

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 696-700

Chapter 696

Hooligans Appeared in the Alley

His men couldn't refrain from laughing, "Boss, where shall we go? In this alley? There is a bad view and dim light here. We can't see anything clearly. It's not like we have to hold the torch to have sex."

"I agree. It's exciting to do it here, but we have a poor view here. Besides, we are downtown. What if she cries out loud and attracts the attention of passers-by?"

All of them were highly motivated, mainly because Gloria was a myth in their eyes. As Jordy's ex-wife, she had good looks, a perfect figure, and a legacy, which got them enamored.

They had been fond of her since a long time ago, but they dared not covet her.

Yet the situation was different.

The hirer gave them money, offered strong protection, and required them to ruin her, which was exactly what they wanted.

Besides, they, more or less, had some backing.

As they dared join the gang, they should have the ability to solve the problem.

Now, these hooligans wore an expectant look

They began to imagine the scene where they had good sex with Gloria.

It was just that they had to line for it as so many buddies were there. They couldn't help but feel envious of their gang leader.

Without a doubt, he would be the first one.

Alas...

They were both expectant and anxious.

When they were drifting in their dreams, a squeal of pain sounded.

All of them were startled and shifted their gazes to the sound source, only to see their leader cry, bend over, and covered his private part. The men who were close could see the sweat on his side face.

Then they saw Gloria retract her foot and stand there elegantly as if nothing had happened.

Many of them had empathy for the boss.

Just now...

Their boss wanted to fondle Gloria's body, but his dick was kicked by this horrible woman.

The squeals of pain ripped through the air.

He was extremely angry!

"Bitch! How dare you kick me! Go punch her!"

Gloria stared coldly at them and her cold voice rang, "Who gave you the gall to do such a dirty deed? None of you can get away with it today!"

Gloria kicked their boss with so much strength that he cried out in pain and anger.

But he couldn't care much about it. He instantly said anxiously and painedly to the person beside him, "Take... Take me to the hospital now!"

Someone tried to hold him.

Gloria sneered suddenly, "Why bother to save an evildoer? You should be crippled in case you hurt other girls."

"Bitch! Wanna die?" A punk was angry about Gloria's rude remarks about the gang leader, so he raised his hand to grab Gloria's hair.

But...

Before he could touch her hair, Gloria reached out and gripped his wrist.

Then –

There came a cracking sound.

"Ouch! It hurts..." The punk's hand got twisted.

Chapter 697

A Society of Laws

"Ah..." The punk screamed in pain.

All of them got taken aback.

They didn't expect Gloria to have so much strength.

"F*ck! This crazy bitch! Hit her!"

Some of them rushed to her.

Gloria didn't give a damn about them. Instead, she rushed to those two punks that were holding their boss, lifted her foot, and kick one of them in his waist.

The punk screeched and fell to the ground.

Next Gloria moved swiftly to the punk on the right side.

His face was filled with panic. He wanted to run and was about to release his boss.

Surprisingly, Gloria was quicker than him and his waist also got kicked.

"Ah..."

He squealed with pain.

Those two punks collapsed on the ground. Seeing that, some wanted to hold their boss, but they didn't dare do that for fear of being kicked, so they could only watch their boss fall to the ground.

"Boss!"

The boss could not stand upright, and after Gloria gave him another kick, he fell forward.

Though he tried his best to protect himself, without any help, his penis got injured again.

"Ah..."

"Hit her! Hit this bitch!" He was so angry that his green hair seemed to be shaking.

All his men rushed toward Gloria.

Like they were in a real fight with another gang, they were about to kick and hit Gloria.

But...

When dozens of them surrounded Gloria, they revealed their weakness to Gloria as they were too close to her. Though only she was in the center, they felt her movements dazzling as she moved too fast.

Within several minutes, all of them fell to the ground.

While Gloria...

Wearing a pair of high-heeled shoes, she walked through all of them.

All the hooligans were dumbfounded.

None of them expected Gloria would know martial arts.

Actually, the hirer required a dozen of men to gang rape Gloria instead of hitting her... And they were informed that Gloria knew martial arts.

They guessed she was an accomplished black belt from the way she hit them.

All of them looked at Gloria in panic.

In high heels, Gloria strode towards the boss lying on the ground.

He was trying to get up, but sweat broke out on his face and he gave up when he saw Gloria stepping closer to him.

She would send him sprawling to the ground even if he managed to get up.

