Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1381– Continuous Fall

Hearing her words, Harold Ross suddenly understood. The corners of his mouth curved into a smile. In the next second, he was filled with admiration for Gloria White.

“Miss White, you are so smart.”

Gloria White, however, did not feel that all of this was due to her efforts. She pushed Jordy Collins, who was next to her, forward and said with a smile, “Mr. Collins has cooperated very well.”

Harold Ross didn’t know what to say at the moment, because Gloria White was right. Mr. Collins had cooperated with her well. Harold Ross was very surprised at that time. Mr. Collins had compromised.

But then again, this was all because of Gloria White.

As an onlooker, he could also see that the two of them had a telepathic connection. If they hadn’t divorced, their relationship would have reached its development stage.

Only, even though he wanted them to get back together, he didn’t dare to do so!

As soon as Rachel Roberts arrived at the casino, she received a report from her subordinates.

Miss Roberts, Crockfords Club postponed the party to two days later, and it’s a masquerade. Because of the delay, many people left, including Jordy Collins and Gloria White ...

Therefore, she came here for nothing.

Rachel Roberts’s face darkened and she was very unhappy.

After returning, she headed straight to where Gerald Turner was kept.

When Gerald Turner saw her, his lips curled into a smile. “Baby, did you miss me?”

Rachel Roberts looked at him gloomily. “What do you think?”

Gerald Turner smirked devilishly. “I think you’re missing me.”

Rachel Roberts's face darkened, and she sneered at Gerald Turner opposite her, "Do you think that I will be softhearted to you just because you smiled at me?"

"No, I never thought that you would go easy on me. If one wants to chase someone, he has to suffer a little. I know you have resentment in your heart, but you have to understand that you can't always have a smooth life." Gerald Turner laughed in a low voice. Although his voice was hoarse, it still sounded so proud to Rachel Roberts.

Rachel Roberts didn't take his words seriously. "You've been trapped here by me. Why do you you're lucky one day?"

The smile at the corner of Gerald Turner's mouth was as usual. He even stretched his tone and said with incomparable evil and danger, "Do you want to make a bet?"

"What bet?" Rachel Roberts frowned and stared at him in confusion.

He had been locked up for a few days, but he had never begged her for mercy.

There was never fear in his eyes!

Gerald Turner saw that her interest had been piqued and the smile on his face deepened, "I bet you'll fall in love with me."

"...scram."

Such a bet and such a playful tone made Rachel Roberts lose patience. Especially that night, the scene of him tangling with her appeared in her mind.

If it weren't for him, she wouldn't have been waiting for opportunities to have sex with Jordy Collins all the time.

If it wasn't for him, she wouldn't have to run away in a panic in front of Gloria White, let alone hide like a mouse in front of a cat!

Although Rachel Roberts was even angrier, she still restrained her emotions and turned to leave the dark room.

As he gazed upon her back, the corners of Gerald Turner's mouth curled into a faint smile.

Over at Jordy's side.

When Gloria White saw Harold Ross walking into his room with two blankets in his arms, he was immediately suspicious. She walked over and found Jordy Collins lying on the bed with two blankets on his body!

She immediately stepped forward with a frown and put her hand on Jordy's pulse. As a result, she found that his pulse was very weak at the moment, and his body temperature was constantly falling!

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1382– Enough Nonsense

Gloria White frowned and his face darkened, "What did he eat today?"

Harold Ross's face darkened at her question. "Mr. Collins, he has been with you all day today. We eat the same food. We're all fine. That's all after we came back from the casino. I'm going to look for you, but he won't let me..."

With that, Harold Ross quickly covered Jordy Collins with the two blankets.

At that moment, Jordy's hand began to shake, and his palm turned ice-cold!

Gloria White furrowed her brows.

Since Jordy Collins didn't eat anything, it meant that the drugs he took this time contained toxins that could lead to a human feeling cold.

