Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1421—"Besides, I don't think it is a problem for Mr. Collins to attend the party as long as it is with you. If I take him on the plane, I cannot guarantee that his condition wouldn't worsen on the journey. The party would be held tomorrow..."

Harold pressed his lips and mentioned the time of the party.

If things went smoothly tomorrow at the party, they could leave UK safely. Both Mrs. And Mr. Collins could be cured.

Gloria did not answer him. She was just complaining. She knew it was not a wise decision to send him home now.

But in this case –

She proposed, "Come with me to the party tomorrow, Harold."

"Huh?"

Harold was shocked and confused.

Mr. Collin would be the perfect escort for her. Why him?

Gloria frowned at his embarrassed expression and asked, "What? You don't want to? Or do you think Jordy can attend the party with me?"

Harold took a glance at Jordy who had his eyes shut and brows deeply knitted and sighed secretly.

Judging by his condition now, Jordy was not fit to go.

The party was going to last for not more than two hours. With Miss White by his side, he should be able to get through it.

Just as Harold was about to say something, there was a knock at the door.

Harold went to answer the door. It was a tall, slender man in a black suit who visited. He handed Harold a delicately wrapped gift box and laughed, "Hello, Mr. Ross. This is a gift for Miss White from my boss."

Harold examined the man with his eyes squinted and asked, "Did Heather Walter send you?"

The man denied it immediately, "I don't know who Heather Walter is. I just did what my boss told me to. He also asked me to pass on a message to Miss White. He wanted me to express his gratitude to Miss White for her kindness and generosity in healing our men. This is but a small gift. He would show you his sincerity at the party."

He looked earnest and sincere in saying so.

Harold's face went darker.

But he remained contained and composed!

He sniffed coldly, "She doesn't need it. Go back and tell your boss, don't play tricks! You are not gonna intimidate us!"

Harold was about to close the door.

What he said had angered the man.

But the man did not forget Mr. Goddard's order.

He restrained himself and shoved the box into Harold's hand, insisting, "Mr. Ross, I will repeat what you said to our boss. But this is a gift from my boss. Please, give it to Miss White."

Harold looked coldly at him and did not want to accept it.

Gloria, who was inside the room, also heard the noise at the door.

Seeing that Harold had not come in yet, she went to have a look.

Seeing her, the man greeted her at once, "Miss White, this is a gift for you from my boss. Please accept it."

Gloria squinted her eyes and felt somewhat irritated by how troublesome Heather was!

Gloria took over the gift box and smashed it before Harold could say anything.

She snorted coldly, "Go back and tell your boss, no matter what he is planning, bring it on. I am fearless!"

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1422—Harold and Gloria's attitude and behavior, especially Gloria's irritated the man.

The fine clothes and jewelry were scattered all over the floor and a piece of jade was broken!

The man barked in a fit of anger, "Gloria White, you turned our men against us and now threw the gift box on the ground as if it were trash. We have come here with sincerity. Yet, you chose to take it the hard way! I think you are having a death wish or something!"

Gloria frowned.

Turning their men against them?

Her eyes narrowed slightly. This man's boss might not be Heather. It should be... Zack and the other four's boss

Gloria chuckled jeeringly and said,

"Go back and tell your boss, they are now my people."

He could not think of any decent man who would poison his subordinates in order to earn their loyalty. At the thought of this, she mocked, "Try not to get himself killed with those dirty tricks you have. Zack and the others are lucky to have met me."

"Harold, close the door and unleash the dogs!"

Gloria turned to Harold and gave him the order. The man at the door had his face turn livid.

After a moment of hesitation, he picked up the scattered things on the ground.

But after he presented those rejected gifts to Mr. Goddard, a loud thump startled him!

Mr. Goddard threw them into the trash can. He was on the verge of losing his temper.

The man's face twitched and his body shivered uncontrollably out of fear. He chanted in his heart, "I am doomed!"

Bang!

