gloria White.

Gloria White saw the phone he handed over and immediately understood.

She didn’t know that Jordy Collins was on the phone with Grandma, otherwise, she wouldn’t have said that.

Her grandmother was getting on in years, and she cared about Jordy Collins the most. If anything happened to him, her grandmother would be worried, and her anxiety would affect her condition.

“Grandma...”

“Tell me, how did Jordy Collins get sick? Did he start drinking again after going there with you?”

Although Karen Shaw was angry that Jordy Collins didn’t cherish his body, she came up with another idea at this moment.

Isn’t it a good chance for Jordy Collins to get sick?

Read Novel Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1358

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1358—"No, Grandma. We're just here to do business. Those pills he took just for his spleen and stomach are the ones I made for him."

In order not to worry the old madam, Gloria White could only tell a white lie.

"Is that so?" Karen Shaw half believed.

Gloria White laughed lightly as if she could not help, "Grandma, could it be that I would lie to you?"

"Ah, I'm so worried." Karen Shaw said with a smile, "Well, then I'll have to trouble you. You and he are husband and wife, and you also know what kind of person he is. He has a sharp tongue. Grandma is not with him now, so I can't take care of him. This time, please help me take good care of him."

Old Mrs. Collins heaved a long sigh.

Gloria's eyes moved slightly, husband and wife...

However, she knew what her grandmother was thinking, so she didn't expose her. She promised directly, "Grandma, don't worry. I will take good care of him."

"Then I'm relieved. When will you return? At that time, I'll personally cook and send someone to the airport to pick you up." Karen Shaw felt that this was a very good opportunity.

While taking care of him, they could also cultivate new feelings.

After all, they could be reunited.

"We will be back in four days. At that time, we will tell you when the flight is as soon as possible. Grandma, take your medicine on time, and I will come to see you when I come back."

"Okay, I'll wait for you to come back. Be careful over there, okay? It's not very peaceful over there." Karen Shaw's voice sounded so gentle.

Gloria White had a warm smile that came from the bottom of his heart, "Yes, Grandmother. Don't worry, wait for us to return."

"Okay."

They hung up after chatting for a while.

Gloria White returned the phone to Jordy Collins.

The moment Jordy Collins took the phone from her, he furrowed his brows. "I've been taking medicine for three days. Will I be okay?" "Um."

Just as Gloria White replied, her phone rang again.

An unfamiliar call from the UK. After some hesitation, she picked it up.

Before he could speak, the other party's voice suddenly sounded, "Gloria White, do you want to know who wanted to kill you that night?"

The other party called out her full name, causing Gloria's face to turn cold.

Because she could tell that this was the voice of the man with a mask who had saved her that night.

"Compared to the person who wanted to kill me that night, I want to know who you are and what your purpose is," Gloria White coldly questioned, his eyebrows furrowed.

If she hadn't been worried about Jordy Collins, she would have torn off his mask that night!

Jordy's eyes gradually turned cold.

However, he did not make a sound.

"Who I am is not important, what is important is that you know who wants to kill you first. If you want to know, then follow my address."

The man hung up the phone after saying that.

Then, she received a text message.

Gloria White looked at the address with a serious expression.

Jordy Collins had already noticed her presence and made a decision.

He said coldly, "You can't go."

Gloria White furrowed her brows and thought for a while before replying indifferently, "I have to go. Not only do I want to know who killed me, but I also want to know who wants to kill me. If he wanted to harm me, he would not have saved me that night. He asked me out today for something in exchange."

There was no free lunch in this world, and someone couldn't be good to you for no reason unless it was kinship and love.

But she had never had any contact with this man with a mask. She did not think that it was because of love!

Jordy's face darkened, but he knew that Gloria White would do as he was told.

He said in a low voice again, "It's dangerous for you to go there alone."

"Then let Harold Ross accompany me." Gloria's sentence immediately cut off what Jordy Collins was about to say.

Jordy Collins didn't reply, but his face darkened.

Harold Ross was self-aware. "Miss White, why don't you let Mr. Collins go with you?"

Read Novel Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1359

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1359—Beside him, Jordy Collins did not say anything, but his gaze landed on Gloria White.

Gloria White rejected his offer to accompany him and said in a deep voice, "His body is in this state, forget it."

"Breakfast is there. The medicine is ready. Harold Ross, let's go.

Gloria White gestured to Harold Ross with his chin, ignoring Jordy Collins.

As for Harold Ross, he glanced subconsciously at Jordy Collins.

Jordy's face was as cold as iron, and his eyes were cold.

However, in the next second, he said, "Follow her closely, and don't let anything happen to her again."

"Yes, Mr. Collins."

Harold Ross hurriedly responded, not daring to be careless.

Just like that, Harold Ross drove her to the location that the masked man had sent her. It was a cafe 35 kilometers away from the hotel.

The masked man only sent her the name and location of the cafe. When she was about to call to ask for his location, she saw the masked man sitting in front of the gate, waving at her.

He changed into another mask with golden–black dragon patterns. He was wearing a black shirt, black trousers, and black leather shoes.

Overall, he was evil, unbridled, indifferent, and like a high and mighty emperor.

“I will only talk to you.”

Asher noticed Harold Ross who was following behind Gloria White. His face immediately darkened and the corner of his mouth that was pursed showed his displeasure.

