

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 621-625

Chapter 621 She Cried for Weeks

Jordy's smile widened again, "Yes." Karen was speechless. She kept silent. What on earth was this guy up to? Jordy looked directly at her and whispered without any hesitation, "I want to remarry Gloria." Karen was dumbfounded. She didn't hear Jordy clearly and was still looking at him, but Jordy just looked at her without speaking.

Karen was in a long daze and then responded. She looked at Jordy in disbelief, but said in a steady voice, "Did I hear you right?" What did he say? Jordy nodded, "Yes, you heard me right. I want to remarry Gloria."

Karen was shocked. Her eyes widened in disbelief. "You want to remarry Gloria?"

Jordy nodded. He knew that Karen would be shocked and wouldn't believe it. He insisted on not remarrying Gloria back then, so it was inevitable that she would be shocked.

But...

Just when he was about to say something else, Karen suddenly stood up angrily and punched him in the chest, "I stopped you from getting divorced, but you just didn't listen. You insisted on being with that tramp. Now, Gloria doesn't love you anymore. She even dislikes you. You think it's easy to get remarried to her?"

Karen was angry and there was strong fret in her tone.

Jordy didn't hide but let her punch him again.

He was Karen's grandson. How could she hit him hard?

She just wanted to vent her anger.

Jordy sat on the sofa motionlessly, and just nodded calmly, "I was just confused. Grandma, please help me."

Karen was dumbfounded.

She sized her grandson up and could only see his serious look. However, she looked at him again and said in a deep voice, "You are not lying to me?"

She suspected that Jordy was playing a trick. Maybe he was afraid that she would be sad, so he lied to her again.

"No." Jordy continued calmly. Karen was more sure that she did not hear him wrong. She looked at him suspiciously, "Why do you want to remarry?"

“You won’t like Gloria, will you? She loved you wholeheartedly and did so much for you but you still didn’t like her. How can you fall in love with her when she doesn’t love you anymore?”

Jordy was speechless.

His grandma was like saying he was being ridiculous.

Karen didn’t think so much. She looked at Jordy again, “Why do you want to remarry?”

Jordy said in a flat tone with a calm face, “I think she might be the best for me and make a companion of me for life.”

“Come on, she doesn’t want you anymore.” Karen blurted out ignoring his feelings. After all, when Jordy insisted on getting divorced with Gloria, she was devastated.

But...

She could only watch that happen helplessly and cry for weeks.

Chapter 622 No One Jordy was speechless.

Karen refuted what he said again and again, and he didn’t know what to say. If it were someone else who did this to him, Jordy might have got angry. However, others wouldn’t do something like that at all. Taking a breath, Jordy calmed himself down and looked at Karen, “I’ll turn over a new leaf and be a better man, but Gloria doesn’t want to see me, so I hope you can help me. You don’t want her to become someone else’s granddaughter-in-law, do you? You know Jonathan is pursuing her, don’t you?”

Karen turned pale. Jordy’s words suddenly stung her. Yeah, how could she watch Gloria marry another man and become someone else’s granddaughter-in-law? She would be jealous!

But...

Her grandson had pushed her away!

Words failed Karen, and she didn’t know what to say. However, Jordy saw the grievance in her eyes clearly.

But... Jordy was so abnormal today. Karen looked at him suspiciously again, “You’ve really fallen in love with Gloria? Gloria ignored you but you were attracted to her? Was something wrong with you?”

Jordy was speechless.

He didn’t say anything, as if he were giving a tacit yes.

But... Karen didn’t know that Jordy kept silent just because he didn’t want to make her angry and let her know the real reason why he wanted to remarry Gloria.

He would never fall in love with that woman.

Even if he had changed his opinion of her, he wouldn't like her.

But what he said just now was true. Gloria was indeed the best for him and could make a companion of him for life.

But...

Jordy was confused.

Rachel could also make a companion of him for life. She was even more suitable than Gloria.

Gloria was completely over him. Even if she got remarried to him, she would not do anything for him wholeheartedly.

But Rachel was different. She loved him wholeheartedly and was willing to do anything for him.

Moreover, Rachel was much nobler than Gloria, and the Roberts family was supportive of her. On the surface, Rachel was the best for him!

Looking at Jordy's silent look, Karen had more and more doubts.