Mr. Goddard kicked him down to the ground and stamped him heavily on his shin, snapping, "Loser! How dare you bring them back to me. You've shamed me

The man shook his head in horror and explained, "Mr. Goddard... No, it's not like that. It's her..."

"Trying to defend yourself?!"

The man was silenced.

He wondered whether he should take it back, but he didn't dare throw it away. What if Mr. Goddard wanted it back?

He had no idea what to do then.

He had no chance to explain as Mr. Goddard rained kicks and punches on him.

Poof- Not until the man spat out a mouthful blood and was dying did Mr. Goddard eased down. He took out his handkerchief and wiped his fingers in disgust. Remaining smiling, he said, "Chop him up and throw his fleshes into the sea to feed the sharks!"

Hearing this, the man was greatly frantic. He begged, "Mr. Goddard! Mercy!! Give me one more chance! I promise, next time I'll..."

Before he could finish, two men came in and gagged his mouth as they dragged him out.

In the hotel room, Jordy was just filled in on what happened. He frowned sulkily and asked, "You just let him go like that?"

Gloria felt somewhat speechless.

She gave Jordy a contemptuous look.

Without bothering to say another word to Jordy, she got up and went back to her room.

Jordy and Harold were the only ones left in the living room.

Harold scratched the tip of his nose, and while he was wondering whether to leave, Jordy suddenly said in a cold voice, "Go ask Zack who they worked for."

He narrowed his eyes and thought of how to deal with whoever was behind this. They must get prepared for the consequences since they dare come for trouble?

Zack and the other men had sworn their loyalty to Jordy and Gloria, so they would surely not hold things back from them.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1423—When he learned that the mastermind behind them was Mr. Goddard, Harold immediately called for an investigation on him. But Gloria was one step ahead of him.

Looking at the information document in front of her, Gloria narrowed her eyes.

Mr. Goddard, who based on the Middle East, was a man of connections.

He enjoyed manipulating others by poisoning them and was a sociopath.

He longed for eternal life.

Rumor had it that he sucked blood and ate human flesh!

The reason why he was here bidding for Misty Lucid Ganoderma was seeking immortality and trying to cure his seriously ill sister!

No one knew his real name and his family remained a mystery to the world.

He was a madman and posed great danger to the world.

They all sat there in the room.

Gloria looked over at Jordy and said in a hushed voice, ‘Jordy, our focus now is to go to the party and then dig up the person who drugged you.’

As for the others, be they dangerous or not, they should take a step back when they had to.

“Do you really think their appearances were an coincidence or on a whim?” Jordy responded in a sullen voice.

Jordy’s face was as grave as a stone.

The information Gloria gathered, Mr. Goddard’s gift and message, all indicated this so-called Mr. Goddard guy had had his eye on them.

They were testing them for the most part. If they did not do anything in response, it would only make them bolder. By fighting back, they might save themselves more trouble in the future.

Of course, Gloria was aware of this!

She frowned. “I know,” she said sternly, “but what we need to do now is finish our business in hand. In Crockfords Club, I don't see there is any reason he would risk offending the owner to cause trouble for us."

Jordy also knew what Gloria meant.

But he said calmly "Don't worry about me. I know what to do and what not to do."

He stared at Gloria with ease.

Gloria felt a bit shocked but after a short pause, she said softly, "Your personal safe always comes first. I don't want you to act rashly. It is a very important banquet."

"Yes."

The next day, at 9 p.m.,

The party held by Crockfords Club started on time. Because of the last delay, the seats they booked last time remained unchanged and all the guests arrived on time.

Tonight, Gloria wore casually, with a simple-styled white cotton shirt, loose linen caprice pants and a pair of white board shoes. A white hair band tied her hair into braids.

She did not even put on makeup. Her fair skin and the delicate facial features made her stand out like a fairy lady.

She showed up arm in arm with Jordy. But they soon met their 'old enemies'.

Rachel and Gerald, dressed respectively in black and white, walked in like a couple.