“Then wait for me at the door.”

Gloria White turned her head towards Harold Ross.

“But...”

However, Harold Ross was worried.

Gloria White looked at him calmly, “Since you only want to talk to me, then let’s sit here. Don’t play games with me, I don’t have much patience.”

“Please!”

Asher picked up Gloria’s words and gestured toward her.

Harold Ross saw the two of them sit down and noticed Gloria’s gaze. He followed Gloria’s instructions and walked towards the door.

However, he kept his gaze on them and did not dare to look away for even half a second. He was afraid that something would happen to Gloria White if he was not careful.

After all, Jordy Collins had given him a direct order.

If anything were to happen to Gloria White, he would be flayed alive by Jordy Collins. He might even be exiled to Africa!

He didn’t want to be chased down like this, and didn’t want anything to happen to Gloria White!

“Since I’ve followed your instructions, shouldn’t you fulfill your promise and tell me who the mastermind is?” Gloria White looked coldly at the man who was still flipping through the product list.

Hearing this, she raised her head and smiled bitterly. With a natural expression, she said, “Miss White, we’re already here. Let’s order a cup of coffee and talk slowly. Why are you in such a hurry?”

There was a hint of mockery in his words.

Although Gloria White was not impatient, the corners of his lips curled upwards as he scoffed coldly, “If it were you, would you have the patience to drink coffee with a stranger you don’t know, then slowly talk about the murderer behind your back?”

“Waiter, give me two cups of classic coffee, please.”

Asher did not reply to Gloria’s question and instead raised his hand to call for a waiter.

Seeing him ignore her, Gloria White frowned slightly. However, since she was already here, there was no need for her to leave in a hurry.

However, the man wanted her to be anxious, so she didn’t mind showing him.

In the next moment, she pretended to be displeased and said, “I don’t want to beat around the bush with you. Just tell me what you want me to give you so that you can tell me the person who wants to kill me behind my back?”

The man had a faint smile on his face as he said, “Miss White if I didn’t have 100% confidence, how could I have invited you here? Moreover, I came here alone. If I wanted to do something, you and the people you brought here would have fallen into my trap the moment you entered the cafe, wouldn’t you?”

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1360—It was undeniable that the man’s words were true.

“I still have many things to deal with,” Gloria White said coldly.

The implication was: I don’t have time to talk nonsense with you!

How could Asher not understand?

Gloria White was calm in the face of problems. She handled things with courage and strategy, but she would also be agitated and impatient. Looking at it this way, she was just like those women.

But, she was not as gentle and obedient as ordinary women.

“Sigh! Since Miss White doesn’t have time, I can’t waste your time. My purpose is very simple. Miss White, I appreciate you very much. As long as you can be with me, not to mention who the mastermind is, I can guarantee that you will not have to worry about food or clothing for the rest of your life.

Asher heaved a long sigh first, pretending to be in a dilemma.

The latter part of his words made his true purpose clear.

Gloria White felt as if she had heard the funniest joke in the world. She sneered, “You don’t even have a face. How dare you ask me to be with you?”

Gloria White did it on purpose.

The fact that he wore a mask meant he was shameful.

Other than disfiguration, there was no reason for men to wear masks.

Or he had deliberately said those words to test her.

But no matter what, she would not choose to compromise with a man she did not even know what he looked like to find out who he was!

As soon as she said that, Asher didn’t answer her.

She sneered.

However, in the next second, Asher’s hands also moved,

Gloria’s eyes were dull as he watched him slowly raise his hand and place it on his mask.

While she was still suspicious, the man quickly took off his mask.

Under the mask were his seductive peach blossom eyes, white skin, and tall nose. Every frame of his face was like a piece of art perfectly carved by an excellent craftsman.

“Miss White, am I sincere enough?”

Seeing Gloria's gaze gradually freeze, the corners of her mouth curved into a smile.

However, his smile did not reach the bottom of his eyes. His charming peach blossom eyes were deep and unfathomable.

Gloria White smelled danger from this man's body.

It should be noted that the man was extremely beautiful, and he had taken the initiative to make such a request. He also clearly knew who wanted to kill her behind her back.

His identity was not simple, and his purpose was not to be with her.

Even before Gloria White could answer him, he had already gotten up and walked towards him. His hand was on Gloria White's side.

Gloria White's expression turned cold, but before he could move, the man had already drawn close to her. The dangerous and cold aura on his body instantly surrounded Gloria White. This feeling was extremely uncomfortable, but she did not move. She looked at the man in front of her coldly, "If you have something to say, can you keep your distance?"

"What if I say no?" Asher narrowed her eyes. Her words were provocative toward Gloria White.

She was keenly aware of how dangerous this man was.

Gloria White smiled lightly. The cold in her eyes met his gaze. She was not to be outdone, "Then you can try."

"Then how can I bear to confront you? Gloria White, if you are with me, I can protect you. If you are not with me, that person will kill you sooner or later!"

Asher didn't even take half a step away. He was less than half a meter away from Gloria White.

This kind of pressure and smell of a strange man made Gloria White very uncomfortable and she could not longer control her emotions. She got up and moved to the side.

"It's someone else's business whether he kills me or not, and I won't be with you because of such things. Get out!"
