Chapter 561

Chapter 561 Go Crazy

She looked up and saw that Bryson had a solemn expression while staring at the Collins family's post...

Nydia panicked and quickly put the phone in Gloria's hand. Gloria looked down and saw that content with her expression changed slightly.

At this point, Jennifer was holding her phone, not knowing what to say.

Not looking at them, Bryson just stared at Gloria with distress. "Is that guy you?"

Gloria blinked and said nothing.

The Collins family had explained it so clearly that it was useless for her to argue.

Bryson suddenly took Gloria's hand. "How are you now? Why didn't you tell me? Also, why do you come to me for such an awkward reason before you recover?"

He could just feel that something was wrong with Nydia's words. And, these days, Gloria hadn't shown up, so he suspected something happened. After all, Nydia had never been so busy before.

Now, he fully understood that they could only use Nydia's busyness as an excuse. Every lawsuit Gloria was involved in would be in the news, which would be known by him, so Gloria's work couldn't be an excuse for them.

He was worried. "Gloria, how are you now?"

The crash was serious, and it was witnessed. There was an uproar about it online because it is a murder. Bryson must have learned this. However, he didn't expect that guy to be Gloria. Thinking of this, he felt his heart shaking.

Gloria smiled. "I won't come if I'm not feeling well. Nydia has been taking care of me all this time, so I'm fine. Can you see just now that I'm a seriously injured person?"

"You are good at disguising!"

Bryson got a worried look. Gloria had a broken rib, which hurt much.

However, he was lying quietly on the bed.

He blamed himself more and more. Gloria quickly took his hand. "Don't think too much. I didn't tell you because I didn't want it to affect your recovery. I'm almost healed now, so now it's your turn to get better."

Bryson sighed and tried to say something. Gloria smiled and said, "Don't say anything. I know my state. We'll be leaving shortly."

Knowing her character, Bryson nodded helplessly while swearing that he would never be so useless in the future. He must protect his most cherished girl!

After a moment of silence in the house again, Gloria said, "Let me see what the Collins family said."

Jennifer looked at the phone and couldn't help but say, "I feel like the White family might be going to jail this time. The Collins family's counterattack is too violent."

[In response to Ms. White's remarks, our company responded as follows:

1. It's not true that Miss White saved Mr. Collins.
2. The cooperation was canceled by the White family.
3. Mr. White and his wife and daughter had misconduct and repeated attempts to harm Gloria, the granddaughter of Ms. Collins. At a banquet in San Diego, Gloria is pushed into the water but rescued, and they cause a car accident. At present, we have cooperated with the police and submitted evidence. Based on their character, the Collins family decided to stop working together.)

It was followed by a series of evidence and recordings.

Nydia couldn't help taking a deep breath. "This news is a killer! Seeing this, the White family may go crazy!"

Some of those recordings were from Gloria, and some were found by the Collins family.

Seeing this, Gloria was a little surprised. She didn't expect Jordy to find the person who pushed her into the water and related evidence. She smiled. "Jordy is really capable."

Bryson looked at Gloria subconsciously, worried. "Gloria, you..."

Nydia and Jennifer looked at her too. Gloria looked at them curiously. "Why are you looking at me like that?"

Bryson sighed. "Nothing."

Jennifer couldn't help but laugh. "Bryson is worried that you'll fall in love with Jordy again. After all, he's doing it to protect you."

Gloria sneered. "You think too highly of me."

Bryson frowned. "Don't say that."

Gloria smiled and said nothing. In Jordy's eyes, she was worthless, and Gloria knew very well that the Collins family did this just to let more people see the true face of the White family.

After a pause, she said again, "But I have to say it's probably the order from Grandma. She's been protecting me. She must be very angry when knowing this, so she might make it public to get justice for me. She didn't call the police when it happened. But now, they have all been made public, and the police will also file a case and investigate them."

Nydia couldn't help nodding. "Yes. It's possible. Ms. Collins has always been very fond of you."

After they continued talking for a while, Bryson said again, "Gloria, just go back, or I will be worried."

Nydia glanced at her watch and nodded. "Okay. We originally planned to stay here for an hour.

Gloria, you can't overwork yourself. Let's go back."

Gloria blinked and looked at Bryson, nodding. "I'll be back tomorrow."

"No. Wait a few days. See you when I'm out of the hospital."

Gloria smiled. "All right."

Bryson looked at her tenderly, not wanting to look away from her.

After chatting for a while, Gloria and Nydia left.