The sound of the high heels hitting the concrete floor was like the clock ticking that promised their deaths.

They were scared.

Especially the boss. Afraid of getting crippled by Gloria, he shouted hurriedly, "You... What are you gonna do? We are in a society of laws!"

"Society of laws?" Amused, Gloria stared coldly at him, "Now you know it?"

The boss and his men lost their words.

The punks looked speechlessly at their boss, wondering why he had the nerve to say that.

Was he trying to tell a joke to ease the tension before getting hit?

She strode slowly. As long as she saw one get up, she would send them to the ground right away. All of a sudden, none of them dared stand up again. This woman is so crazy. They can never flee from here.

Chapter 698

Resort to the Police to Uphold the Order

Some of them lay motionless on the ground to avoid getting tortured. And it did work.

Some people who got kicked a few times and felt extreme pain threw envious gazes at those who didn't resist.

At that moment, they seemed to realize what was good for them to do.

"What—what are you gonna do?"

As Gloria approached him, his tone of voice was filled with panic, Though the punks wanted to protect the boss, none of them planned to help as they had a stronger wish to not be hit.

Gloria sneered, "See, seems your men are obedient to you, but they don't give a shit about you what you are suffering."

The boss lost his tongue.

He was furious, anxious, and panicked.

He was severely injured now! Not only did his penis get hurt, but bruises were over his face, and some of his body parts were bleeding.

Nevertheless, he could do nothing about it. If it weren't for his strong terror at her, he would have fainted.

His hand was placed on the floor, and it seemed that he wanted to pop himself up anytime. Seeing that, Gloria trampled his hand with the spiked heels.

"Ah..."

The searing pain made him cry loudly!

It was dark at night...

But under the moonlight, those punks found that...

The boss' hand was trodden by her with spiked heels.

She looked slim, but at least about 90 pounds.

She trod on his hand without mercy...

They felt that his hand would be broken if Gloria exerted some strength.

Gloria looked rather composed.

Staring at the man who was struggling and wailing, she used more strength.

“Pained?”

The boss was stunned.

Is she an idiot? Can't she see how pained he is? What a bitch!

He, however, didn't dare speak his mind and could only say nervously, “Miss White, we're as blind as a bat and can't tell right from wrong! Please give us a chance to correct our mistakes!”

But...

Once he finished, someone walked to them. One punk stood up and said hurriedly, “Sir, we got hit! Please save us!”

Then, those two holding the torches walked faster.

“Don't move!” The man that took the lead ordered.

Gloria obeyed his order and maintained her motion.

The boss, Marvin, was stunned.

F*ck!

He was pissed off!

Gloria's mouth twitched and she guessed one of them called the cop.

Otherwise, those two cops wouldn't come here.

These evildoers called the cop?

They know they should resort to the police to uphold the order?

Hehe.

Such a realization made Gloria exert more strength.

“Ah!”

His squeals of pain were much louder than before.

The police were attracted by his cries.

Their torches fell upon him. Unexpectedly, they found Gloria was treading on his hand with her spiked heels.

The police were at a loss for words.

One policeman shifted his gaze to Gloria.

After seeing her clearly, he froze for a moment, "Miss White?"

Gloria nodded, "Hello, sir."

The policeman's unfriendly look turned into a confused one after finding out she was Gloria.

Gloria was a lawyer, so they subconsciously felt that there was some hidden reason for what had happened today.

Chapter 699

Sidekicks Who Helped Her Solve the Case

"Pausing for a moment, one police officer said lightly, "Miss White, why are you here? what happened...?"

He didn't finish his words but shifted his gaze at Gloria's feet.

Marvín cried out, "Sir, this woman hit us! Please do us justice!"

The police officer watched the scar on his face, his green hair, and other punks who got up slowly. All of them looked like hooligans. There was an unfathomable emotion on his face.

Gloria didn't care about it, but looked at the police officers and said politely, "Is it someone calling the police? Or you are patrolling the street?"

"Someone called the police."

Gloria smiled faintly, "I've made a recording."

Those hooligans lost the words.

They were dumbfounded.

But the police were not surprised at all, since they knew that it was common for a lawyer like Gloria to resort to legal means to protect herself.

Then Gloria took out the recording pen.

Feeling worried, one police officer reminded Gloria, "How about we go back to the police station to talk about this?"

While saying, he hinted to Gloria by the eye that he worried some of the hooligans would flee away.

