Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1411—Unbearable Pain

Her watery eyes glistened. It would be lying if she said she was not touched.

Heather had no idea what their plan was. He looked awful.

With a bitter smile on his lips, he asked, “What can you do?”

Then, he suddenly raised a pistol and, with his finger resting on the trigger, aimed it directly at Jordy’s head.

Jordy remained arrogant without the slightest fear in his eyes.

Heather’s face went darker. What did that contemptuous look mean? Had Jordy decided that he dare not shoot him?!

However, just as he was about to pull the trigger, a gruff voice exploded behind him like thunder-

“Get the fu*k back if you don’t wanna die!”

Everyone looked where the voice came from.

What they saw was – Zack rushed toward them with a bomb strapped to his waist.

The determination and fierceness were written all over his face.

Following behind him were another four guys.

Zack had chosen to believe Gloria and instigated his four brothers-in-arms Before the Heart Piercing Poison was neutralized, how could they allow any dangers to fall upon Gloria?

The bomb on Zack’s waist daunted Heather.

It was the newly-invented bomb with super lethality

Gloria narrowed her eyes, which were filled with a strong sense of shock. She recognized the bomb as well.

They were..

She had never expected them to come. She opened her lips and did not know what to say.

Jordy's eyes dimmed. He remained still and silent. Gloria had saved them the right people. He thought.

"You're all very bold, Heather threatened. "Do you have any idea the consequences of doing something like this?"

Gloria's face went solemn. "Is there anything else in this world that you won't do?"

Heather laughed threateningly. "Gloria, what do you think I can do to you?"

Gloria frowned, not wanting to waste breath with him.

Jordy looked coldly at Heather's face and asked, "What makes you think you are good enough for her?"

"I am not?" Heather tittered. "How about you, the ex-husband? What are you to her now?"

"What do those irrelevant people mean to her?"

Zack was rendered speechless.

He'd got a bomb around his waist, which might go off at any second. What did they think they were doing?

He did not want to steal the show, but the current situation was these two men were satirizing each other.

He yelled, "Back off, you two! Or I will blow this place up!!"

With that, he lit one of the bombs!

As the fuse of the bomb was burning, people were scared. They backed off without Heather giving them order Heather's face went dark all at once. He glared at his men indignantly.

While they were in a panic, Jordy grabbed Gloria's arm and stepped back to hide behind Zack's back!

At that split second, Zack tossed out the bomb in his hand!

Heather and his thugs also ran away

Zack looked at them and beckoned, "Let's go!"

Gloria did not relax her vigilance and heaved a sigh of relief until they got into the car and distanced themselves from Heather.

Heather was a prominent and vicious guy. If he decided to shoot Jordy, there was no way she could stop him.

If Jordy died, the news would devastate grandma, wouldn't it?

But before they retreated, Gloria exchanged a look with Heather and, vividly in his eyes, she saw a look of defiance and determination.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1412—"Miss White, are you hurt?" This is the first thing Zack asked when he approached Gloria.

Gloria shook her head, answering, "I'm fine. Thanks. I owe you this time."

Zack smiled and replied, "Don't mention it."

Jordy glanced at those people, saying, "You've done a great job. I'll give you some reward to express our gratitude."

All five were delighted in the heart by Jordy's words

But what they really wanted was for them to get rid of the Heart Piercing Poison forever.

The other four made eye contact with Zack, who immediately turned to Gloria and made their request, "Miss White, it is not money that we want now."

They saved her life and it was something.

Gloria wasn't ungrateful.

But before she could say anything. Jordy spoke up ahead of her, "Now that I've promised it, you shall have it. Don't worry. She would cure you and after that, I would resettle you somewhere safe"

Gloria wondered when had Jordy become so talkative?

Gloria's eyes glistened. She said no more, as Jordy had spoke her mind.

The five of them stole a surprised glance at Jordy. Jordy was unexpectedly forthright and considerate, unlike that paranoid and perverted man in their mind.

