Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 531

Chapter 531 A Scheming Woman

Then what was this? Jordy never doubted that Gloria might be a good and simple woman. She was scheming.

“Then, Jonathan didn’t agree with your decision. He wanted to either give up working with you or use me. You were worried. How could you watch such a huge profit slip away? So you went to Jordy and showed him this plan, Jordy took a fancy to it and also chose me, didn’t he?”

“He also wanted me to work with them. You were in a dilemma. No matter who you chose, I would be the one who would work with them, and you would offend either of them. So, you had another plan, didn’t you?”

Another plan...

Jordy was furious, but when he heard these two words, the menace in his eyes was stronger.

Angela, good for you!

He doubted that what happened to Gloria this time probably had something to do with Angela. Hearing what Gloria said, he was more sure.

Angela didn’t refute at all. Heh... He was really disappointed. Maybe he was really deceived by her.

Maybe Angela had been pretending since the beginning.

“You probably didn’t expect that you only broke one of my ribs after hitting me with the truck, but Jordy was worried to death because he was afraid that I would die. He liked my plan. If I die, he would lose a very important partner. Then he would lose huge profits, wouldn’t he?”

“So, he came to my ward and took care of me all day long. If I hadn’t provoked him with harsh words, he would have come to see me every day. If you hadn’t done those things, how could I get involved with him? Sometimes I wonder if I have misunderstood you since the beginning. You really did what you said. You have always kept saying that you wanted us to make up and get back together. It seems that you were really helping us?"

"But I don't like Jordy. Otherwise, I think we might really get back together. If you keep helping him get embroiled with me, what if I rekindle my love for him? Jordy attaches great importance to interests. He thinks I'm very useful. Isn't business marriage like this? It can create wealth, and I can bring him wealth."

They couldn't get back together.

Jordy sneered.

Gloria knew herself well.

How could he get back together with such a scheming woman?

But the more Jordy thought about it, the more furious he was.

Bang!

He punched his desk!

"You bitch! Ah, I'm going to kill you!"

The recording ended here.

Jordy stopped the recording with a sullen look. However, there were no other people in the office, and no one else would be scared by him.

It was not Angela but Gloria who made Jordy angry after he listened to the recording.

He even felt a great compulsion to go to Gloria and question her...

At this point, Jordy's attention was suddenly drawn back.

Damn it. What was he thinking?

Was Gloria something that was worth thinking about?

Jordy leaned back in the chair fretfully, stroking his eyebrows with his beautiful fingers.

Chapter 532 She's Such a Bitch

At this moment, Angela was on her way back. The driver was driving for her. Her mobile phone suddenly rang. She unlocked it fretfully. When she found that it was a mail with audio files, she turned grave.

she immediately took out the earphone from her purse, put them on, and played the recording. All the recent recordings were in the email, including the one of her conversations with Gloria!

What a bitch! Gloria said she didn't record it, didn't she?

How could she believe what that bitch said?

Looking at the content of the email, Angela almost wanted to kill Gloria!

But she dared not, nor could she.

Gloria made it very clear in the email.

(If you attack us again, your reputation will be ruined. People all over the world will know how hypocritical and vicious you are!)

Angela screamed angrily.

The driver was startled and quickly stepped on the brake. He looked in the rearview mirror. The woman in the back seat looked livid with anger. He said with flusters, "Miss White, are you okay?"

Angela's attention was immediately drawn back. She took a deep breath, leaned back in the seat and closed her eyes.

"Keep driving. I'm fine." Her voice was full of fatigue. If the driver listened carefully, he could find that she was gritting her teeth.

The driver didn't dare to say anything else but could only say okay and continue driving.

Gloria arrived home. She couldn't even tell her parents about what had happened. This was just very embarrassing!

Her mother had always advised her to be rational and not to act rashly, but she didn't listen but went to Gloria and even tried to make peace with her. Angela only felt she was really stupid. How could she do such a stupid thing?

In the past three days, everything was calm, but something was hiding underneath.

Because Gloria had had an accident, Claude and Martha both planned to stop making a move against her, and Angela didn't dare to make any move. Therefore, it was peaceful.

Angela was worried. She browsed Twitter every day to see if any recording was posted on it. After checking it, she would take a breath of relief. But soon she would become nervous. How should she explain it to Jordy?

Did Gloria send the recording to Jordy?

She must have done that! she was such a bitch!

