Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1431—They looked Exactly like Each Other

However, she noticed that Rachel answered a phone call before the woman who disguised as her entered Jordy's private room.

Her intuition told her that that woman was Rachel, but she had no exact evidence, and Rachel refused to admit it.

And Harold said that there were problems with the surveillance cameras that night and there were even blind spots.

Now, although the club owner had the video surveillance, the surveillance cameras didn't catch that Rachel entered the private room after disguising as her.

"Sir, how much should I pay you if I want to repair the damaged video surveillance?"

Gloria came out of her trance and then asked the man in front of her.

She noticed that the man's eyes had always been on her.

He had been examining her since the beginning.

This reminded Gloria of the real reason why she was here.

She was invited here by this man.

The middle-aged man looked at her for a while and then answered with a smile, "Are you serious? You think I need money?"

If he didn't need money, then...

Gloria pursed her lips and then asked, "Then what do you want? Or you could tell me directly why you wanted me to be here."

She said in a very respectful tone.

The man was not used to this, so he said, "You don't have to be so polite. I don't want anything. If you can repair it, just do it."

The man said frankly, but Gloria was surprised. She couldn't believe this.

"I have never accepted their compensation."

The man just thought nothing of the compensation.

He implied that if those people messed up with him after the video surveillance was repaired, he could send them away with the reason that he didn't accept the compensation in a reasonable and conscientious manner.

"Why?"

Gloria was surprised by the man's words.

When she and Jordy made that scene in the club, his attitude was completely different.

"Why are you so many questions?"

The man frowned after hearing Gloria's words.

Gloria didn't think so, "Nothing comes without a price. We are not familiar with each other. You don't need to stand by me like this."

She encountered too many people who were nice to her recently! The middle-aged man smiled, "You really think like that?"

Gloria kept silent.

"Maybe I used the wrong words. If it were someone else, she doesn't even have the qualification to see you. But you allowed me to check the video surveillance here."

He even told her that she could repair the video surveillance if she could.

Moreover, he let Ernest take her to such a place that had so much video surveillance, which was Crockfords Club's privacy. The middle-aged man asked her in reply, "You asked me that first, didn't you?"

Gloria was a little speechless. She was just asking. She didn't think that the owner of the club should agree to all her demands. She never felt that she was special.

She was prepared for the worst, and also planned to continue to negotiate with him if he did not agree.

Then they fell silent.

Although Gloria didn't know what his purpose was, she didn't want to miss the opportunity.

In the end, she still chose to repair the damaged video surveillance.

Throughout the whole process, the middle-aged man watched Gloria nearby.

Her attentive and serious look was exactly the same as that of the woman he remembered!

“How are you related to Gianna?”

The man stood there with his hands clasping behind his back.

When he asked this question, his eyes were still on Gloria. He needed to pay attention to all reactions Gloria had after she heard his words.

After hearing his words, Gloria looked at him with a surprised look, and there were doubts in her clear eyes.

“You think I look like her?”

It seemed that Gloria didn't know Gianna and hadn't even heard of the name.

However, when the man was observing Gloria, Gloria was also observing him. Her question was also very direct.

As she said, nothing came without a price.

This was the man's purpose. He thought she was related to Gianna.

The man kept silent and didn't answer. He had asked someone to check Gloria's identity.

There was nothing suspicious about it as well as her parents'.

Even if Gloria's father was rich, he didn't think that she would choose such a man.

However, Gloria's mother betrayed him and ran away with another man when Gloria was young.

The White family completely erased everything about Gloria's mother and did not find out anything about that man.

He shouldn't have asked Gloria such a brusque question.

However, he broke away from those people in a fit of anger, and after he made a clean break with those people, he did not see her again for many years. So when he saw Gloria, he thought he saw Gianna.

However, his reactions confirmed Gloria's guess.

But there were thousands of people in the world, and many of them looked alike.