They now came to a consensus with Zack that Jordy and Gloria were the ones who worth swearing their loyalty to!

“Ahem...”

Zack knew what they were thinking. He coughed to bring them back to reality.

Whatever they were planning could wait till they had their intoxication cured.

The others understood tacitly and swallowed the words right back.

Gloria was going to ask Harold to book a large suite at a nearby hotel.

When she called out his name and got no answer, she realized that Harold wasn't following up.

She called him right away, worrying that Heather might hurt him. Fortunately, Harold was still able to answer the call “Miss White, could you kindly send me your address, please?”

Harold had been following Jordy, worrying for his safety.

When Heather pointed the gun at Jordy, Harold was not far behind them.

He stuck to the plan Jordy made by lurking somewhere not far away. They would act and strike back immediately if Heather did something. The five guys who were subverted by Miss White showed up.

Heather was forced to flee.

He didn't know what plan Gloria had. So he did not dare call to disturb them.

“I'm glad you're okay. I'll send you the location right now, but you have to help me get something ready,” Gloria heaved a sigh of relief knowing he was fine.

Thinking of the agreement Gloria had reached with the five men, Harold continued, “Miss White, I have got it ready last time, and your things are still in the trunk. I'm coming in your way.”

Gloria smiled happily and gave Harold the thumbs-up. “I know I can always count on you, Harold. Thank you”

Harold chuckled gently and said somewhat helplessly, "If you really wanna thank me, Miss White, pardon me if I do anything wrong in the future."

He was being serious

Gloria was amused but she did not answer him.

Harold stepped on the gas and sped up the car

Yet, minutes after Harold's car raced by, a black van showed up.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1413–The black van pulled out from the fork in the main road.

The man in the driver's seat looked in the direction in which Harold's car went and asked, "Sir, we have had our eyes locked on Harold Ross, Jordy Collins's assistant, should we send people after them?"

"No need. I have found out who those men are, and I prefer to sit back and watch." Heather smirked coldly, his gaze threatening and meaningful

"Should I asked the driver, wondering if he should follow Harold up or stop the car as Heather did not ask him to.

Heather's playfulness on his face disappeared all at once upon hearing what the driver said and snapped,

"Did I tell you to turn around?"

"No, no. Sir, I haven't lost him. I'll stay close and cooperate with you if necessary His face turned pale all at once

Heather had made an example of his colleagues by killing them directly in the hallway of the hotel right before his eyes He didn't want to die.

"I don't need you to remind me of what to do. I have my own plan," said Heather gruffly. He then laughed coldly and evilly. "If you lose him, there is no need to keep that stupid head."

He was saying he would kill him too.

The driver shivered all over at his threat.

Heather hung up before the driver could say more

By that time, Gerald had already shown up at Moon Club with his men. Bewildered by the absence of Jordy and Gloria, he checked out the CCTV footage of the hotel.

That was when he found out Jordy and Gloria's experience of being besieged and later rescued. Rachel had never left the room where she was locked up though.

Gerald gave the people around him a wink and went alone to the room where Rachel was being held.

He opened the door with the room card easily.

Rachel did not expect to see Gerald, who she locked up in the cabinet once, when heard the noise. She thought it was Jordy and Gloria coming to release her.

"What are you doing here?" Rachel frowned, puzzled by Gerald's presence.

She locked Gerald up at a place that was heavily guarded and tied him to a cross with a rope. How did he manage to escape?

Gerald stepped forward and saw that Rachel was untied. His eyes narrowed in confusion. "Did they drug. you?"

"No," Rachel answered, jerking her head to the other side.

No matter who helped Gerald escape from her prison, she would not compromise before Gerald. The pride in the bones as the lady of the Roberts family would not allow her!

Gerald did not get irritated by Rachel's disregard. He saw several silver needles on Rachel's body. The next second, he took the needles off her.