In the evening, the three of them had just finished their meal and were all sitting on the sofa in the living room.

They were having a rest after dinner, but Claude's mobile phone suddenly rang. Angela and Martha both looked at him. They had a bad premonition. Maybe this was the sixth sense of women.

Claude didn't feel anything, but when he saw that the caller ID was Joseph, his expression changed slightly, "It's Joseph?"

They didn't contact with each other usually, and Joseph didn't have to talk about business with him. Why did he call him?

Angela gasped, and her eyes were full of confusion and fear.

She was about to say "what should we do" again.

Martha stayed calm, not as flustered as Angela. She just looked at Claude with a slight frown, "Answer the phone and see what he wants."

Claude nodded, then picked up the phone. He said with a smile, "Hey, Mr. Collins, what's the matter? Is there anything I can do for you?"

Chapter 533 They're up to Something

Joseph smiled and said in a relaxed tone, "Mr. White, tomorrow is Sunday, and we'll be off work. Why don't we have lunch together tomorrow? Let's get together."

Claude was a little surprised, but he responded.

"OK, we'll see each other at noon tomorrow."

Joseph smiled with satisfaction, "OK, we'll be there, and the three of you must come, all of you."

Claude naturally said okay, but he got the fidgets. He felt something was wrong, but he accepted Joseph's invitation with a smile. After exchanging the usual pleasantries, they hung up the phone.

Claude frowned deeply, "Why do I feel they are up to something?"

Angela was pale, "Are... Are they going to call off the engagement..."

Claude's face darkened, and Martha also frowned deeply.

Angela did not look at the two of them, but said to herself, "It's over... It's over..."

Claude said with a calm face, "Calm down. The Collins family needs Our White family now, and they are the ones who took the initiative to get you two engaged. We don't have to be afraid."

"Alright, don't worry. We'll know their purpose when we see them tomorrow. If they really want to call off the engagement, I'll get even with them. I will definitely terminate our cooperation. Their Collins Group earns more than us in this profitable project. They should have been satisfied. If I terminate the cooperation, they will also be afraid!"

Claude said in a very firm tone, which reassured Angela.

The Collins Group was very rich, but... their White Group was also influential. They probably wouldn't dare to do that.

Angela had always believed firmly that Jordy would not call off their engagement. Everything would be fine. Everything would be fine!

With this in mind, she wasn't as restless as she was just now.

The three of them chatted for a while, discussing what to do tomorrow. Their final decision was that they would be tough and wouldn't let the Collins family bully them. Angela could have a better life in the Collins family only if they seized the initiative. They must be tough in front of the Collins family and could never be bullied by them!

This night, none of them slept well.

Although they had come up with a countermeasure, the Collins family was not as simple as they imagined.

What if being tough wouldn't do them any good?

What if it was useless?

What if the Collins family accepted all the conditions they put forward just for calling off the engagement. Although these things were unlikely to happen, what if they really happened?

The three of them were somewhat restless because of these conjectures.

The night was long for some people.

And it was finally the time to have lunch together.

All of them were here.

The three people of the White family.

The five people of the Collins family.

All of them were present. Karen was quite happy. When she heard that they would call off Jordy's engagement, her worries over the past few days were cleared away immediately.

People's acceptance changed.

In the past, she couldn't accept the divorce of Jordy and Gloria. What would happen if they got divorced?

But...

Later, Jordy not only needed to get divorced, but also to get engaged to a woman he didn't like, which made her feel even more terrible. Now... she just felt that it was a little difficult to accept it.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 534

Chapter 534 This Is Getting Weird

Now, after knowing that Jordy would not be engaged to Angela, she felt that everything seemed acceptable. She was satisfied!

Therefore, if one didn't go through something worse, he would feel that the problem he was facing was bad enough, but if he did, he would feel that the one he was facing was not that bad and was acceptable. It was a complicated feeling...

At this moment, the nine people were sitting at the table.

If it were before, Joseph and the others would have arranged for Jordy and Angela to sit next to each other. But now, Jordy and Angela were several seats apart.

Moreover, Jordy looked extremely cold, and never gave Angela a look Angela only felt uncomfortable and panicked.

But... She had no other choices, and she didn't know what to do. Her bad premonition was getting stronger and stronger.

Claude took a slight breath and politely said to Joseph with a smile, "Mr. Collins, why did you invite us to lunch? To talk about the engagement of the two children?"

