

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 606-610

Chapter 606

She saw the caller ID and picked it up. Hi, Christina. How are you doing? Christina visited Gloria when Gloria was recuperating at home. They had been in touch for the past few months. Gloria smiled. I've recovered and I have come back for work. Christina frowned slightly. Are you sure you can deal with work in your condition? Yes, I can deal with your case at any time. Call me if you want me to deal with it. Gloria answered. At ease. Christina's side. They are still trying to delay and even intercepted the evidence I submitted. But they have set the time. The court will be in session in seven days. Gloria nodded. No problem. Gloria, I'm counting on you. My son's custody can't be taken away again, OK? I know. Don't worry. After talking for a while, they hung up and Gloria focused on her work again. She nearly worked in the department, so the company made things easy for her. Angela was still in the mental hospital and couldn't get out. The mental hospital became her haven and prison. Soon Gloria was absorbed in her work. The morning passed very quickly. Her mobile phone suddenly rang ten minutes before the lunch break. Vincent, are you guys free in the lunch break? Let's have a meal together. It was a message from her hacker group. They would occasionally contact each other. Recently, these two people were both considerate of her, so it was them who took the orders. Sometimes Gloria would feel embarrassed and rushed to take some. Gloria, where to eat? Braxton? Sure. Vincent, the restaurant downstairs of Gloria's company. I'm here. I'll order now, Gloria. Okay. Braxton okay. After work, Gloria hurried to the private room. According to the address sent by Vincent, Vincent was alone in the room. He sat in a chair, wearing a simple gray casual coat and looked very smart. But after one knew Vincent, he would know that Vincent was only sweet to people who were close to him and important to him. He was always indifferent to outsiders and would never take them seriously. But once he really accepted someone, this person would be lucky. Whether he was a friend and a family to Vincent, Vincent was very handsome. Even if he stood beside Jonathan and Geordie, he wouldn't be overshadowed. His deep eyes were the most attractive. Many women flung themselves to him. For them, they were like flying moths darting into the fire. The woman who fell in love with him never came to any good end because he didn't love anyone. The moment he saw Gloria, he put down his mobile phone, tapped on the table with his knuckles and smiled softly at her. You came here so quickly. Gloria nodded with a smile and sat on the chair that was two seats away from him. This place is near my company. You chose it for me. I should come here quickly, shouldn't I? Tut Vincent raised an eyebrow. When did you become so glib. Gloria chuckled. I have no choice. We're in such a society, and I have to be glib. Vincent looked at Gloria helplessly. You've lost a lot of weight. Gloria smiled. You should say, I'm glad to see you keep such a good figure. Then the door of their box was opened.

Chapter 607 The same faith.

They looked at the door. At the same time, a waitress stood at the door. She smiled and raised her hand to the man behind her. Sir, here we are. Braxton nodded and strode in. He was in customized black suit with a sapphire blue bow tie. He had a simple hairstyle and an angular face. His thin and sexy lips under his tall nose were slightly curved. Longtime no see? Gloria said with a smile. Yeah, longtime nose. He was only saying that to Gloria. Vincent and Braxton lived near each other and often played games together. Occasionally they would go out to have a meal together. But it wasn't convenient for Gloria and she didn't want to be a hacker anymore. So they didn't contact her very often. After Braxton sat down, Vincent looked at the waitress and said, serve the food if it is ready. Okay. Please wait a moment. After that, she went out and closed the door. Braxton sized Gloria up and frowned slightly. Why are you much thinner than when I last saw you? Gloria said helplessly. I've been like this for years. Braxton didn't believe what Gloria said. He said with resignation, you should stop yourself from getting thinner. Girls should be plump. Gloria was speechless. She wasn't boning. However, she did not continue to talk about this with them, but just smiled. How are you doing recently? Same old. But I might get married soon. Braxton shrugged as if he didn't care. Gloria immediately looked at him with a puzzled look. You are getting married. Her eyes were filled with surprise. Vincent looked calm. Obviously he had got the news. Braxton also looked calm. Yes, I'm old enough for marriage, and my family rushed me to get married. So I decided to do that. Who are you going to marry? Braxton was Iverson's only son, and he would take over their family business in the future. Therefore, being hackers was just their personal hobby. Would they stick to this? Hobby depended on what would happen in the future. The young lady of the Ramirez family. Gloria was surprised. Why didn't I see any report about it? When will you get married? Braxton showed a contemptuous. In two or three months. It will be announced then. He said this casually. Although he did not refuse to get married, he rejected this marriage. Gloria pursed her lips and whispered, you might feel nothing when you see her and just think it's a marriage of convenience. But many people fall in love with each other after getting married. Braxton curled his lip and didn't seem to care much about it. It doesn't matter whom I marry. He had never been very interested in women, and he always regarded Gloria as his bro. All right, this might also happen to me in the future, Vincent said calmly. Gloria looked at him in surprise. Are you also she didn't finish speaking, but they knew what she meant. Vincent just smiled casually. We should consider these things at this age, shouldn't we? He didn't say no, but he was implying that he and Braxton had the same fate.