He had been swift

Rachel came to her sense and rebuked angrily," Gerald Turner, who gave you the nerve to touch me?"

She was worried as Gloria warned her that the silver needles on the acupoints would cause her paralysis if not dealt with properly

But Gerald came and pulled them out without asking her firs

"They are just a few silver needles. If something is gonna happen, it happens. You won't even have the strength to talk to me by now." Gerald understood what Rachel was angry at Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1414—Rachel was angry, but she was not stupid.

Gerald's words made her realize that she was being psychologically manipulated by Gloria!

In addition, Jordy took Gloria's side by helping Gloria deceive her. She stood there like an idiot, not daring to move for several tormenting hours.

Rachel bristled at the thought

She went up to the men who were bound tightly and kicked them hard-

"You, a bunch of worthless wretches! She is only a woman Yet, you could not even lay a finger on her. I'll give you three days to bring Gloria to me!" said Rachel with her teeth gritted. She could barely contain herself at the moment

She must repay Gloria ten times, or even a hundred times, for the humiliation she suffered today.

Gerald understood how unpleasant and angry she must be feeling right now. He stepped forward and comforted her softly, trying to reassure her. "Don't worry. Anything you want, I'll

'Help you get it!' were the words Rachel failed to tell Rachel as she walked off and left him behind.

Whoever Gerald was, he had got to pay the price for hurting her!

Now, the priority was to get rid of Gloria!

In a luxury hotel close to Crockfords Club, a pretty-looking man smashed a bowl of herb soup into the ground.

He smirked evilly-

“Damn you, Gloria White. How dare you turn my men against me and how dare you fool me with the fake Misty Lucid Ganoderma! You made people think I have got it while I have got nothing! Humph, bring Gloria to me. I am gonna eat her alive! She is gonna wish I kill her directly!”

No one had ever dared to go against his will and deceive him.

But Gloria turned his people against him and made a fool of him.

Brace for his rage since she dared to irritate him!

“Yes, Mr. Goddard! The man right next to him answered, his voice quivering.

No one in the room dared to mess up with Mr. Goddard, especially when he was in a fit of anger. Moreover, they were all drugged by him!

In the living room of the presidential suite in the hotel, Gloria was accompanied by Jordy and the other guys

It was all set. Gloria could start at any minute.

But it was four men she was dealing with, a tiring job.

So when it came to cooking the herb soup, Jordy volunteered to help. Tell me how to cook the soup.

Gloria was shocked by his earnest attitude. She knew he meant it, “Stew them on slow fire.” Since he wanted to help, she should give him a chance

But to everyone’s surprise,

Harold exclaimed, “Ah-I”

Both Jordy and Gloria looked at him. Confusion was written on their faces.

Jordy, especially, frowned deeply. Obviously, he was unhappy with Harold’s overreaction

“Miss White, I am sorry. I cannot help you stew the herb now. It suddenly occurs to me that... I have work to

And I have to make a call home. One of my family doesn’t feel quite well lately...” explained Harold awkwardly, afraid of making eye contact with Jordy and Gloria.

He knew that it was a lame excuse.

But he did not want to be around them at the moment.

Gloria was confused

Harold was getting weird these days, contrary to the composure he usually behaved.

“Go ahead,” said Gloria absent-minded, her eyes falling on the jars of herbs in front of her.

But Jordy understood why Harold did this. He pulled a long face and aired no opinion.

After Harold left, the two did not talk. Except for the rustles of the tiny burning fire, there was no other sound.

“How about you go home with Misty Lucid Ganoderma without me,” Jordy’s voice was deep and hoarse, probably due to the long time silence.

While he spoke, he turned to look at Gloria with a sense of worry and tenderness in his eyes.

He said so out of concern for her safety.

At this critical moment, if she went home and left him behind on this foreign land, would Heather seek revenge on him because he had spoiled his plans several times?