Claude went straight to the point.

Angela's heart suddenly trembled fiercely, and she got more and more flustered. What she was most afraid of was mentioned!

She hurriedly held Martha's hand under the table with strong flusters in her eyes.

Martha quickly gripped her hand and squeezed it twice, reminding her to stay calm, which was also a consolation to her.

Joseph's smile stiffened, but he nodded with a natural smile at the next moment, "Yes, you are right. The day for their engagement is approaching, and we think we should tell you guys our decision as soon as possible."

Angela's eyelashes fluttered slightly. She looked at Joseph. They should tell them their decision as soon as possible. What did that mean?

Martha and Claude were also smart people. They naturally could tell the implication in Joseph's words.

In addition, none of things were smooth in recent days. The Collins family must have heard the recording. This was nothing good.

Neither Claude nor Martha spoke. Angela did not dare to speak. She was afraid that she would directly question them and lost her composition...

After a pause, Claude whispered, "Well... what are you going to do? You have our full cooperation."

What would happen would eventually happen, but he still pretended he didn't know.

What if it was an illusion?

Just be positive!

Jordy kept silent with a calm look

Karen was smiling and looked polite and graceful. She was really happy!

Moreover, Joseph should clean up the mess himself. He was the one who put them under the greatest pressure to get them engaged back then, wasn't he?

As for Newell and Olivia, neither of them spoke. Joseph had to deal with the thing alone.

Joseph looked at his family with a complained look, and then smiled at Claude, "Oh, that's good."

Claude was confused.

This was getting weird.

Angela just felt that her heart was about to jump out of her chest. She raised her eyes slightly and forced out a smile, "Mr. Collins, where did that come from?"

Joseph looked ashamed and sighed helplessly.

Angela was puzzled.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 535

Chapter 535 To Detain Some Dignity

The dishes hadn't been served all, and he was going to spoil the atmosphere? Wouldn't he feel guilty?

Martha couldn't stay calm anymore. If they still didn't know what the Collins family was going to do, they would be morons.

Claude wiped his smile off his face. Obviously, they all knew the Collins family's purpose.

Olivia bowed her head slightly. She was embarrassed to look at them.

Newell thought that it would be easier if they knew their purpose.

Joseph coughed softly, and then said helplessly, "Well, I'm really sorry, but everything leads to a result. You'll understand, right?"

Claude, Martha and Angela were all confused.

They would understand?

What should they understand? The three of them looked at him with confused faces, and their movements were somewhat consistent

Joseph was speechless.

Why were they still pretending not to know what he meant? What was the point of doing that? Didn't they want to detain some dignity?

In order to make everyone look good, Joseph continued, "You know, it's about the engagement. We all know what happened in recent days. It made us all feel uncomfortable. Therefore, this dinner will be the last dinner we have together. We'll work together and get along as usual."

Even a fool could understand what he said.

Claude, Martha, and Angela all looked pale.

Olivia had a guilty smile on her face, but she didn't say anything.

Martha could no longer be calm. She immediately looked at Joseph with sullen face, "Mr. Collins, what do you mean by that? We've sent out the engagement Invitations and now you are telling us that this the last dinner we have together? If you call off the engagement, both of our families will be embarrassed! Besides, Angela is a girl. It would ruin her reputation!"

Martha was straightforward. They had already made their intention clear. If they still showed them a nice attitude, wouldn't they be despised? Moreover, they could be tough.

Angela looked at Jordy pitifully with tears in her eyes, "Jordy, do you also want to call off our engagement?"

Jordy looked cold. If he hadn't heard the recording that Gloria gave to him, he might compromise. But he had heard the recording and had completely lost patience with Angela.

So... He didn't even say a word, let alone gave Angela a look.

Angela was more flustered!

She looked at Olivia, "Mrs. Collins, you like me best, don't you? You also think we should call off the engagement? What happened are just understandings. They are not the truth."

Angela explained anxiously, but... all the people in the Collins family kept silent.

There were only two people in the Collins family who supported her to marry Jordy, but one of them had voluntarily proposed to call off the engagement, and the other remained noncommittal.

Olivia sighed helplessly, "Angela, it has become like this. Alas... You should accept it."

Her implication was obvious. They only wanted to call off the engagement!

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 536

Chapter 536

Who Is Really Evil Angela was speechless. She seemed to be hit by a thunderbolt. Even if she had a bad premonition before, she still had some hopes.