"If you don't like Gloria, why do you want to get back together with her? As you put it, anyone can be suitable for you as long as they could give birth. Rachel is so excellent, and the Roberts family will let her marry you. Why do you choose Gloria instead of her?"

Jordy frowned and pursed his lips in silence. Karen said in a deep voice, "At the party, I announced that I would treat Gloria as my own granddaughter. I meant it."

Jordy nodded, "I know."

He never doubted this.

Karen snorted coldly, "So, you should know that I won't watch Gloria marry a scumbag again and let him ruin her life. No one can hurt her!"

No one.

Karen said these two words with emphasis.

Chapter 623 The Places Where He Was Were All Very Filthy

Jordy was speechless. He only felt that his grandmother was not his grandmother anymore but Gloria's. He sighed helplessly.

Karen said, "So I can't let her remarry you. If you can't give me a good reason, I won't help you but stop you!"

Jordy was speechless.

If Gloria were here, she might be very moved.

Jordy sighed and said helplessly, "Yes, I like her."

He didn't mind telling a lie for his whole plan.

Besides, Gloria wouldn't try to please him and get feedback from him anymore. It was very suitable for them to be together.

Suitable.

Jordy recited this word in her heart twice, as if she were suppressing some complicated emotions.

"You..."

Karen didn't know what to say. Her eyes were filled with disbelief...

He really liked Gloria?

Jordy looked at her in silence, but what he meant was very obvious.

He wanted to remarry Gloria, because he liked her.

Karen looked a little surprised. She asked, "So you came back to have dinner with me because you wanted to see Gloria?"

Jordy nodded without hesitation, "I did hear that she would come."

Karen suddenly smiled, "You've really changed your mind? I can't believe this. You are really in love with Gloria? But are you sure you are not..."

A masochist?

Karen couldn't bring this sentence out of her mouth. Jordy was her grandson after all. How could she say such hurtful words?

Jordy remained sullen for a few minutes. Even if Karen didn't finish speaking, he knew what she was going to say

After calming down, he said, "I thought that she was a scheming and vain woman, so I never had a good impression on her. But now I can tell that she is an independent and excellent woman. She can also lead a prosperous life without me and she never had vanity."

Karen was a little surprised, "You are admitting that you were wrong?"

Jordy was speechless.

He felt that his grandma's subconscious reactions were all fake. She probably just wanted to humiliate him.

Then Karen patted him on the shoulder very happily, "I'm really glad to hear that!"

"So you will help me?"

Karen immediately shook her head, "No."

Jordy was confused.

He looked at Karen with puzzled eyes.

Karen snorted coldly, "Don't blame me for being hardhearted. I want you to be happy. But you know what you did to Gloria before and how you treated her unfairly and how you dumped her for another woman. Even I, an onlooker, remember all those things, not to mention Gloria. Do you know how desperate she was when she left you?"

Jordy turned a little pale.

He instantly thought of the day when Gloria signed the divorce agreement.

He said that he would give the villa to her, but she said she didn't want it because the places where he was were all very filthy.

If she weren't extremely desperate, how could she say such harsh words?

However, maybe she wasn't just saying but really meant it.

Chapter 624 She Was Puzzled

Gloria wanted to leave as soon as she saw him, and she didn't want to stay in the same room with him at all. If it weren't for grandma's sake, Gloria wouldn't have had dinner with him. And they wouldn't have met in the old mansion.

Jordy frowned and looked up at Karen again, "Grandma, I really need your help. After we got remarried, I will treat her as my real wife, my only woman. I'll be good to her and I'll be a qualified husband."

He was just saying it.

All he would do was to give Gloria what other women had. He wouldn't love her.

But he seemed to forget that Gloria was rich and could afford what she wanted.

If it weren't for love, why would she be with a man? She was rich, excellent and had connections. She could solve the problems she met, couldn't she? She wouldn't do anything illegal after all.

Moreover, she didn't need a relationship anymore.

Karen frowned and hesitated for a moment before she said softly, "I won't help you now. I need to see how you behave before I decide what to do that."

Jordy was speechless.

Since Karen had said this after deep thought, Jordy knew that it was useless to say anything else, so he had to nod, "OK, if there is a chance, we two could take you out for a walk."

"You two?"

Expectations seemed to rise in Karen's heart, "Are you serious?"