She knew that Jordy had never taken these into consideration. But she could not leave him here alone to face them.

Gloria turned him down on the spot, “We came together. Now we’re on the same team. And the poison in your body has not been completely eradicated. What if your condition worsens in my absence?”

After a moment of silence, Jordy answered, “You can save me some medicine here. I’ll be back when the auction is over.”

He had the stamina and the willpower to hold on till then. But her conscience... would not allow her to do so.

“Jordy Collins, when Heather pointed a gun at you and said she wanted to take me away, you didn’t flinch. Now, I can’t leave without you!” Gloria pressed her lips and spoke determinedly.

Jordy’s eyes flickered and his brow frowned silently.

He knew she could not be persuaded out of the decision she’d made.

Gloria knew how reckless Heather could be, as the crown prince who possessed great wealth and power in the country. Should he be given the chance, he’d kill Jordy.

It would have been different if she stayed with Jordy

At least she had what Heather desired, and Heather wouldn’t kill her.

But then again, she was after all a commoner. What could possibly be the thing the prince came after? Did it have something to do with her parents?”

Gloria narrowed her eyes slightly and pondered, maybe, it did have something to do with her mother

Jordy did not interrupt Glona when she was thinking

But in his heart a resolve was strengthened, which was when the real dangers came, he would die to protect hert

The realization brought a jolt to Jordy’s stomach

Why could he be like

Gloria’s voice broke in on his though

“Watch the fire We would talk about it another time

For Gloria, the most important thing right now was to take care of these problems

“Yup,” was the only answer Jordy gave His eyes glistened

Yet again the ring of the phone broke the silence

Gloria raised her eyebrows before putting it through

What’s the matter, my Nydia?”

Jordy frowned unconsciously, displeased with the way she addressed her

Nydia had no idea Jordy was there too. She asked. Tve heard of it from George When will you return home?"

Gloria thought for a moment and answered with his lips pursed, "In two days if things go well."

A party would be held at the casino a day later.

It had been postponed once and should not be delayed again.

As long as the party went smoothly and Heather didn't make trouble during the time, she and Jordy could go home.

Nydia rolled her eyes and complained, "What the hell? Two more days? What a horrible trip it is."

Nydia would have doubt Jordy's real purpose if not for the shitty things that happened!

Gloria was as frustrated as Nydia was, "We have no choice. I will fill you in on the details when I get back."

She did forget the favor George asked for.

"Okay, I have something else to discuss with you when you return. It's getting late. Grab some rest."

"Sure."

Gloria answered and hung up.

Jordy didn't like to repeat himself, but after listening to the conversation between Gloria and Nydia, he repeated what he just said to Gloria.

"Gloria, if you go now, at least one of us could get away."

If they both stayed, neither would be spared.

Gloria chuckled, "You think I'd be afraid of that?"

Jordy was silenced by her answer.

He noticed the fearlessness of Gloria, but for some reason, he felt deeply depressed.

He felt bad.

He added, "It can't be you who get hurt."

His determination brought a jolt to Gloria's heart. She raised her eyes to look at the serious, solemn and earnest expression on his face.

Gloria's eyelashes trembled slightly, but a moment later, she recovered her composure and said, "I've promised you, and I've promised grandma. You can rest assured that I won't let any harm come to me."

She was the doctor, the one who knew how to use Misty Lucid Ganoderma to cure grandma and help Jordy clear away the remaining poison in his body. So she could not be the one getting hurt.

Jordy saw through her mind.

"Ahem!"

"Ugh!"

When Jordy was just about to say something, the smell of blood quickly spread in the air following their coughing.

Gloria frowned and picked up her pace to walk inside.

Zack's worried voice resounded in the room, "Miss White, come and see him. Why is he vomiting black blood!"

He was holding one of his men, looking extremely restless and worried.

