Chapter 2391 Entering the Warzone for the first time (2)

As Xia ruofei ran in the dark – he released his spiritual power to scan the surroundings. Once they crossed the border, it meant that they had entered the battlefield – they had to be very careful.

Currently, the government forces and anti – Government armed forces were mainly concentrated in the central region of wadila. The area bordering arulei was relatively stable and there were no large – scale battles. Hence, Xia ruofei did not encounter much danger along the way. When he encountered a few waves of wadila government border guard patrols, he avoided them in advance after detecting them with his mental strength.

Xia ruofei had only roughly determined the direction and continued to move forward at a high speed. He ran at this speed for an entire hour and had covered about 30 kilometers.

It had to be said that the physical fitness of cultivators was indeed extremely strong. An ordinary person could not run so far in an hour, even on flat roads, let alone in such terrain.

Of course, Xia ruofei was not stupid enough to run all the way. It was at least 700 to 800 kilometers from here to the poeta region where the modr mercenary group had been active recently. He could not run all the way there. He had to get a car first.

Hence, when Xia ruofei was far away from the border between arulei and vadira, he found a hidden marshland and hid there. He sat cross – legged on the ground and took out a piece of origin crystal to start cultivating. At the same time, he also recovered his physical and mental energy.

The night was peaceful.

The vadira territory was vast, and there was a large wilderness at the border of arulei. No one would wander around here at night for no reason.

Xia ruofei had already set off when the sky brightened.

He was wearing a plaid shirt, an army green vest, a pair of gray overalls, and high – Top outdoor boots. He was carrying a backpack and had an SLR camera hanging in front of his chest.

This was the identity that Xia ruofei had set for himself during the vadira event as a war reporter.

To be more precise, she was a free war reporter.

In many war – torn areas, a large number of war journalists were active. Some of them did not belong to any news agencies. They interviewed in war – torn areas as free agents, and some of them would sell first – hand news material to major news agencies.

Some of these people dreamed of being a journalist, while others made a living out of it. No matter what their purpose was, objectively speaking, a large number of freelance war journalists were active in various hot spots every day.

These people were really fighting with their lives. Every year, there were many casualties. Some were kidnapped and beheaded by extremist organizations, some were hit by stray bullets, and some were killed by various accidents or diseases ...

These freelance war journalists came from all over the world. Xia ruofei's identity in the war zone would not attract any attention.

He was walking on a simple road with a camera and a camera.

The handheld GPS showed that there was a small town controlled by the government army about 15 kilometers ahead. Xia ruofei planned to see if he could get a car there.

Xia ruofei turned his back to the sun and walked along the simple road to the West.

After walking for about four to five kilometers, Xia ruofei heard the sound of a car engine coming from behind. He moved to the side of the road to make way for them. The simple road was not very wide.

A dusty Ford off – Road vehicle drove up from behind, but the car didn't drive away. Instead, it slowed down and honked twice.

Xia ruofei turned his head and saw a white man with messy hair and an unkempt beard sticking his head out of the car window. He shouted, ""Hey! Brother, do you need a ride?"

Xia ruofei was stunned. There was such a warm – hearted person?

However, he wasn't afraid of the other party's ulterior motives. He smiled and nodded. "Thank you!"

The white man with disheveled hair stopped the car. Xia ruofei opened the door to the passenger seat and got in.

He saw that the back seat of the car was filled with all kinds of photography equipment, including lenses of various size, several single – lens reflex cameras, a portable workstation dedicated to video recording, and a drone.

Xia ruofei immediately understood. This person was probably also a war reporter, but he was more well – equipped than a fake reporter like him.

The white man introduced himself as he drove, ""Brother! You're also a war correspondent?"

Xia ruofei laughed and said, "yes!" I'm Jenneson, and I've only been in this line of work for a short time. Brother, how should I address you?"

The white man twisted his body to the music in the car and said, ""You can just call me Tony!"

Hearing this name, the first thing that came to Xia ruofei's mind was the "Mr. Tony" who did people's hair in the laundry, scissors, and blow dryer shop and strongly recommended membership cards. He could not help but smile.

Tony was more talkative and kept talking to Xia ruofei along the way.

Xia ruofei did not say much to Tony as he was being cautious.

However, Xia ruofei managed to get a lot of information from the conversation.

Tony's destination was Deca town, which was about ten kilometers ahead. It was also the town that Xia ruofei wanted to find a car in.

Tony had received news that anti – Government militants seemed to be active in Deca town these few days, and he wanted to rush over to get first – hand interview information.

In addition, the situation in wadira seemed to be getting more and more tense. The anti – Government armed forces had hired many international mercenaries to join the battlefield. These mercenary organizations were well – equipped and their members were experienced in combat. The government forces were no match for them at all.

The mercenary group's Commission was definitely very expensive. The anti – Government armed forces were probably backed by foreign forces to be able to make such a big move. Their purpose was naturally to overthrow the wadira government.

Xia ruofei had also learned from Tony that there were indeed several mercenary groups active in the boetar region. The local government armed forces were also losing ground, and the battlefield had advanced further east.

It was only about ten kilometers from the place where Xia ruofei had gotten into the car to Deca town. In a short while, the town was already in sight.

Tony parked the car at the small square at the entrance of the town and said with a smile, ""Brother, I can only give you a lift up to this point. Next, I need to look for interview material!"

"Thank you very much!" Xia ruofei said.

"I wish you good luck!" Tony smiled and said, "we don't know how long this damn war will last. Remember, staying alive is the first thing. Don't work too hard for work."

Xia ruofei could feel Tony's kindness. He smiled and said, ""Alright, you too. Good luck, Tony!"

"Goodbye!" After Xia ruofei got out of the car, Tony grinned at him, waved his hand, and drove off.

Xia ruofei, on the other hand, was walking slowly on the streets of the town with his bag.

The morning in the town was very quiet, as if the haze of war had not infected this place. Some shops had already opened for business, and the pedestrians on the road looked very relaxed.

Xia ruofei looked left and right as he walked, hoping to find a used car shop or a car rental shop.

