

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 596

Chapter 596 What Do You Want?

Gloria smiled and nodded, "It's all over. Let's not mention it anymore. We are best friends! Don't let such a trifle bother you! I understand you as you understand me."

Hearing this, Jennifer breathed a sigh of relief. She nodded solemnly and stopped apologizing, but she had learned a lesson and swore that she would never be so impulsive anymore.

It was OK if such things happened once or twice because Gloria would forgive her. But if she always did things like this, even though Gloria did not mind it, there would be estrangement or conflicts between them sooner or later. But she did not want to lose such a good friend at all.

After the three of them had talked for a while, Gloria walked back.

But she had not expected to see a tall man standing outside her apartment as soon as she got out of the elevator

Gloria frowned, and Jordy was looking at her coldly with a sneer.

"Gloria!" he said in a sullen voice.

Gloria didn't want to talk to him, let alone let him into her apartment. Therefore, she turned around and went back into the elevator.

But before the doors closed, he suddenly held one door with one hand. After the elevator doors were forced to stop, they gradually opened.

Gloria glared at him. She did not want to talk with him, but she was really annoyed by his constant

pestering

So, she said tiredly, "Jordy, what do you want?"

She was really upset when facing him.

Jordy stepped into the elevator and directly pressed one after the doors closed.

Gloria frowned in silence. She didn't want to be involved with him too deeply. Moreover, her wound hadn't healed yet, and she didn't want it to be reopened, so she did not argue with him.

But she didn't know Jordy actually remembered her wound. And that was why he had not pulled her back just now.

They quickly reached the first floor. During this period, Jordy had not spoken, and his cold vibes were scary, but Gloria was not afraid.

When she stepped forward to go out, he suddenly grabbed her wrist but did not exert any force, and then, he walked out together with her without reopening her wound at all.

Gloria stopped her steps, looked at him coldly, and said, "What do you want? Everything is going on according to your plan now, and I've never hindered you! Jordy, when are you going to let go of me?"

Jordy looked at her coldly and sneered, "Everything is going on according to my plan? Do you mean you are helping fulfill my wish?"

His voice sounded extremely cold and ironic.

Then, he said in a deep voice, "Get in my car."

Gloria frowned, "What the hell are you going to do?"

He was totally insane now, and she hated him the most when he behaved like this!

"Gloria, don't let me repeat my words!"

Gloria raised her arm to shake his hand off, but he held it so tightly that she could not break free at all.

She frowned at him but knew she was no match for him because she didn't have the strength. Therefore, she followed him to his car obediently in the end.

After she was stuffed into the passenger seat, Jordy soon sat in the driver's seat.

Gloria turned to look at him and asked speechlessly, "What the hell are you going to do?"

Chapter 597 Depression

Jordy was temperamental and abstruse, so Gloria felt speechless every time.

After he closed the car door, he turned to look at her.

She stared at him, waiting for him to speak. She wanted to see what tricks he would play and what nonsense he would say this time!

After a moment of silence, Jordy asked in a deep voice, "What's the relationship between you and Bryson?"

Gloria was stunned, looked at him in surprise, and said, "It's none of your business."

Jordy's face instantly turned gloomy, and he glanced at her coldly and laughed in anger, "It's none of my business?"

Gloria frowned, wondering what was wrong with her words.

Jordy gritted his teeth, suddenly grabbed her wrist, raise it, and snarled savagely, "Gloria, are you heartless?"

Hadn't she seen what he had done these days?

She must know!

Gloria frowned at him and asked in confusion, "What the hell are you talking about?"

He was really strange.

"My grandma wants to see you."

Gloria was speechless.

This trick again?

She even suspected she had heard it wrong.

Gloria looked at him in puzzlement and said, "If she wants to see me, why didn't she call me? Why did she ask you to tell me about it every time?"

Jordy regained his calmness, tapped the steering wheel with his slender fingers, and impatiently said, "Don't you know why she did it?"

Irown became deeper. Apparently, she did not believe his words at all.

"I'll go see her when I have time, but I won't go with you."

"Gloria, my patience is limited."

Gloria sneered and retorted without hesitation, "Since when do you have patience? Besides, your patience has nothing to do with me! Jordy, we have divorced! I hope you can keep this in mind. Don't let me mistakenly think that you regret it now."

Jordy's face became very gloomy, but he didn't refute her words as if he didn't bother to argue as if he didn't bother to argue with her.

Taking a deep breath, Gloria calmed down, looked at him, and said in a deep voice, "What brought you here today?"

Jordy's face remained calm, and he didn't say anything after a long while.

