

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 706

Chapter 706 He Panicked!

Angela was angry to hear that.

Bitch!

The police station.

At this moment, all of them arrived.

Those thugs felt pain all over, and some of them couldn't walk, including their leader Marvin.

Two thugs supported Marvin to walk, and Marvin felt like he was dying.

On the way there, Marvin tried to tell the police that there was something wrong with him and he needed to go to the hospital, but when he met Gloria's cold eyes, he flinched and dared not say a word...

After everyone came in, Gloria played the recording.

The punks' rude words were heard, and they panicked.

The two policemen became very angry!

When it was over, Gloria said quietly, "Sir, I think they're hardened criminals who hurt many people before. They must conspire with those who have got a lot of connections. Do you think it necessary to look into them?"

On the way to the police station, Gloria was checking Twitter.

"This is the right thing to do, and we'll report to the higher authorities."

Gloria nodded. "They tried to hurt me, and I fought back. Was it self-defense?"

The two policemen glanced sideways at those gangsters who were unable to get up, and responded without hesitation, "Yes, it was self-defense."

Those gangsters had to suffer in silence.

Are you blind?

Our leader will probably be a eunuch for the rest of his life. He's not a real man anymore. How could you call it self-defense?

She intentionally caused physical harm to him!

But no one dared to speak up.

"Miss White, according to the due process, you're required to make another statement."

Gloria nodded. "OK."

She began to give a statement to the police and cooperate fully with the investigation. Before she finished, a big name came along.

The man went straight to Gloria. When he stepped to Gloria's side, he already learned about the situation here from his staff and finally felt relieved.

He stopped worrying when he saw Gloria sitting across from the police in one piece.

Gloria turned her head and saw Jordy standing in front of her. Her eyes flashed, and she asked, "What are you doing here?"

Jordy took a brief glance at her, as if in disgust. "Grandma told me to come. Do you think I want to?"

Words got caught in Gloria's throat.

The police officers felt weird.

They looked at Gloria and then Jordy and thought they were getting along in a strange way, which made them feel that no one else could chime in.

Jordy didn't look at anyone else after he came in. And he just said a few words to Gloria.

But after Gloria went through the process, Jordy turned his eyes to the thugs squatting on the floor.

For an instant, all of them quaked with fear!

Why is Jordy here to pick Gloria up?

Weren't they divorced? There is much gossip online. Doesn't Jordy get involved with other women?

Jordy did a head-to-toe scan of those thugs, and they all could not bear to meet his murderous gaze.

They got flustered!

We're in deep shit!

We're truly sunk...

Chapter 707 Against Her Will

There is nothing going on between them, is there?

We never believe the gossip on Twitter!

The thugs were somewhat concerned, but their boss made it clear that it wasn't what it looked like.

But now it was so obvious that they were fooled!

No one dared to say anything as a wave of panic spread through them.

What should we do?

Just as they were racking their brains, Jordy spoke

"You won't get peace of mind unless you get rid of them. If you need any help from the Collins family, feel free to let me know."

The police officers were surprised, but the next moment they said, "OK, thank you very much!"

Jordy only replied with a nod.

Gloria smiled, "If there's anything you need from me, please let me know."

Gloria is not a regular folk!

The police officers were flattered by their kindness.

Those thugs were petrified!

If the Collins Group makes a move, our boss will probably give us up. After all, no one dares to go head-to-head with the Collins Group!

Those thugs panicked!

Jordy and Gloria headed out together without another word.

Gloria was picked up by a squad car today. She looked briefly at Jordy and said, "Thank you."

He came for her, no matter if it was Karen who told him to. Although his visit didn't help a lot, she had to say thanks to him, her interim boss.

Jordy looked at her coldly. "Why did you run into the alley?"

"Just to look around."

Actually, Gloria did that to distract herself. She met Corey, and he talked about her father a lot. She really missed her father.

Most of the time, there was nothing she could do.

She would never see her father again.

Jordy, who was not aware of this, snorted, "You walked down the alley at night out of boredom. Why was Jonathan not with you?"

And where was Bryson?

Jordy thought, but he held his tongue.

Gloria looked at his cold face with a slight frown. She didn't bother to explain to him but said shortly, "I'm going to get my car. Bye."

"With that, Gloria walked straight to the road and took out her phone to call an Uber.

Jordy's face hardened!

He came all the way here for her, but she was being weird after muttering a thank you. Where does she get the nerve?

In a rage, Jordy sprinted forward and clasped her wrist.

Gloria frowned and turned to glower at him. "What are you doing?"