But now it was different! She heard their decision! They were determined to call off the engagement!

She really became the laughing stock of the world! "Mrs.

Collins, why? Why? Do you really believe those base people? I didn't do those things!"

Angela knew she should be careful with what she said.

She could only explain and deny vaguely.

Joseph sighed and then said seriously, "This is our decision.

It's us who proposed to call off the engagement.

You can blame us for it and we will compensate you."

"You'll compensate us?" Claude laughed angrily, "Although our White family is not as influential as your Collins family, we're also famous.

My daughter was dumped by your child suddenly.

You think it's something could be compensated?" Martha said sadly, "I just want to know why you want to call off the engagement." Angela only looked at Jordy, and tears in her eyes kept running down.

She almost sobbed.

But...

Jordy still looked cold and didn't give her a look.

Jordy said in a deep voice, "You know the recordings.

I have asked someone to appraise them.

They are not synthesis."

Angela was speechless.

She instantly turned pale! "Someone set us up! Jordy, don't believe that evil person!"

"That evil person?" Jordy sneered, "Who is really evil, huh?"

Angela was dumbfounded,

She stared at Jordy in disbelief, "Jordy, how could you say that?" Martha's face darkened instantly, "Mr.

Collins, what do you mean by that? Did my daughter save an ungrateful person? She almost died for saving you.

But look at you.

What are you doing? You are trying to abandon your life saver!"

Jordy didn't get mad but smiled, "I can continue investigating it and finding out the truth.

You seem to be very sure that she really saved me?"

Martha's expression stiffened.

She only felt very nervous being looked at by him! Angela's heart suddenly missed a beat!

She was in a panic! How did it come to this? The next moment, Martha suppressed her panic and said calmly, "Mr.

Collins, what do you mean? My daughter survived, so you don't think you owe her?"

Angela was really flustered!

They must stop talking about this thing! She was really afraid that Jordy would find out the truth.

If he took it up with them, nothing good would happen to them.

Most importantly, she didn't want Jordy to know about those things! She quickly grabbed Martha's hand and said with tears while squeezing her hard, "Mom...

enough.

I took the initiative to save him.

He didn't force me.

He doesn't like me because I'm not good enough." Olivia frowned.

Although she liked Angela and her parents before, how could she watch them criticize her son like that? She immediately opened her mouth with a sullen look, "Mr.

White, we didn't mention some things just because we want to detain some dignity for your family.

You should know the things mentioned in the recordings well.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 537

Chapter 537

Their Tough Attitude Claude. Martha and Angela were stunned. They knew that the Collin family was determined to call off the engagement.

Claude sneered, "Just call off the engagement if you really want.

Why are you saying these high-sounding words?" Jordy glanced at him coldly, but Claude looked at Joseph and said in a deep voice, "Since you've made up his mind, then I guess we're not meant to be in-laws.

We can agree to call off the engagement, but I want all our cooperation to be terminated!"

These remarks were forceful.

Martha also put on a serious look.

The Collins family was powerful, but the cooperation with them was also very important.

She was sure that the Collins family wouldn't agree to terminate the cooperation.

Maybe they would compromise soon.

She would like to see if they could be as tough as they were just now.

As for Angela...

She had been nervous.

She always thought that Jordy was omnipotent.

He might not care much about the cooperation with their White family.

Joseph shook his head regretfully, "Mr.

White, are you sure you want to do that?" Hearing Joseph's words, Claude thought he was going to compromise, so he immediately insisted, "I did the right thing, didn't I? It was you who insisted on calling off the engagement and made my daughter the laughing stock of the whole world.

I can only choose to do that, and I would rather give up the huge profit our company might get."

Saying that, Claude leaned back, as if Jordy would compromise and light a cigarette for him at the next moment.

Martha didn't speak, but sat quietly beside Claude.

But she looked supportive.

In their opinion, others were in no position to negotiate with the Collins family, but their White family was.

Their White Group was the Collins Group's important partner.

But...

The thing was not as simple as they thought...

Joseph pretended to be very helpless, "We respect your decision.

Tomorrow I will send someone to your company to sign the contract and give you liquidated damages according to the terms."

Claude and Martha both looked dumbfounded! Was Joseph serious? He wasn't trying to make them compromise? Claude frowned, "Mr.