Heather also had a company. She wore a royal dress. The mask covered her face.

For a moment, Gloria wondered whether she had seen it wrong as the masked woman cast her a look full of threat and defiance.

A teasing voice not far away caught their attention, "Miss White, to attend such an important party, why don't you bring your new recruited henchman here?"

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1424– Gloria's Choice

It was more of a provocation than a question.

She did save and incite defection of five men, including Zack. Zack was afraid of Mr. Goddard's brutal retaliation. That was why he chose to seek refuge with Jordy and Gloria.

The man seemed to know the situation and called them "henchmen". Gloria also noticed the smirk on his lips and the ruthlessness in his eyes.

She squinted her eyes and greeted him, "Mr. Goddard?"

She had looked into him and got only a few brief introduction on him. She hadn't seen his pictures before, not even in the auction last time.

In Gloria's imagination, someone as vicious and sinister as Mr. Goddard was supposed to be an ugly old man. But he turned out to be a pretty-looking man.

Those blue eyes of his looked charming, bold and insolent but more playful, contemptuous and cruel.

Mr. Goddard sighed, "Miss White, if you were short of hands, why didn't you just ask? Why did you steal my men in such a ignominious way?"

He remained smiling despite he was sighing.

Gloria found it kind of amusing. Since he did not truly mean it, how could he spoke it out so naturally?

But she chose to respond in kind,

"Mr. Goddard, if you wanted Misty Lucid Ganoderma, why didn't you call and ask. I might give you some leftover. Why tried so hard to steal it in such a despicable means?"

There was no denying Gloria's cleverness and courage.

Mr. Goddard looked at her, admiring her courage. No one had ever dared to stand before him and speak to him in such a way.

Mr. Goddard laughed and replied, "Well, it's not too late for me to ask you for some leftover, is it? I've heard that you're capable of detoxifying Heart Piercing Poison. If you could help me solve this big problem, I promise you..."

"What can you promise me? My apologies, but fame and wealth hold little appeal for me," Gloria chimed in, wearing a broad smile.

With that, she turned around.

Seeing that she was leaving, Mr. Goddard ran after her.

But before he could say anything, Jordy and Heather stepped forward at the same time.

Three handsome men followed Gloria. Among the crowded people, Gloria soon hogged the limelight of the public.

They were all curious about what kind of charm Gloria had to seize these three pretty-looking men's hearts!

The onlookers wondered what Gloria's choice was!

Without even looking at Heather or Mr. Goddard, Gloria took Jordy's arm.

People recognized them both and said,

"Aren't they the two gods of luck? Let's follow them and get a share of good luck!"

"He were a couple. No matter how excellent those two young men were, she would certainly choose her ex-husband!"

"Go on, go on! Let's follow up!"

The crowd followed. Gloria heard the footsteps behind her, but she ignored them.

She retracted her hand from Jordy's arm after they entered the private room together.

She sat in her leather booth and frowned slightly as she looked up at the stream of people in the drawing-room on the first floor.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1425—His Real Purpose

Why was Crockfords Club throwing this party?

What was their purpose?

Gloria could not help but feel suspicious of the true identity of Crockfords Club's owner. Even people as influential and powerful as Heather and Mr. Goddard attended the party.

"Jordy, I will send you the Misty Lucid Ganoderma's instructions later, after the party tonight..." at the mention of this, Gloria looked stern and grave.

She thought of the worst while preparing herself for an unscathed retreat.

But Jordy didn't give her the chance to finish her word. He snapped, "Gloria White, what's your plan now?"

Jordy was obviously sullen.

Gloria wasn't upset by his anger. "There was no plan," she said. "I just thought of the worst situation. I need to find out why they targeted me."

Gloria had made a clear statement. If she was to die, she should die knowing why!

Jordy knew her stubbornness.

Back in the old times, when they were still a married couple, he couldn't have watched her die before his eyes no matter how much he hated her.

After what happened lately, he could not leave her alone.