Without hesitation, Gloria White immediately spoke to Harold Ross, "Increase the temperature in the room, I'll get him the medicine!"

However, she had just turned around when she was stopped by Harold Ross. Harold Ross's expression was grave as he said, "Miss White, let me go. It won't be good if someone attacks you while you're away."

More importantly, what Mr. Collins wanted most now was that Miss White would stay by his side.

That was all he could do to help him.

Gloria White was not worried about this. She laughed lightly, "Now that the Misty Spirit Grass has been taken away, who else wants to take the chance to attack me?"

Hearing Gloria's words, Harold Ross immediately looked toward Jordy Collins with a worried expression. "But Mr. Collins's current situation... if you leave and something unexpected happens to him, it won't be easy for me to deal with."

Gloria White also glanced at Jordy Collins.

Jordy's condition was not very good. He was trembling from the cold even after being covered by a few blankets.

Harold Ross was right. She was afraid that something unexpected might happen, so she compromised. "I'll send you the name of the medicine I need, and you can come back as soon as possible."

"Okay."

Harold Ross nodded and immediately set off.

After he left, Gloria White immediately turned on the air conditioner in the room. It was extremely hot. While she was sweating profusely from the heat, she was also thinking about Jordy's situation.

This was the latest special medicine developed by the black market. It was fast and fierce. Without the cooperation of women, one would bleed from all seven apertures and die suddenly.

Even if someone suppressed the poison with medicine, it would be hard to remove the poison in the body, and it would cause the body to be reversed.

As hot as it was when it took effect, it was as cold as it was later.

There was no antidote for the time being.

Upon seeing the last few words, Gloria White immediately looked toward Jordy Collins.

Jordy's symptoms were still there.

She had no choice but to return to her room and cover herself with her quilt. "Jordy Collins, you have to endure it. Harold Ross is not back yet."

With Jordy Collins like this, she couldn't just leave him to die.

However, Jordy Collins also noticed that Gloria White was sweating profusely. He furrowed his brows and coldly said to Gloria White, "You... get out..."

Upon hearing this, Gloria White said to him unhappily, "If I get out at this crucial moment, won't I be held accountable if anything happens to you? I promised Grandma that I would take good care of you, so stop talking nonsense!"

Jordy Collins wanted to say something more, but the reaction was obvious. His eyelids became heavier and heavier, and in the end, he fainted.

Seeing Jordy Collins like this, Gloria White quickly pinched his philtrum and gave him acupuncture.

By the time Harold Ross returned, Gloria's clothes were completely drenched, but she still insisted on preparing a medicinal bath for Jordy Collins.

After everything was settled, she left the rest to Harold Ross. "Watch him. He'll have to soak for two hours. When the water gets cold, put some hot water in it."

"Um, Miss White, go to have a rest." Harold Ross also noticed that Gloria White was currently sweating profusely and her face was full of fatigue.

Gloria White nodded and walked out of Jordy's room.

Less than an hour after Gloria White left, Jordy Collins regained consciousness under the medicinal bath and opened his eyes.

Harold Ross was thrilled. "Mr. Collins, you're finally awake!"

Harold Ross had taken off his clothes because he was unable to withstand the high temperature in the room.

Seeing Harold Ross's muscular chest, Jordy Collins frowned. "What's wrong? Where is she?"

Harold Ross immediately realized that Jordy Collins was referring to Gloria White and didn't want him there. He quickly explained, "Mr. Collins, you're so cold. It's very hot indoors, so I have to keep an eye on you. So... Miss White went back to her room to rest after preparing your medicated bath.

Otherwise, she won't be able to bear the high temperature."

"Get out," Jordy Collins said to Harold Ross in a low voice, but his expression softened a lot.

Harold Ross did not dare to disobey.

However, as soon as they walked out, Harold Ross greeted Gloria White, who had just come out of the room. Gloria White did not misunderstand, but he asked about Jordy

Collins's situation, "How is Jordy Collins? If he's like this, we won't be able to go back for a while. Since he's afraid of the cold, he should get more sunshine."

