

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 611-615

Chapter 611

Who Are They?

After breaking into the first floor, she directly sent something to Claude to prove it.

Claude was ecstatic instantly. He paid for the second floor in the link given by Gloria.

About another hour later, the second floor was also cracked. He was overjoyed and paid for the third floor!

He had already paid 2.5 billion to Gloria!

Gloria took her time to do the job. In fact, it didn't take her that long to break into those floors, but she wanted Claude to wait in anxiety and feel that it wasn't easy to do this thing.

In the evening, Gloria gave him the evidence of breaking into this floor.

There was the message below the evidence.

–[That's all the work I did today. I'll continue tomorrow. Get the money prepared. No tab.]

Claude turned pale slightly. No tab.

He had paid 2.5 billion dollars and he didn't have another 2.5 billion dollars... He didn't expect that Gloria could break into those floors so quickly.

Where should he... get the money?

While he was thinking about it, he suddenly remembered the two houses he bought recently and that Martha had some money.

Then he immediately called his assistant.

"Sell all the houses under my name, and then hire some people to help us move back to the house where we lived before."

The house they used to live in was actually Declan's, which was the one they had returned to Gloria.

The assistant was surprised, "Mr. White, why..."

"Just do as I said."

"But... the key to that house has been given to Miss White."

Claude froze for an instant, and then frowned deeply.

But after he got Jordy's company secrets, he would be incredibly rich. Then no one could stop him anymore...

Thinking of this, he gritted his teeth, "Then rent a house with three rooms and one living room for me. I don't need it to be very nice."

The assistant was more confused, "Are you sure you want to sell all your houses?",

"Yes!"

"OK, I'll do it now." The assistant didn't know what Claude was up to, but he had to act upon his order.

The Collins Group

They naturally had detected that someone had stolen five floors of their company secrets.

At the moment, the technicians were working overtime. A while ago, they were taunting those technicians on Twitter. They thought that those people were just a bunch of losers who couldn't find jobs. However, they had easy jobs and they could stop others from stealing their company secrets after setting a barrier simply. The Collins Group was influential and powerful. Who would dare to steal its company secrets?

But now...

They were really going crazy!

Who did this? Was this for real?

This person broke into five floors in one afternoon!

Now... they were fixing it madly!

This incident caused a sensation in the Collins Group. Jordy looked extremely cold when he learned

The technicians were all sweating on their foreheads. One of them said gingerly while wiping his cold sweat, "Mr. Collins, only the Three Musketeers could be as professional as us."

Jordy's eyes became sharper, "Find them out."

He wanted to know the identities of those three people!

These technicians were sweating all over nervously...

The Three Musketeers were more proficient in computers than them. How could they find them?

However, their boss was so angry. Who dared to say no?

Chapter 612

Have You Found Them out?

“How long will it take to fix it?”

The technicians did not dare to answer. Their leader said while wiping his sweat, “Those people just broke into it but didn’t go deep or mean to destroy it. It seemed that... they just want to have a look.”

Jordy didn’t say anything but only tapped on the table with his knuckles.

But the technicians seemed to be on pins and needles.

Their hearts jumped wildly as they heard the irregular sound, as if they would jump out of their chest the next moment.

Jordy only looked cold. His cold eyes were like the abyss, which gave people creeps.

Then he suddenly chuckled.

Hearing it, the technicians wished they could jump off a building to commit suicide. It was really excruciating

“Tell me when you could fix it.”

“Tonight. We’ll try to fix it tonight!”

“You’ll try to?” Jordy sneered.

The technicians were about to cry. What else could they say?

What could they do face such powerful opponents?

The barrier they set wasn’t destroyed at one go by the Three Musketeers, which meant that they were already very excellent.

Now they were all very speechless. Those three people had never attacked their program, but they suddenly did that. The Collins Group must have offended them. Maybe they just wanted to have a look and wouldn’t do anything else.

Maybe they just wanted to scare Jordy and warn him.

Jordy looked at them coldly, “Everyone will work overtime tonight to change the program of the first five floors.”

“OK, OK.”

All of the technicians suddenly breathed a sigh of relief. If Mr. Collins asked them to find out the hacker or something like that, they would only fail.

However, they could work overtime to change the program of the first five floors!

Jordy said nothing else but got up to leave.

Harold followed him back to the office.

Then, Jordy turned on his computer and tried to find out the hacker himself.

Light flickered in Harold's eyes. In fact, Mr. Collins was also a genius hacker. In his view, he might be more professional than the Three Musketeers.