He did not want to stay here for too long. After he got the car, he would head west and get to the poeta region as soon as possible.

Xia ruofei saw a trading firm and walked over. Usually, people in such places would understand English. He wanted to ask where he could rent a car in town.

At this moment, a violent explosion sounded, Breaking the Silence of the small town.

The people on the street were stunned by the sudden explosion. After a few seconds, screams and cries resounded through the street.

When the explosion occurred, Xia ruofei subconsciously dodged to find a cover and quickly released his spiritual power.

Soon, he found that there were no armed men nearby, and the explosion happened in a coffee shop about 200 meters away. At this time, the entrance of the coffee shop was already in a mess.

Xia ruofei's mind power detected a Ford SUV parked near the coffee shop. It was the same one Tony had driven.

Although it wasn't directly attacked, the glass of the Ford off – Road vehicle was completely shattered by the shock wave of the explosion.

Xia ruofei couldn't help but stare. His figure flashed out from his hiding place and he ran quickly in the direction of the coffee shop.

Chapter 2392 Human lives are as cheap as grass (1)

Xia ruofei's full speed was very fast. He covered the distance of one to two hundred meters in an instant.

It was a mess outside the coffee shop. All kinds of building materials and glass shards were scattered on the ground. The entire glass wall, door, and window had disappeared.

While Xia ruofei was running, he had already scanned the area with his spiritual power. He did not find Tony in the car.

Xia ruofei's heart sank and he rushed into the cafe without hesitation.

When he saw the scene in front of him, he couldn't help but gasp despite his strong mental fortitude.

At this time, the coffee shop seemed to have become a slaughterhouse. Many people were lying on the ground. These people were all like bloody gourds. Some were pressed under the table and the wreckage of the chandeliers, and some were lying directly on the bar counter, their hanging hands still dripping with blood.

Xia ruofei even saw blood and flesh splattered on the wall. The entire cafe was filled with the smell of gunpowder and blood.

One could see how powerful the explosion was.

In addition, the coffee shop was silent after the explosion. There was no trace of moaning, only the occasional dripping of blood on the ground.

The silence was suffocating.

Xia ruofei was someone who had been on the battlefield. He knew that there would be no survivors in the coffee shop after the explosion.

As he used his mental power to scan the people lying on the ground, he muttered in his heart, "Why were there so many people in the cafe so early in the morning?"

What Xia ruofei did not know was that the main customers of this café in Deca town were not the local people, but foreigners.

The composition of the foreigners who often appeared here was also quite complicated. There were arms smugglers, intelligence brokers, and some foreigners engaged in trade.

Of course, these people all had one thing in common, and that was that they were all making a fortune from the war in vadira.

So, they didn't go to the coffee shop for fun, but to talk business.

In fact, this café in Deca town had become the intelligence Center in the Eastern Region of vadira. Of course, there were also many freelance war journalists like Tony who would come here to get some interview clues.

The explosion was obviously a suicide attack, and the mastermind behind it was most likely the anti – Government armed forces, which were growing in power in wadira. The reason why they had chosen this café was that there were more foreigners here. If there were heavy casualties, it would cause a relatively large international impact.

Xia ruofei's spiritual power quickly locked onto Tony's aura. He walked over quickly and moved away the sofa that was pressing down on Tony.

Tony was covered in blood. His legs and knees were missing. There was a big hole in his chest and his face was covered in blood. If Xia ruofei had not detected his aura with his spiritual power, he would not have been able to recognize him with his eyes.

Xia ruofei could tell that Tony was dying.

Xia ruofei lifted Tony up and let him lean on his arm. His other hand quickly tapped on Tony's body a few times to seal a few of his main acupuncture points to prevent the blood from flowing out.

Then, Xia ruofei pressed his hand on Tony's chest and transferred a wisp of vital energy to him.

Tony's chest heaved up and down slightly. The next moment, he tried hard to open his eyes.

Tony, who was barely breathing, had a strange look in his eyes when he saw Xia ruofei. He opened his mouth but could not make a sound. It was obvious that he had reached his last moment.

Xia ruofei increased the input of genuine Qi and said in a deep voice, "Tony, do you have any unfulfilled wishes? you can tell me. I'll help you if the conditions allow it."

In reality, if Xia ruofei had used the petals of the spirit Heart Flower, it was still possible to save Tony. However, he would not use the petal solution on someone he had just met.

The loss of some petal solution was not too big of a deal for Xia ruofei. However, he had no way of explaining himself after the incident. He could not bet that Tony would keep the secret for him. After all, they had only met in the morning and had only spent less than half an hour together. He did not know Tony well.

There were people dying every day in this world. Xia ruofei could not be the Savior and save every life on the verge of death.

However, it was fate that they met. Tony took the initiative to give him a ride, which could be considered a good relationship.

That was why Xia ruofei had used his Qi to hang on to Tony's last breath so that he could say what he wanted.

Tony's lips trembled slightly as he said in a weak voice, "My ... My ... Waist bag ... There's a USB drive ... Help ... I ... Gave it to me ... My daughter ... Her name is Emma ... The address is ... In ... My wallet ... On ... The back of ... That photo!"

In fact, there was a video in Tony's USB drive. It was the words he wanted to say to his daughter that he had recorded two days ago. As if he had sensed something, two days ago, when he was on the road, he suddenly wanted to leave a message for his daughter, so he directly set up the camera and recorded a part of it. He didn't expect that it would really become the last words he left for his daughter.

In addition to the video, there was a document in the USB drive that saved his bank account number and password. All his savings were in this account, which was also the last wealth he left for his daughter.

Chapter 2393 Human lives are as cheap as grass (2)

In fact, if Xia ruofei had read the data in the USB drive, it was possible that he could have taken all the money in the bank account for himself. After all, they had just met and Tony did not know what kind of person Xia ruofei was.

However, he was already on his deathbed and there was no one he could trust. He could only choose to trust Xia ruofei.

As Xia ruofei listened, he reached out and searched Tony's body. He found his wallet and the USB flash drive in his waist bag.

"Is this the USB drive?" Xia ruofei asked as he took out a photo from Tony's wallet. It was a girl who looked to be 14 or 15 years old. She had two golden braids and a bright smile on her face.

