

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 191

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 191

Chapter 191 Felt At A Loss

Gloria recovered from her thoughts and looked up at the door, 'Come in.' The door opened, and there stood Sammy. 'Norma, I've got a question for you,' he smiled at her

'Take a seat.' Gloria's eyes flickened

Sammy walked in with a smile. His smile was sweet, and warm like the sunshine, which made him seem very easy to approach.

Sammy handed the notebook and materials in his hands all to Gloria, "I've taken this case recently I thought my winning was a sure thing, but they suddenly added one piece of very tough evidence I was stuck all of a sudden I hope it wouldn't be 100 much trouble.'

He didn't intend to say too much. Gloria's professionalism was unquestionable.

Gloria fumbled through the materials in her hands, her beautiful complexion extremely calm. She had already calmed herself down

While Sammy took the time and stared at her up and down. It was not the stare of a man at a woman, rather it was filled with admiration

Gloria's attention was not on these things She went through the materials and handed them back to him.

Your thinking is in the right direction, but you've missed the key point

Sammy blinked, as if it had suddenly hit him, while Gloria opened her mouth again, "The death blow is in the key point."

She tapped argument Number Seven in his notes with her slim, fair finger. Sammy took a look and suddenly got it. Thank you You're a master,' he was excited.

"That word makes me feel old," said Gloria,

She joked and Sammy laughed. "Sorry, Miss White. And thank you. I'll leave you alone."

Gloria nodded without saying anything more. Looking at Sammy from his back, she was lost in her thoughts.

Sammy Davis

The name was not heard of, but the face was very familiar.

He had special features, looking like mixed race. She just got the feeling that, she had never seen this face but it was strangely familiar. She frowned until he walked to the door. 'Wait,' she said subconsciously

Sammy had already opened the door He stopped his steps and turned around with a smile, "Do you have anything else, Miss White?"

Have we... Gloria looked hesitant, and suddenly she found the question was abrupt.

Just as she was about to say 'nothing when Sammy answered her

"Mer beiore."

Gloria was taken aback by it a little. She looked at Sammy subconsciously with puzzlement in her eyes.

While Sammy opened his mouth with a smile, "It was ten years ago. It's only normal if you don't remember."

He turned around and walked out, without telling her these old memories.

Gloria's face was a bit stunned. If he didn't want to mention it, he wouldn't have told her. They had met before, but he had only told her they had met, without telling her what had happened, why was that?

All of sudden, Gloria felt at a loss.

The door was closed slowly, but Gloria didn't force him.

She took a short breath. Never mind. It might have been nothing important. Otherwise, she would have already remembered.

She had something very important to do and could not be distracted by trifles.

As she was thinking about her next move, her phone rang. It seemed very abrupt in a quiet space.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 192

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 192

Chapter 192 She Only Said Two Sentences To Me

She looked down at her phone and the coldness in her eyes thickened at the sight of the number. But the next second, she picked it up.

"Uncle Claude

The greet was dry, emotionless.

She had used to find Claude the kindest and think of him as his real father.

Bul now...

Uncle Claude had become nothing but an ordinary salutation. Even the two words had become the nastiest.

She had never seen an uncle like him.

Claude opened his mouth, "Gloria, are you still at work? Have I disturbed you?"

Claude was hypocritical as he had always been, as if everything was still the same.

Maybe that was how he had always done it to make her feel closer to him! Gloria felt her heart was broken and dripping blood He had started to set her father up since the first night he had spent at her house. For ten years, she had always believed that they had endured hardships and finally succeeded.

With her feeling of haired restrained, Gloria took a short breath and said in a soft voice, 'Calling at this hour of the day, do you have something to say to me?"

"Oh... It's just that, you haven't been back home for so long. Your Aunt Martha will cook for you tonight and every dish is going to be your favorite. Come back home, Gloria.'

The last plea would have brought moved tears into her eyes in the past, but now, the more she heard it, the more hypocritical she found them to be

Gloria didn't want to argue with him Al the thought of the need for a return, she replied directly, 'Okay, I'll be back tonight. Tell Aunt Martha not to bother with the dishes. I'm just going back for a reunion. There's no need to go through all the trouble.'

Reunion.
He stressed the word.

Claude smiled at that, 'What are you saying! Martha is still talking about your favorite dishes! You go on with your work, Gloria. I'll wait for you at home!'

"Okay.