Jordy's fingers kept dancing on the keyboard, while Harold stood by and waited for his order. They got a different situation today after all, and Jordy didn't mean to ask Harold to leave.

After waiting for more than half an hour, Harold directly sat down on the chair. He watched Jordy keep clicking on the keyboard, while a pile of code flashed by on the computer screen. He could only understand part of them. Mr. Collins was typing so quickly, which dazzled him.

Then another two hours passed.

Jordy stopped.

Harold immediately said, “Mr. Collins, have you found the hacker out?”

Jordy rubbed his glabella, as if he were tired.

He looked at the screen coldly without saying a word.

Harold obviously realized something was wrong. When he saw the message on the screen, he turned a little pale.

(We don't mean to break into all the floors. We just want to have a look and we will stop before we break into the 20th floor.]

After he finished reading, the message disappeared.

Jordy looked more sullen.

Harold's expression was complicated. It seemed that the other party really just wanted to have a look?

After all, she just broke into them not destroyed them. Mr. Collins tried to find the hacker out for so long. When he thought he was about to find her trace, he was actually blocked by the program made by her and only saw those words.

Chapter 613

You Actually Beat Me?

This person was a master!

Mr. Collins tried for so long but only saw the barrier she set?

Harold didn't know what to say.

Jordy continued to crack it. Harold kept staring at the computer.

But...

At this moment, the person whom Jordy and the Collins Group's technicians were trying to find out was sitting on the sofa with a plate of fruit salad while watching TV.

She didn't seem to remember what she did in the afternoon.

The sudden beep of her mobile phone drew her attention.

Nydia, (Sweetheart, let's go shopping tomorrow?)

Gloria, (Tut, you are not worried that my injury will get worse anymore?)

Nydia, (Hahaha, no. You've recovered. Besides, I'm doing this to help you avoid Bryson. He'll be off work tomorrow. If you have an appointment with me, you can get rid of him.) .

Gloria reacted instantly, and she replied quickly.

Gloria, (You are truly my homie! I'll be downstairs at your house at 8. am tomorrow.)

Nydia, [What? Are you serious? I will also be off work tomorrow. I want to have a lie-in!]

Gloria slowly showed a smile and looked very relaxed. She chatted with Nydia with the TV on. She was so leisurely.

However... Martha and Claude were having a big fight!

Martha was going mad with anger at this moment. She raised her hand and slapped Claude across the face!

Claude grabbed her hand and said angrily, "Stop being such a fishwife! I'm doing this for our future!"

"You're out of your mind! Claude! You sold our houses without my consent, and even took my money! Claude! How could you do that? Are you trying to make us go bankrupt?"

Watching Martha rush up again, he pushed her down on the sofa and said in a fret, "I have so many shares in our White Group. How can we go bankrupt? You are just short-sighted and know nothing!"

Martha was supposed to see Angela, but she was very restless. She still wanted to go to Claude and tell him to give up. However, she saw him in this rented house! This place was much more shabby than their home!

When she knew that this was the place they would live in the future, she trembled with anger, and felt that all their efforts in so many years were going to be in vain.

"Claude! Give up before they take all our money! They're in the same camp!"

Claude looked more and more sullen, "One last time! Stay out of my own business!"

Martha was shocked.

She was so angry that she got up and slapped Claude across the face. Claude was caught off guard and only heard...

Slap!

The sound was clear and loud.

"You bitch!"

Claude also slapped her across the face!

Martha gave a cry of pain. Then she covered her red and swollen face in disbelief and said angrily, "Claude, you actually beat me?"

Claude was also stunned by his action. He was completely confused by anger so he beat her subconsciously. He frowned, retracted his hand and said coldly, "You slapped me too, didn't you? I was just trying to chill you out!"

Chapter 614

They Actually Met Her Here

"Claude!" Martha's chest heaved with anger, "You are really crazy!"

Claude didn't want to keep arguing with her. He took a deep breath and said coldly, "I'll spend the night in the company. You'll chill out at home. Remember to check on Angela."

After that, he left. He didn't look back but left directly no matter how Martha yelled.

Martha only felt that their marriage was going to end

But...

Claude withdrew all her deposits. What should she do?

The next day.

Gloria arrived downstairs at Nydia's home at 8. am on time.

Nydia walked down while yawning. She covered her mouth with one hand, as if she were tired, "Oh my God, you really came at eight o'clock? I was playing poker with a handsome guy in my dream!"

The corner of Gloria's mouth twitched, "You are funny."

"I mean it! The guy in my dream is the most handsome star I have ever seen! I wonder if this is my prophecy dream. Maybe he's my future husband! You've ruined a marriage!"

Gloria was speechless.