Gloria came up to him to feel his pulse. "You should know the Heart Piercing Poison would be ravaging internal organs once it kicks in. Yet, you take another sort of poisonous herbs, trying to combat poison with poison. It was stupid. Luckily, you come to me today. Otherwise, you would be dead by next month."

The man held by Zack looked to Gloria eagerly and asked, "Miss White, can you save me?"

The other three also walked up to Gloria and knelt before her out of fear of death.

“Miss White, we don’t wanna die. Please save us.”

“Miss White, as long as you could help us clear away the remaining poison in our body, you and Mr. Collins would have our eternal loyalty!”

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1417—Among them, the elder guy was the first one to make a statement to Gloria. He had also changed the way how he addressed Jordy.

The bloody scene and what Gloria said did scare them.

They had all tried fighting poison with poison. Because they wanted to live!

Gloria felt stuck in limbo.

She was not a heartless person.

Gloria declared herself by saying. Tve promised to save you. I will keep my word. Besides, you have just saved me and Jordy’s lives Don’t worry I won’t let anything happen to you!”

Gloria gave Jordy a wink.

They stopped talking and focused on stewing the herbs.

Little did they know.

They were about to be called on by a gang of thugs.

But before the men could force their way through the door, someone stopped them.

The man at the front was identified as Ernest, the one running Crockfords Club.

A fight was on the verge of breaking out

Ernest put his left hand in his pocket, holding a cigarette with his right hand. He took a puff and then snorted playfully. “Go back to your boss and tell him Gloria White is the one we watch over. As long as she is UK, Crockfords Club will secure her safety!”

The casino had sent someone so influential to deliver the warning, the leading thugs got cold feet. He was after all a petty role who took orders from Mr. Goddard.

He dared not risk starting a war between Mr. Goddard and the casino, so he retreated.

When he passed on the message to Mr. Goddard, Mr. Goddard's face turned sullen and cold.

There was fierceness and hatred in his eyes.

What was Gloria White's true identity?

Heather, the crown prince of America came after her again and again and Crockfords Club was protecting her secretly

For a moment, he had a strong interest in Gloria.

The hallway outside Gloria's room was emptied of threats.

Ernest took the elevator downstairs to the underground parking lot, followed by his men.

White's room was empty.

They hopped into their cars and didn't seem going to start the engine soon.

After making a call, Ernest ordered his men to hide everywhere around the hotel so that Gloria's room could be secured.

Quinto was puzzled. He looked up at Ernest and whispered, "Ernest, does Gloria have anything to do with our boss?"

Quinto didn't get the answer he wanted.

But he was slapped hard on the head-

Just as he was getting confused, Ernest shouted angrily, "What does it have to do with you, chatterbox?"

Although he was also curious about why their boss asked him to investigate Gloria and why he continued to hold the party after failing to find out anything special about Gloria's identity.

He even told them to come and secure Gloria's safety.

Ernest looked at Quinto coldly and asked, "Are you in the position to conjecture the boss's thoughts?"

Quinto touched his forehead and said sulkily, “Ernest, aren’t you curious? Look, right after Gloria White walked into our casino, she got the privilege to meet our boss. Nobody was supposed to win so much money and walk away. But Gloria White has set a precedent. All the things she did, in our casino, that’s a ‘capital offense’. Instead of holding her accountable, boss sent us to protect her. I won’t believe it... if you are to tell me she is a normal woman.”

With these words, Quinto lowered his head, not daring to confront Ernest’s gaze.

Ernest burst out laughing, “I don’t know why Joss takes you for a confidant. Believe it or not, what can you do about it? Be she a normal woman or not, what can you do?”

In fact, Ernest’s eyes were filled with dislike for Quinto.

If Joss hadn’t been assigned by the boss to do something else out of UK, he wouldn’t have had to bring

Joss’s men here on this mission.

Quinto stopped talking.

But his prejudice against Gloria was deeply rooted!

At the time, in the hotel room,

Gloria had served the four with the stewed herb soup.