Gloria intended to waste no breath, and neither of them said anything more, so they hung up. Her calmed mind had started to become disturbed again!

If they had really been the murderers and killed her father, how would they have been able to live with a guilty mind to this day?

Gloria held her phone tighter, and the hate in her heart got stronger.

Without Angela's reminder, she would have found nothing strange. Even if there was any suspicion, she would have put it off. However, Angela had lost control of herself now and shown her true nature little by little, if she still couldn't find anything, she would be a total fool!

Gloria took a deep breath, trying to get her emotions under control. She threw herself into work to get her mind off these things.

In the meanwhile, Sammy walked out. His frowning face suddenly became smooth and bland. At the sight of his smile, Scarlett knew the problem had been solved.

Actually, the six of them had discussed it just now, but there was no certain answer.

He had been in there for only a while, and now he had walked out a happy and contented man?

Scarlett couldn't help but asked Sammy. 'Why are you so happy? Is it because you have seen the hot lady? Is the case really solved?'

Sammy smiled. 'There's no case Norma couldn't solve. She only said two sentences to me.'

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 193

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 193

Chapter 193 The Position She used to Take

Everyone looked at him in shock. 'Really? What did Norma say?'

The male lawyer by his side asked.

Sammy laughed. 'She said that I should hit the soft spot and that I missed the key point.'

'What's the key point?' Scarlett asked in a hurry.

Sammy smiled, spread out his handwriting, pointed to the seventh point, and sighed.

'I've written it down but failed to delve into it. The other party is well prepared. Still, he has violated the rules, and I have led myself into a dead end.'

The man beside him changed color at the sight of the seventh point. 'Norma is indeed impressive.'

In fact, all the lawyers here were super elites Irene only hired the six of them who were all figures of note in the industry

Without breaking a sweat, Norma solved the puzzle where they had failed.

How capable she was!

Burning with jealousy, Scarlett clasped the pen but had to face the reality. It was true that she had worked against Gloria, but that was because she didn't know about the latter's identity. Now that Norma became her boss, she didn't dare to complain about it. After all, it was an honor to work here!

They didn't have a good working environment or separate offices, but Irene arranged it that way so that the six of them could learn from each other

The sight of Sammy's shining face made Scarlett fret that Gloria was close to conquering this outstanding man. What should she do?

Time lapsed, and the shift was over.

In high heels. Gloria went outside. Having decided to visit the White family, she would not dawdle.

It was a one-hour drive.

Her heart jerked the moment she entered the courtyard and the place she used to live.

Her father's house was now taken by a couple of parasites

Gloria took a breath and got out of the car. A sensible man he was, Claude came out to welcome her. A smile was on his face. "Gloria, you're back. Come on in, Martha is cooking in the kitchen. Dinner is almost ready."

Gloria nodded and saw Angela coming out with a smile. "Gloria, you are finally willing to come back."

Finally willing

She sounded like Gloria hated this place.

Gloria went inside without saying anything

"Come on, wash your hands We'll eat first"

Eight dishes had been spread out on the table Like a chel, Martha was cooking in the kitchen, but Gloria didn't think she would bother to cook. These dishes on the table might be cooked by the maids, and Martha was just putting on a show

Gloria went to the bathroom, washed her hands, and sat down in the position she used to take.

Claude was surprised, and Angela's eyes glimmered with displeasure.

Gloria had taken the hosi's seat. In others' eyes, she usurped the host's role, but this position was originally hers

It used to be her father's seat, and she sat next to him. Her father was gone, and she was the natural successor.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 194

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 194

Chapter 194 Coming for the Assets of the White Family?

Claude was displeased but said nothing. Instead, he sat down in front of Gloria and flashed a gracious smile. "Gloria, you had a flash divorce. Why didn't you tell me? If you received unfair treatment, I would have backed you up."

"Back me up?"

Her divorce caused a nationwide and even worldwide sensation, and he was at the party. Didn't he know everything?

Did he really need notice from her?

Claude didn't want bad blood between them. Otherwise, he wouldn't have been so nice and invited her to come back.

In her view, there were two reasons for his doing.

First, he was afraid that Karen would support Gloria forever and give Angela no opportunity. The old lady held a high position in the Collins family after all.

Second, Gloria was Norma. If they pushed it too hard, she might work with the enemies of the White family and bring the case to court. Given her ability, they would have a lot to lose. Even Jordy lost to her, not to mention him.

Claude was afraid of her.