She didn't think that the reason why she looked like Gianna was that they were related.

Then she stopped asking questions but focused on repairing the video surveillance.

Although the monitoring was seriously damaged and the virus in it was very serious, she was still repairing it quickly.

She directly created a software and let the software repair the video surveillance.

"Would you like some tea?"

Seeing Gloria take out her cell phone with a bored look, the man asked her.

Gloria immediately looked at the man who was sitting on the leather sofa.

A purple tea set was placed in front of him, and the fragrance of tea filled their noses.

She thought for a moment, stepped forward, and sat in front of him.

The man poured her a cup of tea.

"You are very smart, but some things are unnecessary."

The man was implying something.

Gloria responded quickly. She smiled and opened her mouth slowly, "It's hard to say. Different people have different opinions. That's just what you think."

Gloria was quite polite to the man.

Unexpectedly, the man asked her immediately, "First, you have got divorced. Second, he didn't treat you very well before. You don't owe him. Why are you doing these things for him?"

Gloria didn't think so but shook her head, "I'm not doing these things for him. His grandmother took care of me very much. I'm looking for Misty Lucid Ganoderma for her."

"What about Jordy?" The man asked with a light frown.

Gloria replied quite frankly, "I came with him. He had an accident, but I'm all right. So I should help him if I can. Or I'll be too unfeeling."

She was not the kind of heartless and unfeeling person.

The next second, she said, "Sir, why don't you talk about something serious with me?"

"Was anything I said not serious enough?"

Hearing the man's words, Gloria bit her lower lip. She didn't answer. She didn't mean that his words weren't serious enough, but that he kept talking about digressions.

All the questions he asked were about her privacy.

She had made herself clear by telling him those things.

If he dug into her privacy again, it would only affect the progress of their conversation and make them both unhappy.

Gloria didn't reply and the man didn't rush her.

After a while, the man sipped a mouthful of tea, and then said slowly, "In fact, I have no other purpose in inviting you here. I just want to know if you know that person. But you said you didn't. You reminded me of her."

The man told her his true purpose.

He didn't find out anything about Gloria, so he wanted to keep her here for a few more days with the excuse of the party.

The most direct way was to ask her in person, but Gloria's reaction told him that everything she said was true and that she wasn't deliberately hiding anything.

As he said, Gloria reminded him of that woman whom he had loved and had not seen for a long time.

"Is she your... love?"

Gloria noticed the man's eyes and mood at the moment. She slowly opened her mouth, but she regretted it the moment she asked. She shouldn't have asked this question.

But she couldn't take back what she said.

Moreover, the man was sober-minded. He gave her a response the next second. He denied, "No, she is my family."

They hadn't seen each other for decades.

Nor did he hear any news about her succeeding to the throne. He had never returned to that country since he left decades ago.

Moreover, he had never inquired about anything about that country! Gloria didn't say anything. She didn't know what to say.

After leaving here tonight, maybe she and the man would never meet again.

"Ding!"

Suddenly, a beep sounded.

Gloria got up and found that the damaged video surveillance had been repaired.

During that time, Rachel walked out of the private room on the other side.

Although she was facing the surveillance camera with her back, Gloria noticed that she walked in that direction and turned her back to the camera at the corner of Jordy's private room.

A few seconds later, Rachel turned around, and she had put on the skin mask! Hatred flashed across Gloria's eyes when she saw this. She would like to see how Rachel was going to explain this! Gloria had a plan, but she still asked the man, "Sir, can I copy this video?"

The man didn't answer but nodded at her.

Seeing this, Gloria copied the video.

But Rachel didn't know these things. She and Gerald were still in the private room.

Gerald didn't give up but still tried to persuade her, "If I hadn't come, it would be okay if you didn't want to attend the party. But I'm here now, and so many people are at the party. How could we just stay here?"

Rachel said casually, "Didn't you hear the owner say that this party was a continuation of the one in Connaught Bar?"