Chapter 608 misgivings

Gloria frowned, but sometimes she couldn't give any advice or do anything to help them. In fact, they had the same fate, didn't they? She thought she got married for love. But what happened in the end? If they loved each other, they would be more heartbroken when they broke up, wouldn't they? People like Vincent and Braxton would never be bothered by relationships. And relationships were not necessary for their lives. After a pause, she smiled softly. It's good you don't have to feel those pains. Sometimes being sentimental will only wear people down. Braxton just smiled. Forget about it. We received the new order today and it's interesting. Gloria wondered what order. She had been busy with her work today and didn't check the orders. Vincent raised an eyebrow slightly and fixed his eyes on Gloria. It has something to do with you. Maybe you can take it. Gloria took out her mobile phone with a confused look. It has something to do with me saying that, she clicked into the background. The hacker established by the three of them was famous all over the world. Everyone wanted to fawn on them for it. If someone wanted their service, he must send all his identity information to them. 1s This was their hard and fast rule. However, even if some clients didn't want to do that, it was easy for them to find out their real identities. Therefore, those who wanted their help would never dare to play tricks. When she saw the client, Gloria suddenly smiled. What stumped my uncle recently? Logically speaking, Claude didn't need to do anything in person with such an identity. But he exposed his identity for this, which was enough to prove that he couldn't trust others on this thing. Gloria was curious about what Claude was going to do. Vincent just showed a smile slowly. It's up to you whether to take it or not. Gloria smiled. It's an order from my uncle. Of course. I'll take it for the sake of family affection. Vincent was speechless. Braxton sneered. I'm afraid your uncle is about to cry. Gloria just smiled. Braxton looked at her. When are you going to take the white group back? Do you need our help? Gloria shook her head with a smile. Not for the time being. I want to take it back in a rightful way instead of seizing it with tricks. If she played some tricks, she could get her shears back. Now the contract was not strict enough and she could find many loopholes in it. But she didn't want to do that. If she did, she couldn't win the hearts of people. Vincent nodded. Okay. Let us know if you need help. We will always be supportive. Braxton also nodded and looked at Gloria at ease. Yes, we are friends. Don't feel embarrassed. Just come to us if you need help. Gloria felt warm. I have you guys. I won't have any misgivings. Vincent smiled and Braxton raised an eyebrow. I hope you really think so. Vincent and Braxton had similar characters, but they were different. Vincent was mild and he didn't talk much, but Braxton would be more talkative in front of his friends. But sometimes he would be mean.

Chapter 609 You Are Crazy

"Do you really want to take this order?" Vincent looked at Gloria. "Yes, I'll take it." Gloria smiled with a very relaxed look. After chatting for a while, they dispersed. Before they left, they told Gloria that she could turn to them if she needed help and that they were friends. Gloria nodded with a smile, "OK." These two people were really Gloria's friends. They were not interested in women or men. After they left, Gloria went back to her office. She clicked into the background, saw the order, and directly clicked on "accept."

