Chapter 3191: Liu Xianxian Love

Fry the pan again on Weibo.

this hot search instantly rushed to the top of the hot search list, the people who didn't know the truth clicked in and almost thought it was a P picture!

The turmoil on Huang Xuanguo's Weibo soon swept across Twitter and Facebook, and countless foreigners felt the same way with Huang Xuanguo's men: the loss of their first love!

On the contrary, the female compatriots understand the fairy sister, because the fairy sister's "Mr. Killer" is so handsome and so handsome, she is dressed coldly, but her eyes are soft and a little bit of doting is better than love with Liu Xianxian, it is so cute. NS?

After these female fans knew that Li Yun would play a gentle killer in the interior of the movie, they screamed again and again, and immediately rushed to Li Yun's Weibo to ask for a flop.

I have to say that most female fans look at their faces, as long as they are good looks, they are much simpler than male fans.

"..."

While watching her happily brushing Weibo, while grilling meat for the princess lady, after eating, Li Yun thought that today's torture was over. Unexpectedly, Liu Xianxian took him and the crew to leave and walked to Hengzhen together. On the streets of Studio City.

In an instant, the combination of the two attracted the attention of countless visitors.

As mentioned earlier, Hengzhen is not only a film and television shooting base, but also an ultra-luxury tourist attraction with multiple four-star national scenic spots. In addition, movie stars are often encountered here, so at least several million tourists are received each year.

Hengzhen at night is even more beautiful, Han Dynasty streets, Chinatown, Ming and Qing palaces, magnificent temples, etc., the lighting exhibitions are different everywhere, and many street foods are decorated in retro style, and even sell soup tofu + radish. All of the aunts are dressed in ancient costumes, and there are common juggling in the streets and squares in ancient movies. Money depends on rewards. They knock on a big gong while shouting, "Walk by, don't miss it! Dear masters, those who have the money have a money market, and those who have no money have a personal one. Thank you for your reward!"

Such a hard performance is not much better than those female anchors who ask the audience for rewards in the live broadcast?

Therefore, Hengzhen at night can be said to be quite lively, and Li Yun couldn't help but want to stroll around.

only.....

"Ahhhhh, it's Xianxian!!!"

"What what? Sister Shenxian was eating here?"

"Look, it's Mr. Killer!"

"Wow, fairy sister in ancient costume!"

"Uuuuuu, why are the two holding hands?!"

"Stupid, it must be Xianxian in order to cultivate feelings, so I went out shopping with the male protagonist. My fairy buns are so dedicated~"

"That's right... Sisters, can I go after Mr. Killer?"

The star who appears in Hengzhen is like the crucian carp in the river, but Liu Xianxian is a star among the stars. Her appearance caused a great sensation. Hundreds of thousands of tourists want to rush to take pictures with her, a fairy in ancient costume. Sister, when will you wait if you don't shoot at this time?

There were no bodyguards around, but Liu Xianxian was not worried at all. He turned to Li Yuntian and shouted, "Mr. Killer~~!"

"...Yes, my princess lady!"

With a helpless expression on Li Yun's face, she hugged her slender waist. Miss the princess took the initiative to lean against him and smiled at the tourists who rushed over: "Everyone, I am the princess Miss tonight, killer. Mr. is going to take me away, please don't chase after...!"

The last word was dragged long by her, because Li Yun had already jumped up with his arms around her.

Chapter 3192: Realistic Sheriff and Killer

The two flew straight into the night sky and landed on the seven-eight-meter-high Han Dynasty roof. Li Yun dressed in black hugged Liu Xianxian in an underskirt. They seemed to be really killers who had robbed the princess and rushed to the street. After the pedestrian with a surprised expression on his phone and camera smiled, several leaps disappeared into the night.

The pedestrians haven't recovered for a long time.

"This is really hell!! What's the matter?!"

"Yeah, I didn't seem to see Diaoweiya, how did it act?!"

"Are you stupid? The hero of that play is a supernatural person!"

"Supernatural? Isn't it a martial arts movie?"