Rachel's eyes were very cold. She didn't show Gerald any good attitude.

Last time in Connaught Bar, she believed Gerald's words like a fool. She was indeed too careless.

How could she allow herself to have any physical contact with Gerald again?

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1434– Let You Suffer

Moreover, she was not interested in the source of Misty Lucid Ganoderma and the free-of-charge that the owner of the club said unless he could help her get the Misty Lucid Ganoderma from Jordy and Gloria! Gerald naturally knew what Rachel was thinking. He pursed his lips, "Don't think about it. Even if all your wishes come true, Jordy wouldn't be attractive to you, and his compromise is only temporary. You haven't succeeded at all!"

But who was Rachel? She was the young lady of the Roberts family and the people around her were always respectful to her.

Even though Gerald said that in a polite tone, she was still upset. She squinted her eyes, "So what? You think you are rich with a good family background, so you can tell me what to do?"

Gerald had assurance, otherwise, he couldn't have got out of her control. But she didn't change her view about Gerald even after she realized he had a noble identity.

Gerald denied it and explained, "I have never put on airs in front of you, Rachel. If I want to give you pressure with my identity, why would I take the trouble to come here and say these things to you?"

He was worried about her, so he came here to help her. He said those things to her just because he wanted her to stay sober-minded and not to fall into the mire.

"So, I need to say thank you to you?"

Rachel snorted at Gerald's words. She only thought nothing of him.

Although they hadn't known each other for a long time, Gerald knew Rachel's character well. She was arrogant, noble, domineering, indifferent, and methodical when dealing with things.

But compared with Gloria, she was still much inferior.

After all, she had been the apple of the eye of the Roberts family since childhood.

It was understandable that she would be petulant sometimes.

Gerald explained with a smile, "I have never said that before.

Why do you think like that? I want you to attend it, because Jordy and Gloria would also be there, wouldn't they?"

Gerald knew that Rachel was not very interested in the upcoming event, but she must be interested in Jordy.

He thought Rachel would be encouraged after he mentioned those two people, but it never occurred to him that Rachel still looked indifferent. She said with casualness, "Yeah, they would also be there. Then what? No matter what kind of event the club holds, I will not be interested in it because of you!"

Especially when she heard "Connaught Bar", her stupid action and the humiliation she suffered that night were replayed in her mind again and again.

Moreover, the person who hurt her was here, she would never participate in any activities related to Connaught Bar again! "Because of me?"

Gerald's eyes darkened after he saw her expression.

He mentioned the thing that shouldn't be mentioned.

Rachel went through a lot of bad things during this period.

However, he mentioned those things carelessly.

Rachel was no longer so patient with him.

She sneered, "Gerald, you really believe that? Even if I want to kill you, I'll let you suffer before I do that!"

Gerald understood why she was so angry.

Even if she was angry with him, at least her eyes were on him.

Love could turn into hatred, and hatred could also turn into love. He was bound to win her heart. He smiled and then said, "I know.

I have been around you to meet all your demands, haven't I? But we need to get through this first, right?"

His smiling eyes were shining brightly.

The playful smile on his lips was eye-catching.

Gerald was also dangerous.

Rachel knew his implication, but she didn't say anything about it.

Regardless of Gerald's identity and background, she was not afraid of him! She smiled and replied, "You said you could help me, right? I think this event is boring. You are so capable, so I guess you can find me a new date easily, right?"

Gerald was still smiling, and he didn't say no. So, his silence was an "okay".

But the next second, he said, "I could be your date instead of finding you a new one."

Gerald's eyes darkened.

The disgust in Rachel's eyes was obvious.

Before the monitoring screen, Gloria clearly saw and heard everything they said and did.

Gloria frowned slightly.

What was Gerald's identity? He was now with Rachel and was helping her deal with her and Jordy. He was a formidable enemy.

"You want to know who he is?"

