Chapter 19: Draw Skill Dan

A dazzling purple light flashed, and a small pill appeared in front of Li Yun's eyes, which made him extremely excited.

As everyone knows, the pill is the most precious at any time, and to enhance one's strength is much better than external equipment!

In the gift bag, the grades of gifts are divided into: white, green, blue, purple, gold, and the most beautiful color light.

This time, Li Yun drove out purple-grade items, which was pretty good.

"Skill Dan?"

After seeing what the pill was in front of him, Li Yun was a little depressed.

It's not that this stuff is not good, the skill Dan can improve one of his skills without limit, such as upgrading the basic inch punch to the intermediate inch punch, the effect is very strong.

But the skill Dan could not immediately greatly enhance Li Yun's strength.

The more this thing is left behind, the greater the effect.

For example, to upgrade Cunquan from master level to * level, it feels really cool!

But there is also a question. When and how long will he be able to upgrade his skills to a master?

So, use it early and enjoy it, this skill Dan is best used at the right time!

"Forget it, let the skill pill temporarily, don't worry."

Li Yun smiled, many of the rewards in the system are random gifts. If you can get another skill pill, you don't need to struggle.

At night, the crowd gradually increased. Li Yun laid hands on the boss, sometimes washing and cutting vegetables, sometimes cleaning the dishes, and when the boss was too busy, she had to help him wash the dishes and chopsticks.

In short, Li Yun did all the chores.

After all, children from poor families don't care much. Li Yun clenched his teeth and persisted for more than two years. He swore countless times that he must succeed in the future!

After obtaining the system, Li Yun saw a shortcut to success!

"Boss! Serve food and beer!"

Just after the two tables of guests left, while Li Yun was busy washing the dishes, a young man with seven or eight huge waists and tiger head dragon head tattoos came to him.

Li Yun knew this group of people. A fat man with a stout body was headed by Brother Hu. They often came out at night, ordering a large plate of barbecue, ordering a few beers, drinking and guessing the code, yelling, no trouble. Two hours will never be fun.

The proprietress frowned. Although this group of people came to take care of their business every day, when they came, the average customers would not dare to order food, and the business volume would suddenly be much smaller.

"Brother Tiger, are you here?" The boss smiled and asked them to sit down and quickly prepare barbecue and stir-fry.

Li Yun once asked that this tiger brother was a thug in a hidden casino in a nearby village in the city, and ordinary people did not dare to provoke them.

But they are a little different today, they are particularly quiet, and they don't dare to breathe.

"Could it be... she?"

Li Yun looked at the girl who was sitting next to Brother Tiger, who was clearly the main position, guarded by these thugs and stars like a moon.

Or, the little girl.

She is about thirteen or fourteen years old. She looks cute. She is wearing a high-end down jacket with double ponytails. She is sitting on a chair with her calves dangling. She has a curious expression on her small face. She looks from left to right, and she is washing the dishes. Li Yun glanced at each other and put a cute smile on his face.

The corner of Li Yun's mouth twitched, and this little girl was so expensive, it seemed that the daughter of which family came out to experience life, and was very curious about everything on the street.

This eldest daughter has hired a bunch of casino thugs as guards?

"boss!"

Brother Hu said again: "Today you have a distinguished guest here. You have to show off your best craftsmanship to entertain Miss Hu. If she is satisfied, your shop can continue to open, and there will be plenty of rewards! Miss Hu no If you are satisfied, hum! You know the consequences!"
