Chapter 901 You Are Worse Than an Animal!

Jordy stared at her and said coldly, "Gloria, can you think before you speak?"

He was very furious.

Gloria frowned and looked at him with a confused look, "Was I wrong? Let go of me!"

Jordy still grabbed her jaw. He guessed the slight pain in her jaw could make her soberer! Then she would realize how stupid the things she just said were!

George was like a chatterbox just now, but he only wanted to be a quiet driver at this moment.

Jordy and Gloria were in the back seat alone.

Jordy even wished he could take Gloria's heart out and see if it were a stone!

George was shocked.

Damn it! Was Jordy really crazy?

How could he say such a thing?

He had already fallen in love with Gloria, but he refused to admit it and even said those harsh words to her!

How could he do that?

Gloria looked paler. She didn't expect that Jordy would say such words. The next moment, she laughed, "You are right. I know that, so I've been trying to stay away from you."

She doesn't want to waste her breath on Jordy. She was really upset and irritated.

After Jordy said that, his expression changed. He just blurted those words out.

He saw Gloria's expression and suddenly pursed his thin lips tightly. Then he turned his head in silence.

George was still driving. The embarrassed atmosphere in the car made him uncomfortable.

He coughed and hurriedly lightened the mood, "Come on! It's just something not even worth mentioning! Jordy, be a gentle man and be careful with what you say. You always say things you don't mean. Something must be wrong with you."

Jordy looked at George coldly with a deep frown.

But George did not look in the rearview mirror at all. He had expected that Jordy would warn him like that. He simply refused to look at him.

Gloria turned her head and didn't say anything, as if nothing had happened. She had regained calm.

George became the one who was talking all the way. He kept talking in a high spirit to lighten the mood, but neither Jordy nor Gloria responded. He only felt tired! He was so awkward!

In the end, he gave up and stopped talking.

When they got there, he was the first to get out of the car and handed the key to Gloria.

He didn't want to stay here anymore!

How nice the air was outside!

Gloria took the car key, saw Jordy get out of the car, and left directly after locking the car doors.

Jordy stood there and looked at Gloria's receiving figure coldly.

George looked at him with a frown, "It's said that Mr. Collins is always decisive and does what experience advises, but you actually said those words. Did you even think before you say them?"

"No."

"No?" George laughed with anger. He was speechless, "Seriously?"

Why was he so stupid?

He should give up! George had given up being Jordy's "love mentor"!

Rachel was already here.

Seeing George swearing, she frowned slightly.

Did something unpleasant happen just now?

She didn't speak but just said hello to George. George turned his head and found that she came here so quickly. He just smiled at her and then walked straight into the company.

"I also want that, and I have asked her about her plan, but she just told me not to ask questions, and don't be curious about what I shouldn't know. Otherwise, I'll come to no good end!" Angela was a little angry. They couldn't get rid of Gloria and the woman behind her was so arrogant. She was upset.

"Forget it, let's see what will happen, but we can't just sit back and wait for her orders. We should take our own actions." Martha thought for a while before she said such words.

Angela just curled her lip and didn't say anything. Today was Martha's birthday after all, so she'd better not piss Martha off.

Another three days passed. It was almost time to get off work in the afternoon.

Gloria's mobile phone suddenly rang. Seeing it was Irene, she answered it.

"Gloria, are you free after work?"

"What's the matter?"

This doctor had always been a sycophant, and before he met Claude, he was just a mediocre doctor, but now he had become the third leader of that hospital, which was a great favor to him.

He would naturally remember the person who did him that favor clearly.

Gloria whispered, "Did he ask you anything else when he came to you for these herbs?"

The doctor frowned, as if a little upset, "That's related to Mr. White's privacy. I can't answer it."

The hospital he was in was owned by Claude.

So he should obey his boss's decision and protect his interests. Maybe he really didn't know some things, but he wouldn't tell Gloria even if he knew.

The next moment, he said in a deep voice, "These herbs were used to nurse Mr. White's body, and they are normal herbs. How could you say that I killed a person with them? You think you work in the legal department, so you could slander me at will? You know what? I can sue you! The law is fair, and it wouldn't be partial to you just because you are Norma!"

Dr. Robinson's voice was filled with anger, but he seemed to be trying to cover up his guilty.

Gloria's hands were still shaking with anger. The culprit was right in front of her, but she couldn't cut him into pieces!

Gloria suppressed her anger and kept silent. Irene was afraid that Gloria would collapse. She looked directly at Dr.

Robinson, "Those clues led us to you. You still think you are really innocent? Dr. Robinson, if you tell us everything, you might enjoy your old age in peace, but if you insist on hiding the truth..."

Dr. Robinson's pause proved everything.

Gloria didn't need to see him give himself away, because Irene had told her about the situation. It would be useless no matter how hard he tried to cover the whole thing up.

Dr. Robinson was afraid and annoyed. He stopped, and turned to Gloria, "What do you mean? You give me a conviction of killing someone just with the list you have? I have been a doctor for so many years and I have been treating patients and saving lives. I never killed anyone! But you are going to put that charge on me just because of a list of herbs? And what's wrong with these herbs?"

He never gave such a list to Gloria.

Gloria sneered, "You just admitted that you gave these herbs to him, didn't you?"

Dr. Robinson immediately frowned and said in a cold voice, "I did give him a list, but it was a long time ago. I don't remember the herbs on the list at all. What charge do you want to put on me again?"

Although he was guilty, he was more experienced than Gloria. He wouldn't break down so easily.

Gloria stared at Dr. Robinson's receiving figure, and said with a thoughtful look, "Since there are traces, we should track them down. Just leave the rest to me. I can handle it."

Irene disagreed instantly, "How can you deal with it alone?"

Gloria smiled, "I can cope with it for the time being, and I might need your help with my mother's matter."

Irene nodded, "OK, just let me know if you need any help with this matter."

Gloria nodded. Irene started the car without saying anything else.

On the other side...

Dr. Robinson got home and called Claude in a panic.

Bob took a heavy breath and hurriedly told them what had just happened. Angela, Martha, and Claude all took on a pale expression.

Angela immediately said, "Gloria is perceptive. She is good at finding loopholes. Are you sure you said nothing wrong?"

Bob looked hesitant, "I..."

They all looked at him instantly.

Claude said in a deep voice, "You said the wrong thing?"

"No, I didn't!" Bob was so scared and quickly denied it, and then he realized that his voice was loud. He quickly explained, "I don't think I said anything wrong. I insisted that I knew nothing about what happened. I told them that I prescribed those herbs just for you to recuperate, and it has been such a long time. It's normal that I couldn't remember the herbs on the list."

Martha frowned, "You did the right thing. If you told them you remembered those herbs, you would appear intentional, which would arise suspicion."

He was more flustered!

Claude said in a deep voice, "You'll work as usual in the coming days, but don't go anywhere else or contact Gloria. If she calls and sends messages to you, don't reply. Don't give her a chance to find any traces."

Bob was a little relieved and quickly nodded, "OK, I see."

The night grew late.

Jordy was working at home alone. He had a pile of work to do every day.

He suddenly received a message and he clicked into it.