The man's low voice sounded in her ear.

Gloria said "Hmm" and didn't deny it.

Just when the man was about to say something, Gloria switched the video surveillance to that of the private rooms of Heather and Mr. Goddard.

Seeing this, the man swallowed back the words on the tip of his tongue.

Gloria looked at Heather for a moment.

Heather sat on the leather sofa in the private room.

The woman next to him was wearing a mask.

During her observation, the woman did not take off her mask.

There was nothing unusual about the conversation between them.

As for Mr. Goddard...

His men had rescued him.

He was smashing things in front of his men in a rage.

Gloria also watched the video surveillance of Jordy's private room.

Jordy was lying on the sofa and closed his eyes for a rest.

There was nothing usual with him.

"I can see that you still care about him."

The man's low voice sounded in Gloria's ear again.

After a few seconds of silence, Gloria denied, "I'm just taking a look at it."

She came here with Jordy, and had got into trouble several times with him.

She just wanted to see if Jordy was messed up by anyone.

This was her only purpose.

She frowned.

She didn't like others to watch her like this, and asked her in such a questioning tone.

In particular, she and the man in front of her were mere strangers, but because he let her watch the video surveillance here, she didn't argue with him for that.

The man saw Gloria's reaction and smiled, "Sometimes a simple action could give away all your feelings.

I have been in society for so many years.

I'm more experienced than you."

The man had such an identity, so he wasn't exaggerating.

Gloria glanced at the man with casualness and said calmly, "As you said, you are only looking at me just because I reminded you of that person. Even if I look exactly like her, I'm not her. You can't tolerate me like you tolerate her. We are no more than strangers."

She made her attitude clear in front of the man.

The man didn't get angry, but just gazed at her quietly with a straight face.

Gloria said that she did not know Gianna, but they not only looked like each other but also even had the same movements and personalities.

Suddenly, the man realized something.

It was very likely that she also left after he had a clean break with those people. Then she lived under an assumed name like him. Later, those people did something and stopped him from finding the news about her.

Seeing that the man kept silent, Gloria looked away.

Maybe she looked like that person too much, so the man often fell into a trance. It was normal. After all, they hadn't seen each other for many years and missed each other so much. So she didn't say anything.

The man reached out to Gloria, "You haven't drunk the tea yet. We can talk about things while drinking it."

Gloria was almost done. She looked at the man's black eyes with a smile, "I really appreciate that you allowed me to repair the video surveillance and let me copy it. Is there anything I can do to thank you?"

The man just smiled casually, "I have told you I didn't want anything, right? Sometimes I couldn't help agreeing to your requirements when I see your face. In addition, I let you see the video surveillance just because I think of you as a friend. Don't think so much."

Gloria was surprised. He had such an identity but actually said those words as a friend.

However, she didn't believe a word he said. His purpose was not just that simple.

With this in mind, she immediately looked at the man, "You want to find out how I'm related to Gianna, right? You think we are mother and daughter?"

Her mother abandoned her and her father and was away for so many years. If her mother had a thing with the owner of the club, why did she use such a name?

Gloria didn't know the real identity of the man and didn't want to find out everything at once.

The man's eyes suddenly darkened.

He didn't expect Gloria to be so smart and guess that.

Although he had such conjectures, his men didn't find out anything. If Gloria was really her daughter. Why didn't she take Gloria with her when she left?

There were so many questionable points in this thing.

He would not easily come to the conclusion until he figured the truth out.

"There are so many people who resemble each other in the world, and she was not married. You are much younger than her. How could you be her daughter?"

The man took a sip of tea and denied with a smile.

Gloria kept silent and also took a sip of tea to ease her suspicion and the embarrassing silence in the room.

'However, for the sake of your resemblance to her, I can help you find out whoever's identity if you want.'

After seeing Gloria drinking the tea, the man looked very satisfied.

Gloria raised her eyes at the man.