Xia ruofei turned the photo around and saw an address and contact number written on the back. He showed the back of the photo to Tony and asked, "This is the address and phone number, right?"

Tony nodded with difficulty and said, "Please ... I'm counting on you!"

Xia ruofei nodded and said, "don't worry!" I'll give this USB and the things you left behind to your daughter."

Tony panted with difficulty as he nodded gently. Blood kept oozing out of his mouth, and he was about to die.

"Do you have anything else to say?" Xia ruofei asked.

Tony squeezed out a smile and said, "Live ... Live on ... Stay away ... From this damn battle ..."

Halfway through his sentence, he could no longer catch his breath. His head tilted to the side, and he completely stopped breathing.

Xia ruofei looked at Tony's dilated pupils and sighed. He closed his eyes and put him down.

Xia ruofei did not keep Tony's body as he was being cautious. There must be surveillance cameras in the Qin Zhuan coffee shop. After the explosion, the surveillance cameras must have stopped working. However, the data before the explosion might still be intact. When the local government investigated this case, they would definitely look at the surveillance data. When they compared it, they would find that Tony was missing.

Besides, Xia ruofei had also considered that this was an area controlled by the government. If Tony's body was left here, the local government would definitely take care of it. After identifying him, they would probably inform his family.

At this moment, Xia ruofei could hear the shrill sound of police sirens approaching.

He did not stay in the coffee shop any longer. He reached into Tony's pocket and found the car keys. He took one last look at Tony, then got up and quickly left the coffee shop.

Xia ruofei found Tony's Ford SUV not far away.

The car's glass had been shattered by the blast, and there were glass shards everywhere.

Xia ruofei opened the car door and waved his hand. A wisp of spiritual power swept out and swept all the glass shards on the driver's seat to the side.

He sat in the car and inserted the key to try it out. When he found that the car could still start normally, he quickly changed gears, stepped on the gas, and left the vicinity of the coffee shop.

Xia ruofei drove the Ford SUV and passed by the fire trucks, ambulances, and police cars that were speeding towards them.

After he drove out of Deca town, he found a place to park the car.

Then, Xia ruofei cleaned up the car and put all the things Tony left in the car, the USB and the photo with the address and phone number into the spirit map space.

Xia ruofei had specially used the spatial laws to create a small space in the spatial mountain and sea realm to store Tony's belongings.

Xia ruofei had no intention of opening the USB drive that Tony had specially entrusted to him.

He could guess that the things inside must be very important, and it was very likely to involve some financial issues. However, Xia ruofei's net worth was at least a few billion dollars. Even if he was not a scholar, he would not have such a crooked idea.

Xia ruofei planned to pass all of Tony's belongings to his daughter, Ames, after he was done with the things here.

After putting away Tony's belongings, Xia ruofei sat in the driver's seat, deep in thought.

There was also a waist bag in front of him, which also belonged to Tony.

In addition to the USB flash drive, Tony's passport, reporter's id, and so on were also in the waist bag.

Xia ruofei thought for a while and finally decided to change into Tony's appearance.

He used a secret technique to slightly adjust his bones, bones, and muscles. At the same time, he also changed his skin color a little using a makeup investigation technique. He also slightly adjusted his hairstyle and stuck some beard on his face.

In a short while, Xia ruofei's appearance was at least 70% to 80% similar to Tony 's. If one only looked at the not – so – Clear ID photo on the passport, they would be exactly the same.

Xia ruofei did not plan to use Tony's identity to move around in vadira. He only did so to deal with the possible inspections on the way. By changing into Tony's appearance, it was equivalent to having a complete set of identification documents. Whether it was in the government – controlled area or the anti – Government armed area, as a reporter, he could pass through without any obstacles in most cases.

Of course, if it was an area of intense battle or a place involving military secrets, then they could not enter.

Xia ruofei would not use Tony's appearance for the actual operation. Even though Tony had died, Xia ruofei did not want to bring trouble to his family.

Chapter 2394 Human lives are as cheap as grass (3)

Xia ruofei started the Ford SUV again and headed west.

Although the car's Windows were all shattered and there were holes in all sides, the sound of the wind filled their ears as the car drove on. However, as a cultivator, this little bit of wind did not affect them at all. Xia ruofei directly increased the throttle to the maximum. The car whistled as it sped on the simple road, stirring up dust along the way.

Along the way, Xia ruofei was very quiet. He had not recovered from his emotions yet.

Speaking of which, Xia ruofei had seen blood on the battlefield and his mental strength was much stronger than the average person. However, when he saw the hellish scene in the coffee shop, he was still shocked.

The quiet town was instantly filled with cries and screams. The strong contrast made Xia ruofei feel that peace was hard to come by.

When he was living in China, this feeling was not very strong. But when he came to this war – torn country, Xia ruofei deeply felt the preciousness of a peaceful environment in China.

In the war – torn zones, human lives were as cheap as grass.

Xia ruofei drove for a few hundred kilometers without a word. From dawn to dusk, he did not stop for a rest.

The closer they got to the war zone, the more tense the situation became.

Xia ruofei saw a lot of people fleeing along the way, but there were very few cars that drove in the opposite direction like him.

Along the way, they passed by a few checkpoints set up by the government forces. Tony's identification documents were complete and he was a reporter, so the government forces did not make things difficult for Xia ruofei. They only warned him that the battle area was very dangerous and that he had to be careful of his personal safety.

There were many war journalists active in vadira, and it was not the first time the soldiers had seen them. They knew that these journalists were not afraid of death, and it was useless to persuade them to stay away from the war zone.

In the afternoon, Xia ruofei could already feel the tension in the situation. The government forces and anti – Government armed forces in this area were at odds with each other, and the small – scale battles had never stopped.

At the most dangerous moment, a rocket landed less than a hundred meters in front of his car.

Xia ruofei's strong spiritual power and keen sense of danger allowed him to step on the brakes in advance to slow down. If he drove at a normal speed, he might be hit by the rocket.