Jordy was confused about what was happening.

The next moment, he realized that he was mad about Gloria's attitude!

He forced Gloria into his car against her will.

Gloria struggled but in vain. She was not as strong as he was.

She can't hurt me. She can only let me drag her forward.

Jordy's eyes flickered at this thought. She knocked those thugs' teeth out.

But now she doesn't even touch one hair on my head. Jordy's face brightened.

He relaxed his grip a bit on her wrist.

But Gloria couldn't get free. With a sharp pull, he forced her into the passenger seat.

Gloria sat there with an angry face. She could have taken the opportunity to escape when he went around to the driver's seat. But she didn't move a bit, fearing that he might drag her back

Chapter 708 She Beat the Crap Out of them

Gloria's brow furrowed as she watched Jordy settle into the driver's seat with a scowl and rev the engine.

Jordy was silent, and his face took on a set expression. He looked like he concentrated on his driving

Gloria pressed her lips together. "My car is over there. Drop me off when you get to the corner."

It's on his way home. We're going in the same direction.

My car is parked near the alley.

Jordy, who was driving, didn't respond to her.

But... as Jordy drove, Gloria realized that he wasn't following the right path at all.

She turned to him. "Where are you going?"

Jordy ignored her and drove on with a cold face. He did not even turn to her for once.

The car went further down the road, and Gloria finally realized where it was heading for.

She pressed her lips together and lapsed into silence.

Her name was a trending hashtag on Twitter. She was sure Karen saw it. She'd better drop by and say hello.

After all, Karen cared about her the most in the world.

Gloria heaved a deep sigh, and for once she had no intention of asking any further questions.

Soon, they arrived the Collins' house.

Jordy pulled over and unbuckled his seat belt without saying anything to Gloria.

He was still mad about what was trending on Twitter.

Gloria didn't even bother to guess why he was in a bad mood.

After all, it had nothing to do with her. Besides, he was volatile. Who cared?

Gloria remained silent and got out of the car.

Before she could get inside the house, she found the door wide open. There stood Karen with a worried face, saying, "Come! Let me see your face, Gloria. Did you get scared?"

Karen's tender voice and gentle face made Gloria's heart melt.

Gloria quickly said, "Karen, I'm alright. The police came in time."

Jordy's eyes flashed with irony. He walked over to the couch and sat down.

Karen took Gloria's hands and examined them carefully, refusing to let go.

"Did those punks hit you? Gloria, be careful next time! I'm so worried about you if no one protects you."

Karen's voice sounded extremely worried.

Gloria smiled and shook her head. "I'm fine."

"No, you're not! You were in danger today. They're bastards!" Karen said angrily and then looked at Jordy. "Did you tell the police that we the Collins family would offer them our full support?"

Gloria's eyelashes fluttered. No wonder Jordy said that at the police station. It was Karen who told him to say so.

Jordy nodded. "Of course, I did. You told me to."

Karen snorted, "Bastards! How dare they! The country is ruled by law!"

Jordy was sitting on the couch, calm and silent.

Karen pulled Gloria towards the couch. "You poor thing, you must have been very scared. I've asked the kitchen to make you some soup.”

Gloria felt warm, smiled, and nodded. “Thank you.”

“Oh, don’t mention it. Are you still in shock? Gloria, are you sure you’re okay? Don’t lie to me.”

Jordy said sarcastically, “She’s a taekwondo expert. She beat the crap out of those thugs. How could she freak out?”

Chapter 709 Who Did It to Her?

Gloria fell silent, which irritated Jordy.

Karen looked at Gloria in disbelief. “Gloria?”

Gloria’s eyes flickered. She shook Karen’s hands. “When I was a kid, I learned taekwondo. And I exercise a lot. No one can hurt me.”

Just after she finished, Jordy’s phone started ringing

Jordy got a call from Harold.

Jordy picked it up.

“Yes?”

“Mr. Collins, I was just at the police station to find out what was going on. Seventeen people have been arrested. Twelve of them have broken bones, another two have become eunuchs for life, and the remaining three have bruises and scratches.”

Jordy’s mouth twitched as he glanced up at Gloria.

Karen, who was sitting next to Jordy, heard Harold even though Jordy did not put him on speakerphone.

In a state of confusion, Karen heard Harold say, “The police said Miss White was decisive and swift. At first, they tried to run, and the two policemen couldn’t decide whether to run after them. It was Miss White who acted quickly and boldly. She broke their arms but then had their bones reset.”

Jordy and Karen were both too shocked to speak.