"Well, you drive us to the seaside tomorrow. The seafood feast can also improve his condition."

Harold Ross nodded and answered truthfully, "Mr. Collins just woke up and kicked me out."

As he spoke, Harold Ross felt rather pitiful.

Seeing Harold Ross like this, Gloria White felt that it was a little funny. She smiled and said, "You should be thankful that he did not do anything to you."

After speaking, Gloria White left Harold Ross alone and turned to leave.

Harold Ross sighed. He knew, but he still felt that he was very innocent.

After all, he did not do anything!

The next day, Harold Ross drove them to the beach.

They booked a hotel room in advance. After putting down the items, Gloria White changed her clothes and set off in sun-proof clothing.

Jordy Collins was wearing a pair of light-colored beach pants.

He didn't want to wear it. Harold Ross could tell from his cold face, but for his illness, Harold Ross said, "Mr. Collins, Miss White is on her way now. Think about what happened to you yesterday. Besides, she came with you. What a great opportunity!"

Jordy Collins didn't reply but gave Harold Ross a cold look.

Then, he left Harold Ross behind.

When they arrived at the beach, Gloria White was already leisurely leaning against a rattan chair. In her hand was a glass of juice.

Jordy Collins placed a bottle of essential oil on the table in front of her.

"What is it?" Seeing Jordy Collins put the things in front of her without saying a word, Gloria White frowned.

Jordy Collins replied coldly, "I don't want to lose my skin."

That was so ironic.

Gloria White turned around with a lazy expression, "Isn't Harold Ross here?"

Jordy's face fell, and there was a hint of anger and dissatisfaction in his voice. "I don't want to be the center of attention."

The two men were indeed strange.

However, she was emotional. She snorted and said with a smile, "If you don't want to be the focus of others' attention, why don't you put on your sunglasses and don't look at them? Besides, this is abroad. Who knows you?"

He didn't have a good attitude when he asked her for help. She was not his servant, so she didn't care.

"That's odd," Jordy Collins said, pursing his lips, his expression cold and stern.

Gloria White was nonchalant, "Then let Harold Ross help you put on the sunscreen before you come out..."

"This is medicinal oil."

Jordy's words immediately caused Gloria White to shut up.

To Gloria White who understood medicine, she knew very well what he meant.

The use of medicinal oil still needed a professional massage to absorb it.

This bad man didn't even have a good attitude when asking her for help.

She was unwilling but thinking about his current situation, Gloria White suppressed her emotions.

"Lie down on the beach." Gloria White picked up the medicine oil on the table and threw it at Jordy Collins.

Jordy Collins did as she told.

Gloria White was a professional in chiropractic and she applied oil very quickly.

However, after the massage, Gloria White patted his back forcefully, "All right, let's sunbathe for two hours."

It'll make him lose his attitude!

The sunshine by the sea was very strong. After two hours, the contrast between Jordy's skin and

Gloria's skin, one black and one white was particularly obvious.

Harold Ross noticed this but did not dare to say anything.

However, when they were about to have dinner, someone came uninvited.

"Hello, Miss White, we meet again."

A mocking voice and a deep smile appeared on the corner of his mouth. His devilish face was displayed in front of Gloria White. She moved her chopsticks to eat and ignored him.

However, Asher pulled out a chair beside Gloria White and sat down in front of her.

Today, he was wearing a white shirt with two buttons unbuttoned on his collar. His chest was slightly open, revealing his white skin.

With her hand on the back of the chair, he looked evil, enchanting, and arrogant.

"Miss White, we haven't even said goodbye to each other at the banquet. As the saying goes, one day apart feels like three autumns. I dreamed of you last night."

Seeing that Gloria White did not reply, the corners of Asher's lips curled up into a smile. His tone was teasing.

A man dreamed of a woman and could say such words to her. What was the purpose of this?