His order was taken, his eyes lit up! He said at once, "They took the order!" Martha looked at him with shock, "They have taken the order? What you want to hack into is the Collins Group, and they really took the order?" "They just want money." However, just after Claude finished speaking, he turned sullen. "Damn it! They are simply blackmailing us!" "Ah?" Martha was puzzled. She walked over quickly and looked at Claude's mobile phone. After she read the message on it, she frowned deeply, "Are they serious? It's a huge sum of money!" Claude was so sullen! "If we can break into it, we won't need to be so gingerly anymore, and the Collins Group will stop spiting us like this." Martha shook her head in disbelief, "You are crazy."

prin crazy? Heh... Do we have other choices! www am I rion't do this, how are we supposed to stay in our White Group?I already have no power in the company though I am still the chairman." "But we still got the shares. Claude. I advised you not to make it so big. We can't afford to offend the Collins family!" Martha looked at Claude in disbelief. He was really crazy, which gave people creeps. In the past, it was Martha who had always wanted to take action against the Collins Group, and Claude would try to stop her, but now... their roles were reversed. Martha was really afraid that Claude would act rashly. The Collins Group was like a hard stone, and they were like an egg. How could they resist them? She was going to break down! Claude snorted coldly, "I thought it was impossible before, but now... there is nothing impossible. I have inquired about the harters they made a very famous team in the world, and they would protect the client's personal information. I do this in person. Nobody will know it's me. Even if they fail, the Collins Group could do nothing with us." You are not afraid that the hackers of the Collins Group will be more professional than them? What should we do if they find your information when we attack them?" Martha persuaded him again. But Claude only showed a contemptuous look, "Come on, they are the most top-notch hackers in the world! They won't fail!" Martha laughed angrily, "Take a good look at their reply! Read it carefully!"

Chapter 610 you are a bad influence

Ice. For fear that Claude wouldn't read it carefully, Martha read it out directly. This program has a total of 20 floors of secret locks. We want $100 million for each floor. You'll pay us at one time when we hack into one floor. If we fail, there will be no refund. Click pay and agree to the terms to continue. Martha bit her teeth. Look, they are like blackmailing you. 20 floors means $2 billion. What if she pretends to fail to hack into the last floor? Martha was extremely disappointed with him. She persuaded him again. Aren't you afraid that they have a connection to the Collins Group? I have checked it. They have not cooperated with the Collins Group. Claude sneered and looked at her with disdain. Martha laughed with anger. Are you serious? They are hackers. How do you know what you found was true or not? You know nothing. We should lie low and not do things openly as you did. Don't intervene in my business again. Just go and take care of Angela. Martha shook her head in disbelief and resignation. She said slowly, oh my God, you are really crazy. Do you know what you will face once the Collins Group knows what you do? And how can you get so much money? I told you to stay out of my business. Get out. Claude got up angrily and pushed Martha out. Claude you are out of your mind. You have to stop. You have to stop. I can afford it. I have $2 billion. It doesn't matter even if I fail. Get out of here. After that claw closed the door, Martha knocked on the door angrily. Open the door. Go away. Don't stay here and embarrass yourself. Martha knocked on the door several times, but she could do nothing outside. She didn't know what to do, so she left dejectedly. But she was getting more and more worried after she knew what Claude was going to do. Her eyelid kept twitching. As for Gloria, she was sitting at her computer desk in a good mood. She had received Claude's payment. Vincent and Braxton could see Gloria's reply to Claude. Vincent wow, you are awesome. Braxton be careful. Don't let him find you. Gloria I will. Don't worry. She attached an emoji to the message. Vincent ha ha. I knew you were up to something, but I didn't expect that you would do this. Gloria claudé swallowed so much money from my family, he must spit it out. Braxton good. When you try to break into the 20th floor, you can tell him that you have failed. If he has a problem with that, we'll deal with him. When Gloria saw this, she chuckled. Gloria OK. You two are a bad influence. Vincent and Braxton both sent funny emojis. Gloria smiled softly and put down her mobile phone. She finished all the work of the day in the morning. Then she began to crack the program of the Collins Group. She did this quickly and skilfully. Even if she had broken into one floor, the people in the Collins Group didn't. Gloria wandered around the secret information of the Collins Group without any trace.