"I, Cao, what I said is that he is a supernaturalist in reality! He is the president of the Supernaturalist Association of China Overseas University, understand?"

"This...I just remembered that there are supernatural beings in this world, my mother!"

"Doesn't it mean that you don't have to hang Ayah when you are filming?"

"Only those with abilities don't use it."

A group of black-clothed assassins were really "heroes" who could really walk away from the wall. They stood looking at each other. After a while, they posted the photos and videos on the Internet, which caused a commotion on the Internet.

"It's not reasonable, this guy is so handsome, he is actually a supernatural person!"

"In other words, in and out of the play, the fairy was hugged on the roof by that guy? The name "The Killer and the Sheriff" is terrible at first!"

"So why did Xianxian make such a * movie!!"

"You guys will be sour, see how happy Xianxianxiao is, she must have a lot of fun~~"

"No, Xianxian must have pretended it!! It is to make a good movie, so I played with the man in black in the downtown streets, it must be!"

"I can jump around in Hengzhen at night, fly over the wall, jump more than ten meters, I am a fairy, I am also happy! Are you? Which man with the supernatural power also died, and accompany the old lady to Hengzhen? "

The identity of Li Yun's supernatural power was completely exposed. The previous voices opposed to him and Liu Xianxian being a couple on the screen were suddenly less than half. After all, this world is still respected by strength, whether it is the strength of money, power, status, or now after the explosion of aura , Personal force.

If it's a custard boy who popped up suddenly, he would even dare to kiss Liu Xianxian on the screen. I and my love comedy will definitely be sprayed to death.

But if this man is a handsome guy, he is also a champion in the college entrance examination of Zhonghai City, plus a powerful supernatural player, or the president of some association, then his status will be elevated and become able to be on the same stage with Xianxian. Performance.

At least there is not so much opposition.

Li Yun and Liu Xianxian played for one night, taking her to play in the bustling night scene of Hengzhen. Every time she was recognized and caused a sensation, the star would smile and put his arms around his waist, and raised his head charmingly. Looking at him, he shouted "Mr. Killer".

Then Li Yun felt numb all over, and led her to perform light work on the busy streets to avoid fans' fanatical pursuit.

Last night, Liu Xianxian's silver bells of laughter were left everywhere in Hengzhen. Passersby took many videos about her and posted them on the Internet, which caused a lot of onlookers.

Inexplicably, the combination of the black killer and the princess lady has won the recognition of many people, and the expectations of the movie have burst.

When Li Yun and Liu Xianxian entered the palace together the next day, when they saw the crew, their eyes turned to him.

Chapter 3193: I, Li Yun, want to make a wish

"what happened?"

Li Yun asked strangely.

Director Zhang Ke patted him on the shoulder with emotion, and sighed: "I should have hired a videographer with supernatural powers. If this is the case, I went with you to shoot with you last night, directly saving most of the shots and group performances.

Cameraman: "..."

Can't you be a camera these years? Are the times changing so fast? It makes people not work hard!

Li Yun and Liu Xianxian looked at each other and smiled. The latter's eyes turned slightly, his eyes showed a three-point cunning meaning, and he leaned into Li Yun's ear and whispered, "I will compensate you later."

compensate?

Li Yun looked at her unexpectedly, but Liu Xianxian walked into her dressing room humming a song, making Li Yun not sure whether what she said was true or false.

The so-called compensation refers to what happened last night.

The two of them won't go there until after ten o'clock. They booked a very private room in a distinctive antique house, with three bedrooms and one living room. The furniture is all antique, but the modern appliances are very complete and the decoration is quite luxurious. It costs tens of thousands of dollars a night, which is equivalent to a presidential suite, and ordinary stars can't live in this kind of room.

There are only Li Yun and Liu Xianxian in the three-bedroom, one-bedroom, nearly three-hundred-square-meter house. The house is still set by Liu Xianxian. It is estimated that he wanted to wait for Princess Gong Qingyu and Yongning to visit the class. Li Yun was very moved and wanted to compensate her.