Karen looked at Gloria in disbelief.

Gloria was sitting next to Karen. The room was quiet. She could not hear all of it, but she got the gist of what Harold just said. She met Karen's gaze and rubbed the tip of her nose awkwardly.

Jordy lapsed into silence and heard Harold say, "The police are still grilling them about who's behind them. That's going to be a little longer."

"OK."

Harold didn't say another word, and Jordy hung up the phone and said nothing more.

Karen finally came to her senses and looked at Gloria. "Gloria, did you do it?"

Gloria coughed discreetly to hide her embarrassment. "... Yes."

The answer left Karen in a state of shock.

Jordy remained silent, and his taut face seemed to go slack.

After a pause, Karen said, "Gloria, you... know how to fight. I didn't even know that."

Jordy had a sarcastic glint in his eye. "Didn't you know anything about Norma?"

Gloria shot an angry look at Jordy and frowned slightly.

Karen sighed, "Gloria, it's been a very hard time for you. If Jordy took good care of you, you wouldn't have protected yourself secretly. It's all your fault, Jordy!"

With that, Karen punched Jordy in the chest.

It didn't hurt, but Jordy froze for a second.

All my fault?

Was it because I was lukewarm to her that she kept it a secret from me?

Jordy frowned, as if in thought.

Gloria smiled, "Karen, I'm alright. You don't have to worry about me. I can protect myself. There are bad guys out there, but none of them dares to cross the line in the country ruled by law. So you can stop worrying.”

“It’s not safe for girls to wander outside. You’re outstanding and beautiful. Someone may come to you with ill intentions.”

Gloria’s eyes flickered. Ill intentions?

It’s so clear that someone is behind this. Claude has a lot on his plate, and Angela doesn’t dare go head-to-head with me, fearing that someone will find out. Then who did it?

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 710

Chapter 710 Swamped With Work

Or were Claude and his family so angry that they couldn’t contain themselves and attacked me?

Gloria was sunk in thought.

“Be careful next time, Gloria. How about Jordy finds you two bodyguards so that I can rest assured? Those thugs are putting the screws to you. They’re your enemies. You are not safe alone.”

Gloria just smiled soothingly, “Karen, I’m alright.”

Gloria had to find out who was behind them.

Karen still looked worried and kept trying to persuade Gloria.

Gloria finally succumbed to Karen’s persuasion and promised to seek protection.

Karen also put pressure on Jordy to get Gloria several bodyguards and felt relieved to hear him say yes.

It was getting late, and Gloria decided to leave.

A driver who worked for the Collins family dropped Gloria off at her parking spot. Then he drove her car to send her home before he returned.

Gloria was touched by Karen's kindness and thanked the driver.

After Gloria entered her room, she took out her cell phone and called Irene.

Irene answered the phone immediately. "What's the matter, my honey?"

"Irene, please do me a favor."

"What is it? I'll see if I can help," Irene said and closed the car door. She just finished her work and was now heading home.

Gloria told her what happened today.

Irene shuddered. "How could this happen?"

Gloria was about to speak when she got another call. It was from Nydia.

Gloria refused to answer the call and sent a WhatsApp message to Nydia.

The message read, "Hold on, I'm on the phone."

As Gloria sent the message, she continued, "This wasn't a random act. They know who I am and must have someone behind them."

"Leave it to me. I'll look into it!"

"Good."

They exchanged a few words and then hung up. Immediately after, Gloria called Nydia back.

Before Gloria could speak, Nydia asked, "What happened? Are you alright?"

"I'm fine. I'm at home. Don't worry about me."

Gloria kept her voice casual so that she didn't sound like someone who had an accident.

Nydia knew well that Gloria was a good fighter, but she was afraid that the attackers were powerful too.

Nydia frowned and muttered uncertainly, "Are you really okay? Are you lying to me?"

"You can come and check on me now," Gloria quipped.

Nydia was slightly relieved to hear that, but then she said, "Let's do a video call."

With that, Nydia hung up the phone and made a video call.

Gloria accepted the call, and Nydia was relieved to see that she was at home indeed and looked like she was doing fine. "I just checked Twitter. I can't believe they did that to you. Bastards!"

Gloria smiled, "I'm fine. Don't worry about me."

Nydia frowned, "Where's Bryson? Does he know about it?"

"He didn't call me. I don't think he knows," Gloria said quietly.

How did he know about this? A lot of tasks fell to Bryson suddenly, and he was swamped with work. He and his colleagues were having an emergency meeting in the conference room. Bryson didn't even know it was Jordy who got him into trouble.