As a refinement stage cultivator, he was still far from being powerful enough to ignore the attacks of hot weapons. Large – caliber firearms, rocket missiles, high – Energy bombs ... Any one of them was enough to take the life of a low – Level cultivator.

Hence, Xia ruofei did not dare to delay. He even summoned the spirit painting scroll from his body and stuffed it into the pocket of his overalls.

This way, with his current reaction speed, even if he encountered an attack he couldn't resist, he would have enough time to hide in space.

Other than the fleeing crowd, the stern – looking soldiers, and the sounds of gunfire from afar, there was an even more shocking scene. After entering the battle zone, Xia ruofei saw the corpses lying on the ground more than once.

It was unknown how these people died. They might have been hit by stray bullets, robbed, or even killed by the government forces. However, the war situation was tense, and no one had the time to deal with them, so their bodies were left in the wilderness.

Due to the bad road conditions and the frequent stops, Xia ruofei had only driven less than 400 kilometers in a day.

The handheld GPS showed that they were more than 300 kilometers away from the POTA region. Xia ruofei decided to make a break and travel through the night.

Chapter 2395 A thousand – mile long – distance raid (1)

Xia ruofei sat in the Ford SUV that was leaking air. He took out a bottle of spirit pool water and a bag of biscuits from his storage space and had a simple meal.

In fact, as long as Xia ruofei continued to cultivate, it would not affect him even if he did not eat for a few days. This was mainly due to the habit he had developed. He always felt that his stomach would not feel right if he did not eat at least once in a while.

After dinner, Xia ruofei took out his handheld GPS and started to plan his next course of action.

From here to the poeta region, they still needed to pass through three clear war zones, so they had to be very careful when driving at night.

In addition, the poeta region was very large, and since the modr mercenary group had participated in the war, it was certainly impossible for them to be stationed in one place all the time. Where exactly this hundred – man mercenary group was located was also a problem.

Xia ruofei had been listening to the local English radio station while they were on the road today. He had a general understanding of the current situation in vadila.

At present, the government forces and anti – Government armed forces were mainly active in poeta and the surrounding areas, and the situation on the battlefield was at a stalemate. The anti – Government armed forces were in actual control of the large area Northwest of the poeta region, while the government forces were in control of the East of the poeta region.

Of course, the anti – Government armed forces also strengthened their activities in the government – controlled area. The suicide attack in Deca town this morning might increase in the future.

The poeta region was the main battlefield for the two sides. It was also the most dangerous area in the entire vadira nation. If one searched in this area without a purpose, on the one hand, it would be very inefficient, and on the other hand, there would be unknown dangers.

Xia ruofei muttered to himself for a while. He reached out and touched the spirit map scroll that he had kept in his pocket for the entire day. He then sent a telepathic message to manchila, who was lying in the portable room in the space cage and recuperating.

“Manchila, do you have any Emergency communication channel with the modr mercenary group?” Xia ruofei asked, “I need to know their current location.”

The mountain and sea realm in the spirit map space.

Manchila was lying under a bed in the first mobile house. Xia Qing had assigned him to the first group that Bao Guijun was in charge of.

Under Xia ruofei’s threats and kindness, manchila did not dare to have any other thoughts. He had no doubt that as long as he circulated his cultivation technique, the cold manager Xia would definitely notice the fluctuation of spiritual energy at the first moment. So, he had been well – behaved for the past two days and had been lying down to recuperate in boredom.

When Xia ruofei’s voice rang in his ears, he could not help but shiver.

Xia ruofei was going to make a move on the mercenary group!

First, it was the training camp, and then the shadow Squad would probably be annihilated. Now, it was the mercenary group’s turn?

The mod organization was manchila's life's work. Thinking that this "famous" underground organization in all of Africa was going to be destroyed, manchila could not help but feel sad.

However, he didn't dare to disobey Xia ruofei's question. He quickly and respectfully replied, "Master, I can contact Douglas through the radio in an emergency."

"A radio station?" Xia ruofei could not help but raise his eyebrows.

He had thought that he would establish an emergency contact through the internet or a maritime satellite phone, but he did not expect it to be a radio station.

However, it made sense. In a complex battlefield environment, radio communication was indeed much more convenient than internet communication. After all, the location of the troops was uncertain, and it was impossible to guarantee that they could connect to the internet at all times.

As for maritime satellite phones, their privacy was far less than that of radio stations. After all, satellite phones were also transmitted through satellites, and the satellites were not in their own hands, so there was definitely the possibility of being monitored.

As for the radio, although everyone could receive radio waves in theory, as long as the password was complicated enough, the security could be guaranteed.

After all, cracking the password was a difficult problem even in the world's military world.

Xia ruofei asked, "where's your radio station?" Where's the codebook?"

Xia ruofei was a little regretful now. When they were in the arulei temple, he did not ask about the details of contacting the mod mercenary group. He only knew that there was no radio in the secret chamber of manchila. Otherwise, he would have been able to find it with his spiritual power.

"Master," manjeeb replied, "I rarely contact Douglas, and it's not easy to install an antenna in the secret chamber, so I put the radio in one of my villas in arulei."

"F * ck!" Xia ruofei couldn't help but curse in his heart.

However, this was also one of the drawbacks of mental force hypnosis. The hypnotized person would answer all the questions raised by the hypnotist, and he would not hold back. However, if the hypnotist did not ask any questions in this regard, the hypnotist would not take the initiative to speak.

Xia ruofei had focused all his energy on the dark shadow Squad and had not made up his mind to wipe out the entire mercenary group. Moreover, he did not have a clear understanding of the environment of the mercenary group, so he did not ask about this.

Now that they were a few hundred kilometers deep into the vadira Kingdom, were they going to go back and find the radio station?

Wait a minute! The radio station ...

As Xia ruofei thought about this, he suddenly remembered that he had plundered an entire warehouse in the barsoco training camp. There seemed to be a whole set of radio equipment in it.

The training camp was originally meant to train Reserve members for mercenary groups and shadow teams, and the focus of the training was different. Since the mercenary group was equipped with a radio station, they naturally needed communication soldiers, so the training camp also arranged for some students to receive training in broadcasting.