As a result, after Liu Xianxian took a shower in the bathroom of his room, he only opened the door and stuck out a small half of his body, revealing a white swan neck and a small scented shoulder. After smiling shyly at Li Yun, he immediately closed the door to the room. .

Li Yun was at a loss, and then he received a message from Liu Xianxian: "Big villain, don't do bad things tonight. I'm tired after playing all night, go to bed~~"

This is the message sent on the button, together with the text, and a picture of Liu Xianxian. Li Yun almost didn't finish his nosebleed when he glanced at it.

In the photo, Liu Xianxian smiled shyly, pursing his small mouth, his eyes dodged and he dared not look at the camera.

She is sitting on a big bed covered with white sheets as a duck sitting, her white skin and white bedding reflect each other, one hand is blocking the front, protecting the key place, and the sitting position of the duck gives her another key. No need to cover up.

Therefore, Li Yun's eyes widened and did not see anything.

But this is enough.

Thinking of Liu Xianxian, who is pure and kind and known as the fairy sister, sent him such shameless selfies at night, Li Yun almost broke the door into her room last night.

Because except for those two places, his fairy didn't have any clothes, just like a girl sitting in a classic duckling posture, smiled shyly and gave him a selfie.

After waiting for three minutes, when Li Yun estimated that she was also very shy and eased over, a message was sent.

"Use [shame][shame][shame]."

The big star sent three shy expressions in a row.

Fancying that her real person also showed a shy appearance, Li Yun's heart was shaken, and he said cheeky: "Not enough!"

"Hmph, greedy ghost, no more!"

Li Yun waited patiently for a while, and Liu Xianxian added another message: "From now on, every night, you can summon the dragon after you gather the dragon balls."

"Shenlong? What kind of dragon? Ah, I see, make a wish!!"

"Don't make a wish now!!"

Liu Xianxian said again: "Go to sleep! I'm asleep, you can use it yourself!"

Chapter 3194: Debut

After sending three messages in a row, Liu Xianxian, who will play the role of a dragon to fulfill Li Yun's wishes in the future, seems to be really sleeping.

But Li Yun knows that girls generally say that when they go to bed, they never fall asleep right away. If you don't send a message to her, you are guaranteed to coax her for two hours the next day.

And it must not be a perfunctory good night. You must answer her last topic first, and wait for a while to confirm that she really won't reply before you can say good night.

Otherwise, I still have to coax for an hour tomorrow.

So Li Yun answered her last topic seriously: "Doesn't it take seven days to get seven dragon balls? Is there any way to speed up the collection of dragon balls? Can't wait."

After answering and confirming that the big star in the room really did not reply to the message, he sent the word good night.

As a result, when Li Yun was about to fall asleep, Liu Xianxian sent another message, "There is no way...you, if you can't fall asleep, you can come now...make a wish."

She was afraid that Li Yun would be irritated to sleep, so she said that she could make a wish.

The content of the wish is naturally to sleep with her...

Li Yun smiled and sent her a good night emoticon, and the night chat between the two came to an end.

so! Here comes the point!

It is precisely because of the photo of Liu Xianxian duck sitting last night that Li Yun is now particularly interested in the compensation Liu Xianxian said, and walked into the dressing room with a bright smile on his face.

It was the makeup artist who gave him makeup last night, but compared to yesterday, his expressions and movements are much stiffer today.

"Why do you seem to have a decline in your business level?" Li Yun joked to him.

"this....."

The little brother had a bitter face, but his tone was much more relaxed: "Brother Li, you are so good, and you will definitely be popular in the future. As far as I know, there seems to be no superstar in the country. You are the first one. I I just remembered this now!"

There are probably a million people with supernatural powers in the world. It seems that there are many. In fact, there are more than one million people with 100 million investable assets in the world, but ordinary people rarely see the rich. Therefore, millions of people The distribution of the capable is actually very small in the world. Most people have only seen these people who are blessed by aura and possess extraordinary abilities in the news.

Even in remote areas, many people still regard the clips in the news about the supernatural beings controlling Huoyufeng as movies, thinking it is a movie advertisement, there are also many people.