Gloria gave no response, which embarrassed Claude and annoyed Angela.

Just then, Martha served the last two dishes. Her face froze the moment she saw Gloria sitting in the host's seat. Her eyes were filled with displeasure. Did Gloria think this was still her home?

She was rude and unruly!

Martha just couldn't point it out because their conversation was being recorded.

She put the dishes down on the table and grinned. "Gloria, you came back right on time. The dishes are ready. My cooking skills might be a bit rusty. Come on, try it."

With a smile, Angela handed Gloria a knife and a fork.

Gloria took them and forked up the dishes.

She ate with ease and showed no intention of talking.

The White family members had to strike up conversations since the recording might be useful one day.

Claude sighed. "Gloria, are you mad at Martha, Angela, and me?"

Gloria, who remained composed, smiled. "How so? Since my father passed away, you have been helping him take care of the company. I appreciate your effort."

The faces of Claude and others changed with her subtle remark.

Helping her father take care of the company.

This company was now owned by Claude. What was she talking about?

Claude didn't bother to correct her. Instead, he laughed and said, "We don't need such formalities between us. We're family, and the company belongs to us."

Gloria nodded, "You're correct, but even reckoning makes long friends. In fact, I came back for something."

Angela was stunned.

She was supposed to dominate the game and use the recording to turn the tide. To her surprise, Gloria came back for the assets of the White family?

The faces of both Martha and Claude fell, but the next second saw Claude asking with a smile, "Oh? What is it?"

Gloria chewed the food, swallowed it, and said in an unhurried manner, "As far as I can remember, after my father passed away, you told me that you'd help me manage the company since I was too young. Lest the company should go bankrupt, I transferred the shares to you."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 195

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 195

Chapter 195 The Ceiling of Your Career

Claude was surprised, but it was an indisputable fact. Then again, there was no harm in admitting it, so he nodded with a smile 'That's true.

Everyone in the company knew about it anyway. Admitting it would not cost him anything. After all, he had the signed papers to back him up. The company belonged to him! No one could take it away!

Martha and Angela both looked at Gloria. So, she wants to take it back. Is this a joke? That's her own wishful thinking.

Who does she think she is?

Wait!

The contract!

Gloria is Norma Would she find any loopholes in the contract?

Angela had the jitters

Gloria nodded and said, "Well, it's time to return the shares, i'll give up on the profits you've earned over the years. I can't let you take care of the company for nothing can I? I'll take from here, and you will no longer have to work that hard."

Claude's eyes dimmed, but he soon shook his head with a helpless smile. "Gloria, we're family. I'll give you everything you want, but it's not the right time. We're in the process of sealing the deals on several major projects, and that requires supervision. Over the years, I've spent a lot of effort to gain those founding members' trust. If I transfer the shares to you and let you lead the White family, I'm afraid that they will not be convinced. By then, we may lose these deals, and that will be a great loss for the White family."

Gloria remained calm as she said, "How did you know people would not be convinced if I look over?"

Claude gave a helpless smile. "Gloria, you're new to society, and there are a lot of things you don't understand. It's reasonable that you have grandiose aims, but most of the time, things are not as easy as you think. If you want to join the company, I can set you up with a grassroots position. Prove your value, and I will give my position to you."

Angela's face changed, but she soon figured out her father's meaning.

Gloria was supposed to start from a grassroots position.

Given the difficulty of climbing up the corporate ladder, she couldn't possibly reach a high position

Gloria cocked her brows and said in a half-joking tone, 'Grassroot? Are you underestimating me or trying to fob me off since I'm your niece rather than your daughter?'

"Ha-ha, no kidding, this post is important! You know, the White family is not a small one, and the market value of the company is beyond your imagination. Sloppiness should be avoided if you want to take over the White family!"

'What do you want me to do? Instead of relorting, Gloria looked at Claude and asked. Claude hadn't expected her determination. He sneered in his heart and decided to pull no punches. If Gloria stayed out there, he wouldn't be able to know her moves. If she joined the company, it would be a different story. Gloria would be under his nose. Moreover, once Norma was on board, the other companies would no longer dare to make rash moves.

Claude pondered for a moment and said in a helpless tone, "You're a legal elite and supposed to work in the Legal Department. However, the head of the legal team will be the ceiling of your career. For your best interest, you should follow the tradition of the White family and do business."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 196

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 196

Chapter 196 Staying for the Night?