However, Gloria White knew that Asher had said those words on purpose to provoke her. She did not want to let him get what he wanted. With a faint expression, her gaze did not land on Asher.

"Harold Ross, invite him away." Gloria White could ignore her, but not Jordy Collins.

He did not like sitting at the same table as strangers. Moreover, Asher was talkative!

Harold Ross also noticed Jordy Collins's cold and indifferent face. He quickly did what Jordy Collins asked him to do. He immediately said to Asher, "Sir, it's time for us to eat. If you have anything to say, you can wait until we're done."

Asher did not put Harold Ross in his eyes at all.

He ignored Harold Ross and drew closer to Gloria White, "I'm also hungry. Miss White, can I join you for dinner?"

Gloria White then turned to look at him.

She found that Asher also said this very naturally.

It was as though they had known each other for a long time, but they were not.

Gloria White was very curious about Asher's purpose.

"Gloria, if you think it's too noisy and hot outside, we can pack them up and go back to our room," Jordy Collins said seriously, slowly opening his thin lips.

His black eyes were filled with coldness.

However, Gloria's attention was focused on Asher. Even though he had lost face because of her yesterday, he was still able to appear by her side time and time again.

She was wondering what the real purpose of the Asher was!

However, Gloria's neglect made Jordy's face even darker and colder. This made Harold Ross secretly feel that something was wrong.

"Sure enough, power and money are still very tempting."

Jordy Collins put down his chopsticks and lost all desire to eat.

"Patta."

He threw away his chopsticks.

At the same time, the voice brought Gloria White back to reality. She noticed that Jordy's eyes were as cold as a blade, but the sharpness was pressing toward her.

Gloria's heart clenched and he lost his appetite. She retorted unhappily, "Jordy Collins, what do you mean by that?"

He was throwing such words at her for no reason.

"The literal meaning," Jordy Collins said flatly, but his tone was cold and sharp.

The corners of Asher's mouth twitched with a meaningful smile. He was the one who started this show, and he was very happy.

"Gloria, look at how this man can say these things to you for no reason. Fortunately, you divorced him, otherwise, you would have died of anger."

"I don't care if you divorce or not. I care about you very much. I like you very much. Think about me, will you?" Asher also looked at Gloria White and said calmly.

While he was questioning Gloria White, the smile on his face and his words showed that he was determined to win.

Gloria White squinted his eyes, "You're right, I'm divorced. If I want to remarry, I must consider the other party's conditions and the stability that they bring me. What can you bring me? Tell me, who

As she said those words, the mocking smile on Gloria's face was obvious.

She did it on purpose.

How could Asher bear not know that Gloria White was deliberate?

He also knew that at this moment, Jordy's cold gaze was landing on him and Gloria White.

He denied it with a smile. "Of course not. I can give you peace and endless wealth for the rest of your life."

Gloria White knew his identity but he deliberately pretended not to believe him, "Words are useless. Even if you don't know who I am, I can still be said to be very rich. Furthermore, you always say that if I agree to your request, tell me who is backing you. Under normal circumstances, shouldn't you express your sincerity first?"

As she said this, the corners of Gloria's mouth curled into a deep smile.

Harold Ross looked at them and then at Jordy Collins.

Jordy's face was as cold as a glacier that had existed for thousands of years. The coldness reflected in his eyes made Harold Ross shudder.

When Jordy Collins was about to say something, his cell phone rang.

It was a call from Carlos Greens.

Holding his phone, Jordy Collins got up to answer the phone.

“Miss White, what else does Mr. Collins want besides seafood?” Seeing Jordy Collins leave, Harold Ross quickly asked Gloria White. Mr. Collins was very angry now. After all, a man’s possessiveness was very strong. When it came to the person he cared about, who could stand her talking and laughing with another man?

Gloria White only noticed Jordy’s departure because of Harold Ross’s words.

“Didn’t he eat nothing?” Gloria White frowned with a face full of displeasure.