Therefore, as far as Huang Xuanguo's entertainment circle is concerned, Li Yun was the first supernatural person, and many people, including the little brother, said that they realized it only after they realized it.

"A superb debut? Hahaha, this gimmick is okay."

Li Yun said humorously: "Does Director Zhang intend to use this to make a hype? Just say that the supernatural person is acting as the killer of the martial arts movie."

"I guess Director Zhang has this plan!" The younger brother said with a smile, "I just don't know what you mean by Brother Li?"

"I do not mind."

Li Yun shrugged.

He really doesn't matter. A star status is far less famous than Li Chaoren. Even if he makes his debut, it is not a big deal and will not affect his life.

After getting the affirmative answer, the younger brother worked harder to make up for Li Yun. He was 100% sure that this martial arts love movie would definitely be popular!

After the protagonist and heroine have finished making up, the other supporting roles and the running set are already waiting, and the scene has been set up. Following the order from Director Zhang, the filming started again.

Chapter 3195: Liu Xianxian's compensation

An interesting fact of filmmaking is that the process of filming is not from the beginning to the end of the script, but is divided into sections, whichever is convenient to shoot first.

For example, some acting schedules are tight and only come to film for one week, so all his scenes were filmed within this week. From the first episode to the end of the show, all his scenes were filmed.

Another example is that the renting of a venue is also very tight, such as a scene in the palace, then the concentrated shooting will be completed within a few days.

Therefore, a reasonable and orderly arrangement of the filming process is also one of the director's knowledge.

Today, Li Yun was filming the scene on the fifth day after the encounter between the killer and the princess. There was a long interval between the scenes. The location was still in the palace garden, but the relationship between the two sneaked out of the palace together, and there was some joy. After the farce, earth-shaking changes have taken place.

"Director, I actually have a problem."

Li Yun sat on the small bench in the Palace Garden and looked at the script, raised his hand to ask, but glanced at Liu Xianxian. After all, most of the script was actually made by this guy.

"What's the problem with you?" Liu Xianxian snatched Director Zhang's words, with a three-point threat in his eyes, as if to say: If there is a problem, give me no problem, and my script must be okay! If there is a problem, it is also your problem!

Li Yun even felt that he should film "My Savage Star Girlfriend" with Liu Xianxian.

"The first question, why is my dress still black?" Li Yun is plausible, "and it's all daytime scenes. Isn't it strange to wear black clothes?"

"Idiot, because you are acting as a killer as an idiot, besides, our film is a comedy martial arts romance movie, comedy, okay?"

"...Another description vocabulary."

Li Yun had to complain.

Large-scale, costume, martial arts, serial, fantasy, love, plus comedy, very good and scientific, if this show does not take part in him and Liu Xianxian, it will definitely be a thunderous, just as bad as a comical comedy movie. .

However, Liu Xianxian's explanation barely made sense.

The killer in the play is a person with cold emotions. In his original words in the play, he goes out to kill people, so there is no problem with wearing black clothes during the day. Instead, he brings out the kind of cuteness of the killer.

The cold-blooded killer who was accustomed to haunting at night, for the sake of his heart, he changed to come out during the day and sneaked into the back garden of the palace every morning to have a love affair with the princess.

Or come in at night and take her out to play.

Of course, as long as the princess can distract others during the day, the two will also go out.

Like now.

"The seventeenth act, the first kiss between the killer and the princess, ACTION!"

Director Zhang gave an order, and today's scene kicked off.

Li Yun finally understood what Liu Xianxian meant by compensation, but to him, it seemed to be a punishment.

In the play, the killer sneaked into the backyard of the palace again. After the two paired up the signal, the killer no longer stood on the wall to be handsome. He almost jumped into the palace in the blink of an eye. A few vertical jumps came in a sky blue dress, Is sitting in front of the princess who plays the piano briskly under the pavilion.

After seeing the assassin in black tights, the princess smiled crookedly, and snarled at the stone bench in front, motioning him to sit down.

