Chapter 108 I Think I Know Who It Was

Instead of taking Cathy home, Adrian took her to the east side of Ryzan.

There was only a man and a few mannequins in the bread truck that had Penelope's phone.

By the time Cathy and Adrian arrived, the bodyguards were watching over the man that Tyrell had beaten to a pulp.

Meanwhile, Tyrell had taken his men to look for Penelope.

"Mr. Bolton. The man isn't saying anything."

The bodyguards reported as he approached them.

"Mr. Tyrell was pressing him for Miss Crawford's location, but he was not willing to tell us even though Mr. Tyrell beat him up so much. He has tight lips."

This face...

Cathy glanced at the man, whose face was purple and swollen and whose shirt was in tatters.

Cathy frowned and approached him to take a better look, then she suddenly remembered the huddle she saw at Sakura Restaurant before she entered the lift.

Wasn't he one of the men that Cathy saw Ember talk to?

Cathy felt a cold, spider-like sensation prickle down her spine!

Shaking, she pointed at the man. "Ember Shaw was the one who hired you, didn't she?"

"I don't know what you are talking about." The man stared daggers at her.

Cathy clenched her fists to her sides as she closed her eyes to recall what she saw at the restaurant.

After she had ridiculed Karen, she entered the restaurant but was quickly ordered by Penelope to leave the reserved room.

Karen grinned coldly at her and reminded her that bad things happened to people who overdrink

Soon, she saw Ember talking to some men.

When she thought about how Ember had been flattering Karen, she suddenly felt a chill from her

Finally, there was news that Penelope was taken away.

She saw Ember and Karen at the entrance.

at the celebratory dinner.

That was the reason they took Penelope.

Who would be the one who was missing and in trouble now?

What would happen if Penelope did not make her leave?

She thought that Karen and Ember were making fun of her, but she did not expect them to carry out something this insidious and drag Penelope into this mess!

When she made this scary discovery, Cathy felt her body freeze.

She was their real target!

With these discoveries haunting her, she turned her tear-stained face towards Adrian and clutched his hand. "We need to find Penelope! We cannot let something happen to her!"

She would regret it for the rest of her life if Penelope became her scapegoat!

Adrian gripped her hand. "Nothing will happen to her."

Yet he knew that his promise was baseless.

Adrian nodded and carried Cathy into the car.

Penelope!

Penelope was gorgeous and drunk. No one could guarantee her safety.

"Mr. Bolton. They found her in an abandoned factory!" The bodyguard reported excitedly.

"Should we go?"

As Adrian comforted the aggrieved Cathy, one of the bodyguards got news – they found

After a long drive, they finally arrived at an abandoned factory area filled with dilapidated and rusted buildings.

broken factory.

Cathy saw that there were a few middle-aged men held in place by the bodyguards.

Once the car was parked, Cathy jumped out of the car impatiently but gasped when she saw the

Although Tyrell had covered up her battered body with his jacket, they could not cover up Penelope's long legs which were covered with dried blood.

Cathy's knees buckled, but Adrian caught her before she could collapse.

Meanwhile, Tyrell held a bloodied Penelope in his arms.

There was a metallic scent of blood wafting through the place.

After a long while, he finally found his voice. "How is she?"

Tyrell held her in his arms as he pushed her hair out of her bruised face gently. "The ambulance is

His voice trembled as he added. "It's my fault. I should never have fought with her..."

on the way. I don't dare to pick her up because I have no idea how hurt she is."

Cathy felt the need to say something to Tyrell, but nothing came out of her mouth.

After some time, he glanced at the men pinned to the ground. "Chop them off."

The bodyguards exchanged a look and simultaneously understood Adrian's instructions.

"The person told us we could do anything! That was why we came!"

"Yeah! They said that the woman is an actress who will never make it and that we could have our way with her!"

"She is unconscious."

Penelope was hurt.

It was too much for Cathy to process.

Adrian held Cathy in his arms silently.

"Pardon us!" The men began to wail.

"We have not touched her yet! The only thing we did was use knives, whips, and candles on her."

"We have money! We can reimburse her! Our families need us to pass the family name down!"

"You heard Mr. Bolton. Make them hurt!"

Tyrell frowned at the men who were wailing like banshees.

Before she went back, she received a message from someone saying that everything went on

"Yes, sir!" The group of bodyguards yelled as they began to drag the men out and soon, their wailings turned into terrified screams that echoed through the factory.

Breathing slowly, Cathy uttered, "I know who did this."

Ember was thrilled that night and threw back a few drinks.

When she arrived home, she stumbled into bed, her mind addled by the alcohol she had drunk.

be dealt with by a group of middle-aged men.

She guffawed wildly as she stared at the ceiling.

Finally! Finally, she managed to teach Cathy a lesson!

Who told her to steal Mr. Bolton? She was foolish to cross my path! So what if Mr. Bolton did not care that Cathy had a child before?

Cathy would be decrepit and defiled like a well-worn boot after a long fishing season after the

No man would accept a woman who was defiled, which meant that Adrian would divorce Cathy.

"Bang! Bang!"

A loud knocking interrupted Ember's happily ever after fantasy with Adrian.

Marion Staller stalked down the stairs unhappily. "Can't it wait until tomorrow? It is the middle of