Gloria sneered in her heart, aware that Claude was trying to pull her away from the area she was best at

Then again, she wasn't bent on taking over the White family today. After all, there was a contract, and it was hard to let the old fool give it back.

Besides, before her father departed the world, he hadn't made any will. As the brother of her father, Claude was also entitled to inherit his legacy.

She didn't have many shares back then. Not worth dwelling on it.

What she wanted was the shares owned by Claude's family.

She would tear off their disguise and expel them from the White Group.

"Go on."

Angela and Martha both remained silent. They believed in Claude.

He should have his reasons for saying so.

Claude sighed and continued, 'You know, White Group is dependent on striking deals with other companies. It happens that the BD team is short of hands. Why don't you start from there?'

Gloria frowned but said nothing.

Angela sneered. How was it possible Gloria would swallow her pride and work as an ordinary employee? Her father was creating difficulties for Gloria till the latter quail on her own.

Claude sighed and smiled at Gloria "You're an insider of White Group, and by rights, I should put you in charge of a department. However, if you want to take over the company, you should show everyone what you've got and build up your reputation. That will be helpful for you to attain your goal, don't you think?"

Gloria pursed her lips and seemed to be pondering

Angela took her silence for reluctance and advised, "Gloria, I'm working in the company too. At first, I worked as a clerk. This process is necessary before you're competent for more important positions!"

Martha also sighed. "Gloria, you may not like the proposal, but this is what it is.

Otherwise, you'll find it hard to command everyone. If you're not competent enough when you take over White Group, the company may fall into chaos. It's not something you want to see, right?"

Gloria faltered, "I'll think about it."

Met with her concession, Claude relented and said with a smile, "Sure, take your time. If you agree, I can make arrangements anytime and let you skip the job interview."

Gloria was speechless

So, he was offering a privilege

What a grandiose statement!

What they didn't know was that it was her real goal. She would convince everyone with her capability.

She had requested the return of her shares on purpose. Afraid that she might record their conversation, Claude couldn't reject it and had to meet her halfway. Now it was easier for her to join the company,

It was not her plan to achieve a feat and make Claude keep his promise. That would not happen.

She would take it back with her own hands. Her father took great pains to build the company. She would not let a family of ingrates have it.

"Gloria, why don't you stay here for the night? Girls don't have to work so hard. After your father is gone, this is your home. I'll treat you like my own daughter. You don't have to face problems on your own. You can always turn to me, alright?"

Gloria nodded. "Thank you, Claude. I indeed plan to stay."

Angela was surprised.

Martha was surprised,

And so was Claude. She had never been close to their family. Did she mean it?

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 197

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 197

Chapter 197 What Trouble Could Gloria Stir Up?

Then he laughed in surprise. 'Good! We're so glad to have you here!'

Angela was also overjoyed. "Gloria, you're finally willing to sleep here!"

Finally

There she came again. Now Gloria was certain that they were recording everything

She was too, and they stood no chance of garbling a statement.

Gloria nodded and said, 'I didn't want to come back because my father passed away here. I didn't have the courage to face it. So many years have passed, and I can no longer hide. Tonight, I'll sleep in my father's room. Claude, nothing has been moved, right?'

"Yeah, everything remains what it was!"

This was what annoyed Claude. Gloria's father used to live in the master bedroom. Although they had become the new owner of this house, they couldn't move into that room because of the constraint of the so-called moral code. They had to live in the guest rooms.

Back then, he couldn't use the money of the White Group to buy property. That was like squandering his brother's legacy. Now it was about time.

He would start preparation in a couple of days.

Claude smiled and said, "Gloria, this is your home. It always will be. Since you miss this place and your father, I can leave it to you. I'll buy another house and move out."

On the property certificate, the owner was Gloria. After her father passed away, they could ask for her shares but could not claim this house. That would lead to her suspicion.

Now the White family owned a lot of money, and this villa was old. They could just move out.

Gloria nodded. 'This place is indeed a bit old, and moving out is not a bad idea. This place will be a reminiscence of the past.'

Claude was stupefied.

Gloria was cautious in her remarks and left no room for controversies. He proposed to move out with good intentions, but she said that the villa was old. She was like questioning his sincerity.

Martha comprehended the situation and smiled. "Actually, we can live anywhere, but this is a reminiscence of the past. You deserve a place free of disturbances. Gloria, even if we move out, our new house will still be your home. Come and visit us often."