"Thanks, but I'm good. You have helped me in this video surveillance thing, and I can do that on my own."

Although she refused, she said in a polite tone.

"Why don't we exchange our contact information?" The man said this suddenly.

Gloria hesitated for a while, and then exchanged numbers with him.

He that loved the tree loved the branch. Moreover, he was already a middle-aged man and wouldn't be fascinated by her like Mr. Goddard and Heather.

Gloria had drunk the tea and copied the video surveillance. She intended to leave, so she asked, “Is there anything else?”

The man naturally knew Gloria’s intention.

He smiled, “I said you didn’t need to do this, but you said you couldn’t stand by and watch Jordy die. Even if I force you to stay, your heart will not stay here. Then go and do your own things.”

Gloria didn’t expect that the man would see through her thoughts.

However, she didn’t argue but just nodded, “Okay, just call me if you need any help.” Nothing came without a price.

She copied the video surveillance from the man. It was reasonable if the man asked her to return it. She would help him as long as she could do it.

Unexpectedly, after she left, the man called his subordinate Ernest in.

Ernest walked respectfully to the man, “Boss.”

‘Extract DNA from this cup and compare it with mine,’ the man spoke to Ernest coldly.

Ernest was completely shocked when he heard this.

He looked at the man in front of him in disbelief, “Boss, are you sure?”

This was the first time Ernest had been so shocked in front of the man.

Gloria was the only one who just walked out of here.

The person who drank tea with their boss would only be her.

What did it mean by comparing their DNA ?

No wonder their boss was so special to Gloria, but... their boss had been alone and single for many years. He had been following him but had never seen any woman around him.

He was too shocked to know Gloria might be their boss’s daughter.

Seeing his surprised and dumbfounded look, the man took on a sullen look and said angrily, "When did you become so nosy?"

"No, I didn't mean that. If she is really your daughter, I will be..."

"Did I say she was my daughter?"

Before Ernest finished speaking, the man glanced at him with menacing eyes.

Ernest quickly explained, "No, you get me wrong. I'll do it right away!"

After saying that, he quickly left the private room.

This was the only difference between the man and Mr. Goddard, and Heather.

Although he was cold, he never took it on his subordinates!

However, Ernest's words reminded the man of one thing.

If Gloria was not his family, why did she look closely like Gianna?

If Gloria was Gianna's daughter, why did Gianna choose Gloria's father, and what happened later, so that the rumors about her like that got around?

With this in mind, he lit a cigar.

His features were blurred in the smoke...

On the other side.

The poison was acting up. Jord/s face was purple black and his lips were swollen purple.

Harold was so worried at the sight of this, "Mr. Collins, I'll call Miss White back. If you wait any longer, you will die!"

"No..."

Before Jordy finished speaking, the door was pushed open from the outside with a

"click".

The next second, Gloria came in from outside.

Seeing her, Harold was like seeing a savior!

“Miss White, you are finally back!”

Read Novel Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1438

Harold immediately responded, “Mr. Goddard had been controlled by us. Miss White, if you want to see him, I’ll take you there.”

“He could even poison your boss. How can you control him with your men? Just take care of Jordy carefully.” After saying that, Gloria turned around and walked out of the private room.

Her words were obviously ironic. There was no telling if she said those words to Harold or Jordy.

However, Harold was surprised.

Mr. Goddard was so scheming?

He didn’t expect that Mr. Goddard would do such a contemptible thing. After all, the people who could come here were all noble and decent, but Mr. Goddard was actually so nasty and vicious.

Gloria saw all the surveillance video in the club owner’s private room, and she naturally knew which private room Mr. Goddard was in.

Mr. Goddard had long been prepared for her arrival.

Because when she was close to his room, his men did not stop her the moment they saw her, but made way for her.

She walked in and saw Mr. Goddard pouring red wine. The red wine in the goblet was eye-catching.