Jordy frowned and asked, "Gloria White, I'm that useless in your eyes?"

"No," Gloria denied it and, sensing Jordy's impatience, added, "It's me they're after, not you. You can go back and fix everything."

Instead, by staying by her side, he might be implicated.

Jordy, however, answered in a dismissive tone, "You think I'm afraid of that?"

"You're not. But I don't want to owe you anything."

Gloria didn't want to be involved with Jordy anymore.

Jordy's face darkened in a visible way.

The party started on time. The host gave a brief introduction with performers singing and dancing behind her.

No one expected to see Crockfords Club's owner deliver a speech himself.

Everyone stared in awe at the man on the stage.

The man, dressed in a black suit, was particularly professional. He took over the microphone and addressed to the crowd, "The purpose of holding this gathering is to thank you for your support for Crockfords Club. For some reasons, the gathering was postponed for a few days. The wine and food were still on the house tonight. But I have also planned a special event. If someone wins in the event tonight, I will tell him or her Misty Lucid Ganoderma's whereabouts and accompany him or her on the search for it."

Everyone was shocked.

Oh my God!! How could this happen?!

What a handsome reward it was!!

People were all excited. They would do anything they could just to know its whereabouts!

Gloria frowned slightly as she looked in the direction of the club owner.

He was wearing a mask tonight, so she could not see his face.

But somehow, Gloria felt the club owner would look in her direction from time to time when he spoke.

As for the special event mentioned by the owner, expressing his gratitude was one thing. With the customers' support, the items he auctioned were sold in a high price and brought him a great profit.

Now he promised that he would tell them Misty Lucid Ganoderma's whereabouts. That was what Gloria doubted. It took decades even centuries to yield one of mature Misty Lucid Ganoderma.

Even if he truly knew where it was, was he really gonna announce it?

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1426– Imposing Manner

Or the final victory was just a smokescreen he put up. The reason why he wanted a winner of his game was...

"Gloria, Grandma sent a voice message."

Just when Gloria was trying to figure out his real purpose, Jordy's voice suddenly rang in her ear and quickly brought her back to reality.

Jordy stared into her eyes and played the voice message, "Jordy, when will you and Gloria come home? Why can't I get through to Gloria? You help me find Gloria, I have something to tell her."

She could not get through to her?

Gloria frowned and took out her cell phone.

There was no unread text message in her phone and her phone remained switched on. There was no vibration from this afternoon until now.

Right away, Gloria understood what Karen wanted.

But she did not nail it, "Can't you just text her back?"

She didn't believe Jordy didn't know what Grandma meant.

"But Grandma is looking for you," Jordy emphasized.

Gloria asked Jordy helplessly, "We are stuck together here now. After returning home when we live in separate places, will you come looking for me when Grandma sent you such a message?"

Gloria's brow furrowed, her expression a little nonchalant.

She did not feel unhappy because of Grandma!

She just wanted Jordy to realize that, to understand that and she didn't want to get too sentimental and make the same mistakes.

Jordy pursed his lips, and after a moment's silence, he answered Gloria, "If that's what Grandma thinks, I....."

"The special event is actually a very simple one. Remember the last time we held an event in Connaught Bar.

The space was limited, so this time, we have decided to hold it here. I hope you can all participate!"

Just when Jordy was about to say something more, the host's voice came from the audience, and by that time, the club owner had got off the stage.

Gloria saw Heather and Mr. Goddard had taken the room right opposite theirs.

At the second she looked over, both Heather and Mr. Goddard raised their goblets toward her.

Gloria was speechless. If these two hadn't reached a consensus, how could they have behaved in such harmony now?

“You wanna participate too?”

Jordy asked in a husky voice. Gloria nodded without thinking, “Yes, of course.”

But when the two opened the door, Mr. Goddard’s broad smile greeted them.

“Miss White, would you like to pair up with me?”

Mr. Goddard raised an eyebrow at Gloria.