Collins, are you sure?" Joseph sighed, "Yes, since you don't want to cooperate, we can't force you.

However, we will pay you the liquidated damages as compensation." The liquidated damages were a large sum of money, but for the Collins Group, it was only a small expense.

Moreover, it was more convenient for them to manage their own timber business than to cooperate with the White Group.

They just wanted to call off the engagement, but they didn't expect that they could dispel this misgiving by the way.

If the White family knew what Joseph was thinking, they might be furious.

The muscles on Claude's face were trembling.

Words failed him at this moment.

His tough attitude and posture were suddenly gone.

Even Martha's heart trembled violently.

She had always told Angela to be calm, but...

she couldn't even do that herself. It suddenly quieted down in the room, and the White family lost the power of speech.

The waiter had served all the dishes.

Joseph picked up the chopsticks and said with a smile, "Come on, let's eat." Angela was stunned.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 538

Chapter 538

Don't Push Your Luck Who was still in the mood to eat?

The waiter had gone out and closed the door.

Joseph looked at ease, "Let's eat.

We'll go our separate ways after this meal." Claude was furious.

Who would be in the mood to eat in this situation?

He didn't leave any room for maneuvering and even threatened them.

He had no other choices.

How could he go back on his words? Moreover, it was him who wanted to terminate the cooperation, normally, he should pay the liquidated damages.

However, the Collins Group took the initiative to do that, he had no other choices!

The Collins family!! Good for you! Claude doesn't mean to pick up the chopsticks at all.

If they really ate with them, wouldn't they be more humiliated?

Their daughter had been abandoned by them, and their White family would soon become the laughing stock of the world.

Should they sit here and eat with them nicely? Claude took a breath, tried his best to suppress his anger and said, clenching his teeth, "Mr.

Collins, this is too much." Joseph immediately looked at him with a confused look, "Why do you mean? I agreed to your request and even made compensation.

Now you are blaming us?"

Claude blushed with anger.

After holding it back for a long time, he said, "You came here well-prepared, didn't you?"

Newell smiled, "Mr.

White, these two children are never right for each other.

Their relationship is based on nothing.

They could be together just because Jordy felt indebted to Angela.

If he doesn't feel that way anymore, how do you think their marriage should last?"

"You..."

You..."

Claude's heart trembled with anger.

He never expected that Newell, a hypocritical asshole, would be so blunt.

This was enough to prove that they were very eager to call off the engagement! Angela was crying pitifully.

She had forgotten everything and looked at Jordy's cold face with flusters, "Jordy, you are really..."

going to dump me?" Jordy only had a sarcastic smile in his eyes.

He didn't answer.

Angela was like humiliating herself.

Patter! Her heart seemed to be broken and flusters filled her eyes.

She shook her head in agony, "Why..."

Why are you doing this to me..." Her eyes were full of pain and sadness.

Jordy lost his appetite.

He got up and said, "I have something else to do.

Enjoy your meal."

With that, he left directly.

"Jordy!" Angela shouted hysterically.

She got up and quickly ran after Jordy.

"Angela!"

Claude was worried, but he couldn't leave now.

Martha frowned, but she was motionless in her seat.

Angela hurried out as tears running down her face.

"Jordy, don't go, please..." She suddenly stretched out her hand to grab him, but...

before she could touch him, Jordy dodged, and he didn't hide the disgust in his eyes.

"Angela, I've been enough merciful to you.

Chapter 539

Chapter 539

He Was Still Blacklisted by Her A long time later, Angela seemed to react. Looking at Jordy's receding figure, she hurriedly ran to him and said in agony, "Jordy..." Jordy's cold aura made her shiver all over.

She ignored it and quickly ran to him and stopped in front of him, "Why don't you believe me? I really didn't do those things!" Jordy stopped.

He looked at the woman in front of him and said coldly, "One last chance.

Get out of my way." His cold voice pierced her heart like the sharp edge of the ice! Angela gasped in agony, and her tears kept falling down.

If it were in the past, Jordy would feel distressed.

Even if he wouldn't feel distressed, he would think she was pitiful.

But now...

He still looked so indifferent.

At this moment, Angela suddenly felt that she was out of breath and her head went blank.

Jordy walked past her, and she tried to look back at him, but...

before she turned around, she felt limp all over.

Jordy's figure turned blurred in her eyes, and she had a blackout...

Bang! Jordy had just taken two steps when he suddenly heard the sound.