She said coolly, trying to calm down their nervous mind, “Your condition is worse than Zack because of the medicine you took without a prescription. You would be on a course of herb soup I prescribe and take more rest in the hotel. When you...”

Before she could finish, the five cut her short and asked, “Miss White, you don’t want us to serve by your side?”

Gloria was startled.

She knew what they were thinking. They were afraid of being hunted down by their old master. By following her and Jordy, at least they could have shelter.

She shook her head and denied it, "I didn't mean that. I've seen your sincerity and I am willing to make friends with you. Now get some rest. That's the most important thing."

Gloria said to Harold, "Harold, order some food for them. They could have a good rest after the meal. We will be in the rooms next door."

No one had a problem with Gloria's arrangement.

Jordy then followed Gloria into the room opposite.

Jordy picked up the topic they had dropped earlier.

This time, instead of seeking Gloria's opinion, he said directly, "I'll have Harold arrange a private jet tomorrow, and you'll fly back home with Misty Lucid Ganoderma."

Jordy had made the decision for them.

Although she knew that Jordy was worried about her, she didn't want to leave Jordy at this point and be a coward.

Gloria frowned and looked serious. "I'm not leaving. I haven't found out what Heather Walter really wants, and I haven't been to the party at the casino. And Rachel Roberts..."

Although Rachel didn't admit it, her instincts could not be wrong.

Plus, Rachel was also going to show up at the party today with a strong grudge she held against her after what happened today.

Jordy remained stern and determined, "I can take care of everything here. Gloria White, why do you have to be so stubborn?"

He frowned. A fit of impatience came over him.

Jordy had never been afraid of any of this, but this was not his place.

She didn't want to argue with him at this point.

She denied it by saying, "Jordy Collins, it's not stubbornness. You cannot decide for me. I have my own plan for what to do and what not to do."

Without waiting for Jordy's answer, Gloria turn her back on Jordy and went to her room.

Neither of them slept that night.

Heather. Also had a sleepless night

Heather had his men stalking Jordy and Gloria as well. The stalker reported him on what he saw outside the hotel room when Mr. Goddard's gang was forced to leave.

He knew Gloria's identity. But now with Crockfords Club involved, was there anything he did not know? He frowned.

He sent someone in a vain attempt to get to the bottom of it.

A knock on the door interrupted his thoughts.

He frowned and said, "Come on in."

The man came in, stole a glance at Heather and said respectfully, "Your highness, Ilsa Lynch requests an audience with you. She's waiting outside."

Heather's eyes flickered before he said calmly, "Let her in."

"Yes."

Ilsa appeared before him two minutes later. She was wearing a blue, low-cut dress, her wavy curls naturally scattering on her shoulders. The jewelry she was wearing was sparkling.

This was the first time Ilsa dressed up in front of him, but for Heather, Ilsa's preening did not make her look any more attractive than Gloria, who paid little attention to her manners in front of him.

At the thought of this, Heather's face went cold. "What do you want?" asked him.

He was blunt with him. The next thing he did was stand up and distance himself from her.

Ilsa did not know what he was thinking. She beamed at him, saying, "I've gone to the ball with you last time.

In return, you would be my escort this time. Is it okay with you?"

In the face of Heather's alienation and indifference, Ilsa did not care.

"I refuse." Heather blurted out without even thinking.

Ilsa's smile froze on her lips.

She thought Heather would agree to go with her after mentioning this, but he simply disregarded her feeling!

The rage twisted her face. He frowned at the man in front of him, mocking. "You always chase after those who you cannot get. Heather, why do you have to do this?"

'Why do you have to be so cheap,' was something Ilsa kept to herself, but the disdain in her eyes was unmistakable.

Heather's face turned sullen all at once.

At the moment he struck, Eliza's face turned pale as she quickly backed away.

The skirt was too long and made her stumble!