Gloria was about to say something when Jordy grabbed her around the waist and took her into his arms, coldly and imperiously.

“She’s with me.”

The light in his eyes was cold.

Gloria acquiesced to the arrangement.

To keep Mr. Goddard away from her, Gloria leaned against Jordy’s shoulder and smiled warmly.

Mr. Goddard and Heather seemed to be the same type of person who did the same things, but Gloria knew that they were completely different.

Mr. Goddard was just trying to create this illusion to make her misunderstand. But Gloria didn’t even get a chance to compete at the party.

Just as Gloria and Jordy were about to walk around Mr. Goddard and left, Ernest came up to them in an imposing manner, followed by a bunch of men.

Ernest stepped up to Gloria, paused and then greeted her with respect, “Miss White, boss sent me to invite you.”

Unlike those guys she met last time, it was Ernest, who helped run the club.

Ernest had a reputation, so Gloria trusted him.

“All right.” Gloria nodded, keeping pace with him.

Jordy was a bit worried, but Gloria gave him a reassuring look.

It was a suicidal mission to do something risky at the Crockfords Club.

Jordy stood still and watched her leave.

Mr. Goddard hadn't left yet. After Gloria and Ernest got out of the club, he jeered at Jordy, "Did you really think that you could get Misty Lucid Ganoderma without the help of Gloria?"

As he said it, Jordy cast him an icy glare.

The two men stared at each other and the atmosphere grew tense.

Jordy said impatiently, "It's none of your business, okay?"

After a contemptuous glance at Mr. Goddard, he was about to go downstairs, but Mr. Goddard stopped him and mocked,

"No, it's certainly not my problem, but yours. I'm telling you that you can neither bring Misty Lucid Ganoderma back to UK, nor keep Gloria, yourself and the five henchmen alive!"

Even if the club owner tried to protect Gloria, so what?

Jordy was not under his wing.

His people had defected him because of Gloria's incitement. Gloria later tricked him and manipulated him as if he were a fool. It was intolerable!

"Really?" asked Jordy coldly, who seemed not distracted by Mr. Goddard's threat at all.

Jordy didn't take it seriously.

Mr. Goddard gazed at Jordy, still smiling. "If you don't believe me, you can take a look at it."

Once Jordy got closer to Mr. Goddard, he was sprayed with poisonous gas in an instant.

Jordy didn't expect Mr. Goddard to do such filthy things. He was caught off guard! By the time he caught the pungent smell, it was too late to cover his nose...

Mr. Goddard looked contemptuously at Jordy and laughed viciously, "I can't wait to see how tough Gloria is!"

Mr. Goddard then turned around.

Suddenly, he felt an acute pain on his shoulder. It was Jordy that hit him hard, pulling him back.

Next, Mr. Goddard was thrown by Jordy to the ground with his limbs in the air.

Mr. Goddard gritted his teeth, his eyes blazing with rage.

"Son of a bitch! You are digging your own grave!"

Mr. Goddard tried to fight back, but he was pinned down to the ground and could barely get up.

Plus, Jordy was much stronger than him. All his struggles had turned out to be futile.

Jordy's glare was icy cold. "If you like poison so much, I shall give you a taste of it as well. Harold, tie him up and take him back to the hotel after the party wraps up."

Jordy's words were full of coldness and disdain.

Mr. Goddard immediately understood what Jordy meant. Somehow, there was no dread in his eyes. His laughter was even more scornful.

"Jordy Collins, let's see if you can get me out of Crockfords Club today."

Jordy didn't care what Mr. Goddard said. He did not even spare a second glance at him.

He had never been afraid of anyone. If one had decided to pick on him, he would fight to the end, for he was not a man to be trifled with.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1428– Due Respect

In this way, Mr. Goddard was taken away by Harold.

Mr. Goddard was confident that he wouldn't be held prisoner by Jordy, however, Jordy had already had it all planned before he came here.

He had more people than those Mr. Goddard has brought over. Moreover, they had no guts to make trouble at the Crockfords Club!