Chapter 2396 Long – distance raid (2)

The set of radio equipment was just a spare. There was another set in a building in the training camp. At that time, Xia ruofei thought that it was too troublesome to dismantle and it was not very useful, so he did not take it. The set in the warehouse was packed and had a complete set of spare parts, so Xia ruofei kept it in the warehouse.

Thinking of this, Xia ruofei immediately immersed his mind into the spirit map space and quickly found the batch of resources from the barsoco training camp that he had stored.

As expected, a whole set of radio equipment was among the supplies.

Xia ruofei was overjoyed. He quickly asked manchila telepathically, ""What about the codebook? Could it be in that villa?"

Under normal circumstances, the radio and the password book would not be placed together. Otherwise, in the event of an accident, the two things would fall into the hands of the enemy, and the other party would be able to pass off their identity to send messages to the mercenary group, and also monitor the messages sent by the mercenary group.

Manchila heard the anger in Xia ruofei's voice and replied in fear, ""Master, the password book is an electronic version, stored in the computer on the island in the secret room. When I need to contact the mercenary group, there's a special messenger. He only knows how to send and copy the news. I personally completed the translation work. "

In other words, the messenger of manchila could only send and receive the contents of The Telegraph, but he did not understand the meaning of these numbers. Every time he received the content, manchila would translate it through a codebook. After receiving it, he would also hand over the original content to manchila, and manchila would translate the electricity himself.

This ensured the safety of information to a large extent.

Xia ruofei couldn't help but admire the strict and cautious nature of the modr organization. As for manchila's Messenger in arulei, Xia ruofei didn't care too much.

Anyway, the messenger probably didn't know who he was contacting and he didn't have the password book. Even if he found out that Xia ruofei was missing, he couldn't use the radio to inform the mercenary group.

At that time, there were two laptops in the secret room. One was used to connect to the internet, and the other was an isolated computer that was physically isolated from the internet. Xia ruofei had kept both laptops.

In other words, the password was with him, and he didn't need to return to arulei to find it.

Xia ruofei secretly heaved a sigh of relief. After asking for the location of the password book, he carefully asked about the habit of sending messages when contacting the mercenary group.

Manchila was not hypnotized, but his life was in Xia ruofei's hands. He did not dare to have any thoughts about Xia ruofei's question and told him everything without hiding anything. He even took the initiative to tell Xia ruofei the questions that he had not considered.

For example, when manchila sent a message to the modr mercenary group, he would add a string of meaningless numbers at the end of the message. This string of numbers would also change according to the different dates. As long as this string of numbers was seen at the end of the message, it must be manchila's own message.

This was equivalent to an anti – counterfeit logo.

Manchila had completely given up. In his eyes, Xia ruofei was an invincible God. Since Xia ruofei had set his eyes on the modr mercenary group, then the mercenary group would not be able to escape. In that case, he did not dare to hold back. He only hoped to perform well and get Xia ruofei's appreciation.

Otherwise, when Xia ruofei was done with the mercenary group and found out that he was hiding something, he would have a terrible ending.

As for the life and death of the mercenary group, manchila did not even consider it. These people had always been cold – hearted.

Of course, as for the anti – counterfeit symbol, because the algorithm was more complicated, there was a small software saved in the computer. As long as you entered a date, it would automatically generate the string of codes of that day.

This software was like a password book that was stored in a folder. Xia ruofei would find it when he looked for it.

Instead of waiting for Xia ruofei to find out and then asking, it was better to take the initiative to say it so that Xia ruofei would have a good impression of her.

Now that Xia ruofei's spiritual power had broken through a major realm, his memory was much better than ordinary people. Although manchila's words were complicated, Xia ruofei could remember them all after listening to them once.

With a thought, he took out the isolated island laptop from the space. After turning it on, he followed the hidden path provided by manchila and quickly found the codebook document. There was also a small software in the folder that specialized in generating anti – counterfeit string codes.

There was also a similar software in the modr mercenary group, controlled by Douglas.

The algorithm of this codebook was very complicated, and it didn't seem to be fabricated to fool people.

However, Xia ruofei was cautious by nature. He would not easily believe manchila's words when he was not hypnotized.

He muttered to himself for a moment, and then used his mind to mobilize the invisible spatial force to suppress manchila.

Manchila was caught off guard in the space and almost instantly fell into a state of unconsciousness.

When he lost consciousness, he was shocked. His last thought was, "Did I say something wrong that made master angry? Or is it because I didn't take the initiative to tell you about the radio station? Did he make his master unhappy?"

The next moment, Xia ruofei moved manchila out of space and threw him on the passenger seat.

Then, he slapped the unconscious manchila awake and immediately released his mental power at full force, shrouding manchila.

Manchila woke up with a dazed look on her face. Before she could come to her senses, she was directly attacked by Xia ruofei's spiritual power and entered a state of deep hypnosis.

That day at arulei temple, manchila still had the intention to resist, but now he was disheartened. Furthermore, he had not cultivated for a few days and was injured. He was in a very weak state, so he was hypnotized by Xia ruofei in an instant.

Under the surveillance of Xia ruofei's spiritual power, manchila could not pretend to be hypnotized.

Xia ruofei started to ask questions one by one, and the content was what manchila had told him just now.

Manchila, who was in a state of hypnosis, naturally would not hide anything. He repeated what he had just said like pouring out beans from a bamboo tube.

Xia ruofei made a comparison and confirmed that manchila was not playing any tricks this time. He did not hide anything or deceive anyone. He then withdrew his spiritual force and threw manchila back into the spirit map space.

Manchila felt the world spinning around him. When he woke up, he found himself on the bed in the mobile house again. At this time, everything that had happened during the hypnosis also appeared in his mind.

Xia ruofei's calm voice was heard in manchila's ear. "Not bad, you didn't hide anything from me. Rest well!"

Manchila's back broke out in a cold sweat. He did not expect Xia ruofei to be so cautious despite his strength. At the same time, he was secretly glad that he did not play any tricks. Otherwise, what awaited him now would not be Xia ruofei's light words.

Xia ruofei thought for a moment, then started the car and continued West according to the route he had just planned.