Mr. Killer sat down silently, his waist straightened, his eyes wanted to see the beautiful face of the princess, and he was worried about the abrupt beauty. After every few glances, he would look away and look at her delicate hands playing the piano.

The slender hands beating on the strings are the most beautiful scenery he has ever seen in his life.

Chapter 3196: Stupid, but i like

The happy and relaxed piano sound ended, and the princess lady waited for Mr. Killer's response with a smile.

As a result, Mr. Black-Clothed Killer looked at her little hand in a daze. He could see it for a long time without seeing any reaction.

"Turn around!"

The princess lady stretched out Yubai's little hand and shook him in front of him, only to wake him up. A faint blush appeared on her cold face, and she watched the princess smile covering her mouth:

"You are... stupid enough."

"I....."

The assassin with countless blood in the poor hand showed embarrassment and embarrassment when facing the person he liked. He didn't even bring his murder weapon, so he sneaked into the palace with his hands empty.

"Although stupid, I like it."

Miss the princess's unconscious confession words, or a fluttering sentence, once again plunged the killer into a long daze, causing the charming princess to laugh like a silver bell again, stood up and walked a few steps, and looked back. Blinked at him and said, "Idiot, please follow along~~"

The cheerful tone was like a warm current, instantly filling the assassin's frozen heart.

He subconsciously followed.

The two came to stroll in the back garden, but the small garden seemed to be unable to walk enough.

The assassin listened to the princess's complaint silently, and told him everything in the palace through her mouth.

"Yesterday my mother came to check on my female actress. I deliberately did a poor job. My mother punished me to stay in the house all day."

"But my maid Queer is very nice to me, she ran out secretly, hehe, so that you idiot can come in."

"Hey, say something!"

".....say what?"

"You are so stupid!"

The two people walked around the garden without knowing how many times, until the princess raised his foot and rubbed his calf and complained that his leg was sore, the black-clothed killer who had been following her said: "Princess, I, shall we go back to the pavilion?"

"I don't want to go back!"

The princess was quite headstrong, "It's the afternoon, so it's suitable for some sun exposure, otherwise it will be moldy, especially if you are still gloomy and gloomy, you should have a good time in the sun!"

The killer did not speak.

The princess looked at him with a smile in his eyes, "I heard that all of you who practice martial arts have learned Zamabu?"

The black killer nodded.

"Well, you are like this--" The princess asked him to make a pony stance, and the killer obediently drew a standard pony stance, clenched his fists flat on his chest, as if protecting his heart.

"No, open your hands!"

The princess stretched out his hand to pull his fist, and the smooth little hand touched it, causing the killer's face to become red, and his fists couldn't help but open, turning into a practice posture of sprinting a horse while holding a bucket in his hand.

Upon seeing this, the princess nodded in satisfaction, with a hint of cunning in her eyes, turned around, leaning back against her slender and tall body, and plunged into the assassin's arms.

"The Sheriff!!"

The assassin's whole body was shaken, which shocked him more than he was almost killed by several swords in his body. His legs can clearly feel the softness of the princess sitting on his legs, and the nose can even smell the princess's body. The virgin Youxiang exudes a speechless fascination.

"Mr. Killer, don't move around~"

The princess twisted his body in his arms and found a comfortable posture, then squinted at the sun in the sky, his tone was brisk and shy: "I am very tired, and when I need a rest, since the killer Mr. is so good, should he be able to support me?"

Mr. Killer's head is in a mess.

"The idiot replied, is it possible or not?"

".....can!"

Chapter 3197: First kiss on screen

"Very good, it seems that Mr. Killer is really a very powerful killer~"

The princess's cheeks were full of red clouds, and her voice trembled as if she was drunk, vividly and vividly performing the shyness and sprout of the young girl, making everyone who saw this scene widened their eyes.

"Reply to the sentence~"

The princess ordered again that she has become more and more accustomed to letting this dull man speak with her, even if the words are stupid, even more stupid than the most clumsy subordinates she has ever seen in front of her. !

"Say, say what?"