He hadn’t eaten yet and he was puzzled. Why did she have to think about him all the time? As long as the scene last night didn’t happen again.

“It’s easy for me to express my sincerity, but I also want to see Miss White’s opinion. Miss White, I’m worthy of you.”

Asher recommended himself.

However, the more he was like this, the more Gloria White felt that he was in danger.

“I’m not interested in a man who comes to me on a silver platter. Besides, is a man like you worth it? Why should I believe you?”

Gloria White snorted and in the next second, she stood up.

Seeing that Gloria White was about to leave, Asher immediately stopped her, “Miss White, you rejected my invitation to the banquet yesterday. You won’t leave me alone today right?”

Asher also stood up and reached out to pull Gloria White. Although Gloria White did not say anything, the coldness in her eyes explained everything.

The Asher respected her and withdrew her hand. However, the corners of his mouth were raised and his smile was particularly deep and enchanting.

Gloria White looked at him and said blandly, "Aren't you hungry?"

"It's boring to eat alone."

Asher naturally knew what Gloria White meant, but now that he had appeared, how could he let her go so easily?

Then, Asher waved the waiter over and said, "I thought about what Miss White said carefully. Miss White's words make sense. Let's order food again and talk while eating." He asked for Gloria's opinion, the corners of his mouth still curved into a deep smile.

However, Gloria White did not feel that this was his gentleness or gentlemanliness.

She even found his actions and language repulsive.

"No, I refuse." Gloria White directly rejected it. She stood up and did not want to leave any face for Asher, and she did not want to hear what he had to say.

Watching Gloria's back as she left, Asher's smile on the corner of his mouth disappeared.

This was the third time Gloria White had rejected him!

Nothing more than three times. He didn't have much patience.

When Jordy Collins returned after answering Carlos Green's call, Gloria White and Asher were no longer in their seats.

Harold Ross immediately went up to him. "Mr. Collins, I saw that Miss White has nothing with that man. He's the one who has been pestering Miss White. I've ordered food for you, so you can have dinner with Miss White in the room."

It was evident that Jordy Collins had been infuriated by Asher.

He even misunderstood Gloria White.

Harold Ross felt that as a good assistant, not only did he have to solve his work problems as soon as possible, but he also had to act as a mediator.

After all, only when a person like Mr. Collins was in a good mood could he do things smoothly.

And he could tell that Miss White was the only one who could influence Mr. Collins's mood!

Jordy Collins came in after the waiter delivered the food. Seeing Jordy Collins swipe the room card and enter, Gloria White sat up from the sofa, "Didn't you say you're not eating?"

"I can't let the poison take effect and I'll die, can I?" Jordy Collins answered, walking up to her in the next second.

Gloria White laughed coldly, "You asked for it."

"Aren't you here? Or are you planning to be with Asher..."

Jordy Collins knew that Gloria White was mocking him on purpose, but his expression was indifferent and he did not show it. However, the image of Asher resurfaced in his mind.

Jordy's expression darkened at the thought of the Asher.

Gloria White smiled and purposely choked on Jordy Collins, "Even if I have something with Asher, what does that have to do with you, Mr. Collins?"

Jordy's expression turned extremely grim. Just as he was about to reply, someone knocked on the door.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1387– 999 Roses

Thinking of the person standing outside the door, Jordy Collins immediately got up and said, "I'll open the door."

However, Jordy's face was gloomy and cold, as if it was covered with haze.

However, Gloria White saw that Jordy's face turned even uglier the moment he opened the door.

She couldn't help feeling shocked. "Is it Asher to stand at the door?"

Until a smooth and respectful English voice came from outside the door,

"Is Ms. Gloria White here? This is a 999-rose flower prepared by a gentleman."

The next second, Jordy Collins snapped, "Get out of here!"

"Bang!" Jordy Collins slammed the door shut.

Gloria White did not say anything, but her face did not look good. Asher's identity was obvious, and she had rejected him three times.