They were sitting in a car while Nydia said in embarrassment, "I didn't expect to be exposed in the end, but it seems better."

"Just let it be." Gloria looked outside, thinking about the White Group.

Nydia sighed and said nothing.

At this point, there was an uproar on social media.

Everyone was talking frantically.

@Brian, (Oh my god! Killer News! I didn't expect the White family to be like this! People were blaming the Collins family before, but the recordings came out one after the other.)

@Barry, (The White family is too despicable. They lied to the Collins family but still showed evidence. Well, I want to see how the White family solves it.)

@Zackery, [They can't do anything but go to jail. At first, Gloria didn't want to look into it, but they actually took the initiative to provoke her. I think Ms. Collins is avenging Gloria this time!]

Nydia laughed while reading the comments. "Gloria, I just saw someone in the comments saying that Jordy wants to reconcile with you. After all this, he must have known who is the right one. The guy also said that Jordy would tearfully beg you to forgive him. I seem to be able to see that scene and wonder how Jordy would beg you in tears."

Chapter 563 Men's Thoughts

Gloria ignored her with the corners of her mouth trembling.

But Nydia was still laughing while continuing to read the comments. "It feels so real! Gloria, if that day comes, please order him to kneel! It won't be easy to ask a lover's forgiveness."

"Please stop." Gloria felt her heart pounding.

Jordy wouldn't beg for her forgiveness.

She thought it was ridiculous.

However, Nydia didn't stop laughing. "I'm telling the truth. Jordy is more attentive to you now than ever, isn't he? He used to ignore you before, but this time, he's protecting you himself."

"It's just for his purposes." Gloria smiled sarcastically. She would rather believe that Jonathan loved her than that Jordy still hadn't forgotten her. Even if he helped her, it was because he had orders from her grandma.

She already knew everything and would not be as ignorant as before.

"Purpose? Are you talking about the cooperation plan? Please wake up. At present, Collins Group and White Group are at odds with each other, so they will not cooperate anymore. Are you thinking too much? He did this to you definitely not because of the cooperation plan. It's because he loves you!"

Speaking of which, Nydia recalled Gloria's first day in the hospital.

"You were in a coma that day, so you don't know that Jordy was really nervous. I could feel the tension all over his body. It stands to reason that you just had a broken rib, which could be cured by any hospital. But, he was worried about you and asked Carlos to examine you. Based on his attitude, I could feel something abnormal."

Gloria looked at Nydia with her lashes trembling and saw the suspicion in her eyes, which meant she was thinking about what happened that day.

Nydia was someone who didn't lie to friends, except in cases like Bryson's hospitalization. That was a white lie.

But for this, Nydia didn't have to lie.

So what she said was true.

She knew Jordy had some purpose, but he wouldn't lie to Nydia because his pride wouldn't allow him to

So, Nydia didn't know what he did it for.

For a moment, Gloria seemed to be thinking about this problem.

"Gloria." Suddenly, Nydia looked at Gloria again.

She said solemnly, "If Jordy really asked you to reconcile, would you agree? Have you really forgotten him now?"

Gloria just smiled. "If I haven't, why am I so adamant about breaking all ties with him?"

Nydia got a confused look.

However, Gloria knew it all and didn't see Jordy regretting it. Nydia then breathed a sigh of relief and nodded, "I won't worry as long as you can make up your mind. I'm just afraid that you'll regret it and be wronged like before. Men are always ignorant. You were so kind to him before, so he'll think he can treat you like he did before after remarrying. If you agree to remarry, it means you love him. Then, he'll keep hurting you! I know how men think!"

Chapter 564 The Voice of Anger

As she spoke, Nydia had a sarcastic look.

Gloria looked at her and tried to speak but didn't know what to say.

She knew that Nydia said it because of her father.

Nydia sneered. "But it doesn't matter. We just need to be careful in the future. At least..."

Nydia's eyes suddenly lit up. Gloria looked at her, confused.

Nydia happily said, "Men are all the same. Gloria, why don't we give up getting married? We can adopt a child or two and watch them grow up. That way, I'll be happy too!"

Gloria couldn't help but laugh. "A really bold idea."

"What? Isn't that nice? It will set us free, won't it? If I see a handsome guy later, I can even strike up a conversation with him. When I get home, I still have you, my best friend. Of course, if you meet a handsome guy, you can do as I say. What a happy life!"

Gloria covered her forehead helplessly. "Do you want to be a female jerk?"