The black-clothed killer's heart was pounding, and he had never been so nervous the first time he performed the task.

"I want to say what I want to say~" The princess laughed teasingly.

"I... told you everything I can say to the princess."

"Speaking of you, I'm going to twist your ears?"

Speaking of twisting, in fact, the princess had already bent his hand back and scratched the killer's face indiscriminately to show punishment.

As a result, the princess lady touched the sweat on her forehead.

"Hehehe, you are very nervous? Why are you nervous?" The princess smiled, sitting in the shadow of Mr. Killer who was in a horse-staging pose, and turned to look at him.

"...I'm not nervous."

"I'm not nervous yet sweating? Isn't that saying I am heavy?"

Miss Sheriff tried to lift her body, sat down again, and repeated several times. The two of them faltered, Mr. Killer's forehead was already covered with sweat, and Zamabu's legs were constantly trembling, his teeth clenched, and he thrust his blade. Entering the heart made it even more unbearable for him.

The scent of the young girl in his arms, like a orchid like musk, and the nerve-tightening movements all made him strain his body to death, for fear of falling to the ground and causing the princess lady to suffer.

But the tighter the body, the more Zamabu's legs tremble.

"Hello? Dolphin, am I really heavy? Isn't it? Isn't it~~?"

The princess shook him gracefully, and the killer finally could no longer support his body and fell onto the grass in the garden.

Immediately afterwards, he suddenly turned over, letting the princess surrender to his body, and the flames full of flames burst out.

But just when the killer was about to act, his eyes suddenly met with those weak eyes with panic and shyness.

The flame went out in ashes.

The killer's eyes were full of guilt, his lips moved a few times, he wanted to apologize, but he couldn't speak.

He made such a reckless move, the princess will definitely hate him, right?

However, it did not.

"Stupid~ Come on."

A pair of catkins wrapped around his neck, and the pure and beautiful face of the princess lady got closer and closer, but his violently beating heart calmed down inexplicably, and greeted the princess's lips.

In the garden, on the grass, the black killer kissed the delicate princess lady.

"Card!!!"

After a few minutes, Director Zhang, who finally reacted, yelled out this command that shocked countless actors, and also awakened the crew who enjoyed the kiss of the princess and the killer.

But they were surprised to see that the princess and the assassin did not immediately separate, but after a few reluctant kisses, the princess blushed and helped the assassin to stand up.

A group of people were stunned.

This is Liu Xianxian's first love movie, and it is also the first time she has contributed an intimate scene on the screen. Before, she had not even filmed an ambiguous scene with the male protagonist, and she didn't even hold hands.

But now, her first kiss on the screen, she kissed for several minutes, the picture is so beautiful that the director and everyone can't bear to stop.

Chapter 3198: Xianxian, you are too involved

"Director, am I not doing well?" Li Yun asked.

He was quite guilty, because this was not only Liu Xianxian's first kiss on the screen, but also the first time that he performed kissing skills with his girlfriends in and out of the scene under the dumb gaze of a group of people on the camera.

Without guilty conscience, it is simply impossible.

"No, Li Yun, you acted very well."

Director Zhang said with emotion: "The changes in his expression from entering the palace to Zamabu are very subtle, including when the princess is sitting in his arms, if I didn't know you were a supernatural person, I thought you were true. Can't hold on anymore!"

"Fortunately, fortunately." Li Yun humbled, the reason for being called the card...

Everyone took a look and was attracted by the beauty of the big star Liu Xianxian, especially this posture of intimacy, which was even more charming and eye-catching.

Director Zhang said helplessly: "Yes, it means you are a fairy!"

"What's wrong with me?"

Liu Xianxian's eyes were blurred, and her head was still a little dizzy. Being a villain like Li Yun would surely make people addicted, lose acting skills, become reckless, just want to be with him.

"What's the matter with you!"

Director Zhang looked like he hated iron and steel, "Well, you are one of the few domestic actresses who have won gold medals and won international awards. How come you can't act at all!"

"Huh?" Liu Xianxian still didn't understand.