Gloria got the hint and nodded approvingly, "OK."

She needed to assist the police for sure.

But Police Campbell who stood behind said bluntly, "There is no need. See, none of them on the floor is able to get up."

Police Wright was speechless.

Then he realized that a lot of men were sprawling on the floor when he came over.

Only Gloria stood and trod on their boss' hand.

He coughed and said lightly, "Anyway, you need to take a statement in the police station,"

"I have no problem about it." Gloria remained calm,

Once she finished, she found that some hooligans wanted to escape and her gaze swept across them. "Aren't you afraid of getting hit?"

One hooligan, who made a step forward, froze for a moment but still decided to run as he didn't want to go to the police station. Gloria sneered, picked up something on the floor, and threw it at that hooligan, who then wailed and fell to the ground!

Others also wanted to run away, but Gloria's voice sounded. "Wanna run? Do you mind me breaking your legs?"

While speaking, she walked over to them in high heels.

Both Police Campbell and Police Wright were speechless.

They felt like they were her sidekicks that helped her solve the case.

The hooligans stiffened.

She is wearing a pair of high-heeled shoes, but she walks swiftly as if in flat shoes.

They can't walk at such a great speed even in flat shoes. They got defeated by a woman in spiked high-heeled shoes.

How humiliating that was for them!

No, it proved that she was very strong.

Someone still wanted to run. Gloria showed no mercy and dislocated his hand in front of two police officers.

“Ah!”

A squeal of pain sounded through the alley.

In the next second, Gloria restored it.

And another sharp pain came. That hooligan got scared.

After that, no one dared to flee.

Those two police officers were shocked...

Gloria’s eyes fell on them and she said apologetically, “Sorry, these evildoers are tricky. I am afraid that some of them can run away.”

Chapter 700 I Gotta Say

Silence fell.

Both of them nodded without saying another word and stuffed all the hooligans into the patrolcar.

The patrol car was eye-catching...

It attracted more attention when a gang of hooligans and a charming woman got into it. A lot of passers-by took photos.

Soon, it became a trending topic.

Some stars paid to make themselves the trending topic but to no avail.

As Gloria became the most searched name on the Internet, the trending topic about Jonathan and Jordy that was fizzling out got a lot of buzzes again.

Twitter users were very active.

They were buzzing about the trending topics happily.

Girl Scout, “Did you see it? Gloria was taken away by the police. I am curious about who will go to save the beauty, M r. Collins or Mr. Brown?”

Papa Smurf, "It should be Mr. Brown of course. As my prince charming, he is excellent, perfect, and most importantly, single. Though there were a lot of tidbits about him before, he's different now! He is pursuing Gloria seriously, so I believe his efforts will pay off!"

Papa Smurf, "Well, Mr. Collins also changes. Though he had an affair with Angela before, he had a clean break with her later."

Papa Smurf, "I don't agree with you. He can tangle up with another woman like Rachel Roberts, whose family background is better than Gloria's. At that time, Martha played a recording, in which Old Joseph Collins said that he wanted Jordy to get engaged to Rachel. The Roberts family didn't clarify it. Rachel liked Jordy so much, so they were likely to be together. It's not very difficult for such a charming lady to hit on a man. Maybe Mr. Collins will fall in love with Rachel one day. So, in my opinion, Mr. Brown is much more reliable. Gloria should choose him and ignore any other men."

"xXx(Girl Scout): Well, I remember the son of the Lloyd family also likes Gloria. They seem to be childhood sweethearts. Gloria is so amazing. So many excellent men take a fancy to her. Wow, I am so happy!"

Girl Scout, "You seem to be getting off the point. Gloria was taken away by the police, but you are still discussing who she should be with!"

Papa Smurf, "She will be saved from the police station anyway. Besides, it's not like Gloria made a scene. Don't you see the group of people behind her? They look like hooligans."

Girl Scout, "They are! I saw them before. They have strong backing, so they do what they want willfully. Once upon a time, they wanted to catch me and rape me. I ran away very fast, or I would be doomed!"

Girl Scout, "Damn it! Was Gloria...?"

Papa Smurf, "It didn't look like she got raped. She was neatly dressed and elegant as usual. I have to say, she is so fabulous. It will be great if she can get into showbiz! Well, let's get to the point. See? Those hooligans were limping into the police car, so I guess they must have been beaten by Gloria."