However, he was still able to persist like this.

He even sent a text message.

Asher: "Baby, can you drive away that bad man who was inexplicably angry with you for no reason? As the saying goes, a good horse will never turn round to graze on an old pasture. Look at me. Tonight's barbecue stall, do you want to join me?"

It was not impossible.

Perhaps if she answered once, Asher's true colors would be revealed and she would be able to find out his true intentions!

Gloria White: "For you have invited me so many times, I will accept your invitation."

Asher: "Ok, see you tonight at 10 o'clock."

Gloria White could already imagine the smug smile on the other party's face. However, it was not certain who would win!

At this thought, the corners of her mouth slowly curled up.

It wasn't until she heard Jordy's cold voice in her ear that she asked, "Whom are you talking to? The man named Asher?"

For some reason, the smile at the corner of her mouth felt especially offensive to Jordy Collins.

Gloria White did not hide, "Yes, that's him. He approached us time and time again. I want to see what his goal is. If it's necessary tonight, can you cooperate?"

Jordy Collins fell silent, his lips pressed into a straight line.

In the end, Gloria White chose to use this kind of method to spy on Asher's purpose. Even though he knew that she had done it on purpose, in his heart, he felt an indescribable gloominess.

He could no longer be interested in the seafood dishes Harold Ross had ordered.

Gloria White saw that Jordy Collins was standing at the side without saying a word and did not seem to want to eat. She could not help but frown and say to him, "With your current physical condition, eating seafood is beneficial to your body's recovery. If you still don't listen to the doctor, then don't come looking for me later!"

As she spoke, Gloria White began to eat.

Because of the Asher, she didn't eat much.

Although she had just mocked Jordy Collins on purpose, she didn't want to ruin her health.

"Well."

In the end, Jordy Collins sat down with her.

They had booked a suite. Firstly, Jordy Collins had an emergency so that Gloria White could deal with it. Secondly, Harold Ross wanted to matchmake them.

After eating, when Gloria White was about to return to his room, her phone rang.

She subconsciously took out her mobile phone from her pocket.

What she didn't know was that Jordy's eyes had been fixed on her. He followed her closely and watched her closely.

The moment Gloria's lips curled into a smile Jordy Collins felt a nameless fire burning in his chest. However, in the next second, he heard Gloria's teasing voice.

"I didn't expect that Master William would take the initiative to call me for advice."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1388—A Playful Voice

Jordy's furrowed brows relaxed when he heard that it was George, and the irritation and anger in his heart slowly subsided.

Jordy Collins himself was surprised by the sudden turn of events.

As for Gloria White, he had already walked to the terrace. Her hand was on the railing. She smiled and said, "If you want to chase Nydia, it's both easy and difficult. But the most important thing is that you have to cater to her hobbies."

She didn't expect that in the end, George would take this step and call her for advice.

She could say whatever she wanted, but it was up to George how far he could go.

The situation between the two of them was a little complicated, and she could not be sure if

George was willing to be with Nydia.

Moreover, Nydia also had George in her heart, so what she could do was just tell him what to do. If they had a connection, and George was willing to repent, then Nydia would be willing to forgive him....

This kind of thing was hard to say, so she could only be an onlooker.

George was in a dilemma. "How can I cater to her hobbies?"

"Whatever she likes, whatever she wants to do, date her. She's very straightforward, just say what you want," Gloria's smile remained.

"I've asked her out many times, but she doesn't agree!" George was at a loss.

In his opinion, Nydia regarded him as a friend and directly argued with him, which was too much. If he expressed his feelings now, what if Nydia avoided him?

He had asked one of his friends. His friend was an example of this. Later on, his friend and the girl he loved could not even be friends anymore.

After worrying for a while, he set aside his pride and called Gloria White

Gloria White replied, "I can't help you right now. There are still some things on my end that have not been dealt with. It will probably take four to five days for me to return."