Mr. Goddard didn’t look up, but knew it was her. He greeted her with a smile, “Miss White, we meet again.”

Sarcasm flashed across Gloria’s eyes. He was the mastermind of the whole thing. He actually had the nerve to say that!

“What is your purpose of poisoning Jordy? For the Misty Lucid Ganoderma or getting back at him? It’s me, not Jordy, who turned your men against you. I’m the one you should get back at.” Gloria pursed her lips and looked coldly at Mr. Goddard. Mr.

Goddard's smile widened after he heard Gloria's words. He poured two glasses of red wine.

He held one in his hand, and handed the other to Gloria.

Gloria knew that Mr. Goddard and the club owner were two different kinds of people.

Moreover, Mr. Goddard was not as noble-minded as the club owner.

If so, he would not have manipulated people into being loyal to him with poison.

Mr. Goddard sighed after hearing Gloria's words, "Miss White, you don't know how Jordy provoked me after you left. He did that to me. I could only fight back like that, right?"

Gloria was amused.

How could Jordy take the initiative to provoke him?

She didn't want to beat around the bush with him, "Give me the antidote."

Mr. Goddard laughed, "You are really funny. Are we very familiar with each other? Why would I give it to you?"

Seeing that Gloria didn't take the red wine in his hand, he stopped pretending and directly threw the glass of red wine into the garbage can in front of him.

Look, this was his true face.

What she saw before was all his disguise.

"You poisoned him and you don't want to give him the antidote?" Gloria narrowed her eyes. Before she came, she had prepared for the worst. If Mr. Goddard refused to give the antidote to her, she would make him do that the hard way.

Anyway, she would know if she could get it after doing that.

Mr. Goddard made his attitude very clear, "I won't give it to you. Jordy asked for it. I help you get rid of this pestering ex-husband, and you should say thank me, shouldn't you? There are so many good men in the world. Jordy doesn't have to be your last man."

Gloria didn't answer but took a deep breath.

The moment when she was about to make a move, Mr. Goddard quickly reacted and avoided her...

Read Novel Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1439

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1439– Antidote

Mr. Goddard reacted quickly.

And Gloria also found that he was good at fighting.

If they fought, she might not beat him.

After realizing this, she didn't make any moves again, but said to him indifferently,

“Jordy will survive, and your plan will miscarry. If you have to be our enemy...”

Everyone had a temper.

Moreover, Jordy's life was at stake. Gloria had no time to waste her breath on him!

Mr. Goddard did not take her words seriously, but even laughed scornfully, ‘I'm not the only one who wants Misty Lucid Ganoderma. When you turned my men against me and provoked me, you've already chosen to be my enemy, haven't you?’

So, Mr. Goddard meant that he didn't care whether they were enemies or friends anymore.

Gloria frowned at his words.

But before she could say something, Mr. Goddard said with a smile, “Miss White, I know you could expel the poison for Jordy, but you can't make the antidote for Jordy in a short time. If you want to save Jordy, promise to have a three-day trip with me.

What do you think?”

After saying that, Mr. Goddard took a step closer to Gloria.

He was more than 1.85 meters tall, and when he spoke, a look that confused Gloria appeared in his blue eyes. It made her feel dangerous.

Admittedly, she had to compromise before him. She could expel the poison for Jordy, but she and Jordy had only one Misty Lucid Ganoderma.

Jordy wouldn't take the Misty Lucid Ganoderma to expel the poison, and she couldn't make the antidote for Jordy in a short time.

She had to compromise and agreed to have the three-day trip with Mr. Goddard, "OK, I'll go with you. Give me the antidote."

Mr. Goddard was sure that Gloria would compromise, so he took the antidote out quickly.

The dark blue glass bottle was taken out of his pocket by him, and it looked dazzling on his fair palm.

Gloria took it and said, "After Jordy recovers, I will come back to you."