He frowned deeply, but he still stopped and turned his head.

Angela had fainted on the ground, and the fret in his eyes was getting stronger.

Seeing that she was motionless on the ground, he paused, took out his mobile phone, and called his mother.

"Tell Angela's parents to come out and turn right.

She fainted."

"What happened?" Olivia sounded shocked.

However, Jordy didn't want to explain too much.

He left Angela behind, hung up the phone and left.

He thought that Angela might be pretending and was playing the old trick

However, she had probably really fainted, and he couldn't just ignore it, but...

all he could do was to make a call for her.

Now he didn't feel guilty and indebted to her anymore.

Their engagement was finally called off.

However, the Collins family didn't make it public immediately, mainly because their cooperation had not been terminated.

Everyone was off work on this day.

Jordy drove away in a fret.

Unconsciously, he came to Gloria's community.

He lifted his eyes slightly and looked at the windows in the building.

In the end, his eyes rested on the window of Gloria's house.

He squinted slightly, and seemed to see a figure in front of the window.

But he couldn't see it clearly.

He didn't know whether it was Gloria or Nydia.

He gripped the steering wheel, paused for a moment, and dialed Gloria's number.

But...

He only heard the mechanical female voice, "Sorry, the number you dialed is busy now..."

Jordy frowned and hung up.

He waited for five minutes.

He still couldn't get through.

He dialed again and again, and his expression turned more and more gloomy.

The menace in his eyes could even scare people away.

His phone number was still blacklisted by Gloria! Good! Good! He went through so difficulties and finally got rid of Angela, but what about her?

Bang!

Jordy punched the steeringwheel and then drove away.

Upstairs.

Nydia had stood in front of the window for a long time.

After watching the high-profile Rolls Royce drive away, she said, "That car has left.

It stopped here for a while.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 540

Chapter 540

It Has Gone Viral on Twitter Gloria sat on the sofa in the living room and looked at the figure by the window.

She said with a chuckle, "Why? You want to find a boyfriend?"

"Yes!" Nydia curled her lip, "But boyfriend is trouble.

Men had their own circles.

We were wrong at the beginning.

Why is there only one man in our small circle? There should be several more men in it.

Then I can choose a boyfriend from them and we can still get together in the future.

It would be very interesting!" Gloria looked at Nydia with a smile and said helplessly, "Childhood sweethearts are good, but I guess you would think it's not romantic to be with him."

Nydia liked novelty and newness very much.

Nydia smiled, raised her hand, and tucked her soft short hair, She said leisurely, "You know me.

You are truly my best friend!" "Of course." Gloria smiled and put down the laptop in her hand, "Do you mind if I invite someone overtonight?" "Who?" "Aman I met before, Lovell." "What? Mr.

Wilson?" Nydia looked at her in surprise, "You actually know him!"

Gloria nodded, "Our company wants to have a cooperation with him.

But he hasn't agreed to cooperate with us.

He still owes me four meals.

I'm going to ask him to buy me dinner tonight." "Hahaha, but if you invite him home, would it be a meal bought by him?" Nydiasaid with a smile and her eyes were filled with expectation, "I really want to meet him.

I saw him on TV.

He's very excellent! I adore him!" Gloria smiled, looked at the time and sent Lovell a message.

Gloria, (Mr.

Wilson, can you call me now?] Not long after she sent the message, her mobile phone rang and Gloria answered it,

"Mr.

Wilson, it's been a long time." "Well, it hasn't been that long.

You want me to invite you to dinner?" Lovell seemed to be in a bad mood.

Gloria smiled, "Yes, but I want to invite you to my home for dinner.

My rib was broken and I'm recuperating at home.

I can't go outside." "Your rib was broken?" Lovell sounded shocked, "What happened?"

"I had a car accident.

Lovell, Would you like to see me?" "Send me the address."

"Lovell, please come at six this evening." "Okay." They didn't say anything else.

They hung up and Gloria sent Lovell the address.

Nydia looked dumbfounded, "Seriously? You got it done so easily? Are you so close? It's said that Lovell is stubborn, and he won't care about other people's feelings at all.

And you invited him here so easily?" Gloria smiled, "I'll hire a cook to make the dinner."

Good."

Nydia was happy.

She knew that Gloria was afraid to cook when she was here.

They had already begun to prepare.

However, during breaks, Nydia checked her mobile phone.