She didn't want to talk about the fake crush with Nydia anymore, so she walked to the car holding her hand, "Let's have some breakfast first, and then we'll go shopping"

"OK, let's go to the one we often went to. I miss the shrimp porridge and beef dumplings there so much!"

Gloria chuckled, "Okay, let's go"

"Hmm!"

Bryson did call Gloria when she was on the way to the breakfast restaurant. Gloria told him that she would go shopping with Nydia and buy some girls' things and that it would be convenient if he came to them.

Gloria could hear the loss in Bryson's words. After hanging up, she had a more complicated expression, but she had no choice.

Nydia said helplessly, "Alas, Jennifer has contacted Mrs. Lloyd, but she is busy these two days, so we can only meet her next Wednesday."

Gloria nodded, "Well, then we'll have lunch with her next Wednesday and talk about the thing."

"Okay, let's enjoy our time. Just forget about those things."

In fact... Nydia always felt that Bryson might have realized something wrong. He was so smart after all.

However, Gloria did not tell him her thought directly. The others still thought they were in a relationship. Bryson was like being deliberately obtuse. He didn't believe his bad premonition.

Yes, it was only a groundless premonition.

"What do you want to buy?" Gloria turned to Nydia.

Nydia smiled, "Didn't you just say that you wanted to buy some girls' stuff? I want to buy some underwear. Mine are already well-worn."

"OK."

They walked to a brand lingerie shop together.

When they opened the door, Gloria saw an acquaintance.

Well...

To be precise, Gloria only met this person before and often heard her name.

The woman also noticed Gloria and fixed her eyes on her, but it didn't make Gloria feel uncomfortable.

Nydia said with a surprised look, "Oh, we actually met her here... Gloria, do you want to say hello? I saw you two talking in the video before."

Chapter 615

I hope You Won't Refuse Again

Gloria looked away, "No, just look for the things you want."

She and this woman talked to each other because of Jordy. Gloria didn't want to have too much interaction with her.

The person standing in front of the clerk and listening to her introduction of the underwear with a girl was Rachel Rachel's attention had been drawn to Gloria.

Seeing that Gloria and Nydia were led to the east corner by another clerk, she stepped forward to them.

“Miss White, what a coincidence!”

Gloria slowly turned her head. Rachel was smiling at her. She also gave her a smile, “Hi, Miss Roberts.”

If Rachel didn’t talk to her, she wouldn’t take the initiative to say hello, but now, she couldn’t be rude and just ignore her.

Besides, there wasn’t any bad feeling between them. Gloria just wanted to avoid her because of Jordy.

Nydia also rested her eyes on Rachel, and an envious look flashed across her eyes. ·

She saw Rachel several times on TV. Rachel was beautiful. She thought it might be because of the filter.

But after she saw her in person, she found that her charm had nothing to do with the filter. She was indeed beautiful.

Alas.

Why was everyone around her so pretty?

She suddenly felt inferior!

Rachel’s best friend also came over and nodded at Gloria and Nydia with a smile. Then she looked at Rachel, “Rachel, what are you doing there? Are you not going to buy it?”

Rachel smiled, “It’s no hurry. I’m saying hello to an old friend.”

The clerk knew Rachel’s identity, so she could only stand aside and wait on silently.

Gloria slightly raised her eyes at Rachel. Rachel looked easygoing and friendly. She neither liked her nor disliked her.

They just met by chance, and they were not familiar.

However, Rachel was very cultured, and what she said wouldn’t annoy people but could please them.

Nydia’s impression of Rachel was very good.

Rachel looked at Gloria and said softly, “I’m so glad to meet you guys here. Would you like to have lunch with us?”

Rachel’s best friend looked at her in surprise. What was Rachel doing?

She had never been so active before, and most people knew that she was in love with Jordy.

Gloria was in an awkward position and often got involved with Jordy. Why was Rachel trying to bond with her?

What was going on?

Gloria just smiled, "Sorry, I have some personal matters to deal with at noon, so I can't eat with you."

Nydia stood by without saying anything.

Rachel sighed with regret, "Then we'll have dinner together another day. I hope you won't refuse me again."

Gloria smiled, "OK."

Rachel didn't say anything else but went back to buy the underwear with her best friend.

Gloria looked at Nydia, "Let's look around."

Nydia looked at Gloria suspiciously, "You two..."

Gloria just smiled. The clerk was beside her, so she didn't intend to say anything else.

The clerk was very smart. All the customers in the shop were celebrities. Just now, she envied the clerk who waited on Rachel. However, she didn't expect that the customer she waited on was also a bigwig.