Gloria nodded but said nothing. She didn't bother to quibble with them.

Immersed in their own thoughts, they had dinner together. Since she had made her points clear, Gloria didn't feel like talking to them again. After dinner, she said in a soft voice, "I'm going to have a rest."

Claude nodded with a smile. "Go ahead."

After Gloria went into her room, Claude and his family entered their room. With a serious look, Martha said, "Honey, Gloria came prepared, and you agreed to let her join the company. Is it really fine?"

"What are you afraid of?" Claude snorted, "She is going to be a grassroots employee of Business Development. Everyone can tread on her neck. We'll tell the head of the department that this is a test for Gloria. To make a capable person out of her, he is supposed to make things difficult for her rather than help her. Besides, the BD team is supervised by the audit department. There's nothing to be worried about."

Angela chuckled. "Yeah, I'll give her some pressure."

Martha nodded. 'Sounds like a plan. Although Angela is not the BD director, her power is comparable to it. While she is overseeing everything, what trouble could Gloria stir up?'

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 198

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 198

Chapter 198 Distancing Herself from the White Family

They talked in excitement and found the plan perfect. Angela curled her lips, saying. "After becoming a top lawyer. Gloria fancies herself invincible Now I realize why Dad made such a decision. If we didn't let her go back to the White family, she might work with our enemies in her desperation. If she found any loopholes in the contract and served as their attorney, we would have a big sum of money to lose. It's a wise move to keep her under our noses."

Claude looked at her daughter with approval "Sweetie, in terms of intelligence and ability, you are not inferior to any man. I'll have no worries when I hand over the White family to you."

Martha nodded and sang her daughter's praise, That's right. Angela is smart. We'll have nothing to worry about when we hand over the White Group to her

Angela smiled 'Let's join hands, kick Gloria out, and make sure she won't be able to come back again.'

Martha sneered. 'If Gloria insists on taking over the White Group, why don't we create difficulties for her and let her know the consequences? All the shareholders will criticize her the object to her return. In the end, she will lose everything

Sadness rose in Gloria the moment she entered her father's room. Everything remained in its original place. Tears started to well up in her eyes

In fact, what she had said just now was true She was indeed unwilling to come back and face the ghost of the past

Her father loved her so much. The thought of his death saddened her to an unbearable extent.

The photo of her father and her was still on the desk. Gloria saw it and walked over.

Her eyes were brimming with tears as she looked at his gracious smile.

She picked up the photo frame and caressed his face. Dad..

This was her father.

Overcome with grief, Gloria closed her eyes. She was unable to utter a sound.

The death of her father was too sudden. She wondered if she could find any clues from this room.

The chance was slim. Even if there were traces, Claude might have obliterated them.

Unwilling to give up. Gloria collected herself, put the photo down, and started to search around the room.

The Collins Group

Jordy was dealing with a pile of documents in the office. Working overtime seemed to have become a habit.

Just as he was opening another file, someone knocked on the door.

"Come in
There was a linge of coldness in his voice. Soon, the door was pushed open.
Harold hurried in, but Jordy kept his head low. The assistant took a breath and reported,
'Sir, Miss White went back to the White family
Miss White
When Jordy heard the name, his hand that was holding the pen stiffened The next second saw him looking up at Harold
'What for?"
"I'm not quite sure. It seems that the White family invited Miss White to go back. That's all we could find out, and."
Harold paused. Jordy frowned and urged him, 'Go on!"
Harold shuddered and responded in a hurry, "Miss White has stayed there for the night."
Jordy's brows furrowed. Although he didn't say anything, he was full of doubts.
During those years of their marriage, Gloria had never visited the White family.
Everyone believed that she had been distancing herself from the Whites.
But now..

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 199

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 199

Chapter 199 Got Up So Early

"I see."

Receiving no instructions from Jordy, Harold excused himself and left
Gloria's efforts paid off as she found a bottle of medicine,
There wasn't any label. Nothing. She unscrewed the cap and saw a few white rhombus pills.

What kind of medicine is this?

What kind of disease did my father have? He didn't tell me because he was afraid of making me worry?

Gloria pursed her lips. For fear of alerting the enemy, she poured out two pills and then placed the bottle back

Gloria found no other clues and had to give up.

After taking a shower, she went 10 bed.

She didn't sleep well. Half-asleep, she seemed to see her father,

Gloria sat up with a start, about to call out to her father, but the figure dispersed.

