Chapter 102 ShawJasperLoveAriel

Adrian immediately snatched the phone from Cathy.

At that moment, the screen played Cathy's response to the reporters. "It would be an honor."

Adrian's expression turned darker than a stormy sky.

Cathy pursed her lips and said, "I... I can explain..."

Adrian glanced at her and reached out to pull her petite figure into his embrace. "I'm listening."

Adrian began kissing her neck. She can feel his warm breath against her collar bone, making her feel a little heady.

She blushed to her ears and did not dare to look into Adrian's eyes. "I was only..."

Cathy tried her best to make herself sound serious. However, Adrian's next action made it impossible for her to remain calm.

He now had her earlobe between his teeth.

The warmth from his sensual touch made Cathy lose track of her thoughts. Her mind went blank, and she forgot what she wanted to say.

After a while, she finally found her voice. "I said those words because I had no choice."

"Mr. Jasper and I are not close, yet he was willing to help me when Xavier was causing me trouble. Therefore, I could not embarrass him before the reporters."

Then, she kissed Adrian's cheek tentatively. "Furthermore, I didn't agree to his courting directly. I just said that it would be an honor if he were to court me."

"My reply didn't mean anything."

Then, Cathy looked at Adrian earnestly, with eyes shining like crystals. "Please don't be angry."

Adrian could not bear to be angry when he saw her gentle and coy demeanor.

He looked at her for a while before pinching her cheek gently. "When was I angry?"

Cathy was stunned for a moment and turned to look at his face. "You... You weren't angry?"

Adrian smiled and kissed her cheek. "I just felt that I might have a competitor."

He caresses her hair with his elegant hand. "He seems like a worthy competitor."

Cathy was finally able to calm her nervous heart.

She smiled awkwardly and said, "I don't think you have to treat Flynn as a competitor."

"He is not interested in me. It was just his sense of justice that prompted him to say those words."

"After all, I will be acting in the same film with him. That is why he helped me."

Adrian smirked slightly. "You don't understand men."

He had seen Flynn's gaze just now.

It was not the gaze of an acquaintance offering help.

Cathy pursed her lips but did not say anything.

Soon, the car arrived at the Bolton's family villa.

Cathy went upstairs and passed by the children's room. She decided to take a peek inside.

She looked through the partially opened door and saw Arius typing fast at his computer.

Meanwhile, Abner was looking at a tablet, tapping the screen quickly.

Cathy stood at the door for some time. In the end, she decided not to go in.

After a while, she returned to her room.

When she took out her phone to check the news, she discovered that all the news about her and Flynn had been deleted.

Suddenly, her phone rang. It was a call from Flynn.

Cathy frowned and answered it.

"Did your husband say anything?"

Flynn brought up the matter immediately. "The news on the Web said a lot of things. I'm concerned that he might misunderstand."

"He did not misunderstand."

Cathy interrupted Flynn quickly. "My husband is an understanding man."

"That's good."

Flynn was stunned by her response.

A moment later, he chuckled and said, "I didn't expect your husband to deal with this matter so quickly."

"I thought the news and video would stay on the Web for two to three hours. Unexpectedly, they were all taken down within an hour."

"He is too sensitive. If you are to continue working in the film industry, such things are unavoidable."

Cathy took a deep breath. "It wasn't my husband who took down the news. He understands my line of work."

"Although I will most likely continue working as an actress, I will do my best to avoid such things."

"When the time comes, I will announce that I am married."

"Therefore, you don't have to solve my problems for me. I have my own plans."

Cathy spoke bluntly and was straight to the point. Flynn was a prominent and respected man in the film industry. He did not expect to be rejected by a new actress such as Cathy.

"You are very different from everyone else."

Flynn smiled. Admiration grew in his eyes.

There are many women in the film industry who wished to get close to Flynn to use him to advance their careers.

Today, he offered her a chance to use their connections to shine more light on her name. It was an offer that others could only dream of.

"Uncle Flynn, I'm right, aren't I?"

Ariel sat on the couch opposite him. She wore a white tulle dress and was sucking on a lollipop. Then, she said happily, "The woman I approve of is different from everyone else."

Then, she extended her hand towards Flynn. "Pay up. You lost!"

Flynn smiled helplessly.

He walked over to her gracefully and handed her a few money bills. "It is rare for you to win. You should thank her."

"I have a lot of time to thank her when she becomes my mother."

Ariel looked up proudly. "Uncle Flynn, have you fallen for her?"

Flynn narrowed his eyes. "What do you think?"

"I think you have fallen in love with her!"

Ariel held onto Flynn's arm happily. "Uncle Flynn, didn't you say that nothing is too difficult for you?"

"Are you confident that you can snatch another man's wife?"

Flynn was rendered speechless.

Flynn lived a moral life. He had never considered doing something so immoral.

Now, he was about to get involved with a married woman because of Ariel.

He cleared his throat. "There are many more women who can be your mother..."

"But I feel that I am fated with her!"

Ariel pursed her lips. "I don't care. Since you lost, you must listen to me!"

This time, she had not only made a bet with Flynn for a few hundred in cash. As a penalty for losing, Flynn also had to pursue Cathy romantically.

Flynn had a headache. He was only joking with her and did not expect her to take it seriously.

"Why do you look so reluctant? You like her, don't you?"

Ariel pouted and went upstairs.

She climbed onto her chair and opened her computer. Then, she logged into her Facebook username 'ShawJasperLoveAriel' and began to publish the video she had edited about Flynn and Cathy.

Suddenly, she lost control of her computer.

Her first thought was that it was under a virus attack.

Therefore, she neutralized the attack immediately.

"Wow!"

Meanwhile, in the Bolton's family villa, Abner looked at Arius' computer screen and exclaimed, "Arius, this person unlocked your control over their computer. This person must be an expert!"

"Shut up."

Arius frowned and continued to type quickly on the keyboard. He began fighting the person one on one.

In the previous hour, Arius had removed nearly all news about Cathy and Flynn from various websites. However, he was unable to remove the post published by ShawJasperLoveAriel.

Therefore, he was determined to find out who this person who keep creating rumors against Cathy was.