"You, you! I'm confused by your boyfriend... a kiss!"

No matter how big an actor, the director is also qualified to say something. Director Zhang said bitterly: "Even if the princess longs for an unfettered life, no matter how courageous he is, after all, he has always lived in the palace before and was also taken by the feudal court Fettered, she should be shy and nervous when she sat on Mr. Killer's lap for the first time."

Liu Xianxian's face blushed.

At that time she... seemed to be patronizing and playing with Li Yun. After all, it was really funny sitting on his lap in Zamabu. She remembered nothing except that she was the princess and Li Yun was the killer. NS.

"in addition!"

Director Zhang once again corrected her mistake: "You and Li Yun, no, don't be so familiar when you kiss your Mr. Killer... Well, just be nervous, like the first kiss, okay?"

God knows how hard he took and how many turns he has finished speaking.

Liu Xianxian's face was red again, and this time it was so transparent that even the crystal ears were full of red clouds.

Only then did the onlookers and a group of supporting actors react.

"Just... it seems that there is no loan?"

Someone whispered it out.

Generally speaking, when shooting blurry kiss shots, both actors and actresses can pass through dislocation-that is, they didn't actually kiss, but they just looked like they kissed.

Use this method to circumvent the problem of acting in a kiss scene.

In addition, there is another way to use a thin film to isolate the two people's mouths, and then come back.

There is really no way to avoid it. Actors and actresses will also put a chewing gum before kissing, and they will definitely not hold them together for a few minutes like Li Yun and Liu Xianxian just now!

"In other words... I really kissed!!"

Everyone recalled the kiss scene between the two before, and contacted Director Zhang for vague words, and immediately came up with the answer.

Chapter 3199: Come again

Liu Xianxian and Li Yun are really a couple! ! !

And it's not because of acting that emotions are born, it's that emotions are the first to make this movie.

The makeup artist murmured to himself, "No wonder Xianxian will pick up this martial arts love drama. It turns out that it is because he has already fallen in love with the male protagonist..."

Although the crew members were shocked, they didn't guess it yesterday, just confirm it again now!

But it's still the same sentence, the fairy sister, the fairy bun, and the fairy, this pure and kind-hearted, but extremely high-status, internationally famous star who has won the golden man and the Grammy, if her love affair is exposed, it will definitely be It was a tsunami that occupied the headlines for at least seven days and nights. All three generations of Li Yun's ancestors were dug out.

Fortunately, the crew are all insiders. They have a contract. Exposing celebrity news will be severely punished, and they may even go to jail in violation of the commercial contract. Generally, no one is stupid enough to expose it.

As for those who run wild, they are forbidden to use mobile phones and recording devices. They are low-ranked and unfamiliar. Even if they went outside and said that Li Yun and Liu Xianxian were in love, the two kissed for several minutes while filming, even if they said it. No one will believe them.

The so-called people's slight remarks refer to this.

It can be said that as long as Li Yun and Liu Xianxian are not photographed entering the hotel together or cuddling together without wearing costumes, there is no need to worry about what kind of love affair the two will have during the shooting of this costumed martial arts love movie.

The question is that Liu Xianxian is dedicated, and he rehearsed the love and kissing period with Li Yun in advance to act in a good show. Then ask, if you are in a hurry, you can also say that it is for the promotion of the movie. Isn't there a lot of stars doing this? When filming a certain movie, there was a scandal with a certain actress in the crew. It was just a routine operation.

"Come on again, all departments pay attention, the first kiss between the princess and the killer, ACTION!!"

Director Zhang issued another order. Li Yun was already sitting on the grass by Liu Xianxian. After the two looked at each other for a while, they quickly entered the state and began to embrace, kiss, and kiss each other.

The crew, as well as many people who played the role of servants and maids, were all blushing.

Whether it is the handsome and handsome Mr. Killer or the innocent and enthusiastic princess who is raised in a deep boudoir, both of them perfectly match the beautiful imagination of the men and women present about their first love.

Song Lini was stunned. If she could replace Liu Xianxian and be intimacy with Li Yun's handsome and capable boyfriend in front of the camera, that would be great...