At this time, George was a little surprised. "Ah? Isn't it something that can be settled in two or three days? Why hasn't it been settled yet?"

Speaking of this, Gloria White felt helpless, "There's nothing I can do. Something happened to Jordy Collins. If you want to help, you can only wait for me to return."

"What happened to him?" George asked casually but Gloria could still hear the concern from the brother.

Gloria White did not say anything else, "Relax, he won't die yet."

“Tsk.” George sneered. “That guy is so lucky. How can he die? I hope he fails a few more times.”

When George spoke, there was also a hint of mockery. Gloria White only raised her eyebrows and did not say anything.

After a moment of silence, he heard the voice of George.

“Okay, then I’ll wait for you to come back.” From beginning to end, George felt that it was safer to wait for Gloria’s return to help.

“Okay.”

Thereafter, Gloria White ended the conversation.

When she returned to the living room, she saw Jordy Collins sitting on the sofa with Harold Ross there.

Seeing that Jordy Collins had his phone in his hand and was frowning, she knew that this was something related to the company.

Gloria White did not interrupt him and returned to his room.

“Asher is Harold Ross, on the other hand, reported what Jordy Collins had told him not long ago. preparing for tonight’s barbecue. He has sent men to investigate his background. And the result is the same as what Miss White found. As for the woman... the surveillance video in the casino only captured the woman running out of the private room, and later, the casino said that all the surveillance cameras had broken down.”

They had tried their best to communicate with the casino, but the casino thought that it was just an unimportant woman who was not worth spending a lot of money to repair.

Read Novel Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1389

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1389– Invite Me?

What’s more, the casino did not lose any benefits. In the latter three minutes after the monitoring system was activated, the account directly transferred 4.5 million dollars.

In this case, it was even more impossible for the casino to repair the surveillance video.

Moreover, there were many blind spots around the private room they were in.

"You didn't investigate according to Gloria's ideas?" Hearing Harold Ross's report, Jordy's face turned cold.

Asher as he was, he had a special identity and a special background, so it was deliberately hidden. and could not be found, but it should not be that Rachel Roberts could not find any clues.

Noticing Jordy's expression, Harold Ross was also conflicted. "Mr. Collins, I followed Miss White's advice to investigate, but Miss Roberts didn't show up after leaving the casino with the man. beside her that night. She has proof of her absence. But Miss White's suspicion isn't unfounded. I think... why don't you play a handsome man's trick?"

The moment Harold Ross said those words, he was struck by Jordy's piercing gaze. His black pupils were so sharp that he dared not say a word.

Jordy Collins narrowed his eyes. "Is that the good idea you're thinking of?"

"No, no... Mr. Collins, this is just a suggestion. After all, doesn't Miss Roberts like... you? You don't have to do anything. Just ask her out and ask her out, just like Miss White..." Harold Ross said as he observed Jordy's expression.

It was not a handsome man trick. They just had to meet and chat with each other without losing anything.

On this point, he felt that Miss White did a good job and was worth learning.

However, as soon as the words left his mouth, Jordy's eyes became even sharper. In an instant, he didn't dare to say anything more.

In the next second, Jordy Collins said to Harold Ross in a stern voice, "I'll only give you three days. Who else could that woman be but Rachel Roberts? if you can't find out who she is, hand in your resignation letter."

With that, Harold Ross was left alone in the living room.

Looking at Jordy's tall, cold back, Harold Ross sighed inwardly.

Jordy Collins didn't want to use his handsome face to meet Rachel Roberts, but it didn't mean that he couldn't use Jordy Collins's name to meet Rachel Roberts.

Although it was challenging Jordy's bottom line, at least there was an outcome. Harold Ross felt. that no matter what, he was going to die. He might as well accept that outcome!

Having come up with an idea, Harold Ross immediately went to work.

He soon asked someone to find the hotel where Rachel Roberts stayed in the UK and then came to her in person.