But Gloria felt that he was up to something else today.

"Let's get back together."

Hearing this, Gloria was shocked and suspected she had heard it wrong.

She then looked at him in confusion and asked, "What the hell is wrong with you?"

She would never believe he had fallen in love with her.

So, she was sure he must have some ulterior motive that was beneficial to the Collins Group.

Seeing that Gloria was confused and shocked but not delighted, Jordy showed a sullen look.

Since he had finished speaking, he had stared at her to try to see something through her eyes, and now, he felt depressed.

“I want to get back together with you,” he patiently repeated with the same tone and attitude as if he were quite tolerant toward her.

But his words were authoritative without any guilt or room for negotiation.

If he had said so to any other woman, she would have been on cloud nine now.

Gloria was amused by his words. She had been annoyed just now but was all smiles at this moment.

When Jordy looked into her black smiling eyes, his heart skipped a beat, and his cold vibes seemed to be melting because of her smile.

He looked at her without speaking, waiting for her response

But Gloria soon said with a grin, “Jordy, I know you have an ulterior motive in getting back together with me. You want to cooperate with me, but the same man never crosses the same river twice.”

“I don’t have any ulterior motive,” he said word by word while looking at her coldly.

She smiled, “Fine! You can say whatever you want.”

But she would not believe him.

When the look in Jordy's eyes gradually became sharp, Gloria said casually, "The White Group is cooperating with you now. No matter what your ulterior motive is, you must have gotten the information and know that they must hold on for a year. You gave the White Group an opportunity, and I will cooperate with you in business soon. What else goal do you want to achieve by getting back together with me?"

As soon as she finished speaking, her expression turned slightly serious, and the smile on her lips gradually froze as if she had thought of something.

Meeting his cold eyes, she smiled sarcastically, "In order to defeat Jonathan, you would rather sacrifice your marriage?"

Jordy said with a cold look in his eyes, "I can give you three promises. First, I will never divorce you again. Second, you can give birth to my child if you want. Third, the White Group will never collapse, and you will take it over."

Gloria's heart throbbed violently, and the look in her eyes froze for a moment.

She suddenly felt heartbroken.

If she had heard him make such promises before, she would have been extremely happy even though she knew he was in love with another woman.

Although he was cold and ruthless, he was a man of his word.

Since he dared to say so, he must dare to do it.

That was to say, he would keep his promise as long as she did not betray him.

If those things had not happened, she would have agreed readily.

But...

Gloria smiled coldly, "I will retaliate against the White Group by myself. As for you... I really don't want to have anything to do with you anymore. I don't hate you, but I will always remember how you have hurt me. Even if it is a contractual marriage, I will not agree because I am not that broad-minded. Mr. Collins, why don't you try to cooperate with Rachel Roberts? She can be your good partner."

After finishing speaking, she intended to open the car door to get out, but he had locked the doors, so she leaned back in the seat and looked at his cold profile.

When she was about to ask him to open the car door, he suddenly started the car and put the gear on, and then, the car rushed out like lightning

He was angry with her because she had kicked him to another woman as if he were a ball.

Gloria frowned, "Where are you taking me."

Jordy ignored her and continued driving.

The speed was fast, but his driving skill was good, so the car was stable and safe.

No matter what Gloria said on the way, Jordy ignored her, let alone let her off the car.

After more than half an hour, he finally stopped the car after reaching the destination.

When Gloria saw the villa, cracks appeared on her icy face.

Jordy unlocked the car doors and said solemnly, "Get out of the car."

Gloria's eyelashes trembled slightly, but she didn't move because she had a deep antipathy to this place.

She thought she would rather stay in this car, although it was his car.

Seeing that she didn't move, Jordy got out of the car first, circled to the door of the passenger seat, and opened it.

But Gloria still did not intend to get off, so Jordy snapped, "Get off."

She frowned at him and asked in confusion, "Why did you bring me here?"

"Don't you want to take a look? You haven't been back for a long time."

He had deliberately accented the word "back" and looked at her meaningfully.

Gloria subconsciously frowned and said with disgust, "I don't need to come back. This is not my place.”

“Get off the car!” Jordy said in a tougher tone.

Gloria frowned. But this was his car, so she couldn't stay inside all the time, so she got off in the end.

“Mr. Collins, what the hell did you bring me here for? Do you think pushing for an emotional feeling will work for me? Are you really so naive?”

Although she had said so, she still believed Jordy had some ulterior purpose.

Jordy glanced at her coldly, but his cold face was not ferocious now.

It was getting dark, so his face looked more incomprehensible now, and there was some weird expression in his eyes.