"Card!!"

After watching for three minutes, Director Zhang reluctantly interrupted the kiss between the two, looking up at the sky with a helpless expression: "...Xianxian, do you know what I should say? And Li Yun, you, also pay attention. , Don't be so skilled!"

He didn't hide it now, and said directly, lest the couple in and out of the play are too much!

"Understood~"

Liu Xianxian nodded quickly.

"ACTION!"

The Miss Sheriff kissed him again.

"Card!!!"

The princess lady wiped her mouth and patched up the makeup on her lower lip. There was a cunning expression in her eyes that no one could see.

"ACTION!"

The Miss Sheriff kissed him again.

"Card....."

"ACT...ION."

The Miss Sheriff wanted to mess with her, but she was pinched by Mr. Killer on her waist, and then she acted honestly.

Chapter 3200: No slander

Finally, Miss Sheriff perfectly interprets the shy expression of a young girl who has tasted love for the first time. The shy and graceful appearance of a girl who wants to refuse and welcomes makes a group of onlookers and the crews look dumbfounded again.

Li Yun smiled, not only because she kissed the princess for so long, but also because of her performance, which reminded Li Yun that when she kissed her for the first time, she was so shy, with three points of excitement and anticipation. Closing his clear and shy eyes, and tenderly intimacy with him.

In other words, Liu Xianxian actually moved the scene of giving the first kiss to Li Yun on the screen.

In this way, Li Yun can also figure out why Xianxian must play the leading actor.

This martial arts love movie can only, and only he can perform it!

As a big star who has won the gold medal, Xianxian intends to commemorate her love with Li Yun in such a unique way.

"One hour off...Forget it, even take a break with lunch, we will shoot again this afternoon!"

Dao Zhang rubbed his eyes, and when he looked at him, his eyes were going to be blinded. What kind of sin was he doing that would make this couple, who are already in love, act as a couple in his movie.

Doesn't this make the relationship between the two people heavier and deeper!

"One hour?"

The crew was dumbfounded and rested before lunch time.

Some people with impure thoughts secretly turned their gazes under Li Yun, trying to confirm whether Director Zhang was concerned about the feelings of the hero, so he and Liu Xianxian had a vacation.

More than three hours, how can it be enough?

This is not to blame for their unhealthy thinking, it is that Mr. Killer and Miss Princess are so intimate just now, very, very sensational, plus Li Yun is close to Liu Xianxian, a pure and immortal beauty, saying that there is no anger. Who will believe it?

Seeing the affectionate eyes of these two people, Song Lini couldn't help but said sourly: "Alright, three hours is enough, but everyone should pay attention when they rest. Don't play too much, which affects the work in the afternoon! "

This is almost a roll call, so that when the hero and heroine of this play wait for noon, don't play too crazy, so as not to affect the afternoon.

Liu Xianxian's innocent face was immediately flushed with shame, and his hands were disturbed not knowing where to put them.

Facing everyone's weird look, it seemed that she would secretly go to the nearby Gufeng Inn with Li Yun at noon, asking for a room with a Tianzi size, and then... it would take three hours to sit.

"You are not allowed to slander the princess!"

Li Yun suddenly held Liu Xianxian's little hand with an angry expression on his face: "Even if you are the princess's sister, I will not allow you to tarnish her reputation. Miss princess and I just simply like each other. , I didn't do anything about giving or receiving marriage between men and women at all. Miss the princess and I were not as silly as you thought!!"

The sound of righteous reprimand made a group of people stunned.

Song Lini was even more reprimanded so that she couldn't lift her head. Doesn't this sentence mean that it was because she thought that she was so dirty that she saw others as dirty?

".....pass."

Director Zhang cried out in a daze, Li Yun nodded, and took the blushing princess lady's hand and left here.

Only then did the crew react. Director Zhang thought that Li Yun and Liu Xianxian were still acting just now, so he shouted "Pass".

And Li Yun used the actor's lines in the play to refute Song Lini's slanderous thoughts!