Ilsa retained her balance soon, but the fury was burning in her eyes, "Heather Walter, you are not afraid to start the war between the two countries?"

Heather smiled disdainfully, ignoring her remark. "What a joke you're making. Do you really think the two countries are gonna start a war because of us?"

With the support of their people, royal dignity allowed of no doubt. If they were the real royal bloods, there was no need for them to fight for anything. But they were not.

Those in power would not agree to go to war because of either of them.

Heather's words, however, were like a sharp sword blade, piercing into her heart of Ilsa and laying bare her embarrassment

What was she doing all this for?

She laughed bitterly, "We are not real royal bloods. That was exactly why we have to fight for ourselves. That was why I stood here. That was why we worked together as a team. Or, Heather, are you gonna support Gloria White? Do you think Gloria White is a woman you can manipulate over these encounters?"

Ilsa snapped at Heather with heavy sarcasm.

At that moment, she got to know the real ambition of Heather.

But the fact was,

He was not going to succeed.

Gloria was still kept in the dark, if she ever found out about it, why would she choose Heather?

If Gloria was easy to manipulated by a man, how came she led a life even more wonderful after getting a divorce with Jordy!

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1420–You Have Been Wemed

Ilisa noticed Heather's change of expression from sullenness to gravity

"The best solution is to kill Gloria White," she added. "By killing her, we both have our position consolidated

The casino owner will be at the party today."

"So what?" Heather knitted his eyebrows and looked even more impatient

Ilisa answered unsympathetically. "Don't you want to know who this casino owner

Heather raised her eyes toward her, his amber eyeballs full of coldness. Do you know?"

Seeing Heather was intrigued, Ilisa answered with a smile, "Maybe we can turn him into an ally. Just keep Gloria White in UK and stay out of my business. The chances of me killing Gloria White are 100 percent

Ilisa looked set to win.

Heather snorted, "Well, you'd better forget it. The casino owner has people watching over Gloria You would have to talk him through before you could kill Gloria."

With that, Heather sat back on the sofa with his slender legs crossed. His handsome face exuded a charm people found hard to resist.

Ilisa looked incredulously at the unruly man in front of her. "What, what did you say?"

Heather smirked mockingly. "If you don't believe what I said, send someone to the current residence of Gloria White Don't forget that as the largest casino in Uk, Crockfords Club's influence and power were not to be underestimated Let's not even think about touching the people he wishes to protect"

Ilsa was dumbstruck, her eyes cold and cruel.

She never expected Gloria could enjoy the privilege of being sheltered by the casino owner

But soon she laughed as another thought occurred to her. "The casino owner protects her because she is his territory"

She would not give up the idea of killing Gloria so easily.

She would not allow Gloria's presence to ruin everything she got right now. So Gloria must be rooted out!

"You've been warned!" snorted Heather coldly, not willing to waste his another breath, after seeing her unwavering resolve.

"Oh, you'll be thanking me if I kill Gloria White, lisa smiled evilly before turning around and leaving without looking back

Although she was not a true royal blood, her pride cultivated in the years of privileged life did not allow her to place herself under other women.

On the last day before the auction, Gloria was busy stewing the herb soup and attending to Jordy and the Chapter 1420 You Have Been Warned four men. She and Harold had been bustling around in the room for the whole morning.

Even Jordy's symptoms were different from before. Even the herb soup was unable to contain them.

He shivered feeling cold sometimes, but the fever struck, his body was burning.

Gloria was tired out.

She would put more quilts on him and take him out to bathe in the sun when he felt cold. When his temperature rose high, she would have to bring it down by cooling him. She could not even spare time to drink water!

Panting, Gloria said, "Harold, he should be the one to go back, not me. How about you take him home by private jet? I will come home after taking care of everything here."

"But..." Harold hesitated and shrugged his shoulder, "Miss White, Mr. Collins is gonna skin me alive if I did what you suggest."