"Everyone has a sexual need! While I haven't done that with a guy, I've seen others do it, so I know a little bit about it," Nydia said without hesitation. Hearing this, Gloria fell silent, thinking she couldn't talk to her about it.

Nydia then continued to read the tweets.

In the White family.

Martha seemed to have forgotten everything and devoted herself to taking care of her daughter. However, Angela said and did nothing every day.

Angela was visibly thin, which made Martha extremely worried.

At this moment, she was holding a bowl of porridge in her hand. Seeing Angela sitting silently on the bed, she asked with distress, "Angela, eat something, okay? If you don't, I don't know when you will recover."

Seeing that Martha had put the spoon to her lips, Angela turned her head immediately. "I don't want to eat it. Take it away."

Martha couldn't help but sigh. "Angela..."

"Mom, don't force me, okay? I really don't want to eat it!"

Seeing her irritated again, Martha said quickly, "Okay. As you wish. Let's talk then."

Angela lay down and covered her head with a quilt to isolate herself from the outside world

Martha could hear her voice from under the covers. "I want to be alone. Get out."

Martha was silent and didn't want to go out!

She sighed and said nothing.

Martha reluctantly picked up her phone again to check the latest updates.

In order not to disturb her daughter, she turned off her phone.

At this moment, she found a lot of unread messages, and she immediately turned her phone to silent mode.

Martha's expression changed instantly when she saw the message from her assistant!

The Collins family! How do they...

Martha was furious, but to prevent Angela from seeing the message, she got up, took Angel's phone away, and said softly, "Angela, if you want to be alone, go to sleep. Ring the bell beside the bed if you need me."

Angela didn't respond to her. Martha glanced at her by the bed and walked out.

As she walked to the door, her phone vibrated again. It was a call from Claude, and Martha answered.

Before saying anything, Martha heard Claude's angry voice. "The police called me! I'm heading to the police station now!"

Chapter 565 The Counter-attack

Martha yelled hysterically, "The Collins family! A bunch of bastards!"

Claude had a gloomy expression. "How is Angela?"

"Eats nothing and always ignores me. I took her phone away when I saw the news."

"Since the Collins family has done this, we must fight back!"

“Do you know what to say when you go to the police station? These things have nothing to do with us. But the police will observe your expression, so don’t feel pressured in from of them. You weren’t involved. Don’t be nervous.”,

Claude snorted. “Of course! I know it. Why will I be nervous? I’m just assisting with the investigation. Also, Angela is mentally and physically ill. Take care of her. If she doesn’t get better, take her to another hospital.”

“Another hospital?”

Martha’s expression changed, but she knew Claude meant more than he said.

Claude snorted. “Angela has major mental problems, so will you continue to let her recuperate here? She hasn’t gotten better and is getting weaker and weaker for so long. Obviously, the treatment is not right.”

Martha took a deep breath. That tweet made it clear that this had something to do with Angela, but apparently, the police said something to Claude on the phone. Claude couldn’t say much right now. It seemed like someone was around him.

Martha didn’t dare ask any further and said, “Okay. I’ll do this now.”

After hanging up, Martha asked her assistant to go through hospital procedures and went back to the ward again.

Seeing Angela up and looking for her phone, Martha was a little flustered.

“Angela, this hospital can’t make you better for the time being, so I need to take you away.”

Angela was taken aback and turned back slowly. “It’s our own hospital and the top tier in Los Angeles, so where can we go?”

This was the most she had said recently. And, Finding her phone lost and suddenly hearing her mother say this, she guessed something even if she was in a bad mental state.

Angela looked at her. “Where’s my phone? Is it with you?”

Martha froze for a moment, looked into Angela’s eyes, and said with a smile, “You just wanted to rest, so I think the phone will disturb you. After all, you’re not in a good state.”

“Give it to me.” Angela reached out to Martha.

Martha frowned slightly. "Pack up your stuff and change your clothes first. We need to get out of the hospital."

"No. I'm not going anywhere. I'm fine and comfortable."

"You're in a very bad state of mind right now." With a disapproving expression, Martha tried to say something, but Angela couldn't help but say, "How long are you trying to hide it from me? Do you really think I'm a fool and don't know anything? Your weird behaviors might make me worse, you know?"

Martha's expression changed slightly.

But Angela said coldly, "Give it to me. I want to know what the Collins family has said!"

Martha hesitated. If she got the phone, Angela would be crushed, but if not, she would definitely think more..