“Assistant Ross?” Rachel Roberts panicked the moment she saw Harold Ross, but she still tried to remain calm in order not to alert him.

Harold Ross smiled politely. “Miss Roberts, there will be a barbecue party at Moon Club at 10 o’clock tonight. Mr. Collins asked me to invite you. Do you have time tonight?”

Rachel Roberts was a little surprised. “Invite me?”

She was pleasantly surprised.

But...she was a little suspicious. Would Jordy Collins invite her?

Although she hoped that Jordy Collins would find her, she wasn’t a simpleton who didn’t know anything. Moreover, something had happened recently, which made her a little flustered.

After a pause, she looked at Harold Ross and asked subconsciously, “Does Mr. Collins have any projects to cooperate with me?”

She had worked so hard just to catch up to Jordy Collins and become his confidante. Now that he had invited her, of course, she was happy to go.

However, the scene of her dressing up as Gloria White and escaping from the private room in a panic was still lingering in her mind.

Also, that day in the restaurant, she met Gloria’s eyes.

She felt that tonight’s barbecue party was not that simple!

Pursing her lips, she looked at Harold Ross’s silent smile and asked again, “Assistant Ross, is Mr.

Collins inviting me alone, or is everyone here?”

Although she did not point it out, Harold Ross understood that she was referring to Gloria White, Miss White.

Harold Ross said with a smile, "Miss Roberts, Mr. Collins saw you in a restaurant the other day in a foreign country. He was thinking about the Collins Group and the Roberts Group, as well as the business dealings he had with them. So, he decided to go to a barbecue party with a lot of people."

Not just for her...

Hearing Harold Ross's words, Rachel Roberts secretly breathed a sigh of relief.

"Please tell Mr. Collins that I'll visit him tonight. Thank him for his invitation." Rachel Roberts smiled gently.

Since she was not invited alone, she had to go.

If she did not go and it was really as she had thought, then Jordy Collins and Gloria set up a trap to test her. Wouldn't that mean that she had a guilty conscience?

"Okay, Miss Roberts," Harold Ross replied to Rachel Roberts and then left.

After he left, Rachel Roberts dialed a number directly. "I have a barbecue party tonight. Get everything ready for me."

At nine o'clock in the evening, Asher personally carried the clothes and flowers that he had meticulously prepared to Gloria's room.

Asher knew that Gloria White and Jordy Collins had booked a large suite. He did not want Jordy Collins to ruin his good mood.

Therefore, he called Gloria White in advance

Gloria White could not help but feel puzzled when he saw the Asher phone call

"Didn't I promise you? Picking up the phone, Gloria White was confused

Asher smiled and said, "So I have to be sincere. I am now at the door. Well, can you come and open the door for me?"

He drawled and said with a big smile.

The word "Gloria" caused goosebumps to appear all over Gloria's body, causing her to feel disgusted, "I'm not that close to you."

Asher raised an eyebrow nonchalantly. "Difficult the first time, easy the second. Your ex-husband could call you like that, it's really weird that I keep calling you Miss White. You know, my goal is to pursue you and develop you into my wife."

Gloria White did not believe his nonsense. She said coldly, "Why can't we talk about it at the barbecue party? Must it be now?"

"You'll know once you come out." Asher kept her guessing.

Gloria White originally wanted to reject him but after thinking about it, she had already agreed to his invitation. If he did not leave now, it would not make sense. Besides, Asher would not do anything to her before achieving his goal.

As a result, as soon as she opened the door, she saw the exquisite shopping bags and 99 roses in Asher's left hand.

He immediately handed the things in his hand to her and said, "You will wear this later. I hope these roses can bring you a good mood."

As he spoke, the smile on his face was obvious. Gloria's gaze turned stern, "Are you seriously ill?"

He was wearing a black shirt and she was wearing a dress at the barbecue party?

"Then isn't it just nice that you can cure it?" Asher smiled as she answered Gloria's question, but Gloria's eyes immediately darkened.