Mr. Goddard said with a smile, "There are only two of us in the room. If I really want to play any tricks, do you think I will give you the antidote? People like us always keep our word."

Moreover, Gloria was under the protection of the Crockford Club. If she left with him voluntarily, they couldn't stop her.

Gloria said nothing else and left.

Looking at Gloria's receding figure, Mr. Goddard suddenly had an idea. He had to do something with her during this three-day trip. Otherwise, it would be too boring!

Soon, Gloria returned to Jordy's private room with the antidote.

Harold pierced Jordy's finger and gave him a bloodletting in half an hour as Gloria told him. Although Jordy didn't look as bad as before, his face was still very pale. He looked very weak.

Gloria stepped forward, helped him up, and gave him the antidote. Then she rested her fingers on his pulse.

At first, Jordy's pulse was chaotic and weak. After he took the antidote, it slowly recovered stable and vigorous.

There was nothing else in his body except the drug residue last time.

Obviously, what Mr. Goddard gave her was indeed the antidote.

"We won't attend the party anymore. Harold, take him home directly. When you get home, contact me directly, and I'll show you how to decoct the Misty Lucid Ganoderma for grandma."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 1440—He Wouldn't Let Her Go

Gloria said to Harold at the thought of the deal she made with Mr. Goddard.

Although Jordy was weak, his tone was firm, "We'll go back together!"

Gloria was married him for several years, so she naturally knew what kind of person Jordy was. He wouldn't change his mind easily.

Besides, he was so principled.

But now, it was not the time to stick to his principles.

Gloria pursed her lips and said, "I made a deal with Mr. Goddard to get the antidote for you..."

"What deal?" Jordy sat up from the sofa suddenly. His cold look only existed for a second, and then he coughed violently.

But his eyes were bright, cold and stern.

Gloria said with a straight face, "That's none of your business. Anyway, it's not a deal about sex. Jordy, we don't owe each other anymore."

As his colleague and ex-wife, she had done everything possible to help him.

She had already told Harold what to do after they went back, and now she had to go back to Mr. Goddard and saw what his next plan was.

She turned around, but Jordy grabbed her hand before she could step out.

Seeing this, Harold walked out of the private room, and left them alone.

Jordy fixed his eyes on her and said in a cold voice, "I can always go through tough times, and I trust you. Gloria, you don't need to make any deal with anyone!"

"Jordy, you know what kind of person I am, and you know how powerful Mr. Goddard's poison is. You were dying! I didn't have so much time to make the antidote for you. You said you wouldn't leave me behind, and I wouldn't watch you die, either. We have helped each other. After we go back, we will stay away from each other."

They really should not get tangled like this. They had got divorced.

Gloria thought she had made herself clear enough, but Jordy still refused to let her go. He was even very angry, "That man was vicious and cruel. Do you really think the antidote he gave you is real? Gloria, it's the stupidest decision to make a deal with him!"

Stupid decision?

She made the deal with Mr. Goddard for getting the antidote for him, but he just thought she was stupid?

Gloria didn't agree with him. She also got angry, "I don't want to see grandma sad. If it weren't for that, I would have stood by and watched you die! Jordy, don't think I still love you because I made the deal with Mr. Goddard for you. From the moment I signed the divorce papers, I have completely been over you!"

She hid her light under a bushel and was a housewife for him wholeheartedly. However, she still failed to get any love from him.

They were divorced, but he suddenly told her he wanted to remarry her. How could she remarry him like a fool again?

Jordy pursed his lips. After a moment of silence, he slowly opened his mouth and asked her, "So you want me dead?"

Gloria noticed that Jordy's eyes dimmed and were tinged with sadness.

"I didn't mean that." Gloria looked away.

"Tell me what your deal is." Jordy tightened his grip on her hand unconsciously.

Gloria noticed that and tried to shake off his hand.

The next second, Jordy loosened his grip.

Gloria realized that Jordy wouldn't let her go unless he got the answer he wanted.