He was still a few hundred kilometers away from the poeta region. If he contacted the modr mercenary group now, they might have already left by the time he arrived. Wouldn't he have to contact them again then? Moreover, if he asked about the location of the mercenary group frequently in a day, it would raise Douglas 'vigilance.

Hence, Xia ruofei decided to contact the modr mercenary group when he reached the poeta region.

That night, Xia ruofei drove at full speed through the war zone. He used his spiritual power to avoid danger several times and avoided the marching troops twice. Xia ruofei did not know if the other party was the government army or the anti – Government armed forces. Anyway, he sensed that there was a large group of troops moving and avoided them in advance.

Xia ruofei finally arrived at a small town called Debra in the poeta region when the sky was slightly bright. It was only about ten kilometers away from the place where the modr mercenary group had been stationed.

Chapter 2397 The item in the bag (1)

The government forces and anti – Government armed forces fought frequently in this area, and the war situation was in a seesaw battle. The area was also attacked by the war many times.

As a result, this small town was almost riddled with holes and had almost become a ruin. The residents of the town had all fled, and the town was dead silent in the early morning. Occasionally, the sound of gunfire from afar broke the silence.

Xia ruofei drove the car into the town and found an abandoned building far from the main road.

The building was five stories tall. The outer wall was almost gone, and the other side had half collapsed. Xia ruofei drove the car into the interior of the building, then jumped out and found some construction waste to cover the outer wall.

In fact, he had put all the important things in the car into the spirit map space. However, in this war – torn country, a transportation vehicle was still very important, so Xia ruofei had to put on some proper disguise.

He wasn't going to stay here for long, so he didn't bother to put the car into the origin space. After all, it was a few tons heavy, and it would take a lot of mental power to put it in the space.

After Xia ruofei hid the car, he began to climb up the building. He moved nimbly through the pile of bricks. The stairs of the building had collapsed in many places. Xia ruofei climbed up like an agile monkey and reached the top of the building in no time.

This was the tallest building in the small town that had not collapsed yet. Xia ruofei had chosen this place to set up the radio antenna.

Xia ruofei went to the rooftop and used his spiritual power to check. He did not find anyone suspicious.

In fact, the residents of this small town had either run away or died. As long as there was no army activity in the vicinity, this was basically a Dead City. No one would appear at all.

After Xia ruofei was sure that it was safe, he immediately took out the entire radio set from his space.

A pile of army green boxes appeared on the rooftop.

Xia ruofei opened the boxes quickly and started to assemble the equipment.

In fact, the main body of the radio was already assembled. He only needed to connect the lead – acid battery to a few other Small Parts. After ten minutes, Xia ruofei had finished assembling the radio.

Then, he began to install the antenna.

The antenna was in a long canvas bag. After Xia ruofei took out the item, he unfolded the antenna and pulled out the retractable rod bit by bit to fix the antenna to the rooftop.

Finally, Xia ruofei connected the antenna to the radio station. The assembly was complete.

Xia ruofei had been trained in broadcasting when he was in the Army, but he was not as skilled as a professional radio operator. Moreover, he had not been in contact with it for a few years, so he was a little rusty.

After he turned on the power, he first practiced and familiarized himself with the power button.

To be honest, this kind of radio station had been eliminated in the Army of many countries, not because of its poor security performance, but because of the more advanced digital encryption communication means.

In fact, it was the exact opposite. When this kind of frequency – hopping radio was used with a high – Level codebook, the possibility of it being cracked was extremely low.

This was probably the reason why Manzila chose to use this old radio station as an Emergency communication channel with the modr mercenary group.

After Xia ruofei familiarized himself with it for a while, he was ready to start the official broadcast.

He had already translated the content to be sent through the codebook, and had also generated today's "anti – counterfeit serial code."

Xia ruofei held onto a piece of paper filled with numbers and pressed a button. A light beeping sound started to ring out on the rooftop.

The content of the message was very short. He quickly reported the exact location of your unit. Satan. There was not much content in total.

Xia ruofei would pause for half a minute after each message and then send it again. He repeated it three times before he ended the message.

Then, Xia ruofei sat down on the rooftop. He put on his headphones and waited for a reply while keeping an eye on his surroundings with his spiritual power.

After about ten minutes, the indicator light on the radio started to flash. Xia ruofei sat up straight and started to take notes.

The radio wave from the modr mercenary group was sent three times. After Xia ruofei recorded it the first time, he double – checked it from the beginning to the end on the second time. After confirming that there were no mistakes, he did not listen to it a third time.

He took out the laptop from the space, opened the codebook document, and began to translate the electricity against the codebook.

In a short while, the contents of the message were presented to Xia ruofei.

“Currently, the troops are camping in the forest eight kilometers South of the town of lucadu in the POTA region. They will move east tomorrow morning and cooperate with the main force to attack the area controlled by the government forces.”

It was signed off as “Boulder.”

Xia ruofei smiled.

With a clear location, it was easy to handle. The Telegram also said that the troops were resting today and would attack the East the next morning.

Xia ruofei had been in the Army for more than five years. He knew that when there was an important mission the next day, the first day of training would be reduced so that the soldiers could rest and conserve their energy. At night, there would definitely be no more emergency assembly.

Xia ruofei did not know if these mercenary groups would have an emergency gathering at night, but the way they led their troops was similar. Even if there was no emergency gathering, under normal circumstances, some accidents would happen. It was to train the soldiers' ability to respond to emergencies.

Chapter 2398 The item in the bag (2)

Since there would be a combat mission tomorrow, he would not have to do this tonight under normal circumstances.

A relatively peaceful night was a good time for Xia ruofei to take action.

Xia ruofei took out the GPS and found the location of the town of lucadu on it. Then, he headed south to find the forest.

He didn't have a military map in his hand, and the map shown on the GPS didn't have contours, so he couldn't see the terrain very clearly. However, the forest wasn't very large, and it wouldn't be particularly difficult to find a team of more than a hundred people stationed there.

Xia ruofei decided to investigate when he was near the forest.