The scene was seen by Heather.

Heather was not surprised by Jordy's arrangement, but he had no idea that Jordy would have the nerve to hit Mr. Goddard and kidnap him.

But it suddenly dawned on him that Jordy did this as a warning to other enemies.

Nobody got away with humiliating Mr. Goddard like that, so in a moment, there would be a fascinating show, which would keep Jordy so busy that he had no time for others or for Gloria.

Despite her wits, Gloria was just a woman.

As long as she fell into his trap, there was nothing Crockfords Club could do to protect her.

Thinking of this, a sneer of satisfaction crossed Heather's face.

However, his conspiracy was seen through by Lisa who stood not far away. Soon Lisa walked toward him and sniffed, "I don't think things would go as smoothly as you'd hoped. Gloria left with those people of the club and won't be back in minutes. In this club, I don't think you have the guts to create a disturbance. What's more. Don't you find the owner of the club familiar?"

"To whom?"

Heather looked up with a puzzled frown as he heard Lisa's suggestion.

He stared at Lisa and waited anxiously for an answer.

"I've seen him on a photo wall somewhere. And it impressed me. They look quite alike but I'm not sure whether he was the guy," said Lisa slowly, her expression turning solemn.

She exerted herself to recall it, but found that her memory of the photo was blurred with the passage of time.

The only way to prove her conjecture was to make the club owner take off the mask voluntarily while holding the picture in hand. obviously, It was impossible.

"You mean the owner of the club was a member of the royal family?" Heather's eyes narrowed as he searched in his memory.

Suddenly, he thought of someone.

But soon he denied it himself. "It can't be him. He has left the royal family for decades. We would have been killed dozens of times by him if the club owner is him, given his status."

Lisa remained silent, but her face was taut and pale.

What Heather said made sense to her, nevertheless, she just couldn't understand why the owner of the club took special care of Gloria if he wasn't him.

She couldn't think it through.

Heather caught her eyes as she sank in thought.

He chuckled, "I thought you are set to win?"

How could Lisa not understand Heather's sarcasm?

Instead of arguing with him, she cast a sullen glare at him and then grunted, "I will kill Gloria, but not now. Haven't you ever heard that one more friend is better than one more enemy? Besides, I won't take a leap in the dark until I get to know what the owner's true identity is."

"Seems you're not that stupid." Facing Lisa's refutation, Heather laughed coarsely at her.

A sneer curled his lips.

"How dare you! Heather Walter, I'm warning you, if you want us to continue working together, you'd better show me some respect!" Lisa was totally infuriated.

Heather didn't seem care but even said to her, "I told you earlier. Don't mess up with Gloria. I had decided to stop cooperating with you since then."

Therefore, whether Ilsa cooperated with him or not was not important to him.

Ilsa immediately looked awful, "Heather, you think you are really the prince of America? With all due respect, once those people know that the person they are looking for is Gloria, you will be nothing for them!"

Heather was most concerned about his identity. Ilsa knew that they were the same kind of people.

Otherwise, they could not have hit it off when they first met.

Heather narrowed his eyes, with naked coldness and anger in them.

However, Ilsa didn't mean to stop taunting him. Nor did Heather try to suppress his anger.

He pounced on Ilsa in an instant and seized her by the neck.

Ilsa widened her eyes at him in disbelief, "You are actually trying to hurt me?"

Heather sneered and said with indifference, "You should have shown some restraint after our negotiation broke down last time. Ilsa, you are not a real princess and are not qualified to tell me what to do! If you don't want to work with me, then stay out of this. Or... you know what will happen."

At this moment, he finally showed his true face.

Ilsa could feel the strength of his hand, and she saw the ferocity in his eyes.

Smart people appreciated the situation. She should get out of here at this point.

This was also the most basic and unchangeable truth that she had learned over the years...

However, she could give Gloria a break. What Heather did to her had broken her wings and trampled her dignity under his feet.