"Of course ..." Before he finished speaking, Karen suddenly reacted and said angrily, "You bastard! You are tricking me again! Are you going to force Gloria to agree after I say okay? Perish the thought!"

Jordy was speechless.

He sighed helplessly, "Then you'll see how I will behave. Consider it carefully. You will believe me in the end. I've got some things to deal with. I'm leaving."

Karen curled her lip, "Good!"

Jordy left immediately after telling her what he wanted. Why didn't he stay to keep her company for a while? What an ungrateful bastard!

Jordy looked at her sullen look and said helplessly,

"Dad is on the way here. He will arrive in about ten minutes. I need to take over the things he's dealing with. I'm going to meet him now."

Karen shook her hand, "Go."

Jordy nodded and left without saying anything else.

Karen looked at her grandson's receiving figure, and her feelings were getting complicated. Gloria and Jordy...

These two children...

She couldn't help sighing. She gave a lot of thought to this matter and didn't even hear Newell come back.

"Mom?"

After Newell called her three times, Karen's attention was finally drawn back. When she saw Newell standing in front of her, she was startled, "You scared me."

Newell was puzzled. He sat beside her, wondering, "What were you thinking? You were so absorbed. I called you three times."

"Ah? You did?" Karen was a little surprised, "I didn't hear."

"What were you thinking?"

"Jordy was here just now and he said something to me. I still couldn't believe it. I just felt that something was wrong..." Karen frowned, as if she were puzzled.

Newell was amused, "What did he say?"

What did Jordy do? His mother was actually so dazed.

Karen frowned slightly, as if she didn't know what to say. She could only say helplessly, "What a crazy bastard..."

Chapter 625 It Was Weird

Karen didn't know how to tell Newell what happened and whether to tell him about it. "Huh?" It was the first time that Newell had seen his mother so hesitant. "You always share things with me, don't you?"

Light twinkled in Karen's eyes. Then she told Newell about what just happened.

Newell was shocked, "He really wanted to remarry Gloria?"

Karen nodded, "But I always feel like he's hiding something from me. Does he really like Gloria? If he doesn't, I don't want him to hurt her anymore."

Newell didn't say anything, as if he were thinking about something

Karen continued, "I'm just worried. I don't know what to do. If I help them get back together like before, it's unfair to Gloria. But what if Jordy really regretted it and has changed his mind? Gloria loved him so much. Even if she's over him, she might still have some feelings for him, but..."

She paused for a moment and continued, "Not all my conjectures are right. They'll decide how the things develop themselves... Alas."

Newell nodded, "You are right. I think you should stay out of this matter. It's up to them. We can't stop Jordy from doing anything, and I don't want Gloria to be hurt again. If you keep bringing them back together, Gloria will do as you say to avoid embarrassing you. It will only put her in a dilemma."

Karen nodded with a sigh, "You're right... That's what I'm afraid of too, so I dare not act rashly. Well... I don't understand. Does Jordy really regret it? Is he up to something?"

Newell frowned slightly, and didn't know what to say.

But he felt that his son wouldn't be such a despicable person

After a pause, he said, "Don't worry about this anymore. Just leave it behind."

Karen opened her lips and wanted to say something, but she didn't know how to put it. Her fret was getting stronger.

"Alas... that boy!" Karen sighed again and stopped talking.

Newell just smiled silently.

After Jordy took over the work from Newell, he went back to the company.

But...

He didn't start dealing with his work. He just sat at his desk and the scene of having dinner with Gloria appeared in his mind.

He seemed to remember her every smile and every action?

Jordy turned pale. When he came out of his trance, he looked sullen.

What the hell?

Jordy tightly pursed his lips with cold eyes.

He took a deep breath, as if to calm his mood. Then he turned on the computer and was about to work.

After Gloria got home, she took a bath and was about to go to bed.

But...

When she just lay in bed, her mobile phone rang.

Looking at the caller ID, she frowned slightly and picked it up slowly.

"What's the matter?"

In the past, she would call him Mr. Brown before saying anything

But she had called him Jonathan and said that she would treat him as a friend, so she felt weird calling him Mr. Brown. She didn't call him Jonathan very often, either. It was also weird.

"Can't I call you just for a chat?" His soft and pleasant voice sounded in her ear.

Light flickered in Gloria's eyes slightly and she didn't speak holding the mobile phone.