So, he began to plan the route. It was about 30 kilometers from here to the town of lukadu, and there were two roads that could lead there. One of the roads had several villages occupied by anti – Government armed forces. The government had sent fighter jets to bomb the area, so the road conditions were expected to be very bad.

Hence, Xia ruofei did not hesitate and decided to take the other route, although it was a little longer.

In fact, it wasn't a long detour. The journey was about 40 kilometers, and most of the area along the way was controlled by the government.

In comparison, the government force was more friendly to international reporters.

Of course, the anti – Government armed forces would not attack reporters for no reason. It was just that sometimes they did not welcome interviews from reporters and their attitudes were relatively rough.

Therefore, it was naturally better to have less contact with the anti – Government armed forces.

After planning the route, Xia ruofei kept his laptop in his interspace and started to dismantle the radio station.

After a while, he put away the antenna and dismantled the radio station into several big parts, then put them into a box and put it into the space.

After packing up, Xia ruofei got up and went downstairs. He quickly came to the first floor where the car was hidden.

He decided to wait for the sky to turn dark before taking action.

Even if the road conditions were bad, they would definitely be able to get there in two hours.

The second half of the night was the time when one was the most soundly asleep, and the sentries' reactions would also be relatively slower. That was the best time to act.

Hence, Xia ruofei was not in a hurry to set off. This place was well hidden and he decided to stay here until dark.

Xia ruofei did not enter the car to rest. Instead, he took out a camping mat from his storage space and cleared out an area beside the car. After placing the camping mat, he sat on it and leaned against the car tire to rest.

Of course, he also kept a wisp of his mental power on guard. If an Army approached the area, he could put the car into his Origin space at once and leave quickly.

It was necessary to be vigilant at all times in the Theater of Operations. It could be regarded as a training of spiritual energy.

Xia ruofei leaned against the car and closed his eyes to rest. He felt as if he was in a dream. Qianqian had been in the war zone for the past two days. The sounds of gunfire seemed to be right beside his ears. It made him feel as if he had returned to the days of the military.

Xia ruofei spent the whole day resting in the abandoned building. The sounds of gunfire from afar were intermittent. It seemed that the battle was in a stalemate. Fortunately, the battlefield was at least a few kilometers away from here, so it was still peaceful.

The bored Xia ruofei even began to judge the distance or guess which weapons were firing based on the sound of the gun. Generally speaking, the ones with messy equipment mostly came from anti – Government armed forces; Although the combat power of the government army was average, their standard equipment was relatively unified.

Finally, the sky gradually darkened, and the sounds of gunfire in the distance also became less frequent. It was estimated that the two sides, who had been fighting for a whole day, had begun to rest. Of course, at night, small – scale raids were inevitable.

Xia ruofei did not know if the modr mercenary group had participated in the battle during the day. They were too far away and could not hear him.

Of course, he hoped that the mercenary group would also participate in the battle. This way, they would be even more tired at night.

It was only when the abandoned building was pitch black that Xia ruofei stood up and kept his things. Then, he went over to clear the obstacles that he had set up during the day and started the engine.

Xia ruofei reversed the car out of the abandoned building, turned on the GPS, and began to follow the planned route in the direction of lucadu.

If it was in China, it would only take half an hour to get there.

However, the road conditions in vadira were very bad, especially in the battle zone. There were huge bullet holes from time to time, and it was easy for the car to fall into them at night due to poor vision.

Hence, Xia ruofei was more careful. He did not speed up and kept his mind focused on the road ahead.

After driving for about an hour and a half, Xia ruofei finally arrived near the town of lucadu at about nineo' clock in the evening.

When they were about four to five kilometers away from the town of lukadu, Xia ruofei turned off the car lights and kept them off as he drove. He used his mental power to investigate and it did not really matter whether he turned on the lights or not.

From afar, he saw that there seemed to be lights coming from the town of lucadu, so he turned off the car lights without saying anything.

This area had already been plowed several times by the flames of war, so there would basically be no people there. There were lights in the town, which meant that there was an Army stationed there. If Xia ruofei drove with the lights on, the garrison in the town would notice him from far away and most likely send someone to investigate.

They had avoided several small troops along the way. Xia ruofei did not want to cause any trouble at this time.

Chapter 2399 The item in the bag (3)

When they got closer to the town of lukadu, Xia ruofei was even more certain that there were troops stationed in the town.

He judged that they were the anti – Government armed forces that would attack the Eastern Front with the mord mercenary group the next morning.

Xia ruofei did not continue to get closer. Instead, he chose to take a big detour and go around the northern side of lukadu town. Then, he went from the eastern side to the forest in the southern side of the town. The eastern side was controlled by the government forces. He did not know the situation behind the anti – Government forces 'control area, so it was safer to go through the intersection between the two areas.

With the help of his wide – range spiritual power, Xia ruofei drove the Ford with its lights off without any danger. He made a big circle in the North of lucadu and finally reached the forest where the modr mercenary group was stationed.

Xia ruofei stopped the car two to three kilometers away from the forest.

After making sure that there were no hidden sentries or other people spying on him, he put the off – Road vehicle into his space, drank a bottle of spirit pool water to recover his mental power, and rested for a while.

Xia ruofei, who had long changed into a tight black suit, was now lightly dressed. Like a civet cat, he flashed towards the forest. His movements were very light and did not make any sound. Even the fallen leaves on the ground were not moved. In a short while, he had blended into the night.

At this moment, Xia ruofei did not hesitate to use his spiritual power. He spread it out to the greatest extent to check the situation in the forest.

A team of more than 100 people was basically the size of an ordinary company.

According to Manzilla's information, the modr mercenary group also adopted a "three – three" structure similar to the Chinese army. The entire mercenary group was divided into three teams, with each team having more than 30 people. Each team was further divided into three groups, with each group having about ten people. In addition, there were also some signalmen, medics, odd – Job soldiers, and so on.

In terms of leadership, Boulder Douglas was the leader of the mercenary group, and a German named Kraten was his assistant. In addition, Douglas also had a trusted aide named Huges, who was also from the United States.

Huges' role in the mercenary group was roughly equivalent to that of a chief of staff. Of course, a small company like this would not usually have a chief of staff.