At the moment Heather let go of her, she snorted coldly, "Heather, you were just ashamed into anger! Even if I give up killing Gloria, stepping in your business, and working with you, all those things you have done can't be erased."

"Or you think Gloria will fall in love with you in the end and then let those people know you when they find her?"

Ilsa grabbed her own palm with angry eyes.

If Heather attacked her again, she wouldn't let him go!

"That's my business. It has nothing to do with you a fake princess!" Heather gave Ilsa a cold look. He wasn't afraid of her at all.

Ilsa rushed to Heather angrily, "Heather, you are also adopted. Don't talk to me like that!"

"Yes, we are both adopted. So don't give yourself airs. Do you think your country will avenge you if I kill you?"

Heather smiled and his tone was contemptuous and cold.

Ilsa looked very awful.

Because she was an adopted princess, she had been trying hard to learn politics, diplomacy, etiquette and so

In order to build a good image in the eyes of the people, she even went to the disaster areas, and poor mountain areas several times to express sympathy and solicitude for the people there.

But the clamor for bringing the real princess back was still so loud.

She thought she found the best partner, but Heather was also seduced by Gloria. If she died, she would lose everything.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1430– They Had Different Plans

Should she watch Gloria go back, be welcomed by the people, and then ascend the throne?

No, she couldn't accept that.

Ilsa tried to calm herself down, "Heather, don't forget that you are not the real prince, either. Do you know what will happen to you if you insist on protecting Gloria? You think love can conquer everything? It hasn't been long since you knew Gloria, has it? For that ridiculous reason, you are going to give up what you have been fighting for for years. Don't you think it's ridiculous?" Ilsa knew what Heather cared about and how he felt about Gloria, so every word she said stung Heather with precision.

Heather glanced at her with murderous eyes.

Ilsa smiled, "It won't do you any good if you kill me now. Even if our country won't avenge me, you are in our territory. You kill someone in other people's territory and affect their business. Do you think the mysterious person behind the whole thing will let you go?"

“What’s more, do you really think I’m not prepared for this at all?” Ilsa looked more and more indifferent, and the coldness in her eyes was more obvious

Heather just attacked her, and she wouldn’t pretend that nothing had happened.

Heather immediately narrowed his eyes with a menacing look, “Then what?”

“You think you can get away after killing me, but you really think I get everything I have by compromising and being forbearing?” Ilsa smiled coldly.

Heather didn’t speak, but just looked at her quietly.

The next second, Ilsa continued, “I had been guarding against you since I worked with you. I won’t let you get what I can’t get. If I die, you can’t get away with it!”

Heather suddenly realized why there was an old saying that one should never provoke a woman.

He didn’t know what crazy things Ilsa would do. Before his plan was carried out successfully, he wouldn’t turn against her completely.

“So many eyes watched us come in. If we suddenly go separate ways, we’ll make a fool of ourselves. At present, you’d better sit back and wait, or you’ll only get yourself into trouble.” Heather took a step back, but his expression remained unchanged.

Ilsa knew that Heather was making compromises temporarily, and she also realized that her partner didn’t have to be Heather.

But she couldn’t just kick him away at present. Both of them had their own plans.

As for Gloria, she had followed Ernest to the fourth floor.

The fourth floor was spacious with luxurious decorations and floor-to-ceiling windows. They could see clearly what was happening downstairs from here, and even...

Everything downstairs was clearly displayed on the monitor screen.

Seeing more than ten monitor screens, Gloria suddenly had an idea.

“Sir, can you check the video surveillance a few days ago?” Gloria pursed her lips and said to the middle-aged man in Chinese tunics who was clasping his hands behind his back.

Hearing her words, the man turned around.

The man had taken off the mask. Although the years had left traces on him, it didn't take his temperament and charm away.

The man nodded at her.

She went through the video surveillance a few days ago and found the picture of the private room where she.

Jordy, and Rachel were. There was nothing unusual except the woman who walked into the private room with her face.