The room was as quiet as the grave. Gloria couldn't help but sigh. She knew it was just a hallucination

Gloria curled up in a ball and held the blanket She missed her father so much.

The night

It lapsed

It was a restless night Gloria got up early the next morning After washing up, she came downstairs and saw a busy figure in the kitchen. Gloria sneered in her heart. Everyone in this family was so good at pretending. Back then, Martha volunteered to cook and do the housework after they moved in. They had a housekeeper, okay? Her service was not needed. Martha was good at cooking though. Her father appreciated Martha's efforts and treated Martha's family even better. However, these people were ungrateful! Claude and his family were even worse than those cold-blooded wolves who at least cherished their companions. Gloria clenched her fists but regained her composure the moment Martha turned around. Martha smiled. "Gloria, you got up so early. Why didn't you test for a while longer?" "I didn't sleep well in my father's room. I plan to go back today," Gloria replied, looking at Martha calmly. The latter looked distressed, and she added, "I dreamed of my father last night. He told me that his death was wrongful and shed tears of blood." The blood drained from Martha's face. Gloria narrowed her eyes. Was it really related to them? Quick in reaction, Martha sighed. "Indeed, that isn't fair... If we had found out about his heart disease earlier, the heart attack might have been avoided." The more she said, the sadder she got. Martha acted as if it was her father who passed away. Instead of going on with the subject, Gloria said, "I have to go and attend to something." "Before you leave, why don't you have breakfast with us? I've made congee for you, and it tastes good. Come and have some. Skipping breakfast is bad for health!" Just then, Angela came downstairs. Seeing that Gloria was going to leave, she hurried over and said, "Gloria, even if you're busy, you should have breakfast. Besides, there is something I want to tell you." Gloria glanced at her and nodded. "Okay." Angela was surprised Gloria seemed to be easy to manipulate, but she felt strange about it. In a short while, Claude came downstairs and greeted her with a smile, "Gloria, you got up so early."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 200

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 200

Chapter 200 Guess What Karen Said

Gloria nodded but said nothing. She looked at ease. Martha served the breakfast, and they dined together. Angela glanced at Gloria and said with a hesitant look, "Gloria, are you still mad at me for what happened on Karen's birthday?" Gloria looked up at her and replied, "How so? If I were mad, I wouldn't have come back and dined with you."

Angela was speechless.

The way Gloria talked was disagreeable, and she didn't know how to go on with the conversation.

She took a breath and said in a helpless tone, "What happened the other day was not as you think I prepared the gift not to compete with you. We're cousins rather than rivals. There were people sowing discord between us and turning it into a misunderstanding. That jade bracelet was not my gift. Someone switched it."

Gloria's face was a bit cold. Their relationship had ruptured, and Angela made such a remark. An insider would suspect that Angela was pulling on a show, but Gloria knew that she was recording their conversation

If she let it pass easily, people would suspect that the whole thing was designed by her. Although she never cared about the netizens' opinions, she was afraid that Karen would be misled

This ambitious girl was trying to overpower her. Then again, even if it were her trick, Angela wouldn't have fallen for it if she had no malicious intentions.

Gloria looked over and asked, "What did you buy?"

"Something valuable. I couldn't explain it in that situation. Gloria, be honest with me. Was it you who switched my gift? Since we're family, I won't blame you. Whatever happened is in the past. If it were not you, I'll find out the culprit and hold him accountable!"

It was a threat. Gloria laughed and said, "I bought it to frame you? Do you think it holds water?"

"You said you liked it and asked me to buy it. I did without thinking about it, but how did it appear in the gift I presented Karen?"

With an indifferent look, Gloria asked, "Angela, are you recording this?"

Angela's face froze, and she said in a hurry, "No."

"If you are not, why do you make up stories? I've never said that."

Angela turned pale. Without waiting for her response, Gloria continued in a bland tone, "The dust has settled, and you reap what you sow. If you continue to pursue it, you'll only receive more bitter criticism. You may not like to hear this, but given the current situation, do you think there's room for maneuver?"

Angela's eyes turned colder, with a hint of a sneer. It was not her goal to make Gloria admit it. What Gloria had just said was enough!

She didn't really need any evidence. She would let the netizens chase shadows.

She couldn't pass the bucket to Gloria anyway. She was content with clarifying part of it. Aware of her trick, Gloria said in an unhurried way. "Karen talked about you when I took her to the temple. Guess what she said."