This time, Jordy grabbed her wrist before she could dodge him without waiting for her response.

Gloria couldn't break free, so her eyes were full of annoyance!

D*mn it!

She was indeed no match for him!

Seeing her still not moving, Jordy frowned as if he had completely run out of impatient and said, “Do you need me to carry you in?”

Gloria was shocked to hear that.

Her eyes were full of accusations and anger, but she couldn't get rid of him although she had tried her best Jordy was incredibly good at controlling his strength. Although he was holding her wrist tightly, he did not hurt her at all.

“Jordy, do you know you're bringing shame to yourself?”

As soon as finishing speaking, Gloria felt cold as if the surrounding temperature were dropping rapidly!

Jordy suddenly stopped his steps and turned around to look at the stubborn woman.

Gloria thought he was going to say something harsh to humiliate her, but he suddenly picked her up and carried her in his arms

Gloria exclaimed, "Jordy, what are you doing?"

She was afraid of falling, so she subconsciously held his neck.

He had never hugged her since they had gotten married, but now...

She was actually in his arms!

He was actually holding her as if she were a princess...

And she had dreamed of such a scene before.

Gloria had goosebumps all over her body and snapped with a pale face, "Put me down!!"

Jordy immediately stepped inside the villa, giving her no chance to escape.

But when Gloria was struggling, she did not notice his body tensed up and became stiff.

He had never hugged her like this before. Smelling her tender fragrance, he was actually turned on, and this unprecedented feeling made him frown with discomfort.

He then closed his eyes for a second, and when he opened them, the look in his eyes had become calm and clear again.

The villa had been empty since she had left.

As soon as they got inside, Gloria smelt a fresh scent as if the fragrance of the perfume she used to wear.

"Put me down! Are you insane?"

Jordy closed the door and slowly put her down.

Gloria didn't want to go in, so she turned around and walked outward, but he had changed the password of the door. If she wanted to go out, she needed his fingerprints.

She instantly looked at him angrily and said, "What the hell do you want?"

When she yelled at him, she felt like a shrew.

But Jordy was stubborn. No matter whether she spoke with him calmly or yelled at him wildly, he remained unmoved.

Gloria was so angry that she was suddenly at a loss for words, and she had never expected Jordy could restrain himself so well.

But she could not help looking around the villa unconsciously.

Here...

This place used to be their home. No, it used to be her own home. After all, Jordy had never lived here before.

But she had decorated the villa carefully and even repeatedly asked his grandmother about what he liked and disliked.

If Jordy happened to dislike something she liked, she would give up putting it in the villa.

She had lived here for three years, so she still had feelings for this place.

She had not liked things here being touched by others and wanted to arrange everything by herself, so she had not even hired a maid.

Everything used to be taken care of by herself, including the plants.

She had made a lot of effort to take care of this villa, so she missed this place but also had an antipathy toward it.

After Jordy brought her over, he had won.

Gloria stood still and didn't want to move.

She was irritable, while he was extraordinarily at ease.

He glanced at her lightly and said calmly. "Go upstairs and have a look. I haven't changed anything you arranged."

Gloria's heart skipped a beat again.

She had really made painstaking efforts for her home.

Jordy was very picky, but even he had never had any dissatisfaction with this place and even felt it amazingly comfortable.

But he used to turn his nose up at it.

After the divorce, he had come here several times. After seeing the warm decoration here, he had always felt depressed

"Do you need me to carry you upstairs?"

Hearing this, Gloria was shocked. She couldn't get out now and was no match for him.

She knew he really dared to carry her up, so she did not dare to say anything to anger him."

In desperation, she could only obey his order and walk upstairs.

After all, it was not a big deal to have a look.

It would not put her life or money at risk. She just needed to have a look at the place where she used to live, so there was no need to feel disgusted.

Gloria ignored Jordy and accelerated her steps when going upstairs.

He followed behind her and did not feel angry or happy after seeing her reactions.

On the second floor, Gloria glanced around. As expected, nothing had changed at all. Even the flowers she had planted on the balcony were well taken care of. When she saw this, her eyes flashed with confusion.

It must be Jordy that had ordered people to take care of them.

But she could not believe he would do such a thing. After all, he was a cold man.

Moreover, he hated her so much. Why had he kept the flowers she had planted here? Was there any misunderstanding?

Gloria looked at him subconsciously in silence, but he had long understood the question in her eyes.

He had never bothered to explain to others, but this time, he took the initiative to make it clear, saying, "I asked people to take care of them." His voice was calm, but there was a hint of awkwardness in his words. Gloria would have noticed it if she had listened carefully.