The above four people were the leaders of the modr mercenary group, and there were two or three staff officers. This basically made up the entire composition of the command.

After Xia ruofei entered the forest, he quickly climbed up a tree. He spread his mental power out and the terrain of the area quickly formed a three – dimensional image in his mind.

Xia ruofei, who was from the military, naturally knew what kind of terrain was most suitable for the troops to station.

He roughly estimated the path of the terrain, then leaped from the tree branch and pounced on another tree not far away like a big Bird.

Just like that, Xia ruofei advanced in one direction for about 50 meters.

His feet did not touch the ground during the whole process. He jumped directly to another tree if he was closer, and swung with the help of the branches if he was slightly further away. Even Tarzan, the man – ape in the movie, was not as dexterous as him.

Soon, Xia ruofei stopped moving forward and quietly lay on a thick branch. His eyes were very bright in the dark. Just now, his spiritual power had detected two hidden sentries in the direction he was moving.

Xia ruofei couldn't help but smile. It seemed like he was still doing his job well in the Army!

His judgment was completely correct. Since there was already a hidden Sentry, it meant that the camp of the modr mercenary group was not far away.

It was impossible for a company – sized small unit to send out sentries a few kilometers away.

Now that he had found the exact location of the troops, this mercenary group was in his bag ...

Chapter 2400 Snatching people away? that doesn't exist!

Xia ruofei jumped down from the tree without a sound and advanced another 100 meters in the direction of the two hidden sentries. Now, he was only 20 to 30 meters away from the hidden sentries. Due to the angle and the darkness of the forest, Xia ruofei's movements were very light and the two hidden sentries did not notice him at all.

Xia ruofei did not act rashly. Instead, he agilely climbed up a tree and hid among the dense leaves. He continued to spread out his spiritual power and probed ahead.

The main reason was that it was still the first half of the night, and it was not the best time to act.

On top of that, Xia ruofei also needed to observe the situation of the other sentries and even the entire campsite from this position. After moving closer to a hundred meters, he could sense the campsite of the modr mercenary group with his spiritual power.

Even if he had not cultivated, Xia ruofei was still an expert at hiding. Now that he could even hide his aura, it could be said that even if someone passed by the tree, it would be difficult to notice his existence.

He used his mental power to investigate the camp two to three hundred meters away. He investigated the distribution of troops, the arrangement of sentries, and so on. Soon, a three – dimensional figure was formed in his mind.

Xia ruofei was very patient. This was his last operation in Africa. Everything had gone smoothly at the start. As long as everything went well tonight, this trip to Africa would be complete.

He investigated the situation of the entire camp bit by bit, not letting go of any details, especially recording the route of the mobile sentries. This was the most important point to pay attention to during the operation.

After investigating the camp's situation, Xia ruofei rested on the tree and focused on the two sentries with a wisp of spiritual power.

Under normal circumstances, from now until the second half of the night, the sentries would have to change shifts, and he had to record the time.

Time passed by. The forest was quiet, and the sound of a small gasoline generator in the camp could be vaguely heard in the distance.

Xia ruofei was very patient. In reality, he was much better than when he was doing undercover training or operations in the Army. He could release a little bit of his spiritual power and the mosquitoes in the jungle could not get close to him. In the past, he had to endure this and stay in place without moving.

At midnight, Xia ruofei's spiritual power had some feedback. He sat up straight and noticed two soldiers coming from the camp with guns.

He estimated the time and judged that it was a shift change.

Sure enough, the two of them went straight to the hidden sentries' hiding spot. After a simple handover, the original two hidden sentries got up and left, and the two soldiers behind them took over their work.

Xia ruofei had stayed there for almost three hours. He estimated that there would be a shift of four hours. Of course, the frequency might change in the second half of the night, so he decided to wait until around two o'clock, and start acting regardless of whether the other side had changed shifts.

Xia ruofei hid silently for another half an hour. Suddenly, his spiritual power detected something unusual!

Xia ruofei couldn't help but sit up, frowning.

He detected that there was an Army of about 70 to 80 people silently approaching from the periphery of the forest.

Fuck!

Xia ruofei couldn't help but curse in his heart.

This was the rhythm of a night attack!

He originally thought that since the modr mercenary group had a combat mission the next morning, they would not be busy with other operations tonight.

However, they did not expect that before the modr mercenary group made any arrangements, the other party's troops had set their eyes on this 100 – man mercenary group and brought people to launch a night attack.

This can't do!

In the middle of the night, the other party had almost reached their doorstep, and the modr mercenary group had not even noticed. This was too useless! If the other party suddenly launched a fierce attack, the damage to the modr mercenary group would definitely not be small.

Xia ruofei already saw the modr mercenary group as his own. Even if one of them died, it would be his loss!

And if the battle really started, no matter what the result was, the modr mercenary group would most likely move to another camp. Wouldn't that mean that Xia ruofei's efforts tonight would be in vain?

Most of them were from the government.

However, Xia ruofei did not have any obvious bias towards the government or the anti – Government armed forces. The fight between the two parties was an internal matter of the wadira nation. But now that the government forces wanted to fight with him for meat, he couldn't do that!

Xia ruofei's mind was spinning and he made a decision in an instant.

He had to give the modr mercenary Group A warning!

With a thought, he took out two small stones from space and threw them at the two hidden sentries dozens of meters away.

Thump! Thump!

The small stone hit the Sentinel's helmet and made a dull sound. The sound was very clear in the quiet forest.

The two hidden sentries were immediately alarmed. They suddenly stood up and loudly asked about the situation.

On the other hand, Xia ruofei had already taken out a sniper rifle with a silencer from his storage space. He had emptied the warehouse of the training camp in Basoko town and captured almost all the assassins from the dark shadow Squad. Therefore, there were so many weapons in his storage space that he could even hold a weapon exhibition.

Xia ruofei quickly pressed a sniper bullet into the chamber, aimed, and fired. His movements were smooth and smooth. Although he had not touched a gun for a long time, the muscle memory in his bones had not disappeared. His movements were still so standard.